Immunization Of School Children Vital, Says Doctor

(Dr. E. J. Bremer)

During the past few weeks children have been given consent cards by their teachers, to be signed by the parents and returned to the teachers. These cards are furnished by the Health Department and allow the child to be vaccinated by the doctor. This vaccination is provided for the child from having smallpox and should be taken advantage of by every parent.

At one time smallpox was one of the most prevalent diseases known. The deaths from this dreaded disease at times have been greater than deaths due to wars. It has been known to wipe out entire cities or towns. The resulting disability due to the disease are still B seen in many communities.

Since the discovery, however, of vaccination, the disease has been practically wiped out and epidemics are now only seen in communities where vaccination is still thought of as something brutal.

Today the fear of vaccination is being obtained from the parents who refuse to allow their child or children to be vaccinated. This is inviting disaster and with this sure preventive available every parent who child contracts or dies from smallpox should be condemned the same as a hit-and-run driver. Smallpox is a disease of the past and we should have no fear of it. By having our children vaccinated at this absolute safeguard.

Diphtheria is another disease that is rapidly taking its place as a disease of the past. Here again it is due to the fact that we have a specific preventive that we have been able to control this disease to a point where less than 600 cases occurred in the state last year. By means of the Schick test it has been shown that the greatest need for immunization against diphtheria is between the end of the first year of life and five years. Some susceptibility may exist, however, at any time from birth to adult life, although the susceptibility rapidly diminishes after the tenth year. Infants under one year of age are as a rule immune. In older children and adults the Schick test would be used to determine susceptibility.

Active immunization by the use of diphtheria toxoid should be resorted to in all children between the ages of one year and ten years and in older children when the Schick test has shown a susceptibility to the disease. It therefore should be the duty of all parents to see that their children are immunized early in life and take advantage of the clinics now being conducted by the Health Department at all schools. Toxin (furnished free to all physicians) those desiring to have their family doctor administer the toxoid may do so. Free anti-toxin is also furnished to physicians for use for patients suffering from diphtheria.

Thus with the powerful weapons needed to combat diphtheria available, free of charge, there is no need for any child to suffer from the disease and every parent should sign the consent card brought home by the children allowing the health officer to give toxoid.

TOWERMEN END FIRE SERVICE

Only Danger Feared Now Is Dry Spell During Hunting Season

Forest fire towermen have come down from regular duty in their posts throughout the state with the likelihood of having several weeks of the safest fire season in Michigan's history.

Although it has been occurring up to the start of next year must be included in the record for the 1937 season, the average loss total on Oct. 15, the date on which the towermen are annually taken off the regular payroll of the department of conservation, was smaller by several hundred acres than for any previous season. Unless dry weather develops during the next few weeks, the number of acres burned over this year will aggregate less than the previous lowest total of 18,420 acres recorded in 1925. With only two fires being reported in the lower peninsula and during the last week of September, the total for this year on Oct. 3 was only 14,191 acres. The loss on the two fires reported was estimated at three acres. Previously, all week went by without any fire occurring.

Although now off regular duty, the towermen are subject to emergency call on a day-to-day basis. About the only danger now feared is a dry spell during the deer hunting season. In past years, the hazard has sometimes been high during November because of the combination of dry weather and large numbers of hunters in the woods.

NAME INSPECTORS FOR U. P. POTATOES

All Interstate Shipments Of Potatoes Must Bear Grading Certificates

Two important changes affecting handling of the 1937 potato crop are now in effect. In the upper peninsula there are now federal name inspectors to attend to potato handlers this week by John B. Strange, commissioner of Department of Agriculture, under order by United States Department of Agriculture, all interstate shipments of potatoes must bear federal grading certificate while under state law all graders of this product must pass examination conducted by federal inspectors, according to Commissioner Strange.

Official stations to serve various parts of the state in the upper peninsula have been established by the department in Escanaba, Houghton and Menominee. Inspectors assigned by the department are: Vernon Witherell, Escanaba; Ronald Severinsen, Menominee; and Nicholas Badovine, Houghton.

Inspectors will be available not only for the grading of the potato crop but will conduct examination for graders in this district. Commissioner Strange pointed out that the grader's application must bear inspector's approval when received in the Lansing office as well as the endorsement of two references. Upon receipt of properly approved application, the department will issue to the grader a license, bearing his number.

All closed containers of potatoes must carry the grader's number, the card or tag or branding.

"The contents of this package have been graded by Michigan licensed grader No. ...." If properly graded potatoes may be inspected in violation of the grader's license, according to Commissioner Strange, which may be readily traced by the license number.

A GAWKY LONG-NOSED BOY

Al Brady was hoarse. His looks excited the gibes of his school fellows. They tormented him, but the only way to achieve their admiration was to learn to be a big guy. He practiced talking out of the side of his mouth and flipping guns from one hand to another. At about this time John Dillinger appeared in the news. Al Brady followed Dillinger's prison break, his robberies and murders, in the black headlines of our newspapers. There were few stories to show that "crime does not pay," as J. Edgar Hoover had not begun his intensive war against the criminal. Dillinger became a hero to Brady. He dreamed of a like career. The gangster films he saw only increased his admiration for this kind of life. Now let's look at another boy. Abraham Lincoln was a gawky, long-nosed boy. But compare the conditions which raised these two boys. His ugliness did not grow in on him, for Abraham Lincoln came into grips with reality in his formative years. He early participated in the business of living. The Bible grew into his flesh and bone and he learned his ears. He saw and heard the noble and the true. He aspired for only the noble and the true. Abraham Lincoln became an emancipator of sorrow. Al Brady sank to the lowest, hunted and shot down like a rat. Society continues to commit crimes against our youth. In the days to follow the only proof we need of this fact is to check the flamboyant badness of Al Brady as told and pictured by the nation's press. And another boy, just going into his teens, may read and turn his thoughts to a life of crime.

COMMITTING SUICIDE

Let's not confuse today's war problem with words of idealism and false promises. The threat of war to prevent war is the most absurd public policy ever seriously advocated. There is no preventive of war, never has been, and never can be as long as human nature preserves certain qualities which today it still possesses. In the early 19th century, America, Great Britain and France entered an alliance with similar idealistic aims for peace which the League today advocates, yet in the 140 years of following that alliance they added millions of square miles of territory to their domains through wars of aggression. Today these same countries say that democracy is doomed unless territorial boundaries remain unchanged and peace continues unbroken. If democracy has in the future always to fight the world wars and can never participate in or stand aside from a small, localized conflict such as the present disputes in Spain and China, then democracy is doomed to perish. There are many moral, ethical and legal reasons why the satisfied nations should make war on the dissatisfied nations rather than permit the latter to expand at the expense of weaker peoples. But such reasons for trying to check the dissatisfied will not stop them from fighting. The great question is whether democracy will commit suicide by fighting another world war. Let it be repeated that those who now ask for a United front of the liberal democracies (France, Great Britain and America), to conserve liberalism, are asking for a United front of the liberal democracies. These nations control nearly two-thirds of all territory and resources of the world, and virtually exclude immigrants. The high tariffs they impose against the dissatisfied countries make it impossible for the underprivileged nations to get enough to purchase necessary raw materials. If the present tariff and immigration systems are maintained, then the dissatisfied nations must be left to follow the examples of the satisfied democracies of land-grabbing from more backward areas. America is being propagandized with the idea that liberty and democracy will perish unless all liberals unite, but that idea has no support in the history of the past or the logic of the present. Nothing is easier than for human nature to be swept to its destruction by a wave of unreasonable propaganda. Such propaganda is leading to another world war which will destroy democracy and will produce chaos and communism. It is suicidal madness. "From 'Liberalism Commits Suicide,' American Mercury for October.

Abraham Lincoln was as just and generous to the rich and well-born as to the poor and humble—a thing rare among politicians.—John Hay.

It's too awfully bad that our grandchildren and great grandchildren can not be here to see the wonderful things we are doing with their money.

Good will is one of the greatest assets of any business. It is built up by good values, fair dealing, reasonable prices, courteous service and good advertising.

Some senators say they would not have voted for Judge Black's confirmation had they known he belonged to the Klan. Maybe they should have stayed around and listened to some of Senator Burke's speeches.

We thought there was a catch in it somewhere, when as youngsters were told to work hard and save our money. Those who did heed this advice now have to help support the fellows who claim the government owes them a living.

Anyway, this is the first time in the history of the United States that a justice of the Supreme Court has had to hide in hotel rooms under assumed names, sneak out of back doors and sneak on and off steamers. He even had to wear a disguise by taking his cash secretly—

President Roosevelt's speech on world affairs, in which he criticized dictatorialism and proposed a virtual quarantine of belligerent nations, is perhaps the most important international event of the month. It was greeted with almost unanimous praise in this country, by papers of all political affiliations. It is a definite step toward a more direct, aggressive and head of a government, extremely it is believed certain that the British and possibly the French sign officers were consulted before the President is approved by the three great democracies of the world. Mr. Roosevelt's speech is the simple as it is revolutionary. He said that it might be necessary to place a towing commercial war around the world. President Roosevelt's speech on world affairs, in which he criticized dictatorialism and proposed a virtual quarantine of belligerent nations, is perhaps the most important international event of the month. It was greeted with almost unanimous praise in this country, by papers of all political affiliations. It is a definite step toward a more direct, aggressive and head of a government, extremely it is believed certain that the British and possibly the French sign officers were consulted before the President is approved by the three great democracies of the world. ## MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR GOUZENS HELD

Dr. E. J. Brenner Discusses
Work Of Children's Fund
Of Michigan

"Work of the Health Unit in Schoolcraft county," was the subject of an address by Dr. E. J. Brenner, director of the Alcona Schoolcraft health department, at the feature of the James F. Gozens Memorial program held at the high school Monday.

Dr. Brenner explained the department's activities and the part of the Children's Fund of Michigan, Gozens' endowed institution plays in the health promotion work in this county.

The Gozens Memorial program was instituted here Monday following a proclamation issued through out the state by Governor Frank Murphy. The text of the governor's proclamation was read by Joan Hayden, of the junior high school, David Shinar, of the senior high school, gave an address, "The Life of James Gozens," which reviewed the story of the state's greatest philanthropist.

Included on the program were musical numbers by the Junior Senior Girls Glee club, a star phone game and a vitaphone play by Lorraine Barber, accompanied by Loreen Smith.

When You Are at Fault

You properly blame the Sun for stewing you in summer, but for cold weather discomfort you can blame only yourself. It is easier to keep warm in winter than cool in summer. It's a matter of clothing. These cold weather overcoats were styled and tailored by the House of Curlee. They are all wool, of course, and that means 100% long-fibre, virgin wool, woven to give you the most warm, with very little weight to carry. These fine Curlee overcoats look like garments costing much more and they wear and wear and wear. All models are here. Many different patterns—all perfect in style and tailoring. ## Hiawatha Store Opens October 30

The Hiawatha Store, located in the building on South Cedar street formerly occupied by the Fairmont ice cream store, will open for business Saturday morning, October 30, it was announced Wednesday by R. C. Olson, owner. The store will feature a line of variety and household goods ranging from five cents to a dollar. The building has been redecorated throughout. Display fixtures and merchandise are being arranged in the new store this week. Mr. and Mrs. Olson, who are former residents of Manistique, have for the past eight years operated a similar variety store in Gladstone. They moved to Manistique about three weeks ago and are residing on Terrace avenue. They have two children, Joyce and Bessie. Miss Ruth Skogquist of Gladstone, who worked for Mr. Olson in his Gladstone business, has come to Manistique to assist in the new store.

INLANDS PREPARE FOR SOO CONTEST

Local Eleven Travels To Lock City Sunday For Return Game

With their seasons' record to date standing at one and one, the Manistique independent football organization, the Inlands, play a return game with the Soo Bears at the Soo Sunday afternoon. Two weeks ago, the Inlands were victorious in a meeting with the Lock City crew by a 15 to 0 count. Last week they dropped a 4-0 decision to the tough Marquette Prison aggregation.

The pigskinners leave for the Soo Sunday morning expecting to meet a strongly reinforced outfit which, on the gridiron, can be expected to put up a stern battle until the final gun. The Bears lacked organization, in their first contest and presented a somewhat make-shift line against the Blue-shirted Inlands.

The Inlands have not been resting on their laurels, however, since the last meeting of the two teams and signal drills and skull sessions as well as scrimmages have been in order. Evidence of an improved aerial attack were displayed last Sunday and the Rubick-Peasley combination in particular is expected to gain considerable yardage at the Lock City.

Approximately twenty squad members will make the trip from here, accompanied by Coach Harry Quick and Manager Paul Vestine. The starting lineup for Manistique will probably see Captain Ptasley and Davenport at ends; Norton and Berger, tackles; John and Mott, guards; Dewey, center; Pats, quarter; Rogers and Rubick, halves; and Marz, full. Bule who will probably see action are Carpenter, Bond, Dugas, Barnes, LaMuth, Raquette, and Schauer.
