

4 PASSENGERS ESCAPE INJURY

Cars Collide as Driver Fails to Stop at Intersection

Four women, passengers in a car which was struck at the corner of Ludington and 23rd street yesterday morning, narrowly escaped serious injury when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by another car and turned completely around on the wet pavement. They were treated by a local doctor for cuts and bruises.

The four women, all of Crystal Falls, are Mrs. Ella Hankey, driver of the car, Mrs. Ione Rezin, Mrs. Nellie Barclay and Ellen Hamberg. The car, which was a sedan which had been driven less than 1,000 miles, was badly damaged.

They were struck by a car driven by Frank Traverser of Detroit, who was accompanied by his wife and baby six months old. The Crystal Falls party, enroute to Gladstone, entered Escanaba from the west on highway US 2-41 and turned left at the 23rd street intersection. Traverser, driving south on 23rd street, failed to stop at the stop sign on the corner and rammed into the car in which the four women were riding, striking it near the back and spinning it around on the wet pavement. The front end of the Detroit man's car was also badly damaged, though none of the occupants was seriously injured. Mrs. Traverser was confined to her bed all day yesterday, suffering from shock.

Scouters Training Course Draws 30 At Friday Meeting

Thirty men attended the second session of the Scouters' training course at the senior high school last night. The men had a "scouting good time," playing games and doing the things Scouts do at their gatherings.

Opening ceremonies were led by Harold Switzer. The "program of the troop" was presented by John Norton. Russell Skellenger demonstrated the "tenderfoot investiture" with a colorful candle ceremony. Games were led by Roy Norton. The Beaver patrol of Gladstone holds the lead in the patrol contest now under way.

A new group of tenderfoot scouts joined the course last night. They are: A. L. McNeil, John Norgaard, Henry Paquet, Henry Herkle, Vincent Bergman, Dr. Harrington, Ted Baldwin, Walter Wittkoff and Kenneth Paeske.

Baseball Pitchers Babied Too Much, Osteopath Claims

Hannibal, O., Oct. 21 (AP)—Present-day athletes, especially baseball pitchers, are not "babied too much" with excessive physical care and treatment, Dr. Arthur E. Allen of Minneapolis, president of the American Osteopathic association, said today.

Dr. Allen, speaking at the convention of the Missouri Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons, said modern methods of treating injuries and sprains made pitchers "last longer" than in the early days of baseball. "Twenty-five years ago," he said, "a glass arm meant one of two things, either a shoulder muscle strain to be worked out by use, or an arm that had gone dead never to be used again. Now, because of improved diagnosis and treatments, we are able to restore a majority of such cases."

KEEP PLEDGE, BRITAIN URGED

Protection of Palestine Asked By Church Dignitaries

A plea has been sent directly to Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain of Great Britain by more than thirty of the foremost Christian church and lay leaders in the United States urging the British Government not to abandon its pledges to the Jewish people for the establishment of a Jewish National Home in Palestine stressing the fact that the stoppage of Jewish immigration and the repudiation of the Balfour Declaration and the League of Nations Mandate would be tantamount to a violation of "a sacred trust in behalf of the Christian world."

The cable to Mr. Chamberlain pointed out that the radical revision of Palestine policy now being considered by the British Government which would include the complete stoppage of Jewish immigration would be a cruel blow to many distressed Jews who look to "Palestine as their chief and almost sole hope." Not only would abandonment by Great Britain of her pledges to the Jewish world reduce them to despair, but such a course would be regarded as "a surrender to the forces of violence and hatred now sweeping the world," the Christian leaders declared.

Included among the signatories of the message to Prime Minister

Chamberlain were Bishop George Craig Stewart of Chicago; Bishop James E. Freeman of Washington D. C.; Bishop Ralph Spaulding Cushman of the Denver area; Bishop Paul Jones of Antioch College; former Governor Alfred E. Smith, District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey, George Gordon Battle and Bishop William T. Capers of the Diocese of West Texas, San Antonio, Texas.

The following is the text of the cablegram sent to the British Prime Minister by the Christian leaders:

"We the undersigned members of the Christian Faith are profoundly disturbed by reports that the British Government is prepared to abandon its pledge to the Jewish people made through the Balfour Declaration and embodied in the Palestine Mandate to make possible the establishment of the Jewish National Home in Palestine. This responsibility was accepted by Great Britain as a sacred trust in behalf of the Christian world. "Hundreds of thousands of Jews now in Palestine have staked their lives and fortunes on their faith in Great Britain. In reliance on British honor millions of Jews have entrusted the destiny of their people to the British Government. Into the foundations of the Jewish national home they have poured blood and treasure and their magnificent accomplishments, material and spiritual have won the high regard of the Christian world. Not only have the Arab people in Palestine greatly benefited by the administration of the mandate, their political, civil and religious rights been fully protected, but they have freely enjoyed all the fruits of Jewish achievement.

"Today in the hour of their agony, the persecuted victims of blind hate look to Palestine as their chief and almost sole hope. The abandonment by Great Britain of her pledges to the Jewish world would reduce them to despair. In our solemn judgement such a course would be regarded by the entire world as a surrender to the forces of violence and hatred now sweeping the world; it would be a blow to Christian honor, and a most damaging blow to the prestige of Great Britain which holds this honor in her keeping. "As friends of Great Britain we urge upon her government to safeguard her trust, to hold fast to the Mandate and the Balfour Declaration and to lend every assistance to the Jewish people in the task of establishing their homeland in Palestine.

Fall Round-Up and Barbecue at Golf Club Tonight

One of attractive affairs of the week will be the Escanaba Golf Club's fall round-up and barbecue party which will be held this evening at the Country club for all club members, both men and women, and their friends.

The party, as its nature indicates, will be an informal get-together, with the barbecue of particular interest for those who have never attended one.

The program of the day will open with golf this afternoon. The barbecue supper will be served at seven o'clock and will be followed by a program of travel films which will be shown by William J. Smith and Robert Doo, short talks, and cards and dancing during the remainder of the evening.

Potato Dumplings
(Six servings with bouillon)
One cup mashed potatoes, 1/4 teaspoon salt, few grains pepper, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg, 2 tablespoons butter, melted, 1 egg, slightly beaten, 1 tablespoon grated cheese, 3 tablespoons milk, 1/2 cup stale bread crumbs, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley.

Combine potatoes, seasonings, butter, egg and cheese. Add milk to bread crumbs to make a paste and stir into potato mixture. Add chopped parsley. Shape mixture in eighteen small dumplings about three-fourths inch diameter. Boil one quart of water and one teaspoon of salt in 1 1/2 quart saucepan.

Drop dumplings in the boiling salted water, cover with a close fitting lid. Boil gently for five minutes. Serve three small dumplings in each cup bouillon. Larger dumplings, cooked for 15 minutes, may be served with meat.

Relocation Urged

RURAL zoning was emphasized at the northern lake states regional committee meeting in Madison this week as one of the fundamental steps in seeking a solution of the cut-over land problems of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Rural zoning, such as has been worked out in Wisconsin and is now in the process of being put into operation in Michigan, tends to restrict the use of land to the purpose for which it is best suited, whether for agriculture, recreation or forestry.

In the past years, many families have settled in isolated areas, unsuitable for farming, and the havoc asked for the building of schools, roads and other social facilities. The taxes levied on this low value land could not begin to reimburse the local governmental units for monies expended for providing these public services. Eventually too, these families became a burden upon the taxpayer because of the inability of their farms to provide them with an independent livelihood.

The Michigan zoning law is not retroactive. It cannot force settlers to abandon the poor farms on which they settled before the legislative enactment of the zoning act. At the Madison conference, however, it was pointed out that relocation of isolated settlers would effect direct savings in schools, relief, public health and fire suppression costs.

Zoning ordinances, like Delta county recently tentatively adopted, designate the areas that are suitable for settlement, the first requisite for launching a relocation program. Very likely, through the aid of existing governmental agencies, some plan could be worked out to induce settlers to voluntarily move to suitable areas, where they have a better chance of earning their livelihood.

Britain Must Keep Pledge

THE increasingly serious situation in Palestine, which is Great Britain's problem, calls for a strong reminder to that Government of the agreement whereby the United States must be consulted before any change is made in the British Mandate held under the League of Nations.

There have been disturbing indications that the British might be preparing to abandon, in effect, their pledge of a national home for the Jews, as contained in the Balfour Declaration, and to accept the harsh proposals of the Iraq Foreign Minister for the stoppage of Jewish immigration and the setting up of an Arab State. This would consign the Jews to the hopeless lot of a permanent minority subject to grave oppression.

To picture their fate it is necessary only to note the outrages that have been committed by the Arabs, and the virtual reign of terror they have been conducting during the last few months. Only yesterday the so-called Arab Defense Committee warned the Zionist Federation and the Jewish Agency for Palestine immigration of the "worst of calamities" in store, should the Jews persist in seeking their rights. There was a plain threat of retaliation upon members of their race in Arab countries, even should the British protect them in Palestine.

It is well to recall at this time the Palestine Mandate Convention, signed and ratified between the United States and Great Britain thirteen years ago during the Administration of President Coolidge. The League Mandate given to Great Britain makes her, in effect, a trustee of the Jewish people in Palestine. Confiding in this solemn compact, many Jewish citizens of America have gone to Palestine to find a new home. It would be unthinkable that Britain should now betray these citizens, and the others of their race from many different lands, were it not for the British Government's recent abjectness in the case of other oppressed minorities.

In their case, it is true, there existed no direct legal obligation such as is imposed by the 1925 convention. But our Government certainly should stand ready to insist that no decision affecting the Welfare of the Jews in Palestine be taken without full consultation with Washington. In other words, we entered into this agreement with the full intention of keeping it, and we expect England to maintain to the letter her promise to the United States and to the Jewish people in Palestine.

Alley Speed Limited

THE speed limit in alleys is now 15 miles an hour with the adoption of a new traffic ordinance by the Escanaba city council at its regular meeting Thursday evening.

Agitation for an alley ordinance, restricting the speed of travel by automobiles and trucks, came after a series of complaints about reckless driving in the alleys.

If Escanaba continues its new paving program, there will be a tendency on the part of automobile and truck drivers to drive faster in the alleys. Adoption of the new ordinance, therefore, is timely. Its strict enforcement, however, presents new difficulties.

A NEW DEAL PRAYER
(West Bend, Wis., News)

Lord Roosevelt, I am only a West Bend farmer; thou knowest that when I had an abundance of food for my family and feed for my livestock I was not satisfied and voted for the New Deal. We therefore thank thee for the new deal, the drought, grasshoppers, Henry Wallace and all other parasites.

We thank thee for a subsidy to the farmers not to raise wheat corn and hogs, and to aid us in violations of all the laws of God and man, to kill our own sows and pigs while our fellowmen are starving.

We thank thee for taking gold from us and giving us whiskey, thereby improving the morals of our people.

We thank thee that thou didst chase the money changers out of the temple and stop speculation by making national credit so uncertain that business is afraid.

We thank thee that thou didst evict disabled war veterans from the hospitals and put CCC workers in their beds in order to balance the budget.

We thank thee for championing human rights vs. property rights, for we know that a man owning property is not human.

Our father, who art in Washington, Roosevelt is thy name. Thy kingdom come; thy will be done even to strikes and licensing of land. Give us this day our daily corn bread (taxfree, which Hoover tried four years to get us to eat and Roosevelt has us eating in four months), and lead us not into temptation to vote for another Democratic president, for Roosevelt has all the power, all the glory, and all the radicals, and we will be paying higher taxes for ever and ever. Amen.

WHY NOT?

The thing to do now is to effect a merger, to campaign for pensions for everyone, under fifty and everyone above fifty, thus corralling all possible votes, and clinching victory at the polls.

WHO PAYS THE TAXES?

(Charleston News and Courier)

The Custer, S. D., Chronicle says that a survey discloses the rather astounding fact that if everyone had to turn over to government all income in excess of $5,000 a year, the sum collected would pay only about one-fifth of the annual cost of government, federal, state and local.

It points out that the great bulk of the tax bill must be paid by the small wage earner. He pays it in the form of hidden taxes, without being aware of it in most cases, for hidden taxes are a part of the

It's About Time

THE federal surplus commodities corporation has been asked to purchase about 1,500,000 bushels of Michigan commercial potatoes to protect the market from a price depressing flood of inferior tubers.

After all, it is about time that the Santa Claus government did something for the Michigan farmers. The cotton, wheat and other growers have been receiving most of the consideration in farm relief legislation, but a comparatively small amount of money has been flowing into Michigan, although a lot has been going from the taxpayers' pockets in this state to the tax collectors in Washington.

Michigan is a great potato growing state, and its growers will have many bushels on their hands. The purchase of potatoes offers an opportunity to help the neglected Michigan farmers. It will also help to remove the painful memory of a couple years ago when foreign grown potatoes were distributed to relief clients in the Upper Peninsula while our farmers had a lot of tubers in their storage bins, anxiously awaiting a market.

World Affairs Reviewed

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN
Washington, D. C.—The history books tell that the last over challenge to the Monroe Doctrine was the threat of Great Britain to put warships into action over the Venezuela boundary dispute, a threat which came to naught when President Grover Cleveland informed Britain and the rest of the world that the Doctrine meant what it said—Keep Out. But in recent years a far more important challenge has been made and, indeed, the Monroe Doctrine is being violated in spirit every day, chiefly through the eager activities of Fascist governments in Europe, but also through Japanese penetration.

The American State Department is well aware of the situation and American exporters to South American countries are becoming increasingly conscious of it. Some counter-moves have been made by the State Department but, according to some observers, they have been weakened by the action of President Roosevelt in substantially abrogating the Monroe Doctrine by declaring that the United States never again will interfere in the affairs of Latin American states.

A brief survey of what is occurring reveals to what an astonishing extent European penetration into South America has gone. For many years European nations have piled an active and prosperous trade with the southern continent, not infrequently putting United States exporters at a disadvantage in competition but, in the past, political implications were relatively unimportant. Now it appears that the totalitarian nations not only are increasing their trade and economic penetration but are spreading their political doctrines wherever they can in Latin America. The average stay-at-home American, immersed in studies of box scores, movies, and the entertainments of politics and the New Deal would be astounded to know what has been happening below the Equator.

Americans have learned to think that all the lemons and oranges in the world must come from California and Florida, but the fact is that Brazil is also a large exporter of citrus fruits. The fruit goes to Europe and the trade is in the hands largely of Germans and Italians. Brazil has one-fourth of the world's known reserves and the German houses of Krupp and Thyssen have not only huge concessions on that count but also oil concessions. German air lines from a network over South America and the planes are all loudly marked with the Nazi swastika. It is interesting to note here that the number of lines and planes is so great that it has been said the volume is a century ahead of commercial expansion and that the real reason for the presence is Nazi propaganda.

EXTENT OF FOREIGN INFLUENCE

The million Germans in Brazil are in every line of trade. They have huge land holdings. German goods imported into Brazil undersell American by from 10 to 40 per cent. All over the country there are German bands, turnvarens, Jugend clubs, and such organizations, the memberships all using the Nazi salute. German lecturers in the colleges are paid from Germany and Italians from Italy. Brazilian students are taken to Germany on visits at German expense, especially naval and military cadets. Heavy German advertising goes into Brazilian newspapers in a seductive manner. Radio programs hold up the German Reich as a model nation in direct comparison with the United States where, it is told, gangsterism and strikes and unemployment prevail.

The German Embassy at Rio de Janeiro has created the post of Cultural Attache, a post held by a propagandist whose duty it is to spread Nazi doctrine.

The Italian Fascist hold is strong in Brazil, too. There is a large Italian population. It will be remembered that the great Italian patriot Garibaldi spent much time in Brazil fighting for liberalism. He attracted many Italian immigrants and their descendants now are in business, large land holders and industrialists. German and Italian steamships now are getting the bulk of the South American shipping business, and air service from Europe has been so extended that there is nearly one plane a day between Germany or Italy and South America. Italy has sold large quantities of munitions in South America and has made presents of military airplanes to the governments. Bunking is to a considerable extent in German and Italian hands.

Japanese influence is growing. Much of the rapidly increasing cotton production is in Japanese hands. Japan takes nearly one-third of all Brazil's agricultural exports. A Japanese company owns a 1,000,000 acre rubber plantation in Brazil. In one Brazilian university the chair of American history is held by a Japanese!

Within the last century 2,000,000 Italians came to Argentina and there are many more now. They lean strongly toward the Fascist political school and have active organizations. Italian propaganda has been especially facilitated by the similarity of language and also by church ties. Some of the leading Argentine families are of Italian descent or spring from Italian marriages. Wealthy Italian Argentines finance Fascist clubs. There are only about 100,000 Germans in Argentina but they are active in every line of business. The Japanese are there too.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY PEARSON AND ALLEN

Washington—After the retirement of Justice Sutherland from the Supreme Court last spring, Roosevelt called Governor Frank Murphy of Michigan to Washington to discuss the idea of his taking Sutherland's place.

Whether Roosevelt meant to offer the job to Murphy outright is not known; because before he came around to that point, Murphy made an almost unbelievable move.

He said that he was too young to retire from active political life (he is now 45); also that he wanted to finish the job of being Governor of Michigan. Then he went on to explain that too many of his public jobs had been interrupted by promotion to other posts, and this time he wanted to stay on and finish what he was doing.

He had resigned as judge of the Recorder's Court in Detroit to become Mayor of that city. Again, he had resigned as Mayor in order to become Governor-General of the Philippines, resigning from that in turn to run for Governor of Michigan.

Now, he told the President, he wanted to finish his work as Governor of Michigan before he went on to anything else.

By an ironic twist of fate, it now looks as if the people of Michigan might retire Murphy as Governor after only two brief years in the executive mansion.

In this event Murphy still may have a chance to attain the Supreme Court, for the seat made vacant by the death of Justice Cardozo remains unfilled.

LABOR VS. BUSINESS

Murphy's political fate now hangs upon the outcome of one of the toughest battles in the country. The United Automobile Workers are leading the campaign to reelect him. Business men, on the other hand, both large and small are determined to "get" him.

No one can predict the result. At present it looks like a 50-50 fight, with almost anything capable of turning the balance.

It is particularly significant, however, that the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O. are working in complete harmony for Murphy's reelection, even spending money for joint newspaper advertisements. Since these factional wounds of labor were healed, Murphy's political stock has gone up from the prospect of certain defeat to a chance for reelection.

JUDGE MURPHY

Had Frank Murphy accepted the President's intimation that he step up to the Supreme Court, the Eight Old Men would have been augmented by one of the fairest and most painstaking jurists in the country. When Murphy was judge of the Recorder's Court, he kept a little cardboard placard behind his desk where only he could see it. It read: "If you must err, err on the side of leniency."

Explaining this to friends who saw the little sign, Murphy said:

"A judge's decisions depend on his mood, his temper or his digestion. So whenever I'm not feeling well, or got up on the wrong side of the bed, I take out this sign and keep it in front of me."

Further to prevent error, Murphy also attached to his court a doctor, a psychiatrist, and a social worker, who examined every criminal before Murphy passed sentence. Frequently they dug out facts in the past life of the accused which helped Murphy to pass judgment more intelligently. Murphy also called every convict into chambers and privately told him in advance what his sentence would be and why. He hated to see a man stand in open court and get the sudden shock of a sentence without advance preparation.

TOLENTANT CATHOLIC

Governor Murphy is a devout Catholic, attends mass regularly. Even his critics give him credit for broad tolerance. Once when he was a judge, a Negro doctor moved into a white district in Detroit and a crowd gathered outside his house threatening to lynch him. The Negro fired, killed a man, and Judge Murphy acquitted him on the ground that every man's house is his castle and the crowd had no right to attempt entrance.

This tolerance toward white and black, Jew and gentile, Murphy got from his mother.

"As we sat at our window," Murphy says, "and a colored man of our town would go by, she would tell me what a high-class citizen he was. Across the street from our home lived a Jewish merchant named Jacobs, and I remember that mother would point out to me what a fine, friendly fellow he was, how he looked after his children.

"As I look back, I can see now that my mother was deliberately teaching me racial and religious tolerance."

In Montreal they've been holding lotteries on the weather. Well, somebody has done something about it at last!

Lyrics of Life

By Douglas Malloch

THE SOUL CAN WAIT

The soul is something that can wait
Until the mind has had its way,
Until the heart has had its hate,
The body its adornment gay.

The soul shall have some solemn thought
When toll a little leisure brings,
Now there are wonders to be wrought
And other more important things.

The soul can wait until the lights
Of pleasure grow a little less,
We are too busy days and nights
With entertainment and success.

The soul's a matter that we leave
Till all the other things are done,
It might be awkward to receive
Its messenger amid the fun.

The soul is something presently
We shall consider, when we will,
And then we try to shape the tree
Already shaped for good or ill.

Starts World Fair Season

He was married at one time to a snake charmer but they parted and now he spends most of his time in his villa in France raising pigeons and arguing bitterly with his chauffeur, Marcel, who also is a pigeon fancier. Their disputes become so acrid that they sometimes cut each other dead. Fischer has a fondness for pancakes with blackberry jam at a Broadway eatery and puts on as good a show at rehearsal as any of his performers do on the stage.

The International's opening marked the actual beginning of the World Fair night club season which will see more lavish and daring entertainment on Broadway and environs than at any time in the city's history. New clubs are opening almost daily waiting to catch a share of the gold expected to be poured into the city by hordes of visitors. Of this more anon.

Postoffice Objects To Parking Meters Grand Rapids Uses

Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 20 (AP)—A dispute with the federal government impeded today as City Manager C. Sophus Johnson announced that 750 parking meters would go into operation in the Grand Rapids business district next Monday.

The meters are for one hour and one-half hour intervals and require the motorist to insert a nickel. Police will operate in much the same manner as they have been when handling overtime parking offenses in the past.

The dispute with the federal government grew out of the city's action in placing meters on three sides of the block occupied by the postoffice building despite the protest of Postmaster Frank C. Jurvis. The latter said the matter had been turned over to the treasury department for investigation. The postmaster argued it was unfair to make persons using the postoffice spend a nickel to park their cars.

Girls Vie For Honor Of Being Potato Queen

At 10 o'clock this morning, young farm girls representing townships in Delta county will gather at the Daily Press to vie for the honor of being named Potato Queen of Delta County and for the right to represent this county in the contest for the Upper Peninsula Potato Queen.

The girls have been selected this week in the various communities and will be judged here on the basis of personality, charm, intelligence and appearance. Judges will be Mrs. Gerard Belanger and Misses Amy Bolger and Marlon Strahl. Contestants must be between 17 and 21 years of age and must live on a farm where potatoes are grown.

One of the first Upper Peninsula Potato Queens selected was Miss Angela Bartol of Traunk in Alger county.

The Upper Peninsula queen will reign over the Upper Peninsula Potato Show which will be held at the Coliseum in this city beginning next Tuesday and ending Thursday.

At that time, potato growers from all over the Upper Peninsula will bring their prize spuds to Escanaba to compete for a series of prizes. Competent judges will announce the winners.

Future Of Musical Series Depends On Additional Support

The future of Escanaba's music concert series depends on the new support that is enlisted during the remainder of the membership campaign. R. P. Bowers of the local music series committee, said last night after a check-up of pledges and returns to date. Just one-half of the memberships pledged for this season were taken up by last night, and new pledges will be needed if the complete series program is to be made available for local series patrons.

Yesterday's receipts at the campaign headquarters were $144.50, bringing the total since the campaign started last Monday to $686. Messenger service will be available at the headquarters in Lang's Music shop, 614 Ludington street, from 10 to 12 this morning, and housewives may have tickets delivered to their homes by phoning the concert series secretary, Mrs. Stephen A. Bergman, at the headquarters, phone 2044. Those who are unable to take advantage of the late afternoon messenger service which has been provided throughout the week are expected to phone in this morning for their tickets.

A few musicians from this vicinity have heard numbers to be presented on the concert series program and are enthusiastic about them. Among them is Freeman Empson, who teaches music at Gladstone and Escanaba. "I think the Vienna Choir Boys performance alone is worth the price of a season ticket," he says. "I heard them in St. Louis three years ago and am looking forward with anticipation to hearing them again."

Music teachers and choir leaders are enthusiastic about the Vienna Choir Boys, and encourage their pupils to attend the concert at William W. Oliver Memorial auditorium on Friday evening, October 28.

SCHOOLS HONOR MICHIGAN POET

October 21 Is Set Aside In Memory of Will Carleton

Schools of Delta county joined yesterday in the celebration of "Carleton Day" in honor of Will Carleton, Michigan's most famous poet. October 21 has been set aside by the state legislature as a day on which any teacher of any grade above the fifth shall lead the class in reading Carleton's poems and participating in other types of observance.

Carleton was born October 21, 1845, on a sixty acre farm two miles east of Hudson, in Lenawee county, near the southern boundary of the state.

He was educated in a little old schoolhouse on the hill in Hudson, later attending the Union high school on the west side. He later attended Hillsdale college.

"When Betsy and I are out," his first poem, was published in The Toledo Blade in 1871, and later a number of his poems were collected and published by the Lakeside Press under the title of "Farm Ballads." He became well known to the country as the "post-spokesman of the farmer and every-day citizen."

He entered journalism in 1894, first in Detroit, then in Chicago, Boston and New York, the latter enterprise being the family magazine, "Everywhere," which he conducted until his death in 1912.

Among his most famous poems are: "Over the Hills to the Poor House, Over the Hills from the Poor House, the New Church Organ, the House Where We Were Wed, the Clang of the Yankee Reaper, and Farmer Stebbins at Football."

Famous Architect Engaged To Design Building At Suomi

Hancock — Of importance to people of this district is yesterday's announcement by Suomi College authorities that Eiel Saarinen, eminent Finnish-American architect and a competitive designer for the Chicago Tribune tower, will design the new Suomi College building and landscaping to be carried out under the greater college development program.

Mr. Saarinen's son-in-law, J. R. F. Swanson, who is now in the city, will act as associate architect and will be in charge locally. His present visit here is to arrange details and the city government. Mr. Swanson has been associated with his father-in-law for the past 15 years and has offices in Birmingham, Mich.

Eiel Saarinen first gained prominence as an architect in 1900 through his design and construction of the Finnish pavilion at the Paris International Exposition. Since then his fame has mounted and other outstanding monuments of his architectural skill, both in Europe and America, have placed him in a position of international importance.

Among the numerous American and European artists who competed in designs for the Chicago Tribune tower, Mr. Saarinen was awarded second place. As a result his plans have had an important influence on architectural design in America and many of the skyscrapers constructed since that time have followed his Chicago Tribune tower conception.

Outstanding among his works is the depot in Helsinki, the Finnish capital, and the Cranbrook Foundation building in Birmingham, where he is president of the Cranbrook Academy of Art. A number of Europe's outstanding buildings have been designed by

MRS. PAMELA R. SAYEN

The body of Mrs. Pamela Rose Sayen, esteemed resident of Bark River, who died Thursday, will be removed from the Boyle undertaking parlors at Bark River, this afternoon to the family home, where it will rest in state until the funeral hour. Services will be held Monday morning at 9 o'clock at Sacred Heart church at Schaffer, Rev. Fr. Joseph Remillard officiating at the requiem high mass, and burial will be made in the family lot in Schaffer cemetery.

Committees Chosen At C.Y.O. Meeting

Margaret McCarthy, newly elected president, presided at the C. Y. O. meeting Thursday night. Plans were discussed for the coming year and various committees were appointed.

Committees are:
Social committee—Lucille Nelson, Bob Beaudoin, Pearl La-

Mr. Saarinen, including the national museum in Helsinki. He has gained international importance through city planning to which he devotes much of his time.

Suomi College authorities announce a survey of the site of the new building will be made immediately. Construction is planned for early spring.

Plans Under Way For Hallowe'en Show

The 10 o'clock amateur show will consist of pupils from all the grade schools including St. Anne's and St. Joseph's schools and Senior High pupils. Final tryouts will probably be held next Thursday or Friday at the senior high. Prizes will be awarded to the best contestants.

This will be the third time that an amateur show has been held at the annual carnival. Last year about 125 students tried out for the show.

It is estimated that about 16,000 people attended the carnival last year, and the school is looking forward to another successful one this year.

Want Ads will get you results.

Violette, Marcella Provo and Hubert Wood.
Religious committee—Jean O'Leary, John Cleary, Fred Saykily, and Jane O'Connell.
Cultural committee—Betty Logan, Pat McPherson, Helen Leppla, Bob Stratton and Dick Van Effen.
Athletic committee—Bob Henry, Jack Shank, Bernice Jungles, Bob Craig and Fern Asselin.

On The RECORD

By Dorothy Thompson

The Gallup Poll, published a few days ago on American opinion regarding the Munich pact, was extremely revealing.

In answer to the question whether it was well for England and France to give in to Germany, 59 per cent thought yes, 41 per cent thought no.

On the moral issues involved, only 23 per cent thought the annexation of the Sudetenland justified, 77 per cent thought it was not.

Similarly, only 22 per cent were in favor of returning any colonies to Germany.

And, most importantly, 60 per cent thought that the possibilities of war had increased, whereas only 40 per cent thought they had diminished.

The results of the poll, therefore, add up to this: That the American public believe that England and France capitulated to terror, and that terror will, as a result, be increased to the point where war is more, rather than less, inevitable.

The isolationist opinion is strong in this country, but the average man has thought of American isolating Europe rather than Europe isolating us.

We have been at peace with Great Britain for more than 100 years.

We have a common frontier with one of the great British commonwealths under conditions so compatible that it is unfortified.

We are on the friendliest possible terms with all those other members of the British commonwealth which have been heavily colonized by Englishmen.

We did not have to appoint Disraeli to ferret out British spies. We were not afraid that the British government would steal our naval plans.

We cannot blink the fact that it is no longer written in the stars that this condition of affairs will continue indefinitely or even, perhaps for long.

And this country would be in a totally different position, in a world dominated not by Great Britain but by Germany, Italy and Japan, or perhaps by a combine of these, together with France and Great Britain.

In either case, if we were to preserve our independence, we should have to be more prodigiously armed than we ever have been in history.

Now, the latter is not likely to happen unless it happens as a coup d'etat, unless a government with very great powers and great control over public opinion can commit the United States to a course from which retreat is impossible.

The spontaneous reaction of American public opinion is a quite remarkable affirmation of feeling that if France and Great Britain are on the way to being "finished" this country is not, that we are still in the same familiar boat, although the high seas are very rough; that we cannot exist on tolerable terms in a world in which the balance of power is held by nations who have no respect for the sanctity of treaties.

And if the empire which has held the balance of power on the side of what is loosely called "democracy" is likely to retreat from her sovereign position, this nation may be driven to assume a large share of her function, not out of idealism but out of sheer self-preservation.

There will be those, of course, who will counsel us to retreat behind our borders, assume a wholly defensive position and take on the mentality of a small power.

A nation, like an individual, has a personality. This country is, in the first place, world conscious

SERIAL STORY MURDER TO MUSIC BY NARD JONES

CAST OF CHARACTERS MYRNA A. DOMBEY—heroine. Wife of the sensational swing band leader. ROBERT TAIT—hero. Newspaper photographer—detective. ANNE LSTER—Myrna's closest friend. DANNIE FEELEY—officer assigned to investigate Ludden Dombey's murder.

Yesterday: The taxi driver is knifed at the old factory building where Tait is called and Tait wonders about the perfume there, the same scent as used by the strange, exotic blond.

CHAPTER XVII At the first stair landing, Tait paused. The light, he discovered, came from a candle set on the floor in its own wax.

Tait stood up quickly, his back against the wall. The landing was bare. There were no openings. It simply doubled back to reach another series of stairs to the next floor.

Cautionally, Tait peered up to that second landing. For a moment his heart wavered. It all seemed too much of an invitation to death—and yet—yet he could be very close to the murder of Ludden Dombey and the solution for Myrna's problems.

Then, unmistakably, he heard a sound above him. It was the opening of an ancient window. Tait yelled at the top of his voice. "Stop—stop or I'll shoot!"

and will continue to be as long as we have a free press.

This is not a degenerate country. As a people we are not old and tired, but nervous, highly strung, vital and aggressive.

Despite our internal struggles and all the repercussions upon us of a revolutionary world, we care passionately for freedom and democracy—although we have difficulty in defining what we mean by the terms.

We have not the mentality of a small power for the simple reason that we are not a small power but an enormously powerful country.

And my guess is that if they will not or cannot assume it, we will assume it for and by ourselves.

Bark River News

Bark River, Mich.—Dr. and Mrs. L. B. Gillings of Green Bay and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Krause of Channing have returned to their homes after a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph LaVigne.

Leslie Sundquist has returned from Evanston, Ill. He was accompanied here by Bobby Gruenewald of Thiensville, Wis., who is visiting at the Chester Good home.

Mrs. Laura Primeau of Escanaba spent last week-end at the DuBard home.

Mr. and Mrs. Emery E. Jacques and children of Marquette were callers here last week.

Rodger DuBard has returned to Niagara, Wis. after a visit at the DuBard home.

What we all can do is to make our country an object lesson to show the world what a democracy can do.

A white man dropped the bottle from an airplane and it fell into my pocket.

a long, deserted room with narrow windows at one end. One of the windows was open and Tait rushed for it. But beyond he could see nothing but black roofs. It was only three or four feet down to the adjoining roof, but he knew that he was stopped. To go out there would be inviting death in earnest.

In the dim light of the candle Tait noticed something odd. His own footprints were clearly visible on the dust-covered floor.

Tait shook his head. "No. And I'm sorry to have got you into this mess, old man. I'll make it right with you—and now we'll give some attention for that shoulder."

"You'll have to drive. And say if I gotta stay in the hospital all night you'll have to explain it to my wife. She's funny that way."

"You were," said Dannie Feeley, "a double-barreled idiot to go up those stairs. But by golly, as long as you did it, I wish you'd got a look at the bird who wanted to cut into you."

"Of course," said Feeley with ill-disguised feeling, "some men wear perfume. The guy we're after may be one of those. Do you figure this fellow is the same guy who ventilated Ludden Dombey?"

"Also, it could be your screwy musician. He might think that I'm out to gyp him, too."

"I doubt it. I was sitting right in the car and it happened too fast for me. He didn't seem to know what hit him—but it's worth a try. Maybe he's collected his wits by now."

"This is Detective Feeley. He wants to ask you some questions about what happened. That is, if you feel all right now."

"I'm okay. The doc fixed me up in good shape. But I don't remember nothing except the flash of that knife—and the way it felt when it hit me."

"Try hard," Feeley urged. "Didn't you see the arm? Couldn't you tell whether your assailant wore a long coat or a short one? When you struck the match didn't you see a face or a hat?"

"The taxi driver wrinkled his brow. "No-o. You see, I was just struck the match and I was looking up at the top of the doorway for the number. It kind of seems like the guy wore a long overcoat, but I don't know just how I got that idea. I'm sure I didn't see his mug."

"Perfume?" The man looked puzzled. "No. I don't think I smelled any perfume. But then my nose ain't so good, either."

"I wish I could be more help officer. But the fact is, it just happened so quick I don't know exactly how it was. I got a couple of slices and I dropped flat—maybe I was only scared. I just laid there on the pavement with that damn 'cat meow' somewhere around me."

Tait started. "A cat? You heard a cat meowing?" "Yeah, I think so."

Florentine Spinach
 (Serves four to six)
 Four tablespoons butter melted, 4 tablespoons flour, 1 3/4 cups milk, 3 eggs, 3 cups cooked and chopped spinach, salt and pepper.
 Blend the flour with the melted butter and slowly add the milk, stirring constantly. Season with salt and pepper. Beat the eggs lightly and add to the white sauce, then add the spinach.
 Pour all into a buttered mold, cover and bake in a pan of hot water in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about one hour.

Ann Arbor Narcotic Resale Ring Nipped Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 20 (AP)—Arraigned before Justice Harry W. Reading today on charges of obtaining narcotics by false representation, a Ypsilanti man valved hearing while two Jackson women demanded examinations. They were Roy Duende, 33, and Mrs. Pearl Bowler, 42, and Mrs. Katherine Underwood, 39. All were held under bonds of $1,500 each with hearings for the women being scheduled for October 27.

Deer Conservation Report Is Studied; May Close Refuges Lansing, Oct. 20 (AP)—The conservation department today studied recommendations of its deer expert, J. H. Bartlett, that state game refuges be closed before the deer population becomes too large for the food supply. Bartlett supported his suggestion by stating that the present Michigan deer herd of 1,172,976 animals would increase 400,000 annually, despite hunting, if winter food was sufficient to support that number.

Kaye Farm Feeding Grounds For Ducks Fields of the Kaye farm beside the Whitefish River near the Soo Line railway bridge are the feeding grounds for hundreds of wild ducks according to reports reaching here. The fields are said to be literally alive with the birds in the afternoons. Comparatively few of the ducks have been bagged by hunters because they have not been flying a great deal, however colder weather is expected to remedy that to the delight of the nimrods.

SMALL BOATS TO BE HAULED

Marine Railway To Be Used Today for First Time

Small craft will be hauled out of the water today and Sunday at the Gladstone Yacht club's new marine railway located east of the boat harbor is put into commission. Owners of small boats wanting to have them removed for the winter months are requested to be at the harbor either this afternoon or Sunday morning. It is necessary that these boats be removed first and immediately because three larger boats are to be taken from the water later which will have to remain on the cars and on the rails. Repairs are to be made to the club house which is now being put into commission and material will be taken from a large boat house which was presented to the club by J. F. Richardson. Members were invited to attend the next meeting of the Escanaba Yacht club. The invitation was extended by Atty. Jack Erickson of Escanaba.

SCHEDULE FOR DEBATES GIVEN

Local Speakers to Meet Soo, Trenary, Gladstone and Escanaba

The debate schedule for the 23 teams in the Upper Peninsula Debate League has been prepared and announced by Forest Roberts, league manager, listing four preliminary debates for each of the teams in the league.

The Manistique debate team will meet teams of Soo, Trenary, Gladstone and Escanaba during the preliminary season, and if their record in those contests warrants, the Manistique team may get into the elimination series which ultimately will decide the upper peninsula championship.

The Manistique negative team will oppose the Soo affirmative team at Sault Ste. Marie on November 4, in the opening debate of the season. On Nov. 18, the Manistique negative team will be met at Trenary affirmative trial. The third debate will be at Manistique, with the Gladstone negative team meeting the local affirmative team. The final debate will be at Escanaba, with the Manistique affirmative team meeting the Escanaba negative team.

The question to be debated upon this season suggests an alliance between the United States and Great Britain, and is considered particularly timely now because of the strained international situation.

The local debate squad has been gathering and assimilating material on the subject since the opening of the school year. Preston Tania, who has an enviable record as a coach of forensics, is coach of the Manistique debaters.

A Household Handbook

This booklet might well be entitled First Aid in Domestic Emergencies, for there is scarcely a problem that arises to worry the home maker that is not treated briefly but authoritatively in its 32 pages. It contains clear and straightforward directions for making minor repairs and improvements, and doing hundreds of the little things sensible home owners have to look after. A handy reference book of time and labor-saving hints. Every home-maker should have a copy. Only ten cents postpaid.

The Escanaba Daily Press Information Bureau,

Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.

I enclose herewith TEN CENTS in coin (carefully wrapped in paper) for a copy of the booklet, HOUSEHOLD HELPS.

IF THIS WERE A 'JAM' SESSION and F. H. LaGuardia a maestro instead of a mayor, he might almost be "giving with his gobble-pipe." But that clarinet-clutch of the hand is just one of the mayor's gestures as he told the American Labor party in its first state convention, at New York, to send to Washington legislators who would support the president.

Hubert Osier Dies At Ionia Hospital

Trenary, Mich.—Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Clausen of Trenary and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Miron of Perkins, have just returned from Ionia, where they were called by the death of their brother, Hubert Osier.

Mr. Osier was well known here, having made his home here in Mathias township until five years ago.

He had been confined to the hospital there at Ionia for some time and passed away Tuesday of an attack of flu-pneumonia. He was twenty-eight years of age and besides his father, James Osier, of Kiva, Mich., is survived by the following brothers and sisters: Fred Osier of Niagara, Wis.; Julius of Honeywell Fall, New York; Roy of St. Joseph, Idaho; Wallace of Fairbanks, Alaska; Mrs. C. C. Clausen of Trenary; Mrs. John Sprick of Empire, Oregon; and Mrs. Joseph Miron of Perkins, Mich.

Funeral services were held from the Bradley Funeral Home in Ionia, on Saturday afternoon and interment made in the Ionia cemetery.

The average elephant lives to be 60 years old.

PROFIT SELLING REDUCES GAINS

STOCK MARKET AVERAGES table with columns for 30, 60, 90, 180, 360 days and various market indicators.

BY FREDERICK GARDNER. New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—Stocks had considerable trouble with profit taking in today's market and, while selected issues managed to emerge with modest advances...

Business news continued as a boisterous influence, but the length and breadth of the recovery move in shares caused some traders to step aside.

Small fractional advances predominated among rails, motors, aircrafts, mail orders and specialties at the finish. Steels, rubbers, utilities and oils were unable to make headway.

Transfers totalled 1,715,370 shares against 1,616,190 the day before. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up .1 of a point at 52.6.

A sizable jump in this week's motor car production pulled the automotive group out of the morning doldrums, but these issues, too, retained only minor gains.

Recent prosperity of airplane manufacturers was exemplified by Douglas Aircraft directors in voting a dividend of $2 a share on the capital stock of the first payment since September, 1935.

Ahead fractions to 2 or more on the curb were Newmont, United Light & Power "A," Brown Rubber, International Petroleum and Safety Car Heating.

Today's young men are mighty choosy about the girls they marry. They are choosy and they demand an awful lot.

There must be a reason for all this. A woman psychologist who is beginning a cross-country lecture tour, Mrs. Gertrude Steele Chambers, says the depression put the critical look in young men's eyes.

RAILWAY BONDS LEAD ADVANCES

BOND MARKET AVERAGES table with columns for 30, 60, 90, 180, 360 days and various bond market indicators.

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—Rail loans maintained a firm grip on bond market leadership today through further gains ranging from fractions to more than 4 points.

With the new advances the rail division thrust itself to around the best levels of the autumn rise which followed the signing of the Munich peace pact.

Despite usual Friday profit selling in a rising market corporate bonds generally showed a continuation of the steadiness of recent sessions.

Most U. S. governments pushed up a little on a small trade, the foreign dollar list recorded gains in loans of Japan and Italy.

Another rise in weekly carloadings to the best figures since November and broadening hopes for an amicable adjustment of the rail wage controversy were important factors in the brisk demand for carrier issues.

Among the larger gainers were Allegheny Corp. 5/8 of 49, at 71, up 5/8; Illinois Central 4 1/2 at 45 1/2, up 1/4; Great Northern 4 1/2 at 77 1/2, up 7/8.

Transactions rose to $8,698,700, a day value, from $6,365,400 yesterday.

Iron Mountain Plays Eskymos Here At 2 O'clock

RESERVES MEET IN PRELIMINARY

Cross Country Race To Be Run Off Between Halves of Game

A full afternoon of entertainment is in store for football and cross-country fans and music lovers this afternoon at the Escanaba high school athletic field with Iron Mountain and Escanaba schools joining hands to stage the show.

At 12:30 o'clock, Coach George Ruwlich's undefeated Eskymo reserves will meet the Iron Mountain seconds in a preliminary battle which promises to be hard fought. Both teams defeated the Menominee reserves by similar scores and are anxious to show each other up.

The Iron Mountain high school's crack band will be here to join with Escanaba's musicians in providing music and marching maneuvers between the reserves and main games and between halves of the main game. Also between halves of the main game, the annual Upper Peninsula cross-country run will be held with Iron Mountain and Escanaba presenting two of their strongest teams in history. Iron Mountain last year won the state Class B title.

Both Teams Strong

The climax of the afternoon, of course, will be the main football game between Coach George Larson's Mountaineers and Coach Carl Nordberg's Eskymos. Both teams have been pointing for this game all season and are primed to go the limit. The Iron Mountain-Escanaba games always are hard, clean fought battles with plenty of good football for everyone and this year should prove no different.

Both teams lost to the undefeated Norway Vikings by one touchdown margin and both are anxious to gain victory today to salvage what consolation they can from it. Strong, heavy lines and fleet, versatile backs feature both attacks and a wide-open game is predicted. On scoring statistics, Escanaba holds the edge, having the highest scoring team in the peninsula to date. In five games, the locals have scored 121 points and held opponents to but 14 points, both by touchdowns by Norway. The Mountaineers have scored 64 points in a similar number of games while holding their opponents to 43 points.

Fleet Backfields

The Iron Mountain backs include Otto, Jodda, Firme, Johnson and Graef will be matched by Escanaba's Hansen, Ptohenaur, Barron, Anderson and Bennett.

Coach George Ruwlich will start the following reserves: Goymerak and Peterson, ends; Pilotte and Scott, tackles; Johnson and Corbett, guards; McDonald, center; Aschinger, quarter; Ptohenaur and Stein, halves, and Shillman at full. Others likely to see action will be Sattam, Dickey, Morin, Anderson, L'Houillier, Harris, Wallischewer, Lequia, LaCrosse, Koskita and Ruska.

Coach Henry Wylie's track squad will be composed of Vern Johnson, Francis Lequia, James Nyberg, William Fisher, James L'Houillier, Gerald Anzalone and Francis Breafield.

GOPHERS IDLE; JUST WATCHING

Iowa, Wisconsin and Northwestern Left on Schedule

Chicago, Oct. 21 (AP)—Minnesota's Golden Gophers, with an open date tomorrow, will keep a sharp eye on the day's western conference football program and may see developments which might measurably brighten their Big Ten championship hopes.

The Gophers already have defeated Purdue and Michigan and have to play Northwestern, Iowa and Wisconsin. Both Northwestern and Wisconsin engage in important Big Ten skirmishes tomorrow and the outcome of those games will have definite bearings on Minnesota's title chances.

Wisconsin, holding a victory over Iowa, goes against Purdue at Lafayette. Victory for the Purdue eleven would dampen the high Badger hopes. At the same time, Northwestern will battle Illinois at Champaign in a game testing two title contenders.

Illinois has downed Indiana in its only conference start, with Northwestern showing a tie with Ohio State on its Big Ten ledger. A week from tomorrow Minnesota tangles with Northwestern—the Big Ten team scored the best chance of stopping Bernie Bierman's aggregation. Northwestern, with a lineup of veterans, will be favored over Illinois.

Ohio State entertains Chicago's under Maroons, with Colgate's Red Raiders favored to take Iowa's measure at Iowa City. Indiana plays host to Kansas State and Michigan's strong Wolverines do inter-sectional battle with Yale at New Haven. After losing to Minnesota by one point, the Wolverines may take it out on the Elis.

SPILLING the DOPE

Well, folks, how'd you like the vacation last week... we enjoyed it immensely... and, from comments we have heard, our readers were pleased that they did not have to wade through any of our predictions... but, like all vacations and other good things, the moratorium must end... and today we are back with another batch... we understand via grape vine that several local gamblers lost a lot of dough last week because of our failure to make the usual predictions... it seems that they have been watching our predictions and betting against them... and winning!

IRON MOUNTAIN - ESCANABA: We are just a bit hesitant about this game...

EMERALDS GO TO SOO TODAY

Manistique Seeks Victory Over Old Rivals

Manistique—Coach Frank Jolie, a squad of 20 players, and a large delegation of Manistique fans will travel to Sault Ste. Marie this morning, where the Emeralds will oppose the Soo Blue Devils this afternoon in the annual football battle between the teams.

Reserves who will make the trip are Johnson, Hamill, Hulsehof, Gray, Dewey, McCarty, Waters, Hentschell and Thomas, injured regulars, will also make the trip.

The Emerald squad displayed unusual power last Saturday when they downed St. Joseph, 19 to 0, and Coach Jolie is expecting his proteges to continue to play the scrappy ball that they have shown against the Parochials.

The Manistique Reserves, coached by Laurit Roque, will travel to Rock today for a return game with the Little Giants. The teams played a scoreless tie last Saturday at Manistique.

CARNEGIE TECH IS NO PUSHOVER

Meeting With Irish Will Be 16th Clash for Two Squads

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 21 (AP)—Carnegie Tech and Notre Dame, two of the nation's major undefeated eleven, will meet in Notre Dame stadium tomorrow for the 16th time in one of football's most colorful rivalries.

The Irish, three and four deep at every position and possessing one of the best running games in recent history, will be slight favorites. Tech, however, upset Notre Dame, 9 to 7, last year and usually hits its peak against Irish teams. In 1937 Notre Dame, driving toward national honors, was defeated 19 to 0 by Tech in one of the sport's most outstanding reverses.

Coach Elmer Layden was expected to start the same lineup against Tech that he used in victories over Georgia Tech and Illinois. A nonstarter, however, may prove the spark to the Irish offense. Ben Sheridan, fleet left halfback whose punt returns were a feature of the Illinois game, was expected to see much service.

Carnegie may be without the services of Jack Leo, big fullback. At that position may be Walter Ingalls or Tony Esposki. With both eleven's boasting strong lines the game may be decided in the air. The game, ranking as the nation's No. 1 duel, is expected to draw 45,000 spectators.

UPSET IS HOPE OF STATE CREW

Syracuse Sends 33 Men to East Lansing; Air Battle Promised

BY JACK L. GREEN

East Lansing, Oct. 21 (AP)—Three teams with fierce mien and an orange cast camped outside the Michigan State college ramparts tonight while a football-mad student body dreamed that the Spartans tomorrow might upset Syracuse's hopes of national football honors.

ROCK - MANISTIQUE: The Little Giants are as yet undefeated and are eager to wipe out a scoreless tie with the Emeralds seconds of last week... and we think they'll do it this week.

KINGSFORD - STAMBAUGH: Both these teams have been inconsistent this year and it's dangerous to bet on either... we'll flip a coin... Kingsford it is.

MEMONINEE - IRON RIVER: Coach Jimmy Crumme's griders are all pepped up over their victory last week over Stambaugh... and it looks like another tough afternoon for Memoninee... although we wouldn't be too much surprised at an upset... Iron River.

NORWAY-STEPHENSON: This one will be over quicker than you can say Nick Papatheodorocomopoulos (Papa for short)... should be another field day for Dapsos & Co.

SOO-MANISTIQUE: This one could be called either way... so we'll take a chance on Soo... they should be enraged over their 34-0 defeat by Escanaba last week.

MARQUETTE - NEGAUNEE: Kircher's crew will have no trouble taking the Miners into camp.

MICHIGAN - YALE: After seeing the Wolverines play last week, we can't see how they'll lose this one... that is, unless Yale starts throwing the ball all over the lot... but even if they do, the Wolves have too much power.

MSC - SYRACUSE: The combination of Marty Glickman and Sidat-Singh is too much for the Spartans.

ILLINOIS - NORTHWESTERN: Neither team has been outstanding yet this year but we believe Northwestern will win... after all this is October.

OHIO STATE-CHICAGO: Ho hum!

COLGATE-IOWA: Ho hum, again Iowa is about as weak as Chicago.

PURDUE - WISCONSIN: This should be the best game in the Big Ten today... Purdue can't hold out much longer... Wisconsin.

NOTRE DAME - CARNEGIE TECH: Another great battle, with our tongue in our cheek, we'll pick the Irish... but look out for the Scots!

INDIANA-KANSAS STATE: Bo McMillan plays his old school and should have little difficulty beating it.

Milwaukee, Oct. 21 (AP)—Unbeaten, untied and eyeing a national championship, the Texas Christian university football team came to Milwaukee today with high hopes of adding Marquette to its string of victims.

Coach Leo R. Meyer said that with the exception of Earl Clark, blocking back, his players were in fine condition for tomorrow's game.

City Basketball League Formed

At a general session of basketball Thursday night at the Junior high school eight teams entered their lineups for league play this year.

The teams are as follows: Eagles, Loans, Bleser's, Grandas, Presbyterians, Hansen & Jensen's, Northtown Sailors and St. Joe Alumni. Teams wanting to practice may use the Junior high on Mondays and Thursdays, and also the Senior high on Wednesday night. At the present time practice games are being played by the various teams for the purpose of getting into shape for the coming season.

This year there will be two leagues in play, the major and minor leagues. Teams which have not already entered their team into the league have their choice of either league. This form of a league eliminates a stronger team playing a weaker team and also upholds the interest of the game for the teams entered. Two referees of high rating will be selected to handle the league games for the coming season.

BY JACK L. GREEN

East Lansing, Oct. 21 (AP)—Three teams with fierce mien and an orange cast camped outside the Michigan State college ramparts tonight while a football-mad student body dreamed that the Spartans tomorrow might upset Syracuse's hopes of national football honors.

The undefeated 33 orangemen refused the offer of Coach Charley Bachman to practice on Macklin Field when they arrived and withdrew to a secret spot for a final prep at their book of plays. The Spartans put on their Saturday suits and trotted around in the stadium but it was just to keep their muscles moving for the big game tomorrow.

The advance guard of more than 2,000 alumni and a major portion of the student body assembled tonight for a monster pep meeting on a 20-foot high bonfire.

Promise for an aerial battle remained bright. Syracuse will have the threat of Sidat-Singh while Michigan State will offer Johnny Pingel in retaliation.

The visitors will lack only Burns Marvill, reserve fullback, while the Spartans will go into the game without Gene Colek, Pingel's alternate, and Paul Derrickson, plucky little sophomore fullback.

Although both Coach Bachman and Coach Oasse Soem yelled their lineups, these are reported to be the probable starters:

Albion college played only straight football here tonight to defeat Adrian college 12-0. The plucky Adrian team held Albion on all most even terms the first half but Albion easily marched from mid-field to score in the third period. Ed Lundon, halfback, scored twice on runs of five and eleven yards.

MICHIGAN SET TO STOP YALE

More Than 45,000 Fans Expected for Scrap at New Haven

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 21 (AP)—Michigan's heavy, powerful football team is a strong favorite to stop Yale here tomorrow when they resume gridiron relations after a lapse of 55 years. More than 45,000 fans, several thousand from the Midwest, are expected for the inter-sectional scrap.

Despite the Wolverines' splendid performance against Minnesota's powerhouse last week, the Yale camp was far from discouraged. The Elis' supporters scored via the aerial route. This is the Bulldogs' chief stock in trade.

Although the Michigan squad, which arrived here this morning, brimmed with confidence, Frits Crierler, the Wolverines' new head coach, wanted no part of it. He recalled that during the past four years, three of his Princeton-tutored eleven were knocked off by Yale, twice under circumstances similar to the present setup when his teams were outstanding favorites.

The two squads went through final-practice preparations this afternoon after which Yale announced that Felix Caracciolo would start at guard, the only change in the eleven that defeated Navy last week. The kick-off is scheduled for 2 p. m. (EST).

From the Michigan camp came word that Ralph Heikkinen, the Wolverines' "watch charm" guard, although named to start, may not be able to play long. He was hurt in practice during the week.

Michigan will have a tremendous weight advantage over the Yale squad. While the middle of the line doesn't show a wide difference, the Wolverine ends and backs are young giants compared to their opponents.

The vanguard of Michigan rooters began streaking into New Haven during the day and tonight was pepping things up in various sections of the town.

The probable lineups:

MICHIGAN	YALE
Smick LE Dyess	Janke LT John
Hoikkinen LG Caracciolo	Kodros C Platt
Bronson RT C. Miller	Smith RT Taylor
Nicholson RE Moody	Erasmehvi QB Humphrey
Purucker RH J. Miller	Jarmon LH Wilson

Many Athletes Follow Footsteps Of Former Peninsula Grid Aces

Trodding in the footsteps of George Glpp, Hank Anderson, Gus Sonnenberg, Gene Ronzani and a host of other former college stars are about 25 high school boys from the Upper Peninsula in the nation's colleges, according to an informal survey made recently by the Upper Peninsula Sports-writers Association.

Annually, the Upper Peninsula has turned out football players who have made names for themselves on the college gridirons of the country and this year is no exception. The most widely known of Upper Peninsula products this year, of course, is Ralph Heikkinen, regular guard on the University of Michigan team.

Heikkinen is regarded as one of the finest guards in the country, being on several All Big Ten teams last year. He was chosen by his mates as the most valuable man on the team last year, the first time a junior has ever won this honor at Michigan. Heikkinen hails from and prepped at Bessemer.

Two other boys from the Upper Peninsula are at Michigan. Walter Kitti of Hancock is a back and Rueben Kelto of Bessemer is a center.

Trio at State

Eddie Simionich of Ironwood is making a strong comeback at Notre Dame this year under Coach Elmer Layden after being slowed down considerably because of injuries. Simionich's power drives will long be remembered by his peninsula opponents.

Three Upper Peninsula boys are candidates for the tackle posts at Michigan State this year. They are Heig Pearson of Norway, John Swan of Gladstone and Frank Karas of Escanaba, both sophomores.

BY BILL BONI

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—In these days of football confusion, when possession of a good passer puts the underdog on practically even terms with the favorite and practically every underdog possesses a good passer, it's a great satisfaction to be able to pick a few concrete facts from tomorrow's national college program.

Among these facts are:

1. That the most interesting game to speculate about is that between Notre Dame and Carnegie Tech, since it's the pre-Army game test for a very promising Irish team, since Carnegie is reported to be loaded, since both teams are unbeaten, and since Notre Dame will be out to avenge last year's defeat by the Tartans.
2. That also there are such attractive battles as Harvard-Dartmouth, Yale-Michigan and Fordham-Oregon in the east; Michigan State-Syracuse, Iowa-Colgate, Northwestern-Illinois and Oklahoma-Nebraska in the Middle West; Louisiana State-Vanderbilt and Auburn-Georgia Tech in the South; Baylor-Texas A. and M. Rice-Texas in the Southwest, and Washington-California and Santa Clara-Arkansas on the Pacific Coast.

That Columbus, O., remains the private preserve of the football filibuster since 60,000 of them, top crowd of the day, are due to see lopsidedly-favored Ohio State play Chicago, "cousin" of its Big Ten rival.

But it's high time this observer settled down to his weekly stab at the probable winners, which he does without further ado:

Notre Dame-Carnegie Tech: The Tartans may have pointed for this one, but don't forget they have a date with Pitt two weeks later. Hoping that is their main objective, this vote goes to Notre Dame.

Harvard-Dartmouth—Dartmouth with a definite edge. Louisiana State-Vanderbilt—L.S.U.'s star halfback, Young Bussey, was dropped from the squad, they say, for smoking cigars in the stands. A hazy ballot for Vanderbilt.

Washington-California—In the light of past performances, it looks like six straight for California.

Baylor-Texas A. and M.—Billy Peterson and Baylor to continue undefeated.

Michigan State-Syracuse—Perhaps it's too much to expect the Orange to be up again for this one. It's tough playing the Spartans at home. Still, Syracuse.

Fordham-Oregon—The Ram offense rolled to plenty of yardage but only one score against Purdue. On the theory that Jim Crowley will have remedied that defect, and that a 3,000-mile train ride was no help to the Webfoots, Fordham.

UPBAYS TRAVEL TO ISHPeming

Capt. Desotelle May Play Part of Game Today, Keil Declares

Gladstone—Seeking its third victory of the season, Gladstone high school gridgers travel to Ishpeming today to battle the Hemettes.

Fifty or more students will follow the team to the scene of the game. The opening kickoff is scheduled for 2 o'clock.

The Rapid River school bus has been chartered by the Gladstone high school Pop club and about 35 members of the organization plan to make the trip.

For the first time since the opening game of the season, the Kellmen will be at almost full strength. Capt. Benny Desotelle, who sustained a knee injury in the Munising tilt, was out for practice this week and it is in condition will play part of the game. All others are in good condition with the exception of Knutson who has a leg injury which bothers him slightly.

Ishpeming, on the basis of past games, does not appear particularly strong this season. They split a home-and-home engagement with Negaunee and Negaunee was defeated by Munising, a team which Gladstone plans in their opener.

Coach Keil plans to use the same starting lineup as last week. Minnick and Thompson will at ends; L. Desotelle and Rose at tackles; Kee and Marble at guards; Goodman at center; Dahl at quarterback; Gustafson at right half; Knutson at left half, and Zervic at full.

CENTRAL STATE RECORD CLEAR

TEAMS BETTER, YOST BELIEVES

Former Michigan Coach Still Misses Snow, Heston, Schultz

BY DREW MIDDLETON
New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—Fielding H. Yost, whose football coaching career at Michigan spanned the stone age and streamlines era of the game, thinks players of today are better on the whole but, "by Jimmy, I don't know fellows like Willie Heston, Neil Snow and Germany Schultz around."

Yost is east to see Michigan, one of the Big Ten's most dangerous eleven, meet Yale tomorrow in a resumption of a rivalry that goes back to the elegant eighties. He's right proud of Fritz Crisler's first Michigan team but he's prone to wander back to the days when "Yale was king of the east and Michigan ruled the west." He turned out four undefeated and untied teams at Michigan.

"That Heston," he mused, "first year I had him I didn't think he'd be anything wonderful, just a green kid. But I was wrong, thank goodness. He was all-American for two years. Say, he ran right over a couple of boys one day for three or four plays and then he hollered, 'You fellows better get out of there or you'll be killed.'"

"They don't make 'em like him anymore but as an average the players are better. There wasn't much high school football in those days. These days millions of kids are playing the game all over. It's easy to see why the average ability is higher—better training, better coaching, more knowledge of conditioning."

Someone asked him about the years when the forward pass first came into use. He wanted to know who threw the first spiral pass.

"Well, I'll claim that," said Yost. "I had a book come out in 1905 giving the principal of the spiral pass, but of course we could only use it laterally. But when they put the forward pass in the rules I was ready for it."

"I remember going to Cornell in 1905 and Pop Warner was using the end over end pass. But he caught on quick."

Heston's name came up again. "I used to call him my key back, I guess he was the first tailback. Come to think of it the formation we used was 'mighty like a single wing formation.'"

Yost has seen the game change from a clash of brute power to a finely coordinated battle of land and air forces. Any comment on the change, he was asked.

"Too much to give you right now, but I'll tell you something. One of the reasons for this high scoring this year is the new rules. They bring the ball in 15 yards. That gives a team more room to move. And that pass over the goal line. In the days when they called it a touchback it was the biggest penalty in football."

It was a sad subject but Yost was asked about the Michigan-Minnesota game won by the Gophers last week.

"No allis from me, and I don't think Fritz has any either," said Yost. "They play football for keeps at Minnesota, always have, and by Jimmy that's the way it should be played."

President Roosevelt informed Governor Murphy today that it would be impossible to build the proposed bridge with PWA funds.

The governor said the president was convinced, however, that the bridge should be built.

Murphy was asked by the president to attend a conference at Washington after the November election to discuss the proposal. Murphy said engineers who have studied the proposal would accompany him.

MURPHY AIDED SIT - DOWNERS JUDGE CLAIMS

governor, he said. Later, he said, Sugar informed him the union wanted the hearing adjourned to a later date. The judge refused, saying the situation in Flint was "too dangerous" for that.

"He said 'The governor desires this adjournment.'" Judge Gadola continued, "and I said 'To hell with the governor.'"

Courtroom Picketed
The hearing was held. While it was in progress, the judge said, union men picketed the courtroom, drawing police away from the automobile plants, where a riot immediately occurred. Twenty-four hours later the writ of ejectment was issued, the judge added, but Sheriff Thomas Wolcott refused to serve it, pleading that "the governor" did not want it executed. Gadola quoted Wolcott as saying he was fearful of losing his job if he served the writ.

"The sheriff would have executed the writ except that he was prevented from doing so by the governor of the state of Michigan," said the judge.

Barringer told in detail of difficulties in getting help from the state in dealing with the strike situation, and of "implied threats" from investigators of the LaFollette civil liberties committee when he refused to give them the names of the "reserves" he had mustered—American Legionnaires and others.

They would give him, he said, no assurance that the names would not be given to the strikers, and he feared that the reserves would be intimidated.

LaFollette Group Blamed
It was the attitude of the LaFollette committee and the attitude of Governor Murphy, which I call reasonable, he said, "that built it up to what it was. If there had been any bloodshed, if it had been any worse than it was, it would have been purely on Governor Murphy's shoulders."

Edwin Hughes, a captain of the Flint police department, testified that just before the automobile strike of 1937 several arrests were made. A crowd gathered in front of the police station and was addressed by Victor Reuther of Detroit who, the witness said, was a Communist party member.

"Reuther said they were going to try to get the men out of jail and if they couldn't get them out they would take them out."

The police dispersed the crowd, Hughes said. Going on to tell of the subsequent sit-down strike, he described a riot between police and strikers. Bricks, stones and milk bottles were thrown at the police, he said, and they began using tear gas and later firearms. Reuther was there with his sound truck, the witness said.

"The riot was under the direction of Reuther," he continued. "He told them if any strikers were injured to tear up the machinery and to go home and get their guns."

Legion Men Testify
Clyde Morrow of the American Legion submitted what he said were photostatic copies of Communist party membership cards of men active in the United Auto Workers.

Morrow went on to say that the last few months had seen a trend in the U. A. W. toward getting rid of Communist organizers. However, he added that many, after being "fired" by the international union, were given jobs by "red locals." Local 174 he called an "old soldiers' home" for Communist organizers discharged by Homer Martin, president of the international union.

Herman Luhrs of the Flint American Legion told the committee that Senator LaFollette (P-Wis.) addressed a meeting held under the auspices of the conference for the protection of civil rights, which he said was a Communist organization. The meeting took place in a Flint school building.

"Communist literature was so thick at this meeting that it was not cleared out for 48 hours, giving the school children a fine chance to pick it up," Luhrs said. From Lieutenant Harold Mulbar of the Michigan state police the committee received testimony that during the strike at Flint there was "general disorder" inside the plant.

He said hose lines were laid out near the windows, and metal hinges, allsorts and missiles were piled up about the windows as well. There were also, he said, jars containing what the strikers said was acid. The police were told by the strikers, he said, that these things were assembled for use against any group, police or otherwise, that might attempt to oust the strikers.

Hero Pilot

Discovering that the right wing and motor of the passenger plane he had just taken out of Montgomery, Ala., were in flames, John David Hiseong, above, Eastern Airlines pilot, brought his burning ship down in a field with only moonlight to aid him. By this feat Hiseong saved 14 lives, including his own. Later he commented that he hadn't done anything "any other pilot wouldn't have done." Five years ago, he was the hero of a similar mishap.

"What you saw in the way of horror and terror then was only a beginning, should these labor hoodlums win their fight this year. If their 'friends' are returned to power, you will witness an outbreak that will make what we have gone through look like a mild zephyr."

No More Cliches
Fitzgerald said several inept strikes had been withheld "until after the election—at my opponent's urgent, private request—to help him out."

"They know, these labor radicals, as well as you and I know, that when I am elected they will have no more chance of getting away with the plots and schemes they have hatched and you would have of seizing your neighbor's house, and sitting down in it, and holding it, because you like it."

Fitzgerald drew a distinction between labor and strike "agitators." He promised, if elected, to give labor "the opportunity it so richly deserves to consolidate its gains and regain its footing."

"There will be no more playing with cliches after I take office," he said. "The sit-down strike menace will be a thing of the past and it shall remain that way. Men and women may once more look ahead to owning homes, to working their way up the ladder, to giving their loved ones the conveniences and comforts of life."

DENIAL ISSUED
Detroit, Oct. 21 (AP)—Governor Murphy added tonight to his denial of testimony at Washington concerning him before the Dies committee on un-American activities.

The governor, in a campaign talk at Flint, one of the principal centers of the 1937 sit-down strikes in the automobile industry did not mention Circuit Judge Paul V. Gadola, a committee witness, by name but spoke of "the judge involved."

Referring to the order issued by Judge Gadola for ejection of the strikers from General Motors plants at Flint, Murphy said: "It was up to the sheriff to determine the time and the situation that is reasonable for serving a writ. That is the law. It is on our side. I asked the sheriff to wait. He would have been a butcher to have done otherwise. It would have destroyed the judge involved. It would have impaired the integrity of the courts. The judge was saved by my action—not harmed."

In his address Gov. Murphy also said that "Civil War was imminent in Flint" and a word from him "could have provided the spark" which would have set off "an explosion which would have terrorized the nation."

Murphy said ejection of the strikers by national guardsmen would have brought bloodshed and "I asked that enforcement of the court order be postponed, believing that the week-end would bring a settlement." He added that the strike was settled the following Wednesday.

"From the very first," Murphy continued, "I had insisted that the lawful order of the court must be obeyed. . . . There was no condoning of the sit-down strike or of any illegal practice or technique."

FEARED "CIVIL WAR"
Flint, Mich., Oct. 21 (AP)—Governor Murphy, defending his handling of the 1937 automobile strikers which centered largely in Flint, said here tonight that a word from him "could have provided the spark" which would have set off "an explosion which would have terrorized the nation."

The governor told a throng which filled the 8,000 seats in the L. M. auditorium he had "never disregarded" a circuit court order that sit-downers leave General Motors Corporation plants here and that "there was no condoning of the sit-down strike or of any illegal practice or technique."

"The simple truth is that a civil war was imminent in Flint in February of 1937," Murphy said.

Farmhand Arraigned For $1 Club Murder
Auburn, Ind., Oct. 21 (AP)—Indicted today on a first degree murder charge in the slaying of Miss Sarah Murphy, 77, in her farm home near Coruna in 1934. Otto Himmel, 49, itinerant farm hand, pleaded innocent upon arraignment in the DeKalb circuit court today. A date for the trial will be set Monday.

GATEWAY CITY IS EASY PREY FOR INVADERS

cut off and the nearly deserted metropolis during the night was in darkness broken only by the headlights of Japanese military automobiles and the fitful glare of fires consuming abandoned buildings.

The mechanized column which first entered Canton had driven 125 miles inland from Blas Bay, to the southeast, circling to assault the city from the north. So easy was the movement, officers said, that the column lost not more than 200 killed and wounded.

At this comparatively trifling cost the invaders took a city which for centuries was the principal seat of South China culture and commerce and the seat of the new revolutionary, anti-Japanese, nationalistic doctrine which brought birth of the Chinese republic in 1912.

LEADERSHIP LACKING
Hongkong, Oct. 21 (AP)—More than 1,000,000 Hongkong Chinese were dumbfounded today at news of the virtually unopposed Japanese entry of Canton.

Newspapers here in the British crown colony, just down the Pearl river from Canton, quoted "Chinese circles" as denying widespread rumors of treason in permitting easy capture of the metropolis.

"Chinese circles" were quoted as attributing the collapse of the Canton defense to "abominable leadership" and the fact that Kwangtung province had been so stripped of good troops that the defenders were unable to make a stand.

Foreign military observers, while crediting the Japanese with a brilliant opposition, saw evidence that the Chinese were completely lacking in leadership.

Ex-Wife Can't See Wounded Spouse Of Radio Ruth Etting
Los Angeles, Oct. 21 (AP)—Efforts of Mrs. Alma Alderman to obtain an audience with her ex-husband, Myrl Alderman, now the husband of Ruth Etting, radio singer, failed today when she was turned back by guards posted at Alderman's hospital room.

Alderman is in St. Vincent's hospital suffering from bullet wounds inflicted by Miss Etting's former husband, Martin (Col. Gimp) Snyder.

Accompanied by a woman she said was her aunt, Mrs. Alderman arrived at the hospital with her 11-month-old baby, Norma Suzanne. She telephoned Alderman's room and was informed he would refuse to see her. Despite this she went to Alderman's room on the third floor where she found the door guarded by two male nurses.

AMERICANS COLLECT SWEEPSTAKES MONEY
Dublin, Oct. 21 (AP)—More than $1,000,000 in certain prize money and more than half the chances to win the bulk of more than $7,000,000 in the prize fund fell to American ticket holders today in the 25th drawing of the Irish hospital sweepstakes.

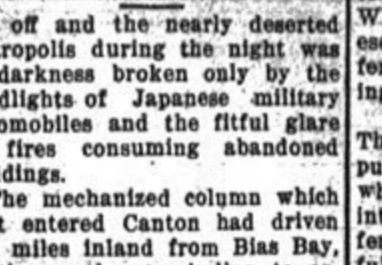

To the United States' holders went 617 of the 1,162 counterfolios drawn on $3 horses entered for the Caserewitch race Oct. 26 at Newmarket, England. Americans drew 33 tabs on the five betting favorites.

Fourteen tickets were drawn on each horse, with Americans holding seven on Dubonnet, five on Snake Lightning, ten on Snipe Wood, eight on Black Speck, and three on Solonaise.

Tickets on the winner will pay $150,000, second horse tickets $75,000 and third, $50,000. Tickets on horses falling to place and nonrunners will pay about $2-187.50. Thirty-four of the $3 horses were probable starters.

Three hundred prizes of $500 each and 50 of $530 each will be drawn tomorrow.

Shifting Of Votes By WPA Is Denied

Lansing, Oct. 21 (AP)—Louis N. Nims, state WPA administrator, scoffed today at charges WPA laborers in Wayne and Genesee counties were being transferred to bolster Democratic voting lists.

He was answering James F. Thompson, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee who asked a federal investigation into what he said was the transfer of WPA laborers to "doubtful" legislative and congressional districts.

Asserting the charge was "so silly it's ridiculous," Nims said "we can expect a number of these absurd stories between now and election."

He declared that in all major cities and counties where there are city or county-wide projects, the laborers are moved from project to project upon orders of city or county officials.

"We have nothing to do with it," he said, "other than to provide the labor and see that it is used according to regulations."

Father Of Fullback Dies From Injuries As Son Plays Game
Malden, Mass., Oct. 21 (AP)—Joseph Cignetti, who sent his son Peter from his hospital bedside to Philadelphia to join his Boston college teammates against Temple in an automobile accident on Columbus day. The elder Cignetti was returning from the Boston College-Detroit game, in which his son starred, when he was struck down.

Pete, a hard-crashing fullback, gave up all college activities to remain at his father's bedside. Yesterday he gave him a blood transfusion and it so helped the parent that he pleaded with his boy to rejoin his teammates. Peter consented, but only after the team had entrained, and he was forced to fly to Philadelphia this morning.

Just before Pete took the gridiron in Temple stadium, his father died. Both of his legs were fractured in the accident and last Monday the right limb was amputated.

News of his death was withheld until after the game, which ended in a 26-26 tie.

Secretary Perkins Sees Peace Hopes For AFL And CIO

Washington, Oct. 21 (AP)—Secretary of Labor Perkins said today after conferences with leaders in the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O. that she had high hopes the two organizations soon would settle their three-year-old fight.

Carefully avoiding a definite prediction that the factions would reunite, she told newsmen she had "something concrete" on which to base a hope that the factional strife would end in perhaps six months.

She made the statement shortly after talking by telephone with Daniel Tobin, president of the American Federation of Labor's teamsters' union, and less than 24 hours after she called to her office David Dubinsky, president of the International Ladies Garment Workers' union (C.I.O.).

Geese Fly South Over Marquette. Marquette, Mich., Oct. 21 (AP)—Flights of wild geese, heading southward, were reported from two Upper Peninsula cities tonight. With a low ceiling and fog, a flock circled over the city during the afternoon and again tonight. During the afternoon they alighted on the harbor here and stretched out in a line for about a mile. Estimates as to the number varied from 200 to 500. Similar conditions were reported from the Copper Country. Old settlers in Houghton said they could not recall ever having seen such large flights. Reports from Escanaba, 75 miles south of Marquette, said no geese had been sighted there today.

Detroit, Oct. 21 (AP)—The Detroit Lions underwent a thorough shakeup today as Coach Earl (Dutch) Clark drilled them for Sunday's game against the Chicago Cardinals here. Five of last Sunday's starters against the Washington Redskins were replaced. Newcomers in the lineup were Charles Hanneman, right end; Tony Matzli, left tackle; Alex Wojciechowski, center, and Ernie Caddel and Fred Vanzo, halfbacks. Vanzo and Caddel were regulars early in the year but have been idle with injuries. Pass defense has been stressed in the workouts this week. Chicago's gains this season have come mainly through the air on tosses from Jack Robbins, formerly of Arkansas, to Gaynell Tinsley. Licenses For 1939 On Sale Thursday. Lansing, Oct. 21 (AP)—Automobile license plates for 1939 will go on sale Thursday. The opening sale date is two days earlier than last year and is instituted to speed the sale of new automobiles. The 1939 plates will have black numerals on a pale buff background. Col. Knox Tells How To Vote Jobs Back. Council Bluffs, Iowa, Oct. 21 (AP)—Col. Frank Knox of the Chicago Daily News said today that "to work and vote for the success of the Republican candidates this year x x x is the only way to put America back to work." The publisher, Republican vice presidential candidate in 1936, charged the New Deal with waste and disregard for campaign promises, in a speech at a party rally here. CADETS HONOR CO-ED. HELPED AGITATORS. Port Huron, Mich., Oct. 21 (AP)—Former Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald told a campaign audience tonight that Governor Murphy sent troops into the Flint strike area "not to protect the citizens of Flint, but to see to it that the black power of labor agitators was not disturbed." "We must decide in the November 8 election," Fitzgerald said, "whether communities again are to be cowed into fear and submission by agitators armed with clubs. We must make a declaration as to whether men who want to work are to be permitted to work." The former governor, who again heads the Republican state ticket, said Flint sit-down strikers "wanted only a nod from the chief executive of our state to march peacefully out of the automobile plants they had seized and return to their homes and families." "But instead of telling them to come out and go back to work—

FEARED "CIVIL WAR". Flint, Mich., Oct. 21 (AP)—Governor Murphy, defending his handling of the 1937 automobile strikers which centered largely in Flint, said here tonight that a word from him "could have provided the spark" which would have set off "an explosion which would have terrorized the nation." The governor told a throng which filled the 8,000 seats in the L. M. auditorium he had "never disregarded" a circuit court order that sit-downers leave General Motors
