FRENCH SPEED BILL TO MEET NAZIS MENACE

DEFENSE PROBLEMS KEEP ENGLAND'S CABINET BUSY

Paris, March 22 (AP)—The French chamber of deputies speeded work today on a bill to meet what was described as the danger of a "swift, relentless" undeclared war by Nazi Germany.

Deputies dropped party differences to debate the measure, which would provide for "total mobilization" on a few hours' notice, calling every able-bodied man and woman in France for duty in the trenches or munitions factories.

During its session the chamber passed and sent to the senate two bills providing a total of 8,145,000,000 francs ($248,422,500) for the national defense fund.

Government Must Borrow One of the bills would increase Bank of France loans without interest to the treasury from 15,000,000,000 to 20,000,000,000 francs and the second provided that 3,145,000,000 francs ($95,922,500), representing the surplus of the equalization fund, be turned over to the defense fund.

The entire sum would be part of the 15,000,000,000 francs ($457,500,000) the government has contracted to borrow for defenses in 1938.

Debate on the mobilization bill was launched with a declaration by Deputy Edmund Mellier, Radical-Socialist chairman of the army committee, that Adolf Hitler has foreseen a "rapid smashing of our country."

Provides War Setup First discussed sixteen years ago, the bill provides "equality of all by mobilization of individuals and requisition of goods." It would mobilize the entire nation in wartime and set up in peacetime an administrative organization to function during a war.

In addition the measure provides that the premier himself head all national defenses or delegate such power to one of his ministers; that the government must apply the bill to cases of "manifest aggression" under provisions of France's treaties or in case of "exterior tension," and that profits be taken out of war manufactures and sales.

Those whose factories or properties were requisitioned would be given no indemnity but would be put on the government payroll at a nominal salary. All members of parliament would be mobilized and the government would be moved out of Paris if necessary.

Borders Watched For several years the French army, air corps and navy have been maintained on a 24-hour "vigilance" against the possibility of a lightning Nazi attack without a declaration of war. This was because the general staff agreed, after the Italian conquest of Ethiopia, that the next war probably would start without a declaration.

Night watches have been maintained at all military airdromes near the German frontier, and the steel and concrete Maginot line on the German border has been manned with sentries day and night.

The navy, too, has been ready for immediate battle. Stocks of munitions, oil and food are held constantly at war levels.

Pushes Police Car, Then Gets Ticket; Woman Indignant

Detroit, March 22 (AP)—The indignation of Mrs. Velma Christman in traffic court today was most obvious. Given a ticket for parking on the wrong side of a street February 23, Mrs. Christman spoke her mind forcefully: "I think it was a dirty trick. Your Honor. Half an hour before I got the ticket, I went through an unpaved alley near my home. A police scout car was stuck in the mud.

"I spent several minutes helping to push the car out of the mud. Then I drove a policeman nine blocks so he could get a tow rope. Then I pulled the car into the street.

"Then I drove a friend home and drove in front of her house and stopped on the wrong side of the street. I hadn't even got out of my car. Another policeman came along and gave me a ticket." Acting Referee S. A. Maier of traffic court dismissed the ticket.

TOY SEES RUIN IN MURPHYDOM

State of Michigan in Financial Morass, Says Candidate

Bad Axe, Mich., March 22 (AP)—Harry S. Toy, candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, charged tonight the policies of Governor Murphy would "ruin the average private business" and have placed the state of Michigan in a "financial morass."

A "20,000,000 deficit" in private business, Toy said in a campaign speech, "spells bankruptcy or ruin. But in Lansing a deficit of $29,000,000 is only the signal for Governor Murphy to take another vacation in Florida."

"Last year," Toy said, "the state government had its biggest income. This year it is looking for $20,000,000 more to cover its spending spree. Its income during the last fiscal year was $137,000,000, just $19,000,000 more than ever was collected before during one year. But still its present deficit will probably exceed $20,000,000."

"When he was inaugurated, Murphy said 'We must keep our finances and our credits sound. We must be wise and frugal in the expenditure of the people's money.' But how long would it take the wisdom and frugality of Governor Murphy to ruin the average private business?"

Officers Severely Burned In Marcy's Fire At Kalamazoo

Kalamazoo, Mich., March 22 (AP)—Two officers were burned severely today in fighting a fire at the new grain and stock barn on the Earl A. Marcy farm east of here.

The Marcy Sales Agency and garage in the city have been under guard since threats against the property were reported six days ago. Marcy's rural home burned down a year ago.

MOVE BEATEN TO NIP PLANS OF PRESIDENT

SENATORS DEBATE REORGANIZATION MEASURE

Washington, March 22 (AP)—A string of amendments designed to restrict President Roosevelt's scope of activities under the government reorganization bill went down to defeat in the senate today.

Jubilant supporters of the measure said they expected the senate to pass it finally tomorrow, but opponents predicted lengthy debate on their proposal to preserve the office of comptroller general. They said they also would move to send the bill back to committee.

Two Tie Votes Not once in seven record votes today were the bill's critics able to muster a winning majority. Twice they got enough votes to tie the administration forces, but under senate rules a tie defeats an amendment.

Senator Clark (D-Mo) rallied surprising strength with a proposal to exempt the veterans bureau from operations of the measure, which would delegate broad powers to the president to re-shuffle federal agencies.

When a 41 to 41 tie vote defeated the first proposal, Clark hastily rephrased the amendment and offered it again, only to see it die on another tie vote, 38 to 38.

Forestry Shift Feared The senate began the day's balloting by defeating, 50 to 33, a proposal by Senator Pittman (D-Ore) to prevent the president from transferring the forest service.

Pittman and others who favored the amendment asserted there was a well-defined movement to shift some of the functions of the service to the department of interior. Administration supporters, including Majority Leader Barkley (D-Ky), insisted no such change would be made.

Senator Byrd (D-Va) found the administration's well-organized majority against him also when he proposed an amendment which would have called upon the president to file with congress an estimate of the savings in expenditures made by reorganization orders. The amendment was defeated 38 to 29.

NOT IN THE MOOD Washington, March 22 (AP)—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) told the senate today he would not offer his amendment to the reorganization bill to prevent "transfer or manipulation of the federal deposit insurance corporation because the senate was not in the mood to accept it."

He said under no circumstances would he want an adverse senate vote to be construed as senate desire for a change in the F.D.I.C. "I want to reassert my belief," Vandenberg said, "that the same reason that caused the committee to exempt the federal reserve system would justify exemption of the F.D.I.C."

Senator Vandenberg earlier today told the senate it could put no faith in "assurances" that things might or might not be done under terms of the reorganization bill.

He said experience with the economy act in 1933 showed "the menace of pretending to legislate on the assurance that something will happen."

Assurances had been given the senate before passage of the economy act, Vandenberg contended, which were violated less than a month later by officials who drew up veterans bureau regulations.

'On the Spot'

Currently sitting on Europe's hottest seat is President Antanas Smetona of Lithuania, whose government capitulated to an ultimatum from Poland demanding restoration of diplomatic relations. As a result of popular resentment over accession to "enemy" demands, two cabinet ministers turned in resignations and others were expected to follow, perhaps even that of Smetona himself.

Rising waters of the Bad river, gluttied by an unprecedented ice jam, tonight had flooded every street in the village.

More than 30 families were forced to leave their homes, but there was no disorder, officials said.

Motor traffic on U. S. Highway No. 2 was moving as usual but water and ice had risen to within a foot of the highway bridge.

A crew of 15 WPA workmen were scheduled to begin blasting the ice jam at this point should it rise higher. Earlier in the day the men had dynamited several jams along the river.

JAPAN RECEIVES BILL FOR PANAY

Sinking of U. S. Gunboat and 3 Tankers to Cost $2,214,007

Washington, March 22 (AP)—The United States requested Japan today to pay $2,214,007.36 for the Panay incident.

The bill was itemized as follows: Property losses, $1,945,670.01. Deaths and injuries, $268,337.35. Three Americans died and two score persons were injured when Japanese planes bombed the U. S. gunboat Panay and three Standard Oil tankers last December 12. The Panay sank, and the tankers were sunk or beached.

Because Japan has asserted her willingness to pay indemnification, American officials expect her to settle quickly without questioning. Details as to how the money would be distributed were not given.

Secretary Hull's note said: "These figures have been arrived at after careful consideration and represent only the actual property losses and a conservative estimate of the damages resulting from deaths and personal injuries. The amount includes no item of punitive damages."

Hartford, Mich. (AP)—Western State Teachers college scientists are studying a tooth measuring four and one-half by two inches which was taken from a marl pit near here. The tooth, which is well preserved, is believed to have belonged to a small mastodon that lived approximately 50,000 years ago. Other remains are being sought in the marl pit.

HEAVY WRAPS DISCARDED IN LOWER STATE

MARCH IS WARMEST IN 22 YEARS; DETROIT 81

(By The Associated Press) Lower Michigan basked in the warmest March 22 in years Tuesday.

Soaring temperature sent John Public to the clothes closet in search of something a little cooler, and the government meteorologists into their records to see if they had ever had anything like it.

In Detroit the weather bureau said it was the warmest March day on its records, which go back 65 years. It was 81.3 at 3 p. m. At other points it was said to be the warmest March 22 since 1907.

In Flint the temperature was officially recorded Tuesday afternoon as 83. In Lansing it was 79. In Grand Rapids it was 80.

In Benton Harbor the temperature Tuesday afternoon was 76, and fruit growers expressed a fear that their trees would bud too soon and be nipped by colder weather. County Agricultural Agent H. J. Lurkins said buds were swelling prematurely.

However, V. R. Gardner, head of the Michigan State college horticultural department, expressed the opinion that the budding process had not gone far enough to produce a real danger, but that if the warm weather continued another week there would be a real danger.

Shipping Lanes Open At Detroit the Detroit river was practically clear of ice, and navigation channels were reported open from Lake Erie to Lake Huron.

The weather bureau's report, however, said the Straits of Mackinac would not be opened for navigation before April 15, the ice in the straits averaging between 16 and 27 inches in thickness. Ice in the St. Mary's river at Sault Ste.

Architect Arrives To Make Plans For Chatham Buildings

East Lansing, March 22 (AP)—John A. Hannah, secretary of Michigan State college, went north today with a college architect to arrange details of construction of a group of 4-H club buildings at Chatham.

He planned to meet with upper Peninsula legislators at Marquette tomorrow afternoon and to explain the plans. The college expects to spend more than $45,000 in building dormitories, dining house, and recreational buildings at Chatham.

The funds were earmarked for the purpose from the college's appropriation by the 1937 legislature.

Big Birthday Party Arranged For Ford Detroit, March 22 (AP)—The city council tonight planned a two-week "birthday party" for Henry Ford during which the automobile magnate will be honored as a "philanthropist and humanitarian."

Gets the Axe

Chairman Arthur E. Morgan of the TVA was removed from office yesterday by President Roosevelt, but the TVA chief indicated open defiance to the chief executive's order, and it was expected that the bitter public power agency dispute would be aired in the courts and in congress.

Self-Defense Plea Made In Negaunee Axe-Slaying Case

Negaunee, Mich., March 22 (AP)—Swan Sinni, 26, said to have fatally injured his father, John Sinni, 71, last night when he struck him broadside with a double-bit axe, crushing the skull, was permitted to return to his farm home south of here today by Prosecutor John D. Voelker. The younger Sinni, against whom no charges have been placed, is to remain there until an inquest is conducted Thursday by Coroner James T. Hodge, of Negaunee.

Sinni claimed he struck his father in self-defense during an argument over his father's alleged excessive drinking. He told police his father came toward him with a knife and that he floored his parent with a rocking chair. His father, Swan said, got up and, armed with the knife and chair, continued towards his son who grabbed the axe and again knocked his father down with a blow at the base of the skull.

Mrs. Anna Sinni, 63, the widow, substantiated the self-defense story related by her son, authorities said.

Federal services for Sinni will be held Wednesday afternoon.

CZECHS UNEASY; NAZIS GLOATING

Berlin, March 22 (AP)—Der Angriff, newspaper of propaganda minister Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, gloated today over Czechoslovakia's uneasiness concerning the growth in Czechoslovakia of Konrad Henlein's Czech-German party.

"There is disappointment in Praha over Anschluss (union of Germany and Austria), over the successes of Konrad Henlein and over the cool winds blowing from London," Der Angriff observed. (Britain has ignored pleas that she pledge military aid to Czechoslovakia.)

"To this must be added great disappointment over Moscow, on which people relied as upon a rock."

Der Angriff told how the Czech press one day insisted triumphantly that Soviet Russia had threatened Poland with mobilization, only to admit next day it had left Lithuania in the lurch.

The house of cards, consisting of political dreams, has collapsed in Praha," Der Angriff declared.

No Trace Is Found Of Two Yale, Mich. State Bank Bandits

Yale, Mich., March 22 (AP)—The hunt for two robbers who escaped with $1,897 after a holdup of the Yale State Bank Monday continued fruitless tonight.

A search through the thumb district into Detroit failed to uncover any new clues, officers said, but the investigators hoped fingerprints found on an abandoned automobile and descriptions of the gunmen eventually would lead to arrests.

FIRE INJURES 6 IN MINNEAPOLIS

Minneapolis, March 22 (AP)—Six men were burned or injured and two others were reported missing several hours after a terrific explosion blew the top off a storage bin of the Fleischmann Malting Co., late today.

In general hospital with severe burns on the face and body is Mark Oulman, 49. His condition was described as poor by hospital attendants. Others, with less serious injuries, are Harry Lind, William Lorensen, Rudolph Gibbish, Erving Gibbish, and Norman Knudsen.

A few moments after the explosion, flames burst through the wooden superstructure at the top of the bin. Flaming timbers were scattered over a wide area by the blast, which shook a large residential section.

A passerby said the first explosion blew most of the top off one section of the building and that smaller explosions continued for nearly five minutes.

Dave Sheper, state weigh master at the mill and Lloyd E. Currier, Fleischmann branch manager, were missing several hours after the blast.

Clarence Johnson, plant manager, said he believed there was no possibility the two missing men had survived.

Johnson reserved an estimate of total loss until the contents of the building could be examined.

Heart Attack Fatal To Oscar G. Apfel, Director Of Movies

Hollywood, March 22 (AP)—Funeral services will be held here tomorrow for Oscar C. Apfel, movie director and character actor, who died of a heart attack last night at his home.

Apfel, who started his professional career as a producer and director at the Chicago opera house, made "The Squaw Man," one of the first motion pictures ever filmed. It was produced in Fort Lee, New Jersey.

PUBLIC POWER ROW MAY END UP IN COURTS

PRESIDENT OUSTS DR. MORGAN FOR 'CONTUMACY'

Washington, March 22 (AP)—President Roosevelt summarily dismissed Chairman Arthur E. Morgan of TVA from office today, precipitating what many believed would be a bitter controversy in the courts and in congress.

For Morgan, long engaged in a guerrilla warfare with other directors of the public power agency, was ready to resist the chief executive's order, and critics of TVA at the capitol were eager to bare the agency's innermost secrets in a congressional investigation.

Successor Considered Mr. Roosevelt elevated Vice-Chairman Harcourt A. Morgan to the chairmanship. He has aligned himself with Director David E. Lilienthal in opposing the policies of Chairman Morgan. Informed sources, it was said that the vacancy on the board might be filled tomorrow, possibly by the appointment of James L. Fly, now TVA's general counsel.

At any rate, congress will be officially notified of Chairman Morgan's removal tomorrow. Mr. Roosevelt said he would send a message embodying the record of his recent personal investigation of the TVA row and incorporating an opinion by Attorney General Cummings citing his authority for his action.

"Act of Dictator" Even before receiving the message, however, legislators were quick to praise or blame the president tonight. Senator Bridges (R-N. H.) said the dismissal was an act of "the typical dictator," while Speaker Bankhead declared it was "thoroughly justified."

Almost simultaneously with the president's announcement, made at his regular press conference, the house dealt TVA a vigorous blow. By a vote of 186 to 157 it rejected an amendment to the TVA appropriation bill which would have provided $2,613,000 for beginning construction of the Gilbertville (Ky.) dam.

Proponents of the appropriation contended the structure was the very "keystone" of the Tennessee Valley program, and that it had the approval of both of TVA's factions. Its opponents argued, on the other hand, that the dam was unnecessary.

Behind Mr. Roosevelt's action today lay the record of his personal investigation of TVA, in which Chairman Morgan refused to take more than a limited part on the ground that a congressional investigation was needed. Referring to these proceedings, the president, in a letter to Morgan, cited reasons for removing him as follows:

"Openly making grave and libelous charges of dishonesty and want of integrity against your fellow-directors without reasonable excuse or justification.

"Refusing to submit to the demand of the chief executive for facts upon which you relied in openly making grave and libelous charges of dishonesty and want of integrity against your fellow-directors."

The president added: "I have taken note of the fact that you have not presented to me in person or in writing any reason why I should not remove you."

Mr. Roosevelt asked that this be done at the close of his hearings yesterday. Morgan, however, telling newsmen he had no idea of complying, left Washington for his home in Yellow Springs, Ohio, last night.

MRS. D. PRIDDLE DIES SUDDENLY

Mrs. E. P. Sawyer's Mother Stricken After Fall on Ice March 5

The death of Mrs. Dorcas Amelia May Priddle, 67, mother of Mrs. E. P. Sawyer of Escanaba, occurred last night at the Sawyer home, 310 Lake Shore Drive, where Mrs. Priddle had been visiting for the past several months. Mrs. Priddle broke her hip in a fall March 5, but had been recovering from the injury when she was stricken suddenly Tuesday.

Mrs. Priddle was born March 24, 1871, at Little Current, Ontario, Canada, and taught school in Canada. She was married to George J. Priddle in Little Current Oct. 15, 1890, and moved to Silver Water, Ont., where she had since resided. Mr. Priddle died in August, 1935. She had visited in Escanaba on previous occasions, and last October came to the Sawyer home for an extended stay with her daughter.

The survivors include Mrs. Sawyer and a son, Humphrey G. Priddle of Silver Water, also three grandchildren.

The body was brought to the Anderson funeral home, where funeral services will be held today at 2 p. m., with the Rev. James C. Ward officiating. On Thursday the body will be shipped to Silver Water for burial Saturday.

LAST LOG RAFT ON MOVE AGAIN

Five Old Rivermen Take Over Ceremony After Fatal Accident

Muncy, Pa., March 22 (AP)—Pennsylvania's "last raft" coasted once more down the Susquehanna river today a few moments after a coroner's jury declined to fix responsibility for conflicting testimony was submitted to the jury by crewmen and witnesses of the crackup shortly after noon Sunday when the raft, on the last leg of its 200-mile journey to Harrisburg, struck a barge pier. All but one of the 45 passengers and crewmen—celebrating a revival of old lumbering days—were tossed into the stream.

The body of one man, W. C. Van Scoyoc, was recovered. Six others still are missing. The inquest held by Coroner Thomas C. Brandon concerned Van Scoyoc's death.

He was a Philadelphia who boarded the raft as a guest. Five old rivermen, given permission by the coroner to move the raft, resumed the ill-fated journey and as dusk fell halted at nearby Watsonstown. They said they would start out at 6 a. m. for Harrisburg.

He planned to leave for Chicago tonight on a business trip of an undisclosed nature.

Dr. Morgan, former president of Antioch college here, received a noisy reception when he returned today. Stacked on his old desk were telegrams urging him, he said, to "stick to his guns."

"Without exception," commented Morgan, "the messages have been of a complimentary and congratulatory nature."

COMMENT DIVIDED Washington, March 22 (AP)—Some legislators criticized the removal of TVA Chairman Arthur E. Morgan as dictatorial today, while others approved it as necessary.

The opinion was generally expressed that, irrespective of the president's inquiry and action, congress would authorize an investigation.

Senator King (D-Utah), sponsor of a resolution for a joint senate-house inquiry, said he thought the removal of Morgan had "strengthened the hand" of those favoring investigation.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader, asserted he would decide in the next day or so whether to offer a new resolution calling for a senate-house investigation of the TVA.

Senator Bridges said Mr. Roosevelt's procedure was that "of the typical dictator."

Senator Norris (Ind.-Neb.), father of the TVA, said the president "could not have done anything else."

"That fellow has caused all sorts of trouble," he said. Representative Mapes (R-Mich.): "It seems to me that it is contrary to the spirit and letter of the (TVA) act."

Bachelor To Head Indiana University

Bloomington, Ind., March 22 (AP)—Indiana university selected today as its new president Dr. Herman B. Wells, jovial 35-year-old, 200-pound bachelor—whom students and faculty alike know simply as "Herman."

Wells, who was graduated from the university in 1924, is the youngest man ever to occupy the office. He is one of the youngest college presidents in the nation.

A product of the university's school of commerce, Wells was elected by unanimous vote of the board of trustees. He had been acting president since the retirement of 77-year-old William Lowe Bryan last summer.

CHINESE RAIDS STALL INVADERS

Japanese Communication Lines Choked Up By Guerrilla Bands

Shanghai, March 23 (Wednesday) (AP)—Chinese communist armies and guerrilla bands are choking Japanese communication lines in hit-and-run attacks throughout the vast North China war area.

Reports from the North China provinces invaded by Japanese troops indicated today that swift Chinese thrusts behind the lines had stalled movement of Japanese reinforcements to the central front.

Based on mountainous areas away from railway lines which Japanese have conquered, the Chinese communists have struck time and again at isolated Japanese detachments.

Kuomintang (Chinese news agency) reported that ceaseless attacks of communist troops south of Peiping have demoralized Japanese troops along the Peking-Hankow railway in southern Hopeh province.

In other areas behind the lines other communist and farmer-boy guerrilla troops have been on the march. They have attacked Japanese garrisons at widely-separated points, replenishing their stores with captured Japanese munitions.

In most instances the communist troops have made no effort to hold positions they have captured. Instead, they have dispersed swiftly before Japanese could marshal an attacking force.

COST IN BILLIONS London, March 22 (AP)—The British cabinet and house of commons struggled today with defense problems thrown on the nation by Adolf Hitler's absorption of Austria.

With Czechoslovakia and Spain still major issues threatening the British security, Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain conferred with his aides for two hours in an unusual Tuesday cabinet session on his promised declaration Thursday on foreign policy.

The house of commons worked on details of Britain's huge defense estimates. Cost of the five year program inaugurated April 1, 1937, has been set at 1,500,000,000 pounds ($7,500,000,000).

Chamberlain, however, declared recently the amount would have to be revised upward to provide Britain the defense she requires.

May Admit Refugees Nazification of Austria prompted Josiah C. Wedgwood, laborite, to demand passage of a bill granting six months unrestricted immigration and British nationality to Austrian refugees he said were victims of a terror "worse than the French revolution."

Commons rejected the bill, 210 to 142, but Sir Samuel Hoare, home secretary, promised liberal interpretation of the bill's act in dealing with refugees.

After turning down Wedgwood's measure commons returned to defense discussion, while the cabinet, off-stage, considered the foreign policy statement it is to approve finally tomorrow.

Reliable sources said France virtually has abandoned hope the prime minister's foreign policy statement would pledge British military aid in defense of Czechoslovakia, the tiny, war-created republic feared to be the object of Hitler's next move.

Opposition Backstage It was expected generally the prime minister would be content with a strongly-worded reaffirmation of Britain's 1936 assurance she would aid France if the latter were the victim of aggression.

This might be coupled with a definite statement of Britain's continued interest in central Europe.

It was doubtful how far such a mild revamping of the nation's foreign policy would satisfy Winston Churchill, Chamberlain's openly rival at present for the premiership, and left wing conservatives.

Backstage maneuvering continued in favor of a Churchill government backed by the present labor and liberal opposition.

Chamberlain's position, however, now seemed secure.

Middle Course Sought He was said to be confident he could frame a middle course reconciling divergent views among members of his cabinet themselves.

At Belfast, the northern Ireland parliament on motion of Prime Minister Lord Craigavon pledged Ulster's unreserved support for Chamberlain's policy. Other dominions, far from the European scene, were reported to have counseled against new commitments on the part of Britain.

Foreign Minister Lord Halifax discussed the progress of Anglo-Italian talks with Count Dino Grandi, Italian minister to London, just back from a trip to Rome.

Halifax was believed also to have mentioned reports of intervention in behalf of Generalissimo Francisco Franco's Spanish insurgents.

Chamberlain holds the end of such intervention necessary to an agreement with Premier Mussolini.

Funeral Without Sadness, Mourning Given Film Writer

Hollywood, March 22 (AP)—A strange funeral of "no sadness, no mourning and no ceremony" was held today for Austin Parker.

The film writer, who died of a cerebral hemorrhage Sunday at the age of 46, wrote instructions about his funeral five years ago.

Miriam Hopkins, his former wife, and a group of Parker's friends gathered today in a funeral parlor—"just to sit around and talk about what a swell guy he was."

Miss Hopkins, now Mrs. Anton Litvak, stopped long enough before entering the private room to explain the funeral. She was wearing a grey sport ensemble.

"If you had known him the way we knew him, you would realize he merely wanted his close friends to come and sit around, just as we would in a living room, and talk about what a swell guy he was," she said.

"And that is what we are doing."

The only departure from the program outlined by Parker was a moment of silent prayer, at Miss Hopkins' request.

Rex Cole, Parker's business manager, to whom the letter was addressed, said he could not reveal its text.

"He asked that there be no eulogies, no sadness and no singing," Cole said.

Sentence Delayed In Whitney Stock Fraud Indictment

New York, March 22 (AP)—By request of the securities exchange commission, bankrupt Richard Whitney's sentence for stock fraud was postponed today until April 11.

The former president of the stock exchange, who pleaded guilty to grand larceny charges, underwent a sanity examination by the psychiatric clinic of the court of general sessions a few hours after the SEC in Washington asked local authorities to postpone his sentencing until a federal examination of his books is completed.

Dr. Walter Bromberg of the clinic staff, said Whitney presented "a number of unusual problems" and would be examined again at a later date.

District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey, who obtained one indictment, immediately agreed to the delay. The office of State Attorney General John J. Bennett, Jr., said he had agreed to take the same action.

Steeplechase Field Cut To 39 Horses

Aintree, England, March 22 (AP)—The field for Friday's running of the Grand National Steeplechase was reduced to 39 today with the scratching of Lord Midway's Davy Jones as trainers predicted a fast track and possibly a new record for the trying test of four miles and 856 yards.

Davy Jones, the gallant little jumper which all but had the 1936 race won when his rein broke at the last fence, has no liking for the hard going which is expected to prevail for the 100th running of the classic.

The prospects of fine weather and a fast track caused some trainers to predict that Golden Miller's record of nine minutes, 20.4 seconds would be eclipsed. The conditions also are expected to favor the speedier, younger horses, many of which have never had a chance to prove their mettle over Aintree's rugged country.

World Affairs Reviewed

BY MILTON BRONNER NEA Service Staff Correspondent London—Czechoslovakia, like Austria, has within her confines an invisible but none-the-less real Trojan horse.

Czechoslovakia is not idle. Her armed forces have been greatly strengthened. And she has powerful friends in France and Soviet Russia.

Czech police recently found it necessary to use their clubs in dispersing a crowd that had gathered at a political meeting of Sudeten Germans—which had been forbidden.

One Czech paper, remembering the Nazi jails and concentration camps, the famous purge of Nazi victims and the attacks on Jews, Socialists, Catholics and independent Protestant preachers, replied that all one had to do was to take the passage from Goebbels' paper and substitute "Nazi state" for "Czechoslovakian state" to get the truth.

The Nazis masters say that wherever there are Germans, Germany is interested. Germany is ready to heed their call. Hence the hullabaloo about the sad case of the Sudeten Germans.

But not a word has ever been uttered by the Nazis about the 350,000 Tyroleans in that part of South Tyrol annexed to Italy. They, too are Germans.

The Germans of Czechoslovakia are allowed to have their political parties and their own candidates for office. They duly elect quite a bunch of them to the national Parliament. They have their German newspapers, their German schools, their German societies.

In the Italian Tyrol every effort is made to Italianize the German-speaking Tyroleans. They are not allowed one-tenth the privileges the Sudeten Germans have in Czechoslovakia. But there is no excited German press and propaganda campaign against Italy.

Italy is strong. Czechoslovakia is small and weak.

Kates, C. C. Stephenson, Andrew Stephenson, William Kingsley, Capt. L. S. Strahn, J. L. Carr and Timothy Killian.

The esteem in which Christ Westerland was held by people of Escanaba and neighboring cities was evidenced in the large attendance at the last rites held yesterday afternoon.

New York Column

BY GEORGE ROSS

New York—They will be leaping over the hurdles in the final exciting stretch of the Grand National Steeplechase soon. And already a host of American turfmen, stable owners and gentlemen jockeys have sailed for the great equestrian event in England.

As usual, a rip-roaring celebration will occur at the mammoth Hotel Adelphia in Liverpool after the races are over; and if ever you have accused the English of never "letting the hair down," Tommy Rellly, the boss expert, who was there last year, disillusions you.

These Adelphia parties, Rellly tells, are the wildest, knock-em-down-and-drag-em-out brawls it has been his privilege to attend in his long experience with turf clubs. The guests number a thousand or more people, all dressed for the kill. There are six big bars, but the bartenders can handle. So many celebrants pour for themselves.

Fisticuffs are not unusual, and Rellly professes to have seen more alcoholics gathered at this shindig than at any other he has attended.

It was at one of these Adelphia balls that Rellly came across a joyous horse owner whose four-footed pride and joy had done well on the track that day. He approached Rellly from the rear flank, having slid down the banister from the mezzanine.

"Is this the way you always behave?" Rellly asked him after they had formally introduced themselves to each other.

"This," said the accoster in broad, British accents, "why, this is nothing at all."

Whereupon the Britisher took a head-start of 20 feet, then made a running broad jump, skull first, into a jewelry case in the lobby. Fortunately, the samples displayed therein were imitation. The reveller's skull was not. It bled a good deal.

Non-Pro Artists

In this country, the WPA has brought to fruition the thwarted creative urges of a host of Americans who always had secret longings to write, paint, compose, act and otherwise participate in the artistic world.

And the French, too, have taken the cue and are giving expression to the creative bent of the citizenry. I visited the Perls Galleries the other day and there saw a show of "Modern Primitives of Paris," painted by non-pro Rembrandts in the Gallic capital. There are pictures there by bus-conductors, carpenters, valets and one by a sweeper in Paris' tourist-luring sewers and they all are interesting works of art.

The men who made them still are working, I'm told, at their accustomed trades, not having thrown away their brooms for the paint brush at the first swell of pride. And not having an art patron benevolent enough to pay their way.

We should learn more and more each day to honor the soldier; especially is this true with the world's temper today.

—Msgr. A. C. Dineen, New York City.

I am in my eighty-second year, my number is up, and the cremation furnace may make an end of me any moment, to the great relief of many worthy persons.

The Capital Parade

BY ALSOP AND KINTNER

Washington, March 23.—The determination of the administration's anti-spender is being slowly diluted by the recurrent deluges of bad business news. Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr.'s little group of last-ditchers, who have held off the pump-primers all winter, are now veering toward a broad lending program.

The fact is that they are still anti-spenders, but now they are willing to see the government prime the pump so long as someone else is obliged to foot the bill. In recent conferences, Secretary Morgenthau has frankly revealed a lively interest in a number of lending proposals. He is understood to have been particularly impressed with the twin proposals to lend to the railroads and utilities operating companies large sums for construction purposes.

There have been a number of hopeful signs to encourage the anti-spenders in their belief that the new depression will cure itself. Particularly notable is the land-office business being done at the Federal Housing Administration, where there are somewhat incredible indications that a residential housing boom is in the making. But, by and large, the best economists of all shades of opinion concede that no sharp upturn is to be looked for this year.

Even men sympathetic with the views of the anti-spenders predict that, for a long time, business will continue to move side-wise, like a rheumatic crab. Since the business level is now really appallingly low, this makes emergency measures logical.

As the least alarmist government prophets see it, the business curve will take at least a year and perhaps a year and a half to climb back to its 1937 peak. For March, the Federal Reserve Board index is likely to break eighty, and, while the extreme pessimists will tell you that the spring "lull" will be negligible, more hopeful men expect a small improvement in the next couple of months. After that, however, even the optimists say that the climb will be very leisurely indeed. The best that is predicted is a return by January 1, 1939, to a reserve board index level of 100.

Should the return to the 100 index level take place, there would still be 20 points to go before the peak of the New Deal boom could be equalled. Moreover, for full reemployment, an index level of at least 140 is required. In such a situation, some effort to create employment with government funds has an all but irresistible appeal. It may be suspected that the warning of the lending enthusiasm of Secretary Morgenthau and other anti-spenders should be traced to a desire to avert something worse than lending.

BATTILING BURT

Senator Burton K. Wheeler, of Montana, has a magnificent gait. Since an icy unfriendly meeting toward the close of the court fight, the leader of the anti-court plan forces had not seen the President until the other day, when he attended the White House conference on railroad problems. Yet, after the conference was over, he lingered behind to tell the President that his amendment to the executive reorganization bill ought to be accepted.

Since the executive reorganization bill is dearer to the President's heart than any other, and since the Wheeler amendment was intended to cut the gizzard out of the bill, the senator needed considerable nerve for his expression of views. The President took it calmly enough, contenting himself with an emphatic disagreement with Wheeler, and the two parted no more friends than at the start. Not long thereafter, the President showed what he really thought of the Wheeler amendment by putting on the openest and most savage recent display of administration pressure to beat Wheeler's amendment.

Altogether, Senator Wheeler seems to have been in a brash mood at the White House railroad conference. The only rail executive present was Carl R. Gray, former president and present vice-chairman of the board of the Union Pacific. During the conference itself, Senator Wheeler twitted Gray with the accusation of two other important railroad men, Fred W. Sargent, of the Chicago and Northwestern, and Patrick H. Joyce, of the Chicago Western, that Gray's road had "gouged" competitors.

He also read Mr. Gray selections from a memorandum on railroad unification prepared by Leonor F. Loree, of the Delaware and Hudson, charging Mr. Gray with blocking unification, which was the principal object of the White House meeting. The result of the senator's selected readings was an uncomfortable little scene, which was probably just what he wanted.

Lyrics of Life

By Douglas Malloch

GIVE ME A SMILE

Give me a smile to light the way When I am off to town, And I shall try, try not today To bring you back a frown. I'll take your smile along with me And wear it like a rose, That others may be glad to see Today—one never knows. Give me a smile the day to start, A smile your very best, And I shall wear it on my heart, Yet share it with the rest. I'll give a little to the glum, And plenty to the sad, And happy home tonight I'll come Because a smile I had. Give me a smile to start the task, To take along the way, And little more I need to ask To make a shorter day. For I'll be back, be back at that, In just a little while, Give me my lunch, my pipe, my hat, But wrap them in a smile.

RADIO NOISES ARE CUT DOWN

City Electrical Department Continues Survey of Disturbances

Many sources of radio interference have been located by the Escanaba electrical department during a survey conducted for the past two weeks. Correction of the causes of disturbance has, in many instances, resulted in better reception for whole neighborhoods.

After making 70 calls, Hugo J. Lillquist, superintendent of the city light plant, reports that in only one instance was city-owned equipment found to be at fault. In this case a loose fuse-holder was the cause of the trouble, and was speedily corrected.

Most calls answered were found to be based on interference caused by the use of electrical appliances in some home and radiating out from there. Offending appliances included food mixers, vacuum sweepers and electric shavers. In practically all cases, Mr. Lillquist states, the owners were unaware that the disturbance created by their devices could radiate out and into the homes of others. They were under the impression that the noise existed merely in their own homes, while in reality it would radiate for a distance of three blocks or more.

Such disturbance can be eliminated, Mr. Lillquist stated, by use of small appliances which attach to the receptacle where the offending piece of equipment is most often used. The small device is screwed into the receptacle, and then the appliances is plugged into it.

Other causes of poor reception were found to be neon signs, violet ray machines, heating pads and brush type motors. In six cases of reports that radio was bad the trouble was traced to the receiving sets themselves.

All owners of equipment which has been a cause of interference have been notified that such disturbance exists and in most cases their cooperation has eliminated the trouble at once. Mr. Lillquist stated yesterday that the cooperation of the general public has been very satisfactory, and good progress has been made in the elimination of poor radio reception.

The electrical department's campaign against radio disturbances will continue through this week, and anyone having a complaint to make may call the department and ask for assistance. Disturbances of only short duration are difficult to locate, Mr. Lillquist said yesterday, and it is only those of that type which it may be impossible to eliminate.

CHERNEY AND OLSEN PICKED

Menominee's Primary Elections Bring Out Record Vote

Menominee, March 22—Pacing a three-cornered field for the second time in a row, Michael C. Olsen, local insurance man, yesterday led the ticket in the primary election for mayor over Albert G. Cherney, incumbent, and Axel Thomsen, Mayor Cherney and Olsen will be opponents in the general election on Monday, April 4.

Complete unofficial returns from yesterday's primary showed: Olsen 1,168; Cherney 1,112; Thomsen 715.

Olsen's home ward—the sixth—which returned its "native son" a handsome vote of 368 to 112 for Cherney and 72 for Thomsen, was the vehicle in which Olsen led the field. He also carried Thomsen's home precinct—the first ward—and both precincts in the seventh.

Cherney carried the other four wards, piling up his biggest vote in his home precinct—the fourth—which gave the mayor 267 to 134 for Olsen and 121 for Thomsen. Mr. Thomsen, although making a strong run, failed to carry a single ward.

The total vote for mayor, listed in the unofficial returns at 2,999, set a new high mark in local primary elections. It eclipsed by 528 votes the total of 2,471 set in 1936 when Olsen and Cherney were candidates for nomination with Julius C. Larsen, former second ward alderman, being the third man in the race.

Robert A. Gadholts, bookkeeper with the Northern Motor company, today became a candidate for city treasurer as a result of a "write-in" poll of 92 votes in yesterday's primary election. He will oppose Rudolph C. Cernoch, incumbent, in the general election on April 4.

Leads Ticket
Treasurer Cernoch, whose name was the only one printed on the ballot, led the primary balloting with 2,359 votes. One other "write-in" candidate, Louis Keller, received 19 votes, polling 15 in the sixth, three in the fifth and one in the first wards.

By virtue of his 92 votes, Mr. Gadholts will be listed on the ballot for the general election. He announced last night that he would make the race and stage an aggressive campaign for election.

In a nip-and-tuck battle that saw first one candidate and then the other holding the lead as the returns came in, Joseph A. Bottkol, former justice of peace, nosed out Emil C. Ewald, incumbent justice, by a vote of 1,469 to 1,412. Bottkol carried the first, second, fifth and seventh wards, while Ewald piled up his majorities in the third, fourth and sixth wards. The two will oppose each other in the general election.

MRS. CHARLES STABENOW

had been a sufferer for so long with a stubborn case of rheumatism which really had the best of me. My legs and feet were so sore and lame I could hardly get around even to do my housework as my legs would give out. I could not sleep well or get my rest, bowels were sluggish, foods did not digest properly and suffering was practically general over my entire body. I showed no improvements in spite of all the many different medicines I used. But finally I learned of KruGon... It was different."

"Suffering people of today should realize how fortunate they are in being able to get a medicine with such outstanding ability," continued Mrs. Stabenow. "Before I realized it I was eating and sleeping good again. Now those rheumatic pains have been driven from my body. I get around with ease and feel like an entirely different person. ## MINSTREL DATE IS ANNOUNCED

E-Men To Hold Annual Show on Friday, May 13th

Members of the Escanaba high school E-Men's club are not a bit superstitious.

Quite the contrary, it seems, they like to violate all good rules of superstition for they have set May 13—Friday the Thirteenth—as the date of their annual minstrel.

This year's production will be the eighth annual staging of the minstrels, which have come to be one of the features of the school year. The event was started by John A. Lemmer, now superintendent of schools, and carried on under his direction until he became superintendent. Since that time, it has been directed, as it will be this year, by Principal Edward Edick.

The musical portion of the minstrels will be directed by R. P. Bowers, musical director of the Escanaba public schools.

Proceeds from the minstrel will go into the students' general fund to be used as an auxiliary to other student accounts.

OVER 100 POSTS ARE COMPLETED

Concrete Street Markers To Be Erected at Intersections

The city crew at work on the construction of street marking posts yesterday passed the 100-mark as the sign to mark the corner of 1st avenue south and 7th street was taken from the forms. The concrete markers, about 650 in all, will be set up at all street intersections within the city.

The Municipal airport is used to house the project, which has been under way almost a month. The early part of the work consisted of the making of forms, however, and it is only recently that pouring of the posts has been under way. More forms are still under construction, to make possible the efficient use of a concrete mixer. At present the concrete is being mixed by hand.

Hardwood forms are used to mark the street numbers in the posts, which will be set up at two points at each intersection. When the forms are removed, the sign posts in the streets marked on them in letters which are recessed about one-half inch. After curing, the numbers will be painted with concrete paint.

COURTHOUSE IS FORUM SUBJECT

C. J. Burns Is Speaker at Discussion of County Building Project

Proposed plans for the construction of a new Delta county courthouse were the subject of discussion at last night's meeting of the Escanaba Community forum held in the council chambers of the city hall. Unlike many forum sessions, which are apt to bring out considerable controversy, last night's was marked by almost complete unanimity.

The speaker began by describing the present courthouse building, built in 1882 at a total cost of $26,474. This structure, he declared, is not only inadequate for present needs because of lack of space, but also because of the fire hazard existing in the old brick-veneered wooden shell. He pointed to the recent fire at Holy Family church, Flat Rock, as proof of the complete wreckage which would be certain if fire started in a building of that old-time wood and brick construction.

The value of records kept in the vaults of the courthouse was stressed by the speaker in bringing out the need for a new and secure place for their protection. Taxpayers of the county have paid $165,000 for the records in the office of the register of deeds alone, in the original cost of the volumes and fees paid for entries made in them. The replacement of the information contained in them would be impossible at anywhere near the original cost of compiling the data, he added, as much drawn-out litigation would be necessary to prove the facts which are now available by inspection of the books.

Other data, almost irreplaceable, is also contained in other vaults within the courthouse building. Burns pointed out. The probate judge, county clerk, county treasurer, poor commissioner and agricultural agent all have files, the loss of which would cause much inconvenience for many years to come.

That the county can afford the proposed building program was the only statement of the speaker to be challenged by a forum member. One participant in the discussion brought up the point that the additional tax of $1.25 per thousand assessed valuation might be a hardship upon the county taxpayers. Burns acceded to this might, in some cases, be true. He went on to point out that a new courthouse is certainly needed and more space must be gained either through expensive remodeling of the old structure or replacing it, and that it might be well for the people of the county to take advantage of WPA assistance available now which may or may not be available next year. Under the proposed set-up, the county would issue bonds for $100,000, and a WPA grant of about $107,000 would be provided as the federal share of the project. This federal aid, he declared, will enable the taxpayers to obtain their new building at a time it is needed and at half the total cost of the project.

A Challenge to Isolation

It was time some one in Washington voiced American opinion on the rape of Austria. President Roosevelt has observed silence. Representatives and Senators whose volubility often embarrasses the State Department said nothing. It has remained for Cordell Hull, the American Secretary of State, to voice American opinion in this hour of world crisis.

His address is a landmark in the history of America's foreign relations. Appalled by events in Europe and Asia, American opinion seemed headed toward isolation. The director of our foreign policy takes this moment to show the futility of such a policy.

"Isolationism," he says, "would either confine all activities of our people within our own frontiers, with incalculable injury to the standard of living and the general welfare of our people, or else expose our nationals and our legitimate interests abroad to injustice or outrage wherever lawless conditions arise."

By this he means that abandoning our foreign interests and foreign trade would deprive some 20,000,000 Americans of their livelihood. He points out that we cannot confine our legitimate interests to one-half of the world and expect to maintain them in the other half.

Isolation Would Incite Peace Perils

Secretary Hull's cooperation with other nations spells disaster for the United States.

"Prudence and common sense dictate that, where this and other nations have common interests... we should... proceed along parallel lines... To assume... attitudes of complete aloofness would serve only to encourage and virtually invite, on the part of other nations, lawlessly inclined, policies and actions most likely to endanger peace."

Mr. Hull admits that we have co-operated with the British in the Far East and we propose to do it again there and elsewhere whenever our interests suggest such co-operation.

His forceful statement comes at the right time. The world's democracies have followed a timid and hesitant policy, partly because the world's most powerful democracy seemed to deny any concern with the tragic developments in Europe.

But we are concerned. Not primarily because of investments, or trade, or the safety of our citizens in foreign lands, but because Americans who have studied history know that since we have been a nation every general European war has found the United States a combatant. There is no reason to suppose that when the next war comes this country can escape. Our futile Neutrality Act may have been admirably adapted to keeping us out of the World War of 1917, but events have shown that it is unrelated to what is going on today. Even more futile is the proposed Ludlow Amendment. This assumes, in complete contradiction of history, that the President and Congress are more eager than our citizens to launch us into war.

Treaty-Breaking Epidemic
"Recent events," Mr. Hull tells us, "offer a tragic demonstration of how quickly the contagious scourge of treaty breaking and armed violence spreads from one region to another."

For the moment force seems triumphant. The peace-minded democracies are helpless. In their frantic desire to preserve peace, they have been too patient with the war makers. Yet these democracies control not only the major armaments but also those slivers of war which are even more important after the first few weeks of conflict. Whether we speak in terms of gold, or steel, or oil, or cotton, or credit—all of them essential in the waging of war—France, Britain, Russia and the United States have a ten-to-one advantage over the three aggressor nations—Italy, Germany and Japan.

LOVE LAUGHS AT THE DOCTOR

BY ELINORE COWAN STONE Copyright, 1938, NEA Service, Inc.

CAST OF CHARACTERS.
CONSTANCE MAIDWELL—heroine; the stand-in.
DEREK MANTHON—an artist who loved money first.
Derek painted her portrait.
DR. ROGERS—he met his most difficult case.

Yesterday, Constance accepts the invitation to ride home with Doctor Rogers and returning to her work next morning feels vaguely uneasy about affairs at the store.

CHAPTER XI
Elsa O'Dare was sitting at her desk when Constance went in. "You wanted me, Miss O'Dare?" Constance asked, uneasy without exactly knowing why.

Elsa O'Dare laid down the papers she was sorting, folded slim, perfectly groomed hands on the desk top, and looked up thoughtfully.

"I'm given to understand," she said, "that you allowed a gentleman who came here with one of our customers to drive you home last night."

"Why, yes," Constance said, wondering. "Yes, I did. His mother was kind enough to suggest it."

"I am not questioning the personal propriety of your doing so," there was in Elsa O'Dare's faint smile something puzzling that Constance was to remember later.

"But there happens to be a rule in the store that none of our employees shall accept attentions from the male relatives—or ah, appendages—of our customers. It is, I believe, much resented—but there it is."

"I don't resent it," Constance said, flushing. "I simply didn't know anything about it."

She thought. "Why didn't Miss Letts warn me?"

"Well—" Elsa O'Dare raised her shoulders in a little shrug. "You know now. . . . You have been duly admonished. Don't do it again. That is all, I think."

Pauline was loitering in the corridor when Constance went out. She shot a furtive, probing look from under her lashes at Constance's untroubled face, and as if dissatisfied with what she saw there, bit her lip and turned away.

But Constance was not so untroubled as she seemed. She was beginning to realize that at least two of the women here—Pauline and her ally, Miss Letts—disliked her enough to want to see her humiliated. And Constance had never before known an open enemy.

There was another letter from Derek for her when she went home that night.

"Miss Thorvald and I went for a long horseback ride yesterday," Derek wrote. "Perhaps I should tell you that the Baron has placed a beautiful mount at my disposal. Miss Thorvald is magnificent on horseback—much as poets and artists like to think Joan of Arc must have been. She needs only a battle standard to make a really heroic figure."

"I think you would like her tremendously. To appreciate the unusual quality of her charm, one must see her in her natural environment, the gorgeous golden California out-of-doors—of haps, at the piano. . . . Have I told you that she has a glorious contralto voice? She is making a collection of strange, barbaric songs that I have never heard before—wild plaintive airs with haunting phrases and unusual Oriental-sounding intervals. When she sings them, they seem the echo of loves and fears and triumphs and deaths from some far-remote, unknown land."

"In a day or so I hope I shall feel well enough acquainted with her to tell her of our engagement. I shall have to be careful. She is so kind that it would make her frightfully uncomfortable to realize what a crimp she put into our plans."

It would, Constance had to admit to herself, Hildegarde Thorvald was kind.

But I wonder if it has occurred to you, Derek, Constance thought, that I'm being made a little uncomfortable, too.

"Mr. Thorvald is so busy, and young George is away so much," Derek wrote on, "that she and I are often alone in the evenings. She enjoys being read aloud to, and I have been reading to her lately some of the books of travel and exploration of which she buys so many. For some strange reason she seems particularly interested in Tibet. She has a huge illuminated globe on which she follows the text as I read."

Constance was finding her own evenings unendurably lonely.

Since the beginning of Derek's swift courtship until he went away there had hardly been an evening that she had not spent with him, dancing, at play or a concert, or quite as often just sitting in her cosy chintz-hung apartment.

It was almost impossible to touch an article that had not some poignant association with him; the armchair in which he used to lounge, his fingers clasped behind his handsome blond head, while she sat on a footstool, her head against his knee, and they talked and talked and talked.

The gatepost table at the window where they had eaten so many gay, informal little suppers by candlelight. . . . The piano, where he sometimes sat for hours—for Derek loved music, and played remarkably well.

It was three days before another letter came. Derek had a great deal to say about the convenience of the studio Mr. Thorvald had

Michigan In Washington

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty

The sudden boom for Congressman Bruce Barton for President seems only to amuse the New York advertising congressman, lurching at the Republican table in the Capitol restaurant where one can always find some of the Michigan men, he laughingly said he would compromise on 90 days in the White House. In that time he could straighten out several problems, including the railroad slump, by putting all the bureaucrats on the trains headed out of town.

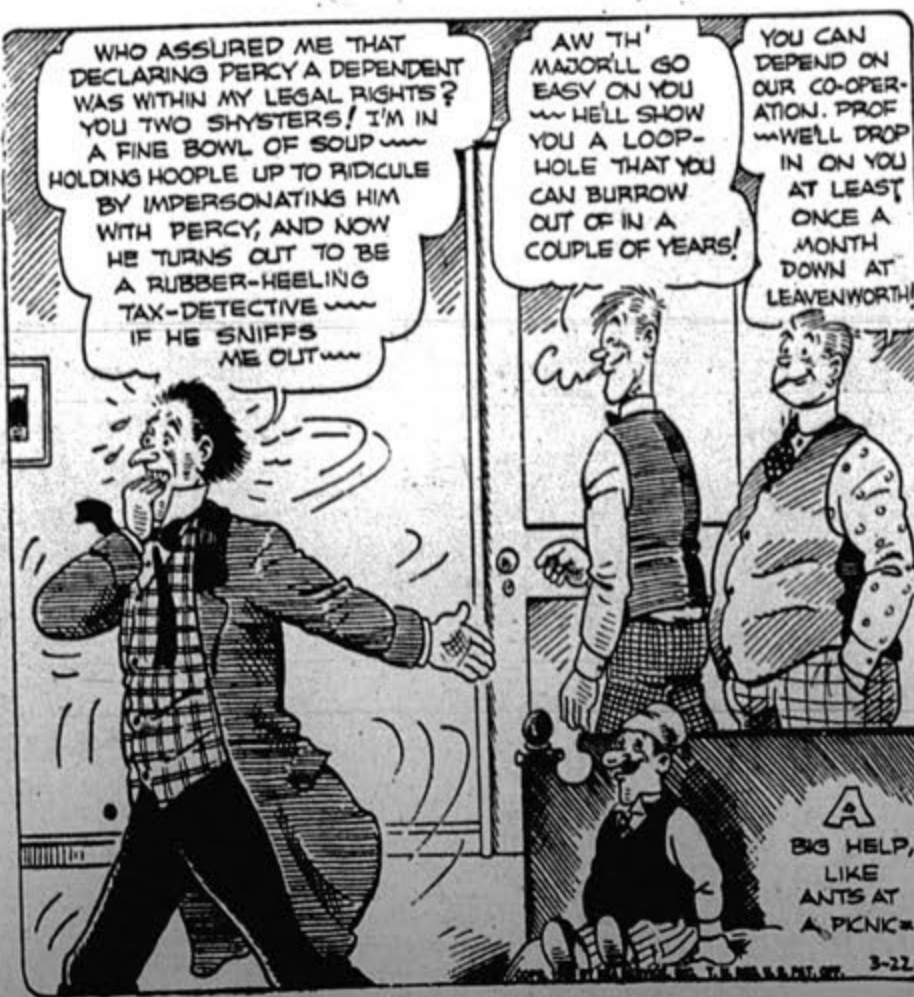

Although Wollmar Bostrom, Minister from Sweden, was heartily invited to come to the state Swedish celebration to be held simultaneously with the Held Jamboree April 7 to 9 in Escanaba, he could not accept as he will speak at another Swedish gathering in Philadelphia on that date. Congressman John Luecke, and Wendell Lund, of the Farm Security Administration, both from Escanaba, extended the invitation. Many are the meetings this year of the people of Sweden and of Swedish descent to commemorate the Tercentennial of the arrival of their pioneer ancestors. One of nationwide importance will be held on June 26 in Wilmington, Delaware, where a group of colonists landed 300 years ago.

CHOIR HAS WON WIDE ACCLAIM

Gustavus Adolphus Singers Get Praise Everywhere

Few a capella choirs in America have won the acclaim of critics as has the Gustavus Adolphus College Choir which will appear here Thursday night at the Manistique high school auditorium under the sponsorship of the Manistique Lions club.

On its 4,000 mile tour of the east last spring, this distinguished Lutheran ensemble won the highest praise of critics everywhere. In Worcester, Mass., a distinguished music critic on the staff of a Worcester newspaper wrote:

"Within the limits of religious music, it was able to exhibit remarkable roundness of tone, probably because its members so freely surrendered themselves to Prof. Nelson's direction."

"Diction was clear, phrasing was polished and more to the point in this type of singing, there never was a moment when the ensemble, even in powerful climaxes, was not under the director's restraint."

"Excellent shading, echo-effects, and blended harmony of the parts struck deep into the consciousness of the listeners."

"Resuming, the full choir achieved a singular orchestra richness and quality that told of sedulous training."

"Equally enthusiastic is the praise of a Schenectady Gazette (N. Y.), critic: "It was, as the young singers so ably gave it last night, compositions not heard here in many a day. The director has in bringing these unusual compositions, as well as in his ability to lead his student singers in the music, put his audience under an obligation of gratitude."

In the Ashtabula Star-Beacon: "This a capella choir sang exceptionally well, in fact, technically its work was superior to many of several dozen similar organizations that are touring the country. Bach's 'Come, Jesus, Come,' was sung as we have never heard it sung before."

"From beginning to end the Gustavus Adolphus Singers gave a remarkable demonstration of the possibilities of a capella singing. A striking feature of Monday night's program, and a tribute to the musicianship of the director, G. Adolph Nelson, was the number of compositions not commonly heard because of technical difficulties involved."

HANCOCK ROLLS INTO 6TH PLACE

Upper Peninsula Elks' Bowling Tournament Ends This Week

A crack team of bowlers from the Hancock lodge got off to a good start Sunday in the Elks tournament at Manistique but slipped in the final game to score a total of 2602 for sixth place in the standings. COUNTY SEEKS BANK DEPOSITS

Lawsuit To Be Started Against Five Former Directors

The Schoolcraft county board of supervisors, meeting in a special session Monday evening at the county courthouse, authorized Prosecuting Attorney W. J. Sheehan to institute lawsuit against five former directors of the Manistique Bank to collect $25,000 of county funds deposited in the bank prior to the bank closing in 1932.

The five men are Charles Orr, Paul R. Baldwin, Oren G. Quick, E. W. Miller and R. B. Waddell (deceased). Of this group only E. W. Miller is now residing in Manistique.

The five men guaranteed county deposits in the Manistique Bank prior to the bank closing in 1932. The county has already received 60 per cent of their deposits but the remaining 40 per cent represents a total of approximately $25,000, the amount for which the county will sue the group.

The county has already attempted to contact the four men still living but none has made any offers for settlement. Consequently the board decided to authorize the prosecuting attorney to institute legal proceedings in an attempt to collect the money.

State Requested To Provide Funds For Relief Needs

Upon a plea from Art Adams, Schoolcraft county ERA administrator, the county board of supervisors Monday evening instructed Chairman Charles Howard to telegraph Governor Frank Murphy for emergency relief allotment to take care of the local situation.

Early this month Schoolcraft county ERA headquarters here were allotted a supplementary $1,000 to take care of emergency relief needs here but this amount has been spent and an overdraft of $250 accumulated.

Adams requested the county board to allot $250 for the emergency. The state would be requested to match this allotment, but because Schoolcraft county has already spent all its available funds for relief needs, the county was unable to come to the assistance of the ERA at this time.

The relief situation was discussed considerably at the board meeting.

Schmeling Cables To Keep Joe Louis Fight Date

SITE OF BOUT NOT SET YET

German Arrives April 29; Detroit Still Hopes to Land Battle

New York, March 22 (AP)—Max Schmeling is taking no chances of losing his bid for Joe Louis' heavyweight championship through a technicality.

Instructed to come to this country at least 40 days before his title match with Louis, scheduled for June 22, Schmeling cabled his American representative, Joe Jacobs, today he would be here April 29. That beats the deadline by several weeks. Max fights Steve Dudas of Edgewater, N. J., at Hamburg April 16 and sails for the United States six days later.

He expects to do his preliminary training at French Lick Springs, Ind.

Meanwhile Promoter Mike Jacobs claims he doesn't know where the fight will be held. New York, Chicago, Detroit and Philadelphia all are more or less in the running, he says.

Lou Brouillard of Worcester, Mass., former world's welterweight and middleweight champion, will make his first New York appearance in three years at the Hippodrome tomorrow night when he faces Gus Lesnevich, New Jersey middleweight, in a ten round bout.

The New York state athletic commission received $4,500 in checks for a couple of championship matches, but deferred action on both.

Lou Ambers, lightweight king, posted $2,500 for a chance to battle Barney Ross, welterweight champion. The commission pigeon-holed it pending signing of articles by Ross and Henry Armstrong, featherweight champion, for a 15-round title bout to be held here May 26.

Larry White, manager of Fred Apostoli, posted a $2,000 check for a title match with Freddie Steele, middleweight champion, but the commission deferred action until after Apostoli's match with Glen Lee of Nebraska April 1 in Madison Square Garden.

In Camp With Big Leaguers

HITS ARE SCARCE

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 22. (AP)—Lee Stine and Johnny Murphy provided airtight pitching as the New York Yankees whipped the Brooklyn Dodgers, today, 7 to 0.

Stine, up for his third major league trial, yielded two scratch hits in five innings while Murphy, relief ace in 1937, allowed three safeties in four frames.

SEVENTH FOR REDS

Orlando, Fla., March 22. (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds won their seventh game of the Grapefruit league today, defeating the Washington Senators, 6 to 3.

Catcher Virgil Davis led the Red's attack with a long home run in the second inning driving in two runs ahead of him. He also singled in the ninth to score another.

GIANTS DEFEATED

Baton Rouge, La., March 22. (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics fell on the Giants for nine runs in the seventh inning and handed the New Yorkers a 10 to 2 exhibition game defeat today.

Harry Kelley, the A's veteran right-hander went the route, allowing only six hits.

PHILS SHUT OUT

Bloomington, Miss., March 22. (AP)—The Memphis Chickadees of the Southern Association today shut out the Phillies, 2 to 0, in a game in which 14 Phils were left on base.

Memphis scored both its runs in the fifth off Bucky Walters on three singles, a sacrifice, a wild pitch and an error.

British Puck Team Beats U. S., 6 to 4

London, March 22 (AP)—The British international hockey team tonight defeated the United States 6 to 4. A previous meeting between the teams, which took part in the recent Praha world championship tournament won by Canada, resulted in a 2-2 tie.

Three Canadian-trained players, Alex Archer and Bob White of Winnipeg and Tom Forge of Brantford, Ont., scored two goals each for Britain. The United States marksmen were Art Bogue, Detroit, Ray Lemieux, Waterville, Me., Laurier Charest, Lewiston, Me., and Allen Van, St. Paul, Minn.

Lions Sign Up Two Men For Tryouts

Detroit, March 22 (AP)—Ernie Caldwell, assistant coach of the Detroit Lions, said today the Lions had signed two more players for tryouts next August. They are Anthony Krueger, 200-pound end from Kansas State, and Norm Lohrner, blocking back from Dakota Wesleyan.

Naismith Not Satisfied With Present Basketball

Dr. James Naismith, the man who invented basketball back in 1892, is not entirely satisfied with the present cage sport, he said last night at a meeting of several hundred basketball players and fans at the junior high school auditorium.

Dr. Naismith, who was accompanied by Cliff Drury, Upper Peninsula Hi-Y leader, tossed out a soccer ball among 18 young men at Springfield Y. M. C. A. college and rigged up a couple of peach baskets at the ends of his gym, starting the game which since has become the most widely played sport in the United States.

New Rules Handicap "They say," Dr. Naismith declared, "that I haven't progressed beyond the peach basket days. However, I contend that basketball has advanced in spite of the rules. In other words, it has been such a good game and has such an appeal that no matter what the rules makers' meddling has done, it still goes forward."

That the game might be improved for the spectators by opening it up is Dr. Naismith's firm belief. "There are three things a spectator wants to see, scoring, speed and unexpectedness. The game has all these possibilities but not in the present zone defense is allowed to continue wherein 10 men and 2 officials are crowded into a 20 or 25 foot space beneath a basket. This permits of fouling, close play and deprives the sport of the thrills that might otherwise be possible.

"I believe if there was a way to open the game more it would grow even faster than it has. Nothing is so boring to me as to see five men go on defense and then four or five more crowd down beyond the middle line and pass the ball about. In one game I counted 343 such passes, outside the defense zone, without a single effort at making a basket. I have advocated that perhaps if a basket from outside, say the 20 or 25-foot zone, would count 4 points instead of 2, the defense men would be forced to come out into the open in an effort to prevent shooting. I think this would work and I know there would be more and more attempts at trying for the long ones."

Dr. Naismith is not sold entirely on elimination of the center jump as the game is now played. He thinks that the sport could be equalized if teams perhaps were classified according to heights, much as boxing and wrestling classes are separated according to weights.

Gomez Is Only Good Southpaw In Americans

Vernon Gomez

BY JERRY BRONFIELD
NEA Service Sports Writer
New York, March 22.—Don't look now, but that fame among top-notch southpaw pitchers still exists in the American League.

This is a condition that has been peculiar to the junior loop for some time, and it doesn't appear as though 1938 will show any startling reversal of form.

Once you name Vernon (El Goof) Gomez of the New York Yankees, what have you? Your answer is the same as mine, unless, out of pure sentiment, you continue to classify Old Man Bob Grove among the game's great portlanders.

Granted, of course, that the Red Sox star, who has seen 38 summers come and go, still has his moments, but he isn't the firebrand of his Athletic days.

With the exception of Gomez the only southpaw in the Yankee camp is Kemp Wicker, a heavy-set young man who has been bouncing back and forth between New York and Newark for a couple of seasons now. No one expects him to win a regular starting job with the Manhattan Maulers, but he may survive as a relief hurler.

Beats Yanks, Anyhow
The White Sox have three left-handers in camp, but only one—Thornton Lee—will do any worthwhile pitching. Frank Cook and Bob Uhle, a couple of rookies, throw with their left hand, but that's as far as it goes. Lee, who won 12 and dropped 10 last year, victimized the Yankees five times, which should make him worth more than coffee and cakes to the Pale Hose.

Jake Wale is the only Detroit Tiger southpaw of note, although Harry Eisenstat is deserving of passing mention. Wade's biggest claim to fame was pitching a one-hit affair against the Cleveland Indians last year, to halt Johnny Allen's winning streak at 15.

The Indians, meanwhile, have only Earl Whitehill to sling them in from the off-side, and Whitehill never has been offed anyone by his brilliance. Al Milnar, a rookie, le up from Milwaukee, MIGHT do, but Oscar Vitt isn't casting about wildly for adjectives describing his greatness.

In addition to Grove the Red Sox have three other southpaws—Archie McKain, Fred Ostermuller, and Lee Rogers. Ostermuller may do, now that he has had an operation on his arm, but McKain is so-so and Rogers is an untried rookie from Little Rock.

Looked Good in '37
Krauskas, who came up late last year, won four out of five for the Senators during the fog end of the season, while Chase won four and dropped three. Elton Hoggatt, who has seen his best days, is the only other portlander on the staff.

TOURNEY WILL START MONDAY

Much Interest Is Being Shown in Ping-Pong Tournament

The starting date for the fourth annual ping pong tournament sponsored by the Escanaba Lions' club has been changed to Monday, March 28th. Play will continue on Tuesday night with final matches being played Wednesday. All matches will be played at the senior high and will begin at 7:00.

The most interest so far has centered around the senior division due to the fact that Jess LaVolette, two time winner of the cup will take it out of circulation if he wins this year. An anti-LaVolette league is being formed, charter members being Harold Gessner, one of the first men to introduce ping pong in Escanaba.

Dr. W. R. Buttner, former semi and finalist, Fred Boddy, 1935 senior men's winner, Leo Coan, also a ranking player, and Harry Watkins who is established as the foremost hope of the league. Membership in the league is free and a large membership is solicited.

Entries close this Friday. Blanks are to be sent to the Press, recreation office, or given to WPA recreational leaders.

Does Tricks With Basketball

Herman "Jackrabbit" Witasek, former North Dakota university star and all conference man for three years, is one of the most popular players on the Oshkosh All-Star quintet which will meet the Escanaba Aces at the junior high school Friday night. He is the speediest man on the team, is a brilliant defense man and does almost unbelievable tricks with the ball.

SPILLING the DOPE

BY JOHNNY INKSLINGER

Of interest to local friends of Lars Thune is the following clipping from the Marinette Eagle Star:

Twelve victories and three losses, Marinette High school's basketball record for the past season represents the best year the Marines have had on the hardwood court for over a decade. Delving back in the files to the 1926-27 season, that's as far as we went, the closest a Purple five has come to this year's record was during the 1930-31 season when a record of seven victories against six losses was posted. In the 1927-28 season the Marine quintet broke even in 16 games. Fred Schultz tutored the 27-28 five while E. A. Meyers coached the 30-31 squad.

Since the 1926-27 season Marinette's record in caging was as follows:

1926-27	—	Won 3, Lost 13.
1927-28	—	Won 8, Lost 8.
1928-29	—	Won 7, Lost 8.
1929-30	—	Won 7, Lost 7.
1930-31	—	Won 7, Lost 6.
1931-32	—	Won 4, Lost 13.
1932-33	—	Won 1, Lost 13.
1933-34	—	Won 3, Lost 7.
1934-35	—	Won 4, Lost 10.
1935-36	—	Won 6, Lost 9.
1936-37	—	Won 4, Lost 9.
1937-38	—	Won 12, Lost 8.

Included forfeit from Menominee.

This season's record of 12 wins and three losses culminated five years of coaching by Coach Lars A. Thune, who came here in the fall of 1933. In his first year as basketball coach at the local high school his team won three games and dropped seven decisions. During the 1934-35 schedule of play the Marines posted four wins against 10 losses. The following year proved the best season outside of the present for the former Mountaineer mentor as the Marines totaled six wins while dropping eight games. Last season the Marines, playing a 13-game schedule, copped four victories and lost nine tilts.

That's how coaches are born. In Ishpeming, the board of education was looking for a director of athletics. Down in Grinnell, Iowa, Claremont C. Watson was looking for a job. An agency in Chicago informed him of the Ishpeming vacancy. Application followed and letters were exchanged. One day the mail brought Watson a contract.

Still On Same Job
And 15 years later Claremont C. Watson is still on the first coaching job he ever had, producing some of the finest teams in the district and causing young intellectuals to stay up nights trying to write books on "The Ishpeming Victory Psychology."

For when the Ishpeming high school basketball team defeated Lake Linden in the finals of the regional meet Saturday evening at Marquette, it marked a fifth upper peninsula class B championship Ishpeming has won and the fourth in the last eight years.

And for eight consecutive years Ishpeming has not been defeated in a district tournament game, the best record any high school team in the state can show.

What manner of fellow is this who holds such a record? Never Overconfident
First he's the kind of a fellow who, seeing his ball club ahead, 42-7, in the third quarter, wishes the game was over to end the suspense. It's good psychology, too, if the results are to be the standard of judgment, for no Ishpeming team has taken the floor overconfident and carrying the idea that the game was in the bag.

Small Colleges Find Football Very Costly

BY FRITZ HOWELL
Oberlin, Ohio, March 22 (AP)—Football is a costly proposition to smaller colleges—not a source of revenue—President Ernest H. Wilkins of Oberlin said today as he completed a survey of 22 institutions sprawled from Maine to California.

Instead of backing up the popular belief that "football supports the rest of the athletic program," Dr. Wilkins said that 22 colleges reported an average deficit of $1,743 as a result of last year's gridiron campaign.

Colleges taking part in the survey ranged in size from St. Johns of Annapolis, Md., with a student body of about 250, to Oberlin, which has about 1,850 students.

Keeping figures for individual schools a secret, Dr. Wilkins said total receipts from student fees, home and away-from-home games, season tickets and other sources ranged from $2,660 at one school to $16,213 at another. Total expenses, including coaches' salaries, officials, supplies, travel, etc., ranged from $3,829 to $18,050.

Only two of the 22 showed a surplus at the end of the season, one finishing $1,492 ahead of the other with $79 in the cash drawer. Deficits of the other 20 ranged from $268 to $5,530.

"Football is made possible," Dr. Wilkins said, "for colleges of this group and for others which they typify, by the use of funds given or paid for educational purpose. The colleges of this particular group pay an average amount equivalent to the income, at four per cent, on an endowment of $48,875."

"Realization that this is the case should lead those responsible for college budgets to ask themselves more carefully than ever whether the intercollegiate football program is justified as an 'educational' expense."

ROWE TACKLES THE SENATORS

Cochrane Puts Pitching Hope to Test, Shifts Rookie in Leadoff

Lakeland, Fla., March 22 (AP)—Carefree on the surface today, affairs in the Detroit Tigers' spring training nonetheless reached a significant moment.

Manager Mickey Cochrane, while the Tigers loafed and indulged in horse play on a holiday from grapefruit league competition, announced that Schoolboy Rowe would pitch against Washington tomorrow.

The Schoolboy, most perplexing problem of the spring season, thus will get his first trial in formal competition with a league rival since starting his 1938 comeback, and great will be the interest in his performance.

In a recent intra-squad game, Rowe showed well with no "sore arm" faults noticeable, and tomorrow he is ticketed to work the first three innings of the Senator contest at Orlando, Fla. The Tigers incidentally will be seeking their third straight exhibition game victory.

Rogette Laid Up
While teammates romped on the diamond, Shortstop Bill Rogette was in the hospital today. Monday a physician lanced an infected bruise on Rogette's left hand, and today Manager Cochrane was informed Bill would have to stay in the hospital for several days yet as a precaution.

Besides trying out Rowe, the Tigers will launch another experiment tomorrow. Cochrane shook up the lineup, shifting Roy Cullenbine, rookie outfielder who has hammered out six hits in eight times at bat in two games, to the lead-off post.

After Cullenbine will follow Dixie Walker, and then the heavy hitters of established reputation—Gehring, Greenberg, York and Fox. Shortstop Frank Croucher and Third Baseman Mark Christman will follow.

Cochrane said Southpaw Jake Wade and Boots Poffenberger would share the mound with Rowe.

Galan Hitting Hard As Cubs Score 13-1 Triumph Over Sox

Los Angeles, Calif., March 22 (AP)—Outfielder Augie Galan hit a home run, triple, double and single today to lead the Chicago Cubs to their second straight win over the Chicago White Sox. The score was 13 to 1.

Tex Carlton and Clay Bryant, sharing the Cub pitching assignment, permitted the American Leaguers only six hits, five of them coming off Bryant in the last five innings. Bill Cox, George Glick and Jess Dobernic, rookie hurlers, each pitched three innings for the Sox.

Before the game, Manager Charley Grimm of the Cubs announced the indefinite suspension of Walter Higbe, rookie pitcher from Molina, Ill., of the Three Eye League, for failure to join the club.

Score by innings:
Chicago White Sox (AL)—
..... 000 010 000—1 6 4
Chicago Cubs (NL)—
..... 220 600 21x—13 14 0
Cox, Glick, Dobernic and Sewell; Carleton, Bryant, Aktl and O'Dea.

Scoring Tapers Off In ABC Tournament

Chicago, March 22 (AP)—Scoring tapered off in the American Bowling Congress today and the leading figures were not even threatened.

Five squads were on the firing line for both doubles and singles games, but the best scores they could produce were a 1218 in the two-man event and 668 in the singles.

Otto Lutz of Milwaukee posted the 668 series. At the same time his partner, Walter Hesse, tumbled 635 pins. Hay they combined their best games in doubles competition, their total would have been good for first place.

The top two-man score of 1218 was rolled by Louis Loufek and Carl Schmidt of Davenport, Iowa. Only two pins back was another Davenport team, Leo Lunardi and Henry Kuehl.

Booster teams, 200 leggers from Chicago, took over the drives tonight.

Glenna Collett Vare Is First Lady Of Sports

BY HARRY GRAYSON
Sports Editor, NEA Service
Belleair, Fla., Mar. 22.—Shooting from scratch against men and women, Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare won the skeet championship of the Belleview Blitmore Gun Club by breaking 133 out of 150 under adverse conditions.

The following day she broke 25 straight for the first time in her life.

That afternoon she shot a 77 in a friendly round of golf.

Mrs. Vare trains her own dog, Tip's Manitoba Jake, which won the pheasant championship in the national field trials.

She is a crack shot in the field. She rides, swims, dances, plays bridge, and whatnot, just a little better than anybody else.

She is the first lady of American sports.

Mrs. Vare has won the women's national golf championship six times. She has missed this tournament just twice since 1919.

"I took time out to have my babies," she laughs.

At 34, "Glenn" Vare is prettier and more popular than ever. Motherhood and mellowness put an altogether new glow on her face . . . made her more charming than ever. She is the most admired person in any line of competition that I have ever known.

No Limit to Energy
You practically have to don a track suit to keep up with Mrs. Vare. I asked her how she keeps going.

"Well," replied Mrs. Vare, "you're no kind of a mother unless you are a conscientious one, and that requires time. When the babies came, I simply had to quicken my pace if I cared to go on playing golf and doing the things that I enjoy. I get more fun out of golf and shooting than I ever did, because I do it strictly for the fun of it, and take it in stride."

The Vares have two fine kids, Glenna, 4½, and Edwin, a year younger.

Edwin H. Vare is a nephew of the former United States senator from Pennsylvania. He is a successful structural engineer. The Vares reside in Marion, just outside Philadelphia.

Edie Vare, who is 38, is as competent at golf and in other lines of sports as his lovely wife, but never has entered tournaments.

He shot a 75 in golf the day before he left here for Philadelphia. A year ago he won the skeet championship of the Belleview Blitmore Gun Club.

He owns 25 bird dogs, and while he has a professional handler, turns them himself in amateur trials.

Outside of that her preparation for the Curtis Cup matches and the Women's National will be confined to practice in a social sort of way. "The Women's National is to be held in September at the West Moreland Country Club on Chicago's swanky North Shore.

Mrs. Vare says her greatest thrill in sports came out of a golf match she lost—to the brilliant Joyce Wethered, 3 and 1, in the final of the British Women's Amateur of 1930.

A gracious winner and a good loser, is Glenna Collett Vare, first lady of American sports.

OCEAN BREEZE FROSTY
San Francisco, Cal., March 22. (AP)—Frosty once breezes today gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a taste of winter while they were being shut out 5 to 0 by the San Francisco Seals.

Golf or Nothing
"Glenn" Vare came up the hard way. Her father, George H. Collett, who was an amateur bicycle rider, was far from rich. Golf was about the only game that Glenna Collett could afford to play.

Mrs. Vare is certain to captain this year's Curtis Cup team, which will combat the British stars over the course of the Essex Country Club at Manchester, Mass., Sept. 7 and 8. She also probably will be the fourth player.

The other three unquestionably will be Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page, Patty Berg, and Marlon Milley.

Mrs. Vare asserts that the finest thing about Mrs. Page's game is her steadiness. She calls Miss Berg a fighter, and the freckle-faced little miss of Minneapolis does look like a prizefighter swaggering along the fairways. Miss Milley is long and great around and on the greens. All are proficient at getting out of trouble.

Mrs. Vare is confident that Miss Berg will become one of the foremost women players of all time.

"Patty has it all, and golf is all she thinks of," she explains.

What's the most important thing in competition?
"The follow through," says "Glenn" Vare. "The best hitters in baseball follow through. The finest kickers in football follow through. 'Swinging' a gun simply is following through."

Trapshooters watch Mrs. Vare for form just as golfers study the rhythm of her swing.

Has Ideal Temperament
Mrs. Vare remains a grand match player. She never gives up a hole. The fact that her opponent's ball is on the green doesn't bother her. She is not a long hitter, and never has hesitated to pull out a little wooden creak when 170 or 180 yards away, where the average girl likes to show her power with a midiron.

She plays in only the handier tournaments during the Florida winter season. She will compete in the Eastern Women's first week in June only because it is to be held in Philadelphia, her home.

Outside of that her preparation for the Curtis Cup matches and the Women's National will be confined to practice in a social sort of way. "The Women's National is to be held in September at the West Moreland Country Club on Chicago's swanky North Shore.

All places of business handling food or drink come under the jurisdiction of the sanitary department, which is charged with supervision of these establishments to conform with state laws and municipal ordinances.

Among the points which are observed in the inspection of taverns and eating places are ventilation, general repair, screening, cleanliness, lighting, toilet facilities, protection of food, sanitary handling of food, washing and sterilizing dishes, refrigeration, storage, garbage and rubbish disposal and health of employees.

State laws specifically require that these establishments provide toilets, kept clean and in good condition, with proper windows or ventilating flues. Protection of food is also demanded by state law, and it must be cared for so as to prevent contamination by insects, dust, persons or animals.

State Political Gossip Relief Not Only Item Responsible for Condition of Michigan Finances; Pay Rolls Go Up in Many Departments.

By GUY H. JENKINS (Grand Rapids Press) Lansing—Apparently concerned with the coming gubernatorial campaign, Gov. Murphy is getting his house in order for the drive for votes he intends to launch when he returns from a vacation in the sunny south.

The governor, who takes pride in his appointments to key positions, in checking over his "probable" utilities commission has found this organization has not come up to his standard. The politicians, in reviewing the work of the commission headed by Paul H. Todd of Kalamazoo, chairman, discovered little in the record to compare even favorably with the commission of former Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald.

Under Gov. Fitzgerald the customers of Michigan Bell, Consumers Power Co. and other utilities were on the receiving end of rate reductions of more than $6,000,000 a year.
