"Man proposes, God disposes." That proverb, applied to the problem of flood control...

First flood control measure in this country was taken by New Orleans in 1717, when a levee was built...

The obvious question is, Why then, have we spent over millions of dollars on levees and reservoirs when we might have curbed the water at its source?

In 1927, according to Time magazine, engineers pointed out that to reduce a Mississippi flood one foot would require the building of 7,000,000 to 11,000,000 acre feet of water...

This gives some idea of the magnitude of the problem. And the report is, according to Turner Catledge of the New York Times...

In the meantime, 270 different control projects have been authorized at a cost of $300,000,000 by the Flood Control Act of 1936...

WILL AWARD PRIZES FOR BIRD FEEDING

Michigan Audubon Society Conducts State-Wide Contest For Students

About six weeks still remain of a state-wide contest, conducted by the Michigan Audubon Society, in the winter. Feeding of birds by school children. Entries on valuable prizes will be given to the winners.

Each contestant must submit in essay or any other form desired a paper on the subject of "How I Attracted Birds to My Station." This must be in the mail by April 17. Length of list of birds attracted, based on the number in the region, will count, as will originality of methods used in constructing the feeding station, and information about the various birds observed, particularly in regard to relations to each other in the birds' home.

There will be six prizes in each grade group, prizes for each being identical: 1st prize: bird chart for school attended by winner plus "Birds of America"—a 832 page, beautifully illustrated book, 2nd prize: a year's subscription to Nature Magazine, plus a bird chart for school, 3rd prize: "Peterson's Field Guide to the Birds," 4th prize: "Land Bird Guide," 5th prize: subscription to "Bird Lore," 6th prize: "Bird Cards in Color." All schools attended by winners will receive the quarterly bulletin of the society for one year. Judges will be officers of the Michigan Audubon Society.

WHAT THE 'BUMPS' ON YOUR HEAD DON'T MEAN

An article in The American Weekly with the February 27 issue of The Detroit Sunday Times reveals that many supposedly intelligent people still believe in the long exploded idea that the shape and size of your head have anything to do with the quality of your brain—Ah.

Steam hisses as it escapes from a leaky valve, but an inferior lamp bulb sounds no warning as it goes on giving less light than it should. Thousands of homes today are paying for light they do not get because their sockets contain lamps that are out of date, worn out, or of unknown, sub-standard make. Frequently, the eyes of young and old in these homes suffer strain from inadequate light. A simple way to protect your eyesight, and to be sure of using current for light thriftily, is to buy dependable lamps—EDISON MAZDA LAMPS. Get a carton today.

(Continued from page 1) with Grand Island in Lake Superior. This county was attached to Chippewa county for judicial purposes, and until very recently was attached to Marquette county.

"Grand Island Township, as established by the act of March 16, 1817, embraced as a school district. This county was attached to Chippewa county for judicial purposes, and until very recently was attached to Marquette county.

"The act approved April 3, 1848, declared that all that portion of the state embraced within the limits hereinafter specified shall be laid out as a separate county, to be known and designated as Schoolcraft county. The first town meeting was ordered to be held at the house of John W. Williams, in June, 1847.

"Franklin Howard, of St. Joseph county, bequeathed to Schoolcraft Township the sum of $600, to be so used that the annual interest thereon should be applied to the support of primary schools, and that the township should within four years raise a similar sum, to be similarly applied. An act on the subject was passed March 1, 1847.

"The county furnished 265 men to the Michigan regiment in the field from 1861 to 1862, 430 enlisted previous to September 19, 1865 and seventy-two men served for three years. The figures are given in connection with the returns of the older county of Marquette, to which Schoolcraft was then attached. In reality, the county as now known did not furnish more than thirty-six men, if that number. In the general military history, all soldiers who received commissions and registered themselves as residents of Schoolcraft are credited to this county in the records of officers. A few only of those in the ranks belonged to the Upper Peninsula.

"The number of acres of United M. R. R. was completed in 1881. States lands open to entry Octo- and a foundation laid for that prosperity which is promised to the place.

"Grand Island as its name implies, is situated near the southern shore of Lake Superior, nearly midway between the Sault and Keweenaw. It is generally well wooded, principally with birch, maple and beech. Mr. Williams came here in an early day and took up his residence. He had a numerous family, now several times his own children had married and settled by him in the fall of 1817, he came accompanied by his wife and four children to Keweenaw, 20 miles to be sacrificed on the homestead plan. Rev. Mr. Piteloff felt himself at a little loss over this visit from his neighbors on the island especially as he was called to perform the solemn rite.

"In referring to his first visit in 1817, this missionary says: "On the evening of the first day, we reached Carp River, near the flourishing town of Marquette. I had my own moccasins, but my wife had no shoes and she was so weary that I could scarcely drag my snowshoes along. The sight of a human habitation, though it was but an Indian lodge, gave me such joy that I was involuntarily overcome by tears. Here we were warmly received. One of the men had just taken a deer. Mall-je-ge-zah's wife made us a warm cake, and venison and potatoes, and made us a dish of tea—all neatly and well served, and which had never been so common at such places. Our hostess then dried and mended my moccasins, and seemed to take pleasure in doing so, and to minister to our wants. The next day was Saturday. We had the start of our trip by traveling twenty miles about midnight. This hard day's work was too much for the men, and was quite unbecoming to the ladies." "The Pictured Rocks: The Pictured Rocks are the far-famed Painted or Pictured Rocks so eloquently described by Schoolcraft in his "History of the North American Indians" as entitled to place among the wonders of the world. They consist of a series of precipitous, craggy, towering walls, vast caverns, waterfalls and prostrate pillars and stalactites resembling the ruins of some mighty Babylon of the gods and giants, in wonderful confusion. They are over 300 feet perpendicular in height, and extend for fifteen miles along the lake shore. They consist of sandstone, rising from a similar deposit of sandstone, almost every conceivable color and shade, red, black, yellow, green, brown, white and grey. The effect when viewed from the lake on a sunny day is indescribably gorgeous. About four miles from the beginning of this weird and wonderful formation is Cascade Lake, a beautiful stream that flows from the face of the precipices nearly a hundred feet above the lake level. Its form is that of a rainbow rising from the lake to the top of the precipice, and a small boat can pass between it and the lake in the same manner as the Doric Rock, consisting of four steep pillars of sandstone, supporting a similar formation, presenting the appearance of a colossal work of art. It is said to be the peculiar Manistique soil with a slight vegetable mold, then a layer of red clay, then white marl, containing a heavy percent of lime, then a white clay soil. It is covered with a dense growth of heavy hardwood, some of the timber being the largest the lake region ever saw. There is an active inquiry for sites for lumber mills along the line of the railroad. The great forests of maple and black birch will be a source of great wealth to the Upper Peninsula.

WE HAVE THE CREAM OF USED CAR VALUES. But were selling them at SKIMMED-MILK PRICES. THE 1937 "wing to Ford" has brought the cream of the used car values to used car displays — but even cream will "freeze" in cold weather. We don't want "frozen" used car assets on our hands until spring. We don't want to pay the cost of carrying them through the winter. NO, SIR! We'd rather sell them now at lower prices and get liquid "cream" into our bank accounts. SO — We've brought used car prices down to the year's lowest levels! We're willing to pay you to buy now! We're offering our best used cars, all makes and models, all faster buys, renewed and guaranteed — at prices which represent a real winter bonus to smart used car buyers. Prices reduced as much as $50. Why put up with trouble, inconvenience and expense on your present car all winter? Why drive an increasingly inefficient car until it's lost its trade-in value? WHY THROW AWAY THE USED CAR OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME? Come in today. See the cars we're offering — see the price tags. Then drive away in a real bargain! Don't forget — Ford Dealers, and Ford Dealers only, offer R & G cars protected by the Iron-Burd & G guarantee which says: "Your money back if you're not absolutely satisfied." DAIRYMEN TO HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

Dairy Manufacturers' Association To Convene At Marquette Saturday

The members of the Upper Peninsula Dairy Manufacturers' Association are holding their annual educational and business meeting at the Hotel Northland, Marquette, February 20 and 21 according to their secretary T. H. Williamson, Marquette, and Russell E. Horwood, extension dairyman, Michigan, State College.

Highlights of the educational program include talks by Edward K. Stater, editor of the dairy journals published by the Olson Publishing company; secretary of the Detroit Dairy and Food Council; Lee MacGinley, public accountant, Marquette, who will speak on the 1936 revenue act; J. M. Jensen, extension dairyman, Michigan State College, is scheduled to carry on demonstrations on quality milk and show simple plant tests that will aid in furnishing this work. The Association's business meeting will be held the morning of February 21. A banquet will be held Saturday night for which an especially entertaining program has been prepared. Entertainment features will include the Ishpeming Ski Club Tournament Monday afternoon. Special entertainments are being provided for the ladies during the entire period covered by the meeting. Every person connected with the manufacture, sale and distribution of dairy products is invited to attend and take part in this outstanding program. Mr. Horwood said.

320 Students Join Association

With 320 members signed for the second semester, the Student association at Manistique high school concluded its membership drive this week. The campaign was directed by Melford Christensen, treasurer of the association. The drive was enlisted last week by a pep meeting conducted by the faculty to emphasize the fact that a membership of 300 would mean new suits for the basketball team when the district tournament is played here. The tournament was discussed by John Kelly, the intra-mural basketball program by Oscar Wassberg; William Cook spoke on the tournament from the official's point of view, and discussed the effect of Student association membership on track activities. Wayne Martin talked briefly on the band festival to be held in Marquette in the spring. The relation of the S. A. to other student activities, including the Girls' Athletic association, the High School Crier, the Pep club and forensics, were explained by Miss Evelyn Schuster, Miss Elizabeth Palk, Miss Florence Williams and Preston Tantis, debate coach.

QUESTIONS THAT ARE ASKED ABOUT BANKING

"What obligations does my Bank have to me?"

Your bank is obligated to:

- Safeguard your deposited money with all possible diligence and protect you against loss from fire, theft, or forgery.
- Make your money available to you when you want it.
- Cash your checks upon the order of your signature when presented by yourself or other duly authorized persons.
- Return to you accurate statements of your account with cancelled checks, which are legal receipts for expenditures.

Your bank is able to meet these obligations through honesty and skill in management which renders its services worthy of your support and the confidence of the entire community.

THE PRESIDENT'S INTENTION

"The pretense has already been cast aside that the President's main purpose is to expedite justice and invigorate the judiciary... 'By an act of lawless legality he would force two-thirds of the justices to choose between resigning and being branded publicly as senile...'"

LIBERTY

February marks the birthday of our two greatest Americans, George Washington and Abraham Lincoln... 'Liberty we speak of and take so for granted, what is it? It is freedom of thought, of movement and of choice to earn a living...'"

A SHODDY SYSTEM

The American people have in the past fortnight been properly aroused at the demand of John L. Lewis that President Roosevelt intervene on the side of Labor in the General Motors strike...

Yet we submit that there is some little irony in the popular warble as Mr. Lewis' request. For day in and day out the American people allow their government, state and national, to be run, for the most part, by persons who have been selected neither because they deserve their jobs by virtue of their ability, nor with any reference whatsoever to the welfare of the whole people...

The course of the American system of government is the spoils system. Blessed with abundant national wealth in economics and with federal democracy in government, we are allowing ourselves to dissipate great portions of our rich heritage by our unaccountably stupid method of selecting public servants for every reason under the sun...

Yet it is more than possible that the end of the spoils system in the State of Michigan is at hand. For our legislature has before it an admirable measure prepared by Dr. Pollock and the Civil Service Study Commission...

Diplomacy is the art of letting someone have your way... Anon.

Tell me they company and I will tell thee what thou art... Cervantes.

Good for all of us—a few moments of each day to ponder on what it is all about.

A man is rich or poor not according to what he has but according to what he wants.

Out in St. Joe a man was bitten by a camel. That's news. But when a man bites a camel it just means he's an inexperienced cigarette smoker.

Warning: "We are fairly certain to have a repetition of 1929 unless we take rather positive action to prevent it."—Secretary Wallace.

"No business or industry... give the combination of..."

...regulation and competition at the hands of the Federal Government...—C. E. Grosbeck.

"Next to doing the right thing the most important thing in the world is to let the public know you are doing the right thing."—John D. Rockefeller.

If you are a writer, nothing is more confusing than the difference between the things you have to say and the things you are allowed to print.—D. H. Lawrence.

There is a story going the rounds, according to Haeh, in the Augusta Gazette, of a W.P.A. foreman who wired headquarters for more shovels. Headquarters wired back: "We have no more shovels, let the men shovel on each other."—Isabella County Republican.

"Without Free Speech no search for truth is possible, without free speech no discovery of truth is useful, without free speech progress is checked and the nation no longer marches forward toward the nobler life which the future holds for man. Better a thousandfold abuse of free speech than denial of free speech. The abuse dies in a day but the denial lasts the life of the people and entombs the hope of the race."—Chas. Bradlaugh.

You never Lose with Property Insurance

Even though you may never suffer a loss through fire, windstorm, explosion, automobile collision, accident, theft or other hazards covered by your insurance policies, your premiums will not have been spent in vain. For, in addition to the actual protection against financial loss, your insurance policies permit you to enjoy a priceless peace of mind.

The surprising thing about it all is that insurance protection can be obtained so economically... a mere fraction of the loss it prevents. And there is a policy for practically every hazard that threatens your material welfare. Feel free to consult us at any time... without obligation.

(CHAPTER FIVE: Captive and Capter) 1. Realizing he is the only man who can attempt to capture Wild Bill Hickok and live... 2. Suddenly the friends hear the wote of a crazed Indian, singing a doleful song of triumph as he marches along a nearby trail... 3. From the incoherent sing-song of the rookin, Cody and Hickok hear the tale of the tragic battle which history remembers as 'Custer's Last Stand'... 4. True to his word, Hickok goes to Deadwood a 1 comes face to face with the treacherous John Lattimer, gun smuggler. He accuses Lattimer of supplying the repeating rifles which have brought down the Indian war bands and demands that Lattimer show him what is in a wagon covered with buffalo hides which the trader has just packed. Lattimer lifts the sides to reveal a new and recently drawn his revolver.
