Marquette quintet due here this Friday

Defeating Great Lakes Conference champion Marquette will visit Manistique Friday night and the Emeralds are being they aren't quite as potent as defending U.P. Class B champion Holy Name was last Friday.

The Crusaders handed Coach Nicolas Jahn's captives an 87-50 non-league setback in play-to last Friday night. There wasn't much doubt left that Holy Name again has one of the top cape powerhouses of the U.P. as they pumped out a 23-15 margin in the opening quarter and pulled away considerably. They held a 33-27 edge in rebounding and shot an amazing 46 per cent from the floor while Marquette hit 36 per cent of theirs.

All five Holy Name starters ended the night in double figures, led by Tom Ness and Gary Kleiman with 21 apiece, Jerry Sample led the Emeralds with 20 points, while Dave Mickelson collected 16.

It was Holy Name's first game of the season, and the 1-2 visit Manistique with a 1-0 mark.

In the afternoon preliminary Holy Name defeated the Manistique freshmen, 61-36, while in the first game after supper the Crusader Jayvees posted a 69-34 victory over the Emerald juniors.

Official Proceedings OF THE MANISTIQUE BOARD OF EDUCATION

December 23, 1970. William Mueller, president, called the special meeting of the Manistique Area Schools Board of Education to order on November 23, 1970 at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium of the Central School.

Members present: William Mueller, Margaret Waters, Jenne Larson, Leon Wood, Don Nelson, Robert Knopf, and Ralph Gillam. Members absent: None.

1. We believe that all of us, together, school board, teachers, citizens must provide a quality education for our children and youth — an education which prepares them for life, to think for themselves, to meet any situation with maturity, and necessary background to make the decisions that will allow them to enjoy life to its fullest. A part of this educational process involves the library. We do not believe that any group has the right to dictate what the reading materials of our library ought to be.

2. We do not believe that we agree with the American Library Association Council's Freedom to Read statement which says, and I quote: "It is the responsibility of publishers and librarians as guardians of the people's freedom to read, to contest encroachments upon that freedom by individuals or groups seeking to impose their own standards or tastes upon the community at large." Not only does the librarian have that responsibility, but we believe that you, the school board, also have that responsibility in this case.

3. We believe that the main issue is not particular books which contain vulgar language or anti-American political philosophy — but rather a principle involving the freedom of our library. At this point we agree with the American Library Association when it states: "It is in the public interest for publishers and librarians to make available the widest diversity of views and expressions, including those which are unpopular or unpopular with the majority, for publishers and librarians do not need to endorse every idea or presentation contained in the books they make available, but would conflict with the public interest for them to establish their own political, moral or aesthetic views as the sole standard for determining what books should be published or circulated."

4. We believe that in our country there are countless persons who have lived, fought and died to guarantee the freedom that has made our nation the envy of many others. Therefore we would leave to individual choice what an adult does or does not read and in the case of school children we believe that these choices should and can be wisely guided by the librarian and teachers. In short we believe that the American Library Association's Bill of Rights for Public and School Libraries included in the proposed Library Policy are the cornerstones for a good public and school library such as ours.

an appointment to the board of education. The letter should be sent to the superintendent before the December 7 meeting. Motion carried with four yes and two no votes being cast by Leon Wood and Robert Knopf.

5. We believe that the proposed Policy along with the Guidelines, Procedures, Rules and Regulations to Implement that policy are well thought out, reasonable and just, ones that we can wholeheartedly support and we encourage you to adopt them.

Jenne Larson moved, supported by Ralph Gillam to move the previous question. Motion carried with five yes votes and two no votes cast by Leon Wood and Robert Knopf.

A vote was taken on the original motion which passed with seven yes votes. Margaret Waters moved, supported by Jenne Larson that the library policies be altered as follows: Delete "THE SUPERINTENDENT WITH THE APPROVAL OF" under B. Library-2. Library Advisory Committee 2.; and that the policies be printed as a permanent part of the school policies. Motion carried unanimously.

Margaret Waters moved, supported by Jenne Larson that the meeting be adjourned. Motion carried unanimously. Adjournment, 9:35 p.m.

FOURTH AND SEVENTH GRADE ASSESSMENT. Margaret Waters moved, supported by Jenne Larson that the second meeting in January be scheduled for 4th and 7th grade assessment and financial comparisons. Motion carried unanimously.

QUESTIONS FOR AUDITOR. Margaret Waters moved, supported by Jenne Larson that questions to the auditor should be in writing, prepared and submitted before December 22 to the superintendent.

DECEMBER 22, 1970 MEETING TIME. Margaret Waters moved, supported by Jenne Larson that the Dec. 22 meeting be scheduled for 6:30 p.m. instead of 7:30 p.m. Motion carried unanimously.

"OUT OUR WAY"

News from Road 437

The snowfall we had during the Thanksgiving holiday last week almost all disappeared. Mother Nature sure played pranks on us, sending down rain, just past and December became April. That wasn't the end of her tricks. Wednesday night the snowflakes came back. By Thursday morning we had a good old-fashioned blizzard that just continued into part of Saturday. Were we snowed by, yes we were. What look as by surprise was having blizzard and lightning during the blizzard. I don't believe we ever saw lightning so bright. It lit up the forest like a flare bulb was turned on quick. The blizzard sounded like waves of noise, chariot-like in a way.

So when we awoke back again, I believe the time to remain. Road 437 has become an 4-11 time lane and after the clear everything is again wrapped in a cloak of white velvet. At 11:30 as our truck is to start to move on, the snow looks like it was sprinkled with thousands of little and clear ice. Our landscape of white looks against the dark sky is a beautiful sight, a peaceful one too. I stand to look at it all and I'm a captive to all its wonderful beauty. A beauty made by trillions of tiny, crystalline flakes which form their shape in the frosty air above, then come streaming down through the air to let the winds toss them about before they settle down to cover the earth. Each snowflake is a crystalline beauty of a different design. Our forest world is a wonderful sight after a snowfall.

CHOLESTEROL

Research on cholesterol goes back to the turn of the century when scientists reported that premature hardening of the arteries was associated with excessive amounts of this fatty substance in the blood. In many diseases, such as diabetes and too little thyroid, a high cholesterol (serum lipids) level and premature atherosclerosis are common. Other conditions included pancreatitis, gallbladder disease and acute alcoholism. More recent findings show that 75 to 80% of people with heart attacks also have too much cholesterol.

Subsequently, a direct relationship was noted between dietary fats and cholesterol levels. This discovery set off the "vegetable oil" and "polyunsaturated banana." We were vulnerable because the American diet is high in animal products, including fatty products, and very high calorically, because of the total fat, saturated fats, cholesterol, carbohydrate and sugar content.

Throw Snow The Modern Way With A JACOBSEN Tractor

Snow shoveling today is not only outdated, it's also dangerous. With Jacobsen compact LT, Chief, or Super Chief, you needn't worry about sore muscles or aching back. A big 36" capacity, two stage snow thrower attachment moves giant amounts of snow quickly and easily. The large auger chews up the snow, hi-speed second stage rotor spins it out, and the directional chute puts it out of the way where you want it. For lighter jobs, a 34" or 38" single stage thrower is available as well as snow plow blades.

Seniors plan bazaar

It looks like Mr. S. Claus, one of the most active Senior Citizens around, has been hard at work at the local Senior Citizens Drop-In Center.

At any rate there's a big selection of holiday gifts that will be available this Friday for the group's Holiday Bazaar and Bake Sale, scheduled to start at the Center at 10 a.m.

Among the items to be featured will be several dozen mittens made by Mrs. Lydia Mattson, 85, a former resident now living in Farmington, Mich. with her daughter, Mrs. Wesley Orr, Jr.

Funds from the sale will be used to support activities at the Center during the coming year.

Family Living

Credit makes it easy to spend. Today, whether we like it or not, most of us have out or more of those plastic invitations to spend money without really trying. Do you use yours wisely? With all the temptations when Christmas shopping, will you run up bills that will be hard to manage after January?

Are you aware too of the cost of credit? If you pay your bill within 30 days, there is no service charge. But if you choose to make monthly payments, check to see how much interest you will be paying. If you choose a revolving credit, account, how are you using it? Credit is a real convenience but use it wisely.

Don't lose that credit card. If you're like me and like the average family you have three or more credit cards, keep them in a convenient but safe place and know where they are. Be sure you get your card back each time you use it. Check your credit cards frequently to be sure all are where they should be. Keep a list of cards, with account numbers, address of the card issuer, phone number to call and any other instructions for reporting loss. With the rush of Christmas shopping, you'll need to be more cautious than ever. Happy shopping!

dumped on it. At this writing (Sunday) my car still isn't out but I have a very cooperative landlord with a new snow-blow.

While we were in East Lansing we had Chinese food. I have all. Each of us ordered something different and they shared it so we could taste several dishes. Now I'm going through cook books to find authentic Chinese dishes similar to those we had so I can try one once in a while. One good thing about them is that they're quick. To prepare one you have assembled all of the necessary ingredients.

TREE TIME—Once again the Manistique Women's Club is decorating a "mitten tree" at the Peoples Store, and Mrs. Boyd Briggs adds another pair to the large assortment already on the tree. The club is preparing baskets for some of the children, and will be packing their Yule boxes Dec. 18 at the Armory.

New rules ease draft

Reclassification of young men with high numbers in the 1970 draft lottery may enable them to limit their future vulnerability to the draft, according to Mrs. Ann Jorgensen, clerk for Schoolcraft Board #1.

She explained that registrants in Classes I-S, II-A, II-C, II-S or III-A who hold high 1970 lottery numbers can be reclassified into the I-A class before Dec. 31.

By doing this they will move into the 1970 First Priority Selection Group, which would then qualify them for the Second Priority Selection Group in 1971.

She explained that this would be advantageous for any youth with the draft number of 158 or higher registered with the local board.

It was pointed out that a youth with a student deferment now, who is due to graduate in June but has a high lottery number, could be reclassified before Dec. 31 and thus in June, 1971, would be in the second priority draft group.

Letters explaining the option have been sent to those local registrants with numbers in the lottery over 158, she said.

It is Ordered that on February 19, 1971, at 10:00 a.m., in the Probate Courtroom Manistique, Michigan a hearing be held on the petition of Ralph Ekstrom to determine the heirs at law of said deceased.

Publication and service shall be made as provided by Statute and Court Rule.

Bredlau to speak at Witness rally

John Bredlau of Manistique, will address an estimated 700 fellow ministers of the assembly of Jehovah's witnesses in Escanaba on Friday, the first day of their three-day ministers conference slated for Dec. 18-20.

Bredlau will speak on the subject, "What has Christendom sown that she is now reaping?"

Bredlau has lived in Manistique for 10 years. He was ordained a minister of Jehovah's witnesses July 31, 1954 and serves in the Manistique congregation as assistant to the presiding minister.

Attending the conference with Mr. Bredlau will be his wife, Elaine and two children.

THE SUGAR BEETER

Communications Gap

BY J. E. SALAMUN

You know, it's not easy being a teacher. I've been at it for three months now and realize that it is not an eight-hour job. It's more like 24 hours and sometimes 26.

At the end of each marking period I have my students grade me. They not only give me a letter grade but also the reason for the grade. Here are a few of the students' written comments concerning my methods:

"B. One good turn deserves another. Personally if I never saw you again it would be 30 years, four months, 2 1/2 weeks, 20 minutes and 10 seconds too soon."

"I would give you a B again. But by next time it will probably be a C because you're getting to be just like all the rest of our average teachers. I still like the way you conduct a class. But sometimes you get so ugly and say things that are kind of stupid. When people try to tell how they feel you get all mad and if you want an example I can give you one... today with David Waters and Rob Moffat."

"D. If we stuck to the books (Grammar and Lily) maybe we would get something done. I probably would get as good of marks but I'd much rather do that than write papers on something we will never use. At first I thought this class was fun but it's getting rather boring. I don't like English class anymore!"

"Dear Big John: Grades are stupid! Why should we grade you if it's not going to make any difference anyway? We graded you last time and nothing has changed. Why should you grade us? Has it made any difference? We're still us, and it's obvious that no one here is working to their capacity. I give you an incomplete."

Students do have opinions and I am trying to learn to listen, to hear what they are saying to me. For it's from the students that I will learn to help them. I have often maintained that it's not a "generation gap" but a "communication gap." This "communication gap" has come about because one loses interest in learning. Learning really begins when you face life with your values. No one should ever stop being a student.

The comments of the students that I have presented are candid and honest. Read them as I have and hopefully you will learn something about a student and maybe a teacher.

Mrs. Nora Cowman moved into our building one day last week.

We wish to thank Mrs. Omer Schuster for the magazines she brought to us here.

Mr. and Mrs. James Marks went to lower Michigan on Tuesday and came back Wednesday.

Four of us visited Charlotte Kerr at the hospital in Escanaba Friday. It took us three hours to come home in that awful storm. We were lucky we made it.

Howard Holland went via bus to Detroit on Tuesday, returned on Wednesday with a new car for one of the dealers here.

Pictures at the "Towers" Wednesday night.

We'll have our Christmas party Thursday, the 10th, for everyone in the building here. It will be at 7 p.m.

Santa came to see us and brought us some candy Saturday.

We went to Escanaba Monday. Visited Charlotte Kerr at the hospital. She is doing well. Hopes to be home for Christmas.

MRS. HARVEY SUNDIN
Mrs. Dale Waterborn was hostess of the Congregational Ladies' Fellowship Christmas party at her home Wednesday afternoon. Refreshments were served and there was an exchange of gifts.

The Lutheran Ladies' Society met Thursday evening in the church parlors. A hot lunch was enjoyed and plans were made for a Christmas party.

Mrs. and Mrs. William Morrison of Chicago announce the engagement of their daughter Nancy to Michael Maripoli, also of Chicago. A spring wedding is planned.

Mrs. and Mrs. John Mohrigan returned to Berkley after having the week end at the Berkley home.

Mrs. and Mrs. Harvey Sundin returned from a two week visit with the Barton Petersons, also visited with Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Wagner at Benson.

Mr. Robert Johnson entertained at a Christmas party for the St. Ann's Altar Society at late home Thursday afternoon. The group enjoyed refreshments and held an exchange of gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Nedonac and daughter of Kalamazoo spent the week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Nielsen. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson returned to their home in Detroit after visiting here with Mr. and Mrs. Cateb Johnson. Mrs. Ron Feuty has returned from lower Michigan where she visited her husband.

Norval Smelling and LeeBare have returned to their home in Detroit after spending a week at their cabin here.

Mrs. Helen Brady has returned to the home of her father at St. Luke's Hospital in Marquette where she underwent major surgery.

Carlton M. Edwards of the Michigan State University agricultural engineering department and Angie Blome, Lansing, specialist with the Upper Peninsula Commission on Area Progress, will meet with members of the city and county housing commissions, county commissioners, and township supervisors.

Discussion will center on how urban housing development can be re-directed for rural areas.

Extension News Notes

BY HOWARD HANFORD
County Extension Director
Scheldorath County

TAX TIME! With income tax time coming up shortly, I would like to pass on to you some pertinent information regarding changes which you may or may not be aware of at this time.

The federal income tax law changes and so do the record keeping, requirements, steps to RT, Hartley, 2527 Extension Specialist. For example, the statute of limitations (Treasury has three years after the date on which your return is filed to assess additional taxes) is still three years, but the income averaging provisions require records for the past four years.

The retirement income credit may cause you to limit up records of earned income for at least the past 10 years. An important reason for keeping all your tax returns is to show the cost basis of property for depreciation—and to compute basis for profit or loss when real estate is sold. For this purpose, keep tax returns and supporting papers such as receipts and cancelled checks indefinitely.

Recent changes in federal income tax laws could mean many dollars lost to farmers not aware of the changes, warns a Michigan State University agricultural economist. "For estimating 1970 tax and making end-of-year purchases and sale adjustments, farmers should study the 1969 revisions in the federal tax codes, says Dr. M.P. Kelsey. "Many of these revisions went into effect this year."

The Tax Reform Act of 1969 contains new provisions concerning farm income, according to Kelsey. For depreciation taken after 1969, the investment gain on sale of livestock purchased for fattening, breeding, sporting or dairy purposes is treated as ordinary income rather than a capital gain up to the full value of previous depreciation deductions. This change puts livestock on the same tax base as other property used in business. Depreciation is normally recaptured at time of sale.

A second provision affecting livestock extends the holding period for certain animals before they can qualify for capital gains treatment. Cattle and horses acquired after Dec. 31, 1969, and used for draft, breeding, sporting or dairy purposes must be kept two years. The holding period for other livestock remains one year.

Another revision involves taxation of insurance received for crop damage or loss. The old law required farmers using the cash accounting method to include crop insurance proceeds in the year's income, even though the crop might not have been sold until the following year. Farmers selling crops in the year following the year paid taxes on two crops in one year.

The 1969 law eliminates this hardship by allowing farmers to report "indemnities" for crop loss after the loss, if they establish that under their usual practice, income from the damaged or destroyed crops would have been reported in the year after the year of the loss. This provision was effective for 1969 and following years.

Other sections of the revised tax law concern limitation of farm losses, hobby losses, tax-free exchange of livestock of different sexes, recapture of soil and water conservation expenses and extension of the right for filing tax returns in arrears who do not file tax returns.

"Year-end income should be settled at leveling taxable income between years," says Kelsey. "Deferring or accelerating income and deferring or prepaying expenses helps level taxable income from year to year."

"Figure your estimated taxable income for 1970 and compare with previous years and expectations for future years. Then you can decide if you should sell more products before December 31 and hold off buying production items, or if you should do the opposite."

Contact the Internal Revenue Service for more details on the federal tax code and the County Cooperative Extension Service office for farm management information.

Census plans job survey

VIRTUOSO

You wouldn't believe your ears if your baby were suddenly to play a Beethoven sonata.

But, of course, no one expects a baby to do more than "play at" a piano. It takes years of study and preparation and a "bushel" of talent to become an accomplished pianist. In fact, to become any kind of success in this life takes hard work and experience. If this boy is to make his mark in the world — whether as a pianist, engineer, doctor or lawyer — he must be trained and guided.

The challenges that confront him in later years will not only be concerned with his occupation but will also involve his spiritual growth. In a world growing ever more complex, basic precepts of religion and faith will have to be cultivated. Through the Church give your child and yourself the opportunity to acquire faith for the future.

from people who are interested in keeping the center open as we will not be funded from the Commission on Aging after March 31 of next year. Our cook books will be on sale for $2. This will be an excellent "stocking stuffer" gift.

One lovely lady, 89 years young, Mrs. Lydia Mattson of Farmington, Mich., whose daughter is Mrs. Wesley Orr, Jr., has knitted over 20 pair of mittens for us. When we get such an overwhelming response from people outside of Manistique, it gives us an incentive to do a little more ourselves. We thank you, Mrs. Mattson, for being so generous to us.

Last Saturday I was invited to speak at a district Community Action Agency meeting in Escanaba. They heard we had an active center and were interested in our functions. They also asked for a report on our "courtesy cards" for Seniors over 65.

We will pick up and deliver groceries for people living in town who are disabled or cannot walk to town and do not have relatives or friends that will help them on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday from 3:30 to 4 p.m. You will have to phone your order to the store and have the groceries ready to be picked up at that time. If you have relatives that can do this, please do not call us. We are glad to be of service to you, but we can only limit it to those persons who do not have help from another source. We will also drive people to the doctors at anytime on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., except the hour between 11 a.m. and 12 noon.

We will have a Christmas party with our movies on Wednesday, Dec. 16, at 7 p.m. at the Harbor View Towers. We invited all our Senior Citizens to attend this. We always have an enjoyable time at our movies.

Remember bowling Wednesday afternoon from 1 to 3; oil painting class on Thursday from 1 to 4.

While you're downtown Christmas shopping, please stop in and visit us at the center.

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor:

In regards to the letter written by Mr. Green which appeared recently in the Manistique Pioneer-Tribune, I applaud Mr. Green on his comments regarding the medical shortage in this area and surrounding counties. It is nice to know someone outside the medical community realizes the shortage that we have. May I suggest that in the future, instead of Mr. Green and his family deserting Manistique, that he direct his efforts to supporting Manistique and the medical community that is here and help in attracting new people to this area. The obvious way to do this is to support our new medical and dental building, which will ultimately bring new services to the community.

Thank you in advance for your help, Mr. Green. Merry Christmas!
Sincerely,
L. J. Sell, M.D.

To the Editor:
Sorry your camera didn't work properly. We enjoy your pictures very much. Since my sister and I spend a few days each year in Manistique, we especially like to reminisce when the paper comes each week.

More beautiful scenery, please.

Thank you,

BY LOUISE R. STOKEN

It's beginning to look more like Christmas. Sally Schuetter has done a terrific job of decorating our windows, painting free hand Santa Clauses, angels and snowmen.

Santa Claus, along with his wife, visited and passed out stockings full of candy to everyone.

Our thanks goes out to the Baptist Youth Fellowship senior grade of the First Baptist Church for all the wonderful bingo prizes, also the Hiawatha Goodwill Club for the home made cookies. Mrs. Ernest Press is doing the shopping this month for our people.

Our movie for Thursday was, "The Noble Breed." Our movies are starting to arrive again.

We couldn't play bingo Friday because I was snowed in and didn't get plowed out until 2 p.m. Everyone was so disappointed.

Barbie Hinkson came Saturday afternoon to catch up on our ladies' permanents. There are seven who are waiting for her.

Walter Hynes has left us. We are certainly going to miss him. He is such a jolly person. Peter Kornish and Winifred Zeiler have joined us here at the Facility.

Ken Pedersen's father, Peder Pedersen and brother, Orville, were here to visit Sunday. Ann Dupont, Mae Green, June Wood and Mrs. James Carlson came up and visited everyone at the Facility Thursday afternoon.

That's all for now, see you next week.

CHRISTMAS

Men Swear by Menswear by Pendleton

Wrap up some Instant Affluence for Christmas. Give him Pendleton. It's the ego-builder that shows your good taste, makes him feel a bit more solvent. Pendleton's reputation for quality is almost as old as the Christmas tree—yet the style is as current as tomorrow's Dow Jones report. The fiber is always pure virgin wool, which is in itself a mark of affluence. So put some gilt-edged securities in his fashion portfolio. (And while you're at it, invest in a Pendleton or so for yourself.) After all, Santa swears by them. Men do, you know.

NORTHERN WOOLENS

A golden chance

REMEMBER THOSE CANDIDATES who, just a short time ago, were vying with alarm the problems of inflation and higher taxes?

It will be interesting to see what their stand is on the recommendation of the state Officers Compensation Commission that Michigan's 149 lawmakers, its governor and lieutenant governor and Supreme Court justices should all get pay raises.

An accident of timing recently produced this recommendation just about the time the call went out to cut the state budget by $60 million because tax collections have dropped in the current business slump, and a state deficit is just ahead.

Isn't it ironic? We do not have enough money for our schools, for roads, for mental health, for prisons, for state aid to local units of government. We are faced with a deficit budget, and because of this, state services must be reduced by $60 million. Yet while we do not have enough money for these services, we are told that our Supreme Court justices need $7,000 more a year, our governor $5,000, the lieutenant governor $5,000 and each and every legislator an additional $2,000. These raises are in addition to increases in travel allowances and the increased cost of participation in pension plans. Altogether they total up to more than half a million bucks.

Now we will admit that $500,000 is only a drop in the bucket when you are talking about $60 million, but we have a hard time understanding why we should lop off $60 million in services on one hand and dish out half a million in pay increases on the other.

In a way we are fortunate. The Supreme Court justices wanted $57,000 a year, or an increase of $22,000, and they had the figures to show why they should get it, which shows the value of a college education and a membership in the exclusive Michigan Bar Association.

Gov. Milliken has announced that he will forego the extra $5,000 that will be his share of the pie, which is a noble gesture that would have been more convincing if he had announced a determination to convince the Legislature to do likewise. The pay raises will take effect automatically on Jan. 1 unless two thirds of the members of both the House and Senate vote to reject the increases. Of course the question will never be allowed to come to a vote, and all of our pious legislators will be able to proclaim their opposition to the increase while pocketing the money.

This sorry state of affairs comes about by virtue of a constitutional amendment that was slickered upon the electorate in 1968 under the guise of promoting efficiency and economy in government and control over state salaries. Just the opposite has been proven true. The vagaries of wording constitutional amendments being what they are, as consider the proposal on daylight saving time and the issue of Parochial, it is no wonder that the public did not know what they were voting for or against.

We are quick to prosecute any con artist or slicker who bilks the unsuspecting public, but we have a peculiar quirk that allows us to forgive our legislators for their financial eccentricities.

If State Senator-elect Bob Davis and State Representative Charles Varnum wanted to get off on the right foot with the people they are representing in Lansing, this would be their golden chance. This is their opportunity to lead the fight against these pay increases and to go on record as being in favor of sounder fiscal policies in the fight against inflation and higher taxes.

Do you think we'll hear from either one of them?

Pants problems

Once you reach a certain station on the road of life, there is little thrill left in going in and buying a pair of trousers.

In fact it is even less thrilling than having a birthday, when all of your friends gather around as though at a wake and make what they think are funny remarks about silver threads among the gold and that sort of thing, and if this is what your friends are saying you can imagine what fun your enemies are having.

(One nice thing about being an editor is that you afford your enemies plenty of opportunity to have fun at your expense, what with typographical errors and misplaced stories and confusing writing and that sort of thing and considering my track record during the past 10 years it is nice to know that I have made so many people in Schoolcraft County happy, although considering the disposition of many of those who criticize, I have about concluded that the only thing that will make them happy is the end of the world, and then they will complain because it wasn't audited properly.)

Well, getting back to my new trousers. (I know you're pant-ing to hear the rest of it.) (I like to throw in a little humor now and then like that, just to see if you're still on your toes.)

One of the ways to identify middle age is knowing that a person is concerned about his girth when he speaks about going to pot, rather than blowing grass, or whatever it is they do to grass besides mow it.

Back during the Great War when the time came to properly equip and uniform me, the supply sergeant presented me with pants size 30-30, which meant a 30-inch waist and a 30-inch inseam, and thus accoutered I went out to do my part in driving the wily Oriental back into the China Sea, or wherever that was that they shipped me to, secure in the knowledge that my pants wouldn't fall down whenever I used both hands to grip my mess tray or my typewriter or, perish the thought, my rifle.

Ironically, the only 30-30 today that would do me any good would be the deer rifle variety instead of the olive drab pants variety, and considering the sorry state of the deer herd today I am more apt to need a 155 mm. howitzer than a 30-30 rifle, but I am not going to go into a discussion of deer hunting and deer camp today, largely because I am just starting to heal up from the closing days of the season and there is the suspicion that perhaps I have said enough on the subject for the time being.

What with all the talk about inflation and such, I harbored the illusion that I would have no trouble at all slipping myself comfortably into a 36 inch waist, but the trousers I tried on obviously must have been mislabeled, or shrunk in transit, or the victim of a runaway sewing machine, for the truth of the matter was that it took a great deal of twisting and bending and deep breathing exercises to get the zipper up and the waistband closed, and when I stepped out to view myself in the mirror I discovered I looked fine except my tongue was loling down over my chin and my eyeballs were bugged out like I was suffering from a thyroid deficiency--a combination that distracted somewhat from my otherwise natty appearance.

The sympathetic saleslady, who obviously had taken a Dale Carnegie course some time along the line, remarked that I was probably having trouble getting a proper fit because the latest style pants today are tapered, a fact which may be of comfort to those with the slender figures of the young but which does very little for us unfortunates who seem to be tapered in the opposite direction of the pants.

The hard fact of the entire episode was that I ended up with a more appropriate 38 inch waist, which restored the blood circulation to the extremities while making me look as though I was wearing a life preserver underneath my trousers.

More surprising, however, was discovering the fact that my legs had shrunk to a 29-inch inseam. The Lord giveth, and the Lord taketh away. I brooded about this fact for a considerable time before I came to what I thought was a reasonable conclusion. It's obvious that I must have worn an inch off my legs by virtue of my pacing back and forth while fretting and worrying these past 10 years about school board members and other citizens becoming confused about what I had written in the paper and gnarling my brow in concern lest anyone discover my dastardly plot to print facts rather than fiction.

At least that's what I've wanted to do, and as my mother always used to say as she'd save the leftover mashed potatoes for another day, "Waist not, want not."

DER FEIND HAT DAS GETAN

"Der Feind hat das getan" is an all-purpose German expression. It was useful, when we were kids, in taking us out of difficult situations, and I find it just as useful now in making life's little annoyances easier to accept.

When someone borrowed my father's hammer, wrench, or pliers and didn't put it back, if one of the kids left a roller skate where an adult could slip on it, if someone smeared on one of the windows my mother had just washed, or spilled something on the living-room rug, the answer to the question "Who did that?" was "Der Feind hat das getan." If it wasn't used too often, it would invoke at least a smile and sometimes a laugh. And nobody can stay angry at anyone long when he is laughing.

It is useful also in explaining away petty annoyances. Why do some people insist on driving snowmobiles through our yard? Why does the snowplow come through and plow shut the driveway minutes after you have shoveled it open? Why are the instructions for putting almost anything together so difficult to follow? It helps a little to mutter, "Oh, der Feind hat das getan," and then go along with the business of the day.

We haven't used it much in the office, but I believe there are possibilities. Who devised this long, complicated form for reporting drop-outs to the Department of Public Education? Why must we have to keep such detailed records for all types of federal projects? Why did the company bill us for the merchandise on back order and send the bill to the wrong school? Why did they send us the wrong weight paper? Why is this dictation so difficult to follow? He talks too fast and swallows the first word of each sentence. The best thing to do is to lean back, smile benignly, and say, "Oh, der Feind hat das getan."

Try it next time something over which you have no control is about to go wrong. Just mutter, "Der Feind hat das getan," and see how much easier it is to accept. Of course, it helps to know a little German. "Der Feind hat das getan" means "The enemy did that." See -- you're smiling already!

A Sound Investment

The Census Bureau reports that the average income in 1968 of men 25 years or older with a college education was $4,500 more than the average income of men with no more than a high school diploma.

The mean income received by American men 25 and older increased from $5,600 in 1968 to $7,900 in 1968. For men with more than a high school diploma, the mean income was $8,400. For those with four or more years of college it was $12,900.

Winter trail

When winter lays a heavy hand of white on the woods there's a fascinating study in the contrast of dark and white, as shown by this woods road following a recent snow storm.
