

KALTENBORN

"Views the News"

By H. V. Kaltenborn

Spain Once More Europe's Danger Spot

Once more the Spanish situation looms as a dangerous factor in international affairs. As a result of rebel air raids into French territory and a ruthless killing of Spanish civilians by rebel planes, there is a growing demand in France to abandon the hypocritical policy of "non-intervention."

British public opinion is aroused by the fact that 14 British ships have been sunk or damaged in recent rebel air raids. Italian opinion is alarmed over frequently reported differences between Spaniards and Italians fighting on Franco's side. The Italian press acting with a unanimity which suggests official orders has expressed its discontent by again attacking France. The British press acting without orders and against official policy is vigorously vocal against the Italian and German filers whose marksmanship seems most effective when directed against British shipping.

Ex-Premier Blum, who initiated the "non-intervention" policy on behalf of France, now asks that it be abandoned. He rightly declares that it has become "a kind of legalization of iniquity—a sort of abominable sophism which consists of saying that everything is permitted to one side and everything is denied to the other."

This statement is echoed by the great mass of French opinion. It has been strengthened by recent air raids into French territory. These raids together with the deliberate bombing of British ships suggest that rebel filers have embarked on a policy of direct provocation, the political purpose of which is not yet apparent.

Tension Between Soldiers

As for the quarrels among rebel contingents these are not a new manifestation. This writer found a good deal of tension between the ardently Catholic Carlist monarchists and the ardently Fascist Falangists in the early months of the war. Last Fall during a visit to the rebel side similar tension was marring relations between Spaniards and foreigners. Italian and German officers were contemptuous of Spanish staff work and the individualistic Spaniard's unwillingness to subject himself to rigid military discipline.

The Spaniards, on their part, had little respect or admiration for their foreign associates. A Spanish soldier when asked who are the best fighters on the Spanish side, replied proudly: "Of course, the Spaniards." Asked who are the worst, he answered with equal promptness and a look of contempt: "The Italians—they run." This was a little hard on the Italians who, while they did run at Guadalajara, have done some excellent fighting since. But it expressed the general feeling of the Spanish soldier.

Neither Germans nor Italians have been tactful in dealing with their Spanish allies. They always insisted on occupying the best hotels in the towns and the best quarters in the villages—never hesitating to oust Spanish comrades who were there before they arrived. Despite General Franco's effort to clothe them in Spanish uniforms and identify them with Spanish units, they have insisted on retaining their own formations and on wearing special insignia which differentiated them from Spaniards. This was natural enough for the Italians, of whom there are at least 40,000 (some competent observers say 80,000) fighting under their own commanders. But it was not necessary for the Germans who have only some 10,000 technicians and fliers scattered over various parts of the Spanish front.

Solution to Spanish Problem

In the South, Gen. Quelpo de Llano denies that there has been any break in his friendship with General Franco. He would naturally make this denial until he is in a position to launch his own revolution.

That time may soon come. There is no unity of principle or purpose on the rebel side. If Italian and German aid helps General Franco to win, the first thing that will happen is an open split between the discordant factions which make up his following.

This Man, Joe Murray

BY WILLIAM CORCORAN

Copyright, 1938, by William Corcoran; NEA Service, Inc.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
JOE MURRAY—like a new places, new jobs, new girls.
HELEN—fell in love—hard—once.
TERRY MALLOW—found love—and kept it!

Yesterday, Terry, comes into Joe's life, tells him she loves him, that he must not leave. Yet Joe cannot forget Helen, recalls one night with anguish that he really killed her!

CHAPTER X
Mrs. Murphy put down the iron and came over to Joe's chair and put her hand on his head, drawing it against her side and holding it there. He was stiff and unbending, but she did not mind. She stood there, holding him. They were silent, mother and son, but there was a current flowing through them, one to the other, a strong current. It could stand up and buck the tides of death and disaster.

"Life goes on, Joe," she said. "It's got to go on."
"Yes," he said. "I don't know why!"
"It's not for us to say."
She went back to the ironing. She began to put up the work for tonight. After a moment she said, "What about Terry Mallow, Joe?"
"I don't know."
"I want you to be happy," she said. "You do whatever you think best. But don't let yourself be forced into anything that's not to your own unmistakable liking. You're a man now, and you've got to be strong."

And with that enigmatic advice the conversation ended.
About Terry Mallow, as Joe insisted . . . he did not know. What would be the square thing, the fair thing? He could not tell. His thoughts were halting, but clear enough in his mind. She had needed him, still needed him to some degree—but did she need him as much as she dreamed, and was she mistaking simple need for the blinding demands of love? Suppose, in time, she met someone, someone for whom there was no immediate need, but only that passionate hunger called love? What would she do then? And where would he come out in the shuffle? Would he help her or would he wreck her life by remaining now when he did not himself care, by drifting into the dead emptiness of a loveless relation?

He did not know.
Terry Mallow herself knew all she cared to know. She was not drifting; she was working very determinedly around her objective, like a very busy lady spider weaving a myriad tenuous threads to hold it finally fast. No single thread was stronger than a puff of wind, but all together they were stronger than a hurricane.

"I'm so happy when you're around," she might complacently tell him. There were no maidenly reserves, no alternating boldness and shyness; it was as if she had never heard of them. "I feel safe. I never thought there could be such a comfortable feeling in here." She took his hand and placed it on her heart. "Feel it go? It goes so good when we're together, and it skips and misses a little when you go away until you come back. Happy, darling?"
He smiled. "Of course."
Contentedly she sighed. "I'm glad. I never knew what it meant to be happy. I don't ever want to forget . . . ever."
And another tenuous thread would fasten itself upon him.

He knew well that she was merely a child. That, in his own way, he saw clearly, with its implications. That she was desperate for escape from the bondage of her former life. That in her gentle, disarming way she was utterly unscrupulous about anything she wanted very badly. That in her oblivious innocence she had differentiated between Tommy Withers and himself only at his own arrogant insistence. What if he had never interfered? He asked her.

"But I could never love him like this, darling!" she said instantly. "He's not like you. You're a man, you're bigger in every way. He'd never have understood me the way you do. Nobody could manage me like you. He was only another boy. You knew lots of girls, didn't you, before you met me?"
And Joe thought: How child-like! And he thought: Childlike, my eye; it's cunning as sin! And looking at her, his patience expired, and he kissed the back of her neck, and she quivered with laughter and squirmed around and threw her arms around him tightly.

And then, like a . . . not, after an interval, a silent close interval, Joe would get abruptly to his feet out of her arms and say brusquely, "Come on. Let's get out of here. We'll go see a picture."
And obediently, with that curious blandly gay air, she would get her things and come along to see a picture. And she would behave herself pleasantly and decorously until he bade her good-night the last thing, and then she would hold him tightly and make him kiss her long and hard, a little brutally and tenderly, darkly and hungrily, sending him off shaken and swearing to himself in the night.

One thing she never did. She was the only woman Joe knew to save the unhappy Spanish people from further useless bloodshed, she would be performing a service for herself and all humanity.

Lil' Abner

Myra North, Special Nurse

Boots and Her Buddies

Wash Tubbs

Freckles and His Friends

Out Our Way

By Al Capp

By Thompson and Coll

By Martin

By Crane

By Blosser

By Williams

Bark River News

Bark River, Mich.—Dr. and Mrs. Nathan J. Frenn are returning this week from Philadelphia, where Dr. Frenn has completed a year's study. Mrs. Frenn has spent the past month in the East.

Another old landmark will soon be history with the raising of the old Frechette store building, one of the early business places of the town will be removed. Built by the late J. B. Frechette a half century ago, it was the leading business place of the town. The postoffice was located there for 35 years. The upper floor was the scene of many dances, bazaars and meetings.

George DeLoughary of Eustis has returned from Chicago where he visited his brother Raymond, who is a patient in the Veteran's hospital.

Mike Harris of Superior, Wis., has arrived for a visit with his brother John.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Uler and Mr. Uler's mother, of Milwaukee, were recent visitors with relatives here. Mrs. Uler, Sr. is a sister of Mrs. Adam Yagodzinski.

Misses Sofia and Mary Delugas of Chicago are visiting at the home of their father Peter De Lugas.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Harris and daughter Vivian and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Collins of Niagara, Wis. visited at the Alvin Bizler home Sunday.

Lawrence Gauthier and William Bergman have returned from Houghton where they were students at Michigan College of Mining and Technology. Lawrence is leaving soon for California, where he will be employed during part of his vacation.

Misses Marion Flynn, Jeanne Huss and Gladys Houle were recent visitors in Marquette where they have enrolled for the summer term at Northern State Teachers college.

Mrs. Theo. Jacques and daughter Alvernice of Iron Mountain, are visiting relatives and friends here and at Schaffer.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Evans of Oakland, Calif. have left their home for a trip east which will include Washington, D. C., Niagara Falls, and a visit with Mrs. Evans' mother here. Mrs. Evans is the former Leola Frechette.

Hold Everything!

"I'd like this portrait enlarged, only keep the mouth as it is."

ELECTION WILL BE HELD JULY 11

One Member of Education Board To Be Named at Time

One member of the board of education for the Gladstone school district will be elected at the annual election on Monday, July 11, the term of Archie D. Harris, secretary, expiring.

CITY BRIEFS

Carl Olson arrived Wednesday from Watertown, Minn., for a vacation visit at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Olson, 11 7th street.

Miss Lorraine LaFramboise of the Willard Parker hospital, New York City, is arriving Sunday for a vacation visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe LaFramboise, Lake Shore Drive.

Latter Day Saints Having Annual One Day Service Sunday

The annual one-day service of the Latter Day Saints' churches of the Northern District will be held Sunday at the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

THEATRES

Radio's greatest singing cowboy, Smith Ballou, becomes a two-fisted singing-buckaroo of the western plains in his rousing best as he stars in Zane Grey's smashing story, "Roll Along, Cowboy," at the Rialto Theatre.

Local Youths Take Trip To Porcupines

Norman Peterson and James DeHlin of this city, were two of a group of ten botany students attending Northern State Teachers' college, Marquette, who took a week-end trip to the Porcupine Mountains on June 4 and 5.

Rev. Hoffmann To Attend Conference

Rev. Theophil Hoffmann, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, will attend the Lake Superior delegate conference at Florence, Wis., on Tuesday, June 14.

GLADSTONE

Gladstone Hospital On 'Preferred List' of State PWA Jobs

Washington, June 9. (AP)—Governor Frank Murphy said today three Michigan construction projects have been placed on the "preferred list" by the Public Works administration.

CHURCH SERVICES

ALL SAINTS' CATHOLIC. Rev. Fr. Joe Schaul, Pastor. 8 a. m.—Low Mass. 10 a. m.—High Mass.

REORGANIZED CHURCH OF JESUS CHRIST OF LATTER DAY SAINTS. Elder Warner Acker, Pastor. 9:45—Devotional service. 11:00—Prayer service. 7:30—Evening service.

FREE METHODIST. Rev. E. W. Price, Pastor. Sunday, June 12. 8:00—Morning worship with sermon by Rev. Mattie Benson.

THE GLADSTONE TABERNACLE. Rev. C. Beiler, Pastor. 10:00—Morning worship. Subject: "The Possibilities of the Believer's State."

CALVARY LUTHERAN. Rev. N. Hawkins, Pastor. Trinity Sunday. 8:30 a. m.—Church school. 9:30 a. m.—Divine service.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL. Rev. W. C. Foster, Pastor. 10:00—Morning worship with sermon. Lawrence VanHorn will sing "The Lord's Prayer."

MISSION COVENANT. Rev. G. V. S. Engstrom, Pastor. Sunday, June 12. 10:30—A joint service of the congregation and Sunday school will be held with a Children's Day program presented.

CONGREGATIONAL. Children's Day, combined church and Sunday school services at 10 a. m. Preacher, Rev. A. J. Parker.

FIRST BAPTIST. Rev. Nile Hedstrom, Pastor. Sunday, June 12. 9:45—Sunday school. 10:00—Divine service, Swedish.

FIRST LUTHERAN. Rev. Albin Olson, Pastor. Sunday, June 12. 9:30—Sunday school and Bible class. 10:30—Services, English.

ST. MARTIN'S EV. LUTHERAN. Synodical Conference. Theophil Hoffmann, Pastor. Trinity Sunday, June 12. 8:30 a. m.—Sunday school. Primary department, "The Creation of the World."

ST. PAUL'S EV. LUTHERAN. Synodical Conference. Theophil Hoffmann, Pastor. Trinity Sunday, June 12. 8:30 a. m.—Sunday school. Primary department, "The Conversion of Paul."

WEEKLY PROGRAM. Sun., Mon., Tues., June 12-14. Feature No. 1—Jane Withers in "CHECKERS"

JOIN YOUR FRIENDS AT WALLY'S DINE AND DANCE TONIGHT. Music By Leo and His Band. BEER - WINE - LIQUOR (Minors Not Allowed)

BENEFIT DANCE at The Ogontz Grange Hall, Ensign SAT., NITE, JUNE 11. Music By RHYTHM KINGS. Beer and Lunch Served. Adm.: 25c and 15c. Proceeds for benefit of Oasis Ball Team.

PHONE 33 RIALTO-BLDG.

WILL PRESENT CONCERT HERE

Famous Russian Violinist in Gladstone for 2nd Time

Alexander Kaminsky, Russian violinist, will appear here next Wednesday evening in a concert of sacred music at the First Baptist church.

Gladstone WPA Nine Defeats Nahma Team

In the WPA recreational league, the Gladstone team under the direction of Gordon Haga defeated the Nahma team under the direction of Henry Ward yesterday afternoon at the 9th street ball diamond.

DANCE DUTCH MILL

Where Smart People Meet SUNDAY, JUNE 12. Featuring Geo. Corsi and Orch.

For SUMMER Wear

Sportslax for children; growing girls and women. Comfortable, stylish summer footwear in white with combination of blue, brown or red. $1.10 to $1.75 black. Pr. $1.10 to $1.75

Bryn Mawr Bux Sandals for children and women. Cuban heels, white. $1.19 to $1.49 Pair

SPECIAL—Woman's pure silk Knee Hose, 3 thread, 29c Pair

$2.95

Men's White Buck Sport Ox-fords, all leather.

PETERSON'S SHOES STORE. Since 1900. 1000-1001 N. Main St. GLADSTONE ESCANABA

SOCIAL

GIA Meeting

Members of the GIA to the B of LE held their regular meeting on Thursday afternoon at the Eagles hall.

Camp Warming Party

Mrs. George Beady was honored at a camp warming party given Thursday evening by Mrs. Fritz Skoglund and Mrs. Claude Brodrene at the new Beady camp on the Whitefish.

M. E. General Aid Elects Officers

Mrs. Nye Quistorf was chosen president of the General Aid of the Methodist Episcopal church at a meeting held Wednesday afternoon.

RIALTO

LAST TIMES TONIGHT. HIT NO. 1. He sings as he rides! SMITH BALLON "Zane Grey's Roll Along, Cowboy" with Cecilia Parker

HIT NO. 2. FRED MacMURRAY FRANCES FARMER CHARLIE RUGGLES "EXCLUSIVE"

SERIAL—"SECRET OF TREASURE ISLAND," CHAPTER 6. FREE—"Tootsie Rolls"—To All Kiddies At Matinee.

CASH WHEATONS CARRY

Table listing various meats and prices: Milk Fed Veal, Fresh Ground Beef, Leg o' Lamb, Beef Liver, Lamb Chops, Pork Liver, Lamb Shoulder, Spare Ribs, Leg o' Veal, Frankfurts, Veal Shoulder, Ring Bologna, Veal Stew, Pork Sausage, Veal Chops, Beef Pot Roast, Pork Shoulder Roast, Round, Sirlola or Porter House Steak, Pork Chops, Slab Bacon, chunks, Pork Loin Roast, Butter, Eggs, doz., OPEN NIGHTS AND SUNDAYS, Beer, 3 for 25c, Ice Cream, qt. 28c, Wine, qt. 60c

Clerks To Play Keg-Drainers On Sunday Afternoon

Retail clerks of the city have accepted a challenge of the local keg-drainers to a game of diamond ball and the big tilt is scheduled for Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the old diamond off North Ninth street, it was announced yesterday.

Rustic Bridge Is Being Constructed

A rustic bridge is now being constructed across the canal at the boat harbor between the island and the mainland. Landscaping of a portion of the park is also being carried out.

DANCE TONIGHT Labor Temple

Musical by The Vagabonds. Sponsored by United Workers. Dancing 9:30 to 1:30. Admission 20c. Beer and Lunch Served.

U. P. Briefs

PILOT VISITS HANCOCK. Houghton—It was Al Cheesman, crack Canadian air-man and the flyer who piloted Commander Wilkins' flight to the North Pole in search of the lost Russian expedition who Tuesday and Wednesday soared above Houghton and Hancock in a Fokker seaplane.

Gogarn To Attend Legislative Board Meeting At Detroit

Charles Gogarn, Lake Shore Drive, local Soo Line engineer, will attend a meeting of the state legislative board of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen at Detroit on Wednesday, June 15.

Program Of Sacred Music Is Arranged

A program of sacred music is to be presented Thursday evening June 23 at the First Lutheran church. The program, beginning at 8:15 o'clock will include selections by both the junior and senior choirs of the church and various other selected numbers.

ADVENTISTS TO MEET

Iron Mountain—Arrangements are being completed for the camp meeting to be held by the upper peninsula members of the Seventh-day Adventist denomination in the Iron Mountain city park from June 16 to 25.

RAILWAY TO QUIT

Iron Mountain—Iron Mountain shippers, over the Wisconsin & Michigan railway are being notified by the Menominee terminal that service is to be discontinued July 1.

American Author

HORIZONTAL. 1, 5 Pictured modern writer. 10 Chest bone. 11 Liquid part of fat. 12 Flower container. 13 Steps. 14 Ejects. 15 Sailor. 18 One who irons clothes. 21 Lampoon. 25 To ransom. 30 Loving. 31 Humming bird. 32 Indian gateway. 34 Named. 35 Gazed exultantly. 38 Careens. 42 Blood money. 43 Artist's frame. 47 Vessel for

Crossword puzzle grid with numbers and a small portrait of a woman.

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE. COLUMBUS, INDIAN, OMER, ASIAN, ACRE, INN, LEPER, RES, STEAMER, SOUNDED, P, T, S, U, N, A, P, R, I, L, U, L, N, A, S, N, A, I, L, E, D, C, O, U, L, M, B, U, S, R, E, E, V, E, I, D, O, L, A, P, E, T, E, R, S, G, A, E, T, H, A, R, D, E, S, T, P, I, R, A, T, E, S, L, E, O, S, A, P, I, D, C, O, P, O, L, I, D, E, L, A, T, E, E, R, I, A, S, E, N, O, I, S, E, A, M, E, R, I, C, A

VERTICAL. 2 Eighth ounce. 3 Unless. 4 To instigate. 5 Dandy. 6 Exultant. 7 To mold anew. 8 Litters for the dead. 9 Being. 12 She is a novelist. 15 Recalls. 17 Overture. 19 Pertaining to the kidney. 20 To corrode. 22 Stir. 23 Tower. 24 God of war. 26 To let bait bob. 27 To recede. 28 Before. 29 She was raised in the West. 33 Formal display of troops. 36 The deep. 37 Moldings. 39 Virginia willow. 40 Broken tooth. 41 Farewell. 44 Alms box. 45 Suture. 46 Nurse mythology. 48 Three. 49 Turf.

