Portable room may solve crowding

Purchase of a portable classroom and the terms of an additional teacher will probably be the solution to overcrowding this fall in the Hiawatha School.

That decision was reached Tuesday night at the regular meeting of the Manistique Area Schools Board of Education, held at the Central School.

Hiring of the additional teacher was approved by the board, and a committee named to investigate the lease or purchase of a portable classroom. Named to the committee were Board President William Mueller, Leon Wood, Donnie Nelson and Robert Knapp. The committee was given the power to proceed with the purchase of a unit.

Business Manager Robert Knorra said the prices on one unit he had checked out were $2,000 for a one-year lease, plus $800 if the building is removed at the end of the year, or a total purchase price of $11,000. This unit is 24 by 34 feet structure, completely equipped except for tables and furniture. It could be used for one classroom.

The Hiawatha problem arose when 22 fourth graders and 25 fifth graders enrolled in the combined 100-50 grade there this fall. "The total of 45 is too large for a combination room," Sgt. Edna Winkle reported, "and we cannot solve the problem by putting additional classrooms in the third and sixth grades, as they are also too large." Transfer of some to the Lincoln School was ruled out because Lincoln does not have a hot lunch program.

Until the portable classroom is installed, the extra class will be conducted in the kindergarten and the gymnasium at Hiawatha.

Ratification of the auxiliary employees contract was approved by the board. Total approximate additional cost of the new agreement was $15,500,000, with the maximum increase in all classified rates, an increase in the school's participation in hospitalization insurance, and the addition of Easter Monday as a paid holiday.

Several changes in the board's policy booklet were approved. These included allowing bus buses to attend games more than 75 miles away, plus a statement allowing credit toward a diploma for supervised work experience for special education students. Another policy statement passed by a 5-2 vote, with Robert Knapp and Leon Wood voting no. The policy reads: "It shall be the policy of the Manistique Area Board of Education to assign pupils to school buildings which will provide the best situation with the resources available. The responsibility for assigning pupils rests with the administration."

Payment of $1,000 in special assessment of the city for 200 feet of curbing at Lincoln School was tabled by the board, after discussion as to whether the district could be legally assessed for the work.

Sick leave pay for four faculty members to help defray expenses of education courses was approved by a 6-1 vote, with Knapp voting no. The teachers applying were Patricia Stapleton, Richard Larson, Gerald Wilson and Ronald Bahlinski.

Stanley Arnold was approved for the post of coordinator for the new continued vocational education program. The job will be in addition to his other teacher duties. Lists of substitute teachers, teacher aides and substitute bus drivers were also approved.

State Police and local officers are jointly investigating the break-in at the Zion Lutheran Church sometime Saturday night or Sunday morning. The church site was damaged.

In Manistique Township, Linda Walters had defeated James Gierke, 61-37, and will be unopposed in November in seeking the job held now by her husband, Leonard.

BOAT SPREAD -- Workers from the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries fired a salvo their continuing war against the lamprey eel last Wednesday as they poisoned the Manistique River, spraying the lampreycide from buses attached to the 530 Line boat bridge.

Lamprey battle continues

Another skirmish was fought against the lamprey eel here last week, as some casualties among the resident fish population were declared.

Workers from the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries of the Interior sprayed lampreycide into Manistique River at the railroad bridge Wednesday.

This was not excessive in view of the results achieved. The fisheries men put in a dose of two parts per million of the larvicide for 12 hours. It said that walleyes were particularly susceptible to the poison, but added that the remaining fish are definitely safe for eating.

Marblehead Creek, between Manistique and Gulliver, was also treated last week, and was described as a major breeding ground for the eels.

The lamprey takes from four to seven years to develop through the larval stage to adulthood, officials said, adding that an effective treatment at such as the one last week will provide a major deterrent to their development for several years.

THE ENEMY -- But the poisoning also did its job. The lamprey can be seen here alongside a mature fish. Both larvae and adult eels were killed in the poisoning.

A cabin that just grew

A cabin that "just grew" without benefits of skilled architects and master craftsmen now adorns the property of Paul and Joan Reilly near Garden.

The Reillys purchased the old Hornstein property last April and moved a house trailer there in which to spend the summer.

While Mr. Reilly was in Detroit this summer, Joan and her seven children decided to build a cabin--and without any professional help, simply picked their spot and started to work.

"There was no running water, so they hauled water from the bay for their cement. Stones from the beach were also hauled up to make part of the floor. Trees were cut down and peeled.

"The cabin just sort of grew," Mrs. Reilly said, adding that if a carpenter saw it he would think it was a nightmare. Neighbors however, report the building is true in no assurance that all the windows hang perfectly.

The only thing not yet completed is the roof, which has been delayed by rain.

"Mrs. Reilly intends to use the cabin as a private spot for the pursuit her hobbies of writing and painting next year. The family plans to visit their new "home" sometime during the fall and winter months, and will return again for next summer.

CASUALTIES -- The poisoning took some unhappy side effects. Just not as bad as anticipated. Fisherman Pete McBarney gathered about three dozen dead fish, including walleyes, coho and coho jacks, that were found the next day.

Pilot in accident

A Fenton, Mich. pilot escaped injury Saturday afternoon when his airplane was involved in a landing accident at the Blaney Resort air strip.

Jack K. Orritt, 40, was landing on the strip, heading north, and had gone about 150 feet when the nose wheel of his plane dug into the ground, collapsing. The propeller also dug in.

The accident occurred at 1 p.m.

Ruppe to visit

Congressman Phil Ruppe will be in Manistique Friday to help in the election.

The Republican incumbent plans to tour both the business district and outlying areas during his one-day visit here.

Two are graduated from nursing program

Bonnie Hentschell and Karen Lascid, both of Manistique were among 19 practical nurses to receive diplomas at graduation exercises recently at Lake Superior State College. The graduates of the P. N. program successfully completed the 50-week course and most have begun employment in various hospitals in the state. Prof. Margaret Howe of the LSSC English faculty gave the commencement address. Dr. Kenneth A. Shindler, LSSC president, presented the diplomas.

Drug abuse program set

A drug abuse education program will be presented by the Manistique-Delta-Schoolcraft Community Action Agency Saturday at 2:30 p.m., at the Catherine Bonifas Civic Center in Escanaba.

Problems and curative efforts of local law enforcement agencies will also be discussed.

The public is urged to attend.

Commission contests ahead for November

There will be contests in four of the seven county commissioner districts in November's election.

Three of the four contests will be in the city with the other in Doyle-Mueller District 2.

At present there are six Democrats on the seven-member board, with Ed Jorgenson of District 7 the sole Republican.

Board Chairman Lipsigley, Fremont of District 2, composed of Mueller and Doyle townships, polled 115 votes running unopposed for the Democratic nomination. He will be challenged by Republican Lefoy Brick, who was nominated with 45 votes.

In District 5, in the city of Manistique, incumbent Homer Weber won the Democratic nomination with 52 votes, while George Danko was nominated by the Republicans with 51 votes.

Incumbent Norman Jan was nominated without opposition by the Democrats in City District 6, polling 42 votes, while the Republicans turned out 102 votes in nominating Dino Pirolo to oppose him.

Jorgenson rolled up 91 votes in District 7 to win the GOP nomination unopposed, while Democrat Earl Lehtinen was nominated with 33 votes.

Democratic incumbents who were re-nominated without opposition in the primary include Ernest Holobik in the Thompson-City District, who totaled 71 votes; Thurman Skarriff of the Seney; Germain Skarriff, with 43 votes, and Russell Tennant, in the Hiawatha-Inwood combination, with 76 votes,

Have you been tempted to sew "legare"? It seems to be a fad now and I am ready to try it. I now have a pattern for a slity, a piece of soft yellow nylon jersey fabric with lace to match and it's going to be a "just for the fun of it" project. I'm not sure that I'm saving money and it will take up one item I'm very short of and that's time.

It's a new experience so I did need to find information on handling the fabric before I could start. This is being gathered together and will be available in mimeo form for those

Plan display of equipment

One of the features of the Forest Symposium, to be held in Marquette Sept. 17-18 will be a demonstration on the successful day of fall tree and tree length harvesting methods.

The symposium, jointly sponsored by the fall session of the Society of American Foresters and Timber, Inc., will devote Sept. 17 to a discussion of the problems facing forest managers in considering new harvesting methods, and at mid-morning Sept. 18 will adjourn to accommodate the field session.

Arrangements for this have been made by Timber, Inc., pegboard. An area close to fishing has been chosen.

The "Yippo" processor will be used in the full tree demonstration. The prototype machine has been developed in the Upper Peninsula, by K & K Company in Rock, and has attracted widespread interest in the forest industry. It takes full trees, limbs, tops and all, and processes them into 100-lb length pulpwood at the rate of 24 to 20 cords a day with a three-man crew.

A relatively new mechanized unit, the S & L Slasher, will be used in tree length demonstration. This takes a tree that has already been de-limbed and topped, and processes it into eight-foot lengths, ready for pulpmill. This slasher will be demonstrated by Bob Loomis of Prentice-Franklin Company, Prentice, Wis.

Felling and skidding for this operation will be done by Gartner Equipment Company, Escanaba, with a shear mounted on a Gartner mini-skidder. This is a guillotine type shear capable of felling and bunching trees.

The demonstration will be held about 12 miles south of Ishpeming in a stand of good jack pine managed by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

The purpose of the demonstration is to emphasize today's possibilities, with low cost timber harvesting techniques developing high production capabilities.

Also being demonstrated at this time will be an Anchor-Pad scarifier used with a Fieco equipment shows encouraging possibilities for use in ground preparation for natural regeneration of Jack Pine, and should be of interest to all foresters who have been plagued by this problem.

Plans are being developed, hopefully to the end that the equipment may be continued on scene for another week to permit public showing on an actual logging operation.

The technical demonstration is expected to attract between 80 and 100 of those attending the Symposium. The business session and first day program will bring about 200 delegates to Marquette.

Throw Snow The Modern Way With A JACOBSEN Tractor

Snow shoveling today is not only outdated, it's also dangerous. With Jacobsen compact LT, Chief, or Super Chief, you needn't worry about sore muscles or aching back. A big 36" capacity, two stage snow thrower attachment moves giant amounts of snow quickly and easily. The large auger chews up the snow, hi-speed second stage rotor spins it out, and the directional chute puts it out of the way where you want it. For lighter jobs, a 34" or 38" single stage thrower is available as well as snow plow blades.

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor:

One of the basic aims of the Veterans of Foreign Wars as set down in its Congressional Charter is "to foster Democracy Scholarship Program has proven itself to be an effective instrument for putting those words into action."

Each year high school students in the 10th, 11th, 12th grades are given the opportunity to compete for worthwhile awards by organizing their thoughts about their American heritage and what it means to dwell as a citizen in this country. Words such as "Democracy," "Citizenship" and "Heritage" mean little until one takes time to think, write and speak about them. The Voice of Democracy Scholarship Program affords encouragement and material incentives for our youth to consider our Freedom Heritage and its meaning for them. The process of putting their own ideas down on paper, or broadcasting them on radio and television, sharpens and fortifies their understanding of our country and their role in the preservation of Freedom Heritage.

Students have acknowledged many intangible rewards for participating in this program. The scholarship awards for those provided in other national youth programs. On the national level, winners share college scholarships worth $22,500 with $10,000 going for first place, $8,000 for second, $5,500 for third, $2,500 for fourth and $1,500 for fifth place. Each state winner is also given a six-day tour of our nation's shrines and monuments in Washington, D. C., with all expenses paid. During this visit to the capital they are given the opportunity to observe firsthand the workings of the federal government. Sitting in on congressional committee hearings, visiting with their representatives in the Congress, dining with top-ranking administration officials, these young people absorb an experience that for them, transforms their government from a remote and impersonal creature into a living body.

The program is wholeheartedly endorsed by high ranking government officials, by National and State Associations of Broadcasters and by the National and State Associations of Secondary School Principals.

With anti-American agitation running rampant on many college campuses and support waning for us service men fighting overseas, there has probably been no time in our nation's history when a positive attitude program such as the Voice of Democracy has been so badly needed. Young people need to be given the opportunity and the encouragement to develop and express the interest love they have for their country. This we give them in the Voice of Democracy Scholarship Program.

MEASLES... A childhood disease caused by a filterable virus and passed on from person to person by droplet spray from the mouth and throat of an individual incubating the disease. It appears in epidemic form usually in the Spring of the year in about three year cycles. Grandmother and great-grandmother took care of the problem by putting all the children in one bed so they could all come down with it at once and get it over with. In most cases it worked out O.K., but in others there were some tragic developments. Measles in itself is not so bad, but the complications can be frightening. At the least, these is loss of hearing due to Otitis, the most horrifying is Encephalitis resulting at times in permanent brain damage. Grandma did the best she could and if complications developed it could not be helped. Today as a result of virus research, the disease can be prevented or attenuated so that a child can develop immunity and still be safe from complications. We have had a safe and effective Measles Vaccine for some years now. Why then do we still have so many children suffering from measles caused brain damage and deafness? Can the reason be PARENT APATHY? See your pediatrician and ask him about Measles Vaccine for your child. Take care of it now if you have not already done so.

Extension News Notes

Howard H. Handorf County Extension Director

Late last week there was a dispute over the timing of injection of the lampbrush in the Manistique River. I realize that there were a fair number of fish killed and also realize there was an 40-shore wind which slowed the drainage of the river into the Lake. The poison concentrated more than plans called for. As a fisherman it is really easy to sit back and criticize the Department of Interior, Bureau of Commercial Fishery folks for what appears to be a gigantic booby. However, as your county agent, one who has seen the use of economic poisons and herbicides, I can only sit back and say there but for the grace of God go I. There are many variables involved in something like this and I am not aware of all of them and had nothing to do with this. I do sweat, however, every time I recommend a poison for insects or fungicide to a homemaker for fear he will apply something which I did not recommend (something with a similar sounding name) and then say the stuff I recommended was no damn good or else solved the problem all right but killed the crop.

MEETINGS: All members of our 4-H Council will have received notices regarding a meeting September 14, Monday evening, 7:30 p.m., in the basement of the Post Office. We have a full agenda for the evening: New Flat Book Advertising, Sales, Girls' and Boys' Health Program, Teen Leadership training at Iron Mountain, also plans for National 4-H Club Week.

Also, Tuesday evening, September 15, 7 p.m., we are planning an organizational meeting of the Schoolcraft County Teen Club in the basement of the Post Office. We hope you will attend and find out what the program is all about this year. We are sending notices to all older 4-H'ers and asking them to come with a friend. As you know we are a Service Club, however, we are planning another exchange trip or visit with the Houghton Teen Club coming to Manistique this time, and many, many more such events can be planned if you wish. This program is entirely up to you, try and come and see what it is all about!

CHEVY'S NEW LITTLE CAR IS OPEN FOR BUSINESS.

We call it Vega. We also call it "the little car that does everything well."

Because it does everything? Everything.

Vega moves well, stops well, steers well, rides well, handles well, responds well, passes well, travels well, parks well, wears well, and is priced well under what you'd expect to pay for such a talented little car.

In our highway tests, Vega has been getting gas mileage in the neighborhood of the little imports, which isn't a bad neighborhood.

Tet unlike your average little car, Vega steps right out when you step on the gas.

The engine is a specially designed overhead cam four with a lightweight aluminum-alloy block. It turns slowly and quietly at turnpike speeds, with power to spare.

Disc brakes are standard in the front. So are bucket seats, except on the truck.

How we doing so far? Numbers speak louder than words. The wheelbase is 97 inches. Total length is just under 170 inches, or nearly four feet shorter than a full-size Chevrolet.

Height of the coupe is just 50 inches, nine inches lower than the leading import.

Width: a nice stable 5 1/2 feet. Weight: 2,190 lbs. for the sedan. Engine displacement: 140 cubic inches.

Fuel economy: about 25 mpg, with the standard engine and transmission, in our highway tests.

Horsepower: 90. You can order 110 (80 and 93 hp, SAE Net).

Sitting capacity: 4 adults. What it all adds up to is a lot of little car.

Three cars and a truck. Vega turned out so well that we couldn't turn out just one.

So we're turning out four: the sporty little hatchback coupe shown open and closed in the foreground below; the sedan; on the left; the Kammback wagon; on the right; and the little panel truck, in the rear.

Oh, and a special GT version of the coupe and wagon which we'll show you later on.

September 10th is Opening Day. All 6,300 Chevrolet dealers are handing Vega, so you shouldn't have to go very far to see and drive one.

Hi Folks!

The song sparrows have been busy the last few mornings, sending out their cheerful notes to start their day.

Along the roadsides there is still some color left. Queen Anne's Lace is still showing its dainty beauty. The light blue chicory is abundant in pastures and waste places. The purple aster, a typical plant of fields and roadsides, adds its beauty to the wild floral bouquets. Here and there the black-eyed susan nods its head in the lingering summer breeze.

Spending the holiday at their cabins were Mrs. Esther White, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Heironymus and family.

The Paul Gambas of Chicago are enjoying their stay at Murphy Lake.

Mrs. Vivian Kelly, son Robert and son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kelly, are vacationing at their cabin near Foot Lake.

Dr. and Mrs. Horace Davidson and son Joe of Columbus, Ohio are at their hideaway on Thunder Lake.

Dr. and Mrs. Joe DeLor were dinner guests of the Davidsons last week.

Due to the holiday it gives me a short week to gather news.

Hope you all enjoyed the Labor Day week end, which is the last holiday until the gobbler comes around.

Too many people

A good proposal

THE HUE AND CRY for effective pollution controls often obscure some of the very real problems faced by communities and industries in finding ways and means to meet new water quality standards.

It has been pointed out that in these days of extremely high interest rates, government and industry alike are reluctant to place themselves in a position of heavy indebtedness in order to acquire pollution control equipment. In the case of industry this is money that must be skimmed off the top, where the profit usually is, and invested in items that contribute nothing to either profits or productivity.

A hearing in Manistique recently may have provided at least a partial solution: a state-financed revolving loan fund from which industry can draw in order to meet the costs of installing this badly-needed equipment.

We congratulate Rep. E. D. O'Brien and his legislative committee members who visited Manistique recently and were advised of this particular problem by Frank S. Hoholik, president of the Manistique Pulp and Paper Co. Certainly this is a good example of the political theory that government's role should be that of doing for the people what the people are unable to do for themselves.

Our only disappointment in the proposal would have to be of one degree. Five million dollars isn't going to go very far toward the purchase of pollution control equipment for the thousands of industries that will qualify. Several major installations could clean out the special fund before the program really got started.

But we won't nitpick on that score. The idea is fine, and we hope the next session of the legislature can see the wisdom in making this proposal a reality.

To many people, particularly those living in relatively clean and clear areas such as Schoolcraft County, the threat of pollution seems remote. It is not. The pollution that we have here can sicken you. The pollution that you find elsewhere is many, many times worse.

There is little time left, and we need all the help we can get, financially and otherwise, to start the long overdue job of cleanup.

Keep it going

LAST WEEK'S PAPER carried a picture of a check presentation, showing Mrs. Vern Vail presenting a memorial gift to the Precisionettes Drill Team that her husband worked with for so long.

The gift came from Gaylord, and helps to show the high esteem enjoyed by both the drill team and their late leader.

It would be our hope that the gift might also help to serve as an inspiration to local people and encourage their efforts to not only continue to support the Precisionettes, but to make every effort to see that they continue to do such a fine job of representing our community at various functions throughout the state and midwest.

Back to school?

LABOR DAY'S PASSING is traditionally a time for parents to settle back with a sigh of relief now that the kids are back in the school routine.

It can also be a challenge to many of them to check into the possibility of their going back to schools as well. We mean the Community School program, of course.

Classes are being organized now. Take a look at the offerings. If what you want isn't there, ask. There's a chance it can be offered.

We preach to our youngsters about the value of education. Let's not forget it can continue to be valuable to us as adults.

There was all sorts of fanfare the other day when the Census Bureau trumpeted the news that our nation's population had reached the 200 million mark.

The implication was that this was great news, and that proper hosannas should be raised for achieving this particular milestone. The chamber of commerce syndrome has conditioned most of us to equate growth with progress and size with quality, which is proof positive that although we are blessed with the enlightenment of the 20th Century mind we still haven't got all our marbles.

There was general gnashing of teeth and viewing with alarm when the 1970 census figures revealed that Schoolcraft County had lost about 10 per cent of its population, and that the entire Upper Peninsula---one third of Michigan in area---had dropped below the 300,000 total.

Personally, I was comforted.

Tell me, in all honesty now, where do you think the quality of life is better---in the Upper Peninsula, with 300,000 people, or in the southern two-thirds of the state, with 8 million?

Presuming that you gave the correct answer (if you said lower Michigan and 8 million you are seriously disturbed and should probably make an appointment with your psychiatrist, of which we have very few in the U.P.) then ask yourself the next logical question. Why is it better up here than down there?

You can get a multitude of answers, but basically they are the net result of the simple fact that we are not, as yet, polluted with too many people. We are not yet caged in the urban prison.

Taking our 1970 census figure of 8,092 for our county, and our total land area of 1,199 square miles, you can come up with a total (after considerable messing around with long division, which was never my strong subject) of 6.7 persons per square mile, which is just about right if you are sensitive about nosy neighbors.

On the other hand, consider Wayne County, which is about all you can do with it these days. They figure out to 4,470 persons per square mile. Except in the summertime, when half of them come north in their campers and trailers to get away from it all.

Sure, that's an extreme example, but in 1960 the average for the entire state was 137.2 persons per square mile, compared to 48.9 persons way back in 1910.

Well. That's enough for statistics except to throw in the final zinger that the national average in 1960 was 60.1 persons per square mile, excluding Alaska and Hawaii, which is sort of unpatriotic but practical for what we're talking about.

And what are we talking about?

We're talking about the smog and air pollution that results from concentrated heavy industries and concentrated automobiles. We're talking about the traffic nightmare that results from people in those automobiles all attempting to drive to work in one of those concentrated industries, all at the same time. We're talking about slum housing and the crowding of low-income families into dilapidated housing in run-down areas. We're talking about the problem of treating the sewage that results when half a million people all flush their toilet at the same time, and the problem of treating the waste that is dropped into the rivers by industries unwilling or unable to find a better place. We're talking about the unholy noise that is a necessary part of industrial production and congested traffic and three million people.

All of these things are examples of pollution, and all of them are the direct result of too many people crowded into too small a space. Wherever you have people you have pollution, to some degree, and where you have a lot of people you have a lot of pollution.

Yes, I know the other side of the argument; of the need for industry and payrolls and economic progress, and I will concede that we would not enjoy the standard of living that we now have were it not for those smokestacks.

There is a middle ground on pollution control. The need for it is not so evident here in our uncrowded countryside, but in the urban areas it is plain to see that if people in crowded cities are to survive and enjoy any kind of life style, controls are needed, and soon.

Senior Citizens

BY MRS. EILEEN MALES

What is a Senior Citizen? To my amazement, I found that some people over 60 don't like to be referred to as a "Senior Citizen." When we have a life expectancy in our seventies, we can divide life into three categories: juniors, middle agers, and seniors. One definition of a "senior" from the Thoradike-Barnhart Compre-in rank or longer in service." No where could I find that a "senior" means inactive or retired. We have a Senior Citizens Center composed of members "who are higher in rank and have been in service (helpful acts) longer."

We are encouraging our members to form a bowling team. Ray Krusic from Lakeview Lanes will give free instructions, a discount on games and free use of the shoes to Senior Citizens. Anyone interested in bowling on Wednesday afternoon should call the center at 341-5923.

I am going to tell you about Angie Foutz of Phoenix, Arizona.

"At 73, most women are content to sit at home with the grandkids, maybe knit a sweater, or just relax and watch their favorite soap opera on the tube. But don't try and sell that kind of life to Angie Foutz, the Phoenix great-grandmother who this spring captured the Arizona bowling Class B singles title.

"Bowling is a big part of this delightful lady's life and from the looks of it, she wouldn't have it any other way. Angie, who took up the game 11 years ago at 62, has collected nearly 200 trophies for her efforts. A combination of things prompted Angie to start bowling. Her husband had died early in 1959 and 'my hands were getting so cold, I couldn't hold a golf club.'

"And then I saw that a bowling establishment in my neighborhood was starting a class for beginners. I asked my son and his wife if they thought it would be foolish for a woman of my age to start bowling."

"The answer was 'of course not' and Angie was on her way to a new activity. With a third game of 167, she was convinced that bowling was for her."

Bowling can be an exciting sport for you Senior Citizens in Schoolcraft County. We're going to have fun, so join with if you are interested. Our schedule will be as follows: Tuesday afternoon 2-4; Wednesdays at the center; Wednesday afternoon will be set aside for the bowlers, all Senior Citizens (bring your friends); Thursday afternoon, oil painting, and Friday evening at 7 p.m. a social hour and cards at the center. Join our group and you'll be on the move!!

A report on 4-H'ers at the Fair

Approximately 45 4-H'ers from Schoecraft County participated in the Junior Exhibition at the U.P. State Fair this year. We feel we did exceptionally well as about 50% of our ribbons were 1st Premium (Blue Ribbon), every exhibit we had was worthwhile. Our county display looked outstanding from an educational standpoint as compared with other Junior Exhibits. We did not have the most exhibits but we did feel we had the most worthwhile ones. Vicki Frenette and Nancy LaVake, two members of our 4-H Teen Club were in attendance the entire week at the Fair and helped to maintain the appearance of our exhibits. The Danish system of awarding premiums was used as usual this year - A (Blue Ribbon) B (Red Ribbon) or C (White Ribbon) rating given each exhibit in each class.

The following received Blue Ribbons: Boyce Cousineau, Leathercraft; Sandy Tuttle, Knitting; Dwight Brady, Crafts; Brian Brady, Crafts; Marci Creeden, Knitting; Diane Thomas, Clothing; Mary Parish, Textile Painting; Wendy Turpin, Conservation; Susanne Williamson, Conservation; Bob Pelon, Electrical; Pam Wood, Crafts; Everett Wood, Handicraft; Lynn Larsen, Crafts; Greg Larsen, Handicraft; Roberta Ranta, Crafts; Jon Babbitt, Leathercraft; Tommy Smith, Handicraft; Mary Creeden, Knitting; Denise Williams, Clothing; Jeanne Tufnell, Clothing; Laurie Steele, Knitting; Terry DeMars, Conservation; Darryl Hubble, Small Engine (Club Exhibit); Kris Bignall, Conservation (Club President Exhibit); Wendy Rasmussen, Knitting; Cindy Frenette, Clothing; Michele Heminger, Knitting.

Red Ribbons: Jerri Strasler, Clothing; Jewell Strasler, Clothing; Jeanne Strasler, Clothing; Janis Strasler, Clothing; Dwight Brady, Crafts; Brian Brady, Crafts; Kathy Parrish, Textile Painting; Mary Schneider, Knitting; Jo Ann Turek, Knitting; Pam Wood, Crafts; Lynn Larsen, Crafts; Shelley Cameron, Clothing; Kathy Archey, Clothing & Knitting; Steve Rosebush, Handicraft; Laurie Steele, Clothing; Sherry Hubble, Clothing; Evan Johnson, Conservation; Sharlene Mathson, Conservation; Michele Heminger, Clothing; Susanne Williamson, Conservation.

White Ribbons: Faye Hartman, Knitting; Calvin Blowers, Conservation; Peggy Hawn, Knitting.

There has been some confusion with regards to ribbons, at the present time we have not received information regarding Foods and Nutrition for Kris Bignall and Susan England and Conservation for Linda Levin. When we have the information as to what award they received it will be published also. Seventeen girls from our county participated in the dress revue which took place in the Exhibition Building at 6:30 p.m. Thursday. They all received Blue Ribbons and I felt they all did an excellent job. The girls, all 4-H'ers in Clothing or Knitting Projects last year, were Jerri Lyn Strasler, Lynn what's in a NAME?

People ask for brand-name products because they have become known for dependability and service through the years. These names assure us of quality.

We, too, are known by our names. Mention of John Smith immediately inspires a positive or negative reaction, depending upon the man's reputation. A good name is indeed our most priceless, yet most perishable, possession.

Day in and day out, our thoughts, words and actions must be on the side of goodness, for it is today which determines tomorrow's past
— for good or for bad.

If we could only perform
each act and utter each word as if they were our last, those by which we would be remembered, then how great would be the significance of our names!

In this confused era where better can we turn for guidance and help than to the Church? Here we will discover the teachings of Christ — the most hallowed name of all.
