ORE SHIPMENTS MERE 'TRICKLE'

No Boats Loaded from Duluth; Big Corn Cargo Moved

Cleveland, O., May 3 (AP)—Iron ore shipments from the northern Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin ranges to steel mills during April were a mere trickle.

April shipments were 260,513 tons compared with 3,770,555 for the same month a year ago, a decrease of 93.09 percent. Superior, Wis., led with 218,594 tons. There were no shipments from Duluth whereas a year ago 933,378 tons came from there.

Only a small percent of the bulk freight carriers are operating.

The Lemoyne, of Canadian Steamship Lines is on its way from Duluth to Kingston, Ont., with the largest corn cargo—500,000 bushels or 14,000 tons—ever moved on the Great Lakes. This breaks the previous record set in 1922 by the E. L. Ford, of the Franking Steamship company.

With the average corn yield of 40 bushels to the acre the cargo of the Lemoyne is equal to 12,500 acres. The Lemoyne already holds the record for the largest cargo of coal, wheat and rye.

Coal dumpings in April were 31,667 cars against 65,476 a year ago.

Hitler, who yearns for colonies for Germany, caught a glimpse of Italy's colonial resources.

Drawn up at Saint Paul's gate were several troops of Libyan Spahis clad in capes of brilliant scarlet and blue and mounted on white Arabian horses.

From there the procession moved to the sound of cannon salutes through the torchlit Via Dei Triunfi to the towering Colosseum.

Wise Fox, Winner of Louisiana Derby, Is Long Shot Possibility In Louisville

Wise Fox

Another of the series on Kentucky Derby Candidates

BY MAX RIDDLE
NEA Service Staff Writer
Louisville—Al G. Tarn's Louisiana Derby winner, Wise Fox, is a long shot possibility in the Kentucky Derby, May 7.

This son of Gallant Fox, from Minerva, by Ambassador IV, was a maiden in 1937, in the stable of the Belair Stud. He started in eight races, got two thirds and won only $210. Actually, Wise Fox won at Tropical Park, Dec. 30, but was disqualified.

After racing indifferently at Hialeah, Wise Fox began to improve. He won his last three starts, to give him a 1938 record of seven starts, three firsts, one second, and one third, with earnings of $11,085. Under the Tarn banner, he improved rapidly, winning the Louisiana Derby late in March.

His claim to Derby consideration is based on his victory in the Louisiana Derby, which Tarn won in 1936 with Rushaway. Two highly regarded Derby colts, Sir Raleigh and Bourbon King, had been sent especially to New Orleans for the Louisiana event.

Wise Fox won by a head from the extremely fast filly, Bunny Baby, with Sir Raleigh third, Sir Ally fourth and Bourbon King, fifth. He beat a pretty fair field. He carried 114 pounds and ran the mile and one eighth in 1:51 1-5.

As an interesting comparison, Lawrin won the Flamingo Stakes over the same distance in 1:50 4-5, and Stagehand won the Santa Anita Derby over the same route in 1:50 2-5. Allowing for differences in track speed, Wise Fox's victory was therefore a creditable one.

Wise Fox has never carried high weights successfully, nor has he shown much in mud.

He should go the Derby distance easily, however.

DETROIT TAVERN KEEPER KILLED

Bullets Riddle Former Rum Smuggler; Brunet Woman Sought

Detroit, May 3 (AP)—Authorities trying to trace the killers of Joe Tocco, who died today from several gunshot wounds inflicted in an apparent ambush last night, searched tonight for a brunet woman said to have been his recent companion.

The 50-year-old Italian, described by police as a powerful liquor smuggling leader of prohibition times and lately a beer garden proprietor, succumbed in a suburban Wyandotte hospital unable to name the gunman. They literally poured bullets at him as he stepped from his red sedan, then fled to a neighbor's home.

In a ditch 100 yards from the shooting scene police found a partly loaded, repeating shotgun believed to have been fired by one of several killers who had lain in wait for Tocco. The unnamed woman was sought in the hope she might be able to aid in the inquiry, and the shotgun was examined for fingerprints.

Police were inclined to belittle a theory of gang warfare since Tocco, once the alleged leader of Wyandotte-Ecorse district, rum runners, had been considered "legitimate" for some time. As police pieced together the story, Tocco stepped from his automobile and was greeted with a volley by his killers. Volley after volley was fired as he ran from the automobile into the nearby home of friends, where he collapsed. Six bullets were in his back and 17, believed to have been fired from a sawed-off shotgun and a revolver, penetrated his coat, sleeves and trousers.

Tony Bozzo, who drove Tocco to Wyandotte general hospital, was held for questioning. Detroit police said their records showed Tocco had been arrested 11 times since 1915 but had never been convicted. He was detained for investigation of cases ranging from murder and arson to bootlegging and income tax evasion, police said, but was freed after each inquiry.

In 1932 Tocco's home was blown to pieces by an explosion but he and his wife and their five children were away when the explosion occurred.

He should go the Derby distance easily, however.

CROSSED A COUNTRY IN 15 MINUTES

WEDGED among the foothills of the Alps between Greater Germany and Switzerland is tiny Liechtenstein; so tiny, in fact, that its 32-year-old ruler, Prince Franz Joseph, surveys his whole domain from his high castle; that the Paris-Vienna express crosses the entire country in 15 minutes.

Recently Prince Franz I of Liechtenstein, 84, handed over his principality's government to his bachelor grand-nephew, Prince Franz Joseph. Prince Franz I, whose wife is a commoner and the daughter of a Jewish banker, said his step was purely personal. Some European observers, however, suggest Nazi influence.

Until 1918, when it first declared its independence, its ruler was a member of the Upper House of Austria. Today it is administered by a diet of 15 members who aid the ruling prince and principal taxpayer.

County Treasurer Has Dry Throat As Land Sale Starts

Delta County Treasurer Ralph R. Olsen suffered a parched throat last night as the first day of the sale of tax delinquent land, held at the courthouse, came to a close last night. Descriptions of over 4,000 parcels of land were read aloud as the sale went on throughout the day, but few buyers were at hand.

A total of 30 parcels of land were purchased during the day, the delinquent taxes paid by buyers amounting to about $400.

Descriptions of tax delinquent lands in all but one of the county's townships were read during the day. At 10 o'clock this morning the sale will continue, starting with Town 37, Range 24 and moving through the tax sale lists of the cities of Escanaba and Gladstone and all township plats.

Olsen predicted that the sale will be finished within the next few days.

There was a crowd of about fifty persons at hand when the sale opened in the county courtroom, but the audience dwindled during the day and but few were left when the first day's selling ended late yesterday afternoon.

STATE PLAYS 'DADDY'

Lansing, May 3 (AP)—The state played "daddy" today to local governments in Michigan while the latter sold more than 700,000 pieces of tax-delinquent lands and took in all the revenue. The gesture, a left-over from the state law which antedates the 15-mill tax limitation, cost the state more than $600,000 for advertising and clerical work.

The sale was the first since 1932 and covers delinquencies of 1935 and prior years, in addition to installments under two moratoria plans going back to 1929.

All revenues, collected by the state, will go to local governments because the state has levied no property tax since 1933.

Approximately 1,300,000 parcels of land were advertised for sale by the state but Auditor General George T. Gundry said that last minute payments of the delinquent taxes had apparently cut the actual sales to about 700,000 parcels. No estimate of the amount of real estate involved was possible because of the confusion resulting from cancellation of the state's tax liens in many cases at the last minute.

Delinquent property owners have 18 months to redeem their land by paying the due taxes, interest and penalties. Some already have been redeemed but county treasurers have been unable to keep abreast of the flood of last minute payments.

Even though the delinquent property owner fails to redeem his land within 18 months, he still may obtain possession of it again inside of two years. Title to the state is not final until after two years.

Property north of the Bay City-Muskegon line which is not sold will go to the conservation department and that south of the line will go to the state land board. Members of the board have not yet been appointed.

Dr. Lanting Speaks On Social Medicine At Forum Meeting

"Socialized Medicine" was the topic discussed at last night's meeting of the Escanaba Community forum held in the council chambers of the city hall with Dr. Roelof Lanting, Delta county health unit head, as speaker. Rain kept many members from attending the session, and Dr. Lanting will speak again on the same subject at the next forum meeting two weeks from last night.

Citing the many difficulties encountered in attempting to set up some form of socialized medicine, Dr. Lanting stated that there is only one case in which it is practiced successfully today. He mentioned the medical set-up of the United States army and navy as the one example of a working form of socialized medicine, and pointed out that army and navy discipline play an important part in making the system work out. Other types of socialized medicine, such as those developed in England and Germany, he criticized as being overly costly and often abused.

Recent trends toward socialized medicine in the United States, through the establishment of medical funds, health insurance and care of relief clients, were discussed by Dr. Lanting with those in attendance at the session.

The stomach should digest two pounds of food daily. When you eat heavy, greasy, coarse or rich foods or when you are nervous, hurried or over-fatigued, your stomach does not get its full share of food. You don't digest and you have gas, heartburn, nausea, pain or sour stomach. You feel over-eat and want all over.

Doctors say never take a laxative for stomach pain. It is dangerous and foolish. It takes three little black tablets called Delt-5 for indigestion to make the stomach slide harmless, relieve distress in 5 minutes and get you back on your feet. Relief is so quick it is amazing and new the package proves it. Ask for Delt-5 for indigestion.

Tentative Program Of Social Conference Is Now Near Completion

Program for the Upper Peninsula regional meeting of Michigan Conference of Social Workers, which will bring to Escanaba approximately 400 social workers, is nearing completion. The conference is a two day affair on May 20 and 21.

John A. Lemmer, superintendent of schools, is chairman of the conference and A. M. Gilbert, Delta county relief administrator, is vice chairman.

HEALTH REPORT IS PRESENTED

Work of Health Unit and Couzens Fund Told in Resume

The work of Dr. Roelof Lanting, director of the Delta county health department, and the Children's Fund of Michigan in Delta county is described in a report received here this week.

Dr. Lanting reports that 39,527 miles have been traveled by his staff and 3,256 field services rendered. Five hundred and thirty-three vaccinations against smallpox and 454 immunizations against diphtheria were conducted. Twenty-four cases of tuberculosis were hospitalized; 4,209 tuberculin tests were made and 773 chest x-rays taken. Nursing supervision was given to 189 expectant mothers and 162 received post-natal care. Instruction was given for the care of 621 infants and 761 pre-school children. Medical examinations and physical inspections totaled 4,126 while 832 visits to schools were made.

In the field of sanitation 752 general inspections were made and 791 inspections for the protection of food and milk supplies. One hundred sixty-five children received services from the Northern Michigan Children's Clinic. Dental service was rendered to 778 children who made 2,705 clinic visits, 1,107 teeth were extracted, 2,678 fillings inserted, and 3,698 other operations performed. Eighteen months have passed since the death of Senator James Couzens, through whose generosity and wisdom the Children's Fund was created, it was said. In that time, two names have been added to the board of trustees, in accordance with the by-laws, which required that at least nine constitute its membership. "The board has faithfully continued to interpret the wishes of the donor and has given expression in many ways to its conception of the broad purposes to which the annual income of the Fund is dedicated.

Desire to Expand
 "One cannot review the accomplishments of the past year without realizing the desirability of extending enterprises in many divisions," Dr. Hugo A. Freund, Fund president, said. "This is to say that results in various fields of endeavor have proved their worth and necessarily the division child health the Fund urges a greater participation by the state in assuming obligations."

"It has been amply demonstrated that the health of the child population has been materially enhanced and that the well-being of children is of vital interest to the state. The state recognizes this through various public acts now in operation and is expanding large sums of money annually for this purpose. It would seem logical that the Children's Fund enlist the support of the state in a larger investment in the preventive field and a redistribution of funds available for child health.

"Specifically, the Fund could turn over some of the organized health units to the government and initiate similar projects in new areas."

It was pointed out that after a program of physical health has become firmly entrenched, demands for the preservation of mental health rapidly follow.

Child Guidance Needed
 "One finds in our well developed urban centers a growing acceptance of the value of child guidance. Michigan has been backward in this respect and it will take years to even approach the work done in other states. The Children's Fund has carried on a successful campaign for better understanding of all phases of behavior problems in children. It is an important part of our program that closer harmony be brought about between the organic and functional, in the end that the phrase in our charter, 'health and happiness,' shall have a real significance."

A Born Showman

Perched high on a circus wagon, U. S. Senator Tom Connally of Texas proves in the picture above that his flair for showmanship is not confined to the halls of Congress. The photo shows the veteran Texan as he drove a team of prancing horses in the Community Circus at Gainesville, Tex., of which he was honorary ringmaster. The circus, now in its ninth year, is composed entirely of non-professional performers. Riding with the senator is Mrs. Geraldine Murrell, department store milliner, who also can walk a tight wire.

T. Thomas Thatcher, House Clerk, May Oppose A. J. Engel in Fall

BY GUY H. JENKINS
 Lansing—T. Thomas Thatcher of Ravenscroft, clerk of the house of representatives, is giving serious consideration to seeking the Democratic nomination in the Ninth congressional district.

The district now is represented by Albert J. Engel, Muskegon Republican. Engel was a candidate for the Republican nomination a couple of times before he finally won it and then in 1934 was elected to his first term. He was re-elected in 1936 but it was a close squeak.

Thatcher, former member of the state house of representatives, resigned to enter the school book field. He gave up that job to become clerk of the house in January, 1937. His brother in 1936 won the probate judgeship in Muskegon, defeating Ruth Thompson, who had held the place for many years.

ENGEL IS AT HIS BEST WHEN CAMPAIGNING
 The Democratic high command believes the only way to beat Engel is to have a candidate from Muskegon, the largest county in the district. They know Engel is a campaigner. He really works at his job. When congress is not in session Engel does a goodly amount of fence building. In fact, he has a tour schedule which calls for regular visits to the various county seats in his district. The people know in advance that he will be at his office on a certain day and if there is anything they want he is eager and willing to serve.

Because of the industrial population in Muskegon, the Democrats believe they can defeat Engel this fall and it looks as if the high command is about ready to make Thatcher the favorite for the race.

Soft spoken, Thatcher is quite in contrast with the dynamic Engel who just turns on more steam when the campaign gets under way. Thatcher and Engel, if they are congressional nominees, should furnish an interesting race.

RABAUT MAY HAVE FOE IN PRIMARY
 It also is reported that the Democratic organization in the Fourteenth congressional district is about to select a candidate in opposition to the incumbent, Louis C. Rabaut, Grosse Point Park Democrat.

Rabaut, whose forte seems to be singing campaign songs and fathering a large family, has incurred the enmity of some of his followers for voting to recommit the reorganization bill of President Roosevelt. As a Democrat, Michigan stood alone as far as the Rabaut house delegation was concerned. He refused to rubber stamp the White House program.

Overtures have been made to the house of representatives, and Bernard J. Youngblood, deputy secretary of state, to oppose Rabaut for the nomination, but each has said "no" to the invitation.

John F. Hamilton, a state representative from the district, is still thinking it over.

CRAWFORD, ALSO, MAY ENCOUNTER TROUBLE
 And speaking of congressional candidates, the Eighth district may furnish one of the best political scraps to be staged by the Democrats to select a candidate against the Republican incumbent, Fred L. Crawford.

Right now some of the prominent party workers in Saginaw are trying to convince Dr. Frances J. McDonald, Saginaw's mayor, under the city manager form of government, that he should enter the primary. They say he is a natural. A practicing dentist, Dr. McDonald generally is credited with doing a fine job in city administration.

McDonald is friendly with the state administration. He and Gov. Murphy were classmates at the University of Michigan. McDonald personally never has been identified with partisan politics.

Should he decide to enter the primary the fur should fly. Right now there appears to be a big field of starters, including State Representatives John F. Kessel, Louis C. Schwinger and Leland S. Jennings.

When Gov. Murphy spoke at Saginaw, Kessel was introduced as the party's choice for congress. That did not sit very well with Jennings and Schwinger. Kessel has been the fair-haired boy of Frank A. Picard and his faction. Schwinger seems to have the backing of the faction headed by Charles Gottschalk, the county road commission chairman, and Ben Albosta, former county chairman, neither of whom exchange Christmas greetings with Picard. Jennings has been quietly building his organization and, as far as can be learned here, has stayed away from the factional fights.

Should McDonald decide to enter the primary, he would have Picard's support and Kessel either would be a good boy and run for the legislature or quit public life.

MURPHY PLANS ANOTHER UPPER PENINSULA TRIP
 Unless plans are revised, Gov. Murphy will make another trip to the upper peninsula next weekend. When he was there last February he told party leaders he would return early in the spring and complete the tour of the west end of the peninsula.

According to arrangements, the governor will be in Ontonagon Sunday, May 8, to dedicate the rural electrification project just completed. He is scheduled for an address at Ironwood Sunday evening. He will be at Escanaba Monday and Menominee Tuesday, leaving there that evening for the return trip to Lansing.

Ontonagon is the home town of Joseph M. Donnelly, a member of the public utilities commission. The REA program in the state has no stronger backer.

HINT BROWN WANTS SHIELDS TO TAKE JUDGESHIP
 In a national way Democratic interest seems to be focused on the appointment of a federal judge for the eastern district of Michigan, if and when congress provides for the additional jurist.

This week it was announced in Washington that Howell VanAken of Detroit, a member of the public utilities commission, was slated for the place. While that may be true, it does not jibe with the political talk around Lansing.

Senator Prentiss M. Brown has not made up his mind whom to appoint and will not, it is learned, until he discusses the situation with Edmund C. Shields, national committeeman. It is learned that Brown may offer it to Shields, and then bring pressure to compel him to take it. Those who know Shields say that Brown's program is just a waste of time. Shields is too busy with his extensive law practice to devote any time to either the federal or the state courts in the capacity of judge.

Of course, there are any number of Democratic lawyers who would love the appointment. It is a life job and carries with it considerable influence. Others being mentioned besides Shields and Van Aken are Picard and Robert S. Beach, both of Saginaw, and Charles S. Porritt of Detroit, a member of the utilities commission. A few years ago Picard wanted the appointment, but it went to Judge Arthur F. Lederle of Detroit, who had been in the office of the Detroit corporation counsel.

VERNON BROWN HAS STRESSED TAX ISSUES
 Carrying on his hand-shaking campaign preliminary to a speaking tour ahead of the primary election in September, Frank D. Fitzgerald, former governor, has scheduled visits to six counties. They are Lenawee, Monroe, Washtenaw, Jackson, Livingston and Oakland.

After 10 years service in the state house of representatives, Vernon J. Brown of Mason, newspaper publisher, this week announced he would seek the nomination for auditor general at the Republican state convention.

Brown has represented the Second Ingham county district since 1929 and is credited with having done an excellent job, not only for his particular district, but the state at large. He has given special attention to Michigan's tax problems.

Brown, through his weekly newspaper, sponsored a militant campaign back in 1932 to cut governmental costs. Although written for his own publication they were published by dozens of state weekly newspapers and many dailies.

Through the introduction of some 100 bills in the 1933 legislature, many of which passed, state government costs were reduced $5,000,000 annually. Brown was co-sponsor of the legislation that was prepared by a study commission. Brown views government the same as he does his own business. Improvements are made if and when business warrants.

World Affairs Reviewed

BY WILLIAM F. BROOKS
Written for the Feature Service
London—The coming European war—as yet just a series of headlines to most Americans—is something the man in the streets of England has begun to view with practical, personal application.

Hitler and Mussolini have taken the subject of rearmament out of the halls of Parliament and put it into the pubs, the barber shops and the drawing rooms.

One stormy week with war talk over all Europe made England's A.R.P. (Air Raid Precautions) as well known in England as W.P.A. is in America.

German troops tramped into Austria; Poland and Lithuania felt their years-old quarrel boil over; Franco swept toward Barcelona; Czechoslovakia wore out her knuckles knocking at Europe's chancelleries to find out who would come to her aid if Der Fuehrer decided to "reclaim the 3,500,000 German-speaking citizens within her borders.

Until these things happened, war still was in the academic category of discussion in London despite two years of furious rearmament.

LONDON BECOMES JITTERY—
The theory argued 10 years ago that the next war would be won by mass bombing raids has been somewhat exploded. It has been tested in Spain, and a million people in Madrid refused to be terrorized.

Nine million people dwell in the 20-mile square which is London. The city is the food distributing center for 15,000,000. It is the empire's greatest port and storehouse. It is one of the world's biggest business centers.

And there is no ocean between it and the countries of national jealousies and strife. When the war monster stalks you can almost reach out and touch it.

You can go to the park mornings and see the lines in gaunt Neville Chamberlain's face as he strides along. You can try to hire maids or messenger boys—and find they all have jobs in the day-and-night-working munitions industries. You can see serious-faced civilians plodding nervously through gas mask drills.

Big London newspapers give columns to instructions on how to make a room gas-proof, how to build bomb shelters, how to give first aid, or what to do in the case of an air raid.

The spy hunt is on again. Alien restrictions are tightened. Scattered cases under the official secrets act pop up in newspapers. Sabotage is discovered in air factories and naval dockyards. Watch is being kept on all job seekers at aviation factories.

It may not mean war. But it is preparation such as no country has known in peace time. The working class Englishman accepts as inevitable that some time, "We'll have to go over and wipe up that bloody—" the blank referring to which ever dictator happens to be under discussion.

"This time we'll be ready," he adds. England's 1914 maxim has been revived—"If possible, no war; but if there is war, Britain must win."

TAXES CLIMB—
Taxes are piled on. Already the rate is five shillings in every pound of income—25 per cent—and Britain is looking for ways to increase her inflow of money for war preparation.

The Englishman doesn't like taxes any better than the American but he shrugs and says it's better to be prepared.

The Army has been getting itself fit for two years, but organization of civilians now has been undertaken with a vengeance. A plan has been perfected to supply the 50,000,000 men, women and children in Britain with gas masks within eight hours if war breaks out.

Thirty million masks already are stored in 11 cities. They are in four sizes, the smallest for children between the ages of two and four. Babies will have "gas bags" which will cover them completely.

A Home Office announcement declares: "One of the most urgent tasks for authorities . . . is the recruitment and training of personnel for the duties of air raid wardens, first aid parties, decontamination squads, etc. . . .

The Capital Parade

BY ALSOP AND KINTNER
Washington, May 3.—Last week the President quietly sent for Senator Alben Barkley of Kentucky and Senator James Byrnes of South Carolina. He gave them the pleasant greeting due a faithful senate majority leader and a hard-working lieutenant. He told them that the defeat of the Reorganization Bill in the House had been a dreadful blow to his administration. And he suggested (in the tone which means command) that they do something about it in the Senate.

It must have been rather like the scene in the Old Tom Shows, when Simon Legree lays his relentless lash across the docile back of Uncle Tom. If any imperator of Uncle Tom ever pulled a longer face than Senator Barkley, the imperator had unusual natural equipment.

The President's scheme was simple. Long before the Senate passed the bill recently rejected by the House, the representatives themselves approved two measures giving the White House large powers to reshuffle the government agencies. The President wanted Senator Barkley and Senator Byrnes, who have hardly recovered from the bruises of the last reorganization fight, to drive these forgotten house bills through the Senate.

Just where the President picked up this pretty notion is not certain. The unhappy leaders strongly suspect that it was urged on him by Representatives Lindsay C. Warren, of North Carolina, and John J. Cochran, of Missouri. But their suspicion derives from the fact that Warren and Cochran, who were the house pilots of reorganization, discussed the plan with Senator Byrnes. There's really nothing to show who took it to the White House.

TWIXT LOVE AND DUTY
Whoever it was put the bee in the President's bonnet did no good service to Senators Byrnes and Barkley. Senator Byrnes got his belly full of fighting last time, and knows perfectly well now that any such effort as the President desires is foredoomed to failure. As for Senator Barkley, he realizes that obedience to the President would mean a greatly prolonged session, while the approaching primary calls him home.

The senator's race with Governor A. B. "Happy" Chandler is not nearly so safe as some people have lately said. Indeed, the administration understands this well enough. The dispensers of federal bounty in Kentucky were recalled to Washington not so long ago, to see what dog-pounds, maybe federal buildings, palaces of the arts, dams, bridges or other tokens might woo Kentuckians to the Barkley cause. No doubt they hardly needed to be told how the workers on their rolls were expected to vote.

And when the President asks the senator to pass another reorganization measure in the Senate, the senator is torn between love and duty. He loves his job, and would like to go home to make sure of keeping it. And his duty is to the President, without whose personal pressure on the senate the name of the majority leader would now be Barrison, not Barkley.

FACING FILIBUSTERS
This week, Senator Byrnes and Senator Barkley have already foregathered to discuss their plight. Their checkers have reported to them quite frankly that there isn't a chance in the world of getting the President what he wants. It is even certain already that, if an effort is made to revive reorganization, its enemies will filibuster all summer. Senator Byrd, of Virginia, Senator Wheeler, of Montana, and their friends have no primaries to get through.

Therefore (and this is the most interesting feature of the situation), Senator Barkley is on the verge of rebellion. He may go down the line. Or he may succeed in changing the President's mind. A number of influential White House advisers think it unwise to try to breathe new life into reorganization. They will help the senator.

But the President is an obstinate man, and especially obstinate when he sees nothing to lose but the sweat of his subordinates. He may persist in his suggestion. In that case, the chances are excellent that Senator Barkley and Senator Byrnes will tell him:

"We have been faithful to you in our fashion, but this is one time when you'd better get somebody else to do the work."

Police of Salt Lake City have been ordered to brush up on their etiquette. "Beg pardon, but halt, please, in the name of the law."

The license commissioner says Coney Island needs a new coat of paint. And here we thought that visitors had been painting the town red for years!

CIRCLES
A kindness, like a stone you toss into a pond, off seems a loss. A small commotion, gleam of white, and then your stone has sunk from sight.

For this is never known to you: The good a little good may do. For, like the ripple, it survives And touches, oh, so many lives. Even a friendship far extends Beyond the circle of your friends. For lips repeat a lovely song. All lovely things are passed along.

Today a kindness you may know Done by a stranger long ago; And all the stranger asks you then Is that you pass it on again. So do a kindness when you can. Not for a purpose, with a plan. But send the circles on their way And make a better world each day.

WE,
the WOMEN

BY RUTH MILLETT

With thousands of girls learning shorthand every year, there are no longer any stenographers. If that sounds queer to you, take the word of John Robert Gregg for it. Fifty years ago he invented a simple method of shorthand, named it after himself, sold it to the world, and turned shorthand into a million dollar business.

But back to that crack about the disappearance of stenographers. Well, they have turned into secretaries. Every young girl—says Gregg—no matter how inexperienced or how small her salary, if she can type and take dictation, is a secretary. She wants it that way, and so does the man who pays her.

It sounds more important for a girl to say, "I'm a secretary," than "I'm a stenographer." And similarly a man rather enjoys saying, "My secretary told me you called."

Gregg has watched the change in secretaries since they were called "typewriters" and were mostly men until now when they are secretaries—and are mostly women.

He can remember when it was thought that being able to play the piano was a good recommendation for the girl who wanted to go into the business world, because it was very much like typing.

In fact, he credits that accepted likeness with the fact that girls were admitted to offices soon after typewriters were invented. Because it was the girls who took piano lessons—it was thought that typing was something they could do.

But back to stenography today. Gregg thinks that young men are making a mistake in letting the girls have the secretarial jobs. Because he considers working as a secretary the surest way for a smart young man to impress an executive with his ability. He's right under the boss' nose and has a wonderful chance from that vantage point to learn the business.

And in spite of all that has been written about the "office wife," a great many men today prefer male secretaries. Or maybe their wives prefer them. Gregg wasn't sure.

Salvation Army
At Bark River

The film, "He Profits Most," will be shown tonight at 8 o'clock in connection with the regular monthly visit of the Escanaba Salvation Army group to Bark River. The service will be held in the Swedish Mission church and the public is cordially invited.

A brigade of workers composed of Bark River residents will accompany Major Nelson and assist in the meeting.

A special feature will be the showing of colored motion pictures of a visit to the Indian settlement at Hannahville and of the Small Jamboree parade in Escanaba.

Theatres

At the Delft

The greatest round-up of big name stars of any musical yet, a whole "who's-who" of the screen's pepper-uppers, frolics to town with three sirens of swing in search of social security who find themselves sidetracked by love in "Sally, Irene and Mary." The new 20th Century-Fox rhythm romance with the lift-and-tilt that have made Darryl F. Zanuck shows tops in entertainment, opened yesterday at the Delft Theatre.

Alice Faye and Tony Martin sing the tune-fullest songs you've ever heard, as only they know how! They top the cast with Fred Allen, star of radio's "Town Hall Tonight" and he is twice as funny face-to-face.

PLATE FILE

A rubber-covered rack, in which plates are stored in an upright position prevents chipped edges and saves storage space. And, since the rack is divided into graduated sections, plates of different sizes are easily selected. Capacity, about twelve plates in each section. A fabric cover, especially shaped to fit over the rack of filed dishes, will keep them clean and free from dust.

TRIPLE SIFTER

Most cooks agree that sifting the dry ingredients of their cakes several times makes a smoother, lighter product. A new sifter, sturdily constructed, sifts three times in one operation, thus saving time and eliminating the possibility of scattering the flour. The sifter is operated by squeezing the handle, so that the cook's other hand is free to stir the batter at the same time.

Keeping Refrigerated Food

Food will keep moist in the refrigerator if kept in covered dishes or wrapped in waxed paper.

Bananas filling appeals to most youngsters. Mash a banana. Thin it with a little orange juice and a few drops of lemon juice and spread the mixture over Graham crackers.

Annual Play Of
St. Joseph Senior
Class Successful

"Seven Keys to Baldpate," the entertaining melodramatic farce by George M. Cohan, which ran for many seasons on Broadway, was given a clever interpretation in its presentation by the senior class of St. Joseph high school last evening at the bonifas Memorial Auditorium.

The story of the author and his adventures at Baldpate Mountain Inn, produced through special arrangement with Samuel French, showed excellent training and marked dramatic ability, on the part of the cast.

Special numbers added to the enjoyment of the appreciative audience.

Members of the cast, all seniors at the school, were Emil Michaud, Rosalind Ammel, Russell Faber, Alfred LaBlanc, Marianne McCarthy, Anita Messier, Jeanne Adamson, Fred Knaut, Donald Richards, Kenneth Lewis, Willard Blau, Edward McDermott, Jack Winling and Edward Ryan.

Births

A daughter was born at St. Francis hospital last evening to Dr. and Mrs. Louis Groos, 1015 First avenue south.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bernsten, 1317 Sheridan Road, are the parents of a son, born Tuesday, May 3, at St. Francis hospital.

Mademoiselle Zebra

A neat two-piece dress of heavy cravat silk in navy and white stripes, with white crepe collar and cuffs, is as youthful as it is practical. Designed by Lanvin, the skirt is box-pleated in front, has an inverted pleat at the back. Notice that the striped fabric is used vertically in the skirt and both horizontally and vertically in the blouse. This slenderizes the hips, makes shoulders appear broader. The hat is white crepe, finished with navy binding.

WHAT a convenience sometimes to be able to shop by phone! No need to "drop everything" and go out on particularly busy days—or in bad weather. How nice—and how important—to be in touch with the world even when you're home alone! ### Carolyn Mae Loy And Doctor Squire Married Saturday

Nahma, Mich.—St. Paul's Episcopal church on Saturday evening was the scene of one of the loveliest weddings of the spring season, the marriage of Carolyn Mae Loy, niece of Doctor and Mrs. J. E. Witters and Doctor Everett Wayne Squire of Rochester, Minnesota, son of Melvin Squire, of Aberdeen, South Dakota.

The Rev. Roger Sherman, Jr., of Negaunee, performed the impressive 8:00 o'clock nuptial. Ferns and baskets of spring flowers adorned the church altar and aisles.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, Dr. J. E. Witters, was a lovely picture in a princess model of soft white satin, fashioned with a high neckline of white lace, leg of mutton sleeves, its skirt extending in a long train. The veil was long and lace trimmed, it fell from a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses and pink sweet peas, showered with white satin ribbon.

Her only attendant, a friend, Miss Betty Messenger of Ann Arbor, wore a beautiful Alice blue crepe, princess lines dress and blue accessories. Her bouquet consisted of mixed flowers.

Doctor Calvin Kerschner of Rochester, Minn., friend of the groom, served as best man.

Mrs. Roger Sherman Jr., of Negaunee, was the mistress of ceremonies.

For her niece's wedding, Mrs. Witters wore an attractive dress of brown net over satin, with short jacket, and brown accessories, with which she wore a corsage of sweet peas and snap dragons.

During the ceremony two solos, "At Dawning" and "I Love You Truly" were rendered by Mrs. George Gadfield of Howard City. The traditional Lohengrin's and Mendelssohn's wedding marches were played at the processional and recessional by Mrs. Clyde Tobin.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the J. E. Witter's home.

Later in the evening the couple left on a wedding trip to New York City, Washington, D. C., different points in Connecticut, and West Virginia. The brides' going-away costume consisted of a navy blue suit and green accessories.

Upon returning they will reside at Rochester, Minn., where Dr. Squire is completing Mayo Fellowship.

The bride is a graduate of Kohler School of Nursing in Rochester.

Dr. Squire attended Rush Medical School, in Chicago. He is now a fellow of Mayo Foundation in Rochester, Minn.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Mrs. William H. Loy, mother of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. William H. Senior Class Party
Miss Dorothy Peterson entertained the senior class of the F. W. Good H. S. Friday evening at her home. The evening was delightfully spent playing Bingo, prizes being won by several. A delicious lunch was served at the close of the evening.

The guests included the following: Mrs. Anne Fleming, class advisor, and the Misses Clara Hominger, LaVine and Gertrude Paul; Frances Hruska, Ethel Sundin and Oral Ward; Messrs. Jack Tobin, Donald Donville, Donald Rauls, Hector Gagnon and Dick LaBrasseur.

REV. SABIN RESIGNS
Marquette—The Rev. E. P. Sabin, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, announced from the pulpit Sunday that he has resigned to become dean of the Cathedral at Fond du Lac. The resignation becomes effective May 29 and he will assume his new duties May 22.

During Dean Sabin's 15-year rectorate here, St. Paul's church has shown a steady and substantial growth in both membership and activity and the church property has been increased by building and improvement from a valuation of $39,000 to $65,000. # Parishoners Commence Razing Of St. Joseph's Catholic Church

NEW BUILDING TO GO UP SOON

Services Will Be Held in Bonifas Memorial Gymnasium

The work of demolishing St. Joseph's Catholic church, soon to be replaced by a new building made possible through bequests of the late William Bonifas, began yesterday morning as members of the parish moved pews from the church to the William Bonifas Memorial gymnasium where services will be held until the new building is completed.

Plans for the new structure will soon be placed in the hands of contractors for bids, the Rev. Fr. Edward Leary, pastor, announced yesterday. The proposed building, which will be of romantic architecture similar to that of the new Bonifas Memorial auditorium and gymnasium, has been designed by Foeller, Schober and Berners of Green Bay.

Beginning with masses at 6:30 and 8 o'clock this morning, services will be held in the gymnasium during the construction period. Almost all of the church's 200 pews were moved into the gymnasium by parishioners yesterday. Building paper was first laid down to protect the floor, and the pews were set up facing the Blessed Virgin altar from the old structure which will serve as high altar in the temporary church. Images of the Blessed Virgin and St. Anthony were brought from the church and set up flanking the altar on right and left at the west end of the gymnasium.

A. M. Arntzen, local contractor who has just completed the William Bonifas Memorial building, is in charge of the razing of the church. Kasota stone, which was used in the construction of the Memorial building, will also be employed in the new church. Mankato has been selected for the trim.

New Building Larger The new church will be considerably larger than the present building. It will be 156 feet in length and 83 feet wide. Like the auditorium, it will be built close to the front sidewalk. There will be but three steps up from the sidewalk to the church doors, and the building will extend the full depth of the lot.

The altar will be at the south end of the new building, as it is in the present structure. A tower will be erected at the east side, and will contain the bells which are now in use.

A new rectory will also be built, with contributions by the parish, at the same time that the church is constructed. The present rectory will be moved west to allow for construction of the new one on the same site.

The design of the new rectory will be similar to that of the church and the auditorium, and it will be connected with the church by a passageway.

Parish 65 Years Old

The construction of a new church will mark an important step in the history of St. Joseph's parish, which dates back 65 years.

Rev. Father Joseph Keenan, of the Redemptorist Fathers, was the first known Catholic missionary working in this territory. In the summer of 1864, Rev. Father Dall, of Fond Du Lac, made an unsuccessful attempt to organize a congregation. The following year, however, through the efforts of Father Bourion of Ne-gaunee, Bishop Baraga was persuaded to appoint Father Duroc as pastor in this city.

With the arrival of Father Duroc, steps were immediately taken in the construction of a church. Two lots at the corner of Seventh street and First avenue south, where the present edifice stands, were donated by Nelson Ludington and a small frame structure was constructed. The little congregation moved into their new place of worship in the autumn of 1869. The congregation grew so rapidly that in the course of two years it was found necessary to enlarge the church.

Rev. Father Charles Langner replaced Father Duroc and made many improvements were made in the church. It was during the time of his service here that a new rectory was built. Dedication of the new church building took place on December 8, 1873.

On June 17, 1881, Father Langner yielded his charge to

Milwaukee Road Will Cooperate On Winter Sports

Cooperation in the promotion of winter sports at Escanaba next season was promised by G. A. Semmlow, advertising agent of the Milwaukee Road, in a letter addressed to Harold P. Lindsay, secretary of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce.

The Milwaukee Road conducted all-expense tours to the Escanaba Smelt Jamboree in April from Chicago to Pembine, Wis., and then via Soo Line to Gladstone. Bus transportation was provided from Gladstone to Escanaba.

"We were very glad to cooperate with you in connection with the Smelt Jamboree and will give the subject of winter sports proper consideration in due season," Mr. Semmlow wrote to the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce.

The Milwaukee Road operates the fast Chippewa passenger train from Escanaba to Channing. Quite a number of people from this area go to Iron Mountain to avail themselves of this modern train service.

Rev. Theodore Majerius, Father Majerius was followed a year and a half later by Father Joseph Nelling, who in turn was followed by Rt. Rev. Bishop Mrak. August 17, 1883 marked a turn in the history of St. Joseph's church when Bishop Vertin ceded the parish to the Franciscan Order.

Father Eugene Buttermar served until 1890 when he was replaced by Rev. Father Francis Lings, Father William Gausepohl, who followed Rev. Lings, ceded the pastorate to Rev. Bede Oldergiering in 1901. During these years, the congregation grew to such an extent that the Celtic population of the parish received permission to establish their own St. Patrick's church.

In succession since the division of the parish, St. Joseph's has been served by Reverend Wagner, Henze, Buschle, Doolley and Bertram. In 1921, Rev. Father Edward Leary was installed as pastor and has served ever since.

Rotary Club Receives Gift

Donald Zehern of Fairport, who was one of the 4-H club members who were guests of the Escanaba Rotary club at its weekly luncheon meeting at the Delta hotel Monday noon, is presenting a bookcase, which he made as a club project, to Robert Deo, who accepted the gift in behalf of the Rotary club. Mr. Deo is the president of the club.

ARTS EXHIBIT WILL BE HELD

Crafts Display Scheduled for May 14-16; Lions Sponsor Event

On Thursday and Friday, May 14 and 15, from 3:30 to 5:30 and 7 to 10, and Saturday, May 16th, all day there will be an arts and crafts exhibit at the city recreation center, South 14th and 3rd avenue. This exhibition is to be a display of articles made in the recreational centers under the supervision of the WPA recreational leaders, and is being sponsored by the Escanaba Lions club, which will furnish ribbons in approximately 35 divisions.

All people who have made articles in any of the classes are invited to enter them in this display. Classes have included woodwork, sewing, soap carving, clay modeling, photograph tinting, photograph painting, sketching, weaving, silhouettes, nets, puppetry and other miscellaneous arts and crafts.

There will be from one to six divisions in each one of the main divisions. The articles brought in for display will be classified according to their division and the first, second and third place ribbons will be awarded by the Lions Club.

Several hundred have participated in the arts and crafts program conducted at the centers during the winter and it is expected that there will be over one thousand articles on display.

The exhibit is to be one of the annual events in the city recreation program and will be conducted by Miss Doris Costley, Miss Marie Schuster, Mrs. Bernice Anderson, Leo Moreau, Glen Wellmann, Fritz Frederickson, Clifford Anderson, Geo. LaFave, Claude Fisher and Maurice Pirlot, WPA recreational leaders. The entire center will be devoted to the exhibit and there will be no other activities during that time. The public is urged to attend and see what has been done in the recreational activities which are open to all.

Fertilizer Needed For Home Gardens, Experiments Show

Heavy applications of manure and fertilizer are essential if high yields are expected in the home vegetable garden, according to Carl Dietz, gardener at the Upper Peninsula experiment station, Chatham. Dietz has been in the county several times recently, speaking at adult garden club meetings arranged by E. A. Wenner, county agent.

Manure should be applied at the rate of 20 tons and fertilizer at the rate of 1,000 pounds per acre," Dietz stated. "This would be about 50 pounds of manure and 2 1/2 pounds of fertilizer for a plot of 100 square feet, or measuring 10 feet by 10 feet."

Since the garden usually nets greater returns per acre than any other part of the farm, Dietz says, the amount of manure and fertilizer which has been recommended is not excessive.

An excellent fertilizer analysis for all garden purposes is a 4-16-4 or a 4-16-8. Nitrogen is an important part of the fertilizer even though manure is applied, Dietz says. The nitrogen helps to give the plants an early rapid growth which is essential in the upper peninsula because of the short growing season.

More effective and more economical use of fertilizer is often secured if part or all of it is applied beside the row at planting time. Nitrogen side dressings increase the yields if applied during cool wet periods in the spring, especially for leafy vegetables like spinach, cabbage and head lettuce. Side dressings are made by scattering about 1/2 pound of ammonium sulphate around the plants in 100 square feet of garden. Most vegetable crops thrive best in a slightly acid or neutral soil, and do not require lime except in extreme cases. Cabbage and cauliflower grow more free from disease if the land is limed.

STATE IS GIVEN 7 CCC CAMPS

Conservation Department Will Dispose of Buildings

Lansing—Title to the buildings on seven evacuated CCC camps in Michigan has been turned over to the department of conservation to permit wrecking for salvage or retention for public use.

At least two of the camps will be maintained for use by various group camps. Where continued maintenance of the camps is found impractical the buildings will be torn down and the material used for other state purposes.

The Wilderness and Muskegon camps will probably be retained. Two of the other abandoned camps are located on state parks, the Hayes and Bay City parks, and the rest are on state forests at Alpena, Johannesburg and Mollasses river.

In all, 18 camps have been abandoned to date. Although four more camps were scheduled for evacuation May 31, they will not be abandoned because a bill in Congress to restore $50,000,000 of the reductions voted previously in CCC appropriations enacted passed both houses.

In the majority of cases each camp includes several buildings. A number, however, being of only semi-permanent construction and now being several years old, are badly in need of repairs. Buildings not transferred to the department of conservation have been divided between the United States army and the state CCC for salvaging, and in the case of the camp located on Welis state park, title was given to the N. Y. A. of Wisconsin, the buildings to be torn down and removed.

By Dorothy Thompson

In Defense of Mrs. Roosevelt

The League of Catholic Women and any other group of people in the United States are certainly permitted to have their own ideas about divorce, and about the desirability of this or that film or book, but they overreach themselves, it seems to me, when they suggest that the wife of the President of the United States has not a right to her own highly individual opinion about either of these things or anything else.

Dorothy Thompson

As a matter of fact, what one likes about Mrs. Roosevelt is her willingness on occasion to "make pronouncements that give offense to a large part of our citizens." Thereby she demonstrates that the President's wife does not have to become a robot during the period of her husband's occupation of the White House.

I don't think that the prestige of Mrs. Roosevelt's position will change anybody's ideas about divorce, and I doubt whether her support of the film "The Birth of a Baby" is any more important than similar support given by presidents of boards of health, directors of associations for the improvement of the condition of the poor or nationally known physicians. I do think it important that people should not be bulldozed by organizations for candid expressions of their opinion. Mrs. Roosevelt is not a man, but neither is she a mouse.

The statements that drew the fire of Mrs. Charles Feohan, president of the League of Catholic Women, addressing the Second Diocesan Congress in Boston the other day, was that "divorce is a recognized factor in American life," and that the controversial motion picture, "The Birth of a Baby" "could not be harmful because it was honest."

Now, divorce certainly is a factor in American life, and I don't see why it should give offense to recognize a fact. Out of every hundred marriages in this country sixteen are dissolved by divorce. Divorce is recognized by the law in every state of the Union except one for causes ranging from lack of physical fidelity to "mental cruelty," interpreted very broadly in Reno.

It is permitted by the entire Protestant Church, and this is a Protestant country. There are a great many frivolous divorces in the United States, but they are the result of frivolous marriages. Other divorces occur for reasons of profound incompatibility—which is the only really good reason for divorce—and where there are children involved the process is usually extremely painful for both people who have to go through it. People don't usually divorce just for fun.

The rate is extremely high in the United States, and I suspect that the reason for two things: there are still more men than women in this country, and women own a larger proportion of the wealth here than they do anywhere else in the world. There is therefore a great deal of economic independence and there is more than one man for every woman. The Catholic Church is opposed to divorce, although it admits the impossibility of certain marriages and occasionally annuls them. A very good case can be made against divorce. I certainly think it can be demonstrated that the relations between men and women, or between husbands and wives, are as happy in those countries that frown on divorce as they are where divorce is legal and generally accepted by public opinion. I doubt whether in the former societies there is any more sexual fidelity.

But Mrs. Roosevelt's statement was a plain statement of fact and she ought not to be pilloried for making it.

As for the film, "The Birth of a Baby," I never saw the film. I only saw the stills as published in "Life,"—but I simply cannot understand the hullabaloo about either of them. One might bring a journalistic objection against the film on the ground that it is not news, or an artistic objection on the ground that the captions are occasionally sentimental and the whole picture not particularly esthetic.

But since its purpose was not to titillate the public curiosity, but to give a graphic, simple description of a physiological process with recommendations for prenatal care, these objections are not valid.

There was absolutely nothing prurient about the pictures, and there was nothing in them that is not already known to every adolescent girl who has been educated in a good school or by a careful mother, and has not got her information out of the gutter.

By and large, Mrs. Roosevelt's remark "I never think honest things are bad" was a highly moral statement. Courage, generosity, and honesty are still the primary virtues of free men, and the bases of all morality.

TRIAL FLIGHT

BY ADELAIDE HUMPHRIES

CAST OF CHARACTERS
JACKIE DUNN—heroine; she wanted to fly.
ROGER BRECKNER—hero; he wanted to test the stratosphere.
BERYL MELROSE—wealthy widow; she wanted Roger.
EVELYN LA FARGE—Jackie's mother; she wanted a son-in-law.

Yesterday, pressed to marry, Jackie discourages her mother, but she knows from past experience that her mother somehow will win out.

CHAPTER II
"I'm afraid I can't come out to the field today," Jackie said regretfully, when Roger Breckner telephoned that next morning. Her foreboding had proved correct so far. Evelyn had taken to her bed with one of her sick headaches! She seemed really so ill, however, that Jackie felt she ought not leave her. One never knew into what Evelyn's headaches might develop.

"But it's such a swell day!" Roger's voice betrayed disappointment even over the wire. "Unlimited ceiling, visibility perfect, only a two-mile S. W. wind. I thought you might try your first solo, if you wished."

If she wished! Jackie's heart gave a leap, then bounded flat like a tennis ball with no bounce. "Maybe I can come out later," she suggested, but her voice did not sound very hopeful. "Or tomorrow..."

"I'm taking off for Washington tomorrow," Roger interrupted. He was a free lance pilot; occasionally he did some test flying, besides instructing. "If you can't take your lesson today, couldn't you run out long enough to grab a bite with me at the Airport Inn? Maybe we could manage to get aired out, too, afterwards."

Jackie never turned down a chance to get "aired out" as Roger called it, if she possibly could help herself. "I'll do my best," she promised. "Maybe I can leave Mother that long." If Roger was going away she would just have to manage. Not because she had to see Roger, but because she might not get "upstairs" until he returned, and besides she was so eager to hear all about the tests he was going to make in Washington.

When Evelyn learned her daughter had an invitation to have dinner with her young man she got surprisingly better. "Of course you must go, darling," she insisted sweetly. "And do wear something especially nice." She meant something feminine and frilly, if such a garment could be found in Jackie's wardrobe.

The slate-blue tailored suit, with its silk blouse, that Jackie zipped into after a hasty shower, was not as beguiling as it might have been, but it was decidedly smart and the golden flecks in Jackie's eyes were so dancing and eager that most any young man, with the aid of the moon, would want to talk about something besides flying.

Evelyn would not have considered the Airport Inn a very romantic setting. Its tables were covered with red and white checkered cloths, booths lined with sides; there were musical and game machines and always a great deal of chatter and laughter. What appealed to Jackie were the autographed photos of aviators, many of them "old-timers," that hung proudly on the walls, the hum of airplanes overhead, the press of excitement and activity.

STOCKS MOVE UP SLIGHTLY

STOCK MARKET AVERAGES table with columns for Net change, Previous day, Month ago, Year ago, 1938 high, 1938 low, 1937 high, 1937 low.

BY FREDERICK GARDNER (Associated Press Financial Writer) New York, May 3 (AP)—The stock market for a change, picked the recovery side in today's market and selected issues retrieved 1 to 4 points at the best.

Traders cashed in profits now and then and best marks were reduced in some cases near the close. Dealings were still on a restricted scale, although much better, comparatively, than yesterday's crawling proceedings.

Dealers were still on a restricted scale, although much better, comparatively, than yesterday's crawling proceedings. Transfers totalled 473,470 shares against 354,010 the day before.

Market analysts were inclined to attribute the turn-about mainly to the recent pronounced rally of offerings which attracted some speculative forces to the buying contingent on the theory the erasure of about half the upturn from the March lows in the past several days entitled the list to at least a temporary comeback.

Volume Dwindles Aircraft, coppers and utilities took over the advancing play after a mixed opening. These subsequently were joined by steels, motors, mail orders, farm implements and specialties.

The third hour was fairly active, but after that the volume dwindled. Steels found nothing particularly buoying in nearby production prospects, but after the close a straw in the wind was seen when U. S. Steel announced it expected to offer $100,000,000 of 10-year debentures in June, the proceeds to be used for retiring a $50,000,000 bank loan and for providing funds for plant construction, working capital and general purposes of the corporation.

U. S. Steel was up 1 3/4 points at 44 and Bethlehem gained as much at 47. Motors ignored a sit-down strike at Chevrolet and a substantial drop in April new passenger car registrations. General Motors was up 1 3/8 at 30 3/4 and Chrysler 1 1/2 at 41.

Coppers Strengthened Coppers strengthened as Chairman Birch of Kennecott told the annual stockholders' meeting the company earned about 32 cents a share in the first quarter, more than covering the dividend.

Domestic free stocks of copper in the hands of consumers were also placed at about 100,000 tons, the lowest in some time. Heavy demand for the metal continued abroad. Prominent shares gained in this division were Anaconda at 27 1/2, Kennecott 33, American Smelting 36 5/8, Phelps Dodge 22 and International Nickel 46 1/8.

Most rails held improvement to small amounts, although these were still propped by expectations of an emergency relief measure for the roads at this session of Congress. A sizable drop in net operating income for class 1 carriers in the first quarter was a restraining influence.

Bonds emulated stocks, with secondary loans especially in demand. The turnover here, though, continued low. Wheat futures at Chicago pushed up 1/2 to 1 7/8 cents a bushel in the face of private forecasts of the largest crop since 1931. At the same time some observers thought the predicted increase was less than anticipated. Corn was down 1-8 to 5-8. Cotton lost 5 to 29 cents a bale.

The French franc tumbled in terms of the dollar as the Daladier government boosted all taxes 8 per cent and it was rumored devaluation of the unit would be effected.

Days' Markets in Brief New York, May 3 (AP)—Stocks: Strong; industrials lead rally. Bonds: Higher; corporates pacify rise. Curb: Improved; light demand lifts list. Chicago: Wheat: Higher; prospective Chicago shipments. Corn: Lower; eastern interests sell. Cattle: Steady to 15 lower. Hogs: Steady to 10 lower.

Cubs Win, Dean In Showers; Boston Takes Detroit

DIZ TIRES OUT IN 7 STANZAS

Charley Root Finishes Up Phils in 2 Innings for 5-2 Victory

Chicago, May 3 (AP)—Dixie Dean won his third game of the season against no defeats as Chicago's Cubs defeated Philadelphia 5 to 2 today, but the pitcher whose high-priced right arm has all baseball talking and guessing was in the showers at the finish.

Dean, who had to retire from a Cubs-Cincinnati game last week when his pitching arm developed soreness, worked seven innings, allowing all eight of the Phils' hits and both of the runs. He tired during his last frame to bat in the seventh. Charlie Root finished, setting down the Phils in order in the final two innings.

Homer Breaks Tie

Joe Marty's third home run of the season, a lousy smash over the left field wall in the sixth inning, broke a 2-2 deadlock and proved enough to win for the Cubs. In the eighth, Tony Lazzeri walked and scored a few moments later as Gaby Hartnett also batted his third homer of the year over the same wall.

Dean, whose purchase last month from the St. Louis Cardinals for $185,000 and three players started innumerable arguments as to who came out "best" in the transaction, didn't look like a great pitcher today. The Phils were hitting his pitches hard and only great fielding kept Diz from an early and less dignified trip to the dressing room. He was faster, however, than when he shut out the Cardinals on four hits for his second win, and after the game expressed typical Dean confidence that he would be in "top shape" with a few more games "under his belt".

The Escanaba high school athletic field will be the scene of the first track meet of the season here Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. At that time, when the Eskymos will meet Menominee and Manistique in a triangular meet.

It will be the first meet of the season for Escanaba and Manistique but the Menominee crew will have had one meet's experience. The Maroons showed a world of power last Saturday in running up a 73-32 victory over Peshtigo high school behind the spectacular work of the Fernstrom twins. The two boys, Ben and Bill, copped first places in the century, furlong, quarter mile and broad jump and ran on the half mile relay team, which spanned the distance in 1:36.0, which is remarkably good time.

From comparative records, it appears that honors between Menominee and Escanaba will be divided evenly. Manistique is entirely of an unknown quantity, none of the records from the Emerald squad being available.

Six Tallies Driven In By Rookie; Solons Are Nosed Out, 10-9

Washington, May 3 (AP)—Ken Keltner, rookie third baseman, collected two home runs and drove in six tallies today to help the league-leading Cleveland Indians to defeat Washington, 10 to 9.

The Senators, trailing after the fifth inning, went on a scoring spree in the ninth which fell short by one run of tying the count. With the tying run on third base, Manager Bucky Harris, his pinch hitters exhausted, was forced to let Relief Pitcher Pete Appleton bat for himself. Appleton grounded out to end the game.

Gehrig And Henrich Slam Four-Baggers; Browns Fall, 5 to 1

New York, May 3 (AP)—The New York Yankees opened their home stand against the St. Louis Browns, 5 to 1, as Lou Gehrig and Tom Henrich clouted home runs and Charley Ruffing pitched nine-hit ball for his third victory of the year.

Gehrig's four-bagger, which came in the first with Bill Dickie on base, was his first of the season and followed a day after his demotion to sixth place in the champions' batting order. The big first baseman gave further signs of snapping out of his slump by also banging a double, one of four Yankee two-baggers.

ROSS RETURNS

Boston, May 3 (AP)—The Detroit Tiger squad was complete again today with the return of Don Ross, rookie third sacker, to the club.

Ross was sent to a hospital several days ago suffering from a bad cold.

Manager Mickey Cochrane said he would keep Ross on the bench for several days before restoring him to his third base position.

SPILLING the DOPE

Odds and ends that have escaped the record book:
Henry Greenberg, always listed as a first baseman, had a brief pitching career. It happened in 1931, at Evansville. He pitched against Bloomington in a league game, struck out seven batters in three innings, but was charged with six runs and three hits.

"I either walked them, hit them or struck them out," says Greenberg. "My pitching career ended right there although I averaged two and one-third strikeouts per inning."

In proof of the contention that big leads often mean nothing in modern baseball:
Two years ago the Philadelphia Athletics scored 11 runs in the third inning against the New York Yankees but were beaten, 17 to 11.

REDS ROUT GIANTS 10 to 2 On First Western Trip Tilt

Cincinnati, May 3 (AP)—The New York Giants, hoping to open their first western trip with a victory, were rudely stopped short today as the Cincinnati Reds, running their own winning streak to four straight, routed the National league champions, 10 to 2.

While his mates were slugging Hal Schumacher, Hy Vandenberg and Cydell (Slick) Castelman all around the lot, Paul Derringer tamed the Giants with eight hits for his third victory of the season. It was the New Yorkers' first defeat since April 20, when they dropped a 6-4 decision to Boston.

ROXIE LAWSON TOILS IN VAIN

Homers by Greenberg and Gehringer Fail to Halt 4 to 3 Defeat

Boston, May 3 (AP)—The bats of Hank Greenberg and Charley Gehringer boomed for home runs today but Detroit lost the opening game of their eastern invasion to the Boston Red Sox 4 to 3 in 10 innings.

Robert Moses Grove, the lanky Marylander, went the route for Boston while Roxie Lawson toiled in vain for the Detroit cause. Each hurler gave up 12 hits but the Red Sox blows were more timely than those of Detroit and this issue settled the ball game.

The game was not without a ray of sunshine for Detroit, though. For the first time this season Gehringer, Greenberg and Rudy York all hit well in a game, indicating that the slump is over for Detroit's "big three." York, who was in danger of being benched, drove out three hits in three appearances.

Both hurlers were wild, Grove issuing six passes and Lawson nine. Three double plays helped Grove out of trouble.
Detroit loaded the bases in the ninth but could not score. George Tebbetts hitting into a twin killing.

Erin (Pete) Fox continued his spectacular hitting for Detroit, getting two hits in five appearances to remain close behind Hal Trosky, of Cleveland, the league leader.
The setback dropped Detroit to a tie with the St. Louis Browns for last place with five wins and nine losses.

Tunney Says Louis-Schmeling Go Will Be Greatest Bout In Years

Washington, May 3 (AP)—General Tunney, ex-heavyweight champion, predicted today the Louis-Schmeling fight would be one of the greatest matches in years, but declined to pick the winner.

Tunney, visiting the treasury on business matters, said he believed Louis would be in better condition this time than when Schmeling won by a technical knockout in their previous encounter.

Schmeling, however, Tunney said, would carry into the ring the confidence of his former victory and the "inspiration" of representing the new racial theories of his native Germany.

"If Schmeling loses," Tunney remarked, "he'd better not go back to Hitler."
Tunney protested, in brief conferences with Secretary Morgenthau and Under Secretary Magill, a proposal for a 25 cents a gallon floor tax on liquor stocks.
The former boxer, who is chairman of the board of the American Distilling company, said the difficulties of collecting the tax would create a situation as bad as the bootleg era.

The new tax bill which a committee of senators and representatives is rounding into final shape provides for an increase from $2 to $2.25 a gallon in the tax on liquor made after July 1.
Some manufacturers have protested that the higher tax ought also to be levied on liquor already manufactured, contending that otherwise distillers with large stocks on hand would have a competitive advantage.

It was this proposal that Tunney protested. He argued that the advantage of the lower tax on present stocks would be passed on to the consumer.
Morgenthau and Magill told him the matter was entirely in the hands of congress.

Curtis Defeats Engadine By 8-1

Curtis, Mich.—Behind the two-hit pitching of Larase, Curtis defeated Engadine, 8-1, in the opening game of the season between two Central League teams before a large crowd here Sunday.
Milton Larase starting on the mound for Curtis, did not allow a hit for three innings and struck out the first six men to face him. Larase was back in a Curtis uniform after a season's absence when he played with Gould City, another Central League team.

Kenny Lee was the batting star of the game by collecting a single and double and drew passes his other two trips.
The Central League has a meeting of managers Friday, May 6, at Curtis, when a schedule will be drawn up and opening date set. The teams entered this year are Moran, Rexton, Engadine, Manistique, Curtis, Grand Marais, Hulbert and Gould City.

Two Circuit Clouts Spoil Twirling Duel

St. Louis, May 3 (AP)—Two home run balls cost Lou Fette a pitcher's duel with Bill McGee today as the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Boston Bees 3 to 2.
Herb Bremer clouted the first homer in the second and the Cardinals led 2 to 0. The Bees tied it up in the fourth after Moore's triple scored Cooney and English drove in Moore.

Gutteridge won the game in the sixth with a mighty blow into the left field seats after two were out.

CHESS PLAYERS PICK ESCANABA

Upper Peninsula Experts to Open Tournament Here on Friday

The Escanaba Chess club will be the host at the fourth annual Upper Peninsula Chess Tournament which will be held in this city beginning Friday, May 6, at 2 o'clock. The three day meet will be staged in the clubhouse of the Escanaba Golf club through courtesy of that organization.

The Northern State Tournament is being brought here for the first time largely through the efforts of Rev. James G. Ward, president of the local club, and Bever Butts, city recreational director. Both men have been very active in promoting chess interest in Escanaba during the past season.

Early entries indicate that this year's tourney will attract the strongest array of chess talent ever assembled in the peninsula. The expected contestants include A. J. Vukelich of Ontonagon; Charles Feak, Channing; Ted Wescott, Sault Ste. Marie; Rev. C. Southworth, Manistique; M. E. Dunn, Vuolan; O. H. Reola, Iron Mountain, and several members of the local club. Escanaba fans are pinning their hopes on Rev. Ward winner of the club tournament with a record marked only by a single draw with Earl Kosbab. Dr. R. E. Hayes, ardent patron of the "royal game," will accompany Mr. Feak and will probably officiate.

The Escanaba Chess club cordially invites all interested persons to witness the contest.

JOCKEY SANDE WINNER AGAIN

The Chief Equals Record at Louisville, Noses Out Lawrin

Louisville, Ky., May 3 (AP)—Earl Sande played his other ace today as The Chief took the measure of seven other Kentucky Derby eligibles, including his famous stablemate, Stagehand, with a track record equalling performance in the "trial" stakes at Churchill Downs.

Taking command within the first quarter mile and then hanging on tenaciously in the final drive, The Chief reeled off the mile in 1:35 4-5 and scored a thrilling nose triumph over Lawrin, Flamingo stakes winner from Herbert M. Woolf's Woolford farm.

Stagehand himself trailed by another five lengths in third place while showing the way to such promising candidates as A. G. Tarr's Wise Fox, Mrs. Ethel V. Mars' Mountain Ridge, Redbreast from Mrs. Payne Whitney's Greentree stable and Bert Friend's Co-Sport.

The Chief's performance, matching the track record set by Peace Chance in 1934, only served to strengthen the confidence held in the combination trained by Sande and owned by Maxwell Howard of Dayton, Ohio. Stagehand lost no prestige, despite his defeat. He was away slowly, as usual, moved up to third place at the head of the stretch and then Jack Westrope appeared to be content to hold his position as The Chief and Lawrin fought it out in a photo finish of the derby itself. Heavily backed at 1 to 2 to win the purse of $2,145 the Sande-trained colts did not fall their public. After the race some of the visiting experts went so far as to even predict they would be one, two in the derby.

Co-Sport was the first to show in front but the field had not travelled a sixteenth of a mile when The Chief, ridden by George Woolf, and Lawrin, with Irving Anderson in the saddle, hooked up in their duel. They swung down the backstretch never more than a half length apart with The Chief flashing past the six furlong pole in the sensational time of 1:10 3-5.

Rounding the bend, Lawrin moved within a head of his rival but The Chief refused to give another inch. They came down the stretch, taking almost stride for stride. At the sixteenth pole, it appeared as if The Chief would pull away but Lawrin, running under the handicap of wearing bar plates to protect his tender feet, answered the move with one of his own that sent them under the wire separated by the narrowest of margins.

Meanwhile, Stagehand had been gradually working his way up from the rear. He applied enough pressure rounding the bend to move into third place. That was as close as he got although it appeared Jack Westrope might have closed in had he so desired.

The Chief went on to work out the mile and an eighth in 1:50 4-5 while Stagehand was caught in 1:51 1-5 for the same distance.

Feels Like Telling the Whole World About the KruGon

KruGon Gave Her Good Health After Twelve Years Intense Suffering; Aches and Pains Gone; Entire System Toned

"I have known many medicines in years past but none that can equal this new KruGon," said Mrs. Henrietta Wanick, 114 Missouri Ave., Alton, Illinois. "For twelve years I suffered dreadfully

MRS. HENRIETTA WANICK with stomach trouble regardless of how carefully I planned my diet. After each meal gas and bloating made me miserable and it seemed I ached and pained all over. My kidneys too were disordered and frequent night risings caused me to get very little sleep and I became nervous. Neuritis had an awful hold on me so that I could hardly stand it at times. I was becoming run down and grew weaker with each day. Medicines failed to help me and I became so discouraged until I gave this new KruGon a trial. "It was wonderful how quickly KruGon took hold of my stubborn case," continued Mrs. Wanick. "It was no time at all until my stomach troubles began to leave me, kidneys were regulated easily, gas and bloating no longer bothered me and I can eat any of the foods I wish without distressing after effects. Even those sharp stabbing pains of neuritis have gone. I can sleep well and really enjoy living I feel so well again. No one need hesitate in trying KruGon—its merit has been proven." KruGon is sold by West End Drug Store, 1221 Ludington St., this city.

Hear Ye! Liquor Store Employees Play Bartenders

Every year diamondball has one serious rivalry which outdoes all others. A few years ago, the annual game between the Daily Press crew and the Postoffice gang made the headlines. Since most of the members of both those outfits have become mellowed with age and burdened with families, the torch has fallen to the younger generation.

Thursday night, the battle of the century will be waged between the Bartenders and the Liquor Store employees. The game will start at 7:30 and the site will be—yes, you've guessed it—the Old Brewery diamond. For the past several days, taunts have been hurled from rival camps as to the relative merits of both aggregations. The Liquor Store employees claim that the Bartenders will be hindered by German goitres as the result of too frequent tasting of their wares. On the other hand, the Bartenders believe their opponents from the Liquor Store will find hindrance from excessively large posterior extremities resultant from lack of enough business to keep them away from their favorite easy chairs.

Two peerless gentlemen of quality, Mike Walsh and Gus Asp whose integrity and ability is beyond question, have been named as arbiters.

To the winning team goes—yes, you've guessed it again—a case of orangeade!

Local Company Has Contract To Strip Surface Near Mine

Iron Mountain, May 3—Stripping of additional surface coverage at the Cornell mine, situated northeast of the city and owned by the Globe Iron company, of Jackson, Ohio, has been begun preparatory to operation of the property for another season, according to W. R. Doell, superintendent.

The Delta Construction company, of Escanaba, operating a shovel and six trucks, has the stripping contract, which will continue until about June 1, when removal of the ore will begin, Doell said.

Although starting on the fourth season's operations, shipments during the first two seasons totalled only about 25,000 tons, of which 20,000 were taken out the first year, Doell stated. Last year, however, about 55,000 tons were shipped to the docks at Escanaba.

A spur track of the Chicago & North Western railroad has been built into the property, and shipments will begin as soon after June 1 as possible.

"I am an engineer," writes an enthusiastic owner—"see things from a technical point of view. Recently I bought a medium-price, streamlined car, the Lincoln-Zephyr, with many advanced features.

"Twelve cylinders meant smoothness, obviously. But I considered statements of gasoline economy just rosy poetic license!

"Well—we filled the tank, drove to Fort Pierce, and back, and measured the gas. We had gotten 19.2 miles per gallon of gas!"

Twelve thrifty cylinders is only the first chapter in the Lincoln-Zephyr story! Get the rest from your dealer!

Let's Figure It Out

Your dollar has to step fast and cover a lot of pockets to get around these days! And it's the dollar that sticks close to home that does the most good! Local wages going into local business are the kind that come back, in taxes and more wages and better business for all of us!

And then there are other advantages . . . friendly courtesies from attendants who know you and know your preferences . . . a neighborly interest on the part of the management to keep the town going ahead . . . so, there doesn't seem to be much of a question about the advantages of buying from Cities Service dealers.

You get all of them . . . plus knowing that you are building better business for the dealers and better business for the whole community, when you let Cities Service Stations take care of your automotive needs.
