TRAFFIC SAFETY VICTORY HAILED

Accidents in Michigan Decline 35 Percent in 5 Months

Lansing, May 12 (AP)—Michigan claimed a major victory tonight in its state-wide campaign for traffic safety.

State Police Commissioner Oscar G. Olander reported to Governor Murphy that accidents had been declining steadily since November, when the drive was begun, and had dropped 35 per cent in five months.

Olander credited five factors with the results: Increased enforcement, made possible by the addition of 90 men to highway patrols; scientific assignment of patrols to sections of highways where accident rates have been high; selective enforcement, through the creation of restricted zones in which signs, signals, pavement markings and speed limit warnings "give the motorist his driving orders as he travels," and the institution of driver examinations, pre-requisites to licensing since April 1.

The commissioner asked for the addition of 30 men "on the basis of the results shown" declaring experience had shown that the highway patrol fell that far short of "minimum" requirements.

Reviewing the state's accident record, Olander reported that accidents dropped 18 per cent while gasoline consumption increased 5.2 per cent above normal, indicating increased travel, in November. The December accident figure was down 33 1/2 per cent and gasoline consumption was up 7.6 per cent. In January, accidents dropped 39 per cent and gasoline consumption 4.2 per cent from normal. The figures for February were 42 1/2 per cent and 6.05 per cent and for March 45 per cent and 4.4 per cent.

"Michigan, by continuing its present splendid record, will undoubtedly be among the first two or three states in the nation in the effectiveness of its highway safety program," Olander's report said. "There is a very good chance of it leading the other 47 states in this record of conservation of human life on the highway."

200,000 Czechs Demonstrate for Democracy

Flags waved, bands played, and 200,000 Czech citizens sardined themselves into Prague's main street, as seen above, to pledge support of their present democratic government. The demonstration was a protest against the pro-Nazi aims of Konrad Henlein, who has demanded the right to create "a state within a state" with his Sudeten-German minority group.

Packers and Stockyards Act had been thought essential. But as you point out in your opinion of April 25, administrative agencies are more and more necessary in our complex society, and it is important that all citizens be assured of fair play.

Hughes, in his speech earlier in the day to the American Law Institute, had devoted much time to a discussion of proper procedure by administrative agencies.

In another portion of the speech dealing with judges, he praised the bench in general, but said some judges do harm because of their "conspicuous ineptness." He said "the maintenance of the standards of judicial office rests primarily with the electorate, where judges are elected, and with the appointing power, where they are appointed, and in both relations a vigilant bar through its organized efforts to secure good judges should exercise, and should constantly seek to exercise, a potent influence."

Legal Philosophy Changes

Declaring there is vital need for "continued respect for the judicial tradition of independence and impartiality," he added: "It is in the judicial process that we find the most developed and systematic effort of a Democratic community to maintain the interests of justice of opposing reason to passion, accepted principles to unbridled discretion, and the requirements of fair play to the favoritism or tyranny of power."

This was the chief justice's first public address since the fight last summer over President Roosevelt's proposal to reorganize the judiciary.

The nation's leading lawyers who heard Hughes speak were reminded of that struggle by a letter from President Roosevelt, read to the meeting. "No one," the president said, "can read the legal record of the last year without appreciating that we in our day are again reshaping our legal philosophy to keep pace with the needs of our people and the spirit of our institutions."

The president's court bill, which was beaten, was followed by a series of supreme court opinions favorable to the administration.

PLANE OUTPUT TO BE TRIPLED

British Government Wins House of Commons Confidence Vote

London, May 12. (AP)—The British government won a house of commons vote of confidence in its air ministry today after pledging to triple the output of warplanes by March, 1940.

Opposition members had demanded an investigation of the reasons why Britain's aircraft production was lagging behind Germany's, and the issue came to a head in a liberal party move to reduce appropriations for the air ministry.

The attempt was defeated, 299 to 131. Despite the defeat of the opposition, the fact that a number of conservatives joined in criticizing the air ministry indicated the government shortly might appoint a committee to study workings of the Royal Air Force.

Pledges Britain would have in the neighborhood of 3,500 first line aircraft by March, 1940, were given by Air Secretary Viscount Swinton in the house of lords and by his deputy, Earl Winterton, in the house of commons.

This figure is twice the number the country planned to have in active military service by March, 1939.

Unofficially it was estimated Germany now has 2,100 first line military planes.

Czech Nazi Chief Comes To England On Surprise Visit

London, May 12 (AP)—Konrad Henlein came to London on a surprise visit tonight, strengthening Britain's hopes of settling Czechoslovakia's dangerous German minority problem to the satisfaction of Adolf Hitler.

Mr. Dowling inspected the fairgrounds track and said it was in splendid condition. All that will be needed is the installation of pari-mutual booths and the raising of the inside fence at the turns of the track.

Baker Attends Meeting

Thomas Baker, secretary to the state board of agriculture, came from Lansing to attend yesterday's meeting and took part in the discussion of the running race program. He also agreed that running races are preferable to harness races from the standpoint of public interest. Mr. Baker advised the fair board that now was the time to plan for any improvement to the fairgrounds property as funds would be available under the WPA "pump priming" program. The building of a livestock judging pavilion and dining halls for the church organizations was discussed. Announcement was made that the state administrative board had allocated funds for the sponsor's share of the WPA project to improve the grandstand through the removal of some of the large pillars.

Among those who attended yesterday's meeting were: Aloysius Roggenbuck, Moran, chairman of the board of fair managers; Louis G. Hillier, Baraga; Verne Lipsett, Sault Ste. Marie; J. H. Boyle, Bark River; George Nygaard, Metropolitan; Frank L. Van Gorder, Bossmer; Isaac N. Haas, Houghton; August Casagrande, Crystal Falls; James Jackson, Jr., Laurium; John A. Barrett, Newberry; Timothy Hurley, Marquette; Charles J. Salowsky, Menominee; John Spargo, Ewen; G. R. Matthews, Manistique; and Secretary R. C. Fryal.

ers "talk about the right to work and do nothing about it. 13,000,000 bread-winners are out of jobs," he said, "and their families represent a third of the population."

Turned Out to Starve "Not for long this time," warned Lewis, "will they be willing to take the crumbs from Lazarus' table and watch their children die, because some politician, or some industrial leader who gets $200,000 a year, or some banker who is stoop-shouldered from clipping coupons, cares not whether they starve. x x x

"Henry Ford turns 75,000 workers out on the streets whenever he gets ready. He has no use for them. He turns them over to the state, or he turns them over to the federal government, or he turned them out to die. It matters not to Henry Ford.

"The same is true of General Motors. The officers can take the money that they get from that corporation and put it in foundations to carry on the ideals of some individual, but apparently they are unable to evolve a plan that will permit a rational operation of their properties under conditions where the men who serve those properties x x x are able to have reasonable assurance that they will be able to live from month to month."

Lewis said the "next depression" was certain to come because each period of recovery carries with it the germs of depression—"as soon as industrial concerns get out of the red and into the black they begin buying machinery to supplant labor."

Fossil coral, found in limestone quarried near Petokey, Alpena and Rogers City, is testimony that some sections of Michigan were covered at one time with tropic seas.

STATE PAYROLL SLICE IMPENDS

Lansing Employees See Threat to Jobs in Civil Service

Lansing, May 12 (AP)—State employees and the state administration held different views today concerning statements of William Brownrigg, state personnel director, that between 2,000 and 3,000 persons will be shaken from state payrolls when the civil service examinations are completed.

The employees saw in the announcement, made last night in a Detroit address, a threat to their jobs. They likewise took exception to Brownrigg's hints that those to be dropped were "incompetents" and to indications that some salaries are going to be cut.

On the other hand, Governor Murphy gave indirect approval to the announcement by stating today, concerning the employment reductions: "There ought to be a real effort not to fill these vacancies for a while."

Murphy said he was "not going to permit civil service to be compromised in the least" despite protests of department heads at Brownrigg's statements. "Those who are not qualified for their posts must go, as part of the normal civil service program," he said.

Brass Plant Opens Without Disorder; Shut Down April 19

Detroit, May 12 (AP)—The American Brass Co. closed since April 19 by a strike called by the mine, mill & smelter workers union (CIO) reopened today under the protection of 100 policemen. There was no disorder.

About 320 workers entered the plant on the morning shift, although the pickets persuaded approximately 100 others who reported for work to return home. A small group of pickets demonstrated when the afternoon shift reported for work, but the non-union workers entered unopposed.

For three weeks, in shifts of 30, sitdown strikers held the power house at the plant in a dispute over a 10 per cent wage cut. A small squad of police ejected the strikers late Monday.

Deputy And Convict Killed In Gunfight

Tablequah, Okla., May 12 (AP)—Ole Gourd, 54, a deputy sheriff, and A. L. Witham, 38, an escaped convict, were killed in a gun fight near here today.

Sheriff Grover Bishop said three deputies surprised Witham and his companion, Clovis Montgomery, 37, and Witham began shooting. Montgomery was captured without resistance.

The two convicts escaped March 12 from the sub-prison at Atoka.

Man Is Found Dead With Poison Bottle

Flint, Mich., May 12 (AP)—Alfred Sherwood, 45, was found dead Thursday in a vacant house. A bottle that had contained poison stood nearby and Dr. James K. Sutherland, coroner, recorded the death as a suicide. Sherwood, who formerly resided in Detroit, had continued to live in the house, sleeping on the floor, after the family with which he had resided moved out.

problem back to the states and to strike out a $665,000,000 appropriation for public works were beaten, 106 to 39 and 91 to 28.

Deserted By Democrats

The president advanced his program a few days after the house's rejection of the administration government reorganization bill. Triumphant in that fight, with the assistance of conservative Democrats, the Republicans immediately armed themselves for another "great battle" and entered upon it with much confidence.

But it quickly became apparent that their Democratic allies were deserting them. The popularity of relief and public works expenditures among congressmen who face re-election contests this year was cited as one reason. A desire on the part of many Democrats who opposed the reorganization bill to re-establish themselves with the White House was given as another. Senator Pepper's sweeping victory in a Florida primary on an outright Roosevelt ticket was mentioned as a third.

At any rate, by the time the appropriation bill came before the house Tuesday, the result of the vote was no longer in doubt. The great battle that had been predicted failed to develop. Opposition to the bill was sufficiently vociferous and the debate was fiery enough, but general interest among the membership was slight.

Bankruptcy Predicted

The Republicans denounced the measure as prolonging "national bankruptcy," and a "cataclysmic inflation" of the currency. They insisted that government spending as a means of hastening recovery had been tried and had failed abysmally. They urged that the relief problem be turned back to the states and communities to be administered by local boards.

And they seized the occasion to denounce the whole range of Roosevelt policies as responsible for the recession in business and to demand that the budget be balanced, that the Wagner labor relations act be repealed and other administration reforms be liquidated.

The Democrats, confident in their voting strength, were content to make an explanation of the bill and then for the most part to save time by keeping quiet.

They did argue, however, that the sums to be appropriated would provide work and income for 3,500,000 to 4,000,000 persons. The purchasing power this created, they contended, would be reflected in an increased demand for industrial products, which would give business a sharp push toward recovery.

The Democrats also criticized business, accusing it of refusing to cooperate with the administration in its efforts to stimulate industrial activity.

POSTOFFICES PLANNED

Washington, May 12 (AP)—The house appropriations committee, introducing the new spending-lending bill, has included 65 Michigan postoffice buildings in the list of projects eligible for construction under the proposed $60,000,000 appropriation for new federal buildings.

The committee explained the postmaster-general and secretary of the treasury would select from the list the projects actually to be constructed, and added that the new building program is not confined to the 1,694 projects on the list. The estimated total cost of the listed projects is $171,438,000.

The two department heads, the committee said, had authority to add new projects to the list and

BOMBS KILL 47 AT BARCELONA

Insurgent Warplanes Roar Over City; Many Wounded

Barcelona, May 12 (AP)—Five tri-motored insurgent warplanes bombed the busy section of this Spanish government capital today, killing 47 persons and wounding between 70 and 80.

The planes, of German Junkers type, roared twice over Barcelona in the bright afternoon sunshine. (Insurgent bombs also killed 22 and injured 80 in an attack on Valencia. Spanish government port south of Barcelona.)

Among the wounded was a British seaman named Tregear, of the Steamer Tyneside. He was struck in the chest by flying metal but was not believed to be seriously injured.

The raid was the first since insurgent bombers killed about the same number in Barcelona 12 days ago.

An alarm was sounded early in the afternoon, but no bombs were dropped then, the planes apparently flying away from the city. They returned a few hours later and dropped an estimated 30 projectiles.

Michigan In Washington

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty
Monday Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, member of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, who introduced a resolution to prohibit the sale of helium to Germany, was omitted from the list of guests invited to a German Embassy dinner honoring Dr. Hugo Eckener, German dirigible expert.

Neither was Secretary of Interior Ickes, who is holding up the sale of helium while insisting on a guarantee that helium not be used "as an instrument of war."
Eckener needs helium badly for a new zeppelin to succeed the Hindenburg.

Originally opposed by President Roosevelt, the Federal Highway aid program for the fiscal year 1940 and 1941 has not only passed the House but is now acceptable to the Chief Executive.

If passed by the Senate, this means to Michigan $2,785,000 for highway aid, $750,000 for federal roads, $1,820,000 for grade crossings—if matched by equal state funds.

WPA money goes for many unusual kinds of relief. Just this week Roosevelt approved an appropriation of $541,000 to provide school lunches. State-wide in scope, this project was sponsored by the State Department of Public Instruction.

Veteran organizations and dairy farmers are opposed to an amendment which would compel war veterans in government hospitals to eat oleomargarine instead of butter. Southern members of Congress would like to see the Senate amendment retained in the appropriation bill to provide an enlarged market for cottonseed oil.

Congressman Paul Shafer, of Battle Creek, points out that the consumption of "oleo" has increased while butter has decreased, due largely to butter coming in from foreign lands (23 million pounds last year.)

Munising News

Trooper Transfers To Iron Mountain

Munising, Mich., May 12.—State Trooper George Malnar will leave this week for Iron Mountain where he has been assigned as trooper after spending almost a year and a half in service in Alger county. Trooper Leonard Bartelli, now at the Marquette post, will be transferred to Munising.

Trooper Malnar was assigned to Munising on January 1, 1937, and took over his duties then, coming here from L'Anse. Malnar saw service at Marquette, Soo, Newberry, L'Anse, East Lansing, Paw Paw, Flint, Niles, and at St. Ignace before coming to Munising. His home is in Ewen.

Trooper Bartelli is experienced in police work and has served at Newberry, L'Anse, Marquette, Soo and worked out of the East Lansing post. His home is in Bessemer.

There are two men stationed here, Munising being a sub-post of Marquette. Trooper Donald Berry, who has been assigned here for some time, will work with Trooper Bartelli.

Arrangements Set For Junior Prom

Munising, Mich., May 12.—Election of officers of the Boiree Club was a part of a pleasant evening spent by the group at the Budtke cabin on the Au Train river on Tuesday evening. Officers chosen by the organization were:

President, Helen Norberg. Vice president, Dorothy Boogren.

Secretary - treasurer, Lenore Budtke.

The club will hold an annual banquet and outing at the Soo on Sunday, May 22, and final plans for the day were arranged.

JOSEPH BROWN

Munising, Mich., May 12.—Funeral services for Joseph Brown will be held Saturday morning at 8 o'clock from the Sacred Heart church. The Rev. Fr. Ovid J. LaMothe will officiate at the services. Burial will be made in the Maple Grove cemetery.

Mr. Brown was born in Port Sanilla, Mich., on Feb. 18, 1854, and had resided here for the last two years. Surviving are two brothers, Charles of St. Ignace and John of Munising; and two sisters, Mrs. Marion Gordon of Beaver Island and Mrs. Agnes White of St. Ignace. The body will remain at the Beaulieu funeral home until the time of the funeral.

OSCAR HILL

Munising, Mich., May 12.—Oscar Hill, elderly Chatham resident, died at his home there on Thursday morning. The body was removed to the C. F. Beaulieu funeral home to be prepared for burial. Funeral services will be held on Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the Chatham church. Burial will be made in the Slapneck cemetery.

Cole Gets Bounty On 7 Coyote Pups

Munising, Mich., May 12.—Seven coyote pups, 3 female and 4 male, were found on Tuesday by Harry Cole near his home at Star Siding, four miles east of Shingleton, and scalps were turned in for bounty on Wednesday to Julius Thornton, local conservation officer. The pups were found in an underground burrow and dug out.

Newberry News

Story Of Newberry's Murder Is Completed

Newberry, May 12.—At three o'clock in the morning of Tuesday, May 10, five officers of the law walked quietly down the hall of the male dormitory at the Newberry State hospital. During the past three weeks state police and other men, several in plain clothes, had been about the place from time to time, but little was thought of it. But this morning they were together, quiet and earnest, for they had a grim duty to perform. A certain door was opened for them and they all entered. On one of the beds a young blonde giant was sleeping. He awakened white and shaking. He did not appear to have to be told the mission of the officers, although John Carstensen, trooper with the Michigan state police, told him that he was armed with a paper charging the young hospital attendant, George Duchey, with murder of old Charlie Hoy, Chinese laundryman, on or about the night of December 29, 1937. Duchey went without a sign of opposition. There was little chance of successful opposition, in the party, besides Trooper Carstensen, were Luce County Sheriff E. E. Shaw, Night Patrolman Clarence Erickson and Troopers Maki and Buehlow.

Then Monday morning Ketrivits was quietly called out of his school class and taken to the Luce county jail. There he quickly, almost gladly, gave his confession. Yes, he had robbed Charlie Hoy, he and his friend George Duchey. They had not meant to kill him, that was an accident. But they had planned to rob him of a supposed large sum, at least a thousand dollars. A thousand dollars was a very large sum to the sons of laborers. They would tie up the old Chinaman, would burn him to make him talk, would burn him to make him as soon as they had obtained the money. That is the story Ketrivits tells, and it places Duchey as the leader.

Duchey tells a story, too. Not quite the same, but much like it. In Duchey's story he agrees that the crime was planned several days before. In fact Duchey says that discussions concerning "bumping off" the Chinaman had been carried on in his hearing at least two years ago. He supports his companion's story that it was necessary for the two to get the support of liquor before they could attempt the crime, that they "got cold feet" the first night they planned to commit it. But they do not agree on just what happened when they reached the laundry. Ketrivits says that they went in together, that Duchey engaged Hoy in conversation and then suddenly rushed him into a back room and knocked him unconscious. Duchey said, in the confession made Wednesday afternoon, that the plan was for Duchey to enter as though on business, to engage Hoy in conversation. Then Ketrivits would come in, armed with a revolver which Duchey had borrowed for him, wearing an old coat and hat belonging to Duchey's father, and with his lower face covered with a handkerchief. This plan was carried out, Duchey insists.

The binding of the aged laundryman's feet with wire and shoe laces, forcing a gag into his mouth, burning him with a hot poker, heated in his own laundry stove, finding a paltry sum of money, mostly in one dollar bills, the wild search for the "thousand"—all this the two agree upon. They also agree that they left the Chinaman still breathing, partly on the steep stairs of his house; that they returned to Duchey's home which had been left less than an hour before, there they divided the money, each getting $32 and then came back up town to eat hot-dogs in a local restaurant.

Paroles Considered To Reduce Michigan Prison's Population
Ionia, Mich., May 11 (AP)—Sixty Michigan convicts, all of whom were sentenced to life terms as fourth offenders, will be considered for parole in an effort to reduce the prison population. Hilmer Gellein, director of the state department of corrections, said in an address here today. He spoke before the Ionia Rotary club.

Gellein said most of the men had been sentenced for crimes of the same magnitude as passing worthless checks. He added that 75 per cent of all paroled inmates had "made good" since his new parole program went into effect last July.

Bret Harie, the writer, was U. S. consul at Glasgow for five years.

Here's Our Opportunity WHEN the Happiness Tours, Inc., launches its first weekly golf train tour on July 2 out of Chicago, it will mark the time when the Upper Peninsula took one long step forward in the promotion of its recreational industry.

The Chicago travel service agency, which has been conducting all-expense tours to California, Mexico, Alaska and other distant points for several years, has decided to enter the shorter and less-expensive vacation travel field, and fortunately for us has selected the Upper Peninsula and its golf courses.

From its experience in the business, the travel agency is confident that each special train would carry from 150 to 200 outdoor sportsmen, mostly golf enthusiasts, with which Chicagoland is overcrowded. This is equivalent to the crowd that the average state convention brings to the Upper Peninsula, and what is particularly significant is that this group of vacationists will come every week.

The travel agency is certain that it can handle the "golf train" project successfully on its end. It is concerned mostly about whether Marinette, Menominee, Escanaba, Ishpeming, Negaunee, Marquette, Houghton, Calumet, Hancock and Iron Mountain will do their part to make the "golf train" tourists enjoy themselves during their visit.

This means that golf courses must be made available; hotel accommodations must be adequate and comfortable; and hospitality must be shown by the local people in the way of inexpensive but enjoyable entertainment.

Success with the "golf trains" can mean only one important thing. Happiness Tours, Inc., will undertake also to send "snow trains" to this region during the winter season and for various special events, such as the smelt jamboree and other fishing festivals.

The golf tour will be patronized mostly by members of Chicago's many clubs, all in the upper income brackets, who constitute a good market for later vacation trips and even the purchase of summer home sites in the Upper Peninsula.

This is a wonderful opportunity for the Upper Peninsula. Cooperation is all that is needed to make it successful from every standpoint.

Not Far Enough

THE plan of Senator Minton, who is following in the Senate, inquisitorial tactics similar to those of the former Senator Black, in proposing a bill that would make it a crime for any editor to knowingly publish untruths is being laughed down. In fact many are finding in the proposal a huge joke.

The Indiana senator didn't go far enough. He should have added a section to his proposed bill, making it a crime for any politician or office holder to knowingly utter an untruth.

The newspaper editors could go along on the proposition without any great fear of imprisonment and those who are enlightened on newspaper practice realize this to be true.

But few newspapers will knowingly publish an untruth. Naturally there are inaccuracies published in every newspaper, but not because of any desire to publish untruths.

If every politician were imprisoned for uttering a falsehood the jails would be so full as to make necessary building of many more and bigger jails.

It is but necessary to listen to the speeches in almost any campaign to realize the truth of this statement.

How many times have you heard candidates for public office tell what they were going to do as soon as they were elected to office? How many times have those promises been fulfilled? We have all heard candidates criticize their predecessors for certain so-called evils. There have been attacks that would take the prize in the old liars' contest were they but entered.

Yet people listen to these speeches and many listeners believing, cast votes for them only to learn later that these promises were but the voicing of an enthusiastic vote-getter and without any basis in fact, present or future.

So let Senator Minton go ahead with his plan. The newspaper editors will back him to a man, if he will but add a section making it a crime for any publication and campaigner for public office to knowingly utter a falsehood.

Freedom's Defense

THOMAS MANN, exiled German author, has been saying a great many sensible things on his current tour of America; but nothing that he has said is much more worthy of our serious consideration than his recent remark in New York that freedom must learn the art of self-defense.

Freedom as it exists in America is a priceless thing. We who have always lived in it take it for granted, perhaps even fail to realize that it can conceivably be in danger. Mann, who saw freedom snuffed out in Germany, has a clearer appraisal of it; and his warning is something to ponder over.

That the ideal of freedom must even-

World Affairs Reviewed

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Washington, D. C.—So vital has been the news of the major developments in the Spanish Civil War that the world has heard next to nothing of the Republic of Andorra's experiences during the long struggle. For that matter most people never have heard of Andorra anyway.

Even Napoleon, when assaulting the Pyrenees to invade Spain, knew nothing of the country and when told that it had been independent for more than 500 years declared that if that were so surely he would not interfere with it, and he did not, although sweeping everything else before him.

Andorra has seen many struggles during its 660 years of independence but, during the present war, has been like a pebble between two millstones.

The people are a fine race physically and although only the aristocrats and some tradesmen are literate, the masses—if one may call a population of 7000 masses—are keenly intelligent. The peasants speak Catalan and some French. It would be difficult to assay their political leanings, whether French or Spanish, for they are the purest example of neutrality in the world. Even their army of 600 may not, under the laws, cross their borders for any foreign service. This neutrality is remarkable on the one hand, and natural on the other, for the country lies squarely across the French-Spanish border, high in the Pyrenees.

Moreover, Andorra is not wholly independent. It is said in a legendary way that it was established by Charlemagne, but the historic fact seems to be that it was set up in 1278 as an independent state by a Count of Foix who had married a Spanish heiress. Their lands bestrode the border and to this day France and Spain exercise a supervisory suzerainty over the tiny nation. The President of France, as one of what might be called the trustees, receives $35 a year for his services, but the Spanish Bishop of Seo d'Urgell, the Spanish trustee, receives the munificent pay of $200 a year.

There is a council of 24 elected by the six valleys. They are elected by heads of families and the council, in turn, elects a Syndic who is the chief executive of the land.

—HIGH AND INACCESSIBLE— The country is very high, ranging from 7000 to 8000 feet. The capital city of Andorra la Vella is a city of 600 souls. Before 1921 there was but one road in the entire country, its running from the French to the Spanish border across Andorra. No automobile or motion picture had ever been seen there, and radio was unknown. The peasants grew their grain, potatoes, fruit, and tobacco and tended their livestock, chiefly goats. Then the French became interested in the curious country and French capital began a small degree of exploitation. Andorra was advertised as a summer resort, an hotel was built and some of the medieval houses turned into pensions. Most importantly, however, the swift River Valira was harnessed for power and today one of the importances of Andorra is that this plant furnishes a part of the electric current for Barcelona and other Catalan cities.

Because of the altitude, Andorra is almost cut off in winter, especially on the French side. The only communication is by skiers who bring up the mail, over the only possible pass. The Spanish side is more open but even there transit is difficult.

The country is accessible for ordinary transport only four months a year. Trade has been chiefly with the Spanish, because of the easier access, but the Civil War has caused grave difficulties. The Andorrans had been long accustomed to accepting the Spanish Government pesetas, but when the war came their value deteriorated to almost nothing. Hardships were caused by the low purchasing power. It took a stack of pesetas to get a French franc. This situation caused the only approach to a breach of neutrality in the Andorran annals. A delegation approached Franco to ask if his territory would sell supplies to the Andorrans at par of the Spanish peseta. He agreed and while deliveries must be made in a round-about manner, through French territory, they are being made and the peseta accepted in payment. The whole trade is in small terms but Franco has considered the policy a politic one.

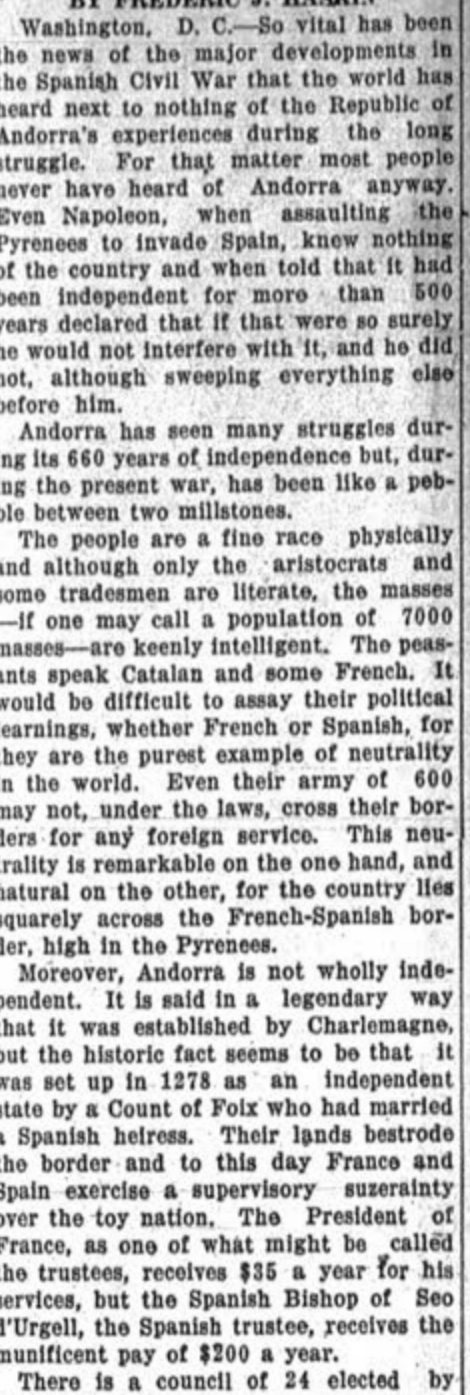

There has been some supposition that there was a deal of gun-running through Andorra but that is said to not be the case. Indeed it would prove very difficult to get anything heavy over the tremendous heights of Andorra, but the war does come close in that it has been regarded as a haven for deserters from the loyalist army and for men of military age who do not want to take arms. Many attempt to reach the little mountain state but many also are shot by the loyalists before they gain the border. Those who do appear are in complete destitution and misery, half starved and half torn to pieces by the haggard mountains they have secretly traversed.

logs, big wheels and other old time lumbering equipment for display, and the cook shanty will be operated so that visitors may enjoy old time lumber-jack meals at a reasonable price. It is quite possible that the bunk houses will be used to house over-night visitors. The entire environment will be exactly as it was during the early eighties when white pine lumbering was at its height in Michigan.

It is estimated there are at least 335 of these old sites in our forests, but most of the buildings have disappeared. The exact locations can be easily determined and out of the ashes of yesterday will arise the typical lumbering towns and camps that have made Michigan famous in fiction and fact. It will be a most interesting sight for tourists.

BY GEORGE ROSS

New York—One statistically minded Broadwayite has estimated that if the food at all the dinners presided over by George Jessel were collected and stored away, it would serve the populace of any European nation for at least two years.

Jessel's post-prandial orations usually are reminiscences of the old Broadway. He should know—he has been around for close to a quarter of a century now, dating from the days when he entertained as a member of Gus Edwards' "School Days" troupe and affected side-of-the-mouth talk and big, black cigars to forestall the representatives of the Gerry Society. He still talks the same way and clings yet to the cigars. Jessel was rambling away the other evening about the new and old Broadway:

"I remember when Leo Dietrichstein, once a great matinee idol, appeared in a play called, aptly enough, 'The Great Lover.' My companion at that opening was Turkey Mike Donlin, the great outfielder of John McGraw's Giants. Both he and I were impressed by the acting of a young man who was making his debut on Broadway in the role of Dietrichstein's secretary. After faltering a little in the first act, he came on to give a very creditable performance. After the show, he told us that he really didn't care for acting and was thinking of going back to Kansas City. But he didn't—and he's still acting. His name is William Powell."

And: "I remember sitting in the office of Charles Frohman when a young playwright slipped past the outer offices, always well guarded, and bearded Mr. Frohman in his lair. His script had been in the office for over a month and what, he asked, was the producer going to do about it? 'You look like an athlete,' said Frohman, 'I am,' replied the young man, 'I played football at Harvard.' 'Great,' said Frohman, 'then let's see how far you can kick this script.' The playwright didn't give up. As a matter of fact, he has written over 300 plays and garnered a few Pulitzer Prizes—he was Owen Davis.

Irving Caesar, the librettist and composer, never dreamed of being a songwriter. I know—for Irving and I were kid pals. He always told us that his desire was to become an automobile magnate along the lines of Henry Ford or Walter Chrysler. Automobiles had a fascination for young Caesar. And, ironically enough, today he has branched into a new phase of writing. His text book called 'Songs of Safety' is used by almost every schoolroom in New York City. The verses and original songs are designed to keep youngsters aware of the danger—from automobiles! Paid to Hear Toastmasters!

The Capital Parade

BY ALSOP AND KINTNER

Washington, May 12.—John W. Hanes has been gazzeted under-Secretary of the Treasury, the lord help him. If the plan goes through, the shrewd and genial SEC commissioner will find himself installed in an office where the ghosts of tortured predecessors shriek and gibber behind every curtain.

Somehow or other, jobs in the Treasury seem to be the black axes of the New Deal. Professor O. M. W. Sprague was lured from his peaceful authority at the Bank of England, only to be put in the coldest conveyer in Washington. Cornell chicken-coops to manage the dollar, and soon wished himself back among the hens. And only the other day, Mr. Jacob Viner, one of the ablest economists who ever served the Government, shook the Treasury's moldering dust from his feet with the remark:

"I'm tired of the job and I don't like the way things are run here."

But if economists have a hard time at the Treasury, under-secretaries must be prepared to face a regular administrative inferno. Why it should be, no one knows, unless it is because of the President's insistence on running the Treasury in his own way. The record simply shows that an undersecretary's lot is not a happy one, and that is all there is to it.

THE FIRST VICTIM Oddly enough, the first man to serve the New Deal as undersecretary of the Treasury was the Republican stalwart, Arthur Ballantine, as a hold-over from the Hoover ERA. He stayed on through the first days of the 1933 banking collapse, and departed as soon as the crisis was over. And of all the men who have held the post in the Roosevelt administrations, he was the only man except Henry Morgenthau to leave it in peace, with a contented heart.

The post's first real victim was one of the best public officials ever recruited by the President—Dean G. Acheson. Acheson seemed to have every qualification for the job. He was intelligent, liberal, agreeable, well acquainted with the highways and byways of finance, finely equipped to handle difficult economic problems. Unhappy, his most difficult problems were not so much economic as personal. In those days, the President was running the Treasury himself even more than he does now, and in such informal fashion that Acheson received at least one vitally important command at the President's bedside, between presidential gulps of breakfast coffee and the gay shouts and joyous cries of little Sisle and Bubble Dall, who kept interrupting their grandfather by stuffing their little hands in his mouth.

Acheson lasted just six months. He and the President came to the parting of the ways on gold policies, which he did not consider constitutional. When he was summoned to the White House to be handed the executive order on gold, he immediately told the President that he could not promulgate the order without an opinion from the Justice Department. The President replied that he had a favorable opinion. Acheson asked to see it. The President said that the opinion had been given verbally by the attorney general.

"I'm sorry, Mr. President," said Acheson, "but there is no opinion from the Justice Department which is not a written opinion."

That was the end of Acheson, who was treated thereafter as a condemned criminal might have been.

BOSTON'S SACRIFICE After Acheson came Henry Morgenthau, then Thomas Jefferson Coolidge, then Roswell Magill. Neither Coolidge nor Magill had to go through quite as much as Acheson, but their life was far from placid.

Coolidge, a conservative Boston banker, expected to serve as a financial technician. Unfortunately, his political instincts were so horrified by the going-on in the New Deal that a cat on a griddle would have had more ease and peace of mind. When Coolidge returned at last to Boston, to vote Republican in 1936, Magill was brought from Columbia to reform the tax system. And now he too is going, with a bad taste in his mouth, and the tax system just about as dreadful as it ever was.

DIRE DOUBLE DUTIES It was Secretary Morgenthau who first conceived the scheme of handing the black act to John Hanes. The Treasury roster has lately been denuded of big names, and no doubt Morgenthau hopes that Hanes would dress his office up a bit.

Morgenthau took the notion to the President, who consented to Hanes' transfer from the SEC on condition that Hanes be allowed to continue his peace-making between business and the New Deal. And thus Hanes is expected to do double duty, as a hard-working treasury official and an intermediary in the current Civil War. In fact, it looks as though he might be worse off than any of the unfortunates who went before him.

Lyrics of Life

By Douglas Malloch

JUST A NOTE

Do not wait to write a letter. Little notes are so much better. Just a thought in life's November. Just to show that you remember. Write a note, not one a season. But whenever there's a reason. Do not write because you owe it. Write as though you didn't know it.

Little notes are really better. Than a long unwritten letter. Than to have to wait for ages. For a half a dozen pages. Write a note, you'll find it easy. Something kindly, something breezy. Just a note. If you indite it. Then, at least, you really write it.

JUDGING TEAMS WILL COMPETE

Wylie Takes 14 Boys to State Farm; Enter Two Contests

Henry Wylie, Smith-Hughes instructor in the public schools of this city, will leave at 8 o'clock this morning with 14 high school boys for Chatham, where the boys will compete in the annual Smith-Hughes judging contest to be held at the state experimental farm.

This year, emphasis is being placed on education rather than competition. The contestants, who will number about 100 and who will represent ten schools, will be taken on a tour of inspection of the farm and will be shown the sugar bush, gardens, barns, experimental plots and other points of interest at the farm.

The crops judging team will be required to identify seeds and diseases and to judge grain and grass seed and potatoes. The local team will be composed of Delmas Benard, Arnold Gasman, Andrew Skaug, Kenneth Larson, Richard Larson and Joseph Chapla.

The livestock team will be required to judge dairy cattle, sheep and poultry. The local team will consist of Clarence Stonecliff, Willard Severinsen, John Mosier, Keith Dishno, William Barron, Oscar Larson, John Zawada and Foy Arbour.

Scholarships Offered Six of Delta County's Prospective Teachers

Six prospective rural school teachers of Delta county will re- ceive State Teachers college schol- arships granted by the Michigan state board of education, C. P. Titus, county school commissioner, has been informed by John R. Emens, assistant superintendent of the state department of public in- struction. The scholarships will relieve the student from the pay- ment of the tuition fee to the se- lected State Teachers college.

Scholarships are being granted because of the need for rural teach- ers, Emens stated. In order to en- courage high school graduates to enter training for teaching in rural schools, the board is planning to grant scholarships to superior can- didates in all counties of the state. The scholarships are to be pro- rated according to the number of rural teaching positions in the counties. One scholarship will be granted for every twelve rural teaching positions.

Candidates accepting the schol- arships are to enroll during the school years 1938-39 and must pur- sue the prescribed two-year course of study leading to the state lim- ited certificate, which is valid in Michigan rural schools.

Application blanks for the schol- arships may be obtained at the office of the Delta county school commissioner. They must be mailed to Emens before midnight, Septem- ber 10, 1938.

WAS MISQUOTED

Editor, The Daily Press, Escanaba, Michigan

In the Escanaba Daily Press of May 5th, in the "Michigan in Washington" column appeared a news item to the effect that I had appealed to Governor Murphy for clemency for the re-counters.

I wish to state that that was news to me, as I was entirely unaware of any such letter having gone to the Governor, and therefore dis- claim any knowledge of it. On looking into the matter I can see how this happened in that Con- gressman Sadowski sent a letter of that nature to the Governor and signed it "Chairman of the Michigan Congressional Delegation". There was a meeting held some time ago, in which the subject was discussed but no action was taken on it and therefore I am at a loss to un- derstand why this letter was written.

Yours very sincerely,
John Luecke, M. C.

Jarvis Johnson Called By Death At Isabella Home

Jarvis H. Johnson, 71, died at nine o'clock Thursday morning at his home in the Isabella farming community. He had been ill since April 19.

Mr. Johnson was born in Halifax, Nova Scotia, August 12, 1866, and came to the United States when he was 20 years old. He lived first at Nahma where he worked for the Bay de Noquet Lumber company for 24 years. His marriage to Anna Weber of Nahma took place there 41 years ago.

Twenty-seven years ago he moved to Isabella where he engaged in farming, and he lived there until his death.

The body was brought here to the Allo Funeral Home to be pre- pared for burial and will be re- turned to the home at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon. Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home and at 2:30 at the Congregational church, Isabella. Rev. A. J. Parker officiating, and burial will be in the Isabella cemetery.

Surviving are his wife and the following sons and daughters: Mrs. Francis Nadeau, Isabella; Howard Johnson, Engadine; Ronald, of Al- penna; Mrs. Lloyd Papineau, Isabella; George Johnson, Isabella; Mrs. Joseph Goutin and John John- son, also of Isabella; a brother, Howard, of Halifax; a sister, Mrs. Essie Wilhoit, Cleveland, and six- teen grandchildren.

Project Uncovers Over 46,000 Errors Made In Delta County Records

Over 46,000 errors in the record- ing of Delta county's vital statis- tics have been found and corrected under a project now under way at the county courthouse. Put through by County Clerk P. A. LeClaire, the project was set up to check records of births, deaths, marriages and naturalization dating back to 1862.

The work is under the super- vision of A. J. Pastmore, and began on September 20, 1937. Up to the present time 265,000 records have been checked and all errors found have been corrected. Nearly 4,000 new recordings have been made, mostly statistics on births which were missing from the libera and had not been reported to the county clerk by the township clerks of the county.

All available sources of informa- tion are checked under the vital statistics project, to insure as complete a set of county records as can be compiled. Records of the townships are checked against those of the county, to make cer- tain that vital statistics recorded by the townships were reported to the county clerk. In a large num- ber of cases, particularly before 1906 when legislation was passed requiring township officers to re- cord their statistics with the county clerk, it was found that no records had been turned in at the court- house although they had been made in the township books.

The project brings together this information where it is easily avail- able when requested by people of the county.

Statistics Valuable

The vital statistics which are being corrected through the project have become increasingly valuable in the past few years. Social security and old age pensions require legal proof of the date of the applicant's birth, and county records are the only source of this infor- mation in many cases. Railroad retirement pensions, passports, and even employment in private indus- try necessitates proof of age by applicants.

More than 38,000 documents have been sorted, checked and filed by the project workers. These records date back to 1862, when the first meeting of the Delta county board was held at Nahma on May 28. At that time authority was given by the board to procure books for keeping records of vital statistics, and the present checkup goes back to those first books.

At present nine workers are em- ployed on the project, as furnished by the WPA. The county provides the materials necessary for the project. It was found necessary to make personal calls in some townships in order to find some of the old township records. The total cost to the county is not likely to be more than $100, it was estimated yesterday.

Sermon Text John 17:9-7, "Christ's Prayer for His Disciples in the World."

I intercede (make request) for them; I am Not interceding for the world, but for those whom Thou hast given Me, for they are Thy own—all that is Mine is Thine, and all that is Thine is Mine—and I am honoured in them. Now I am to be in the world No longer, but they are still to be in the world, and I am to come to Thee. Holy Father, keep them true to Thy Name—which Thou hast given me (to bear)—that they may be one, as We ARE. Whilst I was with them, I kept them true to Thy Name, and I have guarded them; and Not one of them has been lost, except that lost soul (Judas Iscariot)—in fulfilment of Scripture. But now I am to come to Thee; and I am speaking thus, while still in the world, that they may have My own JOY, in all its fullness, in their hearts. I have given them Thy Message; and 'the world' hated them; because they do Not be- long to the world; even as I do Not belong to the world. I do Not ask Thee to take them Out of the world, but to keep them (safe) from Evil. They do Not belong to 'the world,' even as I do Not belong to 'the world.' Con-secrate them (make holy) by (in) the Truth; Thy Message IS Truth.

"The 'High-priestly' Interces- sory Prayer of Jesus gives Happi- ness FULLY to His Disciples."

1. They rejoice, because they are the objects of the Heavenly Father's care ("they are yours"), and because "They have done Jesus honor" by believing in His Message.

2. Jesus prays—"Holy Father, keep them by your power," keep them from evil. — This "world" is full of dangers for Christians, "the world" has come to hate them." Happy are they, that He guards them against fall- ing away from Him! How desir- able—it seems to us—to have Him visibly present and ready to guard us from evil and unbelief; but since He prays for us and the Father hears prayer, we are sur- ely protected now, as it is.

3. Jesus prays, "that they may be 'one' just as we are a unity in spirit. What a comfort to Chris- tians.

4. He prays, that "they also may be consecrated by truth." — Not perfected in holiness yet, but striving for it, and finally attain- ing the goal. Amen.

Doings About Capitol

Lansing—Michigan's "back to the farm" retreat, which started in the years 1931 and 1932, is still in motion.

Ironically enough, the boom-expansion of automobile industrial centers—Detroit, Flint, Lansing, Jackson, and Pontiac—has attracted thousands of young men from Michigan farms. Henry Ford's minimum wage, together with bright lights of the city, encouraged this trend. In time, the Dearborn industrialist saw the basic weakness of forsaking the land for a factory bench; he instituted a decentralizing industrial program of his own, establishing scores of small industrial plants in villages within a 75 mile radius of Detroit.

Today, in 1938, with a second depression lengthening, the back-to-the-land trend continues. Food garden space, cheap taxes, and more economic security have an appeal to the employed worker as well as the jobless.

37 Counties Decline

A graphic insight into what the industrial boom has done to Michigan is given in this fact: Over two-thirds of Michigan counties had fewer people in 1930 than at some former census period. From a peak population of 1,240,285, these 37 counties declined to 1,021,488. At the same time Michigan grew steadily, reaching 4,842,325 in 1930.

The loss in population in these 37 counties was due in 26 instances to departures of both incorporated and unincorporated population, and in 28 to departures of unincorporated population only.

Houghton county in the Upper Peninsula offers an interesting example.

In 1910 the population was 88,098; by 1930 it had dropped to 52,851, a decline of 40 per cent. At the same time improved farm acreage increased.

Kalkaska county in the lower peninsula had a 1910 population of 8,997. This since has dwindled to 3,798, a decrease of 58.1 per cent. Farms declined from 17 sawmills, shingle mills, lath mills and other wood-working plants humming with activity in Kalkaska county.

Iosco county's population dropped from 15,224 in 1890 to 7,517. Here is another lumber story.

Social Effects

If this population decline continues, you can easily appreciate the seriousness of social problems, already acute in many places.

Take the all-important matter of primary school districts. Every time a farm home is abandoned, a taxpayer is taken off the county list. More and more upstate districts look to Lansing for an answer. The state school aid fund, now at an all-time high, will probably be pushed to higher levels in the near future.

As preaching services in struggling country churches have become more infrequent, several Protestant denominations have agreed to allot certain areas and otherwise to conserve their finances. Canada's experiment, the United Protestant church, may come into a modified reality in certain districts of northern Michigan.

Confronted with these trends, leaders have turned eagerly to the tourist business which in 1937 was rated at $330,000,000 by the A.A.A.A.—first of any state in the nation.

Highway Value

Michigan's intense interest in highway improvements comes primarily, as we view it, from hundreds of villages and towns whose economic life depends to a large degree upon the year-round tourist business.

To these counties, any loss in population must be compensated through development of the tourist business. It is the only alternative in sight.

And so it is easy to understand their insistence that Michigan match federal funds in 1938 for building $10,700,000 improved roads.

Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner, marshalled these forces recently at a better roads rally in Grand Rapids. "Today," he said, "the department finds itself $4,000,000 short. I have every confidence that Governor Murphy will find a solution for the problem."

The solution consists simply of releasing four millions which were appropriated by the legislature. To these four millions, the federal

Counter Tax Campaign

At a time when mounting deficit and increasing relief expenses point to a possibility of additional state taxes in 1939, the Chamber of Commerce of Michigan is starting a "back fire" campaign to reduce the cost of state government.

"It is costing $100,000,000 more today to run the state of Michigan than it did 10 years ago," says Ernest T. Conlon, manager, in a statement offering cooperation in a survey of the state revenue structure. "It is highly important that the cost of government be reduced. The people of Michigan are paying too much money in taxes."

Conlon's appeal has ample basis in cold facts. State payrolls soared from $14,566,000 in 1933 to $23,485,000 in 1937, and they are higher today than ever before.

What is the answer? Do we want less road building, less school aid? It is certain that increased social benefits cannot be obtained without increased taxes. The taxpayer must make a choice.

Buttered Spiced Beets

3 cups sliced cooked beets
1-4 cup granulated sugar
1-2 teaspoon cinnamon
1-4 teaspoon cloves
1-4 teaspoon salt
1-8 teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons water
2 tablespoons butter
Mix ingredients. Let simmer in a covered pan for 15 minutes.

Olive Dressing

1-4 cup French dressing
4 ripe olives chopped
4 green olives, chopped
1-4 teaspoon chopped parsley
1-4 teaspoon chopped onions
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1-4 teaspoon paprika
Mix ingredients with a fork. Chill and pass with the salad.

Knitted suits should be handled carefully after they are washed. Wrap them in a Turkish towel for several minutes—to get rid of part of the moisture. Then lay them on a clean, dry cloth or towel until they are dry. Never wring or twist them—that is likely to break the fibers.

Small brushes—such as discarded tooth brushes—are handy for polishing and cleaning shoes and for applying silver polish or cleaning powders to brass and other metal ornaments. The bristles on a small brush will penetrate grooves and corners which are nearly impossible to reach in any other way.

Interesting P-T Meeting Closes Year at Webster

A successful meeting of the Webster Parent-Teacher Association, held Wednesday evening at the school, with a large and enthusiastic attendance, brought to a close the activities of the unit for the year.

The program opened with a twenty-minute concert by the school orchestra, members of which were attired in their regulation caps and capes. Frank Karas was director.

The concert marked the final appearance in the school orchestra of many sixth graders who will enter Junior high school this fall.

A Mother's Day song was presented by Miss Beulah Way's sixth graders, Miss Gertrude Lund directing; and other numbers of the program, which were equally enjoyed, were the dances by Francis Skradski, accompanied by Miss Lucille Warmington, and a solo, "I Love Life," by Mrs. Harold Gasman, accompanied by Mrs. F. M. Fernstrom.

Mrs. Arthur Gilbert, summer round-up chairman for the school, and Dr. Roelf Lanting, health unit director, gave interesting talks, and presented an exhibit of posters and health bulletins.

Installation of officers was conducted by Mrs. C. L. Riegel. The new officers are: Mrs. Hugh Boyle, president; Mrs. Arthur Gilbert, first vice president; Mrs. George Hedsten, second vice president; Mrs. Ernest Erickson, treasurer; Janice Kelley, historian; and Irene Sheehan, secretary.

A social hour and a lunch for which attractive appointments were formed of spring flowers and evergreens, closed the final meeting.

Take advantage of the next windy day to clean your chintz coverings and curtains. Hang them on a clothes line and brush them quickly with a clean whisk broom dipped frequently in warm water.

Cape Is Style Note Of Smart Summer Print

BY MARIAN MARTIN

In this season of soft lines and feminine details it's no wonder that cape frocks grow more important! And here's one that Marian Martin has designed to give larger women the flattery they crave! It also offers you a chance to indulge your taste for softly blended colors, for this is just the type of dress that looks best in multi-colored sheers. Just think how cool that cape will be floating softly from your shoulders and just wait and see what that anelled skirt and soft bodice will do to your curves. A dress that's well worth making at home. Complete Marian Martin Diagrammed Sew Chart included to guide you each step of the way.

WE, the WOMEN

BY RUTH MILLETT

Today's brides ought to think a long time about the statement recently made by a physician connected with Johns Hopkins Hospital. He said that 80 per cent of all the patients who are admitted to the hospital are suffering from diseases "attributable in part to emotional disturbances."

A young wife ought to take that news seriously not only because she will be in such great measure responsible for her husband's peace of mind—or lack of it.

She should make up her mind at the beginning of her marriage that she will never be a nagger.

And that she will make her husband's pay check go as far as she can, and not complain because it won't go further. Or "keep at him" because he isn't as good a provider as she or her mother thinks he ought to be.

She should resolve when her marriage vows are new that she won't run up bills that he can't pay, or try to live in any manner but one compatible with his salary.

She should also decide at the start that she won't make her husband listen to all her troubles—but will shoulder her day's worries as he must shoulder his.

More than that, she alone of all people has a chance to make life smooth for the man she marries—managing in a thousand little ways to keep him happy and contented, rather than "pushed" and fearful.

And when she helps him to find "peace of mind" she will have the satisfaction of knowing that she is reducing the chances of his being one of the 80 per cent—whose illnesses are due partly to worry.

Today's Recipe

A recipe for Duchess cup cakes, which was used in one of the recent electrical cooking schools is reprinted this morning following a special request for it.

Duchess Cup Cakes 1/2 cup butter 1 1/2 cups brown sugar 2 eggs 1 cup thick sour milk or butter-milk 2 cups cake flour, sifted before measuring.

1/2 teaspoon nutmeg 1 cup seedless raisins 1/2 cup broken nut meats 1 teaspoon soda 1 teaspoon cinnamon 1/2 teaspoon cloves

Cream the butter, add sugar gradually and beat until light and fluffy. Add the eggs one at a time beating after the addition of each. Sift the flour with the soda and spices and add alternately with sour milk to first mixture. Mix the nuts and raisins with the last addition of flour. Turn into paper baking cups, fill about one-half full and place on a shallow pan or baking sheet. Temperature 375 degrees. Baking time 25 minutes.

Church Events

Priscilla Sewing Circle A meeting of the Priscilla Sewing circle of the Norwegian Danish Lutheran church will be held at 8 o'clock this evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pascal, 1006 Washington avenue.

Christian Science Churches "Mortals and Immortals" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, May 15.

The Golden Text (1 Cor. 15:48): "As is the earthy, such are they also that are earthy; and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Phil. 3:13, 14): "Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended; but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 248): "We must form perfect models in thought and look at them continually, or we shall never carry them out in grand and noble lives."

FIRE HAZARDS GETTING HIGH

Permits Necessary for Burning of Brush, Officers Warn

The past several days of warm, dry weather have created a fire hazard in this district, Clara Farwell, district supervisor of the Michigan department of conservation, said yesterday.

The department was called to extinguish a ten acre fire on the sand plains at the top of the bluff at Gladstone Wednesday. This was the tenth in the district this year, none of which was very extensive nor serious. The new booster unit of the department was used for the first time and performed very effectively.

Because of the present hazard, special precautions are being taken by the department in preventing fires. Persons planning to build any kind of a grass or brush fire are requested to secure a permit from the conservation department before doing so. There is no cost to secure a permit, the permit being necessary so that the department may know at all times where fires are burning in order to be able to be ready in the case of any emergency.

The getting of permits is required by law and failure to have them is cause for court action.

Theatres

AT THE DELFT

"Fools for Scandal" and "Daredevil Drivers" are features at the Delft theatre today and Saturday.

Fun aplenty is promised today for patrons, for "Fools for Scandal," a comedy-romance with Carroll Lombard and Fernand Gravet as its stars, will be given in local premiere there.

Gravet's tremendous success last year in his first American movie, "The King and the Chorus Girl," will be readily recalled.

With Beverly Roberts once again enacting the part of the business woman—this time as head of a passenger bus company—a melodrama called "The Daredevil Drivers" dealing with the warfare between her outfit and a rival concern, will be the feature attraction today at the Delft theatre.

Automobiles are wrecked right and left in this movie, no less than fifteen altogether, four buses and eleven passenger cars are being sent to the junk heap as a result of the many crackups engineered by the villains of the piece.

AT THE MICHIGAN

What a wide-awake press-agent can do in the way of booming the marriage license business in a sleepy little town forms the entertaining basis of RKO Radio's new comedy-drama, "This Marriage Business," with Victor Moore in the top role.

Moore, however, is not the press-agent. He is the kindly old county clerk none of whose wedded couples ever lapsed into divorce. Alla Lane is the publicist, a New York newspaperman who learns of this unusual record and who spreads the news far and wide—with hilarious results.

PIKE FISHING OPENS MAY 21

Head-of-the-Bay Fishing Under Commercial Regulations

Fishing of walleyes, commonly known as pike perch, at the head of the bay will not become illegal until May 21, it was pointed out by Clara Farwell, district supervisor of the Michigan department of conservation, in answer to numerous calls for information.

Pike fishing on inland lakes designated by the department becomes legal Sunday but fishing on Little Bay de Noc is governed by commercial regulations and will not open until a week from Saturday.

Pike, whether caught in the bay or inland waters, must be at least 14 inches in length. Day's limit on inland waters is five and a similar number may be in possession at one time. For fish caught on the bay, the limit is ten and a similar number may be had in possession.

Amateur Films Movie Shocker Of Traffic Toll

Grand Rapids, Mich. (AP)—A tragic record in motion pictures of what happens when a motorist blunders is being compiled by Elmer F. Way.

"It's going to scare the daylight out of traffic violators," asserts this business man who has made safety work his hobby.

Way rides his hobby so hard he has installed a short-wave radio set in his car to pick up police calls and has rigged up a bracket that enables him to take pictures through the windshield while he is driving.

"With this arrangement," he explains, "I can get pictures of actual traffic violations that should be informative in our safety work."

Way is one of 50 Grand Rapids business men who are members of a semi-official traffic squad cooperating with police in cutting down accidents. Police have a standing order to notify him, at home or at his office, whenever an accident occurs.

"Once I beat an ambulance to the scene. Another time I happened to be on a train that hit a car. My camera is never out of my possession, so each time I get pictures," he boasts. "And, of course, this sort of thing more or less ties in with my business."

Way is a manufacturer of embalming fluids.

Booth Fisheries Closes Branch At Green Bay, Wis.

Green Bay, Wis.—After doing business in Green Bay for 45 years, the branch of the Booth Fisheries corporation here is being closed out and the building will be razed, E. C. Gustafson, manager, stated this morning when questioned.

He will continue to represent the company here as salesman, but will do no buying, he said. Fishermen wishing to do business with the company have been instructed to send their shipments to Chicago on consignment.

Decrease in production here, and the need of new quarters, contributed to the company's decision to close its Green Bay branch. Formerly on the Great Lakes, of late years the branch has bought small quantities of perch, herring and some carp, but most of the production is handled out of the Bayfield branch.

The story-and-a-half frame structure on the west bank of the Fox, north of the North Western elevator, is in poor condition, and rather than rebuild the company decided to close up. The building, approximately 75 by 125 feet, has been sold to be demolished.

Nine employees will be thrown out of work by closing of the branch. The company's headquarters are in Chicago.

Exercises Begin Tuesday at Ensign; 200 in Eighth Grade

Graduation exercises for eighth grade pupils of Delta county schools will be held next week, C. P. Titus, county school commissioner, announced yesterday. There are 200 students in eighth grade classes in the county schools.

Exercises will be held at Ensign on Tuesday; Stonington on Wednesday; Schaffer on Thursday, and Fairbanks on Friday.

Standardized tests, the Stanford achievement tests, are being given to members of both seventh and eighth grades of the county schools. There are 492 students in both the seventh and eighth grades.

Sugar Over-Indulgence Blamed In Tooth Decay

New York, April 12. — Tooth decay can be practically eliminated if people will forego the eating of sugars and highly fermentable starches.

Decay of the teeth has been shown to be the direct result of acids produced by bacilli nurtured on free sugars and starches. Dr. Russell W. Bunting, Dean of the University of Michigan School of Dentistry, told members of the New York State Medical Society at the organization's annual here yesterday.

Prevention or adequate control of tooth decay would materially reduce the cases of arthritis, nephritis, heart disease, and diseases of the gastro-intestinal tract. These diseases, Dr. Bunting said, are in many cases actually the result of infections which follow the destruction of teeth through decay.

Tooth decay, Dr. Bunting declared, is the result of acids that destroy the enamel and later infect the tissue around the root of the tooth. Soft and imperfect teeth can be kept as free from decay as hard or perfect ones if protected from acids and bacteria which produce those acids, he said. No tooth, he asserted, can withstand the continued attacks of lactic acid.

The Lactobacillus, regarded as the bacterial factor in tooth decay, Dr. Bunting explained, is almost invariably found in mouths with tooth decay and absent or very low where there is no decay. It is the only one of the acid-producing bacteria in the mouth which can survive in the acids it produces, he said.

Dr. Bunting outlined a University of Michigan experiment in which three hundred children, fed no sugars, were found to be practically free from tooth decay. Their diets were low in vitamins, calories, calcium, and phosphorus, all of which have at one time or another been held responsible for tooth decay. This experiment proved beyond any doubt, Dr. Bunting held, that the elimination of sugars can reduce or eliminate tooth decay, while control of other factors in the diet has no appreciable effect on the disease.

It is to be hoped, Dr. Bunting concluded, that some more practical way of eliminating tooth decay can be found. It will be an extremely difficult task to persuade people to go without sugar when it has been incorporated to such an extent into the daily food habits of civilized man. There is an ever-increasing sugar consumption in this country, he continued, asserting that over 2,000,000,000 pounds of candy were sold to the American people last year. "That such a high sugar consumption is not necessary to lift and health," he said, "is indicated by the fact that our forefathers who pioneered the land in which we live were raised on an annual consumption of a paltry twelve pounds of sugar per capita."

STORIES IN STAMPS

GALLOPING MAIL

OUT of pioneer St. Joseph, Mo., galloped a flashing rider early in the morning of April 3, 1860, first of a chain of horsemen who would carry the mail to San Francisco in eight days.

Three transcontinental mail lines were already in existence, but the bulk of the mail was dispatched by Panama in 22 days. This was entirely too slow, so the "Pony Express" was organized.

Stations about 25 miles apart were established. Riders were expected to cover 75 miles a day. Eventually there were 190 stations, 200 stationkeepers, 200 assistants and 80 riders on the hazardous, Indian-plagued route to the Far West. The riders got $100 to $125 per month. Charges were $5 for each half ounce; later were reduced to $2.50.

The quickest trip was that made in delivery of Lincoln's inaugural address; St. Joseph to Sacramento, 1400 miles, in 7 days, 17 hours. With the completion of the Pacific Telegraph line in 1861 the regular pony express was discontinued. A rider is shown below on the 2-cent U. S. 1869 stamp, light brown, reproduced slightly more than one and one-half times actual size.

Settlers Started Fire When Land Was Threatened

Iron River—When Grover Cleveland was president of the United States, he had to step in to settle an Iron county dispute which raged between the Keweenaw Canal company and homesteaders who settled on Gibbs land.

Records of the incident compiled in writing by the late Mr. MacColman, of Gibbs City, are kept by his wife, Mrs. Edna MacColman, a member of the Iron River township school board. MacColman was a geologist by profession, and a cruiser for the Keweenaw company.

According to Raymond E. Garrett, junior forester at Camp Gibbs, who has studied the records of Mrs. MacColman, the Keweenaw Canal company, now the Keweenaw Land association, was granted a large parcel of land by President Cleveland.

Took Big Gulp

The grant was made a few years before 1882. The boundaries of the Canal grant were very vague so the lands taken over by the company were much larger than the intended 14-mile strip of land near the present city of Sault Ste. Marie.

Part of the lands assumed by the company extended as far south as Gibbs City, in Iron county, more than 200 miles from the Soo boundaries.

Into these lands moved a large number of settlers and homesteaders who finally were involved in a dispute with the Canal company on the question of their personal rights to the land on which they dwelled.

In due time, the settlers, perturbed over the uncertainty of ownership, banded together and engaged an attorney who was also an early geologist, to aid them in court.

The consideration for the services of the attorney is said to have been certain mineral rights to the lands the settlers had hoped to make their own by homesteading.

Because of much confusion and misunderstanding, a satisfactory settlement could not be attained immediately, so the lawyer instructed the settlers to use drastic action by destroying vast areas of pine timber in the disputed region.

During the days that followed, it is said that large fires raged sporadically over much of the disputed territory as any consideration of "allowable burn" to the enraged settlers meant anything but the meager improvements constituting the homesteads.

Folly Ruined Assets

The fire raged for weeks in some places and overcast the earth with a gloomy pall, billowing huge clouds of smoke into the skies. The darkness was so appalling that families hesitated to allow their children to walk to distant schools. Travel by horse was difficult because of the acrid pine smoke.

The conflagrations were a great blow to the Canal company since the pine stands were to have been logged with the expectation of

New York, May 12.—The scheduled ten round battle of the heavyweights, Nathan Mann and Tony Galento, is up for Friday night description on the WJZ-NBC list. Details will start out on the air at 8 o'clock. This is the first fight broadcast from the Madison Square garden arena since mid-April.

Paul Whiteman starts a series of broadcasts from universities in the south in his regular WABC-CBS program at 6:30. This one will come from the Page Auditorium at Duke university, Durham, N. C.

The WOR-MBS chain at 2:45 is to take a sample of the superstitions of Manhattanites in view of the fact that the day is Friday the thirteenth. The microphone setup will be at Times Square in New York.

Paul Wing's spelling bee is to be filled with firemen on WJZ-NBC at 7:30. Contestants are firms representing the fire departments of New York and Philadelphia.

When Howard Barlow's music for fun comes on WABC-CBS at 3:30 the youthful commentator will be Kingsley Colton, aged 11, of Flushing, N. Y., an actor who appears in Nila Mack's Let's Pretend.

Another of the series of World Economic Cooperation programs, WABC-CBS at 2:45, is to present as speakers Rep. Jerry Voorhis of California and Rep. Otha Wearin of Iowa. The American Viewpoints period of the same network at 8:45 is to have a discussion by Dr. Ales Hrdlicka, assistant curator of the National Museum in Washington, on "The Racial Origins and Present Composition of the Austrian People."

In the Little Variety show of WJZ-NBC at 3:30 will be Eleanor Lane, Tony Russell, the Collegians and Rakov's orchestra.

MRS. REIMAN HONORED

Iron River—Mrs. Augusta Reiman, Iron River's grand old lady, was honored on a special program on Radio Station WLS, Chicago, on Saturday evening.

The program was planned as a tribute to mothers, everywhere, on the eve of Mother's Day. Chuck Acre, special events announcer for the station, interviewed Mrs. Reiman on his program, "Something to Talk About" Saturday at 9:30 p. m., central standard time.

Mrs. Reiman is 81 years old and has 13 living children, all married and living in different sections of the country, in Los Angeles, New York and places in between the two coasts. She is the mother of William Reiman and Mrs. Andrew Barlock of Iron River.

substantial profits.

President Cleveland finally intervened and rendered a decision which evicted all homesteaders who had settled on the area after the year, 1882.

The many remnants of the early pine stands yet alive give mute evidence, Garrett says, of the fires which resulted from what he terms "the folly of many who could not foresee the depletion of a basic resource—timber."

Many Auto License Plates Are Lost

Leon D. Cass, Secretary of State, has renewed his caution to motorists against haphazard attaching of license plates to their motor vehicles.

Records of the department of state over many years show that thousands of plates are lost in the early part of each license year, indicating that those who are going to lose plates, lose them shortly after they attach them to their cars.

No definite count of the number of plates actually lost is possible. Some, of course, are stolen; others are mutilated in accidents. A duplicate passenger or commercial license plate costs $2; municipal duplicate plates cost 25 cents. Dealers pay $15 a pair for their first three sets of plates, and $5 per set thereafter, but subsequent duplicates do not indicate losses, but rather the desire to equip additional cars with dealers plates for demonstration purposes.

PLANS LAID FOR AIRMAIL FLIGHT

Entire Community Urged To Be Present at Airport May 19

Special preparations have been completed for Manistique's observance of National Air Mail Week, with the direct airmail pick-up service which will be available Thursday, May 19, Frank Glerke, local postmaster, has announced.

First flight cover envelopes, with an imprint of the special cachet prepared to advertise this locality, are now on sale at the local postoffice, drug stores, variety stores and newspaper offices. Envelopes without the first flight covers will be available for those who wish airmail dispatch for days other than Thursday. Patrons are requested not to use the first flight cover envelopes after Thursday, May 19. Airmail deposited after that date will be dispatched by rail to the nearest airport.

It is requested that patrons write their letters on Sunday or Monday, and place them in the mail, if so desired, they may be marked "Hold for Special Flight". All letters mailed under first flight cover envelopes for this dispatch will be held for the special direct airmail pickup without the necessity of being marked "Hold".

A letter mailed in time to catch the plane Thursday will arrive in Detroit at 4:55 p. m., about 4 1/2 hours after it leaves Manistique. A special delivery stamp affixed with the airmail stamp will assure delivery in Detroit that same evening.

Any airmail from Manistique for Blaney, Newberry or Sault Ste. Marie will be dispatched to those communities in emergency pouches.

The new airmail stamp will be placed on sale Monday, May 16. Every resident is urged to send at least one airmail letter during national airmail week.

The entire population of the city is invited to attend the arrival of the special plane on the occasion of the first airmail flight in Manistique's history. The plane, piloted by Walter Arntzen, will arrive at the Manistique airport at 12:23 p. m. The entire student body and faculty of the high school will be transported to the airport. The high school band will play at the airport.

The landing field will be policed by 60 registered Boy Scouts of the city, supervised by their Scoutmasters. Local state police will lead the procession to the landing field.

"THE MIKADO" HERE TONIGHT

Musical Comedy Is Last of Series of Lyceum Programs

The ever-popular musical comedy, "The Mikado" will be presented by five talented musicians of the Chicago Opera Company tonight at eight o'clock at the Manistique high school auditorium. This is the last of the series of six lyceum numbers being offered here this year by the Northwest Assemblies, in cooperation with the Students Association of the Manistique high school.

Tonight's presentation is a 50-minute cutting of the musical comedy, and was arranged especially for the Northwest Assemblies. Beautifully staged and costumed, each member of the company is a professional artist.

"The Mikado" with its witty verses, its laughter and sweet melodies holds a supreme place among musical comedies.

Among the lyceum numbers previously presented here this year were the Brown-Meneley duo, Harry C. White, scientist, Gingles Players, Mississippi Singers, and the Tom Thumb Circus.

County Enters $30,000 Claim

Lawsuit Is Instituted Against Bank, Four Sureties

A lawsuit demanding $30,000 damages has been instituted by Schoolcraft county against The Manistique Bank and four sureties, former officers of the bank, it has been disclosed by W. J. Sheahan, prosecuting attorney. The suit is scheduled for the court docket at the June term of circuit court here.

The sureties named in the suit are Oren G. Quick, Paul R. Baldwin, E. W. Miller and Charles R. Orr. Of this group only E. W. Miller is now a resident of Manistique. Oren Quick is residing in Riverside, California. Paul Baldwin and Charles R. Orr are living in Detroit.

According to the declaration contained in the county's suit, The Manistique Bank, by the signature of the president, Oren G. Quick, and five sureties, Baldwin, Miller, Quick and Orr, and R. B. Waddell, now deceased, by their own signatures, on December 22, 1931 agreed to guarantee the funds of Schoolcraft county which were deposited in the bank to the amount of $40,000. On Feb. 20, 1938, the declaration further states, the bank still held $25,775.14 of the county's funds, which was refused to the county upon demand.

The county attorney, W. J. Sheahan, made demands upon the sureties by registered letter early this year, but none replied to the county's inquiries. As a result, the county board of supervisors instructed the county attorney to institute legal proceedings against the sureties to recover the funds. According to the terms of the

Our Unneutral Neutrality Act

Whenever and wherever there is war or revolution America is involved. Our decision to sell war material or our refusal to do so can be important or decisive in determining the outcome. We were not neutral during the World War because we sold materials to one side only. It was our war supplies that enabled the Allies to hold Germany in check until we entered the war and completed the victory.

We are sorry now that we went to war in 1917. We don't want to get into another war. In an effort to keep us out of war by statute, Congress passed its first neutrality resolution in 1935. Italy was about to invade Ethiopia. We decided that the best way to keep out of trouble was to prohibit the export of war materials to all belligerents.

But the 1935 law did not prohibit loans to warring nations, copper and other war materials. The President asked for a broader non-mandatory neutrality act. Congress gave it to him in February, 1936. This extended the original neutrality resolution until May 1, 1937, and also forbade loans and credits to nations at war. In passing the original neutrality resolution we had forgotten all about the Monroe Doctrine, so the 1936 act exempted American republics at war against a non-American power.

Then came the civil war in Spain, and we found that our revised neutrality act did not apply to revolutions. We waited for a lead from Europe. It came from France and Britain joined in setting up the so-called Non-Intervention Committee. We supposed that this committee would succeed in preventing arms from reaching either side in the unhappy civil conflict and decided to co-operate to this end. On Jan. 8, 1937, the President proclaimed a special arms embargo against Spain.

From the first the European Non-Intervention Committee proved a sham. Soviet Russia intervened half-heartedly on the side of Loyalist Spain, while Italy and Germany intervened wholeheartedly on the side of Rebel Spain. The co-operation of the Italian and German navies with General Franco's limited naval forces soon prevented Russia from sending the Loyalists much effective aid.

On the other hand, tens of thousands of Italian soldiers, thousands of German technicians and a huge mass of modern war materials poured in to the Spanish Rebels from Italy and Germany. Our so-called neutrality resolution made it impossible for the recognized Spanish Government to purchase munitions in the only important market from which they might have been procured. In trying to be neutral we have really become unneutral.

Our continued sales of war materials to Italy and Germany make it easier for those countries to supply General Franco's needs.

Opposite Policy in Far East
In the war between China and Japan we have followed the opposite policy. There we maintain neutrality by selling munitions to all belligerents. We have officially declared Japan to be the aggressor. Nevertheless, we continue to sell her the munitions and war materials she needs to continue her aggression.

We could, of course, apply our neutrality act to the war in the Orient. But the act does not go into effect unless "the President shall find that there exists a state of war." To date the President has made no such finding. Why? Because we don't want to prevent China from buying munitions in our market. We want to help China against Japan, which means that we don't want to be neutral.

Today a majority of the members of both House and Senate are believed to favor lifting the Spanish embargo. The President is said to feel the same way about it. Senator Nye has offered a resolution in the Senate to accomplish this purpose. But if we act now it will seem like taking sides with the Loyalists. The British Government will not like it, since Prime Minister Chamberlain is practically backing Franco to win. Both Germany and Italy will resent it and will charge us with committing an unfriendly act.

Not that removing the embargo would do much to help the Loyalists. The German and Italian airmen could easily see to it that cargoes from the United States did not reach Spanish Loyalist forces.

Unwilling Partner of Aggressor Nations
Yet action on our part would be a friendly gesture as well as a fair one toward the hard-pressed democratic Spanish Government. It might encourage France to resist British pressure to close the French frontier. It would hearten the Loyalists to greater resistance against the Franco drive.

Because lifting the embargo now would seem like direct intervention on the Loyalist side, the State Department will probably prefer to continue one mistake rather than take chances on making another. Senator Nye's resolution to abandon the embargo will probably not be permitted to pass in its present form. It might be amended to allow us to send munitions to both sides in Spain, but since this would be tantamount to recognizing the Franco Government, such action would create new difficulties.

TRIAL FLIGHT

BY ADELAIDE HUMPHRIES

CAST OF CHARACTERS
JACKIE DUNN—heroine; she wanted to fly.
ROGER BRECKNER—hero; he wanted to test the stratosphere.
BERYL MELROSE—wealthy widow; she wanted Roger.
EVELYN LA FARGE—Jackie's mother; she wanted a son-in-law.

Yesterday: The first quarrel comes and Roger leaves Jackie on the dance floor. And he does not dance with her again.

CHAPTER X
Jackie did not believe she ever had been so angry before in all her life. She told herself that she simply despised Roger Breckner. So he thought it was ridiculous, did he, to pretend to be engaged to her? He had laughed at her, accused her of being jealous. Jackie forgot that she had called the very idea of their engagement ridiculous, too, more than once. She did not know anything about jealousy, since she had never been in love. She did not know how much akin hatred and love can be.

She did know she wished she could square matters some way with Roger for having got her into this mess. She would like to make him suffer for it, as much as she had. She would like to turn the laugh on him.

Well, one thing was certain, the moment this flight of his was over, Jackie would put an end to his whole crazy business. She would not keep this farce up any longer. Even if she had to tell Evelyn the whole truth about everything.

"Dear me," Evelyn said, toward the end of the long evening, "I do think Roger has behaved very strangely toward you, Jacqueline. Why, do you know he has danced practically every dance with Mrs. Melrose! He is dancing with her now—see them, darling!"

"Of course I see them!" Jackie snapped. How could she help herself? She did not have to have her attention called to the fact that Roger was dancing with Beryl Melrose. She had been very much aware of it all evening. She knew he was doing it on purpose, because he thought it would make her jealous.

"It does not look very well when this is your engagement party," her mother murmured. "It's really yours," Jackie said. "Mine!" Evelyn exclaimed. "Oh, I see what you mean, darling—because of myself and Paul. You know, I believe Paul thinks it odd, too, the way Roger is behaving..."

"I don't give a darn what Mr. Scott thinks about anything!" Jackie said. Then she turned away, biting her lips hard. She was not biting them because it was an effort to keep back the prick of tears from behind her eyelids, or down the big lump filling her throat. But she was tired, the silver slippers pinched her feet, her head throbbled from trying to hold it high, her lips felt stiff from keeping them in a curving smile. Besides, she must be careful what she said or her mother would no longer believe in this ridiculous engagement. To have Evelyn find out now that it was all pretense would be more than Jackie's nerves could stand.

Roger and Beryl Melrose came up to Jackie after that dance. "I'm afraid I'm going to have to say good night," Mrs. Melrose said smilingly, extending her hand. "It's been such a lovely party. It was so sweet of you to ask me."

She actually sounded as though she meant it, but of course Jackie could see through her. "It was nice of you to come," she returned politely. It was just lovely of you to spoil my whole evening, she might have added. But she had no intention of letting this other girl know that.

"Of course I'll see you again," Beryl said. "You'll be coming to the field to see Roger take off. You must be genuinely proud to be engaged to him!" As she said this last, she turned her big dark eyes toward Roger, with a look that, although Jackie did not know anything about love, could be easily read.

Why, Beryl Melrose was in love with Roger! Really in love with him. This knowledge was like an icy shower descending upon Jackie's head. She did not know why it should be like that. It could not make any difference in her young life.

"Of course I'm proud of him," Jackie said. She had not meant to say it. But she just did. She, smiling one that seemed to say how proud she was, more than any words. For suddenly Jackie had been seized with an idea of her own! She really would put on an act. She really would make people believe in this ridiculous engagement. Even Roger himself! Then she would indeed have the laugh on him.

He was looking at her in his puzzled masculine way. "You sounded as though you meant that," he said. "I haven't done anything to be proud of yet."

"But you will!" Jackie flashed.

One thing is certain. The only effect of our neutrality act has been to make us unwilling partners of aggressor nations. Any American neutrality policy which produces this result is worse than a failure.

Now she stepped closer to him, slipping an arm through his, looking up at him again. "You know," she said to Beryl Melrose, "Roger and I are going to be married just as soon as he comes back from his flight."

"We are!" Roger looked quite astonished at this news, as though it was the first he had heard of it—as indeed it was.

"We decided on that tonight," Jackie said. "At least, I did." She flashed Roger another shy, sweet smile. She was not Evelyn La Farge's daughter for nothing. After all, "I found out—just tonight—that I must have that definitely understood—before Roger goes away, I mean."

"I understand," Beryl Melrose said. Her dark eyes looked into Jackie's a significant moment—as though she did understand, perhaps more than had been said. She said good night once more. Roger said he would see her to her car.

When he came back he found Jackie sitting in a secluded corner, sheltered by a mass of flowers and shrubs, screened from the dance platform and the gay lights. She looked as though she were waiting for him. Which was exactly how she had hoped to look.

"See here," Roger stood over her, "did you mean that—what you said to Beryl? Or were you still only pretending. . . Don't pretend with me now, Jackie, please!"

"I won't," Jackie answered. She lowered her long curling lashes. Maybe because she did not want him to see what her eyes really said. "No—I wasn't pretending. I . . . I guess you were right, Roger. About Beryl Melrose, I mean. I could not bear to see you with her—all evening. That was the truth. It had made her so angry that she had seen her."

"You mean that!" Roger took a step closer, he caught both of her hands in his. "Don't pretend with me now, Jackie—I warn you. This is just between us. Not for the benefit of your mother, or anyone else."

"Yes, it is just between us," Jackie said. This was how she would even the score with him. For getting her into this crazy idea of his, for everything. This was how—in the end—she would show him how she hated him. "Nobody else has anything to do with this," Jackie said.

Certainly nobody else had anything to do with what happened next. With one swift motion Roger drew her onto her feet. He caught her to him and held her before. His eyes, that were as blue as the sky, looked down into hers a long moment. Then his lips found hers and clung to them.

Jackie had not known that there could be such a kiss as this, fierce, yet tender, delirious, yet thrilling, a kiss that lifted you out of yourself so that reality slipped from your senses, robbing you of reason, stirring your veins into a joyous tumult that was fearful, heart-filling. So that for a moment you almost believed in it yourself!

Jackie saw now that this idea of hers was almost as dangerous as a flight into the stratosphere! But Jackie was not afraid of anything. She would play this through, too—until the bitter end.

SCHOOL CENSUS IS BEGUN HERE

Mrs. D. N. Kee in Charge of Enumeration in City

Mrs. D. N. Kee has been named to take the annual school census this year. It was learned yesterday at the office of Sup't A. R. Watson.

Enumeration of all children in the city between the ages of 5 and 20 will be made for the local school district and is to be forwarded to the state department of public instruction.

It is upon the basis of the census that the primary school money is allotted to various public schools of Michigan.

About three to four weeks is required to complete the census. Cooperation of parents and guardians of children of school age is urged by school authorities.

Above is a scene in what is now Gladstone's new winter sports park near the Days River. The property, known as the Wickman farm, has been a favorite spot for the enjoyment of winter sports and has been secured by the Gladstone city club. Various improvements are planned and it is believed that this city will soon be able to boast of the finest layout of its kind in this section of the country. —Daily Press Photo

Name Local Firm As Bendix Dealer

Announcement has been made of the appointment of Goodman-Weingartner as representative here for the Bendix home Laundry, a new washing machine, that has completely revolutionized washday routine.

Goodman-Weingartner was one of the first to become part of a national Bendix dealer organization.

The origin of the ceremony of laying a cornerstone is of great antiquity and, according to some historians, sacrificial rites were practiced when laying the foundations of a building.

Legion Party Being Held Here Tonight

August Mattson Post, American Legion, will entertain tonight at a party at the Legion hall. The event is in the nature of a housewarming and marks the recent renovating of the hall. A new floor has been laid and the interior redecorated.

Dancing will be enjoyed and refreshments served.

CITY BRIEFS

Mrs. Ellen Thompson arrived yesterday morning from Evanston, Ill., for a visit with relatives.

Mrs. Odile Fellow of Racine, Wis., is visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Norman Powers.

Mr. and Mrs. William Masterson left last night for Gary, Ind., where they will spend several days visiting with their daughters, Miss Mary Masterson and Mrs. Tom DeVoy.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Brownell returned Wednesday morning following a month's vacation visit at Hot Springs, Ark. Enroute to Hot Springs they spent a week visiting with the Dr. Durwin Brownells at Ann Arbor and before returning home they spent several days visiting at Chicago.

Mrs. Fred Burton and daughter, Mrs. George Hruska of Menominee visited with friends here on Tuesday. Mrs. Burton and daughter are former Gladstone residents.

Soo Line Traffic Men Visit In City

A group of Soo Line officials visited Gladstone yesterday on a routine inspection trip.

Included in the group were E. G. Clark, freight traffic manager; R. M. Golden, assistant freight traffic manager, and R. F. Roland, traveling freight agent, all of Minneapolis.

While in this area they also motored to Iron Mountain and Munising.

THEATRES

A hard-riding, two-fisted cowboy, who deserts the range to smash a ring of racketeers at an eastern wholesale market, is the role portrayed by Buck Jones in his new action drama, "Headin' East," which comes to the Rialto Theatre today.

Second Feature
The "Barbary Coast," America's last frontier of untamed emotions, lives again in all its stark, rowdy realism in the production of that title which shows as the second feature with Miriam Hopkins, Edward G. Robinson and Joel McCrea in its leading roles.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Mattson are the parents of a son born yesterday morning at the St. Francis hospital.

Sea oranges are animals. They belong to the sponge family and are found in the Gulf of Maine.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, backaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Deane's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Deane's Pills.

TRADERS AWAIT RECOVERY SIGNS

STOCK MARKET AVERAGES

Table with columns for Net change, D.I., D.S., D.E., D.T. and rows for various stock indices like Dow Jones, S&P 500, etc.

BY FREDERICK GARDNER (Associated Press Financial Writer) New York, May 12 (AP)—Stocks stepped down a rung on the price ladder in today's market.

With the exception of a handful of oils, utilities and specialties, most groups yielded fractionally. Losses of more than a point were rare.

There was little especially depressing in the news and brokers thought the recent failure of the industrial stock average to go through the April-May top, along with rails and utilities, may have inspired some traders to stand aside pending more definite recovery signs.

The list pointed a shade higher at the start, then dipped and came back feebly at intervals throughout the sluggish proceedings. The close was around the low marks of the day.

Transfers amounted to 596,404 shares compared with 718,000 yesterday when prices pointed upward. It was the slowest session in eight days. The Associated Press average of 60 issues was off .3 of a point at 41.3.

Optimism was still in evidence over the prospects for greater cooperation between the administration and business, and final congressional approval of the tax revision bill was seen as a bolstering influence for trading sentiment.

At the same time there was a tendency in some quarters to lighten speculative commitments until the fate of the pump-priming program in the senate is known.

Oils were benefited to some extent by the cut in mid-continent production and the highly favorable 1937 earnings statement of Standard of N. J.

The get-together gesture of the new deal and the utilities again bolstered stocks in this category. Carriers held up the greater part of the time as formal notice of a 15 percent wage slash for July 1 was filed by the railroads. The group gave ground at the finish.

U. S. government securities pushed forward but corporate bonds were irregular. Commodities were quiet and mixed. Wheat at Chicago was down 1/4 to 3/4 of a cent a bushel and corn was off 1/4 to 1/2. Cotton was 35 cents a bale higher to 20 cents lower.

Trends Are Mixed; Metal Shares Weak

New York, May 12 (AP)—Metal shares were weak in a mixed curb market today. Some oils and industrials showed strength.

Ending down a point each were Newmont Mining at 59 and Aluminum Co. of America at 82. New Jersey Zinc was 1 3/8 lower at 15. Fractionally down were Electric Bond & Share at 8 1/2, Gulf Oil 36, Lake Shore Mines 45 1/2, and Northern States Power "A" 12 7/8.

Up a bit were: International Petroleum 26, Montgomery Ward 15 1/2, Pan American Airways 14 7/8, Pantepec Oil 5 1/4, and Sherwin Williams 88 5/8. Carrier Corp. was down 1 3/8 at 25 3/8.

Tennessee Electric Power 1st preferred jumped 17 points to 65 on a small transaction on reports of progress in negotiations for the company's sale to TVA.

Southern California Power preferred on another small sale, dropped 18 points to 45.

New York, May 12 (AP)—The bond market became a two-way affair today as profit selling cut into recent gains in utilities and rails.

Where pressure appeared it was light, and many corporate liens had enough support to register new highs for the May rise. Despite the uneven price movements, rails were the only group to show loss on the average.

As an offset to reactionary tendencies in parts of the corporate list, U. S. governments started moving ahead again and finished with advances ranging from 1-3/2 to 6-3/4 of a point. Dealers reported an increase in bids coincident with early signs of a rally.

Since utilities and rails were the bellwethers of the recent good rise bond men considered it natural that some profit taking should appear at this stage. However, most losses were limited to fractions and underneath the irregular surface the market's tone was steady.

Trading and underwriting circles continued to show interest in various pending moves for flotation of new security offerings. Forecasting an important utility offering in the near future was a Washington announcement of SEC registration of 2 issues totalling about $75,000,000 by Commonwealth Edison Co. of Chicago.

Foreign loans were quiet with prices mixed. Transactions totalled $6,360,700 face value against $7,409,450 yesterday.

Giants' Pace Is Too Fast For Cubs, Grimm Admits

CHICAGO'S LUCK SEEMS ALL BAD

Pitching Staff Cracked Wide Open; Hartnett Has Sore Arm

BY EARL HILLIGAN
Chicago, May 12. (AP)—Manager Charley Grimm of the Chicago Cubs paid tribute today to the New York Giants as a fine baseball club and then, in the same breath, added somewhat hopefully that "something has to happen to them pretty soon if we're ever going to catch them."

While nothing more exciting than winning games with monotonous regularity has been happening to the National League leading Terrymen, everything has been happening to the second place Cubs, and all of it has been bad.

The pitching staff has cracked almost wide open and Bill Lee, counted on as a starter, has been retired for a rest. Dizzy Dean was purchased for $185,000, received credit for three victories and then was laid off with a sore arm, with which he now is leading cheers from the Cub bench.

Demaree Benched
Joe Marty, whose slugging has kept the Cubs from falling farther off the pace than they have, is out with a cold. Frank Demaree, supposedly the team's most consistent hitter, has been benched for failing to hit into anything but double plays, and his cleanup spot in the batting order taken over by old Tony Lazzeri, formerly of the New York Yankees on top of all this, catcher Gabby Hartnett has been troubled with a sore arm and the Cubs really miss the 17 year veteran.

"Our losing two straight to the Giants and then being shut out by Brooklyn was just the result of one of those things that will happen to a team, with things all going wrong at one time," Grimm said. "The Giants have a fine ball club and they'll have to ease up that hot pace they're setting if we are to catch them. I think they will and I know we'll get into our stride soon."

If the Cubs are falling apart at the seams, as some fans maintain, just about every supporter of the Chicago club thinks it's best that the falling-apart business should come off now. For one thing, a team with the potential power of the Cubs could do a lot of "sewing up" between now and the end of the season and perhaps use the needle on the Giants.

Last season the Cubs did their "swoon" on Aug. 14, holding a 6-1-2 game lead over the second place Giants, they hit the skids and wound up in second place 17 days later. They rallied to take over the lead for one day, then swooned for keeps.

DIZZY ALL THROUGH?
St. Louis, May 12. (AP)—Take it from Pepper Martin, Dizzy Dean, his erstwhile teammate, "is through" as a pitcher.

"No matter what you hear," said the Wild Horse of the Osage who roams center field for the St. Louis Cardinals, "Dizzy's arm is in bad shape and he isn't going to win a pennant for the Chicago Cubs."

Dean recently was ordered to take a month's rest when his arm began ailing. Cub trainers have said the "cure" should make his arm as good as ever.

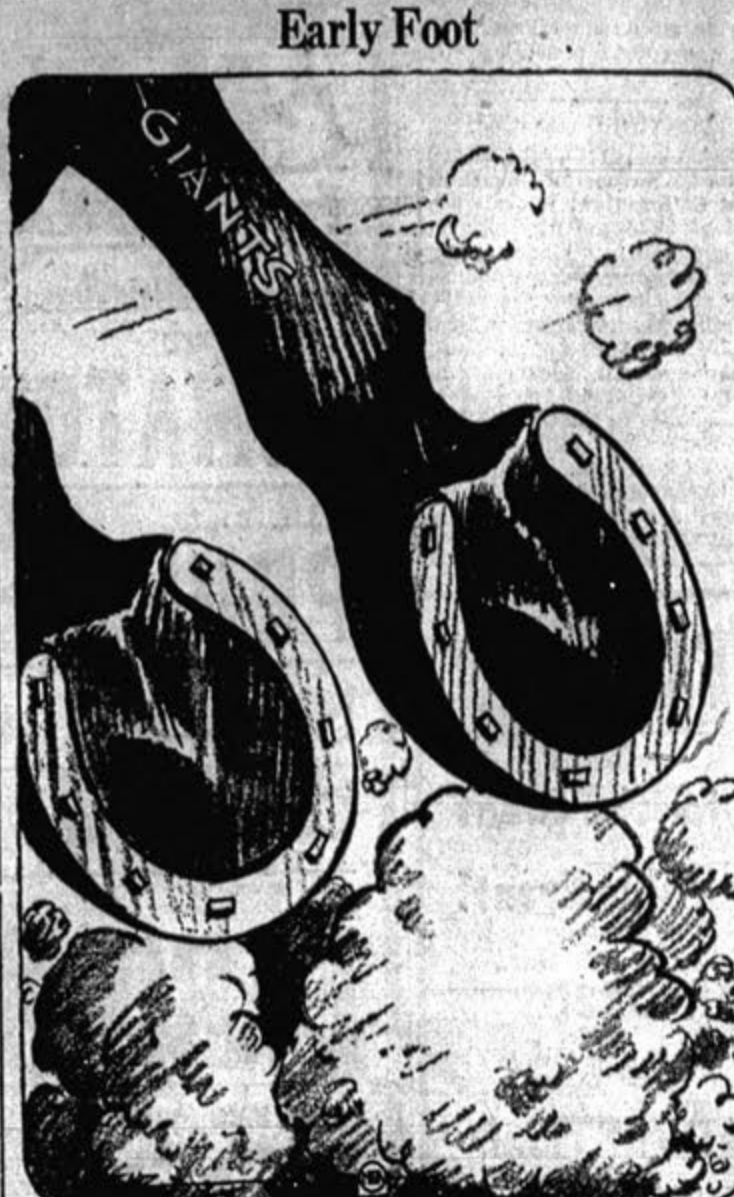

Pepper is just as certain that the trade winds won't blow him off the Cardinal roster as he is that of Dix is done for.

"Down south Ricky (Branch Rickey, Cardinals' general manager and vice president) told me that he wouldn't break up my Mudcats' Band, and that, of course, makes it a cinch for me," he grinned.

RECORDS HUNG UP BY PIRATES

Star Players Have Their Ups and Downs; Flops Become Stars

Pittsburgh, May 12 (AP)—The Pirates called tonight on a two-week foreign cruise, leaving behind such paragraphs as:
Paul Gleo Wamer: Life time batting average .348; leader of National League in number of years (eight) making 200 hits or more, now hitting .175; relieved for pinch hitter for first time, pined by fans at bat for first time.
Lee (Jeep) Handley: Failure last year at second base, now popper box and infield spark plug at hot corner, besides leading regulars with .441 batting average.
John (Rookie) Rizzo: Bleacherites here whose batting weakness every club has tried but failed to find; averaging .354, drove in 17 runs, tying for club lead. Five triples best of league.
Lloyd (Little Poison) Wanner: Now weighing one pound heavier than Brother Paul (at this time of season), still errorless in center.
Russ Baners: Expected to be No. 1 hurler, made five starts, failed to finish one or win game.
Red Lucas: Flop as pinch-hitter, failing to get a hit in eight

MUNISING BONDS START PRACTICE

Split Schedule Will Be Played in Inter-County League

Munising, May 12.—The Munising Bonds, entry in the Inter-County Amateur Baseball League, have started practice sessions and Manager Theron J. Malone reported a good turnout for the first workout. With the Bonds in the five-team circuit are Ishpeming, Gwinn, Chatham, and North Lake. A split schedule will be played, winners in the first round playing winners of the second round in a three-game series to determine the championship. Play for the squads will open on May 22, with games booked for Sunday, Memorial day, Midsummer's day, Fourth of July and Labor Day. The schedule follows:

- May 22, Munising at Ishpeming; Gwinn at Chatham; North Lake, open.
- May 29, Ishpeming at North Lake; Chatham at Munising; Gwinn, open.
- May 30, North Lake at Gwinn; Ishpeming at Chatham; Munising, open.
- June 5, Chatham at North Lake; Munising at Gwinn; Ishpeming, open.
- June 12, North Lake at Munising; Gwinn at Ishpeming; Chatham, open.
- June 19, Chatham at Gwinn; Munising at North Lake; Ishpeming, open.
- June 24, North Lake at Ishpeming; Munising at Chatham; Gwinn, open.
- June 26, Gwinn at North Lake; Ishpeming at Munising; Chatham, open.
- July 3, Chatham at Ishpeming; Gwinn at Munising; North Lake, open.
- July 4, North Lake at Chatham; Ishpeming at Gwinn; Munising, open.

DIAMOND BALL

BARR TIGERS WIN
The fighting Barr School Tigers beat the Jefferson school softball team, 25 to 23. Four homers were made in the game, three by the winning team. The batteries: Barr—Moline, Hall, Thompson and Wood; Jefferson—Morton, Christensen and Kositzke.

SCORE WRONG
Manager Harwood of the Liberty Loans reports that the account of the game between his team and Ed Pennings' crew on Wednesday was in error. He says that the Loans won and the score was 7 to 6.

SQUIRES WIN 30-2
The Squires walloped the Liquor Commission at softball last night, with a final score of 30 to 2. E. Hirn and Henry made up the winning battery.

Cincinnati Reds Blank Bees, 4-0

Cincinnati, May 12 (AP)—Milburn Shoffner allowed Cincinnati only five hits today but the Reds, behind the six-hit hurling of Paul Derringer, shut out the Boston Bees 4 to 0.
Boston ..... 000 000 000—0 6 0
Cincinnati .. 030 001 00x—4 5 0
Shoffner and Mueller, Lopez, Derringer and Hersherber.
Cincinnati won his two games on the mound.
Mace Brown: Wanted by Bill Terry; won four games in relief role, blasted out of box on first and only start.

SENATORS LAND IN LEAGUE LEAD

Buddy Myer Hammers in 4 Runs to Defeat Tigers, 7 to 6

Washington, May 12 (AP)—Buddy Myer hammered the Senators back to the top of the American League today by connecting for a homer and two singles and driving four runs in for a 7 to 6 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

The win, coupled with the New York Yankees' loss to Cleveland, sent the Nats into first place after their one-day nose-dive to second.

Lead Too Big
Jimmy DeShong, who gave up only one hit through the first six innings, was finally belted out in the eighth by a five-run Detroit attack, featuring Hank Greenberg's seventh homer of the season, with two aboard, but the Senators had enough lead to hang on for the victory.

Myer's homer came in the fifth with two on. Cecil Travis hit one in the fourth of Roxie Lawson, the Detroit starter.

The Tigers called on three other pitchers—Jake Wade, Harry Eisenstat and Al Benton, before it was over and Vernon Kennedy, who can hit as well as pitch, was a pinch hitter in the ninth but didn't have occasion to do any hurling as the Tigers lost their chance to tie the score or pull ahead.

Auker Works Next
Tonight, the Bengals, who divided their two games with Washington, headed for home to meet the St. Louis Browns. Elden Auker, with a record of two victories and three losses, will pitch. Either Oral Hildebrand or Jim Walkup will be his opponent. Neither has won a game this season.

The Senators started the scoring with one run in the second inning and remained in front thereafter. Zeke Bonura led off with a double when Dixie Walker was blinded by the sun and lost the ball. Johnny Stone lined to Jo-Jo White and Bonura moved to third. Travis lined to Walker and Myer's single scored Bonura. Myer stole second, but Rick Ferrell filed out to end the frame.

Washington added a tally in the third. With one down, Mel Almada tripled and scored on Buddy Lewis' single. Lewis reached second on a steal but was left stranded.

Wade Loses Control
Travis, first batter in the fourth, gave the Nats another run when he socked the ball over the right field fence. After Myer and Ferrell singled Wade went in for Lawson and got the next three batsmen out.

But the control Wade displayed then soon vanished and he allowed the Senators to score three times in the fifth. Whistling Jake got rid of the first two men and then walked Stone and Travis, who scored ahead of Myer when Buddy got his four-bagger. Almada flied to Rudy York for the final out.

Eisenstat took up the pitching burden at the beginning of the sixth after Chet Laabs had batted for Wade in the previous frame, and was greeted by DeShong's single. Charley Gehringer threw out Almada, making a fine stop of his grounder, but Greenberg let Lewis' grounder roll between his legs and DeShong scored. Simmons fanned and Bonura forced Lewis to end the innings.

Ninth Is Blank
Walker inaugurated the seventh for the Bengals with a triple. Gehringer hit to Bonura and got a single when DeShong failed to cover first. Walker scoring. Greenberg popped out and Fox got a scratch single off of DeShong's glove. York flied out and Rose popped and what had the appearance of a possible Tiger rally was over.

It wasn't long, though, until the rally came. The Nats went down in order in the home half of the seventh, and then came Detroit's five-run attack in the eighth.

Roll singled and Roy Cullenbine, batting for Eisenstat, walked. White scored both with a double and took third when Walker flied out. Gehringer walked, and Manager Buddy Harris called in DeShong and replaced him with Luke Appletton. The first batter to face him was Greenberg, who rapped out his seventh homer to score White and Gehringer. Fox and York fanned and the Bengals still trailed by only one run.

That was the way the game ended, for Washington didn't score in its half. Benton pitched to the Nats in that frame. Detroit didn't get a man on base in the ninth.

Curtis was put out by a fly to the catcher. Neither team scored in the first inning. Baraga scored three runs in their half of the third inning, and held Calumet scoreless until the sixth inning when the Calumet boys scored three runs.
Brand was the first man up for Calumet in the sixth and Altrock struck him out. Kaiser got a single but was forced out at second on a hit by Curtis. Altrock then got a streak of wildness and walked the next two men, Olmsted and Mutter. Sullivan made a two-base hit and cleaned the sacks and the Calumet fans went wild.
Baraga got another run in the seventh and two more as their half of the ninth to make the score 6 to 3 in their favor with Calumet going to bat in the last half of the ninth inning.
This set the stage for the Calumet team and fans as well. Roche and Brand both walked as Altrock and Calumet fans were wild. Sullivan sacrificed and was safe on first on a wild throw by the third baseman. Kaiser came to bat and belted out a three-base hit to score Roche, Brand and Sullivan, and tie up the ball game. Curtis then singled to send Kaiser in with the winning run.

Freddie Olmsted of This City Played Part In Defeating Famed Washington Player In Game at Calumet In 1903

Calumet, May 12.—Now that the baseball season is under way in the big league, it is recalled that the greatest baseball game that was seen in Calumet took place on Aug. 22, 1903 between the Baraga baseball team and the Calumet Aristocrats. At that time there were several teams in the district, but no leagues were organized. There was, however, an association of the Calumet Aristocrats, Lake Linden, Dollar Bay, and Baraga. The greatest rivalry was between the Calumet and Baraga teams.

On the day of this game the setting and the weather was ideal. There was a large crowd of spectators, merchants, professional men, miners and officials of the mining company, in addition to the feminine fans, all making up the usual crowd in attendance at the games. Among the more prominent fans were the late J. D. Cuddihy, president of the Park association; the late Frank Schumacher, president of Red Jacket village; the late Ed Mertz, proprietor of the Arlington hotel; Joseph James, the pop-man, who was an ardent supporter of the local nine; in the press box was Homer Guck, now of wide newspaper fame, then a correspondent of the Mining Gazette; on the first base was "Old Country Jan" Williams, who was never absent from a game when he was on the "right corner"; or shift; on the last base line bleachers were a party of miners animatedly discussing stonping, with much gesturing, pipes in hand. In all, it was a typical mining town's baseball crowd.

LOCALS GETTING BATTING DRILLS

Baseball Team Seeking Players Who Can Lay On the Hickory

Following their feat of getting but two hits in nine innings in their opening game of the season, the Escanaba baseball team has been getting plenty of batting practice this week in preparation for the first local game of the season here Sunday, when the boys entertain South Range.

Manager Bill Puckelwaritz has been standing his batters up at the plate for hours this week in an effort to improve their timing before Sunday's game. He intimated that there may be several changes in the lineup in order to utilize whatever batting power the squad may have. Some of the newcomers who were expected to show up well failed quite miserably, although they may be excused to a certain extent by the fact that none of the veterans looked exactly like a million dollars at the plate.

Last year, South Range was one of the toughest teams in the circuit for the locals to crack. This year, the Rangers appear to have plenty of what it takes to win games. In their opener last week, they took the measure of Negaunee, new league entry, to the tune of 12-3. In Buckvitch, they have one of the best pitchers of the league. Eino Juntanen, who tamed league batters last year, hasn't yet reached his top form, being knocked out of the box by Negaunee.

Manistique Has 5 Entries In Track Meet On Saturday

Manistique.—Five Manistique high school athletes will be entered in the district track meet at Iron Mountain Saturday, Coach Bill Cook has announced.

They are: Norman Slough in the 440, broad jump and shot put; C. Lambert in the 440; Robertson in the mile; Ed Olson in the high jump, and Holstrom in the 100 yard dash and 220 yard dash.

Slough will make a determined bid to capture the quarter mile, after being nosed out last Saturday at Escanaba by Fernstrom, of Menominee, who ran the distance in the remarkably fast time of 54 seconds.

Righthander Sold By Boston Red Sox

Boston, May 12 (AP)—The Boston Red Sox were reduced to the 23-player limit today when Byron Humphrey, a righthanded pitcher, was sold outright to the San Diego club in the Pacific Coast league.

Humphrey, purchased from Little Rock last season, is 26 years old and has had previous trials with the St. Louis Browns and Cardinals. He had been used as a reliever pitcher by Manager Joe Cronin several times this season.

third inning were on a two-base hit by Haisman and a three bagger by Altrock.
In the first game Saturday, the Baraga lineup and batting order was as usual with the exception that they had their new professional pitcher at the bottom of the batting labelled with the innocuous name of Christianson. He was no other than Altrock, of the Chicago National league team. Although he was a big league pitcher, Altrock's own wildness contributed largely to Calumet's victory over him. He passed eight men in the first game played in Calumet.
In the game played the following Sunday at Baraga, with Altrock pitching, Baraga won by a 5 to 4 score.

BATTING PUNCH BEATS DODGERS

Lazzeri and Galan Show Great Stickwork in 9-5 Victory

Chicago, May 12 (AP)—The Cubs' brand new batting lineup, featuring a "one-two" punch in old Tony Lazzeri in the cleanup slot and Augie Galan hitting fifth, spotted the Brooklyn Dodgers three runs today and came back for a 9 to 5 victory.

The win ended the Cubs' three-game losing streak and dropped the Dodgers back into seventh place in the National League.

Chief reasons for the win were the stickwork of Lazzeri and Galan, and the classy relief flinging of Clay Bryant, who was summoned from the bullpen in the first inning when the Brooklyn batted young Paul Epperly out with a three-run, three-hit attack, before a man had been retired. Bryant, therefore, pitched the full nine innings and gave up just five hits all the way in outlasting Max Butcher and three other Dodger elbows.

SCORING IS ALL IN SIXTH INNING

Young Bob Feller Gets 3-2 Decision Over World Champs

New York, May 12 (AP)—Victims of their own butter-fingered shortcomings as well as the pitching artistry of youthful Bob Feller, the Yankees dropped a close decision today to the Cleveland Indians, before 19,872 fans.

Feller emerged with a 3-2 verdict over his outpaw rival, Vernon Gomez, that simultaneously snapped a seven-game winning streak of the world champions and halted the back sliding operations of the Tribe in the finale of east-west warfare for the time being.

The Yankees outbit the Indians, 5 to 4, in a game that saw all the scoring confined to one inning, the sixth. Lou Gehrig lanned the champions' only damaging punch, however. The iron man lined his third homer of the season into the lower right field stands, with Tommy Henrich on base.

Otherwise Feller curve-balled the home side into submission. He fanned nine, retired the side on strikes in the second frame, and finished superbly under the clever handling of rollicking Rollie Hemery.

Advertising Man Sees Native U. P. As Ideal All-Season Playground

Malcolm Lund, former Escanaba, now associated with the Bozell and Jacobs Advertising Agency in Chicago, sees his native Upper Peninsula developing into a popular vacationland for the people of Chicago and vicinity in the not distant future.

MALCOLM LUND

Mr. Lund, who is the son of Dr. C. Albert Lund, pastor of the Bethany Ev. Lutheran church, came to Escanaba Wednesday with J. Stuart Rotchford, president of Happiness Tours, Inc., to line up a series of all-expense golf excursion tours to be run through the Upper Peninsula during July and August.

"Thousands of Prospects" "There are many thousands of potential vacationers in Chicago who either now spend their free days or weeks at cottages on some nearby lake or resign themselves to their fates and putter around the parks and zoos near their homes," Mr. Lund said.

"We have found to our surprise that comparatively few people in Chicago really know about the natural advantages of the vacation territory just to the north of us," he continued. "Many have a very hazy idea of its location, if they are aware of it at all, and think of vacationing in terms of long and expensive trips.

"One popular misconception, for instance, is that Upper Michigan is north of Detroit in the lower peninsula. Few realize the proximity of this area. Most average Chicago-bred residents are surprisingly provincial in their geographical knowledge. It is our belief that the surface has only been scratched in attracting potential vacationers to the north woods. In Chicago alone there are hundreds of thousands who need to be told dramatically, graphically and specifically about this territory.

Golf Tours Proposed "Special tours have been very successful in many parts of the country. Golf enthusiasts would welcome the opportunity of vacationing and golfing at the same time. We believe that the special All-Expense Golf Tours to be arranged for the warm months by Happiness Tours, Inc., in cooperation with the North Western, South Shore and Milwaukee roads, golf clubs and people of the Upper Peninsula, will be well patronized.

"The Upper Peninsula has many beautiful golf courses that are all-located by the Great Lakes, and can be reached by these three railroads. These tours will be arranged so that each day can be spent at different courses. A golf professional of national reputation will accompany each tour, and novel entertainment features will be offered to the tourists."

The all-expense golf tours, according to Mr. Lund, will lead to other types of tours if they prove successful. He mentioned the possibilities of all-expense trips to Escanaba and other U. P. cities during the winter sports season. Mr. Lund went yesterday from Marquette to the Copper Country to complete details. Mr. Rotchford came back to Escanaba from Marquette and left last night for Chicago. He will return within two weeks to make additional arrangements.

EAGLES START THEIR PRACTICE

Call for Players Issued By Manager; Team in Delta League

Members of the Eagles baseball team held their first practice of the year at the city diamond last night in preparation for the opening game of the Delta county league, which will be Sunday afternoon.

The team will be managed this year by George G. Williams. The manager issued a call yesterday to any players in this region who would care to try out for the team. Pete Derouin, veteran third sacker of Escanaba teams for the past several years, will act in the capacity of coach and perhaps will get into the game when needed.

A schedule is being drafted, which will find the Eagles playing on the local diamond every Sunday in which the city team plays away from Escanaba. The schedule is expected to be completed today. Practice sessions will be held at the city diamond on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Errors Of Poor Carpentry Costly

I imagine the most common defect of cheap and careless carpentry is the failure to produce walls and partitions that are truly vertical, plumb and straight, and floors that are really level. It is not uncommon in cheap work to find rooms where the floors are over an inch out of level, since this variation is not perceptible to the eye. The play of poor carpentry is that after the plastering, painting, etc., is completed, faulty frame work cannot be corrected without great expense.

The word "clover" comes from the Latin word for "club," and refers to the three-headed club of Hercules. The clubs of playing cards are in imitation of a three-leaved clover. Cotton's growing period, from seed to maturity, varies from 5 1/2 to 7 months, depending on the locality of the crop.

POTSY CLARK HATES PACKERS

Still Makes Cracks On Sandy Field at Green Bay

Green Bay, Wis. — George (Potsy) Clark, Brooklyn Dodgers' coach, never misses a chance to take a dig at the Packers and it seems that additional years make him more hostile than ever about Green Bay. Sort of like waving a red flag at a bull. Clark first bumped into the Packers as coach of the Portsmouth, O., eleven. He moved this outfit to Detroit, renamed 'em the Lions and saw a lot more of Lambeau & Co. In the spring of 1937, there was a housecleaning at Detroit and Clark switched to Brooklyn. The Packers didn't meet the Dodgers last fall but the clubs have a game scheduled in Milwaukee on Sunday, Oct. 16.

Potsy recently received a letter from L. H. Joannes, president of the Packers, Inc., and he noted the letterhead carried the caption 'Four Times World Champions.' Here is his 'crack' to the Packers' executive: "I note by the Green Bay Packers' letterhead that you particularly emphasize 'four times world champions.' I would infer that this included the Portsmouth Spartans' championship in 1931. I have not forgotten this piece of robbery and I am just as well pleased that we are going to play in Milwaukee this year because I understand the fair grounds are well improved and it will not be necessary to move in any more sand."

The sand gesture refers to 1935 when the Lions lost to the Packers 81 to 7 on a Sunday after a rainstorm and the field was springing.

"KruGon DIFFERENCE BETWEEN SUFFERING AND GOOD HEALTH"

Declares Mr. Diestler; Freed of Twenty Years of Stomach and Kidney Troubles; Enjoys Meals Without After Distress

"Only KruGon could give such splendid results," said Mr. Herman Diestler, Route No. 4, Marshfield, Wisconsin. "For over twenty years I had been in poor health. My kidneys and bladder would not function properly, disturbed me at all hours of the night until it was impossible to rest or sleep. My stomach became disordered too and I had awful gas pains, would bloat and become short of breath. It was so discouraging to be unable to find anything to help me. I first heard of KruGon through my friends, they told me it was different. . . but I thought it just another medicine until I gave it a trial myself. "In all my experience with many different kinds of medicine I have never seen one that would compare with KruGon's action," continued Mr. Diestler. "I am feeling like a new person. For the first time in years I can go to bed and sleep good, get up of a morning refreshed and with new pep and energy. I even eat and enjoy my meals, never have any gas or bloating and dizzy spells are gone. My stomach and kidneys are functioning properly again, bowels are regulated and I enjoy life like others in good health again. No wonder everyone is talking KruGon. . . it is a deserving medicine." KruGon is sold by West End Drug Store, 1221 Ludington St., this city.
