HOUSE REBELS AGAINST VETO OF FARM BILL

RAILWAY INSURANCE PASSED; CONGRESS QUILTS TODAY

Washington, June 15 (AP)—Administration leaders' efforts to bring the historic 75th Congress to a close tonight failed when senate and house differed on a comparatively minor issue—a deficiency bill carrying $289,000,000 to eke out the funds of several government agencies.

The two chambers will go into session again tomorrow, when the leaders will make another effort to wind up legislative affairs. They predicted it would be successful.

Roosevelt Dislikes Cost Before congress knocked off work for the day, the house rebelled against President Roosevelt's leadership on a farm question. It voted 244 to 87, to override his veto of a measure continuing low interest rates on certain loans made on farm land by the federal land banks, and on farm products by land bank commissioners.

The measure would continue an "emergency" rate of 3 1/2 per cent on the former class of loans and 4 per cent on the latter. Mr. Roosevelt objected that the bill would cost the treasury $208,700,000. Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the majority leader, predicted the senate also would override the veto.

A senate-house conference committee settled today the touchy question of distributing $212,000,000 in benefit payments among farmers, principally growers of cotton, corn and wheat. Each chamber had wanted to divide the money somewhat differently, but the conferees chose the house proposals.

Filibuster Subsidies They provide that $86,400,000 shall go to cotton, $68,800,000 to corn and $57,200,000 to wheat. The money is included in the administration's big spending-lending bill, which totals $3,753,000,000.

When the deficiency bill for government agencies came up in the senate, that chamber tacked on $10,000,000 in various minor amendments. Thereupon conferees, whose job it is to harmonize senate and house bills, threw up their hands and decided not even to attempt the task till tomorrow.

One of the measures passed today by the senate and sent to the White House would set up a system of unemployment compensation for railroad workers. A tax of three per cent of wages up to $300 a month would be collected from railroads to finance this program, which would be administered by the railroad retirement board.

Spanish Insurgents Start Double Drive To Spike Civil War

Hendaye, Franco (At the Spanish Frontier), June 15 (AP)—Insurgent armies today pressed a double drive against two widely-separated Spanish government strongholds in what appeared to be a large scale campaign to end the civil war.

On the Mediterranean coast insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco's columns struck toward refugee-crowded Valencia without slackening their offensive after the fall of Castellon de La Plana gave access to the central coastal plain.

In southern Spain a sudden attack on the long dormant Penaroya sector northwest of Cordoba indicated insurgents were starting a general offensive into Cordoba province to put government defenses between two fires.

Insurgent bombers again ranged the east coast in attempts to shut off government importation of supplies. In Valencia harbor the French freighter Gaulois was bombed and sunk and a sailing vessel set afire.

Five raids were made on Valencia itself, its port and suburbs. Three persons were killed, 20 were injured, and 15 houses were burned. Despite the fall of Castellon de La Plana, 40 miles north of Valencia, government resistance appeared far from crushed.

Distribution of Valuable C. & O. Holdings to Be Next Step

New York, June 15 (AP)—The enlarged board of directors of Chesapeake Corp., holding their organization meeting here today, ousted Robert H. Young as chairman, and postponed for at least thirty days further consideration of liquidation and dissolution of the company.

The board took no action on a dividend ordinarily payable July 1. The last payment was 75 cents a share on April 2. The board indicated, however, it would give further attention to the matter of a dividend at a meeting in Cleveland next Tuesday.

No successor was immediately appointed to fill the chairmanship vacated by Young who yesterday, at a Baltimore stockholder's meeting, lost nominal control of the corporation to Guaranty Trust company of New York after a long court fight.

Both Young and Guaranty spokesmen have stated they favor swift dissolution of the company and distribution of its valuable holdings of Chesapeake & Ohio railway stock.

Three directors selected by Guaranty were added to board yesterday—Earle Baillie, John B. Hollister, and John L. Dickinson. Young remains a director, with one ally, A. P. Kirby.

Baillie, Hollister, and two other directors opposed by Young—G. L. Bradley and John P. Murphy—were designated as a committee to prepare a plan for liquidation and dissolution to be submitted to the full board in 30 days.

All officers other than Young were reelected save D. S. Barrett, Jr., treasurer, whose duties were assigned to Murphy, secretary.

DEATH FACED BY KIDNAPER OF CASH BOY

TRUCK DRIVER GETS SENTENCE TODAY IN MIAMI, FLA

Miami, Fla., June 15 (AP)—Franklin Pierce McCall, 21-year-old truck driver, was formally adjudged guilty today of kidnaping little James Bailey Cash, Jr.—a crime punishable by death.

Circuit Judge H. F. Atkinson deferred imposing sentence until tomorrow at the request of defense counsel. Court attaches said a death sentence was mandatory.

No Other Witnesses Florida statutes provide the electrocution penalty for ransom kidnaping unless a jury recommends life imprisonment. There was no jury because McCall pleaded guilty of abduction at a preliminary hearing yesterday.

Although indicted also for murder, he was tried only on the kidnaping charge after he pleaded innocent of the five-year-old boy's death.

McCall, a minister's son, was the only defense witness. The state based its case on testimony of federal agents and identification of Mr. and Mrs. James Bailey Cash, Sr., of the pajamas found on the child's decomposed body 12 days after he disappeared from his Princeton, Fla., home May 23.

Temped By $10,000 McCall explained he was tempted by visions of the $10,000 ransom. He made no effort to repudiate a 10-page confession introduced by the state.

In a firm but low voice, he gave the following account of the crime: "About 9:30 I went to the home of Hal McLaughlin and then went to J. B. Cash's filling station and saw Mr. and Mrs. Cash inside the store. I asked the time and Mrs. Cash said, 'It's 9:30—time for you to be home in bed.'"

"I left the store and went through an alley in back of the filling station and came through the back door of the house. It was locked and I cut the screen with a knife.

"I had two white pocket handkerchiefs which I took out of my pocket and went up the hall to the door of the bedroom. I went in and picked Skeegie up in my arms and placed two large, white, clean handkerchiefs over his face.

"I went out the back door. He appeared to be sleeping. I carried him in both arms and held the handkerchiefs over his mouth and, I guess, over his nose, but I didn't know it.

"I walked home. It was dark and when I got home I put Skeegie on the bed and shook him and called his name but got no answer.

"I was afraid and tried artificial respiration to try and wake him up. I got cold water from the icebox and bathed his face but he didn't wake up.

"I knew he was dead. He didn't struggle or move. I saw he was dead and didn't know what to do.

"I picked him up and started out the back door. I didn't have any particular place in mind and went through the woods back of the house to the place where the body was found and placed it there.

Blarney Pebble

Back in New York after a round trip on the S. S. Normandie, Helen Borsoos, 19-year-old Passaic, N. J., stenographer stow-away, declared that desperation over unemployment had led her to the New York waterfront, where she drank some beer, then remembered nothing more until she was found asleep in the ship's chapel enroute to Europe. She is pictured above kissing a chip of the Blarney Stone, given her by a passenger.

Lewis, Snubbed, Calls Congress 'Cowardly'

Washington, June 15 (AP)—John L. Lewis marched up Capitol Hill again today on behalf of his "blacklisting" bill but he quickly marched down—rebuffed afresh and angrily talking of reprisals against "cowardly congressmen."

As on Monday when his effort to turn on the "heat" met a frigid blast from congress, the CIO leader strode into Speaker Bankhead's office to demand a vote on the measure. But house leaders flatly refused even to allow consideration of the bill.

They stuck to their refusal in the face of the fact that Lewis had brought heavy reinforcements with him—Philip Murray, chairman of the Steel Workers organizing committee, and Sidney Hillman, chairman of the Textile Workers organizing committee.

Sponsors See Light Speaker Bankhead told reporters later that he had made up his mind "for fair and sufficient reasons" not to grant the request to adopt procedure which would take the bill from a pigeon hole. He said that some of the original sponsors of the measure thought "it would be unwise at this time" to attempt to pass it.

The legislation would compel corporations who have government contracts amounting to at least $2,000 to accept decisions of the National Labor Relations board affecting them and to observe stipulated wage-hour standards. If they did not, they could be put on a "blacklist" and denied further federal contracts.

Hints of Reprisals When Lewis left the capitol, he loosed a scathing criticism of the house rules committee which yesterday refused to send the bill to the house floor for debate.

Charging that the committee had been "notoriously friendly to corporations and antagonistic to labor" at this session, he said it was "cowardly" for house leaders and members to "hide behind" the committee's action.

"There's no question," he said, "but that the rules committee has been under the corporate lash this session."

He said the house should be given an opportunity to vote on the bill "so we can know how good friends we are" with the members, adding significantly that many representatives would be returning to their districts soon to campaign for re-election with pleas for labor's support.

Ford Won't Be Nazi Presidential Pick; He Avoids Politics

New York, June 15 (AP)—Henry Ford, among other people, is not a candidate for president.

The non-sectarian Anti-Nazi League made public today a telegram from W. J. Cameron, Ford spokesman, denying any connection between Ford and the Ford-for-President League.

"This use of Mr. Ford's name entirely unauthorized," said the telegram. "He is not in politics and has no sympathy with any un-American movement."

Hermansville Bank Robber Is Paroled For Good Behavior

Lansing, June 15 (AP)—The state parole board ordered the release of Frank Jacobinski, of Amasa, one of five convicted in connection with the Hermansville State bank robbery May 31, 1932, from the Michigan reformatory at Ionia today.

Jacobinski was sentenced from the Menominee county circuit court on June 8, 1932 to a 15 to 30-year term. His parole was recommended by Circuit Judge Frank Bell in view of his good institutional record.

CLEVELAND ERA OFFICE MOBBED

'We Want Food Orders,' Crowd Yells; Woman Bites Policeman

Cleveland, June 15 (AP)—A quick-subdued disturbance in a city relief office today brought a warning from Fred W. Ramsey, city welfare director, that "trouble-makers" would be deprived of all aid.

A milling group of 75 persons shouted "We want food orders" and threatened to break into administrative quarters. Some forty policemen responded to an emergency call and restored order.

Joseph Mullarkey, police sergeant, was bitten on the hand as he arrested Mrs. Cella Maryn, 37, in a charge of scratching a woman relief investigator's face. Another woman client slapped a relief visitor yesterday, officials said.

"We are going to protect our staff and prosecute anyone attacking relief staff members," declared Ramsey.

"If trouble-makers have children, there is no way we can deprive the children of relief. But if they do not have dependents, it would be only normal for us to cut off relief from offenders."

Mrs. Della Milder, office supervisor, said the crowd was composed mainly of persons who have had no food orders during the city's two-month-old relief crisis. She identified Mrs. Maryn as a "trouble-maker" and a member of the Workers Alliance, an organization of WPA workers and unemployed.

Troopers Predict 40 Percent Cut In Traffic Accidents

East Lansing, June 15 (AP)—The state police, estimating a 40 per cent reduction in the number of automobile accidents this year, said today they have undertaken an experiment to reduce the hazards of auto travel still further.

Capt. Lawrence A. Lyon said a new tabulating system is being installed to permit a swifter determination of danger spots on state and county roads, and permit safety engineers to get an earlier start in planning corrective measures.

The tabulation of accident reports now requires about two months. Lyon said the new tabulating system would not be more than 48 hours behind the reports.

Planes Make Two Round Trips Daily Out of Chicago

Chicago, June 15 (AP)—Direct airmail and passenger service between Grand Rapids, Mich., and Chicago, was inaugurated today by the Pennsylvania Central Airlines.

Mayor G. W. Welch of Grand Rapids, who headed a group of officials making the initial trip, said the new service "is a grand thing for Grand Rapids and Chicago." The plane landed at 9:54 a. m. (Central Standard Time) after leaving Grand Rapids at 9:45 a. m. (Eastern Standard Time).

J. H. Neale, of Pittsburgh, operations manager of the airlines, was pilot.

The inauguration of the Grand Rapids-Chicago air service brings to eight the number of major air lines operating out of Chicago. The schedule calls for two round trips daily between here and Grand Rapids.

Bedell Munro, president of the Pennsylvania Central Airlines, Col. Floyd E. Evans, director of aeronautics of Michigan, Arthur Rosenthal, Grand Rapids chamber of commerce; Ron Seeley, Michigan state highway department; Jeanne De Lamarter, representing the Grand Rapids furniture industry; Sarah Everett, of the Grand Rapids Junior League, and W. B. McClernan, Grand Rapids Herald, were passengers on the first flight.

Next Congress Will Decide Party Lines And Issues Of 1940

By Kirk L. Simpson Washington, June 15 (AP)—The tumultuous 75th congress did much to force the issue of drastic party re-alignment in the United States.

In fact, the impact of the legislative struggles on the American party system may turn out to be one of the most significant political developments of recent years.

When this congress came in a year and a half ago it was under one-party control to a greater extent than any congress preceding it. It flaunted new deal banners behind the leadership of a second-term president returned to office by electoral and popular majorities of unprecedented magnitude.

Liberal Label Sought It goes out no less dramatically, amid democratic strife that has torn seemingly irreparable gaps in party ranks. President Roosevelt and his aides are forcing the issue of new deal loyalty aggressively into primary campaigning, apparently bent on remodeling the party by 1940 into a permanent liberal party under the Democratic label. It is the apparent intention of some new dealers at least, to thrust aside conservative dissenters at whatever cost to election-year appearances of harmony.

While these efforts to revamp the democracy go forward, the La Follette-led Wisconsin progressives have determined to set up a National Liberal party under their standard. They are trying to absorb liberals of all party faiths into a grouping that would scrap old symbols.

Republican Hopes Rise To offset that, repeated coalitions between Republicans and certain anti-new deal Democrats in congress blocked many efforts of the President to drive forward his program of long-range social and economic reforms. These setbacks for the administration kindled new fires of Republican hope and energy, reflected by big Republican turnouts in primaries to date.

Thus, circumstances tend to bring about, by 1940, a conservative or middle-of-the-road mobilization under Republican battle flags, whatever the slogans or labels may be.

To complete the picture of incalculable forces driving toward a national political realignment, there is the militant effort of John L. Lewis and his CIO legions to exercise direct political power on a national scale. The labor vote already holds the balance in many industrial states. CIO is groping toward expansion of its power through organization of farmworkers in the south and west. The manner in which the A. F. of L. and CIO factions exercise their strength in elections this year and in the 1940 presidential contest will deeply influence the outcome for all parties in the race, old or new.

PLAGUE ADDS TO SUFFERING OF WAR-TIME

SHANGHAI EPIDEMIC GROWS AS YELLOW RIVER RISES

Shanghai, June 16 (Thursday) (AP)—Flood and cholera dangers mounted today in China, where peasant millions already were suffering from 11 months of warfare.

Rising floodwaters of the Yellow river surged 50 miles south of disastrous breaks in dikes near Chengchow, central China's rail and military crossroads.

Far from the war and flood fronts, the Shanghai municipal council officially declared cholera to be epidemic in Shanghai. In the city's hospitals there were 123 cases, 73 of them originating in foreign-administered areas.

British Ship Quarantined On the northern Shantung province coast the British steamer Shuntien was quarantined at Chetoo after one cholera death aboard. Eight Chinese died of cholera in Japanese occupied Soochow, 50 miles west of here.

To block spread of the disease to Japan the Japanese consulate-general ceased issuing bills of health to vessels proceeding from Shanghai to Japanese ports. Thus all passengers without certificates of inoculation must undergo examination before entering Japan.

(Dispatches from Lucknow, India, in the area which in years past has been a starting-point of epidemics, said cholera had taken 12,000 lives in the past seven weeks in the united provinces.)

Floods Halt Japanese In water-haunted areas Japanese engineers directing attempts to stem the inundation said their previous statements that 150,000 Chinese had been drowned should be revised downward considerably.

Casualty and damage estimates were impossible to obtain because of disrupted communications in the area.

The flood waters, fed by continuing rains, formed an ever widening barrier between Japanese invaders and the north-south Peiping-Hankow railway, which crosses the Lunglai at Chengchow.

Chinese reported that the inundation from only one breach in the dike northwest of Chengchow plowed a southward course roughly paralleling the Peiping-Hankow railroad and about 35 miles east of the right-of-way. This was approximately the path the raging river took in 1889, one of the nine times it changed its course.

Highway Staff Cut As Economy Move; 250 Are Dismissed

Lansing, June 15 (AP)—The state highway department announced today 250 employees would be dismissed July 1 as an economy measure.

G. Donald Kennedy, deputy commissioner, said the dismissals were necessitated by a 50 per cent cut in the legislative appropriation to the department. He said maintenance services and elimination of some trunk line mileage also would be needed to keep the department within its budget.

Kennedy said more than 1,700 employees have been dismissed since October 15 for economy reasons, leaving a staff of approximately 2,390 persons.

Member Of French Cabinet Stricken

Rodez, France, June 15 (AP)—Senator Eugene Raynaldy, 68, former vice premier of France and member of two cabinets, died suddenly today of a heart attack.

In 1935 Raynaldy was acquitted on charges of illegal financial dealings while a member of Premier Camille Chaptains' government, but was fined for lack of vigilance prior to the Stavisky scandal in 1934.

That scandal caused the downfall of Chaptains' cabinet a few days before the riots of February, 1934.

Per Capita Tax Strike May 'Starve Out' UAW

Detroit, June 15 (AP)—Threat of a per capita tax strike by United Automobile worker locals opposed to Homer Martin, union president, grew today as five suspended officers and administration forces scrambled for control of the UAW treasury.

Per capita tax receipts, "life blood" of the union, were reported to have totaled $120 Tuesday, a day when $12,000 ordinarily is contributed by locals under an agreement to pay 37 1/2 cents monthly to the international office for every employed member.

Funds of the union said to amount to $100,000 were tied up in a Detroit bank. The anti-Martin group has served notice on the bank it would take legal action if funds were paid out on order of Delmond Garst, appointed acting treasurer by Martin after he suspended George Adde, the elected treasurer.

Martin allies said the union administration had not filed a required signature card at the bank and would be unable to do so until Martin returned to Detroit. He was in New York.

A delay of several weeks was predicted for resumption of the union executive board's meeting to arrange for trial of the suspended officers. Under the union constitution, trial must precede a formal ouster.

A special convention which Martin's opponents said they would seek in case of formal ouster might be delayed for several months because of technicalities. It was conceded that action of anti-Martin locals in refusing to pay the per capita tax could "starve" the administration group by tying up the union's funds.

TOURIST BUYING RULES REVISED

Canadian Visitors Must Stay 48 Hours for $100 Worth

Washington, June 15 (AP)—In the future tourists visiting Canada will be required to remain outside of the United States for at least 48 hours in order to bring back $100 worth of merchandise duty free under provisions of a bill passed by congress and now awaiting action by the president.

The measure was passed after chambers of commerce and other organizations in border cities had protested that large purchases were being made in Canada and brought into this country duty free not by tourists but by residents of the border areas who were doing their shopping abroad.

TAX LIMITATION
Dear Editor: In your paper of June 4, under an article headed "Joint Session Fails to Solve Problem Created by Drop in School Tax," is a statement by City Manager Bean.

"I will fight to the best of my ability against this tax limiting law," Bean said, "if the measure which sets the maximum tax at 15 mills." He told how the law makes it impossible, under the present set-up, to provide adequate funds for both the county and city relief and the city schools.

This article was brought to the attention of the Grange members at the last meeting. It was decided to publish the reaction of the Grange.

The Grange had a very active part in the passage of the tax limitation law. The members were and still are of the opinion that a 15 mill property tax plus other incomes is enough to carry on public affairs.

Property tax should be low because the value of a person's property is not a measure of his ability to pay taxes.

The 15 mill limitation tax was a lifesaver to many farmers, and they feel that it is a real safeguard against high taxation. They will not be very anxious to have it "thrown off."

Sincerely,
Bark River Grange.

About 700 band concerts will be given in the London public parks this summer at a cost of $49,500.

Luecke Keeps Out Of Primary Fight; Hook Backs Murphy

Washington, June 15 (AP)—Five Michigan Democrats have signed resolutions endorsing Governor Frank Murphy and Lieut. Gov. Leo J. Nowicki and pledging support to efforts to re-elect them.

The five are Senator Brown and Representatives Sadowski, Hook, Dingell and Lesinski. Rep. Lesinski said the resolutions were adopted at a caucus of Democratic members June 2.

Rep. Luecke (D-Mich.) said he had not signed the resolution because "if we are going to maintain primary systems we have to keep out of primary election. He added that "just because I didn't sign doesn't mean I am opposed to state administration."

Rep. Tranter (D-Mich.) said: "I don't like to sign round robin resolutions to influence primary elections."

Rep. Rabout (D-Mich.) made no comment on his failure to sign. Rep. O'Brien (D-Mich.) could not be reached.

MANGRUM TIED WITH GULDAHL

Golfers Reach Halfway Mark In Western Open, St. Louis

BY WHITNEY MARTIN
St. Louis, June 15 (AP)—It was a case of 36 holes behind him, 36 holes ahead of him and Ray Mangrum beside him as Ralph Guldahl reached the half-way mark in his quest for a third consecutive western open golf championship today with the gangling Dayton, Ohio, pro sharing the lead.

Mangrum, stroking a smooth course over the treacherous Westwood terrain, brought in his second straight 72 for a 144 total as Guldahl, alone in the lead with a par 71 yesterday came in with a 73 for his second round.

As par was the only winner throughout the day, other sharpshooters who were on Guldahl's heels yesterday still were stalking him and still others slowly faded into the background.

Little Paul Runyan of White Plains, N. Y., added a 36-37-71 today to his 72 to be deadlocked with Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. V., at 145, one stroke behind the leaders. Snead also added a 73 today to reach his total, Jimmy Hines, the New York red-head, and Bob Hamilton, a dark horse from Evansville, Ind., were a stroke behind Snead and Runyan. Hines was out in even par 35 today but went two over on the in nine for a 73. Hamilton, in the 74 bracket at the end of yesterday's play, was one of the very few to even approach par today. He carded 34-38-72.

For a while today it appeared there would be a prolonged senate filibuster on the question of States' Rights, but this argument subsided as quickly as it began.

TICKETS GOING BIG FOR FIGHT

Promoter Mike Jacobs Predicts Gate of Over Million

BY EDDIE BRIETZ
New York, June 15 (AP)—With the little fireworks just a week away, Promoter Mike Jacobs today put a definite tag of $470,000 on the advance sale for the Joe Louis-Max Schmeling world heavyweight championship fight.

He predicted a good "break" from the weather would mean gross receipts in excess of $1,000,000 for the title show at the Yankee Stadium, June 22.

"Today, with the half-million mark in sight, we are only $114,000 behind the advance sale for the Louis-Baer fight ten days before that bout," said Jacobs. "Don't forget, either that we had a six weeks' sale on that one, compared to only three weeks for this match."

The Louis-Baer fight, in 1935, grossed $948,262 from the ticket sales. Receipts from the sale of radio and picture rights put it over the million dollar mark.

"We banked $48,000 Monday, $47,000 yesterday and around $50,000 today," Jacobs continued. "We need only $67,000 to match the total Baer-Louis advance sale and we will do that much business tomorrow, at the rate things are going."

The heaviest demand, Jacobs added, has been for the $30 ring-side seats, of which there are 38 rows. He said 75 per cent of the advance orders have come from out-of-town fans.

With betting odds indicating heavier support for Louis, some experts forecast the champion would be the 1 to 2 choice when he faces the German challenger.

The training camp developments have not caused any pronounced switch, as yet, in the opinions of sports critics. Most predictions made so far favor Louis but there is little willingness among writers to go too far out on the limb. The memories of 1935, when Louis was nearly the 100 per cent choice, are still fresh in mind.

University Greeted Over 2,000 Alumni

Ann Arbor, Mich., June 15 (AP)—The University of Michigan prepared today to welcome the first of more than 2,000 alumni who are expected to return to the campus this week-end for class reunions.

The first of the pre-commencement activities, the all-class dinner, will be held Thursday night. Sessions of the alumni advisory council also will be held during the day.

On Friday the $2,000,000 Horace H. Rackham school of graduate studies will be dedicated. Reunions have been planned by 50 classes.

Change In Charter Beaten At Lansing

East Lansing, Mich., June 15 (AP)—A proposed charter amendment which would have given East Lansing a city manager form of government was defeated by voters in a referendum today.

The balloting was 342 for the change and 357 against. Foes of the proposal contended its approval would have opened the way for the sale of beer and liquor by clubs in the city, which has been "dry" for years.

Next Congress Will Decide Party Lines And Issues Of 1940

pled the second-term handicap to the White House leadership, can be seen in the output of new deal legislation. It is far short of the goal Mr. Roosevelt set in his second inaugural address when he pledged himself to "carry on"; it is short even of the "objectives" to which he narrowed his demands in later messages to congress. Yet in most of the pinches the administration commanded the support of substantially two-thirds of the Democratic majorities in both houses. It put through a wage-hour measure and beat off efforts to take the control of the huge lending-credit program out of presidential hands.

It goes without saying that the 75th Congress, regardless of the Democratic revolt that followed the court reorganization message in February last year, has heavily rearmored the administration to press its new deal perpetuation campaign this year and in 1940. It is the next Congress, the 76th, first meeting next January, which will make the issues for the 1940 presidential election. It is in that congress that the moves toward party realignment will reach a crisis of some sort.

And it is during the Congress that the greatest riddle of them all must be answered, President Roosevelt's attitude toward a third-term campaign to extend and personify his philosophy. That is still the enigma of American politics as the 75th Congress troops off the Washington stage to devote itself to electioneering.

Spartans' Catcher Gets League Tryout

East Lansing, June 15 (AP)—Clyde Randall, of Detroit, senior catcher of the Michigan State college baseball squad, announced today he had been signed for a try-out with the Chicago White Sox.

Randall said he would join the Dallas club in the Texas league, a White Sox farm, next spring. He is a versatile player who appeared in both infield and outfield positions before going behind the plate for State.

Brown Is Mentioned For Campaign Chair

Washington, June 15 (AP)—Informed persons mentioned the name of Senator Brown (D-Mich.) today as a probable appointee to the chairmanship of the senate Democratic campaign committee.

Senator Barkley, of Kentucky, the majority leader, discussed the appointment today with several Democratic senators who are seeking re-election this year.

The names of Senator Hatch (D-NM) and Connally (D-Texas) also were mentioned for the position, which has been vacant since the resignation of Senator Guffey (D-Pa) last year.

The committee assists in the re-election campaigns of Democratic senators.

9 DELTA BOYS GO TO STATE

Americanism Camp Will Be Held at East Lansing

Nine Delta county boys yesterday joined the Upper Peninsula contingent who left by motor bus for East Lansing to attend the Wolverine Boys' State to be held on the Michigan State college campus under the auspices of the American Legion.

The boys were: Frank St. Martin, Elroy Andrew, Ralph Johnson, Charles Thatcher, Noel Ranger, B. A. K. River, Robert Schram, Richard Johnston, Gene Kee, Gladstone.

The Wolverine Boys State, sponsored by the American Legion, with the assistance and cooperation of many other civic organizations, is intended to furnish practical experience in the operation of the state government as it is actually set up in Michigan. The 800 boys who are to attend will be placed in cities of 50 boys each. Two cities will make up a county and the eight counties will make up the mythical 49th state. The groups will function under the laws of Michigan governing each division and will be governed by elected officers.

K.C. TO HOLD BIG MEETING

Class of 50 Candidates to Receive Honors of Knighthood

The Escanaba Council No. 640 will confer the honor of knighthood upon 50 candidates Sunday, June 19 who have been elected to membership in the order. The following program has been arranged for the day.

All members and candidates will meet at the clubrooms at 7 a. m. and then proceed in a body to St. Joseph's church where they will receive Holy Communion at 7:30 Mass. All degree work will be conducted at St. Patrick's hall. The first and second will be exemplified by the officers of Escanaba Council. District Deputy Gervase Murphy of Calumet will conduct the third.

At 1:00 p. m. all members and candidates will again meet at the clubrooms to form ranks and march to St. Patrick's hall for the exemplification of the second and third degree. Following the degree work the newly elected members will be guests at a banquet to be held at the Delta hotel at 6:30 p. m. All those members desiring to attend are requested to make reservations immediately.

The committee has arranged a very fine program for the occasion. Rev. Fr. Paschal Korner, O.F.M., Grand Knight John J. Bartella and all the various committees urge all members to dedicate next Sunday, June 19 to the Knights of Columbus.

RUNS FOR CONGRESS

Tire Blowout Demonstration Here On Monday

One of those things that have to be seen to be believed, the blowout of a tire on a car traveling at upward of 60 miles an hour without serious consequences of any kind, is to be shown in Escanaba on Monday, June 20. This demonstration will be staged on Ludington street between 23rd and 14th streets in this city.

Local police have consented to the demonstration and will assist in conducting it. The purpose of this apparently dangerous but really routine performance is to prove that in a car equipped with LifeGuards, tire failure at any speed is no more dangerous than a slow leak. The blowout is induced either by means of railroad spikes firmly fixed in heavy steel plates or by dynamite caps detonated from within the car.

The casing is ripped to shreds, but the car remains in control of the driver and is brought to a smooth, safe stop without weaving or leaving the road. The explanation, according to H. J. Norton, local tire dealer, is that the LifeGuard, a reserve tire within a tire, is not affected by the destruction of casing or tube but holds air long enough to enable the car to be stopped. The LifeGuard is a two-ply tire placed within the regular tube, to which it is joined at the base. They are inflated through the same valve. When the tube is suddenly deflated, a tiny vent allows the air to pass slowly from the reserve tire of the LifeGuard, which meanwhile supports the car.

As the LifeGuard reserve tire floats freely within the tube, it "gives" with sharp objects that puncture casing and tube, instead of being ripped.

ALPHA BARRAS PASSES AWAY

Practiced Law Here for Several Years; Was 68 Years Old

Alpha Childs Barras, 68, a life-long resident of Escanaba, and member of a prominent pioneer family, died at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday morning at his home, 305 North Eighteenth street. He had been in failing health since April.

Mr. Barras was born in Escanaba May 31, 1870, and spent his entire life here with the exception of a period of four years when he lived in Nevada.

He was graduated from Escanaba high school with the class of 1888, and later attended Miami University at Oxford, O., and the University of Michigan, from which he received his degree in law, in June, 1893. He practiced law with his uncle, the late E. P. Royce, for a number of years.

He is survived by his wife and one sister, Miss Sarah Barras, of Grand Rapids.

The body was taken to the Anderson Funeral Home where it will rest in state, beginning this afternoon. Services will be held at the funeral home chapel Friday afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. James G. Ward of St. Stephen's Episcopal church officiating, and burial will be in the family lot in Lakeview cemetery.

"Waited Years for a Medicine Like the New KruGon"

Now Enjoys Good Health Again; Sour Stomach Corrected, Nerves Quieted, Every Ache and Pain Has Gone

"It is remarkable the change KruGon brought about in my condition," said Mrs. Seth Wing, 727 Lafayette St., Watertown, Wisconsin. "Most all of my life I had been badly constipated which allowed my entire system to become filled with poisons, disordering my stomach and giving rheumatism a dreadful hold on me. I could not eat anything without suffering with sour stomach, bloating and awful misery afterwards. I became terribly nervous, lost my strength and energy and my daily housework was such a drudgery feeling as I did. In spite of all I tried I only grew worse each day until I learned of KruGon.

"It is a real pleasure to tell others about a medicine which gives such outstanding results as this new KruGon," continued Mrs. Wing. "Poisons were removed from my body in a most natural manner and my stomach was soon functioning properly. The foods I now eat digest easily and quickly. I sleep well and am free of every ache and pain. It is wonderful to be able to do my work with ease again which is such a pleasure feeling as I do today. Suffering people should realize how fortunate they are in being able to get a medicine with the ability of KruGon."

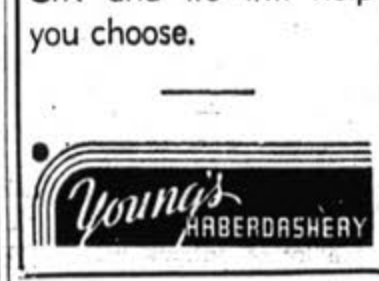

KruGon is sold by West End Drug Store, 1221 Ludington St., this city.

The $120,000,000 Cushion

As former President Hoover used to say, "Let no man say it could not have been worse."

It could. The current depression has been cushioned by the payment up to mid-May of $120,000,000 in unemployment benefits in 25 states. By 1933, all states will be in a position to make such payments.

There can be no doubt that the payment of such a sum in unemployment benefits has somewhat eased the strain on local relief and WPA.

It is argued by some that since more than $900,000,000 has been collected for the federal unemployment trust fund to make such payments in future to those losing their jobs, therefore far more has been withdrawn from the channels of trade than has been put back in by the payments. That is an open question.

But no one can question that all of the $120,000,000 paid out has been immediately spent in retail channels.

The exact effects of this new factor in the national economy are not yet known. But it is clear that as the years pass it will be a greater and greater factor.

AROUND THE PENINSULA (Ironwood Globe)

Members of the newly organized Fire Fighters Association of Iron Mountain have requested the city council to establish some form of civil service and a pension fund for firemen. The city attorney gives them heart by saying that such a plan is authorized under state law. But if the Iron Mountain council acts like other city governing bodies of the Peninsula, it will be slow to respond.

Menominee had a peculiar situation develop the other day. The city was without an attorney for about a month until it was finally decided to appoint William J. Clancy, municipal judge. As city attorney he will be paid $300 a year. His salary as municipal judge was $1,000 a year. Yet he resigned from the judgeship in order to qualify for the office of city attorney. Now the fellow on the street is wondering what it's all about.

Chase Osborn of Sault Ste. Marie, breaks into the limelight once again by expounding his views on Republican leaders of today. He thinks John M. Hamilton is somewhat of a crackpot and he has little time for the efforts of the "encyclopedic, academical Glenn Frank," who is chairman of the Republican policy committee. Republicans frequently disagree with the views of Osborn, but this time many of them are inclined to side with him.

In Michigan it shouldn't have to be done, especially in cities that are not near the borders of other states, yet we find the Marquette chief of police issuing the annual warning against the use of fireworks on July Fourth. Says Chief Donald McCormick, "The laws of Michigan prohibit sale and use of fireworks, and the city police department will enforce this rule." If the people of Marquette are accustomed to police warnings that mean something, Marquette police will have no trouble this year with the users of fireworks.

Decision of the state highway department to have the new state ferry, City of Munising, christened at Escanaba instead of Menominee seems to be sound. It is obvious that a large number of Munising residents will plan to attend the christening and the drive to Escanaba will be about 60 miles closer than if the christening took place at Menominee. Menominee will be appeased, however, as the new ferry will make a stop there for a few hours enroute to Escanaba from the dry dock at Mantowoc where it has been reconditioned for the state ferry service.

The fact that they graduated last week from high school didn't diminish the enthusiasm of 47 Munising high school seniors for information on the history of Michigan. They went to Mackinac Island for their annual class day exercises and visited historical spots on the island and St. Ignace. There is more historic lore in the vicinity of St. Ignace than there is in most communities two and three times as large.

If recommendations of the Manistique Safety Council are carried out by the city fathers, bicycle riders will have to mend their ways considerably. The safety council wants a new ordinance to require the bicycle riders to stay off sidewalks, ride in single file, keep to the right side of the street and observe stop signs. The council would also have every bicycle equipped

BY MILTON BRONNER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent London — When pretty, 16-year-old Princess Fawzieh; sister of King Farouk of Egypt, weds 19-year-old Crown Prince Mohammed Reza of Iran, she will acquire a father-in-law who is one of the modern self-made rulers in a class with Stalin, Hitler, Mussolini and Kemal Ataturk.

Riza Sha Pahlevi rules Iran with an iron hand—the "iron hand" being a perfectly trained army of 100,000 men who do his bidding and keep order in the land.

The wedding of the pretty Fawzieh to Iran's Crown Prince will unite the dynasties of two of the big Moslem powers. It will be another chapter in the wonder story of the Shah. There used to be a legend that the present Shah started out in life as a humble soldier, once actually doing duty as a sentry at the palace where he now sits as sovereign. This legend the folk of Iran deny. They say he was the son of a small land-owner in northern Persia. In those days Persia—later to be called Iran—had only a nominal independence.

Two great grabbing powers—Britain and Russia—agreed between themselves upon "spheres of influence." Britain took southern Iran and Russia took northern Iran. The fall of the Czar in 1917 gave a splendid vision to Lord Curzon, a former Viceroy of India and then Foreign Minister of Britain. Here was a chance to make all Persia a British dependency, a sort of frontier province of India.

He overlooked a 43-year-old officer in the Persian Cossacks, a force that had been organized under the Czar's regime in north Persia. In 1921 Riza, a practically unknown trooper with only 3000 soldiers to back him up, rode boldly into Teheran, daringly arrested most of the prominent officials and forced the trembling Shah to name him Commander-in-Chief of the Persian army and Minister of War. Riza soon made himself military dictator of Persia, and repudiated all agreements giving Britain special rights in the land. In October, 1923, he made himself Premier.

The Shah, who liked the fleshpots of Europe, went dawdling to Paris, with the result that Riza got the National Assembly to depose the absentee monarch and in 1925 to depose the ancient Kajar dynasty. In December of the same year Riza Khan was chosen as Shah, thus establishing the Pahlevi dynasty. He was crowned on April 25, 1926.

BUILT UP HIS LAND

Like Kemal Ataturk, the Shah has done away with the wearing of the turban by men and the veil by women, but the Moslem faith is still the faith of the land. Like Hitler with Berlin, he has done much to embellish his capital of Teheran. And unlike most Oriental monarchs, he is actually building 800 miles of railway without letting foreign bankers in on the deal. As far as possible, he is paying for it as he goes, so that the road which will cross Iran from the Caspian Sea to the Persian Gulf will belong to the Iran government alone.

Now 60 and feeling his age, the Shah is tremendously pleased because his wife is going to marry an Egyptian Princess. If he lives to be a grandfather, with a lot of grandsons, he will be even happier, because it will mean the Pahlevi dynasty is firmly secured.

with a lighted white head lamp and a red lamp or reflector in the rear. Apparently the bicycle problem is getting serious in Manistique, as it is in other cities.

BUSINESS AND SOCIAL CONSCIENCE (Milwaukee Journal)

Senator Tydings causes tables to be inserted in the Congressional Record to show that in the seven years from 1929 to 1936 much-magnified business "contributed about $7,000,000,000 more than the government of the United States to the solving and lessening of the burdens of the depression."

The government in that period spent $16,500,000,000 to meet the ravages of the depression, says Mr. Tydings. Private business spent $23,500,000,000. He arrives at this conclusion from a study of figures prepared by the federal department of commerce.

In this seven year period private business spent $23,500,000,000 more than it took in. It took this money out of surplus it had built up in previous years, spending it largely to keep men who would otherwise be out of work on its pay rolls. Several classes of business went behind in all seven years—mining, electric utilities, construction companies, financial institutions and others. In five of the years there was a general deficit of business as a whole.

There is, as Senator Tydings suggests, food for thought in these figures. They at least show that business is not entirely bereft of a social conscience, as some New Dealers would have us believe.

THE CITY WARNS YOU! (Detroit News)

Fireworks, firecrackers and other Fourth of July explosives are forbidden to be used in Michigan by State law. Provision is made for public display of fireworks by payment of license fees.

But private individuals must not buy or sell or have such explosives in possession. The ordinance in Detroit stiffens the State law and the authorities have announced that there will be stringent enforcement. This warning is to law-abiding citizens. Do not bring them across the boundary from another state. Do not receive them by mail or express. You are violating the law if you transport so much as one firecracker in your automobile.

The law is the result of painful and costly experience. It is designed to save the lives of children; to cut the terrible toll of accidents that used to be the regular accompaniment of July 4 celebrations. All good citizens will respect it. Those who take a chance on disobeying; probably will get into trouble with the authorities.

New York Column

BY GEORGE ROSS

New York—Are you headed for New York this summer? If so, here is a hurried guide to the current excitements.

Along the Rialto, the show world's stellar exhibit is the new musical, "I Married an Angel," which is classified in Broadway parlance as a "smash hit," and George M. Cohan is going to be around here in that political song and dance, "I'd Rather Be Right," until mid-July.

"Bachelor Born" is an amiable comedy from Britain, "On Borrowed Time" is a winning entertainment, and we will have the Pulitzer Prize winner, "Our Town," all summer long.

Miracle Man George Abbott's two hit comedies, "Room Service" and "What a Life," will be with us through high Fahrenheit, and Marc Connelly's new offering, "Two Bouquets," will be available to those who prefer quiet charm to turbulent high-jinks.

Also on the theatrical agenda: "Shadow and Substance," dramatic and interesting; "Whiteoaks," with Ethel Barrymore portraying a centenarian; "The Women"; "You Can't Take It With You," and that old perennial, "Tobacco Road" (5th consecutive year).

Al Fresco Cafes

All the sidewalk cafes are flourishing. Our favorite is the Promenade Cafe in Radio City which looks as though it came out of a Hollywood supercolossal. For altitude views: the topmost stories of Rockefeller Center, the Empire State, Chrysler and Woolworth Buildings. There are elaborate restaurants on all these lofty perches.

The Marine Roof atop the Hotel Bossert in Brooklyn, and Ben Marden's Riviera, just across the Hudson River, offer the town's most magnificent waterside vistas.

Beckoning night clubs might include the Stork Club, Jack White's "18" Club, El Morocco, Leon & Eddie's and La Conga. Also Billy Rose's Casa Manana, the triple-decker International Casino and the Paradise Cabaret—the three gigantic cafes along the main stem. And for a view of the town from a quiet distance, those excursion boats plying up and down the Hudson from the Battery.

For a perusal of New York's vehicular wonders, we recommend an auto ride through the Holland and Lincoln Tunnels, across the George Washington and Tri-Borough Bridges, along the Hendrick Hudson Parkway, the net of streamlined roads that spans Long Island, and the elevated express highway that parallels Manhattan's harbor. For adjacent sight-seeing: Jones Beach, Coney Island and the preview grounds of the New York World's Fair at Flushing Meadows.

Central Park, Prospect Park and the newly reconstructed park paradises along Riverside Drive are the peaks of New York's pastoral achievements, and we suggest visits to the Tavern on the Green and the Claremont to those who would like to see how beautiful city-owned cafes can be.

The development of the religious spirit is a matter of profound importance to the continuance of our government.

—William Church Osborn, president of New York's Temple of Religion. It seems enough for Americans to have a choice of two parties to support or overthrow.—Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, on a labor party.

The Capital Parade

BY ALSOP AND KINTNER

Washington, June 15.—At the close of his first term of active service as a congressman, Bruce Barton took a look at his job and found it good. Being an advertising man and an inspirational author, the most celebrated new member of the House has a tendency to look at the sunny side. But, whether or not the taste is perverse, the fact remains—he enjoys being in Congress.

"The House of Representatives," he remarked the other day, "is a very creditable cross-section of the United States. By and large, congressmen are just as smart, just as dumb, just as patriotic and just as unselfish, just as courageous and just as cowardly as leaders of industry or any of the professions. They are friendly and engaging. I know more men by their first names in the House than in any club I ever belonged to."

Bolt Of Lightning Hits Church Spire

Rapid River, Mich.—During Tuesday's electrical storm a bolt of lightning struck the lofty spire of St. Martin's Evangelical Lutheran church and caused considerable damage. The steeple itself was of metal overlay construction and was relatively unharmed but the timbers and joinery of the belfry were badly silvered.

The electric service meter was wrecked and the cover and works from the main switch was blown out and was completely demolished. The bell was still in working condition and other parts of the church building itself were unharmed except in the attic near the belfry where large holes were torn in the wall and the clappingboard was ripped off. The loss is estimated at about $200, which is completely covered by insurance.

Most of the members of the congregation live on farms north of Rapid River and saw their lights go out at about 12:30 when the bolt hit but the first officers of the church to reach the scene were Werner Vletzke, Jr. and Fred W. C. Vletzke, Jr., president and treasurer of the church, who were heading for Escanaba.

The lightning also followed the wires and entered the Bell Telephone exchange in the White building, directly across the street from the church, and blew out the fuses there with a terrific impact, blowing them across the rooms.

It was also reported that a bolt was seen within the Farmers Co-op Creamery building, entering a water pipe. The creamery is about three blocks from the church.

Vondras of Czechoslovakia. The deceased was a member of St. Anne's Altar society, being vice president. Her one ambition in life has been taking care of the Altar and church linens.

The body arrived from Ann Arbor yesterday and was taken to Nahma. The Allo Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements for the funeral. Final rites will be held at the Nahma Catholic church at nine o'clock Friday morning, with Rev. Fr. Savage officiating. Burial will be in the Nahma cemetery.

CITY COUNCIL AIDS SCHOOLS

Appropriates $4500 to Board to Make Up Deficit

The Escanaba city council, at a special meeting Tuesday evening, adopted a resolution, providing for the appropriation of $4,500 from the contingent fund to the Escanaba board of education to cover the deficit incurred in the operation of the local schools during the current fiscal year.

The action was taken after a conference between the members of the city council and the board of education.

This year's deficit was due to a reduction in state aid to the schools and the loss of two mills in the local school tax levy when the county tax allocation commission reduced the school rate allocation from 8.9 to 6.9 mills. The new rate allocation meant a reduction of $16,000 in revenue.

After the school budget was adopted, it was learned that the local schools would get about $30,000 less revenue than was anticipated. Various economy measures were put into effect by the board of education, which made possible the paying down of the deficit to $4,500.

The resolution, adopted by the city council, stipulated that the grant to the school board was being made with the understanding that there would be no further demands upon the city for funds to support the schools.

DR. BAGLEY VISITS GARTH

Noted Educator Returns To Place Where He Taught School

Dr. William C. Bagley, professor of education at Teachers College, Columbia University, New York City, yesterday visited the site at the old school at Garth, where he got his start in the field of education back in 1895 upon his graduation from Michigan State College, East Lansing.

Accompanying Dr. Bagley were his daughter, Mrs. William B. Cobb, Winnetka, Ill.; and son and daughter-in-law, Prof. and Mrs. William C. Bagley, Jr., New Brunswick, N. J. The son is professor of economics at Rutgers university.

While in Escanaba, Dr. Bagley visited with one of his Garth students, Mrs. Knute Satten. He recalled also that the Magnuson brothers, Oscar, Axel and Andrew, who operate a general store at Ensign, also were numbered among his pupils.

The noted educator said he came here expecting to see the region devastated after the lumbering operations, but was surprised to find much beautiful scenery and second growth timber.

He told of the thrills he experienced in watching the log drives down the Whitefish and Rapid rivers in the spring, and how the noises from the Garth sawmill, running day and night, interfered at first with his teaching and sleeping.

He had a class of about thirty students in the Garth school.

Dr. Bagley and his party left Escanaba yesterday noon for Manitowoc, where he planned to board a ferry to Frankfort, and from there would go to Tpsilanti, where he will give the commencement address at the Michigan State Normal College.

He was born in Detroit, March 15, 1874, and was graduated from Michigan State College in 1895. His sister, Ruth Bagley, taught in the early nineties in the Gladstone public schools, and persuaded him to come to this county.

After leaving Garth, Dr. Bagley continued his college education, receiving his master's degree from the University of Wisconsin in 1898 and his doctor's degree from Cornell in 1906. He taught education at the University of Illinois before going to Columbia.

Dr. Bagley is the author of more than a dozen books on education and history.

He resides at 410 Riverside Drive, New York City. He will be returning to Columbia for the summer session.

We Abandon Neutrality in the Far East

The United States is no longer neutral in the war between China and Japan. At long last the State Department is catching up on American public opinion. We are abandoning the attitude attempt to be completely impartial in a war in which our political interest, our economic advantage and our moral support are all ranged on the side of China and against Japan.

The action taken by Secretary of State Hull is not altogether whole-hearted. He is feeling his way in an attempt to gauge reactions at home and in Japan. He announces publicly that the American Government is discouraging the sale of airplanes to any country using them in a way we do not approve. He adds that American manufacturers have been apprised of the position of this Government and that if their sales to countries using planes to bomb civilians do not drop they will be warned again. This is mild action but it does abandon the pretense that we are neutral. Mr. Hull did not specifically mention Japan in order not to offend that country. But since we are enforcing an embargo against the export of war material to Spain and diplomatically know nothing about the participation of other powers in the Spanish war, it is obvious that we mean Japan. We also know that China has not used planes to bomb Japanese cities even though her airmen have repeatedly flown over Japanese territory to drop propaganda leaflets. We have officially protested to Japan against the bombing of the American-financed Lingnan University outside of Canton in addition to our general condemnation of the bombing of civilians.

Fascist Sneer Justified
It was probably the sneer of an official Fascist journalist which stirred Mr. Hull to speak when he did. Virgino Gayda, who frequently serves as Mussolini's mouthpiece, asked why the United States should object to the bombing of Canton by Japanese air forces when the U. S. exported to Japan last month $1,335,602 worth of aviation material and much more in the way of arms and munitions.

The sneer is justified. The United States has no business selling war material to treaty breakers. If we ever become realistic in foreign affairs, we will sell war material to friendly democracies and stop selling it to Fascist war-makers. Countries like Japan that deliberately violate treaties they have signed with the United States should not be permitted to buy their war material from us. We happen to be in the fortunate position of controlling a large proportion of the world's available war material. So if we refuse to sell a large buyer like Japan is greatly handicapped. With even Britain compelled to buy warplanes in the United States it is obvious that Japan cannot obtain aviation material elsewhere. Her supposed Fascist friends Germany and Italy are not in the happy position of being able to spare any airplanes. Because of their private war in Spain and the danger of war in Europe they need all they can manufacture.

Why Not Completely Neutral?
It might be asked why don't we remain completely neutral and embargo the sale of munitions to both sides in the Far East as we have in Spain. The answer is that American public opinion is unambiguously on the side of China and against Japan. We would handicap China by enforcing an embargo. So we have refused to apply the neutrality act because we are not neutral.

Such an unsatisfactory policy might be justified if it minimized the danger of war with Japan. But does it? The half-dozen generals and admirals who are in complete control of Japanese policy are under no illusions about our attitude. They know that our people oppose Japan's unnecessary war of aggression in China. They have paid some attention to our protests only because they don't want to lose this country as a market and as a source of war materials.

Our purchases and our sales are essential to Japan. Neither Japan's purchases nor sales are essential to us. It is only by positive action that we can convince militarists in Japan or elsewhere that we mean what we say. As Anthony Eden put it the other day in attacking Prime Minister Chamberlain's abject surrender to Fascist Italy: "Retreat is not always the path to peace."

STILL UNDECIDED

Marquette—Although both Republican and Democratic nominating petitions are being circulated to put him in the contest for representative in congress from the Twelfth district, the post now held by Frank Hook (D) of Ironwood, Andrew Asikainen, of Marquette, last night declared that he hadn't made up his mind definitely whether he will be a candidate and, furthermore, didn't know whether, if he finally decided to run, he would be on the Republican or Democratic side of the fence.

CHAPTER XIV

Joe stood there, looking at her, looking at them all, rocking slightly, his breathing deep. After a moment he spoke. "The point is this," he said. "And get it, I'm a pretty good guy when they're with me. When they're against me, I'm tough. I'm made that way and I like it. I'm tough to-night and I'm telling you: the next time I'm tough I won't be telling you. But anybody—father, mother, grandparents or pope—that names my wife out of turn, will know it without being told! That's all. Don't forget."

He wheeled and marched out of the room, and he was white of face. Immediately after that Joe walked, walked, walked. There was a hard, hard, undigested thought inside him. It was bewildering, it hurt. He had no right to feel the hurt. He could be sore, perhaps, but not hurt. He was both.

"Another of Theresa's lies!" What did that mean? That he had been tricked? Well, was that news? She had almost plainly told him she would, if necessary. He went into it with open eyes. He had no kick coming.

Still, it had the power to hurt. Joe walked, walked, and in his own way came to rationalize the values involved. He was that kind of man. He was impulsive when he saw a thing clearly, and he was willing to work it out when he did not. The only thing clouding this, it seemed, was his own conceit. He was kidding himself. Only a sap does that. He knew where he stood. If she had talked to Tommy Withers already well known to him. She needed him, wanted him—and she got him.

In the face of that simple formula, Joe's hurt and Joe's anger both wilted and slowly ceased to be. He could not resent her need. It was not in him. His real deep resentment was for wanton lies, wanton malice, such as had first sent him forth tonight. For a moment his original grievance had been almost forgotten. It was, simply, that Tommy Withers had talked in mere neighborhood acquaintance he had encouraged Terry's father on the street, and that hollow, spiteful old fool had laughed cynically and allowed certain insinuations which Withers was gleeful to repeat. In the phrase of the neighborhood, he "had talked."

Talk? Joe snorted. Talk was cheap. You could push around and make trouble for people who talked, but most of the trouble was words and no one was hurt in the end.

What had stung, for a little while, was that knife-like thought: another of Theresa's lies!

But the hurt was soon gone with the anger. This Joe Murray was a peculiar man, with a hardness in him and a womanly softness together. Thought flowed in him long and deep, like a river that rolls and races furiously down to the final dark peace of the sea. There was no anger in him at the end of his long walk. If he had been tricked, then he melted at the thought of Terry's need of him. She had wanted him that badly. He had wanted her that badly. He had been willing before; he could be the same again. Nothing had changed.

So he told himself, turning homeward. But life always changes, going on, even as a charlatan fooling you before your very eyes. Joe was gentle with Terry when he came in; he told her what he had heard today and what he had done tonight, leaving but only what he had learned that night. He need not tell her that. He was glad to be with her and not alone.

But in the reaches of the night there came a loneliness that he could not fathom, that was new and unaccountable and cold, like a wind from the north with the tidings of winter.

It was almost a premonition. One day Joe came home in a mood of expansive, reckless gaiety. He tossed the lunch box on the kitchen table. "You can put that up in moth balls and start supporting your family, babe. I'm one of the leisure masses."

Terry was home ahead of him and already busy; she turned quickly from the lamb chops sizzling juicily on the stove. "You mean the job? Laid off?"

"They gave me my time this morning." Beneath the gaiety was a certain secret bewilderment which the recklessness sought to hide. "I took my time and told them to put their job up the nearest chimney. I could get a job. I could get a better job before the whistle blew again. There don't seem to be any jobs. I went looking, but the whistle will blow without me tomorrow."

She kissed him. If there was any distress in her it did not show; she kissed him. "Poor darling. Give him time! You've worked every day since we got married. You'll find a job." "Yeah? And I'll find somebody already working at it. Baby, they're slipping one up on us. The automobile contracts have run out at the plant; that's why the layoff. They say there'll be no renewal. Most of the plant will be laid off; it started last week. There ain't that many jobs in the metal trades in town to give us all work."

"There'll be work always for the good ones." He grinned. "You think I'm pretty good, don't you?" "I know it."

He laughed. "If it wasn't for the price of food I'd make you quit and stay home with me." "Oh!" she said. "And be together all the time, every minute?"

"Be together!" he said, looking at her. He kissed her, and they were together for an instant, hungrily, always hungrily and joyously. Then she broke away with a cry and ran to the stove to attend to a smell of burning. He watched her. If he had her efficiency, he'd be a "good one" for whom there are always jobs! Whether the moment demanded a baby or a woman or a mother or a housewife, she filled the bill, instantly, always. He had no kicking. But he wished he possessed her secret.

Joe's doubts about the job situation were well founded. Imperceptibly there had come a creeping change over the world of work and wages. The humble ones who did the work and drew the wages could not be expected to understand it; hitherto they went their accustomed and incomprehensibly their work was taken from them. A "job" is one thing; "work" another. One could always find a job, of ordinary; jobs were small individual segments of work, which was an abstraction, an intangible reality, a philosophic concept in the steady light of which all life as long as one could remember had been conducted. The cessation, the end of an ideology, the banishment of a god. It left a vacuum.

Joe found a job, two weeks after taking his time at the plant. It was a rush job in a small factory, and it lasted a week. He found another the following month, which lasted half a week. He obtained a few days' work here and there, day by day. Then at last that meager trickle from the fountain of subsistence ceased, and there was no more work to be had. He looked, inquired, waited, expectant, hopeful, and there was no more work to be had.

This passage of time and this shift of evil circumstances had an inevitable effect on the household of Terry and Joe Murray. It is swiftly told, but slow and grinding in the actual adjustment, just as it is swiftly told that automobile bodies were no longer made, because automobiles abruptly ceased to be assembled, because automobiles gradually ceased to find means of earning the money to buy them. Terry and Joe cut all small extravagances, cut all living costs, lived on her small wage, putting nothing new in the bank. Then that small wage was insufficient, and they drew on the bank, and the little house in Gardendale receded dimly in their vision. There was talk of shutting down the lace mill till better times, and then (right assailed them).

Life was playing them a cruel trick: life, instead of going forward, however haltingly, life was going back. Back with increasing momentum into a world from which they had escaped.

BUSINESS SIGNS ARE FAVORABLE

STOCK MARKET AVERAGES

Table with columns for Net change, High, Low, and various stock market indicators.

BY FREDERICK GARDNER
New York, June 15 (AP)—Wall Street flirted with the idea of turning bullish for a time today, but couldn't make up its mind.

Furthermore, there were some hopeful business signs, such as early reports of last week's freight movement showing a fair pickup, a better electric power production report, a fair reduction of gasoline stocks for the second successive week, "Iron Age's" report of a trifle and cheerier feeling in steel, renewed foreign demand for copper.

But these things were not decisive enough, with business volumes generally remaining low, and the possibility of a dull summer. Gains in commodity markets lately, together with a rush to buy gold in London today, gave the street a momentary whiff of inflation, and stocks had a short-lived bulge.

During the morning, along with the news of the London gold buying, sending the yellow metal price there to a level which indicated a slight discount for the dollar, there was a modest wave of buying in raw material, or "inflation" stocks, non-ferrous metals, oils, rubbers and farm stocks rose a point or more in some instances.

But this didn't carry far. The dollar soon strengthened in terms of sterling, the British currency finally going below yesterday's final rate. Traders recalled the various official Washington disarrangements of devaluation rumors lately.

As the market closed, the Associated Press average price of 60 stocks was 2 1/2 higher at 87.7. Transfers totaled 344,620 shares, approximating yesterday's low volume.

Farm implements and building shares gave a better than average account of themselves for a time. The recent improvement in commodity markets has brought a little better feeling toward the farm outlook, residential building has shown fair gains, and substantial material purchases in connection with the government pump priming program are expected.

SHARP DECLINE FELT IN RAILS

BOND MARKET AVERAGES
Compiled by The Associated Press

Table with columns for Net change, High, Low, and various bond market indicators.

New York, June 15 (AP)—Bonds were depressed today by another sharp decline in rail loans.

Overnight word from Washington that congressional leaders had virtually abandoned hope for action on rail legislation left the list in a vulnerable position from the start.

Declines generally seemed wider than was warranted by the amount of selling, but traders pointed out an important factor in the damage was lack of bids.

One of the largest individual transactions in some time was the sale of 100 Union Pacific first 4s of '47 at 109 1/2. Later they dropped to close at 108 3/4, off 1 1/2 from yesterday's final price.

The Associated Press average of 20 rail bonds dropped to a new low for the past eight years.

A few industrial and utility issues moved ahead in spite of the rail weakness.

U. S. governments were mixed. A few treasuries slid off 1-32 to 4-32; others made small lifts.

Foreign bonds were irregular. Japanese issues recorded large losses.

Transactions totaled $4,567,925, face value, against $4,948,600 yesterday.

Fr. Erasmus Dooley Celebrates His 25th Year In Priesthood

Rev. Fr. Erasmus Dooley, pastor of St. Patrick's church of Hancock and formerly of Escanaba, celebrated his twenty-fifth anniversary on Monday of his ordination as a priest of the Roman Catholic church.

The Rev. Fr. Dooley studied for the priesthood at the Franciscan Seminary in Cincinnati, Ohio, and completed his course at the Franciscan Theological Seminary in Oldenburg, Ind. He was ordained June 13, 1913.

Following his ordination, the Rev. Fr. Dooley served as assistant pastor of St. Joseph's church, Escanaba, his first pastorate, until his enlistment on April 3, 1918, as a chaplain in the United States Army. He received his commission as a first lieutenant on May 26, 1918, and took part in major engagements on the battle fields of France.

The Rev. Fr. Dooley served for two months at Camp Zachary Taylor in Kentucky before leaving for overseas duty. He was attached as chaplain to the 47th Infantry Regiment of the Fourth Division and was at the front until the signing of the Armistice on November 11, 1918. He took part in engagements in the Soisson sector, in the St. Mihiel and in the Argonne drives.

After the Armistice Fr. Dooley served with the Army of Occupation in the Rhineland. He returned to the United States on July 5, 1919, and came to Escanaba, where he assumed the pastorate of St. Joseph's church. He served as assistant in the cathedral at Marquette until he went to Norway, Mich., as pastor of this parish. It was during this pastorate that a new church was erected in Norway.

This well loved chaplain of the World War, a native son of Calumet, came to Hancock on January 15, 1937, to become pastor of St. Patrick's church, as successor to the Rev. Fr. James J. Corcoran, who was transferred to the Menominee pastorate. It was shortly after taking charge of his pastorate in Hancock that St. Patrick's church, the rectory and convent school were destroyed by fire. Fr. Dooley was born in Calumet, the son of pioneer parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Michael Dooley. He received his rudimentary education in Sacred Heart school in Calumet, and it was in Sacred Heart church that he celebrated his first mass. He is the brother of Patrick Dooley of Hancock and John Dooley of Calumet.

Fr. Dooley is a member of the American Legion, Department of Michigan, and served as chaplain of the posts in Marquette, Escanaba and Norway.
