

HOPKINS DENOUNCED, APPROVAL SURE

GOVERNOR HAS TROUBLE WITH UTILITY GROUP

COMMISSION WON'T RESIGN, MAY BE ABOLISHED

BY G. MILTON KELLY Lansing, Jan. 19 (AP)—Governor Fitzgerald threatened tonight to have the legislature abolish the public utilities commission and create a new agency with similar duties after the Democratic commission rejected his invitation to resign.

The governor himself has no authority to oust state officials during a session of the legislature. "I'm going to broom out this commission that has not been doing its work," Fitzgerald announced angrily after a conference at which commission Chairman Paul H. Todd had politely, but firmly, defied his authority.

Salaries Sliced He added that, should the legislature refuse to meet his wishes, "I'll remove Todd twelve hours after the legislature adjourns."

The governor said he would recommend that salaries of the proposed new public utilities commissioners be fixed at $5,000 a year, as compared with the $7,000 the members now receive.

Informed of the governor's announcement, Todd replied simply: "We still are not going to resign."

At a conference with Fitzgerald he told the governor it would be impossible to meet his demands for retrenchment in payrolls. He said salary lists already have been reduced $30,000 annually, and that further cuts would prove costly to the state by diminishing efficiency.

He Wants Economy Fitzgerald said Todd had rejected his suggestion that a Republican secretary of the commission be appointed, offering a counter suggestion that the Republican be given some other job in the commission with a salary of $5,000 a year.

"Todd is just setting up a defiance," the governor said. "Now we'll see what's what. I want efficiency and I'm going to get it. I want economy, and I'll get that. We'll have no more of a situation under which Commissioner (Charles S.) Porritt sat in the Democratic headquarters for six solid weeks during the campaign while he drew his salary for attending to the affairs of the public utilities commission."

Thus far Fitzgerald has had a quiet, tractable legislature with which to deal. The first rumblings came from discontented Democrats who threatened to filibuster today when a resolution demanding that the civil service investigating committee turn its spotlight on dismissals made by the new Republican administration was introduced.

The resolution was sent to a committee without being read on the floor, and the motion to have the measure "considered read" aroused Democratic ire.

Appointments Confirmed Rep. Fred J. Gartner, Democrat, Wyandotte, who sponsored the resolution along with Rep. Chester B. Fitzgerald, Democrat, Detroit, served notice that he intended to compel the reading in full of every bill reported to the World Fair Offer Of $100,000 For Dionnes Rejected

Callander, Ont., Jan. 19 (Canadian Press)—The guardians of the Dionne quintuplets have turned down a $100,000 guarantee for the famous little girls to appear at the World Fair in New York.

Keith Munro, the quint's business agent, said today the decision was reached at a meeting of the board of guardians last week.

He made public a statement of the board which said in part: "The guardians were unanimously of the opinion that the taking of the children from their home in Callander to New York was too great a responsibility and one that they could not be asked to shoulder."

Guardians attending the meeting included Oliva Dionne, father of the quintuplets; Dr. Allan Roy Daffoe, their physician, and Judge J. A. Vailin.

On the basis of expected attendance, the fair bid mentioned $500,000 as a likely return to the quint's for a personal appearance, the $100,000 guarantee having been written into the proposed contract as a binder.

IRISH BOMBERS BLOW UP HOTEL

British Prime Minister's Son Narrowly Escapes Harm In Blast

London, Jan. 19 (AP)—Frank Chamberlain, only son of the British prime minister, escaped harm today from a bomb blast apparently aimed at him in Ireland as authorities in Britain and northern Ireland drafted thousands of police reserves to combat terrorism attributed to the outlawed Irish Republican army.

On a vacation in Tralee, Ireland, 25-year-old Chamberlain was jolted from his sleep before dawn when a terrific explosion at the rear of his small hotel tossed several neighbors from their beds, splintered hotel walls and tore a hole in a nearby retaining wall.

Hundreds of windows in the area were shattered and police immediately undertook an intensive hunt through the Dingle peninsula, long a hotbed of anti-British Republicanism on the far western Irish coast.

It was on the Dingle peninsula that the extremist Irish Republican army, now banned, waged guerrilla warfare against the Irish Free State government which emerged after the World war.

Young Chamberlain, at first made no comment on the bombing, but later after returning to Dublin from a day of shooting on the Moors said reports of the explosion were "greatly exaggerated."

Bombs From Russia Destroyed By Japs In Attack On Paoki

Shanghai, Jan. 20 (Friday) (AP)—Japanese reported today their army bombers had destroyed a large quantity of arms and provisions imported from Soviet Russia in a raid on Paoki, western Szechuan province.

Paoki is about 90 miles air-line west of Sian. Sian was bombed yesterday in a raid which reports from Chungking said caused 200 casualties.

A report by the Chinese national relief commission yesterday said the Japanese made 3,548 raids on 417 towns and cities in 20 provinces in the 17 months ending last Nov. 30. The commission reported 35,175 Chinese civilians were killed and 44,050 wounded. It was emphasized the figures did not include casualties in villages and rural areas, for which accurate information was lacking.

Bay Sheriff Sued For False Arrest

Bay City, Mich., Jan. 19 (AP)—Suit asking $10,000 damages and alleging false arrest was filed in circuit court today by Lester Rickett of Pinconning township against Bay County Sheriff Charles K. Kindermann and two of his deputies, Robert Verellen and Henry Orr.

In his suit Rickett said he was twice arrested by the sheriff's department in 1938, once for investigation on a breaking and entering case, and again for investigation on a grand larceny charge.

War Clouds Gather Over Old Barcelona

As General Franco's Rebel troops advance eastward, approaching Barcelona, the clouds of war hover over the ancient Spanish city. Loyalist forces in mountain strongholds near the capital bolster their defense for an encounter which may decide the outcome of the civil war. The above airview shows the important Barcelona harbor on the Mediterranean at the right and the city proper at the left.

Rebels Hunt Troopships On Route To Barcelona

Hendaye, France (At The Spanish Frontier), Jan. 19 (AP)—Spanish insurgent warships shelled Catalan coastal defenses today and pressed a grim search for transports reported carrying 12,000 fresh soldiers to the defense of Barcelona.

Three gunboats of the insurgent blockade steamed back and forth across the route which would have to be followed by troop ships in any transfer of manpower from the southern part of government Spain to the government's seaport capital. The gunboats shelled shore positions northeast of insurgent-held Tarragona.

The fate of the transports said to be skirting Generalissimo Franco's widening eastern Mediterranean salient with the vanguard of 60,000 reinforcements from the Madrid front remained in doubt.

Barcelona authorities kept silent on the reported mass movement which would be imperiled also by insurgent bombers from Franco's Balearic base, Mallorca.

While border interest centered in the outcome of the reported attempt to maneuver 12,000 men through the sea and air blockade, Franco's troops proceeded methodically with their campaign.

Insurgent headquarters announced capture of Montfalcon which is on the natural pathway leading from Cervera eastward to the capital, on the center of the line Franco started rolling across Catalonia Dec. 23.

Battle lines were being drawn in that sector. Catalonia's retreat government dispatches were reporting a stand before Igualada, 28 air miles west of Barcelona on the Cervera-Barcelona highway.

At its southern end Franco's front was said to have been pushed to just within 40 miles southwest of Barcelona.

OCEAN AIRLINE PERMIT GIVEN

American Firm Plans to Start Service to France

Washington, Jan. 19 (AP)—A preliminary step for a commercial airline between France and the United States was taken today when France granted a six months' permit enabling one or more American transport lines to begin such service.

Informed observers said this development, announced at the state department here, might have the effect of jolting the British into action on an agreement reached with the United States in December, 1935, for trans-Atlantic service.

Britain has not yet signified her readiness to carry out her part of this service, and the agreement specifies that both sides must start simultaneously.

Even if Britain still holds back, Americans will be able to fly between here and London by way of France.

The United States promised France she "would be willing to enter into negotiations with the French government for the conclusion of a reciprocal air transport agreement," the state department announced.

TANKER HALVED IN OCEAN BLOW

Radio Message Says 37 of Crew Saved From Wreckage

New York, Jan. 19 (AP)—A sudden and unexplained accident in mid-ocean which terrifyingly halved the 489-foot Norwegian motor tanker Jaguar was reported today in a radio message which said 37 members of the crew were saved.

The steamer New Orleans of the Roosevelt Steamship company sent word of the wreck to the MacKay Radio company, but gave few details of the rescue and did not say whether any of the crew were lost.

A storm was raging at the time. The accident occurred last night midway between the Azores and Cape Hatteras. Another Norwegian ship, the Duala, effected the rescue, picking up seven men from the forecastle last night and 30 more from the after part of the wrecked ship this morning.

No inking was given of the cause, the message saying the accident occurred so suddenly that no radio call for help was sent.

The Jaguar was built in 1928 and formerly flew the Swedish flag under the name of Nike. A vessel of 9,827 gross tons, it sailed from Gothenburg last December 7 for Key West, Fla. Its last port of call was Minatitlan, Mexico, where it presumably loaded bulk petroleum.

Bennett Heads Liquor Control Offices Here

John C. Bennett, 423 South Eighth street, received notification yesterday of his temporary appointment as manager of the Upper Peninsula division of the Michigan Liquor Control commission at Escanaba. He succeeds William L. Johnson of Ironwood, who was appointed during Gov. Murphy's term.

Notice of the appointment was received from Fred C. Ehrmann, new secretary of the Michigan Liquor Control commission. Hugh O'Hanlan, Lansing, auditor of the commission, was here yesterday to make the usual check-up incident to the change of managerships. The change was effective yesterday.

Mr. Bennett was born in Marquette and was engaged in the clothing business in that city for 15 years. He was appointed assistant distribution manager of the Michigan Liquor Control commission with offices in Lansing in 1935, and later was transferred to the Upper Peninsula branch. In 1937, Mr. Bennett became Upper

Cold Snap Strikes New England, Snow Blanketing Chicago

(By The Associated Press) Light snowfalls accompanied by sub-freezing temperatures—nipping New England noses with the coldest breath of the 1938-39 winter—spread across eastern seaboard states Thursday and blanketed sections of the middle west and south.

The mercury dipped to two degrees below zero at Stowe, Vermont, and the coldest night of the season was forecast for Thursday night throughout the New England area with the temperature ranging from 12 to 15 above.

Connecticut thermometers registered in the low 20's as fresh snow covered the state in the first fall since Jan. 13.

Nebraska reported fair and mild, but sub-zero weather gripped the Dakotas while Chicago reported a light snow falling most of the day with the temperature in the 20's.

Cleveland, O., reported .2 inch of snow today, while Kentucky had light snow in northern sections and more snow predicted in the northeast tomorrow.

Winds that attained gale force, hitting a peak of 42 MPH, subsided in Washington and storm warnings were still flying on the North Pacific coast.

The middle west, southwest and Rocky Mountain area generally reported clear and mild.

In Des Moines, Ia., the weather was considerably warmer after sub-zero temperatures last night.

New York had intermittent light snows with a biting tang in the air.

In Pennsylvania three fatalities were attributed to the storm amid a fresh fall of four inches in the eastern part of the state and seven to 12 inches in other regions.

Ford Plant Liberty Legion Is Dissolved

Detroit, Jan. 19. (AP)—The Liberty Legion of America, which claimed 90,000 members in the Rouge plant of the Ford Motor Co., dissolved as labor organization today, and Homer Martin, embattled president of the United Automobile Workers (UAW), said the move was the fruit of his negotiations with the Ford Co.

Martin, engaged in a factional war with the UAW's executive board, announced today that "the dissolution of the Liberty league as a labor union is the result of my negotiations with Harry H. Bennett, Ford personnel director."

Bennett declined to comment, but referred inquiries to Ward Culver, attorney for the Liberty Legion.

ARITHMETIC EXPERT DIES

Kalamazoo, (AP)—G. E. Manigold, well known "lighting calculator," died Wednesday night at his home here after an illness of two months. An instructor in mathematics in the Vicksburg high school for 30 years, he appeared at many colleges and universities to display his extraordinary ability at mental arithmetic.

Redistricting Plan Revived By Wayne County Legislators

Lansing, Jan. 19 (AP)—Two Detroit Democrats proposed today that the state be redistricted to provide Wayne and several other heavily populated counties larger representation in the house of representatives, at the expense of up-state counties.

The sponsors of a bill to that effect were Reps. William G. Buckley and Edward J. Walsh.

The bill would grant Wayne county 37 representatives instead of 21, would give Genesee and Oakland counties four instead of three and two respectively, would reduce Saginaw county from three to two, and would reduce Bay and St. Clair counties from two to one members in the house.

The bill also proposed the following combination districts, with one representative from each district:

Allegan and Barry counties, Branch and Hillsdale, Cass and St. Joseph, Dickinson and Menominee, Gratiot and Clinton, Houghton and Keweenaw, Shlawassee and Livingston; Leelanau, Benzie and Grand Traverse; Manistee, Wexford, and Lake; Mason, Oceana and Newaygo; Ontonagon, Iron and Baraga; Osceola, Mecosta and Isabella; Alger, Schoolcraft, Luce and Mackinac; Cheboygan, Presque Isle, Montmorency and Alpena; Emmet, Charlevoix, Antrim and Kalkaska; Ogemaw, Iosco, Arenac, Gladwin and Midland; and Otsego, Clare, Crawford, Oshtemo, Alcona, Roscommon and Missaukee.

NEGAUNEE GIRL IN LONG SLEEP

Rare Disease Affects Child, 7, After Siege of Measles

Negaunee, Mich., Jan. 19. (AP)—Little Jeanine Pridoux, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pridoux, was resting comfortably in her home today after the odd experience of sleeping for nearly 72 consecutive hours.

Jeanine, who will be seven years of age next month, was recovering from measles a week ago Wednesday. Thursday morning her mother called to awaken the youngster, but was unable to arouse her, although she appeared to be sleeping normally.

Alarmed, Mrs. Pridoux called a physician and the child was taken to the Twin City hospital, where she was found to be suffering from post-measles encephalitis or inflammation of the brain tissue. From Thursday morning to late Saturday night, Jeanine gave no waking sign. During this time she was fed intravenously.

Saturday night the sleeping child awoke in a semi-coma, which endured till Monday evening. Fear was expressed that her sight might be impaired when it was discovered that her eyes failed to react normally toward objects placed before her. On Tuesday, however, she appeared to be regaining her usual poise and when the vision test was repeated the next day, her eyes appeared normal. Yesterday she had recovered sufficiently to be taken home.

Dr. G. O. Knudson, who attended the girl, explained that the disease is rare among children. Adults are hardly ever stricken by the particular malady, though encephalitis itself is not uncommon among older people. Post-measles encephalitis is not associated with sleeping sickness.

Old Age Pensions Of $60 Proposed In Wisconsin Bill

Madison, Wis., Jan. 19 (AP)—Three Democrats and a Republican today sponsored a bill in the state senate to pay maximum old-age pensions of $60 a month to all persons over 60 and to raise the necessary revenues through a two per cent state tax on all gross incomes over $5,000 a year.

The authors of the bill estimated the tax would raise $52,000,000.

At the same time two Progressives introduced a proposal to raise the maximum pension allotment from $30 to $40 a month and to finance the cost through graduated increases in the state income tax.

COMMISSION CLEANS HOUSE

Detroit (AP)—Six employees of the Michigan public trust commission were dismissed Thursday by I. A. Capizzi and Ernest P. LaJole, newly-appointed members of the body.

They said the dismissals were in line with Governor Fitzgerald's "economy program" and asserted that the employees would not be replaced.

SENATORS AIM CRITICISM AT WPA POLITICS

Washington, Jan. 19 (AP)—Two Republicans and an anti-new deal Democrat poured condemnation upon the head of Harry Hopkins in the senate today while administration leaders quietly awaited a vote which none doubted would result in confirmation of his nomination as secretary of commerce.

Senator Reed (R-Kan.), making his first senate speech, Senator Davis (R-Pa.), a senate veteran, and Senator Holt (D-W.Va.) occupied the entire day's session with a denunciation of political activity which, they said, was rampant in WPA while Hopkins was head of that organization.

"Unfit" for Job Reed asserted Hopkins had been elevated to the cabinet to "remove him from the line of fire" directed at WPA. Davis demanded a complete investigation of politics in relief. Holt, bluntly declaring he did not believe statements Hopkins had made in his own defense, contended he was "unfit" for the post of secretary of commerce.

Only Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader, came to Hopkins's defense—and to his own as well, in connection with charges of election irregularities in the Kentucky Democratic primary last summer. He said both he and Hopkins had been cleared by the senate campaign expenditures committee of any knowledge of the incidents in question.

Only 30 Opponents Approval of the nomination was a foregone conclusion to the point that both Holt and Reed said they realized they were in the minority. The Republican membership apparently planned to vote almost as a unit against confirmation. So did a number of conservative Democrats. However, more than enough Democratic votes remained to approve the nomination. Best estimates were that some 30 opposition votes would be cast out of a membership of 96.

"I think we have reached the depths of political depravity," Reed said, "when those cloaked with the power and authority may take from those who are on the borderline of destitution, pennies, dimes and dollars appropriated by congress out of the public treasury for the relief of misery and suffering. x x x

"There is no question in my mind that his (Hopkins) selection for cabinet officer following the election returns of last November was to remove him from the line of fire that was certain to follow."

WPA Purge Demanded Davis told the senate the people were demanding a complete investigation to WPA as it was administered under Hopkins.

"They want WPA purged from top to bottom," he shouted. "Never has there been such open exposure of the naked and unabashed shamelessness of unscrupulous spoliators."

Holt, asserting that Hopkins had "played ball" with too many Democratic senators to make it possible for the senate to reject his nomination, reminded the senate of Thomas Jefferson's test of fitness for office—honesty, ability

In the Headlines From Washington

(By The Associated Press) President Roosevelt asked congress to abolish tax exemptions on government salaries and future government salaries.

Senator Reed (R-Kan.), Senator Holt (D-W. Va.), and others assailed Harry Hopkins, but his confirmation as secretary of commerce was predicted.

Bills to construct several new air bases and to establish 19 anti-aircraft regiments were introduced in congress.

President Roosevelt requested congress to prolong the life of the $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund and to extend his power to revalue the dollar.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) sought to sidetrack a new administration drive for the Florida ship canal and the Passamaquoddy tidal power project. Senator Pepper (D-Fla.), criticized Vandenberg.

France granted permission for American Airlines to establish a commercial service between the United States and France.

Shore Is Last Colorful Star In Puck League

BY JERRY BRONFIELD
NEA Service Sports Writer
New York—Personal magnetism is disappearing from hockey, and when Eddie Shore of the Boston Bruins retires, the glittering game will be without a single great drawing card.

The ice sport misses Bill Cook, Ching Johnson, King Clancy, Howie Moren, and Aurel Jollat. "Everyone else in the game today is just another guy on the team he's playing with," says Art Chapman, the New York American's veteran. "Maybe it's the faster pace of the game which accounts for it."

A few years ago the star lines played perhaps 40 of the 60 minutes. Today, with new lines shifted every three minutes or so, the fans hardly get a chance to get acquainted with the stars."

Shore makes the Bruin possibly the most attractive club in the circuit. For while, Frank Brimsek, the rookie goalie, wowed the fans too, says Chapman, but now Shore stands alone. When the Bruin defenseman knocks someone down, the crowd howls. When someone floors Shore, they howl even louder.

It's personal interest like that which is missing from the game today.

Loss Of Taxable Land Problem For Counties

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Jan. 19 (AP)—A complaint that the state is attempting to gain control of land in northern Michigan counties will be placed before Vernon J. Brown, state auditor, at a conference in Ann Arbor tomorrow.

Brown will meet at the University of Michigan Union building with the legislative committee of the Michigan Association of County Treasurers. Herbert C. Ryan, a member of the committee, will present to Brown a resolution embodying the charges which has been adopted by the Chippewa county board of supervisors.

"Many thousands of acres of land were thrown into state ownership through the 1938 tax sale," Ryan said, "and on November 1, 1939, the state gets absolute title to these properties unless the owners redeem them before that date."

The resolution asserts, Ryan said, that all land lying in those counties north of and including Oceana, Newaygo, Mecosta, Ionia, Midland and Arenac will be under direct control of the department of conservation, according to Section 3 of Act 155 of the Public Acts of 1937.

"We believe," Ryan said, "the legislature intended under this act that the duties of the land board it created was to return every possible parcel of land back to the tax roll as a taxable unit."

The resolution stated that authority to withhold any land from public sale is given the conservation department under another act, Section 131 of Oct 225, Public Acts of 1937, and that this would result in a great loss to local taxing units.

Recommendations for changes in the general tax law are expected to result from the Ann Arbor meeting. Ryan suggests in the resolution, which he submitted to the Chippewa supervisors, that Section 3 of Act 155 be amended so that all land shall be handled by the state land board. He said the land board controls all tax delinquent land south of the line created by the five counties named.

"Northern Michigan counties and other taxing units," Ryan said, "already are suffering from the loss of so much potentially taxable land which has gone to the state and federal governments."

Federal compensation to townships for land within their boundaries which are tax-free because they are owned by the United States is being sought in congress.

"There is no question but what a number of Michigan counties are hard pressed primarily through the loss of taxable lands which have been returned delinquent," Ryan said. As examples, he said, Mackinac county cannot meet its bills and Alger county cannot collect enough taxes to pay current expenses.

Ryan said a resolution adopted by the Alger county board of supervisors asking for elimination of the 15-mill tax limitation act states it cannot procure enough real estate taxes to operate and that it is $80,000 in debt and insolvent.

Three national forests, Marquette, Hiawatha and Ottawa, are located in the upper peninsula, as well as two state forests and nine game areas, Ryan said. Although all land within these areas are not publicly owned, Ryan added, they are not offered for sale when they become delinquent.

and devotion to the Constitution. "I do not think he is honest," the youthful West Virginia, loudly asserted. "I do not think he is capable, and I do not think he is faithful to the Constitution. I don't have any jobs to lose, and I can say that."

CONGRESS GOES GINGERLY
Washington, Jan. 19 (AP)—Congressional leaders indicated a disposition today to proceed gingerly in acting on President Roosevelt's renewed request that all government salaries—federal, state and municipal—and all income from future issues of government securities be made subject to federal and state income taxes.

The president first advanced his proposal last April 25 in a special message to congress. Calling attention to that earlier request, he told congress in another message today:

"Those who earn their livelihood from government should bear the same tax burden as those who earn their livelihood in private employment."

Study Takes Time
At present, the federal government does not levy an income tax on salaries received by state employees and the states do not tax salaries. With some exceptions, the income from federal, state and local bond issues is exempt.

In response to Mr. Roosevelt's earlier message, the senate finance committee directed a subcommittee to make a study of the whole field of tax exemptions.

Chairman Harrison (D-Miss.) said today he believed it would be best to withhold any action on Mr. Roosevelt's request until this study is completed. Senator Brown (D-Mich.), chairman of the subcommittee, said this would require considerable time.

Brown's subcommittee heard from government officials yesterday an estimate that the federal government's revenues would be increased by $200,000,000 a year if the income from state and municipal bonds, and the salaries paid by states and municipalities were made subject to federal income taxes.

There has been no authoritative estimate of how state revenues might be affected. There are, however, about 750,000 federal employees outside the District of Columbia whose total salaries aggregate about $1,320,000,000 annually. Some 30 states have income taxes.

Since it is proposed to tax only future issues of securities, the amount which might become taxable would depend on the future trend of public financing.

Treasury officials estimate, however, that there are outstanding at present $50,000,000,000 in federal, state and local tax exempt securities which might eventually be refunded into taxable issues. Large sums, though, are held by charitable and educational institutions exempt from income tax laws.

VANDEBERG STIRS ROW
Washington, Jan. 19 (AP)—An effort to sidetrack the administration's new drive for the Florida ship canal and the Passamaquoddy, Me., tidal power development caused a row today in the senate. The controversy broke out when Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), bitter critic of administration policies and expenditures, introduced resolutions asking new studies by federal agencies of the two undertakings, which President Roosevelt asked congress this week to resurrect.

Both the canal and Quoddy have been dormant since 1936, when initial allotments for them were exhausted.

The Vandenberg proposal, considered an attempt to block congressional action, drew fire from Senator Pepper (D-Fla.), who said his state was represented by two senators and was doing "fairly well" without help from Vandenberg.

He voiced particular objection to a Vandenberg resolution asking new studies by the geological survey, which reported in 1935 that a canal across Florida would have "serious adverse effects" upon the state's underground water supply.

The Florida, who is preparing a new canal authorization bill, declared caustically he was "somewhat chagrined" that the Michigan senator had chosen to "take upon his shoulders the representation of the people of Florida about their local water supply."

Vandenberg replied it was not his purpose to supersede Florida's representation in the senate, but he added:

"Inasmuch as the state of Florida is asking for upward of $200,000,000 in connection with this project which my state of Michigan has to pay for at least to the tune of $10,000,000, I shall continue to exercise at least $10,000,000 worth of interest in what Florida is undertaking to do."

Free Agent Himsel Goes To St. Paul

St. Paul, Jan. 19, (AP)—Arvitus "Veddie" Himsel, who made his professional baseball debut last spring, signed a contract with the St. Paul American association baseball club today.

Himsel, who had been the property of Detroit and pitched for the Tigers' farm club, Alexandria of the Evangeline league, last summer, was declared a free agent by Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis during the December baseball meeting at New Orleans. He had been sent by Detroit to Toledo, then to Beaumont and finally to Alexandria and Landis took action because of alleged irregularities in the transfers.

Himsel played four years of basketball, football and baseball at St. John's university at Collegeville, Minn. He came to St. John's from Pleana, Mont., where he starred in three sports and was center on the all-Montana basketball team.

last year's all-American intercollegiate swimming team will compete in the meet. Ohio State has six including Al Patnik, diving champion, and Michigan has four.

U. S. G. A. SEES SMALLER SPIKES TO SAVE GREENS

Because of the damage done to putting greens by long and sharp spikes, the United States Golf Association is attempting to have manufacturers alter such shoes. Not only does this damage create problems for the greenkeeper but it also enters into rules interpretation.

Grass so torn by spikes cannot be pulled without violating the rules if its root is still in the ground, because then it is not termed a loose impediment.

In addition, it may not be pressed down because the lines of put must not be touched except by placing the club immediately in front of the ball in the act of addressing it.

Maybe it would be better if golfers played barefooted once they got on the greens.

GILES OF REDS OPPOSES SHORTENING SCHEDULE

Agitators for a reduction in length of major league playing schedules will receive no encouragement from General Manager Warren C. Giles of the Cincinnati Reds.

Cutting off a few games from the tail end of the season won't eliminate the late season lulldown suffered by some clubs. It'll merely cause the same situation to develop a little earlier, says Giles, who has gone through the thing before, in the minor leagues, where the season ends earlier than the majors.

Implications that football cuts into baseball activities prompts Giles to point to National League attendance figures, which reveal September is one of the best drawing months.

That, however, is in the National, where the race doesn't get started until Sept. 1.

It's usually all over in the American by that time, with the Yanks too far in front to be hauled down.

Old Indian Deed Record Is Found

Lansing—Record of an original Indian deed signed by 12 tribal chiefs with their "marks supported by two branches of wampum" and giving over "forever" a piece of land along the Detroit river has been discovered here in connection with a land title search.

The deed, written sometime before 1772, came to light when D. B. Reynolds of the lands division, department of conservation, was hunting through old files. The deed read:

"We, the chiefs of the tribes of the Pattawatamie nation, at Detroit, have deliberated and given, of our free will, a piece of land of four arpents in width, by the whole depth, situated at our ancient village, to Robiche, son of the scrivener. We give this land forever, that he may cultivate the same, light a fire thereon and take care of our dead; and for surety of our minds we have made our marks, supported by two branches of wampum."

As interpreted by Mr. Reynolds the word "arpents" is an old French unit of measure and "scrivener" means the writer of the deed.

"The deed was offered as part of a claim to ownership of the land, according to Mr. Reynolds. Records found by him indicate that the land was first surveyed in July, 1772, by a Charles Gouin, Jur.

TRAFFIC MANAGER DEAD

Detroit, (AP)—Clarence M. Booth of Detroit, traffic manager of the Pere Marquette railway, died Thursday in University hospital at Ann Arbor, where he had been a patient since Sunday. Born in 1876, he became associated with the railroad company in 1895.

Miss Jennie Douglas was the first woman to be employed by the U. S. government. In the spring of 1862, she was appointed to trim American currency. Her efficiency led to more appointments for women.

floor of the house in reprisal. The objection of one member under the constitution can compel such reading, instead of the general practice of reading only new or controversial sections of bills amending old laws.

The senate confirmed another batch of appointments by the governor today and adopted its third bill of the session. The bill, which would end the moratorium on penalties for delinquent payment of corporation fees September 1, 1939, now goes to the house.

The appointments confirmed are: Charles H. Mahoney, Detroit, and Miss Isabel Larwill, Lansing, to succeed Walter A. Kirkby, Jackson, and Mrs. Besse M. Gardner, Highland Park, as commissioners of labor and industry.

I. A. Capizzi, and Ernest Lajoie, Detroit, to succeed three members of the public trust commission.

Paul W. Chase, Hillsdale, to succeed Harold Bledsoe, Detroit, as a member of the corrections commission.

CALLAHAN NOT IN
Lansing, Jan. 19 (AP)—Governor Fitzgerald declared today he would insist that the new Republican administration abide strictly by the terms of 'the civil service law.'

The governor said he had been embarrassed to learn that he had violated the civil service law unwittingly by attempting to remove Herman M. Pekarsky of Grand Rapids as head of the old age assistance bureau and appointing Dr. Philip A. Callahan of Detroit to succeed him. Fitzgerald said Pekarsky would remain as head of the bureau until he could get a clearer opinion of his status. He said he found the job was under civil service, but that he was not certain whether it was a "classified" position. As a classified employee, Pekarsky's successor could be designated only by competitive examination.

Won't Evade Law
The governor conferred with Personnel Director William Brownrigg, chief administrative officer under the civil service law, and said he had assured Brownrigg he would not countenance evasion of the law in the interests of patronage.

"The law provides channels through which hiring and firing must pass," Fitzgerald said, "and it is just like any other law—it must be obeyed." He said he was prepared to uphold the civil service department in any move it might take to prevent departmental executives from replacing unclassified employees with higher-salaried new employees.

He said he was "not just talking" when he predicted reductions in the pay of high-salaried officials.

Auditor General Vernon J. Brown said the governor's stand was supported by the law, which forbids his department to draw checks for any official whose salary is not ratified by the civil service commission.

Costs Increased
The legislature's civil service investigating committee received testimony from Floyd E. Weeks, steward of the Northern Michigan Tuberculosis Sanatorium at Gaylord, that state institutions away from the centers of population had difficulty in getting employees to work or to remain there.

Weeks said scores of eligibles certified by the civil service department refused to take positions at the hospital because of its location or because of the low salaries paid, and that the institution had an employment turnover of 77 percent.

The hospital official proposed that civil service be "localized" to permit the hospital to give examinations sent them from Lansing, asserting that thus more Gaylord area residents could be attracted to the hospital employment and that they would remain there longer. The examinations now are given at Grayling, 30 miles away.

Weeks said the examination he took "was the finest that could be given for a hospital administrator." Declaring he was "prejudiced because I am a taxpayer," Weeks said the civil service vacation and sick leave rules had increased costs of the institution $3,000 annually.

'Fasting Dean' Gets New Memphis Parish

Chattanooga, Tenn., Jan. 19 (AP)—The Tennessee diocese of the Episcopal church sanctioned today creation of a new parish in Memphis, opening a way for the return to active ministry of the Rev. Israel H. Noe, erstwhile "fasting dean."

By a vote of 42 to 35, the 107th annual diocesan convention approved a petition signed by 106 Memphians who want the 47-year-old clergyman to return to the church life of that city as their rector.

Mr. Noe was deposed as dean of fashionable St. Mary's Cathedral last winter when he persisted in a fast that ended after 22 days when he collapsed.

Bishop James M. Maxon, who described the fast as a "vagary" when he relegated Mr. Noe to the status of priest-without-charge, will determine just where the parish will be established. It will be called St. James.

Indiana Teammates Lash And Deckard, In Millrose 2-Mile

New York, Jan. 19, (AP)—Don Lash and Tommy Deckard, former Indiana university teammates who have run one-two in the distance events at the season's first two track meets, today submitted their entries for the invitation two-mile run at the Millrose A. A. games in Madison Square Garden Feb. 4.

Lash, who holds the world indoor record of 8:58 for the distance, won the Millrose two-mile event last year in 9:06, meet record time, while Deckard set the previous meet mark of 9:07.6 with his victory in 1937.

Also entered is Gilbert Dodder, Ashland college, Ohio, newcomer who placed second to Lash in the Sugar Bowl two-mile on New Year's Day.

Part-Time Workers Under Job Benefits

Detroit, Jan. 17 (AP)—Persons who work only part time will come under the scope of the Michigan unemployment compensation law beginning January 30, officials of the state unemployment compensation commission disclosed today.

The federal Social Security board has approved procedure under which the payments will be made. Claims will be accepted beginning January 30.

Commission officials explained that the purpose of the provision was to encourage unemployed persons to accept part time employment. Such persons, it was explained, will receive sufficient funds from the state commission to bring their income for the month up to the amount they would be entitled to in unemployment benefits. If a person were entitled to $80 a month in unemployment benefits, it was explained, and he received $40 for outside work, he would receive $40 from the unemployment compensation commission.

Mr. Schroll Says "Every Sufferer Should Learn of Krugon; Stomach, Bowels Regulated; Feels Like a Different Man Since The Krugon"

"I have never before seen the equal of Krugon," said Mr. F. L. Schroll, 1393 Godfrey St., Alton, Illinois. "For ten years I had been a chronic sufferer with constipation and would go for days at a time without an evacuation. Naturally my system became filled with poisons but in spite of all I tried I could not find anything to help me. I became tired, listless, worn-out and lacked the strength and energy to get about to do my work as I should. I could not sleep at night, had a poor appetite and really felt miserable. But finally I learned of Krugon and decided to put it to a real test on my case and found it wonderful."

"Since the very first day I began Krugon I have shown rapid improvement," continued Mr. Schroll. "I now sleep better, new strength and energy has been given me and my work is a pleasure I feel so well again. My bowels have been regulated, those poisonous impurities removed, appetite has been restored and I am gaining in strength everyday. Little did I realize there was a medicine with such outstanding merit as Krugon possesses."

LEGION PLANS WINTER PARLEY

Conference In Crystal Falls To Be Held Jan. 20 to 22

The seventeenth annual mid-winter conference of the Upper Peninsula Association of American Legion Posts will be held in Crystal Falls January 20-22, inclusive, in conjunction with a meeting of the U. P. American Legion auxiliaries.

Primary purposes of the meeting is to make arrangements for the U. P. convention to be held in Escanaba and to transact other business pertaining to the advancement of the Legion's work in the peninsula.

The Richard M. Jopling post, of Marquette, will send one official delegate to the meeting. Friday evening, January 20, a meeting and conference "jamboree" will be held in the Crystal Inn. Saturday evening, a joint banquet of Legionnaires and auxiliaries will be held there and a military ball will follow the banquet. All conference business will be completed at Sunday morning meetings.

National Chaplain to Attend
A feature of the meeting will be the presence of the Rev. Jerome L. Fritsche, pastor of St. Luke's church, Kearney, Neb., who will give an address at the conference banquet Saturday evening. The Rev. Mr. Fritsche is national chaplain of the American Legion organization. He has a broad background of service in religious, civic and fraternal affairs, and his talk is looked forward to by U. P. Legionnaires as the highlight of the conference.

In addition to his achievements in the ministry, the Rev. Mr. Fritsche has an enviable record as a soldier. His military service dates from 1916 when he was a first lieutenant with the second Minnesota infantry. He saw service on the Mexican border. Promoted to captain in 1918, he served with the Thirty-fourth division and retired in 1924. The Rev. Fritsche was made major of infantry and commandant of cadets by Secretary of War Harry Woodring on May 28, 1931.

His Legion record follows: He began as a charter member of a post in Honolulu, serving as commander in 1920 and 1921. In 1922, he was a delegate to the New Orleans national convention and an alternate to the Los Angeles national convention of 1938. He has been: Member of the Nebraska department radio broadcast committee, member of the Nebraska department Boy Scout committee for six years, chaplain of Leyden-Chiles - Wickersham post 1, Denver; chaplain Leslie Krebs post, Salina, Kans.; chaplain Wright-Irion post 5, Scotts-bluff, Neb.; chaplain Buffalo county post 52, Kearney, member junior drum and bugle corps committee of Kearney, and department chaplain of Nebraska in 1937-38, and vice-president of

Through a Blazing Hoop on Skis

Marking the first time that the dangerous leap has been executed outside of European snow centers, Pauli Gesteln ski-jumps through a blazing hoop in the Lac Beauport area of Quebec.

Proper Equipment Necessary For Good Ski Enjoyment; Needed Items Listed

Proper equipment is very essential for the enjoyment of skiing. To get the most pleasure out of skiing involves control and this in turn requires adequate, proper fitting equipment. Just as brakes and a steering wheel are necessary on a car, so also is this simple mechanical necessity.

With the view to making skiing easier and more fun for the general public, only the simple necessities will be discussed. Of the many forms of skiing, the most popular are down-hill, slalom, and touring. Ski jumping and cross-country racing require such a long time of training, and involve a degree of danger such that it loses its popular appeal. For the above mentioned popular types of skiing the skier can get one outfit to enjoy all three.

The essential outfit for the beginner is a pair of skis, bindings, poles, and ski boots. Other articles will add more to your pleasure of the sport, but these four pieces are an absolute necessity. For general all-around skiing

Cornhusker Boys' State.
In the Forty and Eight society he is a member of Vulture Local 136, Grand Island, Neb., and was Grand Aumonier of the Grand Vulture of Nebraska, in 1937-38.

Because birds cannot afford to carry extra weight, nature has done away with their teeth and the heavy jawbones which would be necessary to hold them in.

the most popular ski is the touring type, which has only one groove on the bottom, and is narrow and light enough and strong enough for handling on quick turns. Hickory is the best material obtainable, as it has a hard grain to limit breakage, with maple and pine following in order of their quality and price. A maple ski, however, is light enough to satisfy the demands made upon it by most women skiers. There is much to be said about a straight parallel grain on the bottom of the ski, the proper camber and such, but most of this can be cleared up by purchasing a good name quality ski from a reliable and experienced dealer.

Many Types of Bindings
There are many types and designs of ski bindings on the market today, but the two most general are the touring type which permits the heel to come up from the ski freely, and the downhill type which resists the movement of the heel and tends to keep it in contact with the ski. All proper bindings have toe irons which fasten to the top of the ski. These toe irons should be long and high enough to hold the toe of the boot in position firmly, and also should have a leather strap to hold the toe down.

The best all-around equipment is the cable binding. This binding lasts longer and is easier to adjust than the leather strap binding. Probably the greatest asset of the cable binding is its easy and adequate adjustment for diagonal tension, which is necessary in fast downhill running and turning. Once considered unsafe except for experts, this type of binding is now universally recommended for everyone.

Another downhill type of binding is the so-called low hitch binding. Here the desirable low hitch tension is secured by fastening the leather side straps to the side of the ski, which holds down the heel in the same manner as the cable binding previously described. This binding should include a heel spring to allow some flexibility for added safety and efficiency.

The touring binding, which allows the heel to raise from the ski, is excellent for the beginner. The leather side straps are fastened directly to the side irons. Sometimes the Biltstein type heel spring is used, which allows an even tension on the foot and provides a safety factor in falls. These bindings can be converted into the low-hitch type of binding by fastening the side straps down on the ski with a downhill attachment to screw onto the side of the ski.

Two poles are necessary to ski properly. There are a great many types of ski poles on the market today, ranging from the popular cane pole to the latest steel shaft poles. All of these have a leather wrist strap properly designed for the correct hand grip. Due to the tendency of the cane poles to splinter when wet, most of them are now covered with fiber or a coating of some sort. Most ski pole rings are rattan but some of the newer ones are made of rubber.

Boots Are Important
The most important item in apparel and equally important as equipment is the ski boot. Only in the ski boot will you find the straight sided soles to fit the binding tightly. The heel must have a groove to hold the heelstrap of the binding from slipping off the heel, and a steel shank between the soles of the boot to stiffen the sole against buckling under heavy tension of the binding. You should wear the same size boot as in your dress shoe, because a good fit is important.

These, then, are the necessary bases for safe and proper skiing.

RIGUEL GOES TO STATE HOSPITAL

Confessed Firebug Taken to Ionia; Prisoners Go to Marquette

Alfred Riguel, 51, of Soo Hill, confessed pyromaniac, was conducted to the state hospital for the criminal insane at Ionia yesterday by Sheriff William E. Miron and Deputy John Mollin. He was the last of eight county prisoners to be conducted to state institutions as a result of trials during the January term of Delta county circuit court. Seven men, sentenced to terms in Marquette state prison, were taken there earlier this week.

Riguel pleaded not guilty to an arson charge as court opened here on January 10, and was found not guilty by reason of insanity in a trial by jury. At a sanity hearing conducted by Judge Frank A. Bell last Monday, he was found insane and was committed to the Ionia hospital.

Prisoners who have started serving sentences at Marquette prison, pronounced at this term of circuit court, are Lloyd Bedore of Oshkosh, automobile theft, one to five years; Edward Marcell and Verne Boyle, larceny from an automobile, one to five years; Miles Brophy of Nahma, breaking and entering in the daytime, two to five years; Clifford LaFond and Rudolph Norman, larceny, nine months to 15 years, and Donald Belle, violation of parole, one to 15 years.

Will Remedy Injustice

A BILL framed by interested Delta county citizens was introduced in the state legislature on Wednesday by Representative Dykstra, Republican, of Grand Rapids, requiring rural boards of education in the state, which provide bus service for transporting school children to public schools, to also provide the same transportation for pupils in their districts attending parochial schools.

Most boards of education, in districts where this question has developed, have desired to provide this service for public and parochial school children, alike, but the present Michigan law, made it impossible for the boards to provide this service.

The present bill, collaborated in by Atty. Dennis McGinn, and C. P. Titus, county school commissioner, was presented first to Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald and received his enthusiastic approval and its introduction in the legislature by Representative Dykstra represents the first official step toward rectifying the present Michigan law.

Parents of rural school pupils, who desire to send their children to parochial schools, pay equal taxation with the parents of children transported to public schools, while the tuition of public school children is paid by the school districts.

Under the present law school buses pass the homes of parochial school pupils, without being permitted to render the same service that is accorded public school children, in the matter of transportation. The proposed law will remedy an injustice that has existed since the transportation of rural children to city schools became a general practice in Michigan.

May Be Solution

JUST at the time when everybody was getting accustomed to the idea that "the public domain is exhausted," behold the public domain starts growing again.

Public ownership of land is gaining by leaps and bounds, not only as a result of widespread purchase by the federal and state governments, but by tax foreclosure.

For example, in 1938 Oregon owned 1,714,349 acres of land, with another $20,000,000 worth of foreclosed because of tax delinquency.

Almost every state is faced with this problem in one degree or another. In little New Jersey nearly 900,000 acres of rural land are tax delinquent, a survey shows.

This state of things, regardless of whether it is a happy state or not, is a condition and not a theory.

States and counties are being forced to take steps to find out what to do with this newly acquired land, the American Society of Planning Officials reports. In 29 states foreclosed or abandoned land reverts to the state, and in 19 states it reverts to the state.

That makes necessary a different approach to the problem in almost every case, for while counties are closer in touch with the local problem of the use of their land, most of them do not have enough money or enough land to institute much of a program.

Minnesota, Michigan, New York and Wisconsin classify the reverted lands as to whether it can produce anything, and whether it can be sold. Then they try to homestead, sell or exchange the land. Such lands are useless for such purposes are usually turned into parks or game refuges.

Exchange of land with the federal government so as to unite larger areas so they can be used for public or private purposes is going on.

Evidence presented by the conservation officials convinced virtually all the sportsmen present that there is something in the contention that certain winter yarding areas in Michigan have become overbrowsed and no longer can support as many deer as in the past. The department proposes in an effort to secure a proper balance that an open season on antlerless deer be instituted for a few days after the regular buck season in those areas where the animals face starvation.

To carry on such a specific program of deer management would be a difficult matter if the sanction of the legislature must be first secured to open certain counties or areas for a special hunting season. The legislature meets only every two years, and many changes in the deer situation could occur in the interim. It was also brought out at the sportsmen's meeting that politics often prevents the getting of the right kind of legislation to handle important game management problems.

Giving the conservation commission discretionary powers to open or close seasons for hunting and fishing would make for quicker and more effective handling of such matters. Other states have taken this step and are finding that better results are being obtained.

Will Be Appreciated

THE Delta county road commission has made application to the Works Progress Administration for funds to finance the construction of a rustic pavilion, comfort stations, pumphouse, shuffleboard courts and confectionery stands at Pioneer Trail Park.

The construction of the pavilion, which will consist of a large recreation room, speakers platform and kitchen facilities, will be much appreciated by the many families and organizations, who hold picnics at Pioneer Trail Park every season. The pavilion will serve as a shelter during inclement weather conditions and also will be available for speaking programs and dancing parties.

Pioneer Trail Park is a popular recreational area during spring, summer and fall months. The addition of much-needed accommodations should encourage even greater public use.

BEAUTY AND THE BILLBOARD (Christian Science Monitor) The advent of the automobile brought a new era in the outdoor advertising business which was quick to see an increased "circulation" for its billboards as "Sunday drivers" took to the highways by thousands. Several years ago growing public indignation over gaudy signs which increasingly blemished the landscape—few places were sacrosanct—caused billboard advertisers to reorganize their industry. Signs were removed from residential districts and an effort was made to bring beauty to billboards.

But as a blot on the loveliness of a nation the billboards remained. It was an unhappy day for the outdoor advertising companies when something, probably mounting budget deficits, turned the attention of the States to the economic value of their natural beauties. Now that recreational facilities and nature have become merchandizable commodities there have been efforts to eliminate the unsightly billboard from many States.

Vermont and Virginia have already passed bills regulating outdoor advertising and a similar bill will be considered by New York State Legislature this month. The next step would seem to be an effort to control the type of roadside stands that are allowed to clutter the highways. A good example of what can be done in this direction is seen in New York's Hutchinson River Parkway where the "hot dog stand" is not known and the few gas stations are rustically built to blend into the natural setting. The modern trend of blending utility with beauty can show to no better advantage than along the nation's highways.

SPECIAL LICENSE PLATES (Detroit News) The new State Administration gets an old question—Why is favoritism shown in issuing automobile license plates? Louis Webber, executive director for the Michigan Association of Road Commissioners and Engineers, writes a letter of protest about it. Webber used to be deputy secretary of state and in that job got the inside dope about the license plate business.

"The State gets regular license plates, made in numerical order, at a cost of about 11 cents a set," the letter says. "A special plate costs 37 cents." The total extra cost of special license plates, Webber says, is from $50,000 to $60,000 a year. At the beginning of the practice of issuing such plates, a low-number plate was a sort of badge for a Lansing jobholder or for one influential in setting the top jobholders their jobs. Something of the sort probably is implied now. Last November the office of the secretary of state announced that "favor" automobile plates were obtainable.

From time to time mild protests have been heard that the police were chary about giving tickets to owners of "trick" license plates. Some conscientious citizens refused to take "favor" plates—on that account.

Summarizing, it seems about time to quit the nonsense. If the people of Michigan want to create a sort of honor roll or order of nobility among motorists, the awards should be bestowed only after full proof of merit. And it is a sure bet that persons worthy of such rating would be first to insist that the $50,000 or $60,000 wasted for special license plates should be used either for improving the roads or for reducing the State government deficit.

FUTILE BELIEF (New York Times) We have now had huge deficits for nine successive years. The British, during this period, have kept their budget very close to balance. Between 1929 and 1938 our

World Affairs Reviewed

BY MILTON BRONNER NEA Service Staff Correspondent London—While primarily Germany's sudden demand for parity in submarine tonnage with Great Britain is John Bull's headache, the chances are that before long Uncle Sam will begin to feel a throbbing in his own temples.

There are two reasons for this: first, because Nazis are giving American plans for naval expansion as one of the causes of their own bigger navy program, and second, because a fleet of large ocean-going submarines will be as much a threat to the American merchant marine as it will be to the British.

Adolf Hitler has often loved to dwell in his speeches upon the proof he gave of his pacific intentions by pointing to the naval pact he negotiated with Britain in June, 1935.

In that pact it was agreed that Germany would limit its navy to 35 percent of that of the British Empire. The percentage was also to apply to categories. That is, if Britain had 100,000 tons of battleships, Germany would not exceed 35,000 tons; if Britain had 50,000 tons of destroyers, Germany would have 17,500 tons, etc.

The one exception regarded submarines. Germany reserved the right to have 45 percent of Britain's submarine tonnage. Furthermore, Germany reserved the right, if she thought circumstances justified it, to claim the power to have 100 percent of the British submarine tonnage.

The other day she made exactly that claim. As usual, when Germany wants to do more rearming, the Nazis make Russia the bogey.

When German naval officers discussed the matter with British naval officers—as provided by the pact—the Nazis set forth that they were "compelled" to build more and bigger submarines because of the vast number Soviet Russia had constructed. This, they claimed, was a menace to Germany in the Baltic Sea.

In the first place, neither American nor British naval authorities have any knowledge of a huge Russian submarine fleet. In the next place, and more cogently, a submarine menace is not met by a counter-submarine force. If Germany were genuinely afraid of this bogey Russian submarine fleet, her remedy would be more swift destroyers, cruisers and small, high-powered boats designed especially to hunt down and attack submarines.

An officer of the staff of the German Baltic command, writing recently in the Koelnische Zeitung, brings Uncle Sam into the picture. He speaks of the unprecedented scale of America's proposed naval rearmament. The only reason, he claims, for the establishment of an American squadron of great strength in the Atlantic is as a threat to Fascist state. He doubts whether such a squadron is for merely defensive purposes.

Britain now has or will have 69 submarines with a total of 72,534 tons. Germany has or will have 72 submarines with a total of 31,532 tons.

If Germany builds up to Britain's total, she will be able to construct some 40,000 more tons of submarines. But, as Germany's navy is not to exceed 35 per cent of Britain's tonnage, what the Nazis build in submarines they will have to deduct from their total tonnage in other classes.

Most of Germany's present submarine fleet is good only for work in the Baltic and the North Seas. It is presumed the Nazis now plan to build a fleet of big sea-going submarines, capable of work in the Atlantic.

This would fit in with the naval plans of the Berlin-Rome axis in case there was war. Italy's job would be to work her submarines in the Mediterranean. Germany would harry merchant vessels and naval ships in the North Sea and the Atlantic.

During the last World War, before America came into it, Germany stripped the world by sending over a submarine clear across the Atlantic. It bobbed up in an American port. What was done then could more easily be done by the larger and more improved submarines with their bigger Diesel engines.

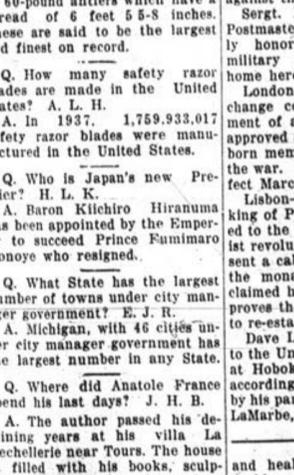

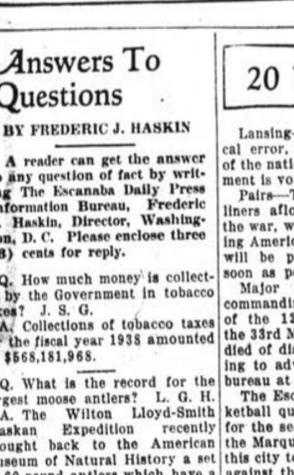

per capita national debt increased 105 per cent. In the same period the per capita national debt of Great Britain increased only five per cent. The fallacy of the theory of government-created buying power through deficits is that it forgets the enormously greater private buying power, particularly for capital goods, that may be held up or frightened away by the lack of confidence caused by the government's unbalanced position. It is as futile to believe that we can spend ourselves rich, as one commentator has put it, as to suppose that a man can drink himself sober.

SCENIC BEAUTY: AN ASSET (Ironwood Globe) Preservation of the scenic beauty of Gogebic county, advocated by County Engineer George W. Koronski in a communication to the People's Forum on this page, is an important need.

If the scenic beauty of the Black River and Presque Isle River valleys and of similar picturesque places in the county is destroyed through logging operations, the people will lose a valuable asset. Not only the people of Gogebic county, but everyone, will be the losers if such destruction comes to pass. The people of this county, of course, will be the greatest losers, for they not only will be deprived of natural beauty which they now enjoy, but of an important attraction for visitors. This beauty, is therefore, also an economic asset.

Mr. Koronski has for years worked for the preservation of roadside timber and of the scenic beauty of the county. His efforts to save the beauty of these areas deserve the support of every resident of the county and it is hoped that his efforts to enlist the co-operation of the owners of these lands meets with success.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY PEARSON AND ALLEN Washington—If the LaFollette committee does not get funds to continue its civil liberties investigations, Frank Murphy, newly appointed Attorney General, will.

Murphy has his eyes particularly on the Associated Farmers, greatest foe of organized labor in the Far West. All preliminary evidence points to vigilante tactics similar to those unearthed in bloody Harlan County, Kentucky. Preliminary investigations also indicate that those engaged in vigilante tactics failed to cover up their tracks, left themselves wide open to prosecution.

DULL DIPLOMAT—Failure to attend a White House dinner can be deadly serious for a diplomat, as discovered recently by Brazilian Ambassador Primentel. It was the last straw in bringing about his recall.

Ambassador Pimentel, a dull and ponderous gentleman compared with predecessor Oswaldo Aranha, never was popular in Washington. He spent most of his time over a tailor shop in Albany, N. Y., visiting a friend who had come up from South America to be near him.

The other day, when the President gave his annual dinner for Ambassadors and Ministers, Pimentel was strangely absent. He had given as his excuse that he was out of town. On the day of the White House dinner, however, he turned up at the Swiss Legation to get a visa for Switzerland.

Remarkable Swiss Minister Peter, observing Pimentel's absence from the dinner that night: "Relations between the United States and Brazil must be cool."

They were not cool, however. Ambassador Pimentel had merely learned of his impending recall and decided to leave for Europe. This clinched the matter. He will now be replaced by Carlos Martin Pereira de Souza, Brazilian Ambassador to Belgium.

Note—Few ambassadors have ever equaled the popularity of Oswaldo Aranha, long Brazilian Ambassador here, who returns February 9 on a special mission as Foreign Minister.

DIES' TAXES—New Dealers are gleefully nursing a brickbat to heave at Representative Martin Dies next time he uncorks a "Red" blast at one of them.

The secret stinger is an affidavit from Charles Cottle, Tax Collector of Orange County, Tex., that Dies owes $557.93 in taxes on a tract of land for the years 1930 to 1938. During these eight years, Dies has been one of the most zealous pap and pork grabbers on Capitol Hill.

Note—Friends say the limelight has gone to Dies' head. Recently he felt out a prominent New York publisher on the possibility of supporting him for President in 1940.

CAPITAL CHAFF—SEC Chairman Douglas returned from his trip to Texas beaming with pride. Former Governor Jimmy Allred presented him with a ten-gallon sombrero and the Ft. Worth Board of Trade gave him a pearl-handled six-shooter once belonging to a desperado . . . Stephen Chadwick, National Commander of the American Legion, is quietly grooming himself to run against Senator Louis Schwellenbach, Washington New Dealer, in 1940. Chadwick tried for the Senate in 1932, but was defeated by Senator Bone . . . National Youth Administrator Aubrey Williams will bring 60 leading educators and university presidents to Washington next month to confer on NYA . . . During his recent visit in Washington, Howard Costigan, secretary of the Commonwealth Federation of Washington, secured a promise from Secretary Harold Ickes to address the Western States liberal conference in Salt Lake City next June . . . Grant Mason, nervous young Civil Aeronautics Commissioner, surrounds himself with three advisers when he talks to one newspaperman.

SPAIN—Hard-working Spanish Ambassador de los Rios has become a highly successful charity collector for his hard-pressed government.

Anxious to save every penny for munitions, the Ambassador recently toured the Caribbean, during which he persuaded the Cuban Government to send Spain a shipment of sugar; got more sugar plus a check for $500 from ex-President Trujillo, dictator of the Dominican Republic.

His biggest success, however, has been the heavy shipments of American flour to Spain. Without them Barcelona and Madrid would have been starved out long ago.

That Minister of Propaganda certainly knows how to garner publicity.

By Barton Rees Pogue A LUNCHEON CLUB PRESIDENT REPENTS Forgive me, Lord, for what I said today. I really should not speak to men that way. On bended knee I here and now repent. For saying things I knew I would lament. Don't draw away, again my sorrow share. Though week after week I make this fervent prayer. You really should be president to know The valley of despair through which I go. Again today I told my club the speech was great. And food (for thought) much better than that the hotel meal they ate. "In behalf of the club," I said, "I wish to express Our sincere thanks for this your fine address— The applause they gave, the same your fine ears heard. Is higher compliment to you than my poor word. But I must voice their praise of you, and say We hope you'll come our way again some day." I looked that speaker squarely in the eye— O Lord, how hard it is for chairmen not to lie!

COAST GUARD SITE SURVEYED

Action Raises Hopes of Early Construction of Station

The survey of the site for the proposed coast guard station at the Manistique waterfront was expected to be completed last evening, by a coast guard crew in charge of B. F. Ahrens, of the Civil Engineers Division, U. S. Coast Guard at Chicago.

In addition to Mr. Ahrens, the crew consisted of three coast-guardsmen from the Whitefish Point station. A small skiff was used to take soundings at the harbor.

The survey of the site has given rise to hopes that the station would be constructed within the near future, although there have been no other indications that the government plans to go ahead with that program at this time.

It was planned to begin work on the station last summer, but the plans were revised when appropriations for coast guard construction were reduced and used in other federal services.

The City of Manistique has already deeded the property to the U. S. Coast Guard for the construction of the station here.

The station is expected to cost about $200,000 and would include a crew of about 19 men.

CITY TESTS TO BE EXPLAINED

Resolution Objecting to Employees Examination Tabled By Council

A resolution by the Escanaba City Employees union, objecting to a proposed promotional examination to fill an existing vacancy in the city utilities department, was tabled by the city council last night after union representatives agreed to call a union meeting at which City Manager George E. Bean will be invited to explain the purpose of the proposed tests.

"The resolution seems to be founded upon a misunderstanding of the tests," Bean commented. "The use of tests to determine hiring of employees to fill vacancies is in perfect accord with civil service, which is backed by the employees' union."

He went on to explain that the position in question cannot be filled by advancement of a member of the department because there are only three men employed there at present and another is needed. He pointed out that a man will have to be selected either from another department or from outside the city employees ranks, and that the tests are the logical basis upon which to make the selection.

"Men now employed by the city will be given preference in the selection of a man for the job," he stated, "and an outsider will be employed only if all men now employed by the city should fall in the tests. At the same time, results of the tests will also provide a basis for selection if another vacancy occurs within a few years."

Union representatives at the meeting agreed to call a session of the union, and to ask Bean to explain the tests to all city employees at that time. The city manager has encouraged all city employees to take the tests, which are similar to those which would be set up by a civil service board.

Report Ruled Out
 After considerable discussion, members of the council voted not to submit to taxpayers of the city a report of their activities during the past year. "A report would only be thrown into the waste basket," was the comment of Councilman Harold Gasman. "We need the money for other things," was Councilman Carl B. Johnson's remark. Councilman Carl B. Richter also voted to table the motion, which was supported by Mayor Peter Logan and Councilman Charles Gallagher. The city council has not made an annual report to the people since 1937. The cost of such a report, as estimated by the city manager, would be about $500.

A suggestion that a salary survey be made to determine equitable compensation for city employees was also turned down by the council. Councilman Gasman summarized remarks of members when he stated, "I think we are able to set fair wages for the employees of the city."

DeMolay Degree Conferred Upon Six Candidates

The DeMolay degree was conferred upon six candidates at a regular meeting of Delta chapter, Order of DeMolay, on Wednesday evening.

This is the final degree in the initiation of the new members, who include Merle Pfofenbauer, Raymond Long, Samuel Cassidy, William Swenson Jr., James Marshall and Dale Minniek.

It was also announced by the committee in charge that the social planned for Friday evening, with members of the Gladstone Order of Job's Daughters as guests, has been postponed until February 10, due to conflicting activities.

A regular meeting of the chapter will again be held next Wednesday evening, when plans for the Upper Peninsula DeMolay Conclave, to be held in Escanaba in the spring, will be discussed. All members are urged to attend this meeting.

EDW. E. GALLUP TO BE HONORED

Banquet in Ishpeming for Father of Vocational Agriculture

Edward E. Gallup, veteran educational leader in Michigan, is to be honored at a dinner this evening at the Peoples' Church in East Lansing, when more than 400 friends and associates of Mr. Gallup will pay tribute to the "father of vocational agriculture in Michigan."

Born on a farm in Jackson County, Mr. Gallup has had a lengthy career in Michigan educational circles. He is a graduate of Jackson High School, Michigan State College and the University of Michigan. His teaching experience includes two years in the rural schools of Ingham County, five years as superintendent at Hanover, three as head of the Chelsea school system, five years as principal of the Adrian High School and five years as superintendent of Monroe schools. He also served as a summer school instructor at Michigan State Normal College for five years.

Mr. Gallup has served as president of the American Association for the Advancement of Agricultural Teaching, an honor accorded him for his work in founding the vocational education program in Michigan, which he served as directing head for 18 years. For 18 years he was secretary of the Michigan High School Oratorical Association, and also served as its president. He has also served as president of the Michigan High School Principals' Association.

Red Wings in Tie With Blackhawks

Detroit, Jan. 19. (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings climbed into a deadlock with the idle Chicago Blackhawks for fifth place in the National hockey league by defeating the New York Rangers 4 to 3 in a game played before a crowd of 10,300 here tonight.

Manager Jack Adams, of the Red Wings, was banished from his team's bench by Referee E. Norman Leport during a dispute that was followed by a sensational goal and tied the score at 3-all.

A few minutes later Detroit went ahead to remain when Gus Gleason, rookie center, beat Goale Dave Kerr with a smash after taking a double relay from Herbie Lewis and Hector Kilrea.

NYE WILL TALK ON PEACE HERE

Munitions Investigator to Speak at Institute on February 1

Senator Gerald P. Nye, whose investigations as chairman of the special senate committee probing world munitions traffic have revealed startling facts about the munitions industry, will use as his topic, "Preparedness for Peace," when he speaks here February 1.

The North Dakota Progressive Republican has been engaged to address the Delta county teachers' institute, to be held at William W. Oliver Memorial auditorium of the Junior high school. In a letter received yesterday by C. P. Titus, county school commissioner, Senator Nye confirmed the date of his speaking engagement here but stated that the hour of his arrival in Escanaba had not yet been set. The time at which the senator will speak is to be announced soon, Commissioner Titus stated.

Tickets Available
 Teachers of Delta county rural schools and high schools, Escanaba and Gladstone city schools and parochial schools will hear the senator during their annual teachers' institute. Tickets will be made available to all others who wish to hear the senator, whose fight for an adequate neutrality bill has made him the most widely publicized member of the United States senate.

Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, superintendent of public instruction, will also speak during the institute here. He will be accompanied by Robert Koopman, assistant superintendent of the department, who will be on the speaking program.

Commissioner Titus said yesterday that it is likely that the whole institute program will be presented during the one day, Wednesday, February 1. Institutes for the past several years have continued for two days.

TWO TEACHERS ARE APPOINTED

Mrs. Barbara Semer and Charles L. Follo On Library Board

Two Escanaba public school teachers, Mrs. Barbara Semer, principal of the Franklin school, and Charles L. Follo of the senior high school faculty, were appointed to the board of the Carnegie public library at a meeting of the Escanaba city council at the city hall last night. Mrs. Semer is a former member of the board, while Follo was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of the late J. J. Cox who had served on the board for the past twenty-five years.

Members of the library board are named by the council to serve for terms of four years. There are eight board members, with two terms expiring annually. Other board members are Mrs. S. W. Brennan, John J. Bartella, C. W. Flanagan, T. M. Judson, H. P. Lindsay and Mathias Petersen.

The local library was one of many given by Andrew Carnegie. It was built in 1902 at a cost of $20,000, and is maintained through funds supplied by the city and administered through the library board.

Mrs. Louis Roeder Claimed By Death

Mrs. Louis Roeder of Kenosha, Wis., a sister-in-law of Mrs. Paul St. Mitchell, Mrs. Joseph White and Charles Roeder of this city, passed away Tuesday following a long illness. Mrs. Roeder had visited here frequently and was well known in Escanaba.

She is survived by three daughters and two sons.

The body was taken from Kenosha to Iron Mountain where services will be held today and burial made beside the body of her husband, who died twenty years ago.

Rumpus Puts Tech On Toledo's Card

Detroit, Jan. 19. (AP)—Detroit Tech, announcing its 1939 football schedule, revealed tonight that it will replace Wayne university on the University of Toledo's card. The game will be played at Toledo Sept. 30.

Wayne and Toledo severed athletic relations last fall as a consequence of a rumpus which followed Toledo's 39-20 defeat of Wayne here.

Tech also scheduled games with three other new opponents, Niagara, Miami and Augustana.

The 1939 schedule:
 Sept. 23—Niagara at Buffalo.
 Sept. 30—Toledo at Toledo.
 Oct. 7—Ferris at Detroit.
 Oct. 14—Open permanently.
 Oct. 21—Youngstown at Youngstown, O.
 Oct. 28—Open.
 Nov. 4—Miami at Oxford, O.
 Nov. 11—Augustana of Rock Island, Ill., at Detroit.

NEW LICENSE OFFICE READY

Sales of Plates Started By Wm. Ranguette, New Appointee

Transfer of automobile licensing facilities to the new office in the Norstrom Motors company building at 1636 Ludington street has been completed, William Ranguette, office manager, announced last night. New plates will be on sale at the new office beginning this morning.

Ranguette was named last week as successor to Charles Johnston, who had been in charge of local sale of plates since automobile licensing was removed from the office of the county treasurer.

Transfer of books and funds of the office was completed yesterday, under the direction of Dan Van Wagoner, auditor, of the secretary of state's department.

The expiration date of 1938 plates has been extended until March 1, the latest date to which it is legal to make extension under existing state laws. Ranguette stated yesterday that the office will be open from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m. until the deadline approaches, when evening hours will be kept to provide service during the rush period.

Sleeping at Her Birthday Party

Five-year-old Maxine Yarrington, sleeping sickness victim, turns unseeing eyes from the birthday cake offered by her father, Lloyd Yarrington of Erie, Pa. The child, in her mother's arms, "celebrated" her birthday by taking the liquid diet she has received since 1935.

STATE SCHOOL AID IS HALVED

Balance To Be Available Within Two Weeks, Elliott Says

A check for $19,162.51, representing one-half of the December payment of state school aid, was received yesterday by Ralph R. Olsen, county treasurer, and will be distributed today among school districts of the county. According to a statement by Eugene B. Elliott, superintendent of the state department of public instruction, the payment was cut because of lack of sufficient funds in the general fund of the state, and the balance will be available within two weeks.

Distribution of the December payment will be as follows:

Baldwin township	$1,078.68
Bark River township	744.87
Bay de Noc township	149.72
Brampton township	449.41
Cornell township	268.71

Want to Shovel Off to Buffalo?

If seeing is believing, City Hall workers had to do some fancy tunneling to get home after a Buffalo blizzard. Here's one slant on wintry Buffalo's January storm.

Smelt Jamboree Will Be Held April 13-15

The fifth annual Escanaba Smelt Jamboree will be held here Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 13 to 15, it was announced yesterday after a meeting of the executive committee.

The celebration is being held a week later than last year's event due to the fact that Holy Week occurs on the previous week. Records of the past years disclose, however, that the smelt are still running heavily to the spawning beds about the middle of April.

The Escanaba Chamber of Commerce reports that it is already receiving inquiries about the smelt runs. Stories and pictures have been requested by Hunter-Trapper, Fur-Fish-Game and other magazines and newspapers. The home dealer has advised that she will publish smelt recipes in a forthcoming issue. She also inquired whether smelt is available the year round packed in cans. Gunnar Back, program director of Station WJNO, West Palm Beach, Fla., states that he will give extensive publicity to the jamboree in news announcements from the southern station.

One of the publicity stunts planned this year will be the staging of a smelt banquet, with various Michigan grown farm products on the menu, in Washington, D. C., for Michigan congressmen, newspapermen and news reel photographers, who will be guests of Rep. Fred Bradley at the affair. Rep. Bradley and his secretary, Publisher Joseph A. Sturgeon of Gladstone, are already making arrangements for the event. Contributions of Michigan grown potatoes and beans already have been offered.

TWO HUNTERS FOUND GUILTY

Hogan and Casey Decide To Appeal Cases To Circuit Court

Gwinn, Mich.—Emerson Hogan, Escanaba, and Isadore Casey, of Wells, were convicted after five minutes of deliberation of a jury in Justice of the Peace Nordeen's court on a charge of illegal possession of venison.

They were sentenced to each pay a fine of $100 and $18.50 court costs. Their attorney announced they would appeal the case to circuit court.

Hogan and Casey were arrested near Ross, Wells township, Marquette county. According to the testimony of the conservation officers, they had five deer without the metal license seals in their possession when arrested.

They are at liberty under bail pending their appearance in circuit court.

Members Of Delta County Health Unit Inspect Laboratory

Members of the Delta county health department staff visited the new Pinecrest sanatorium laboratory Wednesday afternoon, when an "open house" for those employing new facilities was held. Those from Escanaba attending were Dr. Roelof Lanting, health unit head, Henry Newkirk, county sanitarian, Mrs. Hugh Boyle and Mrs. Alma Christensen, county nurses, and Miss Eileen Johnson.

Attending the session were health department members from Menominee, Dickinson, Iron, Alger and Schoolcraft counties, the counties to be served by the new state laboratory.

Dr. Don W. Gudakunst, head of the state department of health, addressed the group on the state's health program, and Dr. C. C. Young of Lansing, director of state health department laboratories, explained the services which will be available at the new laboratory. Policies of the laboratory were brought out in the discussion, in which it was pointed out that the main advantage to be gained from the new laboratory will be the saving in time made possible by its location and communication facilities.

A similar program was carried out for members of the medical societies of the counties to be served by the new laboratory, during the evening. Speakers included Dr. A. B. Mitchell of the state health department, director of the bureau of county health administration, Dr. Dickson, general disease consultant, and Dr. Newkirk, head of the Michigan tuberculosis program.

Obituary

JAMES KESHICK
Funeral services for James Keshick, Pottawatomie Indian tribe leader, will be held at the Methodist Episcopal church at Hannahville this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Rex Reed of Hermannville officiating. Burial will be in the church cemetery at Hannahville.

MRS. THEODORE GERDEEN
Impressive funeral services for Mrs. Theodore J. Gerdeen, Bark River resident, were held yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in the Boyle funeral parlors and at 2 o'clock in the Swedish Mission church, Bark River, Rev. H. W. Ecklund of Foster City officiating. Rev. Ecklund took as the text of his sermon a verse from Hebrews, 4:15:16.

The choir of the Swedish Mission church sang the music of the service, with two solos, "Under His Wing," and "I Need Jesus," by Mrs. Elmer Carlson and Mrs. Arthur Nelson. Members of the choir are Miss Mary Olson, Miss Ethel Hedlund, Mrs. E. B. Peterson, Mrs. Elmer Johnson and Mrs. R. M. Dahlberg, accompanist.

Fallbearers were: Frank Roman, Peter Stenhour, E. B. Peterson, Elmer Carlson and Gillard and Gilbert Pearson. In charge of flowers was Mrs. Elmer Carlson.

Out-of-town relatives attending the funeral included Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gerdeen of Escanaba, Mr. and Mrs. C. Johnson and daughters Mary and Elisabeth and son John, Mrs. Joseph Roman of Escanaba, Mrs. A. Skoglund, Mrs. Anna Johnson and Carl Johnson, Carl Gerdeen and Andrew Johnson of Lathrop.

Burial was in the family lot in the Bark River cemetery.

MICHAEL GLOVACKI
The body of Michael Glovacki of Perronville was returned to the family home last evening and will remain in state there until the hour of funeral services. The funeral will be held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Michael's church, Perronville, Rev. Fr. Francis Krzyz officiating at a requiem high mass. Burial will be in the family lot, St. Michael's cemetery.

Abrams' "Flying Greenhouse" Seen By Aerial Photographers At Meet

By Esther Van Wagoner Tutty
Washington Correspondent
Washington, Jan. 18.—Sliding down out of gray skies the Explorer, oft called the Flying Greenhouse, of Lansing, landed at the Washington airport on Sunday. This air novelty, with its big glass nose where the engines and propeller are expected, is attracting a continuous crowd. The only one of its kind, it was especially designed by the Abrams Air Craft Corporation to facilitate the work of the Abrams Aerial Survey Corporation. It is exhibit A during the three-day annual sessions of the American Society of Photogrammetry, opening today.

Talbert Abrams, of Lansing, president of the two companies and also the Abrams Instrument company is a pioneer in aerial surveying, widely used by the government in its AAA farm program.

Members of the society are seeking news of future expansion possibilities in aerial surveying from Mr. Abrams, who recently returned from a study of the needs for airplane and camera equipment for military and civil uses in Central Europe. The usefulness of the Explorer for scouting and mapping enemy territory was not overlooked in war-conscious Europe. Italy particularly was interested, Mr. Abrams says, as was Germany, Switzerland, Belgium, Holland, France and England.

In his address this noon before the society, Mr. Abrams will describe "Mapping Airplanes and their Future". The society, which boasts 800 members reports that some 5,000 people are now employed in this comparatively new industry.

Abrams envisions a future for photographing from the air which will employ robot pilots and robot cameramen. With radio control of airplanes excellent mapping jobs can be done right in the laboratory while a dummy pilot and cameraman fly to altitudes a man could not endure to snap pictures covering a wider territory. He even is certain of the feasibility of using television. Thus a man in the laboratory could "see" by television and take a picture or make a sketch from the recording machine. Experiments forecast adoption.

The glass-nosed Explorer is more than an experiment. It has been in actual use by the Michigan company for the past year in

Fancy Skating Here To Stay, Reports Show

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor
New York, Jan. 17.—On the tour closing at Madison Square Garden, Sonja Henie proved that ice shows are vastly more than a fad.

Show business being what it is, it is pleasing to report that the Golden Girl of the Silver Skates played to more than 700,000 persons . . . grossed more than $1,000,000 . . . in 12 cities in less than 12 weeks.

Miss Henie would have done much better had she more time and had the arenas been more spacious. She was limited to 32,000 in eight nights in Hollywood, for example, because with a skating surface was other wise occupied. She skated before 90,000 in Houston in eight nights, 75,000 in St. Louis in five, 80,000 in Boston in six, 90,000 in Detroit in seven, 120,000 in Chicago in seven, and New York booked up 75,000 seats for her five nights on Broadway.

There is every indication that ice shows are here to stay . . . with the producers making better use of their advantages by following the pattern of a high-class revue or ballet.

"Ice Follies of 1939" also has done well. Its cast is largely composed of midwestern kids who three years ago were forced to travel in busses.

Miss Henie made the big success of "Ice Follies" possible in making America ice conscious.

MISS HENIE DENIES BREAK WITH MANAGER
Miss Henie returned to the Garden, where she made her first appearance as a little girl and an amateur in 1929, without Hugo Quist, the silent Finn who guided her to professional glory and such high dividends.

Although she denies it, there has been a break between the roly-poly Norwegian miss and Quist, who has been ill in a Chicago hospital for several weeks.

That is too bad, for Quist has done a heap for Sonja Henie since the late Wilhelm Henie first brought his cute daughter to America.

Wilhelm Henie wanted his won-

Bark River Youth Enlisted In Navy

Albert J. Lavigne, Bark River, R. F. D. No. 2, was enlisted in the United States Navy Tuesday at the main recruiting station in Chicago.

Lavigne, who attended school at Schaffer and who was a member of the Civilian Conservation Corps before enlisting in the navy, will go into training for 12 weeks at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station near Chicago before being transferred to some unit of the fleet, probably in New York City during early May.

Other Upper Peninsula boys who enlisted are Albert Cook of Bruce Crossing, and Randall Simonson of Iron Mountain.

One-tenth of the land in China is covered by cemeteries and graves.

der girl properly trained and needed advice from a financial angle. He turned to Quist, who knows all about conditioning and who showed Paavo Nurmi, the great Finnish distance runner, how to make money, see the country, and still remain a simon-pure.

Thus it was that Quist had the inside track when glorious Sonja turned professional following the Winter Olympics of 1936.

Quist had a number of lean years between Nurmi and Miss Henie. He couldn't raise enough money to bring the Golden Girl and her parents to this country.

QUIST'S PERSISTENCE PUTS NORWEGIAN OVER MADISON SQUARE GARDEN
Madison Square Garden held that New York had seen her as an amateur . . . that she no longer merited a booking. But Quist persisted, and finally she was booked to skate before, between periods, and following an amateur hockey game.

Quist literally stuffed Sonja Henie down Hollywood's throat. She was turned down by one of the big outfits after a screen test.

But Quist knew she had it, and skated her for six nights at the small Hollywood rink.

She knocked the film colony out of its seats.

It was Mrs. Ed Eberle, wife of the studio manager of 20th Century-Fox, who brought Darryl Zanuck to her. One peek at her and Zanuck signed her without a screen test.

Sonja Henie had plenty to sell, and Hugo Quist was a master salesman.

But Sonja Henie no longer requires selling, so there no longer is any need of Quist.

That's the fate of most managers . . . when their proteges get into the more important money.

Attacks of Neuritic Pains in Knees and Hip Relieved by RUX.

(Mrs. Share, Prominent Monroe, Wis., Resident for 28 years, Praises RUX).

According to Mrs. Laurence Share, 923 22nd Street, Monroe, Wis., she has found marvelous relief with RUX. She says, "I had attacks of Neuritic pain in my right knee and hip that occasionally would make me unable to do my housework and would keep me from getting a good night's rest. One day, my daughter, Mrs. Laurence Share brought me a bottle of RUX, and I started using this medicine. It certainly helped relieve my pains, and now I can be more active and enjoy doing my work more after taking RUX."

HOW RUX WORKS

RUX is a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys and helps increase the removal of many poisons from the system, thus aiding in flushing out uric acid, which may, often-times, cause painful deposits. RUX also contains alkalizers, and salicylates, recommended by famous doctors for pain relief. RUX is a PURE and FULL STRENGTH medicine, recommended as an anti-pyretic and analgesic for common muscular pains.

First Constitution Of Michigan Found Among The Archives

Buried among the archives and records of the Department of State and hidden in one of the huge vaults is the original first Constitution of the State of Michigan, dated June 24, 1835, and signed by the members of the First Constitutional Convention. It was adopted by the people of the State in October, 1835. This Constitution remained in force as the fundamental law of the State until the Constitution of 1850 went into effect. This Constitution written before the extensive use of printing and lithographing is in longhand. The writing at the present time is very clear and easily readable. The pen used in writing the first Constitution was placed in the cornerstone of the present State Capitol in Lansing, when it was laid in 1873. Originally the Constitution was stored in a round metal canister for safe keeping as were all state documents of importance at that time. With frequent handling, the documents became seriously impaired and many of the signatures were torn and worn off by this method of preservation. In 1913, the Sophia DeMaras Campau Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution petitioned the Board of State Auditors, that this priceless and historic state document be preserved for future generations. Subsequently this request was granted and in 1914 the remnants of the document were sent to the Manuscript Department of the Library of Congress, Washington, D. C. for restoration. The remnants were pieced together and pressed into manuscript gauze, the same method used as in the preserving of the will of George Washington, our first President. Today we find the first Constitution of the State of Michigan, bound in a large gilt edged, blue leather covered volume placed on the shelves along side of the Constitution of 1850 and 1908, under the care of Harry F. Kelly, Secretary of State.

Ten thousand electrical fittings containing 30,000 lamps and supplying enough light for a city of 100,000 inhabitants, are contained in the Queen Mary, trans-Atlantic liner.

Ethel R. Gessner,
Philip Rosenfeld
Will Wed Today

Miss Ethel Ruth Gessner, daughter of the prominently known Herman Gessners of this city, will be a bride in a ceremony in Chicago today, at which she will exchange vows with Philip Rosenfeld of Washington, D. C. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rosenfeld of Washington.

:- Social-Club :-

Light Bearers Meeting. Anna C. Smith Circle, Light Bearers, will meet this afternoon after school at the home of Mrs. A. L. Laine. All members are asked to be present.

V. F. W. Auxiliary. Members of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars will hold a pantry sale on Saturday, January 28, it was announced yesterday. Time and place of the sale will be announced later.

Corn Game Party. The Past Noble Grands' club of Phoebe Rebeck Lodge will entertain at a corn game party this evening at the I. O. O. F. hall, North Tenth street. The public is cordially invited to attend. A small fee will be charged.

St. Stephen's Auxiliary. A regular meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of St. Stephen's Episcopal church will be held at the home of Mrs. Ed. Nicholson, 428 South Eleventh street, at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Barr Plans Activities. A number of activities were considered by the Barr Parent-Teacher association at its January meeting held Tuesday in the school auditorium.

Following a talk by Joseph Mather, commissioner of Cubbing, on the program and aims of the organization, the unit voted to sponsor a Cub Pack at the Barr School. It was decided to use proceeds of the annual Barr school fair, for room facilities for teachers of the school, and also to establish a playground fund, which will be used to purchase equipment for the school playground, as it is needed.

The program of the meeting included numbers by the Barr Glee club, directed by Miss Gertrude Lund, and selections by the Juvenile orchestra, of which Mrs. Olive Lucas is director. A talk by Supt. John A. Lemmer, scheduled for the meeting, was postponed until a later date.

To Entertain Choir. Mr. and Mrs. Martin Sather will entertain the choir of the Evangelical Covenant church this evening at their home, 302 North Sixteenth street. All members are cordially invited.

Altar Society Meets. The married ladies' altar society of the St. Joseph church will hold a regular monthly meeting at the club rooms of the school this evening at 8 o'clock.

Lead In Play

Eddie Marie Voght, of this city, an outstanding student at Ouachita college Arkadelphia, Ark., played the leading role in the first major production of the speech department of the school, "The Night of January 16," a play based on the life and mysterious death of Ivan Krueger.

The play, presenting a murder trial, with the jury, members of the audience, ended with acquittal of the accused, played by Miss Voght, a distinct tribute to her dramatic ability in the portrayal of the role.

Eddie Marie, daughter of Kenneth Voght, is in her second year at Ouachita.

Alligator-Skin Softener. Here is a suggestion for cleaning and softening alligator skin. Brush off the bag or shoes thoroughly with soft brush or cloth, then rub well with one teaspoon of petroleum jelly mixed with six drops of glycerine. After it has set for half an hour wipe off any surplus grease and polish with soft dry cloth. This will help prevent the leather from splitting.

Watch The Seasoning. Be careful not to season meat gravies so much that they lose their characteristic flavors. Usually salt and pepper or paprika are enough. If you like a prepared meat sauce, add only a dash. Better yet, pass the sauce and let the family use what they please.

Support of Boy Scouts Pledged to Birthday Ball

New York, Jan. 19.—The leader of the Boy Scouts of America, James E. West, has enlisted in the national fight against Infantile Paralysis. Keith Morgan, Chairman of the Committee for the Celebration of the President's Birthday, announced today.

In a letter to Mr. Morgan, accepting membership on the Fraternal Council of the campaign, Mr. West said:

"I shall be glad to cooperate in any way and I assure you that this cause is particularly close to my heart."

Commenting on Mr. West's active interest, Mr. Morgan said: "The Boy Scouts of America is one of the greatest organizations for the benefit of American youth. Its work is with growing boys, helping them through the difficult years of development into maturity, training them to be self-reliant men and good citizens. Infantile Paralysis is a deadly enemy to their work, making cripples of sturdy youngsters, turning promising children into helpless invalids."

New York, Jan. 19.—Joe Louis and John Henry Lewis, who meet in the heavyweight ring next Wednesday night, are to take time off from their training for a WJZ-NBC broadcast at 3:15 p. m. Friday. They are to be interviewed on their opinions as to the prospects over who will win. The broadcast will come from their respective training camps.

Presented under auspices of the National Youth administration, a special half-hour program, "Youth Finds Itself," will be presented by WJZ-NBC at 8:30. It will include drama and a talk by Administrator Aubrey Williams.

Elmer F. Andrews is scheduled to tell the Council of State Governments in Washington about "The Administration of Wages and Hours—Its Effect on the States," at the same time that he broadcasts over WOR-MBS at 9:30 a. m.

The Howie Wing serial about aviation on WABC-CBS at 5:15

WE,
the WOMEN

BY RUTH MILETT

Ten rules for safer living have been laid down by the Greater New York Safety Council. We wonder why some of the following weren't included:

- Keep away from other women's men—and vice versa.
- Remember that it is no safer for adults to play with jealousy than for children to play with matches.
- Don't try to understand a misunderstood husband, unless he's your own.
- Don't kiss with a cold.
- Keep your "past" to yourself.
- Don't meet your old beau for lunch if you have a jealous husband.
- Don't flirt with the hunchback girl when you have another woman in tow.
- Don't disappear into the garden with a woman other than the one you brought to the party.

If your hostess is a possessive woman, don't wander out to the kitchen to help her husband mix the drinks.

Don't tell a woman that another woman has taken her place. These are ten safety measures the council didn't even mention. Maybe we'd be safer if someone urged us to use as much caution in our man-woman relationships as we are warned to use in handling other inflammables.

BANANA GARNISH

A piquant garnish is made by dipping sliced bananas into mayonnaise, broiling them quickly and arranging them around a meat loaf, roast or fried chicken.

p. m. will move from a studio to a large airplane as the scene of their broadcast Friday. The plane will be flying over the Newark airport and vicinity.

Nadia Boulanger, French woman conductor, is to direct a radio presentation of Faure's "Requiem" for WJZ-NBC at 9, the program using the Obelia conservatory orchestra and the Musical Union of Oberlin College, Oberlin, Ohio.

Burgess Meredith joins Orson Welles in his WABC-CBS drama at 8 when the production is to be "The Chicken Wagon Family."

Another dramatic piece on WABC-CBS is "Dark Dilemma" by the First Nighter at 7.

CRISP NET IS GAY, YOUNG

Sweet young things select evening frocks in billowing, frothy net for mid-winter dancing. It's fashionable to be demure, coquettish, as grandmother was, and truly no material achieves this effect quite so charmingly. One lovely model of sheerest black rayon marquette has a short cardigan jacket and slash pockets in the wide, wide skirt of crisp white rayon lace. Another young frock consists of simply row upon row of chertreuse ruffled net over a swishy taffeta slip. Confetti dots on white net is used for a bouffant dance dress with a heart-shaped strapless bodice.

WET BLADES CUT NEATLY

When preparing marshmallows for use in salads, cakes or puddings, wet the blades before dicing the marshmallows with scissors to prevent sticking and ragged edges.

Church Events

Christian Science Churches

"Truth" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, January 22.

The Golden Text (Deuteronomy 32:3, 4) is: "Ascribe ye greatness unto our God. He is the Rock, his work is perfect; for all his ways are judgment; a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is he."

Among the Bible citations in this passage (Psalm 57:9, 10): "I will praise thee, O Lord, among the people; I will sing unto thee among the nations. For thy mercy is great unto the heavens, and thy truth unto the clouds."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 286): "The understanding of Truth gives full faith in Truth, and spiritual understanding is better than all burnt offerings."

Rapid River

Surprise Party
Rapid River, Mich.—A number of friends of Mrs. Stone Anderson surprised her Friday evening, the occasion being her birthday. A delightful evening was spent, a fine lunch was served, and Mrs. Anderson received several beautiful gifts. The following friends and relatives were present: Mrs. Andy Magnusson, Mrs. Gifford and Mrs. W. Birk from Ensign, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Erickson, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Newman and Gladstone, Mrs. Olof Pearson and Mrs. John Skoglund of town.

Mrs. S. L. Bird Dies
The Detroit News carried the following item, Friday, Jan. 13: "Because of the death of Mrs. S. L. Bird, mother of Harry W., Charles E., and Ralph S., S. L. Bird & Sons will be closed all day Friday, Jan. 13".

The Bird family is well known in this community to the older residents. During the life of Mrs. Bird's parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Waldo, who were in the mercantile business here, Mrs. Bird and three sons spent their entire summer vacation here. On one of their vacation visits, during a 4th of July celebration, Ralph had the misfortune to have the thumb of his right hand blown off by the explosion of a giant fire cracker which he picked up after he thought it had gone out instead of exploding, the cracker went off in his hand. Charles E. was one of the boys at Camp Hoo Hoo, Sept. 21, 1903, when the accidental discharge of a gun resulted in the death of Sandy Murchie.

S. L. Bird & Sons consists of several large department stores in different sections of Detroit. Mr. Bird passed away several years ago.

Personals
Mrs. Chas. Elegrat and son, of Gladstone, returned home Sunday after spending several days at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Young.

Fred Cavil and little daughter Mary motored to Menominee Saturday, returning Sunday, where they visited with Hugh Cavil and family.

He was accompanied to Harris by Miss Dorothy Deloughary, who visited her parents there, and Miss Mary Jean Campbell and Mrs. Chas. Hamilton, who visited relatives in Menominee.

Miss Rosella Lavine of Chicago left Saturday for her home after a week's visit at the Buchman home.

Mary Alice Murchie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Murchie, who has been quite sick for the past two weeks is much better but not able to go back to school yet.

Mrs. Lawrence Lavelle and family spent Sunday at the K. C. Scott home.

Misses Gertrude and Phyllis Grandchamp and Mrs. R. C. Young, attended the 6:30 banquet at the Sherman Hotel, given by the American Legion Saturday, complimentary to the state officers.

Mrs. Lawrence Hayes returned Monday to her home in Wetmore after a two weeks visit at the home of her parents.

The Lady Macabees will hold their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. W. Ubrick Thursday, Jan. 19 in the evening. Plans will be made at this meeting for installation of officers.

Gym Project Delayed
Rapid River, Mich.—Work on the new gymnasium is at a standstill at present, awaiting the arrival of the gypsum roof. The material for the roof is being sent from Mobile, Alabama. The contractor assured the school board the building will be ready occupancy March 15.

Pep Club Organized
The recently organized Pep club of the Rapid River High school had its initiation party Tuesday, Jan. 17. Fifty-four members were admitted. Some rather unusual initiatory procedure was used.

Dancing, organized games and lunch followed the formal part of the meeting. Members are admitted to the club only after passing a written examination on phases of school activity. The officers: Luella Malnor, president, Lila Pierson vice president, Alvie Holmgren, secretary, Pete Short, treasurer, Inez Smith cheerleader. Mr. Peterson and Mr. Cameron attended the meeting.

Smear Tournay
The fourth session of the Smear tournament was held Monday, Jan. 16. Below are the scores to date: Cities Service 290, Scrubs 258, Conservation 257, Drivers 254, Westling's DX 254, Kurt's Meat Cutters 250, Forest's 247, All Stars 243, Gen. Builders 240, Cashway 238, Creamery 234, Anderson's 224, Soo Line 218, Teamsters 210, Volunteers 200, Pierce Arrows 196.

Royal Neighbors
The Royal Neighbors of Rapid River will hold their regular meeting Tuesday evening, Jan. 24 in the music room of the schoolhouse. A 7 o'clock dinner will be served by Mrs. Frank Nygren at her home. Meeting will follow. Members are requested to make reservations for the dinner by calling Mrs. Wm. Miller, or Mrs. Chas. Hamilton by Monday noon. District Deputy Jones will be present and installation of officers will take place at this meeting. A good attendance is expected.

Personals
Mrs. Albert Peterson and Mrs. C. O. Carlson were guests of Mrs. Vincent Bergman of Escanaba, Wednesday.

Miss Gertrude Grandchamp leaves Friday, Jan. 20 for Crystal Falls to attend the mid-winter conference of the American Legion Auxiliary.

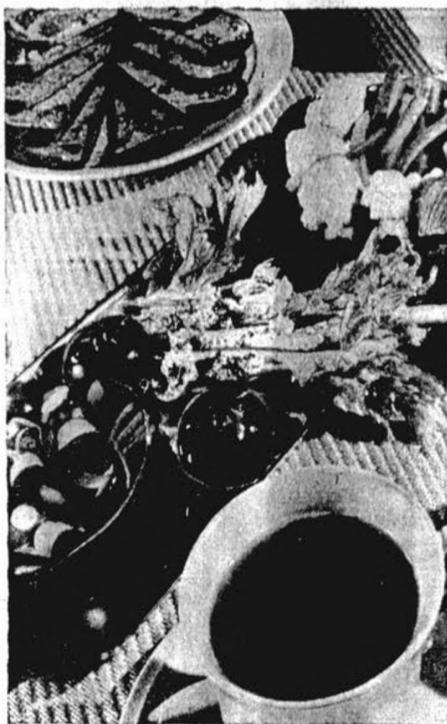

Mrs. Merle Fewless, who has been ill for several weeks with an attack of asthma is recovering and able to be out.

Mrs. Alex Wickstrom of Whitefish spent several days with her daughter Mrs. W. Newencamp in Gladstone.

Mrs. Martin Schroeder of Masonville visited Monday with her sister Mrs. John Lind.

Vitamin Balance In Tidbits

Afternoon tea goes in for vitamins. Stuffed celery, tiny white cauliflower rosettes, crunchy strips of carrots, garden sandwiches and nut bread taste unusually good with a steaming cup of tea.

Even modern tea parties think of their vitamins. The idea seems to be to keep your tea menu balanced rather than too starchy. Buttered nut bread, tiny cakes, yes—BUT also a few crisp and gardeny tidbits such as chopped raw vegetable sandwiches, tiny lettuce cups filled with tender fruit or vegetables and even fresh pineapple strips, are served now with the steaming pot of afternoon tea.

Roll sandwiches with layers of fresh fruit or fresh vegetables are delicious and effective.

Remove crusts from loaf of wholewheat bread. Then slice lengthwise. Spread each slice very lightly with smooth cream cheese to which a little chopped parsley and minced celery leaves have been added.

Have 4 different kinds of chopped or grated raw vegetables ready, such as grated carrots, chopped green peas, and water-cress, and grated yellow squash. Spread a line of each vegetable diagonally across the long slice of bread spread with cheese. Then roll up the bread, seal edges with more cream cheese, wrap in wax paper and chill.

Slice Into Pinwheels
Slice into colorful and vitamin rich pinwheels for the tea party. These will surprise you with their fresh delicacy and their beautiful appearance.

Long golden carrots, strips of stuffed celery and radishes can be turned into very gay teatime tidbits. Trim and scrape a long slender carrot, making it of even thickness the entire length. Spread a long thin slice of whole-wheat bread lightly with smooth cream cheese flavored with herbs. Place the carrot along one edge, sealing the edges with more cream cheese.

Wrap securely in wax paper. Chill well. Slice into thin rings with a golden disc of carrot in the center.

Treat radishes, strips of celery, square strips of fresh pineapple the same way.

Fruit Tidbits
For your tray of fruit tidbits for tea, scoop out melon balls and roll them in finely chopped pistachio nuts, roll perfect sections of oranges in freshly grated coconut, stuff kumquats with walnuts, and roll perfect grapefruit sections in ground walnuts.

"All I can remember—she wanted PREMIUMS"

LOOKING FOR THE VERY FINEST CRACKER? THEN MAKE THIS EASY TEST!

We like folks to ask us: "Why should we insist on Premiums when we buy crackers?"

We'll tell you why. And you can make the test yourself.

BREAK A PREMIUM IN HALF— Hear it snap with freshness? Not like an ordinary cracker? Premium Crackers are fresher because they are rushed from nearby ovens to your grocer in National Biscuit Company's own trucks.

LOOK AT THE INSIDE— See how flaky and open it is? How tender and even textured? Extra shortening makes Premiums extra flaky. They are more thoroughly baked, too.

SUGGESTION OF THE WEEK! Try this tomorrow. Put a plate of Premiums on the table with each meal. Watch the family go for them!

TASTE IT— Catch that tangy, tingy flavor? Special salting gives Premiums a zestful flavor that makes everything you serve with them more delicious.

Buy Premiums—see if you don't like them better than any cracker of the same type you've ever tasted. Order Premium Crackers from your grocer tomorrow for the week-end!

HOW DO YOU DO IT?

There's one "best way" to bake and cool a cake for good volume and perfect crust. Do you know it?

LOOK IN THESE BAGS FOR NEW IMPROVED CAKE METHOD—PLUS A FLOUR THAT MAKES SIMPLE CAKES INTO PRIZE-WINNERS!

In simple foods—bread, biscuits, pies, plain cakes—the goodness comes from the flour. It costs only 1/2c more per recipe to use Pillsbury's Best Flour than to use the cheapest flour.

FINER FLAVOR SURE TO RESULT FROM M-J-B's RICHER ROAST

Satisfaction guaranteed whether you make your coffee mild, medium or strong. Try it today.

You can make the most delicious coffee you ever tasted every time with M-J-B—by any method.

You see, the world's finest coffees are selected for M-J-B by taste, for depth of flavor alone. Then they are double-blended—first blended green, then blended again after months of ageing. Thus the rich character of M-J-B is developed in every bean, so that a perfect fusion of all flavor factors is achieved in the roasting.

Such selection, such blending, ageing and roasting naturally result in a richer roast of coffee—a coffee so much more delicious that everyone will be pleased with it.

Try M-J-B—and see.

GUARANTEE
M-J-B Coffee is guaranteed to make the best coffee you ever tasted or your money will be refunded.

MAKE THIS PROOF TEST
COMPARE ANY OTHER COFFEE WITH M-J-B—LIKE THIS!

LOOK Note the richer, nut-brown color of M-J-B, and the uniform grind. You can see that M-J-B is roasted and ground precisely to perfection.

SMELL Just smell the exhilarating aroma of freshly opened M-J-B. You can't fail to note the difference, result of M-J-B's Richer Roast.

TASTE Final proof is in every cup of M-J-B: an extra richness of flavor that everyone can taste, of any strength that you may prefer.

Baked Hash Cakes With Potatoes
 2 cups chopped cooked meat
 1/3 cup gravy or milk
 1 cup mashed potatoes
 1/4 teaspoon chopped onion
 1/4 teaspoon parsley
 1/4 teaspoon paprika
 2 tablespoons butter
 Mix all ingredients, excepting butter. Shape into four cakes, half an inch thick. Spread with butter. Place in frying pan and bake fifteen minutes.

News of FOOD Specials

Cottage Cheese-Stuffed Apples (Spiced)
 3 large apples
 1 cup granulated sugar
 1 1/2 cups water
 1 teaspoon cinnamon
 1/4 teaspoon cloves
 1 cup cottage cheese
 1/4 cup chopped olives
 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
 1-8 teaspoon salt
 1-8 teaspoon paprika
 1/4 cup salad dressing
 Cut apples crosswise into halves. Discard seeds, cores and skins. Boll together for three minutes the sugar, water and spices. Add apples and let them simmer until they are very tender and well-glazed. Carefully turn, using a fork. Cool and chill. Mix cheese with olives, parsley, salt, paprika and one tablespoon of the dressing. Stuff apple halves. Top with rest of dressing. Serve on lettuce. Small apples may be cooked whole and stuffed if preferred. The apples may also be cooked in quarters and arranged around a large mound of the cheese mixture placed on a platter.

Winter Jellied Souffle
 1 tablespoon granulated gelatin
 1/4 cup cold water
 2 egg yolks, beaten

1/4 cup granulated sugar
 1 tablespoon flour
 1-8 teaspoon salt
 1/4 cup orange juice
 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 1/4 cup diced pineapple
 2 egg whites, beaten
 1/4 teaspoon vanilla
 Soak gelatin for five minutes in the cold water. Beat yolks. Add sugar, flour and salt. Add fruit and juices. Cook in double boiler until slightly thick. Add gelatin and stir until it has dissolved. Cool and thicken slightly. Fold in rest of ingredients. Pour into a mold. Serve plain or with cream or fruit sauce.

1933 BIG YEAR AT POSTOFFICE

Figures Show Substantial Increase in Volume

Gross postal receipts of the Manistique postoffice for the year 1938 reached an all time high, totalling $27,955.94, the annual report of the postmaster, Frank M. Gierke, Sr., has disclosed. The cost of operating expenses for 1938, including salary payments totalled $22,128.65, leaving surplus postal funds of $4,826.39. Gross postal receipts from 1929 to 1938 follow:

1929	$20,612.92
1930	$19,908.25
1931	$18,566.99
1932	$16,846.19
1933	$17,291.32
1934	$19,994.72
1935	$23,181.40
1936	$23,369.45
1937	$26,332.26
1938	$27,955.94

A total of 180 U. S. Savings Bonds were sold at the local postoffice during the past year, with a total value of $34,331.25. A total of 373 postal savings certificates were issued during the year, with a value of $36,693 and 582 postal savings certificates were paid, totalling $41,509.

Domestic money orders for the year numbered 24,711 and totalled $179,116.72. The fees for issuing such orders totalled $2,271.01. There were 6,880 money orders paid at the local postoffice, totalling $78,828.56. Deposits of surplus money order funds totalled $103,744.65.

The Christmas postal business was also considerably heavier than preceding years. During the Christmas rush period from Dec. 17 to Dec. 23 the meter readings from the cancelling machine showed 57,530 letters and cards dispatched. Corresponding figures for the past nine years follow:

1930	38,520
1931	39,520
1932	39,080
1933	32,920
1934	37,700
1935	41,630
1936	47,100
1937	50,270
1938	57,530

Entries Coming In For Amateur Show

If you can sing, dance, play a musical instrument, whistle, imitate and do anything that will amuse or entertain people, you're eligible to enter the Lions club amateur contest, preparations for which are now being made by a committee representing the club. Entries are being received at the Daily Press office and the Pioneer Tribune office, or entries can be submitted to any of the following members of the committee: Charles E. Underwood, Harold Pilchta, William Barker, William L. Norton, George Morton and Ken Gunderman. The first tryout for the show will probably be held next week and the contest itself is tentatively scheduled for February 18. Every contestant selected for the show will receive a cash prize, and the five outstanding numbers, to be chosen by the audience, will receive cash awards varying from $12 to $35. Some species of psycho-moths spin curious silken cases in the exact image of small shells.

WPA WORKERS PLAN MEETING

Reduction In Rolls Being Opposed By Union

There will be a meeting of WPA workers and others interested in the continuation of WPA program in Schoolcraft county at the Schoolcraft county courthouse beginning this morning at ten o'clock. The meeting is scheduled to last most of the day and problems affecting WPA workers in this county will be aired at the meeting. The federal government is considering the reduction of funds for WPA, a reduction which would mean the loss of 54,000

WPA jobs in the state of Michigan alone. Workers Alliance officials have reported, and the union is planning a program to have the appropriation fixed at $1,050,000,000 which would maintain the WPA on its present basis. Representatives of civic clubs and other organizations in Manistique have been invited to attend the program in an effort to rally their support for the continuation of the WPA program upon its present basis. A Rally for Recovery program also is being planned for January 25, at which time a parade of WPA workers is contemplated.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schuetter have returned from Port Huron where they were called by the illness of Mrs. Schuetter's father.

D. Powers, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Powers, has returned from a trip through California.

NOTICE

Resolution Adopted By Schoolcraft County Board Of Supervisors

This Board recommends that Schoolcraft County Road Commission plow driveways and that they enter into an agreement with each person wishing plowing services, for advance payment and any other regulations they deem necessary.

Residents of Schoolcraft County desiring the County Road Commission services are asked to call at the Road Commission Office and make arrangements for same.

Driveways are to be plowed only after the County Road System has been opened, and a down payment of $5.00 will be required, against which the rate of $4.00 per hour will be charged for actual plowing time, the driveway to be always kept clear of cars, etc., at all times it is to be plowed, and the owner to assume all risk as to damaged fence posts and other articles when off County Right of Way. This service is only open to those whose previous snow plowing accounts are paid up in full.

SOCIAL SECURITY BOARD'S REPORT

The report of the Social Security Board, which was presented to Congress on Monday, embodies many of the recommendations that have been made by experts and by critics of the existing social security laws since they were passed.

Probably the most important item in the report is one which is only a suggestion, since the board recognizes the responsibility of the Treasury Department in that connection. That is the manner of financing.

The board suggests that part of the cost of the insurance should be borne by other than pay-roll taxes.

The most successful insurance system that has operated for a large number of years is the British. If, in framing our insurance legislation, we had taken our cue from the British we would have made a much more reasonable system. Instead, ours resembles somewhat in its financial features the German system, first instituted by Bismarck in the '80s; and although that was a good system for its day, it broke down lamentably later.

The German system, which was designed in the earlier days of industry, when unemployment was not a chronic and periodic disease of the social order, was financed on the basis of pay-roll taxes, and was, like ours, primarily a system of enforced thrift.

After the war, however, when there were prolonged periods of very high unemployment, the system broke down.

Since, like ours, it had to be carried by employed workers, their taxes rose to 10 per cent of their wages, and even then the revenues were wholly inadequate to carry the necessary benefits to the unemployed.

The British system of old-age pensions and unemployment insurance benefits has an entirely different social philosophy behind it, and a much more liberal and realistic one.

The British frankly regard old-age pensions and the other social insurances as a means of distributing a part of the national profits annually to those who need them most.

Instead of financing the insurances out of pay-roll taxes and making the whole system into one of compulsory thrift, the British government distributes the burden over the entire economic order, admitting that its object is to prevent purchasing power from ever slumping below a certain level.

The point is that the British system has worked. The constant maintenance of internal purchasing power above a certain level has prevented any such collapse in the domestic market as we have suffered here.

And although for psychological reasons it is well for the worker to make some contribution to the provisions for his unemployment and old age, the financing of the social insurances chiefly by means of payroll taxes should certainly be considered from the viewpoint of its effect on technological unemployment.

These pay-roll taxes penalize the employment of men in competition with the employment of machines, when precisely the opposite is needed.

This would be entirely mitigated by financing the insurances out of income taxes and greatly broadening the base and lowering the point at which income tax is obtained.

Such a means would also enormously simplify the bookkeeping and administration, which is now, in any case, quite unnecessarily complicated.

The system of setting up contributions and benefit rates on the basis of a percentage of wages earned makes a separate wage class of every wage earner and involves for the employer the most complicated administration imaginable and the waste of an enormous amount of costly time.

An attempt should really be made to find out what it costs the country to make out the forms it requires from every company. The paper-work overhead could be reduced to a minimum by using a few categories of flat rates and the stamp system, as they do in England.

The board's recommendations that old-age unemployment insurance be extended to increased categories of workers is obviously sound, as is the recommendation that the widows of workers qualifying for old-age insurance should be entitled to their husbands' benefits.

It also is a reasonable recommendation that unemployment compensation taxes and old-age insurance taxes should be combined to facilitate the bookkeeping of employers, although the whole thing should be radically simplified.

Certainly, as the board recommends, the entire administration should be taken out of politics forever and put under civil service, and certainly, as the board recommends, the administration of unemployment compensation should be united with the United States Employment Service.

In England where they have no P. A., the unemployed seeking

CAST OF CHARACTERS
JANET DWIGHT, heroine. She was engaged to handsome young architect.
LANCE BARSTOW, hero. Lance had great dreams for the future.
CYNTHIA CANTRELL, orphaned granddaughter of great-aunt Mary Cantrell. Still another dreamer was.

Yesterday, Janet is shocked to learn that her stock must pass up its dividend. How will she ever tell Lance! When she does, he counters by saying that there is something he hasn't told her yet, too.

CHAPTER XI
 "I didn't tell you before," Lance went on, "because I didn't see any reason for burdening you with business details. Of course you can't be expected to understand such matters. But I—well, you see, I bought the three lots on the hillside beyond ours as an investment. Sometime I'm going to sell them with Barstow-designed houses on them. I put all my savings into them, and I'm still paying. If it hadn't been for that, of course, this salary cut wouldn't matter so much."

So that was it! Even though Janet "couldn't be expected to understand such matters," she had vaguely wondered why, after several years as Hallowell and Benton's most highly paid designer of private homes, Lance's salary cut had left him so completely without funds for financing their own home. . . . But just how had he expected to pay for all this in the beginning?

She almost asked him, but caught herself up in time to say very quietly, "Then, Lance, if my suggestion seems too impractical perhaps you will tell me what you think we ought to do."

Lance rumbled his blond hair in his boyish way she loved, and leaned his elbows on the table, his face slowly flushing.

"Well, I—this has all caught me so suddenly. . . . I'll have to have time to see what I can arrange. . . . It's damnable, Janet, that it had to happen now—after the invitations are all out and—everything."

Janet said steadily, hardly believing that it was her own voice speaking the words, "I suppose the invitations could be recalled—and everything."

He was silent so long, his eyes still bent on the fork, now motionless in his hand, that she thought she had hurt him beyond speech. Then he said incredibly, still without lifting his eyes, "You mean you'd—be willing to post-

NAMED ON COMMITTEES
 Marquette—In a short meeting yesterday the county board of supervisors named G. R. Jackson and Dr. W. S. Picoite to succeed themselves as members, respectively, of the county poor commission and the Morgan Heights sanatorium board of trustees.

John Stenglein, of Marquette, was named chairman pro-tem and served in the absence of Dr. Paul Van Ripper, Champion, who was unable to attend.

Frank Denny, deputy county treasurer, was authorized to attend a convention of county treasurers in Lansing next month.

unemployment benefits must register and report for work regularly at the public employment office. If a job at normal wages is available within his own occupation the worker must accept it or lose the benefit.

If Congress is going to reconsider the social security act, it should certainly reconsider the reserve-fund provisions.

Apparently the idea of a huge reserve fund is copied from private insurance companies, and is another example of confused thinking.

An attempt has been made to put our governmental insurance on an actuarial basis, but that cannot be done for a system whose goal is not financial but social. A huge reserve is basically unnecessary in a government plan; the presence of a huge capital sum will only constitute a temptation to Congress and the people to spend it; and what the effect of its investment might be is very dubious.

Mr. Abraham Epstein, who is certainly one of the two or three leading authorities in this country on social insurances, recommended long ago that the central administration of the social-security act should have at least advisory assistance from the representatives of workers or employers. Under the present system this is especially necessary, since they carry the financial burden.

Certainly also something should be done to bring about a greater uniformity in the benefit systems as between the states. If we do not do so we shall eventually upset the population distribution, because people will gravitate to those parts of the country where the benefits are higher. The Federal government can bring about adjustments by the way it handles grants-in-aid. It ought to give no grants at all unless the states are willing to conform to a somewhat reasonable standard, and it certainly ought to assist the poorer states. After all, something like 50 per cent of the industrial production of this country comes from twenty-six counties of the nation. We need a better geographic distribution of wealth, and this would be a reasonable way for the government to assist that process.

pone the wedding for awhile?"

There was such inescapable relief in his tone that Janet had to clench her hands in her lap to steady her own voice before she answered. "Of course, Lance—if that's what you want."

"What I want? Janet, you know that isn't fair. If I let myself do what I want, we'd be married at once—tonight. What I'm asking myself is whether I have a right to let you in for marriage with things as they are. It's—surely you see what a risk we'd be taking. And the responsibility would be all mine."

"Oh, yes," Janet said gently. "I'm beginning to see."

"But, darling, you don't see. I can tell that from your face. . . . Really, Janet, don't you think you're being rather unreasonable about this?"

"I have told you that I will have Aunt Mary recall the invitations," Janet said. She even managed to smile. "What else do you want me to do—throw up my hat about it?"

"Oh, let's get out of here," Lance cried, getting abruptly to his feet.

As they went out into the crisp September air, Janet could not but feel that it had all actually happened. She wished Lance wouldn't go home with her. . . . But that was being unreasonable. After all, they hadn't actually quarreled. They had only postponed their wedding as, no doubt, two sensible people ought to do under the circumstances. . . .

But argue with herself as she might, her sense of hurt and humiliation persisted.

On the way home they talked about everything but their own affairs—about the European situation, about Sylvia Grant's luncheon, and finally about Cynthia and Timothy Benton.

"A well-time for him to be rushing off on a honeymoon—with things the way they are at the office," Lance said. "At his age, too."

Janet asked, "How old is he really, Lance, and what is he like? I've never met him, you know."

"Well, he's a big bruiser, dark and well set up—so ugly he's almost handsome. About 43, I should say; but he seems to have crowded enough into 43 years to last some men 100—mining in Peru, drilling oil wells in Mexico, construction work in South Africa, and the war. Works like the devil. Swell company, except occasionally when he drinks too much—that is, he always seems sure of himself with men, and gets on with them. But I've seen him at a dinner party with nice women—you've heard what his first two wives were like—when I've been almost sorry for him. He seemed scared to death of them, and trying to cover up by wisecracking. . . . Not at all the type I'd expect to appeal to Cynthia. What did— he broke off and lighted a cigaret with elaborate care—"Just what did she say about him?"

"She said—"Janet smiled a little wanly—"that he had his points."

At the door of the apartment, Janet said swiftly, "Don't come in, Lance—not tonight, please. I want to talk to Aunt Mary alone."

She knew he would be relieved at not having to face Aunt Mary just now; and he obviously was.

He took Janet swiftly into his arms, and said into her hair, "Tell her it's only for a short time, Jan. Maybe only a few months, if I'm lucky."

"I'll tell her," Janet said, and went slowly into the apartment.

Telling Aunt Mary was not so hard as she had imagined. The old lady had already learned from the evening papers the news about the dividend cut in the A and B stocks. When Janet told her that she and Lance had decided to postpone the wedding, she seemed in no way disturbed, and to Janet's bewilderment, not even surprised.

"Well," she said practically. "It's lucky I hadn't ordered the food. The flowers and everything else can be canceled with a word. And I haven't any doubt that young McKnight will be rushing around here as soon as he hears with a few well-chosen words to explain everything to the world."

But under her master-of-fact briskness Janet felt pity, and for the first time in that ghastly day, her eyes filled with tears, so that she had to turn away to steady herself.

"Cynthia came in this morning after you left," the old lady went on. "Such a pother you never saw. She wanted some of her clothes to take with her—and of course she couldn't find anything. She only took a few. It seems that Mr. Benton is buying her a complete new outfit in New York."

"How did she—seem, Aunt Mary?"

"I couldn't make her out. She made neither an entrance nor an exit—not even a single effective speech. . . . Oh, did I tell you he came with her?"

"Timothy Benton?"

"In person. . . . And what's more," Aunt Mary folded her hands and looked up at her niece defiantly. "I like him—and in spite of having heard very little good of him. He strikes me as one of those persons whose faults are so spectacular and make such good gossip that you hear very little about their virtues. . . . By the way, Janet, I have a piece of news, myself."

Janet thought, if I have to listen to another bit of news of the kind I've been hearing all day, I shall burst into peals of maniacal laughter.

Lansing—By beating the legislature "to the draw" through Nov. 8 adoption of the anti-diversion amendment, Commissioner Murray D. ("Pat") Van Wagener of the state highway department has put the "good roads" cause in rather an invulnerable position for 1939.

In fact, there is considerable speculation as to what, if anything, legislators can do to clip Van Wagener's wings.

Voters back home possess a peculiar yearning for more highways. The chamber of commerce is always agitating a road improvement or another that would take motorists from somewhere to elsewhere. Good road sentiment knows no party lines; it thrives amid all income groups.

When Governor Fitzgerald proposed that the highway department provide free ferry service at the Straits of Mackinac, building its own office building at Lansing, and cease dipping into general funds, he threatened what former Governor Murphy tried to do in spirit. Murphy wanted to divert highway funds for welfare relief; instead the legislature authorized a "blank check" for $10,000,000.

Free Ferries
The free ferry idea, like free school books, sounds fine.

Obviously, such a service would be popular, for motorists are just as human as anyone else. The present law provides that the ferry toll charge shall meet the cost of operating the ferry service which approximates a half million dollars each year.

Where the difficulty arises is over the financing of a bridge across the Straits. In all estimates made so far, engineers have assumed that the tremendous investment would be liquidated in part, if not eventually, through payment of toll fees. Once the state authorized free ferry service, bridge sentiment would rapidly subside.

The office building recommendation has merit, as has the suggestion that no further appropriations be made from the state general fund.

These latter proposals, like the first, will have to run the inevitable gauntlet of good road boosters who want every highway dollar available for matching by the federal government. Washington will send to Michigan in 1939 a total of $4,114,084 for highway improvements. Of this amount $3,012,993 will match state funds on a 50-50 basis; $451,849 will match funds that are raised 50-50 by counties and the state, and $649,147 will be an outright grant to build grade separations in metropolitan districts.

On Feb. 3, Governor Fitzgerald will face the same hurdle that Murphy had one year ago. On that day the Michigan Good Roads federation holds a big rally at Grand Rapids, to which the governor has been invited to speak.

Gambling, Civil Service
The honeymoon period for the new state administration has been unexpectedly upset by a press tempest over gambling in Macomb county.

Taking the position that county officials, the sheriff and prosecuting attorney, are responsible Hold Everything!

"I wish you'd go down and tend the furnace. I haven't had a wink of sleep for my teeth chattering over there on the dresser."

for local law enforcement, Governor Fitzgerald let it be known, early this month, that gambling was a home rule responsibility. He didn't intend to order the state police hither and yon to clean up local conditions, unless or until the probate judge officially ousts the local officials and thereby invites the state to intervene.

Actually, this position is no innovation with Fitzgerald, and everyone concedes that there is plenty of god common sense to his views.

But it has been most annoying, to put it mildly, a compensating factor, however, is the announced determination of the new liquor control chairman, Orrin A. DeMass of Detroit, that the present prohibition would be continued against slot machines in licensed establishments. He did intimate, however, that private clubs might be permitted to operate them if they could prove that all revenues were used for operating expenses or for benevolent purposes.

It raises a neat question: What is a "private club"? The Club Ackmur, gambling house in Detroit, poses as a private club with an initiation fee of $5 and monthly dues of $1.

Civil Service Storm

Governor Fitzgerald's utterances in recent days have indicated a growing apprehension that patronage-minded legislators might go too far in revision of the civil service law.

After Personnel Director William Brownrigg had been pounded verbally by investigating legislators, Fitzgerald telephoned George Burke of Ann Arbor, Democrat and chairman of the civil service commission, to come to Lansing and back up Brownrigg in presenting a true story of

Clerk Provides 4-Leaf Clover With License

St. Ignace—Although a deep blanket of snow covers northern Michigan, it does not keep Robert Daly, 61-year-old Mackinac county clerk, from continuing his hobby of picking four-leaf clovers and attaching one to each marriage license he issues.

For the last month he has had in his office 11 plants growing in a window box that have produced 11-leaves—enough to supply current lovers' demands.

Daly said the hobby started from his desire to pick four-leaf clovers whenever he ran across them. Friends could always find a glass of water full of them on "Bob's" desk. Ever since he was placed in office six years ago he has picked two or three nearly every day in going to and from work.

It was in 1935 that Daly got the idea of pinning a clover to each marriage license. Since that time more than 400 couples have left the Mackinac county courthouse to start wedded life with a four-leaf clover as a token of good luck.

From marriage licenses the idea has spread to birthday anniversary, Christmas, convalescent cards and to parents of newborn arrivals.

"Bob" is showered with letters from all parts of the United States asking how he started this novel hobby and how he obtains four-leaf clovers the year around.

In the summer months it is possible to find enough clovers to meet the demand. Before winter arrives 10 or 12 plants previously growing 4-leaves are dug from the courthouse grounds and placed in the window box in the clerk's office. These grow enough during cold weather to supply the demand.

Daly has plucked as many as 90 4-leaf clovers at one time. Once he found a plant that had 48. A bushel basket contained nearly 200 and within 17 feet of Daly's office a single plant produced more than 100 in 1938.

A letter was received from New York recently telling of a man owning a four-leaf clover farm whose entire output was taken up by an advertising agency.

Born at Ludington in 1878, Daly has worked in many cities in Michigan, including Bay City, Seney, Grand Rapids and Grand Marais, 1904, he held many jobs until 1933 when he was named county clerk. Since that time he has been reelected twice.

DEATH TAKES C. J. HAGLUND

Aged Commercial Fisherman Had Lived Here for 20 Years

Carl J. Haglund, 86, died at the Otto Dahlbeck home, 912 Montana avenue, yesterday morning following a brief illness. Death was due to complications attendant upon his advanced age.

Mr. Haglund was born in Finland on October 18, 1852. He formerly lived at Ishpeming and during the summers plied his trade as a commercial fisherman out of the Gladstone harbor.

About 20 years ago he moved to Gladstone and has made his home here continuously since that time. His wife, Louisa, died in 1927 and for the past nine years Mr. Haglund had been rooming at the Otto Dahlbeck home.

The body was taken to the Swenson Brothers funeral home to be prepared for burial and funeral services will be held on Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the First Lutheran church. Rev. J. Otto Magnusson will officiate and burial will be made in the Ishpeming cemetery.

Gunners Averages Compiled, Listed

Small-bore averages of Gladstone Rifle and Pistol club gunners for the season up to Jan. 17 were announced this week.

For the balance of the season each gunner will fire each week 20 shots from each position. A number of women have evinced a desire to participate in the sport and if a sufficient number join the club Monday night will be set aside for their use.

'STIQUE WINS 3-WAY SHOOT

Trooper Modders Misses Perfect Score By One Point

Members of the Manistique detachment of the Michigan State Police were victorious over Escanaba and Gladstone in a three-way pistol shoot held here Wednesday night.

The troopers garnered a total of 1168 out of a possible 1200 to top Gladstone's 1144. Escanaba police were third with 1139.

The victors were paced by Nick Modders who missed a perfect score by one point. Modders had perfect targets in the slow and rapid fire stages and garnered a 99 x 100 in the time fire for a total of 299 x 300. He was followed by Earl Louis, city, who got 296.

MAKE PROGRESS ON BARN DANCE

Lively Entertainment At High School Gym Next Friday

Rapid strides have been made within the last few days in preparation by the members of the freshman class for the presentation of "The G. H. S. Barn Dance"—a lively, rip-snorting old-time Barn Dance program at the high school gym on Friday evening, Jan. 27.

Modelled after the Saturday Night Barn Dances heard over the radio, this production will furnish a new type of novelty entertainment for Gladstone—nothing has been omitted from the usual program of the National Barn Dance, there will be the Hotshots, Barnyard Band, Square Dances, Arkie, the singing caller, Lutubelle and her buddies, guitar, banjo, mouth organ, fiddle solos, duets, trios and orchestra for the square dances—novelty "Yokel" Quartette dialogue, tap dances, toe dances, and jigs. In all, about 50 freshmen will take part in the production.

The committee in charge of the sale of tickets reports encouraging progress, and it is quite apparent that this Barn Dance presentation is fast becoming a matter of public interest. Tickets may be had of any member of the freshman class.

Proceeds of the Barn Dance are under the direction of C. E. Fisher, assisted by Mrs. C. E. Fisher, who has charge of the music; Miss Helen Hedon who has developed and trained the square dancers; and Harvey Larson, who is training the Singing Caller for the square dances.

St. Joe Plays Rock; Escanaba Goes To Ishpeming

LITTLE GIANTS RECORD GOOD

Parochials Encouraged By Showing Against Stephenson

A basketball series of long standing which has produced more thrilling finishes than any other on St. Joseph's schedule will be resumed at the junior high school gym this evening when the Parochials entertain the Little Giants of Rock. The two teams will meet in a preliminary at 7:15 o'clock with the feature game starting immediately after.

Last year's game was a good example of most of the meetings between the two schools on the local court. Russ Faber, lanky center, played the best game of his career and single handedly kept the Parochials in the running with 24 points. His individual efforts, however, were overcome by the Rock team when the Little Giants won the ball game in a sudden death overtime. Other games within the past several years have had just such finishes and tonight's game looks like a repetition.

St. Joe Pepped Up

The Parochials are all pepped up this week as the result of their vastly improved showing Tuesday night against the strong Stephenson high school cagers. For the first time this year, the St. Joe boys really began to find the hoop, scoring 20 points against a tall defense. Stuck Perron, stocky sophomore guard, led the van and upon him will depend much of the Parochials success tonight.

The two schools have met two mutual opponents this year, Gladstone and Rapid River. While both defeated Rapid River, St. Joseph lost to Gladstone while Rock beat the Uppys. In the latter case, however, scores were very close.

Coach Leo Brunelle said yesterday he will undoubtedly start Ashland at center, Fred Hira and Trotter forwards, Perron and Gray guards. Ashland and Trotter are seniors, Gray a junior and Hira and Perron sophomores.

Rock's lineup probably will find Suteis at center, Carlson and Pelton forwards and the Pilon brothers guards.

Ruwitich and Schram of this city will officiate the game.

Gophers Too Much For Michigan, 6-0

Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan. 19 (AP)—Minnesota displayed too much power for Michigan tonight and the Gophers, paced by John Mariucci, trounced the Wolverines, 6 to 0, in the first of four games for the Big Ten hockey championship.

Mariucci, his face bandaged to protect a cheek gash which required 18 stitches several weeks ago, scored two goals and had an assist on another.

Only the spectacular saves of Goalie Eldon (Spike) James kept the score down as Minnesota put on numerous power plays.

The Gophers took the lead late in the first period on a fuke goal by Mariucci which he poked into the net after the puck had carried off James' shoulder.

In the second period, the big football end, Hayden Pickering dominated the play. Pickering scored twice, once without any help, and the second on an assist from Mariucci. Mariucci also got his second goal midway in the period.

Robert McKenzie, on an assist from Orville Thompson, and Harold Paulsen. Each scored in the final period.

Nine penalties were called by the officials.

Mather High Boys At Gwinn Tonight

Munising, Jan. 19—Coach Robert Villeneuve's Mather high school cagers will invade Gwinn on Friday evening in an attempt to wrest a victory from the model town cagers on their home court.

The Munising crew who downed the Miller aggregation here decisively, last Friday lost to Negunee in a hard fought game and are expected to be back in good form for tomorrow evening's encounter.

Eagles Play Camp Wells Tonight At Stephenson Gym

The Escanaba Eagles, present leaders of the Delta-Menominee league, will play CCC Camp Wells at Stephenson tonight at 8:15 o'clock. Arrangements for the game were completed last evening.

Members of the Eagles team will meet at the Esqes gym at 6 o'clock this evening before leaving for Stephenson.

Scores Evened Up By Wesley Ramey Against Boscarino

Grand Rapids, Mich., Jan. 19 (AP)—Wesley Ramey, Grand Rapids lightweight, evened accounts with Joe Boscarino tonight when the local boy won a decision over the Rochester, N. Y., fighter in a 10-round bout.

Ramey weighed 136 pounds and Boscarino 139.

Double Header Nahma Club Tonight

Nahma basketball fans will be treated to a double bill of basketball tonight when the Bleaser's of Escanaba play the Morgan Creek team in a game that was challenged after a game Tuesday night. The Bleaser's will have their scoring power again when Beaudin and Puckelwartz will be back in the line up. The rest of the lineup will include the following: Capt. Eddie Gunkel, Harry Hogan, George Mulcomson, Russ Faber, Harry Henkin and Manager Don Peitler.

Coach Sabourin of the Morgan Creek C. C. Camp has a lineup composed of players from surrounding towns with such stars as: Pederson from Powers, Pachoka a former basketball star from the lower peninsula, Lamberg a tall lanky center and a product from Norway, Cisowski a husky guard from the Iron Range and the last Michuan a clever forward from Hermansville. With these two lineups on the floor basketball fans of the community are promised an interesting game.

For the curtain raiser of the evening the N. T. Sailors of Escanaba, a smooth clicking five, will take the floor against Frasher's Nahama team at seven o'clock sharp. The Sailors will go to Nahma with the following men: Captain Bob Hamm, Kay Fredrickson, Manager J. Soma, T. Smokovitch, B. Hansen, M. Erickson and L. Johnson. Frasher will have his usual lineup as follows: Ward and Maynard forwards, lanky Hebert at center and Donville and Mikentiac at guards, with several others in readiness. Shirley Warner will officiate the games.

INJURED GOPHER IS GIVEN HELP

Snow Train Is Run for Benefit of Buhler, Packer Drafee

Green Bay, Wis.—Sport fans up Minnesota's way paid Larry Buhler, the injured Minnesota full-back and Packer drafee, a fine compliment when they put on a booster snow train to St. Croix Falls to raise funds to help the stellar backfielder meet his hospital bill.

Buhler was hurt in an automobile crash shortly after the curtain dropped on the 1938 season and ever since he is recovering slowly and should be ready for action long before the Packers start practicing about Aug. 15.

Cedric Adams, sports columnist for the Minneapolis Star, launched the snow train idea and it is understood that the coffers of the Buhler clan were enriched some $400 by the excursion.

BOOKIE SIGNED

Green Bay, Wis.—C. M. (Slats) Wynick, tackle on the U. C. L. A. eleven is the first Packer to sign his contract for 1939. Coach E. L. Lambeau closed with the husky forward while in Los Angeles and the signed agreement is already in the hands of President Joe F. Carr of the National Football league at Columbus, Ohio.

The new Packer is 23 years old, stands six-foot three and tips the beam at 225 pounds. He is married and has one child. Football experts on the Pacific coast loudly claimed Wynick to Lambeau claiming he was one of the best tackles they had seen in action all season. As luck would have it he was not picked by any National league club in the draft.

Wynick, a product of Oklahoma City, is big and raw-boned. What's more the new Packer has had considerable experience playing end.

SMITH MAY RETURN

Green Bay, Wis.—Coach E. L. Lambeau has flashed the news back home that Ernie Smith, one of the greatest tackles that ever dug a cleat for the Packers who very likely be back in a Green Bay uniform this coming season.

Business reasons kept Smith out on the coast this past fall but he kept his "foot" in football by playing with several teams on the coast and in the New York-Pro All Star game last Sunday in Los Angeles. Ernie was one of the outstanding gridgers on the field.

Smith booted one three-pointer just before half time which tied the count and missed another late in the game by inches from a difficult angle.

Unexpected Occurs; Garden Beats Rock

Garden, Mich., Jan. 19—Coming through with a burst of speed in the final period, Garden's village team did the unexpected tonight and defeated the Rock city team 26 and 24. A large crowd saw the close game, which stood 8-all at the end of the first period, with Rock leading 16-14 at the half and 20-18 at the end of the third.

Ribeau and Sayen were top scorers for Rock, and Garden relied on Hennessey, Ranguette and Prokop.

HAWKS PRACTICE

The Escanaba Hawks will practice at the fairgrounds hockey rink tonight at 6 o'clock.

CRISLER SPEAKS HERE TUESDAY

"Doctor of Football" Is Title Conferred On Michigan Coach

Herbert Orin (Frits) Crisler, University of Michigan head football coach who brought the Wolverines back into the national gridiron spotlight this last season and who will appear here Tuesday night at the annual football recognition banquet, might well be called the "Doctor of Football."

The story of Crisler's rise to the heights he has attained at Michigan, Princeton and Michigan seems to weave itself as he was called on to take over the football life of a school.

The fine appearing exceptional speaker from the state university was graduated from the University of Chicago in 1922 and was a three sport letter winner during his collegiate days. After graduation he assumed an assistant's position under the fine old man of football, Amos Olmstead, now at the College of the Pacific.

Crisler stayed with Staggs from 1925 to 1930 and his playing days and years of work as Staggs' assistant taught him the things about football that have made him one of the outstanding coaches in and out of the Big Ten conference. Still staying in the Big Ten, Crisler left Chicago to go to Minnesota in 1930-31 as football mentor and athletic director.

Princeton's gridiron fortunes were about at the bottom of a downward slide which had been struck in the late 20's by the Tiger team and the fathers of the eastern school, after looking around for the master mason to rebuild the eleven, called on Crisler to leave the Big Ten for the first time to take over the reins at Princeton. Crisler answered the call and the Tiger team again became a threat to every opponent and a factor in the race for the national grid title which is bestowed on the eleven each year which appears, in the eyes of the public and sports authorities, to be the top team.

Crisler's success at Princeton attracted the Michigan higher-ups who apparently were of the opinion that Kipke was at the end of his string at the Wolverine school. Much talk preceded Kipke's dismissal at Michigan but the decision came suddenly. On February 10, 1938, the Michigan board announced that Crisler would take over the head coach post and would succeed Athletic Director Fielding (Hurry) Upt Yost in the near future.

Apparently No Worries

The new Michigan coach apparently was successful in establishing relations with the school along lines that left him no worries concerning his task as gridiron mentor. He turned to the task at hand and applied himself with astonishing results.

When Stuhldreher took over the task at Wisconsin the fans gave him several years to fix his system and gradually work up with a fine team. The same held true with Crisler and few expected the powerful team that Michigan put on the field in 1938.

Crisler's first year. Michigan's rush to the top of the heap was a fine tribute to the way the players had received their new coach. The reason for Crisler's acceptance by the boys can readily be understood when Crisler is met in person or heard speaking from the stage.

BARAGANS HOST TO GLADSTONE

Carroll Rushton's Five Has Imposing Record On Hardwoods

Gladstone, Mich.—Gladstone high school cagers travel to Marquette tonight to tackle the strong Baraga Parochial quintet.

Coached by Carroll Rushton, former Gravelert mentor, Baraga has a veteran aggregation and one that is reputed to be about as strong as any in the Upper Peninsula.

Baraga outclassed St. Paul's of Negunee, a team which took the measure of Rock, conquerors of Gladstone.

Berg, second stringer who last week scored 23 points against the St. Joseph seconds, has been promoted to the first string and will make the trip to Marquette tonight.

In the starting lineup for the Kellmen will be Knutson and Dahl, forwards; Kee and Petrovich, guards, and Captain Zervic, center.

Besides the above and Berg, others making the trip will be Price, Marble, Minnick and McCaulley.

SKATE MEET POSTPONED

Grover Cleveland Alexander In Town--With A Flea Circus

BY DREW MIDDLETON
New York, Jan. 19 (AP)—Shaky but clear-eyed Grover Cleveland Alexander, the greatest pitcher of his day, came back to the big town today. Back to a tawdry flea circus on 42nd street, where 12 times a day he will talk in his low, friendly voice to the idlers and down-at-the-heel clients. He comes on just before the dancers, just after the sword swallower.

In the stifling cubby-hole he uses to rest in, Alexander smoked cigarette after cigarette and admitted shyly it was "darn good to get back to New York, haven't been here, or anywhere in the east since 1930, when the Phillies let me go. Had a semi-pro ball team out in Illinois the last two summers, but it was tough going, mighty tough."

A year ago yesterday the baseball writers voted Alex into the Hall of Fame at Cooperstown.

TALL ARGENTINE IS EASY VICTIM

Louis' Record Bettered for Quick Victory At Newark Armory

BY SID FEDER
Newark, N. J., Jan. 19 (AP)—Two-Ton Tony Galento beat Joe Louis' record for the Jorge Brescia distance tonight, flattening the tall Argentine in one round before a crowd of 9,987 fans in the big Newark armory.

Galento scored 235 to Brescia's 216 pounds.

Tangling with the South American who lasted three rounds with Louis some time back, the pudgy pounder dashed in with the bell, dropped Brescia once for a one-count with a left hook to the body and then put him away for keeps with half a dozen more of these same southpaw shots to the tummy.

Groaning and grimacing in pain, as he clutched his stomach, Brescia was on his knees as he was counted out by Referee Whitley Healey.

Two-Ton Tony meantime, confident his night's work was over, leaned against the ropes and waved to cheering pals.

By cutting two rounds off Louis' time for the kayo, the barrel-shaped Jersey gent who sports the National Boxing Association's No. 1 heavyweight challenger tag, furthered his campaign for a shot at the champion. The saloon-keeping clouter may get his chance in an outdoor match in June.

Starts Fireworks

Tony wasted no time getting the fireworks under way tonight. He had promised the boys and girls hereabouts, who think there's no one like the Newark nightstick, that he'd make it quick—and he did. He rushed Brescia into a neutral corner with his first charge, landed the first left hook to the mid-section, and had Mr. Brescia wrapped up and ready for the cleaners at 1:41 of the round.

The angular Argentine never had a chance. After being dropped for the first time by the short jolts to the middle, he tried to fire a series of left jabs back at the on-rushing Galento. But Tony merely brushed them aside, rumbled right on forward and exploded a few more off his port side.

One of these apparently did considerable damage, for the South American, who's a far cry as a punch mixer from the other Pamper product, Luis Firpo, suddenly clutched his right side and bent nearly double, not far from a neutral corner. He appeared helpless, and even if he wasn't, Tony took care of the matter in just a moment by sending two more to the same spot before Brescia could slump to the floor.

There he rested on both knees while Referee Healey did the rest. The crowd, which nearly filled the big drill shed and contributed a gate of $18,850, cheered for fully five minutes as the colorful Galento pranced around the ring waving his hands.

Brescia, meantime, was assisted to his corner by his handlers and required several minutes of treatment before he was able to leave the ring under his own power.

And even when he left, he still was hurt considerably from those left hand bombs with which, so the legend goes around here, Tony taps the kogs in his Orange beer stub.

Jacobs Denies Farr Will Fight Galento

New York, Jan. 19 (AP)—Promoter Mike Jacobs denied today that Tony Galento, Newark heavyweight, and Tommy Farr had been signed for a fight.

It was reported last night that Jacobs had signed the fight for Madison Square Garden March 10. Had Farr won the decision over Red Burman of Baltimore in their fight last Friday night, he would have earned the shot at Galento, but because the Burman defeat was his fifth straight in this country, Galento's backers feel there would be no purpose in having two-ton Tony tangle with the Welshman now.

"Yeh, I'm right proud of that honor," said old Pete. The tone of his voice implied, you can't buy coffee and cakes with election votes. He is out of the old time in baseball, this man. The time when he played with a cornob wrapped in twine and baseball wasn't a sport but a gripping fever that caught you young and never let go. He can't understand the young fellows.

"They all have sore arms. Hell, I never had a sore arm in my life; I don't have many theories, but one of 'em is this. Their arms aren't developed because they come up to the leagues with men's bodies and kids' arms. Then they don't work enough or pitch enough in practice. When they do pitch they throw too darn much."

"Take this young Feller. He pitches a game and he strikes out ten or eleven. But he walks ten or eleven too. That's 44 balls he's thrown on the walks alone, not countin' the strikes. Then he don't work again for another three days. Of course he gets a sore arm."

Alex talked on in the homely, back-on-the-farm lingo of ball players. He hasn't much faith in operations on pitching arms such as that undergone by Carl Hubbell.

"Never in my life heard of a pitcher's arm recovering because of an accident. Guess Carl's trouble is the same as mine. His arm just plumb wore out. Today I can't set a ball up to plate."

Although he pitched in the National league from 1911 through 1930, won 373 games, a National league record, and three times won 30 or more games a season Alexander's fame with the crowd rests on one world series game.

In the seventh game of the 1925 series between the Yankees and St. Louis Cardinals with the Cards holding a one-run lead, the New Yorkers filled the bases with two out. Alexander had pitched and won the sixth game the day before, had, in fact, celebrated vigorously until almost dawn. But Rogers Hornsby, desperate for a relief pitcher, thumbed Old Pete in from the bull pen.

He shuffled in, his cap asked on what must have been a pounding head, threw a few and struck out Tony Lazerri. Two innings later Babe Ruth was thrown out sliding into second and the world series was over.

"Yup," said Alex, "they ask me about that one 'bout 50 times a day. What did I get him on?" He made a sycthe-like motion with one hand. "The hook, old No. 2. And I didn't feel good that day. I was sure was glad to see that Eye-talian go down. Guess that was the biggest day of all, bigger 'n the day I broke in and beat Maty."

He walked out to get some air. A kid in short pants grabbed him for an autograph. And exploded. "Isn't Joe DIMaggio better 'n Ty Cobb?" "Well, son," started Alex. At the other end of the garish room the barker was shouting. "And now ladies and gentlemen, we give you the pride of Paris, Mademoiselle Mimmi!"

Oilers Oust Rock Five From Tie In Basketball Loop

Rock, Mich., Jan. 19 (AP)—A last period rush enabled the H. and J. Oilers of Escanaba to oust Frank's of Rock from a tie in the Delta-Menominee county league in a ding-dong cage fraca here on Wednesday night. The final score was 43-36 in favor of the Escanabans.

The game was one of the most interesting and best played here in a long time. The visitors got off to a slow start, being behind 13-7 at quarter time. They closed the gap, however, in the second frame but the locals still maintained a 19-17 lead at half-time. The third and last quarters were see-saw affairs with the lead changing hands several times. Escanaba led by one point at the three-quarters mark and then closed with a 12 point rush in the final period to six points for the locals.

Four members of the visiting team scored eight or more times but individual scoring honors was taken by F. Trombly of Rock, who dropped in 15 points to add to his total in the league leadership.

Summary:

ESKYMOS SEEK REPEAT VICTORY

Play Under Handicap In Hematite's Gym, However

The age of miracles, they say, hasn't passed yet and it would be quite believable if the Eskymo cagers should return home tonight with a victory hanging from their belt.

Not that any victory for the Eskymos would be a miracle but, rather, that two victories in one season, over Ishpeming would be and tonight the Eskymos meet the Hematites for the second time this season.

The two teams met in this city before the Christmas holidays and the Eskymos were victorious, 17-11, the victory being their first in seven years over the Hematites. History doesn't show when any team has been able to defeat Ishpeming twice in the same year and if the Eskymos do it this year the team will go down in history whether it wins another game or not.

Have Good Defense

Coach Carl Nordberg's cagers are confident that they can turn the trick on the Hematites again. This year they are playing much the same type of a game as Ishpeming always has and they beat Ishpeming at their own game, a slow, cool, calculating type of basketball, in their first meeting. Defense is the keynote of four Eskymo victories this year. No team has scored more than 22 points in any game, which in these days of high scoring, is a good record.

A merry fight is being waged at two positions on the Eskymo five. Bob Anderson, lanky junior, is battling out for the center position with Ray Bennett, veteran senior. Although Bennett has a bit more polish, Anderson has shown more ability than any other of the Eskymos in recovering offensive rebounds, a department in which the locals have been weak this season. At one of the forward posts, two juniors, Bobby Barron and Sammy Schram, are dividing the duties. Barron is the speedier of the two but Schram is a little better shot and has shown an ability to use a bounce pass effectively in close quarters.

The remaining three positions on the team appear to be well settled with co-captains Iver Olson and Wes "Slug" Hansen at guards and Elmer Swanson, who scored 10 points in the last game, at the left forward slot.

Members of the team, who will leave this afternoon at 4 o'clock with Coach Nordberg, will be Hansen, Olson, Bennett, Schram, Meunier, Barron, Anderson, Swanson and Pepin.

EMERALDS FACE BUSY WEEK END

Play Soo Tonight; Go to Menominee Saturday Evening

Manistique — The Manistique high school basketball team is facing a busy program this weekend, opposing the Soo-Blue Devils at Manistique tonight and traveling to Menominee Saturday evening.

The Soo cagers have produced a lot of power this season, and will be favorites to take the measure of the Emeralds, who have run into an unusual streak of hard luck in their past few games.

Although the Manistique team has failed to register a victory this season, their defeats have been by the narrowest of margins. Their worst defeat was by a four-point margin, and the last two games ended with the Emeralds on the short end of scores of 21-20.

The Manistique starting lineup is not definite, but will probably be Cournaya and Noe, forwards; Olson, center; McMillan and Lambert, guards. If Coach Reque decides to start Gunnar Hellsten, Noe will shift to guard and Hellsten will play the forward position.

The preliminary game will be between the Manistique Reserves and the high school seniors.

Lars Cameron will handle the whistle in the main game.

WINTER SPORTS PARLEY CALLED

Governors of 3 States Are Invited to Ishpeming

The Ishpeming (Mich.) Winter Sports club has called a tri-state conference Feb. 21 at Ishpeming to consider ways by which the resort country can undertake winter recreation programs.

It is the first meeting of the kind designed to include delegates from the northern areas of the three lake states, Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota. Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald of Michigan will be one of the speakers and invitations have been sent to Gov. Julius P. Hill of Wisconsin and Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota.

The idea of the conference, says W. H. Treloar, president of the Ishpeming club, is to name committees to study the problem of the summer resort which is unused from six to nine months of each year. Invitations have gone out to various regional booster groups in the three states.

Revenge Is Sought By Harris Tonight

Harris and Eben will tangle at the Bark River gym tonight, with the former seeking revenge for their previous 19 to 15 defeat at the hands of Eben.

Balcony bleachers have been built in the Bark River hall to accommodate increasing crowds of fans.

Former Resident Of Rock Passes Away In Chicago

Rock, Mich., Jan. 19.—Funeral services were held in Michigan Wednesday for Fred Civigny, former resident of Rock who was found dead in his railroad watchman's tower in Chicago early this week.

The deceased was a towerman for the Chicago and Northwestern railroad at Little Lake for many years before moving to Rock, where he operated an ice cream parlor. Later he moved to Manistique where he operated a bakery and in late years was employed as towerman at Chicago.

Mr. Civigny, who was about 57 years of age, was married three times, his second wife being the late Mrs. Little Bridges of this community. In addition to his third wife, survivors include Mrs. William Cook and Mrs. Leo Bailey of Rock and Nick Akerley of McFarland.

Obituary

FRED V. NELSON

The body of Fred Victor Nelson, 77, who died late Wednesday night at his home, 226 North 15th street, following a brief illness, is resting in state in the chapel of the Anderson Funeral Home. Services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the funeral home, and at 2:15 o'clock at Bethany Lutheran church, Rev. C. Albert Lund officiating, with burial, following, in Lakeview cemetery.

Mr. Nelson was born in Karlskoga, Varmland, Sweden, June 23, 1861, and came to the United States in 1881. He lived in Chicago for two years and then moved to Escanaba. He worked here on the ore docks for the Chicago & North Western Railway, and later on the coal docks, and in more recent years had been a carpenter with the bridge and building force of the Chicago & North Western.

He was an active member of Bethany Lutheran congregation.

Surviving are his wife, two daughters, Mrs. A. V. Aronson and Miss Thekla Nelson of Escanaba; one son, Carl, of Houghton; one brother, who lives in Sweden, and four grandchildren.

Michigan In Washington

In these days of annual reports prepared for Congress comes along one from the National Forest Reservation Commission that tells not of just the one year's history of the purchase of lands best suitable for national forest purposes but the record back to 1911. Secretary of War Woodring is chairman of the seven-man commission on which Michigan is represented by Congressman Roy Woodruff, of Michigan.

Every year Uncle Sam buys privately-owned land because early in our history our forests were denuded. People suffer from serious soil losses, declining industries, minimum incomes, mounting tax delinquency until the sole alternative is purchase of the land by the government.

Lands purchased as national forests by the United States Forest Service are in areas important for protection of watersheds of major streams or for sources of timber supply. They are protected and developed for the utilization of such natural resources as water, timber, range, and wildlife and for recreation.

Since 1911, the report shows 1,731,132 acres have been purchased in Michigan alone by the National Forest Reservation Commission. Incidentally, more than has been purchased in any other state, Minnesota and Wisconsin are second and third, respectively.

Five purchase units have been set up in Michigan known as the Huron, Hiawatha, Marquette, Manistee, Ottawa, of which the Ottawa with 568,820 acres is the largest.

During the last year the commission purchased approximately 80,000 acres and in exchange for state-owned lands totalling 52,700 acres.

A meeting of the commission on the purchases for 1939 is called for next week.

Now when a Michigan veteran seeks Guy F. Palmer, head of the regional offices of the Veterans Administration, he will travel to the new Dearborn Hospital, which will be dedicated on February 15th. Like other new veteran's hospitals, the offices of the administration are included in the plans for the convenience of applicants. The Michigan facility has a capacity of 350 beds—one of the largest in the country.

LAUDS HENRY FORD

L'Anse—Appreciation to Henry Ford for his personal interest in the public school system at Pequaming and Alberta, both in Baraga county, is expressed in a resolution adopted by the L'Anse township board, of education, which also points out that the public school in Pequaming has been named the "Henry Ford Pequaming School" and the school at Alberta, the "Henry Ford Alberta school."

It is unknown who invented the first lace-making machine, but an Englishman named Hammond and his partner, Crane, made the initial attempts in 1768.

BEER DELIVERIES DELAYED
Detroit (AP)—A jurisdictional dispute between two American Federation of Labor unions tied up deliveries of Detroit breweries Wednesday. Spokesmen for the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Stableners and Helpers charged that its members were being forced to join the Brewery Workers Union.

CARETAKER MISSING
Ludington, Mich. (AP)—State police and Mason county officers began a search Wednesday for Herman Kulke, 60, a resort caretaker, who disappeared last Friday after he started to cross the ice of Hamlin lake near here. Fear was expressed that Kulke may have fallen through a hole in the ice and drowned.
