Wage And Hour Measure Passed

FINAL GAVEL FALLS TODAY IN CONGRESS

LOANS TO CARRIERS KILLED BY LABOR OPPOSITION

Washington, June 14 (AP)—The house recessed at 11:45 o'clock tonight until noon tomorrow. The senate continued in session.

Washington, June 14 (AP)—The wage-hour bill, bruised, battered but triumphant, received final congressional approval today and congress, thinking of home, rest and campaign worries, hustled along toward adjournment. Most informed legislators said the final gavel would fall some time tomorrow.

One uncertainty remained and that was railroad legislation—a bill to help the carriers by liberalizing RFC loan requirements, and a measure establishing an unemployment insurance system for the railroad workers. Some labor leaders were holding out against the loan bill and the house leadership was reported to be opposed to it. Yet agitation for its passage continued.

At a press conference, President Roosevelt said that if congress could pass any railroad legislation before adjourning, it would be helpful. Asked if he wanted such legislation enacted, he replied that he had sent a message to congress pointing out a need for such legislation and that his position was unchanged.

Otherwise, only the adoption by the senate of a compromise conference report on the $3,753,000,000 lending-spending bill, approval of the second deficiency bill, house action on the investigation of monopolistic practices asked by President Roosevelt, senate action on a proposed investigation of the politics in relief, and minor issues remained to be considered.

Opposition Disappears The wage-hour bill, which now goes to the White House for President Roosevelt's signature, reached that status after encountering more tribulations than almost any piece of legislation that has harassed congress in years.

The measure, intended to establish wage minima and hour maxima for much of interstate industry, had the distinction of being "killed" in the house and then re-introduced and passed.

When it was presented to congress in compromise form today, almost all the opposition that previously beset it had disappeared. The house cheered long and loudly when even the southerners who led the previous opposition to the

Warring Factions In UAW Fight For Control Of Money

Detroit, June 14 (AP)—Warring factions within the CIO United Automobile Workers clashed today over control of the union's international treasury as an aftermath of President Homer Martin's suspension of five ranking officials.

Members of the anti-Martin faction said they had served notice on a bank, where the union was reported to have $100,000 on deposit, that withdrawals without the consent of George F. Ades, suspended secretary-treasurer, would be illegal. The union's latest financial report showed expenditures of $1,587,561 last year.

Larry S. Davidow, attorney for the union, said arrangements had been made with the bank to recognize the signature of Delmond Garst, executive board member who was named by Martin as acting treasurer. Martin's allies said the executive board had adopted a resolution transferring control of the treasury to Martin and Garst.

The suspended officers, Ades and Vice-Presidents Richard T. Frankenstein, Wyndham Mortimer, Walter N. Wells and Ed Hall, returned to Detroit today from Washington.

They said they would start at once soliciting support among the rank and file membership for a special convention to consider removal of Martin as president. In such a convention, the contest for the presidency presumably would be between Frankenstein and Martin.

No Slot Machines In Berrien County For Tourist Trade

Lansing, June 14 (AP)—Attorney General Raymond W. Starr announced the completion today of a campaign to "clean up" Berrien county in advance of the tourist and resort season.

Starr said an investigator from his office, co-operating with prosecutor Edward Weston and Chief of Police Charles Koehler of Benton Harbor, had conducted a series of raids on slot machines and bookmaking establishments in Berrien county. The raids on two "bookies" yielded the names of more than 125 frequenters and resulted in the payment of fines by operators and employees, Starr said.

Of the slot machine campaign, the Attorney General declared: "It is my opinion there are now no slot machines operating in Berrien county."

Pittsburgh Truck Tieup Is Settled

Pittsburgh, June 14 (AP)—A strike of 1,000 truck drivers which for two weeks had paralyzed the $5,000,000 long distance motor freight industry in western Pennsylvania was settled tonight.

Representatives of the employers, 58 member firms of the Western Pennsylvania Motor Carriers Conference, and A. F. of L. union officials signed a new wage agreement announced as a compromise in which "both sides made concessions."

Terms of the settlement were not made public. The drivers struck for a five cents an hour increase in pay and certain changes in working conditions.

Gladstone Man Killed In Crash Near Kipling

John Sodergaard, 52, Gladstone commercial fisherman, was instantly killed and Roy F. Burroughs, Gladstone restaurant cook, was seriously injured when the car in which they were riding left highway US-41 about a mile north of Kipling at 10:30 yesterday morning.

The car, with Sodergaard at the wheel, hit the ditch on the left side of the highway. It snapped off a telephone pole and rolled over twice before coming to a stop in front of the Gauss farmhouse.

"Both men must have been drinking heavily," said Under Sheriff John Fredericksen of the Delta county sheriff's department, who with Deputy Paul Creten investigated the crash.

"Both smelled strongly of liquor when we removed them from Sodergaard's coupe."

Witnesses Crash The only eye-witness to the crash was a transient giving his name as Albert Allen, with no home address. According to his statement, he was walking north on the shoulder at the left side of the pavement when the coupe, coming south at high speed, struck past him.

He turned to watch it, and saw it swerve across the road and into the ditch, striking the telephone pole and rolling over twice before it halted right side up.

"The car was traveling fast and weaving as it approached me," he said.

Burroughs was knocked unconscious when the crash occurred when the crash occurred and was unable to talk coherently late last night. He was taken to St. Francis hospital by an ambulance summoned from this city, and examination showed him to be suffering from a broken jaw and cuts about the face and head.

The exact extent of his injuries remained unknown last night, and it was thought by physicians that his skull may have been fractured.

Employed as cook at a Gladstone restaurant, Burroughs was known as "Buck." He worked all night Monday night, leaving the restaurant at 7 o'clock yesterday morning for a Gladstone Cafe where he and Sodergaard ate breakfast together. They were last seen before the crash, according to information available last night, when they left Gladstone for Rapid River at about 9 o'clock.

Their coupe was seen parked on the highway in front of a Rapid River tavern a short time before the fatal crash.

Sodergaard, who has fished out of Gladstone for many years, lived at the Robert Sjoquist home, 610 Minneapolis avenue. His former wife, Amanda, from whom he was divorced, lives on Skelton road, Gladstone, and his only son, Hugo, lives with her.

The body was taken to the Swenson Funeral Home to be prepared for burial and will be taken to the Sjoquist home tomorrow. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon, Rev. C. V. S. Engstrom officiating.

Yosemite, Calif., June 14 (AP)—A shattered airliner was consigned to the elements near the top of a lonely peak in Yosemite National Park today, as department of commerce men completed investigation of the wreckage and started the long, hazardous trek down the 2,750-foot mountain.

The bodies of the plane's nine occupants arrived in Wawona by pack train after a 20-mile descent, clinging to narrow trails along precipitous cliffs.

The plane crashed on Buena Vista crest in a violent storm the night of March 1 after it was forced back by rain and snow in its route from San Francisco to Los Angeles.

The wreckage was found Sunday by H. O. Collier, Fresno. The ship struck three pines simultaneously—probably at 200 miles an hour, sheared them off 50 feet above ground, crashed in to a huge tamarack tree a few hundred feet further on, and broke into thousands of pieces 100 feet below the mountain side.

Seated at Last

After patiently waiting for 18 months, Representative Alphonse Roy, Democrat, of New Hampshire, above, finally got a seat in congress when the house voted to unseat Representative Arthur B. Jenks, Republican, who occupied the post while Roy contested the election on a claim that 34 ballots had been lost. But it was worth the wait, Representative Roy got $14,160 in back pay.

FIGHT FOR C&O CONTROL ENDED

Opponents of Young Vote to Dissolve Middle Holding Company

Baltimore, June 14 (AP)—Stockholders of the Chesapeake stock, Young's forces were ousted from control of the holding company when the meeting voted to expand the board of directors and promptly named three Young opponents as members.

Tomorrow, in New York, as the result of a unanimously approved resolution to dissolve Chesapeake, the new board will hear a recommendation by Young for a dividend action and a distribution of capital.

AIRLINER DEAD ALL IDENTIFIED

The wreckage of the plane's nine occupants arrived in Wawona by pack train after a 20-mile descent, clinging to narrow trails along precipitous cliffs.

The plane crashed on Buena Vista crest in a violent storm the night of March 1 after it was forced back by rain and snow in its route from San Francisco to Los Angeles.

The wreckage was found Sunday by H. O. Collier, Fresno. The ship struck three pines simultaneously—probably at 200 miles an hour, sheared them off 50 feet above ground, crashed in to a huge tamarack tree a few hundred feet further on, and broke into thousands of pieces 100 feet below the mountain side.

The bodies were strewn over a wide area.

Coroner R. S. Jay of Madera county said all the bodies were identified. They were taken to Fresno.

Jack Frye, Transcontinental Western Air president, said the crash occurred "when the severest and most destructive storm on the west coast in 64 years made navigation faulty."

Pressure By Lewis Fails In Congress; CIO Bill Squelched

Washington, June 14 (AP)—A coalition of Republicans and administration Democrats dealt John L. Lewis, CIO chairman, a crushing defeat today by bottling up in a committee a labor bill he came to the capitol to sponsor personally.

Less than 24 hours after Lewis used Speaker Bankhead's office as a conference room in which to apply pressure to a group of house members the house rules committee virtually eliminated any chance that the measure would be considered before adjournment.

The committee refused to approve procedure which would have led to house consideration—and possibly a vote—before the final gavel falls. The vote was not announced but one member said privately "it was worse than overwhelming."

The legislation, which Lewis said he desired "with a vengeance," would have forced corporations whose contracts with the government exceed $2,000 to conform to stipulated wage-hour standards and accept decisions of the national labor relations board affecting them.

Victors would be subject to a denial of future contracts for three years and to a fine equal to, double or treble the difference between wages they paid and the scale Secretary Perkins had promulgated, depending upon the number of violations.

SPANISH BATTLE LINE REFORMED

Harassed Loyalist Army Deploys on River to Halt Insurgents

Hendaye, France (at the Spanish Frontier), June 14 (AP)—The Spanish government's harassed central army, striving to block the advance of victorious insurgent troops toward Valencia, took a new stand today on the Mijares river five miles south of Castellon de la Plana.

General Jose Miaja, civil and military commander of all government territory except Catalonia, deployed most of his forces which retreated from Castellon de la Plana before that strategic city fell to insurgents last night in positions on the Mijares' south bank to stop insurgents from crossing the stream.

The insurgent command checked its offensive just north of the new line to consolidate the newly-conquered positions before swinging into fresh attacks.

Insurgent planes pursued their working of destruction by raiding the temporary government capital Barcelona, Sagunto, and Valencia to open the way to conquer the whole eastern coast.

Four ships in the Valencia harbor were set afire. Three persons were killed and 22 buildings destroyed in an air raid at 11 a. m. Another attack two hours later caused a still uncounted death and property toll.

A bombardment of Nules, between Valencia and Castellon de la Plana, cost eight lives and injuries to 21. The French freighter Brisbane was attacked and damaged a third time when bombers returned to Denia, 50 miles down the coast from Valencia. The Brisbane was bombed last Thursday and Friday.

YELLOW RIVER FED BY RAINS, BREAKS DIKES

THOUSANDS OF JAP TROOPS TRAPPED IN DISASTER

BY LLOYD LEHRBAS Shanghai, June 15 (Wednesday) (AP)—The Yellow river swirled over hundreds of square miles of Honan province today, threatening one of the greatest flood disasters in China's history.

Japanese military engineers reported 150,000 Chinese civilians already had been drowned where the river broke through a 50-mile stretch of weakened dikes on its south bank.

Waters Beyond Control Fate of a large number of Japanese troops scattered through the area was not known. It was believed, however, that thousands might be trapped and drowned throughout the area.

Japanese military officials said their engineers were directing thousands of peasants in attempts to check the rushing river, but that it was virtually beyond control.

Major breaks in the dikes were between Kingshui, just north of the Chengchow junction of the Lunghai and Peiping-Hankow railways, and Kaileng, 50 miles to the east.

Millions Imperilled Foreign relief workers believed that ravages of floods and war in Honan, Anhwei and Kiangsu provinces would bring a relief problem as great as that created by the World War.

An estimated 30,000,000 refugees were fleeing to the west to escape invading Japanese armies. Millions more were imperilled by yellow waters roaring through the heart of China and rapidly spreading out.

The flood was fed by almost continuous rains. Japanese reports from aerial observation were that Chungmow, about 25 miles east of Chengchow, was almost a lake, Kaileng was surrounded by rising waters, and entire villages had disappeared as the river spread out over hundreds of miles of countryside which only a few days ago were swept by war.

Invasers Blocked The flood waters blocked Japanese troops before Chengchow and forced them back as far as Kaileng but Japanese said they expected to resume the drive as soon as possible. It was indicated an advance on the city might be attempted from the south.

Far to the south of the flooded area, Japanese warships and land forces were driving up the Yangtze toward Hankow, China's temporary capital. Heavy rains prevented large scale aerial operations in the campaign against Hankow, 215 miles upstream from captured Anking.

Some 136 miles below Hankow, the United States Gunboat Monacacy stood by at Kiukiang to protect American citizens and property. The gunboat was one of the United States Yangtze river patrol vessels ordered to remain at their posts despite a Japanese request that they remove their ships from a 200-mile stretch between Wuhu and Kiukiang.

Japanese warships from Anking steamed slowly upstream to within 35 miles of Matowchen, where Chinese have erected the first barrier barring river approach to Hankow.

Chamberlain Denies Protection To British Ships In War Zones

London, June 14 (AP)—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain refused today to use any of Great Britain's new armaments to halt the repeated bombing of British ships in Spanish ports.

He explained to a critical, if not hostile, house of commons that effective protection could not be guaranteed British ships calling at war zone ports unless Britain were "prepared to take an active part in hostilities."

His government, he said, felt it could not recommend action "which might well result in a spread of the conflict beyond its present limits."

Holland, Mich., June 14 (AP)—Cornelius Pettinga, 16, hitch-hiked from his home in Hudsonville to take part in commencement exercises at Holland Christian high school tonight. At the graduation exercises Cornelius received a $5 award for winning the senior essay contest and a $50 scholarship to Hope college. He figured he was $40 ahead and had had an exciting evening.

Leaps to Death

WILLIAM W. CAMPBELL

San Francisco, June 14 (AP)—Dr. William Wallace Campbell, 76, renowned astronomer and president emeritus of the University of California, leaped to his death today from a fourth floor window of his apartment home.

Coroner T. B. W. Leland, listing the death as suicide, said Dr. Campbell undoubtedly was motivated by approaching blindness and aphasia, an ailment which caused him to speak unintelligibly and grope for words.

Dr. Campbell, once a director of Lick observatory, prepared methodically for his death, working laboriously over five suicide notes.

The death notes, in addition to constant mention of aphasia and his near-blindness, told of his love for his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Ballard Thompson Campbell, formerly of Grand Rapids, Mich.

measure voted for it in its present form. The final tally was 290 to 89.

Exemptions Provided In the senate, some southerners questioned its constitutionality but it soon passed that chamber also, without a record vote.

The bill would provide a minimum pay rate of 25 cents the first year and 30 cents the second year. From the start, boards appointed for each industry would study the situation and recommend higher pay levels up to a maximum of 40 cents, if found feasible.

They would, however, be empowered to make exemptions for parts of an industry in which unemployment would result and they could take into consideration such factors as local wage scales, freight rates and the like.

After seven years, the 40 cent rate would be mandatory, except that exemptions could be made upon a positive showing that unemployment would result. The exemptions again would be permitted for parts of an industry.

This satisfied the long standing southern opposition to the bill, which demanded lower minimum in the south than elsewhere, despite the fact that the compromise measure says exemptions shall not be granted on a geographical basis.

After approving the measure, and while the senate wrestled with it, the house took up the lending-spending bill. By a vote of 231 to 128, it approved a senate amendment calling for $212,000,000 additional farm benefit payments. Then it accepted the conference report in its entirety.

Like the senate, it headed into a late night session in an effort to clean up as much business as possible. "We are going to work pretty late tonight," Speaker Bankhead told reporters.

Earlier, the house rules committee dealt a blow to John L. Lewis and the CIO. By refusing to report for house consideration a bill to penalize government contractors who violate the Wagner

MARSHALL PAIR IS FOUND DEAD

Bullet Riddled Bodies Indicate Murder and Suicide

Marshall, Mich., June 14 (AP)—The bullet riddled bodies of Albert H. Tingay, 57, and his wife, Pearl May, 56, were found in the kitchen of their home here late today. Justice of the Peace Darrell Scott, who acted as coroner, termed the deaths murder and suicide.

Mrs. Tingay was found lying face down with four .22 caliber pistol bullets in her body. Nearby lay her husband with a bullet through the heart and a pistol a few inches from his right hand. Both were attired in sleeping garments, indicating that the shooting occurred early this morning.

The bodies were discovered by the Tingays' son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. Palmer Fish, of Battle Creek. The Fishs said that Mr. and Mrs. Tingay visited them last night and appeared to be in good spirits. Tingay, a paint salesman, returned to his home June 3 after spending some time at a sanitarium where he underwent treatment for a nervous disorder.

Justice Scott said that Tingay had been subject to melancholia, particularly in the morning. Scott said no inquest would be held. The Tingays also have a son, Justin Tingay of Jackson.

labor relations act or fail to maintain specified wage and hour standards.

Lewis spectacularly visited the capitol on behalf of the measure and, seated in Speaker Bankhead's office, urged the bill upon key members of the committee. CIO representatives said the only method of obtaining passage was by a suspension of the house rules, requiring a two-thirds vote. They were working to that end.

The foreign relations committee of the senate divided on a resolution by Chairman Pittman (D-Nev) to back Secretary Hull in his condemnation of the bombing of civilian populations. Pittman then reintroduced it for consideration before adjournment.

Senator Borah (R-Idaho) demanded an investigation of what he said were manipulations of the grain market through "inspired crop reports." He told the senate the crop-reporting tactics of many concerns were "vicious and depressing." A senator asked if he included the government reports, prepared in the agriculture department.

"Duckbill Platypus" "Yes, we might include Mr. Wallace," Borah replied.

The resolution for an investigation of alleged politics in the administration of relief was changed by the senate's audit committee during the day to make such an inquiry part of the duties of the committee's regularly appointed to look into election irregularities.

When the compromise wage-hour bill came to the house, Chairman Norton (D-NJ) of the labor committee called it "the best wage hour bill ever brought before congress."

Argument against the bill today was confined almost entirely to the Republicans. Representative Taber (R-NY) made a point of order that the conferees had exceeded their authority, but was overruled by Speaker Bankhead.

Representative Hartley (R-NJ) denounced the bill as a "legislative duckbill platypus," which he described as an animal with a duck's bill, both fur and feathers, and webbed feet. "It swims backward because it doesn't give a darn where it is going and only wants to know where it has been," he said.

The bill, he added, would create an "industrial dictator" through its provision for an administrator empowered to approve or veto the recommendations of the industrial boards on minimum pay rates.

"OFF-AGAIN ON-AGAIN" Washington, June 14 (AP)—Legislation to liberalize government loans to the railroads appeared tonight to have been put quietly to death because of the unyielding opposition of railroad labor leaders.

Sponsors of the legislation indicated they had virtually abandoned hope of getting it through at this session. However, the bare possibility remained that the situation might change tomorrow. The bill has become known to reporters as the "off-again-on-again" measure because of the number of times it has been declared "dead" and "revived."

To put a prop under railroads in difficulties it has been suggested that regulations governing RFC loans be liberalized. The prospects appeared bright at one time, but the labor leaders became incensed about the carriers' determination to cut wages 15 per cent.

The legislation has obtained committee approval in the senate, but no motion was made tonight to get a vote on it. House leaders, reported to be cold to the measure, indicated that it was up to the senate to take the first step.

Three Mowed Down In Dusty Ballroom By Gangland Guns

Tamaqua, Pa., June 14 (AP)—A machine gun cut down three men today in the dusty ballroom of a deserted roadhouse.

One victim might have told why. He collapsed and died, desperately trying to speak. County Detective Louis Buono felt certain of that after he and state police pieced together, bit by bit, what they believed took place at dawn.

"A gang killing," Buono said. "It has all the marks of a Philadelphia gang battle."

Two of the bodies were crammed into a small cloakroom opening off the dance floor. The third man struggled to a tea room 300 yards away.

"Oh, I—I—" he muttered, then died.

All three were tentatively identified as Philadelphians.

Fraternity House

Fire In Ann Arbor Fatal To Student

Ann Arbor, Mich., June 14 (AP)—Fire that swept the third-floor dormitory of the Alpha Rho Chi fraternity house here early today resulted in the death of Richard A. Pollard, 28, of Buffalo, N. Y., a senior in the College of Architecture. His body was found near a window. Suffocation and burns caused death, Dr. Edwin C. Ganzhorn, coroner, said.

Nine other occupants of the fraternity house, eight of them students, escaped the flames uninjured.

With examinations at an end, most of the fraternity members had left for their homes. Frank A. White, 24, of London, Ont., president of the fraternity, said the group had retired shortly before 2 a. m.

"I woke up about 3:05 a. m. and the whole ceiling seemed to be blazing," White told police. "I awakened the others. The heat was almost unbearable."

Dragged to Window Pollard, who was occupying a room with James E. Mitchell, of Jackson, and Herbert Johnson, a guest of Mitchell, was dragged to within five feet of a window by his roommates when smoke and flames swept the room. Pollard was unconscious, Mitchell said. Mitchell fled down the fire escape and firemen rescued Johnson from the roof after they found it impossible to save Pollard. The others escaped by fire escapes and a fire-proof stairway.

They were: Jerry Hartger, 19, of Detroit, a junior; Ralph Rapson, 23, of Alma, a senior; Donald W. Hayes, 25, of Battle Creek, a senior; Henry Ruffrok, 23, of Saginaw, a senior; A. James Albert, 37, of Colorado Springs, Colo., a junior, and Jewell Heller, 24, of Ann Arbor, a graduate guest.

The students were in the College of Architecture, only architectural students being admitted to the fraternity.

The building was a frame structure and was formerly used as a private residence. The flames destroyed the third floor and did considerable damage to the second. The building was valued at $30,000 by the fraternity and was insured for $21,000.

Pollard, an all-A student, was also a member of Tau Sigma Delta honorary fraternity. He worked his way through school and needed but two more hours of credit for his degree. He had been making arrangements to complete the work at home and had planned to leave for Buffalo today.

WAR VETERANS STAGE PARADE

Neil Hume of Skandia Honored at Meeting in Grand Rapids

Grand Rapids, Mich., June 14 (AP)—Grand Rapids was treated to a mammoth parade tonight when delegates to the annual encampments of the Michigan Grand Army of the Republic and United Spanish War Veterans joined with their auxiliaries and local patriotic groups in a colorful Flag Day procession.

More than a dozen bands and drum corps representing hosts of Spanish and World war veterans as well as auxiliaries were in the line of march which also included 126th Infantry, Michigan National Guard, and local posts of the American Legion.

Twelve G.A.R. veterans—only Civil war veterans who felt strong enough to attend the 60th encampment of their organization—also participated in the parade, riding in automobiles.

Business sessions continued today for the various groups. Dick Ford, of Battle Creek, was elected state commander of the Spanish War Veterans. Neil Hume, of Skandia, and J. Gordon Rankin, of Utica, were elected senior and junior vice-commanders, respectively.

The Women's Relief Corps elected Mrs. Ideella MacNeal, of Detroit, as state department president.

Other officers elected by the W.R.C. were: Senior vice president, Ella Gordon, Grand Rapids; junior vice-president, Alva Warden, Lansing; chaplain, Nellie Laden, Ionia; treasurer, Lora Villeneuve, Flint.

May Be The Last The Woman's Auxiliary of the United Spanish War Veterans elected May Nichols, of Lansing, as president. Other officers named were: senior vice-president, Marie Spedding, Pontiac; junior vice president, Louise Jacobsen, Detroit; chaplain, Kate Mudgett, Flint.

The annual election of the state G.A.R. will be held at the concluding session of the joint encampment tomorrow. At that time it will probably be determined whether the fast-dwindling ranks of the G.A.R. will form next year for the 61st encampment. Many veterans insisted they would gather as long as they survived but falling health of the membership raised some doubt as to the outlook for future encampments.

All organizations planned to install their new officers at individual closing sessions tomorrow. Tonight's parade ended at Fulton park Soldiers' Monument where Flag Day exercises were held under the auspices of the Grand Rapids Elks lodge, Carl W. Smith, of Bay City, state commander of the American Legion, was among the speakers.

Father's Day Is Sunday

The smoker's traveling case, shown on the model's knees, would make a distinctive Father's Day gift. So would either of the straight grain pipes—one in his hand, the other in the travel case. And on the little table are a saddle-stitched, leather ash tray with facsimiles of foreign travel labels underneath the glass and a de luxe cigarette case which opens at both ends and holds about 40 cigarettes.

(From Mark Cross, New York) BY MARIAN YOUNG NEA Service Staff Correspondent

New York—Now is the time for all good children to start thinking about a present for Dad for Father's Day—June 19.

Whether you decide to gladden father's heart with a convention bit of haberdashery (in which case, how about spending as much time selecting a tie for him as you would choosing a hat for yourself), a new gadget to whet his interest in his hobby or some unusual food he likes but seldom gets, you won't find it difficult to find the right gift at the right price. Department store counters as well as men's specialty shops are laden with simply wonderful presents for men.

If her father has taken seriously the vogue for semi-sports clothes for all hours of the day, it's a wise child who shops around for accessories that will be perfect with his semi-sports suits. A colored soft shirt with matching collar to go with his single breasted, striped cheviot suit, for instance. Or a shirt of raw silk (natural color, of course) that will be right with a so-called semi-sports suit that Dad wears in town or country. Or washable summer ties in cool, soft colors.

In the category of accessories for active sports, consider: gladiator's sandals in yellow goatskin, striped swimming trunks of knitted mohair, washable khaki cotton beach shirts, fingertip-less golf gloves in various soft leathers, crew neck mesh shirts, an oilskin jacket which, when folded, takes up practically no space in the fisherman's pocket. Also, a beach poncho of rough turkish toweling in gay stripes and plaids. (He'll slip this on over his head after a swim.) And cotton swimming trunks in Mexican and Hawaiian prints, gay neckerchiefs to wear with short-sleeved sports shirts, a colorful foulard tie to wear with the single-breasted gray flannel suit he likes for motor trips.

EASY TO FIND PRESENTS FOR SMOKERS If Dad smokes, he might like: a leather ash tray with facsimiles of foreign travel labels underneath the glass; a meerschaum pipe (it's white when new, turns yellow, then warm, golden brown as he smokes it more and more); a pigskin cigarette case that holds 40 cigarettes; a smoker's travel case with space for pipes, stem cleaners, tobacco pouch and pipe bowl scraper.

Elks Will Hold Last Meeting Of Season

"sissy" and insists on moistening his hair with water every morning, give him a non-greaseless lotion in a bottle that doesn't resemble even faintly a perfume bottle. Fairly new and pretty decorative is a man's set which includes hair tonic, after-shave lotion and shaving bowl in dark brown pottery containers. Or you might send a new razor. It doesn't much matter what kind it is so long as he hasn't used one like it before. The average man never seems to be satisfied with his current razor and always welcomes a chance to try a new variety — on the theory that THIS may solve everything.

If Dad travels, how about an unfitted toilet case and a collar case in matching leather? If he's proud of his golf, perhaps little leather mittens to protect the wood clubs would please him. And if he fancies himself a minor expert on food, consider an assortment of rare cheeses or a box of jellies made from strange, foreign fruits.

45% Of Population Of County Is On Relief

Approximately 45% of the population of Delta county is dependent upon some form of relief, according to a survey of relief agencies in the county recently. Mounting at the rate of about 50 persons per week, WPA rolls in the county at present are 2,400 persons, the largest number in history. This is an increase of approximately six per cent during the past four months. On May 6, the rolls were 2,200 and April 1 they were 1,950.

Of the 2,400 on relief in the county, approximately 900 are in the city of Escanaba and 400 in Gladstone, leaving about 1,100 for the rural districts. A year ago, there were about 900 on WPA throughout the county. The case load of the ERA, direct relief agency in the county, at present is 1,320 persons while normally it is about 600. In addition, there are about 600 persons receiving help from the OAA. Not including the OAA clients, those receiving other forms of relief have an average of 4.2 dependents, making approximately 14,600 persons in the county relying on some form of relief in the county. The population of the county is approximately 33,000 persons.

The Swedish-Finnish Celebration

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN
Washington, D. C.—The United States Government and the governments of several States of the Union are taking the opportunity late this month to give a demonstration of international good will to two European countries which will afford an interesting contrast between our feeling toward republics and democracies and our attitude toward dictatorships. This will be accomplished without offending any country, as we will merely be honoring the 300th anniversary of an historic event in America's development, the landing of the Swedes and Finns on the Delaware River in 1638 and the first colonizations that took place in the present States of Delaware, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey. The Swedish government, a limited monarchy, is actually one of the most democratic in Europe, and the Republic of Finland, founded in 1917, has cultivated the close friendship of the United States and won exceptional admiration here by becoming the only European country to make prompt and regular payment of its debts to this country.

To join with committees appointed by Congress and by several States, officials from Sweden and Finland will land at Wilmington, Delaware, on June 26, and participate in a series of commemorative events lasting several days. From Sweden will come the Crown Prince of that nation and a party of leaders in numerous official and other walks of life. From Finland will come Foreign Minister Rudolf Holsti and a similar party. Their landing from the steamship Kungsholm on the evening of June 26 will be at the exact spot in Wilmington where the first settlers of 1638 set foot to establish Fort Christina (named for the Swedish Queen and daughter of Gustavus Adolphus) and founded the colony of New Sweden. This event took place forty-four years before William Penn visited the New World. It has attracted less attention in our history books than many of the other early settlements, because New Sweden remained less than twenty years a Swedish colony and then passed successfully under the rule of The Netherlands and of Great Britain within another decade.

Finland has been invited by Congress to participate in the Tercentenary events because in 1638 that country was a part of Sweden, and probably half or more of the first sturdy Scandinavian colonists came from Finland. These settlers and several shiploads who followed in succeeding years built the first homes along both shores of the Delaware River in three States, and some of them moved into Maryland and Virginia on the south, and New Amsterdam and New England to the north. Pennsylvania still does much honor to the memory of John Morton, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, who was descended from a Scandinavian pioneer. Maryland similarly honors the name of John Hanson, a president of the Continental Congress, whose grandfather came to Delaware from Sweden and crossed into Maryland to found a large family. Thomas Stone, another signer of the Declaration, was a descendant on his mother's side from the first Hanson. The early Swedish and Finnish settlers had many other descendants who became leaders in American life by the time of the Revolution.

Memorials to Early Settlers
The first days of the American visit of Sweden's Crown Prince and Finland's foreign minister will be marked by a series of ceremonials. A park has been created at the very "wharf of stones" where the first Scandinavians landed, and the Crown Prince will dedicate a monument to mark the spot. It is located near the confluence of the Brandywine and Christina Rivers with the Delaware, in the city of Wilmington. At Chester, Pennsylvania, Minister Holsti will present from the Republic of Finland a monument of red Finnish granite, carved by the sculptor Valno Aaltonen, to mark the area where three hundred years ago a group of pioneers named their settlement "Finland." These dedications will take place on June 27. On the following day the distinguished guests will be entertained in and around Philadelphia.

Tinicum Island, near Philadelphia, was the site of the residence of the Governor of New Sweden during most of the official life of the settlements as Swedish territory, and this island has been made into a park by the Swedish Colonial Society, and will be presented to the State of Pennsylvania on June 29. Spots of similar historic interest in New Jersey, along the east shore of the Delaware, will be visited. One town there still bears the name of Swedesboro. Another small settlement in that State is Mullica Hill, derived from the earlier Finnish word Mullikka, meaning heifer, and indicating its founding by a farmer from Finland.

A committee of fifteen Senators and Representatives has been named by Congress to welcome the Scandinavian visitors, and the Governor of each State along the Delaware has appointed a committee for similar purposes. Maryland also has a committee which will welcome the visitors to the old John Hanson home at Mulberry Grove, not far from Washington, and to Oxon Hill, where Hanson died shortly after the Revolutionary War had been won and the nation formed partly through his efforts. While these events are under way in the East, several other States in the Middle West and elsewhere will be the scene of public meetings, picnics, and other events where Americans of Scandinavian descent will join in honoring the first American pioneers of their race.

Distinguished Visitors in Demand
The Delaware Tercentenary celebrations have proved of especial interest to stamp collectors because three nations have issued commemorative stamps. That of the United States, a three cent stamp bearing a picture entitled "Landing of the Swedes and Finns," was issued late in May and is already in use. Sweden has issued a series of four colorful stamps, and Finland is about to offer a 3 1/2 markka commemorative bearing in English the words "Colonization of Delaware," making it one of the rare stamps worded in a language other than that of the issuing country.

After four days of programmed events at points along the Delaware River, the visiting dignitaries will be entertained in Washington and other cities. President Roosevelt has invited the Crown Prince and Princess of Sweden and others to be guests at his home at Hyde Park, New York. Secretary of State Hull will welcome the visitors at the National Capital. A number of the visitors will make trips into various parts of the United States. One of the visitors from Finland whose presence is much sought after in many States is Miss Kyllikki Poijala, a member of the Parliament of Finland, who learned English in this country as a trained nurse and has become a leader in public health and educational work in her native land. Several distinguished Scandinavian journalists are also members of the visiting parties, and will travel and write extensively while in America.

America has enjoyed visits from distinguished Swedes in other years, not the least known among them being several great opera singers including Jenny Lind. Finland has sent us some

Highway Dep't To Use Traction Co. Garage In City

The maintenance division of the state highway department is expected to move into the traction company garage on Stephenson avenue within the next few weeks, it was learned yesterday. The garage is being remodeled and a concrete floor being laid. It is expected that the work will be completed before July 15.

The highway department has been using the exhibition building at the fairgrounds for the past several months but must vacate shortly in order to allow remodeling to the building in time for the fair in August.

notable athletes, like Paavo Nurmi, but has seemed to Americans a very distant land, although one to be admired for the courage of her people in the establishment of their independence, and the fulfillment of their international obligations. Foreign Minister Holsti, who had a leading part in establishing the Republic, was in America in 1930 for a few months as an exchange professor at Stanford University, California, and speaks and writes English fluently. He has had more invitations for public addresses than his brief visit will permit. In fact the Swedish and Finnish Legations at Washington are flooded with invitations for the visitors from two countries in Europe which are not involved in rumors of wars, and are devoted to the principles of liberty and self government most admired in the United States.

Fresh-Air Naps Given On Window Boxes At School

BY LYDIA GRAY SHAW
(AP Feature Service Writer)
New York—Even in a city, it's possible to do your sleeping outdoors. That is, if you don't mind a nap on the fire escape.

And two-year-olds at the Harriet Johnson Nursery School—one of New York's progressive institutions—thrive on it.

The treatment isn't as heroic as it sounds. The school boasts six window boxes, outfitted with mattresses that rest on wooden planks. The sides of the boxes are screened, so plenty of fresh air can get in. And the boxes rest on the otherwise unused fire escapes.

Every day at noon, six of the school's youngest climb into their sleeping bags—heavy ones in winter and light-weight ones in warm weather—and are rolled into the window boxes on the movable mattress combination.

And rain or shine they sleep very happily there for a couple of hours. Sometimes, reports Miss Jessie Stanton, head of the school, they wake up and sing to themselves for a while. They almost never ask to be brought in.

Shades are pulled down at the window side of the box, so the youngsters are as isolated from the school as though they were out in their own backyard.

Driver Killed As Car Swerves from Pavement, Hits Telephone Pole and Overturns

Death struck swiftly when the coupe shown above left the highway north of kipling yesterday morning, snapping off a telephone pole and rolling over twice before it came to rest on all four wheels. John Sodergaard, 52, Gladstone commercial fisherman who was at the wheel, was killed instantly. Roy F. Burroughs, his companion, lay in St. Francis hospital, Escanaba last night, suffering a fractured jaw and possible skull fracture.

The battered coupe is shown above, as it stood in the yard of the Gauss farm on highway US-2-41 after the crash. The body of Sodergaard may be seen through the open door of the coupe, one foot driven through the windshield.

Badly injured, Burroughs is pictured (left) above as he lay unconscious against the body of Sodergaard after the crash. Passing motorists used a pick-axe to force open the right door of the blood-spattered coupe, wedged tight by the impact. Liquor was blamed for the crash by Under Sheriff John Frederickson who investigated it. "Both men must have been drinking heavily," he said, "for they smelled strongly of liquor when we removed them from the car." The one eye-witness to the wreck, a transient who gave his name as Albert Allen, reported that the car was weaving down the highway at high speed shortly before it swerved from the road.

ZONING RULES ARE AMENDED

Several Other Matters Considered By Comish

An amendment to the Gladstone zoning ordinance which would allow the construction of a greenhouse and tourist cabins and accessory building between Lake Shore Drive and Minneapolis Avenue from Thirteenth street to Marble Avenue was adopted by the city commission Monday night.

Another amendment to the ordinance will be introduced at an adjourned session today which is intended to alter the purpose of uses of the block in which the Nelson Fish Box factory is located. This is being done to allow the Nelson factory to be rebuilt and expand.

Hearing on the question of city printing bearing a union label was held and no action taken on the matter. J. A. Sturgeon, local publisher, advised the commission that he intended to unionize and was making effort to do so. The action was asked by the Labor Voting League and the United Workers and speaking as representatives of these organizations were Owen Longberry, Jack Noble, Clarence Royer and August Froberg.

Payment of welfare bills was held up pending investigation of the claims.

Gladstone Favored As Post Location

Construction of a state police post in Gladstone is favored by Oscar G. Olander, head of the Michigan department of state police, in a letter addressed to the Gladstone city commission.

Olander stated he considered Gladstone an excellent location and would favor construction and location of a post here when more state police posts are to be located and money is available for the work.

CATCHERS ARE UP IN HITTING

Lombardi of Reds Leads League; Hartnett Now In Fifth Place

New York, June 14. (AP)—The catchers had the time of their lives in the National league hitting race last week.

As a result, you find Ernie (Schnozzola) Lombardi, of Cincinnati's Reds, leading the league in hitting in the standings up to and including Friday's games; Gabby Hartnett, the Cubs' backstop, in fifth place, and Blmp Phelps, Brooklyn's roly-poly receiver, in sixth.

Lombardi, in fourth place a week ago, collected six hits in 15 appearances during the seven-day span ended Friday, boosted his average six points to .359 and took the lead from Brooklyn's Cookie Lavagetto. Cookie dropped five points to .356 and second place.

Hartnett, injured after banging out two hits in two appearances early in the week, gained 12 points, and showed a fifth-place mark of .339. He was only two above Phelps, who had a 81-point gain for .337.

Joe Medwick of the Cardinals climbed from eighth to fourth place in the hitting race, with a .345 mark. Mel Ott, the Giants little larruper, took over the lead in runs batted in with 49 tallies, dropping Augie Galan of the Cubs to a second-place tie with Medwick, each with 41.

Buck McCormick, the Reds' rookie first baseman, was in third place in the batting parade, with a .354 mark. The rest of the first ten included Chuck Klein of the Phillies, seventh with .336; Jo-Jo Moore of the Giants of Herschel Martin of the Phillies, dead-locked for eighth with .335 each, and Enos Slaughter, Cardinals' rookie, tenth with .333.

Out retained the lead in running, with 46. Ott's Giant teammate, Moore, took over the lead in base hits, with 65. Gus Suhr of the Pirates and Don Gutteridge of the Cardinals pulled up to make it a five-way tie with Johnny Rizzo of Pittsburgh, Ival Goodman of Cincinnati and Johnny Mize of St. Louis for first place in hitting triples. Each had five three-baggers.

McCormick still was out in front in doubles, with 17 two-baggers. Goodman retained the laurels as the No. 1 long-range clouter, with 13 homers.

The Cubs' speedsters, Augie Galan and Stan Hack, continued to run one-two in base stealing, Augie with six and Hack with five.

Danny Macfayden, the bespectacled Boston Bees' flinger, climbed to the top among the pitchers with five victories and one defeat, while Carl Hubbell of the Giants, leader a week ago, dropped to a second place tie with shutout Bill Lee of the Cubs and Mace Brown, Pittsburgh's ace reliever. Each had seven wins and two setbacks.

AVERILL LEADS LEAGUE BATTING

Indians' Star Outfielder Has .371 Percentage; Teammate Second

Chicago, June 14. (AP)—Earl Averill, the Cleveland Indian's star outfielder, who has been among the top ranking American league batsmen since the season opened, took over the No. 1 position this week at the expense of teammate Hal Trosky.

Averill, according to averages which included games of Friday, added only one point to his plate percentage during the seven-day period, but his mark of .371 was five points better than Trosky's average of .356.

During the week, Averill banged out 11 hits in 29 times, while Trosky, husky Indian infielder, slumped 22 points with only seven safeties in 27 official appearances.

Jimmy Fox, veteran Boston Sox first sacker who is enjoying a great come-back, added 23 points to his average to jump from sixth place to third among the first 10 batsmen of the junior circuit with a mark of .359.

Henry Steinbacher, the hard hitting Chicago White Sox outfielder, was in fourth place with a .348 average. Other leaders were: Cecil Travis, Washington, .342; Buddy Myer, Washington, .341; Charley Gehring, Detroit, .328; Bill Dickey, New York, .326; Frank Hayes, Philadelphia, .325; and Pete Fox, Detroit, .325.

Travis and young Buddy Lewis of Washington shared honors for the most hits, each with 66. Foss had scored the most runs, 43, and again was the pace-maker for runs batted in with a total of 68.

Joe Cronin, Boston pilot, had 16 doubles to his credit for top honors in that department.

A total of seven triples, Averill's mark, was high for three base hit laurels. Foss took the home run lead away from Detroit's Hank Greenberg, the Boston slugger having made 18. Lewie of Washington set the stolen base pace, with 10 sacks pilfered.

Robert Moses Grove, the Boston hurler who has been standing batter on their heads since the season opened, took the pitching leadership away from Detroit's ace, Vern Kennedy. Grove's record was 10 victories and one defeat, with Kennedy's mark nine victories and one setback.

Buck Newsom of St. Louis wasn't up among the leaders in games won and lost but his strikeout mark of 67 was tops for the league's flingers.

Cleveland's league leading Indians and Washington led the team batting race, each club having a collective hitting mark of .285. Washington was best on defense with a fielding average of .976. Detroit's total of 55 double plays was high for twin-killings.

McCoy Considered

Iron River—M. L. McCoy, superintendent of schools, is the leading candidate for a similar position in Big Rapids, Mich.

Three members of the board of education at Big Rapids, home of Ferris Institute, interviewed McCoy, school board members and other persons here Saturday. Delbert D. Long, acting president of the board at Big Rapids, stated: "It looks very favorable for Mr. McCoy. We are impressed with him."

Long was accompanied here by two fellow board members, Mrs. Cora E. Hardy and Mrs. Marie E. Irlson. He said the selection of a superintendent will probably be made tonight or tomorrow. Glen E. Loomis, present superintendent, has accepted a similar position in Traverse City, Mich.

Washington—Likelihood that the government will buy surplus supplies of clothing for distribution to people who can't afford to buy for any, as proposed by Sidney Hillman, reflects growing determination in Washington to provide "over-produced" necessities of life for those who lack them.

The plan considered by WPA officials for men's clothing would operate similarly to the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation, which will be rapidly expanded.

The FSCC program, under which surplus food is bought for distribution to relief families, has cost $160,000,000 in five years.

Latest FSCC plan, as yet unannounced, calls for purchases of cotton to be made into quilts and bed ticking for needy families.

Greatly increased distribution of milk for babies who now go without is also being considered. Secretary Wallace, who believes families of unemployed workers should be assured adequate nourishment and clothing, stresses the importance of fruits, vegetables, poultry and dairy products for such families.

All this is the exact opposite of the massacre of the "little pigs."

The aim in all programs and proposals for free distribution is to avoid displacement of any sales which might otherwise be made by retail stores. Clothing manufacturers, operating less than 40 per cent normal and suffering from price cuts, are as enthusiastic over the Hillman plan as farmers have been over FSCC operations.

Hillman, president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers and influential at the White House, also designed his plan to benefit retailers as well as to restore employment in the clothing industry.

BIDDLE BACK AGAIN

Francis Biddle, the slender, quick-witted and industrious Philadelphia lawyer selected as counsel for the TVA investigating committee, was chosen almost unanimously after the committee had questioned him at length. The vote was eight to one. All Democratic members and two Republicans favored Biddle. Senator Jim Davis of Pennsylvania, who had telephoned Biddle and asked him to come to Washington, didn't vote on the ground that "we're from the same state." Congressman Tom Jenkins of Ohio, TVA critic, cast the only vote against Biddle.

Biddle, a lifelong liberal and once secretary to Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, admitted he had graduated from Groton and Harvard and that his firm represented corporations such as the Pennsylvania Railroad. Although Jenkins reported Biddle wasn't "much of a lawyer," the latter impressed the committee.

Chairman of the old National Labor Relations Board in the NRA period, Biddle left Washington indignant because Roosevelt—advised by Donald Richberg—had interfered with the board and failed to support it. A member of one of Philadelphia's first families, Biddle has demonstrated independence, bravery, ability and willingness to express himself freely and frankly.

THE FACTS ABOUT IOWA

As Roosevelt invited Senator Gillette to lunch, certain previously concealed facts about the Iowa primary began to lead out. For instance:

Jim Farley originally picked Congressman Otha Wearin to oppose Gillette, partly because Wearin looked like a farmer, partly because he had money to finance his own campaign. Farley had expected to get Governor Kraschel on Wearin's side and Roosevelt was cocksure he could make Secretary Wallace support Wearin. Both failed.

Farley pulled in his neck, neither he nor Roosevelt daring to expose themselves as long as Wallace refused. The Harry Hopkins statement for Wearin was partly designed to smoke Wallace out. That failed, too.

Jimmy Roosevelt went in with a left-handed endorsement of Wearin in order to help Hopkins out of a hole. Although Jimmy denied he had had plans to go to Iowa for Wearin, explaining his doctors wouldn't have permitted them, the fact is that Jimmy had made arrangements with Ed Dunn of Mason City to do just that and had planned to speak at a big labor rally. Whether Jimmy's doctors discovered more than a case of cold feet is not clear. Anyway, those are the facts.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
JOE MURRAY—I Joe'd new places, new jobs, new girls.
HELEN—fell in love—hard—once.
TERRY MALLOW—found love—and kept it!

Yesterday: Peace, sublime peace comes to Joe and Terry in their new life and Terry misses no opportunity to make Joe doubly aware of her.

CHAPTER XIII
 Sly, sly little witch, this Terry Murray! She amused Joe, tickled him, stirred him and kept him always aware of her as every woman wants her man to remain aware . . . and she did it as if he were the fount and source of all favors and delights and she a simple supplicant on his bounty. She gave nothing, ostensibly; and not giving, could not cloy. Her begging was outrageous and incessant . . . and in receiving her meed, she gave back a measure overflowing.

He knew all this, by shrewd, instinctive recognition. But to know it only led to further mysteries he was not fain to solve. They might bother anyone. Was it spontaneity or art? Was it the cunning she would have practiced on any man who fell into her hands? Though these questions prevailed, he had not the right to answer them if he knew. She had needed help; he had given help. He could never ask it back. That was all, that was enough.

But was it enough, disregarding his own conscientious declaration? There were times . . . always, always, there would be times! . . . when he walked alone in spirit in an endless search through infinite places where there was no one any more, though he must always go looking, always alone. Quietly and secretly then he gnawed a little in his quickening being, hungry with a hunger that would never be appeased.

One day she surprised him by bringing up an unexpected subject of discussion. She had been listening, serious and thoughtful, to his gossip of the shop. She said suddenly, "Joe, how does a man become a foreman in a place like that?"

"Why . . . he studies, works for it."
 "Studies what?"
 "Blueprints, how to read them and all. Books. He gets himself made pusher and gets a line on the foreman's work."

"Where do you get such books?"
 "There's a school downtown, for one place. Union Trade School."
 Her big eyes were shrewd and her brows were knit. "Couldn't you go to that school at night and get yourself made pusher and become a foreman?"

"Sure!" But he had a little taken aback. "But what the hell, young man? I'm doing pretty well for a boy! Give me time."

She did not argue. She thought and said, "You've had enough school to do it. You have a way with you with people, you can give orders and make them respected. You're smart and quick, you can pick up a thing and know all about it before I can get around to finding where to start. It's just a natural for you, darling!"

He grinned. "What's working on you now? Money again?"
 She looked rueful. "It takes a lot to get a house."
 "One lot for every house, baby; the arithmetic is correct. Don't be such a little gold digger. We'll get you a house."

She was a little distressed now, and required reassurance that she was no gold digger, whereupon she was content and the subject was dropped.

But it came up again. That small and intense persistence had found a new field for action.

Then one day an acquaintance accosted Joe in the shop during lunchtime. The acquaintance was from another part of the plant; he merely passed to gossip for a moment. His eyes were watchful and cunning, as he talked. He only talked for a few minutes when Joe sprang to his feet, scattering lunch and box and all, his first clenched for a blow. He did not deliver it because the fellow apologized profusely and avowed the innocence of his disinterested intentions. Joe looked at him a moment with set face, and then turned his back on him and picked up the fragments of his meal. The fellow departed softly, and the incident passed.

But that night after he had washed and dressed and eaten dinner and smoked a cigaret, Joe told Terry he was going out for a while. Terry had been talking at great length uninterruptedly for some time, but at that she came to him and placed herself firmly on his lap.

"What is it, Joe?" she asked soberly. "I could see it when you came in. Tell me what it is."
 "Nothing," said curtly. "I'm just going out for a while."
 "Please tell!"

He lifted her firmly to the floor and stood up. His manner was calm but determined. He got his hat and made for the door.

Terry sprang at him. "Are you mad at me, darling?"
 "No," he told her. "I'll be back."
 "Kiss me."
 He kissed her. He kissed her tenderly, so that she knew it was nothing she had done. Yet he was hard. She could not deter him, and he went out.

He walked to the corner where Papke's drug store was, and he lookid idly around the corner and into the store. A couple of young men lounging outside the door gave him a casual greeting in which there was the merest touch of deference.

"Tommy Withers around tonight?" he asked them.
 No one had seen Tommy tonight, it developed.
 Joe rocked a little, one foot to the other, looking thoughtful. "Tell him for me if you see him," he said, "that I heard he's been doing some talking out of turn. Tell him I know where he got the information, but it doesn't matter. Tell him I won't clip his jaw this time. I'll crack it! Do you get that?"

"I got it, Joe," said one in a slightly hated voice. "I'll tell him."
 "All of you tell him!" snarled Joe. "I want him to know it. I want you all to know it. If he didn't get the information straight from that lying punk Mallow, I'd do more. He's talking about my wife, and I can kill the guy does that. Do you get that too, all of you?"

They got it.
 Joe stared at them a moment, somberly, and then turned on his heel and walked away.

He went to the Mallow home. He knocked on the rear door leading off the stairway landing. The door opened slightly and Terry's father peered inquiringly forth.

Joe shoved the door wide open, hard, pushing Mallow out of the way. He walked into the room. It was the dining room, and a meal was under way; Old Mallow glowered from his place and Mrs. Mallow, sharp and ferret-eyed and skinny and grim, glared at the intrusion from the place opposite.

"I'm just giving my in-laws a call," said Joe, directly to the point. "I wouldn't, only I've got to. I've got to correct some misinformation you gathered. And been spreading. I just came to tell you that Terry and I got married because we felt like it and no other damned reason, and I'll raise a little hell here if anything to the contrary is ever repeated while I'm alive!"

They stared, stiffly. Then Terry's father blustered. "Who said anything to the contrary?"
 "You did, you stuffed tomato!" Joe advanced close to Mallow. "You talked to Tommy Withers on the street and said a thing like that about your own daughter. It's been repeated. At least it was till I got wind of it. It's going to die a sudden death tonight."

The old woman struck the table with her knuckles, trembling with fire. "We're not beholden to you, Joe Murray. We know that girl better than you. And we have a right to our suspicions when you marry her in shameless haste. We'll think and say what we feel like in this house."
 "All right!" agreed Joe. "Keep right on. But every time you say anything out loud about my wife, I'll beat this prize exhibit here till the stuffing leaks out of him."
 The younger Mallow was red with passion. "You threaten me? I'll put you under bond."
 "You backed down once when I cracked down on you, and you'll do it again."
 "I'll do nothing of the sort. I don't know what you're talking about."
 Joe grinned evilly. "You don't? You don't remember—" Joe stopped. He studied the older man. Thought was flickering in Joe's pupils; speech was checked on the tip of his tongue in sudden indecision. Then he drawled, "You didn't back down once on the understanding that I'd clip you on the jaw if you didn't behave yourself?"

There was a pause. Then the old woman said in a tone of intense, polite interest. "Ah Another of Theresa's lies?"

BEES SHUT OUT UNTIL SEVENTH

Victory Keeps Chicago Within Two Games of New York

Boston, June 14 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs kept chipping away at Lou Fette's offerings today until they had piled up five runs, enough to beat the Bees, 5 to 2, and keep the Cubs within two games of the National league-leading Giants.

Meanwhile Tex Carleton was holding the Bees hitless in all but three innings, and shut them out until the seventh, when a single, a double and two infield outs brought in both Boston runs. It was Carleton's seventh victory of the year against four defeats.

Fette, 29 game winner last year, was charged with his eighth defeat. He was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the seventh.

Choice Lot on Garth Shores Grand Award At Fishermen Party

A choice lot on the Garth Shores property at the head of Little Bay de Noc will be the grand prize to be given to some good follower of Isak Walton at the Fishermen's Party to be held at the Upper Peninsula State Fairgrounds Sunday afternoon, June 26. The lot, comprising about two and a half acres, was made available as a Fishermen's Party award by Phil Hupy, Gladstone, sales agent for the Garth Shores resort property.

Lot No. 25 is 597 feet long and fronts the Whitefish river for 100 feet. It extends back to the road, which bisects Garth point. The lot has a fine sandy beach and is dotted with a considerable number of pine and oak trees.

The lot is located near a popular duck shooting area. Fishing conditions are also ideal, and the country surrounding it abounds with partridge, deer and other wild life.

Mr. Hupy reports that he is receiving many inquiries this spring concerning the Garth Shores lots. Outsiders are particularly interested, sales having been made to residents of Flint, Chicago and Detroit.

The Fishing Rodeo, which follows the Fishermen's Party on the June 26 program, will be held at the head of Little Bay de Noc, just across from Garth Shores. This area was picked as a site for the rodeo because it offers the best opportunity for the catching of a variety of fish.

KENNEDY FALLS VICTIM TO A'S

Tiger Pitcher Blasted From Mound In 8-2 Second Defeat

Detroit, June 14 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics defeated the Detroit Tigers 8 to 2, blasting Vernon Kennedy from the mound in the eighth inning with a four-hit, three-run rally.

It was Kennedy's second defeat of the year. Both have been at the hands of the A's.

The Tiger's only scoring was in the eighth, when Hank Greenberg hit his fourteenth home run with Charley Gehring aboard. Sam Chapman also hit a homer in the ninth, scoring Johnson ahead of him.

Lynn Nelson, who allowed eight hits during the day, scored Bob Johnson with a single in the second for the A's first marker. Lou Finney, with a single in the third, scored on Johnson's fly. Chapman singled in the sixth and scored when Kennedy muffed a throw. In the eighth, Wayne Ambler scored Johnson with a single. Nelson scored Chapman with a single, and Wally Moses singled Ambler in.

Rally Spiked
The Tigers came close to a rally in the seventh and might have made it had it not been for the work of Ambler. With only one out Pete Fox had singled, and Chester Laabs was on. Laabs swung hard and sent the ball at top speed toward left for what appeared to be a certain score. But Ambler made a dive for the ball, stopped it, and quickly threw to second to force Fox.

Elden Auker came in when the die-hardened Kennedy headed for the showers in the eighth. Auker stopped the runaway by persuading Finney to hit into a double play.

Greenberg's homer was made immediately after he had been undergoing a heavy boiling from the fans. His face was white when he stepped to the plate and he hit the first ball that was tossed to him.

Sam Chapman, the California college boy, did yeoman service for the Mackmen all day. In addition to a good job of fielding he scored three times, drove in two runs and was credited with two singles and his home run. Kennedy allowed a total of 10 hits, and Auker two.

George Caster and George Gill are scheduled to pitch in the second of the series tomorrow.

GULDAHL AGAIN LEADS GOLFERS

National Open Champion Shoots 2 Under Par in Western Open

BY WHITNEY MARTIN St. Louis, June 14 (AP)—The same deft touch which carried out a consecutive national open golf championship for Ralph Guldahl last week...

As the late afternoon shadows streaked the Westwood Country club course and old man par, 71, stood untouched by the assault of more than 100 pros and amateurs...

The performance of the champion, who is seeking to defy tradition by winning a third straight western open crown, shattered what appeared destined to be a five-way deadlock for the lead at the quarter pole.

Earlier Sam Snead, the White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Big Bertha; diminutive Paul Runyan of White Plains, N. Y.; sturdy Toney Penna of Dayton, Ohio; dark horse Floyd Farley of Oklahoma City, and Ray Mangrum of Dayton, Ohio, all pros, had come in with 72s.

The Westwood course, swept by gusty winds, well-wooded and trapped, and with fairway grass long enough to be troublesome, was an unsolved puzzle to all but Guldahl, Jimmy Hines, red-headed New Yorker, and Leland Gibson of Kansas City, registered 73s, and a half-dozen sharpshooters, including Lighthorse Harry Cooper of Chicago, were bunched at 74, but the remainder of the field of approximately 120 starters was stretched out like a rubber band.

Fenske Rated Tops In National Collegiate Mile At Minneapolis

BY JERRY BRONDFIELD NEA Service Sports Writer Just as you would concede a two-inch putt does the rest of the field make this concession in connection with the National Collegiate Track and Field Championships in Minneapolis, June 17-18:

Southern California all the way. With the greatest display of team balance ever assembled on one collegiate squad there isn't a reason why Dean Cromwell's Trojans shouldn't successfully defend the title they've won three years in succession.

The battle for individual titles will be another story, as 250 athletes from more than 75 colleges compete in the season's most colorful meet. Eight defending champions will be on hand, but with few exceptions every one of the 14 events should be as wide open as the Grand Canyon.

DEFENSES 2200 CROWN

Seeking the 100-yard sprint title vacated by Sammy Stoller will be Adrian Tally of U. S. C.; Ben Johnson of Columbia, Wilbur Greer of Michigan State, Arnold Nutting of California, and Mack Robinson of Oregon, to mention the fleetest of this year's fleet. All have breezed along in 9.5 some time in their careers.

Johnson will defend his 220 crown against practically the same field, with Lee Orr of Washington State and Bob Lewis of Ohio State providing an additional challenge.

Stanford's Ray Malot, who unofficially this spring has shaded Ben Eastman's world mark of 46.4, is the number one choice in the 440, but a crack field which includes Charley Belcher of Georgia Tech, Johnny Woodruff of Pitt, Charley Miller of Southern Cal, and Harley Howells of Ohio State, will be right on his heels. All have done 47 flat.

They'll be chasing Woodruff home when Pitt's Olympic champion and defending titlist takes off in the 880. The lanky Woodruff hasn't been extended once this year, and capable of better than 1:50, he has little to fear.

In the mile, Wisconsin's Chuck Fenske once again should romp home a winner, unless Southern California's Lou Zamperini is reinstated in time to compete. There are few collegiate milers in the country who can approach 4:10.

TWO-MILE A CLASSIC

Picking the two-mile winner isn't so easy. Defending champion Greg Rice of Notre Dame will have his hands full with Walter Mehl, Wisconsin's Big Ten champion; Tommy Deardark of Indiana; Bill Feller of Drake; Stan Sadaj of California; and Ralph Schwartzkopf of Michigan. Fred Wolcott, Rice Institute sophomore, is likely to dominate both hurdle events.

Bill Watson, Michigan's one man track team, is top choice in the shot, put and discus, where he does 52 feet and 154 respectively. But you can't overlook Woodrow Strode of U. C. L. A. in both events, or Pete Zagar of Stanford in the discus.

Watson, too, must be given the best chance in the broad jump, where his 25-foot efforts can be approached only by Bob Hubbard of Minnesota, Arnold Nutting of California, and Mack Robinson of Oregon. Dave Albritton, world-record holder in the high jump, heads the lists in his specialty, with Gil Cruder of Colorado and Delos Thurber of U. S. C. labeled "dangerous."

ALL-COAST AFFAIR IN VAULT

Southern California's "heavenly twins"—Loring Day and Ken Dills—will have things their own way in the pole vault, with Oregon's George Varoff being the only man who can possibly match their 14 foot 7 inch vaults.

Lowell Todd, defending titlist from San Jose State and Nick Yushman of Penn State, who leave the spear better than 220 feet, are a toss-up for the javelin. By the time these boys—and a few others—got through, it's very likely that there'll be some new records written into the books. There usually is every year, and 1938 shouldn't be an exception.

Louis And Maxie Settling Down To Serious Workouts

Pompton Lakes, N. J., June 14 (AP)—Joe Louis drilled impressively for the second straight time today before nearly 2,000 fans and two ex-heavyweight champions, Gene Tunney and Jim Braddock. The champion battered Basher Dean, Leonard Dixon and Jim Howell around the ring for two rounds each and impressed Tunney.

"Joe still has difficulty getting away from a right hand," declared Gene, "but he is fast on the counter and putting plenty of power behind his blows. He has shortened his left hook a lot since I last saw him and he has improved a lot in his infighting. He seems to be in marvelous physical condition." Tunney refused to predict a winner.

SHOOTERS FAMOUS RIGHT

Speculator, N. Y., June 14 (AP)—Max Schmeling settled down to real work today and for six rounds shot his famed straight right at three sparring partners in one of his briskest workouts.

Al Albin, Joe Mack and Butch Rogers were on the receiving end as Max went through one of his stiffest drills in preparation for his fight with Joe Louis for the latter's heavyweight title June 22 at Yankee Stadium. A crowd of more than 2,000 watched the workout today.

Two Playoff Innings Give Red Sox 5-3 Win Over St. Louis

St. Louis, June 14 (AP)—Boston's Red Sox had two playoff innings today which gave them a 5 to 3 victory over the St. Louis Browns. Lefty Grove drove a single to center in the seventh with two down to launch a three-run rally. He left the game in the last half of the inning after the Browns pushed over two runs to tie the score. Again in the eighth two men were out when big Buck Newsom walked Nonnenkamp to fill the bases. Peacock's pinch single scored Fox and Higgins with the winning runs.

Score: R. H. E. Boston -- 000 000 320--5 9 3 St. Louis -- 000 001 200--3 7 0 Grcve, Wilson and DeSautels; Newsom, McKain and Heath, Peacock.

VERSCHURE IS GIVEN TROPHY

Premier Potato Grower of Michigan Gets Special Honor

A trophy awarded by the Michigan Crop Improvement association has been presented to Alphonse Verschure, Hiawatha township farmer, for his achievement of being named premier potato grower of Michigan in 1937. The trophy was sent to Verschure by H. C. Moore, representing the Michigan Crop Improvement association.

The beautiful trophy has been placed on display in the window of the First National Bank building. In becoming premier potato grower of Michigan for the fourth time in his career last summer, Verschure raised 524 bushels of potatoes per acre in a ten acre tract.

He raises Rural Russets, all certified seed stock. Verschure's seed stock is classified as "foundation stock," which means it is the ideal seed for farmers entering the certified seed market. His seed stock has been purchased by several experimental farms, which aim to improve potato stock in other localities.

MHS Accredited Again By U. of M.

The Manistique high school has been accredited for another three year period, Principal Carl Olson has announced. A letter from Dr. Koch, of the university, to the local principal announced the university's approval of the local high school. The Manistique high school has been approved continuously since 1907.

Concrete Pouring Started On Cedar

The pouring of concrete for the new sidewalks was started yesterday on the west side of Cedar street by Gould and Cross, general contractors. A crew of workmen, using jack hammers, are breaking up the old sidewalks. Another crew follows behind to lay the sidewalk forms and do the grading. The concrete crew then follows.

ASKED TO FIX PRICE Monominee—Officials of the Menominee & Marinette Light & Traction company have been asked by Mayor Michael C. Olsen to fix a price on the company's local distribution system which the city is considering acquiring as part of its proposed municipal light plant. In his letter to the company, sent last Friday, Mayor Olsen requested an answer within 15 days.

At one of the recent conferences between city and Traction company officials, one of the proposals made by the company was for the city to purchase its distributing plant, provided it would agree to buy its electricity from the company at a wholesale rate of 1.25 cents per kilowatt hour.

JEAN WARNER HURT Sault Ste. Marie—Jean Warner, of Midland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mead J. Warner of this city, narrowly escaped death Thursday night when a car in which she was a passenger struck the rear end of a truck on US-10 in Isabella county.

Florence Thorpe Parker, member of the Midland Daily News classified advertising staff was killed and James Wallace of Saginaw, driver of the car, suffered two jaw fractures, a fractured skull and head lacerations. Miss Warner suffered head cuts but her condition is not serious. Both were taken to the Clare general hospital. Mrs. Warner has left for Clare to be with her daughter.

Except for Rip Radcliff's error, the champions would have been held scoreless in their big inning. Instead, with the aid of five hits, two of them singles by Flash Gordon, and two bases on balls, seven men crossed the plate. The big blow of the inning was Myrill Hoag's triple with the bases loaded. Bob Lee and Spud Chandler, who started for the Yanks, failed to finish. Lee was hit for a pinch-hitter, while Chandler was relieved by Johnny Murphy in the seventh after the Sox had scored three times. Score: R. H. E. New York 000 007 000--7 7 1 Chicago -- 100 003 000--4 8 1 Chandler, Murphy and Dickey; Lee, Gable and Sewell.

BIDS ON LIGHT BULBS OPENED

No Decision Is Made by Council for Purchase of Supply

Bids for supplying the city of Manistique with light bulbs for the ensuing year were opened at the regular meeting of the city council Monday night, but after studying the various proposals, the council voted to reject all bids and authorized the city manager to make a contract to the best advantage of the city.

Bids were received from the Line Meter Company, John I. Belaire, Cookson-LeRoy Hardware, Graybar Electric Company, Westinghouse Electric Supply, Westinghouse Electric Supply Corporation, High Grade Sylvania Corporation.

Because the bids quoted were for different types of lamps, it was decided to instruct the manager to investigate the specifications of all the bulbs before a contract was let.

The city proposes to enter into a contract providing for the purchase of about $500 worth of light bulbs for city use, including replacement lamps for the street lighting system. Following considerable discussion, the council voted to appropriate $50 to the Manistique baseball team and $25 to the Manistique Cardinals. The money will be used to provide additional equipment for the two teams. A proposal to give $100 to the city team and $50 to the Cardinals failed.

A petition was presented to the council for the relocation of the street light on the intersection of Lake street and Main street. The street light now is shaded by the foliage of a large tree. The city manager was authorized to have the light relocated in a more desirable location. The council decided to purchase a power mower for the Fairview cemetery.

A discussion of the tentative city budget occupied a major portion of the evening, but the final budget will not be fixed before the next regular meeting of the council.

Grasshoppers Are Hatching Out Now

Alphonse Verschure, premier potato grower of Michigan, reported yesterday that grasshoppers are now being hatched in the rural areas of this district, and issued a warning to farmers in cooperation with county agricultural agents, to set out grasshopper bait immediately. Verschure explained that the ideal time to prevent a grasshopper plague is to poison them before the "hoppers grow wings and begin to fly. Early indications point to an especially large number of grasshoppers in Schoolcraft county this year, unless immediate action is taken to prevent a plague.

SCHOOL BOARD HAS MEETING

Cooperative Plan Work Told; Teacher May Be Exchanged

Results of the cooperative plan among senior high school students under the direction of Clarence Pearson of the faculty were told by Supt. of Schools John A. Lemmer at a regular meeting of the board of education held last night.

Thirty-three pupils participated during the year in the plan whereby students are given work in business and industry throughout the city and in return they are taught the trade. As the result of this year's program, eight students are receiving permanent jobs and four are getting part time work. Two of the students in the 1936-37 course still are employed in the work which they did as cooperative students.

The possibility of an exchange of a teacher for a year with Globe, Arizona was discussed by members of the board. Under the proposed plan, one teacher from each school would be exchanged for a year in order that each might study the educational methods used in the respective schools.

Supt. Lemmer reported on the text book rental. The first year of the uniformly lower rates brought receipts of $3,423.61, an increase of $94. Average absence of teachers for the year was 1.9 days as compared with 2.7 for last year and 4.9 the year previously. The school bus operated 11,309 miles at an average cost per mile of 9.1c, the same as last year.

The tentative operating budget for next year will be $233,342, a reduction of $21,000 over last year. Of this, the estimated receipts will be $157,333, the balance to be raised by taxes. Debt service budget is $36,770.

Due to expected curtailment of receipts, no extensive repairs will be done on any of the school buildings this summer.

The board will hold a short meeting Thursday night to confirm election results. This meeting is required by law.

AT THE DELFT

A new co-starring team makes its screen debut at the Delft Theatre today with the initial performance of a new Warner Bros. comedy called "Women Are Like That."

Curiously, although they have been at the same studio for several years, the lovely, dark Kay Francis and the genial, rapid-talking Irishman, Pat O'Brien, have never before worked in a picture together.

Pat and Kay are said to make an ideal movie team. "Women Are Like That" is a gay comedy revolving around the colorful and exciting advertising business. You can imagine Pat with his staccato patter selling advertising accounts and you can also fancy Kay wielding her feminine charms for the same purpose.

Another Praises KruGon Efficacy

Hundreds Laud New Laxative-Tonic As "Greatest Ever"; Mr. Boyle Relieved of Twelve Years Suffering.

"It was amazing how quickly KruGon took hold of my stubborn case," said Mr. Patrick J. Boyle, Bass Lake, Michigan (near Escanaba). "For twelve years my health had been growing steadily worse. I was badly constipated, rheumatism had a dreadful hold on me. My hips and shoulders ached and pained so severely at times I could hardly get around. My kidneys became disordered too, appetite was poor, lost much sleep at night and was always tired and worn-out. I put many medicines to the test in my awful case but in spite of all I tried I could not get back to normal. But once I gave KruGon the opportunity of helping me I was amazed at the remarkable change it brought about in my condition.

"I would not hesitate to recommend KruGon to anyone who suffers as I did," continued Mr. Boyle. "Those awful rheumatic pains which nearly crippled me are relieved, kidneys corrected, constipation ended and I am enjoying new strength and energy again. It is wonderful to feel so good again and I am thankful I was persuaded to give this new KruGon a trial—is has accomplished what all else had failed to do."

KruGon is sold by West End Drug Store, 1221 Ludington St., this city.
