Two Nominated.

Shelden and Stephenson Receive Nomination at Yesterday's Convention.

Supreme Court may Have to Decide which is Rightful Nominee.

There was a hot time at the Republican congressional convention held at L'Anapim yesterday afternoon. The supporters of both candidates were present in large numbers and many were unable to get into the hall.

George Newett, chairman of the congressional committee, called the meeting to order and then the fight for the temporary organization commenced. The Sheldens nominated C. S. Osborn for chairman and H. H. Shelden for secretary and the Stephenson delegates nominated J. A. Cooper and Richard Mason chairman and secretary, respectively.

Both sides then went ahead and conducted business separately, it being evident from the start that one crowd would not yield to the other.

The Shelden men disposed of business quickly and after their man had been nominated adjourned with cheers for Shelden. Late in the evening the Stephenson delegates finished their work and adjourned.

The Supreme court, it is said, will be asked to decide which is entitled to a place on the ticket.

The delegates from this county returned this noon.

RECEPTION FOR PRIVATE OLSEN.

Hero of the fight at Santiago Given a Farewell Reception.

A farewell reception in honor of Private David Olson of Co. B, 22d Infantry, was given at the Staropetra house, Tuesday evening, under the auspices of the Scandinavian Gymnastic Society, Concorvia. The attendance was large, the seating capacity of the hall being taxed and standing room in the aisles was at a premium. Many returned home not being able to find standing room in a hall when the entertainment could be heard.

The stage was neatly decorated for the occasion, flags being placed in every conceivable corner, to the right and left of the stage were stacks of guns and in the center a table draped with an American flag on which were vases of flowers.

Seated in the center of the stage was Private David Olson, who was injured twice by Spanish bullets before Santiago and was honor on a 30 days furlough, and about him were members of the G. A. R. and the speakers of the evening.

The opening address was made by C. M. Drevelahl, an officer of the society, and after a selection by the band, then came the address of welcome and introduction of the hero, David Olson by Rev. H. A. B. of the Presbyterian church. The address overflowed with patriotism and words of praise for the regulars and the brave volunteers who offered their services against the inhuman Spaniards, whose treatment of the Cubans called forth the curses of the civilized nations of the world. At the conclusion of his address he introduced Mr. Olson, who at some length gave a word-picture of his trip to Cuba, the landing at Santiago, the fight, the glorious victory and the hardships withstood by Uncle Sam's men. His interesting address was listened to with marked attention and many times was it punctuated by rounds of applause.

Rev. O. Hogfelt, J. M. Shank, J. A. Brodman Atty. Geo. E. Pardee and F. H. Peters made short addresses which were heartily received. Mr. and Mrs. Peters sang a duet in their usual pleasing manner; the Swedish Quartet Club gave three numbers and responded to encores; the Manistique Band entertained the occasion with a couple of selections. When near the end of the program the Concorvia society gave an exhibition gymnastic drill which elicited deserved applause. The marching and athletic exercises were executed with marked precision, such as is only attained by indefatigable practice and careful instruction.

Just before the close of the program John A. Falk, in behalf of the Scandinavian ladies, after an appropriate address, presented Mr. Olson with a handsome gold watch and chain. Mr. Olson responded briefly, thanking the donors for the handsome token of their respect.

Rev. J. C. Roney, of the Baptist church, closed the program with a short address following it with an earnest

St. Petersburg. By order of Emperor Nicholas II. The foreign minister, handed to the press a note dated at St. Petersburg a note declaring that the maintenance of peace and the reduction of the excessive armaments of the great powers are the ideals for which all governments are striving. The czar considers the present situation most favorable for the inauguration of a new era of looking for peace and invites the powers to take part in an international conference as a means of this insuring real and lasting peace and increasing the progress and increase of armaments.

London: The czar's proposition for an international conference for the purpose of securing real and lasting peace among the powers and the termination of the progressive increase of armaments, and conveyed in a note from Count Muraviev, the Russian ambassador in London, to the czar at St. Petersburg, is being produced a sensation throughout Europe, and coming from such a quarter for the first time since the outbreak of the Russo-Japanese war, it is likely to have important effects. There is no doubt that the Russian taking the lead in such a scheme is a most significant step, and will be likely to follow.

Spain, France and Russia combined in a note proposing the restoration of the treaty of alliance has been signed between Spain, France and Russia with the object of counteracting the Anglo-German alliance. The idea of a permanent rapprochement between France and Russia is certainly in the air and may in time assume considerable practical importance, but its origin in France is the result of the peace negotiations and report of friction with England and Spain in the neighborhood of Gibraltar. Many patriotic Spanish who have been suffering from the effects of the forthcoming peace negotiations, regard the suggestion of a French alliance with much favor, especially as the British would be very beneficial in the great work of financial and economic reorganization which Spain must undertake directly peace is concluded.

American Peace Commissioners. Secretary of State Day has announced the members of the American peace commission, selected as follows: Secretary Day, Senators Davis and Payne, Whitlaw Reid and Justice Edward A. White, and the United States supreme court.

The following attaches of the peace commission will be appointed by the secretary of state: Mr. J. M. McKim, as vice secretary of the commission, and J. R. MacArthur, of New York, its assistant secretary. Mr. MacArthur is the first secretary of the United States legation at Madrid and is now on special duties at the state department.

Military Inquiry on Conduct of the War. Washington: The administration has decided to institute a military inquiry into the conduct of the war with Spain. It is believed that a properly conducted military inquiry will throw light upon the responsibility of the men who are responsible for the various failures and successes of the war. The inquiry will determine if any important orders had not been obeyed, and if any investigation further say that the board of inquiry would make a report which would be of great value in resulting in new military legislation.

An express train ran into a back board yard at Ware, Mass., killing five living troops.

OUR BOYS IN CAMP

It seems to be a settled fact that by the time the snow falls upon the barren sand dunes and pine woods of the upper peninsula, the family 84th will be in a land of eternal sunshine, Porto Rico.

The adjutant general's bulletin issued last Saturday contained among the list of regiments ordered to Camp Meade, Pa., our organization and although official notice has not yet been received by Col. Irish, it is expected daily.

This morning 600 recruits of the 33d and 34th Michigan Regts. arrived here from Camp Meade. They were recruited under the second call and have been drifting around from one camp to another in the south for some time past under strange official and military names.

Women blankets of the regular army pattern were issued yesterday and today the boys all received a pair each of fine serge trousers. No regiment in the service has received such an amount of fine equipment as has been lavished upon the 34th Mich. U. S. Vol. Inf.

Bert J. Welch of the hospital corps has been confined to the hospital for several days past. We understand he is to be discharged from the service, the surgeon claiming he cannot stand the hot climate of the West Indies.

Corporal Fred Brassel of B Co., has just been discharged from the hospital where he has been confined for a couple of weeks with an attack of mumps. Col. Irish issued an order Monday forbidding the issuance of any more furloughs until further notice. Half fares have been established on all railroads for soldiers of the 33d, but it is doubtful if many will have a chance to avail themselves of the reduction.

The U. S. paymaster is expected in camp tomorrow to settle with the boys for Aug. The recruits of the 33d and 34th will also receive their back pay and a 60 day furlough.

The first of the 33d and 34th regiments direct from Montank passed through camp Sunday afternoon. The 34th Regiment Band was at the depot to greet them, but the guards stationed at the gates were unavailing in keeping the boys out. They over ran them pell mell and boarded the trains where a general brotherly time was had, the boys fraternizing like old time comrades. Monday forenoon the same scene was repeated when the Big Rapids and Muskegon Co's of the 34th pulled into the station. Many of the men were so ill that they could not sit up in the hospital car attached to the train.

Corporals Levitt and Liewox of Co. L, 33d Mich., Sons of Veterans, visited friends in Co. B between trains Monday. They had their full equipments with them and a large amount of Cuban souvenirs to remind them of their experiences in 1901 in years to come.

The band has been equipped with their new instruments and now cut a swell appearance. Their music has also improved perceptibly.

One more letter from Camp Eaton is all I expect to write, present intentions being that a week from Sunday will find us at Camp Meade. At least we hope so.

Manitowish has the largest quota of any town represented in the 33d. There are 55 in Co. I and 19 in Co. B.

CAMP EATON, Sept. 8th, 1908.

Scientists and electricians cannot agree upon the number of electric volts that are necessary to cause a cessation of life in the human body. Some claim that an excessive shock is more likely to cause incineration rather than instantaneous death; but if they would turn their attention to prolonging and increasing the pleasure of life the public would hail the result with more satisfaction. For instance the electricity generated in a wave of laughter is after all the most pleasant shock, and to a large assembly moved by a current of uncontrollable mirth while witnessing the performance of Fitz and Welter's new places beyond dispute the fact large volts of laughter are better than volts of electricity any day.

Tom Tucker Sick. George Pymbroke Tucker of this city, a member of Co. E, 34th Regiment, Houghton, is ill at St. John's Hospital, Long Island City. He came to Montank Point along with his regiment and on his arrival was in fully good health, although weak from an attack of malarial fever which he contracted in the trenches at Santiago and was compelled to lay in the hospital for eleven days. The first intimation of his serious illness at Camp Wikoff came by telegram from a New York City friend who found him and a Cabinet soldier at a Red Cross hospital and took them to a Sister's hospital at Long Island City. A second telegram came the same morning stating that Penn's condition was alarming and Mrs. C. D. Tucker, his mother, started for New York that (Saturday) noon to care for her son. Newspaper reports stated that the young man was near death's door and that only a miracle would save him, but since reports from other sources state his condition is much improved. A telegram from Mrs. Tucker on Tuesday brought the joyful news to his many friends here that he was much better, and also a letter from a sister of W. B. Thomas stating that he was improved.

Penn's best friends here and throughout the peninsula pray that he may be again restored to health.
