

FITZGERALD TO BE 'FAIR BUT STERN'

FDR DECLARES LIBERAL IDEA TO CONTINUE

PROGRAM WON'T BE SLOWED UP BY ELECTION

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER
Chapel Hill, N. C., Dec. 5 (AP)—President Roosevelt, in his first speech since the congressional elections, declared here today that "liberal" forces must move onward and not wait for the "evolution of future decades" to meet new social and economic needs.

Speaking for a student forum of the University of North Carolina, whose liberal teachings he praised, the chief executive made it clear that Republican gains in the new congress would not deter him from pressing forward with reform measures.

"It is only the unthinking liberals in this world who see nothing but tragedy in the slowing up or temporary stopping of liberal progress," he said.

"It is only the unthinking conservatives who rejoice when a social or economic reform falls to be 100 per cent successful."

Liberals Buried Before
At another point, in commenting on the elections, he said pointedly:

"You have read that as result of balloting last November, the liberal forces in the United States are on their way to the cemetery—yet I ask you to remember that liberal forces in the United States have often been killed and buried—with the inevitable result that in short order they have come to life again with more strength than they had before."

Although he devoted the major part of his 2,500-word address to domestic affairs, the president contrasted the American form of government with dictators.

He warned the latter by implication that the United States, while wholeheartedly for peace, was "not only the largest and most powerful democracy in the whole world, but many other democracies look to us for leadership that world democracy may survive."

Must Affirm Action

He continued: "There may be those in the world who believe that a regimented people, whose every thought and action is directed by one man, may give some people a type of security which is pleasing to them."

"But whatever convictions I have, none is stronger than my abiding belief that the security and well-being of the American people can best be served by the democratic processes which have made this country strong and great."

"The future, however, rests not on chance alone, not on mere conservatism, mere smugness, mere fatalism, but on the affirmative action which we take in America."

"What America does or fails to do in the next few years has a far greater bearing and influence on the history of the human race for centuries to come than most of us who are here today can ever conceive."

Surprise Witness In Lebove Case Tells Of Death Threats

BY G. MILTON KELLY
Harrison, Mich., Dec. 5 (AP)—A surprise witness' testimony that Carl "Jack" Livingston threatened the life of Isalah Lebove almost two years before the wealthy oil baron was shot to death brought to a close today the first step of the prosecution's attempt to convict Livingston of first degree murder.

FRANCE UNITES WITH GERMANY

Agrees to Outlaw War; Demands Respect for Colonies

Paris, Dec. 5 (AP)—Premier Daladier said today France was resolved to demand respect for "the absolute integrity" of all French territory by "every means."

This was his answer to the Italian clamor over French Corsica and Tunisia. Informed quarters read into it an additional message to Germany—France intends to keep her colonies despite Germany's demands.

His declaration as it affected Germany was held significant in view of the arrival here tomorrow of Joachim Von Ribbentrop, German foreign minister, to sign a no-war pact and to discuss the political situation.

Plea Follows Riots

Daladier's remarks were in a communique announcing his intention to visit Corsica and Tunisia shortly after January 1. He urged inhabitants there to remain calm. The plea followed yesterday's riotous demonstrations against Italy and professing loyalty to France.

"Of the Italian press—campaigns and a number of deputies' demonstration regarding France and French possessions, Daladier said: "There is no need to state that these manifestations will meet strong opposition against thecession of any territory over which the national flag floats."

He said the loyalty demonstrations in Tunisia and Corsica were "the best response that could be made" to Italian cries for French territory. He noted that the Italian government had answered a French protest by stating the Fascist colonial claims were not formulated by the government.

British Prime Minister Chamberlain announced in London he had received assurances the Italian government "did not associate" itself with Fascist territorial demonstrations against France and that he therefore saw no reason to change his plans to visit Rome, January 11 to 14.

Car In Crash With Dead Man At Wheel

Jackson, Mich., Dec. 5 (AP)—A speeding automobile—presumably with a dead man at the wheel—crashed into a passenger bus nine miles north of here today.

After an investigation, Coroner Jason B. Meads said the man in the car, identified as Walter E. White, 53, of Jackson, evidently had died of a heart attack before the crash.

The bus driver, Royal York of Jackson, said he steered his vehicle off the road as the automobile careened down the highway "at about 60 miles an hour," but was unable to dodge the oncoming machine. Two in the bus suffered slight injuries.

White, an assistant chief engineer with Commonwealth & Southern corporation, was associated here with the Consumers Power company, an affiliate. He leaves his wife, Grace, and a son, John Frederick of Detroit.

Authority On Chest Diseases Stricken

Chicago, Dec. 5 (AP)—Dr. Wilson Ruffin Abbott, 65, an authority on diseases of the heart and chest, died today. He was one of the first to use the lung collapse therapy in the treatment of tuberculosis. He was a former major in the United States public health service and chief of staff of the United States veterans' hospital at Fort Bayard, N. M.

Empty Boat Found; Man's Body Sought

Detroit, Dec. 5 (AP)—A search for the body of Earl J. Sullivan, 19, believed to have fallen from a rowboat into the Detroit river Saturday night, was continued today by the crew of a coast guard boat and an airplane from the United States naval reserve base.

Officers said Sullivan took the boat out at 7 p. m. Saturday and it was found late Sunday near Gibraltar with one of Sullivan's gloves in it.

CHICAGO PAPERS ARE PICKETED

Continue to Publish As Usual; Stockyards Back to Normal

(By The Associated Press)
Striking members of the Chicago Newspaper Guild picketed the Hearst building in Chicago yesterday (Monday).

The CIO affiliate called out members employed in the editorial and commercial departments of the Chicago Evening American and the Chicago Herald and Examiner early in the day.

The Guild claimed more than 500 men and women joined the strike. Both papers were published, however, while 16 pickets tramped near the structure where both are printed.

In a formal statement the Guild said John L. Lewis, president of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, had promised "full cooperation."

Both sides contended contracts had been violated. The management estimated between 3,200 and 3,300 persons were employed by the two papers. The Guild estimated its members constituted a majority of approximately 1,100 "white collar" workers.

Meanwhile, the Buick plant of the General Motors corporation, employing approximately 14,000 men in Flint, Mich., was closed because of a shortage of automobile bodies due to the strike in a Fisher Body plant there. The Fisher dispute, affecting 6,400 employees, was settled by picket lines were maintained pending ratification of the terms by members of the CIO United Automobile Workers of America.

Trading in livestock at the Chicago stock yards was resumed after a two weeks strike involving 600 livestock handlers. CIO unionists returned to work after the management agreed to continue negotiations and recognize the packing house workers organizing committee as the sole bargaining agent.

One shift of about 1,500 workers went back to their jobs at the Chrysler corporation plant in New Castle, Ind. Approximately 2,000 more were ready to resume their duties in subsequent shifts.

Approximately 4,000 employees of the Nash-Kelvinator corporation returned to work in Milwaukee and Kenosha, Wis., after an "unauthorized" strike of United Automobile Workers.

Two Nations Agree On Uniform Control For Lakes Fishing

Chicago, Dec. 5 (AP)—American and Canadian officials concerned with conservation of the $8,000,000 a year fishing industry in the Great Lakes agreed today upon a basis for uniform control of commercial fisheries.

Meeting with the Council of State Governments, they approved the drafting of interstate compacts to regulate the taking of food fish from the five lakes.

They also urged state legislation to give conservation departments greater power to establish rules for the conservation of food fish. Conservation experts have predicted that commercial fishing in the Great Lakes might in time be ruined unless measures were agreed upon to halt over-fishing.

Pastor's Son Weeps Over Father's Body; Accused Of Murder

Chillicothe, O., Dec. 5 (AP)—Robert Bready broke down and wept openly today upon viewing the body of his father, the Rev. Russell H. Bready, whom he is accused of shooting while being taken for a walk "to sober up."

Three officers took the Methodist minister's son to a funeral home a few hours after he had pleaded innocent to a charge of first degree murder.

Bready, 29, who has boasted of "making a career of drinking," gazed upon the body of his 62-year-old prohibitionist father, whom he has described as "my only friend." He sat down in a chair and sobbed loudly.

Farmhand Admits Extortion Threat

Flint, Mich., Dec. 5 (AP)—Sheriff Thomas W. Wolcott reported tonight a 19-year-old farmhand, Keith Mathews, had confessed to an attempted extortion of $500 from Mrs. Winifred Hathaway, Davison widow, in September, 1937. The sheriff said Mathews admitted writing threatening letters. Mathews will be turned over to federal authorities.

COURT RULES LABOR BOARD WENT TOO FAR

WIDE JURISDICTION OF NLRB OKED, HOWEVER

Washington, Dec. 5 (AP)—The supreme court decided today that the national labor board had exceeded its authority in nullifying collective bargaining contracts between an AFL union and the Consolidated Edison Company of New York and its affiliates.

At the same time the court affirmed that the board has jurisdiction over labor relations of companies like the big New York utility, and upheld part of a board order against the concern.

Despite the contention of the corporation and its affiliates that they operated entirely within a state and were thus outside the federal government's constitutional power over interstate commerce and thus a matter of federal concern.

Can't Invalidate Contracts
As to the board's invalidation of contracts with the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, rival of a CIO union, the court said the brotherhood comprised 80 per cent of the companies' eligible employees and that the board had failed to give it proper notice that its agreement was under fire.

Refusing to sustain the board's argument that the contract was the fruit of unfair labor practices intended to discourage membership in the CIO union, the opinion read by bearded Chief Justice Hughes declared:

"The (labor relations) act gives no express authority to the board to invalidate contracts with independent labor organizations (those not organized or dominated by employers.) That authority, if it exists, must rest upon the provisions of section 10. That section authorizes the board when it has found the employer guilty of unfair labor practices, to require him to desist from such practices and to take such affirmative action, including reinstatement of employees with or without back pay, as will effectuate the policies of this act."

No Basis of Finding
"We think that this authority to order affirmative action does not go so far as to confer a punitive jurisdiction enabling the board to inflict upon the employer any penalty it may choose because he is engaged in unfair labor practices, even though the board be of the opinion that the policies of the act might be effectuated by such an order."

The continued existence of a company union established by unfair labor practices, or of a union dominated by the employer, would thwart the purposes of the act and render ineffective any order restraining the unfair practices, the opinion continued.

But in the pending case, it added: "There is no basis for a finding

FLINT WALKOUT ENDED BY UAW

Strikers Return Today; Give Three Days to Meet Demands

Flint, Mich., Dec. 5 (AP)—Striking CIO unionists voted tonight to return to work tomorrow at Fisher Body Plant No. 1, where a walkout has been followed by idleness for more than 20,000 automobile factory workers, but only upon threat of a new strike if their demands are not satisfied with three days.

Members of Flint Local 581 of the United Automobile Workers Union, who had gone on Strike Friday for "day wages" in preference to piece work pay, voted to resume work tomorrow morning in the General Motors corporation plant.

Henry Wilson, president of the local, announced the decision included a proviso that the negotiations with General Motors must be ended to the "satisfaction" of the union by Friday or a new strike would result.

The local's vote was done locally, on the "aye" and "nay" method, and sources close to the union said three votes were required before the chairman could determine which was the louder.

Earlier today Homer Martin, UAW president, had announced negotiations over the pay issue would be begun Wednesday with General Motors. This would give negotiators two days in which to reach an agreement and stave off another strike.

DEER HUNTER FOUND GUILTY

Holland Man Convicted of Assault; Shot at CCC Truck

Crystal Falls, Mich., Dec. 5 (AP)—Henry A. Troost, Holland, Michigan, hunter who mistook a truck for a deer and wounded two CCC enrollees with gunfire, was convicted today of felonious assault.

Circuit Judge Frank A. Bell, who heard the case without a jury, sentenced Troost to 60 days in the Iron county jail and ordered him to pay costs of $100 and serve two years on probation.

Testimony in the case, which opened at 9 a. m. today and was completed at 5:30 p. m., dealt primarily with the topography of the area where Troost is alleged to have fired into a loaded Civilian Conservation Corps truck November 16 while hunting deer. Two CCC youths were wounded. Officers said Troost told them he saw the truck moving through a screen of trees and mistook it for a deer.

The prosecution endeavored to show that visibility was good the morning the shot struck the youths. Counsel for Troost contended trees obscured their clients' vision and that the color of the canvas top of the truck was similar to that of a deer.

State Policeman Custer Carl-land testified that he arrested Troost after the latter followed the truck into Camp Sidway and reported firing the shot.

Eastern Coast STRUCK BY FOG

Ships and Planes Halted; Many Serious Crashes On Slippery Roads

(By The Associated Press)
A blinding fog hung over the eastern seaboard from Halifax to Atlanta yesterday (Mon.), stalling ships and airplanes, hampering highway traffic and causing several serious crashes on wet or ice-glazed roads.

Three fatal automobile accidents occurred in the Philadelphia area, where 22 also were hurt in the crash of a skidding New York-Miami bus. One person was injured fatally in a pileup of six automobiles and three trucks near Boston. Eight were hurt in another crash near Worcester, Mass.

Near nightfall, the haze began lighting in Boston harbor and the Cape Cod canal, allowing fog-bound ships to creep into port. No ships had moved into New York harbor since noon. The steamer City of Los Angeles delayed docking until today.

New York-Boston buses ran late and airplanes were grounded as far south as Washington early last night. Flying below that point was reported normal.

At Halifax, N. S., visibility dropped to less than 10 feet at times. Ice coated roads in Massachusetts, Vermont and New Hampshire but the thermometer in Rochester, N. Y., broke a 22-year-old record for Dec. 5 when it hit a high of 59.

Cottage Destroyed By Mystery Blaze Near Clinton, Mich.

Clinton, Mich., Dec. 5 (AP)—Mysterious circumstances incident to a fire which destroyed a cottage at an estimated $5,000 loss Saturday night were investigated by state police today.

Many expensive summer homes are situated in the Irish Hills region. Recently two have been looted and an attempt made to burn one of these, police said.

Troopers Lewis Cook and Emerson Lake said they found fresh automobile tracks near the Iron Lake cottage destroyed Saturday night. It belonged to Mrs. Edwina Blake of Detroit.

Spanish Loyalists Release Volunteers

Hendaye, France, Dec. 5 (AP)—The Spanish government proceeded methodically today to discharge foreign volunteers while the battle fronts remained deadlocked.

Following departure of 332 Americans Friday, a detachment of 442 former recruits in the International Brigade came to France Sunday. They included Swedes, Belgians, Netherlands, Frenchmen and Finns.

They were repatriated today on trains from the French border town of Cerbere.

There were a mass of rumors of troop concentrations and coming offensives, from both the government and insurgent aides.

Manslaughter Plea Entered In Slaying Of Detroit Mother

Detroit, Dec. 5 (AP)—A plea of guilty was entered today to a charge of manslaughter by Stanley Ference, originally accused of murder in connection with the fatal shooting last September 25 of his wife, Evelyn. He will be sentenced later by Recorder's Judge Edward J. Jeffries after police and representatives of the prosecutors office agreed to lesser crime charge.

Officers said Ference's wife threatened to take their three children to her mother's home in Ohio and that Ference shot her when she went to the basement of their home to get some money hidden there.

NEW SHERIFFS GO TO SCHOOL

Five Day Course Given Recently Elected Officers

East Lansing, Dec. 5 (AP)—More than a score of newly elected sheriffs "went to school" here today to fit themselves for the jobs they will assume on January 1.

The Michigan Sheriffs' association, state police and state board of control for vocational education are conducting the institute, which will consist of a five-day course of study. The teachers were chosen by representatives of the three groups because they were men who "speak the sheriff's language."

Lectures at the opening sessions today were by Oscar G. Olander, commissioner of state police; Jerome Borden, secretary of the sheriffs' association, and James W. Parr, supervisor of public service training for the state vocational board.

Law, court routine, maintenance and office routine, accident prevention and investigation and record-keeping systems are among the subjects discussed in the attempt to make the school constitute a "common sense approach" to the problems new sheriffs face.

NEW MICHIGAN GOVERNOR OUT TO AID LABOR

NO 'HOUSECLEANING' IS CONTEMPLATED AT LANSING

Grand Ledge, Mich., Dec. 5 (AP)—Michigan's Republican governor-elect, Frank D. Fitzgerald, said in an interview today that "neither labor organizations nor employers will dictate to the government" when he assumes office January 1.

In his first pronouncement on labor policies since he defeated Governor Frank Murphy last month, Fitzgerald said he would recommend to the legislature labor relations intended to facilitate the settlement of industrial disputes without strikes.

Labor Problems First
" My first concern is that the legislation and its administration shall be fair, but stern," he said. "Labor will not run Michigan, Michigan will not control labor organizations. Neither labor organizations nor employers will dictate to the government. I am intent on seeing that workmen are protected both from radical leaders and selfish employers."

Labor relations constituted a major issue during the election campaign, during which Governor Murphy's attitude toward sit-down strikes that beset his administration was criticized and defended, and Fitzgerald, asserting that "the people elected me to make certain changes in the policies of state government," listed it as his No. 1 problem.

New Legislation Proposed
Already at work on his message to the legislature on the subject, he said he was withholding final decision on major phases pending conferences with industrial and labor leaders. He said he planned to seek the guidance of such men as Walter P. Chrysler, of Chrysler Corp., William S. Knudsen, of General Motors Corp., Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers (CIO), and Frank X. Martel, president of the Detroit and Wayne Federation of Labor (AFL).

He has under consideration the desirability of legislation which would require notice of an intention to strike; forbid picketing except by employees of a struck plant; and outlaw any forced payment of union dues.

During his campaign, Fitzgerald advocated a labor relations board which would be responsible for settling disputes that might lead to strikes, and for mediating strikes, and such a recommendation is certain to be included in his legislative message.

Takes Oath of Office
He also is insistent that workmen be given an opportunity to run their own unions, select their leaders, and determine policies in accordance with the principles of a democracy.

Fitzgerald actually becomes governor at midnight December 31, although his inauguration is scheduled for noon, Monday, January 2. He already has taken the oath of office.

Fitzgerald, asserting that there would be no political "housecleaning" when he returns to the state house, said he would ask several Murphy appointees to continue their work indefinitely while his legislative program is under way.

"I made a mistake when I took office as governor four years ago by trying to fill important posts with new men immediately," he

Upper Peninsula Skating Association Gains Recognition

WINNERS TO GO TO NATIONALS

Application of Escanaba Group Approved By A.S.U. Board

The Upper Peninsula Michigan Skating association has been granted full jurisdiction over skating in the entire Upper Peninsula, according to word received yesterday by Gene Hebert, president of the Bay de Noc Skating club of Escanaba from Otto J. Albrecht, secretary-treasurer of the Amateur Skating Union of the United States. Recognition of the Upper Peninsula organization, in effect, will set apart the region above the Straits as a separate state as far as skating is concerned. Winners of open meets under the auspices of the U. P. association will be eligible to go direct to the national speed skating meet, without further competition downstate.

A meeting of skating enthusiasts representing all cities of the Upper Peninsula will be called by the local group, probably on Wednesday, December 14, for the purpose of organizing the U. P. organization. The Bay de Noc Skating club has been working for some time to acquire a separate charter for U. P. skating activities.

Meets can be put on by the U. P. association without sanction from the Michigan Skating association, with headquarters at Detroit. Formerly it was necessary for the local club to have meets sanctioned there, and to use officials sanctioned by the Detroit organization if competition was to be made official.

Escanaba is certain to have several skaters eligible for the national speed skating meet this winter, with the new organization approved, as a complete skating team will not be selected to represent the Upper Peninsula. In the national races. Under the former arrangement Upper Peninsula skaters, after winning regional tournaments, were forced to compete at downstate meets to gain eligibility for the national races.

The new association will be an organization made up of representatives of speed skating clubs throughout the peninsula. The text of the letter from Albrecht, announcing recognition of the U. P. association, follows:

Mr. Gene Hebert, President, Bay de Noc Skating Club, Escanaba, Michigan.

Dear Mr. Hebert: This is to notify you that the board of control of the Amateur Skating Union of the United States has approved your application for membership and has granted the Upper Peninsula Michigan Skating association full jurisdiction over skating in the entire Upper Peninsula.

President Hodous and myself wish to congratulate you and your association and sincerely hope that you prove to be a good association and further the interests of skating.

I would like to have the names and addresses of your officers and also the name and address of whomever you select to be the board of control member to the Amateur Skating Union.

If at anytime there is anything you wish to know either pertaining to race meets or to the operation of the Amateur Skating Union I want you to feel free to write me.

When you get your constitution and by-laws drawn up I wish that you would forward a copy to me, for the files.

Well good luck to the Upper Peninsula and I hope that at some future date I have the pleasure of meeting some of your members, and that you develop some skaters that will become known nationally.

Very truly yours,
Otto J. Albrecht,
Secretary-treasurer,
Amateur Skating Union of the United States.

Burns Prove Fatal To Marquette Baby

Marquette, Mich., Dec. 5 (AP)—Three-year-old Mary Ann Sandell died in St. Luke's hospital today of burns suffered last Thursday when her night clothes caught fire.

The child and her brother, Harold, 4, are believed to have been lighting pieces of paper and throwing them in the fireplace. Mrs. Herbert Sandell, the mother, suffered burns in extinguishing the daughter's flaming clothing.

Bay City Man Dies After Bumper Fall

Bay City, Mich., Dec. 5 (AP)—Gustave Wagner, 59, Route 4, Bay City, died at General hospital here this afternoon following an early morning accident near here in which he fell off the bumper of a car pushing another and struck his head. Although he did not regain consciousness after the accident, hospital attendants said his death was caused by apoplexy and was not the direct result of injuries.

COMMUNICATION

JUDGE GADOLA

December 3, 1938

To the Editor: Perhaps the most vicious, intemperate speech of the recent campaign in Delta County was the one delivered at the Coliseum by Judge Paul V. Gadola of Flint, Mich., under the auspices of the Delta County Republican Committee.

It now transpires that the worthy judge has close Italian Fascist connections; a revelation that will surprise no one who heard his speech or is familiar with his ultra-reactionary judicial record.

During the campaign Judge Gadola appeared before the malodorous Dies Committee in Washington, D. C., and—under the guise of submitting testimony—unburdened himself of a bitterly vituperative attack on the character and integrity of Governor Frank Murphy. The performance was so palpably partisan that both Gadola and the Committee drew a stinging public rebuke from President Roosevelt; a rebuke that was echoed by every decent editor in America.

On December 1, 1938, the Dies Committee heard testimony, supported by a wealth of evidence, specifically charging Judge Gadola with frequent attendance at Fascist meetings in Flint; solicitation of funds from Italo-American citizens for financing Premier Mussolini's then projected invasion of Ethiopia; and intimate association with Giacomo Ungarelli, Italian vice-consul in Detroit. (It should be mentioned in this latter connection that Ungarelli's pro-Fascist activities became so obnoxious to the people of Detroit that the State Department peremptorily demanded his recall; a request with which the Italian Government hastily complied.)

The writer yields to no man in his contempt for Representatives Dies, Starnes, Mosler and their works. Every politically literate person in the hemisphere recognized them as "phonies" long before their Committee held a hearing. That the Committee's purpose is to "smear" American liberalism and build up a political following for Martin Dies as a spokesman for organized reaction must now be evident to everyone whose education has progressed beyond the alphabet and "tabloid" stage.

However, in view of the elaborate newspaper publicity that has attended the Committee's imbecilities, it is interesting to note the press coverage of Gadola's exposure as an Italian Fascist. And, because Judge Gadola toured the Upper Peninsula as an apostle of Republican "law and order," the treatment of his incrimination by local newspapers becomes doubly intriguing.

It should be remembered that Judge Gadola's attack on Governor Murphy was featured on the front pages of every newspaper in Michigan. How then did the exposure of Gadola as an Italian Fascist fare in the press? A brief but exacting survey follows:

The Detroit News (Dec. 1) carried a front page sub-headline and 5 1/2 solid columns of coverage by a staff correspondent which featured the Gadola incident. The Detroit Free Press (Dec. 1) devoted 3 1/2 columns to the testimony incriminating Gadola, written by a staff attaché. The Petoskey Evening News (Dec. 1) carried a United Press story of the incident on the front page. The Alpena News (United Press franchise) suppressed the story. The Sault Evening News (Associated Press franchise) suppressed the Gadola angle. The Menominee Herald Leader ran a column story on page 2 by the Associated Press, stressing the Gadola angle. The Marquette Mining Journal (Associated Press franchise) ran the story on the front page, including the Gadola incident. The Escanaba Daily Press ran the story on the front page (Dec. 2) under an Associated Press dateline but omitted all reference to the Gadola angle. (In fairness it should be mentioned that space limitation sometimes precludes the printing of dispatches in their entirety.)

Obviously, in view of Judge Gadola's public appearance in Escanaba—on which occasion he besmirched the characters of many

Education Lagging In United States, Says NEA Leader

Detroit, Dec. 5 (AP)—Dr. Reuben T. Shaw, president of the National Education association, today told an audience of more than 300 representatives of the Detroit Teachers association that the "United States is farther from providing equal educational opportunity for all children than it was 100 years ago."

Dr. Shaw, head of the science department of Northeast high school at Philadelphia, cited the study made last year by President Roosevelt's advisory committee on education in which it was indicated that 800,000 children of the nation were not attending school because schools were not accessible.

He charged that more than 25 per cent of the country's teachers receive a salary of less than the wage designated by a federal commission as the minimum for unskilled labor.

Poll Book Figures Final In Election, Says Circuit Judge

Bay City, Mich., Dec. 5 (AP)—Circuit Judge John C. Shaffer, of Gladwin county, ruled today in a hearing on a writ of mandamus that the county board of canvassers must take the poll book figures in determining the race for county clerk.

The ruling reversed a decision of the board previously in which tally book figures were to be taken. The latter show a majority for County Clerk John F. Meagher, Democrat. Poll book totals, however, give Adolph Blanchard, Republican, a majority of nearly 300. Blanchard had asked for the writ to prevent certification of Meagher.

Meagher said that he would appeal to the state supreme court.

who are—morally and intellectually—his infinite betters, his exposure as an Italian Fascist qualifies as "news" by any criterion of journalism.

It is discouraging to reflect that the task of "saving Old Glory" is being entrusted to men of Paul Gadola's breed. Nor is it inspiring to learn that Michigan's judiciary includes an illustrious Blackshirt. Those who went up and down the state bellowing for "law and order" during the campaign might profitably commence the process by removing from the bench men like Gadola who are a disgrace to the legal profession and an affront to the decent citizenry of Michigan.

"I will not make the same mistake again. No patronage matters will even be considered until my entire legislative program is prepared and well under way. I am mindful of my political obligation but my first responsibility is to do a job for the people, rather than just a political job for the Republican party."

All Want Jobs Fitzgerald listed among those he hoped to retain in the state service at least during the early months of his administration Alvan Macauley, Jr., banking commissioner; Dr. Don A. Gudakunst, health commissioner; Harold D. Smith, budget director; Charles E. Gauss, insurance commissioner; and John B. Strange, commissioner of agriculture.

He disclosed that George J. Burke, of Ann Arbor, had submitted a letter of resignation, and said he intended to ask Burke "not to be in such a hurry" because "I may need his services."

Fitzgerald also said he had no intention of making immediate changes in the administrative officers of the state penal institutions.

The governor-elect, who returned Saturday from a three-week vacation in Florida, said that 95 per cent of the 300 letters he receives daily contain requests for jobs.

The applicants, he said, apparently do not realize that "we have a civil service which must be enforced" and that "one of our foremost tasks is to cut $8,500,000 a year off the state payroll," which cannot be accomplished by "discharging those on the payroll, only to replace them with others."

He said he intended to confer with Governor Murphy before January 1 although he added, "his ideas of government and mine are different."

MURPHY ASKS COOPERATION Lansing, Dec. 5 (AP)—Governor Murphy said today that he will ask non-political department heads "to forget partisanship entirely" in making ready for a new state administration.

"The main thing is to remember that it's the people we're working for," Murphy declared. "I hope we may be able to establish real continuity in government in this manner, and provide the incoming governor with more complete information and more good recommendations for the future than anyone ever has had before him."

The governor said he would make his views clear to the administrative officers concerned in a meeting tomorrow, which will

Suit Asks $20,000 For Nose Fracture At Harper Hospital

Detroit, Dec. 5 (AP)—A federal attorney went into Wayne county circuit court today with a demand for $20,000 damages from a hospital.

Assistant United States District Attorney Peter P. Gilbert, the plaintiff, set forth that his wife suffered a broken nose when she slipped and fell upon entering the lunch room at Harper hospital Oct. 1.

Gilbert said the hospital disclaimed liability on grounds it was a charitable institution. Gilbert contends the hospital, however, has no charter to operate lunch room.

Detroit Policeman Wounded In Scuffle With His Brother

Detroit, Dec. 5 (AP)—Charles Buckles, a Detroit policeman, was in a hospital today suffering from a gunshot wound that Assistant Deputy Police Superintendent William J. Heidt said had apparently been inflicted during a scuffle between Buckles and his brother, Barney.

The shooting occurred shortly after midnight Sunday but Buckles did not enter a hospital until shortly before noon, Heidt said.

Barney Buckles told him, Heidt said, that his brother threatened his wife with a pistol and he interfered, the service pistol discharging as they grappled.

KruGon Gave Him Quick Results

Acid, Sour Stomach Had Made Mr. Johnson's Life Unbearable At Times Before He Learned of KruGon.

"KruGon is the first medicine I have ever taken that actually accomplished all that was claimed for it," said Mr. Omar Johnson, 503 West 5th St., Rock Falls, Ill.

"I had suffered with a bad stomach for many months. I had an acid condition which caused all foods I ate to sour, gases formed in abundance and I would bloat severely regardless of my diet. What little food I ate did not give me the proper nourishment. My bowels were so irregular that my entire system soon became clogged with impurities. I was at the place of not knowing what to do next when I began to hear so much praise for KruGon so I gave it a trial myself."

"Only those who have taken KruGon themselves can appreciate its true value," continued Mr. Johnson. "KruGon actually surprised me with its thorough action. From the first few doses I began to show rapid improvement, my stomach is now fine, digestion good and I can again eat my meals without after distress. Constipation has been relieved, poisons have been eliminated and I am again feeling like my former self. It is a pleasure to do my daily work now and I cannot say half enough in praising such a commendable remedy as the KruGon."

KruGon is sold by West End Drug Store, 1221 Ludington St., this city.

DEATH CLAIMS GEORGE H. FISH

Double Pneumonia Fatal to North Western Conductor

George H. Fish, 68, of 1510 State street, Menominee, former Escanaba resident, and widely known Chicago & North Western railway conductor, died at 11 o'clock Monday morning at St. Joseph's hospital, Menominee.

His death, which was unexpected, and which came as a shock to his family and friends, was caused by double pneumonia, and followed only a brief illness. He had been suffering from a heavy cold, but had gone to work as usual on Saturday. His condition became suddenly worse Monday morning and he was taken at once to the hospital, but died a short time later.

Mr. Fish was born in Escanaba June 29, 1870. He entered the service of the Chicago & North Western on March 1, 1896, as a machinist. A year later he became a brakeman, and in April, 1903, was promoted to the position of conductor, which he held until his death.

Surviving are his widow, one daughter, Mrs. Marcella Jones of this city, and one son, William, who is a student at Marquette university, Milwaukee; his mother, Mrs. Victor Fish of this city; and the following brothers and sisters: William, Chicago; Charles of Green Bay; Mrs. Ralph Finley, Escanaba; Mrs. Thomas Cleary, Lansing, Mich.; Mrs. William Schragle, Chicago; and Mrs. R. E. Hodson, Marquette, also four grandchildren.

The body will remain in state at Menominee until 9 o'clock Thursday morning, when it will be brought to Escanaba, and taken to the Allo Funeral Home, to rest in state until the funeral hour. Services will be held Friday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Joseph's church, Rev. Fr. Edward Leary, O.F.M., officiating, and burial will be made in Lakeview cemetery.

HIT BY CAR

Saginaw (AP)—The body of Charles Ordish, 63, of Saginaw, was found Monday on Highway US-10 two miles west of here. The fact that fragments of an automobile headlight were found nearby indicated that Ordish had been struck by a hit-run driver, officers said.

Former Escanaban, John Scott, Sr., 72, Dies At Iron River

Iron River, Dec. 5.—John Scott, Sr., aged 72, Iron county representative in the state legislature, died at 1 o'clock this afternoon at his home at Ice Lake following a five months' illness with heart trouble.

Mr. Scott was born in Chicago, the family later moving to Escanaba, and then to Florence and Iron River. For many years he was employed as an engineer on the Wisconsin & Michigan and the North Western railways and also served as constable and chief of police of Iron River.

He was elected representative as a Democrat in 1926, but was defeated for renomination this fall by E. Burr Sherwood, who was then defeated for election by Victor Benson.

GETS PRISON TERM

Detroit, Dec. 5 (AP)—A prison sentence of from five to 10 years was given Ray D. Richardson, 39, Monday by Circuit Judge Ira W. Jayne. Richardson was accused along with three other men of stealing and forging signatures to 150 state unemployment benefit checks. The other members of the quartet, all of whom were charged with conspiracy to defraud, were placed on probation and ordered to repay $80 each.

Ottawa, Ont. — President Roosevelt's call for a sweeping program of "continental defense" finds United States' first neighbor, Canada, probably the most lightly defended country of her importance in the world.

For the security of her eastern seaboard, the Dominion looks naturally to the protection of the British North Atlantic fleet and for the security of the Pacific she depends very frankly on the presence of the friendly American navy.

Combine Canada's forces, including the British fleet in the Atlantic, with those of the United States, including the fleet in the Pacific, and it is doubtful if any country might successfully invade.

Canada could mobilize more than 750,000 men for war service over a four-year stretch, it is estimated in high military circles in Ottawa.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Washington — Three significant facts emerged from the meeting of the Republican National Committee:

- 1. That there is just as sharp a cleavage between liberals and conservatives in the GOP as there is among the Democrats.
2. That there is strong rank-and-file sentiment that Herbert Hoover and National Chairman John Hamilton must be eliminated from leadership if the party is to win in 1940.
3. That the congressional leaders, aligned with the liberals, are determined to shape their own policy in legislation and to brook no interference from the Hoover-Hamilton group.

The struggle for control between the Old Guard and Young Guard and the undercurrent of hostility toward Hoover and Hamilton are part of the same fight. There are, however, veteran leaders who oppose the young militants but at the same time agree with them that Hoover and Hamilton must be retired to the background.

Privately, these Old Guards said that the National Chairman and former President had become unpopular symbols in the public mind, that the party could not afford to go into the presidential campaign encumbered with them.

TOUGH CUSTOMER

The consensus of opinion among all groups was that no serious difficulty would be encountered in shelving Hamilton. He has never been really popular, and now estranged from Landon, the man who named him, he will be replaced sooner or later. But squelching Hoover is a different matter.

The ex-President does not hold a party office, and it is difficult to shoot at an intangible target. Also, Hoover has powerful business and political allies, is thus in a position indirectly to make his influence felt in the councils of the party even though he doesn't show his hand.

This was demonstrated by the selection of ex-Senator Dan Hastings of Delaware to the Executive Committee over Kenneth Simpson, progressive campaign manager of New York's Tom Dewey. The maneuver was put over entirely by Hoover, although he did not appear openly at any time in the bitter undercover fight.

Hoover had previously tried to stop Simpson's election as National Committee member of the New York State Committee. Rank-and-file hostility to Hoover made itself felt and Simpson won, but in the National Committee, Hoover had no such trouble with the older party leaders.

This struggle of the GOP rank-and-file with its leaders will be intensified from now on, its outcome may determine the fate of the party's drive to return to national control in 1940.

CONGRESSIONAL INDEPENDENTS

The Republican leaders in Congress fresh from the hustings, want no part of the Hoover-Hamilton group, and have shown they feel very strongly about it. They are going to form their own policies and strategy in dealing with the New Deal and legislative problems. Their independence was bluntly asserted when a Hoover leader in the National Committee proposed that a Republican program be formulated for the coming session of Congress.

"There will be nothing like that," he was informed, "our party is not in control and the country would resent our attempting to assume such a role. Furthermore, that would be playing into the hands of the New Dealers, for it would give them the chance to raise the partisan cry and rally the conservative Democrats who otherwise will play ball with us."

NON-PARTISAN

A. P. and L. M. Giannini, leading California bankers, are girding themselves with both New Deal and GOP legal talent for their tussle next month with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

In addition to ex-Senator William Gibbs McAdoo, the Gianninis have employed Senator Daniel Hastings of Delaware, Old Guard Republican recently elected to the party's Executive Committee over Kenneth Simpson.

CAT-AND-DOG FIGHT

Hearings of the TVA investigation have degenerated into a cat-and-dog squabble, with Representative Tom Jenkins of Ohio and Charles Wolverton of New Jersey constantly fighting with most of the other committee members. Jenkins and Wolverton are openly pro-utility and against the government power project.

Most aggressive TVA defender is Representative Graham Barden of North Carolina, appointed to the committee several months ago in place of Representative William Driver of Arkansas, who was defeated for renomination. Young and scrappy, Barden challenges practically everything Wolverton and Jenkins say or do.

Lyrics of Life

By Douglas Malloch

ASK THE SKY

Snowflakes in the North. Raindrops in the South. So the gray old earth Drinks with thirsty mouth. Always to the sky Lips are lifted up— So may you and I Drink from that same cup.

Faith is in the stars

Strength is in the sun. In the rosy bars Hope when day is done. Fear looks left or right. Sorrow to the ground. But in heaven's light Is the answer found.

Thence the kiss of rain

Heals the hurt, the sting. There the sun again Promises the spring. Life may lose its worth. Faith may wonder why. Seek no help of earth. Ask it of the sky.

Main Street

TWO Ludington street buildings that served as landmarks of Escanaba's earlier commercial life, have been razed in recent weeks. One stood at 312 Ludington street and the other at 505 Ludington.

The building at 312 Ludington for many years served as the office, tobacco and candy store of Henry McFall, one of Delta county's earliest cornermen, and one of this county's most outstanding characters.

Although there were few cases in those days to warrant the attention of a coroner, Mr. McFall was probably the only Delta county coroner who devoted his entire time to the job, he held for more than 30 years. Probably his most famous case was that recorded about 35 years ago, when a homesteader by the name of Jepsen, was found dead in his shack far back in the woods north of Brampton, then an almost impenetrable wilderness.

Jepsen's death occurred during one of the most severe winters ever to be visited upon this section and the body was not discovered until early spring. As coroner, Mr. McFall was called to the scene and it was found that death had occurred several weeks before the body was discovered.

With each day the writing grew fainter, until it finally disappeared entirely, as the dying man was able to make but a faint pencil scrawl. The calendar was brought out by Mr. McFall and later a facsimile of the death message appeared in the New York World, together of a picture of the coroner, which was one of Mr. McFall's most prized possessions, to the end of his days.

The building at 505 Ludington street, now being razed to make a location for the L & L Trucking Company's new warehouse, was occupied in early days as a saloon by the late Richard Roth. Later Homer Papineau, now of St. Jacques conducted a saloon and boarding house at the location and still later the building served as a horse sales stable for the late Q. R. Hessel.

Finland Will Pay

TINY but proud and honest Finland has notified the state department that she will deposit $232,935 at the Federal Reserve Bank in New York to make the installment payment on its war debt, falling due Dec. 15.

Finland is alone among 13 debtor nations, who recognizes the responsibility of paying what she owes to the United States. By so doing, this nation and her people have won the admiration and respect of the American people. Again they salute the Finnish people and wish them junk peace, prosperity and happiness.

Americans who go on vacation tours abroad would do well to recognize Finland. Instead of going to the debtor countries to spend the money they earned in America, they might pay a visit to Finland. They will get their money's worth in Finland, where there are honest and hospitable people, magnificent mountain and woodland scenery, good hunting and fishing, and many other recreational attractions.

Football for a Dime

TEN cents admission to a football game is the proposal of Robert Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago, for removing overemphasis and its attendant evils from college football.

Removal or reduction of the amount of money available to college sports departments would do much to clean up the game, Hutchins feels. He was the boy wonder of college presidents a few years ago. As the head of the great and richly endowed University of Chicago he can launch there an experiment in sociology and advanced pigskin ethics that the world will watch with interest.

Thousands of football fans in the middle west will be glad to co-operate in the purge of the wicked dollar from the game. Meanwhile Dr. Hutchins' premise that people go to college to improve their minds can wait. That will be taken up by the quarterbacks' club right after the first 10-cent football game.

LEGION PARLEY DATES ARE SET

State Convention Will Be Held In City Aug. 20-22

Tentative plans for the 1938 state convention of the American Legion were made by representatives of the Cloverland Post No. 82 and state officers of the Legion at a conference in Benton Harbor last week-end.

The dates of the state convention in Escanaba were designated as Aug. 20 to 22, a week after the close of the Upper Peninsula State Fair. The Upper Peninsula Legion convention will be held on the previous day, Aug. 19.

The state competition of Legion Drum and Bugle Corps will be held on Aug. 20 and the huge parade on the second day.

Detroit Legionnaires will come to the convention aboard passenger boats of the D. of C. Lines. Veterans living on the western end of the Lower Peninsula are planning to charter a boat for the trip, and some will be coming in private yachts.

Representing Escanaba at the Benton Harbor meeting were: Emmett Meehan, Tom Beaton Jr., N. P. Thompson and Harold P. Lindsay.

Major Nelson In Talk At Rotary

Choosing as his topic, "The poor ye have always" (Matt. 26:11), Major Fritz Nelson, commander of the local Salvation Army post, gave a highly interesting talk at the regular meeting of Rotary yesterday noon.

After tracing the facts regarding the ancient quotation, Major Nelson said in part:

"And so on into the New Testament: 'THE POOR—ALWAYS'."

"The references are directed toward a condition, not a class. The caste system of India makes poverty and begging a matter of class (profession). Over there, I say we advisedly, as the Salvation Army is the foremost organization in India engaged in the reclamation of these beggar tribes, and with good success—but the poor always remain!

"For real poverty transcends the present condition of lacking the necessities of life, the strictly material view.

"Even a casual analysis brings us to the conclusion that 'the poor' may be classified into at least three groups.

Mentally Poor—

"The 'break neck' speed of our generation is producing bumper crops of the mentally deficient—

"Institution for their care and keeping are steadily enlarged—

The Poor—Always!

"In New York I had as one of my responsibilities the oversight and care of sons and daughters of wealth—black sheep of families prominent in many parts of the world whom in the mealstom had drifted into the great city. Periodically they received their allowances from across the sea, perhaps from the other side of the globe—mine was the task to supervise for them to some extent—alas, what tales of mental poverty could be told!

"And often the tale would end off the docks along Hudson river or the Bay, a leap into the path of the New England Flyer. The open grave—without benefit of Clergy.

The Spiritually Poor—

"The fool saith in his heart, there is no God!

"Granted that true and basic wisdom is from God—here is the source of hopeless ignorance and despair—poverty in the spiritual realm.

"In a moment utter distress a goddess gave vent to his emotions in the outburst: 'MY GOD! how fierce a fight is here . . . The poor always, reaching out for something secure in their time of distress.

"While stationed on the infamous thoroughfare known as the New York Bowery my life was thrown into close contact with a man whose early life had been one of unselfish and acceptable service to God and humanity. In his backslidings he became the victim of his own self seeking and greed until at last his spiritual poverty drove him to the pistol which he had kept in his office during the years as protection against possible intruders. He had become his own worst enemy and he laid himself low with a shot through the head.

"The Poor You Have Always! The Physically Poor

"They are legion! We see them daily. Men who except for their physical weaknesses would be in the forefront of endeavor. Well ahead of the majority both mentally and spiritually and financially—but paupers physically.

"Yes, the poor we have always! Even in Escanaba.

"The poor, whom ever since the oldest of you can remember, have been, now are and alas, ever shall be poor. If this be fatalism make the most of it.

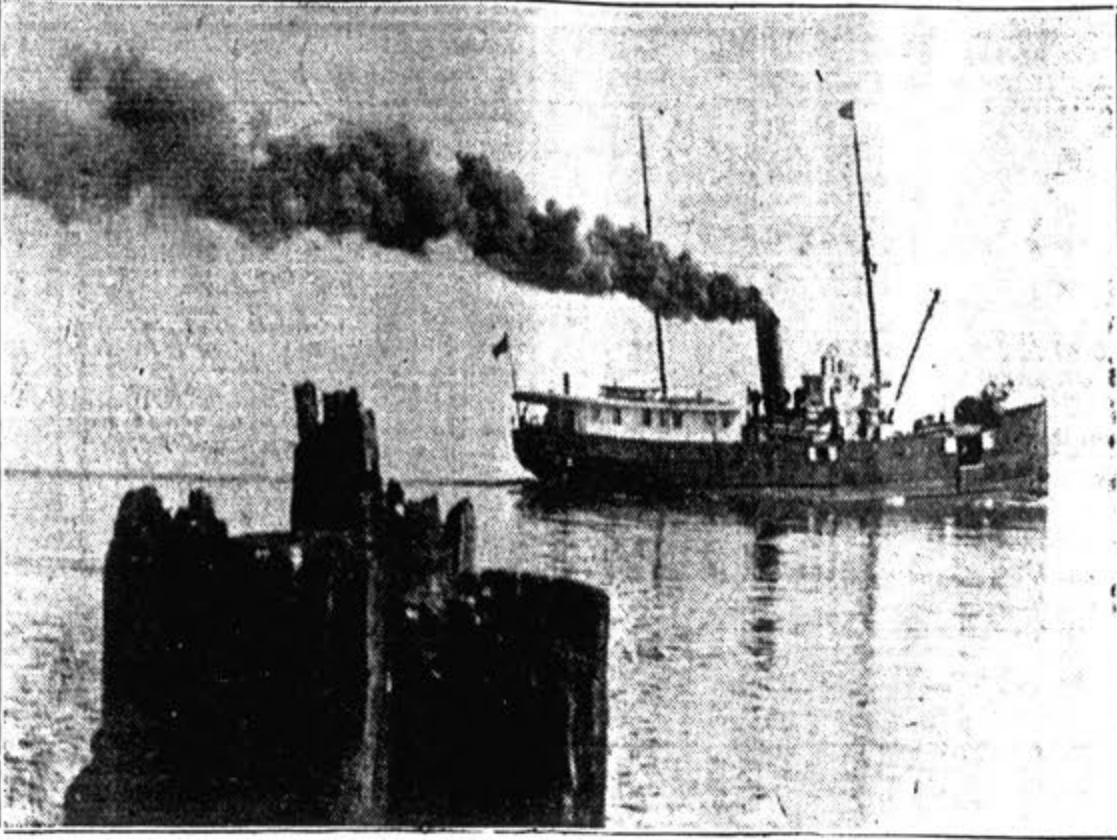

"The old woman confessing that ashamed of her rags she has not darkened the door of church for decades. Alas, under the tattered rags that poverty of mind—

"The man whose one and only need is a pair of Shoes, but soon we learn from his own lips a tale of poverty making the need of shoes a matter of comparative insignificance.

"It is a tale of a man poor in heart and soul.

"The children whom in their own quaint way come to ask for some little pittance, but soon we understand that anything we can

State Political Gossip

Republicans Await Job Decisions

Lansing, Mich. The post-election breathing spell is about at an end. Gov.-Elect Frank D. Fitzgerald is due back from Florida with a sun tan and a lot of ideas and Michigan Republicans are sitting nervously on the anxious seat waiting for things to start happening.

In the Fitzgerald appointments, Republicans will be looking for the key to an understanding of the Fitzgerald Administration. They realize that the legislative program, particularly labor relations, is of first importance, but they want to know most of all where the key jobs are going. Every time one of these appointments is announced, the first question scores of Republicans are going to ask themselves will be, "Is he a McKay man?"

That attitude promises to be a constant irritation to the new Governor, but it is one he will find it hard to avoid. The position of Frank D. McKay in the Republican party has been too well advertised. The personal and political friendship between him and Fitzgerald is too well known.

Fitzgerald declined to discuss appointments during his vacation in Florida, but the selection of his principal aids is a task he cannot delay much longer. Last information from him by telephone was that he had not yet decided on an executive secretary. That usually is a new governor's first appointment.

Shilson Unlikely to Take Position

The most obvious selection for this job would be Gilbert T. (Duke) Shilson, formerly of the Associated Press Bureau in Lansing, a close personal friend of Fitzgerald and the man who was his first aid during the last campaign. Shilson could have the job if he wants it, but he probably doesn't want it. He realizes that from some standpoints he just isn't cut out for a front office man. The Iron Duke can make loyal friends if he is given a little time, but he has a surly exterior and a habit of speaking frankly, if not bluntly. There is a little too much of the iron in his system to be a glad-hander. His idea of the diplomatic way of getting rid of unwelcome visitors probably would be to personally toss them out on their ears.

One of the problems which is likely to be submitted to Fitzgerald for suggestions the first time some Republican legislator can get his ear, is the identity of the speaker of the House. The chances are he will not want to have anything to do with making the selection if he can avoid it. It would be an excellent way to start making enemies in the Legislature.

The suggestion of McKay influence already has been raised in do will be insufficient and temporary indeed.

"An inheritance of low estate seem to becloud their sad condition of poverty.

"We legislate for the poor, yet, the poor remain with us.

Champions the Poor

"The Salvation Army champions the cause of that human heritage: THE POOR.

"Our plea for them is the call of the patriarch: 'He that Honoreth God hath mercy on the poor!'

"In more than two hundred languages and dialects that call it sounded around the world in ninety-three countries and colonies. Yes, it is an international heritage and no nation, people or tribe escape its demands.

"It is a burden inflicted upon Cosmopolitan cities and small communities alike. But is it to despair at?

"It is an inheritance like its cousins, sickness, sin, death. We come face to face with these adversaries and the brave battle well and win the fight. And where the problem is met bravely and adequately it fails to become overwhelming in its ramifications.

"The challenge of The Salvation Army is to put the Gospel of Love into action in this and all kindred problems."

connection with the speakership Melville B. McPherson is buying himself with promoting the candidacy of Rep. Maurice E. Post, of Rockford, Kent County, and his second choice is reported to be Rep. Charles R. Peenstra, also of Kent. It is difficult to think of Republican politics and Kent County without also thinking of McKay. McPherson, State tax commissioner, is not a member of the Legislature, but it is not new for him to take an interest in what it does. He also is from Kent county and he is acquainted with McKay.

Governor's Wishes Rule Many Matters

The influence of the Governor is far reaching. The question as to what his attitude might be is even entering into the discussions of a selection of clerk of the House. Some House members are wondering if the Governor would insist that Myles F. Gray, of Lansing, former clerk, should have that job. Quite a number of them would like to see it go to James G. Frey, of Battle Creek, former member of the House and now secretary of the State Central Committee. They are sure they could get formidable support for him if they decided to make a campaign.

Frey would like the position, but he is a loyal party man and he is not likely to do any campaigning for it on his own behalf unless he gets some indication from Fitzgerald that the field is open.

Rep. Elton R. Eaton, of Plymouth, is not a candidate for speaker. He said this week that he doesn't want the job because there is a lot of legislation he wants to get passed and such a purpose can better be accomplished working from the floor.

He wants a law to put an end to the "mob" convention system in Wayne County. He probably will suggest a direct primary or a county convention by congressional districts.

He wants another law which will put an end to the holding of county jobs by legislators, or the election to the Legislature of those who hold county jobs.

He is going to work for a bill to "take politics out of welfare administration," another which will make it impossible for one man to run for office on two tickets in the same election, and a fifth which will keep parties off the election ballots unless they can go out and get some votes, or signatures to petitions.

Republicans to Stage Two Victory Sessions

Two Republican celebrations are scheduled for next week, one in Ann Arbor, Thursday night and the other in Albion, Friday night, each to be largely a gathering of State senators. Senator George P. McCallum will be the host in Ann Arbor and Senator-elect Joseph A. Baldwin in Albion. Fitzgerald and the other newly elected State officers are to be present.

In connection with these meetings, reports are being circulated that an attempt to take the authority for making committee appointments away from the Lieutenant-Governor is being organized among Republican senators. That is a prerogative which Luren D. Dickinson can be expected to guard jealously. An effort by senators to take over the selection of committees was made 12 years ago. Dickinson was Lieutenant-Governor then. The effort failed.

Miller Dunckel, State treasurer-elect, was the first of the newly elected Republican officials to call on the Democrat he is to succeed in this case, Theodore I. Fry. Dunckel assured Fry he had no plans for disturbing the operations of the office. Fry, from a background of six years experience, advised Dunckel that in running the office of treasurer the best politics is to forget politics and try to do a good job for the people. Dunckel asked Fry to give him an autographed picture of himself to hang on the wall of the treasurer's office.

The office of the attorney-general is waiting hopefully for the appearance of Thomas Read, attorney-general-elect. He has not

Delta County 4-H Club Leaders Plan Session Tomorrow

Leaders of all Delta county 4-H clubs will meet for a dinner and business session tomorrow night. Dinner will be served at the Delta hotel at 6:30 o'clock, and will be followed by a meeting in the Delta county courthouse. E. A. Wenner, county agricultural agent and 4-H head, announced yesterday.

Speakers at the session will be Clare Roof and Marcella Meyer of Marquette, Upper Peninsula 4-H club leaders. The winter program of 4-H activities will be the subject of the session.

MRS. FISCHER PASSES AWAY

Was Daughter of Late Solomon Greenhoot; Funeral Today

Mrs. Melville B. Fischer, 43, Washington, D. C., the former Marguerite Greenhoot of Escanaba, died at a Chicago hospital Saturday. She underwent an operation several weeks ago, and was convalescing and, it appeared, on her way to recovery when she suffered a relapse.

Mrs. Fischer was born in Escanaba, and was graduated from the Escanaba high school and National Park college, Washington, D. C. She was the daughter of the late Solomon Greenhoot, pioneer business leader and one-time mayor of Escanaba.

Besides her husband, she is survived by two sons, Greenhoot and Max Fischer, a twin sister, Mrs. Madeline G. Katz, Chicago, and another sister, Mrs. Theresa Schwager, also of Chicago.

Funeral services will be held at the Oakwood chapel in Chicago today, and burial will be in the Rosehill cemetery in the lot where the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Greenhoot, are interred. Miss Ethel Gessner of Escanaba left yesterday to attend the funeral.

BEHIND THE SCENES

By John T. Flynn

NEA Service Staff Correspondent
It is now obvious that the administration intends to step out in international affairs and play an aggressive role.

Of course we are not told that we are to do a little world policing. We are merely told the President will attempt to "amend" the Neutrality Act.

Maybe we should do this. Doubtless many good Americans think we should. But at least we ought to be frank with ourselves about it and know precisely what we are doing.

We have a Neutrality Act. The policy of the act is to keep ourselves out of quarrels between other nations. It is based upon the well-founded fear that if two other nations go to war and we attempt to supply them with munitions...

There is another doctrine—the exact opposite of this and the exact opposite of neutrality. That doctrine is to be un-neutral. It proposes to take sides. It proposes to permit this country to weigh the guilt in the event of a war between two nations and then put ourselves on the side of one of them by refusing to sell to the aggressor—the guilty nation.

The President plans to "amend" the Neutrality Act to put that power into his hands. The way to deal honestly with the country is to scrap the Neutrality Act and pass a new act embodying this different and contradictory policy.

But if America is to go in for this, how should we do it? If we are to put ourselves into the situation against the aggressor, we have to decide who is the aggressor. Who will make that decision? For remember, that is a decision which may lead us into war.

SERIAL STORY LOVERS AWEIGH

BY BETTY WALLACE.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
JUDY A. COLETT—admiral's daughter. She faced a choice between two navy suitors.

Yesterday: By accident, Dwight meets Judy again, relates his troubles, how Cary Tennant dated, kissed Marvel. The talk is painful for Judy, still torn by her old love.

CHAPTER XXV
"Another man's wife!" The words drummed in Judy's brain. She stared at Dwight. Had he actually said that? Did he realize what he was saying?

She remembered the time she and Diane Bell had glimpsed Marvel and Cary Tennant in that downtown San Diego restaurant. Cary's hands had been close to Marvel's, almost caressing her fingers.

Dwight was saying, "I couldn't make Marvel see it my way. Judy kept insisting that she must be allowed to keep her old friends. They understood her, she said. My friends were impossible. She hated them! She said she hated the Navy! And I always knew—I couldn't help seeing—that if Marvel's old crowd, a little philandering doesn't matter. They expect it. It's the only fun they have! None of them work—more money than they know what to do with—Why, Judy, that party on Carey Tennant's yacht was—wasn't decent!"

Judy knew what he meant. Cocktails to excess, and laughter to excess. Wild dancing—heedless gaiety. Today was wild and tomorrow—the dance with what happens! All she could find to say was, "I'm sorry."

She wanted to buy Paris clothes, travel in the most luxurious way. Whenever I said I couldn't afford a three hundred dollar gown, or twenty-five dollar hats, she always flunk back that I couldn't stop her from spending her money.

She wanted to buy Paris clothes, travel in the most luxurious way. Whenever I said I couldn't afford a three hundred dollar gown, or twenty-five dollar hats, she always flunk back that I couldn't stop her from spending her money.

Maybe Marvel will change her mind. She asked herself inwardly why she was bothering to comfort Dwight, why she was defending his disloyal wife. Marvel Hastings wouldn't have defended Judy.

"In a way," said Dwight, setting his jaw. "I don't want to blow over. All these scenes, and so many things interfering with my work on the ship, are making hash of my career. She came right on board, and she—"

For a moment they both sat in silence, and then he spoke heavily. "If she wants a divorce, I won't stop her. I can start over. She wasn't cut out to be a Navy wife."

"I'm so sorry," Judy said. Her hands were tightly clasped. He turned toward her with weary appeal. "I don't know why I—I thought I could ever make her over. People never make other people over, do they? You're a typical Navy girl. Everything a man in the service needs. I knew that! Yes. Then he said, 'I was a fool. I didn't realize that I hurt you, too. I didn't mean to. But I—I was so blind.'"

"No," said Judy in a strangled tone. "No, Dwight. You you never hurt me. You mustn't think so. I—I'm fine!"

His hand touched hers. "Don't Judy. I know. I tried to pretend to myself that all those dates of ours were only friendly. I told myself a man can't love two girls and I was crazy about Marvel. But it was an infatuation. All the time I knew you were sweet and good and what I wanted. But I couldn't rid myself of the crazy way I wanted her."

So had it been with herself, she knew, with sinking heart. Jack Hanley was kind. He was sweet to her. Good. Straightforward. Everything she ought to want. But she had never been able to rid herself of the crazy way she wanted Dwight. Even sitting here beside him—even listening to his voice speak of Marvel.

"You shouldn't be talking to me like this," she managed to whisper. His eyes were very honest. "Why shouldn't I?" he demanded. "It isn't too late to make things right, is it, Judy? Is it?"

Her own eyes dropped before his. "Yes, it is," she said in a low voice. "No, it's not!" He was sure. "You've been hurt, I treated you terribly. But I know that before I told you about her, you must have thought I—that I—cared about you. That's true, isn't it? Oh, it must be true! You were so white about it. So brave and clean! You're a thoroughbred. The way you took my change of heart proved it. But Judy—"

Now his face was close to hers. His arms were making a little hesitant motion toward her. "Judy, we can still pick up the pieces. Salvage a little happiness for ourselves."

Her heart leaped, denying the pride she sought to strengthen herself with. But her pride was there. It was part of her. It was an outraged pride, hurting bitterly. She said swiftly, "What makes you think I want to pick up the pieces, Dwight? No—" she pushed at him gently. "Don't put your arms around me. You're so sure I've cried over you! Let me tell you—I haven't! Let me tell you something else you don't know!"

Now she was triumphant, glad to be hurting him, glad to be avenging her pride. His white, stricken face only made her speak more hurriedly. "I've always been good friends with Jack Hanley. You must know—for years he's been the dearest friend I had. But I guess you didn't know, Dwight, that I—that I'm engaged to him!"

She looked into his eyes steadily. Her will, strong as steel, forced the tumult inside her to ebb. To leave nothing but this sweet feeling of having paid him back for everything he had done to make her suffer. "I'm going to marry Jack Hanley, Dwight. We're to be married just as soon as he gets out of the hospital!"

KICKS SHERIFF, DRAWS 90 DAYS

Charles Coffey Learns Resisting Officer Doesn't Pay

It doesn't pay to resist arrest, Charles Coffey, of Gulliver, learned in justice court here Monday morning.

Coffey was fined $100 and $5 costs or an alternative of serving 90 days in the county jail after he had entered a plea of guilty to an assault and battery charge.

Coffey was arrested in a local tavern Saturday night by Sheriff William Laux and Chief of Police Roy Anderson, but Coffey was reluctant about going to jail and he scuffled with the officers, kicking the sheriff in the knee and face. He finally was carried bodily into the officers' automobile and into the county jail.

At the county jail, Coffey continued to create a disturbance and tore out some of the plumbing in the cell block.

Coffey had previously been sentenced to serve 30 days in the county jail as a disorderly charge and was given the opportunity to serve his time on days of his WPA job. He was supposed to report to the jail Saturday morning, and when he failed to show up during the day, the officers located him in a local tavern and proceeded to arrest him.

At his arraignment in justice court yesterday morning, Coffey pleaded for his release, asserting he had been offered a job in another city.

Judge W. G. Stephens pointed out to the defendant that the nature of his offense was such that he could have been charged with resisting an officer, a circuit court offense which could result in a term at state prison.

Coffey was remanded to the county jail when he failed to pay the fine.

Communication

Please print in your paper for the benefit of this district the method a multi-millionaire corporation took to safeguard itself. Following is what I signed on Nov. 21, 1938. I signed this paper with the understanding and the word of honor of A. J. General Superintendent.

I did not sign any papers that I would not tell the public the true facts of my second discharge arising from my physical examination by Dr. Shaw or what took place during my eight days work at Inland harbor from Sept. 13 to September 24, 1938. Some of the men I worked with have signed statements for me, others have given their word they will testify if I needed them, also the stand some of the members of Local 377 took against me since my second discharge.

I will state here that I have been examined thoroughly in Milwaukee and that doctors find I am physically fit to do any kind of work that any other healthy man can work at.

BY FREDERICK GARDNER
New York, Dec. 6 (AP)—Stocks and averages dig in for a closing rally today and put a semblance of life into an otherwise comatose stock market.

While small declines predominated at the finish, a number of issues emerged with gains running to around 2 or more points. The ticker tape loafed until the final few minutes and the drying up of volume to almost the vanishing point apparently gave a fillip to recovery forces who had the idea a technical come-back at least might be in the cards.

Transfers of $30,470 shares compared with $17,390 Friday, the day's aggregate being the smallest for a full session since September 22. The Associated Press average of 69 stocks was off .1 of a point at 50.2. It was the fourth consecutive set-back for this composite.

The inability of many leaders to get a foothold on the upward trail was attributed by brokers mainly to the continuance of tax selling, although the state of affairs abroad, with France defying Italy in the latter's clamor for French-owned territory, tended to promote wariness among speculative contingents.

Steels held fairly well throughout despite another drop in this week's mill operations. The leveling off of production, though, was about in line with expectations and merely added confirmation to other signs of a flatness which the general trade bulge which, some quarters believed, was of no more than seasonal proportions.

Related attention was given the aviation group as predictions were heard of congress spending in the neighborhood of $10,000,000 next year, a large part of which would go to the defense program. Coppers were a shade behind as scrap and export prices for this metal were reduced.

U. S. government securities pushed higher, but corporation bonds were uneven. Commodities did better. Wheat at Chicago was up 1/2 to 1 1/4 cents a bushel and corn advanced 1/4 to 1 1/4. Cotton was unchanged to up 15 cents a bale.

The pound sterling and the French franc moved up in terms of the dollar. Fractions to as much as 2 lower in the curb were Newmont, Electric Bond & Share, Jones & Laughlin, Gulf Oil and United Cigar-Whelan Stores. Catalin of America ran up a major fraction under rood demand. Turnover of 176,000 shares compared with 148,000 Friday.

DAY'S MARKETS IN BRIEF

New York, Dec. 6 (AP)—Stocks: Irregular; steels, aircrafts in late recovery. Bonds: Mixed; governments in demand. Curb: Lower; industrials slip. Foreign Exchange: Steady; sterling, franc rally. Cotton: Improved; trade and commission house buying. Sugar: Weak; high quota figure. Coffee: Lower; easier primary markets. Chicago: Wheat: Higher; crop outlook pessimistic. Corn: Firm; Argentine quotations high. Cattle: Steady to lower. Hogs: 10 to 25 lower.

Tuberculosis Death Rate At Low Mark

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—A record low in the nation's annual tuberculosis death rate has been indicated for 1937, Dr. Kendall Emerson, managing director of the National Tuberculosis Association, announced today. Data submitted by state health departments showed 69,151 persons died from tuberculosis last year, as compared with 71,239 in 1936, Dr. Emerson said. Their figures showed the national death rate per 100,000 population decreased from 55.5 in 1936 to 53.5 in 1937.

New York, Dec. 5 (AP)—United States government obligations tilted upward in the bond market today as the treasury made public the detailed terms of its December financing.

Corporate issues, however, failed to follow the lead of the federal and rail and utility bonds, with trading favorites down fractions to 1 or more. Industrials held about even, as did foreign dollar loans. The treasury revealed the $700,000,000 of "new money" would be raised by sale of $400,000,000 of 2 1/2 percent bonds to mature in 22 to 27 years, along with $300,000,000 of five-year 1 1/8 percent notes.

Currently outstanding treasury obligations closed 6-32 of a point higher to 6-32 lower today, but gains were in the majority.

Among foreigners, German 5 1/2% of 65 cents down 1/4 at 53, and the 7% of 49 1/2 at 27 1/2. Poland 8% of 50 gained 1/4 at 49 1/2. Transactions totaled $5,986,675, face value, against $6,594,500 Friday.

Mickelson Bids Adieu To AP Sports Fields

(With this column, Paul Mickelson takes his leave of the sports field to assume his new duties as news editor of the Kansas City bureau of the Associated Press. In this final column, Mickelson details the most vivid impressions he has garnered in ten years of sports reporting.)

BY PAUL MICKELSON
New York, Dec. 5 (AP)—Personal nominations of an ex-country boy saying farewell to sports after 10 happy years of reporting the highlights of the passing parade: Greatest college football team . . . from the press boxes of the nation. I watched some 100 of the mightiest and near mightiest teams in the land. Greatest of them all was Minnesota's 1934 masterpiece. It was so good that the day before the Gophers played their finale against Wisconsin, a Minnesota coach said, "We have no worries. Wisconsin can't win." Minnesota won handily.

Most thrilling football game . . . It was Southern California-Notre Dame in 1931 when Johnny Bakewell's goal kick beat the Irish, 16-14 to shatter Notre Dame's long winning streak.

LITTLE GIANTS TO PLAY RAPID

One of County's Oldest Rivalries Resumed at Rock Wednesday

Rock, Mich., Dec. 5—One of the oldest rivalries in Delta county will be resumed Wednesday night at Rock when Rapid River and Rock high schools meet in the first of an annual two-game series. The game is scheduled to start about eight o'clock, preceded by a preliminary. The game will be the first of the season for Coach Cliff Buckmaster's Little Giants while Rapid River already has played one game. The boys coached by Eero Wiltaia lost last Friday night to Gladstone by a score of 34-17 but, in doing so they proved to have plenty of speed and power. At times, they showed flashes of a lot of power and will prove dangerous to the Little Giants.

In J. Short, Rapid has a clever forward who gave Gladstone plenty of trouble, dropping in six field goals and one free throw for 13 points. The Rock boys feel that, if they can throttle Short, they have a good chance of winning. Other members of the Rapid River crew are Grolan, Bannister, B. Short, Fuhrman, Duroy, Roberts, Pierce, Lind and Gilland.

The locals are looking forward to their best season since Buckmaster took over the coaching reins. Buckmaster stepped into a cycle of small material and he immediately began building. This year his work is beginning to show results. In football the boys lost only one game and hopes are high for basketball. Four of last year's regulars will start Wednesday. Capt. Cliff Carlson and Pelton at forwards, Irv and Lester Pilon at guards, Sutele, lanky center who saw considerable action last year, will get the call at the pivot post. Others expected to see action are Norkool, Helwila, Kaukula and Karamanen.

Rock entertains the fast Eben crew Friday night.

Lindsley of Escanaba will handle the Rapid River game.

JUNIOR HIGH IS SITE OF BATTLE

Brunelle's Crew Sees Tough Game With Veteran Crew

Coach Leo Brunelle's St. Joseph high school cagers will get their initial interscholastic test of the season at the junior high school gymnasium this evening, entertaining the veteran Harris high school crew in a game starting at 8:15 o'clock.

In an outstanding preliminary, two of the strongest independent teams in the city, the H. and J. Oils and the Eagles, will meet. Both of these teams are entries in the Delta-Menominee county league and the game is expected to give the first test of comparative strength of the two teams. This game is scheduled to start at 7 o'clock sharp.

The feature game will find a veteran Harris crew, coached by Arne Nelmark, former Northern State Teachers' college player pitted against St. Joseph, a team which as yet is an unknown quantity. Since Brunelle left St. Joseph several years ago to take over the reins at Jordan college, the Parishals have not fared well in basketball and the former mentor is starting a rebuilding program. He said yesterday he expects to be patient with the boys, not expecting too much from them at the start of the season. He expects they will develop as the season progresses and will be in top shape for the tournament.

This does not mean, however, that the boys won't be in good shape for tonight's battle. Quite the contrary, the team has shown up well in practices the past three weeks and Brunelle expects them to give Harris plenty to think about. They are especially anxious to atone for a defeat handed them last year by the Harris crew. In two games last year, the teams divided.

Brunelle said yesterday he expects to see about 15 players in the game in hopes of hitting his best combination in the first game of the season. He announced his starting lineup as being Ashland at center, Loeffler and O'Donnell at forwards and Gray and Perrin or Langenfeld at guards.

Harris' mainstays are Motto Beauchamp, D. Houle and R. Houle. The latter scored 11 points in Harris' victory over the strong Dargott team last week.

George Ruwitch of this city will work the feature game.

Eagles Nose Out Powers Quint By Score Of 32-30

The Escanaba Eagles won their second Delta-Menominee league game here Sunday afternoon in a thrilling 32-30 victory over the classy Powers quintet.

The game was a scorcher from start to finish, with Powers holding a slight lead in the first half, largely through the work of Dubats, who coaches the high school team there. The latter, during the course of the game, scored 12 points to lead his mates.

The Johnson brothers, Roy and Eddie, teamed up to lead the Eagle attack, the former netting 13 points and the latter cashing in on eight markers.

Manager Dopey Johnson has scheduled games with Ishpeming, Iron Mountain and Munising within the near future in addition to the regular city and county schedules.

Eskymos Traveling To Kingsford This Evening

Not too discouraged over their 24-22 defeat at the hands of Marquette last Friday in their opening game of the season, Escanaba high school cagers will travel again this evening, meeting Kingsford high school on the latter's floor. Friday night, the locals travel to Iron Mountain.

Kingsford displayed a world of power in its opening encounter Friday night, trouncing Coach Bernard McCann's Menominee quintet by a score of 38-15 on Menominee's court. In spite of the fact that Menominee is an unknown quantity, the score, at least, does indicate that Kingsford has a high powered offense. Few teams at this stage of the year can score almost 40 points against any kind of opposition.

The Flyers are headed this year by the versatile Merziak brothers, regulars from last year, and Milbrandt and McCorney, reserves from Coach Vic Wojcchowski's crew last season. In addition, they have Kirkpatrick, who towers six feet two, Bob O'Hearn, Don Bergeron, and Eugene and Joseph Boufford.

Coach Carl Nordberg, generally speaking, was quite satisfied with the work of his boys in their opening game against Coach Al Kircher's Graverests Friday night. After a shaky start, they gained confidence and, had the game lasted a few minutes longer, they might have won. Nordberg believes that, with the added experience, they will give Kingsford something to think about.

Nordberg is counting on Olson, Hansen, Barron, Bennett, Pepin and Swanson for the heavy work with reserves being Anderson, Henry, Meunier, Shank, V. Anderson, Gosnell, Schram, Holmes and Sheedio.

Ralph Heikkinen Is Selected On AP All American

BY DILLON GRAHAM (AP Feature Service Writer)

New York, Dec. 5—Swinging from the East, richly represented for the past two years, the balance of gridiron power as reflected in the 14th annual Associated Press All-American selections shifts to the Midwest on a first team basis and in a south-by-southwesterly direction on a squad count.

While the Midwest, with five aces, dominates the first All-American eleven, the South, including the rugged pass-conscious Southwest area, holds a plurality on the all-star squad of 33, comprising first, second and third teams.

This territory, which has come along fast in football in late years, not only surpasses the showing of any other sector in a spectacular season but gives the South-Southwest greater representation than it has even known with 14 nominees.

The Midwest, one of the toughest football zones in the land, placed eight and the East landed seven. Three came from the Far West and one from the Rocky Mountain region.

Horned Frog "Double" Texas Christian, top team of the Southwest, scored the only "double" on the varsity team—with Robert David O'Brien and Charles Collins Aldrich. The East's two representatives were the only repeaters from the 1937 All-American—Jerome (Bud) Holland, Cornell's great nose wingman who flashes on end-around maneuvers, and Pittsburgh's Marshall (Biggie) Goldberg, jewel of the Panther's powerful "dream backfield."

Furnishing the bulk of the first-team material, the Midwest contributed Joseph Edward Belnor of Notre Dame, Ralph I. Heikkinen of Michigan, Edward John Bock of Iowa State and Walter Roland Young of Oklahoma in the front wall and John Spencer Pingel of Michigan State in the backfield. The other first eleven nominees are Alford William Wolff of Santa Clara and Linus Parker Hall of Mississippi.

EAGLES TRIP DETROIT LIONS

Stunning Upset Makes Green Bay Champs of West Side

Detroit, Dec. 4 (AP)—The Detroit Lions lost a chance to tie the Green Bay Packers for the western division title of the National professional football league, when they suffered a stunning 21 to 7 upset at the hands of the lowly Philadelphia Eagles in their final scheduled game here today.

A crowd of 18,985 saw the Eagles play an alert brand of football that produced two first period touchdowns and clinched the title for the Packers who completed their schedule on November 24 with eight wins and three defeats.

Eagles Score in Two Plays Philadelphia scored on its second offensive play of the game, Dave Smukler passing 10 yards to Bill Hewitt who lateraled to Joe Carter. The latter continued unimpeded over the goal line to complete a 65-yard gain. Smukler made the conversion good from placement and repeated on the other two Eagle touchdowns.

A few minutes later Carter set up the second Philadelphia score when he picked up Dick Nardi's fumble on the Eagle 40 and wove his way to the Lion seven. The Eagles took to the air again, Smukler shooting a touchdown pass to Jay Arnold in the end zone.

A 25-yard aerial, this time from Smukler to Hewitt in the final score. Detroit never got beyond the Eagle 40 until the final period when a 64-yard march netted a touchdown. Leroy (Ace) Gutowsky climaxed the drive with his scoring plunge from the two. Earl (Dutch) Clark, holder of the pro league scoring record, added to his mark with the conversion.

GIANTS WALLOP REDSKINS New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—The New York Giants kicked the Washington Redskins all over the Polo Grounds' soggy turf today to win by the monumental score of 36 to 0 and annex for the first time since 1935 the eastern division championship of the National professional football league.

The triumph which sends the Giants into a play-off game with the Green Bay Packers here next Sunday, was accomplished before 57,461 persons, largest crowd to see a pro game in New York since 15 years ago when Red Gange made his debut as a professional.

Redskins' Errors Costly The Giants not only moved with cold calculation and terrific drive on offense, but they turned every enemy failure into a scoring opportunity, including Ward Cuff's 36-yard return of a pass interception in the third period.

In the first period the Redskins were moving smoothly in Giant territory with Sammy Baugh passing with uncanny accuracy. Then Cuff grabbed an aerial intended for Ed Justice. It was the fourth play of the game. He sprinted back to the Redskins' 43 and on the first play the Gants sent Hank Soar wide around the strong side end for a score.

Next, Jim Lee Howell, end, fell on a fumble and the Giants put the ball in play on the Washington 39. On five plays, one a 32-yard pass from Ed Dankowski to Howell, the New Yorkers had another score, with Bull Karlis storming through the short side guard for the touchdown.

Mates Clear Way for Cuff The Redskins couldn't move at all in the second period, but in the third, after Cuff had booted a 36-yard field goal, they started to go. Frank Filchock passed and ran them a first down on the 12 after a march of 75 yards.

Then Cuff took Filchock's pass to the flat on the four and went up the sidelines aided by interference, sidestepped the last defender on the 35 and galloped over.

Chuck Galatka, the big end, accounted for the last two touchdowns in the fourth. Tuffy Lee-mans heaved a 40-yard pass into the end zone for the first and Galatka intercepted a Filchock pass on the Redskins six and scurried across for the final touchdown.

Frisco Boy Flattened By Hammering Henry

Cleveland, Dec. 5 (AP)—Hammering Henry Armstrong scored a technical knockout over Al Manfredro of San Francisco in the third round tonight to defend his world welterweight championship before 12,724 fans.

Referee Tony Labranch stopped the bout at 1:45 of the third round.

Manfredo was helpless through the second and third rounds and was wobbling badly and completely defenseless when Labranch stepped between them.

The terrific pace set by Armstrong wore Manfredo out early in the second round and the San Franciscan did not throw a punch in the third.

Manfredo was not knocked down. Manfredro, boxing nicely from long range, held Armstrong even in the first round as the brown blaster from Los Angeles spent all his time trying to get in close. The round was fast but no seriously damaging blows were landed.

Armstrong forced the fighting through the second round and a right to Manfredro's head soon had Al wobbling. Armstrong, pumping piston-like blows to head and body, made no effort to measure his opponent for a knockout shot.

The negro might easily have ended it in the second round but he made sure of his victory and continued pounding away and wearing Manfredro down.

Armstrong weighed 134 1/2 pounds and Manfredro, 146. The bout, scheduled for 15 rounds, topped the 13th annual Cleveland News Christmas charity boxing show, which had another champion and two former champions on the card.

Solly Kreiger, National Boxing association champion from Brooklyn, N. Y., punched out a bloody victory over game Carmen Barth of Cleveland in an over-weight bout.

The durable Krieger gained a long lead in the middle rounds when every blow he swung seemed to take effect. Krieger weighed 163 1/2 and Barth 163 1/2.

They started slow and even in the first round, Barth took the second when he stunned Krieger with a long right. Bath's flicking left jab kept working but Krieger's hard in punching took the third round. Bath's nose spurted blood.

Krieger almost completely closed Barth's eye in the fourth. Barth, squinting bravely through the fifth and sixth but again Krieger's heavier blows told the tale.

Barth was a bloody, easy target as Krieger took the seventh and they slowed down a bit. Both fighters appeared tired in the even eighth.

Barth was forced to hold on in the ninth but they swung toe to toe in the tenth with Krieger having the best of it.

Lou Ambers, ex-lightweight champion from Herkimer, N. Y., won a technical knockout over veteran Frankie Wallace of Cleveland when Wallace failed to answer the bell for the seventh round. Wallace was forced to quit because of an injured right hand.

It had been an even fight up to the finish. Wallace, forcing the fight, took two of the first four rounds and two were even. Ambers, slow in starting, easily won the fifth and sixth with sharp-shooting lefts and rights to the chin.

Former lightweight champion Benny Leonard was the third man in the ring. Ambers weighed 136 and Wallace 139 1/2. Petty Sarron, former feather-weight king from Birmingham, Ala., gave a Cleveland Golden Gloves grad Mike Gamiere a fancy boxing lesson in the first of the 10-rounders.

Sarron took six of ten rounds, losing the first on a foul, while one was even. Sarron weighed 134, Gamiere 135 1/2. Tiger Jackson, 150 1/2, of Akron, easily outpunched Eddie Morgan, 149 1/2, in the opening four-rounders.

Frank's Of Rock Wallop Perkins By 63-26 Score

Rock, Mich., Dec. 5—Presenting a high scoring offense which crushed the opponents, Frank's of Rock hung up their second Delta-Menominee league victory here Sunday afternoon, disposing of Perkins by a score of 63-26.

Kaukula and Francis Trombly each looped in eight field goals to lead the local attack while A. Trombly and Niemi were close behind with five field goals each.

Stevenson led Perkins with 11 points. Frank's will meet Herb's, other Rock team, in the feature battle of the schedule next Sunday.

ELKS MEMORIAL SERVICES HELD

Attorney Deo Delivers Impressive Oration at Ceremonies

A stirring oration, delivered by M. Robert Deo, the traditional ceremonies conducted by the lodge of Elks, and music in keeping with the occasion, marked the impressive Elks Memorial held Sunday afternoon at the Elks Temple by Escanaba Lodge, No. 354. R. P. O. E. in tribute to its departed members.

"Again we gather together at this designated hour of recollection to consecrate anew the sacred memories of those Elks who no longer respond to this earthly roll call. Mr. Deo said in opening his address. "This time is set apart by our order as a universal hour of remembrance and we cherish it because we find in this simple ritual of the forget-me-not, the ivy, and the amaranth, and eloquent expression of our own sentiments.

"In this present age of ours material things, power of wealth, and dreams of ambition seem to have gained important places in the thoughts and mind of men. In their efforts to gain these material rewards there appears to be no place for sentiment, the true logic of the heart. It is well, therefore, to save this hour, though brief like life itself, to pause and reflect on things of the spirit and to consider the uncertainty of human life, the immutability of death, and the vanity of all earthly pursuits.

In contemplating these spiritual matters we at once become soled and inspired by the thought of the immortality of man. Of what import then are those dreams of ambition, the power of wealth, the pride of intellect, when nature has paid her last debt? Every man entering the house of death is his brother's equal whether he be monarch of a proud empire, at whose bidding all nations pay obeisance, or the poor beggar who shivers at his gate. The one is obligated to part with his crown, the other has no further use for his tattered rags; both are indebted to mother earth for a common resting place. In death all fallacies are detected, all ranks are leveled and all distinctions vanish.

Philosophy of Existence
"The whole philosophy of man's existence, born of the first spark of human reason, teaches us that we are born to die and we die that we may live. The moment we begin to live, that moment also we begin to die.

"While we accept all of these philosophies, still when a final summons is issued, the hearts of those left on earth are saddened. Out of this kinship of sorrow we think noble thoughts, we speak tender words, we search the heavens, we reason and we become reconciled to the parts we all play in the great scheme of the universe. This occasion, therefore, offers to those of us still enjoying the great affection of life, the opportunity to pledge again our love and affection for those symbolized by the candle lights and to make peace with ourselves, to raise our souls above the considerations of this transitory existence.

"Today those brothers, whom we honor and mourn, are passing in review. They were American citizens, responsive to every duty of citizenship within the limitation of the powers with which they were endowed. They took the vows of this Order beside the Altars, they attested their obligations upon the Holy Bible, and they pledged allegiance to the American flag. They were the creators and builders of this lodge and of this city and participated in improving the welfare of the nation, and by so doing they hoped that they had made the world better for their having passed through.

"They are not gone, but only that which was their human and material part, until the Great Leveler laid his finger upon them and they slept. They were mortal but now have put on immortality. They sleep, but they shall again awake.

"Were they able to speak to us today from their places in the unknown they would urge us to keep faith with mankind that our lives might be bigger, to cultivate among ourselves the art of true friendship, remembering that there is no distinction of race, or color, or creed, and to so live that the day may come when good-will among men and a universal brotherhood of man will prevail on earth as in heaven."

Music of Service
The music of the service, the program of which was arranged by M. J. Lang, who is in charge of the memorial each year included "Hindu Song," "Bombardier," and "Largo from 'New World Symphony'" by Dvorak, played by the Junior Philharmonic orchestra directed by Frank Karas, with accompaniment by Joan Lindsay and two choral selections, "Nearer My God to Thee," Mason and "Abide With Me," by the Knights of Columbus Chorus with Willard Clark director and Elaine Brown, accompanist.

The ceremonies of the service, memorial, ritualistic, flower, and closing were conducted by the officers of the lodge, and the beautiful closing, was, as in several years past, Pasternick's "Taps," sounded by Frank Karas.

Escanaban Visits With Joe Grosson, Alaskan Air Pilot

Ralph Carroll of Escanaba went to Menominee Sunday to visit with Joe Grosson, Pan-American Airways flyer on the Juneau-Fairbanks route in Alaska, who was spending the week-end with James Young, Bell Telephone company official and a brother of Grosson's flying companion, Edward Young. The latter was killed in 1934 when his plane took a nosedive at Livengood, Alaska, while he was flying a passenger, mail and freight plane.

Carroll was working as a foreman on the Fairbanks highway construction job when Grosson and Young were engaged in flying to the isolated Arctic Circle region. Grosson often "makes the headlines" with his far north flying exploits. He joined in the airplane search for Ben Eilsson and the Russian fliers, and transported the bodies of Wiley Post and Will Rogers to the United States after their fatal crash near Point Barrow.

The Pan-American Airways is running daily plane service from Seattle, Wash., to Fairbanks, Alaska. Grosson reported that the travel business was very good, and that the company is putting in larger planes. The flyer left Menominee yesterday for Cleveland, where he will take over a 24-passenger ship and fly it back to Seattle with Pilot Robbins, who has the Seattle-Juneau route.

LIONS ARE FED BY BUCK SHOTS

Deerslayers Dinner Held; Jernstrom Appointed As 1939 Nominee

The Deerslayers' Club, select organization within the Escanaba Lions Club, was host last night at the annual venison feed of the local Lions, held at the Delta hotel. Dr. Howard Johnson, 1938 Deerslayer nominee, was the hunter who provided the buck for the dinner, and acted as chairman of the meeting.

This was the fourth annual venison dinner given by the Deerslayers, who become bonafide members of the Deerslayers' Club only after they have provided venison for a club banquet. Mike Greis was the first member of the club, and he nominated Buck Yelland, who became a full-fledged member the following year after providing the meat for a banquet. Matt Sullivan was the third member, and after his venison feed last year nominated Dr. Johnson who was the successful member this year. At the close of his talk last night Dr. Johnson nominated Ed Jernstrom as the candidate to supply the venison for the 1939 banquet.

Deerslayer Yelland acted as toastmaster, introducing George Peterson, who gave a selected program of humorous stories, and Chippeny Pete Koster of Chippeny Creek, who gave the inside story of deer hunting as practiced by the toastmaster. A deer hunting story-telling contest followed, with first cash prize going to A. D. LaBranche and consolation merchandise to Ed Jernstrom.

In addition to the speakers, several guests were present for the enjoyable meeting.

OLD TEACHER INVITES PRIEST

Fr. Simon Is Asked to Join Mission of Former Ped

Iron Mountain, Dec. 5.—As the "strike" at St. Barbara's Catholic church in Vulcan entered its 113th day today, the Rev. Fr. Simon Borkowski, who has been held "prisoner" in the rectory by his parishioners to prevent his obeying a recall order, received a letter from a former instructor inviting him to join his mission and "remain there the rest of his life."

The letter was from the Rev. Fr. Ludger Gloger, who taught Fr. Simon when the latter was a student at the Salviatorian seminary at St. Nazianz Wis. Fr. Gloger is now in charge of a mission at Selo, Ore.

Expressing appreciation for the invitation, Fr. Simon said that he would have to reply as he has answered his superiors: That it is physically impossible for him to

ENGINEER BACK FROM MEETING

Road Builders Instruct Delegates About Legislation

J. T. Sharpsteen, Delta county road commission engineer and president of the Upper Peninsula Road Builders association, has returned from Houghton where he attended a meeting of the association. The association's two delegates, C. F. Winkler and Louis Levin, road commissioner engineers for Houghton and Chippewa counties, respectively, were instructed to present the upper peninsula program to the legislative committee of the Michigan Road Builders association when it meets early in January and to work for its adoption.

The meeting was attended by road commissioners and other delegates from nine of the 15 upper peninsula counties. The counties represented at the meeting were Ontonagon, Iron, Delta, Luce, Mackinac, Houghton, Schoolcraft, Alger and Menominee. J. T. Sharpsteen, Delta county road commission engineer and president of the U. P. association, presided at the meeting, and E. J. Pearce, Menominee county commissioner and the association's secretary, recorded the minutes of the meeting.

Recommendations Listed
Some of the recommendations included in the legislative program of the U. P. association follow: That the legislature provide a "loan" fund from which counties can borrow at a nominal interest rate, two per cent suggested, for the purchase of machinery and equipment. At the present time the county road commissions are required to purchase these items on an "acceptance" plan, which incurs an interest payment of six or more per cent.

That an additional sum of $4,000,000 be provided for the improvement and maintenance of McNitt roads. The present provision for McNitt roads is $4,000,000 which the association believes should be doubled.

That the appropriation for snow removal in the northern counties of the state be increased from $200,000 to $600,000.

That a re-certification of roads be made annually, except for streets in cities and incorporated villages. That legislation be provided which will protect counties doing the state maintenance work under contract, and that counties desiring to take over this work be permitted to do so.

That county road commissions be permitted to function under the state drainage act in counties where drain commissioners, elective officers, do not qualify.

Resolution Is Adopted
Upon motion of Road Commissioner Winkler of Houghton county, the association adopted a resolution leave the rectory. Having failed to obey two orders from his immediate superior to leave the rectory, either with or without police help, Fr. Simon's case has now been reported to the head of the Salviatorian order in Rome, the implied penalty being expulsion from the Society of the Divine Savior, although this would not mean his dismissal from the priesthood. Fr. Simon told his superior that the pickets who have paraded the grounds of the rectory for more than 15 weeks would not permit him to leave and he invited a personal visit to substantiate his statement.

Husband Of Former Local Woman Dies

Word was received here Saturday night of the death of William Nelson, of Minneapolis, husband of the former Jennie Wickman of this city. In a Minneapolis hospital, Mr. Nelson was well known in the city. He had spent many summer vacations. He died of complications following an operation for removal of a brain tumor, several weeks ago, from which he was thought to be recovering well until the last few days. He is survived by his wife and two sons, Chester and James, and one daughter, Bernice. Mrs. Nelson is a daughter of Mrs. Charles Wickman of Escanaba and a sister of Mrs. John Gustafson, Carl R. Wickman and Sam R. Wickman.

Detroit, (AP)—The body of a two day old baby boy was found Saturday in shrubbery on Hendrie street, a block off Woodward avenue. A cord was drawn tightly about his neck and police said the child apparently had been strangled.
