Parents asked to meet

Manistique Pioneer-Tribune has been a winner in two divisions of the annual competition sponsored by the Michigan Association.

In conjunction with National Newsweek, Oct. 5-11, the awards included a first place for use of pictures and a third place for news reporting.

The 19th and 20th awards won by the Tribune in this competition in the last two years.

The newspaper has twice been the best of its circulation class in the state.

This year was in seven categories of circulation.

"We are particularly pleased with the awards in these two categories this year," said James M. Tagg, president and business manager of the Pioneer-Tribune. "Our pioneering work with the quick-etch process of printing is being vindicated by our recognition for use of pictures. Secondly, winning an award in the extremely tough division of news reporting--is the very basic function of any newspaper--is recognition of the complete and comprehensive job that we try to do with local news."

Tagg said that he and Editor Dave Rood pledged their efforts to continue to improve the Pioneer-Tribune in all areas, and he hoped that reader and advertising support would continue to allow for future improvements.

A public hearing on the proposed 1970 budget for Schoolcraft County will be held Monday at 10 a.m. at the court house as the annual October meeting of the Board of Supervisors gets underway for an all-day session.

The agenda includes adoption of the budget and the employee and officers salary schedule; appointments to the Department of Social Services, Convassing Board, UPCAP, County Planning and Zoning Commission, airport manager, and a representative to the County Employees' Retirement Group.

Also scheduled is the 1969 tax levy, awarding of coal and fuel bids for 1970, action on the marine watercraft enforcement resolution, and action on a request from county employees that their work day be changed from 8:30 to 5 p.m. to 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Meeting changed

Bob Clement has advised that the meeting of Local 4303 has been changed from Friday, Oct. 10 to Friday October 17.

Ground breaking ceremonies for the low-income family housing project on N. Main St. will be held Sunday, Oct. 19, at 2 p.m., across from the new city hall.

The public has been invited by the Manistique Housing Commission to attend.

City Manager Robert Noe said that the new project has proceeded in record time since the application was submitted last November. "This is certainly record time considering the three years plus it took to get our senior citizens housing project into construction," he said. The Housing Commission advertised for bids July 31 for the construction of the 25 units of family housing. Bids were opened Sept. 16, and were awarded Sept. 25. Successful bidders, all from Manistique, were Manistique Builders, general; Hoholik's Plumbing and Heating, Inc., plumbing and heating; Romet Electric, electrical; Contracts and other documents are now in Chicago awaiting approval from the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Noe explained that it is the intent of the Housing Commission to sell the units to qualified low-income families under a lease-purchase plan. The project consists of nine three-bedroom duplex units, one two-bedroom duplex and five four-bedroom single units. A model of the project is on display at City Hall. The price of the units has not yet been determined, Noe said, but will be announced when the information becomes available.

All of the units will have kitchens with built-in cabinets, ranges and refrigerators, bathrooms with tubs, forced warm air heat and vinyl asbestos floors.

Construction time has been set at one year.

Members of the Housing Commission are Stanley Carlsson, Franklyn Burgess, Dino Pirolo, J. Wagner-Carlson, William Putvin and Noe, who serves as executive director.

Architects for the project are Nichols-Barone and Associates of Green Bay.

School advisory group plans tour

Plans to visit Iron Mountain and Kingsford schools next Nov. 8 to inspect new construction and remodeling projects in those districts were made at the meeting of the Board of Education Advisory Committee Monday night.

All persons interested will be invited to participate in the tour, which will leave the school at 1 p.m.

Kingsford has completed construction of a new high school building, while Iron Mountain's project consisted of a combination of remodeling and building. The group discussed needs of the local district, including the main gymnasium, which was described as serviceable but not adequate; cafeteria use of the gym which knocks out two hours of potential physical education classes; inadequate band facilities and other needs.

A report on the summer survey of registered voters in Hiawatha Township was presented by Dave Rood of Peninsula Information Consultants which concluded the poll for the advisory group.

Highlights of the report showed that only 24 per cent of the 425 contacted in the survey responded, and that older residents without children in school participated more than young parents.

The survey showed that of the 24 per cent responding, 62 per cent were "very well satisfied" and 30 per cent were "satisfied" with the quality of schooling the children were receiving, while 10.3 per cent were "dissatisfied" and 7.2

per cent were "very much dissatisfied."

Asked for pinpoint strong points of the high school program, 67.4 per cent did not even respond, 61.7 per cent did not respond on the same question on junior high, and 76.8 per cent did not respond on the same question about elementary schools. Responses were similarly low when asked to point out the weak spots in these programs.

A question on increased millage for support of band, vocational and junior high programs brought the best response of any on the poll, with only 14.3 not responding. Those who did answer showed 17.4 per cent would favor extra millage, while 58.2 per cent opposed it and 10.3 per cent had no opinion.

Hot lunch, transportation and the Community School program received generally good ratings. There were more than 40 different answers on the questions of what was the local district's biggest problem and how to solve it.

Newberry has lost to Munising, Gladstone, Ostrand, Soo, Marquette and Isperming, while Manistique has dropped games with Isperming, Soo, Munising, Negaunee, Gladstone and Holy Name.

Dan Young, Holy Name's senior fullback, scored the first three Crusader touchdowns to run his season's total to 78 points and tie the school's season's scoring record. The other two touchdowns came on two passes and a run.

Manistique gained only 22 net yards rushing and 12 net yards passing, gaining four first downs to 16 for Holy Name, who rolled up 406 net yards total offense.

Keith Adrich was the leading ground gainer for Manistique with 40 yards in 11 carries. Emerald Ray Sikarskie was injured following the final TD

Big Future for Uses of Wood "Leftovers"

It wasn't too long ago that sawdust, bark, and wood chips were considered waste in mill operations. Today, they face a big future for a wide variety of uses in Michigan which could turn their disposal into a multimillion-dollar industry, reports the Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

In breaking through the waste barrier to give sawmill operators a new profit-making edge, these by-products are gaining popularity for their use among home and cottage owners, campground entrepreneurs, horse and cattle raisers, and landscape architects. The reasons are many. Bark and sawdust do an excellent job of reducing weed growth and holding moisture around plants (Photo #1); they stabilize soil that tends to blow or wash away (Photo #2); they provide a good surface and hold down dust problems around playgrounds, on trails, and in other high-use areas where it is hard to grow grass (Photo #3); they make excellent bedding for cattle and horses (Photo #4); they can be used as landscape material in place of grass or crushed stone. In marketing this material at modest prices to serve so many uses, sawmill operators are able to reduce the amount they have to burn. This is a good stroke of business both in curbing air pollution and wood disposal costs. DNR foresters brand as "untrue" any talk about these materials being toxic to the soil.

The DNR's Forestry Division in Lansing has a list of all active sawmills in Michigan where people can get sawdust, bark, and wood chips to meet their needs. Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

The Truth Generally Lies Under the Surface

The true facts about anything are seldom pure and never simple. Facts often are deeply hidden, like the seven-eighths of an iceberg which always lies under water.

When your newspaper reporter says to the mayor, or the school superintendent, or the chief of police, "May I ask you a question or two?" he is really "diving" for facts. He hopes to bring to the light of day other related names, figures, or relationships which will give his readers a fuller story.

Newspapers, good news, constantly dive, dig, and fish for the appearances of the deeper, often hidden connections.

The job of a free and unlicensed press. This newspaper would like you to remember that during National Newspaper Week, October 5-11.

New City Hall near completion

ALMOST READY...Manistique's new City Hall should be ready for occupancy within two weeks, City Manager Robert Noe said this week.

Moving day is fast approaching for the residents of Manistique's City Hall. City Manager Robert Noe said this week that he is hopeful the move can be started in two weeks. Only interior finishing remains to be done on the new $87,000 brick structure that will be the new City Hall once the move is made. Work was started last year on the site at Maple and Elm Sts., on the building housing offices for the city manager, clerk-treasurer, assessor, plus council chambers and headquarters for the police and firemen. A dedication service is tentatively planned for early in November. Noe pointed out that the new building is being constructed without having the city go into debt, using funds from the sale of the present city hall to the U.S. Forest Service, plus reserve funds. An interesting feature of the new building will be the installation of the old firemen's pole, salvaged when the building that housed the city offices was torn down to make room for Norden's Foodland.

SPOTLIGHT ON SCHOOLCRAFT COUNTY

City streets have a new, smooth look

N. Houghton at US-2 has paved aprons.

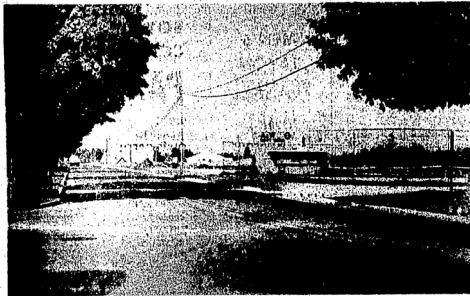

A three-year street improvement plan in the City of Manistique, costing more than $130,000, has resulted in a dramatic example of city government in effective action.

After three years, most of the city's major traffic arteries have been transformed from pockmarked, curbless road hazards to smooth, attractive thoroughfares.

Total cost of this three-year program has been $132,864.76, but most local residents will agree that it has been money well-spent after decades of allowing the streets to deteriorate.

The program began in the summer of 1967. That year the city sealcoated portions of Park, Arbutus and Goro Aves., and Cherry, W. Elk, S. Fifth, Center and Wolf Sts. The project also included paving of portions of Cedar St. and New Delta Ave. Total cost for that summer's program was $32,507.42.

In the summer of 1968 Oak St. was paved from Maple St. to Range St., and grading and sealcoating applied to both N. and S. Houghton Ave., Manistique Ave., Elm and New Sts., Washington Ave. and Steuben St. Cost of that summer's work was $33,567.37.

Maple St. looking north towards the new City Hall.

This past summer the program shifted into high gear, with the city combining two years of expenditures in order to take advantage of an asphalt mix plant located here. Paving projects included N. Maple St. from US-2 to the new city hall, N. Houghton Ave. from US-2 to the Soo Line tracks, Arbutus Ave. from Range to Steuben Sts., and Main St. from Cedar to Pearl Sts. Curb and gutters for these streets were also put in via special assessment at a cost of $20,800. Sealcoating was applied to Caribou between Fifth and First Sts., N. Second, N. Third and N. Fourth Sts., from Caribou to Dodger, and Intake Park Rd. from the pumping station to Alger Ave.

The total cost of this summer's program was $66,785.99. It's been an ambitious program to this point, but even more may lie ahead. City Manager Robert Noe said that at least $15,000 if not more will probably be budgeted for next year's budget on sealcoating. The city is also considering the possibility of bonding for $100,000 next year to allow an extensive program of paving.

Main St. south from Cedar St.

Generally, the street program has been well-received. The city has received several petitions this summer from citizens interested in having their streets included in the program, and also willing to bear special assessments for accompanying curb and gutter work.

All of the improvements of the past three years have been accomplished without seriously damaging the city's budget or future resources—certainly a tribute to good city management and good planning on the part of the city manager and the city council.

Autumn rains ease forest fire threat

Recent rains have eased the forest fire situation, said Larry Black, Hiawatha National Forest Fire Control Officer. The month of August was one of the driest on record and the National Forest District Rangers prepared for the big fire which did not occur.

Warwater Fish Regulations (state-wide)
The Natural Resources Commission, under Act 230, P.A. 1965, as amended, rescinds the order of September 5, 1968, and orders that for a period of fifteen, 1969, it shall be unlawful to catch or attempt to take in any manner the following named species except during the open seasons prescribed and within the maximum daily limits designated:

State-wide open seasons on all waters not otherwise closed
All fishing shall be from May thirtieth through December thirtieth on largemouth and smallmouth bass, walleye, sauger, northern pike, and muskellunge (including tiger muskellunge). The size limit on sauger will be thirteen inches. The daily possession limit shall be five singly or in combination for largemouth and smallmouth bass, walleye, sauger, and northern pike; one for muskellunge (including tiger muskellunge), and ten for white bass.

There is real evidence that people visiting the forests of the Upper Peninsula are being more careful. In the entire 1.5 million acres of public and private land protected by the Hiawatha National Forest, there have been 13 fires so far this year. Only three have been caused by the careless use of fire by persons on vacation.

has the time and interest will contact us at the Extension Office 341-5050.

Although our theme, "4-11 Opportunity for All," is a good one, it only is true if we have the cooperation of the people in the community who are willing to help in the program. At the 4-11 Leaders' Recognition banquet it was gratifying to see how many leaders have served for 5, 10, 15, 19 years. On the other hand, I felt we should have more new leaders than we have at the present time. We have contacted some people but so far have not been able to interest too many. Today I received a Leadership Training Kit for 4-11 Photography and when checking our records found we did not have one leader in photography in the county. We have the materials (assist anyone who is new and willing to lead so I hope if you are so inclined you will contact us.

ACCIDENTS: Miss Ingrid Teronen, our Extension Home Economist, was in a car accident last Thursday in Escanaba. If you read her column this week she will tell you about it. Local TOPS win honors

Workshops and a banquet were among the activities when the Manistique Hopefuls T.O.P.S. Club attended the annual recognition day convention held at the Escanaba Senior High School last Saturday.

During the banquet, four winning poems, chosen from a recent T.O.P.S. poetry contest, were read by local leader Jean Selling, whose own poem entitled "There's Hope," won second place.

Members of the group were entertained by a talent show, including a talent act by Jean Selling, followed by the parade of chapter banners.

Hazel Tonnesen was honored as the local club's queen who lost the most weight in 1968. Barbara Hinkson was recognized as runner-up in division 5 for the most weight loss in 1968.

Charlotte Richey and Marcelle Chandler received diplomas in a candlelight ceremony which established their membership in K.O.P.S., the National Honor Society composed exclusively of successful members of T.O.P.S.

K.O.P.S. in waiting given recognition were Edith LaVake, Marion Caldwell and Ella Carley. K.O.P.S. of long standing were Patsy Calhoun and Jean Selling.

Attending from the Manistique area were Elizabeth Cook, Marilyn Baker, Marion Caldwell, Ella Carley, Marcelle Chandler, Charlotte Richey, Jean Selling, Marjory Thorell, Jean Holmberg, Loretta Pistulka, Lucy Swanson, Leslie Wilson, Kaylene Young, Jean Jenerson, Judith LaVake, Pat Gauthier, Hazel Tonnesen and Betty Patz.

T.O.P.S. (Take Off Pounds Sensibly) Club members are rewarded after a three month waiting period of having reached their goal weight with the title of K.O.P. (Keep Off Pounds) in waiting, and after another gainless three months with the title of K.O.P. (Keep Off Pounds).

Hey there, Homecomers!

It's that special week end again for all the students and grads of MHS, and it looks like the kids are cooking up quite a party for Friday night. Let's hope the Emeralds can cook up quite a surprise for Newberry at the same time.

We'll be cooking up our regular Friday night fish fry specials, along with our new Italian foods and other specialties on the menu, so why not fit your schedule so that you can come and enjoy dinner with us as a part of Homecoming? Our Italian foods seem to be catching on with you, and if you haven't tried them be sure and stop by.

County Republicans will be stopping by Saturday the 18th for a special fund-raising buffet and on the 20th we'll be hosting the hospital auxiliary at their annual fall luncheon.

We're set up so that we can host just about any kind of party you have in mind--anniversary, birthday, bridge club--you name it, we can handle it. You can celebrate any special occasion at a most reasonable cost, just by giving us a call and telling us what you have in mind. We have a special cake that we present on these occasions, too, just to sort of highlight all the festivities.

Good news

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT is probably the most avidly-sought goal of communities in the United States today.

It is highly prized because it not only means the creation of new jobs for area residents, but also usually results in an increased tax base that means more money for hard-pressed local units of government.

Last week's announcement by the Manistique Pulp and Paper Co. should bring joy to this area on both counts. Basically, it means that the mill's major contributions of years past will become even greater in the years to come.

Such development cannot be expected to materialize overnight. Last week's announcement was more of a reaffirmation of an earlier development program announced several years ago. Although it outlined major improvements of a first phase that will result in greatly-increased output from the paper machine, it could only hint at future expansion which is still in the study, engineering and development stage.

Field Enterprises has been a good neighbor to this area since their purchase of the local mill 10 years ago. Their investment runs in the millions of dollars, and the indication now is that this investment will continue.

They have received pledges of complete cooperation from all segments of the community, and it is heartening to see this recognition of the value of this major employer.

It is certainly a heartening thought to regard the fact that our paper mill and our community can look forward to good years of good growth and development while working together to make this area the best in the state in which to live and to work.

Salute to the Press

IT IS DIFFICULT to keep track of all the special days and weeks of the year in this promotional world of ours.

For instance, this is National Pharmacy Week, National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week, International Letter Writing Week and National Test Your Battery Week, to say nothing of Sunday being the 139th birthday of Chester A. Arthur, 21st president of the United States.

It is also National Fire Prevention Week, National 4-H Week (see our special stories on this) and last but not least, National Newspaper Week.

With all due respect to admirers of Chester A. Arthur and warriors about weak batteries, we want to take time this week to fire a special salute to the staff members of our latest competition, The Lincoln School Press.

Students at the Lincoln School produced Vol. I No. 1 last week, and we hope it's the first of many more to come.

We salute Editor John Nelson and his staff because of their recognition of the value of the written word; of the need for reporting news of social significance; of the importance of accurate and unbiased reporting; of the need for combining information with entertainment.

The Lincoln School Press may never win a Pulitzer Prize and may not, like the Pioneer-Tribune did this week, win statewide recognition for editorial excellence (See story Page 1) but prophets—and newspapers—are often without honor in their own home town and seldom let this discourage them from continuing to fight the good fight for journalistic excellence and perseverance.

A prize-winning weekly newspaper published every Thursday at Manistique, Michigan, at the Top O'Lake Michigan in the heart of Michigan's beautiful Upper Peninsula.

I don't mean to sound morbid this week, but ever since our family paid a visit to an historic graveyard up at Eagle River in the Copper country several weeks ago, I have pondered spasmodically on death, funerals and tombstones.

Death is such a formidable adversary that our history is filled with people resorting to a wide variety of defenses aimed at blunting the blade of the Man with the Scythe. The time of death can be used as the occasion for elaborate ceremonies, impressive pomp, or even gaiety.

A grave subject

Oddly enough, wakes and weddings are often the major factors in family reunions and group gatherings of ultimately a highly-social nature. A heavy rain prevented our inspecting all of the tombstones in the Eagle River cemetery, but the inscriptions we did read showed that these hearty pioneers found their refuge and solace in religion at the time of death and predicted great rewards in heaven in place of the obvious discomforts of a frontier mining town.

The stone of 16-year-old Thomas Bower, for instance, who died in 1860, commented, "In love he lived, in peace he died. His life was craved, but God denied." Even more elaborate was the marker erected by Eureka Temple of Honor and Temperance No. 50 of Phoenix, Keeweenaw County, "In memory of Tom Harper, who was killed by the falling of a rock in the Phoenix Mine June 21, 1876, Age 19 years."

TWO DAYS WITH THE INNOVATORS

The people who research change, theorize about change and who instigate it are exciting. That's why it was a privilege to be a panelist for the "Innovations in Education for School Improvement" conference at the University of Wisconsin last week.

Dr. Neal Gross, Dean of Education at the University of Pittsburgh kicked it off by asking, "Why, with the tremendous investment in education, is there so little pay-off? Why is it that we are unsuccessful in bringing about the changes which are needed? Our pat answer is people resist change. But to say we have little change because people resist change is like saying a patient died because his heart stopped. The whole thing must be more complicated than that or there would be more change."

Dr. Matthew Miles from Columbia suggested "most changes are not simple. They involve a complex bundle of expectations and explanations and people have difficulty sorting these out."

And I went back to Eric Hoffer's "The Ordeal of Change" and found he had written, "Change is always a crisis in self esteem. No one really likes the new. We are afraid of it, even the slight things. In the case of drastic change the uneasiness is deeper and more lasting." Mr. Hoffer adds, "That a population undergoing drastic change is a population of misfits and misfits live and breathe in an atmosphere of passion."

It occurred to me that maybe one of the reasons we often have only mini-changes of minor impact for brief duration is we aren't passionate enough about them. A panelist from Racine modified Rip Van Winkle and changed the story to have Rip go back to the schools. He was perfectly at ease because the schools hadn't changed for 20 years.

I was pleased to report that Rip's experience wouldn't have happened in Manistique, at least not recently. I told them about the sex education program that began in 1963, the open spaces elementary school and the way the Lakeside staff have grouped the youngsters for learning. I told them about the vocational run to the community college in Escanaba, the learning-bus with the head sets and specially about community schools in Manistique and how they evolved and developed.

But I listened too--to Dr. Dwight Teal, Deputy Superintendent of Milwaukee, talk about their plan for pairing the principals from the ghetto schools with the principals from the more economically favored parts of town so they could understand each other's problems.

Dr. Heit told us about their successful co-op experience program for seventh and eighth graders in Des Moines, Iowa. He explained the difficulties too, "You think we didn't have trouble explaining to those parents how we were going to improve their kids' education by taking them out of school part time and putting them to work?"

Dr. Gross, the theorist, illustrated from a case study that innovations wilt when organizational members are unwilling to make the effort to implement the innovation.

I think it is true that once frustration sets in, the individuals become calcified, the district becomes petrified, the community becomes apathetic, and the student gets a bad break. Once this happens, it can take a quarter of a century before somebody yells "Hey you people--the world's going past and our school system isn't doing anything to catch up."

Know Your Points!

BEBA Bill says:

If you are pulling another vehicle or trailer with your car, be sure to watch your speed. The Michigan Vehicle Code states that over 50 miles an hour is excessive speed for a vehicle when it is pulling another under certain conditions. Check the Code for the type of vehicle you are pulling. If you are convicted of this violation, it means 2 to 4 points on your record, depending on the speed at which you were convicted.

Bring 'em back ALIVE!

Everything is kept very impersonal and high-level, and there are lofty quotations from the Scriptures that really don't mean anything to the friends and family and the next thing you know they close the doors and it's all over. I hate to say goodbye to an old friend that way.

One of these days when I have time I think I'll sit down and write out a few instructions on my funeral, just in case. I'll opt for cremation and the scattering of my ashes across Lake Superior or Lake Michigan, and instead of having a funeral service there could be a small gathering of anyone who could manage to think kind thoughts about me, which might make it a very small gathering indeed. Small, but convivial, with my resting in peace assured because somebody else would have to pay for the drinks.

The only trouble with a plan like this is that it would preclude using the epitaph I composed for my gravestone after viewing those at Eagle River. It goes:

David A. Rood we had to bury But death it held no terror. He refused to write his obituary And claims it's a typographical error.

To the Editor:
Just a note to let you know the type of hospital you have here in Manistique, I happened to come up here on the 9th of Sept. and the next day went to one of your very fine doctors who suggested I come to the hospital.

The 22 days I've been here have been a revelation. From

The hospitals I've been in, it seems all the personnel were so busy trying to impress, while here they impress without try-ing.

Luckily, both my sister and I are in good shape, thanks to fastened seat belts. The other car appeared from nowhere and was crossing our path before we were aware of it. I didn't know it was there until the impact.

Nurses, student practical nurses, aides and all of the people working in the hospital are just wonderful. We couldn't possibly have more cheerful attention than we've had. My sister and I are on the same floor, just around the corner from each other. I have been able to visit her every day and in between I get reports on what she's doing and how she's improving.

The Practical Nursing training offered by Bay de Noc Community College is certainly a big asset to our area. There are 27 now in training and getting their practical experience here at the hospital. Students are all ages.

Mrs. Ward from Garden has grown children. Her daughter, Deanna, was a 4-H Club member and is now married. Mrs. Ward has both of us as patients and we just loved her. The Schoolcraft County Hospital is going to be fortunate to have her back again - as a full fledged practical nurse where she had previously been an aide.

Another young student nurse, Andrea, has been a 4-H Club member in Norway. She's going to be a good nurse too.

I expect to be released on Sunday (Oct. 5) and am feeling fine except for sore black and blue spots all over me. My sister had a head concussion and will be here a few days longer.

I'll be back at work next week but doing most of it from home for a few days. Have reports, letters and what not to keep me busy and will be writing a different kind of column next week.

Conservation film available

Seney National Wildlife Refuge has recently acquired a copy of the movie "So Little Time" and is offering the film for showing to interested groups in the Eastern Upper Peninsula.

The 28-minute, color film was financed by the American

Petroleum Institute and produced by the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife. It has received numerous awards and is regarded as one of the best conservation films of recent years. Any group interested in scheduling this film should contact personnel at the refuge headquarters.

Birds have the keenest vision of all living things, the National Geographic says. A soaring eagle can spot its prey a mile away.

Portrait of a MIXED BLESSING

Here is the River — to some an avenue on their trek westward — to others an obstacle to be crossed.

Today it brings shiploads of needed supplies to the towns along its banks, carries their products to warehouse and factory.

Tomorrow it can escape those banks, leaving death and destruction in its wake: For the River must be ruled by man!

Yesterday it brought pure water from mountain streams to thirsty lips. Then somebody made it his gutter.

Like all our mixed blessings the River can help or hurt. It is just one of those gifts of God whose value will always depend on our good sense and initiative, our respect for God's intent and our concern for the needs of others.

Call it a by-product if you please — but one of the results of faithful religious worship and service is that so many mixed blessings become real blessings!

Tommy Thompson, J. P. Quick, CANCER FACTS #1 (From the American Cancer Society)

The American Cancer Society suggests two ways to know cancer's seven danger signals. . . (1) Unusual bleeding or discharge. . . (2) A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere. . . (3) A sore that does not heal. . . (4) Change in bowel or bladder habits. . . (5) Hoarseness or cough. . . (6) Indigestion or difficulty in swallowing. . . (7) Change in a wart or mole. . .

Each year, more people are cured of cancer because it was discovered in its earliest stages. So you see, it is important to have a regular physical examination, EVEN IF YOU DO FEEL WELL. See your doctor when one of the above listed signals lasts two weeks or more.

FIRE PREVENTION

A Year

'Round Job

If a fire breaks out in your home, get out fast — with your family. Fire can spread faster than you can run.

If you find smoke in an open stairway or open hall, use another preplanned way out. Teach your children how to use the phone to report a fire.

Make sure children can open doors, windows and screens to escape routes.

Make sure your family knows the quickest and safest ways to escape from every room in the house.

DON'T fight a fire yourself.

If you are trapped in a smoke-filled room, stay near the floor, where the air is better.

DON'T jump. Many people have jumped and died — without realizing rescue was just a few minutes away.

News from Road 437

Hi Folks!

Another cloudy morning and it looks very much that a rainy day is in store for us. Out our way the autumn festival is in full swing. Leaves are now dressed in robes of red and gold, and their span of life will soon be over. Some of the pine needles have turned brown, and the corn shocks in the fields look like teepees in an Indian village. Wild ducks have started to fly, and led by their chief the geese have started to fly south in a living sign of "V." Daily I see more birds fly in flocks. My kitchen windows have become a frame of a scenic picture, especially on a clear day, the sky in its beautiful shade of blue with fleecy white clouds scattered here and there.

The maples have their leaves of gold, red, and some a burnt orange, and the beech nut tree in bronze, with a dash of green for the background. This is a real picture painted like only Mother Nature can color. On our windy days the leaves have started to fall, and a rain today will send more falling. It won't be long and they'll stretch their bare limbs towards the sky. Then it will be autumn's turn to bid us farewell to let winter make its magic touch to a drab world. So if you want memories of a beautiful fall, get busy with your colored film. The sight you'll see will take your breath away, I'm sure, for the highways are just an array of beautiful color.

Chum Anderson of Grantsdale, Mont. stopped in to visit or a while. It was nice to see him and we had quite a chat. The Brimacombes from Toledo spent a few days at their cabin on the point of Thunder Lake, which was formerly known as Schneider Point.

Milly and Norm Underwood have returned to their cabin on Murphy Lake after a trip out west and on to California. They showed us some beautiful pictures they took along the route. Milly remarked she was glad to see the sign, "Welcome to Michigan."

Over the weekend the Joel Carleys and family made a trip to the Copper Country. Ella said the color out our way was more beautiful at this time.

Has started to rain so with it drop echoes of birthday greetings to Dr. and Mrs. Horace Davidson, Ralph Williams, Charles Frankovich, Carl Lueck, Red Nickerson, Lillian Stuber, Virginia Potvin and Agnes McManus.

Anniversary wishes go out to the Joseph Vodnicks, Harold Underwoods, Richard Lutz, Dale Potvins, Richard Davidsons, William Haindis, John Hartmans, and the Ed Mathsons, who I believe are celebrating their silver anniversary this year.

May the day for all of you be one of complete happiness. Until next week's chat stay happy.

"Bowling For All" by Joe Falcaro and Murray Goodman, a book stressing the historical background of bowling, the principles, equipment, delivery and discussion on teams, tournaments, leagues and sanctions, has been presented to the Manistique School and Public Library as a memorial to the late John Belcik.

The book, presented by the Inland Tuesday Night Bowling Team, is now available for circulation.
