More Smiles per Gallon with Dynaflo Drive

THERE'S the smile when you slip the selector lever into Driving notch—and realize that's all there is to do.
THERE'S the smile when you swing smoothly up to cruising speed without halt or check or break of stride. There's the smile at traffic lights when you halt, wait, then move away with never a thought about shifting.
But the broadest grin of all comes at the end of a long day's drive and you find you've covered more miles so easily. Even your treadle-foot—so likely to become tired and cramped maintaining an even speed in direct-drive cars—appreciates the fluid ease of Dynaflo.
For Dynaflo Drive isn't merely a new transmission. It's a new experience—a new luxury in driving. In ten minutes you are handling it like a veteran—in two days you wouldn't be without it.

Small wonder, then, that Dynaflo is the drive with which all new developments in transmissions are compared.
Not merely "something better," it is something entirely new, the first exciting chapter in a whole new book.
Go learn for yourself how abundantly rich in pleasure every gallon becomes when you have Dynaflo.
Your Buick dealer will be glad to demonstrate—glad to quote delivered prices—glad to talk terms of as fine a deal as you could want.
And you'll find glad surprise in the delivery dates he is now mentioning.

Background

Francisco Franco came to power in Spain as the result of a revolt against the legally elected government of the Spanish Republic. Although there was a communist factor in that government, the majority were liberals and socialists. The revolt was now spreading in England, France and America. Franco's revolt started in 1936. He received such generous support from Hitler and Mussolini that he was able to overcome the Spanish Loyalist government in 1939, in spite of some help from the government which was given to international brigades sent by communists.

France, though technically a neutral during World War II, was very friendly terms with the Axis powers and sent a division of troops to fight against Russia. After the war, a resolution of the General Assembly of the United Nations asked all members to withdraw their ambassadors from Madrid as a sign of disapproval of Franco's fascist government. Diplomats were left to handle business.

Recently there has been a movement, led by the countries of Latin America, to resume full diplomatic relations with Spain. In the recent session of the General Assembly of the U.N. 26 nations voted in favor of such a move with 16 opposing and 16 not voting. Since resolution of the General Assembly requires a two-thirds majority, the move fell four votes short of passing, but the question will probably be reopened at the next session when we already have a good many nations which abstained from voting on this issue, a fact which indicates that opinion on this point in this country is very much divided.

Some of the chief arguments which have been advanced with this question are:

Yes

1. Franco is anti-communist and so are we. Why not concentrate our attention on building up a strong front against our main rival, Russia? If we try to be on good terms with all countries opposed to communism we may be able to get them to work together in resisting the Russian pressure.

2. Even if we don't wholly approve of the form of government in Spain, why should that prevent us from sending an ambassador to Franco? We do not approve of the form of government in Russia but we have an ambassador in Moscow.

3. In the event of a war with Russia we will want to have access to military bases and lines of communication in Spain. The Pyrenees Mountains, on the northern border of that country, make the best natural defense line in western Europe.

No

1. Spain is a dictatorship with none of the freedoms we consider essential to a democracy. There is little freedom of speech or of religion, and even after the end of the civil war thousands are still imprisoned for political reasons.

2. If we are to be effective as the champion of democracy against dictatorship, we must watch the company we keep. We must not make a change in our diplomatic lineup which would be generally interpreted as a gesture of reviving friendship for a regime which in origin and nature is clearly fascist.

3. In a cold war bases for psychological warfare are as important as physical bases. If we sent an ambassador to Franco, Communist propagandists would be given grounds for their charge that this country is the leader of a reactionary, imperialist alliance which has little interest in the welfare of the common man. That would help the Communist cause more than getting a few more bases would help us when we already have a good many in western Europe.

WHAT IS A DRUG STORE?

★ The drug store is but one unit in a complex pattern of businesses and professions, all of which serve the needs of the community. But it is unique in that pharmacy is both a business and a profession.

A business, built on service to the sick cannot be restricted to usual "business hours." The need for medicine and sickroom supplies is usually immediate and urgent. In times of widespread illness the twenty-four-hour day seems all too short. We are ready, day or night, to serve the pharmaceutical needs of the community.

Two Deer Visit In Residential Area Wednesday

Manistique had the unusual in the way of news Wednesday of last week.

Two large deer visited Manistique's residential section Wednesday noon. They roamed for several minutes in the 400 block on Arkansas avenue, upper Oak street, and later cut over to Steubenville street where they thoroughly trampled a number of plants in the rear of the R. G. Hentschel home.

Started by the equally startled residents of the area, they bounded off toward the sandhills and into a wooded section at the eastern city limits.

Commercial Fish Production High

Late reports received by the conservation department on 1948 commercial fish production in Michigan waters of the Great Lakes boost the final take figure to 30,103,292 pounds, best since 1928.

The increase was attributed to larger catches of whitefish, herring. Last year's total haul included 23 different species.

The record 1927 season produced 32,600,000 pounds of fish.

Take the old nursery song, "Who Killed Cock Robin?" Michigan has a new political dispute in fust over "Who's to blame for the coming state deficit?"

Governor G. Mennen Williams criticizes the Republican legislature in an address before the C. I. O. convention in Grand Rapids, in an address before the state legislature in Lansing.

Rather than operate the state in the "red", Governor Williams intends to call the legislature back into special session. He is whipsawing it up for a tax on corporation profits as a "painless" way to get more money.

By continually hammering away at the legislature's refusal to enact new taxes, Williams seeks to put the Republicans on the defensive... a good strategy if it works.

In his plea for new taxes, the governor has some newspaper editorial support. Here are a few examples: Battle Creek Enquirer and News - "The major fault in the legislative session was the refusal of members to halt a financial crisis before it occurs."

Robert F. Steadman, state controller, forecast on May 27 an operating deficit between $70 and $72 million "in the light of a continuing decline in general business conditions."

John P. Espie, chairman of the house ways and means committee, is a veteran in the legislature. He is now serving his twenty fifth year.

It has been Espie's conviction that the constitutional earmarking of state funds for return to local governments, twice upheld by the voters, would inevitably lead to a state treasury deficit. He has often suggested it might be a good thing to run a deficit and let the people see what they did when they adopted sales tax diversion.

Williams' recommendations, which a legislature apparently approved in January (1949) when we can see where we stand.

To these individuals who cry valiantly for economy in state government, believing that the deficit might be averted by such legislative action, Espie is a realist from his long experience. He vigorously opposed the sales tax diversion amendment which he says is the root of Michigan's present financial troubles.

Michigan's present taxation system has produced some paradoxical situations. Only 34 counties received from the state treasury...

Take Clinton county, for example. Representative Espie is from Clinton county. Clinton received $1,219,229 in state revenue during 1948; Clinton county taxpayers paid $1,117,258 to the state.

Getting "something for nothing" thus is the financial blabbering forced by Michigan's present hoarding policy tax setup upon 49 counties.

The situation becomes more involved, politically at least, when the populous counties which pay the bulk of state taxes demand re-apportionment in the legislature.

Then you get a city vs. county argument. It was the so-called neglect of big cities which prompted Mayor George Welsh, Grand Rapids, to join forces with the Michigan Education Association for the diversion amendment victory.

Will the legislature receive credit or condemnation for its refusal to enact new taxes at the 1949 session? The lengthening shadow of the coming state deficit presents a challenge.

It has already provided Governor Williams with a new issue: A "do-nothing" legislature which jacks "guts" to avert a deficit.

Executive Group of Schoolcraft Clubs To Have Session Next Wednesday

The executive group of the Schoolcraft county Home Economics clubs will hold a program planning meeting, at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday, June 15, at the Manistique township hall. The group met earlier this spring for preliminary work on choosing topics for lessons for the coming year. Mrs. Harold Supper, county Home Economics chairman, will preside at the meeting. Miss Rachel Markwell, state home demonstration leader, from Michigan State colleges, will be present to assist the groups in making a choice of lessons that would be worthwhile. Lessons are available in the fields of foods and nutrition, clothing, parent education, home furnishing, home management, and consumer education. Special topics available are gardening, control of insects, horticulture and landscaping, and tourist service.

At the first planning meeting, the group was told to expect continued high prices in the coming year. Farm products will be cheaper, but farm incomes will remain fairly high. Congress and the state legislature can affect prices. If taxes go up, prices are apt to go down, while if money is raised by borrowing, prices will probably go up. Michigan population is up one-sixth since 1940. This increase was largely in the urban and suburban areas. In the next ten years, there is an anticipated increase of 25% in the number of school children. A number of other facts pertaining to family problems were presented so the group could have a clear picture of what to expect in the coming year.

All Time Resort Peak In Sight For Peninsula

Unless something unforeseen should happen, Manistiguic, Mich., has the greatest tourist trade in any resort in the state for this year, according to the figures reported by the Lure Book, development bureau for the peninsula.

That was the belief today of George E. Bishop, secretary of the bureau, who said that the number of tourists who came to the peninsula in 1948 was an increase of 17 per cent over the 76,814 vehicles and 119,517 passengers transported between Straits Ignace and Mackinac Island during the first five months of 1948. An all-time mark was set at the Straits, which separate the Upper and Lower Peninsulas, last year.

Excluding requests for the Lure Book, the Development Bureau's tourist and resort agency has received and answered 3,689 inquiries specifically asking about vacation in this region. That compares with 3,812 received to June 1, in 1948. In addition, more than 24,000 copies of the Lure Book have been

In all more than 1,200 resorts, including commercial and resort hotels, resorts of the central, eastern and western coast, and a number of other resorts, are being advertised in the Lure Book. The book is being distributed under the new formula in the coming year. The number of resorts to be included in the Lure Book will be increased to 1,200, according to information received by Mrs. Shipman from Louise LeFevre of Kalamazoo, association president. Indications are that the appropriation will be made in the neighborhood of that sum, the same amount which has been granted annually in recent years.

LIBRARIES' FUTURE LOOKING BRIGHTER

New Formula For State Aid Adopted By Legislature Is Big Help

The Manistiguic public library and other Michigan libraries have a brighter future today than ever before, thanks to the action of the 1949 state legislature in adopting a new formula for state aid to public libraries. Mrs. Dorothy M. Shipman, librarian here, said this week.

Continued improvement and expansion of public library service is practically assured under the new formula, in the opinion of the Michigan Library association, composed of public librarians and library trustees. Mrs. Shipman reports.

In passing House Bill No. 376, the legislature acted to stimulate local support of libraries and to

VALEDICTORY

From then on, to coin a popular phrase, "we're on our own." We will go on to college, some will get jobs, others may even find their own teachers, our friends.

From now we have been building a foundation on which to base our lives. The time has come for us to begin building our life's structure. We need not fear for that foundation. It's solid because we've had your interest and help to guide our construction.

From now we have received encouragement and confidence. For filled with that belief, we shall go forward confident that we may merit the trust and respect that you, our parents, inspire in us.

We have been brought up to follow the teachings of God and to have faith in Him so that this world may be a better place in which to live. Thus far, in our short life time, we have experienced both peace and war. During those dark war years we all felt closer to our next battle—the "Battle of Peace."

Faith and tolerance have become a part of us as a result of our school life. Here, in school, we have learned to get along with others and to cultivate lasting friendships. Yes, it is here also where the brick of education was cast so that it has become a strong part of our foundation; the foundation you helped us mold. Our teachers, our patient, unyielding teachers, directed us, encouraged us to seek and gain knowledge. They showed us how to think for ourselves, to form our own opinions and to draw our own conclusions. They taught us the meaning of democracy and inspired in us the zeal to uphold these democratic principles. They have shown us the way of light, and we "moved but to follow it."

The foundation has been laid and the time has come to test it. We shall not fail you in our efforts, striving always to be worthy of your trust and belief in us. Each year will bring new bricks, new beams with which to erect the building of life.

We haven't finished with the church, the home and learning, for they will go on with us through life. We will carry them into the state, the nation, with us as we contend with mankind problems to make this world a better world, for us and for posterity.

Again we thank you parents, teachers, friends—as we leave these cherished halls, "not finished, just begun."

you'll sail smoothly
all the way

SALUTATORY

Friends:
We, the class of '49, welcome and salute you who have worked with us to achieve this goal—graduation. We welcome you because we feel that it is altogether fitting and proper that you should share with us the joy of achievement as you have so faithfully shared the problems that have confronted us in high school. It is consoling to know that when the going got tough there was someone to turn to—someone whom we could depend on for the best of advice and attention.

You—our parents, teachers, and friends—have given us intellectual advice, spiritual guidance and high morals with which to build the foundation for our ladder of life. Many times we ignored the earnest attempts you made to help us but nevertheless we did appreciate them. We may have made a few weak, unsteady steps through our own negligence but with your continual assistance we shall seek out these weak spots and strive to re-energize them with sturdier materials. It is for your guidance, we salute you and take this opportunity to extend to you our sincere thanks.

Tomorrow night when we walk across this stage to receive our diplomas, it will not only mark the climax of our four years in high school, but also the completion of our life's foundation. Yes, graduation marks a turn in our ladder of life.

Sir Walter Scott, the great Scottish poet once said, "He that chinks a ladder must begin at the first rung." The reality of his statement and that the first rung in the ladder of life consists of the basic fundamentals we have received in our schools, our churches and our home.

So now with our first rung behind us we are ready to face the world and its problems squarely and to assume its responsibilities, ready to continue on to our destined place in life, ready to do our utmost to make this world one of everlasting peace and hope that our endeavor is of good avail. It is a very unsteady, unsteady world into which our second rung leads, yet one of boundless opportunities around which full and successful lives may be built.

As we leave these familiar halls of learning and go forward to meet the challenging distractions in our paths may we rely on our undying faith in us?

We realize that it is up to us, this generation, to rid the world of prejudice, to impress upon the mind of every human being that regardless of color or creed we are all created equal, that we are all here for a common cause, to preserve the civilization of hundreds of years and pass it on to our children and then our children's children.

And, each generation adding to its richness and stability. We earnestly hope that we can give you just cause to be proud of us and that you will never become so disappointed in us that you will feel your sacrifices have been in vain.

Now as we relinquish our duties here in Manistique High School and move on, it is our earnest hope that we may build each rung in our ladder of life so solid and a foundation so firm that we may touch the highest of ideals and then strive to raise the world to those standards.

—Lawella Burns.

Not Finished, Just Begun

Some follow the path of the rainbow
To its arch and end of gold,
And name their Success, if they find it,
In the gaining of wealth untold.

Some work for the cause of others,
Forgetful of self alone,
Dreaming humanity's welfare,
More precious by far than their own.

Some travel the world's great highways,
On land, in air, o'er sea,
And viewing the mighty universe,
Sense God's Infinity.

Some serve in the heat of battle
As heroes, courageous and bold,
And all to their nation's glory
The freedoms of man uphold.

Some tread in the footsteps of masters
With many a lofty aim,
Leaving works of true vision and beauty
That are worthy of honor and fame.

We, now on the eve of commencement,
When our days in this high school are done,
When so many pathways entice us,
Say, "Not finished, we've just begun."

We know not what Fate has before us,
We know not what we can achieve,
Is something we all can believe

So by doing our best as we see it,
We'll deserve our success, great or small,
Keeping faith with ourself and our Maker,
No matter what stress may befall.

—Anne Peters.

Derbies, Bow Ties, Vests Become Fad

(From the MHS Crier)
"Boy, Kennedy, you look pretty snifty!" "Well, get a load of Hockstad!" These are a few of the comments tossed at the boys when a very surprising thing happened last week. The boys declared a "Derby Day."

The Peoples Store supplied the derbies to anyone who would wear them out of the store, and the boys did the rest!

Bundy had everyone rearing in the End Shop when he walked in with his costume on, and Sally walking demurely at his side. He had knickers with long stockings covering his thin legs, and was complete with vest and derby.

"The Derby Day" was such a popular idea that it might become an annual affair.

'49 Emerald Track Team Pose for Pic

IT'S ROUND-UP TIME IN MHS

(From the MHS Crier)
FOOTBALL—Manistique had one of its most successful seasons in all its history. Under the direction of Coach Ponto, the boys set up this record: 2nd in G. L. C. Football loop and a record of five wins, two losses, and one tie. Captain and co-captain respectively of the team were Paul Vesina and Jim Roome.

BASKETBALL—M. H. S. didn't have a great basketball team this year. In fact, they won only five and lost twelve (counting the tournament). But many of basketball games were lost by only one or two point margins and the game could have gone either way. The Emeralds did beat Escanaba Eskimos and that alone makes a successful season. Captain of the team was John Hockstad. Coach was Mr. Ponto.

TRACK—Another sport the Emeralds should have done better in, but material was lacking and competition was keen. They did "fairly good" in all meets, although they never placed first, they never placed last either! Outstanding trackmen of the season were Hugo Schobert, Don and John Paul Quick, Don Lancer, Howard Hartman, and Wilbur LaBar. Mr. Cook was the squad's coach.

NEWS OF OUR MEN-WOMEN IN UNIFORM
Leonard Erickson, storekeeper, third class, USN, son of Mrs. Hannah Erickson, of Manistique, Mich., and husband of Mrs. Kathryn M. Erickson of 2077 Taylor street, San Francisco, Calif., recently participated in "Operation Moving Van" as a crew member aboard the aircraft carrier USS "Valley Forge."

The flight and hangar decks of the large carrier were used to transport the Staff Headquarters men, equipment and office files, of the Commander, Air Force Pacific Fleet, and two other units from Pearl Harbor, T. H., to San Diego, Calif.

STUDENTS DON ROMAN GARB

(From The Crier)

Latin students donned sheets and curtains, reclined on pillows and elbows and managed in the best way possible to eat from the floor at the Roman Banquet held in the Lincoln Gym on May 28.

The menu for the banquet was composed of mock chicken legs, baked potatoes, peas, salad, and cake. During the meal, entertainment was furnished by leggy Babladelis who played his violin reminding the students of the time when Nero played while Rome burned.

The following committees worked on the banquet: Menu, Lael Richards and Gail Lundstrom; entertainment, Joan Gohat and Lorraine Lustila; service, Hugh Kennedy and Ahn Marie Sheahan.

Classes To Begin For Junior Band

(From the high school Crier)

Prospective band students may begin their summer program by meeting and discussing their problems with Mr. Giovanni on the 20th in the band room on the second floor of the Junior High School from 9:30 a. m. to 11:30 a. m. every morning during the week of June 13-17 for the purpose of meeting boys and girls who wish to start on band instruments. Parents are welcome and urged to call during this time with the youngsters. Lessons will begin on June 20 and continue until August 1.

A Junior Band has been organized and now numbers approximately 22 members. All beginners will have to serve a satisfactory apprenticeship in the Junior Band before being promoted to the Sr. Band. The apprenticeship extended for two years. Unless a student shows exceptional ability he or she will not be promoted to the Sr. Band until the ninth grade.

Graduation, like the celebration attending the start of ship's maiden voyage, is an unforgettable thrill.

And whatever the star by which you set your course, we wish you god-speed and a happy landing.

- 1. But with it, we know, you will combine all the determination, ability and concentration you have used in winning your diploma.
- 2. Luck helps, but it is most effective if it works alongside industrious application, determination to succeed and devotion to the task at hand—attributes you all have in greatest measure.
