GREAT REPUBLICAN RALLY.

Capt. E. P. Allen, an able speaker, will address the voters of Schoolcraft county at the Star Opera House, Tuesday evening, Nov. 1, on the political issues of the day. Every voter is urged to be present to attend the meeting. Chairs will be reserved for the ladies.

BOTH GO ON THE TICKET.

Michigan Supreme Court Decision in Sheldon Stephenson Contest.

According to the decision of the Supreme Court Congressman Sheldon and Samuel M. Stephenson are entitled to have their names on the official ballot in the Twelfth congressional district as candidates for Congress on the Republican ticket.

It is held with the election commissioners in the different counties to determine which of the two congressmen shall appear upon the regular ticket, it being decided that on the ballot on a ticket all shall be headed with the name "Republican". The principle is laid down that a respectable minority in a political convention withdrawing from the meeting and naming a candidate is entitled to have the name of its nominee placed on the ballot, although it is intimated that a more refractory minority might not be entitled to such a privilege.

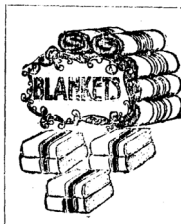

This morning at a meeting of the election commissioners the majority decided to place the name of Carlos D. Sheldon on the regular or first ticket.

The Teachers' Institute
The teachers' institute for Schoolcraft county, convened at the school house at 8 a. m., Oct. 24.

The instructors are H. P. Pattengill of Lansing, Esq., Superintendent of Public Instruction, who acted as conductor, and Rev. E. W. Putnam, of Ishpeming, who acted as instructor.

The attendance was good, better than at any previous institute ever held in the county, only four teachers being absent.

Mr. Pattengill opened the institute by emphasizing the necessity of institutes and the direct good returned to the schools from them through the individual teachers. His first subject was the "Big Four," in which he named and designated the four most necessary qualities of each successful teacher. They were: "The What," or what to teach; "The How," or how to teach the same; "The Gump," which would at first seem to be a rather unimportant quality, but which in long and short is choice old Anglo-Saxon, and means the quality of adapting one's self to existing conditions or environments, and "Gump," another Anglo-Saxon word meaning business of purpose. He also discussed the subjects of geography, reading, and language, which he said should be the basis of every school lesson, besides other subjects incidentally. Prof. Putnam took the subject of arithmetic, dealing with it in an original way that induced the teachers to regard it in a more or less modified light. For instance, he said there are only two ideas in arithmetic: increase and decrease. He also had the subject of Narcotics, and the Psychological subject of "The Will" which he dealt with in a masterly manner. He defined the Will as the "active powers of the Soul."

Prof. Putnam lectured Tuesday evening, "What Modern Thought owes to the ancients," was said to be the finest as was Prof. Pattengill's lecture "Made in America," Wednesday night.

The institute was an inspiration to every teacher present and a decided success from every point of view, made so to a great extent by the cooperation of congenial and experienced Commissioners of Schools, J. A. Chisholm, principal of the Henry schools.

THE MANITIQUE COURIER

J. H. MacNABOTT, Editor.

MANITIQUE, MICHIGAN

The bravest and best of all silver lining.

Men frequently furnish noose items for the paper.

The poet pipes the lay and the plumber lays the pipe.

It is difficult to convince a loafer that he borrows a busy man.

It's never too hot in summer or too cold in winter for the ice man.

Men look forward to the future while women dwell upon the past.

Some men take less advantage of opportunities than those who offer them.

The end of one man's failure is oftentimes the beginning of another man's success.

Some people are willing to live up to their light as long as their eyes are bandaged.

We never heard of husbands and wives quarrelling about which loved the other most.

Some actors are like some singers; they go upon the stage when they are good for anything else.

Great wit is said to be skin to mad men; yet we seldom hear of a mad going around bragging of his superior insanity.

Some one has said that truth is essential, but true she changes it until its own mother is unable to recognize it.

The man who wishes a woman is sneered at as sentimental, and the one who doesn't is called a brute—so what can the poor man do?

The Sunday afternoon is described in a private letter from a soldier as appetizing and quite unlike some of the food recently offered our soldiers.

What with steaks, fresh bread, tea, and an occasional hot in the camp in Africa, a common soldier, seems to offer a striking contrast to his contemporary on this side of the sea.

Happy for us, the army ration question may now be discussed at leisure, not under fire.

Some of the persons who are urging and even "imitating" that certain members of the volunteer army be murdered out of the service, forget that the men enlisted for two years.

They did not enroll themselves either for a military picnic or exclusively to fight Spain, but to be soldiers, going where they were ordered to go and doing what they were ordered to do, without demand, or question, or thought of discharge.

They should be loyal to their post, as well as to their country, for the sake of the months of faithful military service, and patriotic in their willingness to fall if, if this is demanded by the higher necessities of the government.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt gave some good advice to the "rough riders" who fought under him at San Juan, before they were mustered out. "Don't pass as heroes," he said, "or lie on your laurels, because they wither. Be careful of your conduct. The world will be kind for ten days and then, if those old words that the world is capable of speaking, it will declare you spoiled by going to the war."

Here is a good, humorous recognition that military glory is transient, especially in this country. War is a rare episode in our national history. The duties chiefly exacted of Americans are those of good men, of good rate life, integrity in business, good citizenship.

The olive-growers of California will probably gather next winter the largest crop ever grown in the Union.

For the first time the production of this fruit, will be in excess of the demands for consumption in California alone.

An enormous planting of olive groves has been made in California in the last few years. It has been reckoned that 600,000 olive trees were set out in this state last spring alone.

Rough estimates put the area of bearing olive groves in California at about 5,000 acres, while the total orchard area is about 24,000.

This state has practically a monopoly in growing olives in America. Some attempts have been made to grow the new variety Blanco olive in Florida and Louisiana, but the soil is not adapted to the fruit in either of those states.

Some twelve years ago a seventy-acre olive orchard was started near Guadalupe, Mex., but the trees never came to bear fruit, and the scheme was abandoned when it was found the air was too damp.

France will not disarm until she gets back Alsace-Lorraine. There is a precedent for you. England will perhaps not disarm until she gets back the United States of America, and Spain will postpone her disarmament until she gets back Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines.

The editor of the Humboldt (Kaa) Herald says: "The boy in a sweater is too good to be distributed without being spoken of," and the cautious part of it is that he is speaking of his own wife, too.

TALMAGE'S SERMON.

"ACROSS THE CONTINENT." LAST SUNDAY'S SUBJECT.

The Postscript of the Greater Love on Every Hand While Journeying Over Our vast Empire of Empire. Strange Nights.

Texts—Isaiah 40: 5; "Streams in the desert"; Psalms 121: 3; "He toucheth the hills and they smoke."

My first text means irrigation. It means the waters of the Nile, or the Pyrenees, or the Sierra Nevada poured through canals or aqueducts for the fertilization of the valleys.

It means the process by which the best mile of America's barrenness will be made an apple orchard, or an orange grove, or a wheat field, or a cotton plantation, or a vineyard—streams in the desert.

My second text means a volcano like Vesuvius or Cotopaxi. It means the genius of Yellowstone Park or of California. You see a hill calm and still, and it ages afterwards, but the Lord out of the heavens puts his finger on the top of it, and from it rise thick and impressive vapors. "He toucheth the hills and they smoke."

Although my journey across the continent this summer was for the eighth time, more and more I am impressed with the divine hand in its construction, and with its grandeur and more and more I am thrilled with the fact that it is all to be irrigated, fertilized and cultivated. What a change from the time when Daniel Webster on your Capitol Hill said to the American Senate in regard to the center of this continent, and to the regions on the Pacific coast: "What do you want with this vast, worthless area, this region of savages and wild beasts, of deserts and great gulches, of shifting sands and shifting dunes? For what use do you ever put these great deserts of these great mountains, impenetrable and covered with eternal snow? What can we ever hope to do with the hills and the mountains, the creeks and the mountains, and not a harbor on it? I will never vote one cent from the public treasury to place the Pacific coast on the same level as the rest of the continent."

he Adirondacks and Mount Washington were here uttering themselves in one magnificent chorus of rock and precipice and water-fall, sitting and standing through the air as though they came down. The British Vain Falls so thin you can see the face of the mountain behind it. Yonder in Yosemite Falls dropping 500 feet, sixteen times greater descent than that of Niagara. These waters dashed to death on the rocks, so that the white spirt of these rain waters ascending in robe of mist, veils the lower slopes of Nevada Falls, plunging seven hundred feet, the water in arroyos, the water in rocks, the water in pearls, the water in rainbows, and the water in diamonds. That cascade flies down the rocks enough jewels to array all the earth in beauty, and rushes on until it flows into a very bill of waters, the smoke of their torrent ascending forth and ever.

But the most wonderful part of this American continent is the Yellowstone Park. My two visits to it made upon me an impression that I cannot ever get rid of. Go in by the Maudslayi route as we did this summer and save 200 miles of falling water, over stage-coach taking you through a day of solid, and of floating and sublime as the Yellowstone Park itself. After all poetry has exhausted itself concerning Yellowstone Park and all the other enchanting artists have completed their canvases, these will be other revelations to come, and other stories of its beauty and grandeur, and more and more I am thrilled with the fact that it is all to be irrigated, fertilized and cultivated. What a change from the time when Daniel Webster on your Capitol Hill said to the American Senate in regard to the center of this continent, and to the regions on the Pacific coast: "What do you want with this vast, worthless area, this region of savages and wild beasts, of deserts and great gulches, of shifting sands and shifting dunes? For what use do you ever put these great deserts of these great mountains, impenetrable and covered with eternal snow? WHERE THE DAY BEGINS.

That There is Each a Place in the World is a Fact.

Seeing that as one moves westward the time gets earlier and earlier, so that in the London noon in London it is some time on Monday morning in America, it follows that, if this principle were continued, without limit all the way around the world, that in London it would be about twenty-four hours later—i.e., Tuesday noon in London, says St. James Gazette, this is the only time of day, as it is, we have to look for the limit, which, in fact, exist, to the principle that as one moves westward the time gets earlier, and as one moves eastward later, before the circumnavigation of the globe there was no difficulty. When on a Monday the sun stood over London it was Monday noon in London. As the sun moved to use the popular phrase) westward, and stood a little later over Dublin, it became Monday noon in Dublin, and so on until he reached the western limit of the known world. When the sun passed over that limit that was the end of noon for that Monday, and nobody knew what the sun was doing until he crossed the eastern limit of the known world, bringing with him Tuesday morning. It is evident, therefore, that the sun was in the east when it was in the west, and he dropped the attribute of making the time at all places directly under his rays Monday noon and took to himself the next day. As the confines of the world were pushed further eastward and westward, respectively, the unknown abysms westward, and the known world got narrower and narrower, until when the globe was circumnavigated, the

There are a few democrats who are not saying a word.

I thought that Thompson will give a good republican majority this fall.

Talk about prosperity! Times are so good that Mary Ellen Lease is making money lecturing.

Two Democrats who used the knife two years ago are now trying to heal the wound. No use, the cuts is too deep.

Lieut.-Gov. ROBINSON and Attorney General OWEN on the Republican ticket, will go to the Straits of Mackinac with 15,000 plurality, and Gov. FINCHER will be nearly even with them. Just mark the prediction.—Menominee Herald.

BURTON HOWARD, the Democrat-Union-Silver nominee for county clerk, has ordered his name taken from the ballot. The name of Geo. McPherson, until recently employed at the S. James, has been substituted by the triangle committee.

Mrs. JOHN SHERMAN, who recently suffered a stroke of paralysis, is still living, but there is little hope of her recovery. She is conscious at times, but only for a few moments. Mr. Sherman is bowed with grief and spends much of the time clinging to the band he has held for half a century. They expected to celebrate their golden wedding Dec. 31, for they were married at Mansfield, O. on the last day of the year 1848.

Several young men in Schoolcraft county will cast their first vote November 8th. Don't lose it. Vote the Republican ticket and help swell its majority. The Republican party is interested in the welfare of the country and its millions of people.

Gen. WESLEY MERRITT, U. S. A., and Mrs. Laura Williams of Chicago were married at the Hotel Savoy, London, Eng., Monday evening. They go to Paris and at the conclusion of the peace commission work will proceed by the Panama islands.

Money will not consult the Tribune or Courier in the appointment of a deputy or undersheriff. Democrat.

No one will need to consult Patsy or any of his Democratic friends relative to appointments for two years at least.

EVACUATION OF CUBA.

After President McKinley, Atty. Gen. Griegs and Secretaries Long, Hay and Alger had discussed the evacuation of Cuba, Monday, it was agreed that it would be impossible for the 124,000 Spanish troops now on the island to leave before the first of the year, and Gen. Wade was telegraphed to that effect. In the meantime, however, the United States troops now in Cuba and others to be dispatched will take possession of the territory as fast as the Spaniards vacate it, probably leaving Havana until the last. It related to the reported purpose of the Spaniards to dismount and remove to Spain the heavy ordnance of the forts and arsenals about Havana it was stated in positive terms that nothing of the kind would be permitted, and if this movement had already begun, it would be stopped at once.

THE CUBAN DEBT.

It is hard to understand how sensible men, even if they are Spaniards, can think there is an injustice to Spain in the refusal of the United States to assume the Cuban debt. Part of this debt, which now amounts to half a billion dollars, represents money borrowed in order to carry on war against the Cubans. Hardly anybody believes that more than a very little of it was spent for the benefit of Cuba.

The assumption of this debt by the United States would be a precedent which, if followed, would lead to some plainly absurd results. The sultan, for instance, when next he gets hold of somebody wise enough to lend him money, might spend it as he could borrow upon Armenia—i.e. including men to cut Armenians into bits. He could call the sum thus expended "the Armenian debt," and expect the power which acquires Armenia, when the long deferred partition of Turkey finally comes off, to repay the borrower or to make Armenia repay him.

To say this is not to say that Spain's peace commissioners ought not to propose the assumption of the Cuban debt by the United States. If they seriously believe they can work the United States for half a billion dollars they are justified in

Advice to Consumptives

There are three great remedies that every person with weak lungs, or with consumption itself, should understand.

These remedies will cure about every case in its first stages; and many of those more advanced. It is only the most advanced that are hopeless. Even these are wonderfully relieved and life itself greatly prolonged.

What are these remedies? Fresh air, proper food and Scott's Emulsion of Cod-Liver Oil with Hypophosphites. Be afraid of draughts but not of fresh air. Eat nutritious food and drink plenty of milk. Do not forget that Scott's Emulsion is the oldest, the most thoroughly tested and the highest endorsed of all remedies for weak throats, weak lungs and consumption in all its stages.

Up to the present time the anti-administration papers have been proud of charges but barren of proof to sustain them. When called upon to send us witnesses or submit documentary proofs they either make making the attempt. But when they have perceived the futility of this course, nobody ought to say that we have been hard upon Spain.

NEITHER HERO NOR MARTYR.

Col. W. J. Bryan has not succeeded in making himself either a military hero or a military martyr since he entered the army. When it became apparent that the chances of securing military glory for him were slim, his friends immediately began to seek some other way of getting political capital out of his connection with the army. It naturally occurred to them that he might advantageously be represented as being persecuted by the republican administration, and they undertook to show that he was being detained in the service to prevent him from taking part in the political campaign this year. But this scheme to advertise Mr. Bryan has been an utter failure.

The war department, disappointed at the light which Mr. Bryan's resignation was mustered out or continued in the service. They thought the alternative was such that it could be made to show ill treatment of Mr. Bryan in either case. For, if his resignation was mustered out, they could say that it meant that he was deprived of the opportunity to share in any of the glory of the war, and if it was not mustered out, they could say that it was kept in restrictive order that he be prevented from taking part in the campaign.

The war department disappointed the Democrats, however, by allowing the Populist governor of Nebraska to decide the question and there was thus no opportunity to blame the administration. The responsibility being thus placed with the governor of Nebraska, he was merely asked that the excess of the quota of the state amounting to twenty-three men in each company of the two regiments be honorably discharged. As matters stand, therefore, Col. Bryan is now serving in the United States by his own preference or by the advice of his friends. So far as the administration is concerned it is absolutely indifferent as to his course.—Sentinel.

THE DODGE COMMISSION.

The Dodge commission has accordingly commenced to make the inquiry for which it was created, but the anti-administration papers are complaining that its report is certain to be a whitewashing document. Instead of furnishing legal evidence of mismanagement and incompetency these papers continue to criticize and condemn. Their conduct is neither just or generous.

So far the commission has examined and received the testimony of several important witnesses. Their testimony does not bear out the scandalous charges so industriously promoted by the anti-administration papers, but if there is other testimony that does, the commission is prepared to receive it. It has been denied the privilege of testifying to facts within his knowledge and nobody will be denied that right.

Serving on the commission are several distinguished citizens who accepted the trust upon the condition that they would not be denied the prerogative of "hearing to the line." One of them is editor Howell, of Georgia. And any attorney made to suppress or color testimony he would have protested. But he has not done so. There has been no reason to do so. He believes, what is the fact, that the commission is determined to make a fair and impartial inquiry. If he didn't he would say so.

Up to the present time the anti-administration papers have been proud of charges but barren of proof to sustain them. When called upon to send us witnesses or submit documentary proofs they either make merely or else suggest that the charges are too palpably true to require the support of proof. The only failure of the commission so far to be noted is its failure to make the complainants verify their wild and insolvent allegations.

The war department has frankly and unreservedly opened up its every bureau and sub-department and invited the commission to pry into every pigeon-hole and scrutinize every record and document. It has served notice that every officer may testify without fear of incurring the displeasure or resentment of the department. What more could it do?—Journal.

Guaranteed to cure or price refunded.

A Rough Trip.

The steamer Georgia attempted to cross the lake from Chicago to the Straits of Mackinac last week but made little headway. When about a quarter of the way over Captain Carstedt decided to return. The ship failed to mind the helm, and for a long time plowed helplessly ahead. There were but two passengers aboard, and they were weary. Little attention was felt and the barrels were broken open and the molasses spread over the floor. The boat ran back and arrived at the Godrich wharf about 5 o'clock in the morning with a weary crew and a badly mixed up cargo.

As being taken to fill their places. Members of the Mine Workers' union are encouraging the labor miners at Girls shafts to demand an eight hour work day, but thus far without success. A meeting called for Sunday failed to bring out the workmen, who say they are satisfied with the present plan of ten hours. Another meeting has been called for next Sunday.

The iron ore firm of Corrigan McKimney & Co., of Cleveland, has taken an option on the old Quinnesec mine and has begun the sinking of a new shaft. The Quinnesec was the first iron mine opened in what is now known as the Menominee range, having made its initial ore shipment in 1871. The mine was abandoned a few years later as worked out, after shipping something more than a quarter-million tons of high grade ore. It has always been maintained by many miners formerly employed in the Quinnesec that further exploration would show that the mine, instead of being worked out, had been merely scratched in taking out the ore removed from it. The Federal Steel Co. is operating the Cundy mine at Iron Mountain and Quinnesec, the first and liveliest mining town of the Menominee range, promises to again come to the front.

Striking Coal Miners at Virden, Ill., Have a Bloody Battle With a Train Load of Imported Negro Laborers and Railroad Operatives.

14 Lives Lost in the Battle.

The strike of coal miners which has been on in the Fourth district of Illinois since last April has at last resulted in the terrible bloodshed. There has been the scene of excitement all summer, but at the town of Virden everything had been quiet until about a month ago, when the Chicago-Virden Co., imported 160 Negro miners from Birmingham, Ala. The train was met by a band of 200 Negro miners, many of whom threatened to shoot the first Negro who stepped from the cars. These Negroes were finally induced to return to the south and the mines were not opened.

Gas engineers strengthened the stockade about their property and made preparations to open their mines at all hazards. Gov. Tanner refused to send state troops to protect the interest of the coal operators against other interests of the state, and when the vigilant strikers learned that a special train on the Chicago & Alton railroad was coming they were determined they would meet it at the depot and at the stockade, armed with Winchester and revolvers.

As soon as the train reached the town of Virden the strikers and the miners and a large force of railroad detectives on the train and continued all along the route to the stockade. The moment the train stopped the stockade the miners opened a desperate fire with Winchester, revolvers and firearms of all descriptions.
