Assessment results reported

Frank S. Hoholik honored at retirement dinner here

...honored on Friday night to pay tribute to Frank S. Hoholik, retiring Oct. 1 as president and chief executive officer of the Manistique Pulp and Paper Co. after 23 years of service.

...of St. Ignace. A letter and copper wall decoration depicting a sailing ship were presented from William P. Nichols, president of the Copper Range Co. and Raymond Smith, president of Michigan Technological University.

...Recognition also came from the top level of management at Field Enterprises, Inc., the Chicago-based company that is the parent for the Manistique Pulp and Paper Co.

...Marshall Field V, 23-year-old son of the prominent Chicago family that controls Field Enterprises, mixed in some low-key humor with his remarks. He noted that he has a special affection for Manistiquin, "being a country boy (from the east where he went to school) myself."

...And then it was time for Frank Hoholik to respond. "My thanks come from an overflowing heart," he told the audience. He related that he had given little thought to retirement. "...that's something that happened to other people," he added.

...He added that he would miss the "exciting and exhilarating leadership" of his superiors in Chicago, and friends and associates from Manistiquin, and added that he hoped to continue his contributory services in the years ahead.

Bank debits show increase

Bank debits in Manistiquin during August showed a substantial increase of 25 per cent from the same period a year ago, according to statistics released this week by the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis.

Bank debits for the most part are checks against depositors' accounts and represent payments for goods, services and debts. They are regarded as one indicator of business activity in the area.

How do students in the Manistique Area Schools compare to students elsewhere in the U.P. and throughout Michigan?

One indication was given Monday night at the special meeting of the Manistique Area Schools Board of Education, when a report was given on last winter's statewide educational assessment program when all 4th and 7th graders in Michigan public schools were tested.

Making the report was Lincoln Principal Vern Amelin, who compiled the local results into a printed summary and slide presentation.

He continued the report that it was difficult to draw any hard and fast conclusions about the test, citing such variables as the difference in class sizes, location, individual characteristics and backgrounds of the students, financial resources and educational backgrounds of the parents.

Amelin displayed graphs portraying the results in individual schools, plus the district as a whole, compared to the rest of the state and compared to the Upper Peninsula.

There is a capsule summary of how the entire district fared, first against the state average. The figures shown mark the percentile rank of the local schools, from 0 to 100. If the percentile rank is 50, for instance, it means that half the schools in the state tested better and the other half tested worse than the average for this district. If it is 40, it means that 60 per cent of those tested were higher, and 39 per cent were lower.

FOURTH GRADE, compared to the rest of the state.

Vocabulary, 60; Reading, 52; English Expression, 50; Mathematics, 72 and Basic Skills, 50.

FOURTH GRADE, compared to the rest of the Upper Peninsula.

Vocabulary, 35; Reading, 27; English Expression, 27; Mathematics, 51 and Basic Skills, 40.

SEVENTH GRADE, compared to the rest of the state.

FOURTH GRADE, compared to the rest of the Upper Peninsula.

Vocabulary, 14; Reading, 14; English Expression, 12; Mathematics, 12 and Basic Skills, 13.

Amelin's report also included a breakdown of the testing, by schools, which will be reported in detail later. Parochial schools were not tested.

Revision of the board's printed policy book was also on the agenda for the evening, and the board approved minor revisions dealing with the requirements for graduation, truancy, suspensions, dress codes, drinking, smoking and book fees.

A request from M. N. Reuk of the Manistiquin TV Cable Co. to allow taping of school events at general interest, for rebroadcast at a later time, was approved by the board.

Jury trial set for Oct. 1 for local marijuana case

Mark Butterfield, 23, of St. Francis, Wis., stood mute when he appeared in Circuit Court Monday on a charge of possession of marijuana.

Butterfield was arrested only in the morning of July 5 by local police. A defense motion that illegal search and seizure was involved in the confiscation of marijuana as evidence was rejected by Judge William Hood Monday, and the drug was ruled admissible as evidence.

A not guilty plea was entered for Butterfield, and a jury trial was set for 1 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 1.

Randy Dirvo pleaded guilty to two charges of probation violation when he appeared Tuesday before Judge Hood, and was sentenced to one year at Camp Pugsley, the Correctional Commission camp. He had been on probation on a breaking and entering charge.

The court accepted Dirvo's plea of guilty on a second charge of willfully and without authority taking a motor vehicle without intent to steal. Sentencing on this charge will be delayed for a year, pending completion of his term at Camp Pugsley.

Two divorces were granted by Judge Hood as the September term of court got underway. Martin Novak was granted a divorce from Sarah Novak in action Monday, while Mary Lou Argetzinger won a divorce from Ronald Argetzinger in Tuesday's session.

Three hearings on support cases were heard Monday, brought by the Friend of the Court.

In the case of Sandra Ash vs. David Ash, he was ordered to pay $325 immediately and $350 extra per month until his $310 balance is paid in full.

In the Arlene Tuffell vs. Elmer Tuffell case the judge ordered him to increase his monthly payments from $30 to $35 until his delinquent balance is paid.

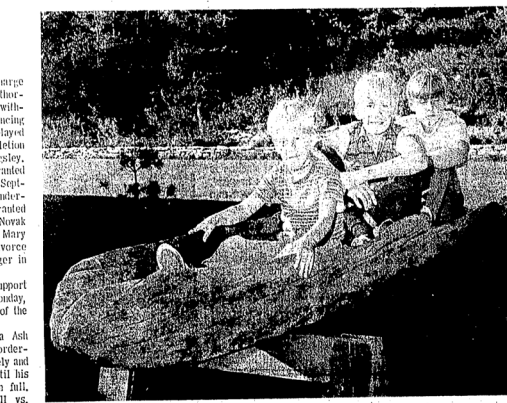

In the Eileen Kay Graphos vs. Daniel J. Graphos case, he was charged with a failure to pay fees to the Friend of the Court, and an arrearage of $706. He was instructed to pay the fees and start making payments on the delinquent balance.

Rotary views film

A film on the proposed methods of direct election of the U.S. president was shown to members of the Manistiquin Rotary Club at their Monday noon meeting.

HAPPY ANGLERS...Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pike of Pendaris are all smiles over this big German trout he caught Tuesday at 7:45 a.m. while fishing off the mouth of Thompson Creek. He caught the 13 and three-fourths pound monster using a Cleo lure. The Pikes have been fishing for several days, while staying in their trailer at Indian Lake State Park.

OLD-TIMER...DNR game habitat biologist Ray Salo recently salvaged the weathered remains of an Indian dugout canoe, found near the public landing at Ashford Lake. Above, Allen Salo, 7, his brother Mark, 12, and neighbor Calvin Casey, 10, try to fit the 500 lb. dugout into a truck. The canoe was found in a hole in the ground, and was floated successfully after a drying out period. Salo is attempting to fix the age of the craft through radiocarbon dating at Michigan State University. He plans to donate it to the Indian museum at Indian Lake State Park.

Ancient dugout is discovered

Legend has it that Hiawatha traveled the waters of the Upper Peninsula in a birchbark canoe. His great-grandfather and great-uncles, however, probably relied on a much less glamorous craft--the dugout.

The remains of such a craft have been salvaged from the waters of Ashford Lake.

Making the discovery was Ray Salo, game habitat biologist with the Department of Natural Resources, who spotted the ancient craft lying partially submerged near the public access site at the popular fishing lake.

Salo hauled the old dugout out of the water and took it home to dry out. The end of the craft was not underwater, is partially rotted, but the rest of the canoe is surprisingly good shape, preserved by the cold waters of the lake through the years.

The craft is about eight feet long, is tapered at the bows, and surprisingly, has an almost flat bottom.

Scouts plan lost man hunt

A "lost man" hunt will be held by District Boy Scouts at the fall Camporee at Camp Cooks this year.

The hunt is planned as a functional operation to be used in case of actual emergency. Scout officials explained, Area Scouts hope to gain knowledge and proficiency in saving victims of the U.P. woods, they said, as hunting season is already here, the probability of using such a plan of action increases.

The Camporee is an annual event held at various places in the Red Buck District, and gives Scouts a chance to compete in functional events such as first aid, cooking and other camping activities.

Other events will include a scavenger hunt to find some of the edible wild plants in the woods at this time of year. Making fire "Paul Bunyan style" will also be featured--using a cedar pole with ropes to produce flame by friction.

The Camporee will be held at Camp Cooks Sept. 25-27, and visitors are welcome. More than 300 boys are expected to be present for the week end.

Adult classes are underway

Classes began this week in the Adult Basic Education and the Adult Diplomas programs of the Manistiquin Community Schools.

Director Dick Bonifas said that classes are still open for enrollment, and urged anyone interested to contact his office at the Central School, phone 941-2195.

He described enrollment thus far as "good in some classes, light in others."

Enrollment classes begin Oct. 5, and enrollment for these is continuing.

Storm closes school at Gernfask Monday

Classes at the Gernfask Elementary School enjoyed an uneventful Monday morning, but were dismissed at 10 a.m. Monday and busied to their homes, due to a power failure at the school.

Camp barge goes aground

...Peterson, Mike Ranguette and another youth from the port area found themselves in "hot water" last Thursday morning. The barge, the Flasher, was stuck on a reef off the island. The young men had been carrying supplies to the mainland for the winter months.

An effort to attract attention to their plight, they built a fire on the rear of the barge which was spotted by Joe Peterson and Junior Vetter of Fairport. They brought the barge to the mainland.

...Mike and Mike DeVette and Wayne Seaman of Fairport arrived Friday and pulled the barge into the Fairport Harbor. Slight damage was reported. Dan Stevens, director of the Summer Science Camp, who was not in the area at the time, expressed his appreciation to all concerned for the rescue.

Elk are being in the Pigeon River country of northern Lower Michigan. If you want to hear it, this might be the best time to drive into the country around Gaylord and Vanderbit and Wolverine. After this year, it could be a sound that will be fading fast.

Literature is still being handed out by the Department of Natural Resources which reports Michigan's elk herd contains an "estimated 2,000 to 3,500 animals." DNR knows this is not true and so does a lot of other people but that doesn't change things.

The danger is that most folks who believe those figures will be lulled into a false sense of security where the elk herd is concerned. The present herd numbers 600 to 800 animals and these are in great danger, few did elk numbers drop to one-quarter of what was once there? The answer is it didn't drop because it was never there as DNR once thought.

When the first elk hunting season was held in the Gaylord area in the fall of 1964, DNR researchers used the same census methods they use in counting deer to determine how many elk were in Michigan. It took them two hunting seasons to discover the hunt was a big mistake because the elk herd was much smaller than had originally been thought. Still, no one has ever officially admitted to this boo-boo. Greater dangers to the hunting were still to come, however, in the form of snowmobiles and oil exploration, with the latter the most recent.

Despite loud protests from field personnel, the Lansing sale selling of oil and gas drilling leases in much of northern Michigan, including the vital Pigeon River deer yards, whether deer will be killed in winter quarters with oil rigs and all of the noise and odor which accompanies them, remains to be seen.

Elk are a little more peculiar. They are very easily disturbed and reproduction is almost nil when this happens. With new roads bulldozed into formerly wild country by the oil companies, new avenues will be opened for snowmobiles and other mechanized invasion.

While the major damage will be started by oil companies, snowmobilers will probably complete the threat. An elk is a big animal, easy to see and easy to track via snowshoes or by following a snow machine, has been known to unthinkingly pursue an elk or deer to exhaustion in order to record the animal on camera film.

It may seem harmless at the time but it is not. Fortunately, snowmobile clubs can and should educate their members to these dangers. Oil companies, under sanction of the Lansing office of the Department of Natural Resources, won't stop drilling for oil and gas because of a few elk. Elk or sensitive human noses which don't like the smell of the underground treasure.

This is why this year may be the best chance to hear elk being in the Pigeon River country. It could very well be the singing of their swan songs in Michigan.

Emeralds lose second tilt

The Manistique Emeralds got off to a fast start in their Great Lakes Conference game against Manistique Friday evening, but were unable to hang on, losing to the Mustangs 28 to 22.

The Emerald offense squandered in the first quarter as they outscored Manistique 16 to 12, however, Manistique put the rush on in the second and third quarters, leading Manistique scores less while adding eight points in each stanza to their total. The Emeralds came back in the final period for six points but were unable to overcome the Mustang lead.

Manistique got their first break early in the contest when George Cicala recovered a fumble on a punt and took the ball to the Emerald 13 yard line. Kendall Neeson scored on an end-around and Manistique added two more points on a pass from Neeson to Dave Mickelson.

The Mustangs took the kick-off and on a sustained ground attack moved the ball the length of the field with James Gray going over for the touchdown. The try for extra points was unsuccessful and the Emeralds led, 8 to 6.

Manistique got into scoring position again midway in the first quarter after recovering a second fumble on the Mustang 26 yard line. The score came on a pass from Neeson to Mickelson. The Emeralds added two more points on a pass from Neeson to Sample bringing the score to 16 to 6 in favor of Manistique.

Late in the quarter Manistique mounded another sustained ground attack which took the ball from mid-field to the goal, John Gay went the final distance on a three yard run. The two point conversion failed and the Emeralds led at the end of the period, 16 to 12.

Manistique then moved out in front near the mid-mark in the second quarter when Grey took an Emerald punt and ran 62 yards for the touchdown, Dan Niami made the two point conversion and Manistique led, 20 to 16. The Emeralds were unable to put together any sustained attack but the Mustangs put increasing pressure on the Manistique quarterback.

Manistique scored again late in the third quarter after intercepting a pass. Grey took the ball in on a two yard plunge and then ran again for the two point conversion. The score at the end of the third period was Manistique 28, Manistique 16.

Early in the final period Manistique hit pay dirt on a pass from Neeson to Jerry Sample. Mike Greeney's try for the two point conversion failed and Manistique's lead was cut to 28 to 22. Late in the quarter the Emeralds tried a comeback but an intercepted pass by the Mustangs put an end to the Manistique hopes.

SURROUNDED—Manistique's ground game ran up against a stubborn defense last Friday night in the Mustang game. This Emerald runner is surrounded by Mustangs as he backs for yardage.

PP&K issues its final call

Manistique boys from 8 through 13 are reminded that there are just two days remaining for them to register for the local Punt, Pass and Kick Competition.

Alex Creighton Co., co-sponsors with the Manistique Jaycees, said that registrations would be taken through Friday evening, Sept. 25. The Manistique PPAK Competition is scheduled for A.P. Hall, 2 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 26.

"Although time is short, any boy 8-13 who can still compete," Jack Creighton, "All he has to do is come into our office with the Manistique Jaycees, receive and fill out or purchase, and enter the PPAK to be taken on Sept. 26. There's no entry fee of any kind, and all over $16 six levels of competition up to and including state finals."

The sponsors have put out that PPAK, second and place trophies will be awarded in the local competition of the six age groups, including the boys' classes of 8-10, 11-12, 13-14, 15-16, 17-18, and 19-20. The fact that each boy will receive a trophy, and that the PPAK is important as an event in the boy's athletic year, pass and play, and distance with accuracy.

In the past two years, 220 boys have taken part in PPAK and the sponsors are planning for another large year this year. Registrations for Friday evening, Sept. 25, are held at 2 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 26.

Crane habitat help needed

Have you seen any Sandhill Cranes lately?

If so, Bill Taylor, Biologist on the Hiawatha National Forest would like to know. He is preparing a management plan for Crane habitat on the National Forest and is trying to locate areas where Cranes group together in preparation for all migration.

There is very little time in which to locate these fall concentration areas. The birds don't start to group together until late August or early September when the young are able to fly. Migration commences about mid-September. By the end of September all Cranes will be gone and identifying their fall gathering areas will be guess work.

The gathering areas are important segments of habitat and need to be identified in the Crane Habitat Management plan. If you have any information about such areas in or around the Hiawatha National Forest, please let Bill Taylor know, Write to the Hiawatha National Forest, Escanaba, Michigan or call 786-8022.

Final night is set for Twilight League

Vote record hit by judge

Judge Robert Burns of the Michigan Court of Appeals was in Manistique Monday conducting his campaign for reelection.

One of the original nine judges elected to the Appeals Court in 1964, he is on a week-long tour of the Upper Peninsula.

"Between one third and 40 per cent of the people who vote fall to vote for the judges on the non-partisan ballot," noted Burns, who added, "A branch of government which affects the lives of everyone from the cradle to the grave—and even beyond—warrants much more concern and consideration from the voting public."

Mr. Lockwood Martling, Jr., Supervisory Architect with the Department of Housing and Urban Development in Chicago, will give the presentation along with a commentary explaining the need for good rehabilitation practices.
Mr. Martling is a registered architect and has gained his own office for the practice of specializing in remodeling and rehabilitation prior to going into government service. He has had many publications of his architectural work in national magazines and is an expert photographer.
We have requested Mr. Martling to give us a "custom tailored" slide presentation, showing toward upgrading downtown areas, using slides specific problems of the city as a basis. He will match these with architectural solutions for other cities to demonstrate possible approaches to rehabilitating structures that will be practical and attractive.
He will stress the restoration of structures of architectural significance and the addition of features to buildings lacking in good design. He will show how much can be accomplished by the removal of clutter, such as projecting signs, wires, incompatible canopies and awnings and tedious store front treatments.

This presentation by Mr. Martling will be informative. You will be shown actual examples of what can be done to restore vitality to our business district by giving it a very attractive appearance and still retain our Manistique atmosphere.

Throw Snow The Modern Way With A

JACOBSEN Tractor

Snow shoveling today is not only outdated, it's also dangerous. With Jacobsen compact LT, Chief, or Super Chief, you needn't worry about sore muscles or aching back.

A big 36" capacity, two stage snow thrower attachment moves giant amounts of snow quickly and easily. The large auger chews up the snow, hi-speed second stage rotor spins it out, and the directional chute puts it out of the way where you want it.

For lighter jobs, a 34" or 28" single stage thrower is available as well as snow plow blades.

Medical Care Facility

BY LOUVE STOKEN

This week is a busy birthday week. Betty Kallio celebrates hers on Sept. 16, Jay Smith, Sept. 17 and Frank Wittl, Sept. 20. All the patients will celebrate their birthdays.

We are expecting another sewing machine for occupational therapy so some of our other ladies can sew and mend their own clothes. It will be donated by Mr. and Mrs. William Ward of Garden. Mrs. Ward is an L.P.N. here at the facility.

Sigrid Holmquist spent the week end home with her brother. And Theodore Thibault has joined us here at the facility. Jay Smith has left us and gone to Lakeland to make his home.

We will miss him as one of our card and checker players.

Our movies for Thursday night will be "Maryland" and "Jungle of a Road." Last week the films were held up because of Labor Day so we missed out on our movies. Everyone was so disappointed.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Elmerman donated so many nice bingo prizes. Everyone is so excited for Friday we can play bingo. Also Barrie brought us some real nice figurines and planters.

That's all for now, see you next week.

1971. You've changed. We've changed. Chevrolet

Vega. Not just another little car, but a little car that does everything well. You get more room, more weight and more power than most little cars give you. yet the gas mileage is right in the same neighborhood with the best of them. Vegas come dressed up, too, not stripped to the bone so you have to add a lot to make them liveable. Drive one. You'll see.

Caprice. There's a double layer of steel in the roof, a steel guard beam in each door, power disc brakes up front, a new power ventilation system inside, a wheelbase two-and-one-half inches longer. You get the looks and comfort of a six- or seven-thousand-dollar car, but at Chevrolet prices. And that's the kind of change during these tight-money times that all of us can appreciate.

A vanishing tailgate. A big change in our big wagon. The window goes up into the roof, the Glide-Away tailgate vanishes beneath the floor. Out of sight. Out of your way for easy loading even in a closed garage or when you have a trailer hooked on.

Timber sales in Hiawatha set new records for 1970

The Hiawatha National Forest set a new record for timber sales in 1970, ending June 30, 1970 with over $10 million in sales, a 57% increase over the 1969 record. The forest has sold over 10 million board feet of saw timber, 10 million board feet of pulpwood, and 10 million board feet of firewood. The record was set in 1969 when 6,500,000 board feet of saw timber was sold, in the last few years the sell has been between 1 and 2 million board feet per year. This is also the first time the forest has sold over half a million dollars worth of timber in a year. A total of $54.2 million worth of timber was sold in the year ending June 30, 1970. This compares with $27.5 million sold a year ago. The increased sales have already resulted in a 57% increase in payments to the counties in lieu of taxes and will affect them even more in the near future. What do all these figures mean? To the average person they mean little except that two records were broken on the Hiawatha. Let's break these figures down to more understandable language. The saw log volume sold this year is enough to build 240 three-bedroom houses or build 120 four-bedroom houses and furnish some of them with the hardwood furniture. The sell this year (including pulpwood) will provide 200 full-time jobs in the woods and 1200 full-time jobs in the local area. It will add $12,000,000 to the local economy and increase tax payments to counties in lieu of taxes. Wildlife will be benefited. One of the problems affecting the declining deer herd in the Upper Peninsula is the mauling of our forests and the loss of open land. The timber sold this year will open up 3600 acres of land and provide thousands from an additional 2500 acres. The watershed will be protected by proper cutting prescriptions and post sale treatment. Aesthetics will be protected and sometimes improved. One of the problems on some of the Hiawatha's roadides is the little "islands" of vegetation on both sides of the road. Some of the sales will open up vistas along the road and provide an opportunity to see wildlife or pick blueberries.
