REDUCED FARE SPURS TRAVEL

Railroads Are Reporting Increases in Passenger Business

Chicago—While a "postalized" railroad passenger fare system, under which one might ride across the continent for as little as $5, is being given some thought in Washington, the railroads themselves, it is indicated by a recent announcement of the eastern lines, haven't given up the idea of trying to increase travel by cutting fares. And while these eastern roads puzzle over the issue of whether lower fares do bring in more revenue in the end, on the basis of comparatively short periods of experimentation, the western roads point to conclusions which might be drawn from a study of rates and passenger volume levels over a long period.

Briefly, a table of these figures shows that while the average revenue per passenger mile, which of course indicates the average rate or ticket mileage cost, declined steadily from 1932 to 1937, the number of revenue passenger miles increased. This is for the whole nation. Separating the figures for the eastern and western roads, it is found that the degree of reaction in the west was even greater. In other words, a lowering of rates in the west brought a greater amount of travel and a larger total revenue. This means that when costs were cut there were more passengers and they traveled farther.

Big Rise in 1937

The Western Railways Committee on Public Relations notes that the nation's roads carried 479,979,887 in 1933. In 1937, though, the number had increased to 497,288,356. On the basis of passenger miles, or the number of passengers carried one mile, the figures show that in 1932 there were 16, 971,044,205 revenue passenger miles, and 24,655,414,121 in 1937.

Breaking this down still farther it is found that during this period the average trip per passenger increased from 35.44 miles to 49.55 miles.

And all this occurred while rates, stated in terms of average revenue per passenger mile, were going down from 2.219 cents to 1.795 cents. Rates in the western region alone during this period dropped from 2.190 cents to 1.668 cents.

As for total passenger revenues, they jumped from $377,095,346 in 1932 to $442,809,308 in 1937. Of course there are many other factors entering into the situation, chief among them general business ups and downs, so nothing sharply conclusive can be drawn from this statistical study. It is admitted, it does seem to show, however, it is contended by those who favor lower rates, which cover most of the operators in the western group and some in the east, that increased business and income varies inversely—within limits that have not yet been accurately determined—with a reduction of rates.

Western Roads Pioneer Western roads, operating in a vast, sparsely settled territory, with longer "hops," less commuting, and more truck competition due to less highway congestion, have pioneered in cutting rates.

In 1933 these western roads voluntarily reduced rates from 3.6 cents to 2 cents a mile. The easterners at this time insisted on keeping the old rate, but in 1936, after the western roads had shown the benefits of the move, the I. C. C. ordered the eastern lines to come down to the same level. Only one road, the Baltimore and Ohio, did so without misgivings.

Business then began to get had again add when their books showed no more black, but more red, figures, the eastern roads last year applied for an increase and the I. C. C. reversed its previous ruling and allowed them to go back up to 2.5 cents a mile. The western roads, though, still cling to their lower rates. Now the eastern group is wondering whether the falling off in traffic during the latter part of 1938 was due to this higher rate, or just to business conditions generally. They noted that when special reduced fares were in effect during the holidays, business increased more than seasonably.

Meanwhile the roads of the southern territory, Atlantic Coast Line, Southern, Louisville and Nashville, Gulf, Mobile and Northern, and Seaboard Air Line, are preparing to put into effect on Jan. 15 a cutback from 2 cents to 1-1/2 cents per mile for round-trip coach fares. If the eastern roads cut their rates it is considered in the region that it will be a victory for the more progressive element in the field which long has held to the lower-fare-more-business theory, and which incidentally has also pioneered in the immensely successful use of Diesel power.

BOARD REVISES REQUIREMENTS

Changes in High School Courses Announced Here

The Board of Education at its last regular meeting authorized changes in the high school courses to liberalize local requirements to correspond more with the revised entrance requirements of the University of Michigan.

Admission to the University now requires fifteen units of credit which must comprise two major sequences and two minor sequences. A major sequence consists of three years work in one department of field, and a minor consists of two years work in a related group of subjects.

Two sequences may be chosen from the foreign language group but only one from the others. After this it will not be necessary to take algebra or geometry to graduate from the Manistique high school.

However, students planning to take engineering should take two years of mathematics, preferably three years. Students planning to take chemistry or physics should take algebra as those intending to go into law or medicine should have work in foreign language.

The total requirements for the several courses offered in the local high school will not be changed. The intent of the Board of Education is not to lower the standards required for graduation but to permit students to follow their own interests to a greater extent in meeting those standards.

Stadium Ice Rink In Fine Condition

The ice rink at the Manistique stadium is in excellent condition now, it has been announced, and is being used daily and nightly by a large throng of skaters. Through the courtesies of the Manistique Light and Power company, the rink is well lighted for evening skating. Lights have been strung by the company and energy provided without charge.

Seniors' Pictures Taken This Week

Individual pictures of members of the senior class of the Manistique high school will be taken at the school Thursday and Friday of this week. Students have been notified what time they will have sittings.

Mrs. Albert Multhaupt, Route one, returned Friday from Elgin, Ill., where she has spent the past two weeks visiting with friends and relatives.

LEGION AFFAIRS REVIEWED HERE

State Commander Main Speaker at Banquet Sunday Declaring that American World War veterans who fought in France to make the world safe for democracy have been greatly disillusioned by the turn of international events in the past 20 year, Commander W. Bea Waldrup, of Detroit, head of the American Legion, Department of Michigan, told a large and enthusiastic audience at the Legion Cottage here Sunday night that the Legion is devoted to the cause of making the United States alone safe for democracy and takes a stand of strict neutrality in the affairs of other nations of the world.

Commander Waldrup was the principal speaker at the banquet Sunday night, at which state and upper peninsula officers of the American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary were guests of honor. A crowd of approximately 140 persons attended the banquet.

Other members of the official party were Mrs. Ellen Swanson, of Ironwood, state president of the Legion Auxiliary; Mrs. DuCharme, Detroit, child welfare case worker; Mrs. Harry K. In a very interesting manner, Commander Waldrup outlined the field of activities of the American Legion, pointing out its accomplishments and explaining some of its objectives. 'Our program is entirely one of Americanism,' the speaker declared. 'We have accomplished much in the work of rehabilitating World War veterans who are victims of misfortunes, their widows and orphans. This work must go on.'

Joseph Schaul is the pastor, that the solemn opening of the Perpetual Novena to Our Sorrowful Mother will take place on Friday evening.

At the same hour on Wednesday and Thursday a triduum service will precede. Father Kennedy, in his sermons, described the enthusiasm shown in all parts of the United States for this most powerful novena, which was begun by the Servite Fathers on January 3, 1937, at Our Lady of Sorrows Church in Chicago, where 60,000 novenites pray every Friday at 3:30 services held every hour, on the air, from 6 a. m. to 10 p. m. The last service, at 10 p. m., is broadcast over WCFL by the Rev. James R. Keane, O. S. M., founder and director of the novena, and it has brought comfort to many a hospital patient and shut-in, as the letters to the Servites testify.

Novena services will be held each Friday evening at 7 o'clock throughout the year at All Saints' church. This devotional period lasts 45 minutes, with nine consecutive Fridays constituting a novena. On Wednesday evening Father Kennedy will explain the first half of the novena service, which consists of six prayers to Mary, Queen of Heaven. On Thursday evening the second half, when he will solemnly bless the seven stations depicting the life of Mary Mother of God. The making of these stations constitutes the Via Maris (Way of the Sorrowful Mother).

A special feature of each novena service is the blessing for the sick. This blessing is intended for those present in the congregation who are suffering from some physical malady. Servite novenas to Our Lady of Sorrows have been given widespread attention throughout the United States because of their unprecedented church attendance. The novena is now established in 301 churches in 14 archdioceses and 48 dioceses in 31 states. This same service is also being conducted in two Canadian provinces, at Bognor Regis, Sussex, England, and at Ernakuam, India. Seventy-two Chicago churches, 18 Cleveland and 10 St. Paul and Minneapolis find that crowds do not diminish with the inauguration of the novena in other churches in their own cities. The official attendance at 676 novena services held January 6 was 611,886.

SESSION SLOW; LEADERS DROP

NEW YORK STOCKS (Last Sales)

Table with columns: Net change, Previous day, Month ago, Year ago, 1932-33 low, 1933-34 high, 1937 low, 1937 high.

BY FREDERICK GARDNER New York, Jan. 16 (AP)—Stocks shifted over a narrowly irregular route in today's market and small gains and losses at the finish were about evenly divided.

It was the slowest session in nearly four months, transfers of 666,160 shares comparing with 843,780 last Friday. The Associated Press average of 60 issues was off .1 of a point at 62.2.

A few utility, merchandise and specialty stocks managed to emerge with modest advances, but many so-called leaders were unable to shake off minus signs.

Failure of Saturday's rally to follow through was attributed by brokers partly to profit-taking based on a desire for more light on the congressional outlook, a renewal of the Italo-French quarrel coincident with an apparently imminent Spanish civil war crisis, and further indecision as to just how soon business would resume the upswing interrupted by the post-holiday let-down.

Power and light company issues performed fairly well in the forenoon before the convening of the supreme court. The court adjourned, though, without handing down the long-awaited ruling on the TVA case and the utility group lost much of its rising vigor.

Bethlehem Steel was a trifle higher at the close, but U. S. Steel and Youngstown dipped notwithstanding the official estimate of a 1-point advance in this week's mill operations.

Chrysler was in arrears and General Motors unchanged, although Ward's reports forecast an output of some 325,000 units for January, even with a reduction in schedules of the two largest automobile manufacturers.

The president's three messages to congress today were studied in the boardrooms without bringing much buying inspiration. Selective gains were plentiful in the bond department. Commodities were mixed. Wheat at Chicago was up 1-8 to 3-8 of a cent and corn up 1-8 to 1/2. Cotton lost 5 to 65 cents a bushel. Sterling and the French franc did little in terms of the dollar.

Electric Bond & Share dropped back a minor fraction in the curb while small gains were posted for Lockheed, Standard Power & Light, American Gas & Electric and Gulf Oil. Volume of 159,000 shares compared with 139,000 Friday.

WPA OFFICES MOVED Marquette—With the transfer of six truckloads of office files, furniture and other equipment from Iron Mountain completed over the weekend and with the arrival of most of the office forces and executives, the Fifth district WPA headquarters in the Marquette County Historical society building will be open for business today.

TAKES OWN LIFE Marquette—Dependent because of inability to obtain work and because of poor health, Frank Williams, 64 years of age, resident of Marquette for the last 15 years, committed suicide Saturday afternoon about 1:05 at his home, 230 West Ohio street.

His body was found lying on the basement floor in a pool of blood near a 16-gauge shotgun, which was hanging on a rope tied to the cellar door.

Coroner Marvin P. Fassbender, who investigated the case, reported yesterday that no inquest was necessary. The attending physician said Mr. Williams died instantly. There was a hole above the heart where the shotgun charge entered.

YACHT CLUB ELECTIONS

Menominee—Dr. Harvey Jorgenson of Marinette, was elected Commodore of the M and M Yacht club at the annual meeting last night at Hotel Menominee, and immediately launched an active program for 1939.

"We must have cooperation of every member in Menominee and Marinette if we are to have an active club this year, and we aim to do just that," the new Commodore said.

Table: BOND MARKET AVERAGES. Lists market averages for various bond types.

New York, Jan. 16 (AP)—Domestic bond prices improved markedly today in the face of marked weakness in negotiations of the so-called dictator countries.

Renewal of tension over the relations of France and Italy was seen as a factor of extreme losses running to 3 points in German, Italian and Japanese issues.

Some recovery from the lows occurred just before the close. Czechoslovak 8s of '32 in the first transaction since the week of December 19, the sale of one bond, registered a loss of 25 points at 50.

Domestic corporate liens and most U. S. governments made a little progress on the recovery trail in spite of the weakness in the foreign list and an uninspiring stock market.

Numerous rails finished with gains of fractions to around a point. Hopes for early action by congress on rail rehabilitation were believed to have inspired support. Industrial and utility issues favored as trading mediums held to an even course and low yield issues again displayed firmness.

Excepting two or three issues which dipped a little on small offerings, U. S. governments extended recent advances by 1-32 to 6-32.

Transactions of $5,510,150, face value, were the smallest since September 27 and compared with $5,685,500 Friday.

COL. RUPPERT LAID TO REST

Thousands Pay Respects to Owner of Yankees; Babe Ruth In Tears

BY GAYLE TALBOT New York, Jan. 16. (AP)—Col. Jacob Ruppert was buried today after his friends and the church had paid him moving tribute in a solemn high requiem mass in St. Patrick's Cathedral.

More than 4,000 mourners filled the cathedral and other thousands stood outside in the cold during the service for the fabulously wealthy little brewer and owner of the New York Yankees who died last Friday after a long, painful illness. Traffic for a time was paralyzed on Fifth avenue.

Big men of the sports, financial and political world joined in the sad homage. Many of his baseball players, present and past, were there to say goodbye to the man whose liberality liked baseball salaries to their present high level.

Ruth In Tears The mass, sung by the full cathedral choir of 18 male voices, lasted for nearly an hour, solemn and sad for the most part, concluding on a majestic note as the colonel's body was carried up the broad aisle and out of the cathedral. The thousands in the street bared their heads as the casket was placed in a hearse.

Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia and Senator Robert Wagner led the procession of honorary pallbearers down the aisle to where Col. Ruppert's body rested under the high altar. They were followed by former Governor Alfred E. Smith, Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis, President William Harridge of the American League, Manager Joe McCarthy of the Yankees, Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig and other notables of the sports world. There were tears in the eyes of Ruth and Gehrig.

Negro Dancer There In the crowded pews were thousands who had known and loved the colonel. The baseball writers of New York attended in a body, as did Ruppert brewery employees. Owners Tom Yawkey of the Boston Red Sox and Clark Griffith of the Washington Senators were there.

The final absolution was pronounced by the Right Rev. Monsignor Michael J. Lavelle, rector of St. Patrick's. In the crowd that followed the casket out was Bill Robinson, the negro tap dancer, who for years has been a devout Yankee fan. Near him was Mike Jacobs, the fight promoter. Only a few cars filled with the colonel's relatives and closest friends continued to the cemetery.

The colonel's will was expected to be revealed within a few days—possibly tomorrow. His bequests to charities were expected to run into millions. The sports world, however, was most interested in learning about the world champion Yankees, who are due to head south for spring training next month.

American Skaters Preparing For Big Show At Olympic Games In Finland

BY JERRY BRONDFIELD NEA Service Sports Writer Oconomowoc, Wis., Jan. 16.—The ice is right at Fowler Lake, and over its lightning-fast surface, Jan. 18-19 inclusive, America's finest speed skaters vie for that boat ride to Delbert Lamb Milwaukee, Ore given better than an even chance of making the squad of eight.

Finland next year as members of the Olympic winter sports team. Three of the five athletes who skated for Uncle Sam at Garmisch-Partenkirchen in 1936, Leo Freisinger and Eddie Schroeder of Chicago and Delbert Lamb of Milwaukee, are given better than an even chance of making the squad of eight.

The team which skates for this country in 1940 will have three more members than the 1936 squad.

Qualifications will be over a 400-meter course, and, as in Olympic style, will be skated against time, with only two contestants on the course at once.

Robert Petersen of Milwaukee and Alan Potts of New York, the remaining two members of the 1936 Olympic contingent, have decided not to seek berths.

YANKEE'S SHOWING IN GERMANY POOR

It was a rather poor showing which American skaters made in Germany, only two scoring points. Lamb took fifth in the 500-meter event and Freisinger fourth in the 1500-meter race. Schroeder's best was eight in the 10,000 meters. Petersen failed to finish in the first 10 in any event.

Norway, Finland, and Germany made a three-team show of it at Garmisch-Partenkirchen, but indications are the American team will be almost 50 per cent stronger than it was four years back.

It was an exceedingly young team which represented the United States in 1936. The average age was approximately 21. Lamb might have fared better had he been fully recovered from an attack of influenza.

TALENT PLENTIFUL AS WINTER SPORTS GROW

Older and stronger, the three veteran holdovers are the front-rank stars competing, but the rapid growth of winter sports has furnished plenty of material.

About 75 will be on hand for the 500, 1500, 5000, and 10,000-meter trials, with some of the new candidates expected to bid high for positions.

Vic Ronchetti, an Italian who holds the 1938 Tri-State title heads a quartet of Chicago newcomers which includes Bob Heckeneber, Bob Sherman, and Al Kucera.

From Utica comes Eddie Smith, a strong contender. Minneapolis sends Marvin Swanson, former national champion. Other top-flight performers are Harley Herbrechtsmeier and Jerry Guttorfson of Kenosha, Ralph Dames of Oconomowoc, and Harvey Geogline of Milwaukee.

It's a fast and slippery pace that leads to Heisingfors.
