Bar hits
drugs, crime

William S. Farr, candidate for a group of School Board Republicans Monday evening at the Fireside, pledged to coordinate regional and statewide efforts against organized crime and drug abuse in November if elected in November.

Farr said that the present group of School Board members failed to do this. Farr said that additional laws are necessary but that enforcement of existing laws is very important.

Farr stated during his campaign that he would also realize that crime statistics know no boundaries and that crime is looking toward the future and in doing so, focusing attention on the isolated communities.

he thought that was the intention of the ordinance as it now stands.

No action was taken. Stricter enforcement of the ordinance on abandoned cars was discussed, along with the city's participation in the county dog catcher's salary. No action was taken on these items.

A resolution authorizing the city to apply for an additional Senior Citizens housing project, pending approval from the City Housing Commission, was passed by the Council.

County faces deficit

An estimated deficit of $20,000 for the current year, and a substantial loss in income next year was predicted by County Treasurer William Cowman at the September meeting of the County Board of Commissioners Tuesday night at the court house.

Cowman said that 1970 census figures, which showed Schoolcraft County dropping from 8,973 persons to 8,000 were partly responsible, as state funds are distributed on a population basis. The business slump is also causing a drop in revenue from state sales tax sources, he said.

He warned the commissioners, who will be adopting their 1971 budget at their next meeting, that the estimated $40,000 total for next year will probably have to be slashed by at least $80,000, and said there was little prospect of added revenues soon.

Properly transfers aimed at easing the hoped-for construction of medical center adjacent to the hospital were recommended by the board. They approved transferring a parcel west of the hospital to the Manistique Medical Association, Inc., and also the conveyance of a parcel adjacent to Carvel Field to the City Recreation Department.

Cutting of trees at the north and east ends of the airport runway was discussed with Airport Operator Vern Bernard, at an estimated cost of $500. Sale of surplus equipment at the airport, and the possible purchase of several new items, including a grass cutter and snowplow, were also discussed.

The contract for the airport manager and airport operator, Vern Bernard, was given final approval by the board, following approval from the State Aeronautics Commission and the Federal Aviation Authority.

Edwin Burr, Escanaba, and Francis Dompierre, Marquette, were present at the session to discuss the possibility of this county's participation in the U.P. Mental Health Contract. They described the work done by the three-county group composed of Marquette, Alger and Delta counties. Schoolcraft County now participates informally with a total contribution of $750 annually. Dompierre told the group that in 1969 there were 12 referrals to his group for treatment from Schoolcraft County—eight adults and four children.

Probate Judge John Fikely appeared before the board to request additional funds for legal services supplied his court by attorneys. He said he had been informed by an attorney that appearances in Probate Court would now cost $50 each, and that the original $500 appropriated for this year would not be sufficient.

Commissioners also gave their approval to a petition from 11 court house employees to continue the summer hours at the court house. Working hours will be from 8 a.m. till noon and 1 to 4:30 p.m.

Purchase of a lawn mower and snowblower combination from Linderoth and Son at a base price of $1,300 was approved, and the bid from Manistique Decorators of $327.75 for painting the sheriff's quarters was also approved. Bids on a drape for the sheriff's quarters and for a new fire door for the boiler room were postponed until the next meeting.

Estimates of State and Federal officials; at which time the hunting season will be closed.

Hunters are allowed only one Canada goose in the daily bag and possession limits. No waterfowl hunting of any kind is allowed on the Seney National Wildlife Refuge which is within the "Management Area."

Hunters are cautioned to carefully check their State Migratory Waterfowl Regulations or contact the Seney Refuge office north of Germantown to determine the boundaries of the management zone prior to hunting. Maps and regulations are available upon request.

Plans call for the group to leave by chartered bus at 8:30 a.m. Thursday, journey to Copper Harbor by one scenic route, spend the night at Keweenaw Lodge there and return by another scenic route Friday, arriving home about 8 p.m.

Cost of the two-day trip would be $24.50. This would include the night's lodging, a buffet dinner, tips at the lodge, and transportation.

Persons over 55 years of age will get first choice in reservations, Mrs. Males said, but others may participate if there is room.

Those interested should call Mrs. Males at the Senior Citizens Center, 341-5223, before Friday.

School wins MEA public information award

The Manistique Area Schools is one of the winners in the competition for the 1970 Otis A. Crosby School Public Relations Awards. This award was announced this week by the Michigan Education Association.

Sixteen school districts in the state were chosen for the citation. Manistique was the only winner from the Upper Peninsula.

Named for a national pioneer in the school public relations field, the program honors recently-retired Otis Crosby of the Detroit Public Schools. Crosby began his career in the Detroit schools information services department in 1933.

The MEA awards program encourages boards of education and organized education associations in communications programs to the public and to the information was started by the Manistique Area Schools in February, 1969, and was financed by their own members or employees.

fact that the federal grant that financed the program has expired. Certainly they have always been helpful to us, and we appreciate the fact that the federal money enabled us to offer many information services to the public that were not previously available.

"We are continuing our public information program, and we are continuing to receive support from the faculty, staff, office workers and media. I'm sure it will continue."

"During the term of the grant the district issued a variety of special publications, including a recruiting pamphlet, an information sheet on the new Lakeside School, and a booklet on the Community Schools program here that has received nationwide distribution.

Several public opinion surveys were conducted in specific areas of the district. The School News distribution program was expanded and the format changed to a printed sheet. Every person in the district received the monthly publication covering programs and events of interest in the district.

Winners of the Crosby Awards this year were: Manistique Area Schools, West Bloomfield Schools, Fraser Public Schools, Hill Public Schools, Garden City Public Schools, Ulta Community Schools, Jackson Public Schools, Grosse Pointe Public Schools, Eaton Rapids Education Association, Chippewa Hills Education Association, Plainwell Community Schools, Fitzgerald Public Schools, Hastings Public Schools, Adrian Public Schools, Redford Union Schools, Wayne Community Schools, Lake Shore Public Schools, St. Clair Shores, Grand Rapids Public Schools, and the Michigan Association of Educational Secretaries and Middle Level Education Association.

Big Brothers Top award won call sounded by Pioneer-Tribune

Wanted: Big Brothers! There are approximately 90 fatherless boys in the Manistique area who are seeking the companionship of a "Big Brother," and up to now only one adult volunteer has been obtained.

This information was presented to the Big Brothers committee at a meeting of the group held Monday evening at the Manistique High School.

Richard Bonitas, chairman of the executive committee, stated that a concentrated effort is being made to obtain volunteer "Big Brothers" in order to get this important program underway.

Bonitas added that a lot of time and effort have gone into the organization of the program and that the matching of big and little brothers can now get started.

Bonitas pointed out that the matching process is done with a great deal of care and consultation to insure that the big brother and little brother will be compatible. Efforts are made to match personalities and interests to achieve the most effective results.

Men interested in becoming Big Brothers are urged to contact the committee by writing to "Big Brothers," Box 25, Manistique, Michigan 49854 or phone 341-2195. The need for volunteers is urgent.

Rotary hears volunteers

A pictorial review of their year's service with the Peace Corps in West Africa was presented to members of the Manistique Rotary Club Monday by Jane and Don Henson.

Jane Henson, a math teacher in the Manistique high school, explained her work in organizing and operating a nursery school in Sierra Leone, West Africa as well as teaching nutrition and hygiene to children in the area.

Don Henson worked at the local farmers in developing more effective methods of raising needed crops.

The couple showed color slides of the countryside where they worked, the projects they undertook and views of the villages and people they associated with during their tour of service.

Ed Jackson was in charge of the program and introduced the speakers.

Airport project bid

A bid of $2,764 for installation of a 5,500 foot underground communication cable for navigational aid to assist pilots in making instrument landings at the Schoolcraft County Airport has been submitted by Goode Electric Co. of White Cloud.

The project, financed on a 50-50 basis with state and local funds, is scheduled to be completed by the end of October.

VFW seeking to aid POWs

Freedom and humane treatment for American servicemen held prisoners in Southeast Asia is the object of petitions which members of VFW Post 4420 of Manistique, will circulate among local citizens Sept. 20-26, Commander Howard R. Larsen announced this week.

Commander Larsen said signed petitions obtained during "V.F.W. Freedom Signature Week" will be forwarded to the U.S. Secretary of Defense.

Commander-in-Chief Herbert R. Rainwater will personally seek to deliver them in October to the North Vietnam delegation at the Paris Peace Talks.

"If this fails," Commander Larsen said, "Then Commander-in-Chief Rainwater will present them to U.N. Secretary General U Thant and ask that the world organization bring pressure on Hanoi to assure that our men are treated humanely and the sick and injured are released."

Over 1,400 American fighting men are believed to be held in Southeast Asia by the North Vietnamese. Commanders Larsen reported.

"Reports from the handful of prisoners released by Hanoi from those who have accepted tell us that our servicemen are being held prisoners without proper food or medical care in callous disregard for the standards set up by the Geneva Convention," he said.

"My Post believes that all Americans have a special obligation to these men," Commander Larsen continued, "and feel that these petitions will vividly demonstrate to North Vietnam that the nation is united solidly on this issue and that the cruel and inhuman treatment they are inflicting will only serve to prolong the conflict in Southeast Asia."

Emeralds post first victory

What a difference a week makes! Fired up by last Friday's decisive victory at South Ste. Marie, the Manistique Emeralds are preparing this week to meet the Manistigues in a Great Lakes Conference contest Friday night at A. P. Hall stadium.

Coach John LaPointe's squad records their first victory of the season and even their record at 1-1 as they defeated the Soo Blue Devils by a 28-14 margin on their first road trip of the season.

A ballgame which helped the Emerald cause at the Soo, as quarterback coach Neeson told them of 16 passes for 217 yards and all four touchdowns, while the running game came through with 111 yards for the night.

Manistique struck first in the scoring, as Neeson put the ball in the air to Dave Mickelson for a 59 yard scoring play on the first play from scrimmage following the opening kickoff. The conversion kick by Jerry Sample failed.

The Soo came back to tie the tie up halfway through the first period as their big back Mike Wootley rode 10 yards for a TD, but their attempt for a two-point conversion failed.

That the didn't last very long.

however, Neeson struck again on the first play after the kickoff, hitting the Soo on a 51 yard scoring combination, and this time Neeson's pass to Sample for a two-point conversion was good and it was 14-6, Manistique.

An out-of-defense helped produce the third Emerald score

Echoes

Sunday, Sept. 6, we were entertained at a Stanley smorgasbord, the occasion being Charles A. Richey's 21st birthday. His mother surprised him with a lighted birthday cake, chocolate (his favorite), Webok pictures and had a jolly time. Charles said, "Gram, when I'd 42 we'll do this again." But that is wisdint thinking on his part.

Mrs. Ethel Nelson left Friday for Traverse City where she will attend the golden wedding celebration of Mr. and Mrs. William Berger. Mrs. Becker is the former Vivian Morningstar.

The Soo came back to tie the tie up halfway through the first period as their big back Mike Wootley rode 10 yards for a TD, but their attempt for a two-point conversion failed.

late in the second period, as Soo double on the Blue Devil 40 yard line. Several plays later it was 20-6, with Neeson again hitting Mickelson. The time from two touchdowns. There was no conversion here, but plenty of conversation, as the Emeralds were penalized 15 yards when one of the players did not have his mouthpiece in place. Neeson attempted to pass to Mickelson for the conversion, but failed.

The third period was scoreless, but the Emeralds went into a 28-6 lead early in the final period as Neeson connected again, this time on a 31-yard combination to Jerry Sample.

JVs, Frosh both lose

The Jayvees and Frosh football teams got off to a rocky start on their 1970 season Saturday at A. P. Hall stadium as they both bowed to visiting Soo teams.

The Soo beat the Jayvees 24-6 while the Frosh lost their contest 48-22.

The Soo scored early in the game, recovering a fumble and gaining 55 yards for a TD, and built up their lead before Manistique scored in the final period. Mike Beckman going 35 yards off tackle.

The Jayvees journey to Escanaba for a 10 a.m. game Saturday, while the Frosh will head Gladstone here at 10 a.m. the same day.

District Court

If you object to having your name in this column, "don't let it happen." All names that appear on the docket are reported. None are withheld by the Pioneer-Tribune.

John R. Snow, 23, former resident now living in Illinois, appeared on a second charge on four charges in District Court last Wednesday. He was given 30 days in jail plus a total of $248 in fines and costs, 60 days if the fines and costs are not paid.

The violations and assessments were: driving on revoked license, $20 and $20 and three months; $20 and $20 and three months; reckless driving, $25 and $25; disorderly, $20 and $20; violation of probation, $20 and $20 and 10 days; contempt of court for failure to appear, 30 days in jail.

He was not so pleased with the defensive effort, and that phase of the game will receive a lot of attention this week. He described Manistique as "big and strong," and probably just as good as the team that beat the Emeralds last week.

Manistique also sports a 1-1 record this year, rolling over Newberry 34-8 in their opener, then losing to Marquette last Saturday, 5-6.

Medical Care Facility

BY LOUISE R. STOKEN

The three day holiday brought our patients from all parts of the country. However, some who have no one were lonesome. It would be so nice if someone would adopt a person and come and visit once a week, maybe bring a small plant so they can water and watch it grow. These are real special people who need a friend.

Ken Pedersen spent the day in Stoughton and visited his family. Betty Kallio spent the week end in Grand Marais with her husband, daughter and grandchildren. Doegl Carmichael celebrated his 65th birthday Sept. 5. We have two new gentlemen that have joined us at the Facility, Frank Wilgig and Carl Anderson.

We have a new rug weaver, Mrs. Sigrid Holmquist. So glad to have our loom back in operation. Laura Martin has finished her toaster cover and is busy on a mixer cover. Our similar players are going full swing. Of course, Lester LaBumhard and yours truly are the Medical Care Facility champions.

Thursday night movies will be "Gunning the Fly Ways" and "Aluminum."

Divisional Therapy has acquired a shuffle board and indoor horseshoe pitching set for our members that are just starting to enjoy. Max Fisher and Albin Nelson enjoy a nice sunny day so they can take their morning and afternoon stroll.

Evelyn Gunnerson and Jay Smith motored to Marquette for consultation. Friday afternoon was Bingo day - we had 18 players and everyone had a good time.

CHRYSLER

DIVISION OF CHRYSLER CORPORATION

Announcing the 1971 Duster.

The big difference in small cars.

We first introduced the Duster as the best transportation bargain in America. It still is. And we built Duster to be America's "small-enough-but-big-enough" car. And it still is.

Small car lovers of America, your day has come. You have more tires to kick, more doors to slam, more hoods to look under, more colors to choose from and more test drives to take than ever before.

Which leaves us to convince you that Duster gives you the most car for the money. That it's small enough, but big enough. And that, all in all, it's the ideal small car.

Room. More of it to accommodate more passengers. More of it to accommodate more luggage.

Most small cars are four-passenger cars. And when you sit in some of them, they feel like they were built for three-and-a-half passengers.

Duster's a five-passenger car. It seats five, comfortably. Besides carrying more up front, Duster carries more in the trunk. You can stuff 15.9 cubic feet of stuff into it. (One of the new small cars has about a third as much trunk space.)

Small enough for maneuverability. Big enough for stability.

Duster's small enough to slip into about 3/4 of a parking space. Yet it's big enough to give you stability on the open highway.

It has our unique torsion-bar suspension (for better handling). And unibody construction—it's strength completely surrounds you.

So Duster can handle stop-and-go city traffic as well as freeway traffic because it's the right size, the right weight and it handles.

Our small-enough-but-big-enough car has a small-enough-but-big-enough engine.

Duster's standard engine is our rugged 198 cubic inch, 125-horsepower Six. It gives you great gas mileage and a little more power than other small cars' smaller engines. And that's a perfect combination.

Options. You have over 50 to choose from when you order a Duster.

Think of it this way. It's a convenience to have a lot of conveniences to choose from. If you're considering buying a new small car, and you have certain options in mind to go along with it, you may find Duster the only small car that offers them.

There are things like a Stereo-Cassette Tape Player, V-8 engine, vinyl roof and power brakes that you just can't get on some small cars.

No doubt about it. Duster is the car for the times.

Over 175,000 Duster buyers thought so last year. And we expect more of the same kind of success with the 1971 Duster.

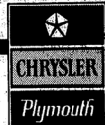

Before you buy a small car, look at our small car.

Duster. Built and engineered with extra care.

See the new Plymouth Duster today.

OUTDOORS with GORDIE

by GORDON CHARLES

Autumn seems to have come early to all of Michigan this year. At scattered locations around the state, individual trees began to lose their solid green and to take on the bluish tints of fall as early as August. This is usually a progressive trend, beginning first in the northernmost parts of the Upper Peninsula and advancing gradually toward the southern Michigan border, where single trees or groups of them have been injured or struck by drought, though, the color seems to come faster, even though it may not be as spectacular as during an average autumn.

The sticky fumes of man have also been responsible for some of the rapidly-blooming foliage. It is doubtful whether this is a good thing.

Many of Michigan's roadsides have been a mass of wilted, brown foliage since mid-summer, thanks to the "two-pronged" science, the Michigan Highway Department and the county road commissions have adopted the line of least resistance and have been spraying roadsides indiscriminately to kill shrubs and small trees which dare to grow too close to the pavement.

Summers which should be a blaze of color right now, has long since wilted and drooped as it died. It is interesting to note that the chemicals being used in the name of ecology are the same that were recently banned by the military in Vietnam warfare as "too dangerous" or "questionable."

Have the chemical companies been offering bargain rates to our Michigan roadside caretakers because they are overstocked with chemicals that can't be used safely against overseas enemies? It is an interesting thought which should be answered.

This type of chemical warfare, though aimed mostly at roadside growth, is dangerous to much more than the woody plants it kills. Many of our most popular wildlife species have been crowded from good farming areas into the ditches in order to live.

Pheasants and cottontail rabbits in the southern part of Michigan are hard-pressed to find a place to survive these days. In the northern part of the state, ruffed grouse feed young broods on insects and other foods grown in the roadside ditches. So do herds of our most beautiful and popular songbirds.

The old roadside mower was not enough when it clogged up the growth along the highways and byways, even though it might be necessary from a safety standpoint. Delayed mowing, however, can still spare wildlife.

Early and frequent chemical spraying of the roadsides is an entirely different matter. Summer-long spraying programs by the road agencies can put a serious dent in wildlife populations.

Possibly, the highway departments have felt left out. They seem to have been passed up when trickbats have been tossed

AT ANNAPOLIS--Midshipman Alfred J. Cayia, left, of Manistique, chats with Capt. Loyd G. Schemmmer of Newberry about "Plebe Summer" at the U.S. Naval Academy. Midshipman Cayia, who has been participating in Plebe Summer since June 23, began his formal academic studies in September. Capt. Schemmmer recently completed a two-week orientation program at Annapolis designed to aid him in counseling prospective Academy candidates in Michigan. Cayia's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cayia, visited him recently during a special parents' program at the Academy. They were accompanied on their trip by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edli.

Girls' health program set

Separate programs of health and sex education for boys and girls 10 years or older are being planned by the Schoolcraft County 4-H Association and the Manistique Community School.

The girls' program is scheduled for next Thursday, Sept. 24, at 7:30 p.m., in the high school auditorium. Plans are to hold the boys' program Thursday, Oct. 8.

Two films will be shown for the girls' program, "From Generation to Generation" and "Girl to Woman."

Dr. Larry Sell is supervising the program, and will conduct a question and answer period after the showing of the films.

In order to attend students must be accompanied by a parent or have written permission from parents to attend. 4-H leaders and Girl Scout leaders may serve as parents for the program as well.

A question on the program may be answered by calling the Extension office, 341-5050, or the Community School office, 341-2195.

at Michigan agencies who are contributing to the pollution of our environment. There are those of us who feel that roadside spraying is also a type of environmental pollution that might well be eliminated.

Autumn color is great -- but not in June, July, August and September!

The World of Pharmacy

Timothy Thompson J.P. Quick

A practicing pharmacist gets to know his customers pretty well. It is not unusual for him to fill prescriptions for children, parents and grandparents in one family with medicines needed for the relief of various ailments. These might range from the latest antibiotic for serious infectious diseases to a bottle of aspirin tablets for relief of a headache. Every member of your family at one time or another has depended on the skill and knowledge of the pharmacist in times of illness.

The teamwork of your pharmacist and your physician in seeing the health needs of your community is accepted as a matter of course by most people. The variety of services and merchandise available in some neighborhood drug stores, however, seems to create a doubt in the minds of many people as to the actual duties of a pharmacist. Stated as simply as possible, the field of a professional pharmacist is broad.

The pharmacist must know a lot about drugs. How they are made, the source, actions and possible reactions of the drug. Here at A.S. PUTNAM & CO., WE DO KNOW... All this is extra you get wrapped up in your prescriptions. Come see us at 201 South Cedar... Tel 341-2264.

New role for UPCAP outlined

The initiation of a Comprehensive Working Plan for U.P. development in the 1970's, and the reconstitution of UPCAP will be followed in drawing up the plan. It is expected that the discussion of the Quarterly Meeting of the Upper Peninsula Commission for Area Progress held at South St. Marquette Sept. 9.

Lee Meyers, Executive Director of UPCAP described the objectives of the Comprehensive Working Plan and outlined the general procedures that will be followed in drawing up the plan. It is expected that the total plan might take a year to 18 months to complete.

In discussing the reasons for a working plan Meyers pointed out that many changes have taken place in the U.P. since 1964. "A whole new structure of multi-county planning and development has come into being over the past few years, and they cover many aspects of community life."

In its second major item of business UPCAP also initiated the process of reconstituting itself.

Ray Gunnerson, MSU Natural Resource Agent and Chairman of the UPCAP Committee on Evaluation and Organization, presented a detailed set of recommendations for restructuring UPCAP, strengthening its operations, and increasing the participation of others in its work. His recommendations to be implemented over a period of time.

I. Function as a Regional Planning Commission.
 II. Set up an Action Oriented Group to the Regional Planning Commission.
 III. Enlarge the Data Gathering and Dispersing System.
 IV. Reestablish Subject Matter Standing Committees.
 V. Reconstitute "Technical Pool" Concept.
 VI. Structure Must Include a Strong Communications Role Between U.P. People, Governments, Agencies and Special Interest Groups.
 VII. Recommend a Personnel Management System Covering Staff Time Allocation, Performance Audits and Review of Grant Specifications.
 VIII. Develop Consummate Services and a Delivery System to Government and Sub-Government Entities.
 IX. Provide a Lobbying and Promotional Function.
 X. Build in Evaluation Procedures for Each Project.

The first step was taken at the meeting when the delegates approved a change in its by-laws which made it a Regional Planning Commission organized under Act 200 of the Michigan Public Acts. This action has been authorized previously by each of the 15 U.P. counties. UPCAP was originally organized in 1961 as an inter-municipality study committee under Act 200.

The next step will be the creation of a non-profit corporation to work jointly with the Regional Planning Commission, which will retain the UPCAP name.

In its other business the delegates also approved an application to the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission for $17,500 to conduct an investigation on the possible application of automatic data processing in local governments in the U.P.

"OUT OUR WAY"

News from Road 437

Hi Folks!

It's a cool morning out our way and this brisk air calls for heat in the house. In the past week we have had strong winds and rain, which seems to whisper that fall is well on its way. That smoke rising from the chimney top means there is comfort within the house.

The days continue to get shorter and shorter, as Mother Nature continues to use her paint brush touching up more of the maples' green leaves with colors of crimson, gold and rust, while to some she gives colors of yellow and brown.

The crisp morning air keeps pushing our summer aside, which is trying so hard to linger a while longer. I see a butterfly now and then flapping its wings, seems to be brave in staying just a while longer. The carpet of our forest floor is getting its color of rust more and more every day. The month gives us one of our last fall flowers. It is the Bottled or Closed Gentian, with its violet-blue flower that is bottle-shaped, with the petals tightly closed. The bumblebees are known to force themselves into the narrow mouth of the flowers to reach the nectar. Other insects will bite holes in the leaves of the flower to obtain its sweet juice in that way.

Mrs. Sino is spending several weeks visiting Mrs. Don Buchan at Gooseneck Lake. Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Caruso of St. Clair Shores, Mich. were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smith at Gooseneck Lake for the past week.

Spending their honeymoon at Pranter's cabin on Thunder Lake last week were Mr. and Mrs. John Nerein of Libertyville, Ill. This past week end John Pranter spent several days at his cabin. His guest was his brother-in-law, Harvey Dilger of Milwaukee.

Guests over the Labor Day holiday at the Leo Levalls were Leone Schetski of Ripon, Wis., Mr. and Mrs. Joe Briski, Clarence and Jane Briski of West Allis, Wis. and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Walters of Troy, Mich. The Levalls' son William also came home from Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo. Also daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. David Tomaszski from Gladstone, Esther and Leo were kept busy entertaining all their guests.

Guests of the Shorly Brunet cottage over the Labor Day week end were their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Brunet and daughter Jessica from Fairview, Mich. Saturday their visitors were Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Nelson of St. Petersburg, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. Norman Byers with their four chil-

Throw Snow The Modern Way With A

JACOBSEN Tractor

Snow shoveling today is not only outdated, it's also dangerous. With Jacobsen compact LT, Chief, or Super Chief, you needn't worry about sore muscles or aching back. A big 36" capacity, two stage snow thrower attachment moves giant amounts of snow quickly and easily. The large auger chews up the snow, hi-speed second stage rotor spins it out, and the directional chute puts it out of the way where you want it. For lighter jobs, a 34" or 38" single stage thrower is available as well as snow plow blades.

The Billion Dollar Beer Mug

The Billion Dollar Beer Mug plays an important role in helping keep the American economy on the move, strong and dynamic! Before beer reaches the consuming public it employs 60,000 workers in the brewing industry alone and 1 million in collateral and support businesses and industries, paying $1.6 billion in state and federal excise taxes, over $2.7 billion in wages to employees and distributors, and $1 billion for agricultural products and packaging. In Michigan and throughout the nation beer is good business.

Raking time

We hate to bring up a subject like this to spoil the nice fall weather we're due to have, but those leaves will be coming down soon and need raking. These were found on the court house lawn, where they get a good crop every year.

News Notes

Howard H. Handorf
County Extension Director

This last week end was rather a busy one for me and quite a few other folks around the county. On Saturday we had the Beef Cattle Forage Field Day at which I am pleased to report we had approximately 10 participants from the county.

Sunday afternoon I assisted the Schoolcraft Soil Conservation District with their annual farm tour in the Germfask area. The tour this year was the largest that I have seen in the three years that I have been participating. Over 50 people participated in the tour, and 44 people stayed for the light church (which was not a light luncheon at all but a well prepared evening meal) pleasantly served in good surroundings.

I would like to extend special thanks to our hosts on the tour stops as they did a wonderful job. These people are Mr. and Mrs. Everett Losey, High Hill Farm, Germfask; Mr. and Mrs. John Zellar, Jr., Germfask, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Jacobs of Luce County.

One comment of interest from Mr. Jacobs was that the Michigan Crop Improvement Inspector stated that he had never seen better beans as far as freedom from blight. It could be that we will have more beans grown up here in the future, not for table stock but for seed.

Of interest to area beef farmers who were not able to make the Field Day at Chatham, could have been the information on the cost of various fencing methods including one with posts at 100 foot intervals (which is one heck of a distance when you see it). They have also set out a demonstration plot on quackgrass control using both the traditional tillage method and also using herbicides. Surprisingly, there is very little cost difference between them. There was also some real good information on windbreak fences to provide some protection for cattle during severe weather where there are no woodlots or buildings available. I am trying to get some more copies of the program so that those of you who missed it can call the office and request a copy to try and gain some new ideas from what is going on at Chatham.

I hope I will see some of you at the 1970 Annual Michigan Restaurant-Hotel-Motel-Educational Exposition, October 20, 21, and 22, Cobo Hall, Detroit. For those of you in the food business, this is a chance to see what is available mainly in the down state area and if it is not available "o here to ask why!

Plan pasty sale

The WSCS of the United Methodist Church will sponsor a pasty sale next Thursday, Sept. 24, at the First United Methodist Church and the Gambles Store. Advance orders may be phoned to 341-5491 or 341-5812.

The Merri-Makers Square Dance Club will hold their first dance of the season at 8 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 19, at the Hiawatha School. Ernie Hoholik will call the sets and all interested in joining the fun are invited to attend. A special prize will be awarded.

Hosts for the evening will be Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brawley and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Weirner and members are asked to bring sandwiches or cookies for the lunch.

A fitting tribute

AN ERA WILL BE ENDING at the Manistique Pulp and Paper Co. this week as Frank S. Hoholik steps down into semi-retirement.

His titles are president and chief executive officer, but they are an inadequate description of the job he has done for his company and his community.

Management is not a popular vocation these days. There are a host of frustrations that accompany the inevitable responsibilities. The man at the top in any business structure is a convenient target for the irresponsible, the thoughtless, the ignorant and the unthinking. The measure of a man can be how well he performs in the long run and how well he fulfills those responsibilities that no one else can or will assume.

On this basis, Frank Hoholik has served both Field Enterprises and Schoolcraft County far better than is generally known.

Although it is the largest employer in the city, and the city's largest taxpayer, the Manistique mill is not a large one by paper industry standards. In a period of automation and amalgamation, it has survived by virtue of good management, steady production and competitive pricing. It survived some of its rocky days largely as a result of the determination of Frank Hoholik that it could and should be an economic plus for its owners.

There is a tendency today for communities to concentrate their energies toward acquisition of new industry. We do not fault this aim, but at the same time we often overlook the substantial contributions that have been made by industry that is already here. Imagine, if you will, the impact on Manistique should the local mill close. An honest appraisal should help to emphasize our appreciation for what we have had all these years.

The appraisal should also emphasize the appreciation of the job done by Frank Hoholik.

Tangible evidence of this appreciation was given in a heart-warming manner just recently when the State Savings Bank of Manistique announced the awarding of a $250 scholarship to Lake Superior State College in Hoholik's name. Hoholik is now serving as chairman of the LSSC board of control, and is a former director of the bank.

This gesture combines the happy attributes of not only recognizing the contributions of Frank Hoholik, but recognizing them in a positive manner by assisting in the education of one of our younger generation.

The scholarship, and Friday's recognition dinner, are just outward symbols of recognizing the achievements of a community leader.

We would like to add our congratulations and best wishes for enjoyment of a slower pace and opportunity for relaxation to a man who has done well by the Manistique Pulp and Paper Co. and the Schoolcraft County area.

Long-range view

CONSERVATION AND ECOLOGY seemed to be at odds recently when the Manistique River was poisoned in an effort to eradicate the lamprey eel population. The lampreys were killed, but so were a number of game fish, some of which had been planted by the state just a year ago.

Planting and then killing seem contradictory, but being objective about the matter, it would seem that the kill was not as high as could be expected, and a major blow was struck against the lamprey.

The Lord—and the ecologists—move in wondrous ways their magic to perform.

Ship ahoy!

This corner has been silent since last spring on the subject and there were perhaps some of the more faint-hearted who had come to the conclusion that my sailing ship project had foundered, to use a metaphor or whatever that is.

On the contrary. The commodore and the good ship Compromise have put in a busy summer, sailing-wise, to use a colloquialism or whatever that is.

There are still those who query about how the ship got its name. It is the simple result of an extended conversation between my wife and myself regarding family needs and priorities. What I had in mind was a 30-foot cruising sloop, and what she had in mind was a new living room sofa. Marriage, like politics, is built on compromise, so when I took the money for the new sofa and purchased my 11-foot plastic bathtub there was only one logical name for the craft--the Compromise.

Helpful friends have suggested that when I store the boat for the winter I could put it in the living room, throw a shawl over it and a couple of pillows and provide a unique settee that could not be found anywhere else in town, but Dorothy Anne is a little touchy on the subject and I have not pursued it further. Besides, what explanation could we offer in the summer? "He's out in Indian Lake sailing on the sofa" sounds a little weird, I must admit.

There are several drawbacks to the Compromise, the main one being that if you sit up straight you get your head zonked whenever the boom shifts with the wind. Also, being a small boat, it has an unhappy tendency to ship a little water during the more intricate maneuvers, and the commodore is apt to debarb with soggy trousers, mainly in the area of the back of the lap.

However, I nitpick. It is a fine craft. I have trained Sam the dog to sit placidly up forward, where the foc'sle would be if I had a foc'sle, and we have sailed across the lake and back, confounding the gleeful expectations of my friend Harold the stone salesman, who was convinced I'd never get back from where I'd gone, and was happily awaiting my mistress signal asking him to come and get me.

In fact there has been a noticeable lack of confidence in my sailing ability among my friends. Sam is the only one who's been brave enough to sail with me out in waters over one's head, and there have been times he hasn't looked too happy about it.

I keep reminding the scoffers that I took the Coast Guard Auxiliary small boat handling course through the Community School last winter, but even this declamation hasn't precipitated any rush of volunteers to sail with me.

Himself Hentschell is still brooding about a recent incident that happened up at Thunder Lake, where my skill and seamanship averted what might have been a major maritime disaster.

Himself and myself and our kids had gone for a cruise around the lake in Himself's motorboat, the Titanic, and I had been doing a masterful job at the tiller. We went to port and to starboard and full ahead and half ahead and things were just going swimmingly, which probably isn't a very good word to use right there in view of what happened.

What happened was that we were late for supper and hurrying back to the home dock. Old Hentschell has a boat lift there at the end of the dock, and he was concerned about whether or not I could put the Titanic into the proper position directly above the lift.

"No problem," I told him, throttling down and beginning my approach.

I had never realized before how nervous a person Himself is. He was sort of sitting on the edge of his seat as I sashayed back and forth, peering downward through my bifocals, and then when I goosed it just a little bit to gain steerageway (that's nautical term I thought I'd throw in there) old Himself panicked.

"Jeezus Pearl!" he shouted as I headed directly for the dock, and he jumped up and made a leap for it. He made it too, only Himself is carrying quite a bit of weight these days, and his momentum was too great. Whump! whump! he went across the dock and right beyond into the water, with all the grace and agility of a bull on roller skates.

Well. He was a little peeved about the whole thing, despite the fact that when the shouting was over the Titanic rested exactly above the boat lift, where he wanted it in the first place.

For some reason he didn't seem to pay too much attention when I delivered a little lecture on small craft handling and rules of the sea, including a bit about women and children first, which I thought was kind of humorous.

In order to make amends I have offered to take him on a cruise in the Compromise and teach him the fine art of sailing against the wind. "It'll be a hot day in February before I go out with you again" is the way he put it, but who knows? Maybe one of these years we'll get an open winter and I can take him out on Indian Lake for a real thrill.

Today Indian Lake, Tomorrow, Cape Horn!

Miss Maybelle McZoom
Miss Illumination of Schoolcraft
County
Hollywood, California

Dear Miss McZoom,

It was with deep regret that I read in "Along the Sidelines" that you denied reports that you are joining the Women's Liberation Movement. DAR quoted you as having said, "Wooee! Thank you, no!" That sounded like a flat rejection.

As an ardent fan of yours ever since Dave Rood conducted his opinion survey on the streets of Manistique with you in a micro-mini skirt, and also as one who is interested in liberation movements, I would like to ask you to reconsider.

Despite the fact that Editor Dave claims your cerebral competence is not your greatest endowment, I would like to present a logical rationale for supporting the Women's Liberation Movement.

You really shouldn't look at this revolution selfishly just because you would lose some of your advantages. Think of what other women have to gain,

Up to now, they have been treated shabbily in the world of sports. I see no reason at all why women shouldn't have an opportunity to play professional football. Now, I think if the movement goes far enough, there could be a quota of women for each team.

Then there is professional boxing. Why shouldn't a woman have the opportunity to climb into the ring and go fifteen rounds with Mohammed Ali? And we might just as well eliminate the division in golf and tennis tournaments and run them all as one. The same goes for the Olympic Games.

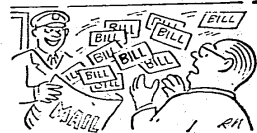

Besides sports, I think women should protest because they aren't being drafted equally with men, and that when they do get into the armed forces, they are given no opportunity to participate actively in combat.

Women would probably enjoy opening doors for men and giving up seats on buses to them. They might never miss the exclusiveness of their own beauty shops, bridge clubs, bowling leagues, the League of Women Voters, and the Powder Puff Derby. And they'd never object to having a few long-haired males enter the Queen Contest at the Annual Rutabaga Festival.

Now, Miss McZoom, I think that it would be a good idea to conduct another opinion survey similar to the one you and Editor Dave conducted on mini skirts. From this you would determine whether or not women should be treated equally in sports, the military, the courts, on buses, in the market place, and in beauty contests.

You will probably find that the women will want you to lend all of your assets, endowments, talent, and influence to this movement. Men will appreciate your involvement, too, even though the more involved you become, the more they will agree -- along with Editor Dave, your ardent fan, and twenty million Frenchmen -- "Vive le difference!"

"They tell us to take things as they come—but who can handle them that fast?"

Talking it over

Some of the key moments in our education are those times when we discussed with someone older the interesting things we learn.

But, to speak frankly about religious education today, one of the serious handicaps facing boys and girls who are not (not brought) to church is that they have little opportunity to "talk it over" at home.

Moral and spiritual growth is nurtured by family discussion of the truths taught in classroom and pulpit. But this presumes that parents and children together are sharing the experiences of worshipping God and studying the Christian Faith. Candidly, too, it presumes that the parents will be the pace-setters ... advanced enough in their own religious growth to answer simple, urgent questions.

It was always fun to tell "Sis" what we had learned at school. But, remember, it was Dad and Mother we counted on when we couldn't find the answers!

For your children's sake — and your own — attend church regularly.
