

Manistique Semi-Weekly Miner.

VOL. 18.—NO. 1618.

MANISTIQUE, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 16, 1896.

TERMS, $1.80 A YEAR

MANISTIQUE BANK

Of Manistique, Mich.

CAPITAL $50,000.

SURPLUS, $22,000.

Banking and Fire Insurance.

Personal and Business Accounts solicited and treated with liberality.

W. H. HILL, President
M. H. QUINN, Vice Pres.
H. W. CLARKE, Cashier

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

J. M. SATTLE,
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Office over City Drug Store, River Street, residence on Oak Street, first door east of Maple Street.
Residence Telephone, No. 14.

O. C. BOWEN,
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Office in McKinstry block, residence, Maple Street. Telephone, No. 22.

A. H. WINN, D. D. S.
Residence and Office, Corner Oak and Lake Streets.
Forty-four years experience. All work made. Attention and administration for all eye examinations.

C. W. DUNTON,
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW.
From attention given to all classes of law business, Collections, etc.
OFFICE ON WALNUT STREET, MANISTIQUE, MICHIGAN.

N. E. WALSH, GEO. E. PARDEE,
WALSH & PARDEE,
ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW.
Special attention given to all classes of law business, Collections made.
OFFICE IN MARKINNEY BLDG., MANISTIQUE, MICHIGAN.

V. I. HIXSON,
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
AND JUDGE OF PROBATE.
OFFICE IN COURT HOUSE, MANISTIQUE, MICH.

M. B. PETERS,
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW.
Office: Oak Street, over Anderson's Boot and Shoe Store.
MANISTIQUE, MICHIGAN.

SEYMOUR GRAHAM,
PROPRIETOR OF CITY DRAY LINE.
All kinds of draying done.
The moving of household goods, furniture and carefully done. PATENTAGE SOLICITED.

C. KLAGSTAD & CO.,
—carry as nice a line of—
Staple and Fancy Groceries
as there is sold in the City.
Everything New and Fresh!
PRICES LOW.
Store—Oak St., Opp. Catholic Church

S. ALBAN'S MISSION.
(Occupying temporarily the Central School Bldg.)
SUNDAY SERVICES
Morning Prayer, 10:00 a. m.
Communion and Service, 10:30 a. m.
Evening, 7:30 p. m.
FRIDAY SERVICES.
All (different places as announced) at 7:30 p. m.
Lifelong Address. G. F. HAZARD, G. M. Fied in Charge.

THE BEST IS THE CHEAPEST
Buy The Mason & Hamilton Organ and Piano Office, 149 Washburn Avenue, Chicago.
—MRS. A. C. HADCOCK—

SONS OF VETERANS.
W. E. Clarke (only No. 202 meets in regular meeting every other Wed. Eve. at N. E. Hall, Veterans' hall) and A. E. Dunsen, secretary and organizer.
WILLIAM SMITH, Capt. Gen. OVAIR, First Regt.

Rose Bros' Special Annual Clearance Sale.

BEGINNING TO-DAY.

We will close out all of our Winter Goods, at the lowest prices ever known for first-class merchandise, regardless of cost or value. We must make room for our Spring goods.

Come and avail yourself of this opportunity.

ROSE BROS.

Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Currie returned home Sunday morning from their visit to friends in Milwaukee.

It is always surprising to meet a man who says exactly what he thinks when we want to gratify something.

Three-for-a-quarter is the price of Leha's "No Limit" cigar, and you cannot buy it equal for the money.

The sheriff and his deputies of Chippewa county are busy compelling the saloonists of that locality to observe the law.

Without doubt, no cigar manufactured in a city the size of Manistique is sought for as much as Leha's "No Limit."

Representative Waite has introduced a bill for consolidating laws relative to public instruction and primary schools.

The young people who are rebarsing the "Danger Signal," a poplaren drama, at the residence of Mr. Payne, last night.

Some men who are most anxious to fight for a girl before marriage are just as anxious to fight with her after marriage.

Messrs. Middlebrook, Wharfield, Slinger and Gilligan went to Peter McGeogh's camp, yesterday, to hunt for rabbits.

Messrs. Middlebrook, Wharfield, Slinger and Gilligan went to Peter McGeogh's camp, yesterday, to hunt for rabbits.

TOWN AND COUNTRY.

Council meeting this evening.
Leha's "No Limit" cigar leads and others follow.
Lewis & Mills have a new announcement in this issue. Read it.
Rose Bros, the popular merchants, have a change of ad. in this issue.
Leha's "No Limit" cigar and Robert J. are the leaders in their class.
Born, Sunday night, at Thompson a son to Mr. and Mrs. James Hettrick.
James Girvin, of Hunt's Spar, was a caller at this office, Monday afternoon.
W. E. Thomas, of Green Bay, was in the city last week, calling upon his customers.
Allan Stewart is flooding his ice rink this week and hopes soon to have it ready for use.
Hugh Logan, who attended court here last week, left for his home at Seney, Sunday morning.
Mr. Smith, of the north neighborhood, is here attending court as one of the regular panel of jurors.
Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Currie returned home Sunday morning from their visit to friends in Milwaukee.
It is always surprising to meet a man who says exactly what he thinks when we want to gratify something.
Three-for-a-quarter is the price of Leha's "No Limit" cigar, and you cannot buy it equal for the money.
The sheriff and his deputies of Chippewa county are busy compelling the saloonists of that locality to observe the law.
Without doubt, no cigar manufactured in a city the size of Manistique is sought for as much as Leha's "No Limit."

We turn to our flag as the flowers turn to the light, we give our hearts, our hearts, our hands to our country; one country, one people, one flag.

The New York board of education has approved for the first time a prosecutor against the practice of selling cigarettes to pupils in the public schools.

The managers of the Newberry Colery Garden has issued circulars stating that no more orlers would be filled for the reason that the crop of 1894 had been closed out.

There must be something decidedly wrong in the mail services when a letter mailed in Chicago on Friday does not reach this city, its destination, until Tuesday morning.

James Girvin, of Hunt's Spar, was at Thompson, early in the week visiting his brother and friends. Monday night attended the installation ceremonies of the K. of P. lodge.

Miss Lizzie Gardner was surprised by several of her young friends, Monday night, by calling upon her in a body. The party had a merry time until about 2 o'clock indulging in dancing.

Pastor Lerner received a letter from the Swedish population of St. Ignace requesting him to come and preach to them. He will be there and preach in that language next Friday evening.

Ingrained at the Owenumman, Monday morning, lawyers P. F. Clark, of Marquette and J. F. Caray, of Escanaba; Messrs. C. A. Chase, J. A. Woodruff and M. Bellier, of Gladstone, all here attending court.

The tag agitator owned by the Booth Packing Co., came up into Manistiquette village, here to undergo repairs, yesterday afternoon. She seemed to have little trouble in the bay from floating ice or in the river.

M. Blunroson, of Blunroson Bros. merchants, went to Ashland, Wis., Saturday evening, having received a telegram that burning of the barn of their store in that city. Their loss is estimated at $15,000 with little insurance.

The Gladstone Washboard company has closed a deal with A. W. Fraser of Glasgow, Scotland, whereby that gentleman takes the agency of its washboards in Scotland, Ireland and England. A dry kiln is being erected near the factory.

D. W. Bennett, book-keeper and cashier for the Delta Lumber Co., returned on Sunday from a trip to the copper mines in Houghton county. He visited the many power plants and the massive engines were to him as others most wonderful.

Samuel Mix, grand chief temptary of W. E. Clarke, great secretary, and W. E. Clarke, grand commander, of the I. O. O. F., left Monday evening for Escanaba to attend a session of that grand body. They expect to return home to-morrow morning.

The proceedings of the board of supervisors for last year have not yet appeared in pamphlet form. What the matter? This office used to have that job and we were always required to deliver them printed and bound before Jan. 1st, to the county clerk.

It was evident that four-year-olds was not wanted in the city. Dayton on the back didn't save the blue "fellow" and the old "day and festive" was also avoided. It is when a man narrows that wins. Julius Caesar, wasn't it warm?—Monroe's Herald.

John Cochen, an Austrian, was caught shooting off a revolver near the river bridge, Monday night and after several shots he was fired for some time he placed him under arrest, at the "Soo" depot. The coats and fees in Judge Thompson's court amounted to $5.00.

Seny's relief pump, and relief globe and relief mounds were without doubt as fine as we ever produced. They were admired by all both from an artistic and scientific standpoint. Principal J. A. Chisholm may well feel proud of the work of his school—School Commissioner, Lansing.

John Godkins, of Bay City and W. C. Frank, of Whitefish, were at the Owenumman, Saturday evening, at Messrs. Valentine and daughter, of Little Harbor, J. Burbo, of Minneapolis—rider on the Soo Line; A. H. Bright, of Minneapolis—attorney for the Soo Line, and Mrs. A. C. Balocok, of Chicago.

The jury that went out Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, in the murder case did not reach a conclusion until 11 o'clock Saturday night and then it was that they had agreed to disagree. On another jury they stood 6 to 3. Another trial will probably come out at the June term.

It has been quite generally circulated that W. C. Marsh is to go to the "Soo," there to reside. The reporter quizzed Mr. Marsh relative to his going away, and he stated that such was not his intention, as the business of W. C. Marsh & Co., is growing to such an extent as to need his personal attention.

Davis & Mason's saw mill in Gladstone will be running July and might the coming summer. This will furnish employment to fifty extra men. Millwright Brown has a force of men at work overhauling the machinery, and it is not unlikely that another boiler will be added to the outfit.

A Boston Hatcher girl has gained all sorts of local renown. She is water in one of the hotels there, and becoming offended at the remarks of the night clerk, hit him with a dish cover. He was knocked completely out. "Has diamonds and all, and the girl will have a chance to go into a dime museum at a salary less than a million dollars a week.

We see by the Sault Ste. Marie News that our townsman, W. C. Marsh, of the banking house of W. C. Marsh & Co., has been elected one of the board of directors of the Soo National Bank of that city. Mr. Marsh is also associated in the management of the Park hotel and has other interests there; but he will still continue in the banking business here.

Joseph Manley, the chairman of the Republican National Executive committee, has been interviewed as to location of the next Republican convention and has pronounced in favor of St. Francisco, Monday morning, lawyer P. F. Clark, of Marquette and J. F. Caray, of Escanaba; Messrs. C. A. Chase, J. A. Woodruff and M. Bellier, of Gladstone, all here attending court.

Dr. and Mrs. O. C. Bowen will leave for Chicago, to-night where Mrs. B. is to undergo treatment, at the Lincoln Sanitarium, for cancer. Dr. Pratt of this excellent institution makes speciality of the treatment of cancer by electricity. Her many friends hope she may return here in a short time in a body recovered. During the management of Dr. Bowen, county cases in a taken care of by Dr. Dube.

From collector Bradley's books we find that the number of vessels which reported at the custom houses this season was 233, and that their total tonnage was 248,914. The amount of duties collected from foreign merchandise was $481,292. The collector's books do not show all the arrivals, as many of the boats, especially those in the cedar and lumber business, consist of small craft.—Gladstone Delta.

We hear from our descriptive writer, Mr. A. Rogers, dollars against a cent that the body of man would originate a plan of currency relief that would settle this vexed question of the next twenty years.

A Surprise Party.
A party of young people gathered at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. House last Saturday evening to celebrate the 15th birthday of Frank A. House, their eldest son. The party consisted of the Misses George Ryan, Josie Ross, Tenis Ross, Minnie Lyman, Jennie Cunn, Essie Brown and Laura Williams. Messrs. Edward and Walter Cunn, John and Ralph Fuller, Aleck. Ross, Willis Webber and Ralph Brown. Several nice presents were given to show their respect for him, which were very much appreciated, and the donors will be long remembered. They played several games, and after luncheon they returned to their several homes satisfied that they had a very enjoyable time.

Cure for Stammering.
Stammering is often caused by nervousness which is the result of some physical trouble. First see a physician and be carefully examined. If there is no physical reason, speak very slowly, and have an interval between your words. Never hurry in speaking. One young man cured himself by singing all his words. If you speak fast, your words are mumbled. Have been cured by keeping some substance in the mouth and talking slowly while holding the article there. A glass bead the size of a small cherry is a good thing to carry in the mouth. Or keep a piece of chewing gum in the side of the mouth. Only perseverance and patience will enable you to overcome your difficulty.

Population of U. P. Cities.
According to the report of secretary of state Gardner, Monmouth has the largest population of any city in the United States. We give the population of the principal U. P. towns as follows:
Monmouth.....12,502
Isabella.....11,987
Marquette.....11,971
Ironwood.....9,224
Escanaba.....8,124
Iron Mountain.....7,818
Sault Ste. Marie.....7,244
Nemadji.....5,540
It had not been for the unusual dullness in the iron business, one or two or even three of the northern U. P. cities would have outdone the city of "the river."

made from the spaw of sturgeon. He states that Portage is a bustling burg of 700 inhabitants, three good hotels—one of them having nearly 100 rooms—and it is metropolitan in every way having electric lights, street cars and water works. There are six saw mills in the town, a manmade merchant grain mill and other manufacturing and a gold mine within six miles that produces from $3,000 to $4,500 of gold per week. "Oh, yes," he said, "that country is good enough for me, and I'm going to move there, having rented a house at Portage." He expects to leave here about March 10th. The Daisy Moore and fishing expeditions will be taken up by train four cars to be used for the transportation of the outfit. He will take about ten expert fishermen with him. Capt. John Colley does not expect to go north until late this year or early next.

Take Out a Tax.
The firm of R. P. Foley & Co. assumed control of the Park Hotel, at the "Soo" today, they have gone over to that bustling city to-day for that purpose. The chief of the hotel, who has been here for several days, went over on the early train this morning and will step into his new position at once. Messrs. Foley and Marsh have many friends who wish them success.

Grand Court.
Tuesday, the evidence in the case of Brasse vs. "Soo" Co. was completed this morning Judge Steere charged the jury, composed of the following: John Wrennall, Victor Harris, Plummer O'Brien, James Burns, James Lockes, Joseph McAllister, Melvorne Lyman, William Chapman, Edwin Cookson, A. A. House, John Falk and Axel Olson. The jurors retired to the jury room at about 9:30 o'clock. Messrs. Hurst and Sullivan are attorneys for plaintiff, and Messrs. Chappin, Bright and Danton for the "Soo" company.
This morning a jury will see the case of John Dube vs. Ed. Manstratix vs. "Soo" railroad company. There are many witnesses to be examined in this case.

A Good Idea.
Mr. James J. Hill, the northern railroad man and financier who is at present in Washington, says of the financial situation. It's hard to say what shall be done by congress in the future. It seems to me that it would be a good idea to have a commission to frame a bill. Take two of the oldest republican in congress, two democrats, and then appoint John Sherman chairman of the commission. It would be wise to wage ten thousand dollars against a cent that the body of man would originate a plan of currency relief that would settle this vexed question of the next twenty years.

A Surprise Party.
A party of young people gathered at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. House last Saturday evening to celebrate the 15th birthday of Frank A. House, their eldest son. The party consisted of the Misses George Ryan, Josie Ross, Tenis Ross, Minnie Lyman, Jennie Cunn, Essie Brown and Laura Williams. Messrs. Edward and Walter Cunn, John and Ralph Fuller, Aleck. Ross, Willis Webber and Ralph Brown. Several nice presents were given to show their respect for him, which were very much appreciated, and the donors will be long remembered. They played several games, and after luncheon they returned to their several homes satisfied that they had a very enjoyable time.

Cure for Stammering.
Stammering is often caused by nervousness which is the result of some physical trouble. First see a physician and be carefully examined. If there is no physical reason, speak very slowly, and have an interval between your words. Never hurry in speaking. One young man cured himself by singing all his words. If you speak fast, your words are mumbled. Have been cured by keeping some substance in the mouth and talking slowly while holding the article there. A glass bead the size of a small cherry is a good thing to carry in the mouth. Or keep a piece of chewing gum in the side of the mouth. Only perseverance and patience will enable you to overcome your difficulty.

Population of U. P. Cities.
According to the report of secretary of state Gardner, Monmouth has the largest population of any city in the United States. We give the population of the principal U. P. towns as follows:
Monmouth.....12,502
Isabella.....11,987
Marquette.....11,971
Ironwood.....9,224
Escanaba.....8,124
Iron Mountain.....7,818
Sault Ste. Marie.....7,244
Nemadji.....5,540
It had not been for the unusual dullness in the iron business, one or two or even three of the northern U. P. cities would have outdone the city of "the river."

Mayflower Lodge Officers Installed.
The recently elected officers of Mayflower Lodge No. 183, Knights of Pythias, Thompson, Mich., were publicly installed, Monday evening, after which there was an informal reception and banquet. At precisely 8 o'clock the grand officers, in the dress of E. H. uniform, filed into the hall and after the installing officer, D. W. Thompson, grand chancellor, took his position at the chancelor commander's station, the remaining officers marched to their respective positions. The following officers were selected by the grand chancellor to assist him in the installation work:
V. C. J. L. Jewell, P.—John Patterson; W. W. William Gracie, M.; E. M. J. Casper, M. of P.—A. D. McNair; K. of R. S.—John Loose; M. at A.—J. H. MacNaughton; J. G. E. Pybel; O. G. H.—Arthur Stunnes.
The following are the names of the officers installed:
P. C.—A. W. Deaver
V. C.—P. J. Deak
W. M.—Arthur Gray
P. C.—M. S. Thompson
K. of R. S.—J. A. Robinson
M. of P.—G. P. Hill
M. of P.—M. S. Thompson
J. G.—E. H. Pybel
O. G. H.—Arthur Stunnes
During the ceremony a gleed club of male and female voices provided appropriate music. After the officers were proclaimed installed and the chancelor commander announced the Rev. J. H. Rogers pastor of the Presbyterian church, of this city and past chancelor commander of the order, made an appropriate address which was listened to with marked attention and was highly appreciated by members of the order and the guests alike. Owing to the lateness of the hour his remarks were entirely informal, and cannot be recorded in full but the following is the general substance:
Speaking of his ten years experience in the Order he heartily commended its principle and aims. Frankly admitting that the principles of Friendship, Charity and Benevolence were as old as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to himself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to himself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to himself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to himself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high standard of manhood and that each one should understand his full obligation to myself and to the world as the world, and that the Order had no patent-right upon them, he urged the members present to be true to their word, not simply in the hollow roar but in the work itself. As the Order would always be judged by its members he urged the claims of high

Semi-Weekly Pioneer.

For Sale. The following household goods, belonging to Mrs. D. Coffey...

Thursday afternoon between the L. hardware store and train road going to the upper mill...

Giants of Prehistoric France. In a Proclaire country recently uncovered at Montpelier, France...

Makes Human Sacrifices. LEAVENWORTH, Jan. 12. -Advices received here from Cape Coast Castle...

A Colored Orator. Charles Walter Wood, a colored young man who graduated from the best college...

Needless Pomp at Funerals. The other day a highly respected Irish-American citizen died. He ran a nail into his foot and lockjaw set in...

List of Advertiser's Letters. Reminiscing at the Post-office at Manhattan for the week ending January 12, 1904.

Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, Ill., writes that he had a severe kidney trouble for many years...

Have you a dark, greasy skin with 'Wrinkles and eruptions'?

Amoribus—Laocoonis—Proverbs. The fairest rose will wither at last. Character is the measure of the man.

Do what you know and you will know what to do. Live and let live. It is as you would be done by.

Kindly deeds, uncounted, win more friends than a hundred words. Do not be afraid to be kind.

Do not be afraid to be kind. Do not be afraid to be kind. Do not be afraid to be kind.

Do not be afraid to be kind. Do not be afraid to be kind. Do not be afraid to be kind.

Do not be afraid to be kind. Do not be afraid to be kind. Do not be afraid to be kind.

Do not be afraid to be kind. Do not be afraid to be kind. Do not be afraid to be kind.

Do not be afraid to be kind. Do not be afraid to be kind. Do not be afraid to be kind.

Do not be afraid to be kind. Do not be afraid to be kind. Do not be afraid to be kind.

Highest of all in Leavening Power—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

Royal Baking Powder ABSOLUTELY PURE

Notice of Foreclosure. Default having been made in the condition and payment of certain mortgage made by...

Notice of Foreclosure. Default having been made in the condition and payment of certain mortgage made by...

Notice of Foreclosure. Default having been made in the condition and payment of certain mortgage made by...

Notice of Foreclosure. Default having been made in the condition and payment of certain mortgage made by...

Notice of Foreclosure. Default having been made in the condition and payment of certain mortgage made by...

Notice of Foreclosure. Default having been made in the condition and payment of certain mortgage made by...

Notice of Foreclosure. Default having been made in the condition and payment of certain mortgage made by...

Notice of Foreclosure. Default having been made in the condition and payment of certain mortgage made by...

The New Year Fish Hood's Sarsaparilla leading everything in the way of medicine in three important particulars...

Remnant Sales. Ever so close up this country. We have some of the best...

Holiday Goods. OF ALL KINDS AND PRICES. AWAY DOWN AT OUR HOUSE. CALL AND SEE THEM.

WE WILL NOT ROB YOU. NOR ASK YOU TO GUESS. BUT EVERYTHING GOES CHEAP.

Remnant Sale. We respectfully announce to our customers and the trade in general...

Many Bargains. In Our Grocery and Crockery Departments.

LET YOUR EYES REST FOR A MOMENT ON THIS SPACE. CLAY WORSTED SUITS, trimmed just as good as a $45 suit.

MAKE A SPECIALTY OF FINE OVERCOATS. CUTTING AND FITTING. C.W. REINWAND THE TAILOR.

MASON H. QUICK & CO. Shelf Hardware. GINWARE, STOVES, ORGANS, WHITSEWING MACHINES, ETC.

CHICAGO LUMBERING CO.'S STORE. WE MAKE OUR INITIAL BAY TO THE PUBLIC FOR THE YEAR 1895...

DRY GOODS, CLOTHING and BOOTS and SHOES. W. L. MIDDLEBROOK, PROP. SPOT CASH STORE.

CROCKERY and GLASSWARE. GROCERIES and PROVISIONS. CHICAGO LUMBERING CO.'S STORE.

DRY GOODS, CLOTHING and BOOTS and SHOES. W. L. MIDDLEBROOK, PROP. SPOT CASH STORE.

CROCKERY and GLASSWARE. GROCERIES and PROVISIONS. CHICAGO LUMBERING CO.'S STORE.

DRY GOODS, CLOTHING and BOOTS and SHOES. W. L. MIDDLEBROOK, PROP. SPOT CASH STORE.

CROCKERY and GLASSWARE. GROCERIES and PROVISIONS. CHICAGO LUMBERING CO.'S STORE.

DRY GOODS, CLOTHING and BOOTS and SHOES. W. L. MIDDLEBROOK, PROP. SPOT CASH STORE.

CROCKERY and GLASSWARE. GROCERIES and PROVISIONS. CHICAGO LUMBERING CO.'S STORE.