Armory funding approved

The last major hurdle in the path of a new National Guard Armory for Manistique was seemingly overcome Tuesday.

State Rep. Charles Varnum of Manistique announced that he has been successful in securing state funds for their share in the construction cost of the new building. His $123,000 amendment to a state capital outlay bill (SB 1199) was approved Tuesday in House action.

The bill, including the Manistique amendment, then passed on a 72-24 vote. "This decision means that there is no longer any question as to whether the armory will be built," Varnum said. "The state funds are committed, the federal funds are committed, and all systems are 'go'. In fact, we have been fortunate enough to have this project federal priorities. It had initially been set for action in 1971."

Varnum met last week with the legislative

Capital Outlay Committee and presented the arguments for approving the Manistique Armory project. The committee members agreed that the state portion of financing for the armory, which has an estimated total cost of approximately $305,000, should be added to the appropriations bill.

A final planning meeting is scheduled for next week between Michigan National Guard officers and local officials. It is expected that the National Guard will be represented by General Carson R. Nelfert, Assistant Adjutant General, and Colonel Duane H. Bartrem of the Guard Engineering Division.

"If the final planning stages go smoothly," Varnum said, "every present indication points to a construction start on the new Armory later this year."

The proposed Manistique Armory is to be a brick and concrete building of approximately 13,000 square feet. Plans call for a vehicle storage area of 1,500 square feet.

LEADERS HONORED — Mrs. Gladys Merrier of 155 1/2 Ave., and Mrs. Emma Jean Lantila of Cornudas, received the 4-H Clover Award for 4-H leadership service during the state 4-H Leadership at Michigan State University recently.

Renewal is given to interim zoning

Schoolcraft County's interim zoning ordinance, first adopted two years ago, was renewed for one more year at a meeting of the Schoolcraft Board of Commissioners Tuesday night at the county offices.

The extension had been recommended by the County Zoning Commission to allow work on permanent ordinance to be completed. The interim law has been renewed once, and will be its final extension before a permanent law is passed.

The action must be approved by the Michigan Department of Public Safety. The board of directors of Escanaba, executive director of the Central Peninsula Economic Development District, appeared before the board to discuss the zoning ordinance.

The board is interested in planning required state lands under the Qualifying bonding act, and for a complete County Zoning Plan for the county. The plan will include all phases of land use planning, was also discussed. The plan would cost $3,000, and would be used to help plan, which would include recreational planning, cost $12,000, spread over a two-year period.

It is the first official day of spring. Remember you can't find it in the Pioneer-Tribune. If it snows, forget you saw it.

Today may have been St. Patrick's Day, but the Sunny Side of Sweden meat balls as the daily special, while the Swedish lunch meal was hot dogs and sauerkraut.

Scouts plan fund drive

A concentrated drive to raise $2,500 in Schoolcraft County in behalf of the Red Buck District, Boy Scouts of America, will kick off on April 1.

The Sustaining Membership Enrollment Drive is now being planned by a steering committee working with officials of the Hiawathaland Council of the Boy Scouts. This is the first such campaign to be held in the district in some time.

Schoolcraft County's share in the total $44,450 operating budget of the Council for 1970 is $2,449.17. Three troops are currently operating in the Manistique area plus one Cub Scout Pack. District-wide activities include the Spring Camporee, a three-day outing for more than 300 Scouts that will be held at Gulliver this summer, summer camp at Camp Hiawatha attended by each troop for a week, the Fall Camporee, the annual Indian River Canoe Race, the Klondike Derby and district Order of the Arrow Christmas conferences.

Plans are now underway to set up contact teams who will solicit residents and business owners for sustaining memberships in the Boy Scouts. It is anticipated that the drive will open with a kick-off breakfast on April 2.

Plan Holy Week rites

The Manistique Ministerial Association will again sponsor Community Worship Services in Holy Week.

The schedule provides that the Community Good Friday Service will be held at Church of the Redeemer, Presbytery, on March 27, from 1-3 p.m. Preachers for this service will be Rev. Curtis Haas, pastor of First Baptist Church, and Rev. David McLane, pastor of the Manistique Pentecostal Church of God. Special music is to be provided by Youth Choirs from the First Baptist Church and from Zion Lutheran Church.

The Community Easter Morning Worship Service will be held at First United Methodist Church, North Cedar at 7 a.m., on Easter Sunday morning March 29.

Offering will be received at both of these services for support of the charitable work of the Manistique Ministerial Association.

Mrs. Louise Thompson named to head 1970 census here

Mrs. Louise Thompson, 440 Arbutus Ave., has been named as crew leader for Schoolcraft County for the 1970 Census of Population and Housing.

The announcement was made last week by Manager Gloria Hanley of the Census Bureau's temporary office in Escanaba. Mrs. Thompson was in Escanaba Monday and Tuesday taking training. She will supervise 15 to 20 enumerators in the big nationwide census that begins April 1.

Topics covered in the training sessions included procedures for recruiting census enumerators, training, canvassing methods, preparation and submission of reports, and supervision of enumerators to insure a complete and accurate report.

It will be Mrs. Thompson's job to recruit and train her crew, assign each one to an enumeration district, review the work of each and see that it is correct and to handle special problems.

Ten years of change in Michigan's population and housing will be measured by the Nineteenth Decennial Census to be conducted this year by the Bureau of the Census, U. S. Department of Commerce. The new statistics will update information last collected in the 1960 census.

Three named to tax board

Probate Judge John Fackety has announced the appointment of three persons to serve on the Tax Allocation Board for 1970.

The appointed were Denton Nelson, 212 N. Fifth St., to represent the 12th grade school district within the county; Raymond Kusick, 428 Alger Ave., representing the municipality within the county; William Olesak, 141 New Delta Ave., has been appointed to serve as the member from the county at large, replacing the late William Berger.

Also serving on the board by virtue of their positions are Ernest Hoholik, finance chairman of the Board of Commissioners; William Cowman, Schoolcraft County Treasurer; and W. J. McCintock of the Intermediate School District.

ART DONORS — Paintings by these three local artists will be on display at Diner's Office Supply through Saturday, and then auctioned off to the highest bidder in the Palm Sunday radiothon on WTQJ radio from St. Francis de Sales Parish Center.

CBC has dance, radiothon

Schoolcraft County's combined CBC fund drive will shift into high gear this week and with a teen-age dance Saturday and the day-long Palm Sunday radiothon the next day.

Solicitors have already begun canvassing the business district to get the drive underway toward its $6,100 goal.

Saturday's teen dance will be held from 8 to 11 p.m. in the main gym of the high school, and will be broadcast by WTQJ radio as part of their evening teen program, with a DJ, David Vaughan as disc jockey. Admission will be 50 cents per person, and the Jaycees will serve as chaperones.

Sunday's radiothon from the St. Francis de Sales Parish Center will start at 11 a.m. and continue to at least 9 p.m. There will be no admission charge, but visitors may make pledges or donations while there, if they wish, with the Medical Careers Club of the high school in charge of that operation.

A concession stand will also be selling refreshments at the Center during the radiothon, operated by the Manistique Women's Club and the Hospital Auxiliary under the direction of Don Martin.

An auction will again be part of the radiothon this year. Three pictures donated by members of the Manistique Art Club will be offered for bids, along with two autographed Detroit Tiger baseballs, one autographed Green Bay Packer football, and a NFL blanket from the Detroit Lions. The paintings, donated by Mrs. William Wright, Mrs. Chip Bonner and Mr. Richard Still, will be on display at Diner's Office Supply until Saturday.

If the goal of $6,100 is reached, $2,400 will be used to send eight children to Bay Cliff Health Camp; $2,200 will go to the county chapter of the American Cancer Society, and $1,500 will go to the local Easter Seal Society.

Bay Cliff Health Camp is a non-profit, non-denominational summer therapy center for physically handicapped children of all ages from every county in the Upper Peninsula. Because of the success of last year's drive, which raised $7,000, Schoolcraft County was able to send an extra child to camp last summer.

Funds that go to the Easter Seal Society make it possible to provide crutches, braces, wheelchairs, hospital beds and transportation to clinics, as well as special medication for those who are unable to provide it themselves.

Local members want it clarified that there is no connection with the Michigan Crippled Children Commission, which is a tax-supported agency. The local chapter has the say in how money is spent locally from the funds it receives.

Schoolcraft County's chapter of the American Cancer Society will spend about $2,500 during its current fiscal year to assist cancer patients with drugs and special expenses. The local chapter also maintains a loan closet that can be used by all individuals. Items of value include a wheelchair, walkers, hospital bed and similar equipment. These are stored at Manistique Manor, and information on their use may be obtained from Mrs. Richard Manning.

When last year's drive went over its announced goal by $1,000, the "surplus" was prorated among the three participating agencies and completely distributed.

Kathleen MacGregor is featured as "WAC of the Week"

The Army Times, a weekly newspaper of the U.S. Army, distributed wherever servicemen are stationed in the world, has chosen Lt. Kathleen MacGregor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Leland MacGregor of Gulliver, as their "WAC of the Week." The following article appeared in the paper:

A homie lass who is fiercely proud of her rich Scottish heritage is our gal for this week, and it's little wonder. She's a direct descendant of the legendary Rob Roy Mac-

Gregor, "The Robin Hood of Scotland."

Her segment of the Clan MacGregor stems from Gulliver, Mich., which in talking she describes as "a metropolitan area, 200 strong."

This charming and beautiful dark haired Gulliver traveler talks about many things, and it's only natural, talking was her major in college. She specialized in speech education at Northern Michigan University at Marquette and is justly proud of her membership in Pi Kappa Delta, the honorary national speech fraternity.

Our talker accepted her commission to further her general education (her big desire in life is to be a high school speech teacher) and her talents finally landed her at Fort Benjamin Harrison where she is one of combat development Command's researchers at its Personnel and Administrative Service Agency.

When not researching or talking, our Scotch stunner likes to pass the time ice skating or horseback riding as the season may be, and baking. Yep, baking. Kathleen revels in putting together all sorts of gourmet delights.

But whether baking, researching or talking, teaching school or whatever she takes a Highland fling at, you can bet that this homie MacGregor girl will be an unqualified success. A descendant of Rob Roy could be no other way.

Time for geese to return

Keep your eyes peeled, folks, you're looking for a real sign of spring. The geese are due back any day at the Soney Refuge. They weren't there Sunday. The ponds are ice covered, and a snow-melt was blowing hard when Timmie photographer was in.

But they do come in March. The million photo, brought in by the Larson, 525 Michigan St., shows the geese on the pond about 1960. They have been observed back in the refuge as early as March and as late as March 21. Last year they arrived on St. Patrick's Day, and in 1968 they arrived March 15. The main portion of the flock comes in several weeks for the first arrivals. Usually more than 1,000 of the big birds arrive from the south resting at the Refuge.

Committee is selected for evaluation of UPCAP

Evaluation of UPCAP, now Career Development and Schooling, will be the subject of the March 10 quarterly Delegate Body Meeting of the Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Progress (UPCAP) held at the Northland Hotel in Marquette.

Delegates heard a preliminary report from the UPCAP Evaluation Committee, headed by Ray Gunnerson, Michigan State University Extension Service, Marquette. Gunnerson said that changes and new developments which have occurred since 1961, when UPCAP was first created, have created a need for a re-evaluation of the program. UPCAP, he said, must seriously consider the possibility of restructuring itself so that it can meet the changing conditions of the 1970's.

Gunnerson stated that the evaluation committee would have its study wrapped up to be presented at the September 1970 quarterly UPCAP Meeting. Members of the Evaluation Committee are, in addition to Gunnerson, James Bourque, Shult Ste. Marie, Peter Louis Cuppo and Harold VanLierberghe, Escanaba; Geraldine DeFanti, Marquette; Frank Holvik, Marquette; Ralph Noble, Houghton; Don Bonetti, Iron River; and Aaron Ervast, Laurium.

The UPCAP Delegates approved a Career Development Proposal for the Upper Peninsula for submission to the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO). The proposal would provide funds for a total of 132 employees of the six Community Action Agencies in the Upper Peninsula to further their education. These persons are now serving the Community Action Agencies in a non-professional capacity. The aim is to help them capitalize on the experience they are now getting so that they can enter various professions such as teaching on their own.

The program featured a luncheon address by Ross Lewes, Chief of the Community Division, Michigan Department of Commerce. Lewes discussed the problems that have hampered the implementation of many planning studies that are being carried out on the local and state level. He traced many of the problems to fragmentation among local communities and lack of coordination among state and federal agencies.

The UPCAP Delegates were also provided a slide presentation on the operation of special workshops for handicapped persons. There are now four such workshops in the Upper Peninsula. These workshops are known technically as "Sheltered Workshops." They receive assistance from UPCAP in finding markets for their products. The purpose of these workshops is to provide handicapped persons with opportunities for meaningful employment and an earned income. It is also hoped that many of the handicapped will be qualified for regular employment after acquiring some experience in the workshops.

The selection of delegates also raised the question of directing the UPCAP Staff to prepare a well balanced presentation in the near future on the problems of pollution in the Peninsula and what is being done to meet those problems.

UPCAP Delegates toured the Shiras Planetarium in Marquette, as part of the day's activities.

The next quarterly UPCAP Meeting has been scheduled for June 2 in Eagle River.

Are you going to go through another year thinking you can't afford an Oldsmobile?

Our own surveys indicate that quite a few people think an Oldsmobile is out of their reach. They think it costs a lot more than it really does. Result? Many people buy an ordinary car and end up with a lot less car and value for their money.

It's so unnecessary, too, because Oldsmobile has many models that are priced right down with the so-called low-priced cars.

So why settle for the ordinary when you can step up to an Olds and all the value that an Olds represents. Take this big, exciting Delta 88, for example. It starts out with a surprisingly modest price. Add to this the features that make it such an outstanding value—extras that are included in the modest price: □ Regular Gas Rocket V-8 □ Power Steering □ Power Brakes, front discs □ Nylon-loop carpeting □ Bias-Belted Tires □ Door Side-Guard Beams □ Hidden Radio Antenna □ Flo-Thru Ventilation □ Bigger, better riding 124" wheelbase. Check these extra values at your Olds dealer's today!

Mrs. Robert Jacobs and Mrs. Evelyn and Mary Beth of Iron Mountain and Mrs. Betty Munday of Kingsford were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hartwick and attended the Feb. 28 wedding of Marjory Ann Hartwick and Allen Frank Pastell in Newbury.

Following the giving of reports, the parents completed structure of felt boards for the children to work with at their homes. Ed LaVance, recreational handicraft chairman, instructed on the work.

The group was advised that the policy advisory committee meeting has been changed to March 22 at the Escanaba Civic Center. A delegation of parents who serve on the policy board and Mrs. Shirley Oczus, Head Start director, will appear on the radio show on WDBC at 8 a.m., that morning.

The group decided to hold a bake sale on April 3 at the Ben Franklin store. All are asked to bring their baked goods to the store by 5 p.m. on March 24. Also planned is a rummage sale, for which donations of any used clothing, books, toys and records suitable for 3 to 6 year old children are being asked. These items may be donated by bringing to 220 N. Third St., or phoning 341-0509 for pick-up.

A joint meeting of the Lutheran and Hiawatha Head Start parents, and a pot luck supper, is planned in April. Transportation for the weekly library story hour will be furnished and may be obtained by calling 341-6059.

Memorial volumes presented library

The St. Francis de Sales Parish Library has received three memorial volumes which are ready for circulation. "Water Fit to Use," was presented by the children of Frank Gierke, Jr. in his memory.

Forest uses meeting topic

Called by Upper Great Lakes Timber, Inc., and supported by all segments of the industry a Forest Industry Conference has been called for August 17-18 in Gaylord. All sessions will be at the Holiday Inn.

Frank Hoholik, of Manistique, president of Timber, Inc., today said there would be something in excess of 150 at the sessions, including representative groups of woods producers and consumers, state legislators, directors of Timber, Inc., members of the Technical Advisory and Evaluation Board of Timber, Inc., officials of Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission, representatives of the Michigan Department of Commerce, and the Michigan Task Force which initiated the Timber study.

Upper Great Lakes Timber, Inc. is on sub-committee of the State Department of Commerce, funded through Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission, and the Task Force, called on by the Regional Commission to determine what its interests in the area should be, was the group which recommended efforts be made to upgrade the forest industry. Conferees will converge on Gaylord Friday, April 17, for the opening general session at 2 p.m. Friday. A dinner meeting is scheduled for 6:30 a.m. at the general session, mill operators and producers will state some of their particular problems and there will be a question and answer period following these presentations. At the dinner program the mutual problems of the industry will be evaluated and the sessions summarized with another question and answer period closing the evening program.

The second day of the session will be two-fold. Producers will be given an opportunity to attend a woods demonstration when mechanized logging equipment will be shown in action and the latest machines will be used. In the meantime the directors of Timber, Inc., and the members of the Advisory Committee will be meeting in separate sessions at 8 a.m. to be followed by a joint meeting at 9 o'clock. It is anticipated that the Task Force will be called into meeting earlier and will be invited to sit in on the joint meeting when the program of Timber, Inc., will be evaluated and recommendations made on the basis of managerial proposals submitted to guide the organization through the remaining part of the fiscal year and well into 1971.

Al France, chairman of Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission, is expected to attend and will appear on the program. Speakers and topics will be announced later by the committee-in-charge now developing this phase of the conference.

Announcing the 35¢ coast-to-coast phone call.

That's all it'll cost you to talk for one minute if you dial direct after 11 P.M. And each minute after that will only cost you 20¢. (You won't pay for three minutes unless you talk for three minutes.) It's just part of the biggest long distance rate reductions in the history of General Telephone. Rates are way down on many interstate long distance calls, based on mileage, time of day, and type of call. Especially if you dial direct. Never before has it cost so little to call so far.

Two mishaps are reported

Cars driven by William W. Berry, 24, of Germfask, and Robert G. McDonald, 30, of Germfask, collided Monday at 3:15 p.m. on the Driggs River Road in the Seney Refuge.

State Police said the vehicle met at the crest of a hill on a narrow logging road, and were unable to avoid the collision.

There were no injuries, and no tickets were issued.

State Police also reported that a car driven by James W. Brown, 19, route 1, went out of control Friday at 12:05 a.m. on County Road 433 in Manistique Township, as he swerved to miss a dog. The car rolled over twice, but Brown was not injured.

Families may apply for food stamps here

The Schoolcraft County Department of Social Services office reports that it is now taking applications from families who wish to take part in the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Food Stamp program, scheduled to open here April 2.

Douglas Kraatz, director, says all persons now receiving some type of public assistance, as well as other low-income folks not on public assistance, should apply for the food stamp program at the Social Services office. The office is located in the Schoolcraft County Courthouse.

Kraatz reminds all families who wish to get help under the Food Stamp program not to delay making application if they are to be able to purchase Food Stamp coupons when the program officially opens.

This is Spring?

Say there. Friday's the first official day of Spring, but it still looks mighty wintry down at the Manistique Harbor, where the ice is jammed between the breakwaters and piled up in good sized chunks along the shore. Oh well. Maybe it'll be gone by next week. Next month?

ST. PAUL, MINN. (AP) — A heavy snowfall blanketed the Midwest and Northeast on Friday, the first day of spring. The snow was heaviest in the Great Lakes region, where it piled up in drifts along the shore. ## Press licensing

IN A SENSE it's nice to have a Democrat jumping on the current bandwagon to control the press. Spiro Agnew, John Mitchell and Chief Justice Burger were getting all the good publicity there for awhile, making people happy by putting newspapers, radio and television people in their place.

The Democrat we refer to, of course, is State Rep. James Del Rio of Detroit, who last week introduced a House Resolution to authorize a five-member commission to investigate the feasibility of licensing and regulating news reporters and editorial writers.

"Increasing evidence shows that in many cases reporters and editorial writers are biased and have malice in their supposedly impartial reporting of the current events of the day," the resolution states.

What it means is that newspapers and editorial writers have commented on Del Rio taking a lobbyist with him on a legislative junket at state expense. He thinks this shows bias and malice.

The thing that really disturbs us is that Del Rio found 10 other Representatives to co-sponsor the resolution with him. One of these was Dominic Jacobetti of Negaunee, representing the neighboring 108th District.

Dominic should know better.

We talked to him on the telephone Friday, and he attempted to shrug it all off as a "favor to Jimmy" to help him get his resolution off the ground and out on the House floor. "I was on TV and said that I got along with my people here in the U.P.," he said, as if that made everything all right. He did say he felt there were "some cases" downstate that were "wrong" and indicated they had criticized fellow legislators. "If they are attacking my colleagues I feel I should respond," he said.

What Del Rio and Jacobetti and the other co-sponsors, and all the critics of the press seem to want is for the newspapers to stop reporting, and to confine their comments to praise of statesmanship of the incumbents.

They would be properly indignant if legislation were somehow passed requiring intelligence tests for elected officials, or educational requirements, or full financial disclosure.

By co-sponsoring the resolution, Jacobetti and the rest of the 10 are putting their stamp of approval on an attempt of censorship that is clearly unconstitutional. They cannot attempt to hide their motives by explaining it as a "favor to Jimmy" or an attempt to clear the air. They are joining in the currently popular game of "Kick the Press" because of personal piques and because it somehow makes a lot of political hay to "put the papers in their place." This is a dangerous game. If the press is muzzled and opinion is stifled, who then speaks for the people?

That old Democrat Thomas Jefferson put it well when he wrote:

"The basis of our government being the opinion of the people, the very first object should be to keep that right; and were it left to me to decide whether we should have a government without newspapers, or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate a moment to prefer the latter."

A call from Charlie

My friend Charlie who works on a newspaper in the Big City called me up the other day, long distance.

"Hey," he says, "What's news?" (Charlie always was a great one for snappy comebacks and patter.)

I had to stop and think a minute. What was news?

"The geese haven't come back to Seney yet," I told him.

That stopped him for a minute.

"Who's not back where?" he finally asked.

"The geese," I explained. "They come back to the Seney Refuge every year, just like the swallows come back to Capistrano and the buzzards come back to Hinckley, Ohio. Only they don't have any one special day that they're due."

"To the Seney what?" asked Charlie.

"Refuge. R-E-F-U-G-E. Refuge. Like the Salvation Army operates in Detroit, only this one's for wild geese."

Charlie was amazed. "And you call that news up there? What else is news?"

I had to stop and think for a minute again. (Charlie was paying for the call.)

"It's sort of in between seasons," I explained to him. "The coho have stopped running and the smelt haven't started running yet."

"Coho?" he asked. "Smelt?"

"Not too bad yet, Charlie," I told him, "because it's been so cold. They may stink up the joint in a couple weeks if there's a nice long thaw."

"I think we've got a bad connection," yelled Charlie. "I don't seem to be understanding anything you're telling me."

"I was telling you it's not time for fishing yet," I shouted back. "It's too early for trout season and too late for spearing sturgeon."

"Is that all you kooks up there think about?" he asked. "Is that what you call news?"

"Boy, I was really offended. He must think we're some kind of nuts or something."

"I'd tell you all about deer camp except that I told you about it the last time you called, and I haven't been back there since."

"Deer camp?" he said. "What are you doing, thinking about deer camp in the middle of March?"

"Listen Charlie," I told him, "if you want to the same deer camp that I go to, you'd start thinking about next season the middle of December. But there's not much you can do about it now, I guess. The deer are all in the yards now waiting for the spring thaw."

"You've got deer in your front yard?" asked Charlie.

"No, they're in the deer yard," I told him. "I know we've got a bad connection," he shouted. "I thought you said deer yard."

I was thinking hard about what I could give Charlie for news.

"We had some big snowmobile races last week," I told him.

"Oldsmobile races?" he asked.

"Snowmobile!" I shouted. "On the ice." "Your Oldsmobile fell through the ice?"

"Charlie, please listen. I give you my assurance it did not."

"Jeezus. You didn't have any insurance. No wonder you're having a tough winter."

Charlie is a very generous person.

"Is there something I can do for you, kid?" he asked.

"Look, Charlie," I told him. "The only thing you can do for me is to realize that it's that time of year that there ain't no news up here. The only news I can think of is that I've stopped smoking again, and that's already happened 13 times since New Year's."

Charlie laughed and laughed. "You've stopped smoking again?" he asked. "How are you doing?"

"I'm up to 19 hours and 46 minutes since my last cigarette," I told him proudly. "Whenever I get the urge I run outside and take 10 breaths of fresh air."

"Does that work?" he asked me.

"I dunno," I told him. "The last time I did it I took such a deep breath I choked on the cough drop I was chewing on for a cigarette substitute, and like to choked to death coughing."

"Bad, huh?" asks Charlie.

"Bad, Charlie. I coughed and I coughed and I was leaning up against the front door wheezing and our doctor came by and looked at me. 'Boy,' he said, 'you've really got to give up smoking.'"

Charlie sure wasted his money on that phone call.

THE UNLICENSING OF A CRITIC

As the problems of any administration (public or private) become more serious and complicated, the critics become more numerous and more severe. May I submit that the right to criticize must be earned. The self-appointed champion of negative thinking who sets up his shop, hangs out his banner, and volunteers to take on all comers with a degree of irresponsibility enough to make the angels weep--needs to be unlicensed.

Perhaps a few questions are the best way to assess the credentials of growling, negative, snap-judging critics.

Let's try a few for size: By what standards does the critic judge? Is he using judgment remotely related to reason?

Does he judge on performance--or on what might be popular at the moment?

By what right does the critic open his estimate of the flaws? Has he worked with the problem? Has he invested any time, energy, money, or thinking toward progress? Has he any involvement which has earned him the right to criticize? Does he claim the right on the basis of expert knowledge?

How much fact does the critic offer in his presentation? Is the bulk of his information gleaned from feelings, hunches, hearsay, public opinion and uneducated guesses? Has he gathered enough valid information to "tell it like it is?"

What are the goals of the critic? What does he want to substitute for the program he is trying to "shoot down?"

Who supports the critic's contentions? Does he find agreement among thinking, working, producing men and women or among the discontented who know nothing and produce little?

If the critic claims to be constructive and responsible, let him bear the weight of these questions. Let him check his own credentials. Let him see if he can stand a test devised by those who do--rather than by those who just complain. If he cannot meet the standards, then let him dismantle his shop, tear down his banner, turn in his license and begin a constructive program of self-improvement which might renew the right to criticize.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor: Enclosed you will find a clipping cut from the Contact 10 section of the Detroit News. (It dealt with the problem of transporting large shiner minnows from lower Michigan to Indian Lake.)

Now I don't know if J. V. of Taylor, Mich. (author of the letter) was referring to our Indian Lake, but I can assure you that I had his same problem: last summer at Indian Lake, and also I spent almost two weeks up there this winter and wasn't able to buy a minnow over three and a half inches long--and I went to all the bait shops I could find open,

You might pass this letter on to the Chamber of Commerce. I'm sure they are always interested in such things.

Respectfully,
W. Gray

To the Editor:

The Manistique Area Snowmobile Association and other area snowmobilers, who went on the safari to the Buckhorn Lodge last Thursday, wish to express their thanks and appreciation to the Alex Creighton Company for hosting the safari.

JOB AVAILABLE: There is a job available as a Farm Foreman with Civil Service Classification for the State of Michigan on the Marquette Branch Prison Farm. Starting hourly wage is $3.40 and after three years is $3.92. This maximum of $3.92 is expected to be in the neighborhood of $4.10 after the state-wide pay increase in July. Education required - - three years of full time farming experience. If you know of anyone interested, please have them contact the personnel office at the Marquette State Prison. Phone number is 226-8936.

NEW CORN HYBRIDS: I would like to mention here two new corn hybrids recently released by Michigan State University and the certified seed is now available to Michigan farmers for spring planting. They were developed by Dr. E. C. Rossman, Michigan State University plant scientist who has released 16 successful hybrid corn varieties in the last 15 years.

Michigan 555-3X. This three-way hybrid has an average maturity of 105 days and has yielded 139 bushels per acre during three years of MSU tests. This yield is 10 percent higher than the best hybrids available in its maturity class. Resistance to root and stalk lodging are good, while plants and ears are uniform and attractive in appearance. A limited supply of certified seeds is still available for 1970 planting.

Michigan 275-2X. This is a high-yielding, single cross variety for central and northern Michigan. It is a very attractive hybrid which dries down very rapidly under field conditions. In MSU tests it has yielded 119 bushels per acre, 12-16 percent higher than other MSU hybrids in its category. It incorporates some resistance to northern corn rootworm and European corn borer, plus good resistance to stalk and root lodging. Good seed supplies are available.

HORSES: We recently received ed this information from the Michigan Department of Agriculture regarding the moving of horses. First of all: Horses entering the State of Michigan from other states must be accompanied by a health certificate. Exceptions to this are: Mares brought in to be bred, horses for exhibition purposes that will remain only a short time - or horses for races, horses passing through the state. Secondly: Michigan law requires the enrollment of all stallions or jacks used for breeding any mares not owned by the owner of the stallion.

SENIOR CITIZENS: Senior citizens can help close the generation gap.

"Young people interested in 4-H need more adult leaders," says Dr. Gordon Beckstrand, director of Michigan 4-H - Youth Program, "and Michigan's senior citizens can help meet that need by serving as leaders and advisors for 4-H youth projects and activities.

"In most communities there aren't enough adults willing to serve as 4-H leaders for all the young people who want to participate," notes Beckstrand. "All a person really needs to be a 4-H leader is some spare time and an interest in youth," he says. "I think many senior citizens have both."

"You don't have to be an authority to be 4-H leader," he points out. The 4-H program is based on the learning by doing principle, and 4-H leaders can learn along with the young people."

There are over 50 4-H project areas. Many senior citizens might be especially interested in working with young people in 4-H project areas such as crafts, dog care and training, American heritage, landscape, creative arts, knitting, natural resources and conservation, small engines and photography.

Senior citizens could also serve at 4-H camps, at recreational events, as tour guides and at fairs and other special events.

Contact the County Extension Office at 341-5000 if you are interested in volunteering your help to youth through 4-H.

The Great Man Came

The crowd had been gathering for hours. From every corner of the town they came—from tall white houses on the hill and cramped row houses by the mill. There were bankers and housewives, students and salesmen, grandmas and grocers, all drawn by a common hunger to hear the word of God.

And then the great man came. He stood before a microphone, and his words spread over the gathering like a benediction.

Suddenly, the shadow of a bygone day spread massively from another crowd, another place, to those gathered here. A thousand differences were reconciled, as the congregation found a common bond under the spell of Good Friday, when God gave His Son in a wondrous gift of love.

So, in these troubled times, as crowds gather all over the world—sometimes with hate in their hearts—let us pledge our time and talents to our churches as they teach the brotherhood of men through the fatherhood of God.

WHAT WE WEAR: On Saturday I happened to visit the home of a young 13-year old 4-H member and she showed me what she was making for "Achievement Day." Both she and her older sisters were very proud of the garment - really garments - because she was working on a coordinated plaid jumper, a plain color vest and a plaid skirt.
