THE GEES ARE BACK---The ponds are still frozen over at the Seney Refuge, but the first of the Canada geese have returned from the south for their spring migration.

Geese returning to Seney

Monday, March 17, marked the spring return of the first group of Canada geese to the Seney National Wildlife Refuge. Twenty birds were observed on an open water area near the refuge headquarters about 10 a.m.

Southerly winds since Sunday and warm weather brought the first geese back. These early arrivals found the refuge still in winter's grip, however, as there is still about 18 inches of snow on the ground and all the ponds are covered with snow and ice. Only below the spillways is there any open water to be found.

after the first arrivals and others continue to trickle in even later. Last fall, 1,500 geese migrated south and there are hopes that about 1,000 will be returning this spring. Arrival of the first geese coincided with the first day of the refuge's program for National Wildlife Week, March 16-22 this year. The public is welcome and the Visitor Center is open for the remainder of the week.

15 new jobs seen for harbor project

Manistique's proposed $250,000 harbor improvement project would create at least 15 new full time jobs, as well as several others part time, a survey of local businessmen has shown, City Manager Robert Noe told City Council at their regular meeting Monday night.

Council approved purchase of 10,000 tons of crushed rock through the Geiger Construction Co. of Appleton, Wis., at a price of $1.45 per ton, plus 2.5 cents royalty per ton to the County Road Commission, which owns the Stony Cut gravel pit from which the gravel will be taken. Terms to the city for the three-year supply include 40 per cent upon delivery, 30 per cent a year from then, and 30 per cent the final year. This is the lowest price available in many years, Noe said, noting that the city paid $1.75 per ton only two years ago.

In other action, Council: Approved granting easements to the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. for a gas transmission line on the approach to the old Manistique and Lake Superior Railroad Co. bridge across the flume; Agreed to advertise the old Chamber of Commerce building in Triangle Park for rent, and to advertise for the sale of city-owned land at the intersection of Steuben and Cherry Sts.

HUD gives approval for low-rent units

Manistique has been approved by the Department of Housing and Urban Development for a "program reservation" for 25 units of new low rent public housing. Notice of the approval came Tuesday in a telegram from Rep. Philip Ruppe. It came the day after City Council discussed the program at the regular meeting Monday night.

Noe also reported that he had conferred with Urban Renewal officials in Chicago, and that a planer would be here within 30 days to discuss possible programs with the city. He noted that the Weston Ave. question might possibly qualify either for Urban Renewal, or under the government's Open Spaces program. The Weston Ave. area, because of its low ground level, is unable to obtain city sewage services, with the result that sewage is being dumped into the Manistique River. Earlier suggestions have called for moving the homes in the area to new locations.

Noe explained that the units would probably not all be concentrated in one area, but spread throughout the city on various sites, possibly in groups of four or five. Tenants now have the option to buy the duplex units, he noted, which would mean that eventually they would become part of the city's tax base.

Noe said that Urban Renewal officials now seem inclined to favor quick one-year programs, which would include clearing of Weston Ave., rather than longer, 10-year projects which tend to become bogged down. Councilmen suggested that perhaps the off street parking portion of the city's original Urban Renewal project could be included in such a one-year category.

New school has open space concept

Who said the one-room school was becoming extinct? A new $200,000 school has gone into operation at Manistique utilizing the new concept of open spaces and adaptable teaching areas. Although it's a far cry from the old one-room school, it retains the sense of unity and togetherness. Many old-timers recall was an important part of their school years.

Walls or barricades are not used to section off, instead, there are a scattering of similar buildings in Michigan's lower peninsula. The first school of this type in Wisconsin just opened at Lake Mills, Manistique's new school is the first of its kind in the Upper Peninsula.

Carpeted floors in the classrooms and corridors help to maintain a reasonable noise level. Five years ago this sort of floor covering would have been regarded as a luxurious frill by most residents of the community, but when a local bank remodeled several years ago and successfully installed an all-weather carpeted floor, it helped to break the ice for such an innovation. Installation of carpet in the new St. Francis de Sales parochial school in town helped to clinch the argument.

"multiple use" allows space for such educational techniques as team teaching, ungraded classes, educational TV and flexible groupings for student activities. The seven teachers in the new building are generally enthusiastic about the new design. They cite a positive and responsible attitude by the youngsters toward the new learning environment, and also look forward to being able to utilize new teaching techniques.

"I especially like the atmosphere of togetherness, of belonging to the whole school, which the design creates," says Mrs. Gladys Mercier, principal and fifth grade teacher. "I'm looking forward to the implementation of ability grouping and departmental teaching for which the building is designed."

Set meeting on alcohol

Problems of alcohol education will be presented at a special meeting at the Fireside Inn tonight (Thursday) beginning at 4 p.m. Speakers include Dr. Gordon Eadie, director of the Alger-Schoolcraft Health Unit; Philip Numminen of Northern Michigan University; Maurice Kelly, director of the alcoholism program at War Memorial Hospital, Sault Ste. Marie; John Moffat, vice president and general manager of the Inland Lime and Stone Co., and two students from the Manistique High School. Contemporary History class.

Manistique Supt. Edwin Wuehler says the new design of their new school and act more grown up. Miss Evelyn Berwin, elementary supervisor for the Manistique Area Schools, also cited several features of the new building. Immediate supervision is possible, she noted, because the educational program of the whole school can be viewed immediately on entering the center of the building. She also cited the potential for accelerated remedial reading. "Students very easily can be moved from one area to another to participate in an accelerated program in subjects where he excels, back to a normal grade level class where he shows average progress, and to an area where remedial teaching is supplying skills he lacks," she said, adding that teachers, of necessity, must plan their activities to coincide. "Since the total educational program is in view there have been evidences of extra preparation and extra planning to keep classes running smoothly and to maintain the high interest of students."

An open house at the new school is being planned in conjunction with the observance of Michigan Week May 17-24.

Children enjoy new school

What do the youngsters think of the new Lakeside School? Sixth grade teacher Mrs. Carla McKilligan assigned the topic of "Our New School" for English themes, and these efforts resulted.

Howard wrote: "I like the new school because of the carpet and the locations of the classes. I also like the TV and the bulletin board. When I came in this morning the first thing I looked for was the pencil sharpener, it wasn't there. Then I wanted to get rid of a piece of scrap paper but there was no basket. (They brought one in later.)"

School vacation

Manistique Area Schools will close for their traditional spring vacation next Thursday, April 3. Classes will resume Monday, April 14.

Custodians will use the time for maintenance and cleaning while administration staff members will be conducting teacher interviews.

But generally I like it. (We get a longer lunch period that helps.)"

John's reaction was like this: "When I came here this morning this school was different it was kind of groovy. There aren't even any curtains between the rooms. I hope to learn how to have discipline and to be able to have patients with the noise of the other people in the room. I like to have the respect of the little children. I do think I'm going to like it."

Kim's report was quite brief: "I like the new school because there are no walls to separate the classes. Now with the school this way more children can get their work done and do it better."

Patti tilted hers, "What I think of our New School."

"I like the new school a lot. At first I didn't think I would like it. It's a little noisy, but not a lot."

"I also like to go home for lunch. It's a little different than the school I went to before. I like the blackboard and the bulletin board, the carpet and the bathroom. I like the drinking fountain because it's small. I like sitting with a bunch of girls in school. (For a little while.) I think I will like this school."

Lori wrote this: "We moved into the new Lakeside School today. "As I walked in, it looked entirely different than I thought it would. My thought of it was a square building with all the classes from grades 1 to 6 mixed together. Well, I was wrong. The sixth grade class is in the upper wing of the school."

"It was kind of hard to move in the middle of the term."

Here's what Mary Lisa thought: "For a long time I've been planning to be in this school. It's so modern."

"I like the places where you put your wraps. The bathroom is nice too."

"I thought the teachers would be strict about talking, but now I think everyone's so nice."

"The rooms are so clean and pretty. I don't think there's anything bad about it. It's like going on a new journey and to conquer a place."

"My impressions of the New School" was Doug's title.

"When I came in the school this morning I was surprised because it was different than what I thought. The classes are different and we will be able to learn more. There are nicer lavatories, better places to hang your coats, and bigger desks. I don't like the playground very much because there is not anything to do."

And finally, Lori wrote this: "I like this school, except for you won't be able to concentrate as much, or you won't be able to think as hard. But I have never had to go to a school with a rug in it which is nice. It's nice coloring. I love the bathroom. I like its color. It is just so beautiful. I wonder though, if you could please start the clock. I like the new Lakeside School."

Letters to the Editor

An open letter to the Manistique Community School Program and our community, from Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rice, Licensed Practical Nurses and Licensed Psychiatric Attendant Nurses.

There are moments in our lives when our hearts are too full to express the humble and sincere appreciation for an honor bestowed upon us. This is what happened last night at the Manistique Community School Program, Third Anniversary Party.

Participation in the club trips give each member a better chance to assess his or her academic and personal qualifications for a career in his or her chosen field.

Having worked as practical and psychiatric nurses in both general and psychiatric hospitals we became acutely aware of the critical shortage of medical health personnel.

Three by-laws will also be voted on at the May meeting. Proposed Tuesday, they would increase the annual dues, abolish associate memberships, now offered to professional women, and change the meeting time from 2:30 to 1:30 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Basil Buchko of K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base are the parents of a daughter born March 20 weighing 8 pounds 3 ounces.

On March 20 a son, Robert Kenneth, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weber of Manistique weighing 7 pounds 10 ounces.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Garvin of Garden on March 24 weighing 8 pounds 3 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. William Berger of 210 Schoolcraft Ave. are the parents of a son born March 25 weighing 7 pounds 10 ounces.

On March 26 a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Schuyler Bartholomew of Garden weighing 5 pounds 14 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Eastman are devoted to recruitment for continuing education of students interested in various health fields.

Today, we have 38 members, 13 of which will graduate this year and will be entering accredited colleges and universities pursuing their various health careers.

Workshop held for Head Start

Head Start County Head Start directors, aides, and parents met at the 90 participants in the first training workshop at the Old Lakeside School building last Wednesday. The workshop was conducted by the Upper Peninsula County Area Program for personnel and parents of Head Start children in the region part of the Upper Peninsula. An identical workshop was held last Thursday in Marquette.

Children talk about their surroundings. Cooperating in the workshop were the six Upper Peninsula Community Action Agencies, which sponsor the Head Start program, and the Michigan Economic Opportunity Office. Robert Olsen of UPCAIP coordinated the workshop.

In addition to the classroom personnel and parents the Head Start program directors from a number of Upper Peninsula communities participated in the workshop. They included Jimmy R. Bruce, head Start coordinator for the Menominee-Delaware-Schoolcraft Community Action Agency.

ROADS AND WEATHER

It could still happen. It did in Marquette on the first day of spring. The officials called school off because of a blizzard.

Fred Cayla asked about that at the last Board of Education Citizens' Advisory Committee meeting. "Who calls school off in the morning when the weather is bad? What if Fred really wanted to know who called school off that Thursday morning in January when the weather wasn't so bad. It was an honest question, and deserves an answer."

The answer is the decision in this district belongs to the superintendent. If he isn't around then the business manager makes it.

Fred's real concern was that the weather wasn't that bad. He was right. It was an honest question. But, unfortunately that isn't when we get to decide. We try to have our minds made up by 6 a.m. Some of the drivers are leaving to get to their buses at that time. So, we try to get the news on WTTQ before they leave. It's tough to track down a bus once it has started. Two way radios would help but we don't have this equipment.

When it is blowing white bluffs and plugging up the side roads the night before, everybody knows there isn't going to be any school the next day. In that kind of situation we get a lot of help. One night last winter during a blizzard, there must have been 15 calls from students asking if there was going to be school tomorrow. They knew the answer. They just wanted confirmation.

It's in between mornings that give us cat bits. It's snowing and blowing and we don't know will it get worse or better. Nobody else seems to know either. If the weather gets worse we've made a terrific decision. But if it steadily improves until at noon, the sun is glistening on the snow, the streets are full of kids and the mothers are asking, "Who called school off? What were they thinking about down there? We know we don't look good, so we keep on working and don't talk about it much."

We do get good help from Mr. Boyd and his crew at the county garage. The State Troopers always accurately describe the roads and weather conditions, and the drivers help describe the roads and weather conditions, but either Bob or I have to make the final decision. At five-thirty in the morning every "school on" or "school off" decision looks good. By noon they sometimes look rotten.

Family Living

SHOULD YOU SEW? There is an upsurge in home sewing and the trend is toward use of more expensive designer patterns and costlier fabrics and other materials. But the decision whether or not to top on the handwagon is to you. Sewing is money saving only when you have the skill, interest, time, and money resources available to make fashionable clothes which you cannot afford to buy in ready to wear.

Rather than sewing because everyone else does, you might consider any relative merits. The economic factor is only one consideration.

HOW DO YOU FEEL ABOUT SEWING? For me it is a hobby, one I pursue only when I have time. For some of you, it may be a time consuming chore. Does your family approve the time and energy it takes or would they prefer you do something else? Are you enthusiastic enough about sewing to endure the time consuming, sometimes tedious processes, mistakes and interruptions? The advantages of creativity,

Gillam named Rotary head

Ralph Gillam was elected president of the Manistique Rotary Club for the year 1959-70 at the regular meeting of the club held Monday evening.

Serving with Gillam will be Wally Leggett, 1st vice president; E. E. Wuehle, second vice president; Robert Brodbeck, secretary and William Hentschel, treasurer. Newly-elected members of the board of directors are Marvin Fredrickson and Glen Jenks.

The new officers and directors will assume their duties on July 1. Rev. William Brauer, pastor of the Church of the Redeemer; Presbyterian, spoke to the Rotary members' on the Big Brother movement. He explained the need for this kind of activity in Schoolcraft County and urged the Rotary Club to encourage and support the movement. Under the program, which is being carried on actively in numerous communities throughout the state, men volunteer to act as "big brothers" to fatherless boys. They participate in individual activities with the boys, help them with their problems, and become a part of their lives.

Brown sentenced in district court

Leverne D. Brown of Gulliver was found guilty on two charges and acquitted on a third when he appeared before District Judge Charles Stark last week.

Brown was fined $97 plus $3 costs, and given 15 days in jail, or 60 days if the fine and costs are not paid, on a charge of leaving the scene of a property damage accident. He was also fined $97 and $3 plus 15 or 60 days on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. The jail terms are to run concurrently, with Brown to get five days credit for time already served. He was found not guilty on a charge of drunk driving.

The three charges stemmed from an accident in the city March 6.

In another case, however, Brown was assessed $20 and $10, or five days in jail, on a speeding charge.

Germfask Safecrackers frustrated

An attempted safecracking at Leggett & Foye Equipment Co., US-2 and the River Road is being investigated by Michigan State Police.

The incident was discovered by a patrol car Saturday night, which spotted some tires and spark plugs with the firm's name on them abandoned by the road. Investigation showed intruders had gained entry by breaking the lock off the back door and off two inside doors, achieving entry to the parts area, offices and display room.

The dial, hinges and handle had been knocked off the safe, and an attempt made to use a torch. They were unable to open the safe.

Police said the intruders used a car parked inside the garage to carry away their loot, later abandoned the items, and then returned the car.

The 500 Club met at the home of Mrs. Shirley Lawrence Friday afternoon, with Mrs. Alma Thibodeau winning highest score and Mrs. Audrey Newstrom winning next highest.

ALONG THE SIDELINES... with DAR

Happy birthday!

The newspaper is an institution developed by modern civilization to present the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry, to inform and lead public opinion and to furnish that check upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide.

Double taxation?

IT IS DISTRESSING TO NOTE that the City of Manistique and the county are becoming involved in some minor feuding that can only lead to further misunderstanding and distrust.

At the last Board of Supervisors meeting the intention of charging the city for boarding prisoners jailed under city ordinances was discussed, and the matter will apparently be pursued to realization.

This is no great financial crisis for either the city or the county, but does represent another round of sniping at each other. County board members seemed miffed that the city was not providing free water and utility services to the county, and also because the city sought rental money for use of the old Chamber of Commerce building as the District Court's magistrate's office.

The city, on the other hand, has been pressing the county to assume what they feel is a more reasonable share of the cost of providing fire protection and ambulance service to rural areas outside the city. The refusal of City Council to increase their contribution toward the Senior Citizens Drop-in Center was predicated largely on the argument that they are always paying more than their share of what should be regarded as a county-wide operation.

It is difficult to argue with the city's logic. City taxpayers not only pay city taxes for services, but they also pay close to 40 per cent of the total county tax revenue. Their argument is that any time the city is asked to contribute financially to a county-wide function, city taxpayers are, in effect, paying twice. In the case of the Senior Center, 40 per cent of the county's $2,000 pledge of support, or $800, came from city taxpayers. Council felt that was enough, when it was also pointed out that almost $500 is being contributed by the city for heat and water.

City Manager Robert Noe said he would not argue if the county chooses to bill the city for prisoners jailed under city ordinances if the county will agree to pay a more equitable share of the cost of fire protection and ambulance service.

Last year the county paid $1,800 toward the ambulance service, this year they're paying $4,000. Noe figures that $10,000 would be a more equitable county contribution toward the $40,000 in salaries that the city pays for firemen who also man the ambulance.

It makes sense for the city and county to combine their services whenever possible, to avoid costly duplication and overlapping. It also makes sense that the county should realize that city taxpayers are already paying a major shot of the county's budget, and that it is unfair to ask them to pay twice for services to which they are entitled.

They had a birthday party for our Community School program last Thursday night, and at 8 o'clock everybody came trooping into the gym to enjoy some cake and coffee, listen to a few remarks, and watch a few awards to be presented. Then most of the folks went back to their classes in bridge, sewing, hat making or welding or what have you.

Not a very wild or riotous celebration, to be sure, but we think it appropriate that some recognition be given of the progress of this program during the past three years.

There were all sorts of doubts and confusion involved in the birth pangs of our Community School--how to finance it, what to offer in it, where to find teachers--but today it's a pretty smoothly running operation.

There are ups and downs in enrollment, which is normal. The first year found a good turnout, the total declined the second year, then began to go up again the third year. Lately there seems to be less interest in "enrichment" courses (like bridge and hatmaking) and more emphasis on practical learning, such as welding or sewing.

Director Dick Bonifas had an anecdote that summed up what the Community School program can do. A lady in Germfask, unemployed for three years because her former employer went out of business, went back to Community School to brush up on her typing and bookkeeping. Today she's got a job in Newberry, using these skills, and it was the Community School that helped make it possible for her to earn her way once again after three years of idleness. Such a story may not mean much to you, but imagine what it means to that woman.

Our family is probably similar to many others in town. We've participated a little bit in the program, and enjoyed it. I taught a creative writing course a couple of years ago, and while we may not have produced any Hemingways, we did have some fun and I like to think maybe learned a little as well.

Dorothy Ann and Kathy are currently deeply involved in Bishop Sewing, whatever that is, and my wife is going to have to go back for a course in remedial buttonholing, having flunked dismally after also sewing on her sleeves backwards.

Now roller skating has come along to capture the kid's fancy. The point is that there's a little something for everyone, and Community School keeps coming up with ways to involve the people of this area in the learning process.

School and learning are not necessarily synonymous. Learning doesn't stop when a person's formal education ends. You continue learning until the day you die. Community School helps to channel that learning into useful, constructive and enjoyable channels, and if for one feel that we are fortunate to have a successful Community School program in our schools.

May they have many more happy birthdays.

"The Cowboy from the Clear Fork sez a taxpayer is a person who doesn't have to pass a civil service exam to work for the government."—Clydene Comedy, Throckmorton (Texas) Tribune.

"A little boy was late for school and the teacher asked him what caused the delay. He looked solemnly into her eyes and answered: 'I was following a slow dog.'"—George C. Keyes, The Oklahoma County (Jones City) News.

The other day we heard a speaker remark that there is no difficulty in the world that cannot be overcome. We wanted to ask him if he ever tried putting toothpaste back in the tube—but we got to thinking that he might know that answer, too.—Harold S. May, The Florence (Ala.) Herald.

SCHOOLCRAFT

VISTA report

BY JAN STRASMA
VISTA Volunteer

Several weeks ago the Chamber of Commerce organized an hour-long "tour of progress" of the Manistique area. The tour, which was for delegates to the quarterly meeting of the Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Progress, focused on various businesses and industries in the area.

We should all take such a tour of progress every once in a while, just to look at what is going on around us. We see signs of progress daily, but may not pay much attention to them.

So let's set up an itinerary for a tour, including recent additions to the area as well as a few "old standards."

Downtown Manistique is a convenient starting point. Here a number of businessmen have put up new store fronts and remodeled their buildings. Their improvements are made more striking by other buildings that obviously need repair and renovation.

Next let's drive past the new apartment building on Main Street, being built by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Orr and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ebli. This eight-unit structure is the first private multi-unit housing put up in the area in years.

While we're looking at housing, let's go down to the lake shore opposite City Hall where the Senior Citizens Housing Project is rising among the trees. With 35 apartments the building will provide low-cost housing for a number of Manistique's older residents.

These two housing developments should help ease the local shortage of decent housing.

Next on the itinerary is the new Lakeside School, which opened earlier this month. It pioneers the new "open space concept" of school construction. The building is not divided into individual classrooms; instead it features wide areas without walls. Classes can easily be combined or regrouped for more effective teaching.

Inside, the building is spacious and attractive -- and quiet enough, even without walls, for classes to function separately.

On Main Street, several blocks away, is the next stop on our tour of progress: Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital and the adjoining Medical Care Facility. The hospital and year-old medical care center provide outstanding health care for the area.

(In the medical care building we may visit the craft workshop where patients can continue their hobbies and develop new ones. Artwork and craft items made by patients are sold there to help finance the workshop's operation.)

Now let's drive past the new City Hall, being built at the corner of Maple and Elm. This building will combine the city offices with the Public Safety Department in a central location.

If it's a pleasant spring day, let's drive out US-2 to the Thompson Fish Hatchery. There we can view its expanded facilities, with improvements both inside and out. The nearby area along Thompson Creek was also developed last summer for both hatchery operations and for sportsmen seeking the coho salmon.

There are other signs of area progress that we have missed in planning our route -- new businesses and remodeled buildings, new homes, the West Shore area of Indian Lake State Park, the new natural gas pipeline, and others.

But we have hit some of the high points. We have viewed some of the low points as well. On our tour we have noticed numerous spots that are in need of progress -- or at least a bit of paint and some elbow grease.

Let's not end the tour on low points, though. For the final item on our tour we should head out along the Lake Michigan shore, drive through the woods, or visit one of the many lakes in the area.

There we'll sample the natural beauty that surrounds us in Schoolcraft County. And we can remind ourselves that it is also progress to keep our natural beauty both natural and beautiful.

"I always said that kid had a real talent."

Inland Steel cites Solar

John J. Solar, former area resident now residing in Dyer, Ind., was a cash winner recently in the Inland Steel Co. Suggestion Plan.

According to a story in "The Inland Steelmaker."

"A clear view on how to give smoke indicators a clearer view has given John J. Solar a $328 award.

"The electrical department employee won the cash by submitting to the Employee Suggestion Plan an idea to cure a maintenance problem in the power, steam and combustion department.

"The lenses on the smoke indicators used in No. 2 AC Station and No. 3 AC Station constantly became clouded, preventing proper function. The lenses had to be removed and cleaned at regular intervals, but Solar recommended a change in the lens assembly to chop off three-fourths of the cleaning plan."

In a letter to the Tribune, Mr. Solar noted, "Currently we are working on improving fuel-air ratios for consistently efficient combustion.

"We really miss the snow. Hardly none at all here this winter. We enjoy the paper and most of the Sidelines and Out of Way columns. Keep up the good work!"

Dr. Fyvie renamed to medical society

Dr. James H. Fyvie, 202 South Cedar St., has been re-elected to active membership in the American Academy of General Practice, the national association of family doctors.

Re-election signifies that the physician has successfully completed 150 hours of accredited postgraduate medical study in the last three years. Members become eligible for re-election at the end of the third year following their election to membership. The Academy, the country's second largest national medical association, is the only medical group that requires members to keep up with medical progress through continuing education.

Capsule Review

...from new arrivals at the Manistique School and Public Library.

"ONCE AN EAGLE," by Anton Myrer is the dramatic story of the making of a soldier, plus an urgent examination of the shift in American power and values during this century.

The novel explores with fidelity and depth the men who make war--and peace. The fear, the ache, and the rage of battle, illuminated by brief flares of love, are here with authenticity and compassion.

The author, Anton Myrer, was born in Worcester, Mass., and educated at Harvard. He served in the Marine Corps during World War II and has written "Evil Under the Sun," "The Violent Shore," "The Intruder" and "The Big War."

In fact, when it comes to money, a VW will save you a lot of counting after you buy it, too.

On gas bills. (It gets up to 27 mpg.)

On oil. (It hardly ever needs any between changes.)

And, since the engine is air-cooled, you never have to dish it out on anti-freeze.

So if you don't like to count, buy a Volkswagen.

Bank debits show gain

Bank debits in Manistique during February showed a gain of five per cent over the same month a year ago, according to figures released last week by the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis.

In dollars, Manistique's bank debits volume for February was $5,633,000, compared to $5,343,000 for the month in 1968.

During the first two months of 1969, bank debits here have totaled $11,772,000, an increase of five per cent over 1968.

Bank debits for the most part are checks against depositors' accounts, representing payments for goods, services and debts. They are regarded as one indicator of business activity in the area.

Recruiter sets visit

Staff Sgt. Dave Granger, Marine Corps recruiter for this area, has announced that he will be at the Manistique post office every Tuesday from 9 to 11 a.m. to talk with any prospective recruits.

Men in Service

Army Private Robert L. Miller, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Miller, route 1, completed the basic field artillery (cannoneer) course at Ft. Sill, Okla., Feb. 14.

The eight-week course, given at the U.S. Army Training Center here, is the last phase of instruction a soldier receives before being assigned as a crewman in a field artillery unit.

Training includes the use and care of artillery weapons from heavy machine guns to howitzers - as well as ammunition handling and communications.

Much of the training centers on preparation for combat in Vietnam. Thus trainees learn counterinsurgency and Viet Cong War tactics.

Airman Lawrence A. Carlson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence E. Carlson of 509 Range St., has completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex. He has been assigned to Sheppard AFB, Tex., for training in aircraft maintenance. Airman Carlson, a graduate of Manistique High School, attended Northern Michigan University.

Memorial volume presented library

The Manistique School and Public Library has received a book from a friend of the family as a memorial to the late L. J. McLaughlin. "The Story of Painting" by H. W. Janson and Dora Jane Janson, is a picture gallery with 65 full page color reproductions and 21 monochromes and is a remarkable and exciting story of how painting began and how it developed through the ages. The book is now available for circulation.

MANISTIQUE PULP & PAPER CO.

Tulips For a King

The lake is green today. Sparkling waves ripple across its surface, borne of the same gentle breeze that ruffles through my tulips. I walk among them, filling my arms with beauty, listening to the murmur of early morning.

Soon I gather up baskets of orange and scarlet, pale pink and lemon yellow and hurry to the church in the valley.

My heart is full. I'd come to this church, some months ago, burdened with sorrow. Here, I'd found comfort and purpose in the life and teachings of God's Son. Since then, I'd been happier than I ever thought possible.

Now, in the stillness, I whisper a long-ago psalm, "Hosanna to the Son of David!" And I lay blossoms gently among palm branches, as though in His presence.

Attend your church. Find the joy and happiness you've been seeking. Sing hosannas to the living Lord.
