Big Four

Europe's peace, Prime Minister Chamberlain has said, depends on the attitudes of Germany, Italy, France and Britain.

The 1925 pact of Locarno held them together about 10 years.

Then Italy took Ethiopia, Germany militarized the Rhineland, and Spain fell apart. Germany and Italy goose-stepped; Britain and France did the shag.

Germany stepped on a sore Italian toe this spring by annexing Austria, but, Germany being a friend, Italy did not howl.

Now Britain and Italy have decided to be pals again. And Britain's jittery chum, France, hastily tried this week to kiss and make up with Italy, too. Italy was willing.

Does that mean the European "big four" will play ball again? That depends on a lot of things—to be discussed next week in London by Premier Daladier and Prime Minister Chamberlain, and next month in Rome by Reichsfuehrer Hitler and Premier Mussolini.

'Clear Intervention' Britain's new agreement with Italy provides that (1) Italian soldiers leave Spain when the war ends if not sooner, (2) Britain help Italy win recognition of Ethiopia's new status, (3) Britain and Italy quit propagandizing against each other, and (4) various Mediterranean and African problems be settled amicably.

Loyalist Spain's Premier Negrin instantly denounced this pact as "clear intervention."

But France was expected to make an agreement with Italy along similar lines that also would involve appointment of a French ambassador to Rome—there having been none for two years because of disagreement about the Italian king's right to be called "emperor of Ethiopia."

Czech 'Fortress' France is allied now with Russia and Czechoslovakia. Germany does not like the hook-up between Paris and Moscow. Neither do many French rightists—they would rather trust London, Rome and Berlin.

France does not want Germany to swallow Czechoslovakia. Ordinary maps indicate Germany could go that in one gulp. But physical maps show Czechoslovakia is as Blomberg once said, "a fortress built by God." For mountains nearly surround it.

And President Benes recently freed hundreds of Germans convicted of political crimes and promised "a just solution" of the minorities problem—thereby giving Herr Hitler less excuse for butting in.

So proponents of some sort of new Locarno believe the Czech problem may be solved after all. 'A Chassis' For Europe? Reichsfuehrer Hitler celebrated his 49th birthday Wednesday like a king. He is known to have dreamed for years of British as well as Italian support. But in "Mein Kampf" he wrote that France was Germany's "most terrible enemy."

Hitler might, however, agree to play ball even so, because (1) Premier Daladier now expects to strengthen France by solving the labor and financial problems, (2) Rome recently was reported to be sounding out Yugoslavia on a military pact, and (3) there's talk of getting Poland into the game, too.

So, if the Italo-British agreement proves solid, and France gets together with Italy, a Rome-Berlin-Paris-London "chassis" might be built to hold Europe together.

There also was talk in Paris (Continued from Page 11)

Corn Borer Plague Expected This Year

Washington, April 23 (AP)—The agriculture department warned today that much of the cornbelt and northeastern states will face perhaps the most widespread outbreak of the destructive European corn borer in their history this spring and summer.

Department entomologists said last summer's plentiful moisture and last winter's mild weather encouraged development of borer eggs in greater number than usual. Only dry weather in June, they said, would prevent general hatching of the eggs and a serious infestation.

States where the insect outbreak threatens were said by the department to include Wisconsin, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and the New England states.

Entomologists said that no practical way has been found to eradicate the insect. The best control method known, they said, is a thorough cleanup of infested farms and the destruction of all host plants by the first of May.

ORCHARD CROP HIT BY FROST

Western Michigan Fears Severe Damage; Cherry Buds Are Killed

Grand Rapids, Mich., April 23 (AP)—Frost struck a severe blow at the peach, plum, pear, cherry and strawberry crops in western Michigan today. But orchardists said the full extent of the damage would not be known until warmer weather returns.

The apple crop apparently escaped injury, but orchardists in the Grand Traverse region said between 50 and 75 per cent of the cherry buds had been killed. H. D. Hootman, Michigan State college specialist, inspected one orchard on the old Mission peninsula and found only one live bud.

Peach trees, two-thirds in bloom, were dropping their blossoms prematurely. Lyle Tomkins, Oceana county agricultural agent, said the damage was less severe there than in the Grand Traverse region.

In Berrien county, where ice a quarter of an inch thick formed last night, Harry J. Lurkins, agricultural agent, said the strawberries and cherries probably suffered considerably damage.

Manistique Gets $1,663 From WPA

Lansing, Mich., April 23 (AP)—The Works Progress Administration announced today funds totaling $1,663,644 had been allocated for work creating projects in Michigan.

Among the projects were: Vulcan — Improve Norway township school building and grounds; partial allotment, $2,300. Manistique — Construct sanitary sewers, $1,663.

Detroit Times Fire Makes Papers Late

Detroit (AP)—A fire in a ventilator shaft at the plant of the Detroit Times delayed several late Saturday and early Sunday editions, but caused only slight damage. For a time conveyors carrying newspapers from the press room to the mailing room sped burning newspapers.

Federal Government Takes Hand In Pennsylvania Primary Battle

Philadelphia, April 23 (AP)—The federal government moved swiftly today into Pennsylvania's Democratic primary battle scene where warring factions, both vowing support of the new deal, are shouting counter accusations of "political coercion" in relief and public works. The Works Progress Administration ordered an investigation after John B. Kelly, Philadelphia Democratic chairman, told President Roosevelt he had "undeniable evidence" that Senator Joseph P. Filat attempted to influence WPA workers for political purposes. From the Guffey aide came charges that Kelly himself was guilty of the sort of "coercion" he laid to the senator. The counter blast topped off a week's crossfire of accusations that brought

JUNE 1 NAMED WIND-UP DATE FOR CONGRESS

Washington, April 23 (AP)—Leaders today arranged a heavy program for congress next week and set June 1 as an approximate adjournment date.

THIRD PARTY RACE IS INDICATED FOR 1940

Washington, April 23 (AP)—President Roosevelt intends to complete his legislative recommendations during the week and leave Washington Friday for a fishing trip. Messages are expected from the executive on monopoly and the removal of tax exemptions on salaries of public employees and on income from federal and state securities.

Spending Program Speeded Administration leaders on Capitol Hill hoped to send the tax revision measure to the White House next week, obtain senate approval of the naval expansion bill and clean up a half-dozen odds-and-ends of legislation in the house.

The president's multi-billion dollar spending-lending program will continue its journey through the house appropriations committee. Officials of the farm security administration are scheduled to testify before the committee Monday and Secretary Ickes may appear Tuesday.

Drafted With Compromise Drafting of a compromise tax law in the statute books hinged only on action of a senate-house conference committee in reconciling numerous details of separate bills passed by the two chambers.

Senator Harrison (D-Miss.), a member, forecast the joint committee would complete its work Monday. Yesterday, the conference group agreed on a modified form of the house-approved undistributed profits tax, which has been endorsed by Mr. Roosevelt.

It also accepted with slight change a capital gains levy voted by the senate and approved by business spokesmen.

Speaker Bankhead asserted he was "greatly pleased" that the agreement had been reached and predicted that the house would approve the compromise.

Predictions of senate approval came from leaders in that chamber.

BY KIRKE L. SIMPSON Washington, April 23 (AP)—The definite progress President Roosevelt has made in the past two weeks toward regaining leadership of his own party in congress is of more immediate consequence to the administration that the outcome of the liberal conference just called by Governor Philip LaFollette of Wisconsin.

Governor LaFollette's call for a meeting of liberals next Thursday raised the possibility of a three-cornered presidential race in 1940. But this threat of a third party candidacy is still a matter of speculation rather than fact, and 1940 is two years away.

On the other hand, Mr. Roosevelt's recent tactics may have prompt political results.

Tests His Popularity Direct White House pressure forced upon rebellious senate Democrats a tax revision compromise providing that the business-criticized undistributed profits tax should be retained in a greatly-modified form. This gives mention of Governor George H. Earle's private income and a Republican demand for his resignation. Senator Guffey, long a Democratic power in Pennsylvania, broke with the state committee over its slating of Charles Alvin Jones, Pittsburgh lawyer, for the gubernatorial nomination at the May 17 primary. Guffey threw his support to Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy, who is backed for governor by John L. Lewis, CIO leader.

Governor Earle—Guffey's running mate four years ago in the Democratic victory that broke a 40-year period of Republican control—became the state committee's choice for U. S. senator. The Guffey-Lewis forces selected Republican-elected Mayor S. Davis Wilson as Earle's opponent.

Seized In Bogus Check Plot

As police all over America searched for 35 additional members of an underworld ring that plotted to pass $200,000 in fraudulent travelers' checks, the five men pictured above were arrested and held for questioning. They are, top, George (Bugs) Moran, left, and Frankie Parker; and, lower left to right, Frank Quigley, Daniel Kelly and Robert Sexton. Arrested in Pittsburgh, Quigley, Kelly and Sexton allegedly had $21,800 of the counterfeit checks in their possession. Moran and Parker were arrested in Chicago.

BISHOP WILL CONDUCT HIGH MASS TODAY

Dedication of the beautiful William Bonifas Memorial auditorium and gymnasium, the gift of the late William Bonifas to his home parish, St. Joseph's Catholic church, will be held today, with a varied program of events arranged for the day, opening with a Pontifical high mass at 10 o'clock this morning.

The Most Rev. Joseph C. Plagens, bishop of Marquette and Sault Ste. Marie, will be celebrant of the mass and its officers will be Rt. Rev. Magr. Henry Buchholz, of Marquette, assistant priest; the Very Rev. Fr. Thomas A. Kennedy, of St. Patrick's parish, deacon; Rev. Fr. Lester C. Bourgeois, of St. Anne's parish, sub-deacon; Rev. Fr. B. J. P. Schevers, Mantique, Rev. Fr. Peter Bleeker, chaplain of St. Francis hospital, deacon of honor; Rev. Fr. Joseph L. Zyra, of Marquette, chancellor of the diocese, master of ceremonies.

Two Confess Robbing Bank At Bloomingdale

Detroit, April 23 (AP)—State police announced today they had arrested two men who had confessed they robbed the People's State Savings Bank of Bloomingdale, Mich., and fled with $1,800 last Tuesday.

State Police Captain Don S. Leonard said the men are Richard Hurlbert, 20, and Harry Murphy, 25, both of Allegan. He said both made full confessions to the crime.

Murphy was arrested by Sheriff Fred Miller of Allegan county when he walked into the county building at Allegan to apply for an auto mobile drivers' license. He said Murphy, a worker in a cement block factory, had been under suspicion an expensive watch. Miller said Murphy had $400 with him when he was arrested.

Since he purchased a new automobile, several suits of clothes and a radio, Hurlbert was arrested in a rooming house at Dearborn, where, Captain Leonard said, he had been hiding out after the crime. Leonard said Hurlbert pulled a revolver when Dearborn and state police arrested him but he was overcome after a brief struggle. Leonard said they found $500 in Hurlbert's room.

Sheriff Miller said Murphy was a roomer at the house in Allegan where Hurlbert lived. He said Hurlbert was married and worked occasionally as a truck driver in Allegan.

Miller said Murphy was stopped for a minor traffic violation at Ann Arbor today and was ordered by Ann Arbor police to get a license.

After Murphy was arrested, Miller said, State Police Inspector Robert Murray became suspicious when he heard the story and went to Miller's office where he related the incident.

While he was informing Miller of his suspicions, Murphy walked into the county building. He was arrested, accused of the crime, and confessed, Miller said. He named Hurlbert as his accomplice and told police where they could find him in Dearborn.

While Miller was questioning Murphy, Allegan police searched the automobile he had purchased a few days ago. They said they found a revolver owned by Harry Plotts, state conservation officer, which they said was one of the guns used in the holdup.

Captain Leonard said Murphy and Hurlbert had denied they had robbed the Canfield-Russell branch of the Detroit bank. The Detroit bank was robbed of more than $7,000 the day after the Bloomingdale bank was looted.

Snake Breaks Fast And Eats Its Mate

Houston, Tex., April 23 (AP)—Hermann Park Zoo's coral snake broke its long fast today. It ate its mate.

Zookeeper Hans Nagel said it was the first time he had ever heard of a coral snake eating in captivity.

"Usually," he said, "they starve to death rather than eat."

Stoppage Of Work Again Threatened In Buick And Chevrolet

Flint, Mich., April 23 (AP)—Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers of America, said tonight that although CIO unionists of the Buick and Chevrolet plants of General Motors corporation had voted to strike, there would be no strikes or stoppages of work until grievance procedure has been exhausted.

Close upon this statement, William E. Dowell, director of G. M. locals of the UAW, said corporation concessions relating to "preferred lists" of employees to be retained or called back to work after layoffs might make a strike unnecessary.

A General Motors spokesman confirmed Dowell's announcement that the corporation had given assurance that no abuses of such lists would be tolerated.

"We have a contract with General Motors and we will live up to it," said Martin. "The UAW also has a constitution and we will live up to it. That constitution provides there shall be no strikes or stoppages of work until grievance procedure has been exhausted and there will be no strikes until that has been done."

Twenty thousand union members participated in the strike referendum which started Wednesday. Jack Little, UAW local president, announced the strike was approved by these votes:

Buick Motor company employees, 9,500 to 2,000. Chevrolet Motor company employees, 6,500 to 2,015.

Pastor Under Fire At Pontiac Resigns

Pontiac (AP)—The Rev. Leland L. Marion, restrained by a circuit court injunction three weeks ago from occupying the pulpit of the First Christian church, announced his resignation Saturday. His dispute with members of the congregation was over the remarriage of divorced persons and his attitude toward healing the sick. The minister, who has been conducting services in a remodeled garage, said he would become an evangelist.

Husband Is Found With 'Other Woman'

Detroit, April 23 (AP)—Prosecutor Duncan C. McCrea will decide Monday whether charges shall be filed against Mrs. Frances Cardella, 24, in connection with the shooting of her husband and a woman whom he had brought into their home.

The husband, Joseph Cardella, 33, unemployed, was in serious condition with two bullet wounds in his back. The "other woman," Mrs. Raymond Lang, 26-year-old divorcee and beer garden waitress, was wounded in the head but is expected to recover. She has two children in Cincinnati, where she formerly lived.

Mrs. Cardella has been ill since the birth of her second child two months ago. Police Lieut. Jack Harvill said she told him after the shooting today that her husband brought Mrs. Lang to their home last Tuesday. She found them together in the living room at 5:30 a. m., she told Lieut. Harvill, and her mind "went blank."

Mrs. Cardella was held without charge for investigation.

Pacts With Italy And Irish Spur British Prime Minister's Plans

London, April 23 (AP)—Great Britain's new agreements with Italy and Ireland have put new force behind Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's plans for a broad-scale attack on other problems facing European statesmen in the busy week ahead.

With new faith in his "realistic" policy as a result of these achievements in quick succession, the 53-year-old prime minister returned freshened from a fishing holiday to plunge into this packed schedule:

1—Sealing a pact with Ireland Monday which may go far toward removing the long-standing differences between the two countries.

2—Giving final approval to a new budget from which the nation's taxpayers will learn Tuesday whether they must pay more to keep rearmament booming on a large scale.

3—Mapping procedure for getting League of Nations approval to recognize Italy's conquest of Ethiopia—a vital part of the new Anglo-Italian pact.

4—Conferring with French Premier Edouard Daladier and French Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet Thursday and Friday on a common policy for maintaining European peace and, if that fails, closer military cooperation.

France gave momentum to Chamberlain's peace efforts by launching talks with Italy, pointing to a possible French-Italian pact similar to the one Britain signed a week ago with Rome.

MEN TRAPPED IN COAL PITS; NONE ESCAPES

ONLY SEARED AND BROKEN BODIES ARE FOUND

Grundy, Va., April 23 (AP)—Forty-five charred and broken bodies of miners were taken from the seared depths of the Keen Mountain mine of the Red Jacket Coal company today, victims of the volcano-like explosions which greeted the night shift as it entered the mine yesterday.

The United States bureau of mines officials said no further bodies were in the "drifts" which extend far under the mountain.

Rescuers Overcome Sweating, sooty-faced members of mine rescue squads worked in thirty-minute relays in the furnace-like atmosphere until they had explored every avenue of the big mine. Two members were overcome by bad air which had to be blown out before the final group of bodies could be removed.

For many hours the crews worked grimly, without hope of finding life among the victims trapped by the blast, but unwilling to cease their efforts until every miner had been accounted for.

No word of cheer came from sorrowing wives, children, sweethearts. Only bodies came up from the mine.

Spouted Like Cannon A sooty-faced miner named plain Bill Smith, who had been riding with bodies down the four-mile narrow gauge railroad for many hours, paused long enough to tell his eye-witness account of fifty feet from the mouth of the disaster. He was standing nine when he heard the roar and saw flame belch from the moaning.

"The blast was away from me, and that's why I didn't get hurt," he said. "I saw coal-carrying cars, motors, slate and timber spouted as if from a cannon."

Bill didn't finish his story. Another load of bodies was ready to go down the incline to await identification by persons with tear-dimmed eyes.

Automobiles filled with people jammed the highways as the rescue work went on and state police strung ropes in front of the tipples so that those carrying food to the tired workers could go and come to the cable car that carried them under the mountain.

All Died Instantly Most of the relatives of the victims remained away, but some weeping widows, fathers and mothers refused to be comforted and stayed close in search of a ray of hope.

The payroll office was besieged for names of the dead and the missing. Townspeople at Grundy, 12 miles from the scene, gathered with grim faces and bowed heads as the Salvation Army held a prayer service for the victims.

It was a steep ascent to the mine entrance but many persons went up to offer their services and to encourage workers.

All evidence indicates the underground crew died instantly," said G. P. Kelly, chief mine inspector of the state department of labor. He said federal, state and mine officials would make a full investigation after the rescue work. The mine was a new one, opened last November, and was described as up-to-date in every respect.

Disaster Toll 376 This was the first major disaster to strike the newly-developed field in Buchanan county although mine disasters are not new to southwest Virginia. In ten years 376 miners have been killed.

Eighteen victims had been identified. They were: Ernest Boyd, Hammond Varney, Orville Street, Coy Reed, J. L. Blevins, Kilmer Patrick, Ed Gilley, Claud Dollar, J. W. Combs, Glenn Ratcliff, Arvil Norris, F. L. Buckler, Marcus Thacker, O. C. Hitchcock, Charlie

Wedge Driven Into Chinese Defensive Lines in Shantung

Shanghai, April 24 (Sunday) (AP)—A Japanese army spokesman said today the rising sun banner had been carried across the border into Kiangsu province when the reorganized Japanese offensive drove a deep wedge into Chinese lines in southern Shantung.

The Japanese salient, he said, was a few miles east of Talerh-chwang where the invaders suffered a smashing defeat April 6 after they had occupied the city and crossed the border into Kiangsu for the first time from the north.

Twenty thousand Chinese were reported retreating in the direction of Pihai, about eight miles from the Lungshai railway, vital east-west line, which the Japanese have been trying to reach for months.

Government Lines Are Broken In 3 Places On Teruel Front

Hendaye, France (at the Spanish Frontier), April 23 (AP)—Spanish insurgents announced tonight they had broken through government lines in three places in a new drive on the Teruel front.

They reported capture of the highway city of Allaga, in the San Just mountains 32 miles northeast of Teruel, on the front some 140 miles east of Madrid.

By capturing Allaga, insurgents said, and breaking through government lines near Valdeconejos to the northeast, insurgent columns had encircled six brigades of government militiamen.

Insurgents on this front pushed government troops back along the highway leading to the coastal city of Castellon de la Plana.

Dowagiac Business Man Is Missing On Journey to Chicago

Dowagiac, Mich., April 23 (AP)—Michigan state police and Illinois authorities were asked today to search for George E. Melvin, 74, superintendent of the Colby Milling Co., who failed to return from a trip to Chicago Tuesday.

His wife, who requested the search, said he was worried over the possibility he might soon be retired. She feared he was suffering from amnesia.

Melvin, founder and former president of the National Association of Operative Millers, conferred in Chicago Tuesday morning with associates on the American Miller, a trade journal, they said he told them he would return Tuesday afternoon but they did not see him again.

Melvin planned only a one-day trip and took with him no luggage and little money. He made the trip by train.

the president at least a tactical advantage in his apparent effort to make this year's Democratic primaries and general elections a test of the administration's popularity with the voters.

Both house and senate are expected generally to approve the tax compromise. Their acceptance of it may influence the final outcome of the renewed White House drive to write a wage-hour act into the statutes at this session. The president's defeat of senate efforts to repeal the undistributed profits tax tends to impress a fringe of house Democrats who have been wavering in their support of him.

Four Measures Pushed

In event both the tax bill compromise and a rewritten wage-hour bill were forced through congress by presidential pressure, Mr. Roosevelt could go to the country during the campaigning with a new slate of leadership accomplishments to stress.

In his lending-spending message, the president made much of the fact that he had recommended to this congress "only four measures of major importance to business." He enumerated those as the farm bill, legislation to plug income tax loopholes, the wage-hour bill and a measure revising the undistributed profits tax "to remove inequities."

The first two were already accomplished, the president's message said, and the others were still before congress.

If the tax revision compromise proves an accurate indication of the outcome of the wage-hour controversy, Mr. Roosevelt could write that whole program off as achieved, despite party rifts and Democratic-Republican coalitions that have checked his legislative leadership increasingly ever since the court bill fight began in February, 1937.

Railway and Bus Strike Is Ended In Columbus, Ohio

Columbus, O., April 23 (AP)—Members of the Amalgamated association of Electric Railway and Motor Bus Employees Union approved today a proposal to end Columbus' transportation strike, in its seventh day.

Officials of the Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co. said, however, that it would take from 12 to 14 hours to get trolley cars and buses ready to operate.

Details of the agreement were not revealed, but it was reported reliably that it provided for renewal of a working contract which expired at 12:01 a. m. April 16.

LABOR LEADER IN HOT BATTLE

Deportation of Bridges Demanded by Many Organizations

Portland, Ore. — Around the slender but wiry figure of Harry Bridges there plays the lightning of a potential new Mooney case.

Throughout the Pacific northwest the cry is heard: "Deport Bridges!" Every day it is picked up by a new club, church, or American Legion post, as time draws near for his hearing April 25 in San Francisco on deportation charges.

Bridges, who sprang to national prominence during the San Francisco general strike of 1934, is now Pacific coast C. I. O. director and head of the C. I. O. longshoremen.

But it is in Portland that much of the evidence looking to his deportation was obtained. It was here that a dictaphone was planted in his room during the convention of the Maritime Federation of the Pacific convention last summer. Many convention delegates were interviewed to get facts on Bridges, though most of them refused to discuss him with Immigration Service inspectors.

Certain facts have been obtained, however, on the career and record of Bridges. Among those likely to be brought out at his deportation hearing are: Bridges' true name is Alfred Renton Bryant Bridges. He was born July 6, 1901, at Kensington, Victoria, Australia, to Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ernest Bridges. His mother's name was Julia Dorgan. His father is an estate agent, and highly respected.

Bridges arrived in the United States in 1920 by "jumping ship" from the British vessel Ysobel. He paid a head tax on entering, and in 1921 in New Orleans filed intention to become a citizen. These papers lapsed, and Aug. 9, 1928, he again filed in San Francisco. These papers again lapsed, and he filed first papers for a third time in 1936.

Police here have photostatic copies of a membership card showing that "Harry Dorgan" was a member of the Communist Party, 13th District, at San Francisco. They will attempt to show that this is Bridges, and that thus his frequent denial that he is a member of that party is false.

Police have roams of testimony about Bridges attending and addressing Communist meetings. There he was known, Communist Party members have told police, as Comrade Canfield or Comrade Dorgan.

Much of the evidence against Bridges has come from various A. F. of L. officials, who now bitterly hate the man John L. Lewis named to head all C. I. O. West Coast activities.

They remember a Seattle speech of April 12, 1937, in which Bridges assailed the C. I. O. and urged his longshoremen to stay within the A. F. of L. Bridges' defection to the C. I. O. came shortly afterward, and followed an airplane flight to Washington where he met Lewis and John Brophy, his lieutenant.

Supported by Radicals

Questions the San Francisco hearing will have to settle are: Is Bridges an alien? Is he a Communist Party member? Does that make him subject to deportation?

Radically-inclined labor elements throughout the country have rallied actively to Bridges, insisting that were it not for his peculiar success in labor and strike leadership, little of the present storm would have been raised against him. They contend that it is not Bridges the alleged alien Communist, but Bridges the successful labor leader, whose deportation is being sought.

Whatever doubt there may be as to Bridges' Communist Party standing, there is none as to his radicalism. Last spring he was already telling a University of Washington audience at Seattle: "We take the stand that we as workers have nothing in common with the employers. We are in a class struggle, and we subscribe to the belief that if the employer is not in business his products still will be necessary and we still will be providing them when there is no employing class. We frankly believe that day is coming!"

Can an alien be deported for believing and saying such things? That is what the April 25 hearing in San Francisco is to decide.

Gypsies Sentenced For Farm Robberies

Marshall, Mich., April 23 (AP)—Circuit Judge Blaine Hatch sentenced three gypsies today to pay fines and costs totaling $600 for robberies of several southern Michigan farmers and to make restitution of $114 to Arch Sundberg, Marshall farmer. The three are Leo, Lona and Diana Ell. The two women were turned over to Eaton county on similar charges.

CITY EXISTED BEFORE PENN

Interesting Data About Philadelphia Found By Historian

Philadelphia, Pa. —One year before William Penn was born, Philadelphia, the city which history credits him with founding, already existed as Wicaco.

This was cited here today by Dr. Amandus Johnson, of the Swedish-American Tercentenary association, as one of many little known facts regarding the important part played by the Swedish people in the early history of America.

Interest in Swedish-American history, Dr. Johnson declared, has been stimulated by the nationwide Swedish-American 300th anniversary celebration to be held in June, and the campaign now in progress and ending May 14th, to create a $750,000 endowment campaign fund for the American-Swedish Historical Museum in Philadelphia. Dr. Johnson is curator of the museum.

Landed at Delaware The anniversary celebration commemorates the landing of the first Swedish colonists on the site of what is now Wilmington, Delaware. Americans of Swedish descent are eager to learn of the lives of their hardy forefathers, and information scantily known previously is rapidly spreading from coast to coast.

For sixteen years, from 1638 to 1655, parts of what are now the states of Delaware, Pennsylvania and New Jersey constituted the colony of New Sweden, part of the domain of Queen Christina known chiefly to Americans from the portrait on the screen by her modern countrywoman, Greta Garbo.

The first government of Pennsylvania was established by the Swedish colonists. The instruction of the Swedish crown to the colonial governor, Johann Printz, are sometimes called the First Constitution of the States of Pennsylvania and Delaware. Printz, Gov. Printz's residence on Tinicum Island in the Delaware River, is often referred to as the First State House of Pennsylvania.

Penn Bought Site Penn purchased the site of Philadelphia from three Swedish brothers named Swenson. One of the oldest streets in Philadelphia is called Swenson, considered by historians to be a reminder of the racial origin of the metropolis.

Through the sovereignty of the Swedish crown ended in 1655, the Swedish settlers proved themselves adaptable to conditions of life during the Dutch colonial ascendancy, and later through that of the English.

They were pioneers of industry among the first to realize and exploit the natural wealth of the Delaware River Valley. They built the first flour and saw mills in the valley and the first ships.

In the events leading up to the Revolutionary War, Swedes played an active part. There were citizens of Swedish origin in all thirteen of the original states at the time the war broke out.

Among the most distinguished of these was John Morton, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, whose vote as a member of the Pennsylvania delegation was the decisive one committing the state to secession.

John Hanson, grandson of one of the first settlers in New Sweden, was the first President of the

Labor Leader To Speak Here

George A. Krogstad, chairman of the Michigan Department of Labor and Industry, will address a labor forum to be held at the Escanaba city hall Wednesday evening, May 11.

Mr. Krogstad will explain the functions of his department. At present, there are only 12 factory inspectors for the state. Four of these are located in Wayne county, and only one is assigned to the Upper Peninsula. This meeting will be a tri-county affair. Representatives from labor organizations in Delta, Menominee and Schoolcraft counties will attend. The general public is invited.

United States in Congress Assembled after the adoption of the Articles of Confederation. During his term of office, the National Bank of America was established, the first Secretary of Foreign Affairs appointed, and the consular system of the nation formed. As president of the congress, Hanson thanked George Washington officially for the successful termination of the war at Yorktown.

DWARF HELD IN BOND OF $1,500

Harry Wakely To Appear In Circuit Court At Next Session

Harry Wakely, 41-year-old dwarf, was held for trial in circuit court today on a felonious assault charge after examination in Justice Charles Everard's court. He was released on payment of $1,500 bond.

It is charged that Wakely, the "little boy" of the James Rickinson correspondence-bridge case, pointed a shotgun at Frank Salawinski, 19, farmer residing near Wallace, when Salawinski went to the James Rickinson farm on April 18 with Clifford and John Rickinson, sons of James Rickinson.

Salawinski at the hearing today testified that Wakely pointed a 20-gauge shotgun at him and ordered him out of the Rickinson barn. Salawinski said that Clifford Rickinson had asked him to go to the Rickinson farm in Menominee township to help with the chores. John Rickinson went with them.

Salawinski testified that after they were in the barn and had started cleaning out the stalls, Harry Wakely came down from the haymow with a shotgun. He said Wakely loaded the gun, cocked it, and pointed it at them. "Get out of here or I'll blow your brains out," Salawinski said Wakely shouted at them.

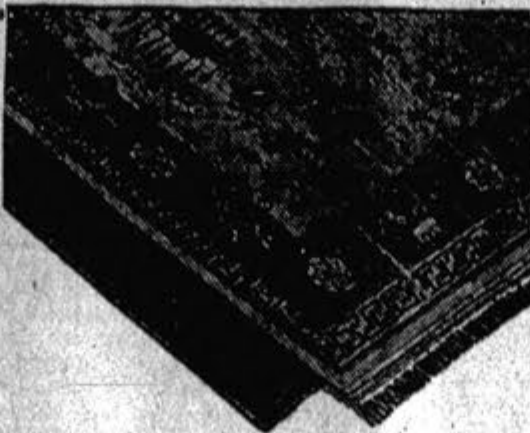

John and Clifford Rickinson testified they went to their father's farm to do the chores at the suggestion of Atty. John J. O'Hara, their counsel. The elder Rickinson was taken in custody April 18 for a sanity examination on petition of John Rickinson. Rickinson was declared sane by examining physicians.

John Rickinson denied that Rickinson's grown children have been active in attempts to separate their father and his "correspondence bride." He said that he has sought only to "protect" his father. When he went to the farm Saturday he declared that he did not expect trouble.

BRIGHTEN UP WITH PAINT

Frequently, people make the mistake of using the initial price as a standard of paint economy. This is wrong, it isn't the initial price that counts it's the cost per year of the life of the paint. A cheap paint costs less than Moore's per gallon, but takes more paint for proper coating, lasts about half as long and is likely to require scraping before repainting! Moore's costs a little more but will last twice as long and requires less for adequate coverage.

If there are not that many then the county is farther behind in progressive sentiment than we could imagine. But that surely is not the case. Scarcely a voice has been raised thus far against the proposal, sponsored by the state bar. The petitions should be overwhelmingly endorsed and the proposal itself should be overwhelmingly approved in the elections next November.

THE BOND FALLS CASE
(Even Press)

Raymond W. Starr, Attorney General of the State has ruled that the Conservation Department has no authority to compromise with the Copper District Power Company which company has been trying to buy or exchange other land and promises for land on the Middle Branch of the Ontonagon river which is owned by the state. Now the case must go before the State courts where it properly belongs. There are many angles to the case of diverting the water from the river to another which have never been set out on the statutes and the action of the state court will form a basis for future decisions. Then, too, the Copper District Power Company is not so much of a public service organization as most utility companies, since most of their power is used by the parent mining company or affiliated companies and not by the public.

The laws of this country in most cases are well based on justice to the public and to society and they are not inclined to favor any defiant intrusion on those rights by scheming individuals who would turn the public's resources into private or corporate profits. It seems no more right for the state to permit the power company to purchase the public lands along the river for their flowage use than it would be for the state to sell valuable oil lands to favored individuals. The Attorney General decided wisely. Supposing you and I were to form a company and would build a large oil refinery adjacent to state owned oil land and would then go to the state with a proposition to purchase the oil rights because we need them for the operation of our plant. Would we get the land? I guess not. Neither would we be allowed to rent a space bureau in the capitol for the sale of auto accessories although it would probably be a great location for some such business.

It is quite well known that the utility companies have extensive lobbying facilities in the legislature and with these facilities they have gained liberal concessions so far as the enacted law is concerned and the laws concerning water rights seem to be a little one sided in favor of the owner of such rights sometimes jeopardizing the rights of the tax paying real estate owner.

Now, there's the case Lake Gogebic for instance. The Copper District Power Company owns most of the flowage rights on the lake to at least a 30 inch level. They purchased these rights from the Victoria Mining Company which had owned them for years but the rights were never exercised to my knowledge until the Copper District Power came along and then the lake was flooded to a level of 54 inches which was claimed by the company because of their ownership of flowage rights on some of the property to this level. Docks were destroyed, boat houses were ruined and the shore line in general on the lake was damaged to a great degree. Even though the courts decreed that such a flowage was illegal beyond the 32 inch level no settlement for damage has ever been made to people who had suffered loss to improvements on their property which had been made according to the well established level of the lake. According to the law, we believe, if the power company were to maintain a certain high level of the water for a certain number of years it would gain adverse possession of the flowage rights to that level regardless of deeds or other instruments of conveyance which would ordinarily be required. Then, it does not seem right that a development extending over a period of more than fifteen years should be wiped out by a sudden rise of water without some substantial recompense being made to the tax paying property owners. The people who own the land are assessed taxes on a basis of resort property and should have certain rights accordingly, but in the spring the power company raises the water so high that it floods boat houses and during the dry season the water is drained out of the lake to the point that boats are left high and dry in the boat houses and made useless during the summer months. It does not seem to me that this is justice nor that it should be legal. Perhaps it is not legal but I would like to find out.

When the franchise was granted to the Copper District Power Company in Ontonagon it was the general impression that light rates would be very much lower than in other places because of the proximity of the power plant to the village. It was also impressed that many great new industries would be attracted by the extremely low rates. The rates which the affiliated companies pay is undoubtedly very low but the householders on Ontonagon pay more for 100 kilowatts of electricity for lighting with water power electricity transported only a few miles than people in some similar towns in Lower Michigan pay for the same amount of electricity made by steam and transported great distances.

Instead of offering cheap rates to the people of Ontonagon, about the first thing the Copper District Power Company did after the completion of their dam at Victoria was to wire the power over to the Copper Country in Houghton County for use in the mines of the affiliated company over there. This appealed to the copper county people as being a fine thing and when they can see a prospect of trans-

World Affairs Reviewed

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Washington, D. C. — It has remained for the American Museum of Natural History to dispel the old belief that Tibet is a land wholly given over to religious contemplation and the ascetic life. On the contrary, the kingdom is largely inhabited by a people possessed of a spontaneous gaiety, a people who, in the summer season, take special delight in picnics in the verdant, pleasant valleys, who gamble, who go to the races, and who are devotees of the theatre. There is no theatre in the Occidental sense but, in season, the land is traversed by traveling troupes of performers and the plays are not of the miracle type but are humorous, almost like American musical comedies.

All this was discovered by the expedition recently sent to Tibet by the American Museum of Natural History, headed by Mr. and Mrs. Suydam Cutting. Mr. Cutting is a trustee of the Museum.

It is probably because of the inaccessibility of Tibet that so little is known about it. The great plateau which is buttressed by the Himalaya Mountains ranges from 12,000 to 14,000 feet in altitude, but one must cross passes nearly 20,000 feet high to reach the inner land. These natural barriers would be enough in themselves to keep out intruders but the Tibetans have long entertained a suspicion of foreigners.

The country used to be a Chinese province, but in 1911 there was revolt on the part of the Tibetans which resulted in the throwing off of the Chinese political yoke. Every Chinese garrison was expelled and, even now, the eastern barrier, the Chinese side, is closed save when traders are admitted by special permission.

It is true that nearly half the population consists of priests or lamas who dwell in lamaseries, but even they are by no means continually lost in contemplation of the future life. They have their own parties and entertainments and, while a special aura of sanctity has been draped about them in the Occidental mind, the American expedition has found that they are very human.

A COUNTRY OF BRIEF SUMMERS

Persons one reason for the liveliness of the people is that they have but a short summer season. This being so they make the most of it. The summer might almost be described as a continuous carnival.

There is not much fun during the long, long winters. Even in summer, of course, there is never any really hot weather. When it is considered that the whole kingdom does not show any altitude of less than 12,000 feet, it readily can be understood that coolness prevails in spite of a burning sun. The air is of crystal clarity, sparklingly clear and distinct. West a mountain which seems to be but a little distance away actually is a day's journey distant.

In winter the weather is quite another matter. In the United States newspapers have front page stories when a gale of sixty miles an hour blows. Fancies, then, living in a place where the wind blows at least sixty miles an hour day in and day out for month on month. It is a biting, icy wind which howls down from the high Himalayas, but the stock of the Tibetans is hardly Mongolian and the peasants go about their affairs apparently unperturbed.

The country has so brief a summer that very little grain is produced. Some barley, being a more hardy grain than wheat, is produced and it is used chiefly in the brewing of a weak sort of beer. A man would have to drink quarts of it to feel an intoxicating effect. So, then, this is almost the only country in the world where the people have no bread. For some ceremonial occasions a cake of pressed barley is served but, otherwise, what Occidentals term the staff of life is unknown.

The diet consists of yaks' meat, mutton, and a strange comestible known as buttered tea. To make it, yaks' milk is added to butter. Every Tibetan household has a store of this and when it is desired to consume some, a portion is sliced off and boiled in an iron pot. Then a low-grade Chinese tea, of the hard, brick variety, is added. The two are poured together into a sort of churn and mixed to the proper consistency. The concoction is consumed hot. It is served in wooden cups and forms a nourishing food because of its high content of butter fat. It is the staple alike of the peasants and the nobles, the feudal lords.

fering the immense value of Agate and Bond Falls over to their communities they would naturally be in favor of it regardless of the damaging effect on the country surrounding these great waterfalls.

The legal question of diverting the water from the Middle Branch of the Ontonagon River around the two waterfalls is, indeed, a mighty one involving the rights of the public from now on, forever and it is not a question which should depend on any flimsy promise which might be made by anyone, especially by anyone who has repeatedly broken promises and even violated court orders in the past.

It seems to me that even though the land along the river may be owned by the power company, the water still belongs to the people and it should be permitted to flow over the rocks and over the waterfalls where God made it flow instead of through pipes or tubes or ditches through which the power company would divert it for their own private pecuniary profit.

Science keeps battering down borderlines between living and nonliving matter. That helps one understand folks who walk around, yet appear dead above the shoulders.

War is talked about less in Europe than in America, say many returning visitors. Now when a situation gets past the talking point then it is dangerous.

Answers To Questions

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

A reader can get the answer to any question of fact by writing The Escanaba Daily Press Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. Please enclose three (3) cents for reply.

Q. Is there a Who's Who in New York? K. G.

A. A new edition of Who's Who in New York, the first since 1929, has recently been published. It contains biographical data of the leading citizens of the State.

Q. Who is called the Little Napoleon of British politics? J. L.

A. David Lloyd George, former Premier of Great Britain, is so called.

Q. Is there good swimming at Lake Mead, Boulder Dam? J. D.

A. Swimming there is at its best in the nine cooler months of the year. Even in December, under normal weather conditions, it is pleasant. During July and August, temperatures are over 100 at Lake Mead.

Q. Is Ellen Terry's husband living? E. G.

A. James Carey, third husband of the late actress, died recently in London at the age of 62.

Q. Who created Chessie, the Chesapeake and Ohio kitten? W. B.

A. An Austrian artist, G. Grunwald, now deceased, produced the sleeping cat, and the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway bought the sole commercial rights to the reproduction of the cat. L. C. Probert named the kitten Chessie and originated the slogan, Sleep like a kitten, and the title, America's Sleepheart.

Q. When was the watch invented? W. S. P.

A. Although there were earlier timepieces, the small, portable watch appeared in Germany toward the end of the Fifteenth Century. It was so called because the Watch, or the town guard or sentries, were accustomed to call the hours.

Q. Have the size and strength of men increased over the centuries? E. J. H.

A. There have been evolutions which differ in various parts of the world. Western Europe shows strong evidence that while the size of men has increased, their strength has diminished. Armor several centuries old is too small for the modern man to squeeze into, yet the swords which these smaller men wielded readily, in some cases can scarcely be lifted, much less wielded, by the larger modern man.

Q. Who said that a classic is something that nobody wants to read? T. M.

A. Mark Twain said that a classic is something that everybody wants to have read and nobody wants to read.

Q. Is the death rate from boxing high? N. M.

A. Only 30 deaths have resulted from boxing in the past 15 years.

Q. What is the New Farm Act? W. G. H.

A. The Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1933, approved by the President on February 16, 1933, among other things, continues, amends, and strengthens the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act and provides authority

New York Column

BY GEORGE ROSS

New York.—Some time ago the Broadway Association, in a fine frenzy of civic spirit, announced great plans for beautifying that famous thoroughfare. Apparently it was their dream to remove the ballyhoo taint from Times Square.

A casual journey through midtown makes it more than evident that the association has taken no steps or has failed in the ones it has tried. Broadway looks just as it always did at this uncertain time of year. The same incandescent signs, the garish fronts of the "grind" or cheap movie houses are as gaudy and sexational as ever. A "For Men Only" picture plays just off a side street.

The sight-seeing bus barkers murmur in muted tones of the wonders of "Chinatown"—they aren't permitted to talk much above a whisper on Broadway proper. Imperturbable laborers smooth over a rough section of street and quickly tear up another to make the almost impossible traffic situation that much more interesting. Horns blow incessantly, people chatter, the air reeks of gasoline, building fronts undergo dry-cleaning, get shabby and are superficially cleaned again. Crowds jam the sidewalks and prices soar, and those who would reform Broadway dream on.

Gymnastic Gaffer
 Adolph Rhein, who is our favorite old gaffer, is wondering whether he is celebrating his 75th or 76th birthday, because the swift passage of time has left him bewildered if unchanged.

Adolph is quite the most unbelievable gent in town, for despite his age he is a professional strong man, has all his teeth without dental repair (he never has taken care of them), and still has a goodly shock of hair, as well as youthful muscles. Not so long ago, some of his pupils invited him to attend a gymnastic meet at which only two of the contestants were able to do a perfect handstand on the flying rings.

All the way back to his own gymnasium a few blocks away, the old fellow muttered to himself and, when he arrived, he took off his jacket, grasped the flying rings and went into a beautiful handstand without an effort. Then he alighted. "Young boys," he sniffed, "phooey!"

A newspaperman we know walked into the gym the other day and found Rhein deep in gloomy thought. "Ach," Papa Rhein sighed, "in ten years I bet I had trouble mit der handstand."

Saves for Rainy Day
 Every town probably has enterprising "shavers" who patrol the corners and terminals on rainy days with rubbers and umbrellas and rent them out to commuters who would rather stay dry.

New York's kids have made a big business of it and there is a lad at a Brooklyn subway kiosk who has made a syndicate of the service. By now he has control of 50 umbrellas and an equal number of rubbers (all sizes), employs a crew and on a fine, stormy day and night, loans out enough of them to make a killing. He has been able to retire, they say, from active work and acts now only in a supervisory capacity. Other lads have tried to muscle into his territory but it is big enough to accommodate several and so there has been no umbrella-and-rubber gang strife in that district.

The Capital Parade

BY ALSOP AND KINTNER

Washington, April 24.—The United States is getting ready to go into the propaganda broadcasting business. In order to offset the persuasive radio programs aimed at South America by the Fascist nations, this country will offer competing entertainment and oratory.

Such at least will be the recommendation of the President's committee now studying the problem of the short-wave Italo-German proselyting to the southward. The committee has taken the plunge, and now its chief energies are concentrated in the effort to decide just what sort of program should be offered by this country. By all accounts, the committee members are finding it a little difficult to adapt the machinery of the Federal Government to the strange goals of the amusement industry.

The committee has made a factual study of the reception accorded the German and Italian broadcasts by South Americans. They have had much advice from the state department, and they have also been in contact with a number of friendly South American diplomats here.

From these latter have come rather depressing reminders that the new radio propaganda scheme can backfire rather seriously. The President's good neighbor policy is still pretty new, the diplomats have pointed out. And while the Italians and Germans are an ocean away, the United States is just next door to South America. Suspicion of imperial intentions may easily be aroused, even by radio blather.

Nevertheless, the committee is going ahead with its work. Frank R. McNinch, chairman of the Communications commission, is also committee chairman. He has delegated the task of program design to John W. Studebaker, commissioner of education. And so it is up to Mr. Studebaker to spot the crooners, if there are any, parcel out time between the comics and the orchestra, and decide how much time the sponsor can use for his sales talk for democracy.

Of course, the chances are that there will be no comics or crooners or orchestras. Very likely, the broadcasts will be purely educational. And thus this country will set out to keep South Americans in the straight and narrow path by the simple expedient of boring them to death.

If you like figures, the tragic seriousness of the new depression is admirably expressed in a national income calculation recently completed by Leon Henderson, Works Progress Administration economist. Mr. Henderson is worth listening to, not only as a leading economic adviser of the New Deal's left wing, but also as a man whose forecasts of business conditions have been unusually accurate.

According to Mr. Henderson, while the New Deal boom still continued, the country was moving rather rapidly toward a national income of $72,000,000,000 annually. In the best months of 1937, the country was actually producing $6,000,000,000 in goods and services each month. As nostalgic persons will recall, while at the level there were still about 6,000,000 unemployed, a pleasing prosperity then prevailed.

Now that the New Deal boom has been punctured, however, the national income is sinking toward a level of between $52,000,000,000 and $54,000,000,000 annually. On the more significant monthly basis, the value of goods and services produced is from $1,000,000,000 to $1,250,000,000 under what it was last year.

Mr. Henderson's calculation is based on the production index of the Federal Reserve Board and the farm production and income figures of the agriculture department. Since it is carefully adjusted for price and other factors, it may be accepted as valid, or at least just as valid as any other national income calculation, of course, how the President's spending program will affect it, none can tell. New Deal theoreticians cherish the notion that every dollar spent increases the national income by $2.85.

The indications are unmistakable that New York's able, bouncing Mayor F. H. La Guardia has been seriously bitten by the presidential bee. The poison, which is coursing through a good many veins these days, has come out in La Guardia in the form of a home-made international trade program, an extensive southwestern speaking trip, and an impolite suggestion to the President that he could spend WP dollars faster than Harry L. Hopkins.

Thus, Ed Flynn, the Democratic boss of the Bronx, a Farley crony, and a La Guardia hater, is being proved an excellent political picker. Back in 1934, Flynn, who is an important but inconspicuous power in the Democratic Party, was visiting Joseph P. Kennedy in Washington. Kennedy asked Flynn what he thought of La Guardia, who was just then starting his mayoralty.

"Fiorello's quite a fellow," Flynn answered. "You ought to watch him for 1940."

Even if Flynn's prediction does not come entirely true, at least La Guardia is doing his best to make it.

Lyrics of Life

By Douglas Mallock

LET US SMILE
 Let us do this a little while: Instead of sighing, let us smile, Although it now has little reason. Perhaps it soon will be in style, Although it now seems out of season.

Let us do this: smile, glad or no, Instead of thinking of our woe, Although we find it hard to do it. A smile is much more likely, though, When dark the day, to get us through it.

Let us do this, not wait again Till Spring is here, not wait till then Before we smile, or think of roses. For joy to earth and joy to men Are nearer than a sigh supposed.

4-H CLUB WORK SKED PLANNED

Kettunen Expects Big Increase In Club Enrollment

East Lansing, April 23 (AP)—Approximately 48,500 young people from the estimated 196,500 on Michigan farms are preparing for a summer's training in scores of practical pursuits designed to raise the standards of living and work in rural Michigan.

A. G. Kettunen, State leader of boys' and girls' clubs, who heads the direction of these thousands of young people under the 4-H club banner, said conservation of the state's natural resources will play a major part in the 1938 program.

In cooperation with the State Department of Conservation, local conservation officers and sportsmen's clubs, the club members will participate in programs fitted to their sections of the state.

Do Farm Mapping
In the northern part of the state such projects as forest planting, ranger assistance, forest fire studies and control will be undertaken. In the southern part of the state, where forests are not so plentiful, club members will participate in pheasant raising projects. In other sections older boys will work on farm mapping projects which tie up with the federal and state soil conservation program.

Kettunen said that any community which has a conservation problem it wishes studied or developed may acquire the assistance of 4-H club members. Such projects as stream improvement, wild life sanctuaries and development of beauty spots are among those represented.

In addition, he said, members will participate in intra-club groups which study and work with corn, sugar beets, beans, potatoes, garden crops, home and commercial gardens, forestry, dairying, sheep, beef, pigs, colts, poultry, canning, food preparation and individual and group health.

Increase Expected
Last year there were 4,408 such clubs in Michigan, and Kettunen expects this number to be increased by 200 this summer. One hundred and ten county agricultural agents, home demonstration agents and district agents, district club agents and county club agents will supervise the program with the assistance of more than 6,000 volunteer local leaders.

The 4-H club management operated county camps in 32 counties last year and expects to have camps in 40 to 45 counties in the 1938 program. In addition, three district state camps are operated, one at Michigan State College for 41 southern counties, one at Gaylord for 27 counties in northern Lower Peninsula, and one at Chatham for the Upper Peninsula counties. Michigan State College will build a $40,000 project for rooming and dining structures here.

Menominee Holds Notre Dame Meet; Alumni Invited

All alumni of Notre Dame University are invited to the Notre Dame night to be held at Menominee tomorrow evening as part of the national Notre Dame night being held throughout the country.

Those from this city intending to go, should communicate with Francis Boyce, secretary of the Hiawatha club.

A radio program will include addresses by Rev. Fr. John O'Hara, president, Elmer Layden, football coach, and songs by the Notre Dame glee club. John McCormack, well known Irish tenor, will sing several school songs.

Bodies Of Negro CCC Boys Found

Kalkaska, April 22 (AP)—The bodies of two negro CCC enrollees at Camp Kalkaska, drowned a week ago, were recovered by sheriff's officers and state police today from Grass Lake.

The youths, Curtis Veal, 18, and George Stott, 18, both of Detroit, drowned after starting out on the lake with another CCC boy, William Grayson, 19, who swam to shore. An autopsy is to be held. Grayson has been held for questioning since the drowning.

Methuselah

Age ran with youth in the 42nd annual Boston A. A. marathon when 85-year old Peter Foley, of Winchester, Mass., turned out for his 27th running of the full 26-mile, 385-yard course. Pictured above as he plodded along in gay, pink striped trunks, he said his wife didn't know he was running, "although she was suspicious." Finishing the difficult course in 4 1-2 hours "just to show 'em there's life in the old dogs yet," the white-whiskered athlete complained of nothing more than a thirst.

Student Press Confab Is Successful Event

One hundred and ninety journalism students from 17 Upper Peninsula high schools attended the first annual Upper Peninsula High School Press conference held in this city yesterday, the forerunner of what promises to be a yearly event of great benefit to journalism students of the peninsula.

"The Pen Grows Mightier" was the title of an address given by William R. Slaughter, educational advisor of Northwestern University's Medill school of Journalism, at the general session which opened the afternoon program.

After briefly describing the process through which the pen and the press have gained in power, Slaughter pointed out the need for better control on the part of those who are responsible for what is seen in print.

"As it gains in might, it gains in weight," Slaughter said of the press, "and more strength is needed to control it."

Students of Journalism were urged by the speaker to learn to write, and to learn to report. Citing examples from everyday life where all of us fail to see what is going on about us, Slaughter told of the need for keen observation of the news and accurate reporting. "Train yourself to see and hear things right," the speaker said, "and then learn to report them accurately."

"With its gain in might and gain in weight," the speaker declared, "the pen has gained in subtlety." He illustrated this statement with examples of propaganda by which the press has aided in promoting movements as varied as wars and fashion changes. "Often," he said, "the press has been unaware of the part it has played in national movements." He urged journalism students to be on the watch for propaganda in the news; to recognize it and use it with knowledge and discretion.

At the conclusion of Slaughter's talk, Phyllis Doty, Escanaba editor, called for a vote by members of the conference as to whether or not the annual meeting should be held again next year. The general session voted 100 per cent for an Upper Peninsula High School Press conference to be held at Escanaba during the next school year.

General Assembly
The morning meeting opened at a general assembly in the William W. Oliver Memorial auditorium at which time Britton Temby, chairman of the committee in charge of the event, introduced various members of the Escanaba staff and Principal Edward Edick, who extended welcome to the visiting delegates and explained the purpose of the conference.

The conference then was broken into discussion groups with a series of subjects being covered by a discussion leader with the aid of journalism students present, who joined in to thresh out their individual and collective problems.

Between the two morning discussion sessions, students viewed exhibits from the Milwaukee Journal and the school paper, Escanaba, in the school corridors. They also watched an issue of the Escanaba being printed, after which they were given souvenir editions.

Fourth Cooking School Will Be Held On Tuesday

The fourth free community cooking school and electrical appliance demonstration, of the series of five, will be presented Tuesday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock at the Sherman hotel, under the sponsorship of the Northern Appliance company and Graybar-Crawford, in cooperation with the City of Escanaba.

The cooking school, which the interested public is cordially invited to attend, will be conducted by Mrs. Belle B. Lippert, experienced home economist, and demonstrator of Graybar-Crawford electric ranges. Mrs. Lippert will prepare menus and delicious dishes showing the time saving, food economy and fuel saving features of electrical cooking and refrigeration. Valuable gifts will be awarded at the school, as well as the food prepared by Mrs. Lippert. The school which is the next to the last in which the City of Escanaba, the Upper Michigan Power company, Chamber of Commerce and electrical appliance dealers are cooperating, will be opened, as is customary, by a talk on electrical rates and distribution, by City Manager George Bean.

Kiwanis Observes U. S. and Canada Good Will Week

United States-Canada Good Will Week will be celebrated by the Escanaba Kiwanis club at its regular luncheon meeting at the Sherman Hotel Monday noon.

Children of the fifth grade will present a program, which will consist of the singing of patriotic airs and other interesting numbers.

United States-Canada Good Will Week is being observed in both countries April 24 to 30.

The purpose of this occasion is to give support to all movements helping to continue peaceful relations between the two nations and for an expression of sentiment and good will for the century and a quarter of peace between the United States and Canada.

The anniversary of the signing of the Rush-Bagot Agreement occurs during United States-Canada Good Will Week. This treaty made it possible to have for more than one hundred years an unfortified border and no naval forces on the Great Lakes sufficient to be used in time of war. During the last several years clubs have also placed Boundary Peace Tablets along the border at 12 different locations. These, too, emphasize the friendship of the two great nations on the North American Continent.

FIRST ISLAND TRIP

Houghton—The National Park Service boat, the Ranger, under command of Captain Russell Greenleaf, left Houghton at 10:30 yesterday morning for Isle Royale, breaking a five months' isolation of the island during the winter months. Passengers on the Ranger yesterday included George Bagley, representative of the National Park Service in charge of Isle Royale National Park, Lieut. Davis of Fort Brady, Sault Ste. Marie, army construction engineer; George Hay, senior CCC foreman, who will be stationed at the Isle Royale camp this summer, and Commodore Joseph Colombe, who is in charge of boat transportation at Isle Royale for the National Park Service during the summer months.

The Ranger, which expects to remain at the island until Saturday, will go direct to Camp Rock Harbor, CCC and National Park Service headquarters on the island. The boat took over a supply of fresh provisions and reading matter, the first to be received at the island since late last fall.

The National Park Service maintained two caretakers on Isle Royale during the winter, the only other inhabitants of the island being the Johnson family at Chipewewa Harbor and a number of fishermen and their families who live on the island the year around.

Air Mail Week Contest Regulations Announced

Regulations for the essay contest and poster contest which are being conducted by the National Air Mail Week committee as a part of the week's activities have been announced by the committee. National fame awaits the school students whose posters or essays are judged the best, and Escanaba pupils of grammar schools and high schools are eligible to compete.

Rules of the contests follow:

As part of National Air Mail Week promotion an essay contest and a poster contest are being conducted by the National Air Mail Week committee, with national fame awaiting the school students whose posters or essays are judged the best. National Air Mail Week is from May 15 to 21.

Rules and regulations of the two contests:

Essay contest—Subject, "Wings Across America." The essay should deal with the ideas, purposes and advantages of air transportation as it affects modern communication.

Rules—Entries confined to students in high school, or schools having high-school curricula; essays shall not exceed 250 words.

Basics of Judging Essays—Originality of ideas, 50 per cent; continuity and construction, 25 per cent; spelling, punctuation, and neatness, 25 per cent.

Essays must be postmarked not later than midnight, May 1, 1938, addressed to State Chairman, National Air Mail Week Contest, in care of your local postmaster. Local postmasters will forward all essays to state headquarters promptly.

Each essay must be certified by the school principal as to the eligibility of the contestants, with the identification and location of the school and must show contestant's home address.

Prizes—State: First prize: The winner from each state will be given an air trip from his nearest airport to Washington, D. C., and return. (Nontransferable.) This trip is given through cooperation of all air-line companies. Winners to bear their own expenses while in Washington. Second prize: A suitable trophy supplied and awarded by each state headquarters.

National: All state essay winners will be guests at a banquet in Washington, D. C., May 15, where grand prizes will be announced and awarded as follows: First prize: A trip by air to Hollywood and return, with hotel accommodations and meals for 5 days; Second prize: National trophy; third prize: National plaque.

Poster contest—Subject: Posters relating to the air mail service of the present and future and its adaptability to the needs of the nation.

Rules—Entries confined to students in grammar, high school, or school having similar curricula.

Entries to be on or mounted on Bristol or similar board and not more than 20x25 inches in size when so mounted.

Basics of judging posters—Originality of ideas, 50 per cent; neatness of composition, 25 per cent; adaptability for use, 25 per cent.

Posters must be postmarked not later than midnight, May 1, 1938. Address to the State Chairman, Air Mail Poster Contest in care of your local postmaster. Postage must be fully prepaid on all entries. Local postmasters will forward all posters to state headquarters promptly.

Each poster must be certified by the school principal as to the eligibility of the contestant, with the identification and location of the school and must show the contestant's home address.

Prizes—State: The winner in each State poster contest will be awarded a trophy to be given by the state headquarters committee.

National—All posters winning in a state contest will be entered in a National Contest. First prize, a trophy, second prize, a plaque.

Food Economist, Graybar-Crawford Appliances

FIND OUT HOW LITTLE IT TAKES TO OWN THIS NEW LEONARD!

You will be thrilled with the exclusive drawer-action oven that eliminates cooking and squatting. See the automatic timing clock that controls your cooking perfectly while you are away, giving you more hours of personal freedom. Economy and a Crawford electric range go hand in hand.

Economy comes from Food Saving through less shrinkage; elimination of spoilage because of faulty range performance.

Time Saving through being freed of the necessity of staying close to the kitchen to "watch and tend" to "baste and turn"; less time spent in cleaning.

Fuel Saving through scientific control of the fuel medium, making careless waste nearly impossible.

Service and Replacement Saving through sturdier construction, long-life silver contact switches, trouble free controls, porcelain enamel exterior, solid aluminum trim.

VALUABLE GIFT AWARDS

Several valuable gifts will be awarded at this cooking school session. One Royal Hand Vacuum Cleaner and 3 Universal small electric appliances will be given.

'Glass Heart' Keeps Body Tissues Alive

Who won the world's smelt eating championship? That was the telegraphic inquiry that was received yesterday by the Escanaba Smelt Jambooree committee from the United Press office in New York City.

The press association, which dispatches news to all parts of the globe, wanted to know if the leading contestants would be called together later for a show-down contest, and whether anybody was sick after the smelt eating performance.

The United Press was informed that the championship title was awarded to Harry Newman, former All-American football star, who engaged in an eating contest with Norman H. Hill, secretary to Governor Murphy, at the University of Michigan Alumni luncheon here. Newman is credited with eating 161 smelt during the jambooree.

Forty thousand pounds of souvenir Escanaba Smelt were sent to 400 different organizations, who have been holding smelt eating contests to determine their champions. Each club champion is given an attractive diploma and an autographed picture of Queen Jeanne Mickelson.

Champions in the various organization divisions have been announced as follows:

Lions clubs—Walter Upton, Davenport, Ia., 152.

Kiwanis clubs—Paul Herrlinger, Troy, Ohio, 84.

Rotary clubs—J. F. Carr, Portsmouth, O., 47.

Yachting clubs—Commodore David C. Zimmerman, Chicago, Lake Michigan Yachting association, 52.

Miscellaneous—J. C. McCaffery, Chicago, Showmen's League of America, 33.

Jack Burnett, program director of WGN, Chicago, won the smelt eating championship last year, with 87 consumed.

Art Works Valued At Half a Million Stolen in London

London, April 23 (AP)—A band of thieves who left no fingerprints entered a Kentish castle filled with sleeping week-end guests early today and carried away half a million dollars worth of paintings.

Five old masters—most precious of which was Rembrandt's portrait of his first wife, "Saskia at her toilet"—were taken in the biggest British art haul of this century.

They belonged to Sir Edmund Davis, art collector and mining company director, who kept them in a ground floor gallery in his 17th century Chilham castle near Canterbury.

The burglary was perhaps the most skillful in this country since Thomas Gainsborough's "Duchess of Devonshire" was slashed from its frame in a Bond Street gallery in 1876.

Secretary of CIO Council to Draw $3,600 in Michigan

Lansing, April 23 (AP)—Nearly 2,000 delegates from 300 Michigan locals of the committee for industrial organization will elect officers tomorrow for their newly created Michigan State Industrial Union Council.

The council was created today at the CIO's first Michigan convention by adoption of a formal constitution. A president, 13 vice-presidents and a secretary-treasurer who will draw a salary of $3,600 a year will be chosen.

Then the conference will take steps toward forming a state-wide political organization designed to cooperate with Labor's Non-Partisan League.

PRACTICAL HOME GARDENING

Smooth, velvety lawns like the one pictured above can be yours if the earth is properly graded, fertilized and planted with good quality seed of the correct variety.

New Lawns Must Have Good Seed And Soil To Be Successes

No. 5 in a Series

Grass, like any other farm crop, will not grow on poor soil.

There must be a depth of at least 5 inches of good topsoil with plant food in it. This layer of good soil must not spread over an impervious clay or solid rock base. There must be drainage below the topsoil.

After drainage is provided then prepare the subsoil by spreading over the surface 3 inches of cattle manure. Spade this in, mixing it to a depth of 6 inches.

On top of this add enough topsoil so that when it is compacted it is at the finished grade, with 5 inches of good soil over the entire area.

The early fall is the best time to start a new lawn, but it can also be done in the spring as soon as the frost is out of the ground.

A good lawn can be had in full sunlight or in partial shade in clay or sandy soil, but be sure to get varieties of grass seed that will do best for your particular location.

Grass seed mixtures are sold under various trade names. Buy from a reputable garden supply store and buy the best. It is poor economy to save a few cents on a pound of grass seed. Cheap mixtures contain short-lived varieties and a large percentage of weed seeds.

After the earth has been raked and leveled, apply a commercial fertilizer made up of 4 per cent nitrogen, 12 per cent phosphoric acid, and 4 per cent potash. Mix this into the top inch of soil. Apply at the rate of 10 pounds per 1000 square feet.

Sow the grass seed over the surface at the rate of 4 to 5 pounds per 1000 square feet. Rake the seed into the top half-inch of

Tree - Surgeon Governor of Ohio Much in Limelight

Columbus, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's tree-surgeon-governor, Martin Luther Davey, is being boosted as a presidential candidate in 1940.

The mild-mannered, sharp-tongued political super-salesman is too busy to talk about the boom himself. But his career should provide a lot of campaign material.

Davey, who is 53, has been in politics since he was 28, when he became mayor of Kent, Ohio, his home town. He has served four terms in Congress and is starting his fourth year as governor. His term will expire next January 9th.

He is pretty constantly in Ohio's headlines and often in the nation's. He's a dapper man and he startled the Ohio general assembly the first time he addressed it by appearing on the rostrum in formal attire.

Davey is a Democrat but he doesn't have the whole party behind him. Ohio democracy, in fact, is split between Democrats and Daveyites. The governor has been pretty acid in attacks on the New Deal.

One of his first moves was to file a criminal libel charge against Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, who had charged "political shakedowns" of persons doing business with the Ohio relief administration. Davey later withdrew his charge. He said his purpose had been served when Hopkins took over care of the state's needy.

DAVEY BOOMED FOR PRESIDENT

Rival Asks For New Deal

Anti-Davey Democrats have flung charges of graft and corruption at the governor time and again but he has shrugged them off with counter charges that it's all part of a "smear" movement

Logical Successor?

As a youth, Martin Davey kept in shape by taking 10-mile runs. Now the governor gets his exercise on a rowing machine in the executive mansion.

One of his most ardent backers is Mrs. Margaret Allman, state director of welfare and the only woman to hold a cabinet position in Ohio.

"Governor Davey," asserts Mrs. Allman, "is the logical successor to President Roosevelt."

engineered by disgruntled favor-seekers.

Charles Sawyer, of Cincinnati, New Deal Democrat whom Davey defeated in 1934, will be a candidate in the August gubernatorial primaries. He is demanding a new deal for Ohio Democratic politics.

Davey's latest appearance in the national spotlight was last summer when he sent troops to the Mahoning valley to protect the workers' "right to work," thus ending the little steel strike in Ohio. This action won him the praise of business leaders and the condemnation of John L. Lewis's CIO.

M-35 Washout Gap Open for Traffic; Repairs Finished

Repair work on the washed-out section of M-35, near Ford River, has been completed and the stretch of road is now open for traffic, it was reported yesterday by L. L. Farrell, maintenance engineer of the state highway department.

About three hundred feet of concrete pavement was torn up by the Ford river flood several weeks ago. The gap was filled with sand and given a temporary resurfacing of gravel.

Newman Wins World Smelt Eating Title

BY STEPHEN J. McDONOUGH Associated Press Science Writer Philadelphia, April 21.—Almost "unlimited possibilities" in the use of the Lindbergh "glass heart" to keep tissues of the body alive and growing as possible "replacements" were described today by Dr. Alexis Carrel of the Rockefeller Institute before the American Philosophical society.

The famous surgeon, a Nobel prize winner and contributor of many new advances to medical science, declared that among the organs and parts which have been made to grow outside the body include the thyroid and parathyroid glands, sections of nerves, whole breasts, livers and spleens, the pancreas, kidneys, hearts, lungs, male and female sex glands, arteries, veins, muscles, joints and even the uterus during pregnancy.

Asked in an interview whether it might be possible to keep these organs alive and sew them in as substitutes for diseased parts Dr. Carrel declared that "it is much too soon to say. Colonel Lindbergh and myself have only been working with the apparatus for three years and we are barely on the threshold."

He declared, however, that the various endocrine glands—the thyroid, pancreas, sex glands, and others—had produced their normal hormone secretions in the Lindbergh pump, thus opening up a possibility of using them as natural factories for hormones to be used in glandular deficiency diseases.

Dr. Carrel made his announcement before the same society which once listened skeptically to the first reports of Benjamin Franklin on electricity. Today's meeting, however, showed no skepticism concerning the possibilities of Dr. Carrel's work since he declared that it was only after more than 900 experiments in experiments in which the apparatus worked automatically for 100,000 hours that he felt willing to report the results.

In addition to maintaining normal body tissues for long periods it is also possible to maintain cancer growths in the apparatus for study of them in living condition.

Asked about its use for studying heart disease, one of the nation's principal causes of death, the Rockefeller Institute scientist declared that it would be "very easy" to study sections of the coronary blood vessels of the heart and perhaps to determine the nature of the blocking of these arteries which results in death.

A startling announcement to the society was that one of the most fundamental processes of reproduction of life—the development of the corpus luteum, or fertilized egg cell, in the uterus had been accomplished inside the glass chamber. This might mean, eventually, the production of children by artificial means, but Dr. Carrel declined to speculate on any such possibilities.

Cruiser 'MarJela' Is Season's First Visitor At Harbo

The "MarJela" of Sturgeon Bay, owned by W. E. Perry of that city, entered the Escanaba municipal yacht basin yesterday afternoon. It was the first visiting craft to tie up at the local harbor this season.

Aboard the 45-foot motor-cruiser were the owner, J. J. Jervak, Charles Council, George Lester, Edward Albro, Harry McCombs, and Ray Fulwiler.

The craft was piloted into the basin by George Jacobson of the Escanaba yacht club. The sand-sucker was at work in the channel leading to the dock, and some tricky maneuvering was necessary to get around it. It will be shifted out of the channel before the "MarJela" leaves for her home port this evening.

Add Sunroom to Home; Not Hard

Would you like to add a sunroom to your home? Or perhaps an outdoor sleeping porch? How about enclosing the furnace in its own room, using asbestos wall board? It will keep the rest of the basement cleaner and provide fireproof walls. Probably you could reduce your fire hazard and insurance premium if you fireproofed your furnace, or placed a fireproof barrier around the furnace.

Wood built-in bookshelves in the living room improve the appearance of the room and give you a changed atmosphere and character to that room? I suggest you consider the effect of building bookshelves all along one wall of the room, with a row of cabinets below as a base for the shelving. Without doubt it will dress up the room and add to its charm.

If you have a porch which can be converted into a sunparlor, or if one can be added to the house, a few large casement windows and some summer furniture will convert an open porch or an added room into a cheerful sitting room.

SHABBY FLOORS
Shabby, splintered floors give an apartment or house an untidy look. They can be modernized at comparatively little cost.

New Materials Are Used To Transform Old Style Of Bath

Many of the new materials on the market for modernizing bathrooms are adapted to the outmoded bathroom of 10 years ago. A wide variety of tile and composition is available. All waterproof, which makes ideal side walls and flooring; and may be obtained in a number of colors. Fixtures have been improved and simplified, and bathtub designs have been changed and improved.

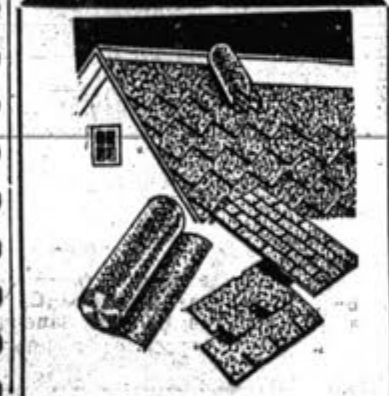

An old bathroom may be completely transformed by a rearrangement of fixtures and addition of new wall and floor material. Projects of this type may be financed under the Property Improvement Credit Plan of the Federal Housing Administration.

NEW DECORATION
Newest schemes of interior decoration feature the bold use of color and a return to the styles that held sway during the early part of the past century. Wallpapers especially designed to contribute to the new theme are colorful and quality figured.

EQUIPMENT CLOSET
A fireproof, well-ventilated, cleaning-equipment storage closet should be added to the kitchen and to the second floor of the house. Oil mops, waxed polishing clothes, etc., are fire hazards and should be stored properly.

It can be installed quickly by an electrical contractor and if you are now burning a lamp of greater wattage, the saving in current consumption will soon more than pay for the cost of putting in the Nite-lite.

Build Now!

People are asking, "Should I build now, or should I wait?" Which shall it be?

Up to the present writing there has been no building boom in this country for several years although in the last year or two there has been an increase in construction and prices did move upward in 1937, but building fell off during the last months of the year and prospects for new construction and even remodeling are rather poor so it would seem that those who can do so should plant to build NOW!

We might look ahead a little into the building field. During the recent depression years, a very marked scarcity of houses took place; building did not keep pace with increase of population, new families through marriage, or to take care of obsolete structures.

Government officials have been studying the problem of starting the building business on a veritable boom, realizing that when there is much construction work in progress there is work provided for a vast army of workers in allied industries which contribute material and appliances and furnishings for them.

Today there are not enough homes available to house people comfortably and adequately. Statistics of housing in the cities show a high percentage of rentals and almost 100 per cent occupancy of habitable buildings. The man who builds today will probably build at prices lower than for many years to come, and the terms for financing are particularly favorable.

In fact, it is now proposed to extend FHA Government insurance to private owners up to 90 per cent of the value of houses costing $6,000 and under. For houses over $6,000, there will be a limit of 80 per cent. Interest and service charges will be cut from 5 1/2 to 5 per cent and the insurance will be figured on the amount currently due on the mortgage, not on the original sum.

When the ball once begins to roll, with these favorable financing terms and if prices remain somewhat satisfactory, vacant properties will start to be improved and the boom will be on its way.

So, BUILD NOW!

Although many tricks of magic take only two minutes to perform, they have cost their originators several hundreds of dollars in material and years of effort to perfect.

The average radish produces about 10,000 seeds annually.

Massive Chimney

How often have we noticed on a home a tiny chimney that does not seem to belong to the house? It looks stuck on and an afterthought. Chimneys are a part of the design of a house and so should be in keeping with the style used. The chimney shown above dominates the end of this house and one cannot help but realize that there is a welcoming fireplace in the room behind.

GARDENS

Foundation Planting Important

Don't overlook the foundation planting and the gardens. They do much to make your home property really attractive and home-like. Conserve the natural beauty. If the site is well wooded with indigenous underbrush and wild flowers, I would protect these plants and shrubs as much as possible during the building operations.

If you do not plan your garden at the same time you plan your house, which is after all the logical thing to do, leave the trees and shrubs standing as much as possible during the construction work and then decide what trees need to be cut down and what foliage needs removing. When you construct your garden, you may find that the natural plants lend themselves to your landscape plans and much actual saving in time and money made by utilizing the natural foliage and trees already there.

So go slow in clearing and cleaning up the property.

There has been developed recently a small lamp that is called "The Nite-lite" which is just the thing to give a soft illumination to halls, stairways and nurseries or any dark spot in the house which is frequently used, and its operating cost is as little as a half cent per night.

How many bumps and abrasions might be avoided by a little light glowing in the darkness—not to speak of the falls or more serious accidents.

NEW BATHS MAY BE BUILT UNDER FHA

Does the bathroom radiator take up too much room? Are the fixtures old-fashioned?

The bathroom can be modernized and the total cost of bringing it up to date does not have to be met all at once. Funds for financing the purchase and installation of new plumbing and heating systems and fixtures can be obtained under the Property Improvement Credit Plan of the Federal Housing Administration from banks, building and loan associations, and finance companies at reasonable rates.

BEDROOMS
Plan your bedrooms so that the head board of the bed is against the wall opposite the doorway. Twin beds may be placed against a wall without crowding if nine feet in width is allowed. If possible arrange the beds so that the occupant sleeps on his right side with his back to the window.

CEDAR CLOSET
A cedar closet at the head of a stairs on the second floor should prove invaluable to the owner of a home.

It is desirable to have such a closet to store linens and woollens, because the cedar lining will keep away moths.

CARE OF FLOORS
Varnished floors last longer and look better if frequently swept with a broom encased in a soft cloth and then wiped with cold water. They should be dried at once. This should be a weekly process.

Modern Kitchen Is Fully Equipped

The modern kitchen must be fully equipped. It must be an attractive place in which to work and plan the meals and to organize the household. That is why so many of the new kitchens have been provided with a small desk, filing cabinet, bookshelves and a phone.

A desk may be built in a corner or some unused space; a pencil sharpener may be attached and the kitchen clock placed above the desk.

Thus while the meals are being prepared much of the planning of the household tasks may be done at this desk, yet convenient to the cooking center for constant supervision.

ATTRACTIVE DESIGNS OF HARDWARE SEEN
Very many attractive hardware designs are now available for the doors in the smaller home. Wrought iron hammered hardware is particularly charming in the Early American style and the English type of house.

The illustration shows huge wrought iron hinges with straps and a wrought iron latch. These are special designs for the particular house in which the door is hung, but they serve to illustrate how appropriately the rough wrought iron hardware appears on such a door.

NEW WALLS
Wall repairs are no longer the expensive items they once were, nor do they now as formerly entail ripping out and tearing down plaster. Certain materials are on the market today that can be placed with dispatch directly over such defects as cracks and discolorations.

Nautical

OPENINGS FREE OF LITTER FOR SAFETY

Scuppers, or openings used as drainage outlets on porches, should be kept free of all leaves, dirt, and other litter. Otherwise, some of the moisture they hold is absorbed by the porch flooring and surrounding materials, thereby causing deterioration. For this reason it is important that outlets of this kind be kept clean, dry, and well covered with durable, water-resistant paint.

SHINGLES
Natural wood or stained shingles may be employed to add to the attractiveness of a small frame home.

REMOVE PORCHES
Porches may be removed from old houses to make them more up to date in appearance, or they may be utilized in enlarging the living room or other rooms. Such changes in structures may be financed under the Property Improvement Credit Plan of the Federal Housing Administration.

On The RECORD

The British-Italian Agreement

Only time will tell whether the British-Italian agreement, signed on Saturday in Rome, will actually contribute to the pacification of Europe, and, if so, whether the terms will permit democratic government to live. It may temporarily forestall the first. That, indeed, seems very likely. War is probably farther off than it was a few weeks ago. And that, of course, is a great deal. On the other hand, we have got to wait and see whether this agreement will serve to weaken the Rome-Berlin axis or whether it will serve to extend it; we shall not have any real light on what is happening until we know what passes between Mussolini and Hitler in conversation soon to take place in Rome; until we see what happens to the French-Soviet pact; until we see what terms Britain offers Germany in an attempt at conciliation there.

At first sight England is clearly following a variation of her traditional policy of never having two potential enemies on the continent of Europe at the same time, of treating the fait accompli realistically, and of attempting to divide power which, when combined, might mean the control of the continent.

And Mussolini is also acting realistically. He has been anxious to further his own interests by challenging Britain, but he has not been anxious to further the German interests. He played with Germany in order to force the hand of England, and he has now got Germany and a militant Pan-Germanism on the Brenner Pass. Therefore, unless he wishes to become a satellite of Germany rather than a partner, he needs an ally.

In the last two years Mussolini has risked starting two wars in Europe. According to this agreement, he has definitely won the Ethiopian war. He had, to be sure, won it already; the agreement is merely a recognition of an accomplished fact.

But the fact that the Ethiopians still had legal claims may have encouraged them to continue the opposition which has been going on to this day, and the fact that Mussolini has no money with which to exploit Ethiopia has made the victory a mockery except for prestige.

It remains to be seen whether the Anglo-Italian treaty will be accompanied by a loan to Italy or with other aid in exploiting East Africa, and whether it will really make it easier for Mussolini to deal with the Ethiopian tribes. If all he gets is the recognition of Ethiopia, then the agreement is tantamount to killing a dead horse.

In Spain Mussolini is giving up a tremendous strategic advantage if the agreement means exactly what it says. Germany and Italy now control every naval air base in Majorca, Spanish Morocco and all over Insurgent Spain—bases which could terribly harass the British, menace the French, and which have cost Mussolini thousands of lives and millions of dollars. Even if we assume that he has been paid or partly paid in Spanish raw materials, he will be no better off than when he went in, and the probability is that he will be very much in the hole.

Of course, the agreement about non-intervention remains the cruel and immoral joke that it has been from the beginning.

The Italian Foreign Minister confirms that his government adheres to the British formula for the proportional withdrawal of volunteers from Spain. . . . at the time and under the conditions laid down by the Non-Intervention Committee.

In view of past history, this simply means that Italy agrees not to withdraw from Spain until Franco has won the war, and England agrees to continue to call active assistance for Franco non-intervention.

But Mussolini agrees that the moment the war is over all Italian volunteers shall immediately leave, and all Italian war material be immediately removed, and all territorial, political, and economic advantages renounced.

So we are asked to believe that Mussolini has been fighting this whole war out of purely altruistic motives, or, we can draw the conclusion that Britain also wants a Franco victory and that England and Italy together will share the spoils.

But Germany is also in Spain. So now England must try to negotiate an agreement with Hitler that why should Hitler do so, except for a very handsome quid pro quo? Who is going to throw him out? England, France, and Italy together? Italy has reaffirmed the Berlin-Rome axis. If Franco wins the war, Spain will be a sovereign power and the dictator will be Franco. Suppose General Franco, who will have conquered Spain with foreign troops, finds that he cannot hold it without their continued presence? Suppose he finds it useful to have German aid to extend and enlarge a Spanish empire in Morocco?

Easter Cruise

BY MARION WHITE Copyright, 1938, NEA Service, Inc.

CAST OF CHARACTERS JOYCE MILNER, heroine; she took an Easter Cruise. DICK HAMILTON, hero; he bumped into the heroine. ISOBEL PORTER, traveler; she sought a mate. Yesterday, Joyce and Dick learn how both have been deceived by Mrs. Porter and Dick asks Joyce to come ashore with him in Kingston.

CHAPTER XVI The Empress was riding slowly into Kingston harbor, cutting the clear blue water so quietly that the white foam of the broken waves was scarcely visible. The doctor stood at the rail with Joyce and Dick, watching the shore line. "You're going to have a beautiful day ashore," he remarked presently. But he was not looking at the sky; he was leaning over the rail, peering down curiously into the depths of the water.

"Is that how you tell good weather down here?" Dick asked with a grin. Dr. Gray smiled sheepishly. "You know the old story of Kingston, don't you?"

"No. What is it?" "Many years ago, so the natives say, old Kingston was wiced in sin, and the Almighty sent a terrible earthquake which slipped the entire city, as it stood, down into the sea. Old sailors say that on a day like this, when the water is clear, you can look down and see the spires of the old churches, just as they stood before the quake. I've even heard a few old superstitious salties insist that they've heard the tolling of the church bells, echoing up from beneath the sea."

Joyce looked over the rail eagerly. "Have you ever seen anything, Doctor?" "I don't know. Sometimes I think I do, and then my better judgment tells me that it's all imagination. There's really little left of a city after an earthquake."

"I suppose," Dick said merrily, "if the ship were to anchor out here and we took a launch ashore, it would be just our luck to be caught at low tide on the spire of old North Church."

"With sharks in our belfry," Joyce added lightly. "You'll have no opportunity to try it," Dr. Gray assured them. "Here in Kingston, we tie right up to the wharf."

Later, when he had left them together, Joyce remembered the matter of their joint profit at the Casino.

"Before we go ashore," she suggested, "will you come to the purser's office with me? I left the money you won at the Casino in trust with him."

"Forget it," he was still studying the floor of the ocean. "I wonder if they've ever sent divers down to see if it's true."

Joyce took him by the arm. "Don't change the subject," she persisted. "Let's go in and see the purser."

"You are the darnedest girl!" He followed her, grumbling. "Your head must ache all the time under the weight of your Yankee conscience."

"Then help me relieve it. He stopped shortly. "We'll compromise. I'll take the money, if you'll take a commission for earning it. That's only good business."

"All right. It's agreed." "I'll give you 50 per cent commission."

"No." "You agreed. Fifty per cent commission, so we'll split the money between us, and spend it ashore. How much is it?"

"More than two hundred dollars." He whistled in surprise. "Two hundred bucks! Boy, are we the lucky pair!"

It was two hundred and fifty-four dollars, to be exact. They sat down in front of the purser's office and counted it out. Joyce added her half of it, one hundred and twenty-seven dollars, to the twenty still remaining of her bingo winnings.

"I'm richer now by two dollars than when I came aboard," she told him brightly. "And I have a much better-looking pocketbook."

She smiled happily as she tucked the money away. Dick leaned back against the wall and watched her with unconcealed admiration, approving the quick responsive smile that lighted her face, the soft brown eyes, bright with sincerity and good humor, the saucy upturned nose, sprinkled now with a few audacious freckles captured under a tropical sun.

"The smartest thing I ever did in my life," he said with sudden tenderness, "was to bump into you that first night out."

Joyce dropped her eyes. "I'm rather glad you did myself," she admitted honestly. They were among the first passengers who picked their cautious way down the gangplank, eager for a quick appraisal of this new land, their eyes alive with expectancy. The wharf was crowded with native vendors. Dick hurried Joyce through the alluring displays. "These things will all be here when we get back," he assured her. "You wouldn't start now to load me down with chairs and hats and baskets, I hope."

They emerged from the merchandising chaos, ran the gauntlet of chauffeurs and guides and self-appointed counsellors, and came at last to the main shopping district. Here was the same friendly, conservative atmosphere of Bermuda, except that Kingston bustled with the commercialized importance of a metropolis. The slow padding of horse-drawn wagons and carriages was drowned in the hum of up-to-date trucking; lazy darkies, riding to town astride their mules, made way for motorcycle delivery carts.

They walked along, gazing at window displays of Bond Street wares. Kingston left no doubt in the visitor's mind that it was an integral part of the British Empire.

"What do we want first?" Dick inquired. "Scotch tweeds or London boots?"

Joyce's eye caught the beauty of crockery in a shop window. "Let's look at dishes," she urged. "I'd love to get some Wedgewood for Aunt Martha. Isn't it beautiful?"

He grinned. "Plates are plates to me. It's the food upon them that counts. But come on; you might pick out something for my mother, too. She's wacky over dishes."

So she shopped for chinaware in an ecstasy of sheer delight, although unimpaired that in Haiti she had criticized women who preferred the foolish allure of shops to the greater opportunity of exploring the scenic splendors of a bounteous Nature.

The moments flew by, a brief interlude in paradise, until Dick, trailing along dutifully in her wake, a blue-eyed docile bull in the china shop, murmured an apologetic plea that she make up her mind in time for luncheon.

She bought a dinner set for Aunt Martha in the traditional Wedgewood blue, to match the wallpaper of her dining room. And for Dick's mother she chose with his enthusiastic approval, an extravagantly dainty Royal Doulton tea set, all gold and green and roses.

He sighed in weary relief as the decisions were made and arrangements completed to have the two sets packaged and delivered to the Empress.

"Thank Heaven people don't have to buy new dishes every day in the week. Do you know how long you've been here?"

"An hour and a half." "Not really! I'm sorry, Dick. But it's been such fun. I can't wait to see Aunt Martha's eyes when she opens the package. . . . Come now, I'll go wherever you want. It can't be time for luncheon yet."

"It's five to twelve. Suppose I take you over to the hotel; you can sit in the garden and cool off. There's just one thing I want to buy, and I see the shop down the street."

"Can't I go along?" "And dawdle another hour and a half? I should say not." They lunched at the Myrtle Bank Hotel, in a glamorous garden setting of royal palms and Bougainvillea, and across the table he handed her the purchase he had made. "Just a little souvenir of the good times we've had together, Joyce," he explained.

She opened the box eagerly. There, nesting in its pillow of snowy cotton, was a beautiful hand-wrought silver locket, large as a hen's egg, and hung on a sturdy silver rope-chain. She caught her breath sharply.

"It's lovely, Dick! And so exquisitely made." She held it up to her dress, enjoying the bright contrast of it against the solid blue.

"There's a place inside for a photograph," he offered lightly. She flushed, not knowing what to answer. Yet she could not be embarrassed at the gift. The locket was no garish jewel a wealthy man might offer his light-o'-love, but it was as fine an ornament as one could buy for a friendly keepsake.

"Joyce," he said presently, and his voice was husky with a warm tenderness which sent the blood coursing through her veins. "Do you know that I'm head over heels in love with you?"

She answered, more from nervousness than from any desire to hurt him: "Is that what you told Isobel, too?"

He dropped his eyes, and a deep flush stained his cheeks. She felt a quick shame for her unkindness. She put out her hand contritely. "I'm sorry I said that, Dick," she apologized sincerely. Then, dropping her eyes: "I guess I just didn't know what else to say."

"I thought you might say that you cared a bit for me."

"Oh, I do, Dick. I enjoy every minute of being with you. . . . But you don't love me."

"I don't know. . . . But she did know, nevertheless. She knew that if this were another moment, a warm moonlit night on deck, with his arms about her, his eyes imploring, she could not help acknowledge the truth of it. Here at a luncheon table, in the broad light of high noon, with the eyes of waiters and other guests upon them, the words stuck in her throat.

So the moment passed, and he said no more of it. (To Be Continued)

The World This Week

By Associated Press

This week of seeking closer collaboration with the U. S.

President Roosevelt said America had watched the conclusion of the Anglo-Italian agreement with sympathetic interest "because it is proof of the value of peaceful negotiations."

The House of Representatives' foreign affairs committee, meanwhile, considered a demand by California's Congressman Scott that the President be asked to name nations which have broken treaties with the U. S.

State department officials told newspaper Secretary Hull already had pointed to Japan, Germany and Italy.

F. D. R.'s Sailing

When President Roosevelt decided to "sail, not drift," he proposed (1) credit expansion, (2) more spending and (3) more lending.

The credit-expansion part did not require any action by Congress.

But more billions could not be spent or lent from Uncle Sam's tillard without Congress's consent.

This week Congress okayed a $50,000,000 increase in the CCC fund for the year starting July 1. And the House of Representatives doubled the highway fund (making it $251,500,000) in the agriculture supply bill, then sent that measure on to the Senate.

That was only the beginning.

Utilities & Homes

Hearings were held on the relief plan. Critics opened fire on the public works plan. And the President arranged a series of confabs, including one with Henry Ford.

His first conference was with RFC Chairman Jones and SEC Chairman Douglas. They planned to help private utilities raise money for construction work. Jones said RFC could buy utility bonds approved by SEC.

At the same time the President started more housing and slum clearance projects, estimated to cost $49,725,325.

These will be carried out under the U. S. Housing Authority. It originally was authorized to issue up to $500,000,000 in bonds to raise money. Since then the President has asked Congress to make the figure $300,000,000 higher.

Pro & Con

In the press, on the air, throughout the country, meanwhile, the whole program was debated.

Republican Chairman Hamilton charged the President was more interested in "priming" polls than jumps.

Michigan's Senator Vandenberg said the program would be "a deterrent rather than a tonic" to business confidence.

Senate Appropriations Chairman Glass said he would support the relief fund request ($1,250,000,000), but would not vote for another billion for public works. RFC, Glass argued, can take care of the latter.

Labor's Non-Partisan League lauded the President's proposals as a scheme to create 3,500,000 jobs.

And Agriculture Secretary Wallace (who was in Omaha explaining crop insurance) declared spending must and will continue until private capital loosens up.

Tax Deadlock

Private capitalists' attention was glued to the tax bill — on which Senate and House conferees were deadlocked.

The Senate committee on the cause and extent of unemployment included in its report a declaration that the Senate's tax plan would be "exceedingly helpful" in creating jobs for the millions of idle hands. But the President preferred the House plan.

There was much talk, too, about the President's suggestion that tax exemption of government securities and salaries be stopped. Treasury Undersecretary Magill recently estimated the government could collect $155,000,000 a year by taxing all federal, state and local securities and salaries. And the President did not think a constitutional amendment would be necessary to do so. But Senator Byrd proposed one anyhow.

Banking

'Sterilization' Story

When foreigners send gold to America, they get notations on a slip of paper such as the banker writes when you deposit money with him. These checks the foreigners write enable to pay for purchases from American business men. And the increase in bank deposits, meanwhile, enables the banks to lend more money.

The banks don't get the gold. The government gets it. And the government can either let the banks have currency secured by the metal or borrow from the banks to pay for the gold. When the government borrows the additional sums the banks have to lend as a result of the increase in their deposits, the banks cannot lend that money to business men. That's what economists call "sterilization" of gold.

Now the government has stopped that. The treasury began preparations last week to "de-sterilize" more than a billion dollars worth of gold and henceforth less, if any, gold will be "sterilized." So more credit will be available at the banks for business men.

The banks' ability to lend business men money also can be increased by reducing reserve requirements. That method, too, has been employed.

Washington

Doctor Walks Out Again

Two years ago Dr. Francis E. Townsend walked out when questioned by Congressmen about his pension plan. One year ago he was convicted of contempt. This week he was ready to begin a 30-day jail sentence, but President Roosevelt pardoned him.

Congressmen concerned with the case had recommended clemency because of his age (71). And besides, Representative Bell argued, Townsend's advisers at the time were "far more responsible for his offense than the doctor himself."

Bigger & Costlier

The bill to authorize a bigger U. S. navy reached the Senate Tuesday. Originally expected to cost $300,000,000, the program now contemplated may cost $1,156,546,000.

The Senate naval committee recommended bigger battleships (45,000 tons) and aircraft carriers (20,000 tons) than were okayed recently by the House of Representatives, and argued "A navy for proper defense is one that all possible enemies have to respect in peace and fear in war."

"We are basing our plans," Senator Nye protested, "on rumor, or gossip, as to what the Japanese might be doing."

At Home

Humber Houses

A plan to build 2,000,000 homes, each to cost $2,500 or less, was approved by the American Institute of Architects at its New Orleans convention. The idea is to solve the small-home problem by organizing architects, federal agencies and building material manufacturers.

The $2,500 would include everything but the land. Each house (200 designs were planned) would have three bedrooms, bath, kitchen and living room.

The institute's president, Charles D. Maginnis, asked the nation's

HOLC Lawyers

O. B. Taylor of Jackson, Miss., was an HOLC lawyer who quit to practice in Washington, Horace Russell of Atlanta was HOLC's general counsel.

Congressman Church this week declared Russell had sent out postage-free letters recommending Taylor as a lawyer. Russell resigned. He and Taylor both denied having had improper intentions. Church believed Russell should be assessed $300 for each letter that constituted a "personal advertisement (for Taylor) at the taxpayers' expense."

Man And Plane Lost

Andrew Carnegie Whitfield, 28, nephew of the late Andrew Carnegie, took off in a sport plane April 15 from a Long Island airport for another field only a few miles away.

Later he was reported to have boarded a liner for Europe. But the ship's captain radioed that Whitfield was not on board.

Long Island and adjacent areas had been thoroughly searched in the meantime, but neither the plane nor Whitfield had been located.

Hollywood Grandma

On her 73d birthday Tuesday, grandmother May Robson rose at 6 a. m. to go on shining as a movie star. Last year was the busiest and most profitable of her 50 years in show business. "My hope," she says, "is that when the end does come, it will be like the lowering of a curtain—swift and sure."

Labor

Dues And Shutdowns

To collect dues, CIO representatives began stopping General Motors employes on their way to work in Flint, Mich.

A shutdown followed. President Knudsen of the corporation accused the union of seeking "a closed shop by coercive methods." President Martin of the auto workers said Knudsen wanted an "excuse" for closing the plant.

The union agreed to call off its pickets.

Fine Jumbo Perch Catch Made Off Nahma Docks

Catching the legal bag limit in about two hours, the Escanaba fishermen above report that "fishin' fine" at Nahma. Lawrence Rouille (left), Harold Johnston and Basil Gillespie bagged 150 jumbo perch over 8 inches. Troll lines were used by the men, who fished from a boat, throwing the lines out and hauling them back in again. "You have to go back on shore behind a tree to bait your hook," Johnston said, "otherwise they take the bait right out of your hand." Good, old-fashioned angle worms are the bait used at Nahma, which is a favorite perch fishing spot for local fishermen.

And Chairman Walsh replied that Japan, if aided by either Germany or Russia, could attack and destroy the present-day U. S. navy.

Pennsylvania's Republican Senator Davis this week got the place on the joint congressional committee to investigate TVA which Senators McNary, Borah and Capper had spurned.

In Short...

The Soviet purge of collective farmers was ordered stopped.

Earthquakes in Turkey left 800 dead or missing, 50,000 homeless.

Receding floods in Idaho, Montana and Washington left four dead and more than $500,000 damage.

The New York Drama Critics Circle chose "Of Mice and Men" as this year's best play.

Ray Scruggs, banker and former Oklahoma City school board treasurer, was indicted for misusing funds.

U. S. Senate lobby investigators failed in their third attempt to obtain records of the National Committee to Uphold Constitutional Government.

Married Hazel Forbes Richmond, former Folles girl, to Harry Richmond, singer.

Died Charles J. Colden, California congressman; John P. Dore, Seattle's mayor; Mrs. Edwin Markham, poet's wife.

Play Ball

At Griffith Stadium, Washington, D. C., Franklin Delano Roosevelt rose in his flag-teeemed box, took a full wind-up, tossed a low, fast ball onto the diamond. Pitcher Roosevelt was forthwith replaced by professional hurlers of the Philadelphia and Washington teams. And the 1938 baseball season was on.

Four teams played April 18, the day Roosevelt started. Next day all 16 major league teams had kicked the lid off the 1938 season. Record crowds—totaling 192,855 persons—assisted. Since all professional tossers were hotly, Roosevelt's was the outstanding pitching performance of the first days.

Kansas City Scandal

In the U. S. investigation of 1938 Kansas City election cheating, 267 persons have been indicted and 61 convicted. Five pleas of guilty and 25 of no defense have been received.

Judge Reeves, as he sentenced 11 more persons this week, noted that nearly every case tried has shown "ruffians and gangsters" were at the polls, ready "to kill to achieve their ends." And he called on "conspirators who perhaps are in high positions" to confess "that they planned these atrocious crimes."

While Martin Was Away

Washington's Acting Gov. Victor Meyers, in the absence of Gov. Clarence D. Martin, called for a special session of the state legislature. Just then Martin got back and announced "There won't be any special session when we get through with him."

Wage-Hour Bill

The latest wage-hour proposal in Congress provides for a minimum wage that would rise from 25 to 40 cents an hour in three years and a maximum week that would drop from 44 to 40 hours in two years.

It was denounced this week by a minority of the house labor committee as "arbitrary and discriminatory."

Rules Chairman O'Connor recently, and vainly, urged his committee to let the House of Representatives vote on it.

Rubber Wages

Half the American rubber industry has been centered in Akron, Ohio.

But wages there are higher than competitors elsewhere are paying, President Robertson, of the B. F. Goodrich Co., told stockholders Tuesday. An adjustment is being sought, but "there is quite a possibility of further decentralization" as a result of the "competitive situation," he added.

Spain's War Won?

Spain's insurgents this week gained more mileage by end runs than by plunging at the center of the loyalist line defending Barcelona.

On the Mediterranean and they swung southward to widen their coastline. On the northern end, they took frontier posts through which loyalists had been fleeing to France.

Caudillo Franco, blessed by Pope Pius, said the war was all over but for the surrendering. Urging loyalists to do that pronto, he promised they would be treated fairly.

But there still was life (2,000,000 persons in Catalonia and 10,000,000 in the south) in loyalist territory and still hope in the declarations of both Premier Juan Negrin at Barcelona and General Jose Miaja, the boss at Madrid.

So insurgents resumed aerial bombardment of the section near the French frontier and simultaneously attacked Madrid again.

Mexico: Three Wishes

A year ago this month Mexico exported 2,000,000 barrels of oil. Since taking over foreigners' oil companies one month ago, Mexico has exported only 250,000 barrels.

Workers have received their regular pay, but not the extra benefits the private companies were ordered to pay. The latter contended such benefits could not be paid, and it was this quarrel that led to expropriation.

With storage tanks full, Mexico this week went on looking for markets, tankers to ship oil in, and money with which to pay off the former owners.

Rumanians Can't Yip

A fourth of Rumania's voters last December favored the All-for-Fatherland party led by pro-Nazi, anti-Semitic Corneliu Zelea Codreanu. Two months later King Carol rewrote Rumania's constitution and Codreanu agreed to dissolve his party. This week, Codreanu, arrested with 1,500 followers, was tried and sent to prison for six months for disloyalty.

Henceforth, the government announced, even propagandizing for lower taxes will be illegal. But Codreanu's crowd likened his imprisonment to that of Adolf Hitler years ago—and planned to continue the struggle fascistize Rumania.

Michigan In Washington

Murphy Democrats didn't like a little bit Congressman Albert J. Engel's pushing part of the blame for the election of "two palaces" in the Philippines upon the former High Commissioner in a headline-speech in the House. But those Democrats, both important and numerous in Washington, out to feed any fire that will burn up McNutt-for-President were delighted that he presented a picture of a McNutt content with such luxurious spending.

Engel was really pretty cute. The Muskegon Republican made nation-wide headlines out of a two year old almost forgotten Senate Appropriation for a $500,000 palace in Manila and another hot weather one of $250,000 up in the Hills just when it would help his party in the coming election back home. Further it aids the fight in the House against the President's new relief-spending program.

The idea to spring these palaces came to Engel when McNutt appeared before the War sub-committee of the Appropriations committee of which Engel is a member. Maybe McNutt did not realize that one of his questioners was from Michigan, but he certainly quite unnecessarily offered damning testimony against his predecessor in the Philippines, Governor Frank Murphy.

When asked about the site erected out of old Manila Bay, McNutt said it was not the only available site, or the one he would have personally chosen. The United States already owned land, he revealed, that could have been used for the offices and residence of its High Commissioner. He neatly pinned the choice of site upon Murphy.

As Engel, in great detail told all about the 263 feet long palace of 36 rooms, some 49 feet longer and wider than the White House, Rabaut, of Detroit, and Frank E. Hook, of Ironwood, jumped to Murphy's defense.

Rabaut complained "the Governor, an honest and respected individual, was being blamed for something which was simply an official act following the approval of the Army and Navy engineers. Murphy is up for election so it is time to dig around and find old brickbats." Congressman Kitchens, of Arkansas, added a sly reference to Hoover's 44 million dollar Commerce Building.

Since the appropriation has already been approved by Congress there is little likelihood that the construction of the two offices-residences will be halted, although Engel maintains it is within President Roosevelt's power to curtail the amount.

When A Merchant Is Fooling Himself

The merchant who is not advertising and who observes that his competitor is not advertising either, is fooling himself if he believes that competitive advertising is not hurting him.

Daily newspapers from neighboring towns come into his town every day. Some of his potential customers read them, and note the advertising messages they carry. Unless the home merchant is meeting this competition with similar advertising, he is losing business that he should have. If he doesn't think so, he is kidding himself, and the longer he kids himself the more business he will lose.

A certain amount of business will come to a town regardless of the efforts put forth by merchants. But there isn't enough business of this kind to make any town a good business town. It is the business that may come to a town or go to a competing town, depending upon the type of merchandising in the two towns, that keeps a business institution out of the red.

Business recovery for one town may mean business recession for a neighboring town. Which kind of town are you, Mr. Merchant, going to do business in in the future?

Local Folks Lose An Hour of Sleep

Manistique residents lost an hour of sleep last night. With the change from central standard time to daylight savings time, Manistique residents turned their timepieces ahead one hour before retiring last night. But they'll get that hour back next September, when the community reverts to central standard time.

This city, along with many neighboring communities, will operate on fast time throughout the summer months to provide an extra hour of daylight in the evening.

Church services today are scheduled on fast time.

QUALITY At Low Cost

Two important factors in buying a monument are price and quality. One can be as easily neglected as the other if the purchaser is not careful about the selection. The best way is to go to a reputable firm, select the stone desired, see what you buy and what you are getting for your money. Take these precautions and you'll be satisfied.

On the Record

By Dorothy Thompson

I cannot see that the negotiation of this treaty ends the system of general blackmail which has kept Europe in an agonized uncertainty for the last few years.

This column continues to be skeptical and not too over-optimistic regarding the effect of this treaty in the long run.

Hitler does not plan a "conquest" of Central Europe. He plans penetration and hegemony under the threat of force.

The agreement to suspend propaganda against each other will be interesting to watch. This may be interpreted in Great Britain to mean the suspension of all anti-fascist opinion.

MUCH RIVALRY BEING SHOWN

Mann and Peppe Display Anger in Feud Over Swimming Meets

BY JERRY BRONFIELD (NEA Service Staff Writer) Columbus, O.—Before Matt Mann and Mike Peppe are done the famed feud between the Hatfields and the McCoys will have looked like a couple of schoolboys arguing over their swimming teams.

The Michigan-Ohio State rivalry has been a fierce one for years, but no one ever suspected that the boys would get so heated up over their swimming teams.

Under Mann's guidance Michigan has become established as the leading college tank team in the country. The Wolverines hadn't been defeated in a dual meet in seven years until Mike Peppe's upstart Buckeyes twice backwashed the Wolverines in dual engagements this past season.

Mann suffered further humiliation when the Bucks captured the Big Ten crown, but gained a measure of revenge when the Wolves won the National Collegiate meet from the Scarlet by the slender margin of one point.

WE, the WOMEN

BY RUTH MILLETT

Henry Ford's advice to young men to pick out a good mother-in-law ought to be quite a few beginning-to-be-middle-aged women out of complacency.

"What," they should be saying to themselves, "would a young man interested in Dorothy think about me? Am I the kind of person he wouldn't mind seeing Dorothy become in another twenty years?"

Part of the answer will be found in a mirror. Does it reflect a woman still young, so far as slimmness and grace go? Or do the years show their weight?

And what about the lines that the years are bound to have left? Are they soft lines left by happiness and spirit, or hard lines etched by discontent?

The rest of the questions Dorothy's mother can answer without the help of a mirror. "Do I get a kick out of life, or is all my enthusiasm and curiosity spent?"

"Do my husband and I still prefer each other's company to anyone else's in the world, or has our marriage drifted into monotony?"

"Have I any interests outside my family, or am I living my life entirely through them, dependent on their 'doings' for my excitement and stimulation?"

"Do I always raise objections when spur of the moment plans are being made?"

"Is my conversation mostly concerned with gossip, children, and food?"

"Am I first a wife, or first a mother?"

"Can I let my children alone or do I try to manage them and plan their lives?"

"Is my house more important to me than 'things' have a right to be?"

"Am I a nervous, jittery person who keeps everyone stirred up, or have the years taught me how to take life easily?"

A hard test, you say. But then a woman will never be judged more critically than by a young man whose sentimentality extends only as far as her daughter.

SCOUT LEADERS TO MEET TODAY

Outdoor Session Beigs Held At Flat Rock

The final session of the Boy Scout training course, now in its 6th week, is to be conducted this afternoon at John Norton's cabin in Flat Rock.

Basketball Game Opens Bonifas Building Today

BASEBALL TEAM STARTS PRACTICE SESSIONS TODAY

ST. JOE ALUMNI PLAY ESKYMOS

Old Rivals Face Each Other In New Gym; Starts At 8

The new Bonifas Memorial gymnasium, one of the most beautiful and well planned gymnasiums in the Upper Peninsula will be dedicated this evening at 8 o'clock when the alumni of St. Joseph high school will meet the Eskymo grads in a special game. No preliminary game is scheduled.

The floor is in perfect condition and a new electrically operated scoreboard was installed yesterday. All is in readiness for the opening game this evening.

Leo Brunelle, former St. Joseph high school coach, has been holding practice sessions for the past two weeks with his former stars and reported yesterday he expects them to take the Eskymo alumni into camp. One unfortunate note was injected into the Parochial camp with the announcement that Phil Brasseur, star guard, was injured in practice Thursday night and is not likely to play this evening. Otherwise all members are in good physical condition.

The St. Joseph lineup will be chosen from Brasseur, Sharkey, Harvey, McGovern, B. Boddy, Beaumier, Roy, Walker, Gleich, F. Boddy, Kohman, Mileski, Grolean and Menard.

The Eskymo lineup will consist of Job Anderson, Beaudin, Del Johnson, Hogan, Ed and Roy Johnson, Gangstad, Emb, Kostitzky and Jensen, the latter being manager.

Carl Nordberg, Escanaba high school coach, will officiate.

DEADPAN JOE BACK IN TOWN

DiMaggio Proves That He Hasn't Lost Batting Eye

New York, April 23. (AP)—Joe DiMaggio slipped into town through the "back door" today and proceeded to show his hold-out hasn't done his batting eye any harm by clouting several balls out of the lot during the Yankees' batting practice.

To avoid a "welcome committee" at New York, Deadpan DiMaggio hopped off the train at Newark and was met by his close friend, Joe Gould, the fight manager. Joe walked away from would-be interviewers, and completed the trip to the Yankee stadium by automobile.

After getting into uniform, he greeted Manager Joe McCarthy. Nothing was said as they shook hands, smiled pleasantly and proceeded to the work of pre-game practice before the Yanks-Senators game at the stadium.

With a bat in his hands during practice, Joe looked like the same old wallpaper. He took a toe-bolt on several pitches and parked them in the DiMaggio cheerleaders' section in the left-field bleachers. "That guy," said Manager Joe, "could get out of bed on New Year's Day and hit the ball out of the park."

It's virtually certain DiMaggio won't get into regular action this week-end, since he hasn't yet signed a contract. That proceeding will be held Monday.

Even after he signs, it's doubtful if Joe will see action before two weeks are over. He has indicated it may take him that long to get into playing condition. All the time he is out, he will be losing pay at the rate of $162 per day, since Yankee officials have insisted he will not draw a dime until he's ready for action.

Loss Streak Ends For Browns; Sox On Losing End, 5 to 4

St. Louis, April 23. (AP)—Buck Newsom, stalwart right hander, pitched and baited the Browns to a 5 to 4 victory over the Chicago White Sox here today, breaking the St. Louisians' three-game losing streak and putting his club even with the Sox in the series.

Buck held the Sox to a half dozen hits and drove in two runs with singles, the last coming in the eighth with Red Kress on third waiting to score the winning run. Mel Mazera and Gerald Walker hit home runs.

Relay Mark Broken; Michigan Wins Meet
Bloomington, Ind., April 23 (AP)—Indiana university's two-mile relay team set a new national collegiate record of 7 minutes, 38.1 seconds in a quadrangular track meet here today won by Michigan. The new mark bettered Georgetown university's record of 7 minutes, 42 seconds in 1925.
Michigan won the meet with 67 2-3 points, largely through the efforts of Bill Watson's first places in the broad jump and shot put and four second places in the relays. Notre Dame scored 48 points; Indiana 44 2-3 and Ohio State 37 2-3.
Two stadium records fell as the stars competed under ideal weather conditions. Watson put the shot 50 feet, 7 inches to break Tennessee John Townsend's mark of 46 feet, 6 1/2 inches of two years ago. Watson, negro star, also set a new stadium record of 24 feet, 1 1/2 inches in the broad jump. The old mark was 23 feet, 7 1/2 inches set by Church of Indiana in 1932.
Indiana scored 40 points in capturing four of the five relays. Ohio State won the mile relay in which Indiana finished last.

BILL BARCLAY RATED HIGHLY

Ann Arbor, Mich., April 23 (AP)—Random sports shots from the University of Michigan campus: Don't overlook Flint's Bill Barclay in listing Michigan's athletics greats. . . . he'll graduate in June with eight monograms and three each in football and golf and two in basketball. . . . just missing the nine-letter hall of fame to which Harry Kipke, Bennie Oosterbaan, Norm Daniels and Russ Oliver belong. . . . back in the days of turtle neck sweaters and short haircuts Neil Snow won 10 letters. . . . but that was before anyone ever thought of the three-year rule. . . . six monograms. . . . ranking with Barclay in the number of letter won are Joe Truskowski, now Wayne University line coach, Matt Patanelli, 1936 football captain, and Ted Petocz, Toronto Maple Leafs outfielder.

Believe it or not, but the biggest football crowd to sit in the stadium was the one that saw Michigan whip Harvard, 14 to 12, back in 1929. . . . the paid attendance was 85,018. . . . a hundred or so less saw Oosterbaan & Co. dedicate the big bowl in 1927 with a victory over arch-rival Ohio State. . . . all of which scotches the 93,500 estimate of the 1933 Michigan-Ohio State crowd. . . . ticket manager Harry Tillotson, who ought to know, says that game drew $2,600,000, the next largest crowd, saw Michigan State's Spartans win their fourth straight game last fall instead of the reported 71,100.

Congratulations to Athletic Director Fielding H. (Hurry-up) Yost. . . . He's 67 years old next Saturday. . . . and hates to think of retiring three years hence. . . . Fort Worth, Tex., alumni plan a dinner in his honor next Saturday. . . . a three-foot picture of "Grand Old Man" will occupy the place of honor at the table. . . . Football Coach Herbert O. (Fritz) Crisler once had to give up golf because, he said, it ruined his temperament. . . . for recreation he likes handball and squash. . . . Fred Janke of Jackson, football captain-elect, thinks he should do everything better than any of his teammates because he is their leader. . . . and is disappointed if he doesn't.

Recapitulation. . . . Michigan's winter sports team batted .595, winning 39 contests and losing 17. . . . the Wolverines won Big Ten championships in track and wrestling, shared the hockey crown with Minnesota, and climaxed their worst swimming season in years by grabbing the national intercollegiate title for the fifth successive year.

ALL PLAYERS ARE ELIGIBLE

Positions Wide Open; Season Schedule Is Announced

A call was issued yesterday for baseball players from Escanaba, Gladstone, Manistique and surrounding towns to report for tryouts for the Escanaba city team this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the city diamond on South 23rd Street. Practice sessions will be held nightly thereafter until the league schedule opens on May 8.

The Ford Twins will invade Crystal Falls, the Niagara Badgers will entertain Escanaba and South Range will play host to Negaunee in the Northern Wisconsin Michigan league season opens May 8, according to the official schedule released yesterday by Secretary-Treasurer Buck Erickson and approved by President S. A. Donovan and the scheduled committee.

The first half will finish July 3. The second half will get under way July 4 and wind up on Labor day, Monday, September 5. The annual all-star game between the first half champions and a squad picked from the remaining five entries will be played Sunday, July 17. All other teams will be idle on this date to make the all-star game the loop's center attraction.

Much difficulty developed in drafting the schedule to the satisfaction of all the entries, with Niagara and the Ford Twins drawing their crowds from the same territory, both teams playing home games on the same date would mean smaller gate receipts. Escanaba requested that the slate be so drafted that its team would be away from home on May 30, the day of the Escanaba relays, and also on August 14. Crystal Falls also requested specific home dates.

Weather A Factor

The schedule as approved gives Niagara and the Ford Twins home games on different Sundays and draws Escanaba away from its field on May 30, but without disrupting the entire slate it is impossible to move Escanaba on August 14. The schedule also complies with the wishes of the Crystal Falls team. The only probable difficulty the league may face in the schedule is the question of unfavorable weather for the opening game at South Range, the most northerly team in the circuit. However, recent reports of weather conditions in that region are favorable.

This year is different, and expected to be a more satisfactory system will be used in selecting the players for the all-star game. The team will be chosen through a newspaper poll of the fans in the localities which are represented by teams in the league. Among the newspapers eligible to assist in the vote are the Escanaba Press, The Marquette Mining Journal, Crystal Falls Diamond Drill, Houghton Mining Gazette and The Iron Mountain News.

The 1938 schedule follows:

Home Debut Ruined For Athletics; Sox Take 10-4 Triumph

Philadelphia, April 23 (AP)—Behind the effective pitching of the veteran southpaw, Lefty Grove, the Boston Red Sox today ruined the Athletics' home opening by winning, 10 to 4, before a crowd of 10,895.

Within five minutes after Governor George Earle had tossed out the opening ball, the slugging Red Sox had chased Edgar Smith from the mound to give Grove a three-run lead on Vosmik's double, Jimmy Foss's homer, Cronin's walk and Higgins' two-bagger.

INDIANS TRIM TIGERS AGAIN

Johnny Allen Keeps Hits Scattered For 6-3 Win In Detroit

Detroit, April 23 (AP)—Scattering eight Detroit hits, Johnny Allen pitched the Cleveland Indians to a 6 to 3 victory over the Tigers here today. The victory, Cleveland's second straight, assured the Indians the series, which ends Sunday.

By winning, Cleveland remained deadlocked with Washington and Boston for first place in the American League. The defeat left the Bengals in seventh place with one victory in five starts.

The triumph was particularly sweet for the fiery-tempered Allen because it was scored at the expense of "Whistling Jake" Wade, erratic Tiger southpaw. Wade beat Allen, 1 to 0, in the final game of the 1937 season here when the Cleveland was trying for a perfect season and his 16th consecutive victory. Wade thwarted Allen's hopes of equalling the American League record for consecutive pitching victories with a one-hit performance.

Allen also starred at bat today, driving in three Cleveland runs.

Wade, who has been troubled by control ever since he entered the majors, was wild today and his inability to locate the plate caused his downfall.

SIUMP CLOSES MARKET WEEK

BY FREDERICK GARDNER (Associated Press Financial Writer) New York, April 23 (AP)—The stock market tripped over light profit selling today and ended the week on a moderately downward slant.

In the lightest dealings for about six weeks, industrial yields fractions to a point or so.

The principal news of the day was the compromise on the tax revision bill reached by the senate and house conferees. While Wall Street, on the whole, viewed the agreement as "constructive," traders generally exhibited a tendency to wait for final legislative action.

Countering the optimism engendered by tax developments were threats of fresh strikes in Michigan automotive centers and the continuance of corporation statements revealing the effect of the recession on earnings.

Transfers of 410,950 shares were the lowest since March 12, and compared with 1,057,860 last Saturday when the trend was sharply upward. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .2 of a point at 40.4. On the week the composite suffered a net loss of .3 of a point. It was the first decline after three consecutive weekly advances.

Prominent among the day's losers were U. S. Steel at 46, Bethlehem at 49, General Motors at 23 5/8, Chrysler at 31 1/8, Westinghouse at 27 1/8, American Telephone at 128 1/2, Anaconda at 29 1/4, Sears Roebuck at 58 1/2, Douglas Aircraft at 42 7/8, International Harvester at 60 1/8, Du Pont at 120 1/8, Goodyear at 19 1/2 and Dome Mines at 54 1/8.

Consolidated Edison, an outstanding strong spot, responding to the company's recent successful flotation of $60,000,000 of debentures, held a gain of a point at 22 5/8.

FEDERAL LOANS SETTLE LOWER

New York, April 23 (AP)—Second grade loans led the bond market today as U. S. governments, following an unusually wide advance during the week, settled in a slightly slower range.

The list again felt the boisterous effect of a good demand for rail issues. Most carriers had lagged in the upward movement inspired by the administration's credit expansion program, but the majority moved ahead for large gains yesterday.

Declines in the federals ranged from 1-32 to 8-32 of a point which shaded only in a small way the cumulative gains made since President Roosevelt announced his recovery and credit loosening proposals on April 14.

Corporates higher at the finish included Pennsylvania 4 1/4 at 78 1/2, up 1/2; Western Union 5 at 67 7/8, up 7/8; Chicago Great Western 4 at 17 1/2, up 1/2; Santa Fe general 4 at 103 1/2, up 7/8; International Telephone 5 at 61 1/4, up 1/2; Nickel Plate 4 1/2 at 36 1/2, up 1/2, and Consolidated Oil 3 1/2 at 100 1/2, up 1/2.

A few South American loans recorded substantial gains under the lead of Brazilian issues. Other groups were mixed and narrow. Transactions totaled $4,236,078 against $4,769,900 last Saturday.

LIBERALS CALLED TO MEET IN MADISON

Madison, April 22 (AP)—Governor Phillip F. LaFollette tonight issued a call for a meeting of liberals in Madison next Thursday night which may be the forerunner of a national third party.

The governor announced the meeting in the last of four radio speeches in which he called for organized public action to rout the depression, and for the third time rapped the trend of the Roosevelt administration's recovery policies.

LaFollette said he had invited between 3,000 and 4,000 persons with whom he had talked in the last three months.

STUDENTS WIN HONORS

Ann Arbor (AP)—The University of Michigan announced Friday that 49 students had been elected to phi eta sigma, national freshman honorary scholastic society. Included in those named were Vincent A. Vis, Grand Rapids; Bryna M. Emunson, Manistep; Woodrow G. Fralling, Iron River; and Robert L. Gustafson, Iron Mountain.

CONFERENCE FAILS TO SETTLE STRIKE

Detroit, April 23 (AP)—A four-hour conference between the Bohn Aluminum & Brass corporation and the United Automobile Workers of America today failed to settle the strike which closed the company's seven plants in the Detroit area.

Richard T. Frankenstein, assistant international vice-president, who represented the union, said no time was set for resuming the discussion. P. A. Markey, Bohn vice president, said the plants would be opened Monday to all employees who wish to work.

KILLED IN PLUNGE

Detroit, April 22 (AP)—The body of a man identified as Clyde Hess, 32, was found Friday on a court near an apartment building. Police said Clyde apparently had been killed in a plunge from the building. They said he was unemployed and separated from his wife.

ANOTHER BLOSSOM QUEEN

Battle Creek, Mich., April 22 (AP)—Lella Bradley, 18-year-old high school senior, has been selected to represent Battle Creek at the Blossom festival. She has brown hair and eyes.

Basketball Game Opens Bonifas Building Today

BASEBALL TEAM STARTS PRACTICE SESSIONS TODAY

ST. JOE ALUMNI PLAY ESKYMOS

Old Rivals Face Each Other In New Gym; Starts At 8

The new Bonifas Memorial gymnasium, one of the most beautiful and well planned gymnasiums in the Upper Peninsula will be dedicated this evening at 8 o'clock when the alumni of St. Joseph high school will meet the Eskymos in a special game. No preliminary game is scheduled.

The floor is in perfect condition and a new electrically operated scoreboard was installed yesterday. All is in readiness for the opening game this evening.

Leo Brunelle, former St. Joseph high school coach, has been holding practice sessions for the past two weeks with his former stars and reported yesterday he expects them to take the Eskymo alumni into camp. One unfortunate note was injected into the Parochial camp with the announcement that Phil Brasseur, star guard, was injured in practice Thursday night and is not likely to play this evening. Otherwise all members are in good physical condition.

The St. Joseph lineup will be chosen from Brasseur, Sharkey, Harvey, McGovern, B. Boddy, Beaumier, Roy, Walker, Gleich, P. Boddy, Kohlman, Mileak, Gro-leau and Menard.

The Eskymo lineup will consist of Art Anderson, Beaudin, Del Johnson, Hogan, Ed and Roy Johnson, Gangstad, Embs, Kotsky and Jensen, the latter being manager.

Carl Nordberg, Escanaba high school coach, will officiate.

DEADPAN JOE BACK IN TOWN

DiMaggio Proves That He Hasn't Lost Batting Eye

New York, April 23. (AP)—Joe DiMaggio slipped into town through the "back door" today and proceeded to show his hold-out hasn't done his batting eye any harm by clouting several balls out of the lot during the Yankees' batting practice.

To avoid a "welcome committee" at New York, Deadpan DiMaggio hopped off the train at Newark and was met by his close friend, Joe Gould, the fight manager. Joe walked away from would-be interviewers, and completed the trip to the Yankee stadium by automobile.

After getting into uniform, he greeted Manager Joe McCarthy. Nothing was said as they shook hands, smiled pleasantly and proceeded to the work of pre-game practice before the Yankee-Senators game at the stadium.

With a bat in his hands during practice, Joe looked like the same old wallop. He took a toe-hold on several pitches and parked them in the left-field bleachers.

"That guy," said Manager Joe, "could get out of bed on New Year's Day and hit the ball out of the park."

It's virtually certain DiMaggio won't get into regular action this week-end, since he hasn't yet signed a contract. That proceeding will be held Monday.

Even after he signs, it's doubtful if Joe will see action before two weeks are over. He has indicated it may take him that long to get into playing condition. All the time he is out, he will be losing pay at the rate of $152 per day, since Yankee officials have insisted he will not draw a dime until he's ready for action.

Losing Streak Ends For Browns; Sox On Losing End, 5 to 4

St. Louis, April 23 (AP)—Buck Newsum, stalwart right hander, pitched and batted the Browns to a 5 to 4 victory over the Chicago White Sox here today, breaking the St. Louisians' three-game losing streak and putting his club even with the Sox in the series.

Buck held the Sox to a half dozen hits and drove in two runs with singles, the last coming in the eighth with Red Kress on third waiting to score the winning run. Mel Mazzera and Gerald Walker hit home runs.

Score by innings:

TWO CHANGES IN STANDINGS

Haas Five Breaks Into Fifth Place; Violetta Hits 619

The Haas Beer five of Negaunee broke into fifth place in the Upper Peninsula five-man event at the Hialea Hotel Friday night. Another important change was made in the singles when S. J. Violetta of Negaunee cracked 619 for third place. With only a week more of tournament bowling remaining, an extremely heavy week-end is scheduled.

RELAY MARK BROKEN; Michigan Wins Meet

Bloomington, Ind., April 23 (AP)—Indiana university's two-mile relay team set a new national collegiate record of 7 minutes, 38.1 seconds in a quadrangular track meet here today won by Michigan. The new mark bettered Georgetown university's record of 7 minutes, 42 seconds in 1925.

Michigan won the meet with 67 2-3 points, largely through the efforts of Bill Watson's first places in the broad jump and shot put and four second places in the relays. Notre Dame scored 48 points; Indiana 44 2-3 and Ohio State 37 2-3.

Two stadium records fell as the stars competed under ideal weather conditions. Watson put the shot 50 feet, 7 inches to break teammate John Townsend's mark of 46 feet, 3/4 inches of two years ago. Watson, negro star, also set a new stadium record of 24 feet, 1 1/2 inches in the broad jump. The old mark was 23 feet, 7 3/8 inches set by Church of Indiana in 1932.

Indiana scored 40 points in capturing four of the five relays. Ohio State won the mile relay in which Indiana finished last.

SPILLING the DOPE

Bob Feller's one-hit game brought cheer to his mother, seriously ill with pneumonia at her home in Van Meter, Ia. . . "That's fine," she said, "but it's a shame he couldn't have had a no-hit game."

Overnight racing notes: Jockey Johnny Longdon kept his pace at least one winner a day for the James Fitzsimmons-trained stables at Jamaica Wednesday by riding Teufel to victory . . . Thomas J. Healey's Black Look defeated Mrs. F. Graham Lewis' Kentucky Derby hope, Great Union, by a nose in six furlongs.

ALL PLAYERS ARE ELIGIBLE

Positions Wide Open; Season Schedule Is Announced

A call was issued yesterday for baseball players from Escanaba, Gladstone, Manistiquet and surrounding towns to report for tryouts for the Escanaba city team this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the city diamond on South 23rd Street. Practice sessions will be held nightly thereafter until the league schedule opens on May 8.

The Ford Twins will invade Crystal Falls, the Niagara Badgers will entertain Escanaba and South Range will play host to Negaunee in the Northern Wisconsin Michigan league season opens May 8, according to the official schedule released yesterday by Secretary-Treasurer Buck Erickson and approved by President S. A. Donovan and the schedule committee.

The first half will finish July 3. The second half will get under way July 4 and wind up on labor day, Monday, September 5. The annual all-star game between the first half champions and a squad picked from the remaining five entries will be played Sunday, July 17. All other teams will be idle on this date to make the all-star game the loop's center attraction.

Much difficulty developed in drafting the schedule to the satisfaction of all the entries, with Niagara and the Ford Twins drawing their crowds from the same territory, both teams playing home games on the same date would mean smaller gate receipts. Escanaba requested that the slate be so drafted that its team would be away from home on May 30, the day of the Escanaba relays, and also on August 14. Crystal Falls also requested specific home dates.

Weather A Factor

The schedule as approved gives Niagara and the Ford Twins home games on different Sundays and draws Escanaba away from its field on May 30, but without disrupting the entire slate it is impossible to move Escanaba on August 14. The schedule also complies with the wishes of the Crystal Falls team. The only probable difficulty the league may face in the schedule is the question of unfavorable weather for the opening game at South Range, the most northerly team in the circuit. However, recent reports of weather conditions in that region are favorable.

This year a different, and expected to be a more satisfactory, system will be used in selecting the players for the all-star game. The team will be chosen through a newspaper poll of the fans in the localities which are represented by teams in the league. Among the newspapers eligible to assist in the vote are the Escanaba Press, The Marquette Mining Journal, Crystal Falls Diamond Drill, Houghton Mining Gazette and The Iron Mountain News.

The 1938 schedule follows:

Home Debut Ruined For Athletics; Sox Take 10-4 Triumph

Philadelphia, April 23 (AP)—Behind the effective pitching of the veteran southpaw, Lefty Grove, the Boston Red Sox today ruined the Athletics' home opening by winning, 10 to 4, before a crowd of 10,895.

Within five minutes after Grover George Earle had tossed out the opening ball, the slugging Red Sox had chased Edgar Smith from the mound to give Grove a three-run lead on Voamik's double, Jimmy Foss's homer, Cronin's walk and Higgins' two-bagger.

CARDS BLANKED BY CHICAGO, 4-0

French, Cub Southpaw, Pitches Sparkling 4-Hit Game

Chicago, April 23 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs, behind the brilliant shut-out pitching of Larry French, shut out the St. Louis Cardinals, 4 to 0, today before 7,770 spectators at Wrigley Field.

The Cub southpaw was in serious trouble and the four Cardinal safeties, two by Mickey Owen and the others by Enos Slaughter and Stu Martin, all came in separate frames. As evidence of French's effectiveness, three of the four St. Louis safeties came after two were out. The Cub victory squared a series which winds up Sunday, with Dizzy Dean scheduled to hurl for the Cubs against either Bob Welland or Bill McGee.

INDIANS TRIM TIGERS AGAIN

Johnny Allen Keeps Hits Scattered For 6-3 Win In Detroit

Detroit, April 23 (AP)—Scattering eight Detroit hits, Johnny Allen pitched the Cleveland Indians to a 6 to 3 victory over the Tigers here today. The victory, Cleveland's second straight, assured the Indians the series, which ends Sunday.

By winning, Cleveland remained deadlocked with Washington and Boston for first place in the American League. The defeat left the Bengals in seventh place with one victory in five starts.

The triumph was particularly sweet for the fiery-tempered Allen because it was scored at the expense of "Whistling Jake" Wade, erratic Tiger southpaw. Wade beat Allen, 1 to 0, in the final game of the 1937 season here when the Clevelander was trying for a perfect season and his 16th consecutive victory. Wade thwarted Allen's hopes of equalling the American League record for consecutive pitching victories with a one hit performance.

Allen also starred at bat today, driving in three Cleveland runs. Wade, who has been troubled by control ever since he entered the majors, was wild today and his inability to locate the plate caused his downfall.

Homer in Seventh Gives Giants 8-5 Hair-Raiser Win

Brooklyn, April 23. (AP)—Johnny McCarthy clouted one of rookie Bill Posedel's pitches over the right field wall in the seventh inning today to break a tie and give the New York Giants an 8 to 5 victory over the Dodgers.

Up to that point, it was a hair-raiser game, with the Giants taking a 5-0 lead in the first three innings on Jim Ripple's homer in the first and a three-run spurge in the third, and the Dodgers tying it up with two in the third and three in the sixth.

Neither starting pitcher went the route. Cliff Melton, who took credit for his second victory, went out in the eighth when the Dodgers threatened, and Fred Frankhouse gave way to Posedel in the third.

LIONS BOWLING TOURNEY OPENS

Gladstone Team Leads; Coplan's Crew Rolls Total Of 1,777

Faced by Walter VandeWeghe and Vince Johnson, the Number One team representing the Gladstone Lions club smashed out three game total pin count of 2773 to take an early lead in the First Annual Lions Club Bowling Tournament, District 10, last evening.

The visitors put together games of 910, 917 and 951 for a total which will be hard to beat. A Baker Creek quintet captained by "One Ball" George Coplan stamped themselves as serious contenders for low honors by rolling a 1777 score. Coplan's teammates, Dr. Buttner, Beverly Batts, Fred LaBranch and Andy Olson amassed a startling number of errors and low scores thus assuring themselves of some of the 38 prizes which are being awarded.

This morning at 10 o'clock two strong Escanaba teams will take the alleys while in the afternoon squads from Menominee, Marquette, Munising, Sault Ste. Marie and Negaunee will bowl. The two day meet will wind up in the early evening.

SAYS FUEHER IS PLAGIARIST

Indians Used Salute Of Nazis, St. Ignace Doctor Claims

St. Ignace, Mich., April 23 (AP)—Dr. W. C. Edmison, a student of Indian customs, charged Adolph Hitler with plagiarism today.

He said the Nazi salute, verbal salutation and insignia were "borrowed" from the North American Indian.

"In the Nazi Salute," he said, "note the upraised arm, extended slightly forward—a gesture identical to that with which the great chiefs of the Algonquin nation greeted Jean Nicolet, first white man to sail the Great Lakes, when he landed at Pointe St. Ignace in 1634 clad in the gaudy garments of a Chinese Mandarin."

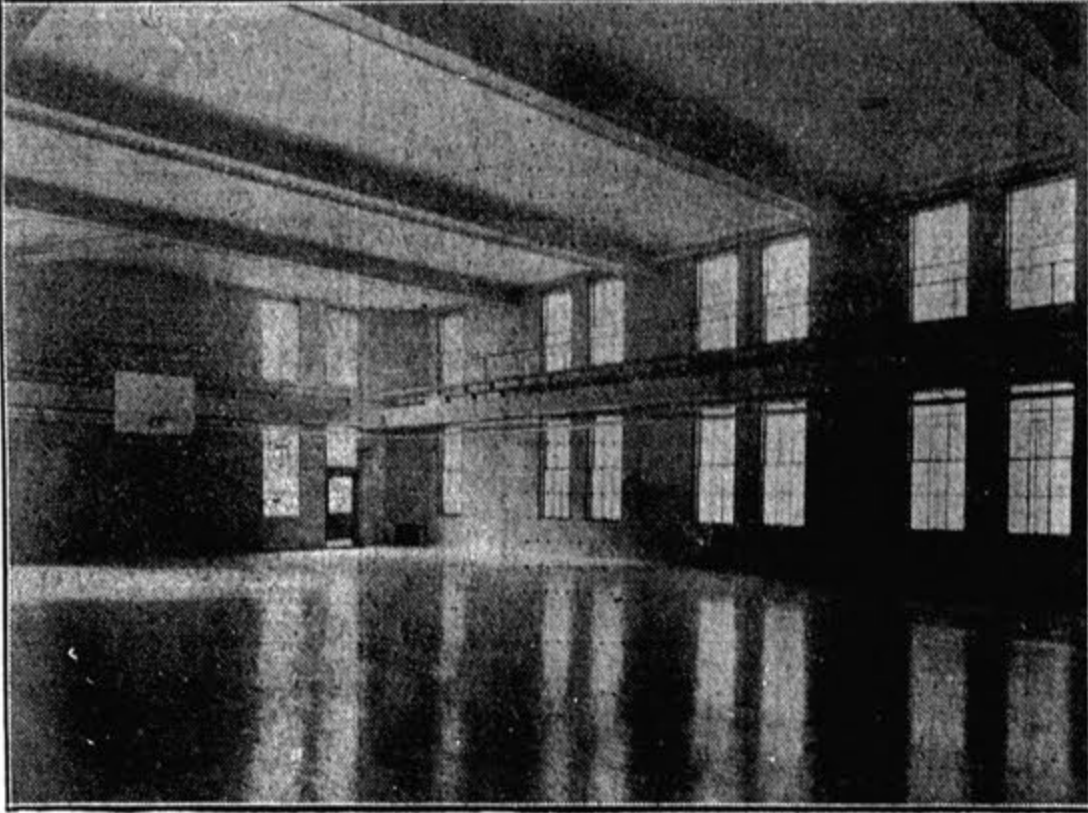

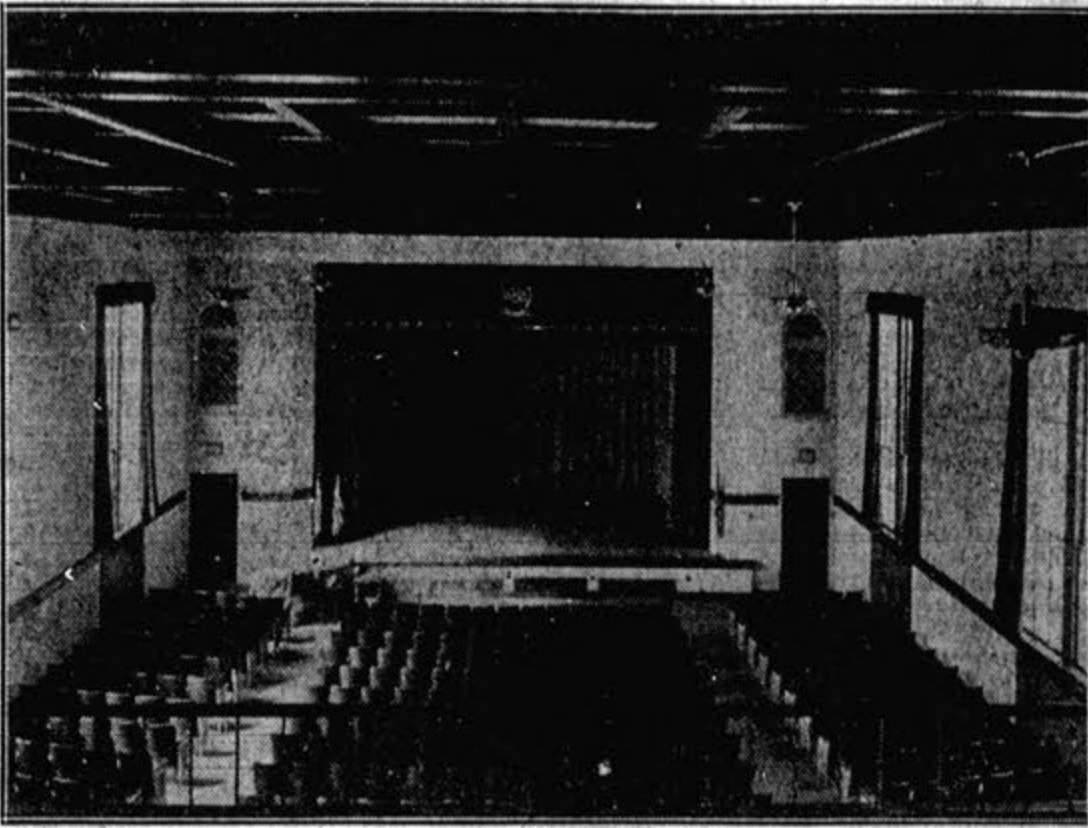

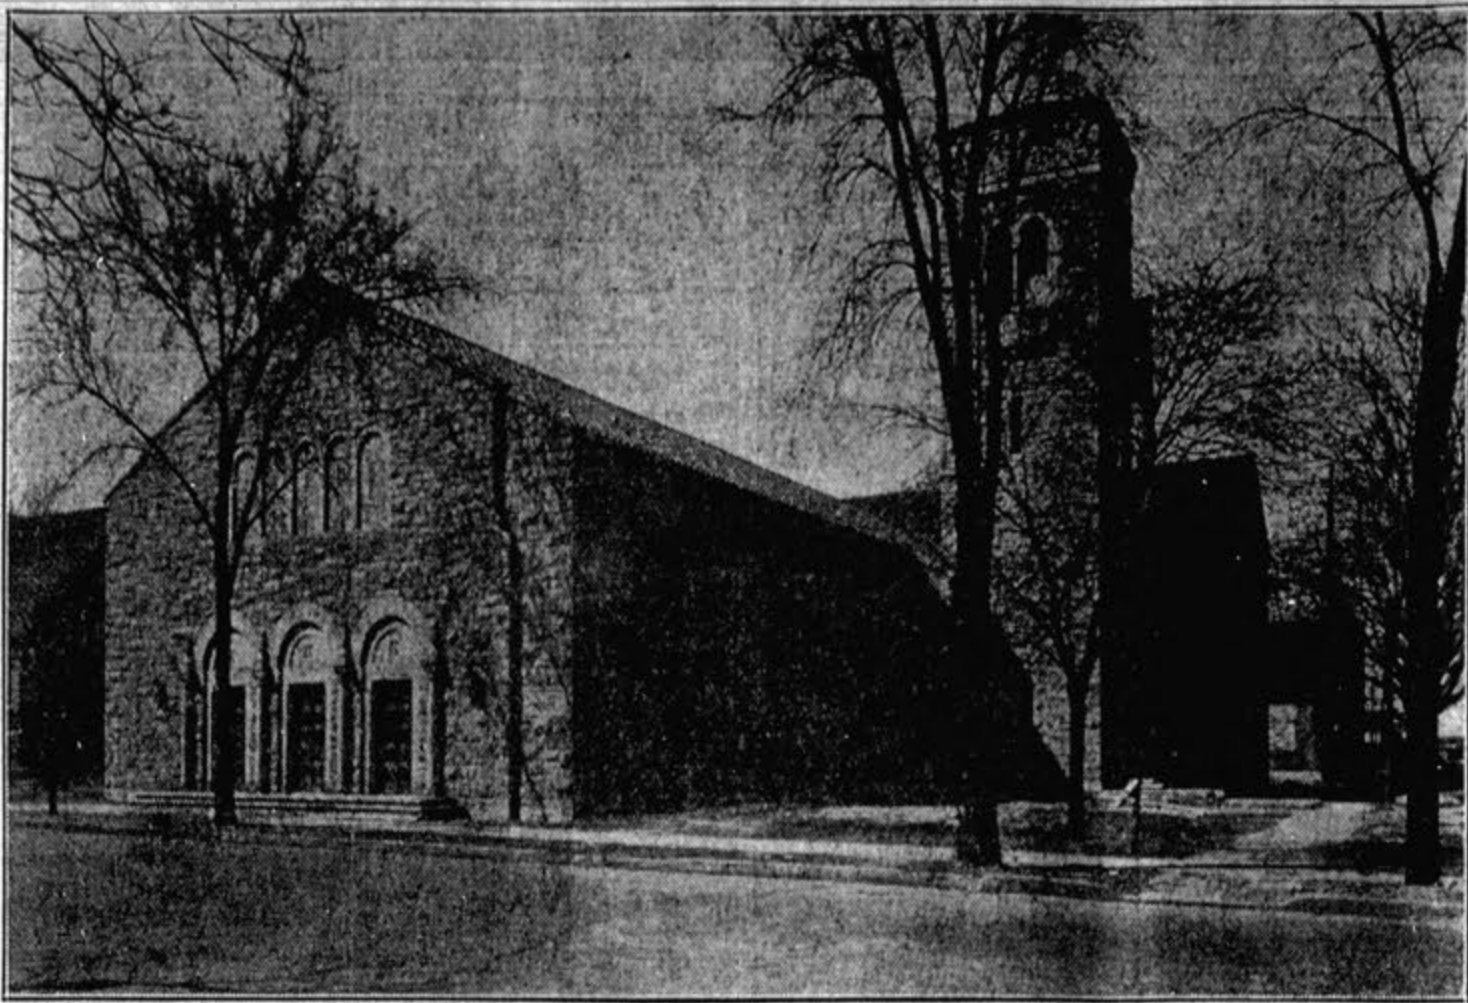

Nicolet thought he had found a western passage to China when the redskins of the Ojibway and Ottawa tribes greeted him at the Straits of Mackinac.

"It is the same peaceful gesture that was elicited by the arrival of Pere Marquette at St. Ignace in 1671," Dr. Edmison said.

"Even the first word the Indian used in greeting the white man has been made a part of the Nazi salute," Dr. Edmison continued, pointing to the similarity between the Indian "how" and the Nazi "hell."

The Nazi Swastika, Dr. Edmison said, is the same good luck signal used by Indians since time immemorial and still used by Ojibways here in decorating hand-woven and carven souvenirs.

THE NEGRO IN THE ARMY AND THE NAVY

Colored citizens have participated with honor and distinction in every war the United States has fought and died in the thousands that the grand Republic might live. They are today barred from virtually all service in our army and navy which they help support. They are not permitted to serve in the Air Corps, the Engineer Corps, the Chemical Warfare Service, the Field Artillery, the Signal or any of the other special services. They serve only in the Infantry, Cavalry, and to a small extent in the Quartermaster and Medical Corps and many of the supposedly-combatant troops are assigned to duty as servants at the Army Service School and in the Navy are rigidly restricted to service as mess attendants.

Our Army and Navy are honey-combed with spies of alien extraction and connections who are easily able to enlist in our most vital services merely because they are white. No American Negro soldier or citizen has ever been suspected or convicted of betraying this country. We do not believe that the thinking white peoples of this country are acquainted with this situation or would approve of it if they were. We are trying to have all branches of the Army and Navy opened to colored youth so that our nation may be certain of a trained reserve of loyal, intelligent and dependable men. What is your view on this question. Do you believe that all branches of the Army and Navy should be opened to Negroes? They are 99 percent native born. Or do you think there should be an entire Negro Division including all arms of the Service and officered at least in the line by educated colored men in the Army, and a squadron completely manned by Negroes in the Navy. We feel this question is important at this time when the whole matter of national defense is uppermost in our minds, and the danger of Fascism, Nazism and Communism are more real than ever before.

Are you a cannon ball carrier?

Carrying cannon balls back and forth across a parade ground is a form a punishment long used in the army. It is effective, because a man gets exactly nowhere after a day's hard work.

Spending every cent you make is like "carrying cannon balls" . . . you get nowhere. How much better it is to save regularly in your bank account and know that every deposit is a step forward toward your goal of financial independence and security.

PERRONVILLE

SILVER ANNIVERSARY

The St. Michael congregation, Perronville, Mich., bore testimonial tribute to Mr. and Mrs. John Bloniarz at a special service in the church on the occasion of their twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage.

The church was splendidly bedecked with cut flowers and white and silver ribbon, and the Jubilarians, Mr. and Mrs. John Bloniarz occupied seats in the sanctuary, while the Rev. Francis E. Krysty, the pastor, celebrated the thanksgiving mass.

Mrs. Ted Dault presided at the organ and rendered a beautiful solo, the Ave Maria. The St. Michael choir rendered the responses.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bloniarz were married in Chicago, Ill., on April 23, 1913, in the St. John Cantius church, and moved to Perronville October 10, 1910, and ever since have resided on a farm in the locality. Seven children were born of the marriage, two, Edward and Helen are in Chicago, while Jennie, Fred, Stella, Henry and John, Jr., live with their parents.

Many of the Jubilarians' friends extended greetings and well wishes on the occasion of their silver anniversary.

Lawrence, Kas., April 23 (AP)—Archie San Romani, former Emporia, Kas., Teachers college athlete, won the special mile race at the Kansas Relays today, edging out Glenn Cunningham in a photo finish in the comparatively slow time of 4:23.

Don Lash, former University of Indiana star, finished third 10 yards behind the leaders, and Gene Venzke was last.

Cunningham, expected to shoot for his own meet record of 4:12.7, and possibly for the world mark, never held the lead until a brief period on the home stretch.

It was Cunningham's first defeat in his last 22 starts.

Rookie Rizzo Stars At Bat As Pirates Whip Reds, 6 and 2

Pittsburgh, April 23 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates grabbed a Tiger hold atop the National League today by putting a 6 to 2 slug on their favorite fall guys, the Cincinnati Reds. It was the fifth consecutive victory in the current campaign for the Bucs.

Johnny Rizzo, Pittsburgh's rookie left fielder, teed off a couple of 450 foot triples to the centerfield fence to spark three runs each in the first and fifth innings.

Lloyd and Paul Waner walked and came home on Rizzo's drive in the first. In the fifth Lloyd again walked and came home on Paul's drive to right and "Big Poison" scored on Rizzo's second three bagger. Each time Arky Vaughan brought Rizzo tearing home with long files.

Beantown Laddies Beat Phils, 3 to 1

Boston, April 23 (AP)—Spurred by a clear day and the cheers of 10,180 fans, Boston's hustling Bees officially opened the National League baseball season in Beantown today by turning back Philadelphia, 3 to 1.

Lou Fette, who beat the Phillies three times last year and has yet to lose a game to them, limited the opposition to four hits while his teammates were making their six hits count. The Bees scored all their runs in the first inning, against Bill Hallahan, veteran southpaw.

Score:
R. H. E.
Phillies . . . 000 100 000—1 4 0
Boston . . . 300 000 00x—3 6 0
Hallahan, Johnston, Kelleher and Atwood; Fette and Mueller.

Wes Ferrell Saves Day for Senators

New York, April 23 (AP)—Wes Ferrell pitched himself into a spot in the ninth inning today and then pitched himself right out again to save a 7 to 4 victory for the Washington Senators over the Yankees before a crowd of 24,949 in Yankee Stadium.

The Nats went out in front 4-2 in the first three innings at the expense of Lefty Gomez and finally belted him out in the seventh. The Yanks had tied it up in the sixth, but Ferrell survived to win his second game of the season.

In the ninth, Ferrell loaded the bases on three walks, and then got Bill Dickey on a long fly for the third out.

Score by innings:
Washington . . . 022 000 210—7 8 1
New York . . . 101 002 000—4 7 4
W. Ferrell and R. Ferrell; Gomez, Murphy and Dickey.
