

U.S. REFUSES NAZI APOLOGY DEMAND

STATE COURT REJECTS PLEA OF WASHBURN

PERMISSION DENIED PICKETER TO APPEAL

Lansing, Dec. 22 (AP)—The supreme court today rejected the petition of Lester Washburn, "strong man" of the Lansing labor holiday, for permission to appeal to the United States supreme court from a conviction for unlawful picketing.

A three-months' postponement of execution of his sentence to pay a fine and costs of $250 will expire January 4.

The court's action does not prevent him from appealing directly to the United States supreme court, Washburn's attorneys said.

The Ingham county circuit court affirmed his conviction on charges of interfering with a workman in lawful pursuit of his avocation while picketing the plant of the Capital City Wrecking company. The arrest of Mrs. Washburn and a group of associates picketing the plant provided the spark that touched off a labor holiday that paralyzed business, industry and traffic in Lansing in June, 1937.

Washburn, who called the holiday and was its directing genius, was arrested subsequently when he joined the picket line.

The high court upheld the constitutionality of a Hamtramck ordinance forbidding the sale of meat and groceries on Sunday, affirming a decision of the Wayne county circuit court. Edmund B. Krotkiewicz, Hamtramck merchant who was convicted of having violated the ordinance, filed the appeal.

State Recovers Funds The state won a fight to recover $393,099.47 impounded in the Capital National Bank of Lansing.

The supreme court affirmed an opinion of the Ingham county circuit court that a $800,000 surety bond posted by the Central West Casualty company to guarantee state deposits was valid and covered the money involved in the litigation. It had been impounded when the bank closed following the state banking holiday.

In another opinion the supreme court reversed the Kent county circuit court, holding that the pension of a widow of a World War veteran may be attached by the state to insure reimbursement for hospitalization of a mental patient. The decision was in the suit of Auditor General George T. Gundry against Cornelius Wiarda, guardian of Mary T. Lewis, a mentally incompetent person.

The supreme court decided the state was entitled to reimbursement for the cost of keeping Mrs. Lewis in a mental hospital from August 28, 1923, to June 30, 1937.

The opinion said it was the first ruling of its kind in Michigan, and that the supreme court had heard of no similar decision in another state.

DOG KILLER FINED Kalamazoo (AP)—Justice Gordon L. Stewart placed Marvin Ames, 52, on three months probation and fined him $25 Thursday for allegedly shooting a bird dog owned by Walter South, of Vicksburg. At the same time he said he was "sorry" he could not send "those who shoot pet dogs" to the whipping post.

SNYDER FOUND GUILTY BY JURY

"The Gimp" Convicted of Attempted Murder of Singer's Husband

Los Angeles, Dec. 22 (AP)—It will be a cheerless Yuletide for Martin (the Gimp) Snyder, who managed Ruth Etting in the lush years convicted him today of attempting to murder his successor as her husband, Myrl Alderman.

The jury carried a penalty up to 30 years in prison. Snyder was found guilty of attempting to murder Miss Etting, and innocent of attempting to kill his 21-year-old daughter, Edith, by his first marriage. The jury also decided Snyder was innocent of violating a state law pertaining to possession of firearms in which serial numbers are defaced.

The complaint also charged Snyder with kidnaping Alderman, who was the singer's former accompanist. The jury debated long on this count, was hopelessly deadlocked, and in reporting to Judge Thomas L. Ambrose, said there could be no agreement.

Snyder Is Pale Prosecutor U. L. Hlaolock immediately moved for dismissal of this charge, which was based on the contention Snyder forced Alderman at pistol point from a radio studio to Alderman's home last October 15, and into the living room, where Miss Etting testified, he calmly stated:

"This is the end of all of you." "All I say is that I still wish the little lady (Miss Etting) a very happy Christmas," Snyder said after the verdict was returned. "After all, it could have been worse. There isn't anything else I care to add."

Snyder was pale, wild calm, as he was led away in the custody of a sheriff's deputy. Snyder's attorney, Jerry Giesler, said he would carry an appeal in behalf of the cripple who looked after Miss Etting's professional career and was her husband for 17 years until divorce parted them in November, 1937.

The appeal will be argued next Tuesday when Snyder comes up for sentence.

TOWNSEND DIES

Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 22 (AP)—Warren E. Townsend, 85, chairman of the Kent county road commission and three-time president of the Michigan State Association of Road Commissioners, died at his home here Thursday. He had been ill since November.

Tunkhannock, Pa., Dec. 22 (AP)—A description of the "employer" who lured 19-year-old Margaret Martin from her home by the promise of a job put new vigor tonight in the farm-to-farm search for a trace of the sex-crazed killer who left her nude and slashed body in a mountain stream.

State police learned through a person who overheard a pay-station telephone conversation that a suave, neat sandy-haired young man was the caller who had offered Miss Martin a recent honor graduate from a business school, a place as a stenographer.

That was Saturday morning in Kingston, 30 miles south of here, Margaret left the house gleefully, anticipating her first steady job since her graduation, Dec. 1.

"I'll be right back, mother," she said as she started out to meet the man.

Abdomen Slashed But she was not seen again until late yesterday when a muskrat trapper working along Keelburg creek, found her body bundled in a burlap bag, in the icy stream about 25 miles from her Kingston home.

Her knees were drawn up under her chin. There was a deep knife gash across her abdomen and bruises on her body and throat.

Coroner R. W. Greenwood said strangulation apparently caused her death. An autopsy disclosed that the girl had suffered the molestation of a degenerate.

Earlier, aspects of the case indicated Miss Martin might have been seized by a white slave operator.

Her mother and father, bearing their grief bravely after sleepless nights since Saturday, said they could bear her death better than fears that she was captive of a white slave ring.

"We would rather know she is dead than believe she was in the hands of white slaves," her mother said. "Our little girl fought for herself and died the pure girl that she was."

WIFE SLAYER WANTS TO DIE

Boothblack Hysterical When Daughter Tries to Beat Him Up

Los Angeles, Dec. 22 (AP)—"I want my wife, my Rosie. I go see her right away. I want die," wailed William Spinell, 59-year-old boothblack, tonight as a 24-hour guard was placed in the cell of the confessed wife slayer to thwart any suicide attempt.

Spinell became hysterical after Mrs. Helen Angull, one of his five children, attempted to beat him as she confronted him at police homicide headquarters.

"You butcher! Why did you kill my dear, sweet mother?" the daughter screamed as she broke through officers and newsmen, fists flying.

Police Captain H. J. Wallis said Spinell had confessed that he struck his wife with an axe, dismembered her body and burned it in an incinerator.

Joseph Spinelli, 20, a son, appeared at police headquarters but refused to see his father.

"I don't want to have anything to do with the old beast," he said. A formal murder charge was filed late today against Spinelli.

His son, William, Jr., who had been held on a charge of suspicion of murder during the investigation was released from custody.

White Christmas Is Possibility As Snow Hits In U. P.

(By The Associated Press) Prospects for a "white Christmas" in part, at least, of Michigan grew brighter Thursday night. The Upper Peninsula reported snow during the afternoon and by midnight it had reached the Detroit section.

OFFICE WIFE IS SENTENCED TO 15 YEARS

NO APPEAL PLANNED BY ATTORNEYS OF MRS. DULL

St. Joseph, Mich., Dec. 22 (AP)—The drear prospect of imprisonment in the Detroit house of correction for the next 14 years faced Mrs. Fern Patricia Dull, convicted of manslaughter and sentenced today for the slaying of her sweetheart and employer, Attorney William Holbrook, last Oct. 17.

The self-confessed "office wife" of the former Benton Harbor attorney displayed no emotion when Circuit Judge Mark D. Taylor set the maximum penalty at 15 years and the minimum at 14 years to prevent an early release from prison. With customary time off for good behavior she will not be eligible for parole until 11 years and eight months of the sentence have been served.

Following pronouncement of sentence she was escorted back to the Benton county jail, where she has been a prisoner since Holbrook was shot and killed during a quarrel that took place in the shadow of the Benton Harbor police station. At the county jail she was visited by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ulysses Baker, of Kimmel, Ind., her children, Gloria, 15, and Lester, 17, and a sister, Mrs. Charles Correll.

Refuses Information Sheriff Charles L. Miller said it would be "several days" before commitment papers could be completed and the blond ex-stenographer removed to the Detroit penal institution. He said Mrs. Dull had refused to give information concerning herself and her family. Such information would have to be obtained, he said, before the commitment papers could be presented to the court for approval.

He said Mrs. Dull had refused to give information concerning herself and her family. Such information would have to be obtained, he said, before the commitment papers could be presented to the court for approval.

Defense Attorney H. T. Dewhurst, whose motion for a new trial was denied, said no plans had been made for an appeal and indicated that no appeal would be taken. He pointed out, however, that an application for commutation of sentence could be made to Governor Frank Murphy and hinted that such a course would be followed.

Nims Is Named WPA Assistant; Larned Succeeds

Chicago, Dec. 22 (AP)—Louis M. Nims, works progress administrator for Michigan, today was appointed special assistant to Howard O. Hunter, assistant WPA administrator in charge of the middle western states.

The appointment became effective at once, but Nims will not report for duty here until Jan. 1.

Hunter praised Nims' record in Michigan. "Both the regional and Washington offices of the WPA feel that the projects in Michigan under Nims' direction have been of the highest grade and stand close to the top in the nation," Hunter said.

Abner E. Larned of Detroit was named to succeed Nims as state administrator in Michigan. Larned is now director of the state unemployment compensation commission.

United States Loses Point To Argentina; Peace Pact Is Signed

(By The Associated Press) Lima, Dec. 22 (AP)—The Pan-American conference struck a new snag tonight over what some termed a "preliminary" announcement by Dr. Carlos Concha, president of the conference, that all delegations had agreed on a continental solidarity declaration.

Sources close to the United States delegation said that despite Concha's announcement no complete agreement had been reached.

Lima, Peru, Dec. 22 (AP)—The 21 republics of the western hemisphere proclaimed tonight their "decision to maintain and to defend their continental solidarity against all foreign intervention or activities."

Following more than two weeks' exhaustive discussions they arrived at a unanimous decision to declare their "common concern" in case the peace, security or territorial integrity of any American republic is threatened by acts of any nature that may threaten them.

Rift Between United States And Germany Widens With Ickes' Talk

Speech By Ickes—

Note Left By Drug Swindler Is Made Public

Chairman of Committee Says $700,000,000 Is Necessary

New York, Dec. 22 (AP)—F. Donald Coster-Musica's explanation of the scandal involving his firm—a half-incoherent denunciation of Wall Street, a substantial admission of his own culpability and an exculpation of his brothers—was made public today as the government began an investigation of men who had profited by knowledge of the master swindler's past career as Philip Musica.

It was in a letter written in the last desperate hours of his life that Coster-Musica told his side of the story—a strange posthumous apology written last Thursday night at the time when he decided to end by suicide his long masquerade. It was addressed to Samuel Reich, the promoter's attorney, and released by him.

Admitted Betrayal At one point, Coster-Musica admitted having betrayed some of those who had trusted him. At another he wrote in a shaky hand: "As God is my judge I am the victim of Wall Street plunder and blackmail in a struggle for honest existence."

Government attorneys were not impressed. Assistant Attorney General Brien McMahon remarking in Washington that regardless of the note "our information definitely indicates that the surviving brothers are more culpable than he would lead us to believe."

Acting U. S. Attorney Gregory Noonan, heading the inquiry here, asserted at least eight persons had been found to have made money in one way or another through their knowledge of Coster-Musica's old secret—that he was once Con- vict Philip Musica.

Noonan asserted, too, that the government had evidence that Coster-Musica had been in a conspiracy to violate the law covering the sale of arms to foreign countries and had violated the alcohol tax laws.

Vague and Rambling On many things in his last letter he was vague and rambling, but in the $18,000,000 overstatement of assets in his drug company, McKesson and Robbins, Inc., charged to him, he was direct and positive.

"McKesson," he wrote, "should have been in receivership in 1930 and again in 1932 if its profits had not been bolstered in a frantic effort to save the company—and

STRONG RETORT SENT TO NAZIS

Welles Warns Further Attacks; Lima Meet Nears Decision

(By The Associated Press) The diplomatic rift between the United States and Germany widened yesterday with the point blank refusal of the United States to apologize for Secretary Ickes' denunciation of the Nazi regime.

The refusal, couched in the strongest language used toward Germany since World War days, was delivered by Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles in reply to a request from the German charge d'affaires in Washington for an official expression of regret.

Welles responded that recent policy in the reich shocked American public opinion more profoundly than anything in many decades. He added that Ickes' indignation at the Nazis' treatment of Jews, expressed in a speech at Cleveland last Sunday, represented the feeling of an overwhelming majority of the American people.

Chamberlain Boosted Authoritative sources in London suggested the insurer's spy hunt might change the whole course of the Spanish civil war. Reports received there said approximately 1,000 arrests had been made by the insurgents.

British Prime Minister Chamberlain received a boost in his European appeasement program through the returns of a Scottish by-election which ousted the rebellious Duchess of Atholl from her seat in the house of commons.

In Berlin the Nazi government gravely studied the United States' action.

The Pan-American conference at Lima, Peru, appeared ready to sign a continental solidarity and defense declaration, a subject which has presented the conference its thorniest problem because of differences between the United States and Argentina.

Fear U. S. Attack The conference delegations agreed to work on a declaration submitted by Argentina instead of that sponsored by the United States, Peru and Brazil. Argentina, fearing the United States might some day turn aggressor, wanted a declaration for invasion from within the Western hemisphere as well as without, as the Washington delegation proposed.

Premier Daladier's government missed being overthrown in the French chamber of deputies by only seven votes when the chamber voted 291 to 284 on a test ballot concerning Daladier's decrees.

Adding to the premier's difficulties at home was a declaration by Italy that she considered invalid the 1935 Mussolini-Laval treaty respecting Tunisia and other African territories.

In Tokyo, Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye pledged Japan's help to China to abolish foreign privileges but assured third powers "who grasp the meaning of the new east Asia" which the Japanese are establishing by conquest that their economic interests would not suffer.

VICTIM OF BITE GIVEN DAMAGES

Hospital Attendant Is Paralyzed; State Gives Him $600

Lansing, Dec. 22 (AP)—The state administrative board awarded additional damages today to Merrill W. Mitchell, who became partially paralyzed 29 years ago after a patient in the Kalamazoo state hospital bit him.

Mitchell, assigned to a more or less honorary position in the department of state because there was no law permitting him a pension, lost his job when he failed to qualify under civil service.

The board today awarded him an additional $600, payable $50 a month, bringing to $7,520 the amount he has received for the injury. Mitchell was an attendant in the hospital when he was bitten.

The board authorized the expenditure of $3,000 to install a new water pumping system in the Ionia state reformatory, and authorized the transfer of $75,000—appropriated for the department of public assistance—to the state welfare department. The public welfare department never became an actuality because the law creating it was held inoperative by an initiatory referendum, and defeated by the electorate in the November election.

Negro Convict At Marquette Prison Attacked By White

Marquette, Mich., Dec. 22 (AP)—Knocked down by a blow to the jaw and suffering a skull fracture, John Beecher, 60, negro trusty, was tonight in an unconscious condition tonight in the prison hospital.

Beecher was said to have been struck by a white inmate during a quarrel at the prison farm where both were employed. Warden Marvin L. Coon withheld the name of the white inmate, eligible for parole, but said he had been placed in solitary confinement because of fighting and pending the outcome of Beecher's injuries.

Beecher was sentenced in a Wayne county court in 1922 to serve life for murder.

CUT IN RELIEF NEEDS IS SEEN

Chairman of Committee Says $700,000,000 Is Necessary

Washington, Dec. 22 (AP)—Chairman Adams, (D-Colo.), of the senate sub-committee which handles relief appropriations, estimated today that $700,000,000 would be needed to keep the works progress administration running from February, 1939, to the end of the fiscal year on June 30.

He made this estimate, unofficially, while awaiting word from administrative officials as to their view of the necessary sum. The WPA said yesterday that unless additional funds were forthcoming it would have to suspend operations on Feb. 7.

Meanwhile, the capital speculation on the extent of the row which would accompany the approval of an emergency appropriation and whether it might not furnish an early test of strength for the anti-new deal bloc in congress, whose numbers were increased by the November election.

Would Be Reduction At the same time reports persisted, and without denial, that Col. F. C. Harrington, assistant administrator of WPA, would become administrator of that agency, upon the expected appointment of Administrator Harry Hopkins as secretary of commerce. In addition the word was that Aubrey Williams, now deputy administrator of WPA, would withdraw from the latter to devote his full time to the national youth administration.

If Adams' forecast should be borne out, the February-June work relief bill would run about a quarter of a billion dollars less than the amount expended for that purpose in the corresponding period of 1938, which was $950,390,000.

Other estimates were both lower and higher than Adams'. Sen. Barkley (D-Ky.), the Democratic floor leader, was said to believe the figure would be $500,000,000 to $600,000,000. By contrast John L. Lewis chairman of the CIO, urged congress yesterday to appropriate at least $1,000,000,000.

Welles, in his conversation with Thomsen, cast aside the kid-glove verbiage of diplomacy. His words emphasized anew the strained relations which already have resulted in withdrawal of ambassadors by both countries.

Ok'ed By President? GERMANY WARNED OTHER ATTACKS EXPECTED

Washington, Dec. 22 (AP)—The United States, adopting the stiffest language used toward Germany since World War days, emphatically refused today to apologize for Secretary Ickes' recent denunciation of the Nazi regime and warned that such attacks could neither be prevented nor restrained.

Sumner Welles, acting secretary of state, told the German charge d'affaires that recent policy in the reich had shocked American public opinion more profoundly than anything in many decades and that indignation as expressed by Ickes at Cleveland last Sunday represented the feeling of the overwhelming majority of the people of this country.

Protest Refused His warning was delivered in a point blank refusal to accept Germany's protest against Ickes' speech. The protest was delivered verbally yesterday by the charge d'affaires, Dr. Hans Thomsen, who requested an official expression of regret.

Ickes had declared that Germany's persecution of Jews carried that nation back to a "period of history when man was unlettered, benighted and bestial."

About the time of the Welles pronouncement, Senator Pittman (D-Ore.) issued a formal statement declaring that the American people "do not like" the German or Japanese governments and have the "right and power to enforce morality and justice" in accordance with peace treaties.

Although Pittman is chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, he asserted that he was not speaking in that capacity, but was making a personal utterance which he hoped would be "beneficial as a frank statement of facts." His statement follows:

"1. The people of the United States do not like the government of Japan.

"2. The people of the United States do not like the government of Germany.

"3. The people of the United States, in my opinion, are against any form of dictatorial government, communistic or fascist.

"4. The people of the United States have the right and power to enforce morality and justice in accordance with the peace treaties with us. And they will. Our government does not have to use military force and will not unless necessary."

At the state department, there was no comment on Pittman's statement.

Welles, in his conversation with Thomsen, cast aside the kid-glove verbiage of diplomacy. His words emphasized anew the strained relations which already have resulted in withdrawal of ambassadors by both countries.

Ok'ed By President? SPEAKER MAY BE CHAIRMAN

Schroeder Is Expected To Head Democratic Party Machine

Lansing, Dec. 22 (AP)—State political circles today heard reports that George A. Schroeder, retiring speaker of the house of representatives, believes he will be the next chairman of the Democratic state central committee.

Schroeder's friends predicted the appointment as likely when Edward J. Fry, the present chairman, informed the state central committee Tuesday he would not seek another term.

Both Fry and Schroeder have been at odds with Governor Murphy during the past two years, but Fry has yet to abandon the feud while Schroeder made up his differences with the governor after the last session of the legislature.

Schroeder was defeated in the primaries in an attempt to unseat Lieutenant Governor Leo J. Newkirk and afterwards an authority no less than the governor himself hinted that Schroeder would be given a sizeable plum if the Democrats won the November elections.

Political circles, however, felt that the chairmanship has not been decided. The choice will be made at the party's state convention February 18 in Flint.

Napoleon's Tomb Saved From Fire

Paris, Dec. 22 (AP)—A spectacular fire swept the facade of the Hotel Des Invalides tonight but quick action by firefighters saved Napoleon's tomb from damage.

The blaze was halted by tons of water after it had burned through the files of the military government of Paris, destroyed a section of the roof, and damaged a length of about 80 yards across the front of the structure.

The massive stone building once served as a soldiers' home, and now houses Napoleon's tomb, which is at the rear, the army museum and the military government offices.

Firemen said they believed a break in one of the ancient chimneys caused the blaze, which was discovered by a sentry patrolling the central court. By midnight, with all fire departments of the capital in action, the blaze was definitely under control.

Officials said the amount of damage could not be determined immediately.

Of the 7,000 wounded or aged troops who once lived in the 30-acre, gray stone structure which was begun in 1671 only a few remain as museum attendants.

Youths Attempted To Sell Money In Flint Found Guilty

Flint, Mich., Dec. 22 (AP)—A circuit court jury today convicted four youths accused of having attempted to sell $1,000 in stage money for $250 in legal tender on a charge of conspiracy to defraud. Judge Edward D. Black delayed sentence until December 27.

Gilbert Scott, the intended victim, testified that he was approached by a member of the quartet and asked if he would like to make $750. He informed police of the affair and when he met the group at a hotel, police arrested the four plotters.

Those convicted were Dewey Arnold, Lyle Smith, Jack Hale and Stanley Bushby. Assistant Prosecutor Dale C. Showling said Arnold was convicted as a third offender and faces a mandatory prison term of five to 10 years.

MSC Professor Of Violin Is Claimed Former Calumet Priest Claimed

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 22 (AP)—Michael Press, 67, professor of violin at the Michigan State college school of music, died in a hospital tonight from heart disease. He had been on leave because of his illness.

Prof. Press, a native of Russia, had been at the school eleven years. Once a prominent violinist and orchestra conductor, he formerly was connected with the Curtis Institute of Music at Philadelphia.

Last June the musician eloped with one of his students, Miss Marjory Hoyte, 22, of Okemos, Mich., a few days after he and his first wife were divorced.

Zona Gale Breese Is Seriously Ill

Portage, Wis., Dec. 22 (AP)—Zona Gale Breese, the novelist, is seriously ill in Passavant hospital, Chicago. It was reported at the Breese home here today.

Mrs. Breese is ill with pneumonia and was placed in an oxygen room upon being taken to Passavant last night from another Chicago hospital where she had been under treatment for 12 days.

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 22 (AP)—Miss Mary Curran Day, 20-year-old handicraft worker, volunteered to play Santa Claus for several hours each afternoon at community center children's programs. A spark from a cigarette ignited her flimsy costume yesterday, and she was quickly enveloped by flames. She died in a hospital today.

Eden Sings Praise Of 'Forceful News' In American Papers

London, Dec. 21 (AP)—Anthony Eden, former foreign minister, in a broadcast relayed to America tonight, urged British newspapers to print more of the "forceful and shrewd comments" of American newspapers.

"Contrary to what many believe, I found opinion in the United States deeply interested in world events and in particular in Europe and the Far East," he said. "Americans are well informed on these matters and the comments of their principal newspapers are forceful and shrewd. I cannot help feeling that it would be all to the good if their judgments were more widely reproduced in this country."

with singularly ill grace and at another point he referred to the impropriety of Germany's demand.

The reich had complained that Ickes, among other things, had criticized acceptance by Henry Ford and Charles A. Lindbergh of German decorations. Welles dismissed this phase of the complaint with a curt reminder that such criticism of Americans by an American official was purely a domestic question which he could not discuss with a representative of any foreign government.

Welles then turned to Ickes' criticism of German policies. He declared flatly that recent events in Germany had horrified the American people and that no curb on bitter indignation could be expected.

Break Predicted
Welles added that he had closely followed the German press and had rarely read more unjustifiable criticism or open attacks on members of another government than had been made against President Roosevelt and members of his cabinet.

He said that recent derogatory remarks made by German government officials about President Woodrow Wilson also had been deeply resented here.

Welles stated that Thomsen could not deny that the German press was under the influence and dictation of German government authority and that press attacks carried an authoritative note.

Welles terminated the short meeting by telling Thomsen that while public recriminations did not help relations, attacks against Germany were bound to continue here so long as the persistent German attacks against American officials went uncurbed.

The first reaction in diplomatic circles was one of confusion and uncertainty for the future. Some observers believed that the development brought the countries perilously near a diplomatic break.

The United States government had been increasingly annoyed recently by the tone of the German press. However, it was learned that the state department has no further action in mind and that the next move, if any, will have to come from Germany.

Former Calumet Priest Claimed

Marquette, Mich., Dec. 22 (AP)—The Rev. Fr. Fortunatus Clupka, 52, a member of the Society of the Divine Saviour for 25 years, died in St. Mary's hospital here tonight after a long illness. He came to this country to teach in the Salvatorian seminary at St. Nazianz, Wis. He was born in Silesia.

Father Clupka came to the Marquette diocese 14 years ago to become administrator of St. John's church in Calumet. Last May he was transferred to St. Mary's church in Gastra, but was forced to give up his duties because of his illness.

The Most Rev. Joseph C. Plagens, bishop of the diocese, will offer a pontifical high mass at funeral services Saturday morning.

Roosevelt Awarded Medal For Service To Jewish People

New York, Dec. 22 (AP)—Joseph H. Biben, editor and publisher of the American Hebrew, announced today that President Roosevelt had been awarded the 1938 American Hebrew medal for outstanding service in promoting better understanding between Christians and Jews.

The judges' citation said the award went to the president "because, by all his words and actions since he has been in the public service he has promoted better understanding among all races and creeds; because during the past year he took the initiative at every crisis in Jewish affairs and did everything in his power to bring about a humane solution; and because he was responsible for the Evian conference for aiding refugees of central Europe."

The president announced plans last December 10 for the project, which he said would be financed from funds received from the publication of various of his papers and speeches during the first years of his administration.

Incorporators listed on the papers filed with the secretary of state include Frank C. Walker of New York City, whom the president named as director of a group to handle public subscriptions to the repository fund; Basil O'Connor of New York City; the president's former law partner, Samuel E. Morrison of Boston, Waldo G. Leland of Washington, D. C., and Randolph G. Adams of Ann Arbor, Mich.

Traffic Accident Toll Is Smaller

Lansing, Dec. 22 (AP)—The state department of health predicted today that Michigan's traffic toll this year will drop considerably below the high point of record, 2,160 deaths, listed last year.

The department reported that automobile accident fatalities during November declined to 136, compared to 181 for the same month last year.

November's deaths brought the total to date for the year to 1,282, compared to 2,006 for 11 months of 1937.

UNITED STATES LOSES POINTS TO ARGENTINA

The Argentine draft which delegates agreed upon and proposals submitted by other countries.

The declaration, which carries Pan-American solidarity a long step forward if faithfully adhered to, contains five articles following a preamble exalting Pan-American unity.

Agreement was reached on a day which began in pessimism over the fact that Argentina last night cast her own declaration into the conference and indicated it was up to the other nations to take it or leave it. This stand was taken despite the fact that the 20 other republics, as Concha's statement indicated, already had agreed to a majority declaration.

Leaders of the delegations gathered in Concha's office this morning for an effort to bring together the Argentine view and the document proposed by the United States, Brazil, and Peru.

United States Secretary of State Cordell Hull probably saved the conference on the continental solidarity issue by telling the leaders at that point that the Argentine declaration previously had been approved by the United States delegation despite hopes for something stronger.

Corporation Formed To Be Guardian Of Roosevelt Collection

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 22 (AP)—The Franklin D. Roosevelt Library, Inc., was incorporated today to establish a permanent repository at Hyde Park, N. Y., to house the president's personal papers and his huge collection of books and paintings.

The president announced plans last December 10 for the project, which he said would be financed from funds received from the publication of various of his papers and speeches during the first years of his administration.

Incorporators listed on the papers filed with the secretary of state include Frank C. Walker of New York City, whom the president named as director of a group to handle public subscriptions to the repository fund; Basil O'Connor of New York City; the president's former law partner, Samuel E. DEATH CLAIMS YOUNG WOMAN

Mrs. Andrew Erickson Passes Away At Age of 35 Years

Mrs. Edyth Erickson, 35, wife of Andrew Erickson of Rapid River, died at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon in St. Francis hospital, a few hours after giving birth to a son, the first child in the family.

Mrs. Erickson, who was Edyth Lagerquist, was born in Whitefish, May 17, 1903, and spent all of her life in that community.

Surviving are her husband and the infant son; two sisters, Mrs. John Lind of Whitefish and Mrs. Martin Schraeder of Masonville; and three brothers, Kenneth Lagerquist, of Michigan City, Ind.; Orin, of Masonville, and Lee of Whitefish.

The body was taken to the Alto Funeral Home to be prepared for burial. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Advertising Pays; Olafson Gets His New '39 Calendar

Andy P. Olafson of Cooks, whose writing appears intermittently in the Press, has found out for himself that it pays to advertise. Readers proved sympathetic to his plea for a hot 1939 calendar to keep the hired man warm in a cold room, and Wednesday a calendar came, all secure in a mailing tube—and what a calendar!

Accompanying the contribution for the Olafson household was the following letter:

Ladoga, Mich.
Dere Mr. Olafson
After reading your letter in the Sunday paper I feel so bad for you and your hired man and your pas rumatism I am sending you a calendar that shud cure everybody of there misery Best respects to all —

Apprentices May Be Registered

Lansing, Dec. 22 (AP)—Governor Murphy's apprentice council is prepared to submit a model bill to the 1939 legislature to establish a mechanics apprentice system under state supervision.

George A. Krozstad, chairman of the state department of labor and industry and chairman of the council, said the bill, similar to that recommended by the National Association of Labor Commissioners, would create a division of his department to register apprentices and their places of work.

Apprentices, he said, would be bound by indenture for courses ranging from four, five and six years, depending on the trade to be taught. He said part-time academic and theoretical training would be operated in conjunction with the state department of education.

The plan is intended to eliminate a shortage of skilled mechanics in Michigan industry, Krozstad said.

Noted Publisher Dies Suddenly

Syracuse, N. Y., Dec. 22 (AP)—Charles Remington Adams, 56, business manager of the Syracuse Herald died of a heart attack today during a conference with Edward A. O'Hara, Herald publisher.

Mr. Adams was an alumnus of the University of Michigan, and began newspaper work with the Chicago Evening Post in 1902. From 1908 to 1912 he was managing editor of the Minneapolis Journal and from 1912 to 1919 was vice-president of the Minneapolis Journal company. From 1923 to 1925 he was managing editor of the Duluth News-Tribune and in 1926 became business manager of the Syracuse Herald.

New York, Dec. 22 (AP)—The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, invited to speak in the January 19 forum broadcast of America's town meeting from Town Hall, New York, has declined but was asked to reconsider. George V. Denny, Jr., president of Town Hall, said tonight.

The topic is "What is Americanism?" Dorothy Thompson, Gen. Hugh S. Johnson and Earl Browder already have accepted invitations to participate.

17 Escape When Sandsucker Tips Over At Windsor

Windsor, Ont., Dec. 22 (AP)—Seventeen members of the crew, including a woman, escaped drowning today when the sandsucker H. Dahko turned on her starboard side and sank at a dock in Sandwich, Ont.

The accident occurred while members of the crew were dressing. All jumped safely to an embankment except Pat Droula, a wheelman, who leaped into the water and swam to shore.

The vessel was loaded with 525 tons of mud designed for dock foundation. Shortly after a crane began to scoop the mud from the ship, the cargo shifted, turning the vessel on her side.

The woman who escaped was employed as a second cook.

Norwegian Freighter Sinking In Atlantic

New York, Dec. 22 (AP)—Radio Corporation of America received a wireless report from a United States government-owned freighter, saying it was standing by a Norwegian ship "which is in a sinking condition."

"Standing by Norwegian steamer Smaazag which is in a sinking condition," the message to RCA said. "Ship case oil loaded for Holland. Will attempt rescue at daylight. Weather conditions at present northwest gale, rough."

The Schoadak, operated for the U. S. maritime commission by the Cosmopolitan company, was the vessel that sent the message.

MILL WORKERS GIVEN HOLIDAY

Paper Company Workers Get 2 Day Vacation for Christmas

Munising, Dec. 22—Employees of the Munising Paper company will be given a two-day Christmas holiday this year, according to an announcement made by C. W. Curtle, assistant manager, yesterday. The temporary shutdown will go into effect on Saturday noon and the plant will begin operations again on Tuesday morning.

"Even though we have many unfilled orders, we felt that the employees were entitled to a longer than usual Christmas holiday because of their willingness to have worked so many Sundays during the past year," Mr. Curtle said. The wood room and yard of the mill will work until noon Saturday, or until a sufficient supply of chips is on hand, and operation of these departments will be resumed Tuesday morning. The last cook will be blown before or about Saturday noon. Other operations in the sulphite mill will cease work sometime during the morning of December 24. The entire sulphite mill will resume operations at 6 a. m. Tuesday, December 27. The paper machines will shut down between 6 and 8 a. m. Saturday and will resume operation at 6 a. m. Tuesday morning.

Installation Soon
Munising, Dec. 22—Officers of the Munising Rebekah lodge were recently elected and installation of the officers as well as those who are appointed will be held in January. Officers chosen are: Noble Grand—Mrs. Flora Gerndt. Vice Grand—Ina Lundborg. Financial Secretary—Susto Knowles. Recording Secretary—Mayme Cannon. Treasurer—Rose Lehigh.

Officers Elected
Munising, Dec. 22—Officers of St. John's Guild of St. John's Episcopal church have selected Mrs. Otto Moyer as the group president for 1939. Other officers are: Vice President—Mrs. J. P. Anderson. Secretary—Mrs. Jane Benagh. Treasurer—Mrs. Zara St. Andrew.

Munising Briefs
Miss Esther Osher, who is attending the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, is spending the Christmas vacation here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Borah Osher. Miss Elizabeth Light, Northwestern university student at Evanston, Ill., is visiting here with her mother, Mrs. C. J. Light. Keith Clement, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clement of Shingleton, arrived home yesterday from Michigan State college to spend his Christmas vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lezotte and daughter, Willo, will leave Saturday for Phillips, Wis., where they will spend Christmas with relatives.

Cicero Aroused Over Miss Roland's Ouster

Dismissal of Miss Irene Roland from the faculty of the J. Sterling Morton high school at Cicero, Ill., was given considerable space in words and pictures in Chicago newspapers, which were on local news stands yesterday.

Classmates of Miss Roland here recall how she assumed the role of a peacemaker when students of the Escanaba high school went on a short-lived strike in the spring of 1925 as a result of the resignation of the late Miss Effie Griffith, veteran English teacher. Miss Roland, vice president of the Junior class here, addressed the protesting students, urging them to return to their classrooms. They acceded to her appeal, and the strike never collapsed.

The Chicago Herald and Examiner yesterday published a three-column picture of Miss Roland and the following story:

Cicero was in a turmoil yesterday as its school board faced a showdown on the dismissal of a J. Sterling Morton high school teacher charged with attempting to "undermine" the board of education and the school.

The teacher, Miss Irene Mary Roland, 28, a pretty brunette, who has taught French and English for the past nine years, was discharged by the board Dec. 16 on recommendation of J. R. McDonald, acting superintendent of the high school.

She owed her dismissal to the fact that she wrote a letter critical of school administrative policies to a columnist in a town paper who has maintained a steady fire of criticism against the board members and school administration.

Her Secret Out
The letter, in a school envelope, was returned for lack of postage and was opened by McDonald. Although Miss Roland had signed her name, she asked the columnist believed to be a fellow teacher at Morton writing under the pseudonym of "Eddie Edicator" not to publish her name in using the letter.

"Miss Roland was not dismissed because she wrote the letter," McDonald stated, "but because I considered her actions unethical and unprofessional in contributing to a concerted program to undermine our board of education and the school."

The acting superintendent admitted that the teacher had been given no hearing, but said the letter was sufficient evidence to warrant her discharge.

Beyond indicating that the letter dealt with the question of teacher tenure at Morton, neither McDonald nor Miss Roland would discuss its contents.

Defends Her Rights
The teacher said: "I have every right as an American citizen to express my opinion freely, whether in a letter, newspaper or any other way."

The West Suburban Teachers' union, composed of the liberal wing of the Morton faculty, took up Miss Roland's fight. Its officers said they would confer with leaders of the American Federation of Teachers in planning court action to reinstate Miss Roland and secure a state law to insure tenure.

Jerome J. Conry, president of the school board, said that Miss Roland was to be married Jan. 28 and that she had "stuck her neck out, anyway."

Miss Roland said that marriage had no relation to the question of tenure. She said that today was set as the last for her at Morton, but that students were indignant. She added the staff of the school weekly had threatened to walk out because it had been denied permission to print news of her discharge.

The newspaper column to which Miss Roland directed her letter has charged repeatedly that teachers have no job security at Morton, that they are underpaid, and that a purge failed last spring after 25 teachers had been marked for dismissal.

We Irish don't marry unless there is love.

Wolf At The Door?

Gladstone Barber Sees One In City

There has been a lot of loose talk at one time and another about the "wolf at the door" but it has been many a moon since a real live wolf was seen on the streets of Gladstone—that is until Wednesday morning when Ted Johnson, local barber was on his way across the commons between his home and shop.

It was about 7:30 o'clock when Johnson sighted the animal coming from the direction of the old ore dock right of way. It had been jumped by another man travelling to work at the veneer plant.

At first Johnson thought it was a deer but it passed close enough for him to recognize it as a large timber wolf. It went to the foot of 8th and Superior, where dogs were heard to bark and make a fuss, apparently undecided what to do. From that spot the wolf managed to slink away. Its tracks came across the ice from the other side of the bay.

Jackson Stephenson of the Cloverland Milling and Supply company was one of those who turned out to examine the tracks. He said it was a large wolf.

Legion Gives Fowl To Needy Families

Surplus poultry from the American Legion feather party was distributed to needy of the city, it was learned yesterday from Commander Gale Westcott. Thirteen fine turkeys and about 20 chickens were left over from the party.

This week's event was reported to have been the most successful ever sponsored by the local post. Nearly fifty turkeys and a large number of chickens and geese were disposed of.

The smell of citronella oil temporarily stimulates the sense of sight.

Kronan Lodge To Have Yule Party

Kronan Lodge, S. F. of A., is sponsoring its annual Christmas party on the evening of Wednesday, Dec. 28, at the Legion hall. The entertainment will begin at 8 o'clock and a short business meeting will be held previously.

Entertainment will include a musical program and dancing. Serving of refreshments will bring the party to a close. Each person attending will bring a small gift for distribution.

HEARING HELD ON ZONING LAW

Ordinance Is Passed By Committee; Board of Appeals Provided

The land zoning committee of the Delta county board of supervisors met at the county courthouse yesterday afternoon for the purpose of hearing objections to the proposed Delta county land zoning ordinance. The ordinance was read by Henry Wylie, Smith-Hughes instructor of Escanaba high school who is largely responsible for the progress of zoning in the county, and was passed by the committee with a few revisions.

Chief among the changes in the ordinance was a provision for a board of appeals, to handle questions arising under the ordinance or regarding its interpretation. It was pointed out at the meeting that the board would be empowered only to answer questions put to it under the act, or to present recommendations to the board of supervisors as a whole.

An additional section of the act provides for keeping information up to date on non-conforming uses of land in the townships of the county. Supervisors are to report changes in land use within their townships to the land zoning committee at the time they make their annual reports for tax assessments.

Carl B. Johnson presided at the meeting in the absence of C. J. Burns, chairman of the committee. Other members of the committee are E. LaCost, Matt Haga, Carl Richter, W. Anderson and James Dotsch, honorary member. Congressman John Luecke, also an honorary member, was present at yesterday's session.

In addition to the corrected ordinance, the committee also approved the completed use district map of the county. A motion was made and carried authorizing the publication of the revised ordinance, and corrected copies are to be made available to the public.

The ordinance will be presented to the state planning commission on December 27, by Wylie, but will probably not be voted upon by the board of supervisors until the next regular meeting in April.

No regular January meeting is required by law in Delta county, and Chairman Carl B. Johnson of the board of supervisors said yesterday that it is unlikely that a session will be called before the regular required meeting in April. "There is no important business before the board which requires immediate action," Chairman Johnson stated, "and as long as the law does not require us to hold the meeting I believe we should save the county that expense."

The cost of a supervisors' meeting averages about $150 for mileage and per diem for the supervisors, and other expenses such as recording and publication of minutes bring the cost close to $200. Although the January meeting is not required by law, in the past it has only very rarely been passed up by the Delta county board of supervisors.

HOME LIGHTING BRIGHTENS CITY

Escanaba Residents Have Unusual Effects On Lawns, Porches

More entries were noted this week in Escanaba's home decorating and lighting contest, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and Lions club with the city of Escanaba cooperating.

Natural trees, porches, window ledges and doorways have been utilized by local householders to set off their Christmas lighting displays, which range from glowing window wreaths to whole assemblages of camels and wise men. Some homes have silhouetted figures, with lights behind them, flanked with evergreen, others have strings of lights alone, an dome home out on Stephenson avenue has a Santa Claus going up an evergreen ladder.

All homes and business places with outside decorating effects are invited to enter the lighting contest. Local residents are urged to turn in their addresses to the Chamber of Commerce so that judges may know the various places to be visited in placing the awards. Last year several notably beautiful and original home lighting displays were missed because the committee lacked addresses. Judging started last night, and will continue as new displays are added this week.

Additional Funds Alloted To Finish Perkins Gymnasium

Perkins, Mich.—Congressman John Luecke has advised J. C. McNamara, superintendent of schools, that an application for a supplementary project to complete the Perkins school building had been given presidential approval.

The project provides an allotment of $2,952 to finish the building of the gymnasium. It is expected six weeks will be required for the job.

The original grant for the school project was $28,110, plus a supplementary allotment in July of $5,980. The new appropriation brings the total federal expenditure to $37,072.

Escanaba Taverns In Holiday Spirit

When the holiday season nears, Escanaba folks must have their Christmas music.

By special request, one local thirteenth merchant put the quartette record "Silent Night" on his music machine. Somebody else thought it wasn't just right, and the record came off again. Immediately there were dozens of requests for "Silent Night", and now it is one of the most-played records on the list. "Jingle Bells" is another perennial favorite, of a different nature in its various versions, but folks play that when they feel like dancing. When "Silent Night" is played, however, the customers always listen, and talking is always subdued.

Along with their music, taverns are keeping guests in the Christmas spirit with their decorations, and there are some notably fine interior brightening jobs to be seen about the city.

Holiday Services At St. Charles Are Announced

The Christmas program for St. Charles church at Rapid River was announced yesterday by Rev. Fr. Francis Scherlinger, pastor of the church.

Saturday, confessions for Christmas Communion will be heard beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning and 6 o'clock in the evening.

The church doors will be opened at 11 o'clock Christmas Eve to admit worshippers for the Midnight Mass. At 11:45 o'clock, the traditional Christmas carols will be sung by the church choir, with violin and organ accompaniment.

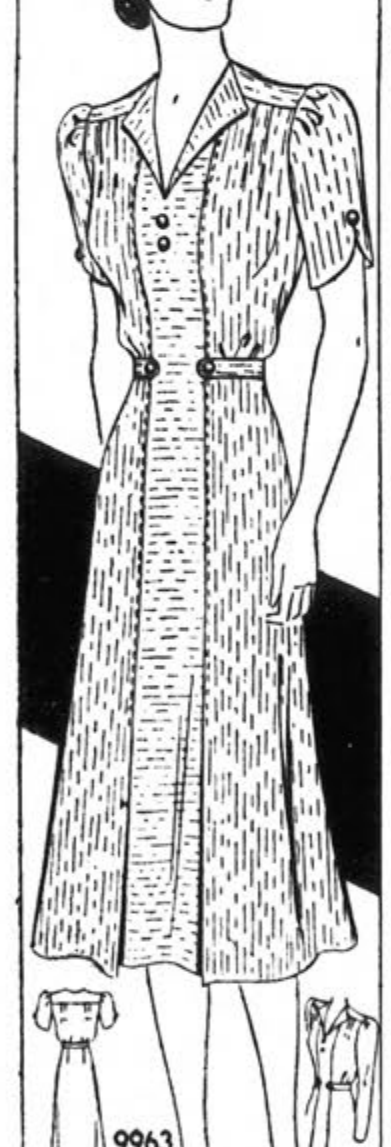

At midnight the High Mass will be sung by the pastor, Rev. Fr. Scherlinger, and a beautiful and new "Mass in Honor of Our Lady" will be sung by the church choir with Miss Eleanor Ropelle at the organ, assisted by Casimir Milkiewicz, violinist. The congregation will join in the singing of "Adeste Fideles" at the end of the services.

On Christmas morning at 9:30 o'clock the offering of the Children's Mass will take place. The Christmas carols during the mass will be sung by all the children of the parish, accompanied on the organ by Miss Estelle Scherlinger of Marquette.

St. Rita's, Trenary At St. Rita's church, Trenary, which also is Rev. Fr. Scherlinger's charge, the Christmas Mass will be offered at 8 o'clock. Christmas carols will be sung by the church choir with Miss Josephine Coaster, organist. Confessions will be heard Saturday afternoon from one to four o'clock.

Tailor Type House Frock Is Flattering

BY MARIAN MARTIN

Here's a tailor-type that's so brisk and becoming, you'll want it in spun rayon for a "runabout" frock, as well as in cotton for around the house. The long center panel is the Number One attraction. Whether you choose to have its fabric crossgrain or on the straight, you'll find it narrows your figure wonderfully.

Social-Club

St. Anne's P-T-A St. Anne's parish hall was crowded Wednesday evening for the December meeting of the Parent-Teachers association at which an entertaining Christmas program was presented by the pupils of the first and fifth grades.

Rebekah Meeting A regular meeting of Phoebe Rebekah Lodge will be held this evening at the I. O. O. F. hall, 200 North 10th street, the business session beginning promptly at 8 o'clock. A social hour and an exchange of gifts among members will be followed by a pot luck lunch. A large attendance is desired.

Casimir-Callahan Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Marie Casimir, daughter of Paul Casimir of Perkins, to Raymond Callahan, which took place on July 16. Mr. and Mrs. Callahan are making their home in Rapid River.

Birthday Party Mary Margaret Gallagher entertained a number of her friends Wednesday evening at a birthday party held at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Gallagher, 218 North 13th street. The occasion was in honor of her fifth birthday anniversary.

Games were the feature of the afternoon and the young hostess was the recipient of many delightful gifts. Following the games a delicious lunch was served. Mrs. Ed Nelson assisted Mrs. Gallagher with the lunch.

Salvation Army Entertaining At Children's Party

The Salvation Army will hold its annual Christmas party for underprivileged children Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the auditorium, North Fifteenth street.

A special holiday program will be presented, including songs by a girls' trio composed of Peggy Saunders, Rose Peterson and Barbara McCormick; and a recitation by six girls, Ethel Romin, Anna Mae Larson, Jean Charron, Elaine Lindquist, LaVerne Chapman and Lorraine Ritchie. Santa Claus will be present at the party to greet the children.

Recipients of Salvation Army Christmas baskets are urged to send their children to the party for the special surprise which Santa Claus has arranged for them.

Epworth League Special Service Christmas Eve

With candles for light, a service, sponsored by the Epworth League of the First Methodist Episcopal church, will be held on Christmas Eve from 11 to 11:45 o'clock under the leadership of June Larson. Carol singing, accompanied by Oscar Larsen's guitar and Dick Schmelzler's accordion, will be first on the program followed by a Scripture reading by Dorothy Paeske.

Soloist, Edward Lucas, will contribute the next part of the program and Hinda Cunningham will play a violin solo during the offertory.

Several poems will be read by Cynthia Walker, followed by assembly singing.

Bethany Church To Take Part In Carillon Program

The four hundred churches in the United States equipped with Deagan Carillons have been asked to join in playing the melody of the Tolerance Plea hymn on Christmas day, also to incorporate this hymn in the service of that day.

The Escanaba Bethany Lutheran church, Dr. C. Albert Lund, pastor, will make use of this hymn in its early morning service, and in the afternoon at 2 o'clock it will be played on the tower chimes. The hymn is sung to the music of "My Country 'Tis of Thee."

The text of the Tolerance Plea hymn is as follows: O Christ, to Thee we pray On this Thy natal day Grant Thou our plea Free from oppression's blight Those who in search of light Ask but the human right Of liberty

O may Thy grand ideal To every heart be real This glorious day Thy creed of brotherhood By all be understood Thy precepts wise and good All men obey

Our land its greetings sends To all the world as friends That strife may cease O may Christ's love be known Wherever power is shown Good will toward man alone Can bring us peace

Indian Children At Hannahville Present Program

Pupils of the Hannahville Indian school, under the direction of Miss Esther Petonquot, NYA musical director, presented a program of Christmas carols before a large group of parents Thursday afternoon.

The program was: Joy to the World—Mixed chorus. O Come All Ye Faithful—Girls' chorus. Away in the Manger—Fourth grade girls.

It Came Upon the Midnight Clear—Seventh and eighth grade girls. O Little Town of Bethlehem—Seventh and eighth grade girls. Silent Night—Girls' chorus. My Candle—Francis Smith. Jolly Old Saint Nicholas and I'm On the Housetop—Fourth, fifth and sixth grades.

Jingle Bells—Boys' chorus. Immediately following the program, gifts and Christmas packages were distributed to forty-five children of the Hannahville Indian community. A group of primary children then danced the Virginia Reel, as their contribution to the program, while the boys sang "Santa Claus Is Comin' to Town." Cyril Mantel is teacher of the school.

If that's all you've got, I can't mess with it. Shabby hand in office of John T. Ziberman, Omaha, Neb., when handed $100.

WOMEN AT WORK
My friend, Westbrook Pegler, by and large, is very much against official or unofficial meddling with the affairs of the individual, except as he or she runs afoul of the law. But he suggested the other day that employers and politicians control appointments to make a practice of refusing to hire women unless they can show that they actually need the service. This practice to apply to married women whose husbands are able to support them and single women who "take jobs merely to have something to do until they marry" and then retain their positions "in competition with necessitous males who have dependent families."

I wish Mr. Pegler would think again where this line of reasoning is likely to get him. How are the employers and politicians going to decide whether the female applicant for a job really needs it or whether some one else can support her? Shall it be left up to the employer or the politician to decide whether, for instance, if a wife decides to work in order to increase the family income to cover the expense of a good education for the child or children, that ambition is or is not justified? If a stenographer marries shall the employer subpoena her new husband to find out what his income is and whether, in the estimation of the employer it is sufficient to support a wife, and then hire or fire her according to his own estimate?

Are you prepared to be consistent, Mr. Pegler, and extend your yardstick to the whole field of employment? That would mean substituting the standard of need for the standard of competence, according to which, if two men apply for the same job, one with two children and one with nine, the one with nine gets it regardless of other considerations.

Are you thinking of initiating a survey or some other system, under which every woman is guaranteed her permanent existence after marriage? What is to become of the women who marry, have children and are deserted by their husbands? Or those whose husbands die, leaving no money? It happens all the time. What chance has a woman in that position to earn a living for herself or her children if for years she has never worked outside her own home?

Do you really believe that any person—granted that women are people—should have to choose between work and marriage? Are not both a necessity of any fully developed life? Are all marriages bound to be such that an intelligent woman can be fully occupied in taking care of her home?

Did you ever take a look at the figures to see just what women do work—and at what?

Sixty per cent of all women more than fifteen years old are married.

Twelve per cent are widowed or divorced.

Twenty-eight per cent are single.

And of the whole 100 per cent 22 per cent are employed outside their own homes.

The average wages of all those employed is $11 a week—which doesn't make it look as though the bulk of them were working for fun. Nearly a third of all the women working—30 per cent—are in domestic service. No one has ever suggested that these jobs should be given to men, although actually domestic service is the worst possible berth for girls who want to marry or for women with children to support.

The next largest group of working women are school teachers. Personally, I think there are too many women school teachers, or rather, too few men. I think it would be much better for our little boys if they were brought up to a larger extent by schoolmasters. The reason is, of course, that school teaching is so abominably paid and demands so much patience and is held in such low social esteem—instead of being regarded as the first of all professions—that few men want the jobs.

But the theory that married women should not be allowed to teach school has always seemed to me monstrous. It amounts to saying that it is better for our children to be brought up by young girls, or by spinsters, or by women whose love relationships are illicit than by women who are leading a normal life. By every observation the woman who makes a good teacher—a profession which requires intelligence and love and understanding of children—makes the best mother and the two occupations can be better combined than most.

But all over this country women are having to choose between teaching children and having them, because of laws that force them to resign—often after years of experience—if they marry. And in this case the job seldom goes to a man but to another woman whose only asset is that she has not got a husband!

Anyhow, the idea that women take men's jobs need some very careful investigation. If you look at it in the larger implications

● SERIAL STORY SKI'S THE LIMIT

BY ADELAIDE HUMPHRIES

CAST OF CHARACTERS
SALLY BLAIR—heroine. She had everything that popularity could win her, except DAN REYNOLDS—hero. He might have had Sally but while he was king on skis
COREY PORTER—king of the social whirl. So... But go on with the story.

Yesterday, Corey consents to bring Dan to his party and vows that he'll beat Sally at her own game, for Dan surely can be no rival now.

CHAPTER XI
Sally thought that Saturday night would never come. Suppose Corey did not succeed in persuading Dan to come with him when it did? Her birthday party would be a failure. To see Dan was the only gift she wanted.

She received many other presents, a cunning little wrist watch, set with diamonds, from her adoring father, and a new riding horse, which she christened Lucky Star, because of a star-shaped white spot on the mare's head. Flowers from Corey, red roses, which she knew were supposed to stand for love. Some exquisitely embroidered handkerchiefs from Babe, a huge box of sweets from Pudge.

Sally spent a lot of time trying to plan a party that somehow would be different, a party in which Dan, if he came, could join. She did not want it to be the usual noisy rad-de-da, like so many others. She wished the season had been held out-of-doors. Deciding on this, her mind to hold it in the big barn. A banyard party, it should be, in every detail. Hay stacked in the corners, spread over the floor, lanterns hung from high rafters, an artificial silver of a moon. A hill-billy orchestra would furnish music and entertainment. A midnight feast would be served, guests were to wear their oldest clothes. There were to be games of every description, some that would be new, others that everyone had played in childhood.

Sally never looked prettier than she did in her old-fashioned checkered gingham dress, a wreath of daisies in her dark curls, her eyes bright, her cheeks flushed as she welcomed her guests. Corey was late. But that was not unusual. He never got anywhere on time. Besides, if he brought Dan, he would have to drive to the far side of town to pick him up.

The evening did not begin for Sally until she glimpsed Corey's fair head towering in the doorway, and behind him a darker one that made her heart begin to pound. Then they were coming toward her. Corey with his long swift stride, Dan following more slowly—and yes, Sally's heart beat slackened, pity flooded through her, he was walking with an unmistakable limp.

She hurried forward, holding out her hand, making no effort to conceal her eagerness. Sally, who never ran to meet anyone, who always cleverly concealed any eagerness she may have felt. She had waited for this moment too long to hide her heart with subtlety. Then she was looking into those gray eyes, so direct, so dear, she you will be forced to the conclusion that the shoe is on the other foot. The division of labor, the modern industrial system, has cut women off from their traditional and historic activities.

Women, Mr. Pegler, were the original manufacturers. They were spinning and weaving and sewing and making pottery and cooking when men were chiefly concerned with fighting and hunting. But along came men like Campbell and Heinz to make the soup of nations, and men like Hart, Schaffner and Marx to make papa's clothes, etc.

The only manufacturers now in the United States in which women predominate are clothing, knitting, cigar and cigarette-making, candy, manufacturing and a few related things. There are actually more men milliners and more men interior decorators. Men have been taking away women's jobs as fast as they could for a century. Some women have followed their jobs outside that is what it amounts to.

And, by and large, to keep them they simply have to be better than men. There are more women office workers, for instance, than factory workers. The reason is that women are better stenographers and better secretaries than men are. They are neater, quicker, more methodical. They are so much better as telephone operators that it has become almost exclusively a woman's trade. Ask the telephone companies. They tried employing males once and nearly went crazy.

I very much doubt whether many women who are married and have children do outside work unless there is something that they enormously want to do or unless they consider it absolutely necessary. And I do not doubt at all that most women want to marry and have children.

To run a home and at the same time work outside is not easy. The proof that most women do make a choice—and choose the former—shows in the figures. If they choose to do both there is probably in nine cases out of ten a very good reason for it. And unless, or until, we get the organized anti-hill civilization which seems to many to be the perfect Utopian dream, I am in favor of letting the ladies—and their husbands—decide for themselves.

was saying, "Oh, I'm so glad you came, Dan! I was so afraid you might not. It's so good to see you again."

"It's good to see you, too, Sally," Dan returned, in his quiet, grave way. "To be frank with you, I didn't think I ought to come. But I had a special reason."

"Special or not?" Sally dimpled at him, "you are here—and that's all that counts." Oh, he looked so terribly thin, so pitifully white. Gone was the deep smooth tan from wind and sun, the strength and vigor from conquering mountains. He looked different, too, in his gray suit and stiff white collar that took the place of rough sport togs. He looked too dressed up, too conscious of that fact, his clothes were too new and pressed and proper.

Sally introduced him with real pride to her other guests. She warned Babe, sotto-voce, to see that Dan did not feel left out while she attended to her duties as hostess and got the party on its way. She knew her friends would not mean to be rude or unkind to any stranger, but they were so completely absorbed in their own circle, so noisy and gay, they might forget that Dan did not belong.

Sally was determined that he should belong, and feel that he did. She made every effort all through that long evening to see to this. But before the evening was fairly well started, Sally had to admit to herself that her party was not a success. That is, so far as Dan was concerned. Oh, he joined in the games, he laughed with the rest of them, he did his part. But perhaps he could not forget that at other affairs like this he had been behind the scenes, helping in the kitchen, earning his way. Perhaps this new world was, as he had told Sally, too far removed from his. But he was part of it now. Sally had brought him into it, she would make things right.

When it was time for the midnight spread Sally looked around in vain, searching for Dan. Just a minute before she had seen him, standing apart, talking earnestly with her father, who had come out to watch the young people for a little while. But now Dan was nowhere in sight. He might have stepped outside to get a breath of air. The big barn was close and crowded with so many people.

"Oh, here you are!" Sally said. He was outside, standing alone looking up at the real moon that hung a big golden ball low in the sky. "I have been hunting for you, Dan. It's almost time for a grand march and for the supper afterwards. I want you to be my partner."

He turned and looked at her searchingly, slowly. Then he shook his head. "It's no go, Sally Blair," Dan said. "I told you I only came tonight—for a special reason. I'm going to leave—for the same one."

Sally said, "I don't know what you mean. I only know I'm glad you came, Dan."

"But you see now, which was what I wanted to prove to you, the reason I spoke of, that I don't fit in. I told you that, Sally, once before, remember?"

As though she could forget! On top of a mountain, in a snow-white world. That had belonged—for one brief, fleeting, lovely moment—just to them alone.

"I know why you asked me tonight," Dan said. Corey had made it plain enough, he thought, now without grinning. "You feel sorry for me. You still think you are to blame for the accident. I told you I didn't blame you for that. I told you that had nothing to do with the fact that we never can be friends."

"If we can't, it's because you won't be. Because you really haven't forgiven me. Because you won't give me another chance." Sally said. Her face, raised to the soft golden light, her dark eyes were as grave as his.

"That's all past," Dan said. "I don't blame you for anything now. I'm forgiving you for everything—if there is anything to forgive."

How could he do otherwise when she looked so lovely in her little gingham dress, with the circle of daisies for a crown, in her hair when—once more—for another breathless moment the whole world seemed to belong just to them?

"Then we are friends," Sally said. She gave him her hand, to seal the bargain. Her lips trembled, her heart pounded with joy. Things were going to come right now, she would make them. This was only a beginning.

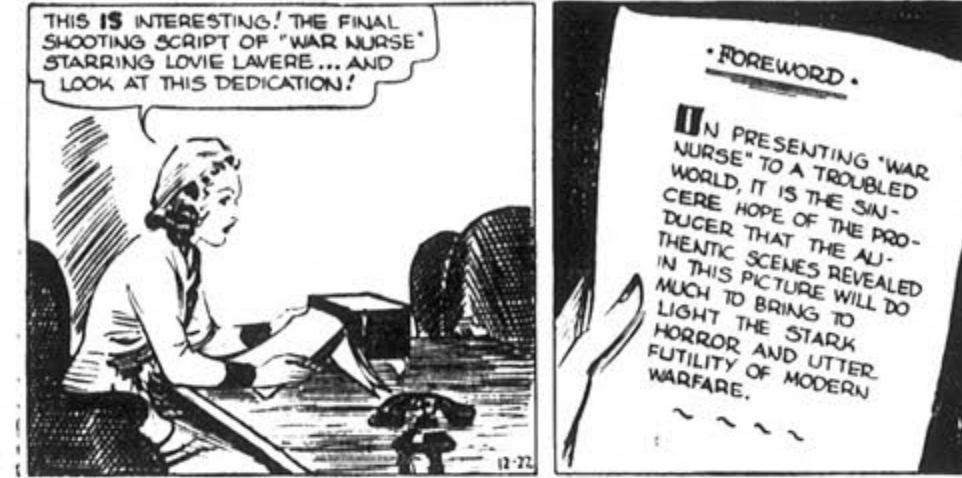

"You seem to have forgotten," Corey's voice broke in suddenly behind them. "That you're my girl? Still paying up on that old dare? You are my partner for the grand march and supper."

STOCKS SHOW SLIGHT GAINS

Table with columns: STOCK MARKET AVERAGES, Compiled by The Associated Press, 30, 60, 90, 180, 360 days.

New York, Dec. 22 (AP)—The stock market got a foothold on the upgrade today after slipping downhill for five straight sessions.

More year-end liquidation in aircrafts and scattered other issues impeded the turnaround. However, a late buying flurry enabled the market to close on a rallying note.

Rails, usually the laggards in recent years, showed more bounce on the upside than most groups.

Speculation held to a leisurely pace and transactions ran at about the same rate as yesterday, totaling 1,042,920 shares against 1,057,745.

Losses Widened Additional profit-taking and selling for a turn on the downside widened losses in the leading aircrafts, which did a tail-sip in the previous session.

In bonds, rails also pushed to the head of a slow recovery and some commodities sought to follow the main path upward.

Christmas holiday preparations continued to divert attention from the markets and many traders were content to prolong their recent waiting.

The day's business news added little to the previous picture of year-end curtailment in steel and other industries.

Fractions to a point lower in the curb were Bell Aircraft, Grumman Aircraft, United Light & Power "A" and Lockheed.

DAY'S MARKETS IN BRIEF

New York, Dec. 22 (AP)—Stocks: Irregular, rails higher as aircrafts weaker. Bonds: Steady; rails in demand. Curb: Mixed; aircrafts decline.

BOND MARKET SHOWS GAINS

Table with columns: BOND MARKET AVERAGES, Compiled by The Associated Press.

New York, Dec. 22 (AP)—Buying activities in bonds were stimulated today by a renewed rally in rail loans which brought gains of fractions to around 2 points in many trading leaders.

The upturn in the carriers persisted in the face of heaviness in some parts of the stock list.

It was noted, however, the spread in carrier bonds was accompanied by a moderate upturn in rail shares, and the confidence tended to strengthen hopes of financial circles for early legislative action to "rehabilitate" the rail industry.

U. S. governments for the most part held moderately above the previous finals, though dealings were slow.

In the foreign obligation German government obligations yielded some ground along with Poland 8s and Japan 6 1/2s.

Transactions totaled $9,391,100 face value against $8,846,875 yesterday.

Penny Company Awards Bonus To Employees Here

A special Christmas bonus will be distributed during the week before Christmas to over 30,000 employees of the J. C. Penny Company including those in Escanaba.

The company's Board of Directors voted the extra 1938 bonus in recognition of the associates' service and loyalty during the year.

Those who have been associated with the Penny Company in any of its stores, offices or warehouses for one full year or the date of the bonus is distributed will receive two weeks' extra salary.

Those who have been with the company for shorter periods will receive payments commensurate with their length of service.

Twenty-six employees will receive the bonus here.

The catfowl is a cross between the buffalo and the cow.

Other killing classes steady to strong, with clearance active; best heifers in load lots.

Wheat closed steady to strong, with upward lift of prices, the wheat market today reflected the overnight government report forecasting the sharpest year-to-year reduction in wheat production prospects on record.

The market also was strengthened by winter trading ended today, by strength at Liverpool at the close and by reports that neither Australia nor Argentina were promising their wheat on the European market.

Greater reduced acreage and poor condition of winter wheat suggested a possible crop next summer of 465,000,000 bushels, smaller than 1935 and 200,000,000 bushels less than harvested this year.

Recent private forecasts indicate a crop of around 424,000,000 bushels was possible. This took some of the surprise away from the official figures.

Wheat closed 3-5 to 1 cent higher. May 66 7-8 to 67, July 66 5-8 to 66 3-4; corn 1 1/8 to 5-8 lower, May 51 7-8 to 52, July 51 3-4 to 3-5 lower.

The pessimistic crop outlook, while strengthening the market under the heavy influence of the wheat market, also was affected by the fact that the trade has suffered for weeks from neglect of broad outdoor speculative interest.

The winding up of trading in December contracts caused purchasing by elevator and cash interests who took what a bushel was selling more than 2 cents a bushel below May and July delivery options.

At the start of trading outstanding December contracts remaining to be settled totaled 1,321,000 bushels. After today these contracts can be satisfied only by delivery and this must be done within the next week.

Sagging crop prices reflected substantial pre-holiday receipts and lack of export business. Selling of December contracts was in evidence. Lower prices at Buenos Aires also induced some selling.

Most of the oats trade consisted of evening up of accounts and the rye market also was quiet.

Selling of lard followed release of the official fall pig crop estimate indicating a larger increase than expected.

Ishpeming Youth Stars In Wolves' Fifth Win

Michigan Scores 42-27 Victory Over Unbeaten Cornell Team

White Plains, N. Y., Dec. 22 (AP)—Overcoming Cornell's early lead, the University of Michigan's clever basketball team swamped the Red Raiders 42 to 27 tonight for their fifth consecutive victory.

Michigan made use of an intricate passing attack to sweep through Cornell's zone defense and ran up a 27 to 13 lead at half time, then coasted through the second half.

Jim Rae with 19 points and Ed Thomas with 12 led the Wolverines in scoring but the whole team joined in a spectacular exhibition of ball-stealing, hard-passing and quick-breaking which overpowered the big Red team.

It was the first loss for Cornell in three games. Led by Walter Foertsch, who scored eight points to top the losers, Cornell rallied in the second half to come within eight points of the invaders at one time, but then fell back again.

IRISH WIN, 48-30

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 22 (AP)—Notre Dame, after losing to two other Big Ten basketball teams, finally found themselves here tonight against Northwestern and walloped the Wildcats, 48 to 30.

The beating was the worst Notre Dame has given Northwestern in 12 years on the hardwood. The schools will play another game New Year's Eve at Evanston.

Notre Dame, which has won two games this season, had lost to Wisconsin and Michigan before tying into Northwestern.

Some 4,000 spectators saw the Irish get away to a 7-to-2 lead in the first five minutes of play and hold an advantage of five points or more for the rest of the game.

Sophomore Ed Risika led the Irish in scoring with 15 points, and Senior Paul Ducharme got 12. Both are from Chicago. Bob Koble was high for Northwestern with seven.

WESTERN STATE LOSES

St. Joseph, Mich., Dec. 22 (AP)—A field goal by Forward Dixmiller in the final half minute gave DePauw university a 33-31 victory over Western (Mich.) State Teachers college tonight in a charity basketball game here.

The lads from Greencastle, Ind., were ahead 19-18 at half time. Guse, Benton Harbor boy playing forward for the quintet from Kalamazoo, and Peckham, center, tied at 13 points for the scoring lead. Dixmiller led DePauw with 11.

Both sides played a smooth game in the first half, but the second half was more ragged.

Hapless Canadiens Beaten By Rangers

Montreal, Dec. 22 (AP)—With five of the game's seven goals coming in a whirlwind final period, the New York Rangers trounced Montreal's hapless Canadiens 5 to 2 tonight to strengthen their hold on second place in the National hockey league.

The first period was a cautious and scoreless start, but the Rangers began riding hard in the second and tallied twice within a minute and four seconds. Their attack eventually reached a pace where they scored their last two goals within 16 seconds of each other.

Alex Shibley caused most of the damage with three of the New York goals in an exhibition that has come to be known as the "hat trick." Mac Colville opened the scoring and Clint Smith scored the other point.

JONES CALLS OFF PRACTICE

Trojan Mentor Puzzles Onlookers; Should Know Ropes

Los Angeles, Dec. 22 (AP)—Switching the Rose Bowl training program into neutral gear, to the complete befuddlement of practically everyone except himself and the Southern California football team, Head Coach Howard Jones called off practice today.

The headman looked over the results of yesterday's long workout and decided the big red squad was coming along nicely for the January 2 battle with Duke, despite the fact that bad weather had hampered the drills for days and little or no rough work had been meted out prior to that.

The trusted few who have been permitted into the guarded practice precincts shook their heads when today's holiday was announced, but no one could accuse wily Howard Jones of not knowing his business in such matters.

After all, the veteran mentor had guided three Trojan teams into the big post season classic at Pasadena, and no complaints were forthcoming after these engagements from Trojan followers.

The practice yesterday was perhaps the longest and the hardest on the program to date, although there was still no scrimmage. Most of the time was spent on defense as the Trojan scrub team tried to imitate the Duke brand of offense.

It got nowhere, chiefly because the scrubs weren't supplied with an Eric Tipton, Willard Eaves or George McAfee in the backfield.

Des Moines, Iowa, Dec. 22 (AP)—They aren't going to take any chances tomorrow when Bob Feller, the young fastball pitcher for the Cleveland Indians, has a couple of impacted wisdom teeth pulled.

Present plans call for Bob to go to a hotel room immediately after the extractions. The room will have two beds, one for the doctor to occupy during the night just in case complications arise.

BUSH ACQUIRED

Kansas City, Dec. 22 (AP)—W. F. Grant, owner of the Kansas City American hockey association club, announced tonight acquisition of Ed Bush, 21, right winger and defenseman, from the Detroit Red Wings of the National hockey league.

Bush, who lives at Collingwood, Ont., is being loaned to Kansas City for the season and is subject to recall by Detroit next year.

HINKLE SECOND PACKER SCORER

Vern Lewellen Leads Green Bay; Blood In Third Place

Green Bay, Wis.—Vern Lewellen, one of the greatest backs in gridiron history, still tops the Green Bay Packer all-time scoring list with 301 points. He amassed that total between the years 1924 and 1932.

The one-time Nebraska all-American held the National Professional league scoring lead up to this season when he was passed by Earl (Dutch) Clark who recently resigned as coach of Detroit Lions and accepted a similar position with the Cleveland Rams. Clark's record is 304.

Second among the Packer scorers is Clarke Hinkle, leading scorer of the league this season, with 239 points made between 1932 and 1935. While Lewellen made 50 touchdowns, a mark that still stands, and one extra point, Hinkle's points were made 39 touchdowns, 23 points after touchdown, and 12 field goals.

In climbing to second, Hinkle passed Johnny Blood, coach of the Pittsburgh Pirates, who picked up 224 points on 37 touchdowns and two points after touchdown for the Packers from 1929 to 1936.

Hinkle, Blood and Lewellen also are excellent punters with the latter just about the best on any list.

Coaches and Schedules

When Raymond Altenhof went to Sault Ste. Marie to coach high school basketball in 1935, Sault High Blue Devil game fans recognized the beginning of an entirely new era of the hardwood game.

The style of basketball introduced to both players and fans was new in this northern country. The Sault's new coach, tall and blond, who hailed from Gary, Indiana, considered by many the hottest of basketball, spent nearly the entire first year here getting fans and players accustomed to the latest in basketball.

In his first year in the Sault his team won four games while losing ten and also dropping one engagement in the district tournament. But what he taught his Blue Devils in the first year served to better his team's record for the last two years.

In 1937, the Blue Devils won ten games, lost four and split one and one in the tournament. Last season the Sault quintet marked up eleven victories to three defeats in the regular season. In the district meet the Blue Devils won the first game and lost by two points to Ishpeming, the team that a week later won the Class B Upper Peninsula title.

Was Fine Guard

He sent his team off to a flying start this season with a 27-9 victory over Mather High of Munising.

Altenhof, an all-state basketball and football star at Emerson High School, Gary, in 1927, played on a strong independent basketball team in Indiana before entering the University of Michigan in 1929. In high school he won three letters in basketball, two in football and one in baseball.

Altenhof, rated one of the finest guards to ever wear Michigan's maize and blue, starred for the Wolverines in 1931, 1932 and 1933. At Michigan he played under Coach George Veenker and F. C. (Cappy) Cappon, now head coach at Princeton. He coached at Roseville High school for one year before coming to the Sault.

The Blue coach is married and has one "future president," 9-month-old Robert Altenhof.

The rest of the Sault schedule follows:
Jan. 5—St. Ignace.
Jan. 12—Newberry.
Jan. 20—at Manistiquie.
Jan. 27—at Escanaba.
Jan. 28—at Marquette.
Feb. 3—Manistiquie.

Feb. 10—Ishpeming.
Feb. 17—at Newberry.
Feb. 18—at Ishpeming.
March 3—at Munising.
March 4—at Negaunee.

BADGERS, IRISH RETAIN STARS

Mehl, Rice, Fenske and Lash Scheduled for Several Races

New York, Dec. 22 (AP)—From the vantage point of the offices of Secretary-treasurer Dan Ferris of the National A. A. U., it appears that Notre Dame and Wisconsin will contribute most heavily to the roster of new-found stars in the coming indoor track campaign.

The Irish have a stand-out at distances from a mile to three miles in Greg Rice, national outdoor 5,000-meter champion and recent winner of the N. C. A. A. cross-country title. Wisconsin, in addition to an established mile ace Charles (Chuck) Fenske, has a threat to Don Lash's two-mile rule in Walter Mehl, who set Big Ten and N. C. A. A. records of 9:10.4 and 9:11.1 at that distance last summer.

Fenske Looks Good

Mehl, Rice, Fenske and Lash, now an Indiana state poleman, all are expected to appear in some of the major fixtures during a season that opens January 7 and runs through March 25.

Meals, who is a freshman at New York U., Archie San Romani, who everyone expects to be "better than ever" this winter, and Josef Mostert of Belgium.

Two Quilt Boards

The last-named, only foreigner who definitely has accepted the A. A. U.'s invitation to compete here, will be remembered as the man who ran a 4:11 third-place mile at Princeton last June while Cunningham was winning in 4:07.2. Since then twice he has been runner-up to England's Sydney Wooderson at 1,500 meters, once in 3:50, the equivalent of a 4:08 mile.

Fred Wolcott and Louis Zamperini, two other 1938 outdoor sensations, are shying away from the board tracks. Wolcott, blond Rice Institute hurdling sensation who scored doubles in the N. C. A. A. and National A. A. U. championships, will compete only in the A. A. U. indoor meet, while Zamperini will not run indoors at all on the advice of his coaches.

Besides Cunningham, who hit his 1938 peak with that 4:04.4 mile at Dartmouth last March, other due to come back bidding for fresh laurels are Jim Herbert and Ben Johnson, New York Negro flashes at the middle distances and the sprints; Long John Woodruff of Pittsburgh, who rarely has been able to fit his giant stride to board track limitations; Allan Tomlich, mid-western hurdling ace, and Frank Ryan, New York shot putter.

ROCK

Rock, Mich.—Olva Turunan of Detroit is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Turunan.

Mrs. Dan Suomi is confined to her home with a broken leg which she suffered when she fell on the ice near her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McNamee and family have returned from a week end visit with Mr. McNamee's parents at Marquette, Wis.

Mrs. Fred Nygard returned Saturday from St. Francis hospital where she is convalescing very slowly.

Miss Audrey Carlson of Lansing will arrive home Saturday for a weeks visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carlson.

Clarence Suoni, Paul Hakanen, Arnold Suoni, Elinor Hakanen, Carrol Norden, and Rose Waak, students at Northern State College Marquette have arrived home for the Christmas vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carlson and Mrs. Josie Carlson were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Arntzen Sunday.

Gilbert Larson spent the week end with relatives in Chicago and Naperville, Ill.

Joe Le Golvan of Marquette visited his sister Miss Marie Le-Golvan on Friday.

"JUNIOR, COME HERE!"

"Milwaukee, Wis.—A "Hey! Junior!" shout from Coach Bill Chandler of the Marquette university basketball squad would hastily assemble a full and formidable varsity array. Marquette cagers who carry the first names of their fathers include Co-Capt. Erwin Graf and David Quibus, Ralph Amsden, Glenn Adams, George Collettine and George Sutter.

An individual responsibility in government, the necessity for straight thinking through floods of propaganda, and a reliance on Christian teachings were stressed by the speaker as fundamental needs for a successful democracy.

Father Maier told of a visit to Europe, including a visit to Germany, in which he was interested to find that German newspapers "colored" their foreign news to the extent of absurdity. Strikes and child marriages in the United States were presented as evidence of near revolution and depravity. Yet the American people are also the victims of propaganda, and only thought and a digging after facts are safeguards against it, Father Maier said.

SPILLING the DOPE

BY JOHN INKBLINGER

Bill Kern can't understand how David O'Brien completed 93 forward passes out of 167 attempts . . . better than 55 per cent . . . and 19 for touchdowns.

Kern . . . Carnegie Tech's blond coach of the year . . . the most formidable tackle Dr. Jock Sutherland ever drilled at Pittsburgh . . . talks as though he suspects little Davey O'Brien was not rushed to any great extent.

He insists that he is more worried about the Texas Christian running game in the New Orleans Sugar Bowl, Jan. 2, than O'Brien's passes.

"That is one reason why we will stick to our orthodox 6-2-2-1 defense," says Kern.

T. C. U. will outweigh Carnegie Tech nearly 10 pounds per man up front.

The Horned Frogs have a full-back in Connie Sparks, who packs a lot of drive at 195 pounds. The 150-pound O'Brien is no slouch as a carrier . . . off tackle or around end . . . behind the gigantic captain and tackle, Insull B. Hale.

But to get back to O'Brien's phenomenal passing, there are two ways to render aerial fire ineffective. One is to borrow a man from the line . . . reinforce the secondary . . . try to cover every receiver.

Young Baseball Players Favored, Harridge Claims

BY EARL HILLIGAN

Chicago, Dec. 22 (AP)—Start swinging that bat and oil up the old glove, youngster—for yours is the greatest chance in baseball's history to carve a career.

That's the advice handed the nation's sports-minded boys today by William Harridge, president of the American League.

Never before, he said, have youngsters had such an opportunity of correctly learning how to play the game and never before have they had brighter chances of working their way from the lowliest of the "bush leagues" to major league heights and stardom.

Formation of the new Class E leagues, schools for baseball and the American Legion program offer youngsters marvelous opportunities to learn the game from former major league stars," Harridge said. Previously, no one took much interest in the boy who seriously wanted to learn the sport, but today it's a different and more gratifying story.

30 Grads Make Grade

30 American Legion's baseball program enjoyed a great season in 1938. Under the direction of H. L. Challaux, head of the Legion's National Americanism commission, thousands of boys played the game with expert instruction. In Illinois there were 1,855 teams and New York state had 918.

The Kellogg school had 220,000 boys, between the ages of 10 and 16, learning the game from such teachers as Harry Hellmann, Lou Fonseca, Tris Speaker and Jack Coombs. As the result of these programs, high school coaches are becoming more baseball-minded, taking time to properly instruct boys to take care of themselves and play the game fairly."

Thirty graduates of American Legion baseball, Harridge said, now are in organized baseball, and major league clubs generally are building on players brought up slowly from the minors.

Tigers and Boston Red Sox, among others, have developed young players with success," Harridge continued. "They don't rush the boys. When they do reach the majors the clubs are pretty certain they'll stay there."

The two major leagues each give the American Legion $20,000 annually to aid its junior diamond program. Harridge believes it money well invested and that with the new Class E circuits, authorized this year, more and more boys will step onto that lowest rung in baseball's ladder and climb to the top.

ALL CATHOLIC TEAM

Milwaukee, Wis.—Coach Paddy Driscoll of the Marquette university football team, selecting the 1938 all-Catholic all-America eleven for an eastern syndicate, has named: Earl Brown, Notre Dame, and John Wysocki, Villanova, ends; Joe Belnor, Notre Dame, and Al Wolff, Santa Clara, tackles; Jim Turner, Holy Cross, and Ray Apolski, Marquette, guards; John Schleich, Santa Clara, center; Dom Principe, Fordham, quarterback; Joe Mel-lendeck, Georgetown, and Mike Klotovich, St. Marys (Cal.), halfbacks, and Bill Osmanski, Holy Cross, fullback.

NIAGARA BEATS LOCALS, 29-27

Gaels Victors In Two Overtime Periods In Thriller

Niagara, Wis., Dec. 22—A field goal by Eslinger—his sixth of the evening—former Kingsford high school ace, in the second overtime period gave the Niagara Gaels a 29-27 victory over the Escanaba Biesers in a thrilling basketball game here Wednesday night.

The locals had to come from behind after a slow start to win the game. Escanaba started out fast, leading 8-4 at the end of the first quarter and 18-14 at half time. Niagara gradually ate into the Escanaba lead, the score being 22-21 in favor of the visitors in the third period.

Perron, former Iron Mountain star, and Eslinger slipped in several field goals shortly before the end of the regulation game to put Niagara into the lead but Cooney Hogan tied it up at 25 all with a free throw on Perron's foul.

In the first overtime period, Malcolmson of the visitors and Eslinger scored offsetting field goals and the latter won the ball game in the final seconds of the second overtime.

CRUISER DIES OF PNEUMONIA

Earl Brigham Passes At Hermansville After Short Illness

Early E. Brigham, 59, cruiser for the Wisconsin Land and Lumber company, passed away at his apartment in the Menominee hotel in Hermansville yesterday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock after an illness of about two weeks due to pneumonia.

Mr. Brigham resided at Hermansville for the past year and one half, locating there after living at Mancelona for 18 years where he was superintendent of lumber mills. Previously, he had lived at Antigo, Wisconsin.

The deceased was born at Evert, Mich., on August 18, 1879. He is survived by his wife; a daughter, Josephine; a son, David; one sister, Mrs. Hazel Moses of Iron River; and four brothers, Ernest of Tacoma, Wash., Aldis of Grand Lodge, Nelson of Seattle, Wash., and Lloyd of Sheboygan, Wis.

Mr. Brigham was a member of Masonic Lodge, F. & A. M. 215 at Bayfield, Wis.

The body was brought to Anderson funeral home in this city to be prepared for burial. Masonic services will be conducted by the local lodge at the funeral home Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock after which the body will be shipped to Mancelona for burial.

OBITUARY

PETER A. OLSON

Funeral services for Peter A. Olson, well known resident of Escanaba, who died Wednesday, will be held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the family home, 223 South 15th street, Rev. Dr. C. Albert Lund of Bethany Lutheran church officiating. Burial will be in the family lot in Lakeview cemetery.

ERNEST E. LARSON

Funeral services for Ernest E. Larson, former resident of this city, who was killed by the accidental discharge of a shotgun Sunday at his home in Muskegon, will be conducted in Calumet this afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. Carl E. Berger of the First Presbyterian church of this city, officiating at the rites. Burial will be made in Calumet.

MRS. U. G. ROBBINS

Funeral services for Mrs. U. G. Robbins, highly esteemed resident of Wells, were held at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the chapel of the Anderson Funeral Home, Rev. D. E. Evans, pastor of the First M. E. church, officiating.

The services were largely attended and the resting room of the chapel was banked with beautiful floral tributes.

During the service Mrs. Edward Lucas sang a request number, the hymn, "Crossing the Bar." Mrs. Lucas played her own accompaniment.

Burial was made in Lakeview cemetery. Close friends of the family who served as pallbearers were Andrew Bredahl, C. U. Woolpert, Charles Blisdee, Paul Rockburg, Ole Thorson and Arne Andriansen.

Among those attending the services were Mrs. Cecil Priedeman, St. Paul; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Robbins and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Robbins, Milwaukee; and Fred Anderson and Hary Lebin, Odema, Wis.

No Time Extension On Sunday, Jan. 1 For Liquor Places

After reading a letter from the state liquor control commission relative to closing hours on Sunday, Dec. 25, and Sunday, Jan. 1, the Escanaba city council voted to accede to the wishes of the commission, and there will be no time extension on closing hours for Christmas morning or New Year's morning in places selling liquor by the glass.

Holiday celebrants will be required to observe the 2 a. m. closing hour as specified in regular Sunday morning regulations, and the ban on liquor will be in effect until midnight.

VON NOBEL SUIT IS CONCLUDED

Finishing Chapter of Marinette Slaying Is Written

Milwaukee, Dec. 22 (AP)—County Judge Charles A. Hanson today authorized a $7,500 settlement in the $10,000 suit filed by Clarence T. Kaiser, administrator of the estate of Mrs. Irma M. Kaiser Von Nobel against the Old Line Life Insurance company.

Mrs. Von Nobel was shot to death by her husband, Henry, at Marinette last February a few minutes before a scheduled hearing on her divorce petition. Von Nobel then killed himself.

Under terms of the settlement, $7,400 will go to Mrs. Von Nobel's estate, which is to be shared equally by two children of a former marriage, and $100 to Von Nobel's estate.

TREE ERECTED FOR FR. SIMON

"Imprisoned" Priest to Hold Prayer Service In Rectory

Iron Mountain, Dec. 22—Although the windows of their church will be dark and there will be no candles alight on the altar on Christmas Eve, most auspicious occasion on the church calendar, picketing members of St. Barbara's parish in Vulcan are nevertheless preparing an observance of the occasion for their "imprisoned" pastor, the Rev. Fr. Simon Borkowski.

A large and gaily decorated Christmas tree has been erected in the parlor of the rectory and beneath it are many gifts to be opened on Christmas by Father Simon.

On Christmas Eve it is planned to hold prayer services in the rectory, including the saying of the Rosary. And mayhap the radio will bring in the sacred and solemn strains of "Holy Night."

Eighteenth Week
Father Simon is now in his eighteenth week of confinement in the parish residence, the pickets having organized in protest against an order transferring him.

LEGION TO PACK BASKETS TODAY

Escanaba Veterans Will Help In Spreading Holiday Cheer

About 60 needy families will find Christmas baskets delivered to their homes Saturday by members of Cloverland Post 82, American Legion, who are carrying out their annual program of helping to spread holiday cheer. Due to limited finances, the post this year was forced to curtail their list of basket recipients, retaining the most needy cases and ex-soldiers with large families.

The baskets will be packed today at Legion headquarters, and will be distributed Saturday by Legionnaires. The post is working with the chamber of commerce and other charitable organizations in the basket distribution to avoid duplication.

The southeastern portion of England has more thunderstorms than any other part of the country, taking the entire year into consideration.
