

FITZGERALD DEATH FELT IN POLITICS

BERLIN PRESS STRIKES BACK AT CRITICISM

HITLER DENOUNCED AS 'LAWLESS' BY UNITED STATES

Washington, March 17. (AP)—In language seldom used in diplomacy, the state department today denounced Adolf Hitler's coup in Czechoslovakia as wanton and lawless, while from Capitol Hill Senator Pittman (D-Nev.), an administration leader, called on the United States to hurry preparations for "potential political and physical action" in its own defense.

With the approval of President Roosevelt, Sumner Welles, under secretary of state, issued a statement declaring that "acts of wanton lawlessness and of arbitrary force are threatening world peace and the very structure of modern civilization."

Oppression "Temporary" He condemned "the acts which have resulted in the temporary extinguishment of the liberties of a free and independent people."

The word "temporary" caught the attention of the capital. Unofficially, the word was said to mean that the United States does not believe the Czech people can be kept indefinitely in the German Reich but that the day will come when they will seek to free themselves, possibly with outside assistance.

Welles spoke shortly after President Roosevelt, at a press conference, cited European events as showing the need for alterations in the American neutrality act.

This recalled frequent indications that the administration desires greater freedom of action than is possible under the present law, which calls for embargoes on shipments of war materials to both sides of any foreign war.

Chamberlain Deceived Senator Pittman, the chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, declared:

"It is evident to me that, in acting for our own defense in the most serious situation that ever faced us, we must not delay in preparation for potential political and physical action."

"Fuhrer Hitler, by this last act," the senator asserted, "has confirmed his deception of Mr. Chamberlain (British premier) and has made clear his fanatical ambition and intention to dominate everywhere that conspiracy and military force can accomplish his purpose."

Speaking of Germany, Italy and Japan, he said:

"It is evident that the three totalitarian powers are acting under a perfect understanding. Suggestions with regard to the danger to Latin American republics may not now be derogated."

Czech Legation Stays Tonight it appeared that the Czech legation here would continue, for some time at least, to be independent of Germany—probably the only bit of free Czech territory in the world. Minister Vladimir Hurban was still holding out in his dramatic one-man stand against the Reich.

He received a cable from Prague today, signed by former

DALADIER ASKS ADDED POWERS

French Premier Wants to Keep Up With Dictators

Paris, March 17. (AP)—Premier Daladier tonight asked parliament for almost unlimited dictatorial powers to enable France to act as rapidly as the dictator-ruled nations.

He not only asked for powers unprecedented in post-war French history, but flatly refused to tell parliament what he was going to do with them in the face of Germany's swift expansion in Central Europe.

He told the chamber of deputies "the measures I plan to take are military measures," but declined to give further hint of his plans and did not limit the scope of his request to any particular field as French premiers usually do in asking such powers.

"The totalitarian states are capable of taking important decisions rapidly and applying them rapidly," he said. "It is impossible and absurd that France cannot act with the same rapidity."

The chamber, already nervous after Hitler's absorption of all but the Carpatho-Ukrainian tail of Czechoslovakia, adjourned temporarily after Daladier's demands were made. Excitement buzzed through the chamber hall.

"It's almost a dictatorship he asks," many said.

Deputies said the powers, which Daladier asked to have until Nov. 30, would enable his government to suppress any party or newspaper and call any number of troops to arms without consulting parliament.

RUMANIA WILL STAY NEUTRAL

Decides Against Occupying Any Portion of Carpatho-Ukraine

Bucharest, March 17. (AP)—Rumania was said by government circles tonight to have decided against occupation of any portion of Carpatho-Ukraine.

A crown council presided over by King Carol was said to have made the decision. The council also approved the government's "military and diplomatic measures," which included "strengthening of all frontier posts."

Authorities meanwhile were investigating the cases of 10,000 fugitives from Carpatho-Ukraine who have entered Rumania during Hungarian occupation of that eastern district of the former Czech-Slovak republic.

Ion Manolescu-Strunga, former Rumanian cabinet member and a prominent political leader, was arrested on a charge of disturbing the public by spreading alarming rumors.

Details of the accusation were withheld, but it was understood the rumors concerned international dangers arising from German penetration to the southeast through former Czech-Slovakia.

Manolescu-Strunga served as minister of trade and industries in 1935 after having previously held the portfolios of minister of communications and undersecretary of finance.

Man-Killer Tarzan Eating Raw Meat Hunted In Wyoming

Powell, Wyo., March 17. (AP)—A raw meat eating mountain man, hair falling to his shoulders and capable of traveling 40 miles a day afoot, was sought tonight in Wyoming's greatest man hunt in two decades.

The husky fugitive was 26-year-old Earl Durand, who shot and killed two peace officers after he had escaped from the Body, Wyo., jail where he was serving a sentence for poaching.

More than four score of Wyoming and Montana officers joined the search in the snow-covered uplands towards the Bear Tooth mountains.

Durand, known for such feats as tossing a baseball in the air and sending four rifle bullets through it before it hit the ground, was believed fleeing toward mountain hideouts on the borders of Yellowstone Park in northwestern Wyoming. At the beginning of his flight last night he was carrying four rifles and a large supply of ammunition.

Led by foresters and aided from the air by Bill Monday, Cody pilot, the searchers planned to "wait him out" rather than shoot it out with Durand if they could locate him. Riflemen were posted at the ranch home of Durand's parents, five miles northeast of here.

With three shots, police said, Durand last night killed Under-sheriff D. M. Baker and Marshal Charles E. Lewis as they drove up to the ranch where he had forced Deputy Sheriff Noah Riley to drive him after escaping from the jail. He had beaten the deputy into submission as Riley brought supper to his cell last night. He had been imprisoned for killing a bull elk out of season.

With a rifle he had seized at the jail as he fled, Durand clubbed Riley into unconsciousness and slipped away from the ranch with provisions and two more guns. He held up a neighboring ranchman and obtained a fourth weapon and a quantity of ammunition.

WHEAT CROPS TO BE LOWER

Corn Acreage Lowest In 40 Years, Report Discloses

Washington, March 17. (AP)—Farm officials, faced with serious wheat and feed crop surplus problems, hailed a federal crop report this year's forecast today that the smallest in 40 years and that the area sown to wheat would be 18 per cent less than last year.

The board estimated the acreage to be planted to corn at 92,062,000. This compared with a goal of 96,000,000 established under AAA's crop control program.

The wheat acreage was placed at 65,650,000. While this exceeded the crop control program's goal of 55,000,000 acres, it was 15,000,000 acres less than was seeded for last year's large crop.

The board said that if abandonment of winter wheat should be between 20 and 25 per cent—as was indicated by its December report—and 16,700,000 acres of spring wheat were harvested, the total wheat acreage for harvest would be about 52,700,000 acres.

This compares with 70,231,000 acres harvested last year, 64,422,000 in 1937 and an average of 55,325,000 for the 1927-36 period.

The estimates were based on reports from farmers on their planting intentions.

AAA officials said the report indicated that a large percentage of corn farmers intended to cooperate with the production control program. Cooperators will be eligible for benefit payments of 15 cents a bushel.

Payments to cooperating wheat farmers will be 28 cents a bushel.

The sets will enable coast guard officers to maintain constant communication with the Cutter Escanaba, officials said.

TAX REVAMPING EXPECTED SOON

Announcement Held Up Pending Report On Collections

Washington, March 17. (AP)—A report from the treasury that first March income tax collections were 25 percent under last year was followed quickly today by word from President Roosevelt that the administration's tax revision program could be expected soon.

The chief executive told his press conference that the tax study still was in the fact finding stage, but that policy decisions would be made soon after figures become available on tax collections through March 15. These figures, he added, should be ready in about two weeks.

The treasury reported that income taxes actually deposited in the treasury in the first 15 days of March amounted to $132,709,201, which was about 25 percent less than in the same period last year. If this percentage held up for the rest of the month, the treasury's income tax receipts for the month would be considerably larger than the $425,000,000 needed to fulfill budget estimates. In March, 1938, the treasury collected $723,000,000.

All Mail On Way To Czech-Slovakia Is Held Until Mar. 21

Washington, March 17. (AP)—All mail on its way to Czechoslovakia will be held until March 21, the postoffice department announced tonight.

Anyone wishing to recall mail addressed to the country may do so by notifying his local postmaster.

Officials said the department was taking this step as the result of requests within the past two days from persons and business concerns and "in view of the unsettled conditions in Czechoslovakia."

Slavs Hail Hitler As Their Protector

(By The Associated Press) Berlin, March 17. — Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler moved today through new land taken under the Nazi swastika toward a jubilant reception at his seat of empire, Berlin.

His controlled press as the same time began to strike back at criticism from abroad of Germany's absorption of Bohemia and Moravia and Slovakia.

Hitler arrived late today in Vienna, capital of the nation which he gathered into the Nazi fold just a year ago last Monday.

Behind him was a spectacular greeting in Bruenn, capital of his new protectorate of Moravia and formerly a "German island" in a Slavic land.

Arriving from Prague by train, Hitler entered Bruenn in the forenoon through a forest of swastika flags.

Nazi soldiers and political units displayed their power for the rejoicing German residents—some 30 per cent of Bruenn's population—and for Slavs again under a German master.

Brother-in-Law Of Fitzgerald Dies In Hospital

Wahjamega, Mich., March 17. (AP)—Frank Reed, brother-in-law of the late Governor Fitzgerald, died at a hospital here tonight without learning that his wife's brother had died 24 hours earlier.

Reed was chief steward at the state hospital for epileptics here. He was operated on for a strangulated hernia last Saturday and peritonitis developed. He was a resident of Charlot.

Surviving are the widow, a son and two married daughters.

PLANE IN FATAL WRECK LOCATED

Prospector In Alaska Finds Wreckage; Five Dead

Juneau, Alaska, March 17. (AP)—Charles Ashby, a prospector, reported today he had found the wreckage of Pilot Alonzo Cope's plane, missing with five passengers since Feb. 12. He said he saw two bodies inside the wreckage and assumed all in the party were dead.

Ashby said he located the wreckage in the woods opposite Grand Island, Glass Peninsula. The prospector, who brought the brief case of one of the passengers to substantiate his story, said he found the plane four days ago but stormy weather delayed his return.

The coast guard cutter Haida may take this evening to bring the bodies here.

Those on the plane with Cope were John Chamberlain of Anchorage, John Chappell, E. E. Ek and Earl Clifford, all of Juneau, and Jack Kennon, Craig, Alaska. Chappell was a former Hillsdale, Mich., resident.

The cutter Haida and other boats searched several weeks, and navy and private planes surveyed the Juneau region from the air. No trace of the missing craft was reported until today.

Station Operator Admits Firing Shot That Killed Tourist

Flint, Mich., March 17. (AP)—Sheriff Thomas W. Wolcott said tonight that a gasolin station operator admitted firing the shot which killed the proprietor of a nearby tourist camp last night.

Noah Burden, 54, died from loss of blood after a shotgun charge struck in the thigh. He operated a tourist camp and restaurant at Dort highway and Carpenter road. Sheriff Wolcott said Andrew J. Seifert, 36, whose filling station is across the highway, admitted the shooting.

The sheriff said two women, one of them a juvenile, who had been with Burden and Seifert, were held as material witnesses. He withheld their names.

New Castle, Pa., March 17. (AP)—A jury today freed Angelina Maravola, slender 22-year-old housemaid, who was charged with slaying Michael J. Rich, Jr., 23, son of her well-to-do employer, because he refused to keep a promise of marriage.

STATE DUTIES ARE ASSUMED BY DICKINSON

FITZGERALD'S BODY LIES IN STATE AT CAPITOL

Lansing, March 17. (AP)—Luren D. Dickinson, suddenly projected into Michigan's executive office by the death of Governor Fitzgerald, pledged himself today to the "task of serving all the people."

Seven times lieutenant governor, Dickinson, who will be 80 years old next month, formally assumed the burden of state administration in a simple oath-taking ceremony at his farm home near Charlotte.

The legislature adjourned, state offices closed and flags flew at half-staff on the capitol here.

Funeral Sunday Governor Fitzgerald's body will lie in state in the capitol rotunda for four hours tomorrow afternoon. Public funeral services will be conducted at Grand Lodge, his home city, Sunday.

Much of the Republican legislative program which Fitzgerald had outlined in the 75 days since he assumed office remains to be accomplished.

To these problems Dickinson, just regaining strength following an illness, prepared to apply himself for the next fifteen months. In a statement after taking the oath of office he said:

"Obviously I shall not seek reelection."

Within a few hours after Dickinson became governor, legal problems of the succession, first by a lieutenant governor in the state's history, received widely varying interpretations in capital political circles.

May Go To Court A member of the attorney general's staff said informally that Dickinson became governor by taking the oath and had full power to appoint a lieutenant governor who would succeed to the governor's chair in event of another vacancy.

Senator D. Hale Brake of Stanton, Republican chairman of the senate judiciary committee, expressed belief the lieutenant governor becomes acting governor, and regarded it probable that the question may "go to the supreme court for a final determination."

Dickinson, a conservative Republican and for many years the state's foremost foe of the liquor traffic, never has campaigned for office. His personal following is such, however, that he led the Republican ticket last fall as Fitzgerald defeated the then Governor Frank Murphy, now United States attorney general.

Died On Firing Line Miss Tebe Tomans, Eaton county clerk, administered the oath to Governor Dickinson this morning in the old-fashioned parlor of his country home. Mrs. Dickinson lay ill in the next room.

Present were two relatives: the Rev. A. L. Wagley, who gave a prayer following the ceremony;

POLISH PIANIST SCORES HITLER

Paderewski Protesting Coup In Letter to Eduard Benes

Chicago, March 17. (AP)—Ignace Jan Paderewski, 78-year-old Polish patriot and world famous pianist, tonight termed Adolf Hitler a "ruthless invader" who had "stampeded by marching troops the most sacred rights of a nation to independent life."

Paderewski, who helped organize the Polish republic and was premier of Poland in 1919, discussed Czechoslovakia's dismemberment in a letter to Dr. Eduard Benes, former president of Czechoslovakia and now a lecturer at the University of Chicago. Paderewski is here to give a concert Sunday.

"From the bottom of my heart full of indignation I do protest against the enslaving of your nation," Paderewski wrote. "It brings humanity back to the epoch of dark barbarism; it is a triumph of evil forces over both right and that divine spark of the Almighty implanted in our immortal souls, the conscience."

Like statements issued by Dr. Benes, the letter did not mention Hitler or Germany by name.

SONS OF ERIN HAVE BIG DAY

Greatest Parade of Irish In 80 Years Moves Up Fifth Avenue

New York, March 17. (AP)—The mightiest parade of the Irish in eighty years moved up Fifth Avenue this St. Patrick's Day, thousands of them, young and old, with silken banners of orange, white and green, the sun upon them, and a great noise of drums and crashing brass and the melancholy shrill of pipes.

Wave upon wave, they rolled northward from 44th street, past the tall buildings of the mid-town section, Rockefeller center and St. Patrick's Cathedral, past the fashionable shops and hotels, Central park and on to the edge of Harlem—men in gleaming top hats and cutaways, men more somberly attired, boys and girls in the uniforms of their youth organizations, women in white, handmen in blue and green, white and orange and purple.

The bands played "The Killarney Maid" and "Soldiers of Erin" and "The Harp That Once Through Tara's Halls" and dozens of other lilting Irish and Irish-American tunes; the crowds cheered and street vendors squeezing along the swarming sidewalks sold thousands of green carnations, shamrocks, clay pipes and beribboned canes.

BEARD DYED GREEN

Louisville, Ky., March 17. (AP)—With a beard dyed green, D. G. Carr, 59-year-old Pennsylvania railroad engineer of Irish-Scottish-German descent, observed St. Patrick's Day today.

"Some of the fellows around here told me I didn't dare do it," he said as he stroked his colorful makeup. "Well, by golly, I showed them."

Carr said he used green ink.

BOTH PARTIES MUST REVISE 1940 TACTICS

MICHIGAN GOVERNOR WAS PRESIDENTIAL PROSPECT

BY KIRKE L. SIMPSON Washington, March 17. (AP)—The death of Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald of Michigan may lead both major parties to revise their political strategy for winning the Middle West next year.

Comment among Michigan Republicans in Washington discloses that there was a quiet boom underway for a place for Fitzgerald on the 1940 Republican presidential ticket. His death narrows the field of Republican selection that year in the pivotal Middle West area.

MEMORIAL TUESDAY

Lansing, March 17. (AP)—A committee of representatives arranging a memorial session of the house and senate in memory of the late Governor Fitzgerald decided today to hold it Tuesday afternoon at 3 p. m. in the lower chambers, instead of Tuesday evening.

A formal program of commemoration to the dead chief executive will include addresses by Justices Howard Wiest and Henry M. Butzel, representing the state supreme court; Attorney General Thomas E. D. H. Read, representing the state officers; William C. Bishop, Alpena, representing young Republicans; Dr. Edwin W. Bishop, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational Church of Lansing, who is to preach the funeral service; and the Rev. Fr. John D. Day of Three Oaks, a close personal friend of Governor Fitzgerald.

litical role of Attorney General Frank Murphy, defeated last year for re-election by Fitzgerald. They also see new possibilities of an active campaign in the state for endorsement of Michigan-born District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey of New York City as Republican 1940 standard bearer.

Such a campaign would have to reckon, however, with Senator Vandenberg's friends.

Whatever political results may develop, Fitzgerald's death served to focus attention again on Michigan as the key state in the opinion of those Republicans who attributed their party's gains last fall to wide-spread sentiment among farmers and small town voters against sit-down strikes.

Republicans Stranded Fitzgerald centered his successful campaign against Murphy on the strike issue. His executive policies after his inauguration were in line with that interpretation of the meaning of his election.

That served to make the state, center of the automotive industry, a special laboratory in a political sense, for testing under

In the Headlines From Washington

(By The Associated Press)

The United States government condemned Germany's "wanton lawlessness" in occupying Czechoslovakia. President Roosevelt told a press conference that European developments demonstrated need for revising the neutrality act now.

Income tax collections deposited in the treasury in the first 15 days of March were about 25 per cent below the corresponding 1938 period.

The senate delayed until Monday a vote on controversial provisions of the government reorganization bill after sharp opposition was indicated.

The house ways and means committee excluded farm labor, domestic help and employes of religious, charitable and non-profit institutions from any revision of the social security act which may be considered this session.

President Roosevelt said the administration was trying to find a way of clearing up cotton surpluses without bankrupting the treasury.

The president said he hoped to make a nomination to the supreme court soon.

HAS NEST EGG
Iron Mountain — Next year's winter sports program in the community won't have to start "from scratch," and hard scratching at that, as it did this year. There is $3,203.17 on hand in the winter sports fund, after payment of bills, according to the report today of Russell J. Bath, treasurer of the Iron Mountain-Kingsford Winter Sports association.

The gross income was $5,711.01, of which $2,503.54 was paid out in expenses. About $1,600 of the income was raised by the sale of tickets and buttons prior to the opening of the Pine Mountain ski slide Sunday, February 19.

The largest single item of expense was $688.07 for the winter sports manager's commission, on the basis of a written contract signed at the start of the program. Tim Hardgrove was the manager, and out of his share he paid his own expenses for car, gasoline, travel, etc.

"Oscar" Popular With Officers

"Oscar," a life-sized dummy, is used to portray various crimes, particularly murder.

This method was first introduced as a means of instruction by the Department of Justice in their "in-training" school for police officers at Washington, D. C. Through its use the police officer in school has an opportunity to bring his classroom learning into actual practice. It tests his powers of observation and gives him experience in the collection and preservation of evidence that always surrounds crimes of violence.

Gangdom Issue Appears In Chicago Mayor Race

BY BILL BRAUCHER
NE Aserve Staff Correspondent
Chicago—The city that heaved a grateful sigh of relief when Al Capone was broken and put behind bars, heads into a municipal election April 4 with the same old problem on its hands.

Al Capone is not here but his spirit is—and Capone-ism with all its vice and terrorism, is still abroad in the Midwest's muscular metropolis. The Capone pattern of mobster rule is being followed to riches and influence by gangs of ruffians in a city governed by an all-powerful Democratic machine.

At the head of the Democratic ticket for the April election is Mayor Edward J. Kelly, who was renominated. Opposing him is district attorney who convicted Capone, New York's Tom Dewey, and it cannot be said that he lacks a Chicago "Jimmy Hines." There is a "Hines" in practically every Chicago racket.

COURT CASES PROMISE MUCH
Some revelations already have been made, and more are in store when the income tax case of the government against Murray Humphreys is decided in court, and when federal action against William R. Skidmore, charging failure to pay $220,000 income taxes and fraud penalties, gets under way.

Humphreys, once known as the brains of the Capone gang, and more recently rated Chicago's Public Enemy No. 1, served an 18-month sentence and paid a $5000 fine following an income tax conviction in 1934. Now the government is after him again, charging he failed to pay $37,165 in taxes and penalties for the years 1930, 1931 and 1932. His trial closed Jan. 25, with instructions to both sides to file briefs within 60 days.

During Humphreys' trial, William C. Sumner, labor leader, identified him as the man to whom a $50,000 kidnap ransom was paid in 1931.

The government is just starting action against Skidmore, junk dealer, horse fancier, and alleged overlord of Chicago gambling. The Bureau of Internal Revenue will try to collect $220,000 in taxes and penalties, and the first step was the recent filing of a lien against the property of Skidmore and his wife.

It is not hard to establish that a reorganized remnant of the Capone gang itself is in the gambling picture in Chicago. The names of Capone's old lieutenants appear in the day-to-day annals of underworld activities, and especially during the recent primary campaign were the old familiar names much in evidence.

Frank Nitti, who was Capone's "enforcer," is reputed one of the leaders of the present streamlined mob. The old henchmen still are functioning, it was brought out during the campaign, such as Humphreys, Paul Ricca, Louis Campagna, Jack Gurick, Rocco de Grazia, Dago Mangano, Dutch Vogel, and Ralph Capone, Al's brother.

USE BUSINESS AS A SHIELD
Green points out that federal intervention in Chicago's crime scene, evidenced by the new income tax actions, illustrates the vast opportunities of the Chicago police department.

"It is true that most of the active members of the old Capone gang are active in legitimate business enterprises, such as liquor, linen supplies, cleaning and dyeing, charged water, ice.

STATE DUTIES ARE ASSUMED BY DICKINSON

In his statement Dickinson praised Governor Fitzgerald as a "man who died on the firing line of public service, a sacrifice to his high sense of official devotion and duty."

"As for myself," he went on, "I am humbled by this new responsibility but I truly believe after my forty years of public life that I understand something of the problems of this great office at this time and here and now I dedicate myself and all that I represent in Michigan's political history to the task of serving all of our people."

"Obviously I shall not seek reelection and my public record, I feel sure, is such as to guarantee to our citizens that I shall have no interests to serve other than those best suited for the welfare of our great state as a whole."

May Attend Funeral
Dr. Moyer said Governor Dickinson had made virtually a complete recovery from influenza but was somewhat weak. He indicated Dickinson may attend the Fitzgerald funeral services at Grand Ledge Sunday.

Michigan's two United States senators, Arthur H. Vandenberg, Republican, and Prentiss M. Brown, Democrat, joining in the tribute to the late governor, said at Washington they planned to attend the funeral.

Influenza sent Fitzgerald to bed for treatment last Monday. On Tuesday use of an oxygen tent was started and Dr. F. N. Wilson said the governor was suffering from cardiac infraction, an aggravated form of coronary thrombosis. He was believed to be recuperating last night when a sudden relapse brought death.

Harry F. Kelly, 44-year-old secretary of state and next in succession to Dickinson, also is ill with influenza.

Six of Fitzgerald's closest friends will act as pallbearers Sunday to carry him to his final resting place in Oakwood cemetery near the graves of his parents. The six are State Senator Felix H. H. Flynn of Cadillac, Muri H. Defoe of Charlotte, Gilbert T. Shilson of Lansing, Howard C. Lawrence of Grand Rapids, Stewart P. Blasier of Detroit, and the Rev. Fr. John Day of Three Oaks.

Military Escort
The public will be permitted to pay its respects to the dead governor in the capitol rotunda from 11 to 5 p. m. Saturday, and at the Smith-Heag funeral home in Grand Ledge from noon to 3 p. m. Sunday, the hour set for the funeral.

A sentry from the 119th field artillery of the national guard will stand at each end of the opened casket, and state police will augment the guard of honor.

The funeral services will be conducted by the Rev. Edwin W. Bishop of Plymouth Congregational church, Lansing, which Governor and Mrs. Fitzgerald frequently attended.

The 119th field artillery regiment will escort the funeral cortege along the mile route to the cemetery where a salute of 19 guns, at intervals of a minute, will be fired, and a bugler will sound taps.

A memorial service honoring the late executive was scheduled by the house and senate of the legislature for Tuesday afternoon.

SUCCESSION NOT SETTLED
Lansing, March 17 (AP)—The tragedy of Governor Fitzgerald's death was mourned and the legal problems of succession which it occasioned were argued today wherever politicians gathered.

Attorney General Thomas Read had no further comment upon the authority of Fitzgerald's successor, Lauren D. Dickinson, to appoint a new lieutenant governor. Read's staff spent much of the day in a study of the constitutional

A Republican governor the question of making labor policy a chief national election issue next year.

Governor Fitzgerald's death leaves his aggressive labor policy as an inheritance to his successor, Lieutenant Governor L. D. Dickinson, who will reach his 80th birthday next month.

The age factor alone bars the new governor from party consideration for higher honors in 1940. That leaves Michigan Republicans confronted with the problem of finding a new candidate for governor next year at a time when the struggle for control of the state may be pivotal in a presidential election.

Question for Courts
With no exact precedent to guide him, Read declared it was the "prudent" course for Dickinson to take the oath of office as governor. He also said the constitution, in effect, gives the legislature power to declare when an office shall be considered vacant and expressed a belief that "such action on the part of the legislature at this time would clarify the question."

A member of the attorney general's staff said informally that Dickinson became governor when he took the oath of office, and had full authority to appoint a lieutenant governor to succeed himself. This course held that the new lieutenant governor would succeed to the governor's chair in the event of another vacancy, and that the secretary of state could become "acting governor" only in the event of a vacancy before a new lieutenant governor had been appointed and confirmed.

Senator D. Hale Brake, Stanton Republican, said "It would seem very probable" that a final determination of apparently conflicting provisions of the Michigan law would remain for the supreme court.

First to Die in Office
Senator Joseph A. Baldwin, Alton Republican and chairman of the committee on senate business which passes upon executive appointments requiring senate confirmation, agreed with Brake. He said it was "not logical" to infer that a lieutenant governor—eligible for succession to the governor's chair—might be appointed by one state official with the advice and consent of the 32 senators.

The situation was complicated by the fact that Fitzgerald, the first Michigan governor to win reelection after having once been defeated at the polls, was also the first since Michigan attained statehood to die in office.

The governor's chair has been vacant three times since territorial days because of a chief executive's resignation, but no governor has resigned since the present constitution was adopted in 1909. The

JOSEPH HIRN PASSES AWAY

Widely Known Owner of Racing Horses Was 72 Years Old

Joseph P. Hirn, 72, resident of Escanaba for over fifty years, and widely known owner and trainer of race horses, died at 4 o'clock Friday morning at his home, 914 Second avenue south. He had been ill since last fall, suffering from diabetes.

Mr. Hirn was born in Port Washington, Wis., April 10, 1866. After coming to Escanaba he conducted a boarding house for many years. Always interested in horses, which were his hobby, he owned and trained many racers, and was a familiar figure at fairs in Michigan and Wisconsin.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. George Anderson, one son, Joseph Hirn, Jr., both of Escanaba, three grandchildren, and one brother, Michael Hirn, also of Escanaba.

The body, which was taken to the Alto Funeral Home to be prepared for burial, will remain there and will be in state, beginning this evening. Services will be held at 9 o'clock Monday morning at St. Joseph's church, Rev. Fr. Edward Leary, O. F. M., officiating, and burial will be in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Public Reaction To Game License Tags Now Sought

Lansing—Members of the conservation commission and the conservation department are attempting to secure public reaction concerning the proposed license tags for small game hunters and for trappers.

Urged primarily as a means for coping with the hunter trespass problem by providing a quick means of identification at a distance, the proposed measure has provoked little response from the public as yet. The matter has been discussed by the conservation commission at both February and March meetings but action has been deferred until more adequate and more representative public response to the measure could be obtained.

Farmers for some years have protested against trespass by hunters who have invaded farm lands without permission from the owners. The tags would provide a means of identifying individuals, according to proponents of the measure, and would make it easier to prosecute violators under the Horton trespass act. It is also pointed out that enforcement of officers would be aided since law-abiding hunters could report those whom they found killing hen pheasants and otherwise violating the game laws. The psychological effect on hunters might be to deter possible violators and trespassers.

Principal objections raised to the measure are the cost, about $12,000, of the tags; the inconvenience of changing tags from warm-weather clothing to cold-weather dress, the additional work for license dealers, the difficulty of obtaining immediate identification of hunters through the license number because of the large number of licenses sold and the possibility of a trend toward enforcement of the Horton trespass act by the department, since farm owners might report trespassers with the expectation that the conservation officer would prosecute the case.

Game division authorities of the department of conservation consider these advantages and disadvantages of minor importance as compared to the public reaction to and acceptance of the measure by both farmers and sportsmen.

Simpson's to Construct Additional Cottages Along M-35

Plans for enlarging the Simpson's Lakeside Cabins resort, five miles south of Escanaba on M-35, have been announced by Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Simpson, owners. The present layout consists of three three-room cottages, 16 by 16 feet, and two two-room structures, 10 by 16 feet. Work will be started shortly on the construction of a four-room cottage, 24 by 24 feet, as an experiment in larger tourist accommodations, and later in the year the building of four additional units is contemplated.

Mr. and Mrs. Simpson have 302 feet of frontage on the lake and the lots are 400 feet deep. The spacious area will permit the locating of a considerable number of cottages and at the same time provide seclusion for each.

All cottages are equipped with private toilet facilities, electric lighting, combination heating and cooking oil stoves, and are completely furnished. There is a fine bathing beach, horseshoe courts, ping pong tables and other play equipment. Boats also will be installed this summer.

A central shower system also will be built this spring.

FARM PROGRAM PLANS STARTED

County Farmers Being Contacted for New Season Work

County and community committees are busy contacting farmers of Delta county, soliciting their cooperation for the 1939 farm program.

A plan for each farm in the county has been made out in the county office. These plans consist of a map of the farm and a computation sheet which shows the general and special acreage allotments and productivity indexes. They have been computed to show the amount which can be earned by full participation and the number of units of practice required to attain the soil-building goal established for the farm. They also show the amount of deduction for each acre by which the allotments are exceeded.

These plans will be taken to the farmers, and they, together with the committees, will work out a program for their farm for 1939.

Thus far, approximately 300 farmers have been contacted, and indications are that very nearly all of the Delta county farmers are anxious to participate in this program.

Fascist Gajda Moves Ahead Again in Prague

Prague—Twelve years ago Rudolph Gajda stood stripped of his uniform and his powers as a general in the Czech army and Europe's newest democracy hailed the action as a death blow at fascism.

Today, with the newest move of Adolf Hitler to complete dismemberment of the little republic, the name of Gajda is hailed again in the streets and there is indication that he may return to power to reverse the verdict of 1927.

No story of the newest chapter in Czechoslovakia's fate could be more ironic than that of this man. Nor is there a story more colorful.

Gajda was a Moravian peasant farmer's boy. But early he left the farm to become a druggist's apprentice and from that he plunged into the great war as a soldier of the Austro-Hungarian army. But his allegiance to the Austrians was short-lived for Gajda with characteristic flair deserted to the Serbian cause. Moreover, he took hundreds of his Austrian compatriots with him.

Fought and Starved He was with them in their famous retreat through Albania, wallowing in the mud, starving. He went to Corfu. After that he turned up in Russia fighting with the Czech soldiers. He took part in the epic march across Siberia and emerged a full-fledged general.

From that day the star of young Gajda burned ever brighter. A grateful little country, now a republic, Czechoslovakia sent him to the French military school at St. Cyr. He won quick promotion and upon his return to Prague was made chief of staff.

The war, however, had done strange things to the thinking of General Gajda and so he was not long in his office as chief of staff when other ambitions fired him.

Was he not the idol of the Czech legionnaires? Was he not THE big man of the army? Was there not still sharp division in the politics of the new Czechoslovakia, between the democrats and fascists?

Well, why not make himself boss of the new state, sweep aside all differences? After all, democracies were falling on every hand. Would it not be a matter of time until even the new Czech state would fall also?

Then and How So reasoned the ambitious and fascist-minded Gajda as early as 1925 and 1926. Accordingly, one day a Czech Fascist party was born and Gajda was on his way to realize his ambition. But not far.

For the Czech government was quick to act back in 1927, and scarcely before he knew what it was all about General Gajda was stripped of his uniform, removed from the army and ordered into retirement. Democracy was triumphant.

Practically all of Czechoslovakia applauded that action while the sullen Gajda went down to disgrace. The whole of Europe applauded it as well as a "lasting" victory against fascism.

Europe, of course, could not foresee the sweep of Hitler's ambitions.

When a passage that especially pleased him had been written by William Makepeace Thackeray, he clapped on his hat and rushed out to find a friend to whom he might read it.

Gen. Rudolph Gajda

Boney Falls Boy Rescued By Dog As Cow Attacks

From Boney Falls comes the story of a dog's loyalty which resulted in saving his young master from serious injury.

On the farm of Oral Thompson a herd of 30 cattle had been let out for watering and were being driven into the barn by Barney, Mr. Thompson's son, and a friendly part-Shepherd dog. The boy slipped and fell on ice in the barnyard, and as he did so a horned cow turned and rushed toward the fallen boy, apparently ready to gore him.

This was the dog's cue, and although he had never been known to bite a cow he sank his teeth into the nose of the animal, holding on until the boy got up from the ground. So wise-like was his hold that one front fang in the dog's mouth was pulled loose.

DEPUTY SHERIFF HURT Menominee — Deputy Sheriff John Reindl of Menominee and Glen P. Thayer, 62, of Grand Rapids, were injured yesterday at 3:10 p. m. when cars they were driving collided about a mile and a half south of Carney on Highway US-41. Reindl, on patrol duty, was making his way south thru the severe blizzard which struck the county yesterday and Thayer, a U. S. treasury department agent, was driving north when the left front wheels of the machines came together. Both cars were damaged.

Thayer was assisted into a county truck by Reindl and county employes and taken to Pinecrest sanatorium at Powers where it was disclosed today was termed as "not serious." Reindl suffered a slight fracture of the skull on the forehead. He was in St. Joseph's hospital today where his condition was reported to be satisfactory.

Frank D. Fitzgerald

In the sudden and unexpected death of Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald, the state of Michigan has lost one of its greatest governors and the people of this commonwealth have lost a sincere and trusted friend.

A virile American, who by his stirring personality last fall aroused the people of his state to cast aside un-Americanisms and false theories of government, was upon the threshold, it is believed by his friends, of an even greater service to the people of this nation.

Frank Fitzgerald was intensely human and the fact that he arose from the ranks of the common people and spoke their language made of him one of the most outstanding political characters ever developed in this state.

The story of his life, cut short in the midst of his career, stands as living proof, that the day has not yet passed when the boy of humble lineage, possessed of attributes of honesty, courage and a willingness to fight for the things he believes to be right, can still rise to the highest places in our government.

When the act creating the state fair at Escanaba was passed by the legislature during Governor Green's administration, it was thought that an ideal arrangement would be to have each county of the Upper Peninsula represented on the board.

The proposal contained in the Flynn bill, therefore, merits a trial. If the measure is passed, the legislature then can be reminded again that it really is not necessary to increase the size of the state conservation commission from seven to nine members as has been proposed in another bill submitted to the lawmakers in Lansing.

Those who breathe sighs of relief when the state advertising bill passed the senate in essentially the same form as the law created by the previous legislature now have reason, however, to be deeply concerned over the fate of the measure in the house.

Senate Bill No. 53, introduced by Senator Otto Bishop of Alpena, originally proposed an annual appropriation of $200,000 a year for tourist and agricultural advertising.

Reduction of Michigan's advertising fund cannot be viewed as an economy measure. What is spent for advertising the state's vacation possibilities is returned many times in the spending by an increased number of visitors.

There is a lot of hard truth in this. Mere jockeying for advantage among the states will never get us permanently anywhere. The sensible thing for a state such as Wisconsin to do is to get its own house in such order that its citizens can produce and sell advantageously over the whole country.

Temporarily without new permits, Chester, Pa., motor cops were forced to walk their beats. Imagine the satisfaction in asking a cop to show his license!

Scurvy Hits Maine

Of all the strange news stories of the month, one of the strangest recounts the appearance of scurvy in Aroostook county, Maine, where the big potatoes grow.

Scurvy is an oldtime trouble brought on by the lack of vegetables and certain vitamins. It formerly was the scourge of seaman on long ocean voyages, when the lack of fresh meat and vegetables caused the teeth to drop out, eyesight to be affected, and the entire body to be sunk in lassitude and torpor.

At times scurvy got a foothold in the early logging camps of the Upper Peninsula, prevailing until supplies of cabbage, onions and fresh meat could be secured. The fact that scurvy did not devastate the northern woods camps to a greater degree is attributed by some physicians to the plentiful quantities of syrup and molasses consumed by the lumberjacks.

Maine suffers from scurvy have been advised to eat their potatoes with the skins on, instead of peeling them. Of late years it is common to see diners in hotels and restaurants eating baked potatoes skins and all.

We know a doctor who has been through many an influenza epidemic, and who has treated thousands of influenza cases, without contracting the disease. All he does, at the height of these visitations, is to eat onions once or twice a day, drinking a glass of milk afterward to sweeten his breath and prevent knocking out his patients.

Other Editors' Comments: THEY DON'T FOOL US! Columnists Pearson and Allen, writing from Washington, recently told their readers that one of the neatest advertising schemes of congressmen is the "Column from the Capitol"

Columnists Pearson and Allen, writing from Washington, recently told their readers that one of the neatest advertising schemes of congressmen is the "Column from the Capitol" which the national lawmakers sent out to the newspapers in their district.

The Washington writers leave a somewhat erroneous impression with their readers, for there are many newspapers which don't accommodate their congressmen, among them being the Marquette Eagle-Star.

The latest "immediate release" from Mr. Johns, for example, tells about eleven million unemployed people, how "business must step into the picture at this time unmolested," insists that "congress must do something for the old people" and something for youth and says "the farm problem is the most serious thing that congress has to deal with outside of the problem of the older people and youth of the nation."

By the same token, Mr. Wiley deals in generalities about the folks on the farm and the people in the cities, the reorganization bill in the senate and the general conclusion in Washington "that the war situation has eased up."

TRADE BARRIERS AMONG STATES (Milwaukee Journal) The growing use of barriers against interstate trade was deplored the other day by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, who urged less promotion of their own goods on the part of the states and more promotion of commodities by types.

Mr. Wallace pointed to such "barriers" as the Wisconsin oleo law, the advertising of Wisconsin dairy products merely as such and the use by many states of "ports of entry" at which regulations are imposed, inspections carried out and taxes collected.

There is a lot of hard truth in this. Mere jockeying for advantage among the states will never get us permanently anywhere. The sensible thing for a state such as Wisconsin to do is to get its own house in such order that its citizens can produce and sell advantageously over the whole country.

World Affairs Reviewed

The intangible bonds between the Catholic world and its Supreme Head took the form of radio air waves last Sunday, as millions listened in on the Vatican City broadcast describing the solemn and dramatic coronation of Pope Pius XII.

Under the spiritual authority of the new pontiff is, roughly, one out of every seven persons on earth, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society. All together there are between three and four hundred million Catholics among the world's estimated two or more billion people.

Proportionately, South America has the largest Catholic population of any continent, amounting to over 90 per cent of the entire number of inhabitants. In Argentina both president and vice-president must be Catholic to hold office.

Across the Atlantic, among Europe's predominantly Catholic lands are Italy, Spain, and former Austria, now Germany's "Ostmark." Germany (where the Nazi government has been reported for some time in conflict with the Church) has about twenty-seven million Catholics, six million of whom were added with the absorption of Austria.

Other strong Catholic countries include Ireland, Portugal, Hungary, France, Poland, and Belgium. Before the partition of Czechoslovakia, two thirds of this small land's population were listed as Catholic.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Washington—For years in Washington the Southern Congressman has taken it on the chin. He has been the butt of drawing-room jokes. He has seen himself caricatured in cartoons.

That worm has now begun to turn. The metamorphosis is not yet complete; but gradually a new type of Southern Congressman is emerging.

Today times are changing. Today, out of the ranks of Southern Congressmen has emerged a new type of legislator. He is young, alert, studious, intelligent, sincere.

They still have a long way to go, but the time appears not far distant when the joke about Southern Congressmen will be as out of date as the tallyho at a football game.

Take, for instance, the state of Arkansas. Suddenly out of the political blue, four young Congressmen have emerged in Washington from that state and become its leaders.

Clyde Ellis, most dynamic of the group, is only thirty years old and has a story-book background. The oldest of nine children, Ellis was born on a small farm, walked eight miles to school, finished high school in two years while supporting himself by washing dishes and doing other chores.

A group of hard-boned oldtimers attempted to take charge of the session and run it to suit themselves—as they had for years. Ellis organized a counter attack, and served notice that his group would vote "against everything" unless the Old Guards permitted the consideration of progressive measures.

One of Ellis' spectacular legislative battles was to sterilize habitual criminals and the incurably insane. E. C. ("Took") Gathings was born in Mississippi and was named after Ezekiel Candler, for many years a prominent Mississippi Congressman.

Manhattan's oldest thoroughfare was called Great Dock Street, is now named Pearl Street and is called Poll Street. Three hundred years ago, New York consisted of the following: One broken-down fort, one brick hotel, two windmills, 35 beer taverns and 700 customers.

Only 400 of Manhattan's Chinese live in Chinatown which has a population of 18,000. New York Arithmetic: If Peter Minuit were to ride an elevator today to the top of the Chrysler Building (1046 feet high), he would be more than 350 years old.

Something to Remember: They say the Bowery is the only place in town where it is impossible to find a cigarette butt on the pavement—the Bowery denizens find it first.

Transportation: It is possible to travel 600 miles a day in New York for a nickel, by riding continuously in the subway. A man getting on a train at the age of 21, and getting off at the age of 70, can ride 10,731,000 miles on a nickel.

William F. Norrell, 42, is the oldest of the Arkansas freshmen. Born on a farm, his father died when he was an infant, leaving his mother with five young children. Norrell worked his way through school and college, served in the army during the war and then passed the State bar examination with the highest grades ever attained by an applicant.

In the Senate, Norrell worked closely with Ellis and Gathings in enacting a number of liberal measures. He entered the congressional arena when Representative John L. McClellan quit to run against Senator Hattie Caraway.

Tall and heavy-set, Norrell is cold to Townsendism but favors liberalizing the old-age pension law. He is also strong for cheap power and for increasing the farmer's buying capacity.

Norrell taught a men's Bible class for ten years before coming to Washington and is a militant defender of religious tolerance. "You can't make any compromise on that right," he says, "that is fundamental."

My sympathies are entirely with the Jews, but my sympathy does not blind me to the requirements of justice. —Mohandas K. Gandhi, Indian "saint," on the Palestine question.

Now I have no home—I must begin life anew. —Charles M. Schwab, multimillionaire steel magnate, a widower at 77.

Ted Peckham who introduced the escort service to feminine America, and the correct young men from the best colleges who do the escorting for him, have voted Marlene Dietrich the world's "most escortable" woman.

Not because of her face, figure, or famous legs (so the gentlemen contend), but for seven other reasons that make a woman a joy to take out.

"She is intelligent, but she knows when not to thrust her intelligence upon others.

"She is a bright conversationalist, but knows when to listen.

"She is a good dancer, but is the type who gives her partner the idea he is responsible for it.

"Last and all-encompassing, she makes the man she is with seem important to himself."

Well, if Miss Dietrich can manage all that—along with looking like Miss Dietrich—she deserves the title.

Our only suggestion is that when a "best escort" title is handed out to some young man, these points will be considered:

He pays strict attention to the girl he's with and doesn't let the blonde at the next table distract him.

He never says, "Well, what do you want to do now?"

He doesn't get tight enough to be a bore.

He is a wonderful dancer—or if not, knows his limitations.

He lets a girl do some of the talking.

He isn't always sneaking looks at himself in mirrors.

He doesn't have a "line."

He doesn't try to impress the waiter.

He never arrives early, and never very late.

We think that kind of escort would be a match for even the world's "most escortable" woman—but he's a rare bird.

NATIONALISM EAST OF THE RHINE

There have been those who have believed that a free hand for Germany in eastern Europe would mean the efficient organization of that great complex of states held between the Rhine and the Russian frontier.

Ever since the war and the breakup of the Austro-Hungarian Empire publicists have been accustomed to speak of the "Balkanization" of Eastern Europe, and some have looked to Germany to bring a greater amount of order into this territory.

Some people believed that this would be the function of the Nazis. On the belief that Nazi Germany is first of all a legitimate government and, secondly, represents a conservative and integrated order of society, much of the Western World has gone wide astray.

As any one who reads "Mein Kampf" carefully, following its main threads through the miasma of dis-organized material, must see, Nazism does not represent an organized state at all. It is nothing more or less than the kernel of a movement which will theoretically come to rest nowhere until it has established the supremacy of the Teutonic and allied races over the earth, reducing the rest to vassalage.

Such phrases as "The union of all Germans within the Reich," are totally misleading as descriptions of Nazi policy. They have become more and more misleading since the conquest of Austria.

For it now appears that Hitler lays claim to the whole territory of the former Austro-Hungarian Empire, in which non-Germans outnumber Germans in the ratio of 4 to 1.

Hitler's attitude toward the Austro-Hungarian monarchy is made crystal clear in his book. He believes that this territory consists of inferior Slavs, Magyars, and other not quite white people who should be ruled by the "Herrenvolk"—the Germans.

It is now possible to see, first, that he really means this and, second, how he intends to accomplish it. He intends to accomplish it by the pulverization, the atomization, of the existing states to the point where they will be utterly helpless and can be enslaved and plundered.

There was Czechoslovakia: a well organized, on the whole prosperous, well governed, liberal state, its finances in excellent order, its defenses admirable, its people enjoying the freedoms of Western civilization, its education progressive, its population industrious and peaceable.

Since last September, this state has been pulverized. The lopping off of the Sudetenland was accomplished with the collaboration of Britain and France on the theory that the Sudetens should go home to the Reich—a Reich to which they had never in all history belonged.

The lopping off of Slovakia can hardly thus be explained. It is the result of a systematically engineered coup d'etat, effected by a complete travesty of the democratic process, by revolutionary agents, treasonable Slovaks and unexampled high-pressure propaganda in a country where the press had been silenced in advance by Nazi threats.

An independent Slovakia is a monstrosity. It is incapable of living by itself as a state, and will simply become a vassal. What is left of a progressive state—Bohemia and Moravia—is now an island completely surrounded by Germany. These, too, will be pulverized.

When this is accomplished Poland is cut off from Hungary, and will be, probably, the next state to be smashed.

Germany will claim the provinces of Pomorze, Poznan and Silesia as being German. These are the "Sudetenlands" of Poland. They are not German, as far as the population is concerned.

The so-called Polish Corridor was always a land predominantly populated by Poles. Since 1918 it has become almost wholly populated by Poles.

But Germany may also claim the former Austrian provinces of Poland, to which, ethnically, she has not a shred of claim.

The technique will be exactly the same as that used against Czechoslovakia. There will be a continuance of the provocation of the Polish minority in Danzig in the hope that this will bring retaliations against Germans in the Corridor. We shall then hear that a great power of eighty millions cannot tolerate the barbarous treatment of its people; there will be a mobilization on the Polish border; another ultimatum; Poland will be reminded that her ally, France, can do nothing whatever to help her; Stalin will sit tight, and Germany will accomplish her purpose "without spilling a drop of blood."

Probably Germany will try to make a deal with Poland and will offer her an outlet to the sea in Lituania, in Latvia. This will accomplish a double purpose. It may persuade the Poles to take national dismemberment more gracefully, and it will break up Latvia, thus carrying the pulverization process a step further. But the acquisition of these territories will incorporate in Germany nearly a million Poles, and the incorporation into Poland of that section of Latvia necessary for an outlet to the sea will put nearly a million Latvians into Poland, and the whole process will change Poland from being a national state into being a conglomeration of nationalities, pulverized, atomized and ripe for complete vassalage.

SERIAL STORY 'MRS. DOC' BY TOM HORNER

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

The characters and situations in this story are wholly fictional.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
ALAN WARREN—Ambitious young country doctor.
EMILY WARREN—Alan's wife.
ERIC KANE—Construction engineer.
DR. FARRELL—Alan's elderly associate.

Yesterday: At a party at Alan's, Eric reveals his worry about his dam. Later, to himself, he confesses his worry about Emily, another man's wife. He is in love with Emily!

CHAPTER IX

Work brought little peace to Eric Kane. Even at the dam, where a hundred men toiled like galley slaves to carry out his orders, he could not forget Emily. "Looks like well make it, Chief," Baker was at his elbow. They stood beside the engineers' office, high above the diversion dam, looking down on the gravel trucks, edging out along the high trestle, dumping their load of stone, then rumbling back to the gravel dumps, piled high along the railroad track. Unmindful of danger, men worked at the edge of the trestle, guiding the gravel into chutes, to spill it over the dam.

"Pay those men out there double," Eric ordered curtly. "And keep them there. Any reports on the weather?"

"Temperature rising steadily," Baker answered. "But we can stand that, if we don't get rain. If the rain holds off for another week—and it may—all that snow will be melted and pass the dam. If it rains, and rains hard, it's going to be just too bad."

"Eric—telephone!" an assistant shouted from the office door. Emily's voice came to him over the wire, giving him a pleasant thrill. "You're coming down for the Country Club dinner-dance tonight, Eric. Alan and I won't take 'No' for an answer. You've been up at that old dam all week. I'm having a few in for cocktails, then we'll all go together. Please do, Eric."

"I can't leave the job, Emily," Eric fought the desire to shout that he would be there, with her, whatever the cost. "I really can't get away tonight." He had no right to the happiness being with her, dancing with her would bring. "I'm begging, Eric. I've counted on you so." She sounded like a small child.

"All right. I'll try to make it. But don't be disappointed if I don't get there." He could hear Emily laughing, delightedly. "Fine," she said. "We'll wait for you." She knew he would be there. And Eric knew it, too.

Conflicting thoughts raced through Eric's mind as he drove toward town. He tried to think of the dam—remember to tell Baker about that low creek bank up stream—if water backs up there it will cut off the highway—but the motor of his car sang "Emily, Emily" and her face danced out beyond the headlights.

"Order more gravel. Wonder if she'll wear that same evening gown? Strengthen that trestle. She dances divinely. Keep that gravel moving. Remember how she danced that first night. Those men are taking chances. My Fairy Princesses."

And Alan. He was so big, so fine. The man who had saved Eric's life. Why did it have to be Alan's wife? Why did Emily have to marry a fellow like that: he trusted you as a friend. He

process a step further. But the acquisition of these territories will incorporate in Germany nearly a million Poles, and the incorporation into Poland of that section of Latvia necessary for an outlet to the sea will put nearly a million Latvians into Poland, and the whole process will change Poland from being a national state into being a conglomeration of nationalities, pulverized, atomized and ripe for complete vassalage.

Of course, as the Nazi empire makes its way, taking new territories, it will make no compensation whatsoever to the states which it is robbing. The modern port of Gdynia, which has been built with millions of Polish money, will be simply taken by the Germans, just as they have done in Czechoslovakia is a huge act of expropriation.

The whole of southern and eastern Europe is in for this pulverization and plunder process. Nazi Germany does not intend to allow a single strong or numerous state to exist between her frontiers and the Russian border.

The end result of all this is revolution and chaos. It can have no other result. Everything that Germany is acquiring now is a liability. It cannot be administered in any orderly fashion, for the Nazi Reich is incapable of tolerable administration of peoples who have once enjoyed national freedom. It can only enslave them.

Most significant is Stalin's speech in which he proclaims the isolation of Russia. Not a word is being said now in Germany about the Soviet Ukraine. On the contrary, feelers are being constantly put out between Russia and Germany. The ghostly hope of certain French and British conservatives that Russia and Germany would spring at each other's throats and bleed each other white in a war is not at all likely to be fulfilled. Nazism will not make war. Nazism is making a great-hillist revolution.

"I'm not being mean. Just smart," Emily made no answer. Instead she leaned against him, her head on his shoulder, and closed her eyes, a picture of perfect contentment.

Eric glanced from the road ahead of him to the tilt of her nose, the long eyelashes, the small curls around her forehead.

She hummed softly to herself, but said nothing more until they turned into the driveway of her home.

"Won't you come in?" she asked. "Alan should be here soon." She turned to leave the car.

"Don't go, Emily. Stay just a minute. I've something to tell you." Just as well get it over now, Kane, Eric told himself. Then she'll not be calling you to come down again. Make the break. It can't hurt her. She loves Alan. Tell her now; get it over.

was blind. Loving Emily with all his heart, adoring her every move, Alan could not dream that she might not love him the same way. He must know that other men were attracted to her.

It was his faith, his belief in the honesty of all men that made Alan blind, Eric reasoned. There was no other explanation. Why, why couldn't Alan have passed him there in the blizzard?

But Eric had loved Emily first. Ever since that first night, in St. Louis he had known that all his life he would love the Fairy Princess. And that knowledge had kept him from marrying anyone else.

For years he had secretly hoped to find her again and then, when all trace of her was lost, he had felt that he would have cheated any other girl he might have married.

Chatted a girl? What was he doing to Alan, now? Posing as a friend, loving his wife. "This is the last time I'll ever see her," Eric told himself. "I'll have tonight, and then I'll never come back. That's the only fair thing to do." And he meant it.

Soft lights. Music. Holding Emily in his arms again, hearing her gay conversation, listening to her tinkling laugh. She was beautiful. Men surrounded her constantly, begging for dances. Whenever Eric danced with her someone was bound to cut in. And he let them, gladly.

It was dangerous for him to be too near Emily, tonight. He was afraid that he might say just a part of the thoughts that were keeping him in a turmoil. Alan's drinks had been too strong. Why must a man insist on your having another drink, when he should have known you were in love with his wife?

He was standing in a doorway staring at the dancers, searching for Emily. Suddenly he felt a hand on his arm, heard someone saying: "Dance with me quickly. There's a fellow following me. He's drunk."

It was Emily. Laughing, eyes sparkling. She clung to him as they glided across the floor. "You see," she said. "I've come back, Sir Knight. Just so you could rescue me from another drunk." Eric loved her for that. This was the way it should end. In the same gay mood. She would disappear in the crowd again, go out of his life forever. She would go back to Alan.

"There's no drunk this time, either, Eric," Emily was saying. "Just a husband who leaves his wife stranded at a dance. Grandma Frank fell and broke her hip and Alan had to dash off to the hospital. He said to tell you to take me home. You will, won't you?"

"Probably. But I don't want to." "Then I'll get someone else. There are at least five eligible bachelors who'll take me home." Emily was teasing him.

"They will not," he answered, half angrily. "Alan said for you to go home with me, and you'll do just that, and like it."

"I'm sure I shall, Eric," she said.

Oh, Freckles, I'm so happy about your song being published! They sent Lard and me an advance—fifteen bucks apiece!

Tonight we'll celebrate! Lard's gonna get a date and we'll all go to the Rialto! The orchestra there is gonna play "I Remember Songs!"

I'll buy your ticket to the Rialto theatre if you'll stand up after the orchestra plays our songs, and shout "Author! Author!"

So I can take a bow—then you raise a rumpus and they'll put you out and give you your money back, and you can turn it over to me! See?

Flynn Views "Frozen" Investment Funds As Vital Recovery Key

With 1940 looming ahead, the administration needs national recovery not only for its social benefits, but as a political necessity.

BY JOHN T. FLYNN (Copyright, 1939, NEA Service) Washington, D. C.—No one with half an eye in his head can move about Washington these days without perceiving that a change has come over the spirit of the administration on the whole subject of business.

We have heard the President's promise of "no more taxes"—the Hopkins "appeasement" speech—the lifting of the "plague on both your houses" in the effort to have the C. I. O. and the A. F. of L. smoke the peace pipe, and a current capital rumor that the present monopoly investigation will be quietly demobilized.

The reasons for this new and even sudden shift of the administration to a policy of aiding business are fairly obvious.

First of all, for the first time, the administration has become acutely aware of the facts: 1. That recovery is utterly impossible unless private investment revives and, 2. That private investment has almost wholly collapsed.

The administration, its critics say, has done some good things. But they declare the good things have not been on the side of recovery. For instance, social security is a good thing. But social security laws, while aiding the worker for a while, do not prevent hard times. They help a man for a limited time when he loses his job, but they do not create a new job for him.

The facts about private investment have suddenly burst upon the consciousness of the people with a good deal of shock. For instance, money has piled up in the banks during the past six years of depression so rapidly that now there is as much money in the banks as there was in 1929 at the peak of the great boom.

But while money has piled up in the banks it has not gone into investment. The evidence of this is found in the figures about bank loans. While bank deposits now are as great as they were in 1929, bank loans are 20 billion dollars less. While bank deposits have increased by 15 billion dollars since 1933, bank loans have actually decreased by a billion.

The banks have not loaned the money. For a long time the administration blamed the banks. They said it was the bankers trying to sabotage the administration—banks on a capital strike. But that argument is no longer tenable. Because all bankers are not anti-New Dealers. Mr. Jesse Jones is in Houston, for instance, has not made any more loans than any other bank—in fact, not as many. This is not the bank's fault. The loans are not available.

Mr. Hopkins in his speech laid stress upon the fact that three avenues of investment beckon to us—the utilities, the railroads and construction.

Moreover, 1940 looms ahead. By the time the political conventions meet next year the United States will have completely exhausted its legal debt limit of 45 billions. If private investment does not revive by then, the President will face the necessity of another tremendous debt deficit.

But Congress is ready to refuse to increase the debt limit. The party cannot afford to go before the country next year with another deficit and the promise of still another for the following year. It needs recovery as a political necessity now and needs it desperately.

Therefore the administration has turned to business as its one great hope. NEXT: Potentialities of the Right Turn.

SUDDEN DEATH SHOCKS CITY

Gov. Fitzgerald Popular in Manistique; Visited Here Often

Manistique residents generally, Republicans and Democrats alike, yesterday expressed heartfelt regrets at the unexpected death of Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald Thursday in Lansing.

Gov. Fitzgerald was popular in Manistique and Schoolcraft county, as he was throughout the State of Michigan. He has made numerous appearances here, the last of which was prior to the primary election, when he addressed an enthusiastic crowd of local supporters at the Legion Cottage in an afternoon meeting.

At both the primary and general elections, Gov. Fitzgerald was given heavy support by Schoolcraft county electors. He defeated Harry S. Toy by a large margin in the primary election in this county, and also was given a majority by Schoolcraft voters over his Democratic opponent, Gov. Frank Murphy, in the general election.

Gov. Fitzgerald earned the admiration of many Democrats in 1936 when, in the closing days of his first term as governor and after he had been defeated by Frank Murphy for reelection, he appointed Prentiss M. Brown, of St. Ignace, a Democrat, who is very popular here, as United States Senator to succeed James Cousens, who died in office.

Dickinson, who as lieutenant governor in Fitzgerald's administration, succeeds Fitzgerald as governor, is not personally well known here, except by reputation, although Dickinson carried Schoolcraft county in both the primary and general elections last fall.

Firetruck Trapped In Snowdrift Near Cooks Is Returned

The Manistique fire department truck which was trapped by snowdrifts two miles south of the Cooks Consolidated School while making a fire call last Tuesday, was returned to the firehall here Friday noon, towed by a county truck driven by Ed Gray.

The fire truck, driven by Fireman Ray McCarney, was called to Inwood township Tuesday afternoon when the home of Frank Wilford caught fire. The truck made the trip to the scene of the fire through a blinding storm, but drifts plugged the roads behind the truck and it was not possible to return.

County plows opened the road near the firetruck late Wednesday, but the truck was not removed until yesterday morning, when it was towed into Manistique.

'FLU' EPIDEMIC HITS AT ADULTS

Disease Is Not General Among Children Here, Reports Indicate

An epidemic of illness of the influenza type has spread through this locality, reports indicate, but queerly enough the disease has taken a heavier toll among adults than among children.

Some school children have been affected by the disease, but the number of absentees in the public schools because of illness are only slightly above normal, school officials have reported. Members of the teaching staffs of the grade schools and high schools, however, have been hard hit, and for the past two weeks, substitutions in the teaching staff have been frequent.

Health officials have issued a warning to persons attacked with severe colds, with accompanying fever, that their first course of treatment should be to go directly to bed and to summon their family physician.

As a preventive measure, persons not suffering with colds should avoid contact with those who have already been attacked, health officials have reported.

STRAITS BRIDGE TOPIC OF TALK

Resident PWA Engineer Speaker At Munising Rotary Meeting

Munising, March 17—George P. Large, resident engineer of the public works administration in charge of construction of the city fire hall and dock, was the guest speaker at the Munising Rotary club meeting this week.

Mr. Large spoke on PWA projects and gave interesting information on the possibility of a bridge or tunnel at the Straits of Mackinac.

"PWA is one of the many government bureaus organized since 1929 to provide employment for some of the thousands of men who are normally employed in the construction industry," Mr. Large explained.

"To obtain a PWA loan or grant a city must first have a proposed structure which is needed, and something which is self-liquidating, or will pay for itself in time.

All PWA work is contracted and is carried out under the most rigid inspection and the hours of labor are all incorporated in the contract.

"Some twenty-five thousand of these projects have been built throughout the United States in the past six years, varying in size from Boulder Dam, a two hundred and fifty million dollar project, to small schoolhouses," Mr. Large stated.

"The idea back of all this expenditure of money for construction is to furnish employment where it is badly needed. Unemployment is a comparatively recent thing in the United States and the final solution of the problem must be based on a very careful analysis of the reasons for unemployment.

These are mainly the introduction of large and efficient machines which displace the workers and leave them without work.

"According to Mr. Large, these machines are the result of our unusual engineering progress.

"We have in our own state an engineering problem which is of vital interest to Munising and the Upper Peninsula," Mr. Large continued.

"I refer to the crossing at the Straits. Recently we have heard much about the construction of a bridge over the Straits.

Called for the crossing from Cheboygan to the various islands and eventually reaching St. Ignace. Another plan more recently advanced is the bridging of the Straits.

The construction of a bridge would involve such unusual construction that it would prove a very expensive project.

Under the other hand, the construction of twin tunnels under the Straits would be a comparatively simple matter and would give an easy method of crossing. The engineering involved would not be anything unsurmountable.

"The construction of tunnels under the Straits would make Munising a more accessible resort for Michigan people and unquestionably we would have a network of hard-surfaced roads within a few years," the engineer stated.

The labor employed on a tunnel could come mostly from the Upper Peninsula as we have many idle miners in our mining districts.

The construction of a bridge would call for the importation of skilled iron workers from other states and all of the fabrication of the steel members would be done outside the state in large bridge shops.

Mr. Large concluded his address in telling the group that in speaking of the bridge project he was not speaking in an official capacity but only as an engineer who would like to see the project undertaken and completed.

Equipment Purchased Marquette—The city commission last night brought the controversy over purchase of a truck for the department of public works to a sudden close by rescinding a previous motion tabling bids and then voting, three to two, to purchase an Oshkosh truck from the Ryan Equipment company, of Marquette.

Commissioner S. R. Anderson opened the matter by moving "that the city commission rescind the resolution adopted at its meeting February 27, rejecting all bids on a four-wheel drive truck and deferring further consideration of that matter until next fall, and that the commission now take up said bids for further consideration and such action thereon as it may see fit to take."

LAND ZONING Fayette, Delta County, Mich., March 11, 1939

The Daily Press, Escanaba, Mich. Gentlemen: This lengthy letter is not intended for publication. It is a sincere request to your editorial columns for enlightenment on the Rural Zoning ordinance which is to come up before the County Board of Supervisors at the spring meeting, for adoption.

The writer is only sufficiently legal minded to find plenty in to worry about. Mr. Wylie's explanations do not wholly satisfy.

Delta county has a wealth of shore line and we are told that worthwhile development will come unless a guarantee can be given that obnoxious projects will not be built up on adjacent properties. Present laws, if enforced, would take care of the worst offenders.

We find that no provision is made for commercial fishermen except those already established. This township (Fairbanks) in 1938 shipped fish to an estimated value of more than $53,000. We are told that no changes are contemplated in this district, yet we know that changes not contemplated in other lines are constantly taking place.

Section X of the Zoning Ordinance states in part: "Any amendment, supplement or change may be proposed by the Board of Supervisors or by the owner or owners of forty (40) per cent of the land area affected by the proposed change in boundaries, regulations or restrictions."

Forty per cent is less than one-half of the land ownership involved in any proposed change. Therefore, no buyer could rest on the assurance given by the ordinance since minority holders could at any time commence proceedings looking to a change in zoning.

Under our present laws a supervisor is not required to be a land owner nor does he even have to be self-sustaining. In his capacity as assessor the values he sets on real and personal property in his township must be passed upon by the board of review, both of whose members must be taxpayers. This arrangement does not give to the supervisor dangerous authority over the property in his township.

Under the provisions of this ordinance the minority holders of land or the Board of Supervisors could propose drastic changes in land use and the majority of land ownership would be required to spend time and energy to present their case to the board of appeals in an effort to protect their interests.

It does not seem just that so vital a problem as proper land use should be placed in the hands of those who are not required to bear the burden of taxation. This does not mean that supervisors, as a body, are not good business men; it merely points out that they have dire need only to be successful vote-getters. At this time when WPA bids fair to become a permanent institution we must take into account that many of this type will eventually be elected to the office of supervisor.

People are now falling into two distinct classes. The first will pioneer and succeed, to become an asset to a community; the second, by settling in out-of-the-way places, was once something of a menace but is now content to seek shelter in already established communities where life on $44 per month is easier.

Since we are to have zoning would it be practical to have a board of land use commissioners to whom say 80 per cent of the land ownership affected could apply for zoning, restrictions, etc? Eighty per cent ownership would guarantee sincerity of purpose and would not entail so much upsetting on the rural communities as a whole. Spring elections in the townships are usually torrid affairs and if, in addition, the all-important attitude on land use must be considered in candidates for supervisor, it will become almost unbearable.

We pay heed to the stand which the Daily Press takes and are usually in agreement with it. In this instance we do not understand and respectfully ask that you print an editorial on the subject. Last fall we were admonished to vote "Yes" on the gasoline tax amendment in order that the funds might not be diverted to other uses before the roads needed in the Upper Peninsula were built. The main argument in favor of this zoning ordinance is to save money by depriving those lands which have paid road and school taxes for generations from sharing in the benefits derived from such taxes. We know of no method whereby restitution can be made to those who will suffer from this injustice.

Thanking you for the consideration you are asked to accord this troublesome matter, I remain, Very truly yours, Miss Adelle Elliott

Tigers Bow To Reds, 5-4, In Grapefruit Opener

DETROIT LACKS VICTORY PUNCH

Hank Greenberg Sends Home Two Runs With Double

Tampa, Fla., March 17 (AP)—The stout stick of First Baseman Hank Greenberg sang a lively song today, but the Detroit Tigers, opening their exhibition series, bowed to the Cincinnati Reds, 5 to 4 in 11 innings.

Big Hank doubled in the sixth inning and sent home two runs of the Tigers' four in that frame. But while Hank gave indication of regular season form, the Tigers lacked the final punch to squeeze out a victory.

Oddly enough, it was a former Detroit infielder who spelled defeat for the Tigers. Clifford Richardson, who played shortstop for Detroit eight years ago, singled in the eleventh and set the Reds up for the winning score.

Trout Nicked Hard

Al Benton pitched the first five innings for the Tigers and shut out the Reds with four hits. He was followed on the mound by Paul (Dizzy) Trout, who was nicked in the seventh for five hits and four runs.

Les Fleming opened the four-run barrage for the Tigers in the sixth. After he worked Patcher Jim Weaver for a walk, Frey fumbled Frank Croucher's grounder and Barney McCoskey singled, filling the bases. Weaver then walked Cullenbine, forcing in Fleming. Greenberg's double down the third base line scored two more and the fourth scored while the Reds were fielding McCoy's grounder.

The sixth-inning rally was the best the Tigers could do for the afternoon, however. They were held to two hits in the last five innings while the Reds pounced on Patcher John Tate for the eleventh inning victory.

The Reds worked more smoothly than the Tigers, showing the effects of the week of exhibition games already under their belts.

TRAYNOR NEEDS TWO PITCHERS

Tobin and Bauers Only Slabmen of Known Worth So Far

San Diego, Calif., March 17 (AP)—Pittsburgh's Pirates opened their spring exhibition tour here today with a prayer by Manager Harold J. (Pie) Traynor for immediate delivery of at least two pitchers to bolster an admittedly weak hurling staff.

Soft-spoken Pie makes few bones about the situation. "I need pitchers. Two pitchers, anyhow," he declared. "I've got two good ones. That's about all. Confidentially, I wouldn't want to say what you could do with the best of my hurlers, but if I could get just two good, reliable guys that could throw that ball—"

Traynor's voice trailed off. It didn't matter. Almost everyone should know the Pirate predicament. The only two slabmen of known worth are Jim Tobin, who won 14 and lost 12 games last year, and Russ Bauers, whose season of 13 won and 14 lost mustn't be held against him. Traynor knows he has the stuff.

Mace Brown, who, on paper boasts a record of 15 won against only 9 lost, is strictly a relief pitcher. Traynor apparently has little faith in his ability to start and finish a game.

"There's a chance that some of the one time good pitchers—Cy Blanton, Bill Swift, Ed Brandt, for instance—might come back, but Traynor evidently has lost a lot of his faith in the chance."

As for the rest of the club, Traynor seems fairly well satisfied.

He believes, for instance, that his infield of Gus Suhr at first, Pep Young at second, Arky Vaughn at short and the cleanup position, and Lee Handley at third, will compare with anything in the senior league.

Traynor also has faith in his outfield.

"We have Johnny Rizzo in left field, and he looks better than ever. Last year was his first in the majors and I think he'll be a sensation. Lloyd Waner will be in center, and I have Heinie Manush and Fern Bell for right field, as well as Woody Jensen for reserve. I think this Bell, who hit .327 with Louisville last year, will make a good man for us."

Traynor paused a moment and added, smiling, "Darned if I didn't forget all about Paul Waner. I haven't even thought about him."

"Big Poison" Waner, of course, and President Bill Benswanger have failed to get together on terms.

FROSH TO MEET

Orlando (AP)—The Washington Senators primed their rookie pitching prize, Roberto Ortiz, for his test against the Detroit Tigers. The Tigers, who meet the Senators at Tinker field tomorrow, plan to pitch their ace freshman, Fred Hutchinson. It will be the first real trial for Ortiz who came to the Senators from the Cuban case fields.

McClintock Has Seen Many Changes In Tournament Play In Last 24 Seasons

Marquette, Mich., March 17—Back in the spring of 1916 Wayne B. McClintock, head of the manual arts department and coach of athletics, conducted the first upper peninsula high school basketball tournament at the Northern State Teachers college here and after 24 years he is still at it. Tournaments have been held at Northern State annually, with the exception of four years.

At that time two tournaments were conducted in the upper peninsula—an invitational and a championship—with Northern State and Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton, alternating in sponsoring the championship meet which followed the invitational.

The luck of the draw decided opponents in opening round play and at times what is now a Class D quintet would be forced to play a Class B team. There was no seeding to form perfect blocks so that by the time the quarter-finals or semi-finals were reached, there would be no "byes."

This was corrected after the 1917 tournaments. Eddie Olds, captain of the Ishpeming high school team, which won the championship at Houghton and Marquette, drew two "byes" at Houghton, necessitating only three games for the Hematites while their final opponents played five games. The following week Olds drew more "byes" in the Northern State meet, again at the expense of finalists.

Thirty-two teams were entered in the 1926 tournament, the largest number of schools to be represented, with play covering three days and continuing from early morning until late at night. Sometimes it was necessary for a team to play two games a day, and occasionally three.

This defect has been remedied in the passing by the Michigan State High School Athletic association of a ruling that no team will be permitted to play more than one game in 24 hours. Overtime play also is restricted, whereas in the old days play continued until a two-point margin was obtained.

Marked improvement in the play of teams in Class C and Class D has been noted in the last 15 years. Previously only Class B teams for the most part were coached by men who had previous basketball coaching in colleges. Today nearly all the smaller schools have experienced coaches, the majority coming from the Northern State Teachers college, but with many from lower peninsula and Wisconsin Normal schools and colleges.

Another change is that teams entering tournaments play only in their class, unless they elect to play in a higher division. Class D teams represent schools with enrollments of 99 or less pupils; Class C schools with 100 to 299 students, and Class B schools with an enrollment of 300 or more.

Eighty-three teams were entered in the district tournaments at eight centers last week-end in which 15 championships were decided. Four champions in Class B, five in Class C and six in Class D come here this week with play starting tonight and ending Saturday night with the peninsula finals.

KNIGHTS BOWL HERE SUNDAY

Teams From Marquette and Manistique K. C. Play Escanaba

Escanaba council, Knights of Columbus, will be hosts to two visiting teams of bowlers Sunday afternoon, when squads from Marquette and Manistique invade the local alleys. The locals and visitors will clash in a three-game series, which will be rolled at the Arcade alleys at 2 p. m. sharp.

Escanaba K. of C. bowling league members are asked to be at the alleys at 1:30. All alleys will be reserved for the K. of C. match from 1:30 to 4 p. m. Following the bowling the visitors will be guests at a lunch to be served at 6 o'clock at the local club rooms under the direction of Tom Byrnes, club custodian.

At a recent committee meeting, Escanaba K. of C. bowlers voted to disqualify Al Farley and his Slippery Elm team of Manistique if they use unfair tactics such as loaded balls. The Marquette Firebugs will also be warned not to burn up the alleys.

Former NSTC Ace Head Grid Coach; Succeeds Auer

Owosso, Mich., March 17 (AP)—Grove Holman, for three years assistant football coach at Owosso high school, was named head coach tonight by the Owosso board of education. He succeeds Howard Auer, former University of Michigan football star, who signed recently as head coach at Flint Central high school. Holman is a graduate of the Northern Michigan Teachers college at Marquette.

HILLBERG GETS LETTER

Ann Arbor (AP)—Captain Les Hillberg of Marquette was among 10 members of the University of Michigan's 1939 hockey team who were named Friday for varsity letters. The team Hillberg captained finished its season with two wins, eight losses and two ties after dropping four straight games to Minnesota in play for the Western conference championship.

Cubs Wallop Sox 10-2 In Exhibition

Los Angeles, March 17 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs had no trouble at all in opening their exhibition season with a victory today, trouncing their big league neighbors, the Chicago White Sox, 10 to 2, behind the steady pitching of a veteran and a rookie.

Southpaw Larry French, tossing the first five innings, and rookie Newell Kimball, the rest of the game, held the Sox to eight hits and kept them scoreless for eight innings.

Light-Heavy Champ Has Injured Optic; Leaves Detroit

Detroit, March 17 (AP)—John J. Hetteche, chairman of the Michigan board of athletic control, announced tonight the fight between John Henry Lewis, light heavyweight champion, and Dava Clark of Detroit had been called off because of an injury to Lewis' left eye. Lewis was to have defended his title against the Detroit negro here March 31.

Hetteche said an examination of Lewis by two physicians had revealed the champion was "in good condition except for his left eye."

Dr. Daniel R. Donovan, who examined Lewis, reported that "sight of Lewis' left eye is almost nil. He was unable to reach even headline print of a newspaper and apparently could distinguish only light from dark."

"Examination of Lewis' left eye," reported Dr. C. L. Tomes, "revealed that he could not detect the number of fingers held 18 inches from the eye." The physician diagnosed the ailment as "probable traumatic cataract."

Lewis failed to appear for an additional examination today ordered by Hetteche after the two physicians made their report. He was to leave tonight for his home in Pittsburgh, apparently resentful of official demands for the recheck of his condition.

Hetteche explained that he ordered Lewis to appear before Dr. J. Milton Robb, eye specialist, "to find if the eye condition was an old ailment."

"When he failed to show up, I decided he could not defend his title in Detroit," Hetteche said.

W. B. MCCLINTOCK

Wayne B. McClintock, head of the manual arts department at the Northern State Teachers college and manager of the regional case meet, has been conducting high school basketball tournaments since 1916. He was graduated from Western State college in Kalamazoo, Mich., and coached Bent Harbor high school to a state football championship. Later he was head of the manual arts department and then principal of the Marquette high school before accepting a position at Northern State in the fall of 1915. He refereed more than 700 basketball games. Some years he handled 60 tournament games, officiating in district and championship games in the upper peninsula, regional tournaments at Potosky and state championship tournaments in Detroit. For many years he was referee of the annual Marinette-Menominee high school football game on Armistice Day.

OPEN CHAMPION IN SEMIFINALS

Guldahl and Bright Win On 21st Hole At St. Augustine

St. Augustine, Fla., March 17 (AP)—Ralph Guldahl, the national open champion who blossomed out lately as a team match play golfer, piloted his team today into the semi-finals of the amateur-professional best ball tournament.

He and Morion Bright, Daytona Beach amateur, won the 21st hole over Harry Cooper of Chippewa, Mass., and William Holt, Syracuse, N. Y., when Guldahl poked his second shot dead to the pin for a birdie three.

Their opponents tomorrow will be the surprising all-Michigan combination of Pro Marvin Stahl, Lansing, and Amateur Chick Harbert, Hill Creek.

Still going strong after winning the medal and dumping two former winners, Stahl and Harbert defeated Byron Nelson of Reading, Pa., and John Levinson of Kennebunk, Me., this afternoon 2 and 1.

The other 36-hole match tomorrow will pit Denny Shute of West Newton, Mass., and Bill Stark of Jacksonville against Jack Groat of Hershey, Pa., and Maynard Ramsey of Tampa.

Ramey duplicated Guldahl's feat on the third extra hole to give his team victory over Mike Turnesa of Elmford, N. Y., and Horace Williams of St. Petersburg.

A 4 and 3 decision over Johnny Revolta of Evanston, Ill., and Wilfred Wehrle of Racine, Wis., moved Shute and Stark through the quarter finals.

The afternoon Stahl-Harbert triumph was an anti-climax to their morning 4 and 3 victory over the combine of Henry Picard of Hershey, Pa., and Frank Ford of Charleston, S. C., which yesterday scored a best ball 61 for an unofficial course record.

Bridge Expert P. Hal Sims and Craig Wood, both of Deal, N. J., bowed out in the second round, one down, to Turnesa and Williams.

Gopher Sextet In AAU Semi-Finals

New Haven, Conn., March 17 (AP)—The Golden Gophers of Minnesota, as potent on the rink as on the gridiron, and the Club Marquette squad, a sextet from Woonsocket, R. I., emerged as the first two semi-finalists at the national A. A. U. hockey championship tournament started today.

Hawks Of Escanaba Will Meet Tonight

Members of the Escanaba Hawks hockey team have been requested to report at the indoor rink at the state fairgrounds tonight at 7 o'clock.

Emblems will be awarded at this time to players in the local tournament.

EILEEN GAFNEY WINS CONTEST

Fancy Skating Tourney Held; Cathcart Cops Senior

Diminutive Eileen Gafney strengthened her hold on the title of Escanaba's foremost junior fancy skater by winning the city fancy skating junior title at the contest held in the indoor rink this week. Helen Mae Schwalbach was second in the junior division. Kenneth Cathcart had no opponents and received the award and title in the senior division.

IN GOOD SHAPE

Issac Schram, manager of the indoor rink reported last night that the ice out there is in perfect condition. As there is no longer hockey practice and games, the rink is available to skaters every night at seven o'clock except Tuesdays and Thursdays when the fancy skaters' class closes at seven thirty.

The cup awarded Eileen was the second won this year, the first being awarded in the open contest held earlier in the season.

Other contestants in the junior division were Mary Sue Farrell, Mary Lou Kessler, Loreta Stack, Charlotte Olson, Mary Groos, Dolores Groos, Alice Corbett, Mary Margaret Walsh, Barbara Walsh, Jean Groos, and John Flanagan. The latter, being the only boy, received the most applause and gave a good show. In a year or so, he should be one of the strong contenders.

Mr. Harris, professional skater from St. Paul and Duluth who acted as one of the judges demonstrated some school figures and waltzed with Mrs. Turnquist, local class instructor, who, in the opinion of those who have watched all of the skaters who have been on the indoor rink, this winter, is still tops.

STATE FINALS THIS EVENING

Flint Northern, Muskegon Heights Are Vieing for Title

BY DALE STAFFORD

Flint, Mich., March 17 (AP)—Flint Northern and Muskegon Heights, two dark horse teams, qualified here tonight for the class A final game of the 15th annual Michigan high school athletic association Lower Peninsula basketball tournament.

Northern, a former state champion, advanced to the final by beating Pontiac, 23 to 21, with a great last period finish. It was the third time this season that Northern has turned back Pontiac, the other two defeats having occurred in the Saginaw Valley league season which saw the teams tie for third place.

Muskegon Heights, fourth place team in the Southwestern conference, beat River Rouge, winner of 17 straight games up to tonight, by a convincing 32 to 20 score, cashing in on frequent long shots and erecting a stubborn defense.

Grand Rapids Christian, defending class B champion, was pressed to the limit in beating Rogers City, 26 to 23. Christian's foe tomorrow will be Albion, Twin Valley conference titlist, which walloped Detroit St. Benedict 35 to 22.

In class C the co-favorites, Flint St. Mary's and Holland Christian, reached the final although the latter school had to score 18 points in the last quarter to down Dansville, 26 to 24.

St. Mary's had control of the game from beginning to end in conquering Boyne City, 34 to 22.

Brooklyn, defending class D champion, was forced out by Muskegon St. Joseph, 33 to 30. The other class D winner was Dryden, a surprise team, which beat Alpena St. Anne, 30 to 20.

Finals in all divisions will be played at the I. M. A. auditorium here tomorrow night. Tonight class A and C games were played at the I. M. A. auditorium while class B and D games took place at Longfellow Junior high school.

Eddie Holderman Considered One Of Nation's Promising Young Milers

120 ENTRIES ARE RECEIVED

Lafayette, Ind., March 17—Edmond J. Holderman, of Escanaba, Mich., a sophomore in the school of mechanical engineering here at Purdue University, is rapidly earning a reputation as one of the outstanding milers in the Big Ten, and is considered by Coach Hermon Phillips as one of the best track prospects at the Boiler-maker institution in recent years.

Ed, as he is known on the Purdue campus, turned in remarkably consistent performances in both the mile and half-mile during the dual meet season, not only in individual events, but also on various relay combinations.

Unhindered by Cold

In the Big Ten indoor championships held at Chicago recently, Holderman, despite the fact that a heavy cold had kept him out of training for an extended period, provided one of the big surprises of the meet by placing fourth in the mile run in 4 minutes, 18 and 4-10 seconds.

Most track critics are convinced that the Boilermaker sophomore, when in top physical condition, will be able to crack 4 minutes and 14 seconds in the mile before the end of the season.

Holderman has been running as anchor man on the Boilermaker four mile relay combination in addition to running on the two-mile quartet.

Eddie still holds several scholastic records in his home state. His record of 4:34.3 made in May, 1936 still stands as a state record in class B. That mark surpassed the previous record of 4:34.6 held by Gardner of Hastings. He also holds the Upper Peninsula record in the mile event, having traversed that distance in 4:32.2 in the same year.

Dad Was Runner

In his freshman year at Purdue, he won the inter-class cross country run, stepping the 2 3/4 miles in 13:10.8.

Holderman has the background and physical ability to become a good miler. A lanky chap, with a big chest capacity, Eddie takes enormous strides and his easy running form belies the speed with which he covers the ground. He is the son of Herb Holderman, 623 South Eighth Street, Escanaba, who was a half miler at Purdue in his undergraduate days. Eddie, who also is a capable student, started his career as a runner under the tutelage of Henry Wylie, Escanaba high school track coach, who was one of the best distance men ever produced at Michigan State College at East Lansing.

IRON RIVER MAY HAVE LIGHTS

Night Football Being Investigated By City Officials

Iron River, March 17—Installation of lights at the new football field at the fairgrounds was urged by the Junior Chamber of Commerce at a meeting of the board of education last night.

E. J. Van Ornum, president of the board, instructed the building committee to obtain figures and data on the project and report at the next meeting.

The committee of the chamber, headed by Russell Helgemo, said that lighted football fields in many parts of the country have paid for themselves by increased attendance at games. Helgemo pointed out that many persons are unable to attend afternoon contests.

James Crumney, coach of the football team, presented figures showing attendance has increased from 100 to 400 per cent at cities having night games.

Accompanying Helgemo and Crumney were Carl Linbeck, Woodrow Johnson and Everett Fralling.

The chamber also urged the building of bleachers at the field. It presented a plan to seat 1400 spectators at a cost of approximately $9,000. It was estimated the lighting project would involve an expenditure of about $2,000. The school's share, however, would be small by submitting the project to the WPA.

Marquette Bowling Tournament Is Not Affected By Blaze

Contrary to rumors, bowling alleys to be used for the Upper Peninsula bowling tournament at Marquette next month were not affected by the fire in Marquette's business section Thursday. The tournament alleys are in an entirely different location, and are reported in the best of condition for the annual session.

The Arcade alleys of Escanaba are the leading bidders for the 1940 peninsula tournament, and at least 30 Escanaba teams are being lined up to go to Marquette for this year's meeting.

Bad Eye Calls Off Lewis Bout

Detroit, March 17 (AP)—John J. Hetteche, chairman of the Michigan board of athletic control, announced tonight the fight between John Henry Lewis, light heavyweight champion, and Dava Clark of Detroit had been called off because of an injury to Lewis' left eye. Lewis was to have defended his title against the Detroit negro here March 31.

Hetteche said an examination of Lewis by two physicians had revealed the champion was "in good condition except for his left eye."

Dr. Daniel R. Donovan, who examined Lewis, reported that "sight of Lewis' left eye is almost nil. He was unable to reach even headline print of a newspaper and apparently could distinguish only light from dark."

"Examination of Lewis' left eye," reported Dr. C. L. Tomes, "revealed that he could not detect the number of fingers held 18 inches from the eye." The physician diagnosed the ailment as "probable traumatic cataract."

Lewis failed to appear for an additional examination today ordered by Hetteche after the two physicians made their report. He was to leave tonight for his home in Pittsburgh, apparently resentful of official demands for the recheck of his condition.

Hetteche explained that he ordered Lewis to appear before Dr. J. Milton Robb, eye specialist, "to find if the eye condition was an old ailment."

"When he failed to show up, I decided he could not defend his title in Detroit," Hetteche said.

STOCKS SLUMP 1 TO 5 POINTS

Table with columns: Stock Market Averages, Net change, Previous day, Month ago, Year ago, 1938 high, 1938 low, 1937 low.

BY FREDERICK GARDNER New York, March 17 (AP)—Stocks tumbled 1 to more than 5 points today in one of the worst spills of the year and Wall Street resurrected the explanation of "European war fears" to account for the relapse.

Prices improved around mid-day, but a heavy wave of offerings struck the market after the statement of Undersecretary of State Welles denouncing German seizure of Czechoslovakia.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off 1.5 points, the most severe set-back since January 23. Transfers amounted to 1,470,190 shares compared with 569,520 the day before.

Conspicuous losers included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, Douglas Aircraft, American Telephone, American Westinghouse, Du Pont, Allied Chemical, Johns-Manville, International Harvester, Santa Fe and Standard Oil of N. J.

Previously market sentiment had been unsettled by signs of growing indignation in England regarding the Reich's latest advances. Adding to the day's chill, brokers said, were waning hopes of any material business transactions at this session of congress. The few fairly cheerful items, such as a modest increase in this week's automotive production, were virtually ignored.

Lockheed fell 2 points in the curb and Electric Bond & Share ended a major fraction lower. Other losers of 1 to 2 or more included American Cyanamid "B," Lake Shore and American Gas & Electric. Turnover of 227,000 shares compared with 131,000 Thursday.

In Camp With Big Leaguers

Clearwater (AP)—Van Lingle Mungo, Brooklyn Dodger's problem pitcher, received another arm treatment from Trainer Jenny Carroll of the Detroit Tigers in Lakeland Friday.

Baton Rouge (AP)—Despite continued high winds, the New York Giants went through another long drill. Bill Terry stressed batting and Frank Demaree, the former Chicago Cub, showed better form than as earlier in the month.

New Orleans (AP)—Johnny Bronco, holdout pitcher who is demanding a $5,000 bonus for signing, is expected to reach the Cleveland Indians training camp here Sunday.

San Antonio (AP)—It was St. Pat's Day and big Buck Brown, recalcitrant St. Louis Browns pitcher, wore a dark green-striped suit, but Vice-Principal William O. DeWitt was even more resplendent with a much brighter green ensemble.

With all this "wearing of the green" and the good fellowship that goes with it, Newsom and DeWitt finally got together after prolonged differences and the holdout pitcher signed a one-year contract at an undisclosed figure.

It was believed Newsom gave ground from his demand for $20,000. The Browns were reported to have offered him $14,000.

BERLIN PRESS STRIKES BACK AT CRITICISM

Foreign Minister Chvalkovsky, ordering him to surrender the legation and Czech consulates to the German embassy.

He called back: "I do not recognize President Hacha's capitulation to Chancellor Hitler as valid inasmuch as it is unconstitutional and, therefore, I refuse to hand over any property of the Czechoslovak republic in the United States of America to the diplomatic mission of Germany."

He added: "According to the constitution of the Czechoslovak republic, any territorial changes of the state must be approved by the Czechoslovak national assembly with a three-fifths majority of all its members. The president of the government is not empowered by the constitution to cede any part of Czechoslovak territory. The agreement signed in Berlin on March 15, therefore, is not valid. I took oath to obey the laws of the Czechoslovak republic; no one has power to force me to act against the law."

Court May Decide

Since this deadlock is likely to continue indefinitely in view of the fact there is no longer any national assembly in Prague, the matter may have to be taken to the United States supreme court for solution.

According to the constitution, the supreme court has original jurisdiction in all cases affecting ambassadors, other republic ministers and consuls.

Welles' statement noted that "from the day when the republic of Czechoslovakia attained its independence, the people of the United States have maintained specially close and friendly relations" with it.

After condemning the occupation of the country by the Reich the statement added:

"The position of the government of the United States has been made consistently clear. It has emphasized the need for respect for the sanctity of treaties and of the pledged word, and for non-intervention by any nation in the domestic affairs of other nations; and it has on repeated occasions expressed its condemnation of a policy of military aggression."

Trade Pact Scrapped

Welles added that "the imperative need for the observance of the principles advocated by this government has been clearly demonstrated by the developments which have taken place during the past three days."

Another major development today was a proclamation from the treasury virtually scrapping the reciprocal trade agreement between the United States and what was Czechoslovakia. It provided that goods from Bohemia, Moravia and Slovakia should be treated as German goods, and thus be subject to the higher duties which apply only to the Reich because she is on the United States' tariff "blacklist."

Officials reserved judgment about the fourth province of Czechoslovakia, Carpatho-Ukraine or Ruthenia, which has not been occupied by Germany but has been seized by Hungary.

It was announced that while the favorable tariff treatment in the trade pact would not longer apply to Bohemia, Moravia and Slovakia, it would continue to apply to other nations affected by the treaty.

When the United States signs a trade pact with a country, it automatically extends its benefits to all other countries with which it has "most-favored nation" treaties, which means every country except Germany.

It was emphasized that the treasury's action did not mean diplomatic recognition of the legitimacy of Germany's acquisition of Czechoslovak territory.

MANY SUICIDES

Prague, March 17 (AP)—Germany consolidated her hold on Bohemia and Moravia tonight with numerous arrests and continuing troop movements.

The efforts of social welfare agencies with British and American backing to aid political refugees and Jews to get out of the country collapsed with the arrest of at least 47 of their leaders.

There were a number of Jewish suicides.

The newspaper "Expres" reported 20 of them, including Eugen Zuecker, retired director of the Anglo Bank; Rudolph Wahle, a retired judge; and Paul Donner, former director of the Czech radio system.

Hospitals reported 80 Jewish suicides had been brought in to them. A man and woman on a park bench behind the Bohemian museum shot themselves. Another couple jumped from their apartment window.

Mrs. Frantiska Palminkova, 60 year old Czech senator, was reported by friends to be among the undisclosed number of persons rounded up by the secret police in their drive to clear Prague of "undesirable elements."

She is an internationally known leader in social matters and a member of the Social Democrat party. She has visited in the United States and England.

The former military camp at Mikovice, 25 miles from Prague, was turned into a concentration camp.

Among the leaders of social welfare agencies who were arrested was Ada Smolkova, who had been working in close touch with Americans and British organizations.

had a circulation of about 100,000, was suspended and the plant confiscated last night for publishing a picture of Adolf Hitler which the Nazis did not like. The photographic editor was arrested.

ENGLAND WILL FIGHT

Birmingham, England, March 17 (AP)—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain tonight bitterly lashed Chancellor Adolf Hitler as a breaker of promises and warned him that Britain would fight if he continued to seek domination of Europe by force.

He charged the reichsfuehrer had taken "the law in his own hands" by occupation of Czechoslovakia, announced his own hopes of appeasement had been "wantonly shattered," and declared firmly:

"No greater mistake could be made than to suppose that because it believes war to be a cruel and senseless thing that this nation has so far lost its fibre that it will not take part, to the utmost of its power, in resisting such a challenge (to dominate the world by force) if it ever were made."

Chamberlain spoke on the eve of his seventieth birthday before a political rally of his fellow townsmen. In the speech, his first fighting speech against dictators since he became prime minister, he threw his appeasement policy overboard.

"I am convinced," he said, "that after Munich the great majority of the British people shared my hope and ardently desired that that policy should be carried further."

"But today I share their disappointment and their indignation that these hopes have been so wantonly shattered."

In another place he said: "There is nothing I would not sacrifice for peace, but there is one thing that I will expect, and that is the liberties that we have enjoyed for hundreds of years and which we will never surrender."

Chamberlain was interrupted frequently by deafening cheers.

During the day his government had shown its disapproval of Germany's action by summoning home the ambassador to Berlin, Sir Neville Henderson, "to report" on events in Czechoslovakia.

It was believed Sir Neville would be kept in England for some time as a protest against the German moves. Britain also was considering acting with France in a joint protest to Berlin.

In sharp words such as a British prime minister has rarely if ever used in condemning another nation, Chamberlain said Germany's invasion of Czechoslovakia was in "complete disregard of principles laid down by the

TO THE VOTERS OF NAHMA TOWNSHIP:

I, John W. Nepper, having been defeated for the nomination for Supervisor at the Nahma Township Caucus, appreciate the support the Nahma Township voters gave me.

I also wish to extend my thanks to the Delta County Road Commission for their cooperation in keeping the roads open so that the taxpayers could get to the polls. A Nahma store clerk made the remark that the St. Jacques and Isabella voters needn't expect to be at the Caucus as the roads wouldn't be plowed. Evidently he knew what he was talking about. It is quite clear that the voters residing in Nahma elect the Township officers and not the taxpayers. The Township Board Caucus at midnight as at such an unreasonable hour as six-thirty. When conditions such as these exist, I realize the impossibility for the taxpayers to have anything to say.

I will be a slip candidate for the office of Supervisor at the election on April 3, and I hope the election will be held during the day.

In closing, I suggest that, for the convenience of the taxpayers, the Township Board hold their Caucus during the day next year.

Each time the orchestra goes to work, says Miss Elizabeth Swain, music teacher, and Albert Nimms, orchestra director, the snake slithers out of its hole in the walls of the school building and takes a comfortable position on the back of a chair nearby.

There the snake clings as long as the orchestra practices—periodically running its tongue out at the young musicians in a gesture they interpret as applause.
