TOWN AND COUNTRY.

Receptions are now the order of the day.

Attend the S. of V. meeting this evening.

Rev. T. J. Macintyre was at home here Monday.

Lady's "No Limit" cigars are the smoker's delight.

Antonio Dolorio, of Cooks, was in the city Monday.

Knowledge to be a good thing must be rightly applied.

Preparations for spring work are in lively preparation.

Many complaints now about bad colds, in grippe, etc.

Several people were "down" on the icy sidewalks Monday.

Progressive political parties are becoming fashionable again.

Prof. Monroe, after a visit to his parents in the state of New York for a month, returned here Friday evening. He reports his father's health on the improve slowly.

Thanks for a very pleasant call at the office yesterday from Mrs. Van Dyke and Mrs. Good, of Nida. The first annual formerly held in this village. Call again, ladies.

Rev. Mr. Loner will preach at St. James' next Monday evening, and at St. Paul's Tuesday and Wednesday evening. His visits to these points will be quite frequent hereafter.

Supr. McCullum, of Thompson, arrived home from Detroit, Sunday evening. The man nominated by the republicans for justice of the supreme court was his first choice.

Republicans should attend the caucuses in the several townships, and the night men, as usual, held on the 11th of March to nominate a candidate for school commissioner.

Edmund Ashford, county clerk, after attending two conventions and the republican club banquet at Detroit, last week, arrived home Sunday evening. He speaks of having a grand time.

We learn that the Hill & Buell mill at South Manistique will cut about 18,000,000 feet of lumber next season; running only day and night, and cut 42,000,000.

D. W. Bennett, treasurer of Thompson township, was in the city Monday. Thanks for his call at this office. The first of his kind we have to make, this is he can't call on us half as often as we wish.

A good time now to have in-door painting done. When warm weather comes painters will undoubtedly be rushed with orders for outdoor work. It is a good time to have paper hanging done.

Scott M. Doughty, with Hans & Co., who has been the artist at the McKesson gallery for the last two months, now occupies the Kinball gallery, on Walnut street, and will continue his fine work in the photograph business in Manistique; his long experience and improved facilities guarantee work of superior quality, and the prices will be moderate. The latest improvements will be introduced from time to time as they appear. A new feature is the glass-plate camera, that will be used producing pictures of greatest brilliancy that will not fade.

An old soldier, George Stapleton, of the 74th Ind., who has been making his home here since he came to the country was brought to town Monday by Sheriff Carr and Commissioner Hill at the request of relatives in the south part of the state, and was sent to the home of his relatives in the south. It appears to be something queer to the old gentleman, and his wandering up here, that ought, and probably will be investigated. We will not say this time give any of the stories now being made public, but shall look with interest at the investigation that should be made to place him here.

Some of our U. P. exchanges speak of the necessity of an Editorial Association in this part of the state. They are one or two prospective societies of this kind south of the straits, and a vast amount of good is accomplished by them; but they are not in our part of the state. Geo. H. Hemen, returned the old society that existed several years ago with Col.

Van Duzer, as president, and let us hold another meeting in June or September, at some central point and will over matters. We suggest Newberry as a highly inviting point, for some, if not all, of the craft. Let us hear from others?

G. A. E. Meeting.

Geo. P. Fuller Post will meet in regular session on Friday evening, March 2nd. A general attendance of members is expected.

Dreveland and John Wadleigh, for $10, the distance to be four miles—40 times around the rink. Here will be a O. U. W. band will be in attendance.

27th Birthday.

Capt. George D. Tucker reached that point last Saturday, and came home from his business at Whitefish to enjoy the afternoon and evening with his family. A number of his neighbors and friends called and took tea with them and enjoyed the evening very much. Capt. Tucker is one of the pioneers of this locality and has a good record as a business man, either on land or water. Long may he live to enjoy good health and the respect of such social body as the O. S. Store. Also a pleasant acquaintance and comes to this city highly recommended as a salesman. Mrs. C. and child will arrive here next week and will make their home at the residence of Mr. Wells. Their first navigation opens when their furniture will be shipped here.

Teachers should bear in mind that school opening cannot last until the 4th of July; but it is good now and should be made good use of while it lasts. There are many logs, poles, staves and posts, that should be got out of the woods; and thousands of cords of wood that will be used in Manistique this winter, and will not be cut during the winter. No time to waste during the remaining days of this winter. The Irons are excellent now, and this is an opportunity in using them frequently.

We have to announce that J. A. Co., who has been the artist at the McKesson gallery for the last two months, now occupies the Kinball gallery, on Walnut street, and will continue his fine work in the photograph business in Manistique; his long experience and improved facilities guarantee work of superior quality, and the prices will be moderate. The latest improvements will be introduced from time to time as they appear. A new feature is the glass-plate camera, that will be used producing pictures of greatest brilliancy that will not fade.

The military stock belonging to the firm of Lewis & Mills was moved Monday afternoon from Walnut street to the large room in the Bank block, formerly occupied by the post-office. It is a very handsome store room and just prepared for a first class military store. They are ready to receive calls. More new goods in a short time.

Sheriff Carr left on the train this morning to accompany the veteran soldier, George Stapleton, to his friends on the lower peninsula. Yesterday the sheriff and Hugh Hayden procured a new set of scales and the latter gave the old man a thorough scrubbing in a bath tub. Any infirmity that falls into their hands is always well cared for.

Dr. J. D. Kerns, a veterinary surgeon, has come to Manistique with the expectation of locating here. He is a graduate of the Chicago D. O. S. College and has had a number of years experience. Every man who owns a horse and in need of a veterinary surgeon should call on him. He is highly recommended by leading men of the state. He can be found at Tucker's livery. All calls promptly attended to.

"Troj" Lockwood, the "Soo," who was a resident of this city for a number of years, died last night. He is to be taken charge of the photographic establishment of R. C. McKesson. Mr. L. is not a prize as a photographer for his ability is well known. His work is a credit to his skill as a photographer. We are pleased to learn that he is to reside here.

Rev. Mr. Loner preached at Thompson last Sunday and admitted eight new members to the Lutheran society. These people were there having decided to build a house of worship at that village the coming autumn, and for that purpose will hold a meeting on Friday evening. They are glad to see the work moving in that direction. All religious meetings there now are held in the hall.

Moses Blomsoen, accompanied by his brother Barney, arrived here Saturday evening from the eastern cities. They had been making large purchases of new goods for their stores here and at Ashland. Barney remained until the evening train Monday when he left for his home at Ashland. Both these gentlemen believe in buying goods early and selling cheap. That is the way they have always treated the people of this city.

C. A. Childs, son of J. W. Childs, the veteran traveling man, of DePre, Wis., arrived here yesterday to take the position of head clerk in the dry goods department of the Western Lumber Co. store. Also a pleasant acquaintance and comes to this city highly recommended as a salesman. Mrs. C. and child will arrive here next week and will make their home at the residence of Mr. Wells. Their first navigation opens when their furniture will be shipped here.

Ball Attempt of Robbery.

There was an attempted robbery of Rose & Schumbe's store on this place last night by a man, who since his arrest gives his name as Geo. Page. He had succeeded in entering the back room, used mostly for a store room for groceries, provisions and heavy merchandise, and was attempting to force the door from the room into the front and principal room of the establishment when checked in his progress by a bullet from a revolver in the hands of John Bellare, one of the clerks of the house, who was standing on the other side raising development. The bullet passed through the middle pane in an oblique direction and it seems under the angle arm, close to the table, causing him to drop his lantern and a hatchet he was using to assist him in his effort to force the door in by main strength. The close call of the bullet caused "George" to emit a yell of surprise and make an earnest effort to get as far as possible from a gun handled with such precision, regardless of his own safety. However, he was captured about nine miles from Seney, this morning and held waiting the arrival of the prosecuting attorney.

Mr. Bellare the young man who prevented the accomplishment of robbery is a man of exceptionally good character and besides his duties as clerk is the Sunday School superintendent here, preaching his lessons. He is often called upon to attend funerals in that capacity, there being no regular minister here.

Your correspondent interviewed him early this morning before the log had been found and stated that he was a good deal agitated from fear no doubt that his shot had been fatal and he would be called on to officiate at a funeral. At the other end of the episode so to speak. We have no doubt our friend John would handle both cases gracefully, but congratulate him that he escaped this double duty.

Quinton, Feb. 23—W. Haverly was shot and fatally injured at night at Edge's pavilion by "Prof." Alred Rickhoff the alleged "champion rifle shot of the world." TOWN AND COUNTRY.

Receptions are now the order of the day.

Attend the S. of V. meeting this evening.

Rev. T. J. Macintyre was at home here Monday.

Lady's "No Limit" cigars are the smoker's delight.

Antonio Dolorio, of Cooks, was in the city Monday.

Knowledge to be a good thing must be rightly applied.

Preparations for spring work are in lively preparation.

Many complaints now about bad colds, in grippe, etc.

Several people were "down" on the icy sidewalks Monday.

Progressive political parties are becoming fashionable again.

Prof. Monroe, after a visit to his parents in the state of New York for a month, returned here Friday evening. He reports his father's health on the improve slowly.

Thanks for a very pleasant call at the office yesterday from Mrs. Van Dyke and Mrs. Good, of Nida. The first annual formerly held in this village. Call again, ladies.

Rev. Mr. Loner will preach at St. James' next Monday evening, and at St. Paul's Tuesday and Wednesday evening. His visits to these points will be quite frequent hereafter.

Supr. McCullum, of Thompson, arrived home from Detroit, Sunday evening. The man nominated by the republicans for justice of the supreme court was his first choice.

Republicans should attend the caucuses in the several townships, and the night men, as usual, held on the 11th of March to nominate a candidate for school commissioner.

Edmund Ashford, county clerk, after attending two conventions and the republican club banquet at Detroit, last week, arrived home Sunday evening. He speaks of having a grand time.

We learn that the Hill & Buell mill at South Manistique will cut about 18,000,000 feet of lumber next season; running only day and night, and cut 42,000,000.

D. W. Bennett, treasurer of Thompson township, was in the city Monday. Thanks for his call at this office. The first of his kind we have to make, this is he can't call on us half as often as we wish.

A good time now to have in-door painting done. When warm weather comes painters will undoubtedly be rushed with orders for outdoor work. It is a good time to have paper hanging done.

Scott M. Doughty, with Hans & Co., who has been the artist at the McKesson gallery for the last two months, now occupies the Kinball gallery, on Walnut street, and will continue his fine work in the photograph business in Manistique; his long experience and improved facilities guarantee work of superior quality, and the prices will be moderate. The latest improvements will be introduced from time to time as they appear. A new feature is the glass-plate camera, that will be used producing pictures of greatest brilliancy that will not fade.

An old soldier, George Stapleton, of the 74th Ind., who has been making his home here since he came to the country was brought to town Monday by Sheriff Carr and Commissioner Hill at the request of relatives in the south part of the state, and was sent to the home of his relatives in the south. It appears to be something queer to the old gentleman, and his wandering up here, that ought, and probably will be investigated. We will not say this time give any of the stories now being made public, but shall look with interest at the investigation that should be made to place him here.

Some of our U. P. exchanges speak of the necessity of an Editorial Association in this part of the state. They are one or two prospective societies of this kind south of the straits, and a vast amount of good is accomplished by them; but they are not in our part of the state. Geo. H. Hemen, returned the old society that existed several years ago with Col.

Ball Attempt of Robbery.

There was an attempted robbery of Rose & Schumbe's store on this place last night by a man, who since his arrest gives his name as Geo. Page. He had succeeded in entering the back room, used mostly for a store room for groceries, provisions and heavy merchandise, and was attempting to force the door from the room into the front and principal room of the establishment when checked in his progress by a bullet from a revolver in the hands of John Bellare, one of the clerks of the house, who was standing on the other side raising development. The bullet passed through the middle pane in an oblique direction and it seems under the angle arm, close to the table, causing him to drop his lantern and a hatchet he was using to assist him in his effort to force the door in by main strength. The close call of the bullet caused "George" to emit a yell of surprise and make an earnest effort to get as far as possible from a gun handled with such precision, regardless of his own safety. However, he was captured about nine miles from Seney, this morning and held waiting the arrival of the prosecuting attorney.

Mr. Bellare the young man who prevented the accomplishment of robbery is a man of exceptionally good character and besides his duties as clerk is the Sunday School superintendent here, preaching his lessons. He is often called upon to attend funerals in that capacity, there being no regular minister here.

Your correspondent interviewed him early this morning before the log had been found and stated that he was a good deal agitated from fear no doubt that his shot had been fatal and he would be called on to officiate at a funeral. At the other end of the episode so to speak. We have no doubt our friend John would handle both cases gracefully, but congratulate him that he escaped this double duty.

Shot the Manity Target.

Quinton, Feb. 23—W. Haverly was shot and fatally injured at night at Edge's pavilion by "Prof." Alred Rickhoff the alleged "champion rifle shot of the world." The men were performing a business at Whitefish to enjoy the afternoon and evening with his family. A number of his neighbors and friends called and took tea with them and enjoyed the evening very much. Capt. Tucker is one of the pioneers of this locality and has a good record as a business man, either on land or water. Long may he live to enjoy good health and the respect of such social body as the O. S. Store. Also a pleasant acquaintance and comes to this city highly recommended as a salesman. Mrs. C. and child will arrive here next week and will make their home at the residence of Mr. Wells. Their first navigation opens when their furniture will be shipped here.

Teachers should bear in mind that school opening cannot last until the 4th of July; but it is good now and should be made good use of while it lasts. There are many logs, poles, staves and posts, that should be got out of the woods; and thousands of cords of wood that will be used in Manistique this winter, and will not be cut during the winter. No time to waste during the remaining days of this winter. The Irons are excellent now, and this is an opportunity in using them frequently.

We have to announce that J. A. Co., who has been the artist at the McKesson gallery for the last two months, now occupies the Kinball gallery, on Walnut street, and will continue his fine work in the photograph business in Manistique; his long experience and improved facilities guarantee work of superior quality, and the prices will be moderate. The latest improvements will be introduced from time to time as they appear. A new feature is the glass-plate camera, that will be used producing pictures of greatest brilliancy that will not fade.
