New mill project gets local support

Local efforts to assist in securing approval of a new neutral sulfite semi-chemical pulp mill for the Manistique Pulp and Paper Co. continued this week.

Last week's announcement of the possibility quoted Frank S. Ilohok, president and general manager of the mill, as saying a decision might be forthcoming on Aug. 23 or 29 from Field Enterprises, Inc., owners of the local mill.

Several noon luncheon meetings have been held with local government officials, civic leaders and mill personnel, aimed at assisting in any way possible.

City and Manistique Pulp and Paper Company officials met Tuesday with representatives of federal and state agencies to explore the possibility of mutual cooperation in securing federal assistance for construction of a secondary sewage treatment plant in Manistique.

Meeting with the local officials were George Rusch, executive chairman of the Central Upper Peninsula Economic Development District (CUEDD), and Roger Reiberg, Upper Great Lakes Regional Commissioner.

The possibility of involving the Indian Lake area in a project application was also discussed since local health officials state that Indian Lake is contributing to the pollution of the Indian River, the source of the city's water supply.

The meeting Tuesday followed the appearance of both the City and the Paper Mill before a hearing conducted by the Michigan Water Resources Commission in Escanaba on Aug. 23 to answer charges of contributing to the pollution of Lake Michigan.

Representatives of the Manistique Pulp and Paper Co. and the City of Manistique feel that mutual cooperation between the city, the mill and county areas involved in attempting to meet the requirements of the Water Resources Commission is the only practical solution from a cost and operational standpoint.

Manistique's City Council added its endorsement to the proposed new mill by Monday night approving a letter to James E. Fletcher, executive vice president of Field Enterprises in Chicago, sent by Mayor Leo DeMars. The letter read: "I wish to extend to you our best wishes from the City of Six new programs added at school

A new year starts next week for the Manistique Area Schools—and a half-dozen new and unique approaches to education will be part of the program.

The six new programs are: a new vocational education program for at least 36 high school youths who will attend three-hour classes from 9 till noon, Tuesdays and Thursdays at Bay de Noc Community College in Escanaba.

A cooperative high school vocational training program for retooling and distributive and office positions, administered by Miss Helen Jean Voisine.

Three special education classrooms for students with learning difficulties will go into operation this fall, with two located at the Fairview School and one at Central.

Students at the new Lakeside School will be spending part of their school day in group teaching of the first step toward ungraded classrooms.

Driver training students will be getting instruction in the 345,500 Link Simulator purchased as part of the 116-truck safety training program.

A new 72-passenger school bus equipped with special type operating equipment will allow students to "learn while they ride" by listening to pre-taped lessons of programs. Another innovation will be introduced at report card time, when a new and re-designed card will be handed out to elementary students.

Twenty-six students attending the vocational education classes at Bay de Noc College will choose from offerings in electricity, welding or machine operation.

The new audio bus equipped with tape recording equipment will be used to transport the students to and from Escanaba. They will carry lunches and go on the bus while awaiting the exact starting date of the program is still uncertain.

The offerings at Escanaba will be much advanced from any previous courses now offered at the local school. The welding course utilizes machines used by Harrisleifer at their Escanaba plant, and the machine operation course involves lathes, punches, drills and other equipment not available here.

Miss Voisine's cooperative vocational training program concentrates on students gaining business experience through part-time jobs in the local community. The program is partially paid for with state monies.

Miss Voisine, who formerly taught at Wayne State University, is certified as a vocational coordinator by the State Department of Education.

A diagnostician from the Intermediate School District has been interviewing youngsters with possible learning difficulties this summer in preparation for the new special education program being offered by the district.

Three staff members underwent special training during the past year to qualify as teachers for this program, or else.

Mrs. Ruth England will work with primary youngsters in the Continued on back page

St. Francis sets opening Tuesday

An 8 a.m. Mass of the Holy Spirit next Tuesday will open the school year for almost 300 students at St. Francis de Sales School.

Following the Mass in the school, students will complete registration, meet their new teachers, and pay tuition fees in their classrooms. They will probably be dismissed around 10 a.m.

Sister Marceyn, principal of the school, said that full-day sessions will begin next Wednesday, with an 8 a.m. Mass followed by classes at 8:30.

The luncheon recess will be from 11:40 to 12:40, with school ending for the day at 3:15 p.m.

Faculty assignments include Sister Anne, first grade; Mrs. Rosemary Saback, second grade; Mrs. Noreen McLaughlin, third grade; Sister M. Florina, fourth grade; Carl Rose, fifth grade; Sister Rita Mae, sixth grade; Karl Krepps, seventh grade; and Sister Marceyn, eighth grade. The Parish School Board is in the process of interviewing applicants for a half-day eighth grade teacher.

Sister Coleen is new instructor with Mrs. Paul Hoag and Mrs. Carl Rose as teacher aides. Father Arnold Grambow, assistant pastor, will teach supplemental religion.

Sister Marceyn said registration are still open for every grade except the seventh and eighth grades. Thus far, there are 295 students enrolled in the parochial school.

A faculty meeting is scheduled for Friday at 1 p.m. in the school library.

A report on last week's appearance before the Water Resources Commission was given to the City Council Monday night by City Manager Robert Noe, who represented the city at the session in Escanaba last Wednesday.

Noe's testimony before the commission was that the city was in agreement with the state to clean up the waters of the Great Lakes, but that it could only partially comply at this time with the stipulation requested by the state agency.

Noe told the group that the city was submitting a preliminary engineering study by Jan. 1, and that construction plans could be submitted by Dec. 1, 1970. However, the city did object to the requirement that remove 80 per cent of the phosphorus content in the city water.

"This may not be economically feasible because of operating costs," Noe said. "The city did not know that it would be able to finance such an installation because the city is already burdened by heavy obligations for its current sewage facility."

"The commission was told that we felt by agreeing to their stipulations we were, in fact, largely surrendering the city's government rights to determination of what the city should do in regards to this order."

"The commission rebuffed the city by stating that the agreement could be amended at some future time if the city found it economically infeasible to complete the schedule, although the agreement itself does not state so. The commission further stated that the city could find means of financing this installation showing no regard whatever for the cost or the city's ability to raise the money to pay off such an obligation.

"Although it was later brought up in the hearing that Indian Lake was being polluted, which feeds the Indian River, the commission expressed complete ignorance as to the situation even though this is polluting the city water supply."

"Further, it was stated by one of the members of the Michigan Department of Public Health that this was no real problem on Indian Lake and it was being corrected on an individual basis (despite the fact that they had to close the public bathing beaches because of the pollution)."

"The commission gave no sympathetic ear to the city's appeal for more time and referred the city to the commission for appropriate action. There will be another hearing in September. Although the city is in the midst of an engineering study at this time and investigating the necessity and notifying the taxpayers with this additional cost the Water Resources Commission has taken an attitude that we must comply or else."

The Manistique Pulp and Paper Co. also appeared before the commission on the same day.

It was reported that the commission has directed its engineers to make a study to see if the mill is in violation of current pollution laws. If they are, a show cause hearing will be scheduled and the company will make an appearance before the Attorney General.

Representatives of the mill told the commission that they have done all it could to control water waste materials and said that if it were forced to comply with the directive it might be forced out of competitive business.

Joseph Bal, water resources engineer, was reported as saying the order against the mill was brought about holding ponds overflowed this spring creating quite a pollution problem in the lower river.

Gridders to open Friday

Manistique's Emeralds will take their first step on the long road back to football glory Friday night when they journey to Ishpeming to meet the rugged Heavies in a Great Lakes Conference contest.

Coach Joe LaPointe's squad, with six seniors on the roster, will be attempting to rebound from last year's dismal 2-6 record, and there is cautious optimism in the Emerald camp, although the feeling is that they are a year away from making a real run for the title.

Ishpeming defeated the young Emerald squad in last year's home opener by a 33-7 margin, with Tom Hammar passing for three touchdowns, two of them to Mike Bertucci, all-conference end. Bertucci is back this year, but Hammar is gone. Six of their seven linemen are returning, however, and it could be a rugged defensive struggle. Manistique figures to be much improved defensively this year, with better size and more experience. There is improved speed in the backfield to bolster the offense, with Duane Sandin providing straight-away speed, Keith Aldrich the power, and Kurt Prond the shifting, slashing type of running. Junior quarterback Kendall Neeson, with a year's experience behind him, has been passing well.

LaPointe plans to run his offense out of the wing T, using a six most of the time. Defense will be shifting, based on a six man line.

LaPointe will use seven lettermen on defense, and many players will go both ways. Here's how the defensive line-up shapes up:

Defensive halfbacks, Dave Mickelson, junior, and Kendall Neeson, junior letterman.

LaPointe and his assistants, Rick Larson and Norm Johnson, are also working with a promising young group of interior linemen who are slated for roles of action before the season ends.

Young offensive backs who will see lots of action before the season ends include sophomores Dan McDonough and Ken Gola, and juniors Rick Bonifas and Don Teismann.

LaPointe is also high on two sophomore offensive ends, Jerry Sample and Doug Erickson.

The sophomore coach refuses to be pinned down when asked the team to beat in the conference, but points to defending champion Marquette and the Manistiquine Mustangs as being top contenders, along with always-tough Gladstone.

Kickoff time at Ishpeming Friday night is 8 p.m. The game will be broadcast locally over WTIQ radio.

DRILLS START--Under the watchful eye of the coaching staff, Emerald gridgers have begun drills for the 1969 season. Opening game is Aug. 29 at Ishpeming.

Senior Center in new location

Schoolcraft County's Senior Citizens Center has found a new home.

Faced with the sale of their present location by the board of education, the Senior Citizens Monday night gained approval of City Council for the use of the old Chamber of Commerce building in Triangle Park across from the post office.

Council approved the proposition, 4-1, with Mayor Leo DeMars casting the lone dissenting vote. He explained that he wanted to check on possible use of the building by the volunteer firemen.

The building will be provided rent-free, but the Senior group agreed to maintain the building. The resolution grants them the use of the building for a one year period.

City Manager Robert Noe reported that all curb and gutter work had been completed, and that paving on all streets--N. Houghton, W. Main, N. Maple and Arbutus--should be completed this week. Sept. 8 was set as the public hearing date to set the special assessment rolls for those curb and gutter districts.

Noe also reported that the city will be chortling or cilling all unpaved streets in town this week or next.

William Bellore, 308 N. Cedar St., spoke before Council with a petition signed by 15 of 20 property owners asking for curb and gutters in the 300 block of N. Cedar. The petition will be filed, and special assessments will probably be worked out next year, he was told.

Stacy Cousineau, 119 Walnut St., was granted 60 days to demolish an old building he recently purchased on State Road. Noe reported that bids on the low-income housing project had been delayed because the Department of Labor has not yet made a listing of minimum labor rates available to the bidders. A new date of Sept. 16 has been set for opening bids.

Rural teachers are assigned

Teachers assignments for elementary and rural 7th and 8th grades have been announced for the Manistique Area Schools.

The "Dining Out in Michigan," alumni cities restaurant in Delta is preparing for adding the appeal of gastronomic excellence in appealing surroundings to the tourist attractions of Michigan's Upper Peninsula. Delta also operates the Knife and Fork in Iron Mountain, the Knife in Marquette and the Knife and Fork at Sault Ste. Marie.

"Pellic" is president of the Manistique Chamber of Commerce," the article continues, "so a bonus for travelers who stop for a meal at The Surf is his enthusiastic advice on what to see and do."

"We enjoyed the city's new marina and Kitchi-Ti-Ki-PI Spring state park, about 15 miles away," the article concludes.

CHAMPION--Kate LeBrasseur, right, and runner-up Helen Volsine inspect the trophy won by Mrs. LeBrasseur in women's championship play at Indian Lake Golf and Country Club.

Mrs. LeBrasseur wins Indian Lake golf title

Kate LeBrasseur successfully defended her women's championship of the Indian Lake Golf and Country Club last week, defeating Helen Volsine in the championship match, 3 and 1. Mrs. LeBrasseur defeated M. Hill Johnson, Agnes Brotherton and Elsie Kasan to gain the title, while Miss Volsine defeated Jean Thomas, Alice Modders and L.H. Howe.

The two contenders were all even after the first nine holes. Mrs. LeBrasseur took the 12th and 13th holes, then the 15th hole, to go three up before Miss Volsine rallied to take No. 16. However, Kate's par 3 on No. 17 put the match out of reach and clinched the title for her.

Winner of the consolation flight was Millie Johnson. Second flight winner was Miriam Ormosen, while Pat Stapleton won the "Also's" League.

Museum move gets support

A plan to move the Post House museum from its present location to a new site adjacent to the water tower offices of the Chamber of Commerce was endorsed by the Chamber's board of directors at their monthly meeting Tuesday morning.

The property on which the museum is now located has been sold by the school, and a new site must be found.

An overall study-planning committee to coordinate activities in economic planning, government and industry, and to seek new proposals and ideas, was appointed by President Neil Dellis, who will serve as chairman. Other members include City Manager Robert Noe, School Supt. Edwin E. Wuehli, Extension Agent Howard Haldorf, County Clerk Fred Leslie, Gerald Graphs, and representatives from local industry.

The board set Oct. 25 as the date for their fall membership dinner meeting.

A committee to study the membership and dues schedule was created, with Jeanne Larson as chairman. Mrs. Larson was also named as the chamber's representative to the Community School Advisory Board.

Dellis also named a by-laws revision committee, with himself as chairman, including Carl Graves, William Putvis, Fred Haine, and Ralph Gillan.

The chamber will send four members to attend a Sept. 12 workshop in Escanaba sponsored by Upper Peninsula chambers of commerce.

FLOWER SHOW--A good-sized crowd enjoyed the many displays at the annual Hospital Auxiliary Flower Show and Tea held last week at the golf club.

Programs

lower grades, while Harold Miller will teach 5th and 6th grade students. Both will be teaching at the Fairview School, and students will be transported by bus to the classes.

Peter Derber will be working with junior high school and 9th grade students in a special classroom at Central. These students will also be transported to the classes, if necessary. Financing assistance for the program will come from the state and from the Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate School District.

The school administration is also working on the possibility of having a speech therapist from the Intermediate District here twice a week.

Roger Hartin has been hired by the Intermediate District as a school social worker, and will replace Richard Hoeker. Lakeside School faculty members have already held several meetings to work out the details of their pilot program aimed at utilizing the unique design of the "open spaces" at the new building.

It calls for the grouping of youngsters according to ability in both the upper and lower grades for at least a part of the school day. It also will feature a departmental system in science, language and social studies, with students also grouped according to ability.

This modified approach to the ungraded classroom, described as flexible grouping, allows children to progress at their own rate. The design of the new building allows the groups to easily divide and reassemble throughout the day.

The "audio bus," one of three outstanding educational techniques cited by the National Education Association last year and one of four proposed in Michigan, involves a four-channel transmitter and amplifier installed in a new 72-passenger bus with four tape recording units utilizing cassette cartridges, one for each channel. There will be 36 wireless receivers capable of reception anywhere within the vehicle, and 72 stereoscopic type earphone units, plus a microphone for talking directly to students. A library of cassette tapes will be developed which can be used while traveling on bus runs. The tapes will be selected on the basis of enrichment and support materials for the topics of the units.

Students taking directed instruction during the summer term already had an opportunity to utilize the new audio bus. Each of the 130-140 seats in the bus has a microphone, the simulator allows dual student reactions to the wheel "as a film strip showing a driving situation.

SALES LADY OF FATIMA---Circle of St. Francis Church will meet with Mrs. Ray Stokes and Miss Frank at 8 p.m. Assisting hostesses will be Mrs. Alva Frank and Mrs. George Malheux.

PUBLIC LIBRARY STATION---will open this (today) at the Germastask School. It will be open Thursday evenings from 6 to 8 p.m. for adults and children of the Germastask-Seney area. Mrs. Diane Streeter will be in charge.

ELKS FALL ROUND-UP---will be held in Manistique starting Friday, Sept. 13. A two hour work bee will be scheduled for Wednesday, Sept. 3 following the brief 7 p.m. regular meeting.

Beach blaze

Dancing flames and charred logs provide a magic formula for dreaming on the beach during warm summer days.

"OUT OUR WAY"
News from Road 437

Hi Folks!

Our warm summer weather continues with no rain in sight. Every evening I can see the sun set slowly behind the tall pine trees. I realized what a mystic spell our late summer evenings have for us.

There are fields of ripened oats and wheat along the roadsides. We see the milkweed and fireweed pods, which are ready to open up to let the wind toss the seeds through the air. Here and there a wee touch of scarlet and gold can be seen among the green of the maples. Daily more colors will blend from green to russet red and gold as fall starts to come in. In the late afternoon the rasping sound of the grasshoppers can be heard and the crickets with a mournful note as if to warn us of winter's approach.

I've even seen some of the birds starting to flock together to plan their trip to the south. Haven't seen a robin for some time, I believe they are starting their journey south. Our forest furry animals are busy dashing to and fro, to enjoy what time they still have left of summer. It won't be too long and we'll have cool mornings as a sign fall is making its entry.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sayers of Columbus, Ohio are enjoying their vacation at their cabin on Hughes Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Ormel Repp and family enjoyed a week's visitors that came out our way in the Thunder Lake area for the Carla Chartier and James Bonner wedding on Aug. 23 were Mr. and Mrs. Ken Cramer of Grand Haven, Mich., staying at Donovan's; Mr. and Mrs. Elias Monasmith of North Baltimore, Ohio, staying at Widdis; and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Monasmith of Findlay, Ohio stayed at Bonners.

Sunday was a family day for the Boss and I. We had 15 of our 19 grandchildren home. Jim Kathy Hardy were home to attend the wedding of his sister, Carol, to James Dalgord of Garden, daughter Ruth Vodnik and children Greg, Randy, Sandra, and Joel are spending a week with us. Daughter Lillian Stuber and children Karen, Jeff, Julie Ann, Mary Jo and Peter John are spending a week with daughter and husband Joanne and Vern Annelin. So plenty of visiting and excitement is in store for all of us this week.

Spending the weekend with Marie LaFave were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Connelly and John Son Patrick also visited with them over the weekend.

Echoes of birthday greetings go out to Mrs. James Kelly, Janice Repp, Eva Erickson, Betty Sayers and Clara Dishneau.

Anniversary wishes go out to the Michael Swagarts, David Cottens, and William Mc-one of complete happiness.

Until next week, enjoy the summer days we have left and stay happy.

Cards of Thanks

THE FAMILY OF MRS. JESSE (MURIEL) MESSER

May we take this means of thanking each and everyone who sent flowers, cards and visited and the doctors, nurses and staff of the Schoolcraft County Medical Care Facility while our mother and grandmother was a patient there and at the time of her death; to those who sent flowers, cards, food, furnished cars, Rev. Roy Pitts, for the comforting service, the pallbearers, the Messier-Broullire Funeral Home and all who helped in any way. We shall always be grateful.

The Family of Mrs. Jesse (Muriel) Messer. 12c1

To our family physician, Dr. Duane B. Waters, M.D. we wish to pay our highest tribute. Never have we experienced such kindness and generosity. We owe a great deal to his professional skill and we feel that this is a debt we never can repay. We have found in him not only a physician but a real friend.

Senior Citizens Corner

BY PAULINE HOLLOWAY
DIRECTOR

Today I can say something that will ease the minds of many senior citizens. We do have a new location for our center. We will be located in the city-owned building in Triangle Park, the former Chamber of Commerce location.

The city has agreed to let us use this building for one year, then will grant us a review and decide if they are willing for us to use it for an extended time.

We certainly thank the city for this generous offer and plan to do our utmost to merit their faith and cooperation.

I and several members of the Senior Citizens executive board, chaired by Mr. Denton Nelson, attended the City Council meeting last Monday evening at which time this decision was reached.

Thor Reque and Mr. Nelson both deserve a great deal of credit for supporting our center so well.

Earl LeBrasseur also attended and talked in our behalf to the council members.

Mrs. Clara Whitman and Mrs. Isabell Bunker were also pre-explained before but perhaps many of you missed reading. Our Senior Citizens Service Center is a multi-service, Federally-funded in cooperation with local sponsors, service organization, in our case the county, and is for the benefit of all Schoolcraft County Senior Citizens. If you have never been in our center please consider this an invitation and come in. We are here to help with any problems we can, or just to visit as the case may be.

We will see that the proper notices are in the papers when we are moved to our new location. However, in the meantime we will carry on as usual at the present location at the corner of Cedar and Main Sts.

FOOD PRICES ARE HIGHER! This is something all of you know. At the office we receive a quarterly report from the Economic Research Service of the U.S.D.A. that tells us how much you're spending.

In 1968 per capita expenditures for food were 29 per cent higher than in 1958. Prices for food increased 17 per cent in the last 10 years. Families bought more food and paid higher prices for it.

But this is important to know - part of the rise in expenditure resulted from consumers substituting relatively expensive foods for cheaper foods and purchasing more marketing services with the food. Then, too, income has increased so the percentage spent for food has actually decreased. The percentage of income spent for food decreased from 20.9 per cent in 1958 to 16.8 per cent in 1968.

WE HAVE BUILT IN MAID SERVICE: Because we like convenience foods, our retail market has added more shelf space for them. We found this to be true when in Finland. We're tempted when we see chicken broiling on a rotisserie or smell barbecued ribs. We found them in Helsinki stores too. This added maid service changes.

SUMMER IS HOT DOG TIME: And I love them roasted in a fire or cooked over charcoal. But I had never realized until just recently, how much fat they contained.

Right now there is concern on the federal level about the amount of fat in cooked sausages. Some wieners have more than one-third fat. The proposed regulation would limit the fat content of cooked sausages to 33 per cent. This means that a large number would need to alter their formulas to decrease the amount of fat.

Michigan has strict sausage regulations. No cereal or other fillers are permitted. The cheaper "regular" franks made from beef, veal and pork can contain four per cent non-fat dry milk solids. All, of course, can use spices and seasonings.

Garden

Architects for the new Big Bay de Noc School to be built at Garden Corners let out construction bids Monday. Bond bids will be opened Wednesday, Sept. 17 at 8 p.m. at the Katherine Bonifas Elementary School at Garden. If the bonds are sold construction on the new school should begin in October.

Heavy traffic is predicted

Heavy homeward bound traffic, to the point of congestion, is expected on Labor Day on Michigan's main north-south highways, the Department of State Highways said today.

Given good weather, it is estimated that motorists will drive 605 million vehicle miles in the state during the holiday weekend, between noon Friday, Aug. 29, and noon Tuesday, Sept. 2.

That's 20 million miles less than during the Fourth of July holiday period, but the Department cautioned that the homeward rush on Monday, Sept. 1, will surpass the Fourth of July travel peaks. This heavier traffic will be due largely to families with school-aged children headed home from vacations.

In an effort to reduce congestion, the Department urged that motorists, especially those pulling boats and trailers, plan to travel at other than peak periods, if possible.

To aid motorists in avoiding peak periods, the Department issued the following weekend traffic forecast:

NORTHBOUND

US-27, Lansing to Clare: Moderately heavy from 6 to 8 p.m. Friday.

US-27, Clare to Grayling: Moderately heavy from 7 to 10 p.m. Friday.

Interstate 75, Flint to Standish: Very heavy from 4 to 10 p.m. Friday with the peak from 7 to 9 p.m. Heavy from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturday.

US-23, Ann Arbor to Flint: Moderate from 4 to 8 p.m. Friday.

US-131, Grand Rapids to Reed City: Moderate congestion from 4 to 9 p.m. Friday.

M-37, Gladwin-Grand Rapids: Moderately heavy congestion from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday, both north and south.

SOUTHBOUND

US-27, Grayling to Clare: Heavy from noon to 7 p.m. Monday.

US-27, Clare to Lansing: Moderately heavy from 3 to 7 p.m. Monday.

Interstate 75, Standish to Flint: Very heavy from noon to 10 p.m. Monday with the peak from 3 to 10 p.m. Heavy from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesday.

US-23, Flint to Ann Arbor: Heavy from 5 to 10 p.m. Monday.

gestion from 2 to 7 p.m. Monday.

M-37, Baldwin-Grand Rapids: Heavy congestion from noon to 5 p.m. Monday. Moderately heavy congestion from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday, both north and south.

Congratulations! The Early Bird Award goes to Clutch Matchinskii! Chuck turned in the first three soil samples for the coming year. Of course, the area that Chuck took the soil from is being summer fallowed so unless you are in this very special situation you will have to wait until the present crop is harvested. From the looks of the Michigan Farmer this might be a good time of year to send in your soil samples so that you can take advantage of the special sales fertilizer companies are running.

The Crambe and Rape plot out at the Pawley farm is looking good. If nothing else, it appears that we are proving that we can grow these members of the mustard family.

Have a supply of consignment blanks and regulations for the Oct. 7 Feeder Sale at Rapid River. If you have never sold through Rapid River and are planning to do so this year, please call or write the office and we will mail you your consignment sheets. These are due in not later than Sept. 12 so time is running short.

Stoken makes 'moon paper'

A former Manistique resident played a part in making the first paper to go to the moon.

Larry F. Stoken, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Stoken, M-94, has worked in the quality control section of the Bryant Division of the Allied Paper Co. in Kalamazoo for the past nine and a half years.

Allied paper was used in the printing of Gideon Bibles used by astronauts on both the Apollo 10 and 11 flights.

During the circling of the moon by Apollo 10, Astronaut Gene Cerran read excerpts from the Bible over national television. The Bible from which he read was printed by National Publishing Co. in Philadelphia on Allied paper made by the Bryant Division.

During the recent flight of Apollo 11, Astronaut Neil Armstrong placed a specially packaged Gideon Bible on the moon. Again, that paper was printed on Allied paper produced by the Bryant Division.

Larry was an employee of the Manistique Pioneer-Tribune in 1955, while in high school here.
