Doane, Griffith named to head drive for CBC

Two co-chairmen were named this week for the 1970 combined CBC fund drive in Schoolcraft County. Heading the campaign to raise funds for the local Cancer Society, Bay Cliff Health Camp, and the Society for Crippled Children and Adults, will be Rev. Theodore Doane and William Griffith.

Rev. Doane has been pastor of the United Methodist Church for the past 18 months, and is a member of the local Memorial Association and the PTA Advisory Board. Before coming here he served as a missionary in Guyana, South America for two years, and he and his family are currently studying a Guyanese exchange student, Ingrid Blair, 13, who is attending school here for a year. The Doanes, who reside 130 N. Cedar St., have three children, Catherine, Mark and Anne.

Griffith was co-chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Christmas program this year. The manager of the J.C. Penney Co. came here last April from Oskosh, Wis. The family, who reside at 606 Range St., have two daughters, Lily and Libby.

Mrs. Robert Brödlire is secretary of the drive, and Phillip Noe is treasurer. Funds this year will be deposited in the First Savings Bank.

The call for talent to participate in the Palm Sunday collection will be issued Feb. 1. Those interested in participating may contact Sister Collette at St. Francis de Sales, Band Director Rubin Meyer, or Mrs. Richard Marsh 283-2794.

The drive was planned for Feb. 6 from 8 to 11 a.m. at the high school, and business and industrial collection will start March 1.

Bank debits on increase

Bank debits in Manistique during December showed an increase of 13 per cent over the same period of a year ago, according to figures released this week by the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis.

In dollars, Manistique's bank debits volume during December was $7,962, compared to $6,970 in December, 1968.

For 1969, Manistique showed an average gain of seven per cent over 1968, with bank debits for the year totaling $81,283.

Bank debits for the most part are checks against depositors' accounts and thus represent payment for goods, services and debts. They are regarded as a fairly accurate indicator of business activity in the area.

What are our local schools doing for 'special education' kids?

Special education and centralized hot lunch cooking facilities were the topics for the Tuesday night as they met at the Public School Board members inspected the two special education rooms at the school, then listened to James Van Tassel, special education expert from the Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate School District, plus teachers Ruth England, Harold Miller and Peter Derber.

Van Tassel reported that a total of $130,000 is raised annually in Millage in the two-county area to support the special education program with a budget of more than $200,000 and a staff of 14. Purpose of the program, he explained, is to help smaller districts provide the staff and services that they could not afford individually.

Manistique operates three classrooms for the Type A student—the "educable child." Mrs. England handles five boys and five girls in her early primary class at Prairieville, with youngsters age 5 to 10. Next door Mr. Miller has a group of 14--12 boys and two girls stressing the need for "outside" experiences and for vocational training that can be helpful to the student.

Mrs. England said that her younger children varied widely in abilities and interests, with many having physical handicaps as well as mental. She said materials, space and improved transportation were the greatest needs for her group.

Mr. Miller said that he found some parents have trouble admitting that their child is handicapped, but that his primary aim in his age group was to try to make life more meaningful and worthwhile for the youngster and perhaps prepare him to advance to Mr. Derber's class at the Central School.

Said Van Tassel, "The educable child is not too different—he just can't do schoolwork. He may look like any other child, or even act like any other child—that's why you want him with the other children. We feel that with some effort on his part, and proper training, he can have a normal life in society as an adult."

Board members also toured the compact central hot lunch kitchen located at the school, with Head Cook Kay Ahtonen explaining the equipment, assisted by Business Manager Robert Konevra.

Water, sewer projects qualify for area aid

Manistique's proposed sewage treatment expansion program for both secondary and industrial wastes, plus the projected water filtration plant, qualify under the top priority items set up by the Central Upper Peninsula Economic Development District last week, Councilman Thor Reque told the council at their regular meeting Monday night.

Reque attended the session last Wednesday in Escanaba as a representative of the city.

Also attending was Hugh Gilliam of Manistique Township, who serves as treasurer of CUPEDD.

These projects. Currently 75 per cent Federal funding is now available, Reque said.

The five-year program envisioned for water and sewage treatment facilities in the six-county area would total $62 million, Reque reported. This is broken down to $15 million for 1971 and the same amount for 1972, $12 million in 1973, and $10 million each for 1974 and 1975.

In other business, Noe reported that Kenneth Buckland of Northern Engineers, Escanaba, was going to Lansing Tuesday to present an alternate engineering plan for the harbor development to the Waterways Commission. Some answers is expected by Friday, he said.

The Council also received a letter from Frank S. Hohlak, president and general manager of the Manistique Pulp and Paper Co., regarding the controversy recently over Urban Renewal, Hohlak's letter said. "Please extend the writer's congratulations to the members of the city council for your unanimous expression of confidence in city manager, Robert Noe."

"It is encouraging, indeed, to note that slowly but happily, the community attitude is changing to a more progressive, longer range outlook. Perhaps the negative attitudes and pessimism that has been so prevalent in the past will be erased by the fine leadership the community is now enjoying."

"It is unfortunate that some people still wishfully believe that industry can be encouraged to locate or expand in a community that has not or is not preparing proper facilities and climate beforehand. In other words, urban development must take precedence before new industry can be attracted."

"The progress within this community in the past year is most commendable and, hopefully, with the fine civic leadership, it will continue."

Council also passed a resolution congratulating the State Savings Bank on its announcement last week of plans to build a branch bank on Manistique's west side, and approved another resolution congratulating William Henschell on his new offices for the Savings Assurance Agency in the downtown area.

Hohlak is named to board of LSSC

Frank S. Hohlak, president and general manager of the Manistique Pulp and Paper Co., has been named to the board of control for Lake Superior State College at Sault Ste. Marie.

Gov. William Milliken Tuesday announced the first appointments to the governing board of the college, which was established in 1948 as a branch of Michigan Technological University and became a separate institution Jan. 1.

Hohlak, who has headed the local mill since 1960 and is currently active in the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission Task Force, was appointed to a term expiring Jan. 27, 1971.

Other members of the board named Tuesday were Dr. A. Donald McKinnon, St. Ignace; Caydon L. Somes, Sault Ste. Marie; Herman J. Croteau, Sault Ste. Marie; Lincoln B. Frazier, Marquette; Richard Y. Burnett, Duluth; and St. Clair, Mich.

In announcing the appointments the governor said, "Lake Superior State College has a unique opportunity to create a greatly beneficial and profound impact on all of Michigan, but particularly the Upper Peninsula. This vast area of areas has a stirring history and I am certain an even greater future. In that future, Lake Superior State College can and will be of immense significance to all of Michigan."

"The men comprising this first Board of Control combine broad vision with a wide range of experience in industry and education, communications and health fields. They are men with high degrees of civic interest at both local and regional levels."

Prepare list of priorities

Priorities for programs of action were established by the Central Upper Peninsula Economic Development District (C.U.P.E.D.D.) Committee members at their regular quarterly meeting held Jan. 14, at the Terrace in Escanaba.

Based on the needs of the Central District, planning was established as the number one priority with industrial development, sewer and water, and transportation following in that order.

These listings were established when the six counties of the Central District (Alcona, Delta, Dickinson, Marquette, Menominee, and Schoolcraft) each submitted to the C.U.P.E.D.D. office, a list of priority projects based on the major problems within their county boundaries.

George W. Rusch, executive director of C.U.P.E.D.D., presented to the Commission a plan for the formation of a non-profit foundation. The major function of the foundation will be to serve as a depository for both private and public contributions of money or materials which will assist the districts' needs.

It was also informed the Commission that $31,000 has been set aside in Lansing for Land and Water Conservation Funds

Fire protection ended for six township area

City fire protection to all but two rural townships will end at midnight Saturday.

Havatta and Manistique townships have signed agreements with the city for fire protection in those areas. City Manager Robert Noe told City Council Monday night at their regular session, but the other six townships in the county have not responded to his requests for agreements and his Feb. 1 deadline.

The six townships are Thompson, Inwood, Doyle, Mueller, Germanska and Seney.

Havatta has agreed to pay $1,600 annually for the service, while Manistique Township will pay $650.

Noe said he is still willing to work out arrangements to answer calls on an individual basis in the six townships if they will sign agreements to pay a charge of $300 per call.

The same points out that the city would pay rural fire fighting as it has in the past if they feel they were needed to fight any blaze within the city.

County gains in tax 'loss'

Schoolcraft County will be receiving more than $9,000 less this year from the state as its share of "seam tax" payments in lieu of taxes for state lands within the county—but County Treasurer William Cowman isn't unhappy about the reduction at all.

In reality, the county will end up receiving more money from the state, because for the first time this year, some of the land is being "taxed" at the regular ad valorem rate instead of the old formula of 20 cents per acre.

Last year Schoolcraft County received $57,128.64 for payment in lieu of taxes on 335,813 acres of land. This year the county will receive $48,700.69 for payment in lieu of taxes on 244,932 acres. The remaining 400,000 acres will be paid for at the regular ad valorem rate, with payments going to township treasurers who will distribute the money to the townships, schools and county, as determined by the allocation board.

Under this arrangement, the county will at last receive a portion of the payment from the state. Under the old 20 cents in lieu arrangement, the money is divided only between the townships and the schools.

The exact total of payments to the townships will not be known until the checks are received from the state, Cowman said.

MANISTIQUE In Former Days

65 YEARS AGO

There is much rivalry between the two switching crews in the Ann Arbor yards, as to which can unload the car-freights in the quickest time. The night crew is ahead this far.

The average church of Manistique is in debt and its members find it no easy task to raise $2,000 to pay operating expenses. On the other hand, one of Manistique's high class saloons owned by three men is credited with earning $14,000 last year above all expenses.

55 YEARS AGO

Engaine was visited by a deer late last week. He summerted about the streets, until he became lonesome for the woods. He was not molested, as the game warden has been camping, more or less in that enterprising city.

The seniors of the high school participated in a sleighing party last evening, their objective point being the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Orr. The participants had a delightful time.

45 YEARS AGO

Charles Gayton of Escanaba is planning to visit here to show the local folks some stunts in skating. Mr. Gayton is 75 years old and claims to be the world's oldest exhibition skater.

35 YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Stephens, Chipewau Ave. are the parents of a baby daughter born on Saturday, Jan. 26. The new arrival has been named Emily Adela.

Library Advisory Board

The next regular meeting of the Manistique Library Advisory Board is set for 12 Noon Thursday, Feb. 26, at the conference room of the high school. Adequate lighting for the library is on the agenda for discussion.

was good, the attendance was good but the weather was lousy. I am sorry some of you were unable to attend due to the weather but perhaps next year it will be better. We would like to have a brief Council meeting after the training meeting so I hope all of our 4-4 Council members will be there if possible.

The big difference between Duster & Maverick is not the $90.75

Duster has a bigger engine
Duster's standard 125 hp. Six dual carburetor's standard engine 200 hp. Even beats Maverick's only optional engine by 2. And if you need performance, you can get all the way up to 340 cubic inches with Duster. No Maverick can match that.

Duster has a longer wheelbase
Duster's 108 inch wheelbase is a full 5 inches longer than Maverick's. In overall length, Duster has 9 more inches. Add Duster's extra 252 lbs., and the result is a smoother ride, and more stable handling.

Duster has a 3-year/50,000-mile powertrain warranty... Maverick doesn't.
Duster's 3-year/50,000-mile powertrain warranty covers the engine, transmission and drivetrain. It's the longest powertrain warranty in the industry. And it's backed by the power of the Duster's 125 hp. Six dual carburetor's standard engine. 200 hp. Even beats Maverick's only optional engine by 2. And if you need performance, you can get all the way up to 340 cubic inches with Duster. No Maverick can match that.

Duster has a bigger trunk
A 107 cubic foot, 15 cubic foot for Duster, only 120 cubic feet for Maverick. And because it's set in the outside, doesn't mean it has to be smelt on the inside.

Duster has bigger brakes
Bigger brakes mean more stopping power, and Duster's got it. Duster's brakes bring you to a stop in 120 feet. Maverick's only 102 inches. And if you like the brakes of power brakes, Duster offers those too. Maverick doesn't.

FUEL MIXING TIPS
(Two-Cycle Engines Only)

Check the "oil-to-gas ratio" shown on the engine chart, pour approx. one-half the amount of fuel required into a separate, clean container and add the full amount of oil specified. Thoroughly agitate this mixture. Add the remainder of the gasoline necessary to bring the mixture to the required ratio, and again, thoroughly agitate the mixture. Pour this mixture into the engine fuel tank. Do not mix oil and gasoline when the temperature of either is near or below 0°; the pre-mixing temperature is above +20°F.

ATTENTION 4-H LEADERS:
You have already been alerted to a special meeting for 4-H leaders scheduled for 7:30 p.m. today (Thursday) at the high school home economics room 105.

We'll have special material for each 4-H clothing club in a kit form. It is intended to help leaders teach clothing construction to members. We'll also talk about the selection of materials and patterns for knitting members and leaders.

If you're a 4-H leader or would like to be a leader, please plan to attend. Don Brown, 4-H Youth Agent and Howard Handorf, County Extension Director, will also have good information for all of you. Mrs. Norman Patz, local 4-H leader, will discuss demonstrations and their value to the members.

At the present writing we have about 27 leaders who plan to attend, we would like to see every leader there.

HOW DO you feel about the clothes you wear? We think of this when we're working with young people and it's very important to 4-H clothing club members and leaders. Girls are now busy selecting patterns and fabrics for this year's project.

Did you ever sit in a bus, train, or in your car and watch people come and go? Did you form opinions about the individuals you saw? What helped you form these opinions?

We rely on clothing to help form our first impressions about others, just as others observe our clothing in forming opinions about us. This is perhaps why teen-agers are so aware of the clothing they wear and the impressions they're making on others.

4-H PROJECTS HELP.

Through the years many of us have seen ten-year-olds develop in sewing ability each year and through their teen years. It's surprising how much they change and how much they learn - not only in ability but self-confidence.

But the thing that thrills me most, and I'm sure it does 4-H leaders, is to see how girls become interested in going ahead on their own and how interested they become in sewing.

The big incentive for this age group is having something new to wear. They need the assurance of belonging and to them, wearing the right clothes can help. A big salute to the 4-H leaders who have helped them!

Queen is crowned by local TOPS Club

The regular meeting of the TOPS Club was held Wednesday evening with 29 weigh-ins. Queen for the week was Lil Lancour, with a six pound loss. Mrs. Lancour also received the 10 pound charm.

Three new members were admitted to the club recently, Lil Lancour, Marie Wilcox and Melanie Peterson.

A new Valentine contest was started this week and exercises led by president Jean Selling.

Doyle Cribbage Club met last Thursday evening. Low for the evening were Frank Inman and Orletta Peterson with 856. High for the season is Grace Jackson with 9327 and low for the season is Walter Peterson with 8836.

Serving the lunch were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Peterson.

School needs

LATE IN FEBRUARY the Manistique Area Schools Board of Education will find time at their second meeting of the month to give consideration to their Citizens' Advisory Committee report submitted several weeks ago.

It is probably just as well that they are waiting until that time, for it should eliminate public confusion over the committee report and the millage election Feb. 13. In fact our discussion of the report at this time will no doubt result in some confusion, but we'll take that risk in the interests of stimulating public interest in the school's needs.

Needs, you say? Why are they talking about a building program and remodeling? Hasn't the enrollment stayed about the same? How come we need this now?

Good questions, those, deserving of an answer.

Although the total enrollment figures for the district have not shown any dramatic increase in recent years, and probably will not in the immediate future, the need is still there.

What need? The need for a single, central Junior High program that can offer a uniform program to all 7th and 8th graders.

Despite our reorganization into a single district several years ago we have not been able to consolidate these Junior High youngsters so that all of them will have full programs in such areas as home economics, music, physical education and shop. Obviously, the youngsters attending the Central School where these facilities are available, have the advantage over students at Fairview and Germfask, where similar facilities are lacking. The school and public library is also located in the Central School—another disparity if you want to compare.

Parents in the former township districts raise a legitimate issue when they question the inequality.

That's what the Citizens' Advisory Board is seeking to correct.

Like anything else, it is easier said than done. When you talk a building and remodeling program, you talk money. The advisory group is not unaware of this. They have tried to model their recommendations to a minimum cost . . . but cost it will, and approval of the spending will have to come from area taxpayers.

The program, as outlined, will not only benefit Junior High students, but the entire educational process. Senior High students will gain from improvements to the library, music department, hot lunch, home economics, physical education and vocational training.

Do we need it? There's no law that says you have to try and do the best job possible in education . . . no written law, that is. If the people of this area feel that skimping on education is a good thing, then a minimum program can be arranged. There will be minimum benefits, of course, but in education, as in anything else, you usually get what you pay for.

It was interesting to look at a survey of 14 area school districts and their taxes, published in the Jan. 12 issue of the Escanaba Press. Of the 14, Manistique ranked 12th, which should tell us something. In Escanaba the school levy for 1969-1970 is 25.223 mills. In Gladstone it's 21.8, in Rapid River it's 20.9 and in neighboring Big Bay de Noc it's 20.7. Here in Manistique we're paying 17.690.

All of this may be scant consolation to the taxpayer who figures that whatever the rate and however you compare it, we're still too high—but it should help to show that certainly we have not been extravagant with our school millage requests in the past.

If someone were to ask you to get up a good argument on behalf of January you might be hard-pressed to come up with some good ideas.

Let's face it, of all the months of the year, January has the worst image. That's when all the Christmas bills come due and the tax collector sends his notice and the weatherman completely loses any sense of responsibility.

February has Groundhog Day and my birthday, March has St. Patrick's Day, April is when we get the showers that bring May flowers, June, July, August and September are golfing time, October has Columbus Day and bird season, November has deer season and December has Christmas. The first thing that comes to mind when you think of January is Millard Fillmore's birthday on the 7th.

That is, it's the first thing that comes to mind if you don't think about it. If you do think about it you can manage to come up with just enough things to get you through until Groundhog Day.

For instance, the early part of the month can be used for healing up from the holidays and for breaking New Year's Resolutions. (There are few things in life more satisfying than completely demolishing a freshly-minted New Year's Resolution.)

Fortunately, the football season still manages to thunder along the first part of the month, and you've got to admit that the Super-Bowl has done a lot toward making January more interesting.

You can use January to finally clean up the deer rifle from last season, or start working on the golf clubs for next season, depending on whether you are a planner or a procrastinator.

The weather may not be the best, but that's no reason to forsake the great outdoors. Do I have to tell anyone about snowmobiling? Or do I have to point out the more traditional skiing, snow shoeing and ice skating? Or rabbit hunting? Ice fishing? My nose starts to run just thinking about it.

If you're not the outdoor type, January is about the best month there is for reading.

What to read? Go back and read all the Christmas cards that swamped the house a month ago. Get all the Christmas bills out of the file and see where the next eight paychecks are going. You must have a favorite old book you can re-read, (I may try "Mutiny on the Bounty" again this year.) If you want some good laughs, read through the fine print on Form 1040 that the government mailed you just recently.

Personally, I think I will go buy a copy of Playboy and also haul out last year's literature on Caribbean sailing cruises. That's entertaining reading, even if it does bring tears to your eyes.

There still may be skeptics who claim nothing worthwhile happens in January. I have done some extensive research on this subject and come up with only a partial calendar that should be filed away for future years. Look at these bell-ringers:

- Jan. 7--Richard Nixon's birthday.
- Jan. 11--Republic of Chad Independence Day.
- Jan. 13-19--Stephen Foster Memorial Week.
- Jan. 15--Arbor Day in Jordan.
- Seijin No: Hi, or Adulthood Day, in Japan.
- Jan. 17--Arbor Day in Florida.
- Benjamin Franklin's birthday.
- Jan. 18-24--National Jaycee Week.
- Jan. 19--Robert E. Lee's birthday.
- Jan. 21--Anniversary of Lenin's death.
- Jan. 25--Robert Burns' birthday.
- Jan. 26--Gen. Douglas MacArthur Day in Arkansas.
- Jan. 29--Statehood Day in Kansas.
- William McKinley's birthday.
- Jan. 30--Franklin D. Roosevelt's birthday.

Nothing to do? Your social calendar should be so filled with these special occasions you'll think it's still holiday party time.

And as for Dorothy Anne and me, there's the 102nd annual Michigan Press Association convention down in East Lansing this week end where for the 17th straight year we'll be renewing old friendships and be reassured once again that the newspaper business is more fun than anything else.

And that convention alone just about makes all of January worthwhile.

SCHOOL ADMINISTRATION IN THE '70'S

It used to be said, ironically of course, that school administration was involved with beans, busses and buildings. Now it is involved with bargaining, borrowing and backtracking. It has already become trite, but it's true; it's a different "ball game."

Dr. Wilson, Ph.D., from Ohio, recently talked in Grand Rapids about the skills the school administrator will need in the future. Naturally, it depends on the institution, but the unrest in the country will also produce its impact.

According to Dr. Wilson, unrest should bring about an increased accountability. School people have enjoyed a blind faith from the public, but this era is coming to an end. As teachers stand toe to toe with the administrators in contract settlement, an increasingly doubting public will begin to make itself more vocal.

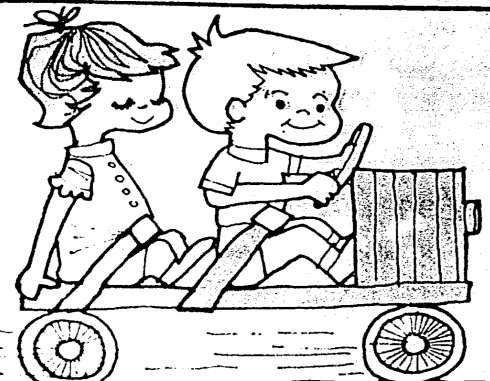

Practices in education which defy logic will be scrutinized, e.g., paying all teachers on the same basis regardless of ability. There is no evidence to prove that degrees and years of experience consistently produce better teaching. Another is uniform class size. There is no proof that a ratio of 30 pupils to one teacher is ideal. Communication can take place in a packed audience as well as a small one. Football coaches know this; they have never limited their practices to 30 students.

We cannot defend buildings standing idle and I am pleased that ours do not. We cannot logically explain why all children should begin school at the same time, why we should teach from a single textbook, why we neglect black history or why we spend less time and money on the potential school failures than we do on the potential successes.

Accountability will be the trend in the 70's according to Dr. Wilson. Not only will teachers and administrators be held accountable; so will boards of education.

What skills will the administrator of tomorrow need? He'll be judged by what his associates do, because the single administrator for one school system is as obsolete as the little red schoolhouse. He will exhibit no single personality pattern but will make things happen. He will face problems which go beyond any specialty. He will need to work more through organizations than by himself because it is only through concerted actions that many of the problems can be solved. He will need to be oriented towards results and responsibilities and he will need to spend as much time away from the district as he spends in it.

Off to a good start!

News from Road 437

Hi-Folks!

I wish that some of our summer visitors could come out our way to see how winter has spread its beauty. Last Wednesday, from a leaden sky, starry snowflakes kept falling all through the day adding another 10 inches to our deep blanket of white.

This morning there is no

Tommy Thompson, Jr., Quick Fire - And Your Family

Fire prevention should be a family affair. A family should discuss what to do in case of fire or smoke. Escape exits are important, as well as a prearranged meeting place to determine that everyone is out and safe. Each person should be warned not to lose time dressing, grabbing valuables or fighting the fire. Stress escape - orderly and immediate. Small children should be made to understand that they must leave - not hide under a bed or in a closet.

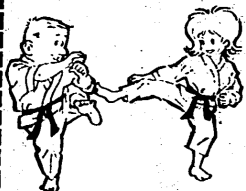

Your best protection is a healthy respect for fire. Clean out old rags, paint cans, papers, rubbish, etc. Have Dad check all electric plugs, cords, stoves, heaters, and other sources of flames or sparks.

Fires annually destroy 650,000 homes and apartments causing deaths in excess of 7,000 in the United States. One third of which involve children. sign that the sun may shine and if the temperature goes higher we may get rain.

It is hard at times to give the definition of our winter weather. There are many answers to our winter weather. At times the nights have below zero readings. Then the winter's sunrise after Jack Frost's visit gives us a world of sparkling beauty. He is one painter that touches every tree, shrub, weed, fences and the window panes with just one color, a crystal clear.

The winter sunsets are always a gorgeous sight. As the sun sets it seems to set out a fiery flame way above a world that is dark and smoky. Then winter can come in with freezing rains which makes driving and even walking hazardous.

January is, at its end, and it did go by rather quickly and next week if the stout heavy form of the ground hog comes out from hiding to see his shadow it is said spring will soon be on its way. If he doesn't see it we shall have to be content with more winter.

In February the Boss will spend much of his days ice fishing. I shall get to those piled up letters. I have done fairly well but I'm not to the bottom of the letter basket.

Last Monday evening the Boss and I had dinner with the Dale Potvins and Ernie Smiths at their camp. After dinner we played cards and all had an enjoyable evening. The ride back on the snowmobile was enjoyed, though it was 14 degrees below but being dressed warm one doesn't mind a cool ride.

Echoes of birthday greetings go out to Alta Peterson, Homer Sayers, Dode Carpenter, Rena McEachron, Matt Lakosky, and Pat Tomlinson.

May the day for all of you be one of complete happiness. Until next week, stay healthy and happy.

State offers help on tax

Local taxpayers may receive assistance in preparing their state income tax returns at a series of special sessions planned by the Michigan Department of Treasury.

James P. Brulla of Manistique, representing the revenue division of the department, will be at the Chamber of Commerce office in the old water tower by the siphon bridge between 1 and 4:30 p.m. on Feb. 2, Feb. 16, March 16, March 30 and April 14.

Persons who have not received their 1969 booklet of state income tax returns and instructions may obtain them at the court house and the Liquor Control Commission store.

Most persons who are required to file a Federal income tax return will also be required to file a state return, it was pointed out. If a married couple files a joint return for Federal income taxes, a joint return must also be filed for Michigan income taxes.

Cards of Thanks

I would like to extend to all the wonderful people of Manistique, Gulliver, Green School, Germfask, and Gould City my sincere thanks for their wonderful acts of kindness and consideration at the passing of our wife and Mother, Mrs. Georgia Betty Hettel, on Dec. 29. A special thanks to the Cursillos, the Knights of Columbus, the Lady Foresters, the Boy Scout Troops 400, 401 and 402, the Altar Society of Divine Infant of Prague Church, the Ladies Circle of Maple Grove Mennonite Church, the Messier-Broullire Funeral Home, our doctor, to all who sent flowers, Mass cards, or assisted in any way. We shall be eternally thankful.

JOHN H. HETTEL AND FAMILY

I wish to thank the many friends who sent me hundreds of cards during my illness at Loma Linda. I would like to thank each and every one separately, but it would be entirely impossible for me to write so many letters. I do not remember too much immediately after surgery, but I vaguely remember the dozens of flowers that were sitting all over the nurse's station and in my room. They were very beautiful. I also wish to thank each and every one of you for your prayers. I know in all, it has added greatly to my recovery although it has seemed very slow. I hope to be back in Michigan by early summer at the very latest.

Merle E. Wehner, M.D.

We take this means of again thanking our family and the many friends who by their cards, gifts, and presence helped us regally celebrate our 50th wedding anniversary. It's an event we shall never forget, thanks to all of you.

MR. and MRS. FRANK-DE MARS 34cl

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our Mother, Mrs. Mary Lapine, who passed away one year ago, Jan. 31, 1969.

The dearest Mother God ever made

Was taken to heaven to promenade

Dear God above, only you know

Just how much we miss her so.

The days are so long Mom since you've been gone

And it's ever so lonely and days so long

Mom I don't believe you had many sins to pardon

But, God took you for another rose in his heavenly garden.

Sadly missed by her daughters Mrs. Anthony Wilker and Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Zuehlsdorf and family 34cl

Our line is always busy

Marilyn deserves an "A" in Communications. Unfortunately, that is not one of her courses.

Do you suppose when we were young we had less to talk about? Fewer opinions worth stating? Quieter friends? Anyway, home was never like this!

Still, apart from the inconvenience, I have no strong objections to Marilyn's monopoly of the wires. Indeed, it has served to remind me more than once of the tremendous need of this youthful generation for the right kind of friends and the right sense of values.

Fortunately, our church has been an important influence on Marilyn's life in both areas. Religious education has fostered moral and religious convictions which are shaping her character. Whether it's "girl-talk" or "boy-talk" that is keeping our line busy—it's just part of the normal, wholesome growing-up of a teen-ager.

Jaycees hear story of FBI

What crime bothers the Federal Bureau of Investigation the most in Michigan?
If you answered bank robbery --and you probably didn't-- you are right, according to Paul Stoddard of Detroit, special agent in charge for Michigan, who spoke at the annual Jaycee "Bosses Night" dinner session last Wednesday at the Fireside. Bank robbery is one of the 180 categories of crime covered by FBI agents on the job, Stoddard says, and last year they investigated 176 bank robberies in Michigan alone.

"Investigation" is the key word, Stoddard stressed. The FBI is just a fact-finding organization that presents the facts to local law enforcement agencies who then handle the prosecution.

There are 58 field offices covering the United States, Stoddard said, with the Detroit office having jurisdiction for Michigan, where 16 residents operate. Two residents agents are in the Upper Peninsula --at Sault Ste. Marie and Marquette.

The 6,800 special agents on the staff are scattered all across the U. S. and territories, and can reach any spot in the U. S. in an hour and a half.

Prospective agents must have an accounting degree, with three years of experience, or hold a law degree or be a member of the bar.

After 14 weeks of intensive training they are assigned to a field office for two weeks to 30 more days of training, and then given their first assignment.

Stoddard also related anecdotes regarding recent FBI cases in Michigan, and told how the criminals involved ranged between the ages of 8 and 84.

Accompanying Stoddard to the meeting were Weldon Kenny of Detroit, communications director for the FBI in the state, and Special Agent Harris Miller of Sault Ste. Marie.

Jaycee President Pete Widis presented two special awards to local members for their efforts during the past year. Peter J. Denman won the "Spoke Award" given to a member of less than 12 months, while the "Sparkplug Award" for members of more than a year went to James P. Brulla.

King named to Who's Who

Dr. Robert F. King, associate professor of music at Juniata College in Huntingdon, Pa., has been named to "Who's Who in the East."

Dr. and Mrs. King are summer residents of the area, with their cottage along the High Rollways area of the Manistique River, and for the past two summers have presented a series of classical concerts in the community.

Dr. King's complete biographical sketch will appear in the forthcoming 1970 edition of the widely-used reference work.

The head of the instrumental division of Juniata's department of music, Dr. King has been conductor of the Altoona Symphony since 1964. He is a director of the Blair County Arts Foundation chamber music series, and also is the founder and conductor of the Blair- Bedford Youth Symphony orchestra.
