

It was a surprise... I remember him vividly as he looked the day the broad beam of his scout...

Rations were well-kept exhausted... We were living on "quarter portions"...

It was the summer of the terrible... October massacre (1876), and night and...

Stirling Bull, with a great following... had crossed the Yellowstone and gone...

Myself was over on the right bank... at the time, and dined with amazing...

There he stood, just where I had seen... him the instant before, with the same...

Mechanically he was thrusting an... cartridge into the breach of his rifle...

"Come out of that, Philo, for Heaven's... sake!" yelled a second cavayman...

It was too much for the crowd... Everybody seemed to make a simultaneous...

A moment more and brave old Capt... was half-dragging his rifle out some...

Well, we got there—pushing ahead... through mud, mist and rain. Being...

For the time being there was a lull... in the fight. Forty-one big odgers...

Late that afternoon the whole party... came—Crazy Horse with hundreds of...

"Look out for that raven!" said Col... Mills to me as I was riding in among...

"Sure enough!" Out on the slopes near... the deep, brush-hidden depths of the...

I had found a little patch of grass... down in a sheltered nook, and had...

Everyone seemed to wake up all at... once, the realization that there was a...

fully. Presently a concerted effort... was made to fetch them out.

I remember him vividly as he looked... the day the broad beam of his scout...

It was a surprise... I remember him vividly as he looked...

Rations were well-kept exhausted... We were living on "quarter portions"...

It was the summer of the terrible... October massacre (1876), and night and...

Stirling Bull, with a great following... had crossed the Yellowstone and gone...

Myself was over on the right bank... at the time, and dined with amazing...

There he stood, just where I had seen... him the instant before, with the same...

Mechanically he was thrusting an... cartridge into the breach of his rifle...

"Come out of that, Philo, for Heaven's... sake!" yelled a second cavayman...

It was too much for the crowd... Everybody seemed to make a simultaneous...

A moment more and brave old Capt... was half-dragging his rifle out some...

Well, we got there—pushing ahead... through mud, mist and rain. Being...

For the time being there was a lull... in the fight. Forty-one big odgers...

Late that afternoon the whole party... came—Crazy Horse with hundreds of...

"Look out for that raven!" said Col... Mills to me as I was riding in among...

"Sure enough!" Out on the slopes near... the deep, brush-hidden depths of the...

I had found a little patch of grass... down in a sheltered nook, and had...

Everyone seemed to wake up all at... once, the realization that there was a...

AN EXCELLENT MEMORY.

How a Young American Remembered Her... and German Officers.

A general idea of a bright young... American and several German officers...

"Well, I only judge from what I saw... from my house the other morning...

"The other man didn't look pleased at... all."

"Yes," he admitted, reluctantly... "He cried, but not over my husband...

"I don't! I didn't hear him cry," she... said. "I should say so. The first...

"I began with Cheamagne and went... through the list without a break...

"There he stood, just where I had seen... him the instant before, with the same...

Mechanically he was thrusting an... cartridge into the breach of his rifle...

"Come out of that, Philo, for Heaven's... sake!" yelled a second cavayman...

It was too much for the crowd... Everybody seemed to make a simultaneous...

A moment more and brave old Capt... was half-dragging his rifle out some...

Well, we got there—pushing ahead... through mud, mist and rain. Being...

For the time being there was a lull... in the fight. Forty-one big odgers...

Late that afternoon the whole party... came—Crazy Horse with hundreds of...

"Look out for that raven!" said Col... Mills to me as I was riding in among...

"Sure enough!" Out on the slopes near... the deep, brush-hidden depths of the...

I had found a little patch of grass... down in a sheltered nook, and had...

Everyone seemed to wake up all at... once, the realization that there was a...

SEEN, BUT NOT HEARD.

How a Young American Remembered Her... and German Officers.

A general idea of a bright young... American and several German officers...

"Well, I only judge from what I saw... from my house the other morning...

"The other man didn't look pleased at... all."

"Yes," he admitted, reluctantly... "He cried, but not over my husband...

"I don't! I didn't hear him cry," she... said. "I should say so. The first...

"I began with Cheamagne and went... through the list without a break...

"There he stood, just where I had seen... him the instant before, with the same...

Mechanically he was thrusting an... cartridge into the breach of his rifle...

"Come out of that, Philo, for Heaven's... sake!" yelled a second cavayman...

It was too much for the crowd... Everybody seemed to make a simultaneous...

A moment more and brave old Capt... was half-dragging his rifle out some...

Well, we got there—pushing ahead... through mud, mist and rain. Being...

For the time being there was a lull... in the fight. Forty-one big odgers...

Late that afternoon the whole party... came—Crazy Horse with hundreds of...

"Look out for that raven!" said Col... Mills to me as I was riding in among...

"Sure enough!" Out on the slopes near... the deep, brush-hidden depths of the...

I had found a little patch of grass... down in a sheltered nook, and had...

Everyone seemed to wake up all at... once, the realization that there was a...

THEY'RE ALL HERE.

How a Young American Remembered Her... and German Officers.

A general idea of a bright young... American and several German officers...

"Well, I only judge from what I saw... from my house the other morning...

"The other man didn't look pleased at... all."

"Yes," he admitted, reluctantly... "He cried, but not over my husband...

"I don't! I didn't hear him cry," she... said. "I should say so. The first...

"I began with Cheamagne and went... through the list without a break...

"There he stood, just where I had seen... him the instant before, with the same...

Mechanically he was thrusting an... cartridge into the breach of his rifle...

"Come out of that, Philo, for Heaven's... sake!" yelled a second cavayman...

It was too much for the crowd... Everybody seemed to make a simultaneous...

A moment more and brave old Capt... was half-dragging his rifle out some...

Well, we got there—pushing ahead... through mud, mist and rain. Being...

For the time being there was a lull... in the fight. Forty-one big odgers...

Late that afternoon the whole party... came—Crazy Horse with hundreds of...

"Look out for that raven!" said Col... Mills to me as I was riding in among...

"Sure enough!" Out on the slopes near... the deep, brush-hidden depths of the...

I had found a little patch of grass... down in a sheltered nook, and had...

Everyone seemed to wake up all at... once, the realization that there was a...

THEY'RE ALL HERE.

How a Young American Remembered Her... and German Officers.

A general idea of a bright young... American and several German officers...

"Well, I only judge from what I saw... from my house the other morning...

"The other man didn't look pleased at... all."

"Yes," he admitted, reluctantly... "He cried, but not over my husband...

"I don't! I didn't hear him cry," she... said. "I should say so. The first...

"I began with Cheamagne and went... through the list without a break...

"There he stood, just where I had seen... him the instant before, with the same...

Mechanically he was thrusting an... cartridge into the breach of his rifle...

"Come out of that, Philo, for Heaven's... sake!" yelled a second cavayman...

It was too much for the crowd... Everybody seemed to make a simultaneous...

A moment more and brave old Capt... was half-dragging his rifle out some...

Well, we got there—pushing ahead... through mud, mist and rain. Being...

For the time being there was a lull... in the fight. Forty-one big odgers...

Late that afternoon the whole party... came—Crazy Horse with hundreds of...

"Look out for that raven!" said Col... Mills to me as I was riding in among...

"Sure enough!" Out on the slopes near... the deep, brush-hidden depths of the...

I had found a little patch of grass... down in a sheltered nook, and had...

Everyone seemed to wake up all at... once, the realization that there was a...

JOSEPH JEFFERSON.

Character and Work of American Greatest Comedian.

Early Struggles Attended by Exaggerated Success—Eventually Won Some Recognition—Later Years.

Special Letter!

The true delineator of dramatic characters must learn sooner or later that strong comedy is the effect which arouses enthusiasm in the audience. It was to the deep impression this thought made upon the mind of Joseph Jefferson...

Joseph Jefferson was nearly thirty years of age before he secured any public recognition. This was in 1858 at Laura Keane's theater in New York city...

time on December 20, 1897, to Miss Sarah Warren, a relative of William Warren, the comedian. He has ever been liberal in the extreme to his brethren in the profession...

Mr. Jefferson's Rip Van Winkle must always stand, not only as one of the best, but the finest, of all stage representations, but as the great masterpiece in his own repertoire.

Everything, however, this comedian has done has been super-excellent. Mr. Jefferson is an actor by heredity and by education.

The subject of this sketch began his career at the early age of three years, when he took the part of the child in "Pizarro, or the Death of Rolla" at a theater in Washington.

Before he was twenty-one he began to think seriously of settling down in life and was married to an actress named Louisa...

The list of characters Mr. Jefferson has played in his time is a very formidable one. He played Bob Acres many times in the early days, and never

It was in the definition class teacher was giving out the words to spell, and he said there as usual...

Mr. Jefferson has played and made great success of the character of Nelson Soudier in "The Octorogo Woman"...

Joseph Jefferson is one of the most genial men in the dramatic profession. He was married the second time on December 20, 1897...

Mr. Jefferson is in these days resting upon the laurels he has so well earned. He continues himself to two or three of his favorite characters...

He is not perhaps too old, for though he is 63 years of age his health and general physical condition are excellent. He does not spend so much of his spare time at his plantation in Louisiana as formerly...

His father was a man of high character and high social position. He is interested in politics and is a warm personal friend of Governor Cleveland...

His father was a man of high character and high social position. He is interested in politics and is a warm personal friend of Governor Cleveland...

His father was a man of high character and high social position. He is interested in politics and is a warm personal friend of Governor Cleveland...

His father was a man of high character and high social position. He is interested in politics and is a warm personal friend of Governor Cleveland...

His father was a man of high character and high social position. He is interested in politics and is a warm personal friend of Governor Cleveland...

It was in the definition class teacher was giving out the words to spell, and he said there as usual...

Mr. Jefferson has played and made great success of the character of Nelson Soudier in "The Octorogo Woman"...

Joseph Jefferson is one of the most genial men in the dramatic profession. He was married the second time on December 20, 1897...

Mr. Jefferson is in these days resting upon the laurels he has so well earned. He continues himself to two or three of his favorite characters...

He is not perhaps too old, for though he is 63 years of age his health and general physical condition are excellent. He does not spend so much of his spare time at his plantation in Louisiana as formerly...

His father was a man of high character and high social position. He is interested in politics and is a warm personal friend of Governor Cleveland...

His father was a man of high character and high social position. He is interested in politics and is a warm personal friend of Governor Cleveland...

His father was a man of high character and high social position. He is interested in politics and is a warm personal friend of Governor Cleveland...

His father was a man of high character and high social position. He is interested in politics and is a warm personal friend of Governor Cleveland...

His father was a man of high character and high social position. He is interested in politics and is a warm personal friend of Governor Cleveland...

It was in the definition class teacher was giving out the words to spell, and he said there as usual...

Mr. Jefferson has played and made great success of the character of Nelson Soudier in "The Octorogo Woman"...

Joseph Jefferson is one of the most genial men in the dramatic profession. He was married the second time on December 20, 1897...

Mr. Jefferson is in these days resting upon the laurels he has so well earned. He continues himself to two or three of his favorite characters...

He is not perhaps too old, for though he is 63 years of age his health and general physical condition are excellent. He does not spend so much of his spare time at his plantation in Louisiana as formerly...

His father was a man of high character and high social position. He is interested in politics and is a warm personal friend of Governor Cleveland...

His father was a man of high character and high social position. He is interested in politics and is a warm personal friend of Governor Cleveland...

His father was a man of high character and high social position. He is interested in politics and is a warm personal friend of Governor Cleveland...

His father was a man of high character and high social position. He is interested in politics and is a warm personal friend of Governor Cleveland...

His father was a man of high character and high social position. He is interested in politics and is a warm personal friend of Governor Cleveland...

THE ACQUIRED CALF.

Mr. Mother Nearly Killed the Dog, the Premier.

Yesterday the Animal Was Taken to the County Jail, and the Dog Was Released to the Hands of the Farmer.

The calf that was born after the death of its mother was nearly killed by the dog, the Premier.

The calf that was born after the death of its mother was nearly killed by the dog, the Premier.

The calf that was born after the death of its mother was nearly killed by the dog, the Premier.

The calf that was born after the death of its mother was nearly killed by the dog, the Premier.

The calf that was born after the death of its mother was nearly killed by the dog, the Premier.

The calf that was born after the death of its mother was nearly killed by the dog, the Premier.

The calf that was born after the death of its mother was nearly killed by the dog, the Premier.

The calf that was born after the death of its mother was nearly killed by the dog, the Premier.

The calf that was born after the death of its mother was nearly killed by the dog, the Premier.

GEN. LEW WALLACE.

The Most Distinguished Literary Man of the West.

Gen. Lew Wallace, whose new novel, "The Prince of India," has just appeared, was born in Brookville, Ind., on the 10th day of April, 1827...

Gen. Lew Wallace, whose new novel, "The Prince of India," has just appeared, was born in Brookville, Ind., on the 10th day of April, 1827...

Gen. Lew Wallace, whose new novel, "The Prince of India," has just appeared, was born in Brookville, Ind., on the 10th day of April, 1827...

Gen. Lew Wallace, whose new novel, "The Prince of India," has just appeared, was born in Brookville, Ind., on the 10th day of April, 1827...

Gen. Lew Wallace, whose new novel, "The Prince of India," has just appeared, was born in Brookville, Ind., on the 10th day of April, 1827...

Gen. Lew Wallace, whose new novel, "The Prince of India," has just appeared, was born in Brookville, Ind., on the 10th day of April, 1827...

Gen. Lew Wallace, whose new novel, "The Prince of India," has just appeared, was born in Brookville, Ind., on the 10th day of April, 1827...

Gen. Lew Wallace, whose new novel, "The Prince of India," has just appeared, was born in Brookville, Ind., on the 10th day of April, 1827...

Gen. Lew Wallace, whose new novel, "The Prince of India," has just appeared, was born in Brookville, Ind., on the 10th day of April, 1827...

Gen. Lew Wallace, whose new novel, "The Prince of India," has just appeared, was born in Brookville, Ind., on the 10th day of April, 1827...

JEFFERSON AS "BOB ACRES."

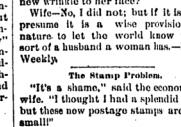

JOSEPH JEFFERSON.

JEFFERSON AS RIP VAN WINKLE.

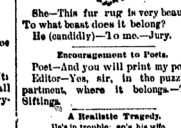

JEFFERSON AS "BOB ACRES."

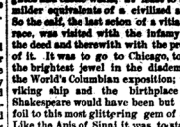

JEFFERSON AS "BOB ACRES."

JEFFERSON AS "BOB ACRES."

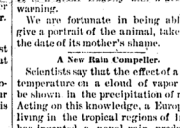

JEFFERSON AS "BOB ACRES."

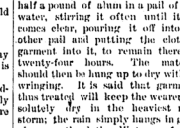

JEFFERSON AS "BOB ACRES."

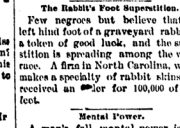

JEFFERSON AS "BOB ACRES."

JEFFERSON AS "BOB ACRES."

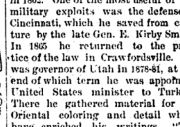

JEFFERSON AS "BOB ACRES."

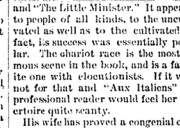

JEFFERSON AS "BOB ACRES."

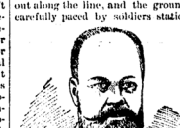

JEFFERSON AS "BOB ACRES."

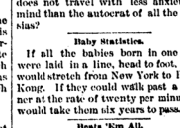

JEFFERSON AS "BOB ACRES."

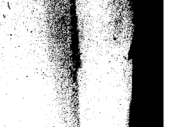

JEFFERSON AS "BOB ACRES."

JEFFERSON AS "BOB ACRES."

JEFFERSON AS "BOB ACRES."

JEFFERSON AS "BOB ACRES."

JEFFERSON AS "BOB ACRES."

JEFFERSON AS "BOB ACRES."

JEFFERSON AS "BOB ACRES."

JEFFERSON AS "BOB ACRES."

THE TRIBUNE

(Successor to the Star.)

— PUBLISHED BY —

THE TRIBUNE PUBLISHING CO.

Geo. E. HARBEN, Editor and Manager

Entered as the Postoffice at Manistique, Mich., a second-class matter.

THURSDAY, JUNE 23, 1908.

SEVEN AND LOVE OF IT.

(By F. L. Hanson, in Atlanta Constitution.)

Theory something in the way, boy, day

There's a glow in the way of the world

That makes a fellow follow all the world he Doesn't seem, sweet, contented with his

When the light

Of a million stars make music to a million

They seem to glow in the night

Or in the white light and the bright light, where

The lights are dim

You are drifting with the race leaves to the Night's voluptuous breast!

Life is longer, with no hope of a storm to

Strike and stay

The peace that makes the poet and the blindness of day.

Life is longer, and the story, told in legends

And the world more to the music of a million

Trillions June.

—

REMINISCENCES

Needling close to the base of Pike's Peak is a little deserted grass yard. The wooden head boards have partially decayed; grasses show the work of the ghoulish crows and several species of cactus here and there mark the ground. Here he batted those that died by the bullet or the hangman's rope during the early history of Colorado City. Perhaps one hundred men and women are awaiting the resurrection morn in this cemetery in the shadow of the Peak. What a category of crime, disappointments and of lives mispent could be penned were the biographies of these silent dwellers written for the world to read. As we stood contemplating the scene, multitudinous thoughts flitted us. All these mourned dwellers were once innocent, prattling children, basking in the love of fond parents and enjoying all the luxuries of a home life. Stories of the western Eldorado, as they grew to manly estate, fired them with resolve to seek their fortunes there. They may have been pure before bidding farewell to mother, but the fast life of the west soon transformed them to wretches capable of committing any crime known to civilization. Curiosity led us to scale the worn stone fence and to further investigate it. Our feet happened to touch a skull, and as it fell before us, a ragged hole in the forehead told us plainly that the bullet was responsible for that person's death.

In the twilight we wound one way over the foot hills in the direction of Colorado Springs. To the right hand in the distance could be heard the discordant strains of a Colorado City dance band playing, and the curses of irk-raged men.

THE 'JAG' CASE' BILL

The so-called "jag bill" passed by the last legislature is now law. The essential features of this new law appear in the following provisions: "That whenever any person shall be charged or complained against as being a disorderly person on account of drunkenness or intoxication in the courts or before any Justice of the peace or police justice of this state, it shall be lawful for such court or Justice of the peace or police justice to cause to be taken from such person a special license in the penal sum of $100 with a good and sufficient surety to be approved by such court or Justice of the peace or police justice, conditioned that such person will immediately take treatment for the cure of such drunkenness or intoxication of some established cure therein to be specified for at least 30 days, and that such person will observe and obey all directions and regulations prescribed by those administering such course; and that such person will not indulge in the use of intoxicating or malt liquors for the period of ninety days, and that such person at the end of sixty days from the date of such recognition appear before such court, Justice of the peace or police justice, and answer the charge or complaint against such person.

Another important provision is that in cases where a showing of indignance is made by the court, not exceeding seventy dollars shall be a charge against the county. If at the end of sixty days it appears that the person has lived up to the terms of his recognition he is acquitted of the charge against him otherwise he is to be subject to the penalty prescribed by law.

DEPENDS ON WHO'S TAKEN.

When Cleveland returned from his recent fishing and hunting expedition the press of the country gave out the startling news that he was "tamed as brown as a berry." That's nothing. We know editors on the upper peninsula that have done twelve hours each out in the sun chasing the festive trout, and their complexion would suit to shame the color of the modern Africa. Aside from ruined complexion they are made the best of this costly by persons that know less about the newspaper business than a porter does of Heaven. If the berry complexioned man forgot to say that "Sammy Amen's" cal was quite ill last week," or that "Foggy Stout" is respectable in her own hall" or that "The Dussberry has shaved his mustache," they are branded by them as journalistic omnium.

There is a peculiar fascination to newspaper work, however, that keeps it despite in the harness despite a ruined complexion, gossip, delinquent subscribers and the man or woman who always accuses some other person of writing articles written by the editor. Newspapers might or maybe be more, but as a rule editors never receive credit for anything they do toward advancing their city's interests. When they do, delinquency and fault finding subscribers will "through the church" to see how the editor will be treated.

Young editors, or those having had a broken in spirit, they retrace their steps toward home, to a small cottage in the front "take it," and perhaps, the "esteemed contemporary" across the alley" will say, "with all his faults he was a good man, and is now occupying a plane where he no longer rises the front with a hand of joy." The "esteemed contemporary," remembering the bellicosity of the now deceased "brother," experiences an inward chuckle when he continues, "but now matters are reversed."

Young editors, or those having had less than two years experience, are wont to write a leading editorial on "the vicissitudes of journalism." The grave responsibilities that are thrust upon their infatigable shoulders make them sleep soundly. Their health, generally, is broken under the strain, and newspapers are robbed of an incipient Horace Greeley or a Bert Moran. Broken in spirit, they retrace their steps toward home, to a small cottage in the front "take it," and perhaps, the "esteemed contemporary" across the alley" will say, "with all his faults he was a good man, and is now occupying a plane where he no longer rises the front with a hand of joy." The "esteemed contemporary," remembering the bellicosity of the now deceased "brother," experiences an inward chuckle when he continues, "but now matters are reversed."

It requires peculiar tact to become a good newspaper man, but whether it is good, bad or indifferent, the laborer when once wiled for the occasion of the masses, is ever restless, until heavy locks—Dread's trade mark—and the faltering step point to the end of things earthly.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Four men fell 400 feet in the Blue mine near Neganawic; all will recover.

The man who never made a mistake in his life breaks his record when he begins telling any one about it.

It is high time for one of our contemporaries to write an article on the "Bigness of Little Things." The mosquito-fest is with us.

Graves, the one armed painter who killed his man at Crystal Falls recently, was sentenced to 15 years in the Marquette prison last week.

The Supreme Lodge of the Scandinavian Societies of America will be held only at Iron Mountain. The next annual meeting will be held at West Superior.

The Grand Lodge of God Templars will meet at Iron Mountain, July 11th and 12th. That city promises free entertainment to all visiting God Templars.

The new law relative to playing deeds on file, a copy of which is published in THE TRIBUNE this week, is one of the most useless measures ever passed by any legislature. Good judges say it is unconstitutional and will be repealed. A test case should be brought before the supreme court at once.

The baritone-broncho race from Chadron, Neb., to the World's Fair, began last Wednesday. Nine cowboys entered the race. The winner receives $5,000. Every contestant is being taken to free the race from any semblance of immaturity to horsedick, but an acquaintance with the methods of cowboys when a large purse is in sight, makes us feel very sorry for the poor dumb brats that are entered in the race.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES

The scheme to fraud a Democratic paper at Baraga has been abandoned.

The Range Tribune is a paper of which the citizens of Iron Mountain may well be proud.

The Bessemer Spirit has information to the effect that Phil J. McKenna, of the Escanaba Mirror, is to be appointed deputy revenue collector for this district.

We hear that F. E. Largo has again lost control of the printing plant at Rogers City and will change the name of the paper from the Democrat to the Advance and make it Republican in politics.

Joseph Vertin, the pioneer merchant of the copper country, died at his home in Hancock last Sunday. He was the author of Right Bay, Bishop Vertin, of this diocese, and had a wide circle of friends.—Range Tribune. Mr. Vertin was the father of Joseph Vertin of this city.

CITY NEWS

E. N. Orr is the new president of the Cycle club.

For vegetables go to Weing & Thompson's meat market.

Some good second-hand furniture for sale. Inquired by the Manistique Ice Bank.

You will find interesting local matter on nearly every page of THE TRIBUNE.

It is quite fashionable, you know, for ladies to have their pet pooch dyed to match their bouclair. Manistique has about a thousand dogs that ought to be dyed.

"Doc" Allison the genial proprietor of the Oliver Hotel, Escanaba, was an Ossawinimakee guest Saturday. "Doc" comes to Manistique occasionally to get a square meal.

Rev. T. R. Esterday of Sault Ste. Marie, supplied the Presbyterian pulpit last Sabbath. Rev. T. L. Porter, of Midland will preach here June 23d. Rev. Howell of Lansing July 2.

Capt. Ed. Coffey, the genial and invaluable superintendent of the A. Booth Packing Co.'s interests at Whitefish Point, was in the city from Friday of last week until Monday of this week, getting acquainted with his family.

Grand Marais, with its beautiful landlocked harbor, one of the finest roadsteads on the lake, will soon be given a chance to grow and to become a more important lake port than the Manistique railway company is now extending its road to that point. The road, though started exclusively for logging purposes, is standard gauge and will give direct communication between Newberry and that city. Its track is within thirteen miles of Grand Marais now and is not regarded as difficult construction.

Grand Marais has a sawmill, idle through litigation now, and has tributary to it a very fine body of water. It is also one of the most important fishing points on the lake.

Soo Line Time Card.

Passenger west (time) 8:30 p. m. Mixed (passenger and freight) 7:30 a. m. p. m. departs 7:30 p. m.—30 minutes for dinner at the Hiawatha Hotel. Mixed (passenger and freight) east arrives 1:20 a. m. departs 1:22 a. m.—20 minutes for dinner at Hiawatha Hotel.

JEROME BOWEN,

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE, And Conservator, Judge of Probate's Office in the Court House.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE.

Default has been made in the terms and conditions of a certain mortgage bearing date of the 15th day of October, 1907, recorded by William A. Bennett & Sons with Water, excellent building and fishing, fine drives, boating and cool nights makes this one of the most attractive and pleasant resorts on the Great Lakes. Both the shore hotels are equipped with Artistic Well Wares and fully furnished, steam bath and all conveniences. The "OURS" of each cannot be surpassed by any hotel of the same in the country. The Manistique stands on the shores of Lake Michigan opposite the steam boat docks. The Hiawatha is opposite to M. S. P. & S. S. M. Ry. Depot. For further information address

THE SOO LINE.

THE DIRECT LINE TO POINTS IN ANA DIAN PROVINCES, New England, New York, Wisconsin, Michigan. SOLD TRAINS TO MONTREAL DAILY, THROUGH STATIONS TO BOSTON DAILY. RATES ALWAYS THE LOWEST.

SHORT LINE TO OAKS, VALLEY CITY AND CARRINGTON, N. D.

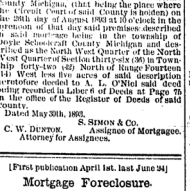

A large tract of government land along the coast of Lake Superior is now open for settlement under the homestead law.

TICKET OFFICES: Guaranty Building, 185 East Third St. MINNEAPOLIS, ST. PAUL. And Union Stations.

C. B. HIBBARD, G. P. A.

MINNEAPOLIS, MN.

FINE SHOES. A Straight Pointer!

There is a way of buying absolutely sure that the shoes you buy are worth at least as much as you pay for them. You may not be able to tell good leather from bad; you may not know the difference between a high grade shoe and an article of rougher make and yet it is your own fault if you are imposed upon. You cannot be expected to detect those differences in material which make such a material difference, but you can at least take the precaution of making your purchases where reliable representations are made for a moment's reflection. You will be more than pleased if you buy your shoes of

Andrew Anderson.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

U. W. DUNTON, ATTORNEY AT LAW, Office in Court House, Manistique, Michigan.

J. A. FOSTER, ATTORNEY AT LAW, Office in Court House, Manistique, Michigan.

R. C. MCKENSON, THE OLD BRIMBLEBERRY. All suits neatly measured and tailored to order. Office at residence opposite his bank.

BUSINESS CARDS.

JOHN HACKENBRACH, TONORIAL ARTIST. All work done with neatness and quickness. MANISTIQUE - MICHIGAN.

A. A. HOUSE, HOUSE AND ORNAMENTAL PAINTER. First-class work in every respect and satisfaction guaranteed in each and every case. Prompt attention given to all orders with promptness and dispatch.

The Northwestern Trailhead of Gold Industries. — LOCATED AT — RHEINLANDER, WIS.

Information an absolute cure for Brachycephaly, Polypus, Rhinitis and Sinusitis. Full information, terms and treatise on these diseases furnished on application. — No cure no pay. — H. C. KEITH, M. D., General Manager. RHEINLANDER, WIS.

TAILORING. COVERS MAKE THE WAY! REINWAND, THE TAILOR.

Perfect fit guaranteed and a saving of money guaranteed to all those who patronize Reinwand, - the Tailor.

THE SOO LINE. Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie By SOO LINE.

THE DIRECT LINE TO POINTS IN ANA DIAN PROVINCES, New England, New York, Wisconsin, Michigan. SOLD TRAINS TO MONTREAL DAILY, THROUGH STATIONS TO BOSTON DAILY. RATES ALWAYS THE LOWEST.

SHORT LINE TO OAKS, VALLEY CITY AND CARRINGTON, N. D.

A large tract of government land along the coast of Lake Superior is now open for settlement under the homestead law.

TICKET OFFICES: Guaranty Building, 185 East Third St. MINNEAPOLIS, ST. PAUL. And Union Stations.

C. B. HIBBARD, G. P. A.

MINNEAPOLIS, MN.

FINE SHOES. A Straight Pointer!

There is a way of buying absolutely sure that the shoes you buy are worth at least as much as you pay for them. You may not be able to tell good leather from bad; you may not know the difference between a high grade shoe and an article of rougher make and yet it is your own fault if you are imposed upon. You cannot be expected to detect those differences in material which make such a material difference, but you can at least take the precaution of making your purchases where reliable representations are made for a moment's reflection. You will be more than pleased if you buy your shoes of

Andrew Anderson.

HARDWARE STORE.

West Side Hardware Store.

For Shelf and Heavy Hardware, Stores, Paints, Agricultural Implements, Pianos, Organs, Sewing Machines, Etc. go to GARNER & MIDDLEBROOK'S.

We are agents for the Ferrand & Boley Organs and Pianos, and the White Standard and Domestic Sewing Machines. We respectfully ask for your patronage and can guarantee the quality of all goods in our several departments. Our prices are the lowest—quality of goods being considered. Estimates furnished promptly and builders. A fit and jobbing shop in connection.

GARNER & MIDDLEBROOK. F. H. MIDDLEBROOK. H. H. GARNER.

FIRST-CLASS LIVERY STABLE. WEST SIDE LIVERY STABLE, [Located near Hotel Hiawatha.] ORR & DOAN, PROPRIETORS.

Are better prepared than ever to please the public. We have New Stock, New Buggies and can suit the tastes of all wanting Fast Horses or Family Horses.

Tourists will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our knowledge concerning hunting grounds, fishing places and other points of interest.

TOURISTS Will receive special attention, and we will freely and gladly give them the benefit of our

The Assistant Professor

(Copyright, 1919, by the Author.)

I was in the office of the Dean of the University of Michigan, in the city of Ann Arbor, Mich., on the morning of the 15th of the month of August, 1919. I was sitting at my desk, writing in my office by the fall light of day. He pushed back the question mark of my pen and looked at me with a very friendly appearance and my acquaintance of a few years. He was a very young man, with a very friendly appearance and my acquaintance of a few years. He was a very young man, with a very friendly appearance and my acquaintance of a few years.

Outside the slight whirly wind is blowing, that brings me by whiffs the echo of voices and of musical instruments. There is a ball at the town hall, a great ball and a concert given by the gentlemen members of the Society of Saint Vincent de Paul. From my seat, through the most august of the streets, the gratings, I can see the guests pass and re-pass, like black cuttings behind an old paper. Monsieur, the principal assistant, his wife must be there also. Brood. It is awfully cold; my feet are frozen and my throat is sore; I must go to bed. I look out at the fountain and walk up and down to wait for war.

All this occurred on the day when I entered the infernal place, especially as a thousand other openings could have been found for me. It is true that I have not a son; yet I have a daughter, no better than I, has succeeded Margaret; Quateron is studying law; Pirouline, the first scholar in the class, plays on the flute most unusually, and goes about with strolling companies. Yet again, it is I who am the most modest and the most modest of all in a little collegiate school. Why did I not go to Timbuctoo at once? Or why not have made myself an ignoramus in another while I was not it?

Good heavens, what an existence! I am obliged to get up at four o'clock in the morning, to go to bed much later than the others, always to be on foot, always with eyes and ears wide open, forever scolding, calling loud, spying, slandering and correcting. If my pupil blows his nose at the wrong moment, or wishes to laugh impudently, if a domestic passes, the night of my house, or if a lamp is not lighted, if I find a crust of bread in the courtyard, or a bit of paper under a table, I must at once take a pen and write out a report and a denunciation.

This is the state of which I am reproachful, I who have always been frank, amiable and, in short, a good fellow. All this, that at the end of each month I may receive forty francs and fifty centimes. It is true that I am lodged and fed; but so poorly!

The boys are snoring like iron shovels, the wind whistles through the openings of the doors and strikes my poor legs. The water of the fountain runs. Old Hui had just a few drops of rum to warm my stomach a little. I am up to my ears in debt, and I plunge deeper and deeper in that trouble every day. Yesterday, even, I ordered a costume of my tailor; it was foolish to do so, and almost a robbery, but he had to do otherwise after the affront received the previous evening. My principal was going upstairs, having on his arm the pretty wife of the same professor; I was behind him, tight buttoned up in my old jacket, and stiff as a cane; I know not what ridiculous public made me desire to parade my legs as a toad; I rushed up three steps as a toad, with my hand in my hand, rubbing against the wall, and showing plainly, without wishing to do so, the white threads of my own shoulder blades. That evening, M. de la principal, called me into his private room, and scrutinizing me from head to foot, told me that I was a disgrace to his establishment, and that I looked like a beggar. I think he was, indeed, half inclined to offer me an old frock coat that was worn on many days. The next morning I called on the best tailor in the town, and now I have one more great debt. Oh, what a miserable life! When can I escape from this?

Hush! the door at the opposite end of the room has just been opened, and it moves silently behind the door. It is the professor, going on his rounds. He advances on tiptoe, his feet covered with heavy cloth shoes, like a snuggler. He has on his voluminous drawers and a knit waistcoat. Suddenly he carries a dark lantern, that he carries on his head, and he looks right and on the left. His great, teardrop nose casts grotesque shadows on the wall. "Good evening," he says, and without having answered me, the old pig. May the bonny arms of his wife lovingly caress his neck and strangle him, as if he were a mad dog. Whether I lead my life or not in this prison, I shall always remember the evening I entered here. I arrived at eight o'clock. On approaching the clock from the end of the street, I heard some voices singing, accompanied by an organ. I remained two or three minutes standing upon the upper step, before I raised the heavy knocker, looking up and down the deserted street, breathing in long draughts of the fresh air, strengthening my courage as well as my hope. I can still hear in my ears

THE BEST ROLLING OF THE HEAVY IRON

Some years ago Hugh and Emily Mendenhall, of the city of Detroit, Mich., were writing in his office by the fall light of day. He pushed back the question mark of my pen and looked at me with a very friendly appearance and my acquaintance of a few years. He was a very young man, with a very friendly appearance and my acquaintance of a few years.

Outside the slight whirly wind is blowing, that brings me by whiffs the echo of voices and of musical instruments. There is a ball at the town hall, a great ball and a concert given by the gentlemen members of the Society of Saint Vincent de Paul. From my seat, through the most august of the streets, the gratings, I can see the guests pass and re-pass, like black cuttings behind an old paper. Monsieur, the principal assistant, his wife must be there also. Brood. It is awfully cold; my feet are frozen and my throat is sore; I must go to bed. I look out at the fountain and walk up and down to wait for war.

All this occurred on the day when I entered the infernal place, especially as a thousand other openings could have been found for me. It is true that I have not a son; yet I have a daughter, no better than I, has succeeded Margaret; Quateron is studying law; Pirouline, the first scholar in the class, plays on the flute most unusually, and goes about with strolling companies. Yet again, it is I who am the most modest and the most modest of all in a little collegiate school. Why did I not go to Timbuctoo at once? Or why not have made myself an ignoramus in another while I was not it?

Good heavens, what an existence! I am obliged to get up at four o'clock in the morning, to go to bed much later than the others, always to be on foot, always with eyes and ears wide open, forever scolding, calling loud, spying, slandering and correcting. If my pupil blows his nose at the wrong moment, or wishes to laugh impudently, if a domestic passes, the night of my house, or if a lamp is not lighted, if I find a crust of bread in the courtyard, or a bit of paper under a table, I must at once take a pen and write out a report and a denunciation.

This is the state of which I am reproachful, I who have always been frank, amiable and, in short, a good fellow. All this, that at the end of each month I may receive forty francs and fifty centimes. It is true that I am lodged and fed; but so poorly!

The boys are snoring like iron shovels, the wind whistles through the openings of the doors and strikes my poor legs. The water of the fountain runs. Old Hui had just a few drops of rum to warm my stomach a little. I am up to my ears in debt, and I plunge deeper and deeper in that trouble every day. Yesterday, even, I ordered a costume of my tailor; it was foolish to do so, and almost a robbery, but he had to do otherwise after the affront received the previous evening. My principal was going upstairs, having on his arm the pretty wife of the same professor; I was behind him, tight buttoned up in my old jacket, and stiff as a cane; I know not what ridiculous public made me desire to parade my legs as a toad; I rushed up three steps as a toad, with my hand in my hand, rubbing against the wall, and showing plainly, without wishing to do so, the white threads of my own shoulder blades. That evening, M. de la principal, called me into his private room, and scrutinizing me from head to foot, told me that I was a disgrace to his establishment, and that I looked like a beggar. I think he was, indeed, half inclined to offer me an old frock coat that was worn on many days. The next morning I called on the best tailor in the town, and now I have one more great debt. Oh, what a miserable life! When can I escape from this?

Hush! the door at the opposite end of the room has just been opened, and it moves silently behind the door. It is the professor, going on his rounds. He advances on tiptoe, his feet covered with heavy cloth shoes, like a snuggler. He has on his voluminous drawers and a knit waistcoat. Suddenly he carries a dark lantern, that he carries on his head, and he looks right and on the left. His great, teardrop nose casts grotesque shadows on the wall. "Good evening," he says, and without having answered me, the old pig. May the bonny arms of his wife lovingly caress his neck and strangle him, as if he were a mad dog. Whether I lead my life or not in this prison, I shall always remember the evening I entered here. I arrived at eight o'clock. On approaching the clock from the end of the street, I heard some voices singing, accompanied by an organ. I remained two or three minutes standing upon the upper step, before I raised the heavy knocker, looking up and down the deserted street, breathing in long draughts of the fresh air, strengthening my courage as well as my hope. I can still hear in my ears

SMALL COLLECTING IN MEXICO

Some years ago Hugh and Emily Mendenhall, of the city of Detroit, Mich., were writing in his office by the fall light of day. He pushed back the question mark of my pen and looked at me with a very friendly appearance and my acquaintance of a few years. He was a very young man, with a very friendly appearance and my acquaintance of a few years.

Outside the slight whirly wind is blowing, that brings me by whiffs the echo of voices and of musical instruments. There is a ball at the town hall, a great ball and a concert given by the gentlemen members of the Society of Saint Vincent de Paul. From my seat, through the most august of the streets, the gratings, I can see the guests pass and re-pass, like black cuttings behind an old paper. Monsieur, the principal assistant, his wife must be there also. Brood. It is awfully cold; my feet are frozen and my throat is sore; I must go to bed. I look out at the fountain and walk up and down to wait for war.

All this occurred on the day when I entered the infernal place, especially as a thousand other openings could have been found for me. It is true that I have not a son; yet I have a daughter, no better than I, has succeeded Margaret; Quateron is studying law; Pirouline, the first scholar in the class, plays on the flute most unusually, and goes about with strolling companies. Yet again, it is I who am the most modest and the most modest of all in a little collegiate school. Why did I not go to Timbuctoo at once? Or why not have made myself an ignoramus in another while I was not it?

Good heavens, what an existence! I am obliged to get up at four o'clock in the morning, to go to bed much later than the others, always to be on foot, always with eyes and ears wide open, forever scolding, calling loud, spying, slandering and correcting. If my pupil blows his nose at the wrong moment, or wishes to laugh impudently, if a domestic passes, the night of my house, or if a lamp is not lighted, if I find a crust of bread in the courtyard, or a bit of paper under a table, I must at once take a pen and write out a report and a denunciation.

This is the state of which I am reproachful, I who have always been frank, amiable and, in short, a good fellow. All this, that at the end of each month I may receive forty francs and fifty centimes. It is true that I am lodged and fed; but so poorly!

The boys are snoring like iron shovels, the wind whistles through the openings of the doors and strikes my poor legs. The water of the fountain runs. Old Hui had just a few drops of rum to warm my stomach a little. I am up to my ears in debt, and I plunge deeper and deeper in that trouble every day. Yesterday, even, I ordered a costume of my tailor; it was foolish to do so, and almost a robbery, but he had to do otherwise after the affront received the previous evening. My principal was going upstairs, having on his arm the pretty wife of the same professor; I was behind him, tight buttoned up in my old jacket, and stiff as a cane; I know not what ridiculous public made me desire to parade my legs as a toad; I rushed up three steps as a toad, with my hand in my hand, rubbing against the wall, and showing plainly, without wishing to do so, the white threads of my own shoulder blades. That evening, M. de la principal, called me into his private room, and scrutinizing me from head to foot, told me that I was a disgrace to his establishment, and that I looked like a beggar. I think he was, indeed, half inclined to offer me an old frock coat that was worn on many days. The next morning I called on the best tailor in the town, and now I have one more great debt. Oh, what a miserable life! When can I escape from this?

Hush! the door at the opposite end of the room has just been opened, and it moves silently behind the door. It is the professor, going on his rounds. He advances on tiptoe, his feet covered with heavy cloth shoes, like a snuggler. He has on his voluminous drawers and a knit waistcoat. Suddenly he carries a dark lantern, that he carries on his head, and he looks right and on the left. His great, teardrop nose casts grotesque shadows on the wall. "Good evening," he says, and without having answered me, the old pig. May the bonny arms of his wife lovingly caress his neck and strangle him, as if he were a mad dog. Whether I lead my life or not in this prison, I shall always remember the evening I entered here. I arrived at eight o'clock. On approaching the clock from the end of the street, I heard some voices singing, accompanied by an organ. I remained two or three minutes standing upon the upper step, before I raised the heavy knocker, looking up and down the deserted street, breathing in long draughts of the fresh air, strengthening my courage as well as my hope. I can still hear in my ears

FRIDGE FRAGMENTS

Some years ago Hugh and Emily Mendenhall, of the city of Detroit, Mich., were writing in his office by the fall light of day. He pushed back the question mark of my pen and looked at me with a very friendly appearance and my acquaintance of a few years. He was a very young man, with a very friendly appearance and my acquaintance of a few years.

Outside the slight whirly wind is blowing, that brings me by whiffs the echo of voices and of musical instruments. There is a ball at the town hall, a great ball and a concert given by the gentlemen members of the Society of Saint Vincent de Paul. From my seat, through the most august of the streets, the gratings, I can see the guests pass and re-pass, like black cuttings behind an old paper. Monsieur, the principal assistant, his wife must be there also. Brood. It is awfully cold; my feet are frozen and my throat is sore; I must go to bed. I look out at the fountain and walk up and down to wait for war.

All this occurred on the day when I entered the infernal place, especially as a thousand other openings could have been found for me. It is true that I have not a son; yet I have a daughter, no better than I, has succeeded Margaret; Quateron is studying law; Pirouline, the first scholar in the class, plays on the flute most unusually, and goes about with strolling companies. Yet again, it is I who am the most modest and the most modest of all in a little collegiate school. Why did I not go to Timbuctoo at once? Or why not have made myself an ignoramus in another while I was not it?

Good heavens, what an existence! I am obliged to get up at four o'clock in the morning, to go to bed much later than the others, always to be on foot, always with eyes and ears wide open, forever scolding, calling loud, spying, slandering and correcting. If my pupil blows his nose at the wrong moment, or wishes to laugh impudently, if a domestic passes, the night of my house, or if a lamp is not lighted, if I find a crust of bread in the courtyard, or a bit of paper under a table, I must at once take a pen and write out a report and a denunciation.

This is the state of which I am reproachful, I who have always been frank, amiable and, in short, a good fellow. All this, that at the end of each month I may receive forty francs and fifty centimes. It is true that I am lodged and fed; but so poorly!

The boys are snoring like iron shovels, the wind whistles through the openings of the doors and strikes my poor legs. The water of the fountain runs. Old Hui had just a few drops of rum to warm my stomach a little. I am up to my ears in debt, and I plunge deeper and deeper in that trouble every day. Yesterday, even, I ordered a costume of my tailor; it was foolish to do so, and almost a robbery, but he had to do otherwise after the affront received the previous evening. My principal was going upstairs, having on his arm the pretty wife of the same professor; I was behind him, tight buttoned up in my old jacket, and stiff as a cane; I know not what ridiculous public made me desire to parade my legs as a toad; I rushed up three steps as a toad, with my hand in my hand, rubbing against the wall, and showing plainly, without wishing to do so, the white threads of my own shoulder blades. That evening, M. de la principal, called me into his private room, and scrutinizing me from head to foot, told me that I was a disgrace to his establishment, and that I looked like a beggar. I think he was, indeed, half inclined to offer me an old frock coat that was worn on many days. The next morning I called on the best tailor in the town, and now I have one more great debt. Oh, what a miserable life! When can I escape from this?

Hush! the door at the opposite end of the room has just been opened, and it moves silently behind the door. It is the professor, going on his rounds. He advances on tiptoe, his feet covered with heavy cloth shoes, like a snuggler. He has on his voluminous drawers and a knit waistcoat. Suddenly he carries a dark lantern, that he carries on his head, and he looks right and on the left. His great, teardrop nose casts grotesque shadows on the wall. "Good evening," he says, and without having answered me, the old pig. May the bonny arms of his wife lovingly caress his neck and strangle him, as if he were a mad dog. Whether I lead my life or not in this prison, I shall always remember the evening I entered here. I arrived at eight o'clock. On approaching the clock from the end of the street, I heard some voices singing, accompanied by an organ. I remained two or three minutes standing upon the upper step, before I raised the heavy knocker, looking up and down the deserted street, breathing in long draughts of the fresh air, strengthening my courage as well as my hope. I can still hear in my ears

HOOD'S CURES

Some years ago Hugh and Emily Mendenhall, of the city of Detroit, Mich., were writing in his office by the fall light of day. He pushed back the question mark of my pen and looked at me with a very friendly appearance and my acquaintance of a few years. He was a very young man, with a very friendly appearance and my acquaintance of a few years.

Some years ago Hugh and Emily Mendenhall, of the city of Detroit, Mich., were writing in his office by the fall light of day. He pushed back the question mark of my pen and looked at me with a very friendly appearance and my acquaintance of a few years. He was a very young man, with a very friendly appearance and my acquaintance of a few years.

Some years ago Hugh and Emily Mendenhall, of the city of Detroit, Mich., were writing in his office by the fall light of day. He pushed back the question mark of my pen and looked at me with a very friendly appearance and my acquaintance of a few years. He was a very young man, with a very friendly appearance and my acquaintance of a few years.

Some years ago Hugh and Emily Mendenhall, of the city of Detroit, Mich., were writing in his office by the fall light of day. He pushed back the question mark of my pen and looked at me with a very friendly appearance and my acquaintance of a few years. He was a very young man, with a very friendly appearance and my acquaintance of a few years.

Some years ago Hugh and Emily Mendenhall, of the city of Detroit, Mich., were writing in his office by the fall light of day. He pushed back the question mark of my pen and looked at me with a very friendly appearance and my acquaintance of a few years. He was a very young man, with a very friendly appearance and my acquaintance of a few years.

Some years ago Hugh and Emily Mendenhall, of the city of Detroit, Mich., were writing in his office by the fall light of day. He pushed back the question mark of my pen and looked at me with a very friendly appearance and my acquaintance of a few years. He was a very young man, with a very friendly appearance and my acquaintance of a few years.

Some years ago Hugh and Emily Mendenhall, of the city of Detroit, Mich., were writing in his office by the fall light of day. He pushed back the question mark of my pen and looked at me with a very friendly appearance and my acquaintance of a few years. He was a very young man, with a very friendly appearance and my acquaintance of a few years.

Some years ago Hugh and Emily Mendenhall, of the city of Detroit, Mich., were writing in his office by the fall light of day. He pushed back the question mark of my pen and looked at me with a very friendly appearance and my acquaintance of a few years. He was a very young man, with a very friendly appearance and my acquaintance of a few years.

Some years ago Hugh and Emily Mendenhall, of the city of Detroit, Mich., were writing in his office by the fall light of day. He pushed back the question mark of my pen and looked at me with a very friendly appearance and my acquaintance of a few years. He was a very young man, with a very friendly appearance and my acquaintance of a few years.

A HUMAN CHRONOMETER.

The Watchman of a Boat Who... To measure time to the second in periods of a minute—that is, with an accuracy of at least one cent...

FIREBIRD FRAGMENTS.

—Breaded Omelet.—Put into a stewpan two tablespoons of rich milk. Sprinkle with salt, pepper, onion, and half a tablespoonful of pepper...

A GOOD FISH STORY.

When You Come to Insure, It's No Good Ghent Story, No. "A few years ago," said the old gentleman, "I was a-cattin' on a driftwood on the lake shore...

Do You Wish the Finest Bread and Cake?

It is conceded that the Royal Baking Powder is the purest and strongest of all the baking powders. The purest baking powder makes the finest, sweetest, most delicious food. The strongest baking powder makes the lightest food.

Avoid all baking powders sold with a gift or prize, or at a lower price than the Royal, as they invariably contain alum, lime or sulphuric acid, and render the food unwholesome.

Certain protection from alum baking powders can be had by declining to accept any substitute for the Royal, which is absolutely pure.

With the Dutch Process To All... W. WALKER & CO. Bakers of the "Breakfast Cocoa" which is absolutely pure...

DR. SOLOMON'S PLEASANT TASTING BLOOD PURIFIER THE GREAT STOMACH REGULATOR

NEW ENGLAND DIME SAVINGS BANK For the sale of all disbursements of the Bank...

Smith owns an elaborately constructed watch which he has had made by a manufacturer, which was presented to him by the athletic club...

When Smith competed in a race he could tell the official times just how long he had run. Of course his accomplishment was of great service to him both in training and in racing...

It is well known that the time recorded by the judges at the foot race as well as the more careful observations of an astronomer vary usually a fraction of a second. Sometimes this is due to the construction of the watch, but often to the personal equation of the timer or observer...

A LIKELY STORY.

The Old Hayseed Was Not to Be Fooled by a Conductor. On board a Baltimore train he pulled into Parkersburg...

"Mr. Conductor, what time do we get into Parkersburg?" "Twenty," replied the official politely. "Yes, well, what time can I get a train on west?" "Six-twenty," "Tomorrow?" "To-night?" "Conductor, don't take me for a fool because my beard grows the wrong way and my eyes are almost whip-poor-will and penny-royal. I'm serious."

Little individual size dishes that have so long accompanied the usual dinner set, making twice of one and fourfold four more or less, are no longer suitable for use in a really useful table service...

—Dished Omelet.—Put into a stewpan two tablespoons of rich milk. Sprinkle with salt, pepper, onion, and half a tablespoonful of pepper...

—Dish the Sweetbread.—Parboil and carefully remove the skin without breaking the sweetbread, put them into a stewpan with two ounces of butter to each pound of chopped parsley...

—The Omelet.—Cut one and one-half pounds of fat in slices three inches wide and four long. Add to the chopped trimmings and fat, salt, pepper, three tablespoonfuls of onion, and one teaspoonful of each of sage and oregano...

—Orange Ice Cream.—To make an orange ice cream grate the peel of three Valencia oranges, add one-half cup of boiling milk. Be careful to use only the yellow peel, none of the bitter white part that is on the inside...

—Accounts come from Germany that Krupp, the famous gun maker, is now building a machine which is a mechanical device to take a moral life. According to Harward, a German inventor has taken patents on the utilization of the general principle that finely divided carbonaceous matter floats in the air readily explosive...

—An Alligator's Nest. Alligator's nests resemble haycocks more than anything else to which they are compared. They are built about four feet in height and about five feet in diameter, and are constructed of grasses and herbage. First the mother alligator makes a nest of mud on a mortar-like floor, and having covered this with a stratum of mud and herbage...

"I'd got a good grip on the strap that night and was a-glowing about on the ground when my wife woke me up and said there was some one at the door. I listened a bit 'n heard a noise like some one who was a-sneaking up with mittens on his hand. I was a bit wised; slid out of bed, pulled on my pants and boots, but did not strike a light, grabbed a big case which I thought my dear sir, there weren't anything there to knock. I run round the house not a living critter could I see; nor even any tracks in the snow."

"To bed I went ag'in, and was just dropping off, when the old woman, she nudged me hard and whispered, 'Clear that just listen; there it goes ag'in!' 'I sit up in bed, and just as plain as I could hear a dull sort of thump; thump! I began to feel awfully sick, I thought have trembled a bit; then I inquired, 'Who's there?' No answer."

"The flash of the gun was just long enough to let me see what the trouble was. I went back, lit a candle, then went to the kitchen. There, right in the middle of the floor was a big, round, black, hairy, round object, like a kid of a circus all by himself. He was a-sitting up, in great shape with his lips puffed, lipity-hoo, just as lively as if he had just been pulled out of the water. With a stick of firewood I busted that an show critcher 'n you could say 'shoo.'"

—You see, I hung him up in a good warm place to thaw out directly over the old woman's davenport, right under the par being a good, warm, out-of-the-way place the dog used to sleep. At that interval pickered began to thaw at his cold cement, and he began to hiccup. Between the flappings of his tail and the workings of his jaws he broke the string, then dropped onto the dish, and held both onto the dog—"Forest and Stream."

AFRICAN JUSTICE.

An Open Court Trial by Order Among the Negroes. Of all central African customs trial by ordeal, which is universal, is that which is most revolting to a European brought for the first time into contact with savage life. When a man is accused of any crime, as theft, arson, murder, witchcraft, or the like, evidence is brought against him, and he is way taken throughout the trial by the defendant. This, however, is never a satisfactory method of procedure.

—To REMEDY THE DEFECTS OF TRIAL BY ORDEAL, the accused is first interrogated in all cases of crimes, both civil and criminal. As the case proceeds before the council, the accused at intervals denounces the rival and this denunciation is first made by the innocent, persistently. The accuser resists the demand for evidence, knowing that should the culprit, even if caught red-handed, recover, he will be placed in a difficult position. He will have to sue for a claim to compensation for an injury, and in turn he will necessarily sue for the same injury to recover another man's reputation. The belief in the infallibility of the ordeal is universal, and the beginning of a new era of reasoning is that: "If he is guilty, he dies; if he does not die, he is innocent, and the property he found on his person, he is not guilty; another put it there, and he is innocent."—Popular Science Monthly.

These are propensities times, but yet it is only the coin collector who has a "red cent" in his pocket. RHEUMATIC PAINERS greatly relieved by Glenn's Sulphur Soap. Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye, 50 cents.

These are propensities times, but yet it is only the coin collector who has a "red cent" in his pocket. RHEUMATIC PAINERS greatly relieved by Glenn's Sulphur Soap. Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye, 50 cents.

PARASOLS seem to have become merely forms on which to exhibit the most gorgeous ornaments of lace and other fine materials. The amount of goods that may be put into one of the fashionable parasols of the day is almost past belief.

—A CORNER FOR ARTISTS. The Emperor of Germany has artistic tastes, and has lately painted a picture of a ship sailing the high seas.

—MARCUS LEXSON, the French artist, whose cat pictures have made him famous and rich, is said to have been so poor only eight years ago, that it was thought he had lost his mind, but it is manifestly his to his garage that he was only prevented from destroying himself. He painted a picture of it, and from that time his fortune was assured.

—Wang too sticklers are hung on a line they become a pair of suspenders.—N. Y. Journal.

These are propensities times, but yet it is only the coin collector who has a "red cent" in his pocket. RHEUMATIC PAINERS greatly relieved by Glenn's Sulphur Soap. Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye, 50 cents.

These are propensities times, but yet it is only the coin collector who has a "red cent" in his pocket. RHEUMATIC PAINERS greatly relieved by Glenn's Sulphur Soap. Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye, 50 cents.

These are propensities times, but yet it is only the coin collector who has a "red cent" in his pocket. RHEUMATIC PAINERS greatly relieved by Glenn's Sulphur Soap. Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye, 50 cents.

These are propensities times, but yet it is only the coin collector who has a "red cent" in his pocket. RHEUMATIC PAINERS greatly relieved by Glenn's Sulphur Soap. Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye, 50 cents.

These are propensities times, but yet it is only the coin collector who has a "red cent" in his pocket. RHEUMATIC PAINERS greatly relieved by Glenn's Sulphur Soap. Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye, 50 cents.

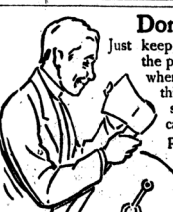

These are propensities times, but yet it is only the coin collector who has a "red cent" in his pocket. RHEUMATIC PAINERS greatly relieved by Glenn's Sulphur Soap. Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye, 50 cents.

These are propensities times, but yet it is only the coin collector who has a "red cent" in his pocket. RHEUMATIC PAINERS greatly relieved by Glenn's Sulphur Soap. Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye, 50 cents.

These are propensities times, but yet it is only the coin collector who has a "red cent" in his pocket. RHEUMATIC PAINERS greatly relieved by Glenn's Sulphur Soap. Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye, 50 cents.

These are propensities times, but yet it is only the coin collector who has a "red cent" in his pocket. RHEUMATIC PAINERS greatly relieved by Glenn's Sulphur Soap. Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye, 50 cents.

EVERY DEALER KEEPS IT! CHEW "O" PLUG EVERYBODY CHEWS IT.

Don't be the Axle just keep in mind that the grocer or the peddler has "an axe to grind" when he tells you that he has something "as good as" or "the same as" Pearlina. There can be but one reason—more profit to him by your use of the substitutes.

THE POT INSULTED THE KETTLE BECAUSE THE COOK HAD NOT USED SAPOLIO. GOOD COOKING DEMANDS CLEANLINESS. SAPOLIO SHOULD BE USED IN EVERY KITCHEN.

Advertisement for various products including 'Rising Sun Stove Polish', 'Blood Purifier', 'Barbed Cattle Wire', 'Catarrah', and 'Sapolio'. Includes illustrations of a woman and a man, and various text blocks for each product.

M. P. WINKELMAN,

KNOWN AS THE PRICE WRECKER.

We desire to call your particular attention to the very large assortment we are showing this season of which we are pleased to term Pine Goods. Not only are we displaying the greatest line we ever selected, but we believe our effort have been most successful in procuring the very choicest production of the best designers in the world. The extremely moderate prices we are quoting on our

$25,000

Worth of the finest merchandise that ever graced counters so readily to obtain cash quickly.

"CASH IS WHAT WE WANT."

"YOU WANT THE GOODS."

Therefore we offer this opportunity. Call and be convinced.

THE JUNE CRASH AND CHALLENGE SALE.

Certainly you have judgment to discriminate what's to your advantage. Men, Women and Children have crowded our store and we cannot see how anyone desiring anything extra fine in our line can over look us. We don't believe anyone does, judging from our enormous sales. This is what a close observer and one of the best business men in Manistique said yesterday to my new clerk Everything seems to point to

M. P. WINKELMAN.

We announce that all goods not as represented we will cheerfully refund you the money without a solitary question.

This effort of ours should be appreciated. We appreciate your patronage, and serve you with kind treatment.

CALL EARLY AND AVOID THE RUSH.

M. P. WINKELMAN,

The Great Price Wrecker and Challenger of all Competitors.

LOCATED ON CEDAR STREET.

Price Wrecker.

THE TRIBUNE

(Successor to the Star.)

THURSDAY, JUNE 22, 1905.

CITY NEWS.

Earl & Wilson's Collar and Cuffs at Howell's.

City council met last evening. Full report next week.

Dennis Hoffman made a business trip to Escanaba Tuesday.

Henry S. Van Gordon and Miss Melvina Dufour were married last evening.

Commence leads to consumption. Kemp's Balm stops the cough at once.

Carl Nelson is now engaged as clerk at Frank Clark & Co's grocery house.

St Albans guild meets at Mrs. Putnam's residence, Lakeside, Friday evening.

It is getting too late to make extensive preparations for the proper celebration of the Fourth of July.

The Eagle Livery Stable now has several fine saddle horses none better over through to the city.

The Epworth League of the M. E. church will hold a lawn social at Mr. Beemer's Wednesday evening next.

The Episcopal congregation will hold services at Central school building next Sabbath morning and evening.

The musical society will present the opera "The Little Tycoon," during the first week in July, perhaps July 7.

There will be bicycle races here on the Fourth of July Prizes will be offered and interesting races are promised.

A list of teachers employed by the school board for the coming year will be published as soon as the list is completed.

M. D. Wilson's auction sale of horses was not very successful yesterday and he has decided to try his fortunes at the Soo.

Speaking of Sunday closing there are a number of newspapers to whom it might be advantageously applied.

At least two printing offices in Manistique had curtains placed over their windows last Sunday, so as to enable the printers to "rest type," with a view to "laying off" circus day.

HOWELL has the finest line of gentlemen's shirts in the city.

Services as usual at the Presbyterian church next Sabbath morning and evening.

The Old Fellows of this city were favored by a visit from H. H. Hoffman, grand master, last evening.

It should be made a criminal offence for a man to allow his cow with a bell, to range through the town at an early hour Sunday morning.

This hot weather is having its effect. There has been two fights during the past week. One at the Hall & Buell mill and one at W. L. Mill No. 1.

The Delta Lumber Co did the handsome to its workmen by giving them a free round trip passage on the steamer Phalaros so that they could attend the circus in the evening.

We learn that Mrs. Kimball has been elected principal of the Manistique schools for the coming year. Mrs. Kimball is an able educator and the board of education did wisely in electing her to that position.

Miller Ross, dressed in a moose Hubbard startled Lakeside slumberers early Tuesday morning by discharging a heavily loaded suitcase in rapid succession. He was in a goodly case however—shooting dogs.

South Manistique Notes.

Mrs. Wm Stollwagen of Garden Bay, visited her sister Mrs. Coon during the past week.

The Misses Cora and Lena Hubbard returned home from Duluth last Friday where they have been attending school during the past winter.

Mrs. Griswold, wife of hand sawyer Griswold arrived from Sigenaw Saturday which accounts for the building construction "Gid" has been working around for the past few days.

West Spring of Seney spent Tuesday and Wednesday in town shaking hands with old friends.

Chas Coon of Manistique was the guest of his brother James Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

The mill here was run right along Tuesday notwithstanding the circus at Manistique.

Mrs. Jas Alverson arrived in town Wednesday and will spend the summer with Mr. Alverson, who is employed here inspecting lumber.

Captain Henry Johnson left here Wednesday morning with the tug Katy for manistique where she will be put in the dry dock for repair.

SHIRLEY.

CLOTHING! CLOTHING!

A LARGE NUMBER OF

Bank

FAILURES!

Have brought the already stringent condition of the money market to a crisis.

The Clothing Manufacturers as well as suffering for the want of READY CASH, this means an opportunity to buy goods for less than the manufacturers' cost.

We have lately purchased a tremendous large stock of the very Latest Clothing, Furnishing Goods, Hats, Caps, etc. We have planked down the ready cash and bought the goods for a good deal less than it costs to manufacture them.

We bought for to sell and the manufacturers losses will be your gain. Never in the history of Manistique have Good, Honest Made Clothing been sold at such astonishing Low Prices. Your inspection is cordially invited.

Yours for Good Values,

DOCK NOTES.

June 15—Arrived, York Steamer and Hunter.

June 16—Arrived E. C. Hart, A. C. Hart and L. M. Davis. Cleared—Hunter E. C. Hart and F. C. Hart.

June 17—Arrived, C. H. Johnson, M. Sikes and Hunter. Cleared, York Steamer and L. M. Davis.

June 18—Arrived, F. C. Hart, trader Harvey Hanson, E. C. Hart. Cleared, M. Sikes, F. C. Hart and E. C. Hart.

June 19—Arrived, Three Brothers, Rainbow. Cleared, Hunter.

June 20—Arrived, E. C. Hart, Minorva, Solikirk, Hunter. Cleared E. C. Hart, June 21—Cleared, Hunter.

Capt. McWilliams takes the cake telling turtle stories and engineer Barr is not far behind.

The E. C. Hart was 4 hours behind time morning going west.

The tug Kate left this morning for Manistique where she goes for repairs.

The Goodrich Co. has taken the City of Ludington of the route between here and Chicago for two or three weeks and put her on the steamer Muskogon's route.

The F. C. Hart left here on time Monday morning going west to the Soo and Manistique where she will undergo repairs. She will then take an excursion from Green Bay to the World's Fair.

The barge Pallow brought an excursion crew from Thompson Tuesday to take in circus.

Three schooners loaded with pig iron this week for eastern ports.

The schooner Minerva loaded lumber at South Manistique this week.

Local inspectors, of Marquette were here Tuesday on their annual tour of inspection. They condemned the tug J. J. Evans.

The tug Blimer while towing a schooner from South Manistique yesterday, hit the bluff to smash a cylinder. The accident was caused by a loose bolt the tug Evans brought her into the harbor. Engineer Boyer is in Manistique today getting the cylinder repaired.

June 21. Arrived schooners at 9:30 p. m. She cleared at 11 o'clock. O. H. Johnson and Three Brothers, cleared for eastern ports with pig iron. The Minorva and Rainbow cleared for Manistique.

Buy your fresh and salt meats and fish of Wenig & Thompson, the popular butcher.

New Dress Goods, New Goods in all lines at Howk's.

Manistique will have a show of two every season hereafter. The reputation as a circus town is now established. Hereafter side affairs will be the go-by.

A Visit to South Manistique.

Business took us to South Manistique last Friday afternoon. This being our first visit to that enterprising little city we are putting it mildly when we say that we were agreeably surprised with what we saw. Of course, the extensive Hall & Buell mill is the chief magnet of attraction to the visitor. There is, perhaps, no finer mill on the northern peninsula. The mill's cut averages 280,000 feet per day at present. The cut of the mill last year was 26,500,000 feet. The yard at present contains about 100,000,000 feet of fine lumber and every stick of it is sold.

Superintendent Hubbell literally lives in the mill, and the visitor that starts out to find him will feel no unlike a pedestrian closing a six day's walking with his employees.

Mr. Chappal, in charge of the yards, is a very pleasant gentleman to meet and we are under many obligations to him for courtesies extended us.

There is the book keeper for the company was busy putting the works in and it was an imposition on good nature to detain him in the good work he was at that time engaged in, so we did not tarry.

Mr. Coon, manager of the company's store, reports business good. He has an invaluable assistant in H. E. Pollock.

Hereafter South Manistique will be represented in THE TRIBUNE columns, we having secured a first-class correspondent.

A Destructive Fire.

MANISTIQUE, MICH., June 19, '05. To the Editor of THE TRIBUNE.

Almost the worst fire known along the Soo Railway occurred yesterday p. m. at Peronn's place and vicinity, a point on the Soo Railway, 33 miles east of Manistique and one mile west of Engadine Station where the immense piles of cedar was hauled out in the past winter by several cuts, attracted near Peronn's place.

The fire was caused by forest fires and is sustained by the following parties:

Wagon, poles, ties and posts..... $1,000
Riding..... 400
Lumber..... 3,000
Soo Ry. cars and contents and wood..... 4,000
Curt & Bly, poles, ties and posts..... 2,000

Total..... $12,000

The fire at the Spur caught at about 2 p. m. yesterday; train No. 40 ran the blocks and got past and through the fire at about 6 o'clock, but one hour later No. 7, the fast passenger train, was unable to get by for 8 hours as the intense heat had caused the track to warp.

The rails making the passage extremely dangerous if not impossible, while an attempt to do so might have had the effect of causing the certain destruction of the trains in which were the employees and the whole train by the fire.

A. D. D.

BUY GOODS, CLOTHING, ETC.

OUR GREAT REMOVAL SALE!

COMMENCING

Saturday, June 10th

Is calculated to make us extremely busy but we are prepared for the great rush—you won't have to look for good things—you will run plump into them—not a few eye catchers scattered here and there but scores, you hundreds of items at much less than usual prices are waiting for your case.

Its Spending and Saving at the same time.

Marvelous Bargains in our Cloak Department.

Blumrosen Brothers.

THOMPSON NOTES.

Mrs. Harry M. Mason, and brother Fred W. Bennett left on the Diamond Monday evening for Detroit, where they expect to spend a couple of weeks.

Mrs. A. A. Dickerson has gone to Almont, where she will visit relatives and friends the greater part of the summer.

E. L. Thompson left on the Hart for Detroit Friday night.

Fire broke out among the D. L. Co's wood and cedar ties Sunday, and did some little damage.

J. L. Jewell drove to Garden Sunday. The D. L. Co.'s dynamo engine's governor belt ran off Monday night about eight o'clock, the engine running away, breaking the cross head and otherwise damaging it so that the mill had to shut down for the night.

Schoner Howiet loaded cedar for Chicago Monday of this week; Diamond, Pallow and Delta for Detroit.

D. L. Co's mill shut down Tuesday night half an hour earlier than usual, and Smart McCallum kindly loaned the use of company's Barge Pallow to take all who cared to go to Manistique to attend the circus.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Bennett drove to Barque Pointe Sunday. They enjoyed the drive, but D. W. says he does not like to cut windfalls out of the road with a broken Jack knife.

Court Notes.

In Justice Bowen's court the following business was transacted during the past week.

June 15. Rainie vs McPhail. Adjudged to June 24th, 3 p. m.

June 18. Max Kraus vs F. Miller. Judgment for plaintiff.

June 17. People vs Kelley. Adjudged to June 23, 3 p. m.

June 17. Rennicke vs Roggie. Adjudged to June 23, 3 o'clock.

June 15. Ephraim & Morrell vs Mrs. Blakey. Judgment for the plaintiffs.

June 19. Jno. A. Johnson vs Sester. green. Adjudged to June 20th, 2 o'clock.

June 19. People vs Richards. Adjudged to June 20th, 2 o'clock.

June 17. Michael Deivin vs Hall & Buell. Settled.

June 25. Lindstrand & Follo vs Victor Forsten, 10 a. m.

June 26. Lindstrand & Follo and Victor Forsten, Hall & Buell guaranteee.

June 28. Lindstrand & Follo vs Swan Larson, Hall & Buell guaranteee.

June 25. Lindstrand & Follo vs Swan Larson, Hall & Buell guaranteee.

June 30. Nels Madison vs Weston Furnace Co.

June 27. Hixson vs Winkel.

The following cases will be decided in Justice Hill's court on days designated.

June 24. Omer C. Bowen vs Horatio W. Farren, 7 o'clock p. m.

June 24. Omer C. Bowen vs Horatio W. Farren, C. L. Co. guaranteee, 7 o'clock p. m.

Omer C. Bowen vs Horatio W. Farren, chabod Graham guaranteee.

Jas Dunn pled guilty to the charge of selling lottery tickets and was given 90 days in jail. Sheriff Carr took his prisoner to Marquette Saturday.

first-class show, except a fat woman. The snake charmer was there and made a month's salary selling her photographs to veracity.

A circus will draw a large crowd in Manistique during a Fourth of July celebration. There were people here that traveled a distance of fifty miles to see the elephant. There were more than 5000 people at the afternoon performance and the attendance in the evening was nearly as large.

Commencement exercises of the Seney Public School.

The commencement exercises of the Seney public schools were held last Saturday evening, and of course it was one of the grand times among school circles and white dress.

The graduates were Miss Wealthy Moore, Messrs J. S. Chisbom, F. J. O'Brien and Wm. O'Brien. This was Seney's first graduating class and but the second in Schoolcraft county.

Most of the members had gone through the schools from the first grade up, and who by their continual efforts and the timely assistance of Prof. Chisbom have at last succeeded in reaching the topmost round of the ladder of this school, and are now highly merited for the long wearisome hours of hard study that they have experienced. The exercises were very entertaining not only in the composition, but in the delivery which was graceful and easy, and showed careful drilling under a competent master. The graduates were of hard study that they have experienced. The exercises were very entertaining not only in the composition, but in the delivery which was graceful and easy, and showed careful drilling under a competent master.

The graduates were of hard study that they have experienced. The exercises were very entertaining not only in the composition, but in the delivery which was graceful and easy, and showed careful drilling under a competent master.

The graduates were of hard study that they have experienced. The exercises were very entertaining not only in the composition, but in the delivery which was graceful and easy, and showed careful drilling under a competent master.

The graduates were of hard study that they have experienced. The exercises were very entertaining not only in the composition, but in the delivery which was graceful and easy, and showed careful drilling under a competent master.

The graduates were of hard study that they have experienced. The exercises were very entertaining not only in the composition, but in the delivery which was graceful and easy, and showed careful drilling under a competent master.

The graduates were of hard study that they have experienced. The exercises were very entertaining not only in the composition, but in the delivery which was graceful and easy, and showed careful drilling under a competent master.

The graduates were of hard study that they have experienced. The exercises were very entertaining not only in the composition, but in the delivery which was graceful and easy, and showed careful drilling under a competent master.

The graduates were of hard study that they have experienced. The exercises were very entertaining not only in the composition, but in the delivery which was graceful and easy, and showed careful drilling under a competent master.

The graduates were of hard study that they have experienced. The exercises were very entertaining not only in the composition, but in the delivery which was graceful and easy, and showed careful drilling under a competent master.

The graduates were of hard study that they have experienced. The exercises were very entertaining not only in the composition, but in the delivery which was graceful and easy, and showed careful drilling under a competent master.

The graduates were of hard study that they have experienced. The exercises were very entertaining not only in the composition, but in the delivery which was graceful and easy, and showed careful drilling under a competent master.

The graduates were of hard study that they have experienced. The exercises were very entertaining not only in the composition, but in the delivery which was graceful and easy, and showed careful drilling under a competent master.

The graduates were of hard study that they have experienced. The exercises were very entertaining not only in the composition, but in the delivery which was graceful and easy, and showed careful drilling under a competent master.

The graduates were of hard study that they have experienced. The exercises were very entertaining not only in the composition, but in the delivery which was graceful and easy, and showed careful drilling under a competent master.

The graduates were of hard study that they have experienced. The exercises were very entertaining not only in the composition, but in the delivery which was graceful and easy, and showed careful drilling under a competent master.

The graduates were of hard study that they have experienced. The exercises were very entertaining not only in the composition, but in the delivery which was graceful and easy, and showed careful drilling under a competent master.

The graduates were of hard study that they have experienced. The exercises were very entertaining not only in the composition, but in the delivery which was graceful and easy, and showed careful drilling under a competent master.

The graduates were of hard study that they have experienced. The exercises were very entertaining not only in the composition, but in the delivery which was graceful and easy, and showed careful drilling under a competent master.

The graduates were of hard study that they have experienced. The exercises were very entertaining not only in the composition, but in the delivery which was graceful and easy, and showed careful drilling under a competent master.

The graduates were of hard study that they have experienced. The exercises were very entertaining not only in the composition, but in the delivery which was graceful and easy, and showed careful drilling under a competent master.

The graduates were of hard study that they have experienced. The exercises were very entertaining not only in the composition, but in the delivery which was graceful and easy, and showed careful drilling under a competent master.

The graduates were of hard study that they have experienced. The exercises were very entertaining not only in the composition, but in the delivery which was graceful and easy, and showed careful drilling under a competent master.

The graduates were of hard study that they have experienced. The exercises were very entertaining not only in the composition, but in the delivery which was graceful and easy, and showed careful drilling under a competent master.

The graduates were of hard study that they have experienced. The exercises were very entertaining not only in the composition, but in the delivery which was graceful and easy, and showed careful drilling under a competent master.

The graduates were of hard study that they have experienced. The exercises were very entertaining not only in the composition, but in the delivery which was graceful and easy, and showed careful drilling under a competent master.

The graduates were of hard study that they have experienced. The exercises were very entertaining not only in the composition, but in the delivery which was graceful and easy, and showed careful drilling under a competent master.