LEAGUE EDICT ON ETHIOPIAN CASE HELD UP

CHINA DEMANDS AID AGAINST JAPAN AT GENEVA

Geneva, May 10 (AP)—Red tape today delayed the efforts of Great Britain and France to win freedom for League of Nations members to recognize Italy's conquest of Ethiopia.

The carefully-laid plans of the league powers, which virtually would erase Ethiopia from the list of nations and from league membership, however, appeared assured of ultimate success.

Attempts by the British and French foreign ministers, Viscount Halifax and Georges Bonnet, to get the question settled swiftly failed when Ethiopia's delegates, backed by Soviet Russia and Bolivia, insisted on their right to postpone the session of the council until tomorrow at the earliest.

Dr. Koo Confident The Franco-British job was made no easier by the flat demands of China's Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo that the league give China "material aid" against Japan.

Speaking in a tone of confidence, Dr. Koo declared "such aid and cooperation is more urgent because it will hasten the termination of hostilities and insure the defeat of the forces of disorder and violence."

"During all these months," he told the council, "Japan has not relaxed her efforts to press forward a military adventure against China for domination and conquest. Japanese armed forces numbering a million men in all have launched one offensive after another on the half-grown war-fronts of China."

Thanks to united opposition of the Chinese people and heroic efforts of Chinese troops, the advances of the invading forces has at least been arrested. Recent weeks have seen the tide of desperate fighting gradually turning in the favor of the brave Chinese defenders.

"And at Tairerchwang a month ago, the Japanese suffered the first major defeat of their military history and the myth that the Japanese army was invincible was shattered."

Dr. Koo cited league resolutions which recommended that members consider individual aid to China and declared, "with one exception, none had assisted her. He did not name the exception but it was believed to be Russia."

Even Chinese sources conceded that Dr. Koo had little hope of getting aid. But, coinciding with the Ethiopian recognition question, it was believed his private demands for aid from France and Great Britain were strengthened.

Britain and French spokesmen said they considered China's appeal settled with Kr. Koo's speech, and indicated nothing would be done about the plea to the council for aid.

It was reported in informed quarters, however, that Britain had agreed to consider opening a new credit to London for China to buy arms and munitions, while the French would facilitate shipment.

Cheering Germans Give Hitler Showy Welcome

Berlin, May 10 (AP)—Rank on rank of cheering Germans tonight gave a vociferous torchlight welcome to Adolf Hitler, home from his visit with Benito Mussolini to strengthen the axis of friendship linking 120,000,000 Germans and Italians.

Hitler's special train rolled slowly into Lehrter station between unbroken chains of torch-bearers lining ten and a half miles of railway track into the capital.

Berliners turned out by the thousands to take part in welcoming pageantry that vied with the splendor shown the fuhrer during his six-day stay in Italy for momentous talks with Mussolini.

A manifesto from Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering spurred the torch to show its gratitude to Hitler for "concluding a steel axis from the Baltic to Sicily that defies all disruptive forces and is a sure guarantor of peace."

Goering, flanked in the station by an imposing array of Nazi chieftains, greeted the fuhrer with assurances "the German people followed every incident of your journey with glowing hearts."

He declared "it is not a mere incident but a dispensation of the Almighty God that two such mighty statesmen should have met in a friendship destined to be everlasting."

Guns boomed a salute as Hitler stepped to the station platform. The two and a half mile route from the station to the chancellery was lined with 350,000 men of army and Nazi party organizations. Behind their unformed ranks countless thousands of Berliners cheered the returning fuhrer as his limousine wound through the flood-lit streets.

Flames shot up from 70-foot pylons which had been erected overnight for the elaborate welcome.

Swastikas and the cross of Savoy, Italy's royal house, fluttered from alternate flagpoles along the way. Colored lights glittered on both banks of the river Spree while powerful searchlights bathed the historic Brandenburg gate and the Pariser Platz where illuminated fountains played.

BIG MARIJUANA PATCHES FOUND

Sheriff At Grand Rapids Calls For Help; About 100 Acres Growing

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 10 (AP)—Sheriff Hugh Blacklock said tonight he had asked WPA labor to assist his officers in destroying large patches of marijuana weed found growing near the city.

The first patches of the narcotic weed were discovered last week and sheriff's officers and Niels G. O. Austin, federal narcotics agent, undertook to destroy them. Subsequent discoveries, the sheriff said, have indicated almost 100 acres are growing the weed, presenting a task too great for available deputy sheriffs.

Spraying the weeds with a poison solution failed to kill them the officers said and it has been found necessary to dig them up.

The $9 would have been Walker's fine. Walker, who lives in Royal Oak, said he had been upstate looking for work when he suddenly remembered Sunday night that he was due in court today to answer the charge. He then began the hitch-hike.

RICH SEAPORT CITY BOMBED BY JAPANESE

ATTACK ON AMOY IS FIRST INVASION OF SOUTH

Shanghai, May 11 (Wednesday) (AP)—Japanese naval forces have invaded South China for the first time in the 10 months old war in an attack on Amoy, rich Fukien province port 150 miles west of the Japanese-occupied island of Formosa.

The new attack started early yesterday with airplane and warship bombardment and apparently was designed to draw a portion of Chinese central armies away from the stalemated central front.

Chinese announced today their forces had countered the southern invasion by repulsing Japanese on all other fronts of the widespread war zone.

Civilians In Panic One of China's finest harbors, Amoy has a population of more than 200,000. Fifteen Americans, including Vice-Consul Leland C. Altfer, were known to be there.

A Japanese naval force landed after the heavy bombardment, which spread panic through the Chinese city of Amoy.

Japanese announced the capture of the eastern half of Amoy island and said fighting was in progress for the native city, on the western half. Much of the native city was said to be in flames.

Chinese reports declared that Chinese soldiers at first withdrew, then struck back at Japanese landing parties, killing 75 and capturing more than 100.

Thousands of Chinese were seeking to reach the safety of Kurlang Island, Amoy's foreign settlement. Foreign residents were warned by leaflets dropped from Japanese airplanes to leave the port.

The Chinese reports of central front successes told of Chinese forces beating back Japanese attempts to drive north from Nanking against the Lungshai railroad, long the target of Japan's central China campaign.

In northern Anhwei province, Chinese said, Japanese were repulsed with heavy losses after ten bayonet charges near Mengcheng, 80 miles southwest of Suchoo, core of Chinese resistance on the east central front.

In carrying the offensive to south China, Japanese sidestepped possible complications with the British by avoiding an attack against Canton, near the British crown colony of Hongkong.

Federal Aid Ordered Cut Off For Matanuska Valley Colony

Palmer, Alaska, May 10 (AP)—Matanuska valley's colonists, on the third anniversary of their government-sponsored experiment in beating the drought, were confronted by an order shutting off federal subsidies by next fall.

Director Leo B. Jacobs informed the 168 families they would be "on their own" starting next Oct. 1 when their "security development" income of around $75 a month will be discontinued.

The three years since the original 200 families were transported from midwest drought areas to the fertile Matanuska valley have been mixed with discouragement and progress, praise and criticism.

About a fourth of the families have moved out, some of them with caustic comments on the project's management, its location and the debt burden which once

DRIVE PLANNED ON 'BLIND PIGS'

Detroit Has 564 Illicit Liquor Places, Says Commissioner

Detroit, May 10 (AP)—Halo G. Knight, a member of the Michigan liquor control commission, said today he had learned there were "at least" 564 "blind pigs" in Detroit and made plans for a drive against them.

Knight said he had learned of the extent of the illicit liquor establishments through a report of the federal alcohol tax unit.

This report pointed out that the federal agency had issued operating stamps to 564 more establishments in Detroit than were licensed by the state.

Knight said the unlicensed dealers apparently were more afraid of federal authorities than of state and municipal authorities.

The federal stamps, Knight said, "are sold as freely as postage stamps. The law only requires that the purchaser leave his name and address."

The federal agency's list has been turned over to state and city police, Knight said, and added that these two groups would be aided by federal authorities in tracking down the "blind pigs."

LANSING BANDIT PAIR IS HUNTED

Attendant At Gasoline Station Abducted, Robbed of $140

Lansing, May 10 (AP)—State police headquarters here tonight directed an intensified search over most of Central Michigan for two bank robbers who abducted a filling station attendant here last night and escaped after robbing him of $140 and leaving him near Charlotte.

Kalamazoo police picked up the robbers' trail in their city and fired shots at the fleeing bandit car. The robbers were reported to have fled into a celery marsh near Kalamazoo with the plover in hot pursuit and then to have disappeared. They left a trail of stolen cars behind them, but late today no new thefts of automobiles had been reported that seemed to bear on their escape.

Detective Lieutenant Harold Mulbar of the state police said the two robbers were wanted in Genesee and other counties for robbery armed but declined to say how the identification was made.

The attendant, Frank Stevens, said the pair forced him to accompany them to a field near Charlotte where he was dropped. He said he fired at them after they left him and believed he struck one of them in the chest or shoulder.

GAS EXPLOSIONS KILL 79 MINERS

More Than 40 Injured In English Coal Pit Disaster

Duckmanton, Derbyshire, England, May 10 (AP)—Two gas explosions killed 79 miners and injured more than 40 at the Markham coal mine here today.

The disaster, which trapped an entire shift in the mine, struck into virtually every home in this little village. At first it had been feared a number of other miners had been buried—alive or dead—but late tonight officials announced the whole pit had been examined and all men accounted for.

Most of the bodies brought to the surface were so mutilated that it was virtually impossible to identify them.

While rescue work was in progress, the bishop of Derby, Dr. A. E. J. Rawlinson, led hundreds of weeping women and bereaved men in the Lord's Prayer at the pithead.

The government started an investigation to determine the cause of the disaster, the worst since 285 were killed at Wretham, Wals., September 22, 1934.

FLIERS START WARSAW TRIP

Five-Man Aerial Party Leaving California On Thursday

Los Angeles, May 10 (AP)—Barring unfavorable weather, Poland's five-man aerial expedition will get away at dawn Thursday on its projected 16,500-mile flight from Los Angeles to Warsaw, via South America.

Major Wladislaw Makowski, president of the Polish L. O. T. line and leader of the long-distance flight, took the twin-engine monoplane for a spin today over San Fernando valley to test shortwave radio equipment.

The first leg of the flight will be 1,500 miles to Mexico City. From there the big American-made plane will fly along the west coast to Chile, Argentina and Natal, Brazil. From Natal the fliers will fly over 1,800 miles of the South Atlantic to Dakar, French West Africa, and then by easy stages to Poland.

The Polish aviators still have a few matters to attend to. They need visas from two South American countries and insurance on their $100,000 plane.

Other members of the expedition are Zbigniew Wyslowski, chief pilot; Simon Piskorz, engineer; Percy Krassowski, assistant to Major Makowski, and Alfons Rzewicki, radio operator.

CHIEF OF UAW BANS WILDCATS

Union's Punitive Power Centralized; Faction Strife Continues

Detroit, May 10 (AP)—Homer Martin, confronted with factional disputes in the United Automobile Workers' union he heads, succeeded today in centralizing in the executive board punitive power to deal with instigators of "wildcat" strikes.

The Martin-controlled board took over, by resolution, the power previously exercised by local unions to punish those responsible for unauthorized work stoppages.

Martin said the board would investigate three recent strikes and that suspension or expulsion of UAW leaders in them might result. The three involved the Chevrolet small parts plant at Bay City, Mich.; the assembly line of the Packard Motor Car Co., in Detroit; and eight Detroit plants of the Bohn Aluminum & Brass Corp.

An "authorized" strike requires a two-thirds vote of local union members involved, and approval of the international UAW officers. Sudden work stoppages have drawn complaint from employers that the union is unable to control its members.

The board's resolution condemned unauthorized strikes as having "penalized, without voice or vote, thousands of workers directly and indirectly affected by them."

Martin said members convicted by the board of violating union strike procedure may be suspended or expelled, or the board may ask their employers to discharge them.

LEAGUE EDICT ON ETHIOPIAN CASE HELD UP

ment of supplies through French Indochina.

Further council procedure was discussed at a secret session tonight. It was indicated Switzerland would be given integral neutrality from League of Nations obligations at tomorrow's session. After the secret session, British and French appeared confident everything would go their way Thursday, when recognition of Ethiopia is to be discussed.

The campaign by Ethiopia's smart legal advisers to defer the council decision frankly worried the league powers although there were few doubts of the eventual outcome. A British spokesman acknowledged it might take "longer than we thought."

Although the Lion of Judah's delegates won the first round, they lost the second when China failed to make a statement against Britain's new accord with Italy. It promises British efforts to end league prohibitions against recognition of Italy's empire and has won general council approval.

Dr. Koo was reminded by the British that unless Italy and Britain settled their differences a large part of the British fleet would be forced to remain in the Mediterranean and could not be sent to the Pacific.

TITAN GRADS PLAY VARSITY

Dave Ripley of Soo Is Numbered Among "Old Timers"

Detroit, Mich., May 1.—To a squad of better than sixty University of Detroit football players, Sunday afternoon is going to be a pretty important day. For it happens that Coach "Gus" Dorais' Titan football squad is scheduled to play a football game on that day with a team named the "Old Timers." Although the name might be a bit misleading this "Old Timers" outfit has quite a ball club. As a matter of fact, there's not a man on the squad whose name hasn't blazed across the headlines at some time or another for his feats on the gridiron. Of course it must be admitted that many of the "Old Timers" have lost those figures that made them the apple of every gal's eye during their college days. However, there's still plenty of football left in the team haven't been away from the old college gridiron for more than six months.

Man for man the "Old Timers" team is practically on a par with the University of Detroit varsity eleven. With such backfield greats as "Anvil" Andy Farkas, Roger Hayes, Dave Ripley, John Wiczorek, Charles Payne, Al Oliveto, Lloyd Brazil and Doug Nott ready to carry the pigskin for the alumni, fans can rest assured that the "Old Timers" have plenty of potential scoring power. On the line the alumni can boast such stalwarts as Al Boglarsky, Ray Larson, Frank Kondraski, John Shada, Bud Cooper, Bill Wilson, Joe Cieslak and Dave Crotty, which means that the alumni goal line will be a pretty hard mark to cross. Yet despite the fact that the "Old Timers" lineup looks every bit as ready and able as the one which will represent Coach "Gus" Dorais' varsity squad, there's still something missing. That something happens to be the old college try, spirit, pep, call it what you may, that makes college football teams stand out from alumni and professional squads of the same type.

To the "Old Timers" Sunday's game will be a lot of fun. To many it will recall memories of the past. To others it will be a day of much needed exercise. To the majority it will be just a football game. But to the kids on the varsity squad Sunday's game might mean the difference in their winning a position on next year's varsity team. A whale of a lot of football can be played in sixty minutes and one thing sure is that Coach Dorais will be watching the performances of every man on the team. It will be the last time before practice opens in the fall for every member of the Titan squad to show the coach what he's got. Dorais has made it very plain that the men who play the ball game Sunday are quite likely to be the starting eleven when Detroit meets Purdue on Sept. 24. So regardless of the fact that this is baseball weather and most people are spending their Sunday afternoons on the

Menominee Child Is Awarded To Father

Menominee, May 10—Shirley Mae Reuss, who will be five years old in June, daughter of Harry Reuss of 1114 State street, Marinette, who since her birth has lived with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lemery on their Menominee township farm, was ordered returned to the custody of her father by Judge Frank A. Bell at completion of a hearing late yesterday in Menominee county circuit court.

The father petitioned for a writ of habeas corpus on behalf of his daughter against the grandparents, who had refused to give up their grandchild. Judge Bell ruled that Shirley's father has legal right to her custody, but stipulated that the father must pay the grandparents $120 for her care during the past 15 months.

Both Love Child The hearing was marked by the claims of affection for the blonde child, who sat with her grandparents during the hearing, dressed in a pretty white dress and with a blue ribbon in her hair. "I would not give her up for any amount of money. I've raised five children and I ought to be able to take care of her," declared motherly-appearing Mrs. Lemery. Harry Reuss, Shirley's father, said that he is now in a position to give the child a better home than she has had with the Lemerys, that he loves his child and wants her back.

EGG SUPPLIES ARE DECLINING

Upward Trend of Prices Predicted by State Agriculturalists

Supplies of eggs are expected to be considerably lower than they were in 1937, according to a recent bulletin issued by Verne H. Church, state agricultural statistician. Storage stocks are not accumulating to the same extent they did a year ago, and a substantial reduction from 1937 appears likely in the August 1 holdings of both shell and frozen eggs, according to Church.

These smaller holdings are expected to more than offset the lower level of consumer incomes, and egg prices in the last half of 1938 probably will be somewhat above those of 1937. It is possible that there may be some further declines during the spring, Church stated, but the trend of egg prices is expected to be upward.

The into-storage movement of eggs at the 26 markets in April was much less than last year—27 per cent fewer shell eggs and 46 per cent fewer frozen eggs. A peak storage stock of about 20 per cent under that of 1937 may occur this year.

Chicken Prices Drop The price of chicken is also on the down grade relative to the 10-year average for corresponding months. With a larger hatch expected than in 1937, and smaller consumer incomes, chicken prices by mid-year are likely to go under those of 1937, according to Church's predictions.

Receipts of dressed poultry at New York in April were 11 per cent under those of the same period last year, but 6 per cent above the 1925-34 average. It is probable that the seasonal low point in receipts of dressed poultry has been reached and that each week's receipts throughout the remainder of 1938 will tend to exceed those of the week before.

The relationship between the cost of feed and the price of eggs has improved considerably, according to the bulletin. On the basis of the Chicago food-egg ratio, by April 23 it took 5 per cent less than the 10-year average number of eggs to buy 100 pounds of ration. This is the first time since the middle of 1936 that the feed-egg ratio has dropped below average. The decrease has come about both from a decline in feed prices and an advance in egg prices.

A 5 to 10 per cent increase in the numbers of young chickens on hand on June 1 is expected, compared with the numbers on hand the first of last June. While no estimates are available on changes in farm hatchings, reports from commercial hatcheries showed an increase of 5 per cent in the number of salable chicks hatched in March. The cumulative increase in the January, February and March hatch over those months of 1937 is 10 per cent.

START ON BREAKWATER Marquette—The Merritt-Chapman and Scott corporation, New York, is making final preparations at the L. S. & I. merchandise dock at Presque Isle for the construction of a 1600-foot rubble-mound breakwater extension.

Several large barges have arrived from the lower lakes and will be used in transporting approximately 220,000 tons of rock to the scene of operations. Largest of the barge fleet is the Amazon, more than 100 feet long and equipped with a giant derrick to lift the 10 to 20-ton chunks of rock into place.

A small steam derrick barge of the L. S. & I. was standing by yesterday at the merchandise dock as was the 64-foot tug Atlas, from Cleveland, owned by the American Construction company, which will be used to tow rock cargoes across Presque Isle harbor to the breakwater.

PUMP PRIMING IS CONDEMNED AS BIG WASTE

The Republican attack none of its leaders would venture a prediction that the appropriations would be rejected. To be victorious, as they were in defeating the reorganization bill, the Republicans had to attract to their side of the argument large numbers of Democrats. Democratic leaders asserted that wholesale Democratic desertions were lacking this time.

For the appropriations committee, Representative Woodrum (D-Va.) began the debate with an assertion that "this program is for the purpose of starting up again the wheels of industry." If business would "cooperate" he said, there would "be no difficulty."

The need of business, he added, was "not kind words but customers." The program would provide customers, he argued, by increasing purchasing power.

Worse Off Afterward When he argued that the program was comparable to giving business a "shot in the arm," Representative Snell (R-N.Y.) interrupted.

"You really think this is only a shot in the arm, and will have no lasting benefit?" he asked.

"It will start the spiral on the upward trend again," Woodrum replied. "x x x And if you start things going again it will be worth the cost."

Snell argued that spending had been tried by the administration and added that "as a general proposition we are worse off than we were before."

"What would you do?" Woodrum asked.

"I think we ought to cut the expenses of the government." "Does the gentleman think that would put me to work?" "Some of it would because it would give business some confidence."

Taber asked that the relief problem be turned "back to the communities where our local people know who is entitled to relief and relief employment and let them work it out without interference from a high-handed governmental bureaucrat."

Asking that congress repudiate the "role of rubber stamp," he asserted: "I am appealing to the membership of the house to cast aside fear of political reprisals and do what I know the honest judgment of every member of the house calls for, try to meet this problem, repeal the national labor relations act, repeal the agricultural scarcity act, and give our farmers and our business people a chance to put people to work, have honest relief instead of promoting a tremendous building program as a racket."

MAY INVESTIGATE "ISMS" Washington, May 10 (AP)—A proposed Congressional inquiry that may focus attention on the German-American bund and any Nazi, Fascist or Communist activities in the United States won the backing of the influential House rules committee today.

The committee endorsed an investigation resolution after hearing Chairman Dickstein (D-N.Y.) of the immigration committee assert there would be "riots and bloodshed" unless Congress acted.

The measure, by Representative Dies (D-Tex.), would create a seven-man House committee to determine the extent, character and objectives of "un-American propaganda activities" in the United States, whether of foreign or domestic origin.

It makes no mention of Nazi, Fascist or Communist organizations, but committee members made it plain it was aimed in their direction.

Dickstein said money from Germany is financing Nazi organizations in America and has paid for 31 Nazi camps. He added that Nazis have sent a million war draft blanks to men of German blood in the United States.

STATE PAYROLL MAY BE SLICED

Enforced Two Weeks Payless Vacation

Lansing, May 10 (AP)—Field men of the State Sales Tax division will receive an enforced vacation of two weeks without pay this summer in addition to their regular vacation.

Draper Allen, director of the board of tax administration, announced tonight that he had ordered the lay-off as an economy measure. He said he did not know how many men would be affected nor how great a saving would result.

Allen characterized the step as a move by the department to reduce expenses and "live within its budget."

Other lay-offs, for indefinite periods, struck the highway department and the State Tax commission recently. Both, according to the announcements, were for reasons of economy.

Governor Murphy hinted at curtailment of payrolls on the eve of his departure for a campaign jaunt through the Upper Peninsula, from which he is scheduled to return tomorrow. At that time, however, he gave no indication that a suggestion of Lieutenant Governor Leo J. Nowicki, who urged that state employees give up their vacations to help tide the state over a relief crisis, was under consideration.

BODY RECOVERED Iron Mountain—Caught on a strand of barbed wire stretched across the Menominee river above the Hydraulic falls, the body of Robert Jackson, 17, of Iron Mountain, who on Sunday, April 10, slipped from the bank of the river near the Horseshoe falls and was drowned, was recovered at 8:50 o'clock yesterday morning by Willard Sparpana, deputy sheriff.

Examination of the body revealed a broken left arm and a skull fracture.

States and that "20 big industries in this country have contributed money to the Nazi cause because they have interests in Germany."

"There is going to be another riot next week," the New Yorker said. "They are going to have a parade of 100,000 Nazis opening up camp Seigried, Long Island." "A group of legionnaires came to me yesterday and said they were ready to take the law in their own hands because they say these Nazis can't goose step and 'Hell, Hitler,' and carry on with Swastikas."

Declaring the Communist party has only 32,000 members, and the Bund 460,000, Dickstein said Fascism and Nazism are much more dangerous at present.

Representative Driver (D-Ark.) said the schools "are shot through with Communism."

The misery of gas, bloating and indigestion was almost more than I could stand. Constipation was probably at the seat of my trouble allowing these other complications to follow for my body was full of poisons. I tried many medicines without relief. So many were praising KruGon so I decided I surely had results in store for me."

"It is remarkable what a single box of KruGon can do," continued Mr. Lind. "My stomach and bowels have been regulated, liver and kidneys are functioning properly and gas, bloating and indigestion are in the past. My nerves have been quieted, appetite has returned, sleep better and feel that my entire system has been toned. BUS DECISION NOT REACHED

I. C. C. Not Expected To Make Its Report For Month Yet

Madison, Wis.—W. A. Anderson, utilities examiner for the Wisconsin public service commission, said Saturday that another month will probably be needed for the interstate commerce commission in Washington to complete its report on the proposal of the Northland Greyhound bus line to purchase three existing bus lines in northern Wisconsin and the Michigan peninsula and to establish an interstate feeder service line from Chicago, through Milwaukee, via highway 57 through Green Bay and to the peninsula.

Hearing on the bus line's application was held in Green Bay recently by a joint board consisting of representatives of the Wisconsin commission, the federal regulatory body, and the Michigan public utility commission.

In interstate transportation matters affecting three or more states, ICC procedure calls for a joint hearing and a joint report. The report will be prepared by a federal examiner, and will be sent to the Michigan and Wisconsin officials for approval, revision, or rejection. The final authority, however, remains with the Washington commission.

The state commission's attitude, it was explained, cannot be determined until Anderson receives a copy of the report and recommendations of the federal examiner.

A previous proposal for the feeder route was vetoed by the Wisconsin commission when it was demonstrated that there was sufficient transportation service between Wisconsin and upper Michigan points. In its new application the Greyhound line proposes to serve only interstate passengers.

AT THE DELFT

An alluring and mysterious island in the South Seas, filmed for the first time in breath-taking technicolor, forms the background for the new Ray Milland-Dorothy Lamour romance, "Her Jungle Love," which Paramount will present beginning today at the Delft theatre.

"Her Jungle Love" tells a romantic story of a handsome young aviator who is cast away on a deserted South Seas island only to discover that its only other inhabitant is a lovely girl who has never before laid eyes on a white man.

Miss Lamour, fresh from her success in "Hurricane," will be seen as the native girl whose love for the young aviator runs afoul of a half-crazed potentate, played by J. Carrol Nash.

No commemorative coins of the Chicago World's Fair were issued; two stamp issues appeared during this event.

DR. C. ALBERT LUND

Dr. C. Albert Lund, pastor of the Bethany Ev. Lutheran church of Escanaba, has been appointed by Governor Frank Murphy to serve on the official Michigan Tercentenary commission, which will represent this state at the tercentenary celebration at Wilmington, Del., in June. The committee is composed of seven Michigan citizens of Swedish and Finnish extraction.

The other members are: Senator John Wickstrom, Norway; V. K. Nikander, Hancock, president of Suomikollegi; Samuel T. Johnson, Reed City; Rep. George Hanna, Atlantic Mine; Mrs. Jennie Salmi, Marquette; and Rev. Theodore Matson, Ishpeming.

Dr. Lund will leave on June 12 to attend the annual convention of the Lutheran Augustana Synod in Brooklyn, and from there will go to Wilmington, Del.

A congressional resolution adopted sometime ago called upon the states to join in the national celebration of the three hundredth anniversary of the coming of Swedish and Finnish colonists to America. The Michigan legislature passed a resolution providing for the appointment of a commission, and recently the emergency appropriations committee allocated $1400 to cover expenses of the Michigan delegation.

INJURIES FATAL TO YOUNG CHILD

Susan Goerdert, 7, Dies After Being Struck By Truck

A skull fracture, received when she walked into the side of a delivery truck Monday afternoon, resulted in the death Tuesday morning of Susan Harriet Goerdert, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Goerdert, of 314 Ludington street. The child passed away at 6:40 o'clock at St. Francis hospital without regaining consciousness.

Chief of Police M. F. Eitzenhofer said yesterday that it is not likely that any action will be taken against the truck driver, Robert Hill of this city. He said the accident appeared entirely unavoidable.

Susan Harriet was born in Escanaba, October 17, 1930, and was in the first grade of the Franklin school.

The body, which was taken to Degan Funeral Home to be prepared for burial, will be returned to the residence at four o'clock this afternoon. Services will be held at the home Thursday afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. Whitney of the Assembly of God officiating, and burial will be in Fernwood cemetery, Gladstone.

The child is survived by her parents, four sisters and four brothers, Edith, Margaret, Catherine Betty, Thomas, George, Donald and Norman, and her grandmother, Mrs. O. R. Loquist, of Ford River.

CENSUS TAKERS ARE SELECTED

Children Between Ages Of 5 and 20 Listed by Enumerators

Announcement was made yesterday by Supt. John A. Lemmer of the selection of Roland Priem, Rudolph Schwarz, Jr., and Gerald Carlton as takers of the school census.

The trio will work under the direction of Miss Carrie Wallace, attendance officer. The task is expected to take about three weeks for completion.

All children between the ages of five and 20 in the city limits of Escanaba will be listed and all parents are asked to cooperate with the solicitors.

Upon the basis of the school census is determined the amount of primary money the local school system receives. On May 1, 1937, there were 4,451 children between the ages of five and 20 in the city. Last year's primary contribution averaged $11.35 per child.

Primary money is received from taxes on public utilities, corporations, premiums of foreign insurance companies and inheritances.

Murphy Pledges Help To Complete Highways

Federal aid is the solution to Delta county's problems. Governor Frank Murphy stated yesterday morning in answer to a group of officials of the county, Escanaba and Gladstone who called to ask his support for projects within the county which are now being held up.

Meeting with the governor were Carl B. Johnson, chairman of the board of supervisors, Peter Logan, mayor of Escanaba, Joseph LaFramboise, mayor of Gladstone, Ole Peterson, Gladstone councilman and Carl Person, Rapid River supervisor.

Chairman Johnson asked that the governor lend his support to the project for the completion of highway US-41 north of Rapid River. Murphy stated that he would do his best to secure federal aid for the project, and to secure the support of the state for the appropriation of its share of the cost of construction.

Asks Higher WPA Wage

A higher WPA wage was asked by Escanaba's Mayor Peter Logan. The governor stated that he was in agreement with Logan's statement that WPA workers should receive more than $44 per month, and would take the matter up with President Roosevelt.

Logan stated that workers on Upper Peninsula projects have greater need of increased wages than those farther south, because of the longer winters and added living expenses.

Mayor LaFramboise of Gladstone asked the governor's support of the proposed hospital for World War veterans at Gladstone, and was assured that Murphy would have a personal talk with the president on the subject.

In an interview with a Press reporter, Governor Murphy elaborated upon the subjects discussed with the local delegations.

"WPA help in this area is not adequate in amount, and ought to be raised either $8 or $10 per month, if possible," the governor said. "The governor does not have any control over WPA allotments; this rests with Washington, and the governor will take up the matter with President Roosevelt and Mr. Hopkins."

"There are good reasons for this. The winters are severe and long, making it necessary to buy more clothes and fuel here than in almost any other part of the United States. Even higher freight rates come into the picture. There are other factors that make the present $44 a month allowance inadequate. I am in full sympathy with the protest of this community and will do my best to help."

Veterans' Hospital

"Regarding the veterans hospital project at Gladstone, I have heretofore encouraged it with letters to Senator Brown and the Michigan congressmen. It is greatly needed. I am going to give it every support I can, and will personally urge it with the president and members of his cabinet."

"Michigan has a great network of highways in the Upper Peninsula. The highway department has done a great job in the last four years, but there are other roads to be completed. The state government will help the highway department insofar as it can. It cannot give all the help it would like because of the enormous relief problem; and that will have to come first. But the state will help on the highway program for good roads mean more tourist trade for the U. P."

"It is really a pity we do not have a branch of the University of Michigan hospital, one of the greatest institutions in the world, located in the Upper Peninsula. All of its facilities and modern curative methods ought to be available up here. It has been mentioned before rather vaguely, but nothing has been done. I should like to see some organization created in the Upper Peninsula. There may be some meritorious objections to the plan. It might be impracticable, but I know there is a great need for it."

ENGINES HAVE BEEN CHECKED

Locomotives Inspected as Fire Prevention Measure

Lansing—Supervised inspection of locomotives, a procedure which has greatly reduced one of the worst forest fire hazards of the year, has been made already this year at all of the railroad terminals in Michigan.

Further inspections will be made during the remainder of the forest fire season at regular intervals, in conformance with the railway forest fire laws which have proved to be one of the most important forest fire prevention measures since the lumbering days when engines chugged through the woods scattering sparks on all sides.

Improvement in the mechanical devices installed in locomotives as fire preventives in recent years has greatly reduced the number of forest fires caused by locomotives in the past few years." Mr. Weir says, "Several different types of spark arresters for locomotives have been invented and designs in ash pans have been improved. The railroads have shown a readiness to experiment with and give serious consideration to many different kinds of preventive appliances."

But, even with mechanically perfected fire prevention devices there will still be forest fires caused by railway operations. Carelessness on the part of some railway employes, brake shoe fires, fires caused by hot boxes, the use of poor coal and other conditions which cannot always be controlled by either the state or the railways are listed by Mr. Weir as factors contributing to the state's fire hazards.

STRANGE LAUDS FEDERAL PLAN

Critics of Price-Fixing Program Rapped by Commissioner

Benton Harbor, Mich., May 10 (AP)—State Agricultural Commissioner John B. Strange replied today to critics of federal price-stabilizing purchases of farm produce.

Asserting an argument had been advanced that the federal surplus commodities corporation's activities increased the prices paid by consumers, Strange told a blossom week luncheon crowd:

"I have never heard a good reason advanced as to why the American farmer should continue to feed the public at his own expense. It is not expected from the producers of any other commodities."

Strange said he felt criticism of the surplus commodities corporation was "not well founded" because variations in the price to growers frequently had not affected on the price to the consumer. "We have seen tomato prices to the grower drop 50 per cent without affecting the retail price," he asserted. "If the price has been raised to the consumer, the raise is justified."

He told the gathering the commodities corporation had spent $1,136,485 as of May 1 to purchase surplus crops that glutted the Michigan market. He told of the following purchases, intended to stabilize prices by taking surplus produce off the market:

Apples, $526,646 for 1,177 carloads; beans, $192,305 for 127 cars; grapes, $184,778 for 402 cars; peas, $131,710 for 82 cars; potatoes, $76,736 for 179 cars; eggs, $20,554 for 8 cars; potato flour, $3,753 for 2 cars.

Strange predicted in his prepared address that more Michigan produce would be brought under state-federal grading regulations as farmers realized the advantage they gained in interstate competition. He pointed out that the distant buyer's only means of determining quality was comparison with federal standards.

Sees Need for Roads

APPRECIATION of the value of highways in the Upper Peninsula in connection with efforts that are being made to develop the tourist industry was expressed by Governor Frank Murphy in conversations with visiting delegations while the chief executive was in Escanaba yesterday.

The governor pledged his support of the state highway department's program, although he admitted that the need for using state funds for relief offers a puzzling problem. Just what can be done to provide the state monies to be matched with the federal funds to carry out the highway construction program was not specifically stated by the governor, however.

There is much encouragement in the fact that Governor Murphy, in his public utterances, has placed emphasis upon the need for promoting the recreational industry. He also intimated that the new state planning commission, the personnel of which will be announced in a few days, will give considerable study to the tourist problem.

In the building of the tourist industry in the Upper Peninsula good roads will have to be constructed. This is the foundation of the program. After all, the building of an adequate highway system is the best kind of relief that can be given to the people of the Upper Peninsula.

Technological Changes

WHEN women change over from one style of hat to another, from a long skirt to a short one, from high laced shoes to low openwork sandals it is probable that considerable temporary unemployment results. When an automobile model is changed in order to challenge attention by originality of fresh design at the annual automobile show, a great deal of temporary unemployment results.

Such events are classed as cultural changes. They do involve technological changes because of the alterations in machinery necessary, but actually a demand which can be called cultural primarily is responsible for the change. The demand is mental rather than manual; it springs from a cultural rather than from a manual suggestion.

It has been for a long time the habit of writers on economic changes to talk about unemployment due to technological improvements, such as the introduction of labor-saving devices. From the dim ages in which the dragging car was given its rolling wheels there have been such devices. The lowly wheelbarrow has saved a lot of labor. In the great age of the industrial revolution in the Occident, the early Nineteenth Century and thereafter, there were riots of workers and machines were demolished by crowds who went to all lengths of civil commotion but, in the long run the very labor saving devices fought against actually increased employment.

Technological changes, while they have increased of later years, have not been as frequent as cultural changes and it is thought that their influence on employment has not been so profound. That is to say that they have not caused so much unemployment in the aggregate as cultural changes.

this cultural change put an army of people out of work in the transition. There were, of course, technological developments which popularized the motion picture and the radio but, fundamentally, this was a cultural change.

Over the span of the American Census returns it is shown that some 27,000,000 persons have been immigrants. For the most part this has been a country of remarkably full employment as compared with foreign lands. This means that those 27,000,000 persons found jobs of some sort in the United States, if one includes the job of house-wife as belonging in the total. In addition, the annual increase in the birthrate, the annual increment in the number of natives, and the addition to the immigrants, have built up a total of some 130,000,000 of population. Except for relatively brief periods in our history, there have been jobs for practically everybody. A great many of these people created their own jobs such as those who went West and became homesteaders.

But in studying the whole history it seems that the pressure of cultural changes has had a more profound effect on employment and, more especially, unemployment, than pressure of technological changes, which include the invention and introduction of labor saving devices.

It has been suggested by those who recognize what has happened in this respect, that a brake might be put on cultural changes by standardizing a great many things, from clothing to locomotives. The trouble there is that any such scheme is likely to be upset by a woman who wants an original hat or an engineer who takes it into his head to streamline a factory.

The Old Doctor Says— FOR ages men, and women, too, have "put an enemy into their mouths to steal away their brains."

Why? Decades of experience with the disease of alcoholism—and it is a real disease—confirms the decision that it is primarily a form of escape from one's self, from feeling of inferiority, of insecurity. At bottom the chronic alcoholic always has a lack of self-confidence. He may outwardly display all the pep and confidence in the world, but in his secret moments he knows his shortcomings and despairs of victory over them by any other means than that of the flowing bowl.

The man who learns to rely on himself—on something within him that helps him to conquer the ills and troubles of life—seldom or never falls a victim to drink. He may be convivially-minded and fond of hilarious drinking company, but he pulls up well short of the chronic stage. He knows when to quit. He realizes that John Barleycorn has many faithful friends but is faithless to them all.

Probably as many people dig their graves with their teeth as ever filled a drunkard's grave. But year by year we are slowly learning better eating habits, and the dietician has become the right arm of the doctor. Medical drugging is on the down grade, and diet, hygiene and sanitation are coming into their rightful sphere. But the most widely used drug of all—alcohol—still holds a mighty grip on the world, inspiring thousands with a false feeling of strength and courage, and temporarily checking the emotional conflicts from which the drinker tries to escape through intoxication.

It is painful to feel inferior, and alcohol takes away the pain—for a time. It will assuage the pangs of a guilty conscience, too, for a brief space. This form of drug addiction is one of the most baffling of the doctor's problems. It is like the absence from water-drinking which so many otherwise sane people indulge in. The time comes when the weakest spot in the patient's anatomy caves in, and in the case of the heavy drinker, about the only thing left to do is to send for the clergyman. Too often, with the toper, his downfall started when a deep-seated inferiority complex got the best of him and he made the mistake of trying to drown it in liquor.

World Affairs Reviewed

BY MILTON BRONNER

London—Crown Prince Humbert of Italy, Inspector General of his country's armed forces, will make a three-day trip to the Upper Adige (formerly South Tyrol) the first week in June — which is news of deeper significance than it might appear to be on the surface.

It is another indication of Benito Mussolini's growing distrust of his fellow-dictator, Adolf Hitler.

Both German and Italian newspapers have been stressing the fact that Germany's acquisition of Austria and Italy's new deal with Great Britain have in no way impaired that much-blauded Berlin-Rome axis. But just the same there are increasing signs that Mussolini fears some day the German axe may be applied to the axis. For Hitler, by seizing Austria, has made powerful Germany Italy's neighbor on a frontier of 200 miles.

Previous symptoms of Mussolini's preoccupation with the new situation were his thundering speech in which he told the world that Italy could put 9,000,000 men under arms and put into the air one of the most powerful air fleets ever constructed by man, and his reassuring announcement to the Italian people that after a few other mountain passes were effectively sealed, the country's frontier on the north would be impregnable.

—NAZI PRESENCE WORRIES ITALY— It is no secret that many people in Italy have been profoundly disturbed by the fact that the Nazis now have the territory up to the Brenner Pass. And they have not been reassured by the condescending tone of Hitler's speech in which he said that, just as he guaranteed France's present frontiers, so he now guaranteed the common frontier between greater Germany and Italy.

Though he will have some monuments to unveil and public works to inaugurate, Prince Humbert's real job will be to find out how the work of fortifying the mountain passes is progressing. The idea is to make them impregnable by concrete pill-boxes for machine guns, big gun emplacements carved in the living rock and other works suggested by Italian experience in the mountains during the World War.

South Tyrol, part of the booty won by Italy during the war, has always been an unmentionable to Hitler. He talked much of the sorrows of Germans in Czechoslovakia and other countries, but never about the Germans of South Tyrol. Those Germans have complained as loudly as they dared that their district was being deliberately Italianized. The exclusive use of the Italian language has been enforced.

—IL DUCE DEFIANT—THEN— In 1928, when Austrians were complaining that their Tyrolean brothers were being mishandled, Mussolini said: "We wish to be friends with the German world, but on condition that our own security is not even vaguely placed in question. Today we make it known to the Tyroleans, to the Austrians, to the whole world that all Italy, with her dead and her living, stands at the Brenner."

When his friend Chancellor Dollfus was killed by Nazi assassins Mussolini not only wept—he also sent 50,000 troops to the Brenner Pass. But he said nothing with words or soldiers last March when Hitler grabbed Austria. Only a handful of Italian soldiers saw battalions of German troops march to the Brenner frontier. Hence all the present worry. Hence Italy's rapid pact of friendship with Great Britain and her desire for a similar one with France.

000,000 of "resources which could be tapped to pay for future spending." It includes $2,000,000,000 as the "profit" on the devaluation of the dollar in terms of gold; $1,500,000,000 in its authority if it wishes to write up the dollar value of silver now owned; the $3,000,000,000 in greenbacks issuable under the agricultural act, and $4,000,000,000 of recoverable loans for one account and another.

That is good enough so far as it goes, but the treasury is all too modest in counting upon a mere ten and a half billions of concealed "assets." The President still has the authority to depreciate the dollar from its present stated gold value by making the dollar value of an ounce of gold $41 instead of $35. That extra six dollars on the 365,714,000 ounces of gold now held by the treasury would add $2,194,284,000 to the treasury's assets, and bring the billion total to a good baker's dozen.

THE 'MORAL RECESSION'

(Detroit News)

Herbert Hoover thinks the country is in a "moral recession." To lead in the recovery, he looks to the American women. They, he believes, are responsive to the appeal of moral issues. "Somebody has to do a cleanup job in this republic... the men haven't done much of late."

Hoover's charges of Government immorality, plainly leveled at the Roosevelt Administration, include spending "Government funds to influence the judgment and corrupt the vote of the people"; accounting for Government funds in ways hiding the uses made of them; Government unscrupulousness in financial transactions with its people; Government expenditures not developing in the people self-reliance but undermining "the responsibility, the self-respect, the dignity that marks free men."

New York Column

BY GEORGE ROSS

New York — Having won a Pulitzer Prize in one literary pastime for his memorable novel, "The Bridge of San Luis Rey," Thornton Wilder has just walked off with another in the realm of the theater—for his play, "Our Town."

Since Mr. Wilder is incommunicado at Tucson, Ariz., at the moment, we don't know the exact state of his elation, but friends who know him well say that he is taking it pretty calmly.

Not so his producer, the turbulent Jed Harris. Nervously hoping against hope the other night, Harris bet $5 that the Pulitzer Prize Committee would not be perspicacious enough to choose "Our Town." Not only did he gladly pay off, but on the eve of the award, regaled the cast with several cases of heady wines and almost a half ton of caviar.

Behind Mr. Harris' excitement are some justifiable causes. First of all, this is the only Pulitzer Prize a Harris production ever has won. Secondly, it is no secret that Harris felt bitterly toward the Critics' Circle choice of "Of Mice and Men" as the best play of the year and that he exorcised the dreaded Circle in one or two of his midnight polemics. Thirdly, this accolade on "Our Town" represents the fruition of a scheme hatched ten years ago.

Campus Hunch

For it was a decade back that the Messrs. Wilder and Harris, both just off the Yale campus, vaguely discussed such an idea as "Our Town." Wilder said he would need a great deal of time to contemplate it and bring the notion to life. Harris said he'd wait. And added, "When the script is finished, bring it around. I'll produce it."

They saw little of each other in the intervening period, but when they met, Harris never failed to mention that he still eagerly looked forward to receipt of a certain script. About a year ago, they met again in Paris. "I've jotted down the first act," said Wilder and showed it to the restive impresario. Harris perused the first draft of the first act, written in laborious longhand, as are all Wilder manuscripts, and ordered Wilder to pack for an immediate voyage to New York. The author, an amiable and obliging fellow, complied.

Back here, Harris lured Wilder out to his lair at Brookville, L. I. Another act had turned up on the trip across the Atlantic, but a third was lacking. Formidably, Harris threatened to keep Wilder under lock and key until the third act was finished. And though such drastic action was unnecessary, Wilder virtually finished the play under guard. Meanwhile, Harris energetically began to assemble a cast of fifty, to exchange a mass of correspondence with Actor Frank Craven, who was then in Hollywood, and to arrange for immediate rehearsals. "Our Town" in fact, was in preparation as Wilder was grinding out the last act—piecemeal.

The idea of diving under a main road instead of sauntering across composing poetry is essentially a modern idea.

—Dr. Leslie Burgin, British Minister of Transport, on pedestrian subways.

Shakespeare was quite unfitted to be a great continuity writer for the Hollywood cinema.

—Tyrone Guthrie, British theatrical producer.

The Capital Parade

BY ALGON AND KINTNER

Washington, May 10.—At a small and rather stormy lunch in New York's financial district several weeks ago, there began the sequence of events which may soon bring final peace between the Public Utilities and the Federal Government.

The luncheon meeting was called by the powerful broker, Paul Shields, who is the only real White House crony in Wall Street. The other men present were the three most conspicuous leaders of the utilities business—Wendell L. Willkie, of Commonwealth and Southern; James F. Fogarty, of the North American Company; and C. E. Groesbeck, of Electric Bond and Share.

Shields, who spends half his time shuttling from New York to Washington and back, trying to make peace between government and business, suggested to the utilities men that independent umpires be appointed to see fair play between the utilities and the New Deal. His notion was that leading industrialists unconnected with the utilities ought to do the job.

Unfortunately, Shields is suspected of a connection with a financial alliance, headed by Dillon, Read and Company and Harrison Williams, which would like to elbow J. P. Morgan and Company out of the utilities field. Willkie, a Morgan man, was so doubtful of the Shields motives that he blew up, energetically and loudly, on the spot.

COOPERATIVE CLEARING HOUSE

The lunch ended stormily. Fortunately, however, it was only a starter. The Shields idea was taken to the SEC in Washington, where Commissioner Robert E. Healy, chief of the utilities division, greatly surprised everyone by repeating the Willkie arguments against the intrusion of "outsiders."

Therefore, a far more sensible plan was restored to. It was decided to form a committee of executives from thirteen of the largest Utilities Holding Companies, with the two-fold purpose of working with the SEC in the application of the Holding Company Act and of serving as a clearing house where new, integrated power networks may be mapped out. A subcommittee, composed of Fogarty, Groesbeck, Willkie, Zimmerman of United Gas Improvement and Smith of Middle West Corporation, will soon visit the SEC to put the finishing touches to the plan.

The storm at the lunch also cleared the air between Willkie and the SEC. At the time of the lunch, the SEC's listening posts in Wall Street reported that Willkie had denounced SEC men and methods. He was already suspected of obstructionism. Subsequent talk at the SEC gave him an excuse to send John J. Burns, former SEC general counsel and now Willkie's special Washington adviser, to see SEC Chairman William O. Douglas.

"No matter what you've heard, Wendell Willkie's ready to cooperate fully on integration and everything else," Burns told Douglas. "You wait. Actions will speak louder than words."

COURT ROOM WHISPERS

There was a second, equally important purpose in the Burns visit—to terminate a negotiation which began in a courtroom whisper. At the final argument of the Electric Bond and Share case, seats were scarce. SEC Commissioner Jerome Frank found one, as it happened, on the utilities side of the Supreme Court chamber, next to George Roberts, Commonwealth and Southern general counsel. Roberts, who knew Frank, seized the chance.

"Jerome," he said, "isn't there some way we can make peace between the utilities and the Government? Business needs it."

"If you ask for my personal opinion," Frank answered, "Wendell Willkie ought to go to Bermuda."

SUB-PLOT'S HAPPY ENDING

Later, Frank explained his cryptic remark. Settlement of the wrangle between the Tennessee Valley Authority and Commonwealth and Southern is, as everyone knows, the first step necessary in a Government-Utilities peace. Frank's notion was that Willkie had fought the utilities' fight too long to make an amiable negotiator.

Frank's idea was subsequently elaborated into a proposal that both Willkie and TVA's champion, David E. Lilienthal, drop out of the picture, delegating their tasks to John Burns and Benjamin N. Cohen. This proposal did not appeal to Willkie, but he was ready to do anything to please.

To carry word of Willkie's willingness to accept the arrangement was the second object of Burns' visit to Chairman Douglas. It may be that the proposal will not go through, since the administration wants Lilienthal to talk for the TVA. Nevertheless, even if Wendell Willkie does do the talking for his company, the New Dealers will now be far more ready to listen to him. It may seem incredible, but peace between the utilities and the New Deal is really in sight.

UPSET

I've had a darned upsettin' day, I mean upsettin' just that way. Some people say that they're upset. And yet a lot of folks I've met. Upset who, if the truth was known, With nerves upset, upset their own.

I'm all upset about a row, I'm all upset, and this is how: I lost my temper, that is when You got upset, if ever then. Of course a fellow first lost his, But what a poor excuse that is.

Need I get mean because I find Some other fellow feels unkind? The more the others yell at me, The calmer I had ought to be. But I hit in, and I let out, And that's what I'm upset about.

WE, the WOMEN

BY RUTH MILLETT

Buffalo wives who have ideas about "equal rights" have organized and have centered their purpose on one-night-out-a-week-for-wives.

Now that is just the sort of propaganda wives have been needing all these many years—an attitude that says, "Marriage is a very fine thing, but we want short vacations from it."

Men established that idea a long time ago, and their nights out with the boys have given them a marital prestige. The wife always wonders just exactly what it is that draws the husband away from her—how he can find other company, at times, more entertaining than her own. When he comes home he is a personality, not just a husband.

And it has made the world think that marriage is a yoke men fret under but which women accept with pure joy and everlasting content.

So, if wives go in for this one night out a week they will find themselves enjoying the same "edge." Men, being naturally curious creatures who can't bear to be on the outside of a conversation, will be bound to wonder what "the girls" find to talk about that is interesting enough to take them away from their husbands one night a week.

And an experience unshared will make the wife seem just a little more interesting.

Besides, it is good for men to be let in on the secret that listening to them isn't quite the boundless pleasure they fondly imagine—but makes an occasional respite welcome.

So we're all for the Buffalo club. But we fear the good women won't stick together long. One after another, they are bound to start worrying about the way the husbands are spending the wives' night-out.

An American Parade of Progress

IN THE Parade of American progress, there can be no resting on yesterday's laurels. To stand still is to fall behind, to drop out of the parade.

The automobile or radio of a few years ago, for example, would find no market today. Refrigerators, clothing, cameras, office equipment—in all industries the old models are constantly being rendered obsolete by improvements in style, value or performance.

Michigan's telephone service has kept pace with this great march of progress. There is little resemblance between the original service and that of today—as little as there is between the first "horseless carriages" and the splendid, efficient automobiles that Michigan is now supplying to the modern world.

The tremendous advance in telephone service was achieved by years of research in the famous Bell Laboratories; by the engineering skill of the Western Electric Company in producing dependable, standardized equipment; by the efficiency and loyalty of operating and administrative personnel. Thus, America's world supremacy in telephonic communication was won by tireless effort coordinated under this unchanging policy: To supply the best service, and the most, at the least possible cost.

That policy has stood behind your telephone for more than half a century. Year by year it has made the service swifter, more convenient, freer from error. It has brought the telephone within the reach of all—has made it a valuable factor in the domestic and industrial life of modern Michigan.

Sincere and thorough, the search for improvement must continue in order that the telephone shall maintain its well-deserved place in America's parade of progress.

A German Mystic Meets a Latin Realist

"Hitler and Duce review armed forces."

"U. S. and Britain co-operate with France to stabilize franc."

These headlines summarize two methods, two powers, two purposes. The one is a purpose of peace—the other a purpose of war. The one is a method of peaceful co-operation—the other is the war-threatening dictator method.

One of these powers is military—the other is economic.

When Mussolini visited Hitler last year the emphasis was on German preparedness by land and air. The Fuehrer's return visit to Il Duce finds the emphasis on Italy's air, land and sea forces. Each dictator seeks to impress upon the other the striking power of his armed forces.

Let us assume they both succeed. What does it mean for the world?

Not nearly so much as these two men would have us believe. Despite declarations of unalterable friendship and mutual interest historic realities remain. Germany cannot and will not forget that Italy was her sworn ally in 1914, deserted the alliance when war began, and joined her enemies a few months later. Italy turned her back on the Kaiser's Germany for the same reason that will persuade her to forsake a war-making Nazi Germany tomorrow. The political interests of these two nations were not and are not identical.

Can Never Be Real Friends

They were rivals in the Balkans in 1914 and they are rivals in that same area today. They are direct political and economic competitors in Hungary and Yugoslavia. They are also competing for the favor of Rumania, Bulgaria, Greece and Turkey.

Friendship between two dictator nations also depends on the personalities of the two dictators. Hitler and Mussolini can never be real friends. The provincial Hitler will always be ill at ease in the presence of the cosmopolitan Mussolini. A Teutonic mystic is not comfortable when he faces a Latin realist. In Freudian terms we have an introvert with an inferiority complex pitted against an extrovert with a superiority complex.

Hitler, although distinctly inferior as an all-round human being, is backed by vastly superior power. Mussolini, the born leader, supplements Italy's inferior strength with his superior skill as a diplomat. The biographer-historian will have an interesting time explaining to future generations how two such diverse human beings could both in the same decade succeed in creating a dominant political movement and leading it to power by peaceful political means. It should afford some proof that it is history which makes the man as well as man who makes history.

A Glance Back

Past events shed light on present meetings. This is a good time for a birdseye review of German-Italian relations since Hitler came to power.

1933—Italians welcome the advent of another Fascist State. The Nazis show Fascist heritage in their salutes, symbols, colored shirts and war cries, although they substitute clubs for castor oil as a chief means of persuasion.

1934, March—Mussolini shows apprehension concerning Germany's increasing influence on the Danube. He launches the Rome Protocols, guarantees Austrian integrity and backs a treaty revision in favor of Hungary.

1934, June—Hitler feels it necessary to conciliate Mussolini and comes to Venice for that purpose. Neither likes the other and the meeting proves a failure.

1934, July—Following the Dollfus assassination Mussolini moves 48,000 troops to the Brenner Pass and helps prevent the Nazification of Austria.

1935—Italian policy moves toward the Stress front. This unites England, France and Italy with Russia as a silent partner. Germany is isolated.

1936—Ethiopian war sanctions force Italy to resume friendly relations with Germany. The Rome-Berlin axis is established by Count Ciano's Berchtesgaden visit in October.

1937—The axis is solidified by Mussolini's first visit to Hitler.

1938, March—Hitler unites Austria with Germany and becomes an immediate threat to Italian security.

1938, April—Mussolini makes a treaty with England settling all questions at issue between the two countries.

1938, May—The French enter negotiations with Italy for the settlement of all outstanding problems.

Marriage of Necessity

This review shows that it was only the united antagonism of League powers that forced Mussolini to accept German friendship. His was a marriage of convenience and necessity. He needed Germany's nuisance value and Germany needed his.

Today sanctions are withdrawn. Italy's Ethiopian Empire is about to receive recognition. Germany is on the Brenner and looks, with eager eyes toward the Italian Tyrol and Trieste. Despite reviews and pledges the political interests

TRIAL FLIGHT

BY ADELAIDE HUMPHRIES COPYRIGHT, 1938, BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
JACKIE DUNN—heroine; she wanted to fly.

ROGER BRECKNER—hero; he wanted to test the stratosphere.

BERYL MELROSE—wealthy widow; she wanted Roger.

EVELYN LA FARGE—Jackie's mother; she wanted a son-in-law.

Yesterday: Jackie is stunned to find Roger with Beryl Melrose at the Colony Restaurant. Then she realizes that Beryl is Roger's backer. Her mother warns her of difficulties.

CHAPTER VIII
Jackie knew that her mother had not meant that she ought to try to stop Roger from making his stratosphere trial flight because of the danger and risk involved. Evelyn did not know anything about that. But she did understand human nature. And the danger involved when another woman came into the picture, especially such an exceptionally attractive woman as Beryl Melrose.

It was Roger who phoned Jackie that next day to ask her to postpone her flying lesson once more. He told Jackie that the plans for his flight were practically "in the bag." He seemed so steamed up about this that his conversation had been almost incoherent and decidedly sketchy.

It was only afterwards that Jackie realized he had not mentioned the fact that he, too, had gone into New York the day before. He had not said a word about having lunched at the Colony.

Not that she cared, Jackie told herself rather more emphatically than was necessary. Not that it was any business of hers where Roger went or with whom he lunched. Their engagement was only a ruse, anyway.

But he had not said when he would be able to give her his lesson, or when he would see her, or phone again or anything. He had merely mumbled something about being "tied up" for a while—Jackie supposed that meant more luncheons with Mrs. Melrose—and ended with a vague "so long, be seeing you."

Several days had passed and he had not called again. They were the longest, dreariest days Jackie had ever known. Oh, the sun was shining brightly enough. Too brightly. There wasn't a cloud in the sky. Perfect flying weather. Which, of course, was the only reason why Jackie sat around the house, waiting for the phone or the doorknob to ring. She supposed when Roger got time to give her another lesson the sky would start to rain cats and dogs. It was enough to make anyone feel like to have to miss these heavenly spring days that should have been spent trying one's wings, instead of cramped up indoors.

Finally Jackie could not stand it any longer. She decided to drive out to the field, even though Roger had not given any signs of being alive, or of remembering that she was. Maybe, since she was so long now, she could take the ship up, even if he was not there. If so it would not make the slightest difference to her, whether he was or not.

Which was rather a contradiction considering the way her heart leaped into her throat and her pulses started racing madly the moment she saw him. He was standing by the side of a plane, a silver ship that Jackie did not remember ever having seen at the field before, talking with someone. It wasn't until she was within hailing distance—and had made a "mistake" of calling his name—that Jackie realized a second later the person he was talking with was Beryl Melrose.

Jackie would have gone on into the hangar, but Roger motioned for her to join them. "I want you to know Jackie Dunn, Mrs. Melrose," he said, flashing his engaging grin. "Jackie's one of my best students; she's nutty about flying. As for his grin broadened as he gave Jackie an open and knowing wink. "Incidentally Jackie and I are engaged."

"I am very glad to know you indeed," Beryl Melrose said cordially, extending her hand. She was even more attractive than at a distance. She had the most beautiful big brown eyes Jackie had ever seen. Her skin was like a gardenia petal. But what Jackie noticed—and envied—most of all was her poise.

For some reason Jackie felt all hands and feet, as though she did not know what to say, or how to act. Maybe it was because of Roger's remark about their engagement. Jackie felt she could have slain him gladly for making it. Certainly that wink had not been necessary. If Mrs. Melrose had seen it, what on earth would she think?

Roger seemed to have forgotten that he had promised to see this engagement business through to the bitter end and that they had agreed they must behave as though it were a reality before other people.

"Sorry I haven't had time to phone you," he said now, making matters worse, instead of better. "Haven't had a minute, have we, Beryl?"

So it was "Beryl" already! They must have been spending a lot of time together. "I've been busy myself," Jackie said glibly. Busy doing nothing. Which had been the hardest thing she had ever tried to do. "Before I forget it, Roger—and in case you continue being so busy that you don't have time to even phone"—this was an example of beautiful sarcasm which she hoped was not lost on him—"Mother will expect you at our announcement party a week from next Friday."

In spite of the fact that Jackie had told her she could not make any definite plans until after Roger's flight, Evelyn had gone ahead with her plans for a big party, a dinner and dance with over a hundred guests. It would be bad enough anyway, but if Roger did not show up, it would be a farce.

"Why don't you come, too?" Jackie asked on a sudden impulse, addressing Mrs. Melrose. She would show Roger that she did not care how much time he spent with some other girl. "We would like very much to have you," she added, trying to make her voice sound as though she really meant it. She hated women who had that sleek, the-world-is-my-oyster air about them.

"I'd like very much to come," Beryl Melrose returned promptly in her smooth, effortless way. Her dark eyes, looking into Jackie's, seemed, however, to see through the younger girl's pretense. "It is indeed nice of you to invite me."

"That's swell," Roger said heartily. But he looked from one to the other of them in a sort of puzzled masculine way. Perceiving he felt the undercurrent in the air. "You'll be glad to know," he said to Jackie, "that everything is hunky-dory—thanks to Beryl." His smile now was just for her. "I'm to make a few experimental trial flights for altitude first right here. Then Beryl and I will go out to the coast—that's so I can have a tail-wind—and then for the flight! I hope to do 450 miles, at least. There'll be a sealed barograph installed, of course, for recording. The seal will not be broken until I deliver it at Washington. Doesn't it sound pretty thrilling? Jackie? Aren't you pleased as punch?"

It sounded as though everything was very definite. Entirely too definite for anyone to put a stop to, even if he wished. And Beryl Melrose was to accompany Roger to the coast—doing nothing. "It sounds good," Jackie admitted, but try as she might she could not make her voice sound as though she really meant it now. "Of course I'm pleased," she made another attempt. What on earth was wrong with her? Why weeks ago would she think she didn't want Roger to have his big chance! "I think it's wonderful," she ended, but somewhat lamely.

It would have been, if for some unknown reason Beryl Melrose had not taken all the joy out of it. (To Be Continued)

WPA WORKERS GET PAY RAISE

Maximum Hours Reduced to 110 Monthly For $44 Wage

An increase in the hourly rate for WPA workers in Schoolcraft county and other counties of the upper peninsula has been announced by WPA officials, it was learned at the meeting of the Manistique city council Monday night. The increase in Schoolcraft county will begin at the start of the first pay period this month. The increase in the hourly rate is from 36 1-2 cents per hour to 40 cents per hour. The increase in hourly rate, however, will mean also a reduction in the number of hours a worker can be employed by WPA within a one month period. In the past WPA workers were employed 120 hours per month, receiving $43.80. The new schedule will give WPA workers $44 per month, for a maximum of 110 hours monthly. The matter was brought up again at the council meeting by Alex Walker, local labor leader, and the announcement was made by City Manager P. H. Beauvais, in receipt of a communication from WPA officials. Walker has charged that Delta county WPA workers for some time were working only 110 hours for the same pay received by local WPA workers, who were employed 120 hours monthly. The city manager reported that WPA officials denied this charge, declaring that all WPA workers in the upper peninsula were on the same schedule, working 120 hours monthly. A checkup of timekeepers' reports substantiated this claim, the city manager declared. Walker, however, insisted he has communications proving that there was discrimination in WPA schedules in the peninsula. Bouschor Explains Position W. B. Thomas, manager of the reemployment office here, appeared before the council to request the city to provide $12.50 per month toward the maintenance of the unemployment office here, which will soon be taken over by the state unemployment and social security divisions. The county has already voted to contribute $12.50 monthly for the upkeep of the office, and the local contributions will be matched by the government. The city which has been paying $15 monthly office rent for the reemployment service, approved the request. George Mero again appeared before the council to learn what action would be made on his application for a dance permit. The council, which previously authorized Mero to conduct dances in his tavern, decided to let the matter rest until a later meeting. Nels Bouschor, recently discharged as an employee of the city water plant, reported to the council that in response to a letter he received from City Manager Beauvais, he did report to Jess Arceby, street commissioner, for work, but was told there was no

NEW SIDEWALKS GET APPROVAL

Council Okes Improvement as Part of WPA Program

The Manistique city council voted Monday night to authorize City Manager P. H. Beauvais to include in the city's WPA project the construction of new concrete sidewalks on Cedar street, between Main and Oak streets, both sides, and on Oak street, between Cedar and Maple streets, on the north side, and to draft a change order, submitting to PWA officials the estimates and plans. If approval is granted by PWA authorities, the federal government will pay 45 per cent of the total cost of the sidewalks and the city will pay the remainder. A petition for new sidewalks on Cedar street, between Main and Oak streets, was submitted to the council several weeks ago. Estimates on the cost for those blocks was fixed by the city manager at $2,830.50, of which the city's share would be $1,556.78. This is figured on the basis of 15-725 square feet at 18 cents per foot. However, it was decided to include the north side of Oak street, between Cedar and Maple, in the change order in view of the fact that the sidewalk there was also broken to lay cable for the boulevard lighting system. New Water Services The contractor's bid price of 18 cents per square foot includes the breaking up and removal of the present sidewalks, grading to conform to the pavement grade and the laying of new concrete. The total cost of the extension is not entirely added to the total cost of the project as considerable patching would have had to be done to the old sidewalks, at a cost of 25 cents per square foot. The city's share of the cost will be paid from the city's $53,000 bond issue, not all of which has been spent on the WPA project. However, according to the terms of the resolution adopted by the city council, the property owners must replace old water services from the curb line to their property line with new copper tubing before the sidewalks are laid. The cost of this improvement must be paid by the property owner. The resolution to make the improvement was offered by Councilman Thomas Grimsley and seconded by Councilman Harry Abramson. All of the councilmen approved the resolution, except Frank Dahms, who declined to vote. A petition for new boulevard lights on Maple street, between Arbutus and Oak streets, also was discussed. The city manager's report of the estimated cost was accepted and placed on file, with indications nothing would be done about it in connection with the WPA program.

Refreshments were served at the close of the evening and Mrs. Morey was presented with a gift. Herman Leaf Wants To Begin His Duties Herman Leaf, elected constable of Manistique for a two year term, appeared before the council Monday night to get approval of a bond so that he may be installed. The council, however, did not act on the request. Herman was elected constable two years ago, also, but his bond never was placed on file and consequently he was unable to perform the duties of the office. Leaf won out in a spirited contest in which about 20 other contestants also received backing. Use a long-handled, moderate-sized bottle brush to clean bed springs. Dip the brush in hot water quite often. Such a brush gets into corners much more easily than the dish mop which ordinarily is used for this purpose.

The city is interested in learning the site for the postoffice so that proper water services can be installed prior to the laying of the new concrete pavement. A letter from Washington, dated May 5, reported the postoffice site would be selected within 15 days from that date.

Manistique Clamps Down on Stray Dogs

Manistique will clamp down again on dogs running at large. Numerous protests have been received that dogs are ruining gardens. Because of the lack of an adequate pound in which to lock up dogs caught by the city's policemen, the canines have had a holiday during the past few weeks. But now the city will construct a pound at the city warehouse near the quarry and a vigorous campaign will be launched to catch all dogs running at large. Owners will be obliged to pay a fee in order to have the animals released. Mrs. Carl Sommonerwald of Owosso is spending two weeks visiting here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Carlson, South Mackinac avenue.

Vet Hospital Project Endorsed by Governor

Governor Frank Murphy at a meeting of county leaders yesterday assured Mayor Joseph LaFramboise of this city that he was with Gladstone 100 per cent in the city's efforts to procure construction of a Veterans' hospital here, it was reported by Mayor LaFramboise following the session. Governor Murphy stated he would meet Monday with President Roosevelt and later with General Hynes of the Veterans' Administration and will extend efforts to procure approval of the project, the mayor said. Included in the group that met with the governor yesterday morning at the Delta hotel in Escanaba were Mayor LaFramboise and Ole Peterson of Gladstone, Mayor Peter Logan and Carl E. Johnson, county board chairman, of Escanaba, and Carl Person of Rapid River. The Escanaba mayor is reported to have discussed with the governor conditions existing among WPA workers in northern Michigan and related reasons for the present movement among the workers for higher wages. Living costs were higher in the Upper Peninsula because of longer winters necessitating more fuel, food and clothes than in the southern peninsula. Food costs are also higher due to increased transportation costs. Governor Murphy is said to have offered to take the matter up with President Roosevelt at an impending meeting. Governor Murphy also promised to make efforts to procure funds for use in completion of Highways US 2 and 41 in the Upper Peninsula. Mayor LaFramboise declared. Mrs. Robert Sjoquist, Mrs. Roy Paulson and Mrs. Walter Belanger are motoring today to Treasury where they will attend a meeting of the Co-op Park committee.

TRADING LEVELY FOR BOND LIST

BOND MARKET AVERAGES

Table with columns for Net change, A.7, A.2, A.3, A.2, A.3 and rows for Tuesday, Previous day, etc.

New York, May 10 (AP)—The bond market continued to advance in lively trading today.

All sections of the corporate list joined in the forward movement, but conspicuously out in front were New York City Transit issues and railroad issues.

Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit 4 1/2% closed at 51 3/4, up 3 3/8, and Interborough Rapid Transit 6 1/2 at 15 1/2.

Leaders in the rail sector included New York Central 5 1/2 at 56 1/2, up 1/2, and Missouri-Kansas-Texas 6 1/2 at 62 1/2, up 1/4.

Some rail issues fell back, including Erie 5 1/2 at 75 1/2, off 1/4, but the general advance was sufficient to lift the Associated Press average of 20 rail bonds .7 of a point.

Industrial, utility and foreign bond averages were up .2 each. Transactions totalled $7,436,176, face value, the largest volume since April 22 last, and compared with $7,109,500 Monday.

While Robert R. Young, chairman of Allegheny Corp., battled to regain control of the profitable Chesapeake & Ohio Railway, Allegheny 5 1/2 of 44 jumped 6 1/4 to 68, and the 5 1/2 of 49 rose 1 1/2 to 52 1/4. The Allegheny 5 1/2 of 49 dipped 1/2 at 47.

Some foreign, Argentine 4 1/2 named 7-8 at 84 1/2. U. S. governments were buoyant, with treasury issues 9-32 of a point higher to 4-32 lower.

Curb Sales Best Since March 31st

New York, May 10 (AP)—Industrial specialties provided the main strength in the curb market today, moving up 1 to more than 3 points in contrast to slipping tendencies exhibited by utilities and some oils.

Safety Car Heating & Lighting grabbed the spotlight at the start of trading by jumping 9 1/2 points on the first sale, slipped back a few points in subsequent dealings and then climbed back to close at the day's best level at 75. Other inactives doing well included Pratt & Lambert, United Shoe Machinery, American Meter, Babcock & Wilcox and Mead Johnson.

Northern States Power "A" one of the leaders in the recent upturn in the utility section, slipped 1 1/8 to end at 12 3/8. American Gas lost 7-8 at 30 3/8 and Electric Bond & Share lost 6-8 at 3 1/8. Niagara Hudson, Clites Service, Sunray Oil, Gulf Oil and Creole Petroleum were among others ending unchanged to lower.

Sales of 223,000 shares were the largest since March 31 compared with 204,000 the day before.

DAY'S MARKETS IN BRIEF

weather conditions. An opposite factor, however, was that export takings today from North America totalled less than 200,000 bannets, and that the quantity on ocean passage to Europe showed more than 5,000,000 bushels increase since May 1, against 6,000,000 bushels decrease at this time last year.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were 1/4 to 3/4 under yesterday's finish, May 7 5/8, July 7 1/4 to 7 1/2, corn unchanged to lower, May 57 1/2, July 58 1/2 to 59 1/4, oats 1/4 off to 1-1/2 up, rye showing 1/4 to 3/4 drop, and provisions unchanged to a setback of 2 cents.

Corn, rye and oats responded to what price attacks. Corn market downturns were despite announcement boats were loading here with 500,000 bushels for Montreal and Buffalo. New export cargoes, however, totalled 200,000 bushels. Rye and oats trade was negligible. Packers selling steady provisions.

CHICAGO GRAIN Chicago, May 10 (AP)—Increased selling pressure at the last today prepared for expected big official crop estimates pulled Chicago wheat prices down approximately a cent a bushel. Government figures received long after dealings here had closed, put the 1938 probable domestic winter crop at 744,000,000 bushels, 113,000,000 bushels larger than had generally been guessed here in advance.

Preceding the late tumble, the market had risen 1/2 of a cent, largely because of purchasing by traders who believed bumper crop prospects had been sufficiently lowered. Transient optimism was also stimulated by bulges in securities and by Kansas reports the state's crop was in shape to deteriorate fast under adverse

Oldsters Make Washington Real Surprise Team

TWIRLERS ALL IN MIDDLE AGE

Fans Wonder If Senators Can Stand the Gaff When August Comes

BY EDDY GILMORE
Washington, May 10 (AP)—The team that's the surprise of the American league—the Washington Senators—is an aged outfit, as baseball goes.

For his starting pitchers, Manager Bucky Harris has a quartet that averages 30 years, and everyone has seen service with another major league club.

His relief hurlers—these include one youngster who is soon to be sent to the minors—average 27, which is middle-age for a ball player.

Four of his flingers, Monte Weaver, Dutch Leonard, Pete Appleton and Harry Kelley, have come back to the big league from the minors after previous major failures.

Wesley Ferrell—on the team's leading pitcher—is one of baseball's few cases of a great athlete who made good in a comeback.

When he lost his fast ball and retired, went back home and by throwing against a barn door, developed his slow, trick stuff that is the scourge of the league.

The outfield's age is 29 plus, the infield is 29, and the first string catcher, Riek Ferrell, who's worked every game, is 32.

Ossie Bluege, the second baseman who plays against left-handed pitching, is 38.

Goose Goslin is 38. Al Simmons, 36. Incidentally, the sparkplug of the team—Nick Altrock—is 62 and still coaching and clowning.

What, ask the doubters, is going to happen to these veterans when the summer sun beats down, when the mercury soars to 100 and when the team hits the August grind?

DRIVERS CLASH IN MATCH RACE

Two Indianapolis Motor Speedway Entries Settle Bet

Indianapolis, May 10 (AP)—Indianapolis motor speedway officials announced today two drivers for the annual 500-mile automobile race would compete in a match race Sunday to settle a bet between their respective backers as to which was fastest.

Rex Mays of Glendale, Calif., twice qualifier for the pole position in the Decoration Day speed classic, and "Wild Bill" Cummings of Indianapolis, 1934 winner, will match speeds in a two-out-of-three-heat affair.

Officials said side bets of "at least $1,000" had been posted on the two drivers by Bill White of Los Angeles, Mays' backer, and Cotton Henning, manager of the racing team of Mike Boyle of Chicago, of which Cummings is a member.

Mays and Cummings will drive cars which they said would do up to 125 miles an hour for a lap. The cars will not be the ones they will pilot in the 500-mile race.

The match race will consist of two heats of six laps or 15 miles each, and, if necessary, a third of 10 laps or 25 miles.

High Mulcahy allowed the Reds but five safeties but again was cast in the role of losing pitcher after Luis Frier tripped to open the seventh inning and scored a moment later the first of three runs that put the game on ice. Al Smith relieved.

Score by innings: Philadelphia... 002 001 000—3 6 1 Cincinnati... 001 003 30x—7 9 0 Mulcahy, Smith and Atwood; Weaver, Cascarella and Hersberger.

FIELDER KNOCKED OUT
Cincinnati, May 10 (AP)—Herschel Martin, center fielder of the Philadelphia Nationals, was knocked unconscious in the third inning of today's game with the Reds when struck on the head by a ball as he slid into second on a steal. He was carried from the field.

The ball was pegged to second by Catcher Bill Hersberger in an effort to catch Martin who had singled.

SPILLING the DOPE

BY JOHNNY INKSLINGER

Says our colleague, Hap Wiloughby of the Iron Mountain News, about opening day games in the Northern Michigan-Wisconsin league:

"Power was concentrated in spots as the Northern Wisconsin Michigan league opened Sunday with a trio of lop-sided scores... The Ford Twins, Niagara and South Range were the winners, by 11, nine and six run margins, over Crystal Falls, Escanaba and Negaunee, respectively... None of the victories was an upset... But their decisiveness was surprising, to say the least... However, no opening triumph ever clinched a pennant... And, likewise, no single walloping ever doomed a team to the cellar... Anything may happen between now and September.

"The Twins' feat of plastering Crystal Falls 16-5 was noteworthy for other reasons than the size of the score... It shattered a jinx of long standing which has almost without exception accompanied the locals on forays into the Iron county park... The flux was jolted last fall when the Twins upset precedent to knock off the Falls there in the series... Yesterday it was completed routed.

"A source of deep satisfaction to Manager Kreitzer was the way his Twins clouted the ball when hits meant runs... And the way Tony Guber stopped the Falls batters cold when he relieved Howard Viens after Viens had experienced persistent trouble... The great disappointment of Crystal Falls was the manner in which the Twins set upon Hugh Orphan, upon whom Crystal Falls banked to pitch into the thick of the flag fight... Orphan, however, cannot be crumpled out because of one mauling... He may go on to again reveal the form that made him a terror to opposing batters last season.

"The outstanding mound performance of the day was turned in by Cedric Richardson who looked like the "wonder boy" of old as he handcuffed Escanaba and enabled Niagara to chalk up a 9-0 conquest... Richardson had everything, and the unexpectedly robust Badger batting attack was really unnecessary... But the punch at the plate was there, nevertheless... And it delighted Manager Brown, who was confident of his pitching strength but worried over the potency of his stick wielders... Escanaba, by contrast, didn't have much to offer... It was the consensus of spectators that the Eskymos will have to do some drastic reinforcing if they hope to cut any figure in the race.

"Some of Escanaba's grief may be due to the late start the team got... It did not get down to serious training until last week, did not even have a manager... Bill Puckelwartz, who piloted the team the last part of the 1937 season when it went on the 1937 killing rampage, was finally re-named manager... He will be in charge for Evanston to study at Northwestern university... In his absence Johnny Andrews will be in charge."

WIN PRACTICE GAME
In a practice game on No. 3 diamond, Gambles defeated the Bus team, 10-3. Sivertsen and Proberg formed the winning battery and Loeffler and Doucette worked for the losers. Boyle hit a home run with two on base.

SHOULD SEE BUTTS
Managers of diamondball teams desiring to use any of the city diamonds for practice should call Bevier Butts, recreational director, for reservations in order to avoid conflict with other teams.

MICKEY SHIFTS LINEUP AROUND

Speedy Jo-Jo White Goes To Center; Batting Order Shifted

Philadelphia, May 10 (AP)—Manager Mickey Cochrane's threatened shakeup of the Detroit Tiger lineup became a reality today while the Bengals sat idle in a Philadelphia hotel because of rain that prevented them from playing the Athletics for the second straight today.

Involved in the drastic step that Cochrane hopes will lift the club to the ranks of the contenders were the outfielders. Jo-Jo White, the antelope from Red Oak, Ga., is to be re-established in center field when the Bengals open a two game series against the high flying Senators at Washington tomorrow. He replaces Fred (Dixie) Walker, who will be moved over to left field. Ervin (Pete) Fox will stay in right.

The move, Cochrane said, was made in an effort to get more speed into center field. White batted a mere .246 last year, a slim mark for a major league outfielder.

Kennedy Faces Senators
Cochrane also announced a change in the batting order that he hopes will produce more runs for the Tigers.

Fox, leading hitter of the Tigers with a neat .388 percentage, will be dropped from first to fifth where he will bat behind Hank Greenberg.

"The way Pete has been hitting," Cochrane said, "ought to be our leading run producer. I think he will be more valuable if I let him hit after Brown."

White, who is known for his ability to look "em over, will lead off. Walker will bat second, Charley Gehring third, Greenberg fourth, Rudy York sixth, Don Ross seventh, and Billy Rosen eighth. Cochrane believes some pitchers will have plenty of trouble getting by his "big four" of Gehring, Greenberg, Fox and York.

Cochrane also announced that Vernon Kennedy, one of the mainstays of the Tiger pitching staff so far this season, would face the Senators in the opener instead of Cletus Elwood Poffenberger. The latter will work the second game of the series Thursday.

GEHRINGER SPEAKS UP
Philadelphia, May 10 (AP)—On the eve of his 35th birthday anniversary, Charley Gehring scanned his twelve full years in the major leagues today and from his observations there issued a rebuff to oldsters who scoff at modern pitching.

"The Peeries Charley, seemingly outrunning time itself now in his thirteenth year for the Detroit Tigers and still going strong, took in a lot of territory in one statement. The pitching, he said, is "better nowadays" than when he made his bow in the American League in 1926.

GIANTS TROUNCE CUBS CREW, 5-1

Gumbert Grants Only 5 Hits; Root Finishes Game for Lee

Chicago, May 10 (AP)—Supporting Harry Gumbert's fine right-handed flinging with a dozen hits, including four by Joe Moore, the New York Giants today trounced the Chicago Cubs, 5 to 1, to run their winning streak to four straight and their National League lead to four and a half games over the Cubs.

Gumbert set the Chicagoans down with five hits, all of them singles, and gave only three bases on balls. The Cubs scored their only run with two out in the fifth, on singles by Jurgas and Hack and a pass to Charley Root.

Bill Lee started this final game of an abbreviated series for Chicago, but was in the showers before the first inning was over. Root took his place.

The veteran right-hander held the Giants scoreless until the sixth, when singles by McCarthy, Chiozza, Gumbert and Moore sent two more runs over the plate.

Pretty Katy Rawls, Miami, Fla., swimming star, experiences part of the thrill that comes to an Indianapolis Speedway driver by sitting behind the wheel of one of the streamlined racers. Katy, however, prefers to show her speed in the water, and leaves the actual driving to the daredevils who will roar around the famous brick course May 30.

Leo stood on the sidelines and barked criticisms at the young pitcher until Posedel threw down his glove and invited his antagonist to fistfights under the stands. They were about to exchange blows when other players intervened.

During the Cardinals' batting practice, Mike Ryba, utility player, was struck above the left eye by a line drive batted by Stuart Martin. Dr. Robert F. Hyland, club physician, said there was no fracture and diagnosed the injury as a severe contusion with possibility of a slight concussion.

"Lippy Leo," it seems, decided Posedel was too wild for safety and declined to take his turn against him in batting practice prior to today's game with the St. Louis Cardinals.

A "jockey" of no mean repute, were in "perfect" shape. "They tell me," he concluded, "life begins at 40. I want to hang around and find out."

COMISH TALKS OVER BUDGET

Various Changes Made in Busy Session On Monday

Senior Ball Here on Friday Evening

The annual Senior Ball of the Class of 1938 is to be held Friday night at the high school gymnasium.

Commercial Club Enjoy Barn Dance

Members of the GHS Commercial club were pleasantly entertained in an old-fashioned way at an old-time barn dance held in the kindergarten Monday night.

Elimination of an $1,850 item for library maintenance, inclusion of $250 for the Central playground and $300 for equipping a playground at the welfare school, cutting of the welfare nurse's salary by $20 a month and putting the city health officer's salary back to $30 a month were among the changes made in the budget during a discussion of it by the city commission Monday night.

A Big Apple motif is being used in an attractive decorative scheme. Chet Morton and his orchestra will play the dance program.

Square dances, quadrilles and circular two-steps were called by Harvey Larson. Old time music was furnished by Paul Cowen, pianist, and Cecelia Seronok, violinist.

Final action on the budget is likely to come Saturday morning, the body adjourning the meeting to that date.

Young Republicans Shoot Opening Gun Of 1938 Campaign

The Delta County Young Republicans club fired the first gun of its 1938 campaign last night with an organization meeting held at the Escanaba city hall. A nominating committee was appointed by Chairman Jack Floyd, to report back to a general meeting on Tuesday, May 24, when officers for the coming year will be elected.

Edgar Anderson, head of the Delta County Republican organization, brought to Young Republicans the greetings of the senior organization and its promise of support during the coming campaign.

Atty. Edward Ryan addressed the group, discussing the situation at Washington as seen during a recent trip to the capital. Citing as examples recent "must" measures which have been defeated in congress, Ryan told club members that the anti-New Deal sentiment is constantly rising.

"The Republican organization is counting heavily on the help of Young Republican clubs throughout the country," he declared. "It is among the younger voters that constructive work can be done for the good of the country."

"The party has had enough of criticizing the New Deal," the speaker stated. "Everybody knows the mistakes which have been made and are now being made. But the thinking people of the country are now turning away from this criticism and looking to something better—to something they can offer to take the place of 'pump-priming' which is little better than 'pump-priming!'"

Members of the club will meet again on Tuesday evening, May 24, when officers and directors will be elected. Plans for a dance will also be considered at the next session.

Junior Class Play 'Growing Pains' Is Presented Monday

Newberry, May 10—"Growing Pains", written by Aurania Roverol, was presented by the Junior class of the Newberry high school on Monday night before a large and appreciative audience in the school auditorium. Miss Genevieve Dwyer of the English department trained and directed the production in a workman-like manner. The stars were difficult to select, so well balanced was the work and so well cast. Patrick James, the Penrod of the story, played the part of George McIntyre, about whose personal affairs, desires and emotions the play was written. George was growing up painfully and so was his younger sister, Terry, played by Helen Pardee. Their parents, Professor and Mrs. McIntyre, earnestly attempting to produce two civilized and well-balanced individuals, had their troubles. The parts of the parents were played by Elizabeth McMahon and Ira Fox. Sophie, the maid in the family, was taken by Dorothy Frang. The two comedy parts, Mrs. Patterson and her dumb and ungainly daughter Elsie, were convincingly done by Palma Gill and Ruth Coffey. Anthony Kenney was the traffic officer. The four boy friends of George were done by Joseph Lamirande as Dutch, Earl Russell as Brian, John Neff as Omar and Gerald Lavender as Hal. Frustrated, who belied her name and was the vamp of the cast, was done by Betty Lou Menzies, who came into the action, upset the household and the community, and passed on, leaving another "new girl" Vivian, played by Helen Barber to continue the cycle. The girls of the neighborhood were played by Carmel Stewart as Patty, Helen Lou Ludlow as Jane and Mary Richey as Miriam.

Committees in charge of the various divisions of work, all did well. R. J. Beach and James Gunton as business manager and in charge of advertising and publicity, sold a goodly number of tickets and obtained 19 advertisements for the program sheets; John Swanson and Cecil Sisson were in charge of the stage. The next event in the life of this class will be the Junior prom on this coming Friday night. The president of the class is James Gunton, vice-president is Bob Brown, secretary is Helen Lou Ludlow and treasurer is William Thackham. Miss Dwyer is class advisor.

Street Resurfacing Urged At Newberry With WPA Program

Newberry, May 10—A work project expected to cost around $38,000 will go to the regional Work's Progress Administration office at Cheboygan on Wednesday. The project calls for resurfacing of 13 blocks of street on John, Handy, Helen and Harrie streets, mostly in the business section of the city. The new surfaces will be of oil-aggregate construction. This is the type of work which has been tried out during the past year in several U. P. sections, the four miles north of Newberry being the first of this sort to be laid north of the Straits. It has stood the extreme cold of the past winter in fine shape and the repair bills are small. The Washington Trailer Park project amounting to $17,000 has been approved by both state and federal offices and work will be started as soon as the money is allocated. County welfare officials report that the two projects will give work to about 200 men for four and a half months.
