ADOLF HITLER TALKS TODAY IN REICHSTAG

EUROPE CONTINUES TO SHARPEN UP SWORDS

BY LOUIS P. LOCHNER Berlin, March 17 (AP)—German-Austrian union today loomed as the burden of the declaration Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler will make tomorrow night to the Reichstag.

Disruption of the existing Reichstag and the calling of new elections was taken for granted. (The Reichstag is the only legislative assembly in Germany; Hitler calls it to hear important pronouncements.)

Tension Eased Since Austria has become a part of Germany, provision must be made for the new province's representation and presumably Germany like Austria will march to the polls April 10, the date of the plebiscite on union.

Meanwhile there was a slight easing of tension between Poland and Lithuania. There was speculation whether Hitler also would discuss the situation in Spain, Czechoslovakia, the free city of Danzig and the Polish-Lithuanian conflict.

Circles close to the chancellery—who emphasized they could not speak for the fuhrer—expressed the opinion that for the present Germany would be so occupied getting Austria rearranged in Nazi principles that there was little likelihood of German moves in any of those directions.

May Be Surprised They admitted the possibility, however, of Hitlerian surprises. Hitler, who last addressed the Reichstag February 20 when he proclaimed protection of Germans outside of Germany, recognized Manchukuo and announced an increasing demand for return of war-lost colonies, will begin speaking at 8 p. m. (2 p. m. E. S. T.) tomorrow in the Kroll opera house.

What he intended to say was known only to a small coterie of followers. That he would speak for two hours was indicated by the fact that radio programs scheduled the Reichstag session for from 8 p. m. to 10 p. m.

It was inferred Austria would occupy the main part of his address since there was an appeal to hotels and restaurants to "arrange for broadcasts of an important address the fuhrer will deliver in connection with the return of Austria to the German Reich."

In theaters, public halls and important street corners throughout greater Germany there also will be loudspeakers. The Nazi party urged Berlin residents to go by the hundreds of thousands to streets and open places on Hitler's route from the chancellery to the opera house.

BY JOHN J. HANNS Associated Press General Foreign Editor Europe goes on sharpening swords to prevent Germany's Adolf Hitler from getting too much power.

Arming nations hope they won't have to use their swords, but they consider military force will emphasize their warnings to Hitler against taking any more territory. Spain, Czechoslovakia and Lithuania are three danger zones

Toy Calls Murphy Cause Of Unrest In Michigan Labor

Dowagiac, Mich., March 17 (AP)—Harry S. Toy, Republican candidate for governor, said today that when Gov. Frank Murphy "is voted out of office . . . industrial peace will come to Michigan."

Toy issued a statement commenting on the governor's suggestion that Henry Ford be the first big industrialist to institute an annual wage for workers.

"Workers in Michigan will be paid an annual wage," Toy's statement said, "when the unholy alliance between Gov. Murphy, John L. Lewis and Richard T. Frankenstein is ended; when imported labor racketeers and gangsters hired by these false gods of labor have ceased to intimidate industry."

The former supreme court justice said Murphy has "betrayed" both labor and industry. "Gov. Murphy is unable to bring industrial peace to Michigan," the Republican continued. "His own acts have fostered industrial unrest and strife, and caused the economic depression."

Referring to strikes in the state during Murphy's administration, Toy said the governor "fouts law and order" and "countenanced the illegal seizure of property."

"Industry must live by law and order," the gubernatorial candidate added. "And industry must live to pay an annual wage."

"Gov. Murphy has done nothing for labor—except to put it on the dole, after betraying the workers into the hands of the Lewis-Frankenstein gang."

Toy charged that Murphy "has practically wrecked Michigan industry."

Berlin Halts Move To Try Schuschnigg On Treason Charge Berlin, March 17 (AP)—Nazi spokesmen said tonight Kurt Schuschnigg, Austria's fallen chancellor, would be permitted to decide for himself where to live.

These sources said that if he desired to go abroad, he would be permitted to take his belongings, including his savings, as an expression of magnanimity from the Berlin government.

Information here was that Schuschnigg, reported at various places since Austria's union with Germany, has insisted on remaining in greater Germany.

The spokesmen said the Berlin government had put its foot down on a move, which they said was contemplated by Austrian Nazis, to try Schuschnigg on charges of high treason.

NEW YORK IRISH HAVE BIG DAY Thousands Parade With Green Carnations and Swirling Colors BY JOHN FERRIS New York, March 17 (AP)—It was a grand parade, so it was, that went on in Fifth avenue this gray, wintry day of Saint Patrick's, with lashings of color and slithering feet and pipes bravely skirling, and thousands and thousands of Irish from the old country and their children in one fine showing.

It was something to warm a man, even though the wind chilled his very heart's blood, to stand on the sidewalk to see the whole shebang with banners flying, drums beating, fifes shrilling arias about Kathleen Mavourneen, Brian Boru and Kilkeny and Tipperary, and himself remembering the ancient glories of Munsterboice and Tara, and the devilities of the Bantry boys.

There were squad on squad of sound, ruddy faced men from Cork and Waterford, Armagh and Limerick, Sligo and Cork, looking proud as any peacock in shiny black hats and somber black coats, with swinging canes.

The squads of men in black derbies, wearing green carnations and shamrocks, men who could remember the old ones talking of '98 and the great O'Connell and Parnell.

And swarms, literally swarms of children—boys and girls of drum and bugle corps, drum and fife corps, bands and drill corps; boys and girls in sailor uniforms, dressed as marines, dressed as West Pointers, boys in tarbucket hats, boys dressed like northwest mounties.

AIR BOMBINGS FATAL TO 600 IN BARCELONA

INSURGENTS TRYING TO CUT LOYALIST SPAIN IN TWO

Barcelona, March 17 (AP)—Reckless insurgent bombers struck at Barcelona again tonight in the tenth of a series of raids which already had taken 600 lives within 24 hours.

The planes dropped about 20 bombs on a section of this refugee-packed capital which had not been hit in raids earlier today. Casualties were reported heavy and dozens of ambulances were summoned from the northern part of Barcelona.

Worst Of Entire War The raid began at 10:10 p. m. (5:10 p. m. E. S. T.) and at almost the same time other insurgent planes bombed the cities of Tarragona and San Vicente on the Catalan coast, inflicting a considerable number of casualties.

Before the last raid, a careful check by the defense board showed 415 dead and 700 wounded, 1,000. The war ministry reported officially that 600 had been killed and 400 wounded.

Wave on wave of insurgent bombers roared over Barcelona nine times in 16 hours raining bombs on this Mediterranean seaport.

It was the worst air attack inflicted on Barcelona in the 20-month civil war.

U. S. Embassy Damaged Tons of shattered masonry and debris hid the exact death toll. The United States embassy's temporary quarters were damaged. A bomb landing nearby blew out the embassy windows, but the only occupant, Col. Stephen O. Fuqua, American military attaché, was unharmed.

Hundreds of wounded were trapped in shattered buildings. Rescue workers dug for hours to save the wounded and recover the dead.

The seat of Spain's principal manufacturers and the largest seaport, Barcelona is one of the greatest prizes still outside the grasp of Franco's forces.

It became the temporary capital of government Spain when insurgents drew their lines close to Madrid and threatened Valencia, the first temporary capital.

Whitney Voted Out Of Stock Exchange

New York, March 17 (AP)—The board of governors of the New York stock exchange today expelled Richard Whitney, its former president who has pleaded guilty to two grand larceny indictments involving sums totalling more than $200,000.

Whitney's partners in the brokerage house bearing his name, Edwin D. Morgan, Jr., and Henry D. Mygatt, were suspended for three years each.

Mapping Rebel 'Victory' Thrust

A drive by Spanish insurgents to cut Loyalist Spain in two, and thus almost insure the fall of the government, seemed near success as insurgents captured Alcaniz and Raimundo, as shown on the map above. The object of the rebel drive is to cut eastward and south through the 30 miles of seacoast mountains still between their front lines and the sea, thus isolating from Madrid the province of Catalonia and the city of Barcelona, now the seat of the loyalist government. The fall of the loyalist government in that eventuality would be almost inevitable. The shaded portions of the map indicate territory now held by the insurgents at the end of 20 months of civil war.

Electrician Confesses Stranglings In Detroit

Buffalo, N. Y., March 17 (AP)—Buffalo police announced tonight that Peter Burton, 39, Detroit electrician, confessed strangling two women last Monday in Detroit.

Chief of detectives John J. Whalen said Burton admitted the double killing as he lay severely injured after a desperate leap from the third floor of police headquarters here.

"Yes, I killed them," Whalen quoted Burton as whispering from his hospital pillow, a half hour after he had jumped and fallen on his head and shoulder on the sidewalk.

A passing newsboy, 14-year-old John Massaro, was slightly hurt as Burton's catapulting body struck his leg in its descent.

Whalen said Burton told him in the hospital that he slew his estranged wife, Mrs. Monica Janonis, 40, and her landlady, Mrs. Ursula Jakubowski, 53, in a Detroit rooming house 1 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Whalen quoted Burton as saying he quarreled with his former wife after pleading with her for a reconciliation, and then attacked her.

The landlady, attracted by Mrs. Janonis' screams, came into the room, Whalen said Burton told him.

"Burton said that as Mrs. Janonis faints, he turned to the landlady and strangled her with a towel," Whalen said, "then he garroted his former wife with a cord which he tied to the bed."

"He said he then took $20 from the landlady's handbag and came to Buffalo."

Burton, arrested as he played solitaire in a rooming house here last night, had been questioned by Buffalo and Detroit police throughout the day.

CHINA DEFENDS RAILROAD LINE

Japanese Attack Aimed at Last Stronghold in Shantung

Shanghai, March 18 (Friday) (AP)—The Chinese defended their last real stronghold north of the Yellow river today against heavy Japanese attacks in southern Shantung province.

Official Chinese sources said four divisions of Japanese reinforcements had reached Tientsin from Manchoukou.

They said the troops would be used to bolster both sides of Japan's central front offensive—along the Tientsin-Pukow railroad on the coast and the Peking-Hankow line inland.

Japanese said their army and navy forces made a landing near the mouth of the Yangtze river, south of the vital Lungshai corridor, and advanced northward as the Chinese retreated without resistance.

Japanese naval authorities delivered notes to foreign consular officials warning against traffic in a "danger zone" along the Yangtze's north shore.

Restriction of traffic would create a serious problem for Shanghai as it would hamper movement of foodstuffs from one of the city's major sources.

Both sides reported victories in the area surrounding Shanghai to the south and west.

NO 'WIDE OPEN' JAMBOREE HERE

Escanaba Smelt Run Plea Denied by Liquor Commission Lansing, March 17 (AP)—The state liquor control commission refused today to permit a "wide open" celebration at Escanaba during that city's annual Smelt Run Jamboree.

H. P. Lindsay, secretary of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, has requested that the commission waive closing hour restrictions for the sale of liquor by the glass the first two nights of the festival, April 7 and 8, and permit all-night sale of beer by the glass for the weekend—Saturday night and Sunday morning.

Norman H. Hill, Gov. Murphy's executive secretary, has been chosen "king" of the annual revel.

Commissioner V. F. Gormely, a native of the upper peninsula, commented that "there are 57 varieties of fish in this state, and some town eventually will have adopted each of them for a jamboree. There wouldn't be any limit if we started waiving our restrictions for such parties."

Commissioner Hale G. Knight said he felt that the smelt run celebration would be able to buy enough liquor during the regular hours of business, and that the five and a half hours from closing time until drinking spots may reopen in the morning might be of some benefit.

The commission ratified its peace treaty with the state of Indiana in their threatened beer tariff and embargo war, signing an order that removed Indiana from the list of states forbidden to ship beer into Michigan.

Noted Singer May Run For President Of Native Ireland

Hollywood, Calif., March 17 (AP)—John McCormack, noted tenor, announced tonight he was considering standing for the presidency of his native Ireland.

"I have not had any official invitation," said McCormack, "but so very many of my friends in Ireland have written me to throw my hat in the ring, I cabled my son in Dublin to find out if I am eligible for the position under the new constitution."

McCormack, who has spent part of his time in Ireland in recent years, said if both the Cosgrave and De Valera parties wished he would be glad to stand for election. His announcement was made during a St. Patrick's Day broadcast.

ENTIRE WORLD IS IN DANGER, POWERS TOLD

Moscow, March 17 (AP)—Soviet Russia today invited world powers to consider joint action against aggressor nations and to prevent "a new world massacre."

Maxim Litvinoff, the Soviet commissar for foreign affairs, indicated Germany, Italy and Japan would be ignored when the Russian proposal is offered to various capitals, including Washington.

Litvinoff, disclosing the plan at one of his rare press conferences, did not specifically arrange a conference. He said one would be held if it appeared the powers were ready to do something.

He emphasized that all nations, not only European, were menaced by aggressors' threats to peace and all faced "their responsibility for the destinies of the peoples of Europe and not only of Europe."

"Violence has been perpetrated in the center of Europe," he said, "and has created an indubitable menace not only for eleven countries now contiguous with the aggressor but also for all European states and not only European states."

"It may be late tomorrow or today, but the time for it is not yet gone if all states, and the great powers in particular, take a firm and clear-cut stand in regard to the problem of the collective salvation of peace."

Warning of Massacre The commissar indicated the call for a conference would be discussed with other governments after their ambassadors had received his formal statement of Soviet readiness to "take up immediately the consideration of measures which circumstances demand."

Foremost in his mind were the German annexation of Austria, tension on the Polish-Lithuanian frontier and the peril of Czechoslovakia from attack by Germany.

Litvinoff said he was urging powers, including the United States, to discuss joint action to protect Czechoslovakia.

He cited "the armed invasion of Austria" and "the forcible deprivation of the Austrian people of their political, economic and cultural independence" as a new warning that aggression must be stopped to end the "increased danger of a new world massacre."

CALLS FOR PREPAREDNESS

Washington, March 17 (AP)—Secretary of State Hull called for military preparedness today to make the United States a respected force for peace in a world threatened by "international anarchy" and "barbarism."

He warned peace-loving nations everywhere that they must work unceasingly for law and order, lest a retreat in any quarter encourage the spread of "medieval chaos" throughout the world.

Broadcasting to seething Europe from a luncheon meeting of the National Press club, Hull said: "The catastrophic developments of recent years, the startling events of the past weeks, offer a tragic demonstration of how quickly the contagious scourge of treaty-breaking and armed violence spreads from one region to another."

Against Alliances Going into a storm cellar of isolation offers no security for Americans, he said; the United States must continue to discuss world problems with peace-loving powers and to act along parallel lines with them when appropriate; but on the other hand this country should enter no entangling alliances.

Most students of foreign affairs interpreted this to mean there was little chance of this government's

RURAL REGIONS TO GET POWER

Wisconsin-Michigan Line Will Be Extended in Delta County

Lansing, March 17 (AP)—The state public utilities commission announced today the Wisconsin-Michigan Power company had agreed to extend its rural electrification lines to include farms in eleven additional upper peninsula counties, and had compromised its rate dispute with the Ontonagon County Rural Electrification Cooperative association.

Commissioner Joseph M. Donnelly said the extension would bring electricity to between 300 and 500 farms in Marquette, Houghton, Iron, Dickinson, Menominee, Delta, Gogebic, Schoolcraft, Alger, Baraga and Ontonagon counties.

Donnelly said the Ontonagon cooperative and the company had accepted a compromise minimum rate schedule under which the cooperative would pay a minimum of $40 a month for each 40 customers or fewer, and an additional one dollar a month for other customers up to $56, at which point the charge would be fixed.

The association is to purchase power from the company and resell it to two of five groups of member-customers.

Donnelly said one of the groups has 123 customers, the other 59. The Copper District Power company, of Houghton, is to sell power to the cooperative to serve three other scattered groups, totalling approximately 250 customers.

The cooperative had protested against the company's original demands for minimum rates, a flat $56 a month regardless of the number of customers. The commission investigated the case at a formal hearing recently.

Donnelly conferred with M. G. Morrow, assistant general manager of the Wisconsin-Michigan company, and attorneys for the company and the cooperative before announcing the agreement.

These students said the invitation of Soviet Foreign Minister Litvinoff apparently was preliminary to a collective action agreement, which would be tantamount to an alliance.

But they expressed belief this government would be willing to consult individually with various countries.

'Hurricane Henry' Gets Fight Orders

New York, March 17 (AP)—Promoter Mike Jacobs today laid down the law to Eddie Mead, manager of Henry Armstrong, forbidding "Hurricane Henry" to engage in any fights between his meeting with Lew Feldman on March 30 and his clash with Barney Ross May 26.

The Feldman bout is slated for the New York Hippodrome. The Ross tilt is for the welterweight title, and Jacobs doesn't want anything to happen to Henry in the meantime to prevent the match.

Jacobs explained that he realized Mead was negotiating for three or four matches between the Feldman bout and the Ross clash, but said that he would have to give up those plans.

Suddenly rendered valuable by the development of trans-Pacific aviation, scores of hitherto-neglected Pacific islands like Canton Island, shown in the photo above, have become the subject of conflicting claims to possession by the United States and Great Britain. However, negotiations are already in progress and the claims "undoubtedly will be adjusted amicably." In the meantime, the coast guard, acting under the direction of the U. S. Department of the Interior, has planted a colony of American citizens on the barren soil of Canton Island. A similar colony will be established on another of the disputed spots, Enderby Island. The tent city above was erected last June by an expedition which journeyed to Canton Island to photograph a total eclipse.

State's Oil Rights Upheld By Court On Homesteaded Lands

Mt. Clemens, Mich., March 17 (AP)—The state's rights to gas, oil and other mineral rights in several million acres of homesteaded lands was upheld today by Circuit Judge Neil K. Field of Mt. Clemens.

The judge upheld a 1909 statute and declared that homesteaders' rights include only surface rights. Judge Reid filed his findings in the suit of Mrs. Lena L. Rathbun against the state and several oil companies in connection with the taking of oil from her 80-acre farm in Gladwin county.

The findings were considered an assurance that the state would continue to receive royalties from land that originally had been homesteaded sites. Such royalties from Gladwin county alone were said to have exceeded $250,000 last year.

Pilot Of Red Wings Rehired For 1939

Detroit, March 16 (AP)—Manager Jack Adams today received notice from Owner James D. Norris that he would pilot the Detroit Red Wings in the National Hockey League again next season.

"Forget 1938. Get ready for October," was the Norris message from Chicago to the boss of the Detroit club. The Red Wings lost all hope of qualifying for the National League playoff when they fell before the Canadiens at Montreal Tuesday night. It marked the sixth time in the 12 years that Detroit has been in the circuit that its club has failed to make the playoff grade.

Adams worked without a contract since Norris, Millionaire grain broker, took over the Detroit sextet in 1932.

Agriculture Board Selects Chairman; Democrats Ruling

East Lansing, March 17 (AP)—The state board of agriculture, with all its members assembled for the first time since two new members took office the first of the year, today elected Benjamin H. Halstead, of Petoskey, as its chairman.

Halstead, a Democrat, succeeds Clark L. Brody, veteran Republican member of the board and secretary-manager of the Michigan farm bureau.

Halstead has served four years on the board and has two more years before his term expires. Brody re-elected two years ago, has four years more to serve.

In selecting Halstead, the Democrats seized complete control of the state board, long a Republican stronghold. Four Democrats now sit on the board with two Republicans.

The board also ordered its secretary, John A. Hannah, to prepare plans and specifications for submission to the state administrative board as a prologue to obtaining an emergency grant of sufficient funds to obtain a WPA project for the construction of a $100,000 addition to the college veterinary surgery and clinic.

GOLD FLOODING U. S. TREASURY

Rush Abroad to Convert Funds Into Dollars Slowing Down

New York, March 17 (AP)—More gold was headed for the U. S. treasury's vaults on a new trek from Europe today, although a rush abroad to convert funds into dollars slowed with the return of hope for maintenance of peace.

A shipment of $30,000,000 of the metal was reported in financial circles to have been consigned to the Federal Reserve Bank of New York by the Bank of England.

Officials of the reserve bank, however, said they had no information of an impending shipment of such magnitude from London.

The bank did announce a further engagement of $140,000 of gold in London for New York, making a total of $3,375,000 engaged there this week on the flight of capital to the United States since the Nazi coup in Austria.

These officials announced engagements mark a reversal of a moderate outflow of gold and capital to Europe after the autumn business slump in the United States.

Revolta Eliminated In Golf Tournament

St. Augustine, Fla., March 17 (AP)—Several "name" players bowed out today in a wave of upsets marking the first round of the amateur professional best ball match play golf tournament.

The casualty list included Johnny Revolta, Lawson Little, Willie McFarlane, Victor Ghezzi and Jimmy Hines. Hines won the initial tournament in 1935.

Leading the way into the second round were Henry Picard of Hershey, Pa., and Frank Ford of Charleston, S. C., winners last year. They turned back Leonard Hosen of Springfield, Mo., and Harold Butler of Hempstead, N. Y., one up.

Hines and his amateur partner, Frank Allan of Pittston, Pa., ran into a pair of "hot" opponents—Maurice Walsh of Scarsdale, N. Y., and R. V. Van Kleeck of Jacksonville, Fla. The Walsh-Van Kleeck team fired a five-under-par 32 on the first nine to go two up and went on to a one up decision.

Revolta and Tommy Acock of Jacksonville, former national intercollegiate champion, could not match strokes with Felix Serafin of Scranton, Pa., and Walter Justin, Jr., of Philadelphia and fell 2 and 1.

Ann Arbor, March 17 (AP)—Herbert O. (Fritz) Crisler, Michigan's new football coach, isn't in a hurry to begin his duties.

Crisler, it was learned today, has been here since Wednesday night, where he has secluded himself at his home.

Friends said the former Princeton coach planned a rest before mapping plans for spring practice a week hence and fulfilling several speaking engagements.

Campbell Dickson, new end coach, accompanied Crisler to Ann Arbor. Two other assistants, Earl T. Martineau, backfield coach, and Clarence Munn, line coach, are expected here this week-end.

A rally for the new coaches is planned for next Monday night in Hill auditorium. After that Crisler will speak before alumni clubs in Jackson, Battle Creek, Pontiac and Toledo, Ohio.

Veteran Red Wing Ends Puck Career

Detroit, March 17 (AP)—Larry Aurie, tiny Detroit Red Wing veteran, will end his career as a player when Detroit closes its National hockey league season against the New York Rangers here Sunday night.

The announcement came today from Manager Jack Adams who said that owner James Norris had "other plans for Larry." He declined to amplify the statement but from sources close to the de-throned Stanley cup champions, it was learned that Norris plans to make Aurie head of the Red Wings farm system or chief scout.

where statement feel Hitler's hand even if they can't see it. Trouble lies in Hitler's announced intention of gathering all Germans into a greater Germany. Hitler's program is old, but suddenly, March 11, he took over Austria by getting himself invited to bring in his army to maintain order. Hitler increased his territory by one-sixth.

Oppression Claimed

Absorption of Austria startled the world. Everyone expected it, but all were shocked into alarmed action.

What next? Czechoslovakia may be next because 3,500,000 Germans are there. Most are sympathetic to Nazi Germany and say they are oppressed by their Czech rulers. The Germans have 72 deputies in the 300 in the parliamentary chamber. Not all favor German rule, but they all want better treatment. Many demanded autonomy and their majority party wants union with Germany.

These Germans, one-fifth of the population, are in a horseshoe-shaped band along the large western end of Czechoslovakia which is a club-shaped strip of land 600 miles long, 200 wide at its large western end and 50 wide at the east. Poland is on the north, Rumania on the southeast, and Hungary to the south.

Annexation Simple?

The large end, about half the country, is embedded in the new greater Germany (which includes recently acquired Austria).

Praha, the capital, is in the center of the large western half. It includes old Bohemia with its gypsies and the town of Pilsen, home of Pilsener beer, rival of the foamy stuff from Munich. Germans are thick in that territory. Most of them are along the border of the new Germany. On paper it seems simple for Germany to annex the U-like strip.

Three Great Lakes Seamen Unions To Be Consolidated

Washington, March 17 (AP)—The American Federation of Labor announced today consolidation of its three seamen unions on the Great Lakes.

The announcement followed a conference of Patrick Ryan, chief organizer for the international seamen's union, and other great lakes union officials with William Green.

The unions included in the proposed amalgamation were: Sailors union of the Great Lakes; Marine Firemen, Oilers, Water Tenders and Coal Passers union of the Great Lakes; and the Marine Cooks and Stewards union of the Great Lakes.

The A. F. of L. said a name for the consolidated organization would be chosen at a meeting to be called by officers of the three existing unions. That meeting, on a date to be determined by the union officers, also will elect officials of the new group.

Revoluta Eliminated In Golf Tournament

St. Augustine, Fla., March 17 (AP)—Several "name" players bowed out today in a wave of upsets marking the first round of the amateur professional best ball match play golf tournament.

The casualty list included Johnny Revolta, Lawson Little, Willie McFarlane, Victor Ghezzi and Jimmy Hines. Hines won the initial tournament in 1935.

Leading the way into the second round were Henry Picard of Hershey, Pa., and Frank Ford of Charleston, S. C., winners last year. They turned back Leonard Hosen of Springfield, Mo., and Harold Butler of Hempstead, N. Y., one up.

Hines and his amateur partner, Frank Allan of Pittston, Pa., ran into a pair of "hot" opponents—Maurice Walsh of Scarsdale, N. Y., and R. V. Van Kleeck of Jacksonville, Fla. The Walsh-Van Kleeck team fired a five-under-par 32 on the first nine to go two up and went on to a one up decision.

Revoluta and Tommy Acock of Jacksonville, former national intercollegiate champion, could not match strokes with Felix Serafin of Scranton, Pa., and Walter Justin, Jr., of Philadelphia and fell 2 and 1.

New Michigan Grid Coach In No Hurry To Begin His Work

Ann Arbor, March 17 (AP)—Herbert O. (Fritz) Crisler, Michigan's new football coach, isn't in a hurry to begin his duties.

Crisler, it was learned today, has been here since Wednesday night, where he has secluded himself at his home.

Friends said the former Princeton coach planned a rest before mapping plans for spring practice a week hence and fulfilling several speaking engagements.

Campbell Dickson, new end coach, accompanied Crisler to Ann Arbor. Two other assistants, Earl T. Martineau, backfield coach, and Clarence Munn, line coach, are expected here this week-end.

A rally for the new coaches is planned for next Monday night in Hill auditorium. After that Crisler will speak before alumni clubs in Jackson, Battle Creek, Pontiac and Toledo, Ohio.

Veteran Red Wing Ends Puck Career

Detroit, March 17 (AP)—Larry Aurie, tiny Detroit Red Wing veteran, will end his career as a player when Detroit closes its National hockey league season against the New York Rangers here Sunday night.

The announcement came today from Manager Jack Adams who said that owner James Norris had "other plans for Larry." He declined to amplify the statement but from sources close to the de-throned Stanley cup champions, it was learned that Norris plans to make Aurie head of the Red Wings farm system or chief scout.

SPRING GRIDIRON MOVE IS NIPPED

Ivy League Votes Against Making Football Two Season Sport

BY BILL BONI
Princeton, N. J., March 17 (AP)—Nine eastern colleges, through a gentleman's agreement, have nipped in the bud a growing tendency to make intercollegiate football a two-season sport.

Elton E. (Ted) Wieman, Princeton's new head football coach, made that announcement today at a "get-acquainted" luncheon for Wieman, his staff and the press.

"In the last few years," said Wieman, "colleges have been making so much of spring scrimmages and practice games with other schools that, to all intents and purposes, they were playing two schedules. The partners to this new agreement—the six other members of the Ivy League, Harvard, Yale, Columbia, Cornell, Pennsylvania and Dartmouth, as well as Army and Navy—will do away with that beginning this spring."

Princeton itself played Lehigh and St. Josephs last spring, while Columbia scrimmaged with Manhattan, Villanova, Lafayette and Rutgers, and Cornell had practice games with Colgate and Bucknell.

Wieman, who succeeded Herbert O. Crisler as head coach when the latter went to Michigan, reiterated his belief in the value of spring practice, but admitted that so far he has been unable to formulate any opinion regarding the chances of his 1938 team.

"We've been practicing for only three days," he explained, "and, beyond being able to tack the right names to the proper faces, we haven't been able to get very far. It's been so foggy that we've had all we could do to identify players half-way across the field.

lanes to her colonies in Africa.

The insurgents have swept back almost to the Mediterranean sea on the east. That would separate Catalonia, the northeast part of Spain from the southeast corner, both still held by the governor. If this territory were split the war might be won soon by the insurgents. Recently government troops have been in heavy retreat, but they have stiffened. Whether they can hold out is a problem. Their own president Juan Negrin flew to France for aid and said his side would be beaten unless helped quickly. He didn't get the help, but he still holds the fort.

Lithuania In Trouble
Ancient little Lithuania is in trouble with Poland and Hitler's shadow hangs over the squabble. The ruling grand duke of Lithuania once was a king of Poland—through a good marriage. Later both countries were swallowed by others. When both were revived after the war they quarreled. Poland took one-third of Lithuania, including the historic capital Wilno (Vilna). That left Lithuania with territory less than half the size of New York state. Since then they have been snarling at each other. Poland is seven times as big, but the Lithuanians are fighters.

Hitler comes into the picture by keeping his eye on Memel, a good old German city taken from her after the war and given to Lithuania. It is natural that Hitler's pan-German program should call for its return. He hasn't insisted upon getting it now, but Europe is worried because it doesn't know what might happen if Po-

Groundwood Mill At Menominee To Open In 2 Weeks

Menominee, Mich.—The groundwood mill in Menominee of the Continental division, Southern Kraft corporation, will reopen within the next two weeks, it was announced yesterday by A. G. Stone, general manager of the division.

Since the Menominee groundwood and paper mill closed June 1, 1932, the company's mill in Marinette has been supplied with groundwood shipped from Canada. At the time the Menominee plant closed, the groundwood mill employed about 15 men.

Wood On Hand
A year's supply of spruce to be converted into groundwood at the mill here has already been received and stored in the mill yards, Stone said. The spruce was shipped to Menominee from Northern Wisconsin and Upper Michigan. With operation of the mill here, the Marinette mill's groundwood requirements need no longer be shipped from Canada, and pulpwood will be purchased in Michigan and Wisconsin, Mr. Stone said.

Manager Stone said that work is already underway in preparing the groundwood mill for reopening. The mill operates an average of about 200 days a year, principally in the high water periods in the spring and fall. During low water periods there is not sufficient electric power generated at its hydro plant to operate the mill.

Stone Here Until 1927
Groundwood is used in paper manufacture. The pulpwood is ground between stone discs about five feet in diameter. There are three of the grinders in the plant in Menominee.

Mr. Stone was superintendent of the Menominee plant from 1919 to 1927, and resided in Marinette. From Marinette he went to Rumford, Maine, where he was superintendent of a mill until transfer to the southern division of the corporation. Two years ago he became general manager of the Continental division, which includes mills in Menominee and Marinette and at Oconto. Division offices are in York Haven, Pa.

WAR ADMIRAL'S CHANGES GOOD

Trainers Predict He'll Beat Seabiscuit at Pimlico May 11

Berlin, Md., March 17 (AP)—War Admiral's trainers, who term the 1937 "horse of the year" the perfect racer, predicted today he would beat the fleet Seabiscuit in the Dixie handicap at Pimlico, May 11.

"The only bad habit the horse has," Trainer George Conway said, "is his behavior at the gate; he's too anxious. But outside of that he's a wonderful little animal."

Rodger Whittingham, one of War Admiral's handlers, commented:

"He's just a little pet. Nothing bothers this horse except the excitement at the starting gate. We can do anything with him."

The son of Man O' War, undergoing a rubdown from Whittingham while the handler talked, obediently raised first one and then another hoof as Whittingham began to clean and polish them. He tried to nip the trainer's hands, but Conway said he was just mischievous.

Just Glen Riddle Farm folks say they aren't worried about what War Admiral will do against Seabiscuit in the Dixie handicap.

"War Admiral is the horse Seabiscuit has to beat," was Conway's answer to a remark that Seabiscuit would be the horse War Admiral would have to beat.

Conway doesn't like the difference in weights the two horses must carry—War Admiral's 132 pounds against 130 for Seabiscuit—but Whittingham and the other handlers expressed confidence the horse will be able to carry the added weight and win. They quoted Charley Kurling, War Admiral's jockey, that the $50,000 Widener challenge cup race War Admiral won recently at Hialeah was the easiest he ever won in.

War Admiral returned from the Miami track this week and is working out at Glen Riddle Farms.

BEES BEAT SOX

Bradenton, Fla., March 17 (AP)—Pinch hitter Earl Maggett's line drive to right field brought in Elbio Fletcher with the run that gave the Bees a 3-2 victory over the Red Sox today when those Boston major league baseball clubs opened their six-game spring series.

FDR PLANS TO AID SCHOOLING

Committee Advocates Federal Help for Education

Washington, D. C., March 17.—Starting in 1939, the President's advisory committee on education would have the Federal Government donate $198,350 to aid in educating Michigan residents over 20 years old, it was revealed here today as the committee released details of its recent report on the nation's education needs.

This sum the committee would have go to Michigan for the years, 1939-40, and then jump to $396,700 for the following year, increasing to $595,050 for the years 1941-45.

Altogether, the committee recommended an $80,000,000 program to develop a nation-wide education advance in which each state would participate on a pro rata basis. However, as regards sums it recommended for encouragement of adult education, as shown above, and for library extension service, the group named definite amounts for each state.

Money asked for Michigan for library service from Federal funds was $55,847, for the first year of the projected program, with that sum advancing to $111,694 the following year and rising to $167,547 for the final four years of the subsidized plan.

The Committee told the president that Michigan had available now revenue which could be used to increase education throughout the state if each state made an average effort to educate its children at average cost, and which would cut the cost of such education from the current $54.53

Highlights Of Liquor Commission Trip Given By William L. Johnson

Highlights of the recent Upper Peninsula trip made by members of the Michigan State Liquor Control Commission were given yesterday by William L. Johnson, Escanaba, Peninsula branch manager. Those making the excursion, which included stops at all key cities above the Straits, were Chairman Edward W. McFarland, Commissioner V. F. Cornely, Bernard Youngblood, deputy secretary of state and representative of Leon D. Case on the commission, and Johnson.

Meetings were held at Escanaba, Marquette, Hancock, Calumet, Iron Mountain and Ironwood in the course of the trip, which was designed to clear up misunderstandings concerning some phases of the commission's regulations and to bring about closer cooperation between licensees, local government officials, enforcement officers and members of the commission.

Those attending the meetings were members of the governing bodies of cities and townships, law enforcement officers, licensees and interested citizens. Members of the clergy were also frequently noted among the groups. The average attendance was between one and two hundred.

Questions most often asked by licensees, Johnson stated yesterday, pertained to re-licensing. Much misunderstanding of this procedure was cleared up through the meetings, at which McFarland explained that the commission will mail out applications for licenses to approved licensees. He stressed the importance of approval by city councils and township boards, which is essential before an application may be sent out or a license granted.

Chairman McFarland dwelt at some length on the duties of the local governing bodies, impressing upon their members that it is they who must determine, through approval for applications, who will be responsible for the orderly handling of retail liquor business within their cities or townships. Other matters now decided by the commission which the local officers may act upon include the distance from schools and churches at which liquor may be sold.

"City officials and township officials who had been in doubt as to some requirements under the liquor control commission rules and regulations expressed themselves as having a more clear picture of what they were required to do and what they could do to further cooperate with the commission for the best interests of all concerned," Johnson said.

Important phases of liquor control regulations emphasized by the chairman during the series of meetings were those pertaining to sale to minors, observation of closing hours, sale to intoxicated persons, staying in after hours, and sanitary regulations.

"When you're handling liquor, you're handling dynamite," Johnson quoted McFarland as saying, "and the job requires all the care that is essential for safety when dealing with high explosives."

with rheumatism for the past seven years and getting no results from other medicines I was terribly discouraged. My hips and legs at times were so full of pain, I could hardly stand it. My entire body was stiff and sore and it was difficult for me to do my work in this awful condition. I lost my appetite too, the foods I ate did not digest well, could not sleep well at night and often felt as if my entire system was gradually wearing out. But all of that was before I gave this new KruGon the opportunity to help me—it was wonderful.

"I am in comfort again, able to work as I should, free of pain and simply feel like a new person," continued Mr. Desormeaux. "That dreadful rheumatism has been driven out of my body after so many years of being unable to find anything to help me, I now eat and sleep fine, enjoy new strength and energy and my work is a pleasure I feel so well again. I am glad to tell others about this new KruGon so they too may regain their health as I have mine."

KruGon is sold by West End Drug Store, 1221 Ludington St., this city.

Four Million Social Security Numbers Filed In Region 5

A total of 4,587,766 applications for social security account numbers has been received in Region five of the social security board up to February 28, according to information received from the Marquette field office yesterday.

The totals for the three states included in Region V, are:

State	Applications
Kentucky	545,991
Michigan	1,788,407
Ohio	2,253,368

Total ----- 4,587,766

Applications in Region are more than 12 per cent of those of the nation as a whole. The social security board has divided the country into 12 regions for the purposes of efficient administration.

The Marquette field office issues account numbers for the fifteen counties of the Upper Peninsula.

At the time account numbers were first issued, in November, 1936, it was predicted that 26,000,000 applications for these numbers would be filed in the nation as a whole.

LEAVES ESTATE
Soo, Mich.—Mrs. Sophia J. Pullar's entire estate of between $50,000 and $60,000 was left to the city of Sault Ste. Marie, it was disclosed today when the will of the well-known Sault resident was filed for probate at the Chippewa county court house by Otto B. McNaughton, one of the trustees.

The will provides for the construction of a city-controlled "The Nolte-Pullar Old Folks' Home" in the Sault, if assets of the estate are sufficient, and the plan is practicable. However, construction of a community building, public rest station, aviation field, children's play grounds or public parks is directed if the original plan is not practicable or there are not sufficient funds. Division is to be within five years after Mrs. Pullar's death, and trustees are directed to pay over assets to the city within a period of ten years, either in a lump sum or in several separate sums.

Spanning the Gap

ESCANABA, according to a recent survey by the American Youth Commission, has 230 young men and boys out of school and unemployed. Escanaba, too, according to a report of Bevier Butts, city director of parks and recreation, had almost 40,000 participants in some form of recreation during the month of February.

These two stories, although seemingly divorced from each other, are significantly inter-related. On the one hand, we have the spectre of promising energetic manhood in the formative stages of life being slowly dragged into the mire of despair, victims of an economic failure almost unparalleled in history.

On the other hand, however, we have the satisfying picture of a progressive city administration making a successful drive toward combatting the forces of world economics in providing favorable facilities and proper guidance to enable these same young people to alleviate their condition by supervised recreation.

It is a well known social theory that community morals and economic welfare are parallel. During times of depression, young people's morals, not always necessarily sexual in character, always suffer. Physical processes falter, bringing with them a corresponding sluggishness in mental processes.

And so, until such time as our economic shortcomings right themselves, the bridge of our young people's despair can be spanned to a great extent by judicial administration of a well planned, supervised recreational program such as is being carried on in Escanaba today.

Downtrodden Miss Darrow

AT a time when all too few men will fight for liberty against compulsion, for mercy against ruthlessness, another scarred fighter in those causes has gone. When Clarence Darrow died, the underdog lost a defender, the poor and weak lost a friend that will not easily be replaced.

And what a fighter Clarence Darrow was! He was not a great lawyer in the scholarly sense, and no great principles of law remain enthroned because he lived. Fighting desperately in some lost cause against an enemy who bit and scratched and hit in the clinches, Darrow could bite and scratch and hit in the clinches, too. What he does leave behind is a devoted and fighting heart that death can not quite still.

Once Illinois was convulsed by a controversy over "labor and radicalism" which exceeded in bitterness anything in this country today. Gov. John P. Altgeld, because he pardoned many who had been imprisoned in that war, was assailed as few men have been assailed in public life. One of his friends and allies was Clarence Darrow.

When Altgeld came to die, Darrow stood by his coffin and spoke a farewell in words of lasting beauty, words which today could be spoken over the body of Darrow himself.

"John P. Altgeld," spoke Darrow, "like many of the earth's great souls, was a solitary man. Life to him was serious and earnest—an endless tragedy. The earth was a great hospital of sick, wounded, and suffering, and he was a devoted surgeon, who had no right to waste one moment's time, and whose duty was to cure them all. While he loved his friends, he yet could work without them, he could live without them, he could bid them one by one goodbye, when their courage failed to follow where he led, and he could go out alone, out into the silent night, and looking upward at the chancelless stars, could find communion there."

So Darrow, too, has gone out alone, out into the silent night. They say he was an atheist, and none said it more often than Darrow himself. And yet he also said, "They laugh at pity and mercy as if they had no proper place in the emotions of man. And yet no one wants justice or can understand what it is. But every one wants mercy, and knows exactly what that means."

And Darrow sought mercy. Fought for it and pleaded for it, in a world which has so little of a quality which believes "in God think of as God-like. It is hard to think that such a God would deny mercy to Darrow, who sought it for the least of his fellow men.

"But though we lay you in the grave and hide you from the sight of man," said Darrow over Altgeld's body, "our brave words will speak for the poor, the oppressed, the captive and the weak; and your devoted life inspire countless souls to do and dare in the holy cause for which you lived and died."

So Darrow in turn, being gone, leaves behind a flaming torch of freedom and mercy awaiting other hands to carry it forward.

Jobs at Good Pay

MORE jobs, at good pay—that remains the President's idea of what the unemployed millions deserve. Mr. Roosevelt once more made his position clear in his talk before the national convention of community chest officials in Washington.

Appealing to the nation to support the Community Mobilization for Human Needs, the President emphasized his belief, however, that the federal government can never substitute its efforts for the personal interest in human suffering which manifests itself through the various community chest drives over the country.

He repeated a statement he has made many times before: "The able-bodied unemployed need work and should have it." That statement apparently is the key to the position the federal government will take as long as Mr. Roosevelt remains in the White House.

Few persons will quarrel with such a policy. Jobs for the unemployed mean both national stability and individual security. But the problem of the jobless, of course, continues very much with us, and the community chest drives deserve the support of every working man and woman.

An Austrian Summer

THE same day that American newspapers published the news of Germany's complete absorption of Austria, which meant the historical death of that little state, advertisements appeared with this headline: "We suggest an Austrian summer."

Prepared in advance by the Austrian State Tourist Department, the advertisements further admonished the American reader to "Go native in Alpine Tyrol, quaint Vorarlberg. Explore Gothic Innsbruck. Plunge into Salzburg's ready whirl. Relax by the Salzkammerguter lakes; recapture romance on the beautiful blue Danube, in historic Vienna, the sentimental heart of Europe. Linger by Carinthia's smiling waters."

Now those would be pretty words. If Herr Hitler hadn't decided all of a sudden that he might just as well grab off his native country while the big European powers were busy at other things. Some unpleasantness probably will come of Anschluss of Austria to Germany and there is just a chance that anyone lingering by Carinthia's smiling waters this summer will get a quaint bullet in him or perhaps inhale the heady fragrance of poison gases.

An American summer might be safer.

AROUND THE PENINSULA

(Ironwood Globe)

Take it from Oscar Olson, hardy fisherman who has lifted nets for 35 years off the mouth of the Menominee river, the smelt will not start until about April 11, despite predictions of amateurs to the contrary. He qualifies that, however, by saying that if there is a sudden change in the weather, the run may start earlier. He says the period of spawning of fish will vary from 10 to 20 days.

The People's party in Ishpeming apparently isn't what it used to be. This third party called a convention, ostensibly with a view to putting a ticket in the field after Vining L. Bjork, Republican mayor, was unanimously endorsed for reelection by the Democrats of the city. But only seven persons attended the convention, whereupon the chairman announced: "Because of lack of interest, the People's party will not place a ticket in the field for the municipal contest this year."

Dr. Gudakunst, state health commissioner, blames the outbreak of smallpox, which has taken on serious proportions, to cases being originally diagnosed as chicken pox. That confirms a rumor current in Gogebie county for weeks and probably accounts for the comparatively large number of cases in the county. It was perhaps surprising for many persons to learn that special investigators of the state health department had found as many as 50 to 100 cases of smallpox in Gogebie county that had not been reported to the state.

Peter Walraven, former city manager of Iron River, seems to be going places in the employ of the Social Security Board. He was recently promoted from the Wausau office to become manager of the Milwaukee office. At one time Walraven was being considered for the position of manager of Ironwood Homesteads, federal housing project, north of Ironwood which as yet has no permanent boss appointed by the government.

Sault Ste. Marie is another city which has given up plans for a homecoming. The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce recently laid the proposition on the table when it was reported that business interests in the city were indifferent about the proposal. Well, they usually have to foot the bill and economic conditions today aren't inspiring enough to make it easy to pry contributions loose from business men.

Two new schools are being completed in Delta county and it is likely another one will get under way soon at Bergland in Ontonagon county. Bergland suffered a $50,000 loss last week when a grade school burned and it is more than an even bet the community fathers will get busy at once and apply to the federal government for funds with which to start construction of a new building, or of an addition to the new high school building.

Figures released by the state department of health indicate tuberculosis is still a great problem in the Peninsula. The average death rate in the state last year was 41.7 per 100,000 population. But in a number of Peninsula counties the average is more than double that figure. Alger county had a death rate of 113.5 per 100,000 and Houghton had 96.5. Ontonagon being third with 89.9 and Gogebie fourth with 88.6. In contrast, however, Leuce county had a death rate of only 28.6 and Mackinac only 18.8. Only three Upper Peninsula counties were under the state average.

World Affairs Reviewed

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Washington, D. C. — Two years ago Chancellor Adolf Hitler, the German Dictator, declared at the great Nuremberg Nazi Party rally that "within four years Germany must be completely independent of foreign imports of all those materials that we can produce for ourselves." This signaled the beginning of what has come to be known in Germany as the "Four Year Plan" and the most astounding progress has been made in realizing the ambition of economic self-reliance.

During the World War Germany had undergone some harrowing experiences as a result of the blockade which was made so effective by the Allied fleets. Although, in anticipation of the war, the German Government had accumulated vast stocks of essential materials the war lasted so much longer than Germany had expected that shortages of the most acute description occurred and to these shortages in essential materials was due in part the collapse of the home front and the breakdown in supplies that finally resulted in revolution, Allied victories on the Western Front, and eventual capitulation.

Many Americans will vividly recall that in the United States efforts at economic self-reliance also were made but this country was not hemmed in as was Germany. However, practically all the potash used in the American agricultural industry was imported from Germany and supplies were cut off. This resulted in the discovery and utilization of potash beds in Texas, the recovery of fertilizer from seaweed or kelp and finally the introduction of the system for the fixation of atmospheric nitrogen. Essential materials were rationed rigidly and everyone of a certain age remembers the meatless days, the elimination of food wastes, the manufacture of mixed flour, the sugar rationing, and a thousand other expedients. Yet the United States was rich in essentials compared with Germany.

SUBSTITUTES FOR ESSENTIALS

Germany denies she is preparing for another war, the explanation of the Four Year Plan being that the German people merely want to enable themselves to be emancipated from spending their money for imported goods. Most chemicals used in the United States before the World War were imported from Germany and an effect of the struggle was so to stimulate the domestic chemical industry that it has become self-reliant as to most chemicals. Germany led the world in chemical skill and so now is in a position to put that skill to use in making substitutes for essentials which have been largely imported.

Germany is rich in many natural resources but deficient in many others and Herr Hitler has turned to the chemists to supply the deficiencies through scientific necromancy. There now is going on in Germany an exhibition to show to the people what already has been accomplished in the first half of the Four Year Plan program.

Food must always be a prime essential for any nation at war or peace and the average American is likely to think of one of the chief staples of German diet as the sausage. Indeed the familiar hot dog of America is more politely called the frankfurter having derived its name from the ancient city of Frankfurt-on-Main in Germany. Germany raises hogs but normally imports large quantities. So seeking emancipation from this necessity a frankfurter has been devised which dispenses with pork, the traditional filling. A method has been found of treating fish, which Germany, presumably, could always obtain, so as to remove the fish flavor and cause it to taste like pork. This is used as the frankfurter filling but the synthesis does not stop there. Even the sausage skins now can be made of a very thin material made of cellulose tissue which is entirely edible. Thus the complete sausage is wholly synthetic for cellulose can be made from almost anything.

Rubber is one of the most vital essentials. During the World War efforts here to find a synthetic rubber were greatly stimulated. Thomas A. Edison experimented with goldenrod and other plants. Germany claims to have perfected a synthetic rubber which is called buna. The first German synthetic rubber was made during the blockade in 1916 but was not durable. Now, it is declared, a process has been perfected for making rubber which stands the most rigid tests even when used for automobile tires. Coke and lime are the primary materials. Heated in an electric furnace, calcium carbide is produced and then, by the action of water, acetylene and acetic acid. Other processes follow and finally dimethyl butadiene is made which yields both hard and resilient methyl rubber. The process is tedious but, lacking other sources, it will produce rubber.

An epidemic of streptococcal sore throat in the schools at Palmer died down almost as rapidly as it flared up. A physician said he was "confident that the closing of school for a week had much to do with checking this outbreak. A checkup on a majority of cases satisfied us that it was a contact epidemic." Judging from that, closing of the schools seems to have been the wisest move, even though teachers were thrown out of work for awhile.

It is estimated that the Upper Peninsula will have over 300 new tourist cottages and cabins available to resorters next season. They are being built in every section of the district. Work on at least one new hotel, a 65-room structure near Watersmeet, Gogebie county, will begin soon.

A friend of ours went out west last year to make his fortune. We don't know what he is worth now, but shortly before Christmas the authorities were offering $1,000 for him.

New York Column

BY GEORGE ROSS

New York—Those threatening notes Gertrude Lawrence has received engaged the attention of our local G-Men a while. From her backstage dressing room at "Susan and God," came dire and sinister excerpts from the "black-hand" missives: threats of kidnapping, mayhem and bodily harm. Or so the verbal reports went.

Rumors had it that Miss Lawrence, fearing for her life from the purport of the notes, traveled nowhere about town without a secret bodyguard of at least six vigilant hawks. We were given to understand that Miss Lawrence was forbidden to charter cabs unless the driver was well known to her and that no foods or drinks were to pass her lips until sampled by the one who had prepared the concoction.

Undoubtedly, the intimidating notes to the beautiful actress were serious enough to warrant a close investigation. But we have it from an inside track that all those dangerous missives were signed "Whippoorwill" and discussed in fan-letter style on Miss Lawrence's admirable qualities. Furthermore, that the letter-sender is a lady. And moreover, that not only has Miss Lawrence received notes from the offender, but frequent phone calls as well.

And that these telephonic conversations usually start as follows: "Hello, Miss Lawrence, this is the 'Whippoorwill.'" Whereupon, Gertrude hears an expert simulation of the noises of the country whippoorwill—and no more. The stranger hangs up.

Lou Gehrig, the first baseman of the New York Yankees, has just received a sizable check from the film moguls for his emulation of a cowboy hero in a Western entitled "Rawhide." Gehrig's Hollywood activities have aroused the thespian urge in all the other athletes of the diamond. The other afternoon, Allen Joslyn, the actor, stepped into the Tavern and spied Hank Greenberg, slugging first baseman of the Detroit Tigers.

"Tell me, Hank," asked Joslyn, "how far from the tip of a bat should the hitter hold his wrists?"

"I'll answer that," said the Detroit star, "if you'll tell me something—how does a movie actor know when he's 'mugging' too much?"

No Boy Heroes

The late critic, Percy Hammond, once said he put himself to sleep on nights when slumber was elusive by counting stage juveniles instead of sheep.

If current critics tried that ruse, they would be an insomnia-bedeviled crew. For showmen beware the absence of young musical comedy heroes. Where have they all fled? Well, a check-up reveals that: Jay Gould (he was famous in "Tuck Tack Toe") has a seat on the Stock Exchange. J. Harold Murray (one of the handsomest) is president of a brewery in Connecticut. Harry Pender (remember "Lady in Ermine") is a motorcycle cop in St. Louis. Vinton Freedley (he started as a chorus boy) is a theatrical producer himself now. Howard March (famed in "Showboat") owns a roadhouse in New Jersey. All staid and sedate business men and not a little proud of their Adonis days.

The Capital Parade

BY ALSOP AND KINTNER

Washington, March 17. — Some of the President's clique of unofficial advisers would really like to know is what Jim Farley, Frank Hague and Ed Kelly said to one another when they were vacationing in Miami. In the White House, it is feared that the genial postmaster general, the awe-inspiring Fuehrer of Jersey City and the satrap of Chicago concluded an "offensive" and "defensive" alliance together between rounds of golf and visits to the ponies.

In the magnificent news pictures of Frank Hague swatting at a golf ball with Jim Farley looking on approvingly, Kelly did not appear. Presumably he was hiding behind a bush, for he was there, and so was his Chicago partner, Pat Nash. Shakespeare and musical glasses probably did not figure very prominently in the conversations at Miami. Considering that the little gathering included the leading figures in the Democratic organizations of New York, New Jersey and Illinois, it is not a bad guess that 1940 was the favored topic. What the White House advisers fear is that the bosses agreed to play in with one another in the struggle for control of the Democratic Party.

BIG JIM GOES INDEPENDENT

Probably the worries of the President's friends are exaggerated. It's still a little early to begin worrying about 1940. Nevertheless, the important fact remains that, within the administration, Jim Farley is being vigilantly and nervously watched. No longer is he relied on as the faithful flunkie of the White House. Now he is regarded as a dangerous potential rebel.

Moreover, there are distinct signs that Jim is rebelling. In Kentucky, for example, the whole prestige of the administration is involved in the primary fight between "Dear Alben" Barkley and Governor A. B. "Happy" Chandler for the senate seat. Jim Farley has strewn the nation with affectionately inscribed cabinet photographs of himself, but he has rarely passed them out to the President's enemies in mid-struggle with the White House.

Chandler supporters are boasting that this winter, Governor Chandler received an extra large Farley portrait, inscribed, "To Happy Chandler, a good friend." And there are reports going the rounds that Jim has shown himself an unenthusiastic barklyite in other ways.

Again, in New York, Solicitor General Robert H. Jackson was put forward with the open approval and endorsement of the White House as a gubernatorial candidate. Farley was publicly glacially chilly to the Jackson candidacy, and Jackson's backers are completely convinced that, in private, he urged the New York bosses to plunge their knives in Jackson and twist them.

And in Indiana, Farley is understood to have made a mildly friendly gesture in the direction of Senator Frederick C. Van Nuys, bitter opponent of the President's court plan. This may be explained by the intensity and warmth of the Farley detestation of Indiana's man on a white horse, Paul V. McNutt. Yet all these different, variously reliable signs add up to a pretty definite indication that Jim has grown rebellious.

FRANK AND JIM

If Farley does rebel, the fault will be the President's. From the start, the White House used Farley as a fall guy for the administration, letting him do the dirty work of practical politics and then singing psalms about purity when the work was done. Farley took this treatment without a whimper for a long time. His loyalty held out for a long time, and the signs may well be deceptive. His loyalty may still be holding out.

The fact remains that the White House no longer trusts Farley implicitly. The fears of the President's advisers have already been cited. More tangible evidence is to be found in the re-routing of much business which would once have crossed Farley's Desk. During the first years of the New Deal, Farley was the giver of all good things, the dispenser of patronage and apportioner of projects.

Now James Roosevelt handles much of this work. Much of it goes through the office of Joseph B. Keenan, the chunky, wise assistant to the attorney general who is growing more and more important as a presidential handyman. And much of the work is handled by the White House left-wing advisers, who have learned to be adept pressure politicians as well as political theorists.

The New York Telephone Company has been giving its employees a bonus for quitting. Now there's an idea the public might save to try on Congress!

Lyrics of Life

By Douglas Malloch

DOWN THE ROLL When the last roll is called, And we are there, Mankind shall be appalled When we compare. The eminence we sought, Will little seem, Some simple act or thought Will brightly gleam. When the last roll is read, And we reply, When all the marshalled dead Are passing by, Some private in the ranks May be the one That God will give His thanks, When life is done.

When the last roll is heard, The Lord shall read, About some gentle word, Some kindly deed, And He may give a crown To some poor soul, That men had written down Far down the roll.

MURPHY OKEHS IRISH METHODS

Michigan Governor In St. Patrick's Day Talk at Scranton

Scranton, Pa., March 17 (AP)—Governor Frank Murphy of Michigan recommended "The Irish Way" of settling many of the nation's problems in a St. Patrick's Day address here tonight.

He called for reforms to improve the lot of the laborer and not only to relieve distress from unemployment but to prevent it.

"We will all agree, I am sure," the Governor told the Irish-American Association of Lackawanna county, "that it is not the Irish way merely to be patient in the face of calamity and let things take their natural course."

"It is inconceivable that the genius and the ambition which have developed this land of wealth cannot bring order into our badly disorganized economic life," Murphy said. "We can no longer hide behind the flimsy defense that an orderly system of production and distribution would be 'collectivistic' and 'unAmerican.'"

Must Correct Errors "If we want to avoid the consequences of a genuinely extremist movement we will have to correct the conditions that breed unrest, and we can't afford to let the voices of reaction swerve us from that course."

Murphy demanded "steady work and an annual working wage" as a bulwark against depressions.

"Even though we provide men with permanent jobs, we will be short of our goal if that employment is sweat-shop drudgery and if it gains the worker and his family nothing more than a mere existence x x x," he continued.

"Progressive employers have gone a long way toward paying their employees decent, adequate wages, giving them leisure time for recreation with their families and protecting them from dangerous and unhealthful working conditions. But the sweat-shop and the speed-up are still very much with us."

Wages Are Low "Men and women alike are working for wages far below the requirement for a fair standard of living. They are sacrificing physical and mental health on the altar of speed and mass production. And they are confronted by the prospect of a future barren of security and happiness. That is not what labor was intended to be."

Murphy said government "which is progressive and wise" should provide machinery for peaceful settlement of strikes.

"In a crisis it will disdain the needless use of coercion and serve instead as an intelligent, kindly friend and moderator," he said.

He pointed to an epidemic of strikes in Michigan last winter as proof that "they can be settled without loss of life, destruction of property and the suppression of civil liberties."

"That is the kind of government Irish-Americans and their fellow citizens everywhere have got to fight for in a world where the parading of force and the oppression of the weak seem to have become an obsession," he asserted.

Fred Norman, 78, Dies On Thursday

Fred Norman, 78, passed away at about six o'clock Thursday evening at the county infirmary, where he had resided for the past 31 years.

He had been crippled for over thirty years and complications coupled with his advanced age, were credited with causing his death.

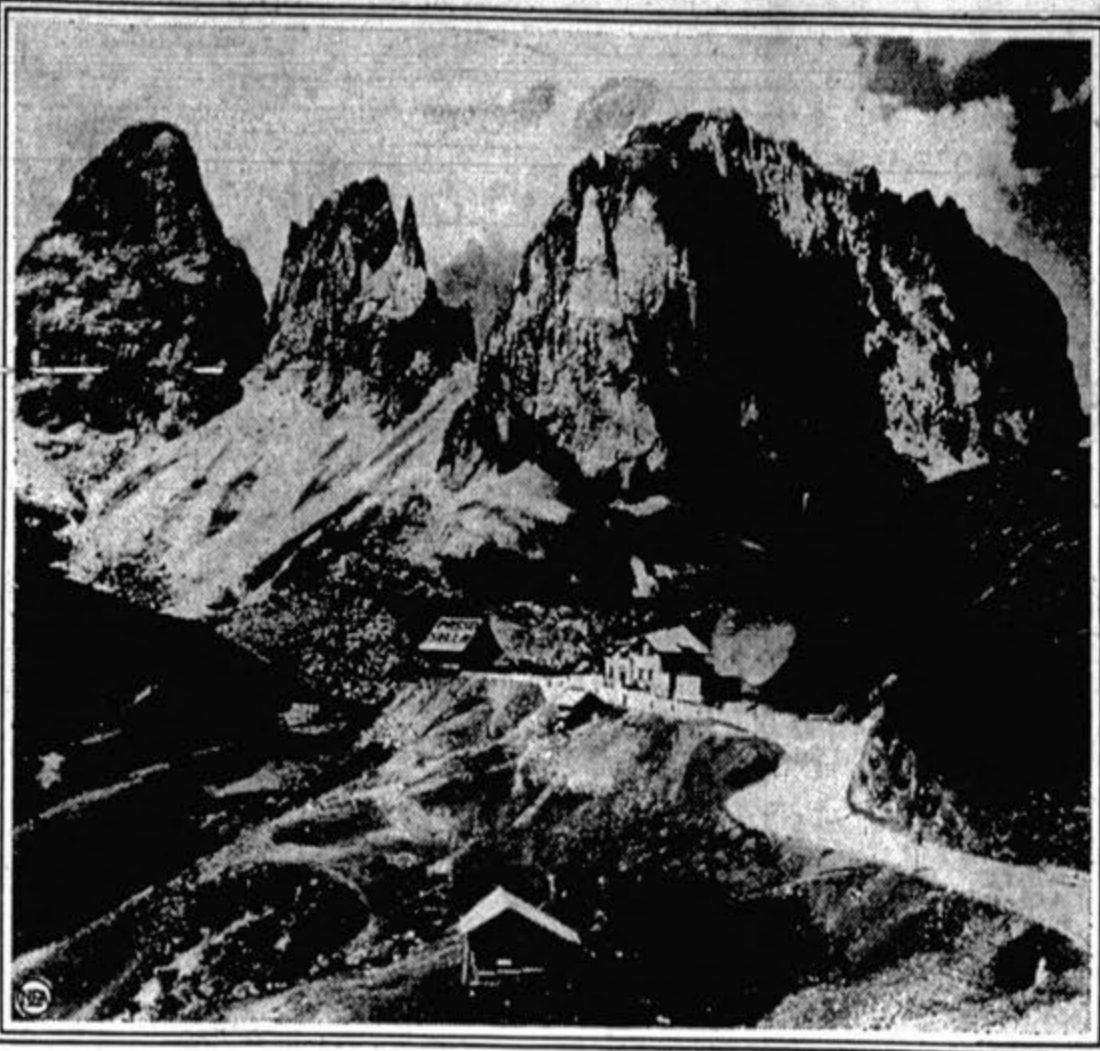

He was born in Sweden and before going to the infirmary lived in the vicinity of Bark River. He has no known relatives in this country, although he is believed to have a brother in Sweden.

The body was taken to the Murphy Funeral Home to be prepared for burial and funeral arrangements are still incomplete.

The principles of mass production wear seen and practiced more than a century ago, and have been in continuous use ever since.

JERRY SKULINA MAY BE EDITOR

Sage River Trapper Has Offer in West With Trade Magazine

Newberry, March 17—Jerry Skulina, trapper and writer, living on the Sage river about ten miles east of Newberry, has been offered the editorship of "The Trapper," the official publication of the American Trappers Association. The magazine is published at Cedar City, Utah, but the office will be moved or is now being moved. Mr. Skulina may move west this coming spring.

An article in one of the recent numbers by Mr. Skulina is entitled "Bounty Hunting" and concerns the present "predatory animal control" law put in force in January of 1935. The writer does not approve of the present law and calls it an attack against the interest of Michigan trappers and against the interests of the general public. Bobcats, coyotes and wolves, among other fur-bearers, are not protected. Killed when their pelts are worthless, they result in a loss, not only to the producer but also to the processor and the consumer. Added to this are the losses of other valuable animals incidental to unseasonal operations. The bounties are taken from the game protection fund, which trappers are compelled to support, and which are then used as a weapon against them, the writer states.

Issuance of bounty contracts (numbering 2,738 for the year 1935) is merely another form of the government hunter system which has plagued the fur industry for many years, but is now growing to enormous proportions with the decline of species. Its possibilities include every licensed hunter in the United States, amounting to an army of more than 6,000,000 in numbers, an army so vast that only about 300 acres of land could be reserved for each. Payments of rewards for the destruction of an animal species must eventually result in its extermination. Reduction of a species with any area compels attacks upon another, and so on, until the process is completed.

The fact that sportsmen pay license fees to hunt and fish does not entitle them to demand the use of such funds for the elimination of animals by which they are not directly benefited. Classifying certain animals as "predatory" is without rational foundation. All animals, including man, live on living things in one form or another. They cannot exist otherwise. The evolutionary compensation which has determined the existence of species in the biological organism is still a rudimentary science. Extermination of a native species in any locality has profound and often disastrous consequences, and may be compared to the removal of an organ from the body.

It is not to be inferred that control of wild animals by the government is undesirable because it is mismanaged. It is the duty of the state to protect and perpetuate these natural resources, which, if once destroyed, can never be replaced. Abuses result when they become the racket or sport of unprincipled or irresponsible groups. Under such conditions, those who do the productive work and have the necessary training to plan it, are powerless.

The evils inherent in the public hunting system can be overcome only by granting complete control of designated areas to experienced operators under uniform regulations. This is our task which must be accomplished if an important industry is to continue. This remains the only solution if many valuable species of the native fauna are not to repeat the tragic story of the buffalo, sea otter, passenger pigeon, egret, great auk, and others. Wild life management is still in a state of anarchy.

Hyde Camp Is Hit By Scarlet Fever

Newberry, March 17—Scarlet fever has broken out in the Hyde Camp community north of Newberry. A twelve year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orra Alexander became ill last week with symptoms of a bad cold but was not too ill to remain at home until after she had exposed the students in the school bus coming in from that locality. It is feared that a large number have come in contact with the disease and 16 have been excluded who attend the grade school building. As far as is known only two cases of the disease have developed. The children excluded must remain away for seven days.

The camp was visited this week by Dr. R. E. Spinks, after the case was reported to the school and the local health unit. It is hoped that by keeping a close watch on the children and close quarantine on the camp, that an epidemic can be avoided.

GROUP OKEHS LUECKE BILL

Resolution Submitted to Negotiate Agreement With Canadians

Washington, D. C., March 17—The House Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries today adopted a committee resolution requesting the Secretary of State to negotiate an agreement with the Canadian Government for the regulation of commercial fishing in international waters of the Great Lakes. A Committee Resolution only requires action by the Committee to be effective. The resolution was offered by Rep. John Luecke of the 11th Michigan District. A similar resolution is being introduced in the Senate Committee by Sen. Royal S. Copeland of New York.

The above Committee Resolution is a companion measure to H. J. Res. 504, authorized by Rep. Luecke, which authorized State contracts for the conservation of fish resources in Great Lakes waters through uniform regulatory laws. The House of Representatives recently passed H. J. Res. 504. A companion resolution, introduced by Senator Brown of Michigan, has already been reported favorably by the Senate Committee on Commerce and favorable action by the Senate is expected at an early date.

The passage of both of these measures is necessary in order to have complete uniform control of fishing on the Great Lakes.

Snowdrift's Fall Before Onslaught Of Spring's Sun

The warming rays of Old Sol is having its effects on the snowdrifts in and about the city.

From the maximum of 26 inches on the level on February 6, the snow dropped to seven inches yesterday, W. T. Lathrop, local meteorologist, said yesterday.

The snow depth is measured on the basis of an average of several tests on level ground with a measuring stick. Snow on Ludington street and other main streets in the city has just about disappeared but banks several feet in depth still remain on roads near the city limits.

"Generally fair and warmer" is the forecast for today.

1,400 EMPLOYED ON ROAD JOBS

60 Miles of Surfacing Will Be Finished In Few Days

With 1,400 men employed on WPA road jobs in the county, work will be finished on surfacing of approximately 60 miles of gravel road in Delta county within a few days, weather permitting, J. T. Sharpsteen, county engineer, said yesterday.

If the spring break-up is delayed four or five days, Sharpsteen said, the crews will be able to finish their 60 mile stretch. The preliminary work on these roads, spread throughout the county, was done last summer and fall under WPA labor.

In addition to the 1,400 men employed, the four projects in the county require more than 50 trucks for operation.

The four roads being graveled at the present time are at Rock, west to the county line; Minor's road north of Masonville; Sandpaka's road in Bay de Noc township; and the Flat Rock road in Wells township. Only the gravel plant at Flat Rock is now in operation, the Bark River crusher having been dismantled for repairs.

Sharpsteen said yesterday that county roads are in comparatively good condition, not yet being seriously affected by the break-up. No weight restrictions have been placed as yet.

The stirring celebrations of the often recalled "good old days" were missing, but there was much exchange of greetings, a motion picture show and dances, and parties, public and private in observance of the day.

AT THE MICHIGAN

A jealous hubby, a golf crazy wife and a mad-about-women playboy start a three-cornered fight to the finish in "Change of Heart," coming today to the Michigan theatre—and what a furiously funny, fighting finish it is.

This Twentieth Century-Fox production featuring Gloria Stuart and Michael Whalen, is a great mirthful of fun, punctuated by conjugal warfare and conjugal reconciliation, set, of all places on the links of a golf club.

Michael gives us a serious, if somewhat stubborn business man who champs at the bit and writes under the ignominy of golf-widowhood. Gloria, beautiful and equally stubborn, has one hobby—golf. Just the situation in which a playboy who is enthusiastic about golf and Gloria, can weave his wiles without much difficulty.

WE, the WOMEN

BY RUTH MILLETT

There is a bit of common sense in this "alimony for men" movement. Just as there is something worthwhile behind most causes.

If at first you're inclined to scorn the thought or dismiss it as a freak notion—listen to what its instigator has to say for it.

"I really doubt that one per cent of the men would take advantage of the legislation, even if it were passed. They still hold to the old, chivalrous idea that a man who takes money from a woman is a—" well, print any good-word you think of. But such a law might make giddy girls realize that marital responsibility is twofold, and it might prevent hasty, foolish marriages.

There's something in what Dr. Alexander Dallek—as you may have surmised, an alimony payer himself—has to say.

Girls often do marry today with the thought, "If it doesn't work I can always get a divorce." We all know women who were apparently all too willing to get a divorce and take a monthly check that provides the wherewithal for an independent and carefree life. Hard young women who get their alimony even though an ex-husband's second wife is forced to work to support herself. Women who are content to let a man pay a lifetime for a mistake that was probably no more than half his own.

A dose of what is sauce for the gander might open the eyes of women who look on divorce as a paying proposition—instead of a personal failure.

But we don't go so far as to hope Dr. Dallek's ideas are converted into laws. We only go so far as to think they are worth considering.

For we aren't quite trusting enough to share his surmise that less than one per cent of the men would take advantage of alimony-for-men legislation. There has been some disquieting talk about chivalry being dead.

Bohemian Chicken Pie Tasty Dish

Even the most demure young bride may deceive her husband with Pastika Z Kurat and make him like it. Pastika Z Kurat is nothing more, outlandish than chicken pie as they make it in Bohemian homes. Elisabeth Rethberg, soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, vouches for the authenticity of this recipe from her native land, which borders on Bohemia (now called Czechoslovakia). "Bohemian Sunday dinners are something big to look forward to I assure you. Wholesome food for large family — and always a chicken pie and fruit tarts," she says.

Bohemian Chicken Pie
(6 to 8 servings)
Five pound fowl, 1 onion, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 cups boiling water, 1-2 pound ham, 8 potatoes, salt, pepper, paprika, parsley, pie crust.

Clean chicken, remove large bones. Mince onion, fry in butter. Add cut-up chicken and brown a little, then add water and ham cut up fine. Cover pot and simmer until chicken is tender. In meantime, peel and quarter potatoes and cook in salted water 15 minutes. Next line pie dish with pastry, then place in it a layer of potatoes, then of chicken and ham. Sprinkle with parsley and dot with butter and cover with pastry top. Flute the edges and brush with beaten egg white and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until crust is baked.

Serve this special gravy with it: Melt 1 tablespoon butter in frying pan, stir in 2 tablespoons flour, then add 1 cup stock in which chicken and ham were cooked and 1 cup milk. Season, add 1 tablespoon minced parsley and add 1 beaten egg yolk. Stir constantly while simmering and serve very hot.

Bolled beef is not a very elegant dish, but Mme. Rethberg says it can be if served with Omacka Koprova. For years known as a homebody when she isn't gracing the operatic stage, Elisabeth Rethberg's word on matters culinary is as true as her pitch.

Dill Sauce
(Omacka Koprova)
Melt a small piece of butter, add a little flour and brown. Do not make paste too thick. Add soup stock and stir well until mixture is smooth. Add a few drops of vinegar and cook three minutes. Just before serving, add 2 or 3 tablespoons sour cream and some very finely chopped dill. Serve over broiled fish or boiled beef and tip your hat to the next Crecho-Slovakian you meet on his way home to dinner.

Pineapple-Cabbage Salad
(4 to 6 servings)

One-half head firm young cabbage, 1-2 cups diced fresh pineapple, 1 green pepper shredded into long pepper-thin strips, 1 white onion, minced, 6 green lettuce leaves, shredded, shred the cabbage into thin strips. Combine all the vegetables and lettuce and pineapple. Mix with mayonnaise and cream dressing. Try this with whole wheat muffins and slices of cold ham.

Use the Old Noodle for Meatless Menus

A brilliant Lenten feast of fresh shrimp, a la Newburg in a ring of cheese noodles. The red and green garnish of broiled tomatoes with fresh asparagus makes a complete luncheon in itself. (From Alexandria Room, New York)

Lenten abstinence is a personal matter. But food for your family and your friends is of almost public interest. Meatless days from now until the day of the Easter bonnet need not be trials on the palate and the cook. To prove the point, try a brilliant combination of noodles, cheese and shrimp with tomatoes and fresh asparagus—all ingredients being canonically correct.

Noodle Cheese Ring
(Serves 6)
Two cups boiled noodles, 1-2 cup melted butter, 3 beaten eggs, 1 cup grated sharp cheese, 3-4 cup milk, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, 1-2 teaspoons finely grated onion. Salt to taste.

Mix above ingredients together, being sure that the mixture is well seasoned. Butter a one-quarter ring mold and fill with noodle mixture. Place in pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until done (about 45 minutes). Loosen noodle ring around edges with a silver knife before turning out.

Fresh Shrimp a la Newburg
Three-fourths quart cooked and cleaned whole fresh shrimp (or quick-frozen shrimp) sprinkled with 1 teaspoon onion juice, 1-2 teaspoon paprika, salt, pepper.

Melt 3-4 cup butter in pan. Add seasoned shrimp and saute. Remove shrimp and sprinkle with 1-3 teaspoons lemon juice.

Sauce
One-half cup butter (from sauteed shrimp), 2-3 cup flour, 1-2 cup concentrated shrimp stock, 1 cup light cream, 1-2 cups milk, 2 egg yolks, 1-3 cup sherry.

Melt butter. Add flour and cook well. Heat together the shrimp stock, the cream and the milk, and then add these to the first two, blending all well together. Cook for 10 minutes. Remove from stove. Add egg yolks, slightly beaten, and sherry. Add sauteed shrimp and more seasoning if desired.

Service
Place noodle ring in center of large platter. Fill the center of the ring with shrimp a la Newburg, allowing some to run over two sides, as in the photograph. At each end of the platter place three grilled tomato halves. On top of each tomato place three small cooked asparagus tips, cut the same length as the width of the tomato.

Garnish the platter with fresh watercress.

Mexican Steak
(4 to 6 servings)
Three pounds round steak, flour, seasoning, 3 small onions, 1 cup canned tomatoes, 1 teaspoon chili powder, prepared mustard.

Have meat cut about 2 inches thick. Cut off some of the fat and heat fat in heavy iron frying pan. Brown steak on both sides in pan. Chop onions, then remove browned meat and turn in onions to brown. Spread the steak with prepared mustard, return to pan and add chili powder, browned onion, tomatoes. Cover and simmer until tender, about 1-1-4 hours. Add more water if needed. There should be a naturally thickened gravy, but if yours turns out too thin, thicken slightly with flour.

Vegetables Are Spring Tonic For The Whole Family

It's time to tune up family appetites with spring dishes—time to go heavy on fruits, fruit juices, cottage cheese, eggs, milk; time to go light on roasts, hot breads, heavy desserts.

But you don't have to cut out rich, starchy foods altogether. Just cut down on them. Balance the loss by adding a surprise note in your new combinations.

Some Suggestions
Instead of just creamed fish, mushrooms or meat poured over boiled rice, noodles or toast, try seasoning the mixture with chopped onions, green peppers and pimientos.

Stuff green peppers and tomatoes with corn, well-buttered and seasoned rice—or mushrooms.

Make a cheese sauce for new potatoes, peas, cauliflower, green beans or cabbage.

Sprinkle grated cheese over buttered turnips, cauliflower, onions, spinach or broccoli.

Strive any one of the following into a spicy sauce carrots and turnips, cauliflower and peas, beans and celery, corn and pimientos, onions and green beans.

Make the most of the spring greens. Serve mustard tops, beet tops, spinach or kale with a lemon sauce, vinegar and sugar or just plain butter and seasoning.

Wilt dandelion greens a tiny bit in salt water in a covered kettle. (It won't take more than a few minutes.) Then season them with a sweet-sour mixture of sugar, vinegar and butter—and perhaps a bit of bacon grease.

A Warning
Don't, however, make the mistake of switching suddenly from the winter menu of steak, French-fried potatoes and home-made biscuits to fruit salad and dessert. You'll have a half-starved family if you do.

Instead, serve one hot dish each meal. A good cream soup will do.

Then try any of these combinations:
1. Peaches, pineapple, red cherries and cottage cheese, mixed together, covered with French dressing and mounted on a generous heap of lettuce.

2. Apricots, pears, and pineapple—flanked by cream cheese balls—on watercress and touched up with salad dressing.

3. Diced apples, seedless grapes, bananas, nuts and marshmallows mixed with a home-made dressing of whipped cream and mayonnaise in equal quantities.

Highlight your menu with one of the desserts for which spring-time is noted: rhubarb tarts, cobblers or pie . . . or strawberry shortcake . . . or home-made cup

Attractiveness Is Also Proof of Pudding

An old favorite in a new form—chocolate marshmallow pudding with flowers that have nut centers. Note the new glassware that looks like thin white china and costs far less.

Chocolate Petal dessert is just an old smoothie when it comes to pleasing men. Some mothers who didn't welcome it, but the youngsters will. So begin unwrapping your chocolate.

Chocolate Petal Dessert (Serves 4)
One and three-quarter cups milk, 1-4 cup sugar, 3 tablespoons flour, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 2 squares unsweetened chocolate, 1 egg, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 ounces walnut meats, 8 marshmallows.

Heat milk in top of double boiler. Mix sugar and salt. Slowly add to milk. Beat constantly. Add chocolate, cut in pieces, and continue to beat until dissolved. Cook 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Beat egg, add to mixture and cook only 1 minute. Remove from heat, cool slightly, then add vanilla, nuts cut in pieces and 6 marshmallows cut in quarters. Pour into serving dishes and garnish with marshmallow flowers.

To make flowers, cut the remaining marshmallows crosswise in half and then cut each half almost to the center in 8 sections. Separate petals and place this flower on top of each pudding with some chopped nuts in custard topped with a strawberry sauce.

And you'll have a spring tonic your family will find it a pleasure to take.

the whole milk and mix well. Set in pan of water and bake in slow oven (300 degrees F.) for 1 hour. Stir every 15 minutes for first hour. Then add vanilla and almond extract and continue cooking for 2 more hours at same low temperature. Stir twice during the first hour, then leave it in the hands of Providence. Chill and remember the beautiful gooseberry jam.

Roast Shoulder of Lamb with Spinach Stuffing (4 to 6 servings)
Five pounds shoulder of lamb, 1-2 pound young spinach, 4 tablespoons butter, 1 teaspoon chopped green pepper, 1 tablespoon chopped celery, 1 tablespoon chopped radishes, 1 tablespoon chopped onion, 2 cups bread crumbs, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper.

Ask the butcher to bone the meat for stuffing. Keep the bone for soup stock. Wash meat, dry and season well. Wash spinach carefully, first in warm water, then in cold water. Drain and chop. Cook in 2 tablespoons butter together with all the other chopped vegetables. Melt the other 2 tablespoons butter and mix with bread crumbs.

Combine vegetables and bread crumbs and stuff lamb. Skewer. Insert sliver of garlic deep in flesh of meat, dust lightly with flour, and bake in very hot oven (450 degrees F.) for 20 minutes, then reduce heat and continue in moderate oven (325 degrees F.) until done, allowing about 30 minutes a pound in all. Baste occasionally.

Marshmallow Sauce
2-3 cup granulated sugar, 5 tablespoons flour, 1-8 teaspoon salt, 2 cups milk, 1-2 cup diced marshmallows, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1-4 teaspoon lemon extract, 1-4 teaspoon almond extract.

Blend sugar and flour. Add salt and milk. Cook in a double boiler until the sauce thickens slightly. Add marshmallows and beat well. Cool. Add rest of ingredients.

Honey Rolls
2 cups pastry flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons fat, 2-3 cup cold water.

Mix the flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in the fat and, mixing with a knife, add the water. When a soft dough forms pat it out until it is a quarter of an inch thick. Spread with the honey mixture and roll up.

Honey Mixture
3 tablespoons soft butter, 1-3 cup strained honey, 1-4 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-3 cup nuts (optional), 3 tablespoons brown sugar.

Mix the ingredients and spread on the dough. Roll up quickly and cut off half-inch slices. Place next to each other, flat sides up, in a shallow, greased pan. Bake 15 minutes in a moderate oven.

Ginger Cookie Squares
2-3 cup fat, 1-2 cups dark brown sugar, 2 eggs, beaten, 1 teaspoon ginger, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-4 teaspoon cloves, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2-3 cup molasses, 1-2 cup sour milk or butter-milk.

1-2 teaspoons soda, 4 cups flour. Cream fat and sugar. Add rest of the ingredients and mix lightly. Spread out soft dough to the thickness of a third of an inch on shallow, greased pan. Pat down the dough. Bake 12 minutes in moderate oven. After one minute, cut into squares.

Crumbs
2-3 cup crumbs, 3 tablespoons butter, melted, 3 tablespoons catsup.

Mix the ingredients and spread over the top of the shrimp mixture. Bake 20 minutes in a moderate oven.

MIMOSA FOR SPRING
Mimosa is a color for this spring. Hats, gloves, pocketbooks, veils are featured in this gorgeous color. Of course, bouquets of mimosa for your lapel or hat are just right, too.

Pork and Noodle Stew (4 to 6 servings)
One-half pound ground lean pork, 1-2 cup cut up celery, 1 small carrot cut up fine, 2 onions, chopped, 1 green pepper chopped, 1 cup canned tomatoes or 2 fresh tomatoes, salt pepper, 1-2 package wide noodles.

Cook noodles in large kettle of rapidly boiling salted water. When tender, drain at once and keep warm.

Brown chopped pork in its own fat. Add onions, carrots, green pepper. Next add tomatoes and seasoning. Simmer for 45 minutes. Then turn in cooked noodles and simmer another 10 minutes.

Broiled Lamb Chops
4 loin chops, 3 tablespoons fat, melted, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon paprika.

Brush or pour the fat over chops. Chill until time for preparation. Arrange on pan or broiling plate and broil 15 minutes or until well browned on both sides. Sprinkle with salt and paprika. Serve on hot platter and garnish with parsley.

DECORATIVE HARMONY
To obtain harmony and good composition in the decoration of a room, the design and coloring of the floor must harmonize with the treatment of the walls. The upholstery and draperies should agree with both. The furniture must be in accord, well-balanced and well-placed.

RECENT CHANGE BENEFITS STATE

Tourist Industry Now Is Exceeded By Auto Manufacturing

Houghton, Mich., March 16.—"There has been a great change of recent years in the attitude of Michigan people toward the tourist industry," said Geo. E. Blahop of Marquette, addressing members of the Houghton Rotary club.

"The change is due primarily to the growth of the industry and the universal benefits it has brought to Michigan.

"A decade ago it hardly seemed possible that this state could take first place in tourist and resorting patronage among the commonwealths of the nation," continued the speaker. "And yet today, with a volume of around $300,000,000 new money flowing into Michigan annually from this source, the statistics are general-ly accepted that the results are exceeded only by the automobile industry in which Michigan leads the world.

"The fact the state has developed to premier place in this regard did not happen casually. Our fine summer climate, tremendous shorelines, proximity to the rest of the central west, and many other factors have contributed their share to that end. The industry has also grown because of continued advertising, the activities of the four larger tourist organizations combined with that of the state and hundreds of local groups. Good roads have helped, and so have the beautification of highways, the erection of federal and state forests, fish hatcheries, game sanctuaries, and dozens of other recreational improvements.

"Michigan has been and is being 'dressed up' because on all sides her citizens are becoming more aware of her great opportunities," concluded Mr. Blahop. "But there remains a great amount of work to be done before we here in the Upper Peninsula can take the fullest advantage of our chances, and expand our fine summer background sanely and soundly, on a wide basis, so that it will be permanent. This is a hard time in which to make predictions for the coming season, but although we are in the midst of a business recession, it is a fact that the Upper Peninsula Development bureau is receiving more advance inquiries than ever before at this time of the year, and that attendance at the spring outdoor life shows in Detroit and Chicago has been unusually large."

Tales of daily beatings during imprisonment at Palma, Mallorca, following capture of the vessel by ships flying the Spanish insurgent flag, were told by J. E. Lewis, captain of the American tanker Nantucket Chief, shown above as he was greeted by his daughter, Ruth, 9, at Port Arthur, Texas. Lewis said he and his crew were jailed for "trading with Spanish Reds." His ship was carrying Russian oil to Barcelona.

Register Of Deeds Cites Space Needs Of His Department

Another opinion on the need for a new Delta county courthouse, expressed by Werner A. Olson, register of deeds, was issued yesterday.

Olson, who has served as register of deeds since 1932, calls to public attention the need for increased space which is caused by constantly growing files and the increased use which is being made of his department by new agencies. The opinion follows:

"The office of the register of deeds contains, in its small six by eighteen feet vault, 145 books of deeds, 78 books of mortgages and 64 books of miscellaneous records including chattel records, survey notes, government field notes and several feet of files containing sheriff's deeds and chattels.

"The work room where all work is done and the public is served is eighteen by fifteen feet, and at times there are as many as 10 people using the books as well as the public calling for information in regard to legal instruments recorded and chattels filed. This room has been too crowded for some time to give the public efficient service.

"The United States Forest service, Old Age Assistance bureau, Abstracting company and the State Highway department are the regular users of our congested office and vault, besides attorneys and others who must use the premises frequently in their regular business.

Vault Is Filled

"Every space in the vault is filled now, and a new vault will have to be built soon, at great expense, if a new building is not provided. A room fifteen by eighteen feet is not much larger than your kitchen at home, which Mrs. Taxpayer needs all to herself to do her daily work. What would happen if 10 women tried to work in it? The same congested condition exists in the register of deeds office.

"The books in the vault, if they had to be purchased at the present price, would cost $25,500. The taxpayers have paid $25,000 in fees, in round numbers, to have these books filled. They represent a total investment of $150,500. So there has been more money invested in the small vault of the register of deeds office than it will cost the taxpayers to build a new courthouse to house all county officers with adequate facilities for all.

"If a fire were to state in the basement of the present building, which is built of pine and brick, nothing could withstand the intense heat that would result. The floor of the vaults is brick and lime, which would soon become a red hot mass, and books which were not actually burned would become brittle and unable to withstand further use. Brick buildings are not always fireproof, as has been demonstrated by many fires occurring within this county."

Wake Up To Live!

The attitude which this column has taken toward the European situation since February 12th, when the Berchtesgaden agreement was "negotiated" between Hitler and Schuschnigg, has been subjected to a tremendous barrage of both criticism and approval from both Americans and British.

That attitude, from the beginning, has been that of the conquest of Austria by the Nazis would prove to be a world event of the first order; that it would unleash forces which it would be difficult, if not impossible, to check short of war or the utter capitulation of the democracies; that Eden's attitude in the critical moment, while it was described as that of a "dreamer" in contrast to the "realism" of the Chamberlain-Hallifax group, was actually a thousand times the more realistic and the more aware, and that what was happening in Europe would prove, eventually, to involve the United States.

From that position, this column sees, as yet, no reason to retreat. We have the spectacle over the week end, of Lord Halifax pacing his room, and repeating, "It is horrible, horrible!" This, after Lord Astor, who belongs to the Halifax group, speaking in the United States after the Berchtesgaden meeting, said, "It is a worthwhile issue whether one German nation decides to join another German nation."

One can hardly imagine less realism! What, in heaven's name, did Lord Halifax expect? What sort of human organization does he think the Nazi party, which rules Germany, is? Nothing that is happening in Austria today, as the lists are drawn up of thousands to be sent to concentration camps, as Jews are beaten in the streets, as men and women of the most eminent distinction are condemned to exile, imprisonment, and economic ruin, as a smooth, swift, ruthless organization proceeds to totalitarianize and militarize another six million people—nothing that is happening, that Lord Halifax belatedly finds "horrible"—is worse than what has been happening in Germany itself for five years; nothing has happened that which the world was not given a blue-print in advance!

And Lord Astor? Could any remark have been less realistic? "One German state and another German state"—words out of Hitler's official propaganda! That was not the issue. The issue was and is whether the world of western liberal culture can indefinitely tolerate the aggrandizement upon it, step by step, of a barbarian revolution!

We are not dealing with countries, nations, in the usual sense of the word. We are dealing with international revolutionary movements—with two international revolutionary movements, of which the more dangerous, at this moment, is the Fascist International. We are dealing with a world situation, amazingly comparable to the Roman world fifteen centuries ago.

Then, as now, the barbarians brought about the collapse of a great, integrating culture, not because the barbarians were strong, but because the Romans had become weak and cowardly and were unwilling to defend themselves. And today the defenders of liberal culture, with enormous wealth and power at their disposal, are totally paralyzed. They do not see what is before their very eyes. Only from moment to moment they—clap their brows and moan, as Lord Halifax is reported to have done, "I never thought they'd do it!"

Why not? They promised to do it! And this sort of promise is the only one they are pledged by their own philosophy to keep!

The Fascist is an international pact between three despots, who have behind them the totally mobilized military and economic strength of three populous nations, to wrest from all other nations the separate or collective sovereignty over the earth, leaving only such freedom and independence for any nation as they bestow by favor.

They announce their claim to interfere in the internal affairs of any country that is threatened by "communism."

They regard communism as the inevitable outcome of liberal democracy. Therefore the claim to interfere on the pretext of communism affects every democratic country on earth.

That interference takes the form of supporting and fomenting a fascist movement in any country they wish to weaken. Germany claims a continued hold on people of German nationality wherever they may live in the world, and Nazi groups are organized wherever there are Germans, no matter what their citizenship may be. They are organized in this country and together with Italian fascist groups, they are becoming very visible in South America.

The Fascist also makes odd alliances with pacifists, isolationists and sponsors of American or

DR. ROGERS—he met his most difficult case.

Yesterday, Connie gets a line on a job, finds her prospective employer ill, and is sitting down to dinner in the exclusive restaurant when a lady asks her the price of her coat.

CHAPTER VII

"Price?" murmured Constance, monosyllabic in her amazement at the matter-of-fact bluntness of the question.
 "Why, yes... This is a Bartlett model, isn't it?" the plump lady pursued, mentioning the name of the designer from whom Constance had brought the gray coat. She reached out to test the fabric between her fingers.
 "Yes... Why, yes, it is."
 "You wear it beautifully."
 "You are very kind," said Constance between amusement and surprise, and mentioned the price she had paid for the coat.

"Thank you." The lady sat back with what almost amounted to a nod and smile of dismissal. The man had lighted a cigaret, meanwhile glancing from his companion to Constance, as if savoring something delightfully humorous in the situation.

Constance swept him with a chill gray-blue glance that went completely through and beyond him, and turned away.
 The line ahead of her had broken up. She advanced—the bouffant skirt of the gray coat rippling with her buoyant, high-headed walk—toward the table near the stage.

As she crossed the floor, a beautifully dressed blond girl who passed her in a leisurely saunter murmured, "Gosh, kid! You'd never have got that model if I could have worn it."

Hardly believing her ears, Constance went on toward the dark little man who still waited for her. "I am Miss Maidwell," she explained. "Miss Constance Maidwell. I was told—"

"But yes, of course," he cried impatiently. "You took your time about getting here... Him! Constance!... And you wear the model very nicely. The hat a bit more tilted, perhaps... Thank God you can walk!"

For one blank moment she wondered if every one in this place were crazy or only she, herself. "I began to be afraid," the little man was going on hurriedly, "that Miss O'Dare would not be able to find anyone to take Lucille's place—the height—the coloring—the carriage—the distinction. To model her things, none of the others have the—shall I say 'the atmosphere'?"

Slowly the true absurdity of the situation was dawning upon Constance. Now, at an almost imperceptible nod from the little man, a slinky red-haired girl with sultry dark lashes and a sulky mouth mounted the little stage in a vivid green evening gown with silver sequins and strolled gracefully across—turning this way and that—and then descended the short curve of stairway at the other end to make her leisurely way among the tables. At last Constance understood.

"I'm afraid," she began, suppressing a giggle.
 "Do not worry." The little man patted her arm reassuringly.

British neutrality, in support of a "hands-off-us" policy.

And it wins the sympathy of adoped conservative capitalists who think they must "choose" between Fascism and Communism, either choice meaning the subjection of the present privileged groups along with everybody else, to military collectivism.

In the upper social levels of all countries are people who have a tolerance, let us say, toward Nazism or Fascism; they are, at least, willing to accept it at the evaluation of itself which it prepares for external consumption.

And, in actual practice, the communists themselves are its allies, for they and their "liberal" fellow travelers do their best to prevent any sort of national consolidation in the democratic countries. While Harry Bridges, for instance, howls against the Fascists he does his best to make it impossible for American shipyard, temporarily, at least, between the fear of the Detroit-LaRouque Fascists and the utter confusions of the Popular Front alliance, which must consider the Communists.

Now, the Austrian case, is an almost perfect example of the way the Fascist works, first to demoralize a country by internal dissension, and then to conquer it for military collectivism.

Austria lies between two Fascist despotisms, and has since 1933. The first onslaught on Austrian internal solidarity was made by Mussolini in February, 1934. Because of the fear of Hitler, the Austrian government looked to its next most powerful neighbor. The price of Italian support against Hitler was the liquidation of the Austrian democracy.

That meant the disaffection of

"When I saw you come in, I said to myself, 'That one—she has what it takes'... But I tell you what: since you have not rehearsed with us, follow Gertrude among the tables for a while—the tall blond one there in the tailleur with silver fox. She is an old hand. Watch what she does, and you cannot go wrong... Always remember to smile—just enough, but not too much. Never, never let the muscles of the face freeze... Later, we shall try you on the stage."
 "But—" Constance began... This was preposterous.
 "Come, come!" he cut her off curtly. "We waste too much time. And you have yet four costumes to model... The bag in the left hand, lightly, please. And—yes, the gloves are quite correct."
 It was preposterous—but what of it?

Constance knew that she walked beautifully. Derek had often told her so. And all her life she had a gift for mimicry which had been the delight of her friends. Surely she could saunter, turn and smile—saunter, turn, and smile as easily as any of those other girls... After that sort of thing, and for the first time in Constance's life money seemed desperately important. Suppose she showed him that she had what it took?

Without finishing the protest that was on her lips, she joined the little group of girls who circled among the tables, strolling, turning, reversing, and smiling—"just a little—not too much."
 Several times she wondered what Derek would say if he saw her here—Derek, who had brought her here because it was a good idea to go where the best people were.

Once the blond model the little man had called "Gertrude" stopped to chat briefly as she passed in her measured stroll.
 "Papa Anton likes us to group sometimes," she explained in an undertone. "He wants us to seem as informal and natural as possible."

"Papa Anton," Constance gathered, was the bearded little man in charge of the fashion show.
 "He was fit to be tied," Gertrude went on, "when no one showed up at rehearsal to stand in for Lucille."

"What made him—how did he know I had come to take Lucille's place?" Constance asked guardedly.

"Oh, I suppose because Lucille modeled that coat in the store the day it came in... Well, I'll be seeing you."
 The girl strolled on. Constance took time to wonder about the other girl who was to have taken Lucille's place. Suppose she came yet?

But no one did appear. So Constance went on and on, watching the more experienced models carefully at first, until she knew that she was letter perfect.

There had been four costumes set aside for the absent Lucille—all of which admirably suited Constance's proudly held little figure and the clear petunia-petal of her skin and blue-black of her hair. There was a trim knitted sports frock of a soft bright blue; a demurely girlish evening frock of corn yellow; a mannishly tailored black cocktail gown with a devastating white plaited vestee and pearl studs. With that, Constance carried a long jade cigarette holder and a green lacquered bag.

She modeled them in turn—first across the little stage slowly—her dark head high—turning first to the right, and then to the left to smile over her shoulder; then down the turn of stairs and among the tables, stopping from time to time to answer questions with snatches of patter she had picked up from the other girls.

"Yes, Madam, isn't it a nice frock? I love wearing it..."
 "I wonder what Derek is doing now..."
 "The price? Only $85 with the bag, Madam..."
 There's the waiter who served us the last time I came here with Derek...

"Why, yes, Madam. Now that you suggest it, I do think that black pumps with buckles would be quite as smart with this frock as the silver sandals..."
 Derek would love this frock.

But Derek was in California by this time, settling down to the business of getting acquainted with Hildegarde Thorvald.

Once Constance noticed that the man with the quizzical brown eyes was watching her as if something were puzzling him.
 She was modeling the black cocktail frock, pausing by the table on the stage to light a cigaret in the jade holder as Papa Anton had directed her when she saw a trimly tailored young woman come swiftly across the room to speak to the director of the show as if in troubled inquiry. Papa Anton turned to her a startled face. Constance's heart sank as she saw that they were both watching her with narrow-eyed attention.

Could this be the girl who was to have substituted for Lucille? But no. This girl was too tall to have worn Lucille's models; and she was definitely no dress model. There was about her an air of authority that convinced Constance that she used her very ornamental head for other purposes than wearing hats... The young woman and Papa Anton talked together for a moment longer; then she turned and made her way decisively out of the room.

Constance watched her go with an uneasy feeling that she had not seen the last of her.

practically the whole working class in Austria, the disillusionment of the very groups that might have been counted on to defend Austria against Hitler in a show-down.

But could one expect them to rally very heartily against any one in the defense of their own assassins?

That they actually did back up Schuschnigg only shows where they thought the lesser of two evils lay. But they were no longer even organized!

Then Hitler—with Mussolini's support, and in return for what, it is extremely pertinent to inquire—forced an Austria already disintegrated by Mussolini, to release active Nazi revolutionaries.

On the basis of the disorder thus engendered, he invaded and conquered the country. Hitler will have to pay a price to Mussolini for Austria. Well, he's already paying it. This evening's papers (Tuesday) announce that German Storm Troops are en route to Spain to assist in dealing the death blow to the Loyalist government.

Hitler's entrenchment in Austria will probably mean Mussolini's command of Spain. The Chamberlain-Hallifax policy has proved its utter bankruptcy in less than a month! Mussolini does not "have to have Great Britain." Hitler will give him more of other people's territory.

When Mr. Lippmann regrets that there was not a strong government in Austria resting on national union, he seems to be to disregard the technique of the Fascists.

Mussolini and Hitler collaborated together from 1934 to 1938 to make it absolutely impossible for Austria to have any such government. They tossed her from one pair of arms to the other, they disintegrated her internally, by conspiracy and bribery, and kept her under an abridgment of invasion by one and abandonment by the other, while the League, which had guaranteed her support, was disintegrating, and no strong members of it took up her cause.

And, in the show-down, Mussolini, who had repeatedly, and up until the last minute, sworn to protect Austria against compulsory Nazification, abandoned her, no doubt to strike another bargain.

There was not the slightest reason for Mr. Schuschnigg to believe that if he had fought for Austrian independence, his country would not have had a worse fate, even than that of Spain. And what Austria was standing for was not, actually, national independence. She was attempting to avoid being Nazified. Not Germanized. They are not the same thing.

Our isolationists believe that the events in Austria, or anywhere else in the world, do not really concern us. I am as sure as I am of anything in this world that history will prove them blind and worse than blind. In Japan and her dependencies there are 97,000,000 people, completely militarized and mobilized. In Germany, now, there are 75,000,000 people, completely militarized and mobilized. In Italy and her dependencies there are 58,000,000 people, completely militarized and mobilized. All three countries are governed by authorities demanding blind obedience and are on a totalitarian war footing, in which no consideration has to be paid to the interests of private capital or labor.

These huge military collectives are strategically well distributed to terrorize the world, and they have a program of revolution and conquest, openly avowed, openly announced. Right up until yesterday Lord Halifax and a lot of other British Tories were murmuring, "They don't really mean it." Today they have changed their minds. There are very few pro-Nazis at this moment in Britain. Too bad there were even a few yesterday!

But most Americans are still murmuring. "They don't really mean it, and if they do, what does it matter to us?" If one says: "Beware! Open your eyes! Observe! One is accused of 'endangering peace.' The fact that we have to realize it that it does not take two to make a war. It only takes one.

And awareness is the first condition of defense.

Tuberculin Test Used To Control Dreaded Disease

BY DR. E. J. BRENNER Dir. Schoolcraft-Alger Health Unit

A question often asked "Is there a possibility that a tuberculin test will be negative and still an active tuberculosis be present?" The answer is, except in the very advanced stages of tuberculosis, the tuberculin always is positive. The positive result of the tuberculin test means one thing of particular importance to the public, and that is, exposure to tuberculosis. If active tuberculosis is present the test will be positive until the lesion has completely healed.

Thus the reaction of the tuberculin test may be either an indication of exposure, to the disease, or an indication of active disease. When the test is positive, examinations are then made of the chest and the remainder of the body for the disease.

The test is of particular value in surveys of communities for tuberculosis. The methods now generally used throughout the United States in an effort to find the active cases of tuberculosis is that of giving the test to children in the schools. The test is quite innocuous and a needle need not be used should parents or child object. Dilutions of the tuberculin are so great that no possible harm could occur.

Suppose a child reacts positively to the tuberculin test. Then the examiner knows the child has been exposed to disease. It is more than likely that this exposure has taken place in the home. The child's chest is X-rayed to be certain that the child does not have pulmonary tuberculosis. The family is then asked to come in for an examination in order to find the contact which the child has had with the disease. If this procedure is carried out vigorously in a community little tuberculosis escapes detection. Particularly, are small children prevented from unknown exposure to the disease by parents or relatives in the home.

An X-ray examination of the chest will determine only whether tuberculosis is active in the chest. The tuberculin test will show the presence of even a microscopic lesion, either healing or growing larger, somewhere in the body.

RALLY FADES; STOCKS DROP

STOCK MARKET AVERAGES

Table with columns for Net change, Previous day, Month ago, Year ago, 1938 high, 1938 low, 1937 high, 1937 low, and 1936-37 low.

By Frederick Gardner (Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, March 17 (AP)—Early rallying tendencies faded from the stock market today and forenoon gains running to 2 or more points were reduced or transformed into losses of as much in the majority of cases as the close.

The initial come-back was attributed mainly to the slightly better overnight foreign outlook. The European war scare which toppled yesterday's world markets seemed to have waned a trifle, but the overseas situation was still considered by most financial observers to have highly explosive potentialities, a threatened British cabinet upset was far from helpful. The result was that buyers stepped carefully and selling ruled in the final hour.

The one encouraging factor to analysts was that volume died down. Transfers totalled 642,370 shares compared with 1,023,500 on Wednesday's relapse. The Associated Press average of 60 issues was off .5 of a point at 41.7. Backwardness of the rails was a depressing influence throughout. The composite for this group, for the first time in its lengthy slide, broke to a new low since 1932. Utilities also hit bottom since 1935.

Carriers did a bit better following the White House conference and announcement the president had appointed a committee of three from the interstate commerce commission to formulate recommendations for "immediate" action by congress in view of the "critical" condition of most roads. These stocks, however, slipped again in the final few minutes.

Gold mining issues slumped to new 1938 lows, offerings here being in line with one theory that if war should come operating costs would soar and profits dwindle. Some selling of the mines was reported from abroad.

Foreign securities markets pushed up after their collapse of the previous day. European currencies also steadied in terms of the dollar, but again skidded at the end as demand for American money once more became insistent.

Railway bonds fell sharply after exhibiting resistance before mid-day. Commodities generally leaned backward. Wheat at Chicago was off 1/4 to 1 cent a bushel and corn was unchanged to 1/4. Cotton yielded 10 to 30 cents a bale.

Several good earnings statements for last year were published, and a few cheerful signs were seen here and there on the domestic business horizon, but these had little effect in lifting prices. Bank clearings were off from 1937 levels for the eighteenth consecutive week.

BOND MARKET AVERAGES

Table with columns for Net change, Previous day, Month ago, Year ago, 1938 high, 1938 low, 1937 high, 1937 low, and 1936-37 low.

By Frederick Gardner (Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, March 17 (AP)—The bond market readjusted itself today after yesterday's touch of "war fever," and foreign bonds steadied, corporates dipped, and U. S. governments sold lower.

With a weather eye on stocks, which edged up, then declined to finish lower, domestic railroad, industrial and utility issues followed a similar course. The brunt of losses was sustained by the rails. Down 1 to 2 or more were Santa Fe 4s of '95 at 105, Great Northern 4 1/2 of '77 "E" at 79; Missouri-Kansas-Texas 4 1/2 of '62 at 36 1-8, Southern Pacific 4 1/2 of '68 at 42 and Southern Railway 4 1/2 of '66 at 33. Here and there scattered rail issues tilted up fractions—Erie 5s of '75 gained 1-8 at 113—but all in all losses outnumbered gains. The Associated Press average of 20 rail bonds declined .8 of a point.

The Associated Press average of 10 industrial bonds, and the average of 10 utility bonds fell .1 of a point each. International Hydro Electric 6s of '44 dropped 3/4 at 62 1/2. The Associated Press average of 10 foreign bonds was unchanged. Austrian 7s of '57, which lost more than half their previous market value Monday in the first trading session following Nazi abrogation of Austria, gained 2 yesterday at 32. Belgian 6s of '55 closed at 102 1/2; and Polish 8s of '50 at 46 1/2 up 1.

Canadian 4s lost 1 7-8 at 107, and French 7s of '49, stamped, were down 2 1/4 at 105. German 5 1/2s of '65 at 25 1/2, and 7s of '49 at 31 were fractionally lower. U. S. treasury issues in stock exchange dealings showed losses ranging up to 1-3/8 of a point, but traders said the recession was due to absence of buyers in a dull market, rather than to any pronounced selling pressure.

Transactions totalled $6,876,175, a fair value, against $7,237,425 Wednesday.

Trading Is Uneven; Prices Move Down

New York, March 17 (AP)—Curb stocks moved unevenly today and closed lower, with some leaders down fractions to 3 or more.

Industrials and specialties as groups moved without definite trend, utilities were off a shade, oils tending easier, and mining issues rang up both gains and losses.

Pittsburgh Plate Glass lost 1 3-8 at 75 1/4, and down fractions were an American Airways at 14 1/2, St. Regis Paper 2 1/2, United Wall Paper 8, and Ford Corp. 1 1/2.

Aluminum Co., on the other hand, finished 1 1/2 higher at 75 1/2. Down part of a point among utilities were American Gas & Electric at 23 1/2, Cities Service 1 1/2, Electric Bond & Share 6 5-8, and Niagara Hudson Power 7.

Guif Oil gained 1/4 at 39, but lower were Creole Petroleum at 23 1/2, International Petroleum 23 1/2, and Sunray Oil 2 1/2. Lake Shore Mines lost 2 3-8 at 47 5-8, and Newmont Mining gained 2 1/2 at 60.

Transactions totalled 149,000 shares, against 173,000 Wednesday.

Chicago, March 17 (AP)—Something of a let-up to war-scare talk brought about lower prices here today for wheat—down 1 3-4 cents a bushel at times.

Oshkosh All-Stars Will Play In City March 25

JUNIOR HIGH IS SCENE OF TILT

Edwards, Witasek and Mullen Head List of Cage Greats

The Oshkosh All-Stars, one of the greatest group of college basketball stars ever assembled under one banner and winners of the western division of the pro basketball loop, will play a local team, yet to be named, at the junior high school Friday evening, March 25, it was announced yesterday by Edward Edick, high school principal.

The game is being staged by the Escanaba high school athletic association and proceeds will be used for the fieldhouse fund.

Mullen Heads All-stars
Heading the list of star players on the Oshkosh team is Eddie "Boops" Mullen, captain of the squad. Mullen was an all-American choice for a guard position while at Marquette University in 1935-36. That was the year Marquette had one of the four greatest college teams in the United States and Mullen was popularly known as the "best defensive man in college ball."

Bill Haarlow, former Chicago University ace who broke the Big Ten scoring record while playing with a team that never won a conference game, has managed to get two baskets in four games against Mullen. Capt. Ed doesn't shoot very often, not unless the team needs a couple of points, but when he does he's deadly with a peculiar overhead push shot usually seen in pro games only.

The second all-American player on the team is Lerop Edwards, former Kentucky star. Edwards won the scoring title for the pro league this last year, averaging nearly 15 points a game. He also set a new high for an individual mark in one game with something like 30 points. One of the feats that won Edwards an all-American berth was his scoring of 31 points against a powerful Creighton University team in 35 minutes.

Edwards is Best
Edwards is regarded as tops in pro centers all over the country with the boys having the greatest trouble getting him to shoot often enough. His specialty is a hook shot from the free throw line with the ball usually thrown so hard it seems impossible for it to go into the basket. The spin on the ball is responsible for some of his trick shots.

The big center is the dead pan of the team and the guy they tell all the funnier stories about. He's strictly hill-billy Kentuckian most of the time and gives his mates many a laugh. He's no laughing matter to most of the opposing teams, though. He stands 6 feet, 4 inches tall and is powerfully built. He played with pro clubs at Indianapolis, Dayton and Muncie before joining the Oshkosh live in 1936.

Real showman of the team is Herman "Jackrabbit" Witasek, a North Dakota boy who does things fans can hardly believe. He stands 6 feet, 2 inches tall and can outjump or outrun anyone on the squad with the greatest of ease. His feints and fast drives into the basket, quick trick passes and deceiving change of pace give the ball club the kind of showmanship that is needed to please the fans.

Both from DePaul
DePaul University at Chicago is noted for the kind of ball players and teams that are turned out every year. That's the alma mater of Ray "Sparky" Adams, a forward who gained recognition on several all-American teams as captain of the college five in 1936, the year DePaul was one of the eight finalists in the Olympic Championships at Madison Square Gardens.

Frank Linskey teamed with Adams at DePaul and was captain the year before. Both men played with the Duffy Florals, a strong Chicago pro team, after graduating from school. The squad is rounded out by George Svendsen, Minnesota football ace and a member of the Green Bay Packers last fall. George has just been named coach at Antigo high school and is capable of scoring more points on a basketball floor than most men of his size and weight. George stands about 6 feet, 4 inches and weighs in the neighborhood of 235 pounds.

Rock Spartans Play Munising Bonds Tonight

Rock, Mich., March 17—The Rock Spartans will wind up their cage season Friday night when they travel to Munising to meet the strong Bonds team, which they defeated earlier in the season.

Since 1931, the Spartans have defeated the Bonds seven out of nine times, all by close scores. They hope to end their season with a victory.

The Spartans opened the season with a victory over the Bonds and then lost six games in a row. They ran up a seven game winning streak before falling to the powerful Escanaba Eagles.

Cuyler and Van Mungo Expected To Play Big Part In Dodger Campaign

Kiki Cuyler

BY HARRY GRAYSON
Sports Editor, NEA Service
Clearwater, Fla., March 17.—The most important addition to the Brooklyn boys this spring? Dolph Camilli? Leo Durocher?

"No, sir-ee," says Burleigh Grimes. "The biggest improvement in the Brooklyn club this trip is Larry MacPhail."
Now, Larry MacPhail can't hit, run, or throw strikes from center field, nor is Burleigh Grimes simply flattering his new general manager. Bolling Botly is fully as tactful as Dizzy Dean. Old Wire Whiskers always has said exactly what he meant, no matter how painful.

"MacPhail was a guy something to work with," asserts Grimes. The Dodger director refers to MacPhail's so quickly satisfying the great right-hander, Van Lingle Mungo, and obtaining Camilli from the Phillies.

The sum paid the Philadelphia outfit for the first baseman is variously estimated, $200,000 being the lowest figure and $75,000 the highest. The Brooklyn club is so hard pressed financially that it is suspected that it shortly will be sold. I asked Grimes where MacPhail got the money.

"He's a Houdini," replied Bolling Botly. Counts on Durocher

Brooklyn finished sixth last term with the poorest kind of a defense. A bad arm rendered Mungo useless after July. Buddy Hassett, Cookie Lavagetto, Al Butcher, and Joe Stripp were out for protracted periods.

Grimes gave the St. Louis Cardinals four athletes who weren't doing him any good—Stripp, Johnny Cooney, Jimmy Bucher, and Roy Henshaw—for one he believes will make his infield—Durocher.

Leo Durocher still is the finest fielding shortstop in the business, despite a miserable year at bat in 1937. Durocher hit .386 in 1936, and his having another such year easily might take the Dodgers a long, long way.

His success with the veteran Heinie Manush in 1937 prompted Grimes to sign another oldtimer, Kiki Cuyler, who is to start in center field. As he schooled Augie Galan in Chicago, Cuyler now is instructing Hassett in leftfielding, to which the agile first baseman of the Bronx has been forced by the acquisition of Camilli.

Lavagetto found himself at third base at the age end of last season, and with young Pete Cozart, a fussy fielder from the Portland Coasters, at second, Grimes sees his defense increasing the efficiency of his pitchers to a considerable degree.

Possed Looks Promising
With the soreness out of his arm, Mungo is the perfect bellwether. Luke Hamlin, Max Butcher, and George Jeffcoat round out the Big Four at the moment, with five old heads, Waite Hoyt, Freddie Fitzsimmons, and Fred Frankhouse ready to step in.

Others on the staff are Bill Posedel, Forrest Pressnell, Walt Signer, Charley Marrow, Jack Kimball, and Alta Cohen, the only left-hander.

Posedel bagged 45 games for the Portland Coasters in two campaigns. Pressnell, Signer, Marrow, who stands six feet four, and Cohen are out of the American Association. Signer, hurt in 1937, led the New York-Pennsylvania League in effectiveness in 1936. Kimball had a good year with Elmira.

The giant Babe Phelps' hitting would cover a multitude of sins behind the bat, but the truth is that the mighty Marylander is a fair sort of backstop. Roy Spencer is an excellent handler of pitchers, and there are worse catchers than Paul Chervinko, the former Illinois footballer.

Camilli was the slickest fielding first baseman in the National League last season, and 11 of his 27 home runs were swatted away from the handy right field wall of Baker Bowl.

Because he is the only extra hoody who can play second base, Woody English is assured the infield utility role. Red Brown and Johnny Hudson, who hit .292 for Louisville, will fight it out for the other extra infield position.

George Fallon, up from Elmira, and Berthola Haas, brought in from Clinton, require further seasoning.

Holds Hopes for Winsett
Grimes hopes to have six fellows hitting .300 or more in his batting order at all times, and intends to switch his outfielders to meet the opposition's pitching. He has the left-hand hitters, Manush, Hassett, Jack Winsett, and Goodwin Rosen, who hit .312 for Louisville, and the right-hand batters, Cuyler, and Gil Brack.

George Cisar, up from Clinton, and Art Parks, in from Elmira, have yet to establish themselves as major league hitters.

So has Winsett, the $40,000 bust of 1937, but Grimes hasn't given up the big Tennessee who manufactured 50 home runs for Columbus in 1936.

"Winsett could bat us into the first division," remarked Old Wire Whiskers, as Long Jack smacked the sphere 500 feet over the center field wall at Brooklyn Park here.

BOWLER GETS 719-PIN GAME

High Mark Fails to Get Recognition in Singles Event

Chicago, March 17. (AP)—The biggest series since the American Bowling Congress opened two weeks ago was rolled today, but the brilliant 719-pin spilling performance didn't worry the individual competitors leaders.

Arle Gaines, of Chicago, a member of the Chicago Cinderella recreation booster team, rolled the 719 score. He did it, however, in the two-man event, and accordingly his fine showing did not count in the singles division, now paced by a 689 toppling job turned in by Frank Koley of Brockport, N. Y.

As Gaines rolled his 719 score, his partner, Felix Kroll, could do no better than 485. Gaines effort in the singles was 575. His 719 added to the 575 and 582 in team play, however, gave Gaines a grand total of 1,876 in the all-events, good enough for second place behind Don Beatty of Jackson, Mich., with 1978.

TRENNARY LOSES AT MARQUETTE

Pequaming Victor by One Point; Bergland Five Swamps Daggett

(By The Associated Press)
Pequaming, with a first year, unbeaten basketball team, worked its way into the semi-finals of the Class D tournament at the Northern State Teachers college in Marquette last night by a one-point victory over Trenary, 32 to 31. The Trenary team was unable to get started in the first half which ended with the Algiers trailing, 15 to 9.

Quarfoot, Trenary forward, with four field goals and four foul shots, led in the scoring. P. Van Abel scored nine points for Pequaming, with J. Boyle and L. Millu snaring eight each.

Bergland, with three players contributing 10 or more points, crushed Daggett in the other game, 54 to 27, after obtaining an 18 to one lead in the first period. Bergland led, 23 to nine, at the half.

Seven of 12 Bergland players figured in the scoring, led by L. Dean 13, Frisk 11 and Lackie 10. Solrezy, Daggett guard, however, was high man for the game with 15 points on six field goals and three charity tosses.

Games this afternoon follow: Pequaming vs. St. Paul, Negauenee, Bergland vs. St. Ignace in Class D, and Crystal Falls vs. Norway in Class C. St. Ignace and St. Paul drew first round byes.

Tonight games will be between Sacred Heart (Laurium) and Baraga Parochial (Marquette) in Class C, and Lake Linden and Iron River, and Ishpeming and Iron Mountain in Class B.

The finals will be Saturday night.

In Camp With Big Leaguers

SOX OPPOSE CUBS
Pasadena, Calif., March 17 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox first base problem, which is bothering manager Jimmy Dykes with the continued absence of Zeke Bonura, will be in the hands of Rupert Thompson when the Sox oppose the Chicago Cubs at Los Angeles tomorrow in the first exhibition game for both teams.

Most everyone takes it for granted that Bonura will sign a contract sooner or later and take over the initial sack. The problem of filling the position until Zeke arrives, however, is somewhat annoying to the chunky Little Chicago pilot. Dykes, however, is greatly pleased with the condition of his players and plans to use George Glick and Bob Uble, rookies, on the mound tomorrow.

TEAM LEAVES CATALINA
Avalon, Calif., March 17 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs said farewell to their Catalina Island training grounds today and headed for the mainland and their exhibition date tomorrow afternoon with the Chicago White Sox at Los Angeles.

Manager Charley Grimm, expressing the opinion that the Cubs are in much better physical shape than the team which left training camp a year ago, said "Lay Bryant and Bob Logan would hurl against the home-town rivals.

BROWNS TRAVEL
Cuero, Tex., March 17 (AP)—The St. Louis Browns opened their exhibition baseball schedule today with an 8 to 0 victory over the Victoria Gulf Oilers, semi-pro team.

TEN RUNS IN 2 INNINGS
Lake Charles, La., March 17 (AP)—Two big innings, the fourth and fifth when they scored all their runs, today gave the Athletics a 10 to 6 triumph over Beaumont, of the Texas league.

Beaumont had nicked Lynn Nelson, the A's starting pitcher, for four runs, before a six-run rally by the Macks in the fourth plus four more tallies in the fifth decided the issue.

SINGLE IS TIMELY
Lafayette, La., March 17 (AP)—A five-run rally in the seventh inning today gave the Phillies a 10 to 6 victory over Jersey City of the International league.

The five runs were made off Tom Ferrick on five hits, one a double, and a base on balls. A single by Bill Atwood with the bases full was the most timely hit of the inning.

HEMSLEY BACK
New Orleans, March 17 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians lost a 4 to 2 decision to New Orleans Pelicans today with Rollie Hemsley, back in camp after his banishment, backstopping for the Tribe.

The catcher, sent home last week for breaking training, hit a single in the first but was caught in a try for second.

HELD TO 7 HITS
St. Petersburg, Fla., March 17 (AP)—Lloyd Moore and Gene Schott held the Cardinals to seven hits today as they suffered their fourth defeat in five exhibition games against major league opponents, the Cincinnati Reds winning, 5 to 2.

SPILLING the DOPE

BY JOHNNY INKSLINGER

Mickey Cochrane is seriously entertaining the thought of returning to duty behind the bat for the Tigers. From the Lakeland training camp comes word that the Detroit manager will ask to be restored to the active player roster, if he can obtain the consent of Walter O. Briggs, owner of the club. He is convinced that he can regain the form he knew before Bump Hadley accidentally fractured his skull with a pitched ball in the Yankee Stadium last May.

—O—
Though Cochrane now is on the voluntarily retired list, it would be a simple matter for him to gain reinstatement. The main question seems to concern Briggs' attitude. The Tigers' owner, jealous of Cochrane's health, said last fall that he hoped Manager Mike would be content to run the team from the dugout and coaching lines. He warned against the risks of competition when he signed Cochrane to a new contract.

At that time, Cochrane evidently was reconciled to the idea of sideline leadership, but steady physical improvement through the winter stirred old ambitions. He went to Lakeland early in February and put himself through a series of workouts with Schoolboy Rowe before the main body of battersmen arrived.

—O—
When the formal practice started, Cochrane was down to playing weight. The itch for action asserted itself and he took part in the daily drills, playing shortstop or second base in the intra-camp battles and now and then doing a turn behind the plate.

After a week, Cochrane found that he suffered no ill effects. The headaches that bothered him intermittently for weeks after he was felled by Hadley had disappeared. He showed much of his former zest and felt that he could regain his old skill. A few days ago he said he intended to ask Briggs' permission to apply for reinstatement so that he will be eligible for the line-up at the opening of the pennant campaign.

—O—
So far, Briggs has given no indication of how he will regard Cochrane's request. The question probably will be allowed to wait until the Tigers' owner visits the training camp later in the month. Briggs is now at his winter home at Miami Beach.

—O—
If Cochrane is allowed to resume his chores behind the bat, he will have a problem in Rudy York. The Cherokee slugger has been looked upon as the first-string catcher. Whether he would be transferred to the status of understudy or shifted to another position is a source of speculation.

—O—
York was tried at third base last spring with none too happy results. He might make another stab at the job, if young Mark Christman, the recruit from Beaumont, does not measure up to expectations. Then, again, Rudy may be given a chance in the outfield because of his punch.

—O—
The complete tabulations follow:

G. W. L. Pct.
Clarence Zerbe . . . . . 12 8 4 .666
Burnell Phillips . . . . . 9 6 3 .666
Fred Bennette . . . . . 3 2 1 .666
Albin Starr . . . . . 12 5 7 .416
Henry Newkirk . . . . . 8 4 .500
Donald McKie . . . . . 12 3 9 .250

Darkhorse McKie Is Still At Wrong End Of Standings

Standings in the city handball league were released today by the department of parks and recreation. Clarence Zerbe, Burnell Phillips and Fred Bennette being tied for first place in the league.

Albin Starr, former champion player, has been playing off form but of late has played a fast game to come from behind.

Donald McKie, dark horse of the league, is holding down the cellar position.

Wolve Coaching Staff To Meet School March 21

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 17 (Special)—Michigan's football staff for 1938 will be introduced to the Michigan student body and the public at a giant rally in Hill Auditorium March 21, according to officers of the Michigan Union who are sponsoring the affair, to be known as "Crisler Night".

Herbert O. "Fritz" Crisler, Michigan's new head coach, will introduce his assistants, Earl Martineau, backfield coach, Campbell Dickson, end coach, and Clarence Munn, line coach.

Crisler has announced that spring football practice will begin the following week.

WOLF COACHING STAFF TO MEET SCHOOL MARCH 21

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 17 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians lost a 4 to 2 decision to New Orleans Pelicans today with Rollie Hemsley, back in camp after his banishment, backstopping for the Tribe.

The catcher, sent home last week for breaking training, hit a single in the first but was caught in a try for second.

HELD TO 7 HITS
St. Petersburg, Fla., March 17 (AP)—Lloyd Moore and Gene Schott held the Cardinals to seven hits today as they suffered their fourth defeat in five exhibition games against major league opponents, the Cincinnati Reds winning, 5 to 2.

TIGER ROOKIES PLAY IN OPENER

Four Newcomers Named on Lineup for Game Against Senators

Lakeland, Fla., March 17 (AP)—The Detroit Tiger rookies are going to get an early opportunity to show whether or not they have what it takes to play major league baseball.

Manager Mickey Cochrane today named the lineup he will use Sunday against Washington here in the opening game of the exhibition schedule and four recruits are listed for action.

They are shortstop Frank Croucher, third baseman Mark Christman, outfielder Roy Cullenbine and pitcher Harry Eisenstat. The balance of the lineup, Cochrane said, will consist of Rudy York behind the plate, Charley Gehring at second, Jo-Jo White and Chester Laabs in the outfield and Elden Auker and Vernon Kennedy, pitchers.

It will be Kennedy's first start for the Tigers and more than passing interest exists in the appearance of the husky right hander who came to Detroit from the Chicago White Sox last winter.

Harridge Visits Camp
Tony Piet, another newcomer from the Sox, was the star of today's intra-squad practice game in which Bink Miller's aggregation defeated a crew guided by Cochrane for the first time. Piet, who is fighting desperately to star in the major leagues, hit a home run over the left field wall off Jake Wade in the second. Cochrane was on second at the time by virtue of a walk and it provided the losers with their only runs as they bowed 3 to 2. Piet also got a single in the fracas.

Wade granted four hits in the three frames he worked. Stanley Corbett, who tolled the last three frames, gave up only two hits.

Kennedy worked the first three innings for the Millers and allowed six hits and two runs. Alton Benton, who followed Kennedy, did not give a hit in three frames but walked four batters.

The Tigers will have an important personage in camp tomorrow. Cochrane received word today that William A. Harridge, president of the American league, would visit Lakeland. He is making his annual training camp tour.

The Washington game will launch a hard week for Detroit. Games with the Boston Bees, Senators, Brooklyn Dodgers, St. Louis Cardinals and Cincinnati Reds will follow in daily order.

Rock Spartans Play In Munising Tonight

Munising, March 17—The Munising Bonds will meet the Rock Spartans in a return game played on the Mather high school gym floor on Friday evening. At Rock earlier in the season the Bonds were defeated by the Spartans.

The Spartans were runners-up in the gold medal tournament of independent teams at Garden, losing their game with the Escanaba Eagles by a small margin. Fans who turn out for the Friday night clash may well expect the Spartans to show some excellent ball handling.

The Bonds bowed to the Newberry Delta Specials here last Friday night but expect to have a close game in their encounter with Rock.

There will be no preliminary game starting at 8:15.

Councilmen Hear About Proposed New Waterplant

Members of the city council conferred last night with M. P. Hatcher, representative of Burns and McDonnell, consulting engineers of Kansas City, on the possibilities of building a new waterplant in the near future.

Hatcher presented various aspects of the case, outlining various possibilities, and answered questions of the councilmen relative to features, construction, cost and labor.

A resolution was adopted authorizing extension of the building fund to permit further improvements at the city hall, especially rebuilding of the front steps.

A request for $250 from the Great Lakes Harbor Association to aid in the fight against the Parsons bill was taken under consideration. A resolution was adopted authorizing the city engineer to draw up estimates for a sidewalk between South 16th and 18th streets on Sixth avenue south. The project would be submitted to the WPA for approval.

The council denied a request of G. Austin Leiphart, manager of the National Unemployment Service, for $50 monthly for office service, pointing out that present NRS funds are adequate to handle the office at this time and that the council would be glad to consider a request for assistance in the future if the NRS could not meet its obligations.
