Money talks pretty conclusively at times, but occasionally its gets rattled.

Although women frequently handle each other without gloves there are no female pugilists.

It's a great pity men can't find an insurance company willing to take risks on their air castles.

It is said that contentment is better than riches—but most people are willing to take chances with the riches.

The Denver Times says: "An Indian chief will sell anything but his blanket. He is completely wrapped up in it."

It was the last regret of John Cochrane that he couldn't hold 'over long enough to paint the sky with his own funeral oration.

It is urged that street car conductors should be provided with seats. It would be a good idea, too, to provide passengers with them.

J. Sterling Morton is to call his newspaper "The Dynamo." This has the advantage that any old issue can still be called "the current number."

Japan would like to know whether the death of the Japanese sailors on the Maine has any connection with her troubles with Spain in the Philippine Islands.

Pathetically the Boston Globe exclaims: "And still another temperance lecture from the anfield." The lecturer realized the embarrassment of talking a drop too much.

A Kokomo man has come into possession of an American silver dollar with two goddesses on it. Lucky man! Most of us are satisfied with dollars with one goddess on them. Kokomo agn the world.

The hands who robbed the bank in broad daylight at Bayard, Neb., barely got enough money to pay for the ammunition used in shooting at their pursuers. They probably didn't count on being chased.

Mr. Corbett says the puns over his seat plexus caused entirely a bad case of dyspepsia from which he had been suffering. It was pretty severe muscular, but no cure can be worse than that disease. There are thousands who would be glad to go into a prize-fight with such a cure in view; but such is the power of their misery, the professional pugner would be very likely to get knocked out in half the case.

"Is it better?" asks a St. Louis parlor, "to see the woman for breach of promise or to shoot her man who marries her?" There is no "better" in either. The only sensible way is to grin and drop the subject. What man would accept damages of that kind and would it do him any good to do murder and get hanged for it? There are some things in this world for which there is no remedy, and why seek for that which doesn't exist?

The war against gun-chewing begun by Bishop Vincent of the Methodist Episcopal church is the result of too much thought on a very cheap subject. The bishop thinks that to resist him is to prepare the conscience for sacrifice of a more important kind. If they forego gun they will quit liquor, and if they let that alone they will let alone other things which are equally as bad, but it is foolishness. And, strange as it seems, the bishop is actually in earnest.

What is golf? A queen's counsel lately thus irreverently defined the game for the benefit of the English judge who was hearing a case involving the playing of that kind of ball game, my lord, that the game of golf is played in irregular fields or waste grounds with a small ball which the player tries to hit with a stick. If he succeeds in hitting the ball he spends the rest of the day in looking for it. To the solemn-faced feller that description of the pastime must seem like trifling with a serious subject.

Mr. Choate reiterates the proposition that the law is the noblest profession, and remarks in defense of the fact that lawyers defend criminals whom they know to be guilty and have them acquitted, if possible, by breaking the law. "It is only one of the countless facts and of brain that the right can ever be evolved—only on the anvil of discussion that the spark of truth can be struck out." But far more frequently it is the truth that is struck in, and again, would a lawyer defend a poverty-stricken criminal known to be guilty through respect for truth and the morality? Then, too, the morality and some other professions have a few claims that ought to be recognized.

The trouble with most young men is that they do not understand the dignity of manual labor. They do not realize that honor and fortune may be more readily realized outside of the so-called learned professions than in them and that it is just as honorable to swing the hammer or to be a plow man as it is to make a speech in court or stump a limb. The lesson young men should be taught as early as possible is that it is not so much what a man does for a living as it is how he does it, and that manual labor is as honorable as any other.

Secretary Alger Creates the Department of the Gulf—General Order Issued—The West Will Soon Be Without Troops Except Where Indian Uprising Is Likely—Great Activity in the War Department—Mortar Works Working Night and Day.

The war department, which up to the present time has been engaged largely in carrying out the orders of the president, is now actively engaged in preparing for the possibility of a general movement of the regular army. The department is doing and intends to do, considerable work in connection with the activity in every branch of the military service, shows the war now actually exists. More important than anything that has been yet arranged under the direction of Secretary Alger are orders providing for a general movement of the regular army.

A WORD OF ADVICE.

To Those Coming to Alaska of the Yukon Gold Fields. One thing should be impressed upon every miner, prospector or trader coming to Alaska, to the Klondike, or the Yukon country, and that is the necessity for providing an adequate and reliable food supply. Whether procured in the States, in the Dominion, or at the supply stores here or further on, this must be his primary concern.

The mineral Standard's editor, in a recent issue of the Standard, has published a list of the designs but from the most of the leases are signed the partition of China is begun. The designs is the thought that the eyes of the nation are fixed in eager expectation upon Japan. The question remains whether England will resist Russia or proceed to her own interests by independent measures of her own.

The Russian government has ordered 30 new torpedo boats to augment its Pacific squadron at Vladivostok and Port Arthur. Russia also proposes to keep eight cruisers of the volunteer fleet continually in far eastern waters instead of the Pacific coast, to avoid the possibility of being hampered by Great Britain's fleet in the Suez canal.

All signs on the European horizon point conclusively to a war between Russia and Japan in the near future. Japan realizes that Russia is making dangerous encroachments in China, and she will not permit this. The fruits of victory, Russia, on the other hand, will not recede, hence a war with Japan seems inevitable.

From the Alaska Mining Journal. A book of receipts for all kinds of country which is especially valuable for use upon the trail or in the camp, is published by the Royal Baking Powder company of New York. The receipts are thoroughly practical, and the methods are carefully explained, so that the inexperienced man, with his aid, readily prepare everything requisite for a good wholesome meal, or even a dinner, if he has the necessary materials. The matter is in compact though durable form, the whole book weighing but two ounces. Under a special arrangement, this book will be sent free to miners or others who may desire it. We would recommend that every one going to the Klondike procure a copy. Address the Royal Baking Powder Co., New York.

Disruptive from Bombay, a riot has broken out among the caste Hindus and Mohammedans against the Europeans. It had its origin in an attack upon a plague hospital. Two soldiers had also been killed and the police had fired upon them, killing six persons and wounding many others. Other disturbances had taken place in the city, and the British troops and artillery have been called out and business is suspended.

MINSTRELS' HUMOR.

Witty Answer of an Irishman Who "Never Argued with a Lady." The minstrels of Ireland are not all gone from the highways and byways of Erin, says an exchange. The mournful harp and plaintive pipe may have given way to the breezy lingo and raucous blarney, but the songs which these minstrel are the songs of Ireland only, and they are the songs of the Irish people. A man who has been in the Irish harp of old Galway town I came upon a rare anecdote, says a well-known traveler, entitled by the dulcet notes of Tim Brennan, the "wonderful" harpist of Tipperary—one of the sweetest strains I ever heard and one who would have been great were it not for his love of the cinder in which they apply term the west of Ireland mountain dew. I had seen Tim many times before in Ireland. Our tramp had brought us into the same relations of artist and responsive auditor so many times that as he tipped me his cap, saying that of recognition I noticed that his violin had been replaced by the tennery, though ample musical intellect of a banjo brought from the head of a handsome Irish chieftain. In the name following his banjo I felt emboldened to toss him back his wink, with the query: "And, Tim, why didn't you bring the banjo with you?" "Faith yer honor," he replied, in a flash and with a winsome smile, "holding the churlish hand aloft so all could see, 'Faith I never argue with a lady an', yer honor, a brand of Irish woman stood at the other end!"

THE HORSES TO SAVE.

Disaster and desolation beyond description have overtaken two of our Australian colonies. In the case of Queensland, the intense heat of the midsummer sun has melted the snow into the parched earth, so that the rivers are visible only as a falling tide. Forests were scorched, and in New Zealand, a severe fire, which has burned for several days, has destroyed many of the finest buildings in the city, and thousands of people are homeless. In a burning building, the escape of 500 horses who organized and set out with horses to save lives.

REVIEW OF TRADE.

Continued activity in nearly all departments of trade, but more particularly in the larger cities of the west, was the feature of the month. The business was favorable, and the market was strong. The demand for wheat and flour was particularly active, and the price of these commodities was advanced. The market for cotton was also active, and the price of this commodity was advanced. The market for sugar was also active, and the price of this commodity was advanced. The market for other commodities was also active, and the price of these commodities was advanced.

WAR CLOUD IN THE EAST.

Russia and Japan Preparing for Trouble—The Chinese Situation Reopened—Much uneasiness is felt in the circles in consequence of the Russian demand for the settlement of the Russo-Japanese war. The Russian minister of War Arthur and Ta Lien Wen, on March 25. The Russian minister of Finance is reported to have urged the demand and to have temporarily and complained that the Chinese had settled in spite of the disapproval of Russia.

All the London papers comment on the menacing condition of affairs in the far east. The Daily Chronicle, a strong editorial saying: "As a result of the Russo-Japanese war, the world is in a state of more painful. It is simply begun the partition of China. If anybody asks what China will do the answer is simple. There is nothing but war as to China. The real question is: What will England do and what Japan?"

NORMAN W. FOX FOR SUPERVISOR.

Norman W. Fox, one of Manistique's popular young Republicans, upon the solicitation of scores of the leaders of the party in Manistique township, has consented to allow his name to come before the Republican caucus to be held next Tuesday afternoon for the nomination for the office of supervisor.

Martin H. Quick, the present supervisor, desires to drop out of politics on account of business demands, upon his time, and although urged to seek the nomination for supervisor again emphatically says: 'No.' Thus it is that the office seeks Mr. Fox, not Mr. Fox the office.

Norman W. Fox has for years been a resident of this city and we doubt if there can be found another better known and more highly respected. He is socially all right, is well qualified in a business way for the office, and should be given the nomination if his election would be assured and with a republican vote such as never was accorded to any candidate for office in the township.

Every Republican in the township should go to the caucus on Tuesday next and help to place in nomination, Norman W. Fox, the young man's candidate for supervisor or Manistique.

PRESIDENT McKINLEY, it is said, has consented to deliver an address in Chicago on the occasion of the laying of the cornerstone of the new postoffice building in that city.

'YANKEE DOODLE' and 'DIXIE' are whistled or hummed in all sections of the country just now, and whenever an opportunity presents itself everybody joins in the chorus of 'The Star Spangled Banner, long may it wave o'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.'

A NUMBER of the papers of Michigan are printing an item to the effect that the last legislature changed the law regarding the catching of trout so as to make the season begin on April 15, instead of May 1. This is wrong; the law remains as it has been for a long time, and trout can be legally caught only after May 1.

ONE of Mr. Gladstone's peculiar ideas which he has followed for 15 years, is to go to bed the instant he finds that he has caught cold and stay there until the indisposition has passed. In this way he believes he has frequently cut short what might have been a serious illness. He sometimes reads and writes in bed as usual.

JOHN GARAY, builder of the Lake-side school building, is spoken of by many inquiring Republicans for the office of justice of the peace and if he allows his name to come before the caucus he will, without doubt, be given the nomination. Mr. G. is an old and respected resident of the village and is well liked by all who know him. He is competent to attend to the duties of the office if elected, and is certainly as deserving of recognition as any in the township.

BIANCO'S TOAST.

Capt. Gen. Blanco the military representative of Spain in the Island of Cuba, held a banquet the other night in the course of which he took occasion to deliver a lengthy panegyric on the greatness of Spain, and particularly of the Spanish navy.

The Spanish flag, gracefully floating over the entrance of the Gulf of Mexico, represents before humanity the triumph of science, illuminated by faith, which gave a new world to the universe. To America that flag means the dawn of liberty, the birth of a Western civilization and the upholding of the gospel. For these reasons the Spanish flag shall always float over America, of which Spain is and ever shall be the foremost nation.

The distinguished Spaniard talks like a man who was conscious that he had been only partially earning his salary and was anxious to make amends for the past shortcoming. Talk about 'the dawn of liberty'—the birth of a Western civilization and 'upholding of the gospel' in connection with the history of Spanish tyranny in the Western hemisphere! If oppression is liberty, if murder is civilization and if piracy is the gospel, then, indeed, may Blanco's proud boast be true. But if liberty, civilization and the gospel are to be defined according to the American conception of those terms, then Spain is the stranger of liberty, the closed door to civilization and the proponent only of the gospel of hate, revenge and cruel despotism.

But, really, Blanco's banal toast is calculated to provoke a smile rather than a frown. The idea of this desecrated, bankrupt and tottering nation assuming to hold 'the entrance of the Gulf of Mexico' is truly ludicrous, when one stops to consider that the total armed force of Spain has been unable in three years to suppress an insurrection that would hardly exist the police force of an average American county. And besides, it is not a flag that 'sheds gracefully and bravely.' It is merely a suggestive rag, dived red in the blood of a million murdered innocents, and with just a streak of yellow in it, symbolic of the cowardice, cruelty and treachery by which her victories were won.

Gen. Blanco should try another toast or surrender a portion of his salary. This one was pretty bad.

PININERIE AND ROMBLAN.

In answer to Gov. Pingree's request for his views on the subject of the extra session of the Michigan legislature called to enact legislation increasing the taxation on railways and other corporations Senator McMillan of that state has advised against dealing hastily with so important a matter. He thinks the legislature should appoint a commission to investigate the system of taxation now in force in the state of Michigan and report to the next legislature such changes as may seem advisable in order properly to adjust the burdens of taxation.

This procedure, the legislature proclaims, in his opinion, obtain information necessary to revivify and perfect the system. Gov. Pingree is highly displeased by this proposition, which he terms an insult to himself and the people of Michigan. He alleges that several bright minds in Michigan have been working on the subject and have gained more knowledge of this kind in the last six months than Senator McMillan will ever admit he knows. Evidently the erratic governor does not wish to be crossed since he has made up his mind to have the legislature do his bidding without investigation. The suggestion of delay works him up into such a passion that he impugns Senator McMillan's motives and accuses him of being actuated by friendliness to the railway companies. None the less Senator McMillan's letter will be likely to impress reasonable people as deserving of consideration by the legislature. He writes among other things:

You assert that railroad, telegraph and telephone companies are not taxed in proportion to the property they own. Possibly this is true, possibly also competition or legislative enactment has so reduced rates charged for public service that the people receive the same benefits more surely than they would receive them through increased taxation. These are questions that may well receive the very thorough study and consideration of the legislature.

So far as the railways are concerned there is every reason for 'thorough study and consideration.' The reduction in railway rates has been very marked in recent years. Poor's Manual gives the following statement of the average rate per mile on all the railways of the United States during the thirteen years between 1884 and 1896:

Table showing average rate per mile on all the railways of the United States from 1884 to 1896.

The reduction in railway rates has been fully as great as other reductions, a fact which is deserving of serious consideration in connection with any proposition for increased taxation. Probably the merit of the proposition to do exact justice to this subject of taxation of corporations does not suit the political plans of Gov. Pingree. He is an anti-corporation politician ready to proceed to extreme measures with the least possible investigation.

MARKETS AND MONEY.

The tension in the wheat market continues unabated and the Chicago capitalist's grip on the May option remains firm, notwithstanding the liberal character of the movement in the West and reduced exports from the Atlantic seaboard. In the Milwaukee market there has been a weak feeling, and prices of the May and July options have declined 1/2 cents, under the influence of mild and fine weather in the West, where the work is beginning to be resumed.

The winter wheat crop outlook generally is favorable, though in some states there is considerable complaint and the California crop is in some quarters estimated as low as 20,000,000 bushels, in consequence of the drought; though since the promulgation of that report there have been some rains and also from Ohio and Michigan send complaints, but on the other hand the reports from the Southwest are of a favorable character. England, France, Germany and Austria-Hungary report a promising outlook, while Russia has suffered damage from frost and thawing in the South.

Chicago syndicate wheat is moving eastward by rail as rapidly as possible, and European markets seem indifferent to the rapidly falling supplies on their side of the Atlantic, especially as India and Argentina are shipping new produce at a rapid rate. Bradstreet's reported a reduction of 1,254,000 bushels in the world's visible supply, against a decrease of 4,077,000 bushels in 1897. Continental European stocks in February were reduced 1,500,000 bushels. Flour has declined 1/2 cents per barrel, and millers complain of the difficulty of effecting sales at anything above the September basis of what prices, while they are unable to buy below May figures current. The flour production is falling, and receipts are light, though freight rates continue low. Rye, corn and oats are steady, and barley has advanced 1/2 cents, the supply having been reduced. Flaxseed is dull and 1/2 cents lower. Hogs and their products are 5 cents lower, the receipts exceeding those of the corresponding period in 1897. The wool market has become dull, manufacturers being out of the list of buyers, and speculators look for a decline, notwithstanding the upward tendency of prices at London. The cotton movement in the South is heavy, and exports from the seaboard exceed expectations. Dry goods are moderately active, though the demand is confined chiefly to supplying current wants only, and woollens are dull. Hides and leather are dropping, and the former have declined 1/2 cent. The iron trade continues to enjoy a fair degree of prosperity, and considerable business on 'warehouse' is reported, while 10,000 tons of steel rails sold to a domestic railway, and 11,000 tons for export. General business is active, and bank clearings for the week show gains of 35.4 per cent., though outside of New York the figures are only 22.3 per cent., and Milwaukee had 20.5 per cent. The stock market is unsettled, and while the week opened higher the closing was lower, under the unsettled condition of political affairs.

UPPER PENINSULA NEWS.

According to the registration book, Iron Mountain there are 2,181 voters in the city. It is not probable, however, that over 1,500 voters at present are showing. Many have removed and others have died.

Archib. Mayo returned to his home at Houghton, Friday, from Detroit City where he went last fall. He reports all good claims taken and made, and short rations at Skagway. The conditions are terrible. He saw thirty-two cases of typhoid fever, and a victim of typhoid fever and epidemic disease. He strongly advises all who inquire to stay away from Alaska.

Issue Stephenson of Marinette, Daniel Wells of Milwaukee and John W. Wells of Menominee have bought the right-of-way for side-tracks and terminals and for shipping purposes from the D. & S. Stephens company at North Escanaba, and will build a railroad from the mouth of the Escanaba river to Republic to handle coal, hardwood, spruce, hemlock and iron ore. The road will open up a million feet of iron ore and the company will build a mill to manufacture the lumber. The point has fine shipping facilities. The new road will connect with the Chicago & North-western, Soo, Ann Arbor, and Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroads, is to have a fine dock for lake-shippers. The road will be about sixty miles long and will be built with heavy rails.

A MANUFACTURER'S EXHIBITION.

Last summer we had with us delegates of prominent merchants appointed by the leading commercial bodies of the countries of Central and South America. In their tour through the country these delegates saw many things that caused them to open their eyes at the degree of perfection attained by American industry. The reports made by them to their respective chambers of commerce, made mention of the fact that the products of this country are but little known abroad, and it is to the interest of foreign merchants to make a careful examination of the American field.

The visit of the South Americans last summer induced business men in Philadelphia to organize an exposition of American manufacturers such as are suited to the export trade. The association has been incorporated and has the support of the Philadelphia commercial museum and of the old and renowned industrial society known as the Franklin institute of Philadelphia.

The project is in a forward state. The organization known as the Philadelphia exposition association has selected and directed a number of the sterling business men of the city. Wm. Harper is the director-general.

The exposition will be held in permanent fireproof buildings to be erected on land now held for that purpose by the city of Philadelphia, in extent about 85 acres. The exposition will be open to the public on May 10, 1898, and will remain open for five months.

The main objects of the exposition are: To show to foreign buyers the goods American manufacturers offer for export, and to establish their superiority. To show to American manufacturers the character of goods they must compete with in the open markets of the world. To show how American goods should be packed, labeled and put up for export trade. To bring the manufacturers and merchants of the United States into direct personal contact with the principal buyers, merchants and bankers of foreign countries. Detroit Journal.

Mortgage Sale.

Default has been made in the terms of a certain mortgage bearing date the 20th day of March, 1897, and recorded September 11th, 1897, in favor of the late Mrs. Mary Ann Michalski in Liber 2 of Mortgages in this county, and the same is now for sale at public auction.

A HUNDREDTH'S TRICK.

A Horse and Wagon Sale in Beaver Lake.

Last fall a Plummer tenderfoot, Martin Anderson by name, struck the town, and within a few days drifted out to Mercur, where his brother Henry Anderson, an attaché of the Mercury, resides.

At that time Beaver Lake district, in Beaver County, was enjoying a boom, and the two brothers decided to try their fortune in this promising copper camp. Martin to furnish the muscle and show necessary to carry on the enterprise successfully, while Henry was to take care of the financial end of the undertaking.

As a result Martin has been hitting the drill and doing effective work with pickaxe shovel all winter long, with varying success, although no big strikes have rewarded his toil. Still he kept up a manful front and a stiff upper lip, and went on bravely by an occasional day's prospecting jaunt, and it was while out on one of these that he discovered a ledge not far from the Montreal mine in Rocky district, about the claim, when located, was situated in Beaver Lake.

The boys struck on this new acquisition, which was named the Shamrock, is small, ranging from one to four inches in width, but a peculiarity of the formation is that there is only one vein to the vein and this is the footwall of dolomite lime, while on the other side of the ledge there is nothing but weak gravel and soil, and Mr. Anderson with an assistant, is doing nothing but tramping along the side of the vein in the loose dirt and dealing off the pay rock, which averages 34 per cent. copper, 85 gold and several ounces in silver to the ton, and according to prospectus so far reported, the two will be able to break down about ten tons a month of this high-grade truck; and it is believed in this manner enough money can be made in a few months to develop the property as it should be later on.

The Anderson boys are good fellows, intelligent, well-to-do and desirable citizens, and are deserving of success. Salt Lake Herald, March 6.

Henry Anderson, mentioned above was for a time employed in this city, by Wright & Halle, printers, and is quite well known here.

A Clever Trick.

It certainly looks like it, but there's no way to trick. Anybody can try who has lame back and weak kidneys, whether on nervous troubles. We mean to cure him right away by taking Electric Bitters. This medicine cleans up the whole system, acts as a stimulant to liver and kidneys, is a mild purifier and nerve tonic. It cures constipation, headache, fainting spells, sleeplessness, and melancholy. It is purely vegetable, a mild laxative, and restores the system to its natural vigor. Try Electric Bitters and be convinced that they are a miracle worker. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c a bottle at A. S. Putnam & Co's Drug Store.

The Leader is by far the best 3-Brand cigar in the local market. It is made from the best tobacco and is smoked by many who have tried other brands and have decided to stick to Zimmerman's Leader.

Teachers' Examination.
