"I'M GOING ON A DIET"

Perhaps overeating is the most common dietary indiscretion. The natural result of overeating is obesity. It has been said that we in America eat ourselves into a premature grave. The pendulum then frequently swings back to the other extreme. We go on a diet. Many self-imposed reducing diets wouldn't keep a bird alive, and often serious vitamin, mineral, and protein deficiencies result. In recent years great strides have been made in our knowledge of nutrition. For the maintenance of optimal health one must be assured that proper balance of various foods is maintained. For dietary advice of any kind see your physician. You can then be certain that all bodily needs are being adequately met. Bring your prescriptions to us.

Bright Stars Will Feature May, U-M Astronomer Says

Bright stars gleaming in the night sky are providing the astronomical attractions during May. Three of the four brightest stars in the heavens are on display during a part of each evening, according to Dr. Harel M. Losh, assistant professor of astronomy at the University of Michigan. A glimpse of the elusive planet Mercury also is possible early in the month.

Sirius, the brightest of all stars, will be visible in the southwest as darkness advances but will set at a fairly early hour. As Sirius fades, however, Antares, a bright orange star and the fourth brightest in this hemisphere, will rise steadily in the east. Later in the evening, Vega, the second brightest star visible in this latitude will rise in the northeast.

Antares Attraction Another attraction for May will be Antares, a great red giant in the constellation of Scorpius. Antares will be rising in the southeast about two hours after sunset. This star will be easily identified by its color, according to Dr. Losh, since it is one of the reddest in the firmament. It also gains fame since it is one of the largest known stars. Antares' diameter is about three hundred million miles and the Sun and Mars could be placed inside this huge star.

While Saturn will continue to be the most important planet during May, amateur astronomers can get a glimpse of Mercury in the western sky on a few evenings near May 10, Dr. Losh reports. Mercury, which has a steady dull appearance, should put in an appearance as an evening planet about one and a quarter hours after sunset.

Saturn was easily identified on the evening of May 9 when it was close to the moon. It is yellow in color and close to the bright star Regulus. In case you look on even-

Let Students Help Teach Composition U-M Educator Says

A way of teaching English composition that saves the teacher some of the eye-strain of reading themes while actually teaching the students more about composition is advocated by Fred G. Walcott, assistant professor of education and English at the University of Michigan.

Professor Walcott explains that for many years the standard method of teaching composition was to have the pupils write themes which were then corrected by the teacher and returned to the pupils for further work. Increasing size of classes, however, places a tremendous burden on the teacher who requires his students to write many themes. Result has been that most English teachers are giving their pupils less and less practice in writing — and continued practice is the only way to learn to write, Professor Walcott emphasizes.

"Actually the method of having the teacher read and correct all the themes takes away from the pupils an essential responsibility," he explains. "The function of proofreading, of revision, of carefully checking of sentences is one that belongs to the writer, who improves by doing these things for himself. The teacher presumably doesn't need this experience; the pupil does."

Professor Walcott advocates having pupils correct their own themes, working in groups of three in the classroom. The teacher stands by for consultation or to serve as final authority in cases of disagreement or indecision. "Not only do the students learn to recognize their own mistakes—something they did not do when the teacher made corrections—but they began to be more careful about their writing in the first place," Professor Walcott says of his own experiments with this method of teaching composition. "When the quality of their writing was no longer a private matter between teacher and pupil but one of common knowledge, they made a more serious effort and brought their finished themes to a better state of perfection before turning them in for group review."

Mrs. William Garner, of Cleveland, O., is arriving at Sault Ste. Marie by plane Sunday and will come here for a visit with relatives. She will be met at the Sault by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julius B. Chapman, and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Matthews.

Bigger 3 Ways... DODGE gives you extra value

WIDER on the inside... NARROWER outside! There's extra value in the spread-out elbow room of the wide, wide seats. Yet the new Dodge is smaller on the outside... easy to park, easy to grasp, easy to thread through crowded traffic.

LONGER on the inside... SHORTER outside! The new leg room in Dodge gives extra value in stretch-out comfort. Doors open wide, too... let you get in and out easily without squirming or twisting—and without knocking your hat off, either.

HIGHER on the inside... LOWER outside! More head room is another Dodge extra value you'll appreciate. Instead of low, slanting seats that force a cramped position, Dodge knee-level seats are actually higher for relaxing comfort, better vision.

If you want extra value, you'll want DODGE! There's extra value in Dodge beauty that flows from true functional styling... in the design that provides more head room, more leg room, more elbow room, greater vision for all passengers.

There's extra value in Dodge's Get-Away engine with its surging acceleration... its higher compression that squeezes extra miles from every gallon of gas... the smoothness of Dodge All-Fluid Drive at no extra cost.

Yes, you'll want Dodge for the extra value you get all the way from double-life hydraulic brakes and Safety-Rim Wheels, to the luxurious comfort of full-cradled ride and knee-level seats.

Add to these the Dodge reputation for dependability and economy and you'll discover why wise buyers say... "If you want extra value, you'll want Dodge."

Manistique In Former Days

Sixty Years Ago
Last season we were threatened with a street sprinkler; but we have not heard a word about it this.

A couple of strangers undertook to knock each other out in the American House office yesterday, our reporter was told that the fight was stopped before anybody was badly hurt.

There was great joy in the home of our townsman John Holberg, the painter; and what occasioned it was the birth of a daughter. Mother and child doing well and John steps around more lightly than ever before.

Mr. Rice has moved his family into the (fish) boarding house just vacated by Mr. Garvin at Thompson.
The injured boy, Arthur Fydel, is reported a little better today. It is a bad case and still the doctors have hopes of saving his arm.
Mrs. Townsend left yesterday morning to visit her daughter, Mrs. Kapin, at Cheboygan.
Sturgeon seems to be quite plenty in the river now.
Yesterday a man in a row boat when in the middle of the river broke his oar and tumbled into the water. Parties went and helped him out of the unpleasant predicament.
J. Hutchinson, of South Manistique, had a pistol in his hip pocket yesterday, but the pesky thing would not rest in quiet there. By some means it was discharged, putting a bullet through Mr. H's feet. Dr. Bowen was called, picked out the pieces of bone and dressed the wounded foot. The old saying comes quite true occasionally, that a gun is a dangerous plaything.

Fifty Years Ago

Genott Ness while at work about a rip-saw at the Weston Hfg. Co.'s plant Monday, lost the thumb and fore finger of his right hand. When the minister comes to the house to eat, his hostess asks him to say grace in a way indicating that her family never eats a meal without it, and her husband nearly chokes to death in his surprise.

It is rumored that Manistique is to have a department store. Manistique township board of trustees purchased an engine to operate their stone crusher. A wise act.

It is rumored that Oliver Hart will open a grocery store in the building at present occupied by B. P. Pollock.

Owing to the smallness of the stage at Columbus Hall the May entertainment given by the choir of St. Francis de Sales church, will be given at the opera house.

A naphtha launch will ply between Indian river bridge and Indian Lake this summer. This arrangement will be appreciated by cyclists who do not care to ride the rough path.

Salmon in the Lake
The Boascher boys caught a genuine Columbia river salmon in their nets off Wiggins point last week. The fish weighed about five pounds and was evidently four or five years old. Lockwood secreta fine picture of the fish. Some years ago the government planted a number of salmon in Lake Michigan.

Ten Years Ago

Miss Laura Kiley has returned to her home in Greenville, Mich., after a week end visit here with friends.

Clinton Goudreau spent the week end with friends in Marquette.

Mrs. Sam Allen is visiting in Gladstone at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Miller.

Phil Sharkey is leaving Friday for Gray's Reef, where he will again be employed following a weeks stay with relatives here.

R. G. Hentschel returned Wednesday from a business trip to Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. William Mueller, Sr., have returned from a seven months stay in Missoula, Mont., Council, Wash., and other points in the west.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Neville have returned from Cheboygan where they accompanied their granddaughter, Joan Fowler, who joined her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mae Fowler there after spending several months in Manistique.

Miss Alice Tucker spent the week end in Menasha, Wis., as the guest of Miss Mary Corry, who has often visited at the Tucker home here.

Barbara Byse To Receive Degree

Miss Barbara Byse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gage R. Byse, former Manistique residents now living in Wautoma, Wis., will receive the degree of bachelor of education from the National College of Education at Evanston, Ill., on June 7.

A graduate of Manistique high school in 1945, Miss Byse attended Carroll college in Waukesha, Wis., before going to Evanston. She will teach in Robot next year.

AMERICAN TREE FARM

TREE FARMING DID IT...

Private citizens own most of America's forest land. They count their holdings in acres, not in sections. To an ever increasing extent, these woodland owners rely on timber sales for cash needed to pay mortgages, send sons or daughters to college, and improve their farms. Four and one-quarter million people, most of them farmers, own 345 million acres of our commercial forest land here in the U. S. On these acres are grown much of the wood used by America's lumber, plywood, and pulp and paper industries. You, too, can help farmers grow the wood we need by protecting our forest areas from fire. Always be careful with fire when you are in a wooded area, large or small.

China's Loss To Communism Topic Of Lecture Here

(Continued from page 1) was imported there by Russian agents and nurtured by native Asiatics trained as Communists in two Moscow universities. Every native revolt in Asia for years has had an aspect of Communism, and the Communists are now definitely in the picture in the uprisings going on in Burma, French Indo-China, Malaya, the Netherlands East Indies and a number of other trouble spots.

It was Russia which came to the help of the Kookminsang when it was a latter, nearly defeated group, seeking control of China. ("Chang doesn't like to be reminded of that now," the speaker said, "but before he came to power in 1927, he received arms and money from Russia.") After succeeding in uniting China, the Kook-
