JUTH KILLED.

The Body Found on the Soo Line Track.

Murderers Unknown to the Authorities.

Drunken Row in a Saloon That Night.

Charles Juth, aged about 30 years, employed in John Heckblom's boiler camp, was murdered at Hunt's Saloon, early Monday morning. His body was found on the Soo line track near the depot at about five o'clock.

When found the body was lying across the rail on its side the face turned downward. Upon examination a man made by some blunt instrument was found over the forehead extending to the bridge of the nose, from which a large amount of blood had flown, covering the side of the head. Deceased's clothing was torn and part of one leg of his pants was torn off, making it appear that he must have struggled to save his life. Considerable snow fell that night and the body was nearly covered by it. The authorities were notified of the crime and an inquest was held the next day. The coroner's jury being "Homicide at the hands of an unknown person."

From John Heckblom, who brought the body here for burial on Tuesday, we learn the following relative to the row Sunday night and the murder: On Sunday several men from the adjacent camps were in town, among them several men from his camp and they visited Stull's saloon and also John Anderson's saloon. At the latter place that night a row was started between the Hunt's Saloon men and the camp-men and beer glasses, chairs, etc. were thrown about promiscuously, some of them going to the street windows, others breaking the bungs and feet of the party carried away ugly cuts in their faces from being struck with beer mugs.

Anderson and his bartender left the saloon when the row commenced and after the place was in darkness, the bungs having been broken in the row the others left for the purpose of going home or to camp. Juth was over near the store after this and went back to ward the saloon to find his hat and that was the last time Mr. Heckblom saw him alive.

It is presumed that while he was on his way to or from the saloon that some unknown dealt the blow which ended his life and then afterwards dragged the body to the railroad crossing in hopes that a train would pass over it and thus cover the crime.

Many Hunt's Spurites have an idea that they can point out the murderers and may yet be fortunate enough to arrest the parties implicated.

The body was brought here Tuesday and was buried yesterday.

Deceased had been in this country about seven years and had been employed by John Heckblom for some time. He was born in Finland and leaves a wife and children at Ovasa, Finland.

The Moody Meetings.

The meetings conducted by Evangelist Moody closed last Sunday evening at the Baptist church.

The meetings have been held for three weeks. The visible results were not as great as in his meetings seven years ago. But all bear testimony to his faithfulness and hope that no spirited fruits cannot be told in numbers the real fruits of these meetings will be much and precious.

Discoas Entertainment.

The ladies of the W. R. C. request their friends and acquaintances to meet President and Mrs. Lincoln, at a six o'clock dinner on the evening of Feb. 12th., at the G. A. R. Hall, to assist in celebrating the President's birthday. A program has been prepared and a good time is expected. Dinner will be served from five to eight o'clock. Price 15 cents.

The Booth tugs Argulator and Vallant are to be laid up. They were busy this week lifting mts. Security of fish and the necessary repairs to the nets caused the company to lay up until spring.

EARLY DINNER.
Evangelist E. B. Moody Entertained at Dinner Saturday Evening.

Rev. Edward Russell Moody, the evangelist, who conducted a series of union gospel meetings in this city at the First Baptist church for three weeks during January, and who finished his engagement on Sunday last, entertained the pastors of the Baptist, Presbyterian and Methodist Episcopal churches, the members of the meetings and their ladies at the Hotel Osawannawbee Saturday evening. Covers were laid for forty persons.

An excellent five course dinner was served. The menu follows:

New York Oysters
Oysters
Pompano Royal
Blanched White Fish, Saratoga Chips
Roast Chicken, Gravy Dressing,
Cranian Jelly
Baked Potatoes
French Peas
Lobster Salad
Cheese Wafers
Strawberry Sherbet
Cake
Braised Nuts
Coffee

After the dinner there was a flow of eloquence, a number of toasts being responded to. The host, Rev. E. B. Moody was the toastmaster. The following are the toasts:

- "The Church of the Past in Manistique," Mr. Mar in H. Quirk.
- "The Church of the Present," Mr. John Moore.
- "The Church of the Future," Mr. Virgil Hixon.
- "Our Children," Rev. J. C. Rooney.
- "The Young Convert," Rev. J. M. Shank.
- "Christian Fellowship," Rev. J. F. Horton.
- "Obedience to God," Rev. E. B. Moody.

The toasts were happily and excellently responded to, and all of them were very interesting.

At each plate was laid a menu card, also cards giving the toasts, and a poem written for the occasion as a souvenir of the revival services by Rev. Mr. Moody, entitled, "Look Up," which follows:

When shadows oppress thee,
And gloomy thoughts vex thee,
Look up - they will rest thee.
The stars gleaming down
From far spaces swelling,
In grand chorus swelling,
Each silent voice telling
Of heaven - thy home.
When lonely and weary,
Life's outlook grows dreary,
Look up. It will cheer thee
To think of thy home.
Where doubts do no harrow,
Where omens no sorrow,
No parting, no sorrow
Is known - thy home.
Thy sky may be misting,
Yet dark clouds are rifting
In grand chorus swelling,
The light of His story
Who here thy grief for thee,
In heaven thy home.
A Friend ever true.

Look up in the bright, and, the sun-lane,
The beautiful home.
Look up where the sunbeams stand
To welcome thee home.

WINTER FROM THIS WINTER.
February is held in a regular Western Blizzard.

The storm which prevailed here during Monday and Wednesday was easily the most severe of the winter. The wind blew a gale most of the time but fortunately the temperature was not very low. Tuesday and Wednesday night the thermometer registered from 5 degrees above to 7 below.

Business during the week was practically at a standstill, but few people venturing out unless compelled to. From Monday morning until the present writing William Rose, the chief street commissioner, and his assistants were steadily employed cleaning the sidewalks and paving the highway in a condition for travel. They did most excellent work.

Wednesday night the mercury took a drop and many presumed that the thermometer would indicate from 10 to 15 degrees below zero yesterday morning, but were much surprised to find that the temperature had moderated and the wind had almost reached the velocity of the day previous.

During the week the attendance at the schools was about one half the usual number.
The Hoffman-Godkin slander suit.
Our readers will remember John Godkin, the Bay City lumberman and his operations at Sand Creek Point several years ago and while doing business in this country Godkin was undoubtedly put in numerous law suits in our courts. Some three years ago Henry Hoffman brought suit for one Monroe against Godkin for the building of a dock. A $50 or $200 before the flames were extinguished. The fire was put out by the city fire engine in command of Capt. Meserve court where it was affirmed. The trial here was an exciting one, full of fireworks. Godkin became very much incensed at Hoffman and stated that in the course of the trial Hoffman had slandered him by imputing to him the commission of a crime.

As soon as Godkin was defeated in the supreme court he brought an action of slander against Hoffman. The case was tried last week at St. Ignace. Hoffman defended on the ground that all he stated on the trial was privileged and that he had not gone beyond his privilege or beyond his duty to his client in bringing out the facts of the case.

The local bar from here were in attendance at the trial as witnesses for Hoffman.
The court and jury took the same view of the matter as Mr. Hoffman and rendered a verdict of no cause of action. Mr. Hoffman is to be congratulated on the outcome of the case.

The tendency of defunct litigants to want to re-litigate matters against lawyers who have only performed their duty to their clients has of late become common in these parts and the signal victory of Mr. Hoffman in this case will have discouraging effect on such actions.

New Furniture Store.
William F. Refauer and Sten Johnson, under the firm name of Refauer & Johnson, on or about March 1st will open a furniture store in the north wing vacated by the Lewis & Mills millinery store, next door to the Manistique Bank. They have ordered their stock and expect to have everything ready for business about the 15th of the month. Both good men are regular and will receive a fair share of the trade of our people. They will make a specialty of undertaking the repair work of the firm being an expert at canchaining.

Mr. Refauer has been a resident of this city for the past five years and during that time successfully managed the Chicago Lumbering Co's furniture store, the stock of which was recently purchased by Messrs. Anderson & Gunnarson, and Mr. Johnson, the senior of the firm has long been a resident of this city and for some time has been employed as deliveryman for the C. L. furniture and hardware stores.

We wish the young men success in business.

Decided in Favor of E. W. Orr.
On Thursday last week Register Seadon and Receiver Himes of the land office at Marquette, announced their decision in the contest of Randolph Stothel versus Elnor N. Orr (both of this county), the latter of this city. The decision was in favor of Mr. Orr. The case was tried some six weeks ago and it was thought the decision would be handed down in two weeks after the hearing. Several days were required to take the testimony.

The land in dispute is located about 20 miles north of this city and was owned by Mr. Orr about a year ago.

Two Men in Fire.
Tuesday evening the harbor light-house caught fire near the lighthouse and was damaged to the amount of about $150 or $200 before the flames were extinguished. The fire was put out by the city fire engine in command of Capt. Meserve.

The Elnor in command of Capt. Meserve was an excellent pump. The fire caught from the lamp, which was lighted some 20 minutes before the fire broke out, and in all probabilities was not adjusted properly.
Wednesday morning a tarining chimney in the residence of C. E. Koso, Division street, called out the department. No damage was done other than filling the residence with smoke.

Fire at Indianston.

The home of Ed. Lemon at Indianston was burned to the ground along with the most of his household effects, on Friday afternoon last. Mrs. Ole Ness' house, adjoining the Lemon building was somewhat damaged by the fire and considerable of her household goods was damaged being hurriedly removed from the building. The woman residing in the vicinity did heroic work in helping to save the Ness building and take out furniture.

Mr. Lemon was at home at the time of the fire but was unable to assist in saving goods, he being laid up with a terribly cold foot.

The fire originated in the attic and is supposed to have caught from the stove pipe.

A HARD HIT.

A HARD HIT. The ship was struck by a big, four-masted boat, of full 300 tons.

getting very close to her—a big, four-masted boat, of full 300 tons. "Starboard a little there, Dunn," said Mr. B. to the man at the wheel. "Starboard a little; let her come up a point or two."

"Ay, ay, sir," answered the helmsman, and the ship swung obedient to the order, sufficiently to have cleared the junk.

"Starboard, sir, starboard!" he yelled, and the ship swung obedient to the order, sufficiently to have cleared the junk.

"There was no tremor in his voice," he called out to the man at the wheel: "Steady on, Dunn; starboard a little, starboard a little; starboard a little."

"What is the matter, Mr. B.?" "It's not much, sir," was his answer. "A Chinaman got in the way, and I knocked the sticks out of him—that's all, sir."

"It was not carelessness, sir," replied the officer; "it wasn't my fault that I knocked down his masts. I tried all right to give him the stern fair in his waist. It was an accident that I didn't do it—not bad management."

"Very likely, however, sir," Blue lights and rockets were shown from the crippled junk, and answered by other lights from the boats of the company.

"The junk may have been only a fisherman; but her movements were very suspicious, and she had a very big crew for a petty trader. Whether she was sunk by the force of our blow, or got safe into port to repair her damages, is more than I can tell."

MEN CALL WOMAN A MYSTERY.

So she is to them—not so to a woman.

A woman understands woman as a man never can hope for. For this reason Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass., now known all over the English-speaking world, set to work to help her sex.

After long and patient investigation, Mrs. Pinkham confirmed her own conclusions, namely: that notwithstanding the sufferings of women are due to derangement of the uterine system. Reasoning on this line, she saw that the only preventive of early breaking down, was a specific medicine which would set alone on the female organism.

This was why she prepared her excellent Vegetable Compound, which has been such a boon to thousands and thousands of women. If you have headaches chiefly at the top of the head, and are troubled by painful menstruation, dizziness, sleeplessness, backache, and that bearing-down feeling, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will tone up your whole system.

QUEER AUTOMATONS.

EXAMPLES FROM THE DAYS OF BABALUS TO THE PRESENT.

A Wooden Venus That Walked and a Beaman That Talked—A Wonderful Mechanical Trick. The Greatest of All the Fantastic Automatons.

There are few things more attractive to the general mind or more calculated to excite their wonder and admiration than a dextrously and mysteriously contrived automaton. There is, indeed, something almost uncanny in the sight of a figure made by man's hands acting like a creature of flesh and blood, and this uncanniness is one of the most subtle and fascinating. Hence the success of the curious reality finds its way into the pockets of men ingenious enough to invent such marvels.

This position of the automaton is certainly no new thing, and since it is almost the earliest books, sometimes wiled in myth, sometimes more directly stated. Valmiki, it will be remembered, made automatic tripods for the gods of Olympus—stocks which advanced of their own accord to the languishing table and so retired when the feast was over.

Aristotle tells us that the human automaton which Debalus made was so active that it was necessary to keep them tethered for fear they would run away. The same philosopher describes a wooden Venus who walks to and fro and "like the gods of the phenomenon. She was filled with quicksilver—a somewhat crude device. Albertus Magnus is credited with having made a beaman which talked and sang. Thomas Aquinas with having pounded it to pieces with a club, suspecting it to be a work of Satan.

Some marvelous feats of mechanism are credited to Leonardo, otherwise known as Leonardo da Vinci, who flourished in the fifteenth century, and in dealing with him we perhaps touch former ground. One was a life-like figure which flew round a table, another a wooden eagle which went out to meet Emperor Maximilian on his entry of Switzerland in 1491, and returned with him to the city gates.

Whether due or not to the stimulus given by Louis XIV, the seventeenth century was credited to the French inventor, otherwise known as Regiomontanus, who flourished in the fifteenth century, and in dealing with him we perhaps touch former ground. One was a life-like figure which flew round a table, another a wooden eagle which went out to meet Emperor Maximilian on his entry of Switzerland in 1491, and returned with him to the city gates.

Like most things, automata have not always been what they seemed. On many occasions the wonder-loving public perhaps the completest was that of the famous automatic chess player of Mr. Kempelen, which was exhibited all over Europe at the end of the last century and afterwards in America. It was the figure of a life-sized Turk seated behind a large box, the top of which was marked in the middle for chess.

Prior to this automaton's meeting an opponent the front of the box was opened and skeptical leaders were to show an arrangement of strings, pulleys and cylinders. After this they were allowed to examine the interior of the figure, which was hollow. Then Mr. Kempelen vaulted up his Turk with a key, and it was ready to play, which it did by moving the pieces with its left hand and giving three nods for check to king and two for check to queen. All the noted chess players of Europe succumbed to the figure's superior strategy, and it still so impressed the Emperor Catherine II of Russia that she wished to buy it and was with difficulty persuaded by Mr. Kempelen to give up the idea.

A RUSE BOTH WAYS.

How an Actress of the Theatre Was Fooled.

In French circles the doctor of the theatre has a seat given him for every performance. He must be there every evening. Naturally, after he has seen the main piece several times he begins to be elsewhere and pretends to give his seat to some of his friends. M. Ernest Blum says that when he was a young man friend of the doctor of the Theatre Paris St. Martin, gave him his seat. Just as he was becoming interested in the first act the stage manager rushed up the hallway and a nervous attack and required medical aid. Blum had nothing else to do but to follow him. In the lady's dressing room he found the manager with anguish depicted on every feature and the lady wringing her hands and shrieking.

"Blum, doctor, quick! What's to be done?" "New grow as red as a lobster, and as he could not say anything he just ejaculated: "What! Let us! Let us!" He took the lady's hand in a wild attempt to feel her pulse. She shrieked more than ever and writhed like a snake.

"Have you poured any water on her head?" he asked. "Yes." "Had no effect?" "No." "Then don't pour any more." At this display of medical knowledge he continued: "Give her a sniff of cambric Cologne." "Have'n't any," was the answer. "Off her face," he replied joyfully. "Now, madame, you're a good fellow too. I am not a doctor. I came in on the doctor's ticket, so you must not give him any." By this time the manager and stage manager came back, each with a bottle of cambric Cologne. He told them that it was unnecessary now. The lady was quite composed and could appear without any danger. But she must have a few days' rest. They made very faces, but granted the holiday.—Philadelphia Times.

What a Pity! Here is one of those who are either so prejudiced against all advertised remedies, or have become discouraged at the failure of other medicines to help them, and who will succumb to the grim destroyer without knowing of the wonderful value of Foley's Honey and Tar for all Throat and Lung troubles. LOCAL BREVITIES

Rev. Mr. Thompson reported the road at the big hill impossible on Tuesday. Agent Neil McEwen of the Ann Arbor road, was at Gladstone, Wednesday. Rev. and Mrs. Broden returned from a visit to friends at Negaunee, Sunday morning. Chas. Atkins repaired the interior of Baker & Bassford's hardware store, Wednesday. There will be a regular meeting of the O. E. S. tomorrow night. All members are requested to be present. Old settlers report that a storm equalling that of Monday had not been known in this vicinity in ten or twelve years. O. A. Bowen of Detroit, brother of Dr. C. Bowen and at one time a resident of this city, arrived here early in the week on a visit. There will be a race at the ice rink tomorrow night between Peter Dabe and Morley Bryce. Distance a mile. It will be hotly contested and excellent time will be made. Usual prizes. A. Eph. Eydell had two men's jobs last week handling the mechanical department and the editorial of the Grand Marais Leader, doing justice to both. Editor Miles was away during the week. Miss Stella Kerwin, cashier at the W. L. Co's store, returned Sunday morning from a visit to her home at L'Anse. Her father, who was quite ill early last week, was much improved before she returned. Fred Lockwood, photographer, skater, etc., will give an exhibition of his skill as an ice skater at the Clevelogan rink on the 8th and 10th inst. Several of skating in our sister city should witness Trout on the steels. Capt. John Coffey of the Ang Thab, states that a few one more mile of nets he will cease fishing until spring. He reports that on Tuesday that ice about 3 inches thick had formed to distance of 12 miles out into the lake. Engineer John Dehl of the Buell, it is rumored, was married at Bay City, two weeks ago. If the rumor is true, The Cottagers in a happy wedding. The bride a long and happy wedded life. Mrs. Samuel Mix, who it was rumored was a candidate for the nomination of supervisor of Hiawatha, states that he is not looking for the nomination nor would he take the office under any consideration. No, he's not looking for the village presidency either. C. J. Thomson received a telegram yesterday morning announcing the death of his father, Samuel J. Thomson who died suddenly Saturday evening at Ithaca, Mich. The funeral was held this afternoon for Ithaca, to attend the funeral. See Times, Jan 31.

John Anderson, the Hunt's Spur salmon man, in whose place there occurred Sunday night, which terminated in the murder of Charles Juth, was here early in the week and bought thirty pairs of shoes to replace those stolen in his place that night. There will be another meeting of the Coleraine association at Monocine within two weeks to adopt uniform prices for cedar products. The intention, it is said, is to raise the price somewhat above the present one. A committee was appointed to prepare a price list. On account of the blizzard, Monday about half of the pupils of the city schools were absent. In one room where the average attendance is 45 but 12 answered to roll call in the forenoon. The attendance in the afternoon was somewhat in the forenoon in some of the departments. There will be a marshmallow social at the M. E. church parsonage next Wednesday night under the auspices of the Epworth League. An excellent program has been arranged. Refreshments will be served. The following will take part in the program: Mrs. Bundy, Miss Ransmy, Mr. Waters, Mr. Hixon, Miss Gardner and Rev. Shank. Supper 14 cents. Everybody invited. Manager McLeod of the Star opera house, is painting and calculating the interior of the house, and is also changing the arrangement of the seats. Some time next week, before the appearance of the Spencer Co., he will have the stage and auditorium lighted by electricity. When the contemplated improvements are made the Star will present a much better appearance than it does now. Messrs. Baker & Bassford are shipping their hardware stock which arrived early in the week, and are ready for trade. They have a nice store-room and are to carry a large stock. A tin shop is to be run in connection with the store which will be under the management of Mr. Johnson, a competent tinner and plumber. An agent of the Columbia Cycle Co., of Hartford, Conn., was in this city week and exhibited two new wheels, the Columbia and Hartford. The former was the chafinest model and a beauty, and the latter has for a specialty a friction brake on the rear hub. They were inspected at E. N. Orr & Co's store by many of our cycle enthusiasts and all fell in love with the Columbia machine. Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Shank and child came in from Marquette Tuesday night during the blizzard. They had quite an experience the snow having drifted so they could not follow the road and the result was the creature was overturned and the tri thrown unceremoniously into a snow bank. Rev. Shank walked most of the way home and had a big contract on his hands keeping the center and its occupants right side up. No matter how strong and robust a man may be, you will see him in those days with his cap pulled down over his ears, his fur collar tamed up and invariably kicking about the cold. But with the woman, lovely woman, it seems different. She is particularly careful with a pie plate perched artistically upon a knot of hair on the back of her head, but no matter how near the thermometer comes to zero you hear no complaint. Patrick Curley of South Manistique, returned from a short visit with an old comrade of '61-Sat Milwaukee, Wednesday morning. William Arnold, whom he visited at the solder's home, was an army friend of Pat's and both during their first enlistment were on the Dakota and later went together on the Jimnata, a slop of war, at both attacks, F. C. Fisher. They parted in July 1865, Arnold going to Brazil. Pat says he had an excellent visit with Comrade Arnold and had a barrel of sport in the Cream City.

Thirteen Manistiguettes resolved that they would surprise Mr. and Mrs. John Sather, South Manistique Saturday evening and did so by invading their home in a body. Games were played and luncheon was served and all enjoyed the hospitality and visit with Mr. and Mrs. S. The following made up the party: Mr. and Mrs. H. Klugstad, Mrs. Albert Erickson, Miss Annie and Mary Erickson, Antonie Drevohl, Mary Peterson, Theo and Elise Stephenson, Messrs. Cornelius Klugstad, Sophus Root, Albert Olsen and Andrew Johnson. They were driven over by H. Klugstad.

Lost an Anchor and Chain. The Ann Arbor ferry No. 2 which left Frankfort for this port Sunday morning, arrived here Tuesday evening, having had a very stormy passage. During the ride of Sunday and Monday, she was under shelter at the Manitowish anchor. By the breaking of a chain she lost one of her anchors during the storm.

Three Men Killed. One of the digesters in the sulphite mill of the Park paper mill Marquette, blew up Tuesday night, destroying the large three story brick building and killing two men and badly injuring one.

The dead: Peter Frost, Samuel Steffen. Fatally injured: Louis LeFebvre, Menonine. The cause of the explosion is unknown. The loss is $80,000. There may have been the end of the time of the explosion, but no others are known to be missing.

Shakespearean Dramas. The tragedian, Eliza R. Spencer, supported by a company of twenty people, will appear at the Star opera house in this city Thursday and Friday of next week.

The Thursday bill will be "Romance and Juliet" the Friday bill will be "Julius Caesar." While they stand at the head of the Shakespearean classics, neither of these productions has ever been played in a Manistique theater, for which reason, as well as the talent of the star and company to present them, Manager McLeod expects to see the theater packed at both performances.

Mr. Spencer is unknown to Manistique playgoers, but it is said to be one of the cleverest delineators of Shakespearean character now on the road. He carries a company of twenty people, thus making one of the strongest Shakespearean troupes traveling. He makes the proper staging of his plays a feature of his performance, and to do this carries ten complete sets and twelve dogs, which with costumes and properties, necessitate the use of a special baggage car fifty feet long.

Joined in Wedding. Alfred Branigan and Miss Anna Rea were joined in wedlock, at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, at the residence of Mrs. E. J. Ireland, on Spruce avenue west, in the presence of a few friends and relatives. The Rev. E. Bagnell officiated. The principals were attended by Miss Beatrice Ireland and Master Freddie Bagnell. The parlor was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Miss Ireland looked charmingly in her wedding march. After the ceremony the happy couple and guests partook of a bounteous wedding supper. Mr. and Mrs. Branigan, amid showers of best wishes and tokens of good luck, departed later in the evening for their future home at 184 Cedar street east, which had been prepared in advance for their occupancy. The bride is a niece of Mrs. J. W. McTavish and Mrs. N. L. Martin and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Rae, of Carman, Minn. She has resided in this city for several years and is an accomplished young lady. Mr. Branigan is an energetic and successful young business man of this city. Their many friends unite in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Branigan a successful journey over the matrimonial sea.—See News.

Mr. Branigan is well known in this city where he has a host of friends who wish him and his bride bon voyage through life.
