City facing water problem

Manistique faces the prospect of a major financial investment to improve the quality of its drinking water. City Council members learned at their regular meeting Monday night...

Clotis, Conchiano and John Erickson of the Michigan Department of Health office in Escanaba were present at the meeting to point up the need for increased water treatment and a new filtration plant.

City Manager Robert Nowak estimated the cost of such a plant as approximately $500,000.

Manistique's city water is currently drawn from the Indian River outlet of Indian Lake, at Indian Park pumping station. It is chlorinated before distribution.

The color, turbidity and bacteriology of the city's water is presently of poor quality, the state representatives said, although chemically it is safe.

It was pointed out that the quality of the water coming down from Indian Lake changes considerably from time to time, and the amount of chlorine needed for adequate treatment varies with these changes.

The possibility of putting the question of bonding the city for the construction of the facility was discussed. Such bonds would probably be general obligation bonds, because of the lower interest rate available on such offerings, but would be paid from the revenues of the water department.

This, in turn, would mean substantial increases in water rates in the city. The city's minimum bill is now $13.00 per quarter for water and sewer service. It was pointed out that Lacanania has recently increased their water rates to about $15 per month, and that such an increase might be necessary here to finance any water filtration facility.

The state office will draw up a timetable and submit a formal request to the city that it proceed with the program. Council also spent considerable time discussing the question of the 20-year-old well located near the city water tower by the siphon bridge.

State geologist Jack Van Alstyne traced the history of the well, which reached a maximum depth of 1,350 feet before it was abandoned. The water level at the time was rated unsatisfactory for use because of hardness and chlorides content.

Van Alstyne said it would be necessary to drill as deep as 1,600 to 1,800 feet to reach the Muskegon strata, where adequate water might be found, but said he felt it would have to create a device of hardness.

"In my opinion, there is not good water down there," he told the council. No action was taken. The problems of the city and water service again came up for discussion with Boyd Briggs, Schoolcraft County sanitarian, present to clarify state regulations on ambulance services, but a new report report into the impression that the ambulances were not in a good way, he said that only a two-place ambulance is required by the new state regulations, not a three-place as reported to the council. He asked, however, if the attendants were adequate water might be found, but said he felt it would have to create a device of hardness.

Now replied that it was his job to point out to the council that the present system could not meet local requirements, and of the danger of possible legal liability if operation is continued under those circumstances. To meet the new standards, a new ambulance and additional funds will be required, he said.

Councilman Leo B. Martin said the present vehicle was 14 and inadequate, and that it should probably be operated as a county service, not by the city.

Council discussed the possible first and second attendants, but to definite action was taken.

A resolution authorizing the city to borrow $12,000 for a two-year period to cover approximately half the cost of the new DWU always building the new under construction was approved. The other half is being financed by monies currently on hand.

Class of '70 lauded commencement talk

Contrasting 1922, the year of his high school graduation, with today, Worth said, "The uncertainties about what may be ahead breed no arrogance of prophecy. I could not have believed, when I was a boy, that my beloved country could ever become so troubled, that we Americans could be so angry, frustrated and willing to hurt others and to imperil our national security and the future of our children."

"It may not occur to some of us that our young people at the universities have been taught the effective use of music and threat by their elders, where acts done in the name of unionism, or of government, race, or some other strong force, have special treatment under our laws."

"It is intolerable for us to have our youth in revolt because they are our youth and because they do not like much of what we tolerate in the adult world."

"There is a serious confrontation here which is not well understood. We should fear, worst of all, the war between our youth groups, the university and non-university youths, and not that between youth and the older generation."

Two four week sessions will be held for Tot Lots and Pep Lots, running from June 15 to July 10 and from July 13 to Aug. 7. The Arts and Crafts program is scheduled for only the first session, Tot Lots at Lakeside and Lincoln schools from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday.

Speech therapy, for students who have already been selected, will start at the Lincoln School Tuesday, June 16, at 9 a.m., with David Featheringill of the Delta - Schoolcraft Intermediate District as coordinator.

It was also announced that registration for Recreation Baseball as part of the City Recreation program will be held at 1 p.m. Monday, June 15 at the softball field. Jerry Bellville will be director of the program.

The swimming program will get underway Monday afternoon, June 22. Buses will pick up students at Central and Lincoln schools, leaving at 1:30 p.m.

Selection of an architect, hiring of three teachers, disposal of the old Doyle school property, student insurance and expansion of the athletic program were all in the spotlight Tuesday evening at the regular meeting of the Manistique Area Board of Education.

It was the first session of the board to be broadcast, and the performers whizzed through a considerable stack of business in two-and-a-half hours, well ahead of their pre-broadcast rate of speed.

The Lansing firm of Warren Holmes was selected as the first choice of the board to provide architectural services for the proposed building or remodeling program. The firm will be contacted, and will probably appear before the board soon to discuss details.

Contracts will be offered three new teachers, Mrs. Ruth Nugent of Elberta, Mich. will be teaching Type A special education. Mrs. Katherine Barber, Lake Villa, Ill., will be teaching early elementary grades, while Mrs. Martha Henson, Carbondale, Ill., will be teaching high school math. What to do with the old Doyle Township building has been again a prime time topic--but no decision could be reached. The problem started several months ago when Jim Tenyson offered the board $500 for the old building and land. A board committee recommended at that time that the property be sold, but subsequently Peter Deper submitted a bid of $600 for the property, and at Tuesday night's meeting, a letter was received from Doyle Supervisor Richard Rodgers offering $400 from the township to share toward the estimated $800 cost of razing the building. The offer is good only if the property stays in the hands of the people.

Board member Robert Knop, one of the original board committee that investigated the proposed sale, said that although the township bid does throw a different light on the problem, he felt that the committee's original recommendation was ignored.

There was discussion on use of the land involved as a playground area during the winter, and it was pointed out that there are two wells and a septic tank still operable on the property. A motion to tear down the old building, with the school district retaining the property, received support from Jeanne Larson, Ralph Gillam and Margaret Waters, with William Mueller, Robert Knop and Leon Wood opposed. Board President Denton Nelson refused to break the deadlock, saying he felt the matter should continue to be tabled until the next meeting, when possibly Tenyson and others interested in the building could be present.

School summer programs start

Summer programs for the Manistique Area Schools and Manistique City Recreation Department will get underway next Monday, according to Richard Bonitas, who holds both titles of Community School Director and City Recreation Director.

Two four week sessions will be held for Tot Lots and Pep Lots, running from June 15 to July 10 and from July 13 to Aug. 7. The Arts and Crafts program is scheduled for only the first session, Tot Lots at Lakeside and Lincoln schools from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday.

State's new cycle law requires special license

Under the state's new motorcycle law which goes into effect June 1, do cycle riders have to be qualified Michigan motorists and have a valid driver's or chauffeur license? The answer... yes.

These are among the many questions being asked by motorcycle officials of the Michigan Department of State's driver license examining bureau as well as licensing stations manned by sheriff's and local police departments, reports Secretary of State James M. Hare.

"The first thing we want to get across is that the new law goes into effect June 1 but motorcycle drivers do not have to qualify for an endorsement until their driver licenses come up routinely for renewal or they obtain their first driver license, whether it be a regular three-year operator's license or the one-year chauffeur's license," said Hare.

Hare said that officials of the field services bureau of the Michigan Department of State had just completed a series of 15 schools throughout Michigan training examiners on the routine of the motorcycle examination which has to be passed for cyclists to obtain Michigan's endorsement. More than 400 examining personnel were trained.

The best way to become acquainted with the state's laws on motorcycles as well as getting some helpful safety tips on operation is through a new booklet, "What Every Motorcyclist Must Know," available at examining stations throughout Michigan, or by writing Michigan Department of State, Lansing, Michigan 48918.

Simply, it is an extension of a person's valid driver license. Applicants must pass a written test. And they must prove basic operating skills. Before a riding test will be given, proof must be shown that the cycle being tested and driven either is covered by liability insurance or that his owner has paid $35 into the Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund as an uninsured motorist.

Equipment on the motorcycle will be checked at the time the riding test is given. Also, the person being tested must make more information call or write Home Comforts, 810 N. Third St., Marquette, Michigan 49855 or call 228-9027.

It is unlawful to operate a motor-driven cycle at night without written permission from the chief law enforcement officer of the city, township, or county in which the operator lives. And the machine may not be operated faster than 35 miles an hour, or as set by local ordinance, whichever is less.

IT'S IN THE BOOK--Joseph Giovannianni, Michigan West Chairman for 1970 in Schoecraft County, has compiled a complete scrapbook on the event here this year, and expects it before sending it on to the Greater Michigan Foundation, sponsors of the annual celebration.

4-11 YOUTH WEEK: Phyllis Malmberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Junior Malmberg of Lewis, and Larry Brady, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Brady of Harshoff Township, are the delegates from Schoolcraft County who will attend State 4-11 Youth Week on the campus of Michigan State University June 17-20. These two delegates were selected by the 4-11 Awards Committee, State 4-11 Youth Week is a seminar and leadership experience which brings together youth from Michigan youth groups for stimulating discussions, speeches, tours and recreational activities.

Discussion points and speakers will focus on the theme - "What the World Needs Now." The varied program topics include the drug scene, morals of today's teens, caring for the aged and environmental systems. Program participants are: Dale Robinson of the National Education Association; Joe Wise, folk singer and philosopher from Lansingville, Ky.; Roger, Hugh Heaton, disc jockey director of radio and television, Grand Rapids; Darrell B. Thomas, Western Michigan University home economics professor; Russell Woodworth, assistant director of admissions and scholarships at Michigan State University; William Cooper, Michigan State University biologist; George S. Widney, director of the MSU Cooperative Extension Service; and Larry L. Gogger, dean of the MSU College of Agriculture and Natural Resources. A list of the program is published and presented by a committee of 4-11 members.

STRAWBERRY ROOT WEEVIL: Recently we have had several people in the county bring in the Strawberry Root Weevil for identification and information about the control. Therefore, I decided the following information may be of some value to you. Strawberry Root Weevil adults are about 1/4 inch long and blackish-brown. They have short, blunt snouts protruding from the front of the head. Their bodies are hard-shelled when fully mature, and the insect's elytra are pitted with small depressions. The adults crawl by because their upper wings are joined together. They usually begin migrating into buildings in July, and for 40 days or more may be found singly or in groups in bathrooms, cupboards, or even hanging from the ceilings. As far as is known, they do not damage clothes or food. Sometimes they cause trouble by getting into the working parts of household equipment. They are important because the householder may mistake them for much more troublesome insects such as bedbugs.

Control - Outside buildings: At the first sign of a Strawberry Root Weevil adult or, preferably, 2 teaspoons of 20 percent DDT emulsion.

Control - Inside buildings: DDTs of these same materials can be used instead of sprays. Use either five percent DDT emulsion, or one percent DDT.

Take special care to thoroughly spray or dust the sides and base of steps. Also spray or dust the grass for 10 feet away from the foundation. Repeat the treatment again around July 10, and after that if the insects reappear. Avoid applying emulsion type sprays to tender flowers and shrubs.

Insecticidal buildings - No insecticide is entirely satisfactory once the insects are protected by the building. A good fly spray containing 2 1/2 percent pyrethrum methoxychlor will give some control. The same may be said of 1/2 percent Diazinon oil solution, or two or three percent methalathion oil solution. Perhaps the best approach is to gather them up with a vacuum cleaner.

We have an excellent bulletin E-652 entitled "Casual Home - Invading Pest" by Michael Shinko, Department of Entomology, Michigan State University which may be of help to you if you have this problem.

There are two other bulletins we have just received E-676 "Vacation Homesites" solection and development, and a second revision of "Home Vegetable Garden" E-529.

Timber needs meeting set

A Forest Management and Harvesting Conference for Michigan and Wisconsin will be held on the campus of Michigan Technological University Sept. 17 and 18, it was announced this week.

What will be the demand for Upper Great Lakes forest products in the decade of the 70's? The projection of such demand for products will be presented by economists familiar with the resources of the area, the announced mill expansions of the region and the general market outlook. It is anticipated there will be a presentation of a cross sectional opinion.

What kind of harvesting systems will be used? Among factors to be considered are availability of new equipment, anticipated changes in labor supply, continuity of production will be gained over longer periods during any given year, silvicultural systems are expected to be adjusted to meet the demands of an aggressive and new all-species market. In the technological development of recent years, paper mills are able to take a far wider range of wood species than was true a decade ago.

This is expected to bring about a sharp change in waste production, and therefore equally marked changes in silvicultural development.

Related to that is the question of forest management in the light of new markets and harvesting systems. As silvicultural changes are effected and opportunities provided to mix a greater percentage of an all-species mix, management systems will become more important and logging mechanization more specialized, due to the major questions is whether harvest stands will be managed for fiber or saw logs.

In the past, except for a minor exception, hardwood was generally totally acceptable for sawlogs. Within all-species operations of paper mills, this is no longer true. While there are several soft hardwoods are suited only for fiber, a question arises when should management use even-aged systems on northern hardwood stands? It can have a major effect on the economy of the producing area, and upon the forest industry as a whole.

Timber, Inc., is actively involved in planning and organization of the conference and will have a major responsibility on the program.

This being Government Day, Michigan Week, the Board was invited and participated in a Breakfast at the Manistique Area School, with their student counterparts, who were elected in a special school election to membership on the Student Board of County Commissioners. Following the morning breakfast, the Board was called to order at 8:00 A.M., E.S.T., at the Court House, City of Manistique, Michigan.

The Board was called to order by Lindsay B. Frenette, Chairman.

The roll was called and noted as follows: Russell A. Tennant, whose counterpart was Karl Krumrey; Homer J. Weber, whose counterpart was Diane Reid; Ernest Holobik, whose counterpart was Louise Turk; Norman W. Jahn, whose counterpart was Kathy Cooper; Edward Jorgenson, whose counterpart was Gloria Stanekovich-Thurman-Skarritt, Sr.; whose counterpart was Barbara Holbrook and Lindsay B. Frenette, whose counterpart was Cindy Frenette.

Absent: None.

It was moved by Russell A. Tennant, supported by Ernest Holobik, that the minutes as read, after being corrected to reflect the fact that Homer J. Weber voted Nye instead of Aye in regard to the approval of the Board's request to prepare a Comprehensive Plan for Schoolcraft County for the sum of $12,000.00, be accepted. Carried by unanimous aye vote.

Commissioner, Edward Jorgenson, thanked the Board for the flowers sent him when he was confined in the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital.

A lengthy discussion was held on the Schoolcraft County Airport Expansion project. Chairman Frenette showed preliminary drawings of proposed expansion, and explained the intent of the project. He also announced the option to buy agreement with James Gierke and wife, has been executed to purchase the property owned by James Gierke and wife; and that the property owned by Ross Klagstad and wife could not be obtained by option agreement; therefore, this property would be purchased outright as of the time. After the Board reviewed the plans and inspected the option agreement and deed from Ross Klagstad and wife, it was moved by Norman W. Jahn, supported by Edward Jorgenson, that the sum of $8,190.00 be paid Ross Klagstad and wife for the following described parcel of land and that said money be taken from the Airport Expansion Appropriation of 1970.

Part of the West-half (W1/2) of the Southeast Quarter (SE1/4), Section Three (3), Township Forty-one (41) North, Range Fifteen (15) West, described as follows: Commencing at the Northwest corner of the Southeast Quarter (SE1/4); hence South fifty-three and one-half (53 1/2) rods to the P.O.B.; of the parcel to be conveyed; thence East and parallel to the Northline of the Southeast Quarter (SE1/4) sixty (60) rods; thence South and parallel to the West line of the Southeast Quarter (SE1/4) One thousand two hundred one and twenty-five hundredths (1,201.25) feet; thence West and parallel to the South line of the Southeast Quarter (SE1/4) Sixty (60) rods; thence North and along the West line of the Southeast Quarter (SE1/4) One thousand two hundred one and twenty-five hundredths (1,201.25) feet to the P.O.B.

Motion carried by unanimous aye vote.

Mr. Merwin White, President, Schoolcraft County Sportsmen's Club, appeared and spoke in behalf of a petition which he was submitting requesting that the proposition; namely to obtain an opinion of the citizens of Schoolcraft County on prohibiting the killing of antlerless deer in Schoolcraft County for a period of two years, be placed on the August 4th, 1970 election ballot.

It was moved by Thurman Skarritt, Sr., supported by Edward Jorgenson, that the following proposition be placed on the August 4th, 1970 election ballot, Motion carried by unanimous aye vote.

"Shall the killing of antlerless deer in Schoolcraft County be prohibited for a period of not less than two years, contrary to present policy of the Department of Natural Resources."

It was moved by Thurman Skarritt, Sr., supported by Russell A. Tennant, that the monthly report of the County Treasurer, William E. Cowman, on financial status of the County as of April 30, 1970, be adopted. Carried by unanimous aye vote.

County Treasurer, William E. Cowman, again asked the Board to set aside the sum of $10,000.00 for Court House improvements. The Chairman advised the Finance Committee Chairman, Ernest Holobik, to keep in close contact with the County Treasurer, and it was decided to repair and remodel the Court House in preference to constructing a new Court House, that a special appropriation be incorporated in the 1971 budget, or if any surplus exists in the General Fund at the end of the fiscal year, that this money be transferred to the Court House repair fund.

It was moved by Ernest Holobik, supported by Homer J. Weber, that the following resolution be adopted. Motion carried by unanimous aye vote.

ORDINANCE NO. 5

AN ORDINANCE CREATING A HOUSING COMMISSION FOR THE COUNTY OF SCHOOLCRAFT MICHIGAN

WHEREAS, insanitary and unsafe habitable dwelling accommodations exist in the County of Schoolcraft, Michigan; and WHEREAS, there is a shortage of safe and sanitary dwelling accommodations in the said County of Schoolcraft, available to persons who lack the amount of income which is necessary to enable them, without financial assistance, to live in decent, safe and sanitary dwellings without over-crowding; and WHEREAS, it is for the public interest that a housing commission be created in the said County of Schoolcraft, Michigan.

NOW, THEREFORE, THE COUNTY OF SCHOOLCRAFT ORDAINS: Section 1. Pursuant to Act No. 18, Michigan Public Acts of 1933, Extra Session, as amended, a commission is hereby created in and for the County of Schoolcraft, Michigan to be known as the "Schoolcraft County Housing Commission."

Section 2. The Chairman of the Board of Commissioners of the said County of Schoolcraft is hereby directed to appoint the members of the said Schoolcraft County Housing Commission as soon as possible after this ordinance shall take effect.

Section 3. The County Clerk is hereby directed to cause this ordinance to be published as soon as possible in Manistique Pioneer-Tribune, published in the County of Schoolcraft, Michigan, and to be posted in ten (10) public places throughout the County of Schoolcraft.

The motion to adopt said ordinance was seconded by Mr. Homer J. Weber, and upon roll call the following voted Yea: Messrs. Tennant, Russell A.; Skarritt, Thurman; St. Weber; Homer J.; Holobik, Ernest; Jahn, Norman W.; Jorgenson, Edward; Frenette, Lindsay B. Nay: Messrs. None.

Thereupon the Chairman Lindsay B. Frenette declared said Ordinance duly passed.

The meeting was adjourned at 3:00 o'clock P.M., E.S.T. (SEAL) Ferdinand Lesica County Clerk.

City Councilman, Leo Demars, spoke to the Board relative to participation by the County with the City of Manistique, to purchase a snorkel type device to be adapted to the County Fire Truck, and used in fighting fires. Mr. Demars stated, that from preliminary quoted prices the cost of the device would be from $9,500.00 to $10,000.00, in addition to the installation costs. The matter was referred to the Finance Committee for consideration and further study and recommendation.

Also discussed with the County Board was the matter of waste disposal dumps and the need for a co-ordinated effort by units of Government to meet the new requirements and work out some economic policy of dump usage. Mr. Demars was asked to check with the City Council on the County proposal to have the City furnish $750.00 for dog control, for the city's share of dog enforcement now being furnished by the County.

Joel Carley, Supervisor of Inwood Township, appeared before the Board to complain about the Manistique Fire Department refusing to answer a fire call in Inwood Township. Carley stated that the County could not morally or legally provide fire protection for only a portion of the County. Carley further stated that he felt the County had three alternatives, namely: (1) Sell the County owned Fire Truck, (2) Place the fire truck at a county facility and furnish protection to all of the County, and (3) Furnish subsidy on state equalized valuation basis to Inwood Township and City to compensate for lack of services being rendered. The Board reviewed the matter with Mr. Carley and discussed the various problems and possibilities.

Monday, May 18, 1970

Thereupon the Board adjourned for a noon luncheon with their counterparts at the Surf Restaurant.

The Board was called to order by its Chairman, Lindsay B. Frenette.

The roll was called and all members were present along with their counterparts.

It was moved by Homer J. Weber, supported by Thurman Skarritt, Sr., that the matter of establishing a Building Authority be tabled for further study and investigation of persons to serve on said Authority.

"OUT OUR WAY"

News From Road 437

summer breezes have blown their way to us from the peacefulness of the sky and fluffy white clouds that wander slowly by. The day ends, the light of dawn and twinkling stars and the beauty of the night sky and the songs of the frogs and the chirping of the crickets will make our trip an enjoyable one.

On the way back to the house, I saw a foxglove over the top of the river, and I was glad to see it. They are so beautiful. They are so mysterious as they trail through the forest down the hill. The sweet fragrance through the air. I hope to get my plants in this week, as some have been in the ground for some time. The weather sends out a message of the open road, the lakes, rivers and streams and their invitation of vacation time to enjoy the summer season comes in. My wife Dolly and children, Pam, David and Michael, come home. He has spent three years in England in the U. S. Air Force. He will be home a month and then will leave for Vietnam. His wife and children will reside in Manistiquette.

What a lovely morning we are having out our way. With the summer breezes come the beauty of the night sky and the songs of the frogs and the chirping of the crickets will make our trip an enjoyable one.

On my trip, while on a fishing vacation at Indian Lake, my husband suffered a heart attack and was taken to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital. From the moment he was admitted he received the very best of care. You are indeed fortunate to have such an efficient and well staffed organization. The doctors, nurses, lab technicians, aides, office and maintenance staff all seemed to take a personal interest in making him as comfortable as possible. We appreciated the visits of the Presbyterian pastor and his words of comfort. During my stay in a nearby hotel, I was shown the same friendly concern in the restaurants and shops. At first I thought it was because we were from out of town, but now I am certain they are always like that - just naturally kind and concerned with other people's troubles.

My husband was transferred to our hospital by air ambulance, arranged for by the Bernard Flight Service, the company to improve, thanks to the excellent care he received in Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital. Manistique will always be a very special place to us and we hope to return sometime in the future. Thanks to you all.

Most Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hagen

To the Editor:
Long live our educators! Graduation Day is a most momentous occasion; a day never-to-be forgotten. A treasured note of thanks is due to those who made it all possible. I feel an overwhelming debt of gratitude to those who were instrumental in bringing the Adult Education program to this community. Also to the teachers, who gave so generously of their time and energies that brought us to this point. And let us not forget our wonderful families whose words of encouragement, and unselfish cooperation, spurred us onward.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Filing time getting near

It's getting near deadline time, but there still remain many candidates.

Next Tuesday at 4 p.m. is the deadline for filing nominating petitions for township offices, county commissioners, prolate judge, state representative, state senator, U.S. representative, U.S. senator and governor.

As of 2 p.m. Tuesday, County Clerk Ferdinand Lesica reported only three local filings—Harold McNamara for county commissioner, and Norman John and Russell Tennant for county commissioners. All are incumbents.

All of these candidates will be on the ballot for the primary election Aug. 4.

marked in this year's and next year's budget.

The first resolution advertising the city's intention to lease a parcel of property on N. Maple St. to Thor and Florence Reque was approved. The parcel contained the A&W stand operated by the Reques. The proposed lease would be for a five-year period at $25 per month, with a six-months termination clause.

Council also approved the first resolution on the city's intent to exchange a small parcel of property on Elm St. with Charles Frankovich. The exchange is needed to square off property being used in the low-income housing project on the site of the old Paily Cheese factory.

A request from the Liquor Control Commission for a new SDM license for Harold C. Bullard for a Class C operation at 315 Deer St. was approved, along with a resolution approving the municipal maintenance contract of the State Highway Department from July 1 to next June 30.

William Stephens of N. First St. appeared before Council to complain of dust in the area, and was told that chloride would be spread there Wednesday.

Thomas Hololik of Lake St. also appeared to complain about a vacant lot on the street owned by Louis Landweh that he said was in violation of the city public ordinance. This will be filled in as soon as possible, he was told.

Hololik also said that the lawn at the Senior Citizens Center should have been mowed for Memorial Day, and Council agreed that the understanding with the group was that they would be responsible for maintenance of the area.

Ralph Ekstrom, City Clerk

the high school was authorized, at an estimated cost of $7,000. Remodeling of the industrial arts area, which would involve some masonry work and involving the welders to a new location, was discussed, but no action was taken because the State Fire Marshal had not yet appeared for consent action on the move. Knoph pointed out that any major remodeling might hinge on what type of program is planned by the architect.

The administration was given authority by the board to purchase textbooks and supplies for next year, up to $15,000, even though the budget has not yet been approved. Many orders must be placed now to ensure delivery by the opening of school in the fall.

That opening will come earlier this year, following adoption of a proposed 1970-71 calendar submitted by the Manistique Teachers' Club. School will open Aug. 31 with teachers' meeting and registration, with all pupils reporting Sept. 1. Labor Day is not now Sept. 7 to this year, which accounts for the earlier start. School will close June 4.

Payment of sick leave to Sue Kingsley for partial reimbursement toward the cost of an educational course was approved by the board, 5-2, with Knoph and Leon Wood voting no.

A letter from Head Start officials requested space for their operation again next year. A motion that the district provide space so long as it does not interfere to a great extent with the regular school program was passed, 5-2, with Knoph and Wood voting no. Both explained that they felt there was a possibility the program would conflict with local district needs.

In other action, the board: Approved a maternity leave of absence for Mrs. Nancy Brown, Ilwacoita teacher, and the resignation of vocal music instructor Arlene Gordinier; Accepted a grant of $2,750 for purchase of elementary grades reference material under the Elementary-Secundary Education Act Title II; Approved the purchase of new chemistry texts and workbooks; Accepted the report of the Board of Censors for Monday School election;

Discussed procedures to be used at their second meeting of the month and agreed that policy discussion would be on the agenda for the June and July sessions.

Friends and Relatives are invited to attend the wedding and reception for Debbie Tanguay and Michael Turan Wedding: June 20, 2 p.m., St. Mary's Church, Cooks.

Reception: Isabella Grange Hall, 5 p.m.

Young drivers aren't necessarily bad drivers. We may be inexperienced but we use extra caution and care. We are going through a complete drivers training program so we know the rules of the road when we do get our license. I'm Rick Martin and I'm a sophomore at Manistique High School. I hope you'll drive with extra care and be on the lookout for small children now that they are out of school.

Good words

THANK YOU, Margaret Chase Smith.

The esteemed lady Senator from Maine took the floor of the Senate last week with an eloquent warning on the dangers of extremism. It was not a partisan speech. Excesses of dissent "on the extreme left can result in repression of dissent," she warned, but also added, "Excesses on the extreme right, such as those 20 years ago, can mute our national conscience."

Her remarks underscored a point that is often lost in the flaming rhetoric that comes from both sides in our current national debate. That is, there is a lunatic fringe in both the conservative and liberal camps, and that this relatively small proportion invites far more attention and concern than they warrant.

Mrs. Smith's reference to 20 years ago was to her "declaration of conscience" that came in the early days of the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy's allegations of communists in high government offices.

"As was the case 20 years ago when the Senate was silenced and politically intimidated by one of its members," she said, "so too many Americans are intimidated and made mute by the emotional violence of the extreme left."

She called for the "great center of our people, those who reject the violence and unreasonableness of both the extreme right and the extreme left," to search and declare their consciences.

Particularly apt is her warning that "extremism, bent upon the polarization of our people, is increasingly forcing upon the American people the narrow choice between anarchy and repression." For she further warned, "if that narrow choice has to be made, the American people, even if with reluctance and misgiving, will choose repression."

Her warning should not be taken lightly. As the Christian Science Monitor commented editorially, "No one familiar with American history, with the present swing in public opinion, with America's firm basic commitment to an orderly middle class life can doubt the rightness of her assessment."

The Monitor further comments:

"Yet there is great hope in the fact that such words are spoken and will be heard and read by millions. Today one of the worst of crimes is to be numbered among those unfaithful stewards who see the danger and yet give no warning. Or, who fall into the practice condemned in this verse from Psalm: 'I was dumb with silence, I held my peace, even from good.' It was Senator Smith's speech against the disgraceful antics of Wisconsin's Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy exactly 20 years ago to the day, which helped work on the country's conscience until his demagoguery and falsehoods were driven from public life.

"We have never believed, and we do not believe today that the United States will fall into the bottomless pit of real repression or that it cannot rally its moral strength and its practical sense to the point of finding a workable accommodation among the various factions and tendencies now abroad in the land. But to do so, the country needs straight thinking and speaking. Senator Smith has contributed both."

There is strength enough in this country, despite the differences we have, to survive the intemperate attacks from the lunatic fringes on both sides of the political equation. There are voices of reason to be heard as well, and we must learn to separate the wheat from the chaff as we gather the harvest of whirlwind.

ALONG THE SIDELINES with Dave Rood

Guide to the U.P.

Three days of sunshine in a row have convinced me that there may eventually be a summer here this year, which means that when summer comes, can tourists be far behind?

They sure do live up the area in July and August, tourists do, and I am properly grateful for the boost they give what we like to refer to as our local economy. (I have always wondered about the use of that word, economy. In some cases it can be a synonym for thrift, but not when you're talking about tourists.)

Tourists are easy to spot. They wear bright shirts and sunglasses and shorts, are sunburned, and usually drive through town with their winders rolled up so the black bears and the Indians can't get to them. They say Paste-ease instead of Pass-lease and Mackinack instead of Mackinaw, and are always looking at the map to see how to get back on the freeway.

As a service for the Upper Michigan Tourist Association and the Automobile Club of Michigan, I offer this list of outstanding attractions that no visitor to the Upper Peninsula should miss, and their hideposts.

THE HIGH ROLLWAYS. Many tourists think these are gambling casinos for big-money crapsshooters. This is not true. The term derives from the old lumbering days when the lumberjacks would get high and just for fun would pick up logs and trunk them into the lake or river. There are High Rollways near Brevort, Grand Marais, Manistique and Ruce's Rossing.

WILD BEARS.—These are not to be confused with tame bears, which are kept in roadside zoos and drink pop. They train bears to drink pop by weaning them on Bosh beer, which conditions them to grab any bottle offered them and guzzle away. Wild bears are found at numerous garbage dumps throughout the peninsula, where they may be found eating tourist leftovers and week-old pasties. Most of them have stomach trouble and can best be placated by a bottle of Pento-Bismol, which many of them confuse with Bosh beer.

OLD INDIAN BURIAL GROUNDS. These are usually found in close proximity to Indian cemeteries, where they buried young Indians.

THE ORIGINAL IRON MINE. This is one of those unique attractions in which adults must be accompanied by miners, and not to be confused with Underground Movies, where minors must be accompanied by adults.

THE ORIGINAL COPPER MINE. Same as above, but indigenous to the Copper Country.

SCENIC ROUTE. In this instance, scenic is a synonym for motels, who have paid to have the sign erected.

SPECIAL RATES. This means they are only 25 per cent higher than off-season rates, which in turn are only slightly higher than winter rates.

YOUR 500,000 ACRE PLAYGROUND. 500,000 acres of cutover land.

MODERN ACCOMMODATIONS. Indoor plumbing.

STRICTLY MODERN ACCOMMODATIONS. Indoor plumbing with running water.

STRICTLY MODERN DELUXE ACCOMMODATIONS. The above with hot water.

FAMILY PLAN. Children are not admitted free.

PASTY CAPITAL OF THE U.P. This depends on where you are. It should not be confused with U.S. west from St. Ignace, where you will find roadside stands proclaiming The Original Pasty, the Foot-Long Pasty, and the Chocolate-Covered Pasty.

At present the competition is mainly between Ishpeming, Negaunee, Iron River, Crystal Falls and Ironwood. There is also some division between the original Cousin Jack, or Cornish Pasty, and its latter day derivation, the Finnish Pasty, with the Cornishmen favoring a few more taters and a few less rutabagas.

Copper Country Pasties have been disqualified from the competition, as they are thought to contain a trace of manganese.

This is only a preliminary listing of things to do, places to see and signs to watch for. We are planning a special late autumn supplement for deer hunters that should be on the newsstands by early November.

KIDNEDAMAWIN

A few days ago I ran across a copy of "Kidnedamawin." I realized I neither knew how to pronounce it, nor what it meant. It was, however, the M.I.S. yearbook for the class of 1923.

Browsing through, I discovered some interesting comparisons between this group and the one graduated last Thursday—47 years later.

The high school looks much the same in the picture, but the trees are not so tall.

The boys wore no sideburns, but one can observe pompadour hair styles and some sharp parts down the middle—perhaps in defiance of the wishes of their parents. The longest sideburns and the only mustache was worn by Tom Clemis, the late superintendent.

Dress lengths were well below the knee—about the same as the Paris designers are promoting today. The girls all wore black stockings. Their hairdos just covered the ears and were puffed out on the sides. In gym photos, they wore white middie and black bloomers.

There was a girls' varsity basketball team and it played Escanaba and Gladstone. The most points scored by any boys' basketball team was 23. The girls' varsity scored 33.

The nicknames were rather unflattering: Chad, Crow, Floss, Finner, Skinny, Patch, Dumbett, Poops, Bug, Barrel, and Bush for girls.

The ones for boys must have provoked a few fights: Gussie, Clara, Goosey, Sweet Wm., Snootie, Sausage, and Guinea Pig.

They left the same things in their class with size and weight, dimples, everlasting smiles, deacon-like habits, pugilistic ability, height, slinness, and literary competence. They predicted about the same things for the graduates: a president, a secretary of state, three cabinet members, and various and sundry economic and professional successes.

The class began as freshman in 1912 and numbered 130, but only 78 were graduated and that was the largest M.I.S. class to date. Talk about drop-outs—that's 40 per cent reduction!

The advertisers and sponsors have changed. Both banks were represented, of course, with a heavy emphasis on thrift and saving. Lundstrom's Garage was advertising Studebakers, Buicks, and Duxants. L. Mallette took an ad for the Hotel Osaawinamakee and there were congratulations from Manistique Brass and Bronze, Manistique Handle Company, Charcoal Iron, White Marble Lining, and Brown Lumber Company.

The class motto in 1923 was "Give the world the best you have, and the best will come back to you." (I wondered if they did, and if it had).

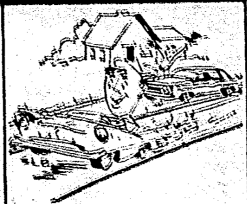

The class of '23 wrote "with a smile on our lips and sorrow in our hearts, we are about to leave old M.I.S. carrying with us fond memories of the many good times we had there."

The class of '23 wasn't really so different.

Michigan was the first state to establish roadside picnic tables.

Know Your Points!

BEBA Bill says:

If you become involved in an accident which results in an injury or death to a person or damage to a vehicle, Michigan law requires that you stop and give your name, address and the registration number of the vehicle you are driving, the name and address of the owner, and show your driver's license to the person injured or the driver or occupants of the damaged car. You also should give reasonable assistance in securing medical aid or transportation. Failure to do this is a misdemeanor and means 6 points on your driving record. Bring 'em back ALIVE!

How many kitchen appliances do you have? After the blender demonstration I used mine whenever possible and looked through my blender cookbook for ideas. I found many I'd like to try - and I will someday. I love the little mini containers because they're so handy for small blending jobs and can also be used for storage. If you do not have a set you might like to ask one of your dealers about them. Be sure, though, that the jar top will fit your blender.

Not too long ago, you were well stocked if you had an electric coffee maker, a toaster, a mixer and a skillet. How many others do you have? What will be your next purchase - can opener, blender, waffle baker, knife, ice crusher, juicer, food grinder, griddle, knife sharpener, deep-fat fryer, warming tray - you name it.

There are many kinds of each one on the market. For instance, toasters now come in slim shapes, control the toast color and raise and lower the bread automatically. A new toaster uses an electronic sensor to measure the moisture removed from the bread. It toasts very quickly - two slices in less than a minute.

Toaster-broilers can be used not only for toast but for broiling steaks. Some have a variety of heat settings and the tray can be adjusted at different distances from the heating element.

The appliance I'm most interested in is a toaster-oven or a broiler-oven and I became even more interested after I cleaned my oven. The biggest problem for me is storage. To get full use of any appliance, it should be stored in a convenient place. And will I use it often enough to be worth the purchase price and storage space that it will take?

Doyle park funds requested by DNR

Funds for development of the Doyle Township Park are included in a $28,607 grant being readied by the Department of Natural Resources for legislative approval.

The funds would come from the $100 million recreational bond monies approved by state voters last year.

Also included in the grant are four projects in and around Sault Ste. Marie.

"Approval is virtually assured," State Rep. Charles Varnum said last week. "The only time these grants are ever disapproved is if the legislator from the district affected objects. Certainly I have no objection to these needed projects."

ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE THIS SUNDAY

This message is brought to you by the following local business establishments... in the interest of strengthening community churches:

MANISTIQUE PULP & PAPER CO.

THE DOOR through which hundreds of laughing brides and grooms have made their exit in a shower of rice.

THE DOOR through which a thousand babies have been brought for holy baptism.

THE DOOR through which tens of thousands have entered to worship God and left to serve mankind.

THE DOOR which opens and closes countless times — always leaving its mark on the souls of men and women.

Today before THE DOOR boy meets girl. No better time. No better place.

Will their friendship blossom into love? Will they one day share that shower of rice — and bring their own child to the font?

THE DOOR cannot answer such questions.

But THE DOOR can open for them, as it does for all men, the Way to God's blessing in our dreams and our hopes.
