IL DUCE TOLD BRITAIN WILL BACK FRANCE

Paris, May 19. (AP)—France and Great Britain warned Premier Mussolini of Italy today they stood shoulder to shoulder despite efforts to separate them.

Il Duce's latest demands for signing an Italo-French friendship agreement were rejected and the byword in official quarters in Paris tonight was: "Now it is up to Mussolini; he knows our answers."

Warclouds Darken The deadlock in efforts to reach an accord paralleling the Anglo-Italian pact of April 16 was believed in many quarters here to have put southern Europe back under the same warclouds that hung over it in the early part of the year.

Premier Edouard Daladier himself made a statement referring to the reinforced Anglo-French bloc.

At the same time, Lord Perth, British ambassador in Rome, was reported to have told Italian Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano that the Anglo-Italian agreement was worthless without an Italo-French accord.

Daladier's reference to Anglo-French solidarity came in a surprise statement in which he declared France alone could defend her frontiers against "all attempts at violence."

Demands Listed "The London conversations (of April 28-29)," he said, "reinforced the Franco-British entente—an entente which threatens nobody, which on the contrary is a means toward European peace."

(Cooperation between Britain and France was strengthened in conferences in London among Daladier and his foreign minister, Georges Bonnet, and British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain and his foreign secretary, Viscount Halifax.)

Il Duce's main demands for signing an accord with France—and the replies—were reported as follows:

Mussolini: France must close her Pyrenees frontier with Spain before Italian troops fighting in the civil war will be withdrawn.

The reply: France will close the frontier only after the Italians leave Spain.

Mussolini: Italy will conscript troops in Ethiopia unless France promises not to recruit troops in her colonial empire.

The reply: France refused and issued an order recruiting 60,000 additional colonial soldiers.

Frontiers Protected Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet Russian foreign commissar, still was in Paris tonight, determined to keep a way open for passage of arms and ammunition into government Spain as long as Italy keeps her troops with the insurgents.

Daladier's statement France alone was capable of defending herself followed the new recruiting order in the colonies and strengthening of anti-aircraft defenses at Tarbes, Toulouse and other points on the French-Spanish frontier.

"Whatever the circumstances," he said, "France is capable of as-

Arntzen Flies Through to Soo

Lieut. Walter Arntzen, shown above at the controls of his Stinson-Detroler monoplane, flew through to Sault Ste. Marie yesterday afternoon with the first airmail flight of the Upper Peninsula. Three other Upper Peninsula pilots, scheduled to carry the mail in National Airmail Week flights, were grounded at Marquette when the "ceiling" dropped to 100 feet. Arntzen encountered mist and rain on his flight to the Soo, but the "ceiling" remained high enough to permit safe flying. The picture above was made shortly after Lieut. Arntzen landed at the local airport at 5 o'clock last night after completing the round trip to the Soo. Additional pictures of the flight, made by a Daily Press photographer who accompanied Arntzen, may be found on page five of this issue.

Local Flier Completes Mail Hop; Three Planes Grounded at Marquette

Bad flying weather bogged down three of the Upper Peninsula's four one-day National Airmail Week flights scheduled for yesterday, but Lieut. Walter Arntzen's flight No. 4 went through to Sault Ste. Marie almost on schedule. Stops were made to pick up and discharge pouches at Menominee, Escanaba, Gladstone, Manistique, Blaney and Newberry.

Pilots Sigard Wilson of Marquette, Norman Schaffer of Ontonagon and Mario Fontana of Iron Mountain were grounded at Marquette by postoffice authorities when the weather became too bad for flying.

Bucking a 17-mile head wind all the way, Lieut. Arntzen maintained his 100 miles per hour schedule until the last hop from Newberry to Sault Ste. Marie. He lost 20 minutes awaiting the other flyers at Newberry, and arrived at the Soo 20 minutes behind schedule.

The flight carried about 150 pounds of airmail into Sault Ste. Marie, and an additional 100 pounds was picked up and distributed at the six stops enroute.

Ceiling Is Low The low ceiling, which closed Marquette airport to flying, kept Arntzen's Stinson monoplane near the ground as it pushed through the wet weather. Visibility was poor, and most of the round trip was made under the 500-foot level. Arntzen reported that the worst spot on the trip was at the mouth of Cedar river on the Escanaba-Menominee hop, when mist forced him down to 100 feet.

Rain was encountered at spots on the northward trip, and it rained steadily on the return flight from Newberry south. The trip down from the Soo was made in 1 hour and 25 minutes, with no stops enroute.

Leaving Escanaba at 9:25 yesterday morning, Arntzen set the monoplane down at the Menominee airport at 8:50 o'clock. All mail was ready to go at 10:50.

QUADRUPLETS, 8, CATCH MEASLES Birthday Party Marred for Four Morlocks at Lansing, Mich.

Lansing, May 19. (AP)—The measles blighted the Morlok quadruplets' eighth birthday celebration today.

The big day found three of them in bed suffering from the ailment, the fourth convalescing but up and around. They had a birthday cake, but the cake had no candles on it because the attending physician feared the light would hurt their eyes. For the first time in their lives no newspaper cameramen were around to take their birthday pictures, because the blinding flash-bulbs were forbidden.

Edna A. first born of the quads, also was the first measles victim. It spread to Wilma B. and Sarah C. who were born in the order in which they were initiated, then Helen D. the "youngest," joined them on the sick list.

Mrs. Carl A. Morlok, the mother, said the girls "don't mind it much—but they don't think much about parties." She said they were more concerned about whether the illness would affect them so far behind in their school work that they would fail to advance from 2A grade to the 3B in their public school.

Sound Movies Used On Drunken Driver

Detroit (AP)—A double feature billing of sound movies was 50 per cent successful in traffic court Thursday. Judge Thomas F. Maher convicted Earl E. Churchill, 37, of a charge of drunken driving after admitting as evidence sound movies police had taken of Churchill immediately after his arrest. Judge Maher acquitted Joseph L. Florence, 54, however, after Florence's attorney contended that the films forced a man to testify against himself. Churchill had no attorney.

NEW DEAL UP AS BIG ISSUE OF ELECTIONS

PENNSYLVANIA WILL BE BATTLEGROUND OF 2 PARTIES

Philadelphia, May 19. (AP)—Manifest concern in Pennsylvania's primary election developments by the high commands of both major parties marked the state tonight as a prospective major battleground in November with the new deal a clear-cut issue.

President Roosevelt, James A. Farley, Democratic national chairman, and John D. M. Hamilton, chairman of the Republican national committee, were quick to note the outcome of Tuesday's record-breaking vote.

The virtually complete count in important contests showed:

Democratic For governor (8,039 of 8,075 districts): Charles A. Jones, Pittsburgh lawyer, endorsed by the state committee, 585,740.

Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy, supported by CIO Leader John L. Lewis, Senator Joseph Guffey, and recommended by Farley, 519,806.

Charles J. Margiotti, former state attorney general, dismissed by Governor Earle, 171,564.

For U. S. senator (8,023 districts): Governor Earle, state committee candidate recommended by Farley, 768,602.

S. Davis Wilson, mayor of Philadelphia, Guffey-Lewis candidate, 329,975.

Republican For governor (8,048 districts): Judge Arthur H. James of state superior court, back by most Republican organization leaders, 932,563.

Gifford Pinchot, twice governor, 441,104.

For U. S. senator (7,979 districts): Senator James J. Davis, 792,214.

G. Mason Owlett, national committee man and state senator, 440,393.

Flight From Arctic Kills Russian Ace And 3 Passengers

Moscow, May 19. (AP)—Tass (official Russian news agency) reported today M. S. Babushkin, one of Russia's foremost fliers, and three other persons were killed Monday in an airplane crash on a flight from the Arctic region to the mainland of Soviet Russia.

Twelve other persons aboard the big four-motored plane were injured when it fell into a river near Archangel while enroute from Franz Josef Land, where the Russians maintain an outpost in the polar basin.

The passengers presumably included some who passed the winter on the islands which served as a base for the fruitless search for Sigismund Leyanefsky and five companions who disappeared on a flight from Moscow to the United States last August 13.

Babushkin was among eleven Russian fliers who crossed the north pole last May in carrying on a program of polar exploration by airplane. For that achievement he received the title of hero of the Soviet Union.

TAX REDUCTION PLAN PROPOSED

Vandenberg Would Give Employers Exemption for Profit Sharing

Washington, May 19. (AP)—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) said today that a senate committee authorized to investigate systems of sharing profits between employers and labor would explore the possibilities of "incentive tax reductions."

Federal tax exemptions might be made on the dividends paid employees under a voluntary profit-sharing plan, he suggested in an interview. These exemptions, Vandenberg added, could be the government's contribution toward establishing a system which he said he believed would do much to bring about industrial peace.

In the Land of the Red Buck!

A yearling buck deer startled Escanabans along Ludington street at 8:45 o'clock last evening when it dashed along the 600 and 700 block and plunged through the heavy plate glass in the door of the A&P store at 712 Ludington street.

The deer was cornered in the back room of the store by Police Chief Eltenhofer, Tom Goertel and Joseph Greiner, shown with him, and tied up. Where the deer came from is not known but it was first reported by Gene Wilson, who saw it flash past the door of her home in the 600 block of Ludington as she stepped onto the sidewalk. The deer continued west up the street dodging automobiles until it was struck by a machine in the 700 block, then it turned north crossed the street and leaped through the 3/8 inch glass of the door. Perhaps the animal was hungry and was heading for the tub of celery near which it was finally downed.

The conservation department was notified and Officers Clare Farwell and Willard Schwartz took the young buck and after examining it released it in the woods along M-35 south of the city. In jumping through the glass the buck sustained a gash on its neck and its antlers were broken off near the base. While it lost some blood, the officers were of the opinion that it would soon recover.

The deer was the fourth to be seen in the city within the past ten days. Three others were killed when struck by automobiles within the city limits.

Steel Magnate Offers 7-Point Recession Cure

Charleston, W. Va., May 19. (AP)—Ernest T. Weir, steel magnate, advocating a seven-point recovery program tonight, predicted "men wanted" signs again would hang on factory gates if the Roosevelt administration changed its policies "to aid and encourage private enterprises."

In an address entitled "this government-created depression," the outspoken chairman of the National Steel Corporation suggested to the West Virginia chamber of commerce this program for recovery.

"Restore confidence by an unqualified pledge to retain unaltered the principles and structure of the American systems of business and of government."

"Declare a permanent policy with regard to basic economic control."

"Amend tax laws to eliminate punitive and crippling provisions."

"Amend the labor laws so they shall be fair and apply with equal force to the employer, all employees and all labor organizations."

"Remove threats of government competition such as the one over-hanging utilities."

MURPHY SEEKS AID FROM PWA

Federal Agency Asked to Take Over Michigan's Hospital Program

Lansing, May 19. (AP)—Telegraphing Washington with a plea that the PWA take over Michigan's hospital program, Governor Murphy today proposed that the original $5,486,000 program approved by the legislature be increased to $11,335,000.

Murphy submitted two alternative plans to federal authorities. Under one, the federal government would build the hospitals at its own expense and lease them to the state. Under the second, the government would donate 45 per cent of the cost of adding 5,000 beds to existing state institutions.

The governor's request embodied a plea that the government not only take over the original $5,486,000 program to add 2,600 beds to existing institutions, but to extend the program to add another 2,400 beds at a cost of $5,728,000.

The extensions suggested by Murphy included: Newberry state hospital—$150,000 for school and auditorium.

Detroit-Soo Plane Service May Start Regular Run July 1

Detroit, May 19. (AP)—Regular air service between Detroit and Sault Ste. Marie will be inaugurated July 1 if Pennsylvania Central Airlines receives a government contract to carry the mail, company officials announced today.

The company, the only remaining contender for the airmail contract, has bid a maximum of 33 1-3 cents a mile for the 310-mile route to Sault Ste. Marie. The only other bid, submitted by R. Stuart Weeks, of Port Huron, was lower but was rejected by the postoffice department because it allegedly was not drawn up in legal form.

Postoffice officials in Washington said the Pennsylvania Central had been submitted to the interstate commerce commission, as required by law, and that a week or 10 days would elapse before the contract could be awarded.

Leslie Arnold, assistant to the president of PCA, said the company would install radio equipment and use a twin-motored plane similar to those now used by the line, for the flights. He said all necessary steps to installation of the service, with stops at Flint, Bay City and Cheboygan, could be completed in two weeks.

Arnold said tentative plans call for departure from Detroit at 8 a. m. daily and arrival at the Sault at 10:30 a. m. The southbound flight would leave the Sault about 4 p. m. and arrive in Detroit about 8:30 p. m., Arnold said.

J. J. O'Donovan, PCA vice-president in charge of traffic, estimated one-way fare between Detroit and the northern terminal would cost between $16 and $20, with a 10 per cent reduction for a round-trip ticket. On summer week-ends, he said, two flights might be made daily.

Portland, Ore., May 19. (AP)—The position of John L. Lewis, CIO chairman, and the unofficial participation of a new deal cabinet member and a senator will receive a test tomorrow in the Oregon primary election.

More than half a million Republicans and Democrats will select candidates for governor, short and regular terms in the United States senate, and three congressmen.

The Democratic contest for governor between stocky, white-haired Governor Charles H. Martin, former congressman and retired major general, and Henry Hess, former state senator from LaGrange, eclipsed all other races.

The governor, criticized by Interior Secretary Harold Ickes and Senator George W. Norris (Ind.-Neb.), closed his campaign by reaffirming his loyalty to the administration. He attacked bitterly Ickes' statement to Hess that he (Martin) was at heart "no new dealer." He was equally resentful of Norris' remark that he was "disappointed" in the governor and urged Oregon farmers to vote for Hess.

Martin, spearhead of a law and order campaign to curb labor violence, described Hess' endorsement by the Oregon Commonwealth Federation as proof that he was a Lewis candidate.

"Send the Corcorans, the Cohens and their kind back where they came from. Cease attacks on business. Provide a leadership under which all the people can unite."

Mrs. Barker Hears Witnesses Tell Of Belleville Shooting

Detroit, May 19. (AP)—Mrs. Julia M. Barker, accused of first degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Mrs. Edith Mae Cummings, her former friend and business associate, sat impassively in circuit court today and heard seven witnesses tell of finding the body of Mrs. Cummings lying face downward in blood-stained snow near Belleville, Mich., last January 15.

Only once during today's session did the once-wealthy real estate operator display emotion. She clutched her chair and leaned forward tensely as Lyle Cottingham, Belleville milkman, described the discovery of Mrs. Cummings' body. Cottingham was one of three witnesses who testified they were called to the death scene by Mrs. E. Evelyn Foscha. Mrs. Foscha told the court she ran for help when from the doorway of her farm, she saw a woman beating and kicking a second woman.

UNIONS SERVE NOTICE; WAGE CUTS OPPOSED

AID FOR CARRIERS MAY BE HELD UP BY CONGRESS

Washington, May 19. (AP)—Railroad labor unions served notice today that a nationwide strike would be the "only ultimate result" if the roads carried out intentions to cut wages.

The workers' opposition to the projected 15 per cent pay cut won powerful support in congress, where a movement developed to withhold emergency financial aid from the carriers unless they agreed to maintain existing wage levels.

Bill Called Back

At the request of Chairman Wagner (D-NY) of the banking committee, the senate sent back to the committee legislation which would provide federal loans for the roads. Wagner said several members of the committee wanted to change the bill to prohibit federal loans to carriers that forced wage cuts.

The Wagner group previously had approved the bill in its present form but the New Yorker said the action was taken before the wage issue entered the picture.

The unions' strike threat was contained in a statement by the Railway Labor Executives' association.

Won't Accept Reduction

Charging that railroad management had "double-crossed" its organized employees, the statement declared:

"If the railroad managements insist on going through with their attempt to cut employees' wages 15 per cent, the only ultimate result will be a nation-wide strike.

"The railroad workers of America, already grossly underpaid, simply will not accept a wage reduction of any kind. They have already been heavy sufferers from the railroads' policy of putting the payment of interest to wealthy bondholders above decent living standards for their employees."

The labor executives said they would observe the railway labor act, which provides machinery for adjusting disputes, before they resorted to a strike, but added:

"If the railroads cannot be convinced that a wage reduction is not only unjustified, but is absolutely dangerous to the economic structure of this nation, it will be necessary for the railroad employees to use their economic strength to save the railroad industry from committing social suicide and dragging other industries along with it."

"In Bad Faith"

The statement indicated the unions would oppose the federal financial support, which they previously had united with management in asking, unless the wage cut proposal were abandoned.

"Railroad labor wants to cooperate with management in solving the industry's problem," the statement asserted. "But the workers will not stand for being the goat. Railroad labor was engaged in such cooperative movement at the time the railroads served their official notices of the proposed wage cut."

"In doing this, the railroads acted in bad faith. They double-crossed labor when they served this wage reduction notice because railway management and workers had reached an understanding that no such notice would be served while the workers were cooperating with management in seeking financial re-

Foul Ball Claims Life of Child, 4

Detroit, May 19. (AP)—A sharp foul down first base line from the bat of a sandlot baseball player today took the life of four-year-old Norma Jean Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stewart, of Detroit.

The child had wandered from her home to a nearby corner lot and was watching a group of neighborhood boys playing ball. The ball struck her near the heart. A fire department rescue squad worked futilely half an hour to revive her.

FARMERS' UNION MEETING HELD

Co-operative Marketing Discussed at Session in Bark River

Bark River, May 19—A group of 75 enthusiastic farmers drove through rain and mud to attend the first of a series of meetings sponsored here by Local No. 302 of the Farmers' Educational and Cooperative Union. Eugene Derocher, president of the local, presided.

C. M. Rovainen, educational director of the Marquette District Cooperative Federation, led the discussion on the problem of "Real Farm Income." The title of his talk was marketing and he included in his remarks not only a discussion of the selling of farm products but also of purchasing the things which could not be produced on the farm.

"The farmers constitute 25 per cent of the population of the United States and they receive nine per cent of the national income; the farmer receives on the average about 45 cents of the dollar paid by consumers for farm products," he said.

"In the marketing system of today there are some costs which come out of the price paid by the consumer for essential services but there are also some inefficiencies which could be eliminated," he continued. Among those listed were needless duplication of services, costly system of price setting, the lack of storage facilities on seasonal products, the lack of a uniform product, and competition between farmers for markets.

He pointed out that one of the most necessary immediate steps for farmers to take was to eliminate competition between themselves by setting up co-operative organizations to take care of the marketing of their products. Farmers in Minnesota, according to Rovainen, have organized co-operatives to process their dairy products and these co-operatives have banded together to merchandise the products in an orderly way.

The helplessness of the consumer as long as he remained unorganized was illustrated by excerpts from the book "100,000,000 Guinea Pigs" and the general recommendation was that if the consumer was to get "His Money's Worth" he would have to organize also.

Louis Jorgenson, manager of the Delta Milk Producers' Association, discussed problems of the association, emphasizing the necessity of the farmer controlling the processing and selling of the product. The whole problem of the income of the farmer must be solved by the farmer himself, through his own economic organizations," he stated. "We are living today and we are going to live tomorrow—not yesterday," he pointed out, "we have made mistakes, and we will continue to make some, but let us learn from them and do a better job. Let us not forget that we have machinery and equipment which we want to use efficiently and that that machinery belongs to the farmers around Escanaba."

Eugene Derocher, president of the local, prophesied a larger attendance at the next meeting, which is to be held on June 1 and at which dairy marketing problems will be discussed. The local is planning to attend the Co-operative Federation meeting at Norway on May 23 en masse and a joint picnic with "Delta Made" is promised sometime within the next six weeks.

More Work Relief Jobs Needed, Says WPA Administrator

Washington, May 19 (AP)—The federal government must provide more work relief jobs in all the big industrial cities to help meet "a serious relief problem" in the near future, Harry L. Hopkins said today.

The W. P. A. administrator told reporters that federal work relief lists, on which 2,600,000 persons are now enrolled, would increase shortly to 2,800,000 and might reach a peak of 3,000,000.

Increases might apply, he said, to Chicago and Cleveland, where state relief funds have been exhausted.

"We are going to have a serious relief problem in the near future," Hopkins declared.

Farley, whose pre-primary recommendation was to sacrifice one major candidate of each faction, later asked all to abide by the results.

Republicans, too, looked to November with a claim of "certain victory" by Chairman Hamilton. Farley disputed the prophecy as "idiotic."

Pinchot weeks ago attached national importance to the November election. One of his campaign chants was: "As Pennsylvania goes in 1938 so will go the nation in 1940."

Michigan Mirror

Doings About Capitol

Lansing—Unless Michigan is an exception to recent political history, President Roosevelt's latest "spend-to-save-democracy" program will enhance the re-election chances of Governor Murphy.

After reviewing primary victories for the New Deal in Florida, Georgia and elsewhere, observers have come to the conclusion that the president retains much of his old popularity with the masses. As for Michigan, many Democrats have no great love for Murphy, chiefly because his idealism has hurt their partisan feelings now and then and because he has gone out of the way to befriend the C.I.O. placing Frankenstein on the state welfare board. The annoying question arises: Yet can they afford to repudiate the party on election day?

With the federal government using red ink at the tune of several billion dollars a year, Murphy's current deficit of $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 seems puny by comparison. And anyway, it is the politicians' conviction that the average wage-earner can't figure out that he is footing any of the bill. Hidden taxes are painless; prices are higher—that's all.

Republicans Confident
Sixty days ago the Republican high command in Michigan was confident that a victory was inevitable on election day. The growing depression, new labor troubles and general dissatisfaction among the voters were factors generally favorable to an opposition party. And then, too, statisticians brought forth the hot league figures how Murphy was elected governor by only some 25,000 votes. It seemed reasonable, at least on paper, to envision a sound spanking for the Michigan New Deal in 1938.

As the significance of new federal billion spending begins to unfold, Republican observers today are still optimistic but not so confident.

They see possible damaging factionalism developing in G. O. P. ranks between followers of Fitzgerald and Toy. There is even talk of a third candidate.

They point out the handicap of not having millions of dollars at their command just before the balloting.

An important part of the Michigan party organization are the postmasters, most of them New Deal appointees, who will hear Postmaster General James A. Farley in his home state of Benton Harbor next Sunday, May 22. Statements are given in this column without partisan bias or prejudice. We interpret events as we see them. And it is our belief that Republicans are not going to have a "walk away" next November and, likewise, that Murphy is a long ways from being a licked man.

Labor's Row
The rash leadership of the C.I.O. in Michigan—seizing utility plants a few weeks ago and refusing admittance of non-union paying members to automobile plants—remains a headache to John Lewis and industrialists alike.

Even Richard T. Frankenstein, just deposed as assistant president of U. O. W., is weary over the lack of discipline among Michigan union automobile workers, many of whom are young and inclined to be headstrong. He saw his plan for rigid discipline receive a public rebuke from Homer Martin, at a time when a new Gallup survey showed public opinion in Michigan as strongly in favor of outright repeal or revision of the Wagner labor act.

Labor Gains
Generally throughout the nation, labor's share of the national income increased 54 per cent between 1933 and 1937, according to the department of commerce. These figures, however, include wages of workers on federal work relief which in 1937 alone accounted for two-and-one-half billion dollars. In dollars this is a rise from 29

Science and industry are creating new economic opportunities today.

The Dow Chemical company at Midland is experimenting on the utilization of poplar trees for industrial plastic products and newsprint. These trees grow like bamboo shoots. Millions of out-of-land in northern Michigan may be put to profitable use if the Dow experiment succeeds.

At Kalamazoo, the paper city, is another interesting illustration of how far-sighted men have created wealth for labor and capital alike. The Kalamazoo Vegetable Parchment company is "big business" today. From its modern mills come such products as waxed wrappers for bread, breakfast food, soap and so on; oiled dusting paper that grabs dirt; household parchment for cooking food without odors; paper dish rags which wear for weeks; and even paper tape for mother's pies.

Appointive Court
Sponsors of an appointive state supreme court are striving hard to keep the proposed referendum out of Michigan politics.

Already laborites have denounced the plan, suspecting that the move is just another dark plot to deprive the people of their democratic rights.

The difficulty is that the phrase "supreme court" immediately brings to mind how congress, abetted by Republicans, defeated the Roosevelt plan for a more responsive United States supreme court. Actually, the Michigan court plan is as non-partisan as it could possibly be. Twelve states now have appointive supreme court, and they haven't gone fascist yet. You'll hear more about this new issue before November.

Private Power Firm May Sell Knoxville Properties To TVA

New York, May 19 (AP)—The long deadlock between TVA and utility systems in the Tennessee valley, over disposition of private properties in the face of government competition, was broken on a major scale for the first time today when directors of National Power & Light company voted to sell out their interests in the Knoxville area.

They recommended to stockholders the acceptance of an offer of $7,900,000, made by Knoxville and the TVA, for properties of a subsidiary, Tennessee Public Service company.

The directors' decision came after the TVA and Knoxville authorities boosted by $400,000 their offer of $7,500,000 made a week ago—and which, at the time, they characterized as "final."

Utilities Wipe Out Sturgis City Taxes

Sturgis (AP)—The city commission was on record Thursday for the seventh consecutive year as opposed to any tax levy to meet the city's operating expenses. The expenses will be paid for revenue of the municipal hydroelectric and Diesel electric plant. Only taxes levied will be for schools, hospitals and library and for welfare.

and the flight was started 10 minutes ahead of scheduled time to provide some leeway for bucking the headwinds. He landed on schedule at the Escanaba airport, refueled and took off almost immediately for Gladstone.

Leaving Gladstone at 11:50, the fight arrived at Manistique in time to discharge and pick up mail and take off at 12:33. Blaney Park was reached at 12:50, Newberry at 1:23 and Sault Ste. Marie at 2:22.

Postmasters Present
Postmasters of cities on the route were present at the airports to put their airmail pouches aboard the historic flight, the Upper Peninsula's first airmail service. They were Mrs. Regina Cleary of Escanaba, Matt F. Bilek of Menominee, B. R. Micks of Gladstone, Frank M. Gierke, Sr., of Manistique, Stanley Stewart of Blaney Park, and Joseph Villeneuve of Newberry. Leslie Peterwood, superintendent of mails at Sault Ste. Marie, was on hand to receive the pouches upon arrival of the flight.

Celebrations were held at several airports along the way. At Escanaba Mayor Peter Logan, City Manager George E. Bean and members of the local Airmail Week committee were on hand to greet Lieut. Arntzen on his arrival at his home airport. Gladstone's mayor, Joseph LaFramboise, together with several members of the city council, was present when the flight came down at the Gladstone airport, and Manistique high school students, Boy Scouts and the high school band were on hand to greet the flight at the large Manistique field.

Letters Bear Cachets
Practically all of the letters carried on the National Airmail Week flights bore special cachets in observance of the occasion. The covers bearing cancellation dates of May 19, the day of the Upper Peninsula's first airmail service, will be of special interest to stamp collectors and particularly to those specializing in airmail stamps and covers.

Because the envelopes are marked with these cachets applied by the postoffices from which they were mailed, they will also be of interest to cachet collectors. It is believed that a large share of the covers carried on yesterday's flight will find their way into the collections of philatelists.

75 COMMUNITIES LINKED
Detroit, May 19 (AP)—Seventy-five Michigan communities were linked today by a one-day air mail service that highlighted the state's observance of National Air Mail Week.

Bad flying weather bogged operations in the Upper Peninsula, but in the lower half of the state seven deplaned pilots picked up 751 pounds of mail and flew it to Detroit, where it was sorted and dispatched. Four lower peninsula flights were cancelled because of the inclement weather.

Mario Fontana, Iron Mountain sportsman pilot, was delayed for two hours before he was able to take off from Norway. He made two attempts before he was able to climb down through a low "ceiling" at Iron River, and three attempts before he was able to land at Watermeet. He finally rode through the bad weather, however, and delivered 196 pounds of mail to Marquette with a "ceiling" of but 100 feet. Another safe arrival at Marquette was Norman Schaffer, Ontonagon rural delivery carrier, who flew in with 144 pounds of mail, arriving four minutes ahead of schedule.

Walter Arntzen reached Sault Ste. Marie almost on schedule and delivered mail picked up at Menominee, Escanaba, Gladstone, Manistique and Newberry.

Sigard Wilson, scheduled to fly from Marquette to the Sault with mail picked up by other pilots, was grounded by postoffice officials when the weather became too bad for flying. He will take off tomorrow with an estimated 21,020 pieces of mail for stops at Munising, Newberry and the Sault.

Col. Floyd E. Evans, state director of aeronautics, said air mail delivery from the Upper Peninsula to Detroit would be made Friday. A St. Ignace to Saginaw and Detroit flight scheduled for today will be made at 9 a. m. Friday, he said.

A crowd of 2,000 persons attended the takeoff at Monroe today, where Postmaster A. C. Mauer and Mayor Daniel A. Knaggs placed a sack containing 2,500 letters aboard a plane at Silver Ace airport for delivery in Detroit.

Five hundred persons attended ceremonies at Scharra airport, Alma.

Mail delivered in Detroit today was weighed under the supervision of Postmaster Roscoe B. Huston, who is Michigan chairman of National Air Mail Week.

Elmer E. Perrin, Northville mail carrier, acted as a pony express rider and carried a mail sack from Northville to Plymouth, where a stagecoach delivered it to Triangle airport, two miles away. From there the mail pouch was flown to Detroit.

Observance in Detroit was held yesterday, when Henry Ford turned over a sack of mail to Pilot L. G. Fritz for delivery to Cleveland, just as he did on Feb. 15, 1926, when the first contract air mail flight in the United States was made by Ford Airlines.

In asking the senate to send the railroad aid bill back to committee, Wagner said it would be necessary to make some amendments "if it is reported again."

He said that when the committee approved the program, drawn to carry out recommendations of labor, management and administration officials, there was "no discussion of a threatened wage reduction."

LECTURE HERE MONDAY NIGHT

Adventure in Electricity Will Be Given Monday at Junior High

"Adventures in Electricity," an outstanding lecture on advanced devices and mechanisms of the electrical world, will be given at 8:15 Monday evening in the junior high school auditorium by Dr. Phillips Thomas, of the Westinghouse Electric company's research department.

turer brought him in frequent contact with the public through the years. Soon he found that more than half his time was spent on the lecture platform. Several years ago he conceived the idea of creating research exhibits with which to show the progress of research and engineering.

He expanded this original idea and has created "Adventures in Electricity," which includes a group of selected demonstrations. Unique in engineering history, this series enables Dr. Thomas to bring to the public an interesting and dramatic story of research.

Munising News

New Ferry At Straits To Be Named Munising

Munising, May 19—The new automobile ferry which will be added to the state highway department's fleet at the Straits of Mackinac this summer will be named "City of Munising," according to word received here today from G. Donald Kennedy, deputy highway commissioner, who wrote letters to Mayor John W. Hannah, the Development club and other organizations.

The only provision is that if the vessel is named "City of Munising," the city will have to provide a set of flags which will cost approximately $300. It was said unofficially here today that the city commission probably would appropriate the $200. It is understood that the boat will be christened about June 15.

The letter from Mr. Kennedy to Mayor Hannah, announcing the department's decision to name the ship "City of Munising" follows: "Your letter containing the resolution adopted by your city commission has been studied carefully by the department and Commissioner Van Wagener is willing to make a final decision in favor of naming the boat 'City of Munising,' providing certain traditions of the Great Lakes relative to naming of boats are adhered to."

"It is customary that the individual, the community or the organization for whom a boat is named shall provide the vessel with a complement of flags. In this instance it is estimated that the cost of these flags will be approximately $200, as follows: "One American flag, eight by 12 feet, for navigation use."

"One birgee (pennant) eight feet by 20 feet, with the ship's name. "One American jack, five by eight feet (blue field-white stars). "We hope that either the commission itself or some of the organizations that have urged the naming of the boat 'City of Munising' can arrange to sponsor the rechristening of this vessel."

"A date and place for the rechristening must be decided upon very shortly and the new name of the vessel must be sent to Washington almost at once. So far as we know there is no vessel now named that will interfere with the bureau of navigation in assigning this name to the Pere Marquette No. 20."

"I am sending copies of this letter to the Munising Development club, Munising Ski club, Rotary club of Munising, Munising Lions club, Roderick Prato post of the American Legion, Munising Paper company and to the People's State Bank of Munising, all of whom have urged the naming of the boat 'City of Munising' with the thought that they may assist you in the ceremony."

DANIEL E. MILLER Munising, May 19—Funeral services for Daniel E. Miller of Marquette were held from the Beaulieu Funeral Home on Wednesday afternoon. Burial was made in the Maple Grove cemetery. Escorts at the service were Howard James, and John Fromm, Kenneth Farrow, Vernon Johnson and John Tromblay.

ANGUS McMILLAN Munising, May 19—Funeral services for Angus McMillan of Trenary will be held on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Trenary Methodist church. The Rev. Frederick T. Steen of Munising will officiate at the service. Burial will be made in the Trenary cemetery.

Mr. McMillan died on Tuesday evening in the Munising hospital following a stroke of paralysis. He had been in ill health since January. The body was removed to the C. F. Beaulieu Funeral Home and will remain there until Friday afternoon when it will be taken to Trenary.

Mr. McMillan had resided in the district around Trenary for the past 30 years, coming there from Harrisville. He is survived by one brother, Daniel of Trenary.

FAIRPORT HAS COMMENCEMENT

Graduation Exercises and 4-H Achievement Day Ceremony Tonight

Commencement exercises for the eighth grade graduates of the five Fairbanks township schools and the 4-H Achievement Day ceremony will be combined at the Fairport hall this evening at 8:15 o'clock. Parents and friends of the pupils as well as the general public are invited to attend.

The commencement address will be given by J. F. Hart, manager of the Escanaba store of the Montgomery Ward company. The program will also include musical numbers by the pupils of the Fairbanks schools and an exhibit of articles made by the 4-H sewing and handicraft clubs.

Diplomas will be presented by C. P. Titus, county commissioner of schools and 4-H certificates and pins will be presented by the club leaders, Miss Isabelle Boutsgoals and E. Walfrid Granskog.

The following are the eighth grade graduates of the Fairport, Burnt Bluff, Mud Lake, South River and Puffy Creek schools who are scheduled to receive their diplomas at the exercises this evening: Milton Martin, June Bernard, Eunice Zehren, Donald Zehren, William Thill, Rosanna Thill, Glin Thill, Dorothy Leivedahl, LaVerie Watchorn, Winifred Killoran, Faye Geddert and Teless Rochefort.

Communication WANTS LOWER RATES Escanaba, Mich. May 12, 1938. Editor, Daily Press,

Dear Sir: Will you please print the following communication to the City Manager and Council. Open letter to the City Manager and Council.

Dear Sirs: Not being a public speaker, and therefore unable to approach you in the regular way at the your council meetings, am taking this way of finding out what we householders can expect this summer in regard to the use of water for beautifying our homes, and, incidentally, our beautiful city of Escanaba.

Last spring I started a small patch of lawn and rock garden. My water bill jumped from 87 cents to over $4 in one month. As that was more than I was able to pay every month, the yard suffered. This year, in a different location, and the grounds in hard shape, my landlady offered to buy grass seed and shrubbery, providing I planted and cared for it. With spring in the air, and a liking for pretty surroundings I accepted; forgetting for the time, my experience of the past year. It will take quite a bit of sprinkling to get the lawn in shape and the shrubbery growing. More, in fact, than I can afford at the present rates. As a paying utility user, not being poor enough to evade payment, and not well enough off to get insulted when you send me a bill, the proposition has me guessing.

Fry to Boost Meet

DECISION of the board of managers of the Upper Peninsula State Fair to launch a six-day running race meet on August 9 to 14 met with the support of the state racing commission in a measure that was beyond the expectations of the fair officials.

Edward J. Fry, state racing commissioner, after an inspection of the fairgrounds racing plant and giving it his stamp of approval, promised that he would personally devote some time and effort toward making the first meet a success. The racing commissioner has high hopes that the revenues from the racing meet will greatly improve the financial status of the state fair here. He also pointed to the possibility that running races on this far-north track in mid-summer would prove so popular with the vacationing public that the meet eventually would be extended to either two or three weeks.

Commissioner Fry said he wanted to see "good horses" race at the first meet here. To achieve these desires he promised that he would ask the Detroit-owned stables, which have horses that have raced at Kentucky, Detroit, Chicago and other big tracks, to send some of their runners to Escanaba to help give the meet a successful start.

Too much should not be expected of the first meet at Escanaba, however. It takes some time to build up a new sport, but Commissioner Fry's pledge of cooperation should help greatly in hastening the development of its popularity. A racing meet, such as that envisaged by Commissioner Fry, should be an outstanding attraction at the state fair here.

Aviation Week Marred

THE celebration of Air Mail Week, which has been taken up with so much enthusiasm throughout the country, was unfortunately marred by the disastrous crash of a recently-built airliner only thirty miles away from Burbank, Calif.

In the past, a number of serious airplane accidents have occurred in that section of California. Mountains, fog and storms have combined there to create flying hazards. This danger zone should receive the consideration of the aviation industry and the federal government in an effort to promote greater safety.

Incidentally, the Air Line Pilots association has been urging that bills before congress for the creation of a federal aviation authority should include provision for an independent paid safety board to make continuous investigations of airports and airways to prevent accidents.

In the last ten years, the association points out, frequent complaint has been made that the bureau of air commerce merely investigates itself, so far as it is responsible for the safety of airports, airway lights, radio beacons and equipment. The pilots insist that investigations should be made before crashes occur. An independent board for this purpose, it is contended, would do much to improve accident records.

Under the measures originally introduced in congress investigations would be made by a subordinate controlled by the authority.

The record of investigations following air crashes of the last few years seems to bear out the pilots' contentions. There has been little constructive effort to eliminate the conditions that caused accidents. Stress has been placed first on whether rulings and regulations were followed. But nothing has been done to see to it in advance that they would be observed scrupulously.

Faces Under-population

STATISTICS reveal that those at the younger ages are declining, and those of the older ages are increasing. Statistics also show that the proportion of women at the older ages is increasing, owing to the lower mortality of women as compared with men. Since society's burden increases with the population's age, it is likely that the provisions of recently enacted social security legislation will become more and more liberal because of the increasing number of old people.

The country still has an annual increase of 300,000 births over deaths, but this appears to be a reward of favorable age distribution. With changes already in the making, statisticians claim that the excess births will soon disappear. In this respect the United States does not stand alone. The net reproductive rate—that is, the capacity of the present generation to replace itself—is 73 per cent in England and Wales, the average for Northern Europe's being 90 per cent. The percentage is 118 in Italy, and 170 in the Soviet Union. Many students of population problems are of the opinion that the world as a whole is facing a marked-population, and that many countries that once exercised political and economic leadership are headed toward ultimate disaster.

It is not the lack of food or other essentials of life which has brought about the change in population trends. New habits and new attitudes have accompanied the spread of education and the rise in the living standards of the masses. Depopulation seems to follow the same course of a nation's progress. It is no longer a debatable question that those best able to bear children and provide for them have fewer than they need to replace themselves. On the other hand, those who have least of the world's goods and can provide a very inadequate environment for rearing their offspring have the largest number of children. Qualitative deterioration is thus added to the danger of depopulation. It is believed by many that the very organization of society today carries with it the potentiality of its own undoing.

Whether an expression of the biological instinct for racial survival, or the more reasoned conclusion of well-disposed men and women, the conviction is still widespread that life is worth while and humanity worth saving. In this thought lies much hope for the future of America.

Helpful Training

FORT BRADY at Sault Ste. Marie is now making ready for the annual influx of boys seeking to learn the rudiments of military science and discipline at the citizens military training camp.

For years, Delta and other counties have sent sizable delegations to the summer training camp, and as many youths are eager to go this year.

It is rare indeed to hear of cases in which it might be said this training has been harmful. To many young men it has given a wholesome respect for the military functions of the government and a feeling of responsibility in citizenship which they had not attained before. The courses offered in these camps are designed especially for the purpose of promoting good citizenship among the enrollees as well as a better state of preparedness.

The C. M. T. C. is the only approach toward universal service that this country has. In many other lands military training is required of every youth. In this country it is wholly voluntary. It is therefore wholly democratic as well. But it is providing a nucleus of trained men on whom the nation might rely in the event of trouble. America would not have to start from scratch as it did in the World War.

It is the sincere hope of every good citizen, of course, that the occasion may never arise when the service of these young men will be needed for military duty against an enemy. But so long as the possibility of conflict exists it is only reasonable to offer training to those who wish it in camps like those maintained for the C. M. T. C.

Holiday Reform

THE people of New Jersey have worked themselves into a considerable lather over the issue of shuffling the official holidays around, and you can't blame them.

Passed by the state assembly was a bill moving every holiday to the nearest Monday. The people in favor of bigger and better week-ends were tickled to death; but the people who didn't want to be waving flags and shooting off firecrackers some July morning three days after the rest of the nation weren't tickled at all.

Whatever you think of the every-holiday-a-Monday idea, however, there is definitely a need, not merely in New Jersey but everywhere, for a few sensible reforms in the whole year-long holiday schedule.

Heads of families have been wishing for generations, for instance, that New Year could be placed just a few pay days further removed from Christmas. And take the matter of wedding anniversaries; how much easier it would be to remember, men, if all wedding anniversaries could be scheduled for the same day all over the country. And how about keeping April 1 moving around all the time so that the kids wouldn't ever know just when to get set? And the 4th of July: never let it start till after 11 a. m., say.

Somebody get to work on this idea.

FITZGERALD STRONGEST? (Ironwood Globe)

If some shrewd political observers down state have the primary campaign sized up correctly, it will bring about a race between Governor Murphy and Frank D. Fitzgerald for the gubernatorial chair.

They give absolutely no thought to the suggestion that Murphy might lose the Democratic nomination, no matter how many alliances Lieutenant Governor Nowicki may have if Nowicki finally decides to seek the nomination. They consider Murphy is unbeatable in the primary.

As for Fitzgerald, the conclusion is reached that he has too strong a hold on Republicans of the state, and even quite a large number of Democrats who might vote for him in the primary, to lose the nomination. They point out that Fitzgerald has been, and probably still is the best vote-getter the Republicans have. With Harry S. Toy and Melville B. McPherson splitting the field, they consider it a cinch for Fitzgerald to win.

World Affairs Reviewed

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Washington, D. C.—It has been centuries since the world, especially the Occident, has been faced with the problem of hundreds of thousands of orphans, homeless, without means of support and with, save in a few cases, no prospects of betterment. The term is not used in the usual sense of describing a child who has lost its parents, although there are thousands upon thousands of children involved in this matter too. It refers to the refugees who have been orphaned by their native countries, who have been driven forth because they belonged to political or racial minorities. Their native lands will not have them nor does anyone else want them.

For long centuries the world has known the gypsy. But gypsies are countryless people by choice. The open road has been in their blood so long that the whole world is their home and tales are told of how the Irish gypsies, for instance, can find friends of his own totem among the Chinese, the same language of signs, symbols and, often, of words being common.

The case of the gypsy, however, is vastly different from the case of the wanderer who, as often as not, has been forcibly and suddenly expelled from a position of comfort and apparent security in his native land and shoved over the border into a country which does not want him. He cannot adapt himself to conditions thrust upon him. He is merely a bewildered refugee.

There now are about 1,000,000 such orphans in Europe alone. There have been such wholesale expulsions from Russia, Germany, Austria, Italy, Spain, and other countries that an aggregate population of unwanted persons of impressive size has accumulated and the problem of what to do with them becomes daily more pressing. President Roosevelt has suggested that the nations of the world take steps to form some sort of international committee to work through private relief organizations and other channels for the purpose of providing a solution and it is expected that something may be accomplished before many months have passed, if something is not accomplished, a new danger to the tranquillity of the world, or of Europe, at least, is foreseen.

In the first days of the World War when the advance of the German troops drove refugees out of Belgium, France, and other countries the refugee was almost a petted creature. He had been driven from his home, to be sure, but willing, eager hands reached to help him. He was taken by the thousands into households, given work, even preferment in many cases.

UNWELCOME REFUGEES

All that is a thing of the past. The multiplication of refugees has been too great. England and France and the Scandinavian countries still show the most hospitable attitudes but other countries do not conceal their unwillingness to receive refugees. Take the case of a Russian who crossed the border into Poland. He was immediately arrested because he lacked a sum of money amounting to about $1 which any immigrant was required to possess. He did have about the equivalent of 75 cents but that was not enough. After serving a sentence for this lack he was deported, across another border, where he met the same fate. Altogether, he has been 29 times in prison for varying terms, not because of any crime but because he lacked $1 in the first place.

Whenever the Nazi regime makes an advance, Europe knows it is to have a fresh number of refugees. When the Nazis took over Austria, the refugees issued like swarming bees. It is entirely possible that Nazism may advance to such a degree that Czechoslovakia, Hungary, and Poland will be affected. More refugees will appear with no place for them to go. There have been refugees without countries ever since the World War. Not a few of them have spent as much as ten years of the intervening time in prisons, not because of conviction of any crime but because they have lacked money or merely because they have lacked citizenship.

Shortly after the League of Nations was set up the Nansen passport was instituted. The famous Norwegian explorer, Nansen, was a member of the Council of the League of Nations and soon learned of the plight of men without a country who were having difficulty in getting from one place to another because they held no passports. As refugees they were unable to obtain passports from their native States which, in some cases, could scarcely be said longer to exist. So Mr. Nansen worked out a scheme whereby the League of Nations issued passes to such persons. This scheme has worked well for several years but, it is learned from Geneva, it is to come to an end probably this summer.

Many governments have raised objections to the Nansen passports and are not recognizing them. They say they have been abused in many cases, have been used by spies and adventurers.

These corrections have been noted time and again. They include economies by elimination of waste and subsidies in government; abandonment of competition with private enterprise in all fields, notably that of the utilities; laws establishing equal responsibilities for labor and management, and modification or repeal of taxes that punish business.

New York Column

BY GEORGE ROSS

New York—New York is the place where anything can happen—and does—and where the night life is the most fantastic feature of the giddy Manhattan pattern.

There was the case of Bobby Martyn, the broker-playboy who liked to sit about at cafes, spent a fortune in pursuing this extraneous, and who finally reasoned: "If I like this kind of thing so much, why don't I buy a place of my own and luxuriate with a profit?"

Which he did. He opened an oasis named La Conga and it has been the most successful night club in town for almost a year. And Playboy Martyn now has a place of his own to revel in with the accompaniment of a steady tinkle on the cash register.

All this by way of prelude to a scene which took place in a West Side caravansary the other evening. Another playboy who had an idea like Martyn's had opened a night club for his own personal comfort and lingered there a full week. But from the start, this place was doomed to a meagre clientele and an unfashionable and entertainment cost him a great many thousands of dollars.

On the seventh night of this nobby enterprise, our friend rose from his rinkside table, called for his hat, gloves and stick and started out. Turning to the head-waiter, he suavely said: "I don't like the atmosphere down here. So I'm quitting. The place is yours."

And out he strode toward a rival club.

Giants of Finance

Someone has told us a rather wistful little story about the dilemma that overtook a group of business tycoons the other afternoon at a Board of Directors' meeting.

The talk was sailing along smoothly and millions were being hung, with perfect equilibrium, in the balance. Suddenly one of the conferees became distracted by the sight of a small pigeon on the window-sill tugging desperately at the curtain cord, probably for nesting material. The pigeon was a game one, because every time he was stopped short as he was flying off, he came right back and resumed his assault upon the cord. His antics fastened a director's attention upon him and soon the other magnates of high finance, one by one, were attracted to the game courageous scene.

The chatter of the moneyed giants simmered down and the chairman's gavel fell into disuse. Gradually all eyes were on the determined pigeon, who tried a final stab at the rope. The feathered hero failed again.

Then one of the tycoons went over to the window, cut the cord with his pocketknife, and went back to his seat. The pigeon landed on his prey once more and flew away with it this time.

The directors turned back to their discussion. The conference sailed along without further interruption.

The Capital Parade

BY ALSOP AND KINTNER

Washington, May 19.—In case anyone believes that politics are growing purer in god's country, it must be recorded that virtue is still its own reward. At any rate, it takes no prizes in Pennsylvania primaries, to judge by the recent one. The people of the second largest state in the union may now choose their rulers among the following worthies, for whom the triumphant candidates are mere loquacious stooges.

Democrats Matt McCloskey, the contractor-boss of Philadelphia. A converted Republican and a philanthropist, he lent $26,500 to Governor George Earle; invented the novel system of "macing" campaign contributions by $100 dinners, and helped the New Deal to victory in 1936. Unkind persons have suspected that his firm's huge state and federal government building business was bread upon the waters for his noble works.

Jack Kelly, a debonair former Olmple athlete who is McCloskey's sidekick and front man. He is in the building materials trade, and has also done nicely.

Dave Lawrence, a slightly sinister fellow whom Senator Joe Guffey summoned from the purlieus of Pittsburgh politics to become Democratic state chairman. He used the power over PAP and patronage thus conferred on him to turn the unhappy Guffey out of his Pennsylvania satrapy.

Republicans: Joe Pew, the Sun Oil Company millionaire. He has lavished his millions on the Republican Party in the manner of a butter and egg man plastering a chorus girl with diamonds. He is the personification of Big Business influence in the party, and his lavishness is about as good for the reputation of the Republicans as the diamonds of butter and egg men are for the reputations of chorus girls.

Joe Grundy, the former senator, whose notion of progress is a return to the golden age of William McKinley and Mark Hanna. Grundy failed to get all he wanted—his senate candidate was licked by the marmoreal puddler Jim Davis—but he did pretty handsomely, for a broken-down tariff lobbyist.

MORAL FOR DEMOCRATS

Such are the owners of Earle and Jones, Davis and James. At first glance, the fact that virtue still must be its own reward appears to be about the only lesson to be drawn from the victory of such a crew.

Looking deeper, however, there are other morals for the nation in the Pennsylvania doings. On the Democratic side, the McCloskey-Kelly-Lawrence faction, which had stolen the state machine, administered a licking to Joe Guffey and John L. Lewis. It was not too bad a licking, but it was a significant one, for poor Joe Guffey still controlled the Federal Patronage and voted the WPA workers, while John L. Lewis had his big labor group behind him.

The Guffey-Lewis forces included the segments of the electorate most heavily relied on by the New Deal. The Guffey-Lewis gubernatorial candidate, Tom Kennedy, had the official blessing of Postmaster General James A. Farley, extracted by a threat to the White House that Kentucky C. I. O. men would oppose the cherished senate leader, Alben Barkley. And Tom Kennedy was beaten, roughly five to four.

Thus it is justifiable to suppose that, in a knock-down, drag-out fight with a strong local Democratic machine, the White House may have trouble. As the President is now determined to remodel his party in a fairer image, this is distinctly important.

MORAL FOR REPUBLICANS

For Republicans, the indications of the Pennsylvania primary are more encouraging. The total Republican vote ran ahead of the Democratic total. In this, in the signs of a labor rebellion against John Lewis, and in the defeat of Gifford Pinchot, there are signs of a revival of conservatism.

Pinchot's crushing defeat, however, should depress those who hope for an enlightened Republican Party. He was an elderly don quixote, who rode to the fray with his energetic wife playing sancho panza. He made a poor campaign, yet at least he had the distinction of having given Pennsylvania its only honest and forward-looking government in seventy-five years. And he was easily beaten by the money bags of Joe Pew.

If Joe Pew's Judge James wins the governorship in the fall, a great step will have been taken toward the restoration of Mammon in the Republican temple. The altar of the fat god has not been well served of late. His years of burnt offerings have seemed to be at an end. Possibly the most important thing about the Pennsylvania primary is its forewarning that, if the depression returns the Republicans to power, Mammon will still be their household deity.

Lyrics of Life

By Douglas Malloch

GLADNESS IS A DUTY

A bird outside my window is perched upon a bough. A bird outside my window is singing even now. I know I haven't heard him, My trouble what it is, I know I haven't heard him, Yet maybe he has his.

Perhaps his nest has fallen. Perhaps his brood has flown, Perhaps his nest has fallen, Has fallen like my own. Yet gladness is a duty, I haven't any doubt, And gladness is the duty I ought to be about.

YOUNG WOMAN PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Theodore Saxe, 37, Had Been Ill for Past Two Years

Mrs. Theodore H. Saxe, 37, of 315 South 13th street, passed away at 10:30 o'clock Thursday morning at the family home, her death resulting from a chronic ailment from which she had been suffering for the past two years.

Mrs. Saxe, who was Anna S. Brandt, was born in Stonington, May 14, 1901, and received her early education in the Stonington schools. She moved to Escanaba twenty years ago, and entered Cleveland Commercial college, where she completed a business course. Her marriage to Theodore Saxe took place in Escanaba.

Surviving are her husband and one son, Donald H.; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Brandt, Escanaba; two brothers, Alfred, Escanaba, and Julius, Jr., of Detroit; and three sisters, Mrs. Roy Chapman, Escanaba; Mrs. John Miller and Mrs. Joseph LaPlant, Detroit.

The body was taken to the Anderson funeral home and will rest in state in the chapel there beginning early this evening. Services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the funeral home, Rev. Carl E. Berger of the First Presbyterian church officiating. Burial will be in Lakeview cemetery.

Regulations For Using Tennis Courts Given

Regulations for the use of the city tennis courts and nets in Ludington park will become effective May 20. Bevier Butts announced yesterday. They are meant to insure general and impartial use of the courts, and the cooperation of players, will be appreciated.

City nets will be available at 8 a. m. and will be up until dark on every day except when weather does not permit play.

Where all courts are not in use, or where there are no players waiting to play, no permit is required. A player with a permit is always entitled to the court during the period as stated on his permit.

Players wishing to obtain a permit are requested to sit in line in the order in which they appeared on benches provided for that purpose at the band stand. Only one player is required to be in line but the other player or players who expect to use the court must be present. On the half hour before the beginning of the next period, a park employee or recreational leader will give out permits at the band stand. If permits for all courts are not given out on the half hour, late arrivals may secure one from the park employee or the recreation leader who is in charge at that time.

At his discretion, the man in charge of issuing the permits may assign four people to each court. These four may play doubles for the whole period or may split the period and play singles. All must agree to a split period.

The man in charge may issue permits for half hour periods where large crowds are waiting to play.

After six o'clock, preference in issuing permits will be given to adults and working boys and girls. At other times, the first to come will receive permits but park employees and recreation leaders will endeavor to afford everyone an equal chance on the courts.

During the school season, courts No. 4 and 5 are reserved from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. for practice by the high school team. These courts will also be reserved for them for matches for as long a period as necessary. No other special privileges are to be granted the high school team members, except by order of the city recreation director.

Report Abuses The Lake Shore Tennis club will be granted the use of Courts No. 1, 2 and 3 for the period 6 to 7 p. m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday until further notice. For the city tournament, and match games with other clubs, the Lake Shore Tennis club will be granted the use of the courts for as long a period as necessary. No other special privilege will be granted the members of the tennis club except by order of the city recreation director. Where the courts are not being used by members of the club at the time granted them, permits will be issued for the courts but are voided at any time that club members wish to play or practice.

The policy of granting exclusive use of courts for certain periods to the tennis club is necessary in order to maintain active membership in the Western Lawn Tennis Association.

Permits for the courts in North Escanaba may be obtained from the WPA recreational leader from 3:30 until dark every day except Sunday beginning next Monday. Until further notice, players at other times are asked to abide by the rule of fair play.

No permits or reservations will be issued at the service or recreation office. Players are asked to report monopolization of courts or abuse of these regulations to the city recreation director.

Christian Science Churches "Soul and Body" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, May 22. The Golden Text (Ps. 42:11) is: "Why art thou cast down, O my soul? And why art thou disquieted within me; Hope thou in God; for I shall yet praise him, who is the health of my countenance, and my God."

Among the Bible citations in this passage (Matt. 8:16): "When the even was come, they brought unto him many that were possessed with devils; and he cast out the spirits with his word, and healed all that were sick." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 210): "Knowing that Soul and its attributes were forever manifested through man, the Master healed the sick, gave sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf, feet to the lame, thus bringing to light the scientific action of the divine Mind on human minds and bodies and giving a better understanding of Soul and salvation."

All proceeds of this annual tag sale, as is generally known, will be used for the Corps' Memorial Day patriotic work, the decoration of the graves of service men in the three cemeteries of the city and appropriate arrangement of flowers in the urns of the Ludington Park memorial.

Rev. A. J. Parker At Congregational Meeting, Manistee

The ninety-sixth annual meeting of the Michigan Congregational and Christian Conference and the forty-fourth annual meeting of the Michigan Home Missionary society, opened Thursday at the First Congregational church in Manistee, with Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Parker and Mrs. Harold Headfield, representatives of the five churches in the Congregational parish district, Rapid River, Fayette, Cooks, Garden and Isabella, among the delegates present. The conference continues through May 22.

Morning, afternoon and evening sessions, at which leading clergy and laymen of the church will speak and will lead discussion groups, will be held throughout the five days. The conference banquet will be served Friday evening and a luncheon for wives of the pastors attending will be served by Mrs. W. R. Catton, wife of the host pastor, at the Chippewa hotel Friday noon.

Conferees officers are Rev. C. M. Burkholder, St. Clair, moderator; William G. Clarke, Detroit, assistant moderator; Rev. Charles H. Harger, Benzonia, treasurer; Rev. S. N. Oliver, Muskegon, president of the board of trustees; Rev. H. N. Skidmore, Grand Rapids, secretary of the board; and Mrs. Carl W. Elson, Grand Rapids, president of the women's department.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dabney, 212 North 11th street, are the parents of an eight pound son, born Wednesday, May 18, at the Champion Maternity Home, 512 South 17th street. The baby, the first in the family, will be named Floyd Donald. Mrs. Dabney, who is the former Ernestine St. Cyr, of Wells, and the baby are both getting along nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Brazeau, 214 North 15th street, are the parents of a son, born Thursday, May 19, at St. Francis hospital. Mrs. Brazeau is the former Beatrice Guay.

Farewell Banquet for Fr. Laforest Sunday Evening

Sunday evening, May 22, the parishioners of the Holy Family church of Flat Rock will honor their departing pastor, Rev. Fr. Laforest, with a testimonial dinner at the Sherman hotel. The function will begin at 8:15 o'clock. The dinner will be presided over by Rev. Fr. Sebastian Maier of Menominee as toastmaster. The dinner will also be attended by the clergy of the neighborhood.

Father Laforest has been pastor of Holy Family church for nearly eleven years, during which time he did much to improve the property, which was completely destroyed by fire recently. Father Laforest will leave Monday morning to assume his new charge as pastor of St. Ignace Loyola church at St. Ignace. He succeeds Father John Holland who has been pastor there for the past twenty years.

ENTERTAIN SENIORS

Seniors of Rock high school, who graduated last night, were entertained by the Alumni Association of that school at a dinner at the Sherman hotel Wednesday evening, about 60 guests, including seniors, faculty members and alumni, being present.

Following the dinner, a short program was given, which included a welcome by Bernard Larson, Alumni Association president; response by Lester Carlson, senior class president; presentation of seniors by Miss Florence McLean, principal; piano duet by Bernard and Dorothy Larson; and vocal duet by Misses Anna Quarantaro and Virginia Goodman, faculty members. Charles Larson, sports editor of the Escanaba Daily Press, was toastmaster.

Dancing concluded the program.

Forester Court Meeting

A regular meeting of Holy Family Court, No. 66, W. C. O. F., will be held this evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Joseph Corcoran. A May party at the close of which a pot-luck supper will be served, will follow the meeting.

Light Bearers' Meeting

A regular meeting of Anna C. Smith Circle, Light Bearers, will be held at the First Presbyterian church this afternoon. Attendance of all members is requested.

To dust doughnuts with sugar place the sugar in a paper sack and put in six doughnuts at a time. Hold the top of the sack together and shake well. The doughnuts will then be quickly coated with sugar.

Hickory nut ice cream makes a pleasant dessert for fall serving. Add one cup of shelled nuts to each quart of cream or custard mixture. Do not add the nuts, however, until the mixture is half frozen.

WE, the WOMEN

BY RUTH MILLETT

Graduation from college—and then what? Every year thousands of girls give the same answer to the question: "The City."

For some of them New York is the modern Bagdad, for some Chicago, for others Los Angeles and San Francisco. And so they pour into The City, expecting wonderful things of it—success, fame, wealth, excitement, romance—or perhaps just a chance to live as they please, out from under the noses of neighbors and interested relatives.

Back home it all looks easy. They have so much to offer a city: youth, perhaps beauty, intelligence, superior schooling, and a burning desire to make good. What do most of them find? Well, a young man in New York, Munro Leaf, author of "Ferdinand" the child's book about a flower-loving bull that took adults by storm, has written another book in which he tries to give them, and girls without education, an honest and revealing picture of what they will find and what their chances are.

If "Listen Little Girl Before You Come to New York" is disheartening to this year's college graduates, it isn't because Mr. Leaf set out to be discouraging. It's because the city itself is so often discouraging. Having read the book which is directed to any Little Girl, we thought Mr. Leaf might have some words for the girl who is to be graduated from college in a few weeks and who is already thinking of The City.

Mr. Leaf would not (he told me) try to persuade The Year's Graduate to stay away from The City. First, because it wouldn't do any good, and second because some of the girls who come every year do eventually get to the top. He doesn't think the advice usually given to young people—"Make your start in a smaller place and then tackle the city"—is worth much. He believes the girl who is determined to get to a city is going to be so dissatisfied in a smaller place that she will do whatever job she has half-heartedly.

But he does think that, no matter how or where a girl starts her career, she must develop one thing—and that is flexibility. So that no matter how remote what she is doing is from what she wants to do—she will manage to shape her life toward her goal. And he hopes she will have the good sense to stay "herself." For he is convinced the world is starved for simplicity and that the person who has it "sticks out like a sore thumb."

C. & N. W. Club Members Return From Convention

Escanaba members of the Chicago and North Western Railway Women's club have returned from Chicago where they attended the annual convention of the system clubs, held Tuesday and Wednesday at the Hotel Sherman.

Attending from here were Mrs. Victor Nelson, club president; Mrs. Peter C. Dube, club delegate; Mrs. Frank Gayan, treasurer; Mrs. Henry Valentine, vice president; and Mrs. J. E. Moore, Mrs. William LaCasse, Mrs. A. Weber and Mrs. William Corbett.

The convention sessions opened Tuesday morning and closed Wednesday noon. In addition to luncheons and other entertainment the club women were guests with members of the Veterans' Association at the annual convention banquet Tuesday evening.

Among committee women in charge of arrangements for the convention was Mrs. F. J. Byington, a former resident of Escanaba, who is widely known here.

News of FOOD Specials

Bran Doughnuts
1 cup all-bran
3/4 cup sour milk or buttermilk
2 eggs
2 1/2 cup sugar
3 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon soda
1 1/2 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon nutmeg
3 tablespoons melted fat
Soak all-bran in milk. Beat eggs until light, add sugar gradually and continue beating until thick. Add soaked bran. Sift flour with soda, salt, baking powder and nutmeg. Add one-half of sifted dry ingredients to first mixture. Stir in melted and cooled fat. Add remaining flour. Stir only until flour disappears. Roll out dough one-half inch thick on lightly floured board and cut with floured doughnut cutter. Fry in deep fat at 350 degrees F., turning each doughnut as it comes to the top. Turn again to brown the top. Drain on soft, absorbent paper. Roll in powdered or granulated sugar, as desired.
Yield: 1 1/2 dozen doughnuts (3 inches in diameter).

Boiled Salad Dressing
(1 pint)
Two eggs, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons melted butter, 3 tablespoons vinegar, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 cup whipped cream.

Beat eggs. Add mustard and salt. Beat again, then add butter and vinegar. Place in top of double boiler over boiling water. Cook until it thickens and is smooth, stirring constantly. Chill, then add cream and mix well.

Refrigerator Ginger Snaps
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup molasses
1/2 cup all-bran
2 cups flour
1 1/2 teaspoons ginger
1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 1/2 teaspoons soda
1/4 teaspoon salt
Cream butter and sugar thoroughly. Add molasses and all-bran and mix well. Sift dry ingredients and work into creamed mixture a small amount at a time. Knead and shape into a roll about one and a half inches in diameter. Wrap roll in waxed paper, covering the ends so that dough will not dry out. Store in refrigerator until firm. Slice very thin and bake on ungreased cookie sheets in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 10 minutes.
Yield: five dozen cookies (two inches in diameter)

WPA FIGURES ARE RELEASED

Escanaba Slated to Get About $143,000 Out of New Program

BY PAUL MAY
Washington, D. C.—Escanaba is slated to receive approximately $143,000 out of the new work-relief appropriation, according to the best available estimates, should the new relief bill which is today pending before the Senate be enacted.

This estimate is based on the past expenditures of the WPA in the State of Michigan and unless there is a wide departure from past experience, Escanaba will receive WPA funds very nearly equal to this figure.

Records of the works progress administration show that in the past the State of Michigan has received approximately $37 out of every $1,000 spent for federal work relief.

On the basis of its population compared to the State total, making due allowance for the greater WPA expenditures in urban as compared to rural areas, Escanaba will receive slightly more than $3 out of every $1,000 spent for WPA in Michigan.

As passed by the House, the new relief appropriation bill provides $1,250,000,000 for the WPA.

Michigan, on the basis of past expenditures, will receive approximately $46,250,000 of this amount.

May Be Increased
The fact that business has declined in some Michigan communities more rapidly than in other sections of the country, indicates that WPA expenditures in that State will be stepped up, WPA officials said.

This factor may well raise the amount that Escanaba will receive out of the new work-relief appropriation.

WPA officials said that a closer approximation would be impossible because of the tendency which will shift spending to meet emergencies as they arise in various sections of the country.

Escanaba will also share in the $75,000,000 proposed for the national youth administration but because of the fact that payments under this program are made at educational institutions an accurate estimate of the probable amount is impossible.

Any funds made available to Escanaba by the U. S. Housing Authority would be on a loan basis on the application of a local housing authority.

Under present legislative authority this agency can allocate up to $500,000,000 to communities in Michigan.

No Projects Pending
There are at the present time no public works projects for Escanaba pending before the PWA which have been approved by all examining divisions of that agency.

Since WPA will receive more money than will be required to make grants to all approved projects, there is every indication that Escanaba would receive consideration should projects applications be submitted at an early date.

On the basis of internal revenue collections, the bureau of internal revenue reports that that last year

File Their Petitions

Dr. Louis Groos (left) and Atty. Charles Lewis already have filed their petitions of candidacy for positions on the board of education in the election of June 13. Voters may register at the office of Supt. of Schools John A. Lemmer Saturday afternoon from 3 until 8 o'clock, it was announced yesterday.

BUREAU MEETS ON JUNE 10-11

Summer Conference Will Be Held With State Press Ass'n

Ironwood, Mich.—The 27th annual meeting of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau will be held here Friday and Saturday, June 10 and 11, in conjunction with the first summer meeting of the Michigan Press association to be held in the Upper Peninsula. The combined affair is being sponsored by the Ironwood Association of Commerce.

The formal program will begin Friday noon, June 10, with a press association luncheon. Chester Howell, association president, and executive officers will be present, with many Upper Peninsula newspaper men and bureau officers and members. A banquet program will be carried out on the evening of the 10th.

A Tri-State conference of tourist and resort owners and organization executives will be held on Saturday morning, June 11. This will be the first time that conferees from Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin will come together for the discussion of common problems affecting the vacation appeal of the entire Lake Superior region. The annual business meeting of the development bureau will also be held Saturday morning, with the presentation of reports for the fiscal year, and a discussion of plans for the coming season.

The sessions will be followed by a noon luncheon with a short speaking program planned to be over before 2:30 p. m. Golfing, bridge, and tourist parties will be enjoyed in the afternoon. The climax will be a banquet.

Many Special Events In Escanaba In 1938

Escanaba will be the mecca this summer for many visitors because of a well-rounded calendar of events, including conventions, aquatic carnivals and various sports events.

The calendar begins with the two-day Upper Peninsula regional meeting of the Michigan Conference of Social Work today and Saturday. The conference is expected to bring more than four hundred persons to this city.

Another event in May in the Upper Peninsula Relays, which climax the athletic program of the Escanaba high school on Memorial Day.

In June, the grand district, Lodge No. 8 of the Scandinavian Society of America, will be held June 14 to 16. A big sports event in this month is the Upper Peninsula Fishermen's Rodeo and Party on Sunday, June 26, sponsored by the Lions clubs of Escanaba and Gladstone.

About a thousand persons are expected to attend the state convention of the Michigan Rural Letter Carriers association July 25 to 27.

The Upper Peninsula State Fair will be held August 9 to 14. Special attractions will be the inauguration of a six-day running race meet at the fairgrounds track, with some of the finest horses of stables in Detroit and elsewhere competing. The world's championship log rolling tournament will be held on the last three days of the exposition.

Under the leadership of the Escanaba Yacht club, an extensive program of aquatic events will be staged here during the summer. The first of these events will be the yacht parade on June 19, to be followed by the Class B regatta Sunday, June 26. Other events will be as follows: Cruising race to Menominee, Ephraim, and Escanaba, July 2; Class C regatta, July 3; Lake Michigan Yachting Association's Power Squadron cruise, July 9 and 10; Midsummer regatta, July 17; Class A regatta, July 24; Venetian Night, August 4; Dock to Boat race, August 13; Autumn Regatta, August 28; Gladstone regatta, Sept. 5.

Approximately 1500 teachers will come to the city to attend the District No. 7, Michigan Education Association, convention Oct. 6 to 8. The Upper Peninsula Potato Show also will be held here in October.

Winding up the 1938 program will be the Deer Hunters Grubfest and Shindig in November. Last year, LIFE magazine devoted five pages to pictures of the festival.

On the Record

By Dorothy Thompson

Czechoslovakia, with a sound currency, sought free international markets, but in the depression these were, of course, limited.

Now the Czechoslovak government proposes to offer the most far-going concessions to meet all just complaints and bring the German-speaking minority into a position of complete equality. There is already a law against any attempt culturally to denationalize any person in the Czechoslovak state. The government will propose a law guaranteeing German-speaking citizens that portion of the administrative offices which they represent in the population.

That does not mean that they may not hold more than that proportion. But by law they will not be permitted to hold less.

And with regard to their economic complaints, the Czechoslovakian government promises to undertake every possible financial expenditure on public works in these districts with a view to rehabilitating them.

But this is not what Mr. Henlein wants. What Mr. Henlein wants would mean the end of democratic constitution and, eventually, the certain disruption of the Czechoslovak state.

That state is completely solvent. It has never had an unbalanced budget. It has never defaulted on a pledge, financial or political. It has now, while there is still a depression, only 2 per cent of unemployment. Its scale of wages is higher, according to the figures of the International Labor Office, than that of France, Germany, Belgium or Italy—lower than the English, Dutch and Scandinavian. It has the finest army of any of the smaller countries—180,000 standing; 1,200,000 trained reserves, and excellent mechanization. It is faulty only in bombing planes and other weapons of offense, because it was organized wholly as a defensive force. And that army—and that force for twenty years have stood ready to collaborate to defend law in Europe.

It is the last socially democratic and parliamentary state between the Rhine and Russia. It is a bourgeois republic, with only thirty Communists in a Parliament of three hundred. It is a state of remarkable democratic discipline. It is a state that, amidst great problems and vicissitudes, has shown amazing reasonableness and has preserved constitutional freedoms for its populations.

And if Mr. Chamberlain's government actually collaborates to sell out this state, the repercussions all over the world, and eventually in England, too, will be tremendous. That is absolutely certain. Henlein's program means just that. But that is another article.

Iron River—Selden E. Cray, Jr., formerly of Iron River, recently was cited for distinguished accomplishments in 1937 as an electrical engineer for the General Electric corporation at Schenectady.

The citation was in recognition of ability and persistence in carrying on scientific research involving electric motors. He was a star athlete in the Ironwood high school and also distinguished himself at Michigan State college. For a time he was employed at Lansing by the board of water and light commission before accepting his position at Schenectady.

He is the son of Selden B. Cray, Sr., former cashier of the Miners' State bank here.

Two Day Social Welfare Conference Opens Here This Morning

500 WORKERS ARE EXPECTED

Good Speaking Program Is Arranged for Meeting

"Social Welfare—Whose Baby Is It?" will be the theme of the third annual Upper Peninsula regional meeting of the Michigan Conference of Social Work and the West Regional Institute for Public Nursing, which opens at 9 o'clock this morning at the Junior High School. The conference will close at noon Saturday.

It is expected that approximately 500 social workers from various points in the state will attend the conference to hear one of the greatest arrays of distinguished speakers ever assembled on one program in this city.

Dr. Robert W. Kelso of Detroit, director of the Institute of Public and Social Administration and nationally known social worker, will deliver the keynote address at the afternoon session at the William W. Oliver Memorial Auditorium today.

One of the features of the conference will be a tour of the special health education departments in the Escanaba Junior High School, such as oral-deaf, orthopedic, sight saving, open-air and physiotherapy rooms. The meeting of the West Regional Institute for Public Health Nursing is being held in conjunction with the social conference largely because of the splendid facilities of the local schools for handicapped children.

The complete program for the two day conference is as follows:

Capacity Audience Hears Hoffmaster Talk Conservation

Newberry, May 19.—Director Hoffmaster of the State Conservation Commission spoke before a capacity audience on Wednesday night at the postponed annual meeting of the Tahquamenon Sportsman's club in the community building. Introduced by Prosecuting Attorney A. L. Sayles, Mr. Hoffmaster gave a brief history of the work of conservation in the state, saying that it was 101 years ago that the first attempt at conserving the natural resources of the state was attempted. "Have we gained or lost, during this century?" he asked. It is his opinion that we have done both. "There is no doubt that pulp wood is being grown faster than it is used or burned. We are holding our own with many of the game species. When you consider that in 1873 the population of the state was one and a quarter million people, you can figure that we must have held our own with the inland lake and stream fish. There were almost that many fishing licenses sold last year. We are slowly but surely losing water, the table being constantly lowered. We are losing soil, losing it slowly and surely. We are decidedly losing out in commercial fishing. Something drastic must be done about that. The irreplaceable resources, ores, rock, oil, are of course going. In the matter of oil it is important that all waste be avoided and there is no doubt that there has been great negligence there. We are planting more pounds of fish than ever before. The savings in forest fire control have been huge. We still have deer and bear to hunt. The take in beaver has been large during the past few years, showing that industry can be maintained."

It is the opinion of the director that the section of country from Lake Superior south more than half way across the peninsula is more valuable to such towns as Newberry than it would be if it were good farming land. This territory is extremely valuable for recreational purposes. It will grow game cover, maintain lakes and streams in which we can continue to have plenty of fish. It will keep the country green and alive. It is only a matter of concerted and intelligent management and this locality will become an outstanding resort country, is the opinion of the director. The dining room was decorated with trophies of hunting and fish, skins, bouqs of flowering wild cherry and evergreen. The tables bore vases of wild flowers. The musical program was comprised of two violin solos by Mr. Bender, a piano solo by Ruth Fretz, two trumpet duets by Dick Bystrom and Martin Harju. President Joseph Villemure opened the meeting and turned it over to Mr. Sayles, who opened his remarks by saying that the Tahquamenon Sportsman's club was the largest in the peninsula, and he believed, one of the most active. The Newberry Business and Professional Women were the special guests of the club.

CLUB MEMBERS AT CONVENTION

Timely Questions Slated for Discussions at Detroit Session

Newberry, May 19.—Elizabeth Hall, state treasurer for the Business and Professional Woman's Federated clubs, and Ruth Stephens, a member of the state nominating committee, left today for Detroit to attend the 21st annual convention of the Michigan Federation. Both are past presidents of the local club. They were elected to their offices at the state meeting last year. The convention is being held this year in the Hotel Statler.

Business and Professional Women, banded together, are now able to exert the influence more in proportion of their numbers and needs than ever before. An international organization, with a huge and growing membership in every important city in the world, the national membership now numbers 62,000, an all-time high. It is expected to reach 65,000 before the year ends. The past year a study of "Our Town's Business," has been in progress and is being used by the clubs in 45 states. The publication of a survey which has been in the making for several years is believed to have killed the bogey that women work for pin-money and not from necessity. This material will be presented to Louis Franklin Bache, executive secretary of the national organization.

A study of women in public office recently made by Earline White of Washington, D. C., shows that woman's best opportunity for office-holding lies in their own communities. Miss White is postmistress of the United States senate. A study carried on for the past 15 years by the Stevens Institute shows that women excel in executive positions and this study is being used as an argument for the advancement of women in the business world.

For the first time the National Federation has a legislative policy at work, adopted by the delegates at the last biennial convention held in 1937 at Atlantic City. Some of the changes in legislation which the federated clubs had worked for are the extension of the merit system, urging that first, second and third class postmasters be placed permanently under the classified civil service. ### Rev. Siedenburg Gives Address Here Today

Rev. Frederic Siedenburg, S. J., who will deliver an address, "Social Workers Responsibility," this evening at the William W. Oliver Memorial auditorium as part of the social conference here, has been executive dean of the University of Detroit since 1932. For 20 years previously, he was dean of the Loyola University School of Social Work in Chicago, which was a training school for professional workers, the first Catholic school of its kind in the country. During his 20 years in Chicago, Father Siedenburg held many offices in social and civic societies as trustee of the Chicago Public Library, member of the Illinois Welfare Board, and president of the Illinois Conference of Social Work.

Since going to Detroit, Father Siedenburg has been a commissioner of the Federal Emergency Relief administration, from which he resigned to become director of the Detroit Regional Labor Board. He was appointed by Governor Murphy as chairman to settle sit-down strikes in the heart of Detroit.

He also is a trustee of the Detroit council of social agencies and president for the second term of the Michigan Conference of Social Work. Father Siedenburg has been an officer of the National Conference of Social Work, the League of Nations association, the American Sociological society and similar organizations.

Recently he returned from a summer spent in European travel, where he made a study of social conditions and social work techniques in the Soviet Union.

On The RECORD

By Dorothy Thompson

Henlein in London

On the 20th of this month the Czechoslovak Prime Minister, M. Hodza, intends to present to the Czech Parliament legislation through which he hopes to meet the complaints of the German-speaking part of the population of Czechoslovakia and thus pave the way for appeasement.

Meanwhile, the leader of the radically pro-German minority, Konrad Henlein, has gone to London with the object of getting Great Britain to bring pressure to bear on Czechoslovakia to go much farther than the Czech government is prepared to do.

He has not been altogether unsuccessful. The British government has made representations in Prague urging the Czechs to make the most extreme concessions "compatible with the integrity of Czechoslovakia."

There is a veiled and negative threat in the representations. They seem to imply that if Czechoslovakia does not make such concessions as will satisfy Mr. Henlein Great Britain washes her hands of the results.

The result of the British attitude—I mean the attitude of the Chamberlain government—is shockingly to confuse world opinion.

For what Mr. Henlein is asking the Czechoslovak state to do is gratuitously to commit suicide in the interests of European peace.

And the policy of the Chamberlain government is apparently to make the Czech government responsible for the results if it stubbornly refuses to do so.

It is significant that international relations are conducted today as though all of Europe were already ruled by dictators.

Czechoslovakia, however, is a democratic, parliamentary state.

The Czechs are a politically free people. The legislation that M. Hodza will propose must be submitted to a parliament of 300 members. In that parliament the Germans, being 23 per cent of the population, have 23 per cent of the seats. Mr. Henlein does not control even all of the German votes. He has forty-four seats out of a total of seventy-two German members.

German Catholics (Catholics) and Agrarians joined with Henlein in the general feeling of panic that followed the annexation of Austria, but already they are backing away.

Mr. Henlein's party, like all Nazi parties, conducts a systematic campaign of veiled terror against the German population in Czechoslovakia in an effort to force them all into his camp.

But he still has not got even all the German-speaking Czech citizens with him.

Now Mr. Henlein, whose party represents 13.5 per cent of the citizens of Czechoslovakia, is telling the rest of the country what it must do—unless, and Mr. Chamberlain's government, negatively at least, aids and abets Mr. Henlein, ostensibly under the guise of being kind to minorities.

Otherwise Mr. Henlein would have received with obvious coldness in England and advised to go back to his country, accept any reasonable concessions, and to remember that Czechoslovakia is a state created with the collaboration of Great Britain, a state which has been conspicuously faithful to every international, political and financial pledge which it has ever given; a state which is financially sound and politically stable except for the machinations of Mr. Henlein; that, furthermore, this state enjoys an alliance of mutual aid in case of attack with France, who is Great Britain's closest ally, and that it is not the business of Great Britain to interfere in the internal affairs of a friendly country which has demonstrated its level-headedness, reasonability and competence to take care of itself unless a deliberate conspiracy is made to strangle it economically and threaten it by invasion.

If the British people long continue to think that any other attitude of its government is statesmanship I shall be very much surprised.

Lying in the Danubian Basin, where nationalities are inextricably mixed, Czechoslovakia is a country of mixed nationalities, with Czechs in the majority, and North Slavs, including the Slovaks, overwhelmingly in the majority, with a large population (22 per cent) of German-speaking residents of former Bohemia, and with minor groups of Magyars and Ruthenians (Little Russians).

The discontent of the Germans has been constant from the beginning, partially justified and not unnatural.

Before the war, which divided the Austro-Hungarian Empire, the Germans considered themselves the "superior stock" of this area, and looked down on the Czechs and all other Slavs.

The Czechs, very naturally, resented this, and when the new state was formed President Masaryk not only had to deal with German discontent but with Czech chauvinism, which wanted to take revenge.

The late President, perhaps the most enlightened statesman of Roger's condition, result not only of the crack-up but of those two nights and days without medical attention, remained critical for some time. Newspapers held out very little hope for his recovery, especially a complete one.

Jackie spent all her time waiting for news. Nothing else mattered. She read every line in every single paper she could get. She kept phoning the field, or driving back and forth, in hopes she might learn something more. She did not know how big and solemn his eyes were, how pinched and pretty young face. She ate mechanically, forcing herself to swallow a few bites, or to drink some mild stimulant such as coffee or tea. At night she did not sleep, except for an hour or so toward daylight when she became completely exhausted.

"Dear me!" Evelyn said, holding up her lovely hands in despair. "You look like a former ghost of yourself, darling. You simply cannot go on like this. It is dreadful about poor Roger, of course. But it won't do for my little girl to go into a decline over him."

Jackie said she was not going into a decline. It was just like her mother to make something horrible and yet romantic out of it. How could Evelyn guess what Jackie was going through? She had never loved anyone as Jackie loved Roger.

"Something must be done about it," Evelyn decided. "She drew her lovely brow into a thoughtful frown. 'Let me think...'"

"There's nothing to do," Jackie said, harshly. "Except what I am doing. Wait." She did wish Evelyn would let her alone, cease trying to think up schemes and suggestions. No doubt she meant to help. But nothing could help, except the word that Roger was out of danger.

But the latest report remained much the same—Jackie had just returned from the field—Roger was still unconscious, slightly delirious, his condition critical. She postwar Europe, attempted to deal with both, and he actually crushed the Kramarz party, which represented extremist Czech nationalism, because he knew that the new state would have to harmonize its various nationalities on a liberal basis.

A minority in no country enjoys an enviable position. But I will say categorically that the German minority in Czechoslovakia was from the beginning treated more generously than that in any other Central European country, and far more generously than in Italy. The frontiers of Czechoslovakia were drawn to include the German-speaking Bohemians for the same reason that the frontiers of Italy were drawn to include South Tyroleans, also Germans: it was the historic border, and the mountains afforded a natural frontier and a natural defense. The Germans living in this area were never part of the German Reich, but always belonged to Bohemia, which, before the war, was included in Austro-Hungary, and then, also, contained Slavs and Germans.

These Germans have complete cultural freedom. Their complaints, until the rise of Hitler, were several: They claimed that they were discriminated against in administrative positions and in private industry; they claimed that government funds went more copiously to the Czech areas than to the German, and they complained to their economic distress.

Some of these complaints had a basis, due to the chauvinism of the newly victorious Czechs.

Others had a different origin from the one claimed. The German-speaking parts of Czechoslovakia suffered three serious economic catastrophes. First, these communities had heavily subscribed to the Austrian war loans, which, after the war were valueless. They were honored to 75 per cent, be it said, by the new Czech state.

Second, these German-speaking people, bankers and industrialists, did not believe that the post-war system would last, and speculated heavily on the German mark. They were wiped out in the 1923 German inflation. Rehabilitated with Czech money, Czech influence grew in certain German enterprises, to the disappointment of the Germans, who had made a bad bet.

Finally, in the great depression, which hit Czechoslovakia relatively late, in 1933, these areas, being chiefly given over to manufacturing for export, were especially hit. And in this, the economic policy of Hitler's Reich, ironically enough, played a great role. For Germany established her autarchic trade system, and under it Czechoslovak manufacturers, German and otherwise, who had sent 37 per cent of their exports to Germany, found their trade with the Reich reduced to around 10 per cent.

"Of course I am very fond of Paul," Evelyn said firmly, as though persuading herself of this fact. She gave her eyes a gentle graceful dab. "But, darling, that isn't what I was trying to tell you. What I meant was that if I were in love with Roger—and engaged to marry him—nothing could keep me from him—no, nothing on earth!"

"You mean you'd go to him—now!" Jackie sat up straight.

Her mother nodded. "Certainly I'd go to him. If I had to walk every step of the way! Though of course, darling, that won't be necessary." She smiled on Jackie fondly. "You won't even have to go in a dirty slow train, or travel for miles in a horse and buggy. You can fly to him—and be there within a few hours!"

"Oh, Mother... why, of course, I can! Why didn't I think of it! How did you ever? Oh, you are the dearest, the most understanding mother, the best!" Jackie threw both her arms around Evelyn, hugging her with all her fierce young strength. She had scarcely known her mother, or understood her until now! She had never realized how wise, how kind she was beneath her fluff, romantic exterior, her gay acting. Love did indeed make one see anew.

Evelyn gave her daughter a tight squeeze in response. She bent down to give her a motherly kiss, as well. She knew that she and Jackie would always understand one another, always be close, now.

"I'll phone Paul right away," she said, getting up from the bed. When Evelyn had an idea she put it through immediately. "He will gladly make all the necessary arrangements, I know. He will probably have to charter a private plane for you, darling. How soon shall I tell him you can be ready?"

"How soon? Oh, Mother! Tell him I'm ready now!" The golden fires leaped back into Jackie's anxious eyes, the soft color flooded her lovely face again.

She was going to Roger. She would be with him within a few short hours. Hope sprang, like a new-born star, bright and luminous, within her heart.

throw herself face down on her bed. She no longer shed tears. She had spent them all in that first dreadful fit of weeping, in the lonely stretches of the long nights. Oh, if only there was something she could do, some way to help. She felt so useless, so helpless. That was what made this waiting so terrible.

"I suppose I might as well send these things back to the shop," Evelyn said. She referred to the huge stack of boxes, containing the wedding dresses and veils, that she had had sent out and had insisted Jackie try. "I'm afraid we won't use them now..." she sighed. It seemed such a pity, when she had so hoped to have a June wedding, with all its glamorous trimmings, for Jackie. "At least," she added, "I suppose we can't use them for some time."

"Please, Mother!" Jackie protested. She buried her face deeper in the pillows. Why must her mother remind her of that wedding that had only been a pretense, a supposed to have taken place, that would, indeed, never take place now? Unless Roger got well, unless Jackie could convince him that she really loved him. Even then she did not know if Roger only had been pretending all the time or not; she did not know if Roger loved her...

"I'm sorry, darling—I didn't stop to think how badly that would make you feel," Evelyn came over to sit down on the bed by Jackie's side. She leaned over, stroking back the fair hair from the young sweet brow. She could understand her daughter now, at last. Jackie was behaving the way a girl should, a girl in love. Evelyn had known that given time enough Jackie would prove as romantically inclined as any girl. Every girl, at heart, was just the same, the wide world over—always had been and always would be.

"I know what I would do if Roger were my young man!" Evelyn said suddenly, for Evelyn, too, was likely to have ideas of her own. "Why, once, her beautiful eyes grew misty at the memory, 'when your poor dear dead father was ill, darling—though it turned out to be nothing serious then, but I thought he was dying and I was so terribly upset—I went all the way up to Schenectady in the most dreadful, the dirtiest old train and then had to drive miles and miles in a horse and buggy, of all things! But nothing, no nothing, darling, could have kept me from going to him when I thought he needed me.'"

Jackie raised herself on one elbow. Why, her mother had loved someone then, just as she loved Roger now. Her mother had suffered and waited and worried... Jackie knew, not only from the tone of her voice, but from the look in her mother's eyes, a look she had never seen in them before. Maybe Evelyn was not always the romantic actress, playing at her romantic part. She had been just like any other woman, like her own daughter now.

"Did you love him, my father—so much?" Jackie asked.

Evelyn nodded; the tears that sprang into her eyes were genuine. "More than anyone, more than life itself, darling. I shall never really love anyone again. There never is any love like the first, my dear."

Yes, Jackie could believe that. If anything happened to Roger, if he did not get well, she would never again love anyone.

"Gosh! Look! Freckles' picture—and he's standing next to Dolores Dream! And this story says she's coming to the prom!"

"Now, if she were Robert Taylor, or Clark Gable!"

"She doesn't have to be! It's guys like us that put out the dough to take girls like you to see girls like her!"

"I suppose that's all that matters! After all, you men are considered the paying public!"

"Darn right! We have to buy the prom tickets—and Dolores Dream is good for my dough!"

"This is the chest the camera rested on that snapped the picture of Dolores Dream! Take a look!"

"It's too hard to see past the stomach the chest rested on!"

McMILLAN NEWS

McMillan, Mich.—Funeral services for Robert Painter, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Painter, former residents of Curtis, now residing in McMillan, were held in the local Methodist Episcopal church on Friday afternoon. Rev. Donald Stubbs, pastor of the church, read the services. Interment was made in the Lakefield cemetery.

accomplished by the organization and the field yet open for larger endeavors. She especially stressed the need of unity and co-operation among the members in order that the underprivileged children of Lakefield, Columbus and Pentland townships would be benefited by this work. Responses were given by Mrs. A. J. Mainville, Mrs. Jay Tanner and Mrs. W. V. Acker of McMillan and Mrs. I. Fox of Pentland township. An important part of the business was the election of officers. All present incumbents were unanimously voted in for another year. Officers are: Chairman, Mrs. George Roat of Lakefield, vice-chairman, Mrs. N. K. Ziegler of Newberry, secretary, Mrs. Hazel Neff of Pentland, treasurer, Mrs. Bert Koons of McMillan, Mrs. A. J. Mainville, Mrs. H. J. Skinner, Mrs. Harry Smathers and Mrs. Jay Tanner were appointed to serve as a program committee. Mrs. Floyd Bryers, Mrs. Helma Anderson, Mrs. Frank Kirby, Mrs. Frank Williams, Mrs. Nelson Pellittier and Mrs. Ira Fox on the refreshment committee. Following the business meeting a tasty lunch was served by the ladies of Pentland township at one long table prettily decorated for the occasion, a miniature maypole forming the centerpiece. The next meeting will be held at McMillan on the afternoon of Tuesday, June 21.

GLADSTONE

Large Amount of Mail Sent on Special Flight

A definite interest in air mail and hearty cooperation in National Air Mail Week was displayed yesterday as the first dispatch of mail by air was made from this city. At 11:46 a. m., one minute ahead of schedule, Lieut. Walter Arntzen, Escanaba pilot, put his Stinson cabin plane down on the County Port south of Gladstone and taxied to a stop in front of the hangar. Accompanying Arntzen on the trip from Menominee to the Sault was Robert McIntyre, Daily Press photographer. On hand to greet Arntzen was a group of representative citizens which included Postmaster B. R. Micks, H. J. Norton of the state aeronautical board, Mayor Jos. LaFramboise, J. T. Jones, J. A. Sturgeon, Chief of Police Torval Kallorson, Assistant Postmaster Oscar Ohman, William Marble, John M. Olson, R. A. Hale, and others. The Gladstone pouch was turned over to Pilot Arntzen by Postmaster Micks and a few minutes later Arntzen gunned his ship, took off and swung eastward toward Manistique, his next stop. A total of 23 pounds of mail were contained in the Gladstone pouch. This included nearly 700 pieces from this city, 80 from Rapid River and 7 each from Nahma and Masonville. Airmail envelopes were imprinted and stamped with attractive cachets advertising this area as a vacationland.

Prehistoric Man Lived on Beaver Island in Lake

St. James, Beaver Island, Mich.—Long before the white man came to this country, long before the Indians found the Lake Michigan islands to their liking, prehistoric man had settled upon Beaver Island before the Puritans reached Plymouth or the Dutch New York. When they arrived in about 1650 they found gardens and farms, laid out centuries before. Who these early agriculturists were, or where they vanished to, no one knows. Trees, more than two hundred year old, were found growing on the fields and gardens once cultivated by the early inhabitants. In Spanish-speaking countries, Christopher Columbus is known as Cristobal Colon.

Where 35 Died in Fire

Firemen and sanitary department workers feared that a known death toll of 35 persons would be increased materially as they dug in this smoldering shell—all that remained after fire swept the five-story Terminal hotel in Atlanta, Ga. Heaps of charred timbers, bricks and mortar were expected to yield additional victims. All but one of the 26 known dead had been identified. Firemen were investigating a report that the blaze started with an explosion in the basement.

Named In Suit

Placing a cash value of $25,000 on the love of her husband, the wife of John B. Wright has filed an alienation of affections suit against Mrs. Charlotte (Chottle) Milburn Pickering Cheesbrough, above, blond society heiress. Wright, held under $5000 bond at Madison, Conn., for shooting at a neighbor's wife whom he mistook for Mrs. Wright, was served with divorce papers charging intolerable cruelty.

Wasps Over Manhattan

Darting through the sky above America's largest city, these swift pursuit planes gave New Yorkers a demonstration of the sort of defense the U. S. Army would put up if real enemy bombing planes attacked Manhattan. Actually, the planes were chasing an imaginary enemy during G.H.Q. air maneuvers at Fort Totten, Long Island. The East river is seen in the foreground, the Hudson in the background, and Central Park Reservoir in the center.

'Heads and Tails' of New Nickel

Here's the new nickel you'll be handing out when storekeepers say "Five cents, please" next fall. The obverse side, at left, bears a portrait of Thomas Jefferson while the reverse side shows his home at Monticello. It is a lucky coin for sculptor Felix Schlag, of Chicago. Art judges flipped 390 plaster models and picked Schlag's design to win the $1,000 prize. An American citizen, the 46-year-old winner is German-born, but came here in 1929 because "there are more opportunities here."

Big Train Hits Big Rock—Causes Big Wreck

When a lot of locomotive meets a lot of rock, it's just too bad for the locomotive. Here's what happened when a Denver and Rio Grande Western passenger train smashed into a 40-ton boulder that had roared down the side of the famed Royal Gorge in Colorado and stopped on the railroad tracks. The locomotive is shown dumped upside down into the Arkansas river. The rest of the train stayed on the track and all passengers were unhurt, but the engineer was killed and the fireman badly burned.

Vive la France! Vive la France!

Parisian atmosphere aplenty in the photo above. Petite, pet Annabella, French film favorite who makes American men say "Ooo! 'at-lit' too," was snapped vacationing at Arrowhead Springs, Calif. With her is "Puddle," her thoroughbred French poodle that seems to like Annabella as well as most people do.

Welcoming the Straw Hat Season in a Big Way

Just in case anyone had forgotten that summer is almost here, Long Beach, Calif., founded up 50 beach beautifiers to pose for this picture and remind one and all that it is high time to discard the old felt and step out in something snappy in the way of a straw topper. If you like statistics, this skimmer is 70 feet in circumference, size 133. And Jane Lawson is the pert young pretty perched atop the oversized chapeau.

Dual Christening for Navy's Newest Twins

Latest additions to what big-navy advocates hope will soon become a United States "navy second to none" are the twin 1500-ton destroyers pictured above being formally christened and launched at Norfolk Navy Yard. They are the Rowan, left, and Stack, right.

Young Adventurers Fought Death on Cruise

The doughty schooner Yankee is pictured at upper left as she sailed proudly into Gloucester harbor, bearing 20 young men and women adventurers safely home after an 18-month, 35,000-mile round-the-world cruise. The trip included a brush with death when all were badly poisoned by fish near Pitcairn Island, famed haven of the Bounty mutineers. They were nursed back to health by the descendants of the Bounty crew. At left, below, some of the party line the rail for a first glimpse of their homeland, and at right, "Able Seawoman" Helen Shumaker, of Buffalo, N. Y., climbs the shrouds to wave to welcoming Gloucesterites.

A 'Return' From the Grave

Declaration of War

The articles of war were officially accepted by Joe Louis, shown putting his signature on the contract, and Max Schmeling, as the two heavyweights signed for their championship battle in Yankee Stadium, June 22. Max peers over the proceedings as his future foe takes pen in hand, while Gen. John J. Phelan, chairman of the New York Boxing Commission, smiles his satisfaction.

10 Children Picked For Big Bay Camp

Ten Schoolcraft county children were selected to attend Camp Big Bay this summer for seven and a half weeks, starting the latter part of June. Five alternates also were selected to complete this county's quota in the event any of the first ten selected are unable to go.

The selections were made Wednesday at an examination held at the courthouse. Final choice was made by Miss Elba Morse and Dr. D. Cowan, of the Children's Clinic.

The ten delegates chosen follow: Violet Fox, Cooks; Donald Quinn, Doris Conarty, June Anderson and Fred Hastings, of Manistique; Marjorie Leader, Manistique Route 1; Jean Hughton, Jack Jordan, Gerald Larson, of Manistique; and Alva Nelson, Germfask. Alternates selected are John Smith, Thompson, Clarence Leach, Manistique; John Solar, Manistique Route 1; Lawrence Rubick, Manistique; and Gertrude Johnson, Thompson.

Thirty-one applicants were examined, of which it was determined 25 were eligible to attend. After careful selections, the list was reduced to the ten delegates finally chosen, and the five alternates.

Camp Big Bay is operated under the sponsorship of the Children's Fund of Michigan, and a full program of health and education is carried on during the seven and a half weeks course. Schoolcraft county's quota was originally fixed at eight, but later was revised to include two additional children.

Plans Laid For Big Festival

Mrs. A. B. Waters was elected general chairman of the Schoolcraft-Manistique homecoming celebration, at a meeting of the general committee held Wednesday night at the First National Bank. She was named to succeed Ted Monroe, who was acting chairman and who expressed a desire to be relieved of the duties because of other business.

The committee selected Lauritz Drevdahl, local high school teacher, to act as managing director of the three day event, scheduled to be held here July 2, 3 and 4. Drevdahl will devote his full time to the undertaking following the completion of school early in June. He will act as a coordinator of committees to see that all of the numerous details will be properly handled.

Tentative plans for the big celebration also were laid by the committee Wednesday evening. In addition to the spectacular historical pageant, which will be produced with local talent by the Rogers Producing Company, a fun packed program is planned for the entire three days of the celebration.

There will be public dances on the new concrete pavement, dedicatory exercises for the PWA improvement project, which will be completed then, and for the athletic stadium and for the state polo track. There also will be a colorful parade, sports program, band concerts, and street concessions. A fireworks display will also be a feature of the celebration on the Fourth of July.

Four committees have been appointed to date, and the remainder of the committees will be announced soon.

Members of committees already selected follow: soliciting—Frank Gierke, Sr., chairman; Henry Weber, and Homer LaFolle, to be supplemented by additional solicitors to be chosen by this group; publicity—Helen McLaughlin, chairman; W. L. Norton, Carl Thorberg and Ken Gunderman; historical, Carl Thorberg, chairman; W. S. Crowe, P. Miles, Mrs. Mary Holbein, E. W. Miller, Mrs. Jennie Putnam, V. I. Hixson, John I. Bellaire, Hezekiah Knaggs, and Oscar Sheppard; talent—Rose Greene, chairman; Wayne Martin, and A. F. Hall.

AIRMAIL TRIP DRAWS CROWD

Many at Airport Witness First Flight from Manistique

The first direct airmail flight from Manistique became history yesterday afternoon, after Pilot Walter Arntson set his airplane down at the Manistique airport precisely on scheduled time, 12:23 a. m., took on a bag load of outgoing airmail from the Manistique postoffice, and continued on to Blaney, Newberry and Sault Ste. Marie.

It was not determined just how much airmail moved from Manistique yesterday, but the volume ran into hundreds of letters. The airmail letters generally were enclosed in a special envelope, which contained a cachet advertising the Kitchikipi Spring, with first flight.

HELP 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

To Flush out Acids and Other Poisonous Waste

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 Miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste. Frequent or easy passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the beginning of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 Miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Tigers Win, 6-2; Cubs Take 10 Inning Thriller, 1-0

ONLY SIX HITS GIVEN BY GILL

Extra Base Blows Blast Athletics in Opener at Briggs Field

Detroit, May 19 (AP)—George Gill set the Philadelphia Athletics down with six scattered hits today as the Detroit Tigers slugged their way to a 6-2 victory in the opening game of a series here.

The Tigers collected only eight safeties of Lynn Nelson, but six of them were for extra bases. Rudy York hit his fifth home run and Hank Greenberg his eighth of the season, each with a mate on base. Charlie Gehring, who replaced Greenberg in the clean-up position in a shake-up of the Detroit batting order, hit a double and a triple, and Gill and Dixie Walker also tripled.

Sam Chapman, Philadelphia rookie center fielder, batted in both Athletics runs in the sixth with a double to right field.

Only ten putouts were made at first base during the entire game, six by Greenberg and four by Selbert of the A's.

York lifts Homer
The victory was Gill's second of the year. He kept the Athletics batters well in hand except for the sixth inning, and started the Tiger scoring in the third with his triple to center field. After Rogell lined out Gill scored on a wild pitch.

Gehring opened the fourth inning with a triple, and scored ahead of York as Rudy, shifted to left field to make room for George Tebbetts behind the plate, lifted his homer into the upper deck of the left field pavilion.

Bill Rogell, who batted in the lead-off spot today, singled with one out in the fifth, stole second and took third on a wild throw by Hayes, but was out trying to score when Chapman's throw to Hayes beat him to the plate.

Walker tripled to right field, and Pete Fox, who took Gehring's former spot in the batting order, singled to score Walker with the fourth Detroit run.

Greenberg's homer bounced off the upper deck of the center field pavilion in the last of the sixth. It scored York, who had drawn a walk.

Rowe Next Starter
Gehring, York and Greenberg each had a .500 average at the plate for the day. Gehring had two out of four. York and Greenberg each had only two official times at bat, each walking twice.

Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe, who failed to finish his only start of the season, against Philadelphia a week ago last Sunday, was named to hurl for Detroit in the second game of the series here tomorrow. He will oppose Luther Thomas of the A's. Rowe in his first start was relieved by Elden Aufer with the score tied, and Aufer was charged with the ten-inning defeat.

MIGHTY CASEY CAN HIT NOW

Original of Poem, 76, Is Star Performer at Baltimore Fete

BY HERBERT O'KEEFE
Baltimore, May 19 (AP)—The mighty Casey of Mudville "I never was a home-run king" stepped from the fables of the eager eighties tonight to prove he couldn't hit them—and proved he can hit now.

Just as eager—maybe a little more—as he was that hot August day of 1877 when his three mighty swings shattered only the air with the bases loaded and made him the hero of "Casey at the Bat," Dan Casey, 76 and bent today, went to bat for the Baltimore Orioles on "Casey night."

"Yeah, Casey," the crowd of 2,000 roared as Mudville's hero missed the first toss from Rogers "The Rajah" Hornsby by a foot.

"Put in Hornsby," they shouted as the second pitch escaped injury. (Hornsby struck out with the bases loaded his first time up as pinch hitter for the Orioles.)

Casey pounded "with cruel violence his bat upon the plate," and now the pitcher "holds the ball, and now he let's it go."

The myth of the 89's was shattered in a twinkling—Casey singled to left!

"You got to get a little used to these lights if you're going to hit," Casey explained away those two strikes. "But, I'll have to admit Hornsby didn't have as much on the ball as Tim Keefe did that time I struck out and the Giants beat the Phillies 4-3."

Casey, now living in Silver Spring, Md., came here in time before the Oriole-Jersey City game to be guest at dinner and to receive the key to the city from Mayor Howard W. Jackson.

Third Place Taken By Boston Bees In 11-Inning Triumph

Boston, May 19 (AP)—The Boston Bees jumped over Pittsburgh into the National League's third place today by sweeping a three-game series with the Pirates, 4-3, in 11 innings. It was the second successive overtime victory for the Bees and the sixth extra-inning game the Pirates have played in their last seven starts.

LEAGUE IS LED BY JUNTANEN

South Range Boy Hitting .667; Averages for Loop Are Given

(U. P. Sport Writers Service)
Iron Mountain, Mich., May 19—Batting at a .667 clip, W. Juntanen, South Range third baseman, is leading batters of the Northern Wisconsin Michigan Baseball league for the first two games of the season.

Juntanen has hit safely four times in six trips to the plate, including a pair of doubles, and has batted in five runs.

Not far behind is Tony Gober, Ford Twins hurler who has connected for four hits in seven attempts for a .571 average. Gober leads the loop in runs batted in with a total of seven.

In third place in batting is Randall Thibert of the Niagara Badgers, who is hitting at a .556 pace. Stepanovich, of South Range, and Waytonis, of Crystal Falls, share the lead in home runs, each with one.

Soderberg and Enger, of the Ford Twins, follow with .455 and .444, respectively. The league-leading Twins are setting the pace in both team batting and fielding brackets. Their .316 hitting average is .619 better than their nearest competitors, the Niagara Badgers, who are second with a .297 average. With only seven hits in a pair of contests, Escanaba's .113 team average is the weakest in the group.

Twins Field Best
Committing two errors in handling 90 chances, the Twins lead the loop with a .975 fielding average. Crystal Falls and Escanaba follow in order.

Gober, of the Twins, and Tony Buckovich, of South Range, hurlers for the leaders of the loop, boast the best pitching records with two straight wins apiece. Buckovich has been the most effective of the pair, yielding only eight blows and eight runs in 17 1/3 innings. Gober has been touched for 15 hits and seven runs in 14 2/3 frames. Cedric Richardson, of Niagara, and Hugh Orphan, of Crystal Falls, are running neck and neck in the strike-out division. Richardson has fanned 17 in 18 innings and Orphan has whiffed 16 in 17 innings.

Copley, of South Range, and Collins, of Niagara, claim the loop's only two home runs. Rublein, of Negaunee, drove out the only triple. Al Kircher, of the Twins, heads the stolen base list with three pilfered sacks.

SPILLING the DOPE

BY JOHNNY INKSLINGER

It won't be long before shoppers for major league talent will be fingering the price tag on John (Whiz) Gee, a fancy piece of Michigan basketball squad.

Gee joined the Chiefs in the early summer of 1937. He showed Mike Kelly, then manager of the club, a good fast ball and a hook that was more than a wrinkle. He won four games and lost three in his first season in Double A ball, though he joined the club at a time when the rival hitters were hot.

With his first spring training trip behind him, he proceeded to pitch the 1938 opening game in Syracuse, resulting in a triumph for Jimmy Bottomley's Tribe over the Montreal Royals. John yielded only six hits.

In his next start, he turned back the Rochester Red Wings on seven hits, then dropped decisions to the Toronto Maple Leafs and the Royals.

Gee, who had defeated the Leafs three times in 1937, was hit hard in his first loss to them, falling to finish. But his defeat by the Royals could be traced to the fact that he is with a club low in the production of runs.

John was hurling effectively, and locked in a pitching duel with Bill Harris at Buffalo, May 13, in his last start. With the score 2-11, Gee was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the seventh inning, Syracuse dropping a 6 to 5 decision when the Bisons counted four times in the ninth frame, Gehrmann being charged with the defeat.

Bottomley considers the 22 year old youth the equal of any hurler he has on his staff. He's our best outright by the Syracuse club.

TWINS READY FOR ESKYMOS

Locals Entertain Loop Leaders Sunday on City Diamond

Iron Mountain, May 19—The Ford Twins and South Range, undefeated pace setters of the Northern Wisconsin Michigan league, will risk their lead in road trips when the circuit's six teams swing into action for the third time of the season this week-end.

The Twins will journey to Escanaba to meet the twice-beaten Eskymos, while the Rangers travel to Crystal Falls where a dangerous opponent awaits them. Sunday's third game will bring together Niagara, resting in a third-place tie with the Falls, and the cellar-dwelling Negaunee nine on the Badgers' diamond.

Of the co-leaders, South Range apparently has much the harder task cut out for it. After dropping the opener to the Twins, Crystal Falls came back strong last Sunday behind Hugh Orphan's great pitching to trounce Negaunee 5-1. If Orphan exhibits the same form this week-end, and his mates support him afield and at bat, the Rangers may take a tumble from their lofty perch.

At Escanaba, the Twins will meet a team which has lost both its starts, the last by a 5-1 count to South Range. At a glance the Twins appear for Escanaba, but baseball is funny sometimes and Manager Ed Kretzler and his hirings will be prepared for any eventuality.

Niagara, knocked out of a first-place tie when it lost a 7-6 breaker to the Twins last Sunday, looks forward to its home tilt with Negaunee with high hopes of making up some lost ground, and possibly catapulting back into first place if both leaders should be bumped off.

Negaunee Faces Trouble
Manager Roy Brown's Badgers have a reputation for being hard to stop when performing on their own lot, and Negaunee, on the basis of past performances, will have to flash vast improvement in both offensive and defensive play if it hopes to make an exception of this week-end's game.

Both Niagara's hitting and pitching have been functioning satisfactorily thus far this season. And the team's hurling staff will probably be stronger Sunday than ever before. Jerry Davis, who has been kept on the bench with mashed fingers, is again about ready for service and Louis Bush, who has yet to get into a league game, is rounding into peak form. Also ready for duty will be Cedric Richardson, who gave the Badgers a shutout triumph in the opener against Escanaba and then was edged out by the Twins last week-end. Which of the three will get the nomination against Negaunee may be decided by their work in practice this week.

Manager Kretzler may use the game at Escanaba to give Howard Viens another trial. Viens started on the mound in the opener at Crystal Falls and was forced to retire under fire. Tony Gober finished the game, received credit for the win, and hurled last Sunday's victory over Niagara.

BILL LEE GOES ENTIRE ROUTE

Pitching Duel Victory Cuts Giants' Lead to 4 1/2 Games

New York, May 19 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs, taking advantage of a momentary break in the enemy's pitching defenses, cut the Giants' National League lead to 4 1/2 games today with a ten-inning 1 to 0 victory in a tight flinging duel that saw Bill Lee go the route for the first time this season.

The win gave Charley Grimm's outfit the current series, two games to one.

For nine frames, Lee and Harry Gumbert, usually a Cub flinx, hooked up in a hurling duel as close as your next breath. The Giants were unable to get a man past second base, and only two got that far. The Cubs got only two around to third.

In the first of the tenth, however, Gumbert's control deserted him and he walked Lee and Stan Hack in order, with one out. Billy Herman came through in the "clutch" in that spot with a line single to left that sent Lee across the plate with the one and only run of the game.

Lee, who had failed to last the nine-inning route in his six previous starting assignments, gave up only five singles, two of them to Johnny McCarthy, and did not walk a batter. Gumbert was tagged for only six safe blows, but walked four.

Lee's win gave the Cubs a 1-0 lead in the series. The Cubs' record is 10-10, while the Giants are 10-10.

Manager Predicts Armstrong Victory Over Ross By Kayo

Pompton Lake, N. J., May 20 (AP)—Eddie Mead, manager of Henry Armstrong said flatly today his man would knock out Barney Ross, "in ten or eleven rounds" when they fight for Ross' welterweight title at Madison Square Garden bowl, May 26.

Mead said he didn't think Ross would be able to fathom Henry's unorthodox style and pointed out that Ross is a "clock" fighter, one who coasts through the first two minutes of a round and then fights hard in the final minute.

"What do you think Henry will be doing in the first two minutes," asked Mead.

Armstrong did not box today and probably will not enter the ring until Saturday. He will remain in camp until Thursday, arriving in New York just in time for the weighing in the day of the fight.

MAKES 142 POUNDS
Grossinger Lake, N. Y., May 19 (AP)—Barney Ross tipped the scales under 141 pounds today after completing his workout for the defense of his welterweight boxing title against Henry Armstrong at the Madison Square Garden bowl next Thursday night.

Ross has agreed to make 142 pounds for his 15-round bout with the featherweight champion.

The welterweight king travelled four rounds with the big gloves, meeting Pete Cara and Pete Gallano for two rounds each, and wound up with the usual four sessions of gymnasium exercises. He was at his best against Gallano although the Ross right uppercut saw plenty of action during the entire workout.

Ross will rest tomorrow but will resume boxing on Saturday. His last workout in camp is scheduled for Tuesday.

Big Indian Attack Nips Senators, 15-3; Lands Tribe On Top

Cleveland, May 19 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians put on their heaviest attack of the season against Washington today and wound up the afternoon with three home runs, a triple, four doubles and a 15 to 3 victory, which put them in first place in the American League.

Balk And An Error Lucky For Phillies

Philadelphia, May 19 (AP)—The Phillies climaxed an uphill battle against Cincinnati today by taking advantage of a balk and an error to score a ninth inning 5 to 4 victory.

CHICAGO BLANKS RED SOX, 4 TO 0

Johnny Whitehead Cuts Boston Win Streak; Rain Ends Game

Chicago, May 19 (AP)—Big John Whitehead, making his first start in more than three weeks, shut out the Boston Red Sox with three singles in a game held to seven innings by rain today and the White Sox triumphed in the lone contest of the curtailed series, 4 to 0.

The defeat ended the Red Sox' winning streak at eight games, and dropped them from the league leadership they held since Saturday.

Jack Wilson, whose previous two starts has been shutout victories, had little support from teammates and bore the brunt of Chicago's eight single attack that drove him from the mound in the fourth.

Wilson's string of 20 consecutive scoreless innings was cut in the second. With the bases filled, Owen singled and beat Higgins' throw to second on Hayes' sacrifice. Then Radcliff walked. Then he hit catcher Luke Sewell with a pitched ball. With the bases still filled, Mike

CITY COUNCIL OKEHS BUDGET

$120,000 To Be Raised By Taxes; $3,000 Less This Year

The 1938 city budget, calling for a total estimated expenditure of $345,000, of which $120,000 will be raised by taxes, was adopted by the Escanaba city council at its regular meeting held last night.

Last year, the total of all funds was estimated at $354,699.75, while the actual expenditures were $354,797.37. The tax assessment distribution, as set up in the budget, will be as follows: General city purposes, $88,725; interest and sinking fund, $22,275; bond tax, $3,000; and garbage tax, $7,000; total, $120,000. Last year, the total tax assessment was $123,000.

The funds in excess of the amount to be raised by taxation are to be derived from a number of sources, including the utilities, Horton Act monies, liquor licenses, rents and fees.

The 1938 budget includes an item of $2,000 to finance the survey of the proposed new municipal water plant. The police fund is estimated at $26,200 as compared to the 1937 budget figure of $24,190, the expense being due to expected additional expense because of traffic safety work.

The fire fund is increased from $27,000 to $35,200, the purchase of new equipment and salary raises of firemen being mainly responsible for the increase.

The Carnegie Library was allotted $10,000 for the year, $500 less than was requested by the board of trustees. Discussion of the matter of expected revenues from licenses disclosed that the Escanaba-Gladstone Motorbus company had not paid its license fee of $12.50 per bus for last year, and the city council instructed the city manager to take steps to collect the amount due.

Delegates Designated
Besides adopting the annual budget, the city council disposed of a number of other items of business last evening.

Dr. C. A. Lund, Peter J. Olson and Anona Anderson were designated as delegates to officially represent the city of Escanaba at the New Sweden Tercentenary at Wilmington, June 27 to 30.

Approval was given to the proposal to purchase a new chlorinator for the city water plant.

The council listened to the reading of a resolution, presented by the Labor Voting League of Escanaba, suggesting that the city of Escanaba effect economies by discontinuing the payment of $500 for 20 memberships in the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce. The resolution was ordered placed on file.

Al Heldenreich, manager of the Escanaba baseball team, appeared before the council, presenting an appeal for a cash donation to promote baseball in the city. Action upon the request was deferred by the council.

New Recreation Project
The city council recommended that the city manager prepare plans for a recreational development project to be carried out under the WPA program. The program calls for the following improvements: two shuffleboard courts in North Escanaba; two shuffleboard courts in Ludington park; hardball and softball diamond on property in North Escanaba donated by I. Stephenson company to city; and the following developments of the Nineteenth street playground area, one softball diamond, two concrete tennis courts, horseshoe courts, volleyball court, basketball court, croquet area, sand box, field house, 10 by 20 feet, with toilets. The city's cost for this project would be about $3,068, and the federal government labor cost, $5,500.

Beverage Licenses
Beverage licenses were approved as follows by the city council last night: S. D. D. Licenses, John Enstrom, 1406 Ludington street; M. W. Ettenhofer, Jr., LaFleur Lunchette, 23rd street and Ludington; Art Kubley, Ludington and 21st streets; Jack McCarthy, 413 South Ninth street; tourist licenses, Nick Moran, Sheridan road; Merville Kessler, The Willows; George Williams, 12th street and First avenue north; dance permits, Michael Finn, 1323 First avenue north; Bay de Noc Tavern, 322 Ludington; transfer of beer and wine license, from William Hawley, to Mrs. Edwina Milkiewicz, 322 Stephenson avenue.

Dr. Maud Watson Here For Social Conference

Dr. Maud E. Watson, nationally known social worker and director of the Detroit Children's Center, will be one of the principal speakers at the social conference, which opens here today. Dr. Watson will speak Saturday morning at 9:30 on the subject, "Is There a Mutual Contribution Between Social Workers and Teachers On Problems of Children?"

Dr. Watson is a graduate of the University of Michigan and a graduate of the School of Social Service of Chicago. She has had graduate work at Columbia university and received her degree in psychology at New York university. While she was in New York, she worked for three years under Dr. Marlon E. Kenworthy on analysis of cases of behavior problems of children.

Organized Center
Dr. Watson was a psychiatric social worker in Army hospital in Chicago and later with the United States Public Health Service there. She went to Detroit in 1922. She initiated the need for medical social work in Harper hospital, organized the Neuropsychiatric Clinic at Harper hospital and for five years was associate director of this clinic with the late Dr. A. L. Jacoby, psychiatrist.

In 1930 she returned to Detroit from New York to organize the Child Guidance Division of the Children's Fund of Michigan and subsequently organized and is director of the Children's Center of Detroit. This organization is not only known nationally, but internationally, and is a center for the interpretation and treatment of problems of behavior of the normal child. They take only children of above average, and gifted intelligence for study and treatment. In their consultation department, however, they attempt to give physicians and teachers an understanding of the dull and feeble-minded, and help in their adjustment.

Number of Societies
The children who go to the Children's Center are from families above the average social status from Detroit, Grosse Pointe, Bloomfield Hills, and additional cities in Michigan. They also receive many calls from other states such as Wisconsin, Ohio and Illinois for consultation and advice. Three-quarters of their referrals come through the pediatricians of Detroit, with whom they work very intensively.

Dr. Watson is a member of the American Association of Psychia-

trians, the National Committee for Mental Hygiene, and a member of the advisory committee of the State Society for Mental Hygiene and has been elected to membership in the National Committee for Mental Hygiene.

She is known as a lecturer and has contributed a number of articles to professional magazines, such as Mental Hygiene, Woman's Medical Journal, and the American Pediatric Journal when it was published.

Chief Roles
This story of ranchers who risk their lives to fulfill the frontier's unwritten code of chivalry, marks William Boyd's eighteenth portrayal of the role of the hard-riding, straight-shooting Westerner.

A thrilling exposure of the fake injury racket, whereby insurance associations have been robbed of hundreds of thousands of dollars, is promised in "Accidents Will Happen."

In quite a few cities throughout the United States recently, investigators have cracked down upon bands of men and women who have been defrauding the big companies by self-inflicted injuries magnified by crooked physicians. Thus this is another picture "taken right from the headlines."

Work a Pleasure
Feels So Well

Lauds KruGon for Giving Her Back Her Health; Relieved of Rheumatic Pains, Stomach Pains, Kidneys Regulated

"KruGon is the first medicine I have ever taken that did not disappoint me with the results it gave," said Mr. Walter Engel, 1118 North Second St., Watertown, Wisconsin. "It seems I had always been badly constipated and extremely nervous. In late years I got little satisfaction from eating for to eat meant only one thing—suffering afterwards. Foods would sour on my stomach causing me to bloat terribly and I would become so dizzy at times I could hardly endure it. My kidneys were disordered and my sleep and rest was badly broken. Then rheumatism settled in my back and shoulders and kept me in constant misery. It was so discouraging to try first one medicine and then another without any results until I finally learned of KruGon."

"Suffering people everywhere should learn of this new laxative-tonic formula," continued Mrs. Engel. "I am eating and enjoying my meals without the least discomfort afterwards, sleep soundly the entire night through and get up of a morning refreshed and ready for the days work ahead. My housework is a pleasure I feel so well. Even those dreadful rheumatic pains have been relieved. Little did I realize a medicine with the merit of KruGon had been discovered."

KruGon is sold by West End Drug Store, 1221 Ludington St., this city.

At The Michigan
Adventure and excitement in the trackless jungles of the upper Amazon River highlight Jack Holt's latest Columbia drama, "Flight Into Nowhere," which comes to the Michigan Theatre for two days beginning today.

"Flight Into Nowhere" narrates the difficulties endured by a rescuing expedition, the horrors of being held captive by head-hunters, and the love duel between two girls, one a beautiful white woman and the other the proud daughter of a forgotten Inca tribe.

Jack Holt is starred in this tale of two-fisted adventure.

At The Delft
"Heart of Arizona" and "Accidents Will Happen" are features on the Delft Theatre program today and Saturday.

America's favorite cast of outdoor action players returns to the screen in the latest "Hopalong Cassidy" story, "Heart of Arizona." William Boyd, Russell Hayden, George Hayes, Natalie Moorehead and Billy King play trio Social Workers, American Academy of Science, American Orthopsychiatric Association, American Sociological Society, Progressive Education, American Public Health Association, etc. She is also an honorary member of the Detroit Pediatric Society, and a member of the advisory committee of the State Society for Mental Hygiene and has been elected to membership in the National Committee for Mental Hygiene.

Junior Prom Will Be Held Tonight At Trenary School

Trenary. — Preparations have been made for the annual Junior Prom to be held in the Trenary high school gymnasium on Friday, May 20. The gymnasium has been decorated in attractive vineyard scene. Dancing will be from 8:30 to 12:30. Music will be furnished by Groleau's Orchestra of Gladstone.

Leading the grand march will be Vera Sloan, president of the Junior class, and her guest, Grant Maynard, president of the Senior class, and his guest.

Chairmen of the ball committee are as follows:
Decorations—Armas Jarvi.
Invitations—Vera Sloan.
Tickets—Leslie Latvala.
Refreshments—Ingrid Johnson.

Program—Glenn Kallio.
Publicity—Robert Flynn.
Check Room—Adeline Hill.
Floor—Helen Nichols.

The children who go to the Children's Center are from families above the average social status from Detroit, Grosse Pointe, Bloomfield Hills, and additional cities in Michigan. They also receive many calls from other states such as Wisconsin, Ohio and Illinois for consultation and advice. Three-quarters of their referrals come through the pediatricians of Detroit, with whom they work very intensively.

Dr. Watson is a member of the American Association of Psychia-

trians, the National Committee for Mental Hygiene, and a member of the advisory committee of the State Society for Mental Hygiene and has been elected to membership in the National Committee for Mental Hygiene.

She is known as a lecturer and has contributed a number of articles to professional magazines, such as Mental Hygiene, Woman's Medical Journal, and the American Pediatric Journal when it was published.

Chief Roles
This story of ranchers who risk their lives to fulfill the frontier's unwritten code of chivalry, marks William Boyd's eighteenth portrayal of the role of the hard-riding, straight-shooting Westerner.

A thrilling exposure of the fake injury racket, whereby insurance associations have been robbed of hundreds of thousands of dollars, is promised in "Accidents Will Happen."

In quite a few cities throughout the United States recently, investigators have cracked down upon bands of men and women who have been defrauding the big companies by self-inflicted injuries magnified by crooked physicians. Thus this is another picture "taken right from the headlines."

Work a Pleasure
Feels So Well

Lauds KruGon for Giving Her Back Her Health; Relieved of Rheumatic Pains, Stomach Pains, Kidneys Regulated

"KruGon is the first medicine I have ever taken that did not disappoint me with the results it gave," said Mr. Walter Engel, 1118 North Second St., Watertown, Wisconsin. "It seems I had always been badly constipated and extremely nervous. In late years I got little satisfaction from eating for to eat meant only one thing—suffering afterwards. Foods would sour on my stomach causing me to bloat terribly and I would become so dizzy at times I could hardly endure it. My kidneys were disordered and my sleep and rest was badly broken. Then rheumatism settled in my back and shoulders and kept me in constant misery. It was so discouraging to try first one medicine and then another without any results until I finally learned of KruGon."

"Suffering people everywhere should learn of this new laxative-tonic formula," continued Mrs. Engel. "I am eating and enjoying my meals without the least discomfort afterwards, sleep soundly the entire night through and get up of a morning refreshed and ready for the days work ahead. My housework is a pleasure I feel so well. Even those dreadful rheumatic pains have been relieved. Little did I realize a medicine with the merit of KruGon had been discovered."
