CHINESE ARMY IS SEALED UP, JAPAN CLAIMS

LUNG HAI RAILROAD WILL SOON BE CUT OFF

BY LLOYD LEHRAS
Shanghai, May 14 (Saturday) (AP)—Japan's armies, swiftly nearing the Lung hai railroad from north and south, today virtually had sealed 400,000 Chinese troops in a tight circle on the vital central front.

Chinese acknowledged they were losing ground against dozens of Japanese columns spread around the dwindling territory they are defending between Japan's conquests in north and central China.

Defenders Trapped
Apparent imminent success of Japan's months-long efforts to reach the east-west Lung hai, central China's main communications line, endangered the defenders' whole resistance on the seaboard.

China's armies, Japanese declared, would be trapped without hope of escape, Japan's northern and southern forces would be joined and Suchow, where the important north-south Tientsin-Pukow railroad crosses the Lung hai, no longer could be defended.

A Japanese army spokesman early today declared the Lung hai would be cut within a few hours. Japanese declared 20,000 Chinese soldiers had been killed in 24 days from April 14 to May 6 on the Shantung province front by the great Japanese campaign against Suchow to redeem the blow six weeks ago at Talerichwang. There the first offensive collapsed under the most crushing defeat of a modern Japanese army.

Chinese were counter attacking desperately at Mengcheng, 75 miles south of the Japanese vanguard at Tangcheng, in an attempt to break the Japanese lines. They admitted loss of Mengcheng, now far behind the Japanese front, after the city's walls were demolished in a three-day attack by Japanese planes, tanks and heavy guns.

At Suhshien, 45 miles south of Suchow, the Japanese made three smashing raids and inflicted the heaviest damage done by air raids throughout the central China front.

With Japanese in possession of Amoy, seaport 500 miles south of Shanghai, Chinese expected Japanese naval attacks against Foochow, Swatow and other southern coastal cities in an attempt to draw Chinese forces from the main front.

Farmer Stricken, Falls Into Flames

Hastings, Mich., May 13 (AP)—Dr. C. F. Lathrop, Barry county coroner, said tonight the death of Charles J. Cook, 63-year-old farmer whose badly burned body was found in a field where he had been burning grass, was caused by a heart attack.

Cook left his home for the field shortly after noon. The coroner said the aged farmer was apparently stricken with the attack and fell in the path of the flames.

Worked Too Hard; Alger County Boy Burns Dad's Barn

Munising, Mich., May 13 (AP)—Sheriff Louis Pelletier of Alger county said tonight Wallace Gurski, 11, admitted he set a fire which Tuesday night destroyed a barn at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gurski of Wetmore. A pencilled note left at the scene checked with Wallace's handwriting.

Sheriff Pelletier said the boy made the statement before Deputy State Fire Marshal E. A. Tolani, giving as his reason for setting the $2,000 blaze a belief he had been worked too hard at the farm. The boy was turned over to juvenile officers.

Game Officers To Carry Guns

Conservation Commission Votes Side-Arms for Patrol Duty
Lansing, May 13 (AP)—Aroused by the beating of three of its officers recently in northern Michigan, the state conservation commission voted today to allow its officers to carry sidearms while on patrol duty.

The commission set aside $5,000 to buy .38-calibre revolvers for 180 men and to provide training in the use of the weapons. The past fight between fish law violators and conservation officers in Mason county possibly never would have happened had it been generally known that our officers carried weapons and would use them in defense of their lives," the commission said.

"It is apparent from past experience that the presence of criminals out officers are led upon to arrest is not more than these handled by the state, that a certain percentage of persons have murderous intentions and in order to avoid they are likely to follow those intentions."

The three officers were killed by a mob of about 20 men when they attempted to arrest suspected fish law violators.

Shipment Of Arms To Spain Blocked By Hull's Warning

Washington, May 13 (AP)—The senate foreign relations committee, given a blunt warning by Secretary of State Hull of the "unnecessary risks" that would be involved, pigeonholed today the Nye resolution to permit arms shipments to the Spanish government.

BIG NAVY BILL TO BE SIGNED BY PRESIDENT

ABOUT 12 MILLIONS NEEDED NOW TO START WORK

Washington, May 13 (AP)—The billion-dollar navy expansion bill, designed to give the nation the most powerful fleet in its history went to the White House today for President Roosevelt's signature after the Senate approved it.

Almost immediately it became known that the Navy hoped to start work without delay on some of the 46 new fighting ships, 26 auxiliaries and 350 planes the measure authorizes.

After conferring with President Roosevelt, Admiral William D. Leahy said the Navy recommended an immediate appropriation of about $12,000,000 to start two cruisers, several auxiliaries and "some of the planes".

"The bill passed today authorizes the construction but does not provide the funds." The Admiral indicated there was no intention of undertaking construction now of any of the three 45,000-ton battleships the expansion bill authorizes.

"We don't plan to have more than six battleships building at this time," he explained. "The Navy already is building two, and has, or has requested, funds to start four others. All are of 35,000 tons, and will replace obsolescent craft."

Superior To Japan
Leahy emphasized that the expansion bill provides for an orderly program, spread over probably ten years.

Ships built under it will be in addition to others replacing vessels which grow too old for military usefulness.

Sixty-three such replacements, authorized in 1934, are building now, and the regular $546,000,000 Navy appropriation bill for the fiscal year beginning July 1 included funds to start 22 others.

Authorizing a 20 percent increase in the fleet's total tonnage of modern warcraft, the expansion bill was the second major recommendation in Mr. Roosevelt's January 28 National defense message to be carried out. He signed last month a measure to create an army enlisted reserve force of 75,000 men.

While designed to maintain approximately a five to three superiority over Japan, the measure does not authorize a fleet as great as contemplated by Great Britain, Navy spokesmen have emphasized. Officials said, however, there was a "slight chance" the United States might set the pace of construction temporarily within the next year.

BY WILLIAM R. MULLER (Associated Press Michigan Correspondent)
Washington, May 13 (AP)—Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan indicated today the senate minority would attempt again to turn relief administration back to local governments.

Vandenberg said he favored incorporation of the Bacon amendment in the administration's $3,000,000,000 spending-lending proposal.

Alger And Mackinac WPA Jobs Approved

Lansing, May 13 (AP)—Federal allotments totalling $76,399 for Michigan projects were announced today by the Works Progress Administration.

They included: Mackinac county—$4,152 to improve St. Ignace airport. L'Anse—$3,364 partial allotment for storm sewers. Alger county—$15,400 partial allotment for road improvements.

San Quentin Convicts Refuse To Work; Ringleaders Get Solitary Confinement

San Quentin, Calif., May 13 (AP)—Solitary confinement was ordered today for fifteen convict ringleaders in a "folded arms" strike in crowded San Quentin prison after 350 prisoners refused to work.

It was the second day of strike demonstrations by the convicts who protested reduction in recreation time.

Warden Court Smith said the disciplinary action caused about 150 of the strikers to return to work. The others still refused. Earlier in the day the number of those in the demonstration was about 500.

Warden Smith said one convict, Percy Eberle, Los Angeles murderer, was transferred to Folsom, today because he induced Jute mill workers to engage in the strike. At Folsom, where "tough" convicts are held, Eberle will do rock pile duty.

Newberry Youths Held for Death of Laundryman

Two Boys Get Life In Marquette For Killing Charlie Hoy

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 13 (AP)—George Duchey, 21, and George Kertvertis, 20, who state police say confessed the slaying of Charlie Hoy, Newberry laundryman, pleaded guilty to charges of robbery armed here today and were sentenced to life terms in the Marquette branch prison.

They were arraigned before Circuit Judge Herbert W. Runnels on a joint warrant that charged robbery armed, murder and larceny of $64, the amount obtained in the robbery of Hoy.

The youths, haggard and unshaven, pleaded guilty to the robbery armed count. Kertvertis pleaded innocent at first but changed his plea a few minutes later. He broke into tears when sentenced.

League Denies Aid For China

Geneva, May 13 (AP)—Anglo-French leadership in the League of Nations suffered a severe blow at its prestige today as two warring nations, China and Spain, sought moral and material help in this capital of collective security.

White-haired Julio Alvarez Del Vayo, representative of government Spain, lost a dramatic fight to end the international policy of non-intervention in Spain's civil war, but in the league council's vote on his resolution was bitter medicine for France and Britain.

Of the 15 nations voting, only two, Poland and Rumania, followed France and Britain in rejecting the resolution.

This gave a sufficient margin to turn it down since only Soviet Russia joined Spain—the latter being given a temporary place at the council table—in the affirmative.

The blow to the Anglo-French leadership was in the nine absentions including even Belgium, previously the most loyal follower of the two big powers.

Others abstaining included China and New Zealand, which had been expected to vote for Spain; Ecuador, Latvia, and Peru, who had been expected to follow the London-Paris line; and Bolivia, Sweden and Iran.

China won from the council only warm expressions of sympathy in her fight for material aid in her war with Japan, but Chinese sources declared some powers, including Britain and France, had agreed to grant China credits for purchase of arms and also assurance of aid in getting the arms into the country.

The council arranged to go on public record as flatly refusing material aid.

Optimist Scorns Superstition, But Bad Luck Arrives

Kansas City, May 13 (AP)—Gilbert Smalley joined other members of the optimist club today in deriding superstition attached to Friday the 13th.

He ran under ladders. He and two others lit cigarettes with one match. He broke a mirror.

In the midst of the celebration came the word God. Lloyd C. Stark had replaced him as chairman of the state athletic commission.

Mrs. Boyez Dansard Stricken Suddenly

Monroe, Mich., May 13 (AP)—Mrs. Sarah Dansard, wife of Boyez Dansard, president of the Dansard State bank here, became ill while dining tonight and died a few hours later in Monroe hospital.

New 'Strong Man' Premier Is Expected To Squelch Nazi Movement In Hungary

Budapest, May 13 (AP)—Bela Imredi, hailed as a "strong man" who will squelch Hungary's rapidly growing Nazi movement, tonight formed a new government and immediately outlined a program for restoring confidence and public order.

Two hours after succeeding resigned Premier Koloman Daranyi, the powerful financial and economic leader disclosed plans to introduce two far-reaching measures before parliament tomorrow. Both will be aimed at clamping the lid on extremist agitation. One would provide more drastic penalties for disturbing public

LABOR TROUBLE HALTS BUILDING

Uncompleted Plant May Be Moved Out of Adrian Again

Adrian, Mich., May 14 (AP)—Two carloads of steel were returned to Detroit today as Magnesium Fabricators, Inc., moved to carry out its threat to abandon its incompleting foundry here because of labor trouble.

Edwin Kriehoff, the contractor who was constructing the building, said a truck-load of equipment also was moved out. He said he had been instructed by the Magnesium company to dismantle the steel already erected, but that work had not been started today.

The $110,000 foundry to produce an alloy for use in automobile and airplane parts was less than half completed when members of the Hod Carriers and Common Laborers Union (AFL) began picketing the project Monday another AFL union, left their jobs.

The Magnesium Fabricators, Inc., management announced it would abandon the plant here and called the directors to a meeting in Detroit Monday to consider other locations. Committee of Adrian businessmen that conferred with company officials in Detroit said, however, it held some hope that the company would remain here.

Carl Heckinger, president of the union, withdrew the pickets several days ago.

RELIEF LOAD UNCHANGED

Detroit (AP)—Despite heavy transfers to WPA rools, Detroit relief lists are remaining at virtually an unchanged level, G. R. Harris, public welfare superintendent, told the city council Friday.

Martin Says UAW Strife Is Ended; Ford Drive Coming

Detroit, May 13 (AP)—Homer Martin, president of the CIO United Automobile Workers, hailed tonight as "indicating clearly that factionalism is at an end" the unanimous approval of a 20-point program by the union's international executive board.

The union head was in jovial mood after the board accepted his recommendations for future organizational activity for future or so voted formal commendation of Martin and the international officers including Richard T. Frankenstein, vice-president who on Martin recently demoted from assistant president.

Renewal of campaigns to unify employees of the aircraft industry, WPA workers and Ford Motor company employees was foremost in the board-approved objectives. The board pledged co-operation to prevent "wildcat" strikes, and "mobilization of the entire union against wage reductions."

KICKED TO DEATH

Cheyboygan (AP)—Anita Hill, 6, who was kicked to death by a horse while gathering eggs in a barn at her farm home, will be buried here Saturday.

Traffic Toll

Holland, Mich., May 13 (AP)—Simon de Groot of Holland was killed tonight in an automobile collision on US-31 near here. Laverne Van Kluy of Zeeland, the other driver, was hurt.

Detroit, May 13 (AP)—William L. Fitzgerald, 39, of Detroit, was killed tonight when his automobile rammed a safety zone on Grand River avenue.

West Branch (AP)—Dick McGowan, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving McGowan, who was struck by an automobile here Thursday night, died Friday in a hospital at Ann Arbor. State police absolved Clarence Blakely, driver of the car, of blame.

Holland (AP)—An automobile accident on US-highway-31 between Holland and Grand Rapids early Friday resulted in the death of two persons and injury to two others. The dead were Miss Carleen Gates, 21, of Holland, and Elden H. Feldscher, 24, of Hancock. Beatrice Teer Haar, 24, of Allegan, suffered a fractured skull while R. F. Clifton, 42, of Zeeland, the driver, suffered minor injuries. The car went out of control and struck a tree.

Fruit Growers Welcome Break In Frosty Wave

(By The Associated Press) Michigan farmers brightened last (Friday) night at the weather man's prediction a three-day cold wave had ended.

The United States weather bureau at East Lansing, in a forecast for Lower Michigan, declared warmer temperatures would arrive late Saturday night, turning back the killing frosts which had wreaked untold damage to fruit and garden crops in all sections of the state.

Fruit tree buds and young plants underwent a night of frosting Thursday night. In the Grand Rapids area, further reports of damage to strawberries and truck crops were received. Temperatures ranged in the low 30's.

In the Battle Creek region, growers said they had been forewarned and protected plants so that the loss would probably be small although temperatures dropped to 30 degrees.

In Berrien and Van Buren counties, the most severe damage appeared to have resulted. Temperatures were as low as 23 degrees. Buds on sour cherries and pear trees were nipped again and strawberry and tomato plants suffered.

In the Lansing area, there was little left to damage, the buds having been virtually destroyed in Wednesday's frost. The thermometer registered 33 degrees in that area. Near Owosso, where temperatures dropped to 28, damage to new alfalfa and clover seedlings was reported, as well as to fruit buds and early vegetables.

CLASHES OVER OIL PROPERTY STIR TROUBLE

ENVOYS WITHDRAWN FROM LONDON BY CARDENAS

Mexico City, May 13 (AP)—Mexico severed diplomatic relations with Great Britain tonight.

The government's foreign relations department announced the withdrawal from London, "in view of the unfriendly attitude" of the British government, of her Minister Primo Villa Michel and the legation staff.

This country's drastic action followed Britain's increasingly sharp protests at President Lazaro Cardenas' expropriation March 18 of British-owned oil properties and Mexico's delay in payment to Britain of claims growing out of Mexican civil wars.

(On that date Cardenas took over the $400,000,000 British and American owned foreign oil industry in Mexico.)

Minister Notified
It was expected Great Britain would counter immediately with withdrawal of her minister to Mexico, Owen St. Clair O'Malley.

O'Malley said this evening he had as yet received no advice from London. He added that he probably would not decide until morning any cable arriving from the British foreign office tonight.

The British minister was notified of Mexico's decision when he called at the foreign office this afternoon to receive checks for $61,737.17 pesos (about $84,518) due as an annual installment on the civil war claims.

He had several times protested delay in payment of the amount, most recently in a stiffly worded note dated Thursday which said Mexico's "attitude toward government indebtedness generally" was "far from reassuring."

Dictated By Politics
Previously, O'Malley had handed the foreign office two sharp notes protesting in vigorous terms the taking over eight weeks ago of the properties of Agulla (Royal Dutch Shell) Oil company, which company officials had estimated to be worth $250,000,000, along with those of 16 other foreign companies.

The notes asserted Britain's conviction that the expropriation had been dictated by political considerations, and charged Justice had been denied the oil companies in the procedure followed.

O'Malley said Foreign Minister Eduardo Fialta informed him today of the withdrawal of the Mexican envoy from London "as a matter of politeness," and said his government had been advised earlier of the action.

With the checks for the installment due on the revolutionary claims totaling 3,795,697.53 pesos (about $392,900), the amount agreed between the two governments in an exchange of notes Dec. 31, 1935. Hay handed O'Malley the Mexican reply to Britain's note.

U. S. Paid Promptly
The reply pointed out that the 1935 agreement "recognizes Mexico's right to defer payments

COUPLE FOUND DEAD IN GROVE

Virtual Strangers Are Gassed in Car at Belvidere, Ill.

Belvidere, Ill., May 13 (AP)—Boone county authorities endeavored tonight to learn the circumstances which led Albert V. Pierce and Miss Edna Lankin—virtual strangers to each other—to their deaths in a picnic grove near here yesterday.

Their bodies were found on the rear seat of Pierce's car. They had been asphyxiated by carbon monoxide gas carried into the car through a hose attached to the exhaust.

A coroner's jury decided today Pierce's death was a suicide. The inquest on Miss Lankin, who was 42, was delayed pending the arrival of a sister, Mrs. Winifred Hammond, from Bad Axe, Mich., Miss Lankin's former home.

Questioning of relatives of the couple indicated they had not known each other before Wednesday morning. Pierce, 34, had been employed here as a mortgage clerk for 17 years, but quit last November to find outdoor work.

He started out Wednesday for suburban Wheaton in search of a job on a farm. His wife, Margaret, did not accompany him.

Walter Ray, a member of the coroner's jury, recalled that Pierce and Miss Lankin had come into his hardware store before noon on Wednesday, and asked to buy a length of hose.

through payment of interest on the annual payments not covered during the time they remain unpaid.

Britain's note had pointed out "apparently discriminatory treatment" by Mexico in favor of the United States, since a similar debt "was paid punctually to Washington."

Mexico's reply declared her offer to pay the adjusted amount of the claims, for destruction of British property during revolutions from 1910 to 1920, was out of politeness and "not an obligation imposed by international law."

To Britain's assertion that expropriation of the oil properties was "unjustified" in view of "the failure of the Mexican government to discharge even their existing obligations," Mexico replied Britain had "no right to analyze the domestic situation of Mexico."

Hay answered the British assertion that Mexico had piled up a huge foreign debt even before the expropriation by saying:

"I allow myself to call to the attention of your excellency, inasmuch as I view it to be pertinent, the fact that even powerful states, having at their command abundant resources, may not pride themselves on being up to date on the payment of all their monetary obligations."

(This was taken as a reference to war debts European nations owe the United States.)

WASHINGTON SURPRISED Washington, May 13 (AP)—State department officials received with surprise tonight news despatches from Mexico City that Mexico had broken diplomatic relations with Great Britain.

They declined to comment until official despatches had been received but they gave the impression they regarded the development with anxious interest.

Asked whether Mexico had consulted the United States before severing diplomatic relations, they said that at first sight this was a matter directly between Mexico and Great Britain and they did not see that Mexico was required to consult this country.

Persons close to the state department said the United States would seek to offer to mediate between the two countries at this point.

They said that the quarrel between Mexico and Great Britain may have unfortunate repercussions in rendering more difficult the settlement of the American claims to compensation for expropriated American oil properties valued unofficially at around $150,000,000.

AIRMAIL TAKES IN FIFTY CITIES

Flight From Escanaba to Milwaukee May Not Materialize

Marquette, Mich., May 13 (AP)—Fifty Upper Peninsula cities and towns will cooperate in the first all-Upper Peninsula airmail flight next Thursday, it was announced here tonight by the sponsoring committee.

Dr. John N. Lowe, U. P. cachet director and member of the sponsoring committee, reported that he had requests for covers, or cacheted envelopes, from stamp collectors in nearly every state in the union.

Prospects for a seventh flight, from Marquette to Milwaukee, with southbound stops in Escanaba and Menominee, and Green Bay and other Wisconsin cities, faded today with word that no requests for additional flights would be granted by the post-office department.

The proposed route was one on which it is expected a regular airmail service from the peninsula to Milwaukee and Chicago will be established.

Thirteenth Jinx Ignored By Cupid

Detroit, May 13 (AP)—Dan Cupid ignored the Friday the thirteenth jinx here today.

At exactly 13 minutes past noon Anton Verbius of Highland park and Miss Antoinette Webber of Detroit were married by common pleas Judge Robert E. Sage standing under a ladder and with a black cat in the room.

Licenses Clerk Tony Nader said Richard Scheer of Grosse Pointe park and Dorothy Ruth of Detroit applied for a marriage license at 11:13 a. m. and were the thirteenth couple to appear.

American Mission Bombed By Japan

Peking, May 13 (AP)—The American Southern Presbyterian Mission at Suchow, main objective of Japan's central China armies, was reported today to have been bombed by Japanese planes May 10 and 11.

Apparently no one was hurt, but several thousand dollars damage was done to the mission.

The United States embassy here notified the American embassy in Tokyo for appropriate action and also informed the Japanese embassy here.

Candidate Courts Luck Friday, 13th

Mt. Clemens, Mich., May 13 (AP)—There is nothing superstitious about Percy L. Moore, sheriff of Macomb county, from 1925 to 1930. Asserting that "my luck can't be worse than it was in 1930 and 1934 when I was defeated," Moore chose Friday the Thirteenth as the day to announce his candidacy for the post he once held.

Big Cross Burned For Monroe Mayor

Monroe, (AP)—The lawn at the home of Mayor Daniel A. Knaggs was the scene of the burning of a cross, six feet tall, Thursday night. Knaggs has been endeavoring to settle a strike called by the International Brotherhood of Paper Makers (AFL) which has closed the River Raisin Co. plant.

A year ago the mayor, who has since been reelected, ordered police to break a steel workers organizing committee (CIO) picket line that blocked the entrance to the Republic Steel Co. plant.

MURDERER OF UNCLE GETS LIFE SENTENCE

Bellaire, Mich., May 13 (AP)—Circuit Judge Parm C. Gilbert today pronounced a mandatory life sentence on Ora Ward, convicted of first degree murder for the shooting of his uncle, Frank Giesell, February 23.

A jury convicted Ward after deliberating 50 minutes yesterday. Ward had testified the shooting was accidental.

Matter of Economy The Michigan Republican cited his fight to turn the relief problem over to states and give them federal aid.

"It is a matter of economy and better judgment," Vandenberg said. "Local governments know their relief needs, know what they can afford to contribute, and know how relief funds can be administered most economically."

Vandenberg said he has "given up all hope" of revision of the current social security program during the present session.

"I've gone as far as I can go. I see no further point in discussing the advisability of a contingent reserve for the board in place of the full reserve after I have been turned down," he said.

He recently wrote Chairman A. J. Altmeier suggesting the board's advisory council report to congress on the advisability of reducing the payroll tax schedule as an "anti-depression measure."

Luecke Scores Dole Representative Luecke, Democrat, Escanaba, told the house when it was debating the spending-lending program the issue was a choice between "the dolo" and adoption of the proposal.

He cited figures showing one-third of the students applying for entrance at some 56 colleges were found to be infected to some degree with tuberculosis.

"That is the result of malnutrition," Luecke said. "That is what has brought this thing about, and now there are some who would say 'let us give these people $3 a week instead of $44 a month such as they now are receiving from the WPA.'"

Representative Albert J. Engel (R-Lake City) urged the house to "give sunshine a chance."

"That policy worked wonderfully well from March to July, 1933, and will work again if given a chance," he said.

"That is the result of malnutrition," Luecke said. "That is what has brought this thing about, and now there are some who would say 'let us give these people $3 a week instead of $44 a month such as they now are receiving from the WPA.'"

Representative Albert J. Engel (R-Lake City) urged the house to "give sunshine a chance."

"That policy worked wonderfully well from March to July, 1933, and will work again if given a chance," he said.

BIG NAVY BILL TO BE SIGNED BY PRESIDENT

of Ford, of General Motors, and of innumerable men who would be employers were it not for the administration and state-blessed activities of the CIO; when I know that union racketeers are forcing WPA workers, men on the relief jobs, with the tacit approval of the state and federal administrations, to pay out of the money which we appropriate here to give work and relief, dues to affiliates of the CIO, then I become convinced that the president is not the proper person to allocate relief funds and that under no circumstances should he be given a blank check for $2,000,000,000 or any other sum."

Matter of Economy The Michigan Republican cited his fight to turn the relief problem over to states and give them federal aid.

"It is a matter of economy and better judgment," Vandenberg said. "Local governments know their relief needs, know what they can afford to contribute, and know how relief funds can be administered most economically."

Vandenberg said he has "given up all hope" of revision of the current social security program during the present session.

"I've gone as far as I can go. I see no further point in discussing the advisability of a contingent reserve for the board in place of the full reserve after I have been turned down," he said.

He recently wrote Chairman A. J. Altmeier suggesting the board's advisory council report to congress on the advisability of reducing the payroll tax schedule as an "anti-depression measure."

Luecke Scores Dole Representative Luecke, Democrat, Escanaba, told the house when it was debating the spending-lending program the issue was a choice between "the dolo" and adoption of the proposal.

He cited figures showing one-third of the students applying for entrance at some 56 colleges were found to be infected to some degree with tuberculosis.

"That is the result of malnutrition," Luecke said. "That is what has brought this thing about, and now there are some who would say 'let us give these people $3 a week instead of $44 a month such as they now are receiving from the WPA.'"

Representative Albert J. Engel (R-Lake City) urged the house to "give sunshine a chance."

CORN CARGOES IN BIG VOLUME

Foreign Demand Speeds Up Grain Shipments At Chicago

Chicago, May 13 (AP)—Speeding the export of American corn to Europe, almost a score of lake-going vessels today nosed up to tall elevators strung along Chicago's busy Calumet river harbor to take on a record breaking volume of grain this week-end.

Shippers estimated several million bushels of corn would pour through elevator spouts within the next three days. Most of this grain is destined for shipment abroad, they said. It will be reloaded at Canadian ports along the St. Lawrence.

Barring unfavorable loading weather, corn clearances this week are expected to set two new records, one of the largest single cargo of grain ever to leave this port, the other the largest shipments for any week since the World war.

Among the fleet of 19 boats anchored in the elevator district

Curtis Child, 2, Drowned In Deep Ditch Near Home

Curtis, Mich.—Robert Painter, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Painter, was drowned Wednesday in a ditch near the Graves cottage on Whitefish lake at Curtis.

The mother thought the child was with the father, who was working outside the home, while the father thought he was with the mother. When the parents realized the child was missing, a search was started. Ray Robbins found the body in the deep water of the ditch.

Mr. and Mrs. Painter were caretakers of the Graves cottage during the winter.

Funeral services were held at the McMillan church.

Raids On Barcelona Take Toll Over 200 In Dead And Injured

Barcelona, May 14 (Saturday) (AP)—Insurgent planes raided Barcelona twice early today, bringing to four the total of air raids within 33 hours.

The two previous raids took a toll of 200 dead and injured. The series was the most severe group of attacks this capital of government Spain has suffered since devastating bombardments in March.

In the first raid today, the insurgent planes swung over the city exactly at midnight. Anti-aircraft batteries pounded steadily for 20 minutes.

The second raid came an hour later. There was no immediate estimate of damage in the new attacks.

Yesterday a dozen persons were killed and 40 wounded in an attack by six Junkers bombers. Casualties Thursday were 48 dead and more than 100 injured.

G. A. A. Banquet
A banquet was given Thursday evening by the members of the Girl's Athletic Association. The banquet was given in honor of the teachers who are leaving this year—Mrs. W. C. Baker, Miss Kate Bowen and Miss Nina Mattson, and also in honor of the girls who received letters.

The following program was presented: Group singing—"The More We Get Together".

"Comments in General"—Lucille Walters. Remarks—Miss Fern Wright. Musical selection—Ruth Mortenson and Margaret Kelly. Toast to Miss Mattson—Beatrice Wolfe.

Remarks—Miss Mattson. Group singing—"On a Chinese Honeymoon". Musical selection—Sybil Manering and Bernita Wehner. Toast to Miss Bowen—Olive Segerstrom.

Response—Miss Bowen. Musical selection—Elaime Winkel and Margaret Kelly. Remarks—Mrs. Bundy. Remarks and Poem—"At the Crossroads", by Margaret Kelly. Toast to Mrs. Baker—Wyoma Hillson.

Response—Mrs. Baker. Group singing—"Pals of the Little Red School". Remarks—Mrs. A. O. Baker. Toast—"To Girls Athletics of Cooks High"—Ruth Mortenson. Presentation of Girls Athletic Letters, by Miss Mable Victorson, coach of Girls' Athletics.

Group singing—"Aloha Oe". Letters were presented to Ruth Mortenson, Margaret Kelly, Olive Winkel, Wyoma Hillson, Elaime Winkel, Lucille Walter, Olive Segerstrom and Piney Young.

Preceding the program a very tasty dinner was served, members of the eighth grade kindly assisting Mrs. Bundy and Miss Victorson in preparation and serving. After the banquet the guests danced in the gymnasium.

Juniors Honor Seniors
A junior roast was given for the members of the Senior class Tuesday evening by the Junior class at the schoolhouse. The party was scheduled to be given at the Big Springs but unfavorable weather prevented it. However, a good time was had at the schoolhouse and the guests danced in the gym.

Sign of a Windstorm

A freak windstorm west of the city Thursday tore a sheet metal sign, 10 feet by 25 feet, from its moorings, wafted it about a block and deposited it in a crumpled mess at the foot of the Portage Creek bridge. One portion, about five feet square, was carried across the road another half block and ended up by crashing into a similar sign-board. Harold Meiers is shown surveying the damage. —Daily Press Photos

Michigan In Washington

By Esther Van Wagener Tufty
Striving hard for enactment this session on his 10 million dollar forest bill, Frank E. Hook, Ironwood Democrat, made a visit to the White House this week asking for quick action by the Budget Bureau. Hook has secured approval of the Department of Agriculture, and Chairman Jones of the Agriculture committee, of which Hook is a member, has also promised early committee consideration.

With 60 per cent of the Upper Peninsula people on relief, Hook sees in the federal purchase of more than a half million acres of forest lands a logical economic salvation in the building up of a permanent lumber business. At the same time improving the recreational values might make it truly the "Playground of the Middle West." Cutting of timber under the sustained-yield regulations of the Forest Service, the forests (the area contains the largest stretch of virgin timber East of the Rockies) would be preserved. The lands are largely in the Ottawa National Forest in Baraga, Gogebic, Houghton, Iron and Ontonagon counties.

It looked like both a worthy cause and good politics to Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg and Congressman Fred L. Crawford, of Saginaw, to rush to the aid of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, badly in need of additional funds for unforeseen expenditures on various kidnaping cases.

Reduction of the force was blamed for the death of a certain G-man in the capture of a bank robber in Illinois. All of which may explain why President Roosevelt has asked Congress for $108,000 to cover the deficit. If Congressman John Luecke's bill, just introduced, passes, the lighthouse reservation on Bois Blanc Island in the Straits of Mackinac will be turned over to the state for a public park. As customary, the U. S. government would continue to operate and maintain lighthouses, coast guard stations and any other navigation facilities and the land would revert to the United States in the event the state fails to use the land for public park purposes.

Two Injured When Auto Strikes Tree

Andrew Drum, 11 North Third Avenue, and William Christianson, 620 Delta Avenue, both of Gladstone, were taken to the St. Francis hospital early yesterday morning after the car in which they were riding jumped a curb at the corner of First Avenue North and 15th Street and struck a tree. After cuts about the face and hands were treated, they were released.

According to city police, Christianson said he was driving and, not being familiar with Escanaba streets, did not realize that a post fence block off First Avenue North west of 15th street near the junior high school. He swerved suddenly after seeing the posts but was going too fast to make the corner and the car jumped the curb and struck the tree. The car, which was owned by Drum, was badly smashed and several windows were broken.

PAQUETTE SENTENCED

Menominee—Arthur Paquette of Hermansville late yesterday changed his plea of not guilty to guilty in Circuit Judge Frank A. Bell's court here to a charge of grand larceny, and was given a probationary sentence of two years, and 30 days in jail. Paquette admitted that he stole $96 from Antone Sklenar, aged Hermansville resident, on March 5, while Sklenar was riding in Paquette's car. Officers of Sheriff Reinold's department found Sklenar's purse thrown out alongside the roadway, and uncovered the $96 buried in the basement of Paquette's house.

E-Men Present Eighth Annual Minstrel Show

The Messrs. Bones and Jones, lettermen of the Escanaba Senior high school, last night presented the eighth annual E-Men's Minstrel show before a full house at the William W. Oliver Memorial auditorium. Six blackface endmen, aided and abetted by Interlocutor Dick Thompson, dished out swift-moving crossfire patter which was interspersed with solos and novelty numbers with the E-Men's chorus as background.

Principal Edward E. Edick and R. P. Bowers of the high school music department directed the production. Endmen were Raymond Els, Lawrence Grenier, Thor Nilsson, Robert Oulmette, Bill Peterson and Charles Thatcher. Musical accompaniment was by Elaine Brown, Carlton P. Johnson and Albert Frovencher.

A specialty hit by "ten pretty girls" was the song of the same name, presented by Iloeu Anderson, Eileen Benn, Selma Bentson, Rosemary LaCrosse, Betty Logan, Pearl Laviolette, Merle Smith, Marguerite Oiler, Anna Mae Thompson and Gloria Larsen. Robert Moreau sang the solo of the number. "Minnie from Minnesota," a Swedish number sung by a blackface Scandinavian, was one of the hits of the program, as was "The Old Apple Tree in the Orchard." Musclehead, Dowdrop and Porterhouse on the left and Flannelmouth, Eightball and Sparribie on the right contributed much to the merrymaking with their antics, which ranged from eating live goldfish (of boiled carrots) to conducting a prize fight in which the loser knocked himself out.

Members of the chorus were: Stanton Abrahamson, Elroy Andrews, Robert Barron, Frank Bender, Raymond Bennett, Robert Boyle, Donald Campbell, Clyde Cox, Keith Dishno, Clifford Dubord, Allan Earle, Farnum Ferguson, Francis Flagstad, Kenneth Fredrickson, Alden Gardner, Arthur Harvey, Wesley Hanson, Gordon Hurley, William Jerow, Carlton P. Johnson, Verne Johnson, Glenn Lewis, James McMonagle, Everett Mattson, Iver Olson, Warren Olson, Edmund Pennings, Donal Petersen, Jack Reynolds, Willard Severinsen, Vernon Sivertsen, Elmer Swanson, Britton Temby, Lyle Utt, Fred Walker, Kenneth Wedell, Melvin Wicklander.

Teachers' Meeting
Vernon Winter entertained the teachers of Fairbanks township at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Winter, Tuesday evening. Lunch was served after a business session.

Sunshine Club
Miss Meta Winter entertained the members of the Sunshine Sewing Club of which she was leader, Friday. This was a 4-H project of some of the girls in the grades, and for this, their last meeting of the season, they enjoyed games followed by lunch.

Church Meeting
A final meeting of the Study Clubs of the Con-Fraternity of Christian Doctrine, which have met in the homes during the past several weeks, was held in the St. John Hall Wednesday evening. Following the study period a beano party was held for the benefit of the church.

Personals
Rev. Fr. V. C. Savageau has made frequent visits to Escanaba during the past week to see his aged father, Severo Savageau, who was painfully injured when he fell from the church steps a week ago. He had attended service earlier and was watching with great interest the operations of the workmen as they went forward with razing operations, when the accident occurred. Slight hope is held out for his recovery, due to his advanced age.

Miss Pearl Deffries spent the week-end at the home of her mother, Mrs. Will Horning. She was hostess Sunday evening at supper to several friends, including Miss Johnson, Robert Tatrow, Norma Pauline Tatrow, Leona Duschene and Earledeen Kaution.

Mrs. William Birmingham and daughter, of Gladstone, a sister from Wisconsin, and Mr. and Mrs. Gorman of Kipling were guests at the George and Will Horning homes, Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Horning, Mr. and Mrs. George Horning, David Horning and Althea Lockhart motored to Trenary Sunday to visit their sisters, Mrs. Ada Fulton and Mrs. Eva Lockhart. Mr. and Mrs. James Rivers and family have moved into the larger cottage on the Haas farm at Kale's Bay. The smaller one is being used by the owner, Mrs. John Kregge. Mr. and Mrs. Ulysses Maynard and two daughters and Mr. and Mrs. James Tatrow and daughter Jeannine visited relatives in Nahma Sunday.

Fire
Twice in a week the fire-truck had been called into duty and on both occasions the township has had cause for pride at the speed with which it has been brought into action. Last Wednesday a chimney fire was subdued at Kate's Bay and on Tuesday a large haybarn on the Jerry Reno farm was saved. No hay was in the barn, except the chaff which accumulated on the floor, and this had been ignited, was gaining headway, and no doubt would have destroyed the building but for the prompt action of the fire department.

Minimum Salary For Postmasters Proposed At $160
BY PAUL MAY
Washington, D. C.—Whoever gets the job of postmaster at Seney, announced by the post-office department today as vacant, will have more "social security" than his predecessor, under terms of a bill now before Congress. The bill would guarantee a minimum salary of $160 a year to the smallest fourth class post-office's postmaster, and would give all fourth class postmasters fixed annual salaries. Seney is a fourth class office. If the bill fails to pass, then the new Seney postmaster will have to take his pay on the basis of stamp cancellations and money order sales at the office. Through this method of paying puts postmasters at fourth class offices in somewhat the same position as salesmen on commission, the Seney job has its compensations. Perhaps its chief advantage is that it is a life job, for fourth class postmasters are appointed without specified term, to serve for life, or during good behavior. The best man who applies for the job may not get it, though like other fourth class postoffices, Seney is a civil service office. The postoffice department's announcement of the Seney vacancy said the department has asked the civil service commission to hold an examination of applicants, making due announcement of the date for the test at the postoffice. But the commission will certify three eligibles, and the post-office department will pick one of the three, and doesn't have to pick the highest eligible.

Will Have Runners

AFTER serious consideration of all aspects of the situation, the board of managers of the Upper Peninsula State Fair decided at its meeting on Thursday to present to fair-goers a six-day running race meet August 9 to 14.

Attendance records during the past several years prove conclusively that the harness races do not have the pull with the public that they had thirty or forty years ago in this country.

The state fair certainly promises to be "bigger and better" this year.

Are Falls Secure?

ANNOUNCEMENT has been made that the Ford Motor company has purchased from the East Jordan Lumber company about 8,000 acres of timber land in the Laughing Whitefish river area in Alger county.

This tract includes the Laughing Whitefish falls. For several years, admirers of this scenic attraction have expressed fears that lumbering operations might be started someday and despoil its beauties.

It is hardly likely that a large concern like the Ford Motor company would destroy a natural asset like Laughing Whitefish falls merely to get a few thousand feet of lumber.

U. S. Protects Wildlife

MUCH that is of vital importance to the nation's wildlife resource has occurred since Congress, a half century ago, authorized the establishment of a small agency to take up the study of American birds.

The principal task now, and for many years to come, is to conserve and build up breeding stocks and restore natural environmental conditions to the end that the nation will possess a resource that can be satisfactorily administered and utilized.

The wildlife restoration program upon which the Federal Government has been engaged since 1933 has for its immediate objective the salvage of seed stocks and the rehabilitation and restoration of available lands that are suitable for the production of wildlife and its maintenance.

HOOK WANTS FREE FIELD (Iron Mountain News)

Congressman Hook desires to avoid, if possible, a contest for the Democratic nomination with Andrew Asikainen, and has asked whether Asikainen's status as an employee of the compensation commission does not debar him from entering the field.

There will be considerable opinion that Mr. Hook might better let the issue lie. Mr. Hook is, it may be assumed, less interested in preserving the sanctity of civil service than he is in making his own way easier.

Whether the issue justify this optimism or not, the Twelfth Michigan is one of the districts the Republican leaders list among those they believe they have a good chance to win.

partially financed by the Government, alone operated as effectively to prevent the increase of waterfowl as did the guns of the market shooters. Similar conditions applied with equal force to other species. Cultivation, deforestation, lowering of water levels by drainage, and the pollution of many natural reservoirs and streams placed upland game and other forms of wildlife under a tremendous handicap.

The conservationist now finds an interested and anxious audience where hitherto his warnings had been ignored or heard with tolerance. Nature was writing a message in symbols of whirling clouds of choking dust, thunderous torrents, dying cattle, and destitute humanity.

FESTIVAL SEASON (Grand Rapids Press)

With the Benton Harbor-St. Joseph Blossom festival in full swing and with Holland's famous Tulip festival ready for its opening ceremonies Saturday west Michigan's spring and summer pageantry has been ushered in again to continue for months to come.

Since spring stole a march on the weather prognosticators and arrived early we have at Benton Harbor a Blossom celebration without the blossoms.

Fortunately, however, it is not the blossoms alone that make the show. Community ingenuity has made Tulip Time an event of more significance than a mere display of flowers.

Throughout the festival season in Michigan visitors will find that this is true. They will discover that the Cherry festival at Traverse City, the Manistiquic Forest festival, the Marquette pageant at Ludington, the coast guard festival at Grand Haven and other pageantry has drawn heavily on the rich historic background of the region.

Grand Rapids joins the list this year, bringing the summer and autumn seasons to a great climax with its Fall festival in November, emphasizing the bounteous riches that nature has bestowed upon the state and creating a common meeting ground for those who have worked in its harvests.

From the snow festivals of Michigan's winters to the smelt and trout festivals of early spring, the flower festivals of later spring, the pageants of the summertime, the color tours and hunting seasons of the autumn and finally the great Fall festival in Grand Rapids there is a span which makes up a year-around program with scarcely a dull moment.

It was left to this city, it seems, to fill the only vacant place on the year's program and to round out the schedule.

HOOK WANTS FREE FIELD (Iron Mountain News)

Congressman Hook desires to avoid, if possible, a contest for the Democratic nomination with Andrew Asikainen, and has asked whether Asikainen's status as an employee of the compensation commission does not debar him from entering the field.

There will be considerable opinion that Mr. Hook might better let the issue lie. Mr. Hook is, it may be assumed, less interested in preserving the sanctity of civil service than he is in making his own way easier.

Whether the issue justify this optimism or not, the Twelfth Michigan is one of the districts the Republican leaders list among those they believe they have a good chance to win.

World Affairs Reviewed

Washington, D. C.—When there were prospects that the former Wallis Warfield Simpson might become Queen of England, Americans took more interest in that country than probably ever before.

Albania looks small on the map compared with the British Empire and, indeed, is a pigmy nation in comparison, yet it is to be considered that the country was the seat of a rich culture when Britain was a land of savage barbarians.

Probably as the result of the forward looking policies of King Zog, there has been of late an increased amount of looking backward into the early history of Albania. Extensive excavations have been made which have brought to light evidences of a higher state of civilization many centuries ago than has obtained in many centuries since.

Later the Romans took the country from the Greeks and then came the days of luxury. Albania no longer was frontier country, for the Roman Empire had extended far into the north. Its mild seaside climate, its bright airs and scenic beauty attracted the aristocrats of Rome and there they built pleasure villas.

In all its amazing history Albania's greatest national hero is Skanderbeg, who lived from 1403 to 1467. Born George Castriota, son of a petty prince, he was sent as a hostage to the Turkish Sultan Murad at the age of nine.

After the battle of Nish where the Turks received a check, Skanderbeg held a dagger to the throat of the Sultan's chief representative and forced him to write out a patent giving to him the governorship of Albania.

New York Column

BY GEORGE ROSS

New York—No one knows just what is buzzing around in the brain-pan of Mayor F. H. LaGuardia, although political opponents are prone to suggest that it is the Presidential bid.

Nevertheless, the paunchy, dynamic, little Napoleon of the metropolis is gathering great gobs of publicity for himself with all the sure-fire formulae of the politicians of the age.

On his recent western trip he became an Indian chief, which is right in line with presidential procedure. And the other night he blossomed as a music commentator, an event chronicled on most front pages, because it is unusual enough to be news; and on others because the Mayor was careful to mispronounce the name Beethoven (bay-to-ven), as Bee-to-ven.

Perhaps, some skeptics suggested, he remembered how long the discussion raged over Al Smith's version of radio as raddio.

But it is only fair to point out that the mayor did well as a commentator—that he usually does well in all he tries—even the Indian hierarchy. He went into the background of the selections he was describing at a Federal Music Concert and showed a deep knowledge of his subject, as he should, since he was born into the musical world as the son of a band leader and played the cornet himself.

His tag line clinched his talk when he disclosed with a wink that the reason he had so much good music played on the city radio system was to counteract the effect of bad political speeches.

Producing Woes As Tommy Lyman views it, here are the troubles of the Broadway producer: By the time a producer has found his "angel," he has lost his patience. Then there are the actors who claim that fellow players are trying to steal the show, though the author has done that already. If the show is put off, it's usually because the creditors can't be. The more the critics hit a show, the less of a hit it will be. And by the time the show is in, the backers are so disgusted that if the show isn't in for a run, the producer is the actors fret about are the ones in their contracts, the only lines producers worry about are those at the box office.

Statistics for Jokesmiths The mother-in-law situation has just been clarified by a straw poll taken under the auspices of the Child Welfare League of America. Seems that 49,272 husbands and wives were asked point-blank if they loved their mothers-in-law and 92 per cent of the wives said "Yes" while 51 per cent of the husbands said "No." Put that in your bonnet, lady!

Lyrics of Life

By Douglas Malloch

TIMES DO NOT CHANGE Times do not change, men change. It is the men who fall or rise. Men are the weak spot in the wall. When nations tumble from the skies.

Truth still is truth, believed or not. Right has not changed, because forgot. A little while by timid men. And then we breed a better lot. And re-establish right again.

And they who bow to "times," and say "Wrong yesterday is right today." Yield but to men, men right or wrong. Men who will swiftly pass away. While time and truth are very long.

The Capital Parade

BY ALISO AND KINTNER

Washington, May 14.—The wisecracker gossip about the President's indorsement of the Anglo-Italian accord has been both lurid and ludicrously contradictory. One school has cast undersecretary of the state Sumner Welles as the devil of the piece, going behind Cordell Hull's back to persuade the President. Another pictures Welles and his chief as working hand in glove to queer the game of a whole crew of devils, the State Department's isolationist career officers.

Everyone agrees, however, that Sumner Welles now wields a major influence in the foreign Policy of the United States. This tall, powerfully built, beautifully tailored man, with the glacial manner and an expression which suggests that a morsel of bad fish has somehow or other lodged itself in his mustache, is a shaper of America's course.

At first glance, the power of Mr. Welles is surprising, for his exterior is not in the tradition of American diplomacy. The Congress-gattered homeless of the Bryan School is only slightly more foreign to him than the gentle Anglo Philia which afflicts so many of the more polished employes of the State Department. His exterior is glacial, but it also has a considerable force. In Welles there is even a trace of the Curzon grand manner, purged, of course, of its wilder ornaments.

Look beneath the exterior, and you find an able pragmatist, a man who holds Hull's doctrine of the need to keep the light of international law still shining in a darkening world, but one who insists on meeting each situation as it arises, in the most practical manner possible. Such a man, it may be, will be rather useful in these troubling times.

UNBENDING AND BENDING Because of his forbidding manner, because he keeps his own counsel, and because he frightens people a little, Sumner Welles is one of the most discussed human enigmas in Washington. And even when one has forgotten his manner and all the rest, he is still a puzzling fellow.

There can be no doubt that his abilities are great. Either in conversation or at his desk, he is able to grasp and hold the most complicated set of facts with great rapidity. When he speaks, his precise and formal language invariably expresses thorough knowledge. He works hard, and easily, rarely unbending. He knows how to impress people with what he is saying, and, for all his stiffness, he also knows how to conciliate them.

At the White House diplomatic dinner this winter, for example, there was an unpleasant incident. A rather foolish European minister, bubbling with pride and color prejudice, refused to give his arm to his dinner partner, the Haitian minister's wife, Mme. Lescaut. There was some feeling about the matter. It might have gone further, had not Welles, at the Secretary of State's dinner a little later, soothed the bad feelings by offering his arm to Mme. Lescaut in the most marked and complimentary manner possible.

UP FROM GROTON Probably ambition is as strong as any other trait in Welles. He was born into the same small, prosperous New York world of which the President is a somewhat rebellious member. He went to Groton and Harvard. He entered the State Department with a brilliant scholastic record behind him and the reputation of being a fellow who kept very much to himself.

In the department, he concentrated in South American affairs, working up to be chief of the Latin American division. In 1935, after a personal row with the powers that were, he left the state department.

In his years of leisure, he occupied himself more energetically than most very well-to-do men might. He and his charming wife built their big place in Maryland. He wrote an authoritative history of the Dominican Republic, and kept in careful touch with South American affairs. He also kept in touch with his old friend, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, and when the 1932 campaign came on, offered his enthusiastic support to the Democrats.

At the 1932 inauguration, he hoped for the post he now holds. He did not get it, but, as usual, he waited and worked until it was his.

Great Britain has just doubled the tax on tea. She felt reasonably safe, knowing that her subjects all had representation now.

Crime prevention begins in school. The Michigan man who was convicted of passing a counterfeit $10 note the other day probably started by passing notes in class.

What's the use of science, anyway? An apple tree has just been made to grow roses, but the apples still have cores, and the roses, thorns.

Camp Manistique Active In April Education Work

BY PAUL MAY
Washington, D. C.—Leading all Michigan camps in correspondence work during April, Co. 3633, Manistique, showed a record of 41 men enrolled in courses with the University of Michigan, according to R. P. Woodruff, educational adviser for the camp.

Activity ratio—or number of courses per man—was 2.27, which was near the top for the state and helped the camp to its final rating.

Most of the students took work for high school, credit, and in every case, when compared with their performance while in school outside, the men did better work on their correspondence lessons.

Those enrollees most active in the camp's program were Beljan, Bergern, Boyle, Burghsacher, Canzone, Calkin, House, Gill, Mumme, Nikkila, Riley, Strazalko, Striker, Stelmie and Tyvela.

Have only one social security account number for each worker. Extra numbers merely confuse the records and do not help the worker.

U. P. Briefs

FOREIGN TRUCKS PAY Menominee—Michigan has collected more than $30,000 from foreign truckers operating in Michigan since enforcement of the licensing regulations on foreign trucks in January. It is reported by Capt. Fred Cronan of the secretary of state's department, in the city today. The law was enacted in 1931, but enforcement was delayed until January of this year pending attempts at reciprocity arrangements. Enforcement of the law has stopped a practice of some Michigan truckers of operating with only Wisconsin plates, Captain Cronan said. A sizeable portion of the funds collected in enforcement of the act have been on Wisconsin trucks operating into the upper peninsula, many of them through the Menominee gateway.

GUARD SITE SURVEYED Menominee—Sites for a prospective Coast Guard station in Menominee were inspected today by Coast Guard officers of the engineering, administration and communications divisions, and the information in their reports will be used by representatives in sponsoring a bill in congress for an appropriation to construct and equip the station. Establishment of the station here has already been authorized by congress. Selection of a site, and the filing of a report in which estimated costs are given, are required before an appropriation for construction of the station may be asked.

SHIPS 5800 TONS Marquette—The steamer Yosemite of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company fleet—second ore boat out of Marquette this season—cleared for Loraine, Ohio, at 6:45 a. m. yesterday with a cargo of 5,800 tons of ore from the L. S. & I. dock. Marquette's first contribution to the small shipment of ore being made from upper Lake Superior ports this year was made on May 5 when the steamer Cadillac, also a CCI boat, cleared for Buffalo from the L. S. & I. dock with 6,300 tons. Evidence that shipments may not be too few and far between, despite the prediction that the total this year will be less than half of last year's 50,000,000 tons of Lake Superior district ore shipped to lower lake ports, is seen in the announcement that the James A. Campbell, of the Plokhands Mather company fleet, is scheduled to load Sunday afternoon at the L. S. & I. dock.

BEATON CATCHES BEAR St. Ignace—Prosecuting Attorney Harold Beaton brought a cub bear to St. Ignace which he had captured Wednesday on US-3 near Gros Cap. The bear, between one and two months old, was captured by Beaton when the mother and another cub ran away when they saw him. Mr. Beaton took the cub to St. Ignace and kept him long enough to have several photographs taken. In the meantime he had to purchase a quart of milk to keep the little animal satisfied, Edward Chateau gave him some gum drops and all in all the cub had a fine time in town. Mr. Beaton took the cub back to the place where he had been captured and released him.

Beat Gently for Light Angel Cake

Though dealing with angel cake, let's get on a firm foundation at once. Have eggs at room temperature. The whites will whip up more quickly to greater volume. Be sure there is no bit of egg yolk left in whites. Mixing must be done gently and quickly in order not to lose any of the air beaten into the egg whites. Better use the meringue method of mixing angel cake: put the salt in with the whites at the start. When the eggs have been beaten until they are frothy, add the cream of tartar. The salt and cream of tartar help to keep the foam stable. Cream of tartar also helps to make the cake more tender, greater in volume and whiter. Beat whites with cream of tartar until they form soft rounded peaks. Beating eggs beyond this point will make the cake coarse-grained. Next fold in flour mixed with remaining sugar. Use a gentle, folding motion. Pour into ungreased pan and put in low oven (about 325 degrees F.). When baked, remove by inverting pan to cool, take it out. If you want a plain sponge cake instead, you can substitute liquid and baking powder for some of the egg whites required for angel cake. Two tablespoons milk or water and 1-2 teaspoon baking powder can be substituted for each egg omitted from angel cake recipe. Sift the baking powder with flour and add liquid before folding the egg whites into batter. Bake at slightly higher temperature (about 340 degrees F.). You may want this basic recipe for plain sponge cake.

Plain Sponge Cake One cup sifted soft-wheat flour, 1 cup (4 or 5) eggs, 1 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon lemon rind grated, 1-2 teaspoon salt. Sift the flour three times. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon-colored; gradually add half the sugar, beating thoroughly, then add lemon juice and rind. Beat until thick. Beat egg whites and salt until they start to peak but will still flow. Fold in remainder of sugar to make a meringue. Pour yolk mixture over whites and fold it into them gently. Then fold in flour. Pour into an ungreased pan and bake in slow oven (325 degrees F.) from 50 to 60 minutes.

Scrambled Eggs, Spring Style 4 tablespoons butter, 1-2 cup dried beef, 4 eggs, beaten, 1-3 cup milk, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon celery salt, 1-4 teaspoon parsley, 1-4 teaspoon minced onions, 1-4 teaspoon paprika, 1-4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce (optional), 1 cup cooked, seasoned asparagus. Melt butter in frying pan. Add and brown beef. Add eggs and milk which have been mixed with the seasonings. Cook slowly and stir constantly until the mixture becomes creamy. Pour onto a warm serving platter and surround with asparagus. Garnish with cress or parsley.

Browned Eggplant Slices 1 eggplant, 4 tablespoons salt, 2 egg yolks, 1-3 cup milk, 1-4 cup flour, 1-2 teaspoon celery salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 4 tablespoons fat, melted. Cut eggplant into one-inch crossway slices. Discard rind. Sprinkle with salt and let stand for one hour. Drain and rinse quickly in cold water. Dip each slice in the yolks which have been beaten with the milk. Cover with flour. Sprinkle with the rest of the ingredients and place in a shallow greased baking pan. Bake for 20 minutes in moderate oven. Turn once to allow even browning.

Serving Hot Bread If you bake hot bread in one of the new glass oven dishes you may bring it to the table in the baking dish. That will keep the bread hot longer. Interesting news! See Classified Page.

Home in Philippines is Beautifully Described in Letter To Adele Hessel

Following are excerpts from an other interesting letter received by Miss Adele Hessel from a close friend, Greta Lien, of Casa Miramar, Hacienda Cubay, San Carlos, Occidental Negros, Philippine Islands, whose interesting comments in a previous letter, which appeared in the Press, attracted wide interest. Your note reached me yesterday, having been forwarded to me from Sweden where it arrived too late to catch me before my departure. So it has journeyed halfway around the world before arriving in our island. We had a lovely trip from Europe via Suez. We left Hamburg in September, stopping at Algiers, North Africa, Port Said, Marseilles, the Red Sea ports and so forth, after having spent fifteen months in Europe. In the summer of '36 we were in Spain. Things at that time were peaceful enough, but the poverty of the people was everywhere in evidence and the poor management that eventually drove people mad was very, very, the bathing in Palma was marvelous—clear blue, crystal water, hills rising all around, but not as lovely to me as Hawaii. There was too much sand in Mallorca and the land seemed too dry. But beautiful it is, unquestionably. Barcelona was the gayest, most modern, cheerful place I can think of. I loved it, in the streets one saw colorful dresses—ladies in mantillas with flowers in their hair, yet wearing the latest from Paris. They combined smartness with picturesqueness wonderfully well. On the Bay of Biscay we visited relatives of my husband. I liked the Spanish people very much, especially in northern Spain. They were such a cheerful, friendly people. Always in the streets sounded their throbbing music—they had no money but they danced in the public plaza and were full of gaiety, despite their trouble. Spain Before War One night, I remember, it rained and on that evening there was to be a dance in the plaza. But the young folks were not to be daunted. The young men simply brought their umbrellas along, held the umbrella with one hand and the girl with the other—and so they danced and everybody was happy—but it was a funny sight to see a crowd dancing under umbrellas! I saw the bullfight of course. Much has been said and written for and against the bullfight—I leave all that to individual opinion. It has color and picturesqueness—everything Spanish has—and it was lovely to see the flowers, the mantillas, the brilliant dresses, hear the music, the flash and clamor. Of course, the idea that Spain is like a scene from "Carmen" is all wrong. Like every other country it has its bright and beautiful sides, and its tragic and sordid. The poverty was appalling to me. On the whole I liked Spain, and I am awfully sorry for what is happening to her now. It is the same old story as happened in Russia—too much monarchy and aristocracy. The two of them together sucked the people white and emancipated. I should say you are most fortunate in having your home in America. To me the North American continent, the United States and Canada, are positively the best places anyone could wish to live. I am sorry that so much discontentment is rampant in America. But the vast majority of you do not understand how fortunate you are, you just cannot know what people of other countries suffer, especially in Europe. Home on Island Hill As you see, I am back in my island which is one of the seven thousand some-odd that make up the Philippine group. We're in the Pacific, yet we are included in that realm vaguely designated as the Orient. The Orient, I suppose, begins east of Suez and stretches somewhere into the Pacific. To me it was a lovely thing to return to our island, this island so lovely, yet, but clean, peaceful, free. We live in a house set on a hill above the sea, as you can tell by its

Annual Baptist Conference Opens at Norway Church

The annual upper peninsula Baptist Conference, which Rev. Birger Swenson, who has just assumed charge of the Baptist parishes in this field, will attend, opened Friday at Norway and will continue through Sunday, May 15. The semi-annual meeting of the Baptist Young People's Union of Upper Michigan and northern Wisconsin, which a number of the young people of the First Baptist and Calvary Baptist churches also will attend, will be held in connection with the conference. Speakers will include Rev. John W. Isaacson, of Negaunee; Rev. Frank Blair, Iron Mountain; Rev. John A. Larson of the Norway parish; Rev. Nils J. Hedstrom, Gladstone; Rev. E. O. Erickson, Iron Mountain; Rev. Theodore Nelson of Ironwood; Rev. R. A. Arlander of Chicago; Rev. V. E. Anderson, Menominee; Evangelist J. C. Brumfield; Rev. W. W. Bloom of Marinette; and Rev. Alex Olson of Marquette. The annual young people's Fellowship banquet will be served Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Reception for Church Members Sunday Evening

The Norwegian-Danish Lutheran congregation will hold a reception for members who have joined the congregation this year, in the parlors of the church, following the Sunday evening services, which begin at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. L. R. Lund will speak on the theme, "Members of the Household of God," and the senior choir will sing "Babylon," by Michael Watson. Members and friends of the church are cordially invited. The Sunday morning service will be conducted in the Norwegian language and Rev. Mr. Lund will speak on "Jesu Bortgang." Mrs. Lund will sing a special number. Sunday evening, May 22, Burt K. Chaffee of Marquette will demonstrate an electric organ at the church, and the public is invited to attend and hear the new instrument at the services that evening.

Church Events

No Services Sunday There will be no services in St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church at Hyde, Sunday, it was announced yesterday, because of work on the floor of the church building, which is not yet completed. Rummage Sale Today The Ladies' Aid of the Central M. E. church will conduct a rummage sale this morning beginning at nine o'clock, in the church parlors on First avenue south at Thirtieth street. New and used articles will be on sale.

Elaine Beck Will Be June Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Ewald Beck, 307 South 17th street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Elaine Charlotte, to O. Keith Fjeldand, Jr., of Lansing, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Fjeldand. The wedding will take place in June.

WE, the WOMEN

BY RUTH MILLETT To the June bride: Go easy on your campaign promises. With that tall good looking man almost a husband—you're finding it easy to promise anything he most anything he asks. But remember—there'll be a day when you have to keep the promises or court old age by worrying over a way out—so go easy. Don't let him believe you're willing to hold your job indefinitely—if you aren't. Or talk about giving up your job "as soon as the boss finds someone else"—if you know you are going to keep on working as long as you can. And if you're wise you'll let it be known now that you do not think living with his family is a good idea. Instead of trying it out for a few months and then breaking the sad news. Or if he mentions his mother's living with you, don't be sweet and amiable with the thought tucked away in the back of your mind "I'll see that there is some other arrangement once we're married. There's no use of making a fuss now."

Wild Orchids

You will soon discover that I have very little news to tell you for our lives are quite secluded from the world. But then, in order to experience it isn't necessary to be thrown together with many people, is it? I am extremely fond of beautiful nature and vegetation and surely few places in the world can present such an abundance of magnificent vegetation as these islands. Plant life is largely Malaysian, of course. Wild orchids grow in the hills and in secluded places; I have climbed trees myself in order to snatch a lovely leopard spotted orchid. Wild orchids are usually small, white or yellowish in color or brown. The white are sometimes exquisitely scented. To wander in the hills and just sit under the coco palms is a delightful thing; you look across verdant fields with the lazy whittish sea beyond them. On the other side you see the hills rising in colorful chains. The Right to Insecurity

The United States government is making a noble attempt to provide for my old age. I am being pursued by a number. The instrument of that pursuit is my employer, who, acting as the agent of a government bent on protecting me, intends to attach me to that number. Thereafter he will extract a fraction of my weekly earnings, add to it an equal tax from his own corporate pocket, so that in twenty-two years it will come back to me in the form of an infinitesimal pension.

I am also an employer, and as such have been charred by the United States government to collect a tax from my two employees, a total of $2.80 a month, to add to that of $2.80 from my own pocket, so that in thirty-five years' time, when one young woman is officially decrepit, and in forty, when the other is officially aged, each may enjoy the security of $40 or $50 a month in some kind of money.

The two young women have no objection to this, and I have no objection. I suppose it is a good thing that people, by and large, should be encouraged and assisted to provide for their old age. I have only two objections to the whole process insofar as I am an employer. I should think that the contribution of the employer should be graduated, so that if he pays a very low wage he ought to bear all or most of the burden of insurance, because obviously people on very low wages ought not to be forced to save for sixty-five what they need for food today, and if he pays a very high wage he ought to bear little or none of the burden, since the recipient should look out for himself. As the tax is at present it seems to me to put a premium on low wages and a premium on employing a machine instead of a human being.

And I do object to having to use half a day once a quarter of one of these two employees' time to make out forms in duplicate, and get them signed and notarized and accompanied by a check whereby, on a deadline, their contributions and my contributions are transferred to the fund for their old age.

The young woman who makes out these forms receives $10 a day, and it therefore costs me $5 worth of her time to transfer the $16.80 quarterly for the protection of her and her associate's old age. The overhead on merely transferring the money is nearly one-third of the money transferred. That isn't counted in my contribution. I have figured it out that if she works for me for another thirty-five years, or until the government declares her to be pensionable, and during all that time she receives her present salary, she will have expended more than a year of her pension, or $700 worth of time, making out forms.

This seems to me an example of conspicuous waste, ostensibly under the banner of enforced thrift. I suppose the reason it is done is to cause the greatest possible inconvenience to those Tory creatures, employers, and afford the greatest possible employment for bureaucrats, so that each of them can get a number and be protected against their old age.

Otherwise the government would have adopted some simple system, like issuing books to certain categories of insured and letting them buy stamps for them at the postoffice, as is done in Germany, or was when I lived there. But I am not complaining as an employer, I am complaining as an employee. For I don't want the government's number, and shall escape it if possible. First of all, I don't think the fact that I have signed a contract for a stated number of weeks to speak at stated times on the radio in a program designed to advertise a certain company's products, makes me an employee, from now to sixty-five. The company is contractually permitted to get tired of me at the end of every three months, and I am contractually permitted to get tired of my employer at a stated moment, and there is nothing in my contract or in my philosophy that demands that I must immediately seek another one. For I am, with one part of my economic life, employed, and with the other part I am a free entrepreneur, and at any moment I may wish to be only a free lance. Then what becomes of my employees' insurance? It hangs in the air to return to me at the rate of 10 cents a month, I suppose, when I am sixty-five. I can make, for myself, much better arrangements privately.

But anyhow, and looking at the outcome most optimistically, I don't want the government's $58.75 a month when I am sixty-five, at the cost of making out more of those forms for the next twenty-two years. I have a different philosophy of life from the one the government thinks I ought to have, and I wish to stand on what I consider myself my constitutional right to be insecure.

I'm ready, in return, to sign a quit-claim with the government against this right to insecurity. I'm prepared to bet on my capacity to take care of my own old

TRIAL FLIGHT

By ADELAIDE HUMPHRIES

CAST OF CHARACTERS:
JACKIE DUNN—heroine; she wanted to fly.
ROGER BRECKNER—hero; he wanted to test the stratosphere.
BERYL MEIROSE—wealthy widow; she wanted Roger.
EVELYN LA FARGE—Jackie's mother; she wanted a son-in-law.

Yesterday: Tripped up at her own game, Jackie decides to play it out with Roger to the end, but she finds it is as dangerous as any flight to the stratosphere might ever be!

CHAPTER XI
 Roger did not get to take off for the west coast quite as soon as he had anticipated. He was obliged to "hang-around" as he expressed it, until the weather was more favorable.

"I don't want anything to happen on the way out—before I get to make my flight," he told Jackie, his blue eyes earnest. "I've got to make good on this now. If anything happened and I felt I'd let Beryl down, after having her pick me for the job, I'd never be able to look her in the eye again. She's a wonderful person, Jackie—you've no idea."

It seemed to Jackie that she had been hearing how wonderful Beryl was often enough lately to arrive at some conception. "If aviation ever achieves its ultimate goal, it will be because of people like her," Roger said. "People who are willing to give not only thousands of dollars, but their time and almost their very heart to it. People with foresight and vision..."

"You forget even such wonderful people have to have pilots to fly their ships," Jackie broke in. "You're the one who's taking the chance, Roger. Sometimes I think people like Mrs. Meirose—and I know you think she's perfection personified—simply like to share in the reflected glory of someone else. I suppose if you break all records on this trial flight, she'll think she did it—and want all the medals."

Roger stopped chewing the end of his toothpick; he glanced across at Jackie; they were having hamburgers and coffee at the Airport Inn, waiting for Beryl Meirose to join them. This might be their last meeting for some time as, if the weather "broke," everything was in readiness for the take-off.

"Why don't you like Beryl?" Roger asked. "She thinks you're swell, Jackie. She told me so—just the other day." His eyes crinkled at their corners. "Not still jealous, are you? Now that age, if any. Meanwhile, I want to get what I earn in one of the most competitive and unmonopolized pursuits in the world, keep whatever of it the government's other taxing agencies will permit me to keep, and spend or save it as I please. The government doesn't know what kind of an old lady I am going to be, and neither do I, but I think I can guess better than the government. And so I want to provide for that particular old age that I, particularly, anticipate."

But there's a curious lack of logic in the government's attitude toward me, as one of its subjects. Its security tax collector pursues me with a number in an effort to provide for my senility. But its income tax collector goes on the assumption that I am never going to get old at all. The security tax collector presumes that my powers are depleting in a graphable ratio and that in twenty-two years I shall be ripe for a pension. But the income tax collector allows me nothing for the depletion of those powers. Apparently he assumes that my head will be as vigorous and productive next year and the year after and so on as it is this. Or he thinks that the source of my income is my typewriter. He allows me to deduct depreciation on that instrument. But he does not allow me to deduct for the depreciation of my brains.

If I earned my income from a lead mine, I could demonstrate its gradual exhaustion, but apparently my head and my nerves are inexhaustible—to the income tax collector. The security tax collector, on the other hand, assumes that my earning powers will approach zero at sixty-five. Logically, therefore, the income tax collector, who represents the same government, should allow me to deduct from my income tax for a graduated depreciation of vital powers, reaching approximately 100 per cent at sixty-five. Otherwise, he is not taxing income, but subjecting me to an annual capital levy.

If the government would just be logical, and apply the security tax philosophy to the income tax, the government wouldn't have to worry about my old age at all. They could take me right off their minds.

Mind you, I'm not worrying about it anyway. I was brought up to believe that there's only one thing absolutely certain in life and that is that one eventually dies. Never having had the slightest feeling of security, it's a luxury that I do not miss. I prefer exhilaration to certainty, risk to dullness, danger to boredom, work to a job, and independence to a pension.

It seems to me that all this solicitude for human rights ought to include the voluntary right to live dangerously, just for those who happen to like it that way. It seems to be a basic human craving, in spite of all the talk about we're really engaged," Jackie had absolutely sold him on her idea. Since the night of the announcement party—and that kiss behind the banked flowers—Roger believed Jackie intended to marry him on his return.

"Certainly I'm not jealous!" Jackie flared. Just the same she did not like the other girl any better than she had from the first. "Except that I think I'm the one who should be going with you to the coast. But of course I'm only your fiancee, not a beautiful widow with millions of dollars to buy my way anywhere. It seems to me, Roger, she should be satisfied to stay here and wait, the same as I must do." This was an old argument, as Jackie had presented it every time she had an opportunity, during the past weeks. She knew very well that if Roger would tell Mrs. Meirose he thought it better for her to remain behind, instead of accompanying him to the coast, that she would consent. Roger had proved he could sell her on anything.

"After all, it's her ship," Roger reminded. "It's only natural she should want to go along. If it weren't for my arguments against it, Beryl would make the trial flight with me. She's that interested—and plucky."

"I suppose you told her it was much too dangerous for her!" Jackie said, with some bitterness. She was really getting fed up with Roger singing a steady chant to Beryl Meirose's courage. Jackie, if only she had had a million dollars—and her transcontinental license—would have had pluck enough to have accompanied Roger, too. In fact it was the sort of thing she dreamed of doing, but supposed she never would. Some people's dreams never did come true. They had to sit by and see other people—like Beryl—get away with them.

"It's too risky for any woman," Roger said. "But that wasn't my main argument. I want as light a load as possible to make the fastest possible speed. And—this may sound selfish—but somehow I want to feel I've done this all alone."

Jackie could understand that; it was the way she would want it, too. "See here," Roger changed the subject abruptly; he leaned toward her, his blue eyes earnest again. "There's something I want to give you, Jackie, before I go—that is, if you'll wear it." He looked as though he did not know quite how to say what he wanted to say; as though he still felt uncertain as to how Jackie would react to it.

She said, "What do you want me to wear?" carelessly, not prepared for what would come next. "You mean you will?" "Why not?" He looked at her another moment searchingly, direct. Then he unfastened the small aviation pin, symbol of his achievements, that he always wore clasped to his lapel. "I want you to wear it," he said, offering it to Jackie. "Until I come back... and if anything should happen... Well, I haven't anything else much to leave you, my love."

For once Jackie did not ask him not to call her that. He had said it in such a different way, not on that light note of mockery. He had said it as though he had meant it. But that had not been what made Jackie draw back. "No, no," she said. "I can't take it, Roger." This was going a bit too far with her joke. Somehow it might make the last laugh bitter-sweet.

"Why not?" "You told me you'd never fly without it—that it brings you luck." "It will bring me more, if you wear it for me this time." "I'd rather not." "Please do!" His tone was urgent, as though more than she knew depended upon it. "I can't give you a ring, or anything else, Jackie. Not until I get back. I want you to wear it. I'm asking you to."

"In that case..." Jackie reached out for it, but still reluctantly. "Here... let me pin it on you!" He was on his feet, bending over her, his fingers fumbling at the lapel of her coat—the lapel that was over her heart. His face, almost as flushed as her own, was close now, his eyes looking into hers a breathless moment. "To pledge our truth..." he said, in a voice curiously unlike his own. "Oh, here you are!" Another voice—Beryl Meirose's—broke in on them, shattering the moment as though it had been made of thin crystal, delicately wrought. Then she must have been aware that she had shattered something. A flash of pain swept her face, as though it had been something within herself. "I have been looking for you. I've got great news..." She sat down in the chair Roger had vacated, her manner poised as usual, her smile as gracious.

But Jackie had seen her face when it had been unguarded. She had seen that flash of pain. Somehow she could not feel as resentful toward this other girl now. Or as triumphant for herself. "We can take off in the morning," Beryl said now. "The weather's cleared. The bureau reports just came in, clear from the coast. No more waiting, Roger. Isn't that grand?"

"Swell!" Roger said briefly. But it was enough. His blue eyes, looking into Beryl's, were alight with the fire of all his dreams. He had forgotten Jackie's existence once more. This moment belonged just to Beryl.

3-DAY EVENT
TO BE STAGED

Homecoming Celebration
Idea Gets Hearty
Endorsement

Decision to stage a big homecoming celebration in Manistique July 2, 3 and 4 was made at a meeting of local citizens and club representatives Thursday evening at the courthouse here. The homecoming celebration is timed to coincide with the usual Independence Day observance here and to dedicate the completion of the municipal improvement project.

A general committee consisting of a representative of each of the organizations in the city has been formed to draft plans for the celebration. Organizations which will be represented include the Manistique city council, Schoolcraft county board of supervisors, Rotary club, Lions club, American Legion, Legion Auxiliary, Business and Professional Women's club, Women's club and Manistique Labor Council.

The general committee follows: Thomas Grimley, city council; P. H. Beauvais, board of supervisors; Fred Hahne, Rotary club; C. E. Underwood, Lions club; Helen Bert Waters, Women's club; Helen McLaughlin, B&PW club; Tod Monroe, American Legion; Lottie Weber, Legion Auxiliary; and Clarence Cowman, Labor Council.

A representative of the Rogers Producing company, W. C. Lemmon, was present at the meeting Thursday night, and explained how his company had successfully conducted celebrations in many other cities of the United States.

He suggested that a historical pageant, to be presented from different angles for three performances, form the background and main attraction of the celebration.

The general committee was scheduled to meet at three o'clock Friday afternoon at the city hall to consider the proposition offered by the representative of the producing company.

That thousands of out of town persons can be attracted to Manistique during a three-day homecoming celebration was the general belief expressed at the meeting Thursday evening.

The city's WPA program will be completed in time for the celebration, City Manager P. H. Beauvais declared.

U. P. High School

THEATRES

"Headin' East," Buck Jones' exciting action drama of a Westerner's invasion of New York's crime trust, ends its successful run at the Rialto Theatre tonight. Seen opposite ones in the leading feminine role is lovely Ruth Coleman, supported by Shemp Howard, Donald Douglas and Elaine Arden.

Second Feature
All the flaming color, the rowdy boisterous clamor of that lawless colony which sprang into being in the early days of the California gold rush of 1849 has been caught in "Barbary Coast," which had its local premiere at the Rialto Theatre last night, with Miriam Hopkins, Edward G. Robinson and Joel McCrea offering the finest performances of their respective careers.

Charles Arthur and Ben Hecht have woven a powerful and thrilling story of love and treachery in this morass of human passions.

NAME ZERVIC
CAGE CAPTAIN

Fine Talks Are Given at Lions Basketball
Banquet

Edward "Eddie" Zervic was named captain-elect of the 1938-39 Gladstone high school basketball team at the first annual Lions club basketball banquet on Thursday night. Zervic, a sophomore, plays forward. Inexperienced at the start he was one of the team's mainstays at the close of last season.

Rotarians were present at the dinner held in recognition of the team's efforts.

Letters were awarded to seven players including Zervic, Leland Gabe, Reuben Sjoquist, Harvey Holm, Walter Grob, Nick Sigau Jr., and Dick Frank. Phil Legault and Jack Willis also were guests. Judd Hymes, director of athletics at Western State Normal at Kalamazoo, and Herbert "Buck" Reed, basketball coach at Western, were the principal speakers and delivered excellent addresses.

Hymes said he was not so sure the score was the important part of the game and that if something bigger than scores and victories did not develop then the game was not worthwhile.

He declared the games to be a challenge to the boys to condition and keep in condition, to be a test of courage and developers of sportsmanship and cooperation.

One of the greatest challenges to youth is the wearing of the letter after it is won. Those wearing the letter show the standard of the community in which they receive the letter for their behavior reflects the standard of school and community life, Judd said.

Mr. Reed touching on basketball quoted Naimshitt, father of the game as saying "basketball is an easy game to play but a hard game to play well." He declared the recent speeding up of the game results only in harder training for the players and he does not expect to see it affect the health of the men to any extent.

The big games of next year are being won or lost now, Reed said, in pointing out that the men must be in shape to take advantage of opportunities when they arise.

He declared players to be entitled to praise but this should be limited.

Wm. S. Skellenger served ably as toastmaster. Leland Gabe, retiring captain, and Zervic, captain elect, both were heard in short talks.

STEEL BUYING HELPS PRICES

STOCK MARKET AVERAGES table with columns for various stock indices and their values.

BY FREDERICK GARDNER (Associated Press Financial Writer) New York, May 13 (AP)—Buying in steels today supported the stock market in the face of light offerings in utilities and other...

While closing losses ranged from fractions to a point or more, the principal steels and a few others emerged with small advances.

Brokers blamed the extension of yesterday's set-back mainly to profit selling by traders who wished to cash in pending signing of the tax revision bill...

The fact volume dwindled both yesterday and today when the trend was down, as against expanded dealings when the move was on the upside...

The conclusion liquidating pressure is far from urgent was drawn from the federal reserve figures disclosing a fall in brokers' loans of $47,000,000 for the week ended Wednesday...

Transfers totalled 604,950 shares compared with 598,044 the day before. The Associated Press average of 80 stocks was off 7 of a point at 40.6.

Steels attracted a timid following on the belief that, after the July seasonal shut-down, and the June flotation of U. S. Steel's $100,000,000 of debentures, more favorable attention will be given stocks in this group...

Motors were depressed as this week's output was placed at about 5,000 units less than the preceding week. The majority of rails yielded only small fractions in the face of last week's freight loadings which were of contra-seasonality.

Consolidated Edison contested the utility retreat, finishing with a gain of 1-8 of a point at 25 1/2. A shade higher were U. S. Steel at 44 7/8, Bethlehem 47 7/8, Republic 14 1/2, Cerro de Pasco 33 and United Aircraft 27 1/8.

In the eliding department were North American at 21, Electric Power & Light 10 3/4, Public Service of N. J. 31 1/2, General Motors 30 3/8, Chrysler 43 1/2, Sears Roebuck 37 1/2, American Smelting 27 1/2, American Telephone 131 1/2, Eastman Kodak 156, Du Pont 10 1/2, Westinghouse 77 7/8, Allied Chemical 149 and Johns-Manville 71 1/8.

Curb List Falls To Lower Levels

New York, May 13 (AP)—Backsliding utilities unsettled other groups in the curb market today and with few exceptions the list settled to lower levels.

Curb brokers attributed the offerings of power and light shares to profit taking as a result of the recent sharp runup in this group following a series of news developments which favored the industry.

American Gas & Electric, off at one time around 2 points, ended only 1 off at 29. Others closing mostly fractionally lower included American Light & Traction, Electric Bond & Share, Niagara Hudson and Northern States Power "A."

Aluminum Co. dropped 3 points on light offerings to 79. Pittsburgh & Lake Erie lost 1 1/2 at 42 and fractional declines were posted for Creole Petroleum, American Cyanamid "B" and Sherwin Williams.

Bucking the tide were Lake Shore Mines, up 1/2 at 4 3/4, Singer Manufacturing, up 4 at 234, and International Petroleum, up 1-8 at 26 1/8.

Transfers totalled 111,000 shares compared with 131,000 the day before.

SELLING ACTIVE IN RAIL LOANS

BOND MARKET AVERAGES table with columns for various bond indices.

New York, May 13 (AP)—The forward push in the bond market was slowed today by fairly active selling in rail loans.

It was assumed a considerable part of the offerings came from traders who had accumulated good profits on the April-May upturn. A peak was reached Wednesday with the Associated Press rail average showing a rise of about 8 points over the March low.

Other corporate groups fared better, although moderate losses predominated at the close. Some utilities which wavered yesterday resumed their climb and finished fractionally higher.

Buying interest was fostered by further optimistic comment on prospects for ending of conflict between the industry and federal government power authorities.

U. S. governments were mixed. Foreign obligations were generally higher.

Gainers included Radio-Keith-Norfolk at 68, up 1/2; National Dairy 3 1/2 at 100 3/8, up 1/8; Hiram Walker 4 1/2 at 105, up 1/4; Pennsylvania General 4 1/2 at 96, up 1/4; Bethlehem Steel 4 1/2 at 104, up 1/4.

Northern Pacific 4 1/2 were off 1/4 at 83; Southern Railway 4 1/2 down 1/4 at 34; Nickel Plate 4 1/2 down 1/4 at 3 1/2; New York Central 6 1/2 down 1/4 at 65 5/8; Southern Pacific 4 1/2 at 68 down 1/4 at 44 1/8.

Transactions totalled $6,043,925, face value, against $6,800,700 yesterday.

DAY'S MARKETS IN BRIEF

New York, May 13 (AP)—Stocks: Lower; utilities lead setback. Bonds: Easy; low-priced issues in supply.

Curb: Soft; utilities touch off light selling. Foreign Exchange: Quiet; Belgian francs sharply.

Cotton: Firm; better World Street demand; unfavorable rains. Sugar: Soft; hedge selling.

Coffee: Easy; European selling. Chicago: Wheat: Higher; unfavorable crop reports.

Eskymos Compete In District Track Meet Today

IRON MOUNTAIN IS HOST SCHOOL

Qualifiers Are Eligible to Enter Houghton Regionals

With a triangular meet victory to their credit, Escanaba high school's track team will compete today in the district meet to be held at Iron Mountain, meeting such teams as Iron Mountain, Kingsford, Menominee, Manistique and Iron River.

RESULTS LATE

Because of the fact that Iron Mountain is on slow time, the results of the district track meet will not be available at the Daily Press office until 6:30 o'clock. The Press would greatly appreciate it if fans did not call before that time for results.

The locals showed plenty of balance in defeating Menominee and Manistique here last week and hope that this same balance will enable them to ride to victory in the district. The heaviest opposition will come, it is expected, from Menominee and Iron Mountain.

Twenty two boys, Coaches Carl Nordberg and Henry Wylie and Student Manager Melvin Wicklander are making the trip.

Local entries in the meet will be as follows:

- 100 yd. dash—S. Abrahamson, R. Oulmette, R. Barron, K. Olson.
- 220 yd. dash—S. Abrahamson, K. Olson.
- 440 yd. dash—W. Olson, L. Skaug, L. Bryson.
- 880 yd. run—C. Johnson, M. Ptohenauer, J. Nyberg.
- 120 yard hurdles—A. Gardner, S. Schram, J. Olson, H. Meunier.
- 200 yard hurdles—R. Oulmette, A. Gardner, H. Meunier, I. Olson.
- 1 mile run—K. Dishno, G. Hurley, F. Leguia, B. Fisher.
- 880 relay—R. Oulmette, A. Gardner, R. Barron, S. Abrahamson.
- Shot put—W. Leonard.
- High jump—Abrahamson, R. Benette, Hurley.
- Broad jump—R. Oulmette, K. Olson, H. Meunier.
- Pole vault—R. Barron, R. Benette, T. Finch, L. Erickson.

Bob Villemure To Coach Munising

MUNISING, May 12 (UPSWA)—Robert (Bob) Villemure, former Newberry high school and Northern State Teachers' College star, will take over coaching duties at William G. Mather high school at Munising this fall.

Villemure, who will graduate from Northern in June, will replace Emil Peterson, who will become athletic director. Besides coaching, Villemure will teach mathematics.

Two Games Will Be Played Tomorrow At Perronville

A double header will be played at Perronville Sunday afternoon with four teams involved. In the opening game, which will start at 12:30 o'clock, Schaffer will play Perronville and in the second encounter Jam Dam plays Whitney.

SPILLING the DOPE

This interesting flashback into the basketball history of the Upper Peninsula comes from Gene Short of the Mining Journal, who is secretary of the Upper Peninsula Sportswriters Association:

"Netted because nothing has been mentioned in recent years about some of Negaunee's championship high school basketball teams of the past, a Negaunee fan now living in Detroit asks us to review their record. So here goes. From 1919 through the season of 1927 Negaunee high school quints won five upper peninsula championships. Over that span of years Negaunee played 149 games against upper peninsula schools (including tournament contests) and won 122 of them while losing but 27. Then, too, from the tail-end of the 1921 campaign until halfway through the 1923 season Negaunee remained undefeated, putting together a necklace of 30 consecutive victories.

"Probably the outstanding aggregation of the Miners was Coach Jack Carroll's 1922 crew, composed of Pulkinen and Scaplan, forwards; Fern, center; Sundquist and Lindstrom,

Famous Running Races

Cry of 'Eclipse Against the World' Prompts First Match Race

BY MAX RIDDLE
NEA Service Turf Writer
On the evening of May 22, 1823, at a fashionable hotel in New York, a company of gentlemen were seated at dinner. It was an occasion of unusual festivity, for a coterie of northern gentlemen were offering Col. W. R. Johnson, a notable horse owner and trainer of the south, the courtesies of the city. Of those courtesies, the colonel partook freely as he basked under the genial glow of good fellowship so lavishly radiated. Colonel Johnson was part owner of Sir Henry, the thoroughbred nominated by southern turfmen as their choice to race against American Eclipse, champion of the north, the very next day.

The next day, 60,000 people set forth for the Union Course, Long Island, where the first great national turf contest was decided. "In days of old, when men were bold" and men's blood ran hot, match races were the order of the day. Horse racing came as natural to that generation as baseball to ours, and in 1855, when Lexington came out to battle old Father Time himself, more than 50 match races had been run in America, every one of them for sizable bets.

In those days, no gentleman would think of matching his horse for any distance less than four miles, and then only in heat races, and one great race, in which Fashion ran, went four heats. The usual bet was $20,000 a side.

Eclipse Against the World

The great "National Race" was run in 1823, after a false start the previous year eliminated Sir Charles, which went lame after a heat, and was said by the northerners to have been "scared off the course."

After that, it was "Eclipse Against the World," specifically against any horse in the south. Every northern tavern carried the slogan as did beer wagons, harnesses, and public buildings. Skulls were cracked in arguments, and sectional differences flared.

John Randolph, the gallant Virginia statesman, wagered his estate against a trip to Europe on the southern entrant, Sir Henry. A trader wagered his entire cargo of 200 Negro slaves on the result. Eclipse won the second and third heats to take the race, the last heat being a neck and neck finish. So great was the interest that all mail leaving New York, scene of the race, carried a red flag (Eclipse's colors) and the slogan, "Eclipse Wins! Old Virginia's gettin' mighty tired."

The south scored by Bascombe defeated the northern champion, Post Boy, but in 1842 magnificent old Boston, hero of 35 victories and only three defeats, and many of them in four-mile heat races, came north to meet Fashion at the Union Course, Fashion, a truly wonderful mare with an amazing change of pace, had beaten Boston in his last start, but he had been far off form. The race was at four-mile heats for $20,000 a side.

Lexington Had to Battle Time

A crowd of 70,000 saw the race. About half of those had bought tickets on a railroad, but had to walk, or did not arrive until it was too late and much cracking of skulls.

Fashion had herself won six of seven starts, and she drove home her superiority over Boston by beating him in straight heats.

The eve of the Civil War brought a series of spectacular match races, the hero of which was Lexington, son of Boston.

Lexington had beaten Lecompte in the Great Post Stakes in New Orleans in 1853, but in 1855, Lecompte completely reversed the decision by winning in straight heats. In doing so he cut six seconds off the world record which Fashion had held.

Lexington then battled time for a $20,000 to $25,000 wager, and started the world by cutting more than six seconds, from the record, running four miles in 7:19 1/2.

In 1877, in Baltimore, "the terrible race horse" (that is, to the opposition), Parole, pride of Pierre Lorillard, whipped Ten Broeck, "King of the Turf." Ten Broeck had been named after the owner of Lexington, and he was considered the greatest horse in the world, although Aristides, the little red horse which won the first Kentucky Derby, was always his master.

Birth of the Garrison Finish

Parole, Ten Broeck, and Tom Ochiltree met in a little-advertised race, but their presence called out the largest crowd which had ever seen a regular race card at an American track. Even Congress adjourned in order to see the race. Parole won—it was a dash of 2 1/2 miles, with Ten Broeck second, and Tom Ochiltree distanced.

The 80s had produced a startling array of great horses, and the 90s began with a match between Salvator, successor to Ten Broeck's title, and Tenney, "the swayer back." The former had caught the public fancy as only Man o' War has caught it in our day. The great "dark American" Isaac Murphy, winner of three derbies, rode Salvator, while Snapper Garrison was on Tenney.

Garrison made one of the finishes which have been named after him, but his final rush with Tenney was not enough.

Menominee Fans Getting Excited Over Fernstrums

MENOMINEE, Mich., May 12—(UPSWA)—Identical twins—Ben and Bill Fernstrum—are providing Menominee high school sport fans with plenty of "hot stove leaguer" material in racing this year. The Fernstrums are leading the Maroons in one of its best track seasons in history.

They captured 25 points in the Peshtigo meet on April 30 and 21 points in a triangular meet at Escanaba the following Saturday. Ben runs in the century and fulling and broad jumps while Bill does the quarter and high jump. To top things off, they ran two legs on the half mile relay team which has hit 1:36.0 this year and bids fair to walk off with everything in its class.

Last Saturday in running the 440 yard dash in :54.0, Bill came within one half second of tying the Upper Peninsula record established by Herman Mieth of Escanaba more than a decade ago.

OPENER TAKEN BY TIGERS, 7-5

Three St. Louis Pitchers Raked By Bengals for 14 Hits

BY DALE STAFFORD
Detroit, May 13 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers found their home surroundings and Friday the thirteenth to their liking today as they banged out 14 hits for 22 bases to score a 7 to 5 victory over the St. Louis Browns in the opening contest of a three-game series.

Even though the victory was scored over a last place club, the win was welcome to Detroit. It kept the Tigers at the top of the second division and came as a relief after an extended road tour that could not be called an exact success from the Detroit standpoint.

Gill Goes Route

George Gill, right hander who has been troubled by illness this spring, went the route for the Tigers as he hurled his first victory of the year. He gave 11 hits and was highly effective in the first six innings during which he allowed but one run—that one unearned. He weakened in the closing frames but possessed enough stuff to check the Browns in the ninth when they had the tying runs on the bases.

Elden Walkup, Julio Bonetti and Howard Mills tolled for St. Louis, the first named being charged with the defeat as he granted 12 hits in the first five and one-third innings.

The Browns got away fast in the first when Roy Hughes doubled after one was out. Harland Clift laid down a bunt for a single and Hughes scored when Don Ross threw the ball away.

Gehring Starts It

Detroit filled the bases with none out in the second but failed to score as Jo-Jo White popped and Walker lined into a double play.

The Tigers got out in front to stay in the third, Gehring, who got three hits to boost his average to .313, started with a single. Hank Greenberg grounded to Red Kress who tried for a force at second, Hughes dropping the ball.

Pete Fox forced Greenberg but when Hughes threw wildly to first, trying for a double play, Gehring scored. George Tebbetts and Ross singled, Fox scoring on the latter hit.

Detroit chased Walkup in the sixth with a three run assault that opened with Walker's triple to center after one was out. Gehring doubled to right and Greenberg walked. Fox lashed out a hit against the screen in left, Mazera just touching the ball as Gehring scored and Greenberg moved to third. Walkup departed in favor of Bonetti. Tebbetts bounced to Kress, who appeared to have Greenberg caught. In the rundown Sullivan made a throw that struck Hank in the back and the Tiger scored. Ross then forced Fox, Rogell walked and Gill grounded out.

Michigan Southpaw Beats Buckeyes, 6-0

Ann Arbor, Mich., May 13 (AP)—Southpaw Herman Fishman pitched shutout baseball today as Michigan defeated Ohio State, 6 to 0, to score its second Big Ten victory of the season.

Fishman, a senior from Detroit yielded five hits, struck out seven teammates collected eight hits off Mark Kilmar. Three errors by Maurice Haas, Buckeye shortstop and five bases on balls off Kilmar aided the Wolverines.

Basketball Will Have Change Of Pace, Says Read, Western Coach

Elimination of the center jump, Read said, is lack of delay. Some coaches, he said, think the game is too fast without the delay of the jump. Read, however, said he believes next year will find the teams settling down to sober reflection and discovering that the game can be as deliberate as it always was.

Read and Judson A. Hyames, athletic director at Western State, were in Escanaba yesterday as part of their tour of Upper Peninsula cities in the interests of the school.

"A change of pace in basketball," said Read, "may be the result of the elimination of the center jump. If coaches are successful, you will see teams using a fast break and slow game alternately. My team of two years ago, which was one of the best I have ever produced, unconsciously played that way and the crowd loved it. They would display a burst of speed for a few minutes and then lapse into a slow, easy style. Just when the crowd would relax, they would open up with another whirlwind attack. I confess I don't know if ordinary college teams can handle that type of game but it is very effective when used right."

Lack of Delay Scored

The one objection to the elimination of the center jump, Read said, is lack of delay. Some coaches, he said, think the game is too fast without the delay of the jump. Read, however, said he believes next year will find the teams settling down to sober reflection and discovering that the game can be as deliberate as it always was.

Hyames, who now is devoting his full time to athletic directorship, became famous as a baseball coach at Western State. While at the helm, he produced some of the best college stars in the country, several of them getting into organized ball. This year, he relinquished the reins to his understudy, Charles Maher. Hyames was signed by the New York Giants several years ago but quit the game because he objected to playing ball on Sundays.

Hyames told of extensive improvements being made to the athletic plant at Western State this year and expressed optimism at the outlook for the coming year. Western State, he said, is the largest teachers college in the United States with the exception of Columbia.

Read and Hyames are honorary officials at the district track meet at Iron Mountain today.

Ten Colts And Filly Ready For Preakness

Baltimore, May 13 (AP)—Anafame, only filly named to contest for tomorrow's $70,000 Preakness prize, was stricken late today with coughing spells and will not start.

Withdrawal of William Woodward's filly cut the field to 10 for the 48th running of the mile and three-sixteenths classic which offers the richest pot of gold to 3-year-olds.

BY ORLO ROBERTSON
Baltimore, May 13 (AP)—The Preakness, second of the turf's spring classics comprising the "triple crown," will be run for the 48th time tomorrow with ten colts and a lone filly primed to test speed and stamina over Pimlico's mile and three-sixteenths for the three-year old division's richest pot of gold.

Although robbed of some of its interest by the absence of Lawrin, Kentucky Derby winner, a 2-d Staghound, future book favorite, the race figures to attract a near record crowd of 45,000 to the picturesque course.

CUBS FUMBLE AND LOSE, 4-1

Pirates Put Game Away With 3-Run Assault In Tenth Inning

Chicago, May 13 (AP)—Charley Grimm and his Chicago Cubs "board of strategy" fumbled one today and the Pittsburgh Pirates came through with a 4 to 1 tenth-inning victory in the series opener.

Given a "life" when Grimm not only elected to let Larry French hit, with two on and one out in the last half of the ninth inning, but also ordered the pitcher to sacrifice, the Shucs bombarded French to the benches with a three-run assault in the first of the tenth to put the game away.

The score had been tied 1-1 on the strength of Tony Lazzeri's homer in the second inning, and a Pittsburgh run in the eighth on a walk, a sacrifice and Johnny Rizzo's single.

Opening the final half of the ninth, Joe Marty fanned, but Phil Cavarretta and Gaby Hartnett followed with consecutive singles. French sacrificed but, although the runners advanced, it resulted in two outs and made a base hit necessary to score. The hit was not forthcoming as Stan Hack lined to Rizzo.

Opening the tenth, Bill Brubaker, who played first base in the revamped Pittsburgh lineup in which Gus Suhr and Paul Waner were benched, singled. Mace Brown sacrificed and Leo Handley singled to score Bruber. After Lloyd Waner was retired, Grimm ordered an intentional walk to Rizzo to get at Arky Vaughan, who obliged with a run-producing hit. Charley Root then replaced French and Al Todd singled the third run across.

Pullmans to Be Used On Golf Tour Due To Congestion In Hotels

At the suggestion of the hotel operators, the Happiness Tours, Inc., will use sleeping cars to house the patrons of the all-expense golf tours to be conducted to Upper Peninsula golf courses during July and August, according to word received yesterday from J. Stuart Rotchford, president of the Chicago travel service agency.

Hotels in the Upper Peninsula cities, designated on the route of the "golf trains," are crowded during the height of the tourist season, and the operators expressed fears that they would not be able to furnish satisfactory accommodations to the visiting golfers. It was explained by Mr. Rotchford, however, that the golf tour party would stop for meals at the hotels and restaurants in each community.

The Happiness Tours, Inc., which has run special trains to all parts of the United States, Canada, Alaska and Mexico, is optimistic over the prospects for the golf tours. The special trains would be started out of Chicago each Saturday night during the two months, with the first stop on Sunday at Marinette-Menominee. Other stops for playing golf would be as follows: Monday, Escanaba; Tuesday, Ishpeming-Negaunee-Marquette; Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Copper Country; and Saturday, Iron Mountain.

Mr. Rotchford will return to the Upper Peninsula in about a week to complete arrangements for the tour. He will confer with golf club and chamber of commerce officials at Menominee, Marinette and Iron Mountain on the return trip.

Malcum Lund, former Escanaba, representing the Bessell & Jacobs Advertising Agency, Chicago, stopped for a brief visit in Escanaba last night while enroute from a swing around the northern part of the peninsula to make arrangements for Happiness Tours, Inc. Mr. Lund's firm handles the advertising for the travel agency.

Full cooperation was pledged by the golf clubs and civic interests of Ishpeming, Negaunee and Marquette in financing their share of the printing of the 50,000 folders, advertising the golf excursions.

A similar pledge was made in Escanaba. Mr. Lund explained the proposal to a group of business and professional men, representing the Copper Country, yesterday, and indications were that similar cooperation would be given there.

The golf trains are expected to bring from 150 to 200 golfers weekly into the Upper Peninsula. The trains will be run over the Chicago and North Western, Du-luth & South Shore, and Milwaukee Road.

Msgr. Buchholtz To Celebrate 40 Years As Priest

Marquette — Sunday, May 15, members of St. Peter's cathedral parish will join their pastor, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Henry A. Buchholtz, P.A., V.G., in a mass of thanksgiving, the occasion being the fortieth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood.

He will be the celebrant of a Pontifical high mass at 10:15 Sunday morning. The mass will be offered in the presence of the Most Rev. Joseph C. Piagnoni, D.D., L.L.D., bishop of Marquette, who also will preach the sermon. Monsignor Buchholtz will be assisted by local members of the clergy.

The jubilarian was born in Escanaba June 20, 1874, a son of Jacob and Catherine Buchholtz, both of whom are dead. He attended St. Joseph's parochial school and then pursued his studies at St. Francis seminary, Milwaukee, Wis., and at St. Mary's seminary, Cincinnati, Ohio, where he finished his course in theology. On May 15, 1898, in St. Joseph's church, Escanaba, the Most Rev. John Vertin, then the bishop of Marquette, ordained him to the priesthood.

SNOOZE WALLOP GIVEN TO MANN

New York, May 13 (AP)—Two-ton Tony Galento, the barrel-shaped gent from Jersey, knocked out Nathan Mann, New Haven, Conn., heavyweight, in the second round of a ten round bout at Madison Square Garden tonight. The pudgy Galento weighed 232; Mann, 191 1/2. Tony connected solidly with only four punches in the two rounds the fight lasted, but each of them nearly took Mann's head off. The Connecticut youngster was counted out as he rested on one knee near Galento's corner at two minutes, four seconds of the second round.

He was scored early in the session for a nine-count when Galento crashed a left hook, a straight right, and another left against his chin, but managed to weather that storm. Less than a minute later, however, Tony flattened him with another left hand crash, and Referee Arthur Donovan tolled the full ten over him.

To the crowd of 9,190, primed for Tony's customary antics, but expecting the favored Mann to finish on top, the finish came with startling suddenness. Mann had taken the first round easily, by slowing Tony down with lefts to his roly-poly midsection, and then shooting sharp rights to the face, and he appeared to be going at the same speed as the second opened.

Fast as a Truck
But Tony went to work at about the one-minute mark of the frame by backing Natie against the ropes and firing his big left fist, which resembles nothing so much as one of the beer kegs Tony keeps in an Orange, N. J., drinking place. Mann started to slide downward when the punch landed in his face, and he kept right on sliding as Tony tossed a right and followed it up with a half-uppercut with the left.

It was Tony's first main-event fight in the Garden, and he put on a good show, what there was of it. He walked in with both hands down and swinging and his chin open and inviting target. Mann found this target handy in the first heat, and had Galento's nose bleeding before the fight was two minutes old.

This apparently angered the Newark nightstick and he barged in without a care for conventions. As a result, the referee had to warn him twice, once for hitting on the break, and again for tossing a blow or two after the bell sounded ending the round.

Tony did all that was asked of him in the fight, which he hopes will further his campaign for a meeting with Champion Joe Louis. However, he still leaves himself

Revamped Athletics Halt Yankees, 8 to 6

New York, May 13 (AP)—Connie Mack shook up his woeful Athletics' lineup for their 1938 debut in Yankee Stadium, and the revamped set-up clicked for an 8 to 6 victory over the Yankees.

The defeat, second in a row for the world champions, dropped the Yanks into a tie for third place in the American League.

A big five-run seventh-inning put the game on ice for the Mackmen, who tagged Monte Pearson, Bump Hadley and Lee Stine for 15 hits. Featuring the big frame was Wally Moses' homer with a mate on base.

Homers In Ninth Set Indians Back

Cleveland, May 13 (AP)—Only an inning stood between Cleveland's Indians and a jump back to first place today—but Chicago hammered home three runs in the ninth to down the Tribe, 7 to 6, and shove them into a third place tie with New York.

Chicago combined the last three of its eleven hits with a walk and a wild throw for the winning tally. Steinbacher's single brought in the tying run and Kreevich scored the deciding tally when Pyltak, Cleveland catcher, threw wild to third.

Hal Trosky, Cleveland first sacker, drove out his fourth home run of the season in the second.

Cafes and Taverns To Be Graded Upon Their Cleanliness
By CHARLES NEGGEMAN Sanitary Engineer, Schoolcraft-Alger Health Unit

With the inspection of taverns and restaurants well in progress, we wish to call the attention of the public to the grading by the health department of taverns and restaurants.

Restaurants will either be approved or not approved. Those that are approved will receive a card from the Health Department stating such, and this will be displayed in a conspicuous place.

If a restaurant is once approved by the Health Department that does not mean that it will always remain so, unless they maintain their standard of sanitation. Any approved restaurant or tavern, which, upon the inspection, is not found to be clean and sanitary will have the sign removed.

However, in case an unapproved restaurant or tavern is found in the inspection to have cleaned up, it will be given an approval sign and placed on the approved list.

With the cooperation of the public, the work in food establishment sanitation can go a long way. If patrons of restaurants and taverns will remark to the owners about having or not having approval signs, the owners will be more apt to keep his place at a high degree of cleanliness or if not up to standard fix it up so he can get an approval sign. The success of this program depends not alone on the Health Department but upon the whole community.

Theatres
AT THE DELFT
A Frotola comedy with music— and Carlos Lombard and Fernand Gravel—is "Fools for Scandal," the Delft's newest offering which was served up to a more than well-pleased audience last night.

As if gorgeous Miss Lombard, she of the mad antics, were not enough, the picture should really teach the famme fans how to say Fernand Gravel (it's Gravel in the billing). The handsome French musical star, making his second American appearance—the first was in "The King and the Chorus Girl."

"The Daredevil Drivers," the film story of an intense rivalry between two bus companies had its first showing yesterday at the Delft theatre and proved extremely entertaining to the several audiences.

Once again Beverly Roberts has the part of a business girl. She is manager of one of the warring concerns. She did splendidly in "God's Country and the Woman last year. In "The Daredevil Drivers," Dick Purcell is her leading man. He is an automobile race driver whose car gets smashed up while he is on his way from one track to another.

"What's the score, Big Chief?"
"Ugh, heap bad—no hits, no runs, no arrows."

Annual Meeting Of W.H.M. Society Opened Thursday

The 24th annual convention of the Women's Missionary society of the Superior Conference began Thursday afternoon at two o'clock at St. Alban's church, with 46 delegates and visitors present.

The singing of a hymn, "Praise the Lord" opened the session, followed by devotions led by Mrs. V. E. Ryding.

Committees were appointed and greetings from the local congregation were extended by Mrs. Scott Creighton, and greetings from the district by Mrs. Verner T. Matson. Announcements were made and reports read by the various officers.

The following program followed:
Hymn, "The Morning Light is Breaking."
Selection, "List to His Voice," by the ladies' quartette, Mrs. Nye, Mrs. Creighton, Miss Edith Stoor and Miss Marie Ahlstrom.

"Open Doors on the Home Missionary Field," Miss Lillian Carlson.
"Sing to the Lord," ladies' quartette.
"Open Doors," district chairman, Mrs. Simon Bolin, Mrs. Albert Stenstrom, Mrs. V. E. Ryding, Miss Ruth Berquist.

Solo, Mrs. Verner Matson. Announcements and benediction.

A "jumping bean" is not a bean at all. It is one of the three divisions of the fruit of spurge, a Mexican plant.

Mr. and Mrs. George Banhart of Milwaukee arrived Thursday for a several day visit here with friends.

Mrs. Margaret Jones has returned to her home in Sault Ste. Marie following a several day visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Wendland.

Mrs. William Laux and Herman Klieft have returned from New York City where they attended the funeral services for their brother, Max Klieft.
