CENSUS BEGUN OF BUSINESSES IN MANISTIQUE

Last Survey Made 10 Years Ago; Clarence J. Cowman in Charge

The 1948 Business Census covering every retail, wholesale and service establishment in the nation, was begun Monday in Manistique by Clarence J. Cowman, of this city who recently entered the employ of the United States Department of Commerce.

Reports were prepared by the Census Bureau in cooperation with representative of more than 60 trade associations operating in the interests of business and the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, are being distributed. Businessmen are urged to fill out the reporting forms promptly.

Cowman points out that all information given in the census is entirely confidential. "There will be no need to fear that competitors will find out about the operations of any firm, nor is there any possibility of the data submitted being used for tax or regulatory purposes," he said.

When compilations are finished, the data will present a complete, statistical description of distribution in the nation as a whole, in each region, state, city and county in the United States, and in the territories of Alaska and Hawaii.

There seems to be some doubt as to whether the various political units of Schoecraft county are going to support the Schoolcraft County Council of Veterans this year. As far as can be ascertained, the city of Manistique has agreed, at least informally, to support the program but only to support of the county, both county government and the veterans' organizations, have made no commitments whatsoever.

The reason, it appears, is economic. The county has little, or no, money and many of the townships that it reports, and they cannot afford a contribution to the Veterans' Memorial Center. The council, of course, will be a non-profit organization, and no veterans' organizations, and no veterans' organizations, have made no commitments whatsoever.

We cannot be too critical of government officials who, through neglect or necessity, become overwhelmed. Economy has had a last cause in the American mind, and by all means it should be encouraged. We feel, however, that it should not be practiced to the injury of worthy causes or the services, and this veterans' organization, we believe, is worthy of serious financial consideration by the county's political body.

Take, for example, the practical side of the service. A week ago Albert Anderson, who is chairman of the Schoolcraft County Veterans Trust Fund, had 17 calls from service men seeking guidance and assistance. Leonard Mulder, acting veterans counselor, had to serve until the first of the month at 39 such calls. This does not include the various calls upon the doctors of Manistique.

Obviously there are hundreds of veterans in Schoecraft county who are confused and bewildered about their rights, and they must have someone to guide and advise them. Men like Anderson and Mulder cannot be expected to perform their jobs to render a service which should require the best of a full-time man.

AN HONEST ANSWER

★ Medical ethics are not something unique and set apart, but simply a direct application of the Golden Rule. They provide an honest answer to the question, "What is best for the patient?" As one physician put it, "I do for my patients what I would do for a member of my own family."

As pharmacists, we adhere to the same code. The quality of our medicines and service is the best it is possible to give. You, the patient, are our first concern.

I'm sure you'll like Ford's new 4-Speed Transmission

• Maybe you enjoy slow farming... but there's no money in it. If I can show you faster farming... with no more work, you'll be interested, won't you?

All Right, just take one feature of the Ford Tractor, the 4-speed transmission. On the road I'll give you up to 12 1/2 miles per hour. In third speed (top field working speed), I'll give you 6 miles per hour. And so on down... each speed, even the reverse, is faster. Saves lots of hours in a year.

Won't you let me demonstrate this Ford Tractor (and its Dearborn implements) on your farm? I have something special in parts and service, too.

to be a more severe form of the disease, called bulbar poliomyelitis.

"For this reason, if there should be polio in a neighborhood, doctors advise against taking the children need not have their tonsils removed simply because they have large tonsils, Dr. Watson declared. He added that all pre-school and school age children have large tonsils.

Symptoms Given
"If your child breathes through his mouth, has a continuous nasal discharge, a discharge from his ears, or swollen neck glands, have him examined by your physician, Dr. Watson said. "These are indications that he may have diseased tonsils or adenoids."

If adenoids grow back after they have been removed, it does not mean that the operation has been improperly performed, the doctor pointed out. Regrowth of adenoids may happen, particularly if they have been removed from very young children.

"In general, tonsil and adenoid removal may be postponed until the child is four or five years old," Dr. Watson said. "But if the very young child has repeated attacks of middle ear infection, called otitis media, or persistent colds and sore throats, then his adenoids should be removed even if there is a chance they will grow back."

Some instances of failure to grow and gain weight normally have been traced to diseased tonsils and adenoids, the doctor warned.

With present-day methods of safer anesthesia and the use of saliva drugs and penicillin, hazards of operation have been reduced to a minimum, Dr. Watson declared.

Misses Jill Woodward and Helen Nading returned Sunday to their homes in Waukegan following a visit here with relatives. They were accompanied by Miss Woodward's cousin, Miss Mary Ann Olesak, who will be her guest in Waukegan.

Increases, Decreases Shown In Tourist Trade Reports

The 1949 tourist patronage in the upper peninsula apparently has dropped slightly under 1948 figures, reflecting the general business downturn throughout the country, but some resort proprietors report business in their particular areas continues to improve.

Ferry traffic at the Straits of Mackinac was exceptionally high over the recent Fourth of July holiday week end and continues well ahead of last year. State ferries there carried 5,980 vehicles—a record for any day in the 26-year history.

Another tourist hamster used by the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau to gauge the extent of vacation travel is the demand for its Lure Book. To date, 40,000 copies of that publication have been sent out, with 80 per cent of that number going to persons who made direct-by-mail requests for it.

Reflects Vacation Wishes "While this may not be an accurate measure of tourists' travel in the peninsula, it at least reflects the 'vacation desire' of many persons in this north area," said George E. Bishop, secretary-manager of the Development Bureau.

In a spot survey of the entire area, the Bureau learned that business at some resorts is from 20 to 30 per cent under last year, but in others it ranges from five to 10 per cent higher. All said they believed prospective tourists should make reservations in advance.

Muskogon, a war boom town, was second.

Mining operations are lagging in the Upper Peninsula with a result that the northern peninsula has a jobless rating of 18.5. All copper mines of Calumet & Hecla are closed. Jackson has reported 15 per cent of its regularly employed workers to be idle; Port Huron, 13 per cent; Grant Rapids, 11 per cent; and Benton Harbor, 10 per cent.

It is interesting to note that the state's total of employed citizens, despite the current deflation in industry, is pretty much the same today as it was one year ago. 41 College students and high school graduates have entered the summer employment field, making up the difference.

How's the tourist business? Reflecting the general business downturn, tourist patronage is reported to be less than one year ago. The Upper Peninsula Development Bureau, sparked by enterprising George E. Blazop, reports that a spot check shows business at "some resorts" to be off as much as 20 to 30 per cent. There's always an exception, of course. Blaney Park's aggressive promotion by Ed Drier has boosted patronage to a distressingly high level.

range for a 48 per cent increase during the first half of 1949. Reservations are 30 days ahead of last year.

Merchants cannot complain unduly, either. Retail trade (corrected for prices) on a national basis has dipped only a trifling 1 per cent below its 1948 peak. Sales are down only 4 per cent otherwise.

The sag in consumer income was off only 1 per cent in April. More people are buying Opportunity (government) E bonds.

Maurice Evland, banking commissioner, reports that the 1947 state banks are buying with savings deposits are three times as large as they were six years ago. "Banks are 71 per cent liquid," said Evland.

Compared with pre-war conditions, Michigan's buying power today is tremendous. Business is awaiting the resurgent, enterprising businessmen who can do what they are willing to pay. A tipping citizen can walk into any state liquor store and buy all the Scotch whiskey he can pay for. Wine sales are now 19 per cent of total volume, whereas in 1941 they were only 1 per cent. Lower priced commodities are in demand. Mail order catalogs all reflect this economic change.

Governor Williams has indicated he is shaping up a program, perhaps along the line of President Truman's "Fair Deal," for the legislature to consider.

Public housing is expected to receive attention. New federal legislation calls for construction of 80,000 low-rent public housing units over the next six years. The government will pay subsidies that meet actual rents and difference between actual rents and rates on a cost basis. Farmers may get up to 33-year loans (4% maximum interest) to finance construction of buildings. Even non-supporting farms are eligible to get "contributions" up to $500 to cover minor repairs and improvements.

Senator Arthur H. Vanderborg, Michigan's senior statesman and public relation, is to be brought into closer relationship with the Republican party. That is one goal of Arthur E. Summerfield of Flint, newly appointed chairman of the party's "strategy committee". It is Summerfield's belief that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey might have been elected president if there had been agreement among party leaders on conduct of his campaign. A New York public relation firm is blamed for the Dewey pre-election strategy to avoid fighting issues and preach "national harmony" since Republican victory was "in the bag."

SPORTS APPEAL

By Ted Kesting

A little real know-how in predicting weather can be the most valuable boating knowledge an outdoorsman who thinks of himself as a boater should have. Cloud types and formation can give a pretty fair idea of coming weather. Unfortunately, most of these signs only point to rain, or the absence of it. They aren't too much help in predicting wind. And while rain on the water can be unpleasant, the real concern of the boater who thinks first of sports, is to predict wind.

Familiar to almost every sportsman, the thunderstorm, heralded usually by the slow appearance above the horizon of a big, unbroken cloud of a deep blue-black. If you're on exposed water, in a small boat, its time to head in as soon as the storm is definitely sighted. Along the seacoasts, old-timers are wary of any black clouds, for they can always mean squall winds. However, inland where waters are usually less exposed, a big detached cloud with a dark center often means a shower without high winds.

Anyone who plans a really excellent trip should get a good barometer and learn how to use it. The weather bureau will always give a wind forecast if you inquire. If you're without either of these services, there are some rules for amateur forecasting of wind.

Remember that it takes hot, damp weather to make a thunderstorm. If it is very dry, there won't be one. Remember that a storm isn't necessary to create a wind that will bluster an outdoor boater for a small boat. On fair summer days, the wind is likely to rise late in the morning and reach a peak in the afternoon. If the wind rises in the afternoon, it is very plain sense to anticipate another such rise.

One interesting thing about predicting weather is that a lot of old old, so-called-at weather superstitions aren't superstitions at all, but are actually pretty darn reliable. Red sunsets and rain-bows late in the day do mean fair weather. A ring around the moon or a steady southeast wind often foretells wet weather. Rain-before-seven-clear-by-eleven is another reliable one if the rain is a quiet one.

FIGURES ON GAS TAXES REVEALED

No Saving By Lower Rate, Says Head Of Michigan Good Roads Federation

"The nation's average car owner pays 65% more state gasoline taxes and 23% more over-all automobile taxes than the average Michigan motorist according to Public Roads Administration."

One interesting thing about predicting weather is that a lot of old old, so-called-at weather superstitions aren't superstitions at all, but are actually pretty darn reliable. Red sunsets and rain-bows late in the day do mean fair weather. A ring around the moon or a steady southeast wind often foretells wet weather. Rain-before-seven-clear-by-eleven is another reliable one if the rain is a quiet one.

The Michigan Good Roads Federation, "Total special state and federal taxes averaged $81 per vehicle in 1948," said Ward, "and this includes heavy trucks which pay a comparatively higher fee."

"On the average a Michigan car owner driving 10,000 miles per year pays $19 in state gasoline taxes and about $11 for registration (license plates). This goes for highways, roads and streets. Out of it the federal government collects also on gasoline, oil, accessories, and other items to the tune of about $50. Yet, the Michigan motorist's total is 25% under the national average," Ward continued.

The Good Roads chief contends, however, that Michigan car owners do not save anything by a lower state gas tax rate.

"According to the Tax Economics Bulletin" published by the petroleum industry, the average 1948 price of regular gasoline, including, in 50 representative U. S. cities was 25.8 cents. Michigan motorists paid the same per gallon, but the average state gas tax, according to the same source was 4.8 cents, while in Michigan it was only three cents.

"There's nearly two cents per gallon more that Michigan motorists pay, not in taxes for much needed highways, but to maintain the high profit level of the oil companies which sell gasoline for less money in states where the tax per gallon is higher than in Michigan," said Ward.

Mr. and Mrs. William Males are the parents of a son, William Leonard, born at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday, July 13, at the Shaw hospital. The baby, first in the family, weighed six pounds and nine ounces.

For Friends — Roamers — Countrymen —

Quite literally, it's one car in a thousand—999 other cars take the road for every Estate Wagon Buick turns out.

But it's far more than something exclusive, as you'll soon see when one takes its place in your garage.

For those times, for instance, when house guests arrive — what smarter equipage could you send to the station, what greater comfort, what handier way to manage the luggage problem?

And when the Lord and Master yearns for a few days away from it all — what's handier than this nimble gadabout, that lets him fold down a back seat at nightfall and enjoy full-length double-bed sleeping space?

And that place in the country, calling for a car that can go just about everywhere, do just about everything . . .

That's when you'll go for the ruggedness of this beauty with its steel framing, steel top and springs of durable, service-free coiled steel. That's when you'll go for Dynaflow Drive too — and the steady, even, fluid pull that takes furrowed fields, rough pastures and narrow back roads with equal, shift-free ease.

In all truth, this is a star of many roles. Smart and sleek, finished like an express cruiser, it's a standout for style in any parking line-up, a family favorite for its quick readiness to take on any transportation job.

It's a buy, too, like all Buicks — and your dealer is offering pleasantly prompt delivery. Why not see him today about the car that both literally and figuratively is one in a thousand?

(Continued from page 9) boards to appoint liquor inspectors and pay them out of funds raised from liquor license. Such inspections already are being made by state police and sheriff's departments, and it is estimated that this additional financial expense is a waste of public money.

The state of Michigan, if more efficient towards liquor, should require an additional license fee. Failure of the state to do this, because of its failure to spend, does not excuse its township boards or officials who have mishandled township funds if they have taken money to which they are not legally entitled, should be required to pay it. However, we feel that regular audits of township books and the removal of the temptation to "inspect" will cure most of the political ills in many townships.
