E. J. SHEAHAN, MANAGER

Manistique and Schoolcraft county mourns the death of E. J. Sheahan, general superintendent of the Manistique Pulp and Paper company and the Manistique Light and Power company.

Mr. Sheahan probably will be missed in Manistique as much for his kindly disposition as for his industry and unassuming, unfruffled manner as he will for those administrative qualities which made him an excellent leader.

Manistique loses a fine citizen, two major local enterprises lose an efficient manager and countless people lose a friend of rare quality. Requisite in pace!

A suggestion on taxes offered to the city council at its last meeting by Attorney G. S. Johnson has been commented on by the Board of Sault Ste. Marie business men.

Mr. Johnson suggested to the board that penalties be levied on delinquent taxpayers to make full payment on many property descriptions.

Reserve awards were given to the following students: Roland Holmick, Clinton Goddard, Gilbert Nelson, Wallace A. Martin, Howard Shampine, Russell Thomas, Claude O'Neill, Bob Hentschell, Marvin Merckley, Gunnar Hellsten, Roy Peterson, Ellsworth Gray, Clifford Lambert, Ralph McMillan, Gordon Johnson, Clarence Beauregard, Edwin Sundell, and Bruce Smith.

Music by the high school band opened the assembly. The music of the most powerful football teams in the upper peninsula during the 1936 season. The Green and White players smashed their way to victory over every team on the schedule with the exception of the single 6 to 0 tie against the Escanaba club.

That Congressman John Lucke, of Escanaba, will support Manistique to obtain a state police post here is being stated by following letter which he dispatched on January 2 to State Senator James Detsch, of Garden, and State Representative Ezra Aldrich, of Hiawatha.

POST OFFICE HAS BUSIEST SEASON

Mail Volume During Christmas Holidays Sets Record At Manistique Office

According to figures given out last week by Postmaster A. O. Dowdall, the local post office transacted the largest volume of business in history during this Christmas season.

From the period of Dec. 1 to Dec. 21 inclusive outgoing Christmas cards handled here were 7,012 over last year.

Stamps sales were $14.48 over last year. Money orders issued were 133 over last year and U. S. Savings bonds sales were $5,118.75 over the same period last year.

The increases are particularly exceptional considering the fact that they represent comparisons with the same period in 1935, when the largest volume of business for a similar period was transacted at the local post office.

Monday, Dec. 21 and Tuesday, Dec. 22 were the busiest days during the holiday season. Thousands of Christmas cards and packages were handled, sorted and distributed during those two days.

The postal service handled the greatest volume of mail with considerable efficiency and a minimum of delay.

Postmaster Dowdall said yesterday that the entire staff of the postal service here sincerely appreciated the cooperation of the public during the Christmas season.

A majority of persons sorted the Christmas cards for city delivery from outgoing cards, facilitating the handling of this type.

AMERICA GAINS IN TIMBER RESERVES

Timber Production In U. S. Finally Getting In Balance With Cutting

Marquette, Mich.—American timber production is gradually getting in balance with timber consumption, according to a bulletin of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau.

Quoting John K. Woods of Washington, member of the Society of American Foresters, and recent NRA report, the bulletin shows that forest drain for the past five or six years averaged approximately 5,000,000 cubic feet annually, while yearly growth is estimated at 5,000,000 cubic feet.

Miss June Gardner, scientist for her home Saturday after spending the next year period was only 16,400,000,000 feet.

The south is developing much faster than the north as a potential source of timber supply, according to an address in the past two decades large sections of many northern states have become potential yellow pine farms. These states now grow an amount of their pine lands about 18,000,000 cords of wood each year. As these areas swing into production, with increasing forests coming to maturity annually, the yearly yield of timber and pulpwood will be fair to exceed that of the old pine lands in former days.

Better means of forest fire suppression are also doing much to build up reserves. The northwest states are now growing and carrying over a surplus of timber, according to Mr. Woods. Only in the north central and lake states is there a growth lag behind depletion, but as regards the country as a whole, this authority believes it is no longer true that America is using up her timber resources several times as fast as they are being regrown.

STAR DUST

Movie - Radio

OF COURSE you've seen Sid Silvers, and laughed at him, in many a movie now you're going to hear him on the air with Al Johnson, whom you've also seen in pictures, but not recently. Silvers is something new under the sun. He writes the very funny lines he speaks; that is, he makes them up, but he does not put them down on paper. He just says them. Somebody else takes them down, and if he has any funny ideas during the final filming of a scene, in it goes and the scene is done over again. But what have you got to see if he forgets himself and will come on the air, since radio scripts have to be written and re-written, and then approved.

Now it's Claudette Colbert and her husband who are going to adopt a baby from the famous orphanage in Chicago. Irene Dunne and Fred Astaire were the latest couple to do it—and Irene, worse luck, had such a bad cold during the first few days of the little girl's presence in the home that she couldn't go near the infant. Claudette has been given the lead in the "Covach" role, the successful stage play, she should be grand in it.

Claire Luce, who was Fred Astaire's first dancing partner after his sister deserted him for matrimony in Hollywood, with years' experience to become a motion picture actress. On the stage she got along beautifully with the mumble Fred, but she's not making tests for it, so apparently she isn't being considered for his partner on the screen. Practically everyone else has been, apparently!

The blonde Miss Luce has a lifetime on the stage behind her—that is, she has her lifetime as she started at the age of four. She was in the six or eight chorus girls in the musical show which Miss Luce Hopkins and various other celebrities were also chorus girls—and what tales they all tell about each other in private.

It looks as if James Cagney would break out again—in a fight with a motion picture company this time, but in a new venture. He is talking about reviving the theater in small towns, so you may see him in person before long.

It is said that Robert Montgomery and Pat O'Brien may appear with him, as well as his brother Bill. Meanwhile his first picture for Grand National, completed at last.

How do you like the idea of a picture with Robert Taylor, Spencer Tracy and James Stewart in it? The picture will be "Three Comedies," and the author is the man who wrote "The Sign of the Cross," so the story ought to be good. Once upon a time studio executives would have dreamed of the idea of putting these three players in one picture, but nowadays the big companies want to give us as much for our money as they can.

Have you been missing "Minnie Mouse" from the screen? If you don't worry, she'll return. You see, her voice—that is, the young woman who plays "Minnie" in the cartoon—got married and went off on a honeymoon.

Being the voice for Walt Disney's malar characters is a pretty good job and it means a great deal of money. Walt Disney is so familiar with the minds that Mickey and his co-workers make.

Maybe some day we'll see that they feature-length picture that has been talked about for so long, now White and the Seven Dwarfs.

ODDS AND ENDS... "The Gay Desperado" which has been traveling around, giving concerts, and playing in the theaters, is now in the opera house here in Detroit, keeping him home for the first time. It is a play by the author, finally admitted that he and his wife, who were straightened out in his marital affairs are straightened out. He and Mrs. Schulberg have been living apart for some time. Richard Dix is taking out a paternity suit, a worthless rascal who has been playing the rascal. "She Met Him in Paris," which was made him for losing out on the "Run," the Crawford movie picture. Now they say that the mother in "Stella Dallas" is a Western newspaper editor.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

One of the most interesting and potentially far-reaching phases of future stability for the nation is the increasing interest shown by manufacturers, and especially large corporations, in many of the fields, as well as economic significance.

One example of this was provided at the recent annual meeting of the National Association of Manufacturers, representative of goods-producing concerns of the country. The president of the Association, C. N. Chester, who is also Chairman of General Foods Corporation, justified the keynote of the meeting when he said, "Industry cannot just sit back and enjoy the fruits of prosperity. We must understand better what has happened since 1929. Now that the course of the depression is being studied, it is the job for industry, general business and all affected sectors of our economic life to join in creating a national depression study committee."

National public interest has been focused on Washington during the past year. As a result, local governments have been forced to consider a number of local public issues. In 1937, however, local politics will be of vital importance to legislators. In 1937, no less than 43 state legislatures will convene. Before these legislatures will be many highly important questions. One of these questions is that of Federal appropriations for management and investment; it will be brought on states to appropriate funds to supplement the Federal dollars.

Every one who follows the Times-Courier in Detroit Sunday comes in a color. They are the greatest in the world and include such old favorites as "Pooney," "Hens," and "Tillie the Toiler," as well as many recent comic creations such as "Squirrel Cage" by Gene Ahern and Zane Grey's adventure feature "Tex Thorne," etc.

Fayette, Mich.—Henry Raymond, a Fayette fisherman, started out New Year's morning on foot with a small sled on Big Bay de Noquet to determine what damage had been done to his nets by soft weather and high winds.

Not knowing from where the crew were coming, pestmaster Fred Van Kemont started an investigation. John LaSalle ventured out on the ice when he located Raymond. After lifting the unfortunate man out of the water he also managed to extricate the sled. Placing Raymond on the sled he pulled him to shore where first aid was promptly administered. Raymond suffered no ill effects from his cold dip.

State Highway Department Funds Show Cash Balance

The State Highway Department began the new year with its books firmly in the black. Murray D. Van Wageningen, State Highway Commissioner, announced a cash balance in department funds at the end of the calendar year of $1,041,752. Total receipts for 1936 were placed at $28,109,474 while $26,588,718 was expended during the 12-month period.

The Commissioner's statement showed gasoline tax collections of $25,571,229 for the year, of which $6,500,000 was returned directly to the counties including the annual appropriation under the McNair law abolishing the township road system.

The department's balance sheet of an eventful year. For the first time since the weight tax receipts (inasmuch as the entire amount of this revenue is returned directly to the counties. Direct grants from the Federal government for highway improvements were likewise excluded.

Last year at this time the department showed a new year with a cash balance in excess of $6,000,000. Commissioner Van Wageningen said, however, that a $2,000,000 construction program had been carried out during 1936, the largest in the history of the department. More than $6,000,000 was spent on maintenance during the year.

Commissioner Van Wageningen stressed the point that the cash balance "is not to be construed as a surplus. A constant cash balance is not only desired but necessary to meet recurring obligations."

"I also emphasize that the Federal government is making more than $4,650,000 available to us this year on a matched fund basis. This money will not be available until we match it dollar for dollar. There is also a $1,690,000 direct grant for grade separation construction, the right-way expense for which must be met by the State Highway Department."
