Agreement to indi such an election was necessary now to allow for legal resolutions, posting of notices, priming of ballots and other items. The exact wording of the proposal, which conceivable could be expanded to include other bonding for building or remodeling purposes, will be worked out by the board at an informal ''dis-cussion to lais od syndewrk on the district's building that must solute to the Courty Allocation Board by April 15. Final approval of the proposed budget will come April 14. The board agreed to hold their April meeting this night instead of April 8 because of Easter vaccino.

agreed to hold their Arril meeting this night instead of April 8 because of Easter vacciion. The board also instructed the administration to investigate the possibility of dering a breakfast program at the central school. The district could be reimbursed at 15 cents per meal, and would also be lightle for additional feleration surplus com-modities, Youngsters would probably be charged 10 cents per breakfast, Programs of this type are approved by the State Department of Education on the basis of the number of children from low income families, and the number of children wis nust travel extensive distances prior to school opening. They also approved asking for quadations on removal of the old Lakeside School, and hope to get underway with this as scoon as possible.

It may be just a stump to you, but our Upper Peninsula is dotted with literally millions of mute monuments to the day when logging was king. What sort of a story would the stumps tell? These last survivors of the great while pine forests have seen many a change of season, watched man come and go, and seen the birch and the aspen spring up in the cutover areas to take their place.

Highway Needs

LATE LAST MONTH leaders from the two top Upper Peninsula development groups held a joint meeting in Marquette aimed at coordinating their efforts on behalf of this area.

Out of that meeting came a determination to work together on improved highways and transportation for the Upper Peninsula.

The two organizations are, of course, Operation Action-U.P., and UPCAP, the Upper Peninsula Committee for Area Progress.

In explaining the decision to go after better highays, William Wilson, director of Operation Action-U.P. had this to sav:

"The reasons were many and obvious,

"Since the completion of the 50-odd miles of 1-75. little more has been done than long overdue maintenance of the existing system. The Highway Department will not contest the statement that less than 1 per cent of the state's construction funds are spent in the U.P. Penetrating editorials have been written on the subject, critical of both the Department's past program and the wish-wishy attitudes or splintered efforts of the people in the U.P. The Association of Chambers of Conmerce of Upper Michigan in supporting a north-south highway seemed to be at odds with the US-2 Association and the past administration of the Department prone to throw this back at the U.P.: "Until was "Until you can agree on what you need up there, don't come to us.

"The results have been evident in the past and are reflected in the I.P. highway program presently planned for the next five (really three) years.

"In 1969 a portion of US-11 will be relocated in Houghton and a bridge will be built over the Paint River on US-111 north of Crystal Falls.

"In 1970 two contracts will be let: one to rebuild US-111 between Crystal Falls and Amasa and to relocate US-15 between US-26 and Ontonagon.

"In 1971 four contracts are scheduled:

1. M-28 between Trout Creek and Bruce Crossing. 2. Six miles of M-28 west of Munising, 3. Ten miles of US-2 east of Rapid River. 4. M-26 from US-11 to Eagle River

"No major projects are scheduled for 1972 and 1973.

"Are these really major projects? How would all of this '5-year construction program' compare in cost with just a single major overpass-inter-

"It's abundantly clear that we are not getting our fair share of highway construction. Why? Don't we need any more, don't we deserve any more?

"It will be the joint endeavor of the (UPCAP-Operation Action U.P.) Coordinating Council to show just as clearly the immediate and long-term need for adequate highways in the U.P. and indeed in the Opper Great Lakes Region.

"To be successful this endeavor must involve the federal Department of Transportation, the several Departments of State Highways, our National and State Legislators, commerce and industry, and the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission. This, the Coordinating Council is willing to attempt, and with the proper support, will achieve."

Mutiny on the Lollipop?

According to my Horatio Hornblower readings, British Navy captains used to be in a constant sweat about finding enough warm bodies to fill their ship's muster before they sailed.

Instead of draft boards, they relied on press gangs who went out to scour the countryside and bring back anyone remotely capable of serving aboard ship, and the result was they ended up with some pretty weird characters in the crew. Trying to make sailors out of farmers, Jlacksmiths and green grocer men was enough to drive any Royal Navy captain to despair, and when they were thrown in with the convicts and the lunatics that were also victims of the press gangs, it's a won-der that Brittania even managed to get underway, let alone rule the waves.

I have been cogitating along these lines ever since last week's column announced my intention of chartering a yacht to go cruising in the Caribbean next winter

My problems are a little different from those of the old Royal Navy captains, for there seems to be no shortage of volunteers. In fact it was pointed out to me that I have a tentative crew list of about 108 and accommodations for six.

Right from the start I have retained the title of Commo-dore for myself, because it was my idea, that's why. I tried to pull a little rank on my prospective first officer, but Lt. Commander Harold A. Cockram, United States Naval Reserve, Retired, is not about to cake a demotion. Ken Van Eyck kept saying he wanted to be an admiral, but when I told him the purser was the one who nixed the drinks, he volun-teered for that job. Commander Cockram and I have been concerned about some preliminary rumblings from our wives after we pointed out that somebody was going to have to be the cook, but Helen Voi-sine has come to our rescue after being assured the title of Head Chef and Ship's Dietitian, John, Williams says he will go with us if he gets to drive the boat, a way of phrasing it nost unnautically that is not exactly designed to build confidence in him as a helmsman. "They drive cars, don't they? They drive airplanes, don't they? Why don't you drive a boat?" Rather than get in a big irgument about that we just told him he could be coxswain and drive all he wanted to.

York Anderson is going to be Chief Engineer, Tony Wuehle said he would go if he could be a Vice Commodore, Dorothy Anne and Bea Cockram have agreed the title of Social Directors covers what they have in mind, and I figured Lee Pappas can be Ship's Nurse and pass seasick pills and antacid tablets. Louise Thompson has accepted the post of Director of the Ship's Choir. I'm a little bit concerned about the fact that we seem to have too many Chiefs and not enough Indians. I figure that as Commodore I will stand on the poop deck and shout instructions. Commander Cockram will be in charge of navigation, and Coxswain Williams will do the driving. But somebody's got o push the windlass and hoist the anchor and raise the sails and cast the lines and trim the rigging and all that sort of thing (sounds pretty impressive and properly nautical, don't you think?) and so far the only Able Bodied Seaman I've got lined up is Tommy Thompson, and at his age I don't know how able bodied he really is.

I have visions of the Good Ship Lollipop II floundering around the harbor at St. Thomas trying to get underway on our of the Virgin Islands, dragging our anchor and flapping our mizzen, careeung from port to starboard like a... well, like a drunken sailor imperiling navigation and shipping in both the Greater and the Lesser Antilles and finally running aground ingloriously at the fish docks. The Social Directors would kill me.

Of course I've still got time. This crew was rather hastily improvised Friday night at the fish fry festivities, which is where those Royal Navy cap-tains of 1812 should have sent their press gangs.

If I keep getting volunteers I have to end up chartering may the Queen Elizabeth or the Isle de France, which is not exactly what I had in mind when I started. I'd planned on financing the charter by throwing a quarter now and then into a jar on my rolltop desk, and the last time I checked I was all Maybe I ought to see if the Chief Wawatam will be available next year. Their rates might be a little more reasonable.

Carl Sandburg called slang "language which spits on its hands and goes to work." Perhaps that is why many of us are attracted to the slang, colloquialisms, regional expres-sions and the "verbal hand me downs" of other cultures. They work!

Dr. Kenneth Roy Johnson has studied the language of the Negro ghetto. He speaks it with the same ease as he delivers his lectures in conventional white talk. He makes his point well - teachers don't understand the ghetto kids, because they don't understand their lan guage. He has convinced 25 large city school districts of the soundness of his proposi-He has convinced 25 tion. They are paying him as a consultant to teach the teachers to understand Negro ghetto talk. Dr. Johnson defines language

"the systematic sounds people make with their vocal cords." This along with the response to them becomes the communication system major of a culture. But, a sub-culture deviates from the dominate culture and language is a barrier. Dr. Johnson is working hard to remove them. He explains the Negro comunicative system is intricate. The Negroes have six tone le-vels while the white people use only four. There is nothing in the dominate culture which corresponds to the happy, excited or angry Negro falsetto.

He continues, "It is well known among linguists that a very significant element in a culture will get a wide variety of definitive references." For example the Eskimoes have 26 different words for snow.

The Negro has more words for white people that white people do. They also have more words for black than whitepeople do_ ple. The differences in skin color has made a greater difference in their lives and the number of terms reflects this, The word "blood" means an-other Negro, "Pearl" means a beautiful white woman and a "sapphire" is a beautiful black woman, A"MissAnn" is a white woman who is always looking c wn her nose at others. "Members' means how many Negroes are there in the organization.

My favorite is "rib." A "rib" is the woman to which a man is romantically attached: There is a firmness in this Biblical reference.

The Negro youth is accused by his white teacher of being ungrammatical. He's gramma-tical - it's just that the Negro grammar isn't standard English, but it is systematic and consistent. The Negro will say in the verb to be "I talkin' to In the verb to be "I talkin' to you" (meaning right now I am talking to you), "I be talkin' to you' (meaning I am talking to you habitually and at a particu-lar time). "I been talkin' to you" (meaning I am talking to you all the time.)

Dr. Johnson's point is, we don't understand the people, because we don't understand the language. But, the language is habitual, consistent, systematic and it has to be recognized as such, and not as bad language.

Educators are going to have to overcome these barriers and to work together to develop a standard English in the disadvantaged child without giving him the notion that he is inferior and ignorant just be-cause he speaks a different language.

tions, will it be a broiled open-face sandwich of cheddar cheese and bacon strips. Or for some-thing really good, top the cheese with a slice of tomato, then the bacon and broil. I love a hot dog filled with cheddar cheese strips, then wrapped in bacon and broiled.

We have cheese appetizers, cheese with vegetables, cheese salads, cheese main dishes, cheese dips, cheese spreads, cheese breads and apple pie with a chunk of cheddar cheese.

TO STORE CHEDDAR CHEESE - keep it in the warmest part of the refrigerator. It will keep for several weeks if well wrapped to keep it from drying. Mold on any cheese is harmless. Just scrape it off.

Cheddar cheese can be fro-zen for as long as six months. Keep the pieces relatively small - less than a pound and less than two inches thick. Freezing may cause the cheese to be crumbly but it doesn't affect the flavor. NEVER SERVE IT COLD.

Room temperature brings out the full, rich flavor of cheddar cheese. Take your choice of mild, mellow aged or sharp.

Triumph and Tragedy story of the Kennedys by the TOMMY TROMPSON J.P. Outck If a common cold attacks. there is no mistaking the symp toms; sneezing, coughing, itchy throat, stuffy nose, puffy eyes and an all over bad feeling.

To date medical science has not discovered exactly what causes a cold, however, several factors seem to lower your defenses to an attack; insufficient rest, improper diet, wet feet, sudden chills, overheating, or dressing inappropriately for the weather. One of the most likely ways to catch a cold is contact with someone who has a cold.

Even though a cold is uncomfortable, it is not usually serious. This does not mean a cold should be ignored, how-ever, for it can be a prelude to serious problems such as bronchitis, pneumonia and secondary infections. These call for and need the immediate attention of a physician. Whatever your doctor pre-scribes for you, you can be sure to find it at A. S. PUTNAM & CO. Your health is our reason for being in business ... A. S. PUTNAM & CO... 201 South Cedar . . . Phone 341-2264.

Senior Citizens Corner

By Dick Marsh, Director Schoolcraft County Senior Citizens Service Center

The Center is open Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to p.m., Wednesday evenings for films and card games at 7:30 p.m., Friday evenings for cards at 7:30 p.m., and Saturday and Sunday afternoons. Coffee is always available free of charge.

The Center should not be confused with the Manistique Senior Citizens Club, The Club meets on the second and fourth Tuesdays of the month at the K of C Hall. One dollar a year is charged for dues to members of the Club. There is no charge of any kind for the use of the services at the Center.

The Center and the club co operate in the running of the Center and in planning activi-embers of the large, serve on the Center's executive committee. The vice-chairman of the committee is the Center's the president of the club, Mrs. Henry (Minola) DeSautel. The chairman of the committee is Earl LeBrasseur.

Most of the club members participate in Center activi-ties, and the Center sponsors a monthly public information pro-gram at the K of C Hall in conjunction with the club's meet-

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor: Late last month Governor Milliken said, "Just as many of our problems are in the urban areas, much of our potential is in Upper Michigan -- in both peninsulas. In concentrating on areas with the greatest prob-lems, we must not neglect areas of great potential."

In his opening months as Governor, Bill Milliken has hit the nail squarely on the head. He has exhibited a concern and opti-mism about our future and has already begun to breath life into his words. Last weekend Mr. Milliken made a flying tour of the Upper Peninsula communities to talk with local citizens and gain first-hand information to assist in the orderly development of our resources. Before that he appointed the nine members of the first Great Lakes Fishery Advisory Committee. Four members of that committee are from the 11th Congressional District: William Fochtman of Charlevoix.

The State and the Federal Governments are working on a variety of projects to turn back the tide of history depleting our countryside areas while overcrowding our cities. Many of the federal projects with which I deal are administered by the State, such as Farmers Home Administration loans, Small Business loans, and highway funds. Other Federal programs, like the Office of Economic Opportunity grants, must be ap-proved by the Governor. The need for close cooperation between the Governor and Congressman -- and understanding of our problems by the Gover--- is critical.

The overall potential of Northern Michigan staggers the imagination. Tolls on the Mackinac Bridge are down, the coho are biting, and 100,000 snow-mobiles race across the Michigan landscape. The opportunity

It is essential that our Governor care about Nor-thern Michigan. It is fortunate that Bill Milliken is our Governor. Congressman Philip Ruppe

"OUT OUR WAY" News from Road 437

Hi Folks,

A little fresh snow fell last Wednesday, which didn't last too long. We still have plenty of snow left covering the earth, but everyday it gets lower. We are all in hopes of having a nice spring, but do know there will be a blizzard or two before spring is well on its way. The Boss and I have been busy cleaning and painting. Bill Mielke has helped us the past several days, even Ole Olsen gave a hand with the painting Saturday. There is always plen-ty to do, to get things in readiness for opening up on the first of April.

Our days are getting longer. daybreak starts around quarter to six and it isn't long after that the birds come in to their feeding table. Of course the gray squirrels come in also. In fact several times a day they make their visits for food.

Signs of spring can be seen. Eleanora Daniels on the way to work saw our little white strip-ed animal Mr. Skunk.

I believe I've even heard I believe I've even heard the crows fly by. Soon the time will be here when I'll see the return of the geese, whose V-shaped flights I always enjoy to watch. It won't be long when I'll awake and find the snow all gone, the grass will be growing and the long sidth will be growing and the long nights will be goven. The sun will shine longer to brighten the world. The daffodils and crocus will bloom and from many tree tops will come the cheerful song of the robins. An early morning shower will give a new look of glamour to our surroundings, that folks will be the start of our spring sea-

Being kept on the go now I may not have time to scoop up much chatter for you the next two weeks. So with this scoop go echoes of birthday greetings to the following folks. Linda
