REPUBLICAN CAUCUS.

Candidates for Village Offices were Nominated Saturday Night.

Without doubt the largest attended caucus ever held in this city was that of Saturday night, when a full village ticket of the Republican kind was placed in nomination. It was also one of the most orderly gatherings ever known here.

The caucus was called to take place at the court house, but on account of the large attendance an adjournment was taken to the opera house which place was but little too large for the crowd.

George W. Dunton, member of the village Republican committee, called the meeting to order and asked for choices for chairman.

Dr. A. E. Burdick was selected but refused to act, then Attorney Dunton was chosen. Edmund Ashford was elected secretary and upon motion the chair selected the officers as follows: Messrs. H. P. Howell, C. E. Kelso and R. C. McKesson. The officers were sworn by Judge Bronson.

Nominations for village president were made as follows: The name of Dr. A. E. Burdick was presented by W. C. Bronson; Geo. H. Nicholson presented the name of Walter L. Orr, and the honor of presenting the name of the winner, Charles B. Moresan, was given to Nels Johnson. The vote resulted as follows:

Charles B. Moresan	20
Walter L. Orr	10
A. E. Burdick	5
Scattering	5
Total	40

For the office of clerk, the present incumbent was nominated by acclamation. Edward W. Miller and Angus McLeod were mentioned for treasurer and the vote resulted as follows:

Edward W. Miller	15
Angus McLeod	15
Scattering	10
Total	40

There was no one nominated for the office of assessor and after the names of Messrs. Thomas Baxter, C. E. Orr, and Kelso were mentioned the convention forest the honor on Norman W. Pax.

Then came the fight for trustees and candidates gave were in the field. Those balloted for first were Messrs. Oberg, Blumrosen, Johnson and Kingstad, and there was no choice. When preparing for the second ballot Messrs. Blumrosen, Kingstad and Oberg withdrew from the race leaving the field to Nels Johnson, whose nomination was thereupon made by acclamation.

For second trustee Messrs. Blumrosen, Oberg and Norton were the contestants and on the first ballot there was no choice. The second ballot was different and resulted as follows:

Blumrosen	15
John Oberg	15
Norton	10
Scattering	10
Total	50

Messrs. Kingstad and Oberg contested for the third trustee and the result followed:

Kingstad	15
John Oberg	15
Scattering	10
Total	40

The following were elected village committee for the ensuing year: W. C. Bronson, G. Holman and Geo. H. Orr.

Upon motion the committee was instructed to fill any vacancies that might occur on the ticket as nominated.

Many said that he was born. Mrs. Vernon P. Chappel, wife of County Treasurer Chappel, entertained nineteen gentlemen friends Monday evening at a "Sing" dinner in honor of the 75th anniversary of Mr. Chappel's birth. Covers were laid for twenty persons and all were seated at one large table in the spacious dining hall of their pleasant home. Upon entering the dining room each guest was presented with a small card and on each such plate was laid a handsomely gotten up and novel little souvenir card to which was fastened, with ribbon, a miniature cornucopium pipe filled with the "wheat" and a match. Two hours were pleasantly wild away at the festal board. The following is the menu served in six courses:

Soup	Green Peas
Vegetable Croquette	French Rolls
Roast Turkey	Jellies
Stuffed Potatoes	Stuffed Apples
Boston Brown Bread	Childen Salad
Olives	Letture Stambichos
	Mince Pie
	Cheese Balls
Ice Cream	Assorted Cake
	Fruit
	Coffee
	Sugar

After the guests had finished cigars they sought the parlors where after a short address Mr. Thomas, in behalf of the gentleman present, presented Mr. Chappel with a handsome rosewood stand. The recipient responded and thanked the donors heartily for the present, and assured them that the memento

The Invincibles Won the Game.

The third of a series of indoor ball games between the Invincibles and the Terrors, teams captained by Messrs. Chas. Oon and Archie MacArthur respectively, was played at the rink, Friday night of last week. The former team won the game, the score being 22 to 11.

The attendance was not as large as usual.

The line-up of both teams was unchanged somewhat, several of those in the first and second games dropping out. The teams were made up as follows: Invincibles: E. N. Orr, E. B. Patterson, W. H. Thomas, V. P. Chappel, C. D. Oon, G. H. Howe, P. Riley, Chas. Robinson and W. A. LeRoy. Terrors: Ollie Howe and F. H. Oberg, W. L. Lorange, Will Smith, Scott Brooks, A. MacArthur, Howard Cull, Ed. Ashford and Harry Ashford.

During the game the winning team showed the best playing, one and two long hits being quite common, even one of the players, W. A. LeRoy, touched the ball for home run. He was lionized for his phenomenal hitting but lost his honors when he went to sleep in the first inning.

Another game is talked of for about April 1st, the proceeds of which is to be used toward the Indian Lake cycle path.

Louis Nesha was placed under arrest by Policeman Hayden Monday night. "Indecent and immoral conduct on the streets" was the charge preferred against him and Judge Lorange gave him sixty days in the county jail.

Office Haynes had considerable trouble in arresting Nesha, chasing him through a swamp west of McKesson's place and then on to the river. He showed fight but Hughes soon had the best of him.

Mrs. Dupont Wins Her Suit.

Mrs. Dupont, wife of John Dupont of the Pearl street barber, won the tax title case against Dr. Gregory et al of Manistique, which was heard before Judge Steere.

Mrs. Dupont is the owner of a small house and lot in the village worth about $800. She has looked after the paying of taxes very carefully but owing to a mistake in the Auditor General's office she was given a certificate that her taxes were fully paid when as a matter of fact they were delinquent for the year 1897.

Gregory & McKinley, the Manistique tax title sharks, grabbed up the title and demanded an outrageous price in settlement. She employed C. W. Dunton who filed a bill to set aside the deed and the case was argued in court at the last day of court. Judge Steere took the case under advisement and last Monday filed his opinion restraining the position of Mrs. Dupont.

The case will not likely be appealed. M. Sheppard of Marquette was attorney for the tax people. The Manistique crowd who hold a large number of tax titles in this county will hardly be quite so swift hereafter in enforcing tax titles in this locality.

Officially Notified.

Elihu N. Orr, recently appointed by President McKinley as postmaster in this city, was officially notified of his appointment on Friday last by postmaster General Gray. Accompanying the notification was the necessary papers for bonds, etc. and on Tuesday they were filed out and have since been forwarded to the department. The bonds required was $5,000. Mr. Orr's examination will arrive in the course of a couple of weeks and on the first of April he expects to take charge of the office. April 1st ends the quarter and also ends the fiscal year. As assistant in the office the new P. M. has selected Charles H. Orr, who by the way, has a thorough knowledge of the duties having served in the capacity some years ago. These letters is an excellent one and cannot but be thoroughly satisfactory to the people of the vicinity.

Pleasant Surprise.

The members of Duluth Tent, No. 226, K. O. T. M., effected a pleasant surprise upon the members of the I. O. T. M., Friday evening. By previous arrangement the Six Knights met at the I. O. T. M. dining rooms and marched from their in a body to K. O. T. M. hall where the ladies were holding their regular meeting. After the rendition of several pleasing musical selections by the K. O. T. M. band led by Dr. A. E. Burdick and D. K. Smith in the ante-ante room, they were admitted to the lodge room where a pleasing program was rendered. Miss Martha Payne rendered a vocal solo; Jos. Scott, Mrs. Bundy and Mrs. Seymour Graham gave interesting reading selections and Rev. J. M. Shank gave an impromptu address in his usual happy vein. The two lodges then returned to the I. O. T. M. dining rooms where caterer Chas. Atkins, assisted by an efficient corps of waiters, had prepared an excellent supper. All in all it was an enjoyable event and one to be long remembered by the members of each society.

Osborn in Egypt.

H. D. Fisher received a letter from Chas. S. Osborn, yesterday. The letter was written on board the steamship Normania at Gibraltar, the ship being bound for Alexandria, Egypt. From that place Mr. Osborn intended going to Cairo, the Pyramids, Holy Land, Constantinople, Athens, Italy, France and England. Chas. reports a very stormy passage and says he suffered terribly from sea sickness for a period of sixty hours, during which time he was unable to eat. Out of 300 passengers an board the steamer, only four appeared at their meals. Florence News, Nov. 5.

The Steamer Alton.

The Steamer Alton, Staffed, plying between this port and Frankfort during the winter, carrying flour for the Sea and Ann Arbor lines had her last trip for the season to this port on Friday last. She left for Frankfort that evening and after discharging her cargo for Milwaukee to go into dry dock for repairs and will be thoroughly renovated, reworked and repainted. It is the intention of her owners, we learn, to increase her carrying capacity by some 250 tons. It is thought she will again be ready and will go into commission about April 20th.

Birthday Social.

The following is the program to be rendered at the "Birthday Social" given at the Presbyterian church on Friday evening, March 13th at 8 o'clock:

Quartet "Grander Than Ocean's Story"
Mrs. Kefauver, Miss Kennedy, Mrs. Weber, Refanor.
Duet "The Last Ship"
Mrs. Kefauver, Miss Kennedy, Mrs. Patterson.
Triad "Expectations"
Mr. Orr's examination will arrive in the course of a couple of weeks and on the first of April he expects to take charge of the office. April 1st ends the quarter and also ends the fiscal year. As assistant in the office the new P. M. has selected Charles H. Orr, who by the way, has a thorough knowledge of the duties having served in the capacity some years ago. These letters is an excellent one and cannot but be thoroughly satisfactory to the people of the vicinity.

Birthdays Party.

Little Miss Ethel Hayden, the handsome daughter of Policeman and Mrs. Hugh Hayden, reached her seventh birthday on Saturday last and in honor of the anniversary she entertained a host of her little friends that afternoon. They played games and had a jolly time, and the little guests were furnished an excellent luncheon. The following were the guests: Mabel Mosher, Lillian McKinley, Ruth Hill, Mary Pollock, May Kingham, Nellie Johnson, Florence and Bertha Blumrosen, Eva and Anna Hart, Norine Costello, Iona Quirk, Thelma and Lillian Johnson, Elnie Bolles, Willie Heffron, George Burr and Harold Anderson.

John Coffey commenced setting nets for fishing, Wednesday.

V. P. Chappel has organized an indoor base ball team and will kick it against any nine that can be picked up in the city. Mrs. Chappel's nine is made up as follows: E. N. Orr, V. P. Chappel, F. Riley, W. L. Lorange, Chas. Robinson, W. H. Thomas and Ed. Howard, W. A. LeRoy and E. B. Patterson. Here's a chance for a hot game.

How is it that no proposition can be found so bald of sense and utterly foolish that it does not find advocates in congress? The attacks and ridicule of debate have no effect whatever on the advocate, he goes right on, just the same. He that is foolish is foolish still. In this matter congress is a sewer hole. What, after all, is the real purpose and place of a general debate in congress?

Death itself is the reflecting mind is less serious than marriage. The older plant is cut down that the younger may have room to flourish; and few buds drop into the loosened soil, and weeds and blossoms spring over it. Death is not even a blow; it is not even a pulsation, but a pause. But marriage upholds the awful scroll of numbers "perpetually." Health, genius, honor, are the words inscribed on some; on others are disease, faultily and infamy.

From the ancient Virginia city of Alexandria comes a suggestion with reference to the problem of dealing with the village hoodlum. It has been a custom to let off any other punishment. It is said that the practice has proved satisfactory. Recently it has been proposed to incorporate in the state law a provision that "minors convicted of misdemeanors shall be punished by locking up with the sanction of their parents or guardians."

May wheat reached its highest price since 1891 on Feb. 19, selling on the Chicago board of trade at $1.09. Many factors have combined to cause this advance, and it is now generally conceded that wheat is higher before the new crop is harvested. It is known that Europe is confronted with an enormous shortage. Liverpool has only enough wheat to last a week. The crop in the Argentine does not meet expectations. On the top of all this the winter wheat district is bare of snow and subject at any time to a killing frost. The following daily quotations since January 16 show the steady rise in wheat: 91c, 91 1/2c, 91 3/4c, 92c, 92 1/4c, 92 1/2c, 92 3/4c, 93c, 93 1/4c, 93 1/2c, 93 3/4c, 94c, 94 1/4c, 94 1/2c, 94 3/4c, 95c, 95 1/4c, 95 1/2c, 95 3/4c, 96c, 96 1/4c, 96 1/2c, 96 3/4c, 97c, 97 1/4c, 97 1/2c, 97 3/4c, 98c, 98 1/4c, 98 1/2c, 98 3/4c, 99c, 99 1/4c, 99 1/2c, 99 3/4c, 1.00c. While the Cuban war scare may have had a slight effect on the recent quotations, experts believe that the prime factor is a scarcity of wheat, and expect steadily advancing prices. Joseph Leiter is shipping 4,000,000 bushels of wheat to New York for exportation, and if necessary can dispose of his entire enormous holdings abroad. It seems that when Armour was short December wheat he borrowed 3,000,000 bushels from a Minneapolis operator. He is now attempting to buy this, and is compelled to bid against Leiter for what little comes to the northwestern wheat markets.

Fate of the Maine Recalls Other Disasters of the Deep. Equally Horrible and Equally Mysterious.

THE TORPEDO IN MODERN WARFARE.

No navy is free from sad stories of explosion in its powder and ammunition magazines, and since the beginning of our civil war the number of vessels destroyed by torpedoes in some form, or by mines, as they are generally known, for example, that in the civil war seven monitors and eleven wooden vessels of war were totally destroyed by submarine mines. Had the Confederates possessed the same knowledge at the beginning of the war the struggle would have been, at the least, much prolonged, and the disaster to life and tonnage been greatly increased.

During our early struggles several vessels were blown up, notably the Hamilton, of immortal memory, but the most memorable case, and surely one of the most pathetic, was the destruction of the Intrepid, commanded by the gallant Somers. She was fitted out as a floating mine, and on the night of September 4, 1864, started from off shore under sail for the inner harbor of Tripoli. As she approached the harbor, she was fired upon by the British gunboats, and at ten o'clock a thunderous report was heard, a column of flame was seen vibrating in the sky, and then the front of hundreds of guns mounted ashore. No one came back to tell the story, but it is believed that Somers kept his word not to be taken alive by the enemy, and blew up the ship to escape capture. It was learned that the Intrepid had grounded on the north ledge of the harbor, and that she had been attacked by three gunboats. It was assumed, but never known, that to prevent the valuable supply of ammunition falling into the hands of the enemy, Somers fired her, destroying in one moment the ship and the hapless American crew. In June, 1829, the wooden ship Fulton, then stationed at the revolving light on Brooklyn, blew up from causes never revealed. Seventy-five persons were slain moment. They proved to be dangerous, however, and all effort was thereafter directed to the driftable, or the automobile torpedo. Generally described the driftable torpedo is one that contains its own propelling and firing mechanisms, and is piloted from the shore by means of electric cables, which function the machinery. The automobile torpedo is a weapon that is used from a ship, usually called a torpedo gun, and takes up its line of progress by machinery contained in its body. There are many forms of these, like the Howell and the Whitehead, for example, and some extraordinary results have been obtained with both. The Whitehead is discharged from the tube by steam or powder, and just as it leaves the muzzle a lock automatically opened released the compressed air carried in a tank and sets in motion the machinery. Three things must be done by it. It must go through the water at a high speed, preserving its linear direction; it must float as a constant depth, and on striking it must explode. The ingenuity and simplicity of the mechanism which effects these three things are really marvellous. The float-torpedo is based upon the well-known principle of the gyroscope. Its speed and surety of direction are given by the functioning of an inner wheel, which is relatively very heavy on the periphery and revolves with such velocity and in such a constant plane that high speed and great straightness of trajectory are secured. There are many other forms, but these two are employed in our service, and the Whitehead is used by nearly all the navies of the world.

Because it does what all other medicines fail to do. As an instance of its peculiar and unusual curative power, consider the most insidious disease, and the disease which has the blood of most people, profane, inaccessible suffering to many, which is often the latent foe of the body, burst into activity and produces misery on the least provocation. Scrofula is the only ailment which the human family is subjected to which the above sweeping statement can honestly be made. Now, a medicine that can meet this common enemy of mankind and repeatedly effect the wonderful cures Hood's medicine has—clearly has the right to be called America's Greatest Medicine.

Submarine Mines. The term "submarine mine" is applied to defensive mines or to those which would be used to obstruct the channels of a river or estuary, or the approaches to a fortified or unprotected harbor. In a dry goods store a little boy yet in dress disturbed the peace of hundreds of shoppers, mainly, though, because there seemed to be nothing they could do for him. His mother, a young, meaning woman of small judgment and experience, was buying a hat. Sudden by the lad by her side began to shriek in a severe pain or fright. The woman tried to soothe him, but he screamed more fiercely, upon which she spanked him. A crowd gathered and an attendant picked up the then thoroughly unwept youngster and carried him kicking and yelling into an anteroom. There he struggled and gaped until a woman put some pink candy in his hands. For a moment it attracted him. Then he crumpled it fiercely and cried hysterically again. A peppermint from a third woman impressed him slightly, but he did not gain self-control until his mother asked him if he wanted to go out of doors. Like a stifling animal he shrieked, "Yes!" The woman told me that she could not understand it at all. He never had such an attack before. Not by way of explanation, but incidentally, she added that she and the boy had just landed from the Tennessee the day before. He had been sick in his berth for six days. Poor child! Poor mother! Not to see any connection between six days of sickness in a closed cabin and a nervous fit in a close store on the street! She never knew, she said, he had such a temper—Grace E. barbarous rained, however, its practical abandonment for many years. The Confederate torpedo. Submarine boats had been generally employed in all experiments up to the beginning of the civil war, and it was really not until 1863 that movable or fixed isolated torpedoes were brought into general use. The Confederate torpedoes were usually made of copper and filled with powder, varying in weights, according to circumstances of employment, from fifty to one hundred and fifty pounds. These were carried on spurs attached to ships or boats, were anchored on the bottom, or were sent drifting singly or in pairs, connected by long lines, down the streams. The fuses were generally of the percussion type, and fulminate of mercury entered largely into their composition.

The Housatonic was destroyed by a submarine boat, but the Allemanie was blown up by Cushing with a torpedo carried on the end of a spar. This torpedo was made of a stout cylindrical copper case, filled with powder and fitted with a hollow tube, which carried at its bottom a fulminate cap. A small sized spar shot, secured with a pin, was held at the top, and by releasing this at the eventful moment Cushing destroyed the Allemanie and his own boat at the same time, and then made one of the most daring and romantic escapes in the annals of naval history. Many improved systems were employed and much ingenuity was displayed, the most inventive of all experimenters being a Confederate officer, who previous to the war had been a well-known dancing master.

For a season towing torpedoes were in great favor. These were handled from the ship, and by certain dextrous sailors of each carrier the wreckage were discovered flying through the air, and the water for a quarter of a

TALMAGE'S SERMON.

THE GOOD SHEPHERD'S LAST SUNDAY'S SUBJECT.

From the First Psalm, Chapter XXIII. Verse 1. As follows: "The Lord is my Shepherd."

W HAT with post and rail fences, and our pride in South-western, black and Flemish varieties of sheep, there is no use now of the old-time shepherd.

Such an one had abundance of opportunity of becoming a poet, he would have done so, waking up in the night to the hills. If the stars, or the flowers, had been to say, he would have done so.

The Erick Shepherd of Scotland, who afterwards took his seat in the brilliant circle of Wilson as a poet, had his wonder in which generation in the ten years in which he was watching the flocks of Mr. Laird.

There is often a sweet poetry in the rugged prose of the Scotch shepherd. One of these Scotch shepherds, as a boy, and he knelt down in prayer and was overheard to say, "O God, I have some good in the world."

It has seemed good in the "world" to take from the time when to the ungodly mortals I seemed to be most good of it, and I shall still write up a bill of sorrow and glad news.

There is no man may say, but I did not think the shepherd boy, is watching his father's sheep. They are pasturing on the very hills where afterwards a lamb was born of the same flock.

manly; wears our woe, and while earth and heaven and hell stand him the shepherd's plaid.

Next I mention the shepherd's crook. This was a rod with a curve at the end, which, when a sheep was going astray, was thrown over its neck; and in that way it was pulled back.

The Sure Lattipce cure.

There is no one suffering from this dreadful malady, if you will only get the right remedy. You are having pain all through your body, your liver is out of order, have no appetite, no life or ambition, have a bad cold, in fact are completely used up. Electric Bitters is the only remedy that will give you prompt and sure relief. They act directly on your liver, stomach and kidneys, tone up the whole system and make you feel like a new being. They are guaranteed to cure or price refunded. For sale at A. S. Putnam & Co.'s Drug Store, only 50 cents per bottle.

How to Advertise.

"Small advertisements are space or local?" asked a business man of an editor of an established paper. The editor answered, "If you are offering to advertise a sheet of fine lines of local is enough, but if you are going to advertise a $5,000 or $10,000 stock or goods, two lines would not convey the impression that you want. Biggest stock on earth at Blanks' would lead the reader to ask why Blank did not take an ad. in proportion to his stock. Take space to correspond with the business you conduct and you will create an impression on the purchasing public that will give you a lasting benefit. It will be truthfully said that the effect of good advertising never dies."

A Sorrow Escape.

Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Grand, S. D. "Was taken with a bad cold which settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent one above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds. I gave it a trial, took it in all right doses. It has cured me, and thank God I am saved and now a well and healthy woman. Trial bottles free at A. S. Putnam & Co. Drug Store. Regular 42c-50c and $1.00. Guaranteed or price refunded."
