Snowmobile races set here this weekend

READY TO RIDE---Mayor Leo DeMars, a snowmobile enthusiast himself, is all ready to welcome drivers and spectators to the second annual Great Lakes Snowmobile Championship races in Manistique this weekend. The machines are being allowed on city streets going to and from the parade Friday night and the races Saturday at the oval behind the football field.

QUEEN SUSAN HANSON

Petite Susan Hanson, a 17-year-old senior at Manistique High School, will reign over the 1970 Great Lakes Snowmobile Championship races in Manistique this week end.

Susan was chosen from a field of six finalists in competition Thursday night. The other five contestants will serve as members of her court during the week end festivities. They are Diana LaCasser, John Berger, Mary Kay Berger, Maureen Pagan and Marie Lesica.

Susan, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Heinz, 321 Oak St., is 5'4" tall, with brown eyes and brown hair. She plans to attend Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant next fall and major in elementary education, and special education.

The queen and her court will ride in the parade planned for Friday evening, weather permitting, and also attend other events and races during the week end.

Final judging for the queen was directed by the Manistique Jaycees.

Serving as judges were Jim Malloch, Dan Barber and John Gaudier.

The complete program for the week end appears elsewhere in this edition, and in the program being distributed by the racing committee.

Chairman Jess Gutierrez announced this week that the well-known Paul Smith racing team will be here for the week end, and will once again ride their machines here from Marquette, as they did last year.

The team consists of Paul Smith, Dan Koski, Roger Koski, Alton Yelle and Chuck Oberstar, and has a reputation of being one of the "winningest" teams in the midwest. Smith and Koski placed first and Yelle and Oberstar second at the Traverse City 250-mile race recently.

Also expected to join the group in the snowmobile trip here are Clyde Beuston of Sleeping and Rick Nelson, who won the Mod 5 at Eagle River.

The TNT Ski-Doo racing team from Munising is also among the early entries for the race, Gutierrez said.

Entries are being accepted up until the time of the drivers' meeting Saturday morning.

State going ahead on marina

On the assumption that half a marina is better than none, the Council moved Monday night to accept proposal from the Department of Natural Resources that the state proceed with plan to develop a launching ramp and parking area on the east side of the Manistique River.

The project, estimated to cost between $58,000 and $100,000 depending on the number of parking spaces and the cost of acquisition, will get underway this summer.

Mayor Leo DeMars and Councilman Thor Reque met with city engineer, executive secretary of the Michigan Waterways Commission, and his assistant, Ray Lawrence, Friday morning during sessions of the Michigan Municipal League and meeting. The state officials at that time presented the project and said that no local financing is being sought.

This will not affect the plans for development along the east side of the river, city officials were assured. The city will, however, ask the Economic Development Administration to help on the application for Federal aid until modifications are made in the plan for the east side. This would include plans on anchoring the finger piers and changes in the well specifications.

The state will still carry 40 per cent of the cost of the east side development, along with the total cost of the west side, Mayor DeMars said. Federal financing is being sought 50 per cent, with the city paying 10 per cent. Total cost of the east side development is now pegged at about $123,000.

Plans now call for the state to construct a double launching ramp 40 feet wide on the west side of the river, upstream from the Ann Arbor Railroad ferry dock, plus toilet facilities and a parking area for 25-100 cars. The state will purchase the land and construct the facility, while the city assumes the responsibility of lighting costs, water, garbage pickup, routine maintenance and snow removal if necessary.

A meeting between Lawrence, (the Waterways Commission official) and local representatives and the engineer is being planned for 6:30 p.m. March 18 at the Fireside.

James Bugz, 17, had bonnet at $250 while Robert Hanson, 20, had bond of $500 following their appearance.

City and State Police arrested the two on the tug after finding their car, with two munings inside, parked by the boat and tracks in the snow leading aboard.

A hearing was held Feb. 5 to determine his capability to stand trial, and he pleaded not guilty at his arraignment following that hearing.

He has been a patient at Traverse City State Hospital since July 8, 1968.

Pick head for renewal

Quinton Mitchell of 233 Arabus Ave. has been named as Urban Renewal director for the City of Manistique. It was announced Monday.

Mitchell will be in charge of the project, directing preliminary studies and surveys that will determine the feasibility of the program.

A graduate of Highland Park Junior College with an associate degree in mechanical engineering, he was employed at Inland from 1953 to 1962, when he left for employment in the lower peninsula. He returned here in 1968, and most recently has been employed as sales manager at Leggett & Foye Equipment Co.

He will be paid $7,000 a year in his new post, with funds for his salary and other expenses of the preliminary survey coming from the preliminary grant made to the city for Urban Renewal.

The appointment was made Monday, and is effective immediately.

Preliminary plans drawn up for Michigan Week observance here

The chairman for the various days of Michigan Week met for an organization meeting on Monday evening in the conference room of the Manistique High School. The meeting was called by Joseph Giovanni, Schoolcraft County chairman for the event.

This was purely an organizational meeting and nothing tangible in the area of programs was set forth. Many ideas were thrown out for discussion and with this wealth of ideas now on hand, chairman Giovanni said, "I'll be back with his or her own program. Giovanni said. Also discussed at the Monday night meeting were such things as promotion, involvement, budget and other items.

It was stressed at the meeting that involvement should be a total county affair, with all the communities becoming a part of the Michigan Week activity. Also discussed at the meeting was the idea of beginning the week with a parade on Saturday, May 16. Ruben Meyer, band director at Manistique High School has said that the band will be available to lead such a parade. "I feel that the parade should include a float representing each of the eight days of Michigan Week. This is an area which the local Service Clubs can contribute to the rescue. I am asking Service Clubs to sponsor the floats for each day. We have plenty of help from the students of Schoolcraft County for building the floats but we need sponsorship in the area of financing. Any Service Club which is interested is asked to call Philip Ott at State Savings Bank," the chairman said.

The day by day program for the week is as follows:

SATURDAY, MAY 16th -- COMMUNITY PRIDE DAY. This day will be chaired by Roy Anderson, senior at Manistique High School. Roy did an outstanding job last year as assistant to Giovanni on Government Day. He is now in the process of closing other high school students from the Junior and Senior Classes to help in this effort.

SUNDAY, MAY 17th -- SPIRITUAL FOUNDATIONS DAY. This program will be under the direction of Father Charles Swinburn, Rector of St. Alban's Episcopal Church of Manistique.

MONDAY, MAY 18th -- GOVERNMENT DAY. Lovell Cooper, one of the Civics teachers at MHS will head this program. He is being assisted by Rick Bonitas and Jean Leguis, who are acting as co-chairmen of a student committee planning the events of the day.

TUESDAY, MAY 19th -- HERITAGE DAY. The assignment for this day has been accepted by Mrs. Katherine LeBrasseur. At the Monday night meeting she set out a basketful of ideas.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 20th -- LIVELIHOOD DAY. This day will honor industry and business in the area. Fred H. Hanne will act as chairman of this event.

THURSDAY, MAY 21st -- EDUCATION DAY. Chosen by Mr. John LaPointe, president of the Manistique Area Teacher's Association, to take over this program was Howard Schwartz. Schwartz, a teacher in the local school can be expected to provide an interesting and colorful program for the occasion.

FRIDAY, MAY 22nd -- HOSPITALITY DAY. The Hospitality Day program chairmanship last year was accepted by Rev. Roy Pitts but during much of the time Rev. Pitts was ill and the work had to be turned over to Rev. Harling, Pastor, Bethel Baptist Church. Because of his experience from last year, Rev. Harling has been asked if he would serve again this year as chairman, rather than pinch-hitter. He has accepted.

SATURDAY, MAY 23rd -- YOUTH DAY. Earl LeBrasseur, has agreed to take this day unto himself. Assistants for the week will be Gerald Graphics and Phillip Ott.

"I am sure that this group accepted the challenge with the idea of giving the people of Schoolcraft County the best possible program. However, no matter how dedicated the chairman and the committees may be, it will take the cooperative effort of the whole County to put this Michigan Week Program on an excel. The difference will be in whether YOU say "Yes" or "No". Let it be a "Yes". We will have a week to remember," Giovanni said.

News From Road 437

Hi Folks!

Our March came in meek-like, wedid get four more inches of snow, but no howling winds came in with the snowflakes. They kept falling slowly from a dark sky all through the day. This is something we must look forward to for the next few weeks, when spring will come to take over. Then we'll have the spring rains followed by sunny skies.

It is good to know that underneath snow the sleeping violets, trailing arbutus, buttercups, lady slippers, and many other wild flowers out our way are waiting to awaken and come up from their long winter's rest. Then again our world will be full of colors of loveliness in gold, pink, purple, white and many others, and all will be a part of mother nature's flower show.

Saturday the Boss and Norm Underwood took in the last day of fishing walleye. Millie and I took a ride to Steuben. Road 437 is scenic no matter what season we have. One picturesque scene was worth stopping for, Millie took a picture of it. There was an open area we saw nothing but tree stumps. Each one was heaped quite high with snow, it reminded me of a kindergarten schoolroom with the youngsters sitting in their circles waiting to play a new game. At Steuben we parked the car and took a walk to the bridge. There we found the Indian River was partly open and traveling quite fast. A short ways down it was almost closed and another open spot and the current was really traveling on swiftly, so it won't be too long when the river will be open and traveling merrily on its way.

Last Tuesday was Ladies Day, when the women join the men ice fishing. In the group were Norma Swagart, Eloise Popore, Marcelline Chandler, Millie Underwood and I. We had an enjoyable day, played cards part of the time. Norma made chili for our lunch, and we all had fish to take home. We sort of look forward to Ladies Day on Indian Lake each year for we do have fun and being dressed warm is a must.

Echoes of birthday greetings go out to Carl Bane, may you have a happy day.

Until next week stay healthy and happy.

Plat development

IF ORDERLY DEVELOPMENT of our recreational rural areas is to be realized in the years to come, minimum platting and zoning regulations are necessary.

Fortunately for Schoolcraft County, most of these regulations are now in effect, but unfortunately, there is the possibility that some are also serving to stifle the very development they are trying to protect.

A case in point was raised at the last County Board of Commissioners meeting regarding the minimum standards for roads in platted areas. In order for plats to receive official approval under the State Plat Act of 1967 and under minimum requirements adopted by the Road Commission and county and township plat boards, streets, roads and alleys within the plats and providing access to the plats must meet certain standards.

These were established because of some unfortunate experiences in the past, where private roads, not built to county specifications, became highly developed and used and eventually created citizen demand for their acceptance into the county highway system. This meant that the county then had to accept the responsibility for maintaining, repairing and plowing some stretches of road far below standard—and not incidentally, that the original subdivider was spared the expense of building such a road.

Our Road Commission is understandably reluctant to see these new minimum standards dropped, because in the end they may end up with the responsibility for those roads.

At the same time it is easy to understand the concern of developers, particularly those with limited resources who wish to follow the platting requirements but cannot afford the major investment that a road built to standards would require.

There are also some unique parcels of land, such as the George LeBrasseur development by Wiggins Point, already bordering on a county access road, wherein the purchasers would prefer a private road and would agree to a phase in the plat dedication stipulating any roads would be private and the county would be under no obligation at any time for services.

Certainly there is room for compromise here. It has been suggested that Michigan follow the lead of California, where plats have different requirements for recreational and residential purposes. Stipulations in deeds could be made regarding future use of the roads.

Developers can sidestep the law by selling property by metes and bounds descriptions instead of platting, but this can lead to title confusion, long tax descriptions, and haphazard development. It seems to us some compromise that will allow platting and still protect the County Road Commission should be worked out.

Bits and pieces

Welcome, Snowmobilers. Local sponsors have worked hard to make the Great Lakes Championship Races a success. Let's hope you enjoy your stay this week end in our community . . . and come back again.

. . . We entitled last week's editorial "Secret Meetings," but since then have had second thoughts. The meetings themselves are seldom secret, only the proceedings. We have come to the conclusion it will be fairer all around to describe them as "closed sessions."

. . . And what a fine gesture it was for the local museum to be re-named in honor of Mrs. J. J. Herbert. No person in the community deserves the honor more, for no person has done more to advance the cause of historical study and a sense of pride in the past.

The Great Pumpkin Caper

It all started several years ago with the hedge on the lawn of my friend Harold the stone salesman.

This was not very much, as hedges go. In fact it was just about the sickest, scrawniest, puniest hedge you have ever seen, and my friend Harold became the object of much merriment and ridicule because of his hedge.

Time heals all wounds, they say, and with the passing of summer the hedge was forgotten and the jibes decreased. Until December.

Oh, how we love to decorate our town in December! Up go the bright lights and the neon and the tinsel and the plastic Santas, and every street offers a brilliant kaleidoscope of the Christmas spectrum as colored lights are strung from forepeak to gutterspout and stem to gudgeon.

It was then that friends and neighbors became concerned about the hedge of my friend Harold the stone salesman. It was the only shrub on the block without decoration. And as friends and neighbors so often do in small towns, they rallied to help someone in need.

Thus came about the story of my friend Harold and his electric hedge, for suddenly one night it too blossomed forth with its own string of brightly colored lights that cast a special glow of warmth and cheeriness on passersby.

It was the sickest looking thing you ever saw, but my friend Harold and his wife took it in the spirit in which it was intended, even if it failed to win a prize in the Christmas lighting contest that year.

Next spring the hedge was removed. It wasn't very much of a job, considering the state of its health, but it left a certain bare spot there by the house when the next Christmas season rolled around.

Once again, friends and neighbors took note, and as they so often do in small towns, they rallied round to help someone in time of need.

That year they chose a fine and sturdy young tag alder from the thickets down by the beach, built a stand for it, and lavished great care and attention of the numerous and distinctive decorations. In order that these could be better seen at night, a spotlight of sorts was provided. What it was, it was a 40 watt bulb tacked to the top of the alder, and there wasn't a place in town that could boast of a brighter or more distinctive home decoration for the Yuletide season.

Despite these efforts, once again they failed to win a prize in the Christmas lighting contest that year.

It did receive special notice, however, when one night in April it was transplanted into the living room of one of the friends and neighbors, where it was the subject of much conversation and interest from out-of-town visitors who happened to wonder what a decorated tag alder was doing in the living room.

Obviously when next Christmas rolled around a new approach was needed.

Fortunately my friend Harold the stone salesman and his wife are the saving sort, and early in December it was discovered that they were still saving the giant jack o'lantern from Halloween.

Oh, what joy there was in the hearts of their friends and neighbors when they learned that this was available to help with the Yuletide decorations. Thus came about the Great Pumpkin Caper.

They were puzzled when their jack o'lantern disappeared from their front porch one frigid December evening, but it had merely been taken to a secluded spot for safekeeping.

And once again these thoughtful friends and neighbors rallied round to help someone in need. A frame was constructed, at great expense, and appropriate clothing was used to create the illusion of a jolly elf, or something. Atop all this was placed the smiling jack o'lantern.

The original plans called for the same 40 watt bulb to be placed inside the head in order to cast a special glow of warmth and cheeriness on passersby, but unfortunately the heat from the bulb was so great that a strong odor of burning pumpkin was also cast on the passersby, and this special feature had to be discontinued.

That's probably why once again it failed to win a prize in the Christmas lighting contest.

Fortunately, the jack o'lantern fell apart shortly after New Year's, probably weakened by the heat from the 40 watt bulb. I say fortunately because I suspect that otherwise it might have ended up in some friends and neighbors living room, just like the tag alder.

And that's the way it stands right now. No hedge, no tag alder, no jack o'lantern. Already the friends and neighbors are fretting about what to do about next year. After all, my friend Harold the stone salesman and his wife have come to depend upon them.

Somehow I have the feeling that something will be worked out.

News Notes

Howard H. Handorf
County Extension Director

TAX CHANGES: Two important changes brought about by the 1969 tax reform bill will prove costly to some Schoolcraft County residents inasmuch as both changes involve livestock.

In 1970 long term capital gain treatment will apply on sale of cattle and horses only if they have been held for two years for draft, breeding, dairy or sporting purposes.

Other livestock, such as sheep or swine, must be held for one year as in previous rules.

Gain on sale of purchased livestock will be treated as ordinary income rather than capital gain, to the extent of depreciation taken after December 31, 1969. Provision follows the same format as the current farm machinery provisions.

INTERNATIONAL FARM YOUTH EXCHANGE DELEGATES: Young adults who have been active in the 4-H Youth program are needed for this unique educational international program. It is not an award trip in recognition for outstanding 4-H achievement. It is a working, contributing, learning, sharing experience. Both young men and women are encouraged to apply. The interviews for the 1971 program will be May 9 and 10 at Camp Kett. You must be between the ages of 20 and 30 years. For more information contact the office.

HOST FAMILIES: Are you a family who would like to host International Farm Youth Exchanges from other countries? Six to ten young adults from other countries will come to Michigan to live with families during the months of May to November. This means there will be opportunities for 30 or more families to host these exchanges. The family has a key role in the experience of the exchange. It is essential that each family have a full understanding of the program and their role. The family should:

- 1) Have children in the home
- 2) Be active in the community, 4-H, church, etc.
- 3) Farm families are given first preference
- 4) Rural non-farm and urban families are also needed. Family applications are needed by April 15. Contact the Extension Office for further information.

SNOWMOBILE RACES: I would like to remind all 4-H Teen Club members involved in registration for snowmobile drivers to be at the Youth Center Friday, March 6, at the time for which they volunteered.

CLOTHING Construction: Miss Ingrid Teronen, Extension Home Economist, will conduct a meeting on Clothing Construction Techniques to be held 7:30 p.m. at the Manistique High School, Room 103. This is an open meeting and it is for anyone who likes to sew and would like to receive a few new tips and techniques, and also review some of the old reliables.

HOW MUCH SLEEP DO WE NEED

All of us have varied sleeping habits, but we should get enough sleep each night to keep us functioning normally and efficiently. Surveys have been made on the amount of sleep a person gets and it seems that the youngster receives the most, while the 30-49 year olds get the least.

Let's say you sleep on an average of 5 hours per night and decide to try 8 hours for one night. The added 3 hours will produce nothing but tossing and turning. On the other hand, if you are used to 8 hours and sleep only 5, the loss of 3 hours will usually never be missed especially if you are doing something interesting. Losing sleep over long periods of time will lessen your efficiency.

Engineers mark week

National Engineers Week in March is being observed by the three local members of Douglas Houghton Chapter of the Michigan Society of Professional Engineers, Land Surveyors and Architects.

They are Franklin T. Burgess, registered civil engineer and land surveyor, and a retired superintendent of the Inland Lime and Stone Co. He is president of the U. P. Land Surveyors Association; Leif Christensen, registered chemical engineer and superintendent of operations for the Manistique Pulp and Paper Co., and Eugene E. Johnson, registered civil and mechanical engineer, and engineer for the Schoolcraft County Road Commission.

To qualify for registration in the state organization, applicants must have eight years of acceptable professional experience, pass written examinations and have their professional records approved by the state board.

Approximately two per cent of the engineers in the state are registered in two or more disciplines.

SPRING makes the difference

As you gaze at this scene of snow, ice, and leafless trees, your mind may skip ahead and picture green grass, abundant foliage, and a rippling stream. The very thought brings happiness. Spring makes the difference.

As grass, trees, and streams are fettered by winter, so some lives are bound by doubt, unbelief, lack of faith, and false ideas. When they come in contact with the Church, the love of God sets them free. They see new beauty in everything about them, and others see new beauty in their lives. As spring brings all nature to new life, so God's love makes human beings happier, gives them life more abundant.

No matter how strong the fetters which bind you, freedom can be yours through the Church and the message it brings to all. Why not accept that freedom today?

Clinic tests response good

Parents interested in having their child's speech, language, and hearing evaluated have been responding so favorably it appears that the clinic may have to be extended to two weeks.

The purpose of the clinic is to help locate pre-school children with speech and hearing problems in the two-county area.

A summer program will be planned to meet the needs of the children found to have severe problems.

For those children found to have only a mild problem, the parents will be provided with materials and recommendations on how to help the child improve his speech at home.

Parents who would like to have their children evaluated should call 425-2381 or write to David Featheringill, coordinator of Speech and Hearing, Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate School District, Box 70, Gladstone. An appointment time and place convenient for the parent will be arranged. If a parent cannot find a ride to one of the centers, transportation will be arranged through the Better Hearing and Speech Society. Also, if a parent is unable to bring the child to one of the centers, a home visit by one of the Speech and Hearing Therapists will be arranged.
