CIVIL SERVICE AND WELFARE BILLS PUSHED

NEW MERIT SYSTEM SET-UP WOULD EXEMPT 7000

Lansing, March 21 (AP)—The house state affairs committee tonight reported to the floor of the house of representatives a revised civil service law which would exempt approximately 7,000 employees from the merit system and would require all employees to take competitive examinations to hold their jobs.

The measure, as reported, contained an appropriation of $50,000 for the civil service department, a move intended to prevent an initiatory referendum which would delay the measure until 1940. The bill must go to the house ways and means committee.

The present department had an appropriation of $300,000, of which it received more than $250,000 this year.

The bill proposes to make it optional with educational, correctional, hospital and penal institutions whether their employees are to come under the act. "Division heads and such inspectors and auditors as the several department heads shall deem necessary to carry out the policies of their departments" would also be exempt.

Re-examination Required—All state employees, the bill proposes, would be required to take open competitive examinations to keep their jobs, being retained temporarily until the examinations are completed. They would be given a credit of one point for each year in state service on their examinations. All existing eligibility registers would be abandoned.

The bill would provide for a four-man commission, consisting of two Republicans and two Democrats, instead of the present bipartisan three-man commission, and would grant the commission greater charge over the department. The director would be limited mainly to conducting examinations.

The proposal includes eliminating the civil service department's requirement to study all existing positions with a view to "weeding them out," and would give the legislature the power to confirm salary schedules.

THREE RELIEF BILLS

Lansing, March 21 (AP)—A third welfare reorganization bill, this time supported by the civic groups which sponsored the invalidated welfare reorganization in 1937, was introduced in the legislature today, as Governor Dickinson asserted he would yield to no faction in obtaining a fair settlement of the controversial issue.

He declared a measure which would serve the best interests of the state "must come before any party interests."

Members of both parties filed bills simultaneously in the house and senate. Like the bill submitted by the late Governor Fitzgerald, they would recognize need as the major factor in distributing state welfare funds to the counties. Another bill, backed by the state association of supervisors, proposes a distribution formula

Congress Studies Legislation To Tax Profit Out Of War

Washington, March 31. (AP)—Legislation designed to "tax the profits of war" by a drastic step-up in income taxes was introduced in congress today by 50 senators and four representatives.

Senator Bone (D-Wash.), who offered the senate the bill bearing more than enough signatures to pass it through that chamber said the legislation would "make it impossible for any human being to profiteer in case of war."

Bone explained that, in case of war, levies on individual incomes would range as high as 93 per cent of net income in excess of $20,000, with a similar step-up in corporation income.

The legislation has been advocated for several years by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and other civic and peace groups. The bill was entitled a measure "to tax the profits out of war by steeply graduated income and other taxes, in order to provide for an effective national defense, to promote peace, to encourage actual neutrality, to discourage war profiteering, to distribute the burdens of war, and to keep democracy alive."

Michigan Pair Signs—Those who signed the proposal included the two Michigan senators, Arthur H. Vandenberg and Prentiss M. Brown.

Rep. Van Zandt (R-Pa.), who also signed, said the measure would "avoid the necessity for any dictatorship control" to prevent profiteering.

During the day there were other developments bearing on international affairs.

President Roosevelt, asked for his reaction to developments in central Europe, said he was not happy over the situation, but would not comment further.

It became known, however, that the United States government has formally communicated to Germany its "condemnation" of Hitler's seizure of Czech-Slovakia as an act of "wanton lawlessness."

A statement made public by the state department today, refused to "recognize that any legal basis exists" for Hitler's proclivities over Bohemia and Moravia.

GREENVILLE HAS DOUBLE KILLING

Man and Wife Victims of Gunplay; Old Friend Held

Greenville, March 21. (AP)—A man and his wife were killed here Tuesday evening by four shots from a .45 caliber revolver fired when the husband and a visitor were fighting according to Sheriff Chris Hanson, who held George U. Beebe, 64, of Indianapolis, Ind., for investigation.

Ralph Huntley, 69, and his wife Frances, 67, were the victims of the bullets. They lived two miles south of here on M-66.

Beebe told officers he came to the Huntley home after receiving a letter from Mrs. Huntley urging him to come and get her and take her back to Indianapolis to keep house for him.

According to Beebe's story, he had known the Huntleys for 16 years and Mrs. Huntley had twice been his housekeeper in that time. Sheriff Hanson said. He said the Huntleys had been estranged but in recent months had been reconciled until domestic differences again made them decide to separate.

Beebe said Huntley ordered him from the farm when he arrived and then attacked him with a flashlight according to the sheriff. He said he then pulled out his gun and in the ensuing fight the shots were discharged.

Cleveland, March 21 (AP)—Consumption of Lake Superior iron ore by furnaces totalled 2,852,540 tons in February, the Lake Superior Iron Ore association said today. This compared with 2,926,706 tons in January and 1,776,585 tons in February, 1938.

Iron ore on hand at furnaces and Lake Erie docks March 1 totalled 28,840,053 tons against 31,688,905 tons a month before and 37,158,401 tons March 1, 1938.

MOVE STARTED TO TRIP HITLER

Britain Calls for Help of Russia, France and Poland

BY JAMES C. OLDFIELD

London, March 21 (AP)—Great Britain called for a combination of Soviet Russia, France, Poland and herself against German aggression tonight while clamor increased for some form of conscription at home to fit the nation for new European responsibilities.

Foreign Minister Viscount Halifax asked the three countries to sign a declaration with Britain announcing a common policy of resistance to aggression and binding themselves to "consult as to the action they would take" if Chancellor Hitler attempted non-Germanic conquests.

Definite military commitments were envisaged by the declaration, on which Rumania, Turkey, Greece, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria also were approached with a view to their possible adherence later. The British view was that the four big powers should act quickly—possibly before Sunday, when Premier Mussolini is to speak and perhaps define the Italian attitude on current developments.

A belief, however, was held in some quarters that Soviet support for a strong "stop Hitler" bloc was uncertain because a Moscow communique announced that London considered "premature" a Soviet suggestion for an immediate six-power conference to "clarify" their positions.

Congress Is Asked To Repay Michigan Processing Taxes

Lansing, March 21 (AP)—Attorney General Thomas Read asked congress today to reimburse Michigan for $46,956 in floor and processing taxes paid under the former agriculture adjustment act.

Read said the tax originally was paid under protest for cotton manufacturers at the state prison of southern Michigan and that when the A. A. tax was declared unconstitutional the previous state administration allowed the deadline for repayment to pass without filing a claim.

Fitzgerald Extolled As Martyr In Lansing Memorial Services

Lansing, March 21. (AP)—Friends of late Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald extolled him as a martyr and statesman today at memorial services in the house of representatives.

The ceremony was conducted in the chambers where, just 11 weeks ago yesterday, hundreds of persons gathered to acclaim Fitzgerald as the first governor to make a successful comeback after having gone down once in defeat at the polls.

Political personages wept openly as praise was spoken of their dead leader. Governor Luren D. Dickinson, who advanced from the position of lieutenant governor to succeed Fitzgerald, declared the late governor's career would be an inspiration for future generations of young men and women who would seek to duplicate his rise from a humble senate committee clerk to the executive office.

Former Governor William A. Comstock, a Democrat, joined in the tribute, recalling the days when he as executive and Fitz-

SOLONS VOTE TO PUT CURB ON PRESIDENT

MOTION IS PENDING TO RECONSIDER DECISION

Washington, March 21 (AP)—By a three-vote margin, the senate adopted today an amendment sharply reducing presidential powers under the government reorganization bill and then, after a confused and noisy interim of parliamentary maneuvering, recessed with a motion pending to reconsider its decision.

The amendment, proposed by Senator Wheeler (D-Mont), declares that presidential orders abolishing, consolidating or reshuffling government agencies under the bill must, to become effective, have the specific approval of both houses of congress. The original bill provides that the orders shall go into operation unless both houses object.

Garner Won't Vote—The period of parliamentary sharpshooting which followed the 46 to 43 vote offered Vice President Garner one of his rare opportunities to cast a vote. A motion to table the pending motion to reconsider brought a tie count, 44 to 44. At that point it was within Garner's power to clinch the Wheeler amendment by breaking the tie in favor of its proponents. Instead, he merely announced that the motion to table had lost for lack of a majority.

Actually, the margin by which the Wheeler proposal won was a single vote. After the senate roll had been called, but before the vote was announced, Senator Byrnes (D-SC), knowing the result was 45 to 44 for the amendment, changed his vote from "no" to "aye." Byrnes is a leading proponent of the original bill, and his object was to move reconsideration (a senator must have voted with the winning side to make such a motion) and reopen the question in the hope that another day would bring a different result.

Beaten to Jump—But a motion to reconsider is also a parliamentary weapon frequently employed by the leaders of the winning side of a question on which there has been a close decision. It is common practice in such a case for the leader of the victorious faction to move reconsideration and for a lieutenant to move immediately that that motion be laid on the table. This cuts off debate and clinches the victory before time, argument and pressure can change any votes.

Aware of Byrnes' intent and (Continued on Page Two)

Quincy, Mich. (AP)—Ten-year-old Patricia Donner was struck and killed by an automobile Tuesday while she was crossing a street on her way to school. Police said the car was driven by Mrs. Lois Riggelman, a rural school teacher, also of Quincy.

Mt. Clemens, Mich., March 21 (AP)—Walter Tilk, 51-year-old Frasher farmer, was killed and his father, Charles, 75, was injured seriously tonight when their automobile collided with a north-bound Grand Trunk passenger train at the Cass avenue crossing here.

Morning Press Founder Passes Away At Hospital

Felix J. Byrne, 81, of 211 South Fifteenth street, one of the original founders of the Morning Press company, and veteran in the circulation department of the Daily Press, died 6:15 o'clock Tuesday morning at St. Francis hospital. His death caused by pneumonia, followed only a few days' illness.

Mr. Byrne was born in Waterloo, Wis., January 18, 1858, and he came to the Upper Peninsula from Wisconsin where he had been engaged in teaching, in 1900, to manage the saw mill of the Corcoran Lumber company at Faus. Previous to his association with the Daily Press, he was with the Central Delivery System, of which he was founder and manager.

He was a devout member of St. Patrick's parish, and an honorary member of Escanaba Council, Knights of Columbus.

Surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Dorothy Sullivan of Minneapolis; Mrs. Mary Bolger, of Waterloo, Wis., and Mrs. E. T. Hooper of Williston, N. D.

The body was taken to the Alto Funeral Home to be prepared for burial, and will remain in state in the chapel there, until the funeral hour. Services will be held Thursday morning at eight o'clock at St. Patrick's church, the Very Rev. Fr. Thomas A. Kennedy officiating. Immediately following the service the funeral cars will leave for Waterloo, where burial will be made in the Byrne family lot in Waterloo cemetery.

Supreme court justices and other persons who had worked for years with Fitzgerald participated in the program.

First Day of Spring Sets Record

Yesterday was the first day of spring, and brought Escanaba melting snow, slushy streets and the highest temperature recorded at the local weather bureau office since last November. The mercury reached a peak of 42.5 degrees at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, when Betty Fillion (left), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Fillion, and Katherine Perrin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Perrin, were caught by the camera as they ate ice cream cones while wading across First avenue south at Seventh street. Continued melting is predicted for today.

Germany May Retaliate In Trade War With U.S.

Berlin, March 21 (AP)—The German economics ministry today studied the 25 per cent extra duties which the United States has imposed on most German goods, presumably with a view to taking retaliatory action.

A veiled threat that retaliatory steps might be taken was made by Boersenzeltung, one of Germany's leading financial organs, but private research experts said they believed such action might be difficult.

Germany's most natural answer would be to curtail imports from the United States. These imports, however, consist largely of cotton, wheat and copper, all important on the German import schedule of raw materials.

"That we in Germany shall now reflect as to whether and what counter measures are now due to ensue—about this nobody should entertain the slightest doubts, even for one moment," Boersenzeltung said.

German officials withheld comment on a United States note declaring absorption of Bohemia and Moravia was illegal, but the controlled press lashed out at western powers, accusing them of attempting to bottle up Germany in central Europe (through efforts to form a "stop-Hitler" bloc).

Officials explained that the American note had not yet been received by the foreign office and the United States embassy said it apparently had been delivered to the German embassy in Washington, since it did not come through the embassy here.

Meanwhile Adolf Hitler made doubly sure that Premier Mussolini would understand developments of last week, when he made his newest territorial gain.

Absence of congratulations from Rome has given rise to speculation as to whether it was an indication Mussolini was lukewarm toward German expansion in central Europe. He had been prompt to send congratulations after the absorption of Austria and the Sudetenland, but officials were inclined to minimize the lack of them now.

Informed sources said the Italian dictator was eager to have a complete description of Hitler's progress and intentions. The former was reported to have given Italian Ambassador Bernardo D. Attolico a personal letter to Il Duce before the envoy left last night for Rome.

Man Legally Dead In Berrien County Seeks Court Help

St. Joseph, Mich., March 21 (AP)—Charles Harner, "legally dead" for the past 12 years, asked Probate Judge Malcolm K. Hatfield today for a determination of his legal status.

Harner, former resident of Lake Township, Berrien county, left home 23 years ago after a quarrel and settled in the state of Washington. In 1927 relatives petitioned to have him declared legally dead.

Harner asked the judge also for advice on how to collect $800, his share of his mother's estate, which was turned over to the county treasurer when Harner could not be found.

NO BANQUETING FOR DICKINSON

New Governor Asks That Citizens Help Save His Strength

Lansing, March 21. (AP)—Governor Dickinson appealed to the citizens of Michigan to refrain from inviting him to banquets or from pressing upon him other duties which would tax his slowly-returning strength.

"My business is the business of the state of Michigan," Dickinson said, "I don't want to be discourteous, but I think the people will understand why."

The 79-year-old executive who rose from a sick bed to take his oath of office when the late Frank D. Fitzgerald died last week indicated he might have foregone one of his greatest ambitions, attending a conference in Kansas City April 26 which is to unite three branches of the Methodist church. He had been elected chairman of Michigan's lay delegation to that conference.

Relating his dependence on his physician, the governor declared: "I will not leave the state or do anything without his consent. It would not be fair to the state of Michigan."

The governor said he planned to continue teaching Sunday school in the Center Eaton Methodist Episcopal church, where he has taught an adult class for 30 years, leading several generations in Bible study.

Mrs. Dickinson, more seriously ill than her husband, was reported gaining steadily.

Attendant Admits Slugging Himself

Detroit, (AP)—Detroit police said Tuesday that Allen Johnson, 27, a filling station attendant, had admitted he hit himself on the head with a tire iron, took $40 from the station safe, and reported a robbery to police last Saturday. Police quoted Johnson as saying "I got behind in my car payments and had to raise money somewhere."

Collector Claims He Was Kidnaped

Grand Rapids, (AP)—Police opened an investigation Tuesday to a report by Roy Hacker, 39-year-old collector for the Michigan Credit Service, that he had been kidnaped in his automobile and robbed of $22 by two men last night. Hacker, a resident of Ionia, told police the men jumped into his car when he stopped for a traffic light, threatened him with a pistol, and forced him to drive to Lowell, where they robbed him.

DEMAND SENT IN ULTIMATUM TO LITHUANIA

RUMANIA MASSING TROOPS AGAINST BULGARIA

Kaunas, Lithuania, March 21. (AP)—Victor Gailius, Lithuanian governor of the Memel territory, said tonight that Germany had given Lithuania a virtual ultimatum demanding cession of the territory to the Reich.

Gailius said Lithuania had been told that if disturbances occurred before transfer of the Memel territory, German troops would march in to restore order.

The statement was made after the Lithuanian cabinet, meeting in extraordinary session, was reported to have decided to yield to Germany in her agitation for return of the former German territory and its 150,000 inhabitants.

Harbor Rights Hinted—Without revealing the government's decision an official communique showed the firmness of the language of the German foreign minister, Joachim Von Ribbentrop, when he received the Lithuanian foreign minister, Juozas Urbys, on Monday and applied the "self-determination of nations" lever to the Memel question.

The communique said: "Urbys, on his return from Berlin informed the cabinet ministers of the results of his conversation with Ribbentrop. Ribbentrop presented on the Reich's behalf a demand for the return of Memel to Germany, adding that if effected amicably Germany would take into consideration the economic interests of Lithuania in the harbor of Memel."

"This demand was based by Ribbentrop on the principle of self-determination of nations."

"Ribbentrop further intimated that the mood in Memel was such that the question had to be settled rapidly on the basis proposed by Germany to avoid clashes."

"The council of ministers deliberated on the situation created by those demands from 2 p. m. to 7 p. m. Urbys later gave an account of the situation in a secret meeting of parliament lasting from 9 p. m. to midnight."

Questioned regarding the Lithuanian garrison in Memel, Gailius said that certain equipment already had been moved, but that orders were being awaited from Kaunas before evacuation of troops took place.

He said Lithuania's answer to the virtual ultimatum would be delivered to Berlin tomorrow.

Previously military circles had denied emphatically that Lithuanian troops already had left the territory, a 1,098 square mile strip detached from East Prussia by the Treaty of Versailles and later placed under Lithuanian rule.

In the Headlines From Washington

The senate voted, 46 to 43, to curtail the president's powers under the government reorganization bill passed by the house. The question will be reconsidered tomorrow.

President Roosevelt said at his press conference he favored reducing expenses if there were some guarantee that private industry would absorb millions of the unemployed.

The state department made public a note advising Germany this country saw "no legal basis" for establishment of a protectorate over Bohemia and Moravia.

A house appropriations subcommittee discussed whether to recommend an amount for relief smaller than the $150,000,000 requested by Mr. Roosevelt.

The house military committee recommended legislation to permit the purchase of $100,000,000 of strategic war materials.

Mr. Roosevelt nominated Dean Wiley B. Rutledge, Jr., of the University of Iowa law school, for the United States court of appeals in the District of Columbia.

The textile industry committee recommended at 32 1/2 cents minimum hourly wage for the industry.

STUDENT GROUP OPPOSES KIPKE

Voters of State Are Asked to Repudiate Regent Nominee

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 21 (AP)—Claiming to express the feeling of the student body of the University of Michigan, the student senate tonight went on record as opposing the candidacy of Harry Kipke, deposed football coach, for membership on the university's board of regents.

In the form of a resolution the student group said: "Representing the student body of the University of Michigan we call upon the voters of the state to repudiate unconditionally Mr. Kipke at the polls." Kipke, as a resident of Ann Arbor, is a Republican candidate for one of two vacancies on the board of regents in the April elections.

The resolution said in full: "Whereas: It has come to the attention of the student senate that many statements have been made, in behalf of Mr. Harry Kipke's candidacy for the board of regent, which claim the support of the students and other university groups, we hereby go on record as opposing those unwarranted representations.

"Whereas: Mr. Kipke's background as discharged football coach does not indicate the necessary qualifications for a regent of the university.

"Whereas: The candidacy of Mr. Harry Kipke is detrimental to the best interest of the general student body, faculty and administration of the University of Michigan, we, representing the student body of the university, call upon the voters of the state to repudiate unconditionally Mr. Kipke's candidacy at the polls."

The resolution was adopted in a vote by 22 members of the senate. Ten members were absent.

SOLONS VOTE TO PUT CURB ON PRESIDENT

knowing that he, after moving reconsideration, would present to discuss his motion—thus preventing the submission of a motion to table—Senator Clark (D-Mo) beat him to the jump. He obtained recognition as soon as the vote was announced and in one sentence moved to reconsider and to table his own motion.

Borah Silent

There followed a lusty argument as to whether one senator could make both motions. Vice President Garner was of the opinion he could not. Clark replied that he could show Garner instances in which the latter had ruled otherwise. Senator Wheeler himself ended the impasse by moving to table Clark's reconsideration motion. The 44-44 tie vote followed.

The shift from 46-43 to 44-44 was brought about by two things. Senator Byrnes, of course, switched to the administration side. Senator Borah (R-Ida), who had voted for the Wheeler amendment, sat silently at his desk and did not vote at all on the second question. It is his practice never to vote for a motion which cuts off debate. Thus two votes were subtracted from Wheeler's side and one added to that of the administration.

Work Is Resumed At Flint; Dispute Goes To Mediators

Detroit, March 21 (AP)—A labor dispute which closed General Motors Fisher Body Plant No. 1 and the Buick plant yesterday was turned over to a mediation board today and work was resumed.

Representatives of the United Automobile Workers and the management scheduled a bargaining conference in Detroit following a preliminary meeting here last night.

The dispute sent one thousand Fisher employees home. Buick departments employing 3,300 men were closed for four hours for lack of automobile bodies.

A union spokesman said the dispute was caused by refusal of six men to take the jobs of men who had been laid off in the trim department. He said the dispute did not involve factional differences in the UAW.

Cab Driver Crashes Police Station With Escaping Gun Bandit

Milwaukee, March 21 (AP)—A young man pushed a gun into the ribs of Don Elliot, 33, a taxicab driver, today and ordered him to drive quickly out of the downtown district. Instead Elliot headed his cab down a ramp and smashed through a door leading into central police headquarters.

The gunman ran out but was captured. He gave his name as Joseph Ricardo, 28, and admitted, police said, he served a one to five year term for holding up a Detroit shoe store.

Police said two detectives sought to question Ricardo in a railroad station. Ricardo drew a gun, they said, disarmed the detectives, ran out, and jumped into Elliot's cab.

Detective Captain Adolph Kraemer said Julius Franz, a Chicago salesman, identified Ricardo as the man who slugged and robbed him of $9.90 last night.

CIVIL SERVICE AND WELFARE BILLS PUSHED

In which population would be the important factor.

The new bills would create a five-member county public welfare board, to which the boards of supervisors would appoint two members, urban centers two and the state department of public welfare the fifth. In any county having a city containing 50 per cent or more of the population, that city would name the two urban representatives. In other counties, each of the two largest communities would name one apiece.

AGE BENEFITS RAISED

Lansing, March 21 (AP)—The legislature completed action today on a bill appropriating $500,000 to permit the addition of 20,000 persons to the old age assistance rolls before July 1.

The senate gave its concurrence to the measure today after Senator Don Vanderwerp, Republican, Fremont, chairman of its finance committee, declared it would permit the addition of 1,000 persons before April 1. None of the money may be used to increase the allowances of those already on the old age assistance rolls.

The measure now goes to Governor Dickinson for his signature. It carries an immediate effect clause.

The house of representatives prepared to demand a joint conference with the senate to fight that branch's $1,000,000 reduction in a general deficiency bill. Rep. John P. Esple, Republican, Eagle, chairman of the house ways and means committee, said the house objected to the senate's removal of its appropriating funds for medical aid for crippled and afflicted children. "It's a service the state can not avoid," he said, "and I think we should insist."

The measure also appropriates $4,000,000 for welfare purposes.

He said he did not object to the senate's deletion of appropriations for construction at the Michigan College of Mining and Technology and Michigan State college.

PROBATE CODE PASSED

Lansing, March 21 (AP)—The senate adopted a code of revised probate laws and five amendments to the criminal code today in a brief session that followed memorial services for the late Governor Fitzgerald in which both branches of the legislature, administrative and judicial officials participated.

House and senate adjourned today until Thursday to permit legislators to attend funeral services in Detroit tomorrow for Senator James Murphy, automobile accident victim.

The bill that embraces the proposed probate code consists of 267 pages. In addition, the senate judiciary committee made more than 450 amendments which will be included in reprinted copies that will be available in the house of representatives, which has yet to vote on the measure.

Nothing Controversial

The senate passed the bill without having it read from the floor, to save time. None of its provisions were controversial in nature.

The proposed amendments to the criminal code which received senate approval had the endorsement of the state associations of prosecuting attorneys and chiefs of police. They would:

Permit the introduction of certified or photostatic copies of state police records or files as evidence.

Provide uniform extradition laws to facilitate the prosecution of conspiracy cases.

Permit husband or wife to testify against the other in a connection with a crime committed by one against the other, or against their children.

Make the reckless use of firearms and the reckless operation of power boats misdemeanors.

Stage and Screen Stars Considering Changing Partners

Hollywood, Calif., March 21 (AP)—Johnny Weismuller, screen Tarsan, and Miss Beryl Scott, formerly of San Francisco, will be married in July, Johnny announced today after his arrival from Florida.

He embraced Miss Scott, who met him at the train, and said: "Lupe will get her final decree in July and then it will be wedding bells for us."

Lupe Velez, who divorced Weismuller after a tempestuous matrimonial career, recently said there is a new romance in her life, but declined to identify the man.

New York, March 21 (AP)—Billy Rose, showman, and Eleanor Holm Jarrett, swimming star, said tonight they would be married Sept. 19, "less than 24 hours" after Fanny Brice's California divorce from Rose becomes final. Eleanor's divorce from singer Arthur Jarrett becomes final June 15.

Rose said he planned to quit show business Nov. 1 to settle somewhere in the country "to raise chickens, thousands of them," with Eleanor.

Hollywood, March 21 (AP)—Tyrone Power and Annabella might be married in June, Power indicated today.

It was only an indication, however. He couldn't be pinned down to anything definite, except that he will begin a five weeks' vacation in June which probably will take him far, far away from the rigors of movie making.

Power recently purchased a suburban house from Grace Moore. He also recently put a ring on the blonde French actress' left hand.

And Annabella has been telling friends, guardedly, that her address soon will be "on Saltair avenue." That's where Power's new house is.

About marriage, Power says nothing. Whether Annabella, whom he escorts regularly, will accompany him as Mrs. Power on his vacation, he says nothing. He did say:

"I might go to Australia."

Anti-Saloon League Sees Chance To Get 'Break' At Lansing

Lansing, Mich., March 21 (AP)—The Michigan Anti-Saloon League believes it will "get an even break" through the elevation of Lauren D. Dickinson, president of the league, to the governorship of the state.

David L. McBride, state superintendent of the league, said "a break is all we ask."

"Probably," he added, "we will be encouraged to submit bills for stricter control of the liquor traffic."

McBride said the league has several regulatory measures in mind. They include, he said, bills which would order midnight closing of all liquor establishments, prohibit employment of women or girls in drinking places, and decrease the number of licenses.

parents' consent was deferred. Senator Miles M. Callaghan, Republican, Reed City, objected the measure "would make a law-breaker out of every hardware and sporting goods dealer in the state."

A bill which received senate approval would remove the regulation of public campaigns for charitable and benevolent purposes from the jurisdiction of probate courts. Its sponsor, Senator D. Hale Brake, Republican, Stanton, said probate judges had told him the statute had been on the books for years, unused.

Cleveland-Cliffs Ishpeming Office Damaged By Blaze

Ishpeming, Mich., March 21 (AP)—Fire broke out on the third floor of the general office building of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company about 6 p. m. today and at 11 p. m., despite work of firemen, the flames were still beyond control.

At 11 o'clock the roof had been practically burned off, but had not collapsed, due to the fact that the flames burned slowly, but stubbornly. The third floor was gutted.

There was no smoke on the first or second floors. On the third floor as firemen opened a door leading to a storage room for tables, flames shot out so hot, accompanied by black smoke, that the firemen were driven back. Frank Sull, a fireman, had a narrow escape from injury. The others ran down stairs, but he found his way to a window.

Origin of the fire was unknown tonight. Workmen were on the third floor this afternoon repairing a roof leak, but there was no way to associate any persons or accidents with the blaze.

Officials of the company would not hazard a guess as to the amount of damage or insurance coverage until they had an opportunity to consult the records, which were believed to be safe in vaults.

Valuable records of the company are safe, officials are certain, but today's records probably will be lost for the most part.

Damage will run into thousands of dollars, but no estimate could be given while the fire was in progress. Water damage, it was stated, will be as large as the fire damage.

The building was erected in 1899 for general offices purposes and had been used continuously as such since. The third floor had been used as a recreation center.

Alcatraz Prisoners File Habeas Corpus Pleas For Release

San Francisco, March 21 (AP)—Three Alcatraz prisoners filed habeas corpus petitions with the federal district court today, seeking release on the plea they were deprived counsel at their trials.

The three, Richard Neumer, Smyrna, Tenn., robbery; A. John Streng, sentenced from Michigan, and James McNealy, sentenced from Florida and Alabama, for postal robbery, quoted the case of Harold Martin Brest, another Alcatraz convict.

Brest, sentenced from Pittsburgh, Pa., for kidnaping and robbery, claimed he was deprived of counsel. Federal Judge Harold Louderback indicated he would sign an order for the man's release.

Federal Judge A. F. St. Sure today ordered Warden James A. Johnston of Alcatraz to appear April 10 to show cause why Harr J. "Sputz" Logan, convicted with Brest, should not be issued a writ of habeas corpus.

FIRE VICTIM SAVED

Bay City, Mich., March 21 (AP)—Deputy Sheriff Carl Stegman broke down the rear door of a burning house today and carried John Laracey, 77, to safety. Laracey lay on the floor overcome by smoke when Stegman broke in. The house was destroyed.

where it was reported Bulgarian troops had been concentrated.

The whole army corps was not being called, it was explained at the war department, but only artillerymen and engineers. Portions of three other army corps, of Rumania's seven, already had been summoned following reported Hungarian troop concentrations on the western and north-western border.

Official quarters also displayed concern over unconfirmed reports of the massing of 42 German divisions in Moravia, western portions of dissolved Czechoslovakia.

Rumanian police today investigated the death of the German legation secretary, Georges Schmidt, who was brought from the legation to the hospital with a bullet wound in his abdomen.

German quarters insisted that Schmidt had shot himself, although the legation refused to make a statement.

The police inquiry was hampered by the fact the legation is extrajurisdictional and not subject to domestic police regulations.

The occurrence came after the shooting of a German citizen by a Jew at Brasov had caused concern in the capital where King Carol is endeavoring to escape complete German domination of his country.

PERRON FAMILY HAS 2 DEATHS

Double Funeral Saturday for Mrs. Branshaw and Son Ed Perron

Mrs. Denise Branshaw, 83, of 714 First avenue south, died at her home at noon Tuesday, less than a day after the death of her son, Edward Perron, who passed away Monday evening at St. Francis hospital.

Mrs. Branshaw was born at Clarence Creek, Ont., and lived in Escanaba for 61 years. She is survived by a son, Octave, and four grandchildren.

The bodies of Mrs. Branshaw and her son, Mr. Perron, will both lie in state at the Alto Funeral Home beginning at 3 p. m. Thursday, and a double funeral will be held Saturday morning at St. Anne's church, with burial in St. Joseph's cemetery.

In foreign circles it had been noted that there was no published congratulatory message from Premier Mussolini to Chancellor Hitler, as there was when Germany absorbed Austria a year ago.

Presumably Bernardo D. Attolico, Italian ambassador to Berlin, had conferred with Mussolini prior to the meeting of the Fascist council, though this was not officially ascertained.

Attolico carried a letter from Hitler to his axis partner, Mussolini, explaining his policies in central Europe. Ottolico returned to Rome today to report on the European situation.

As for Italian colonial claims against France, Fascists now expect Il Duce will tell them his plans in this direction in a speech next Sunday celebrating the twentieth anniversary of the founding of the Fascist movement.

He was a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, the St. Joseph's Holy Name Society and a devout member of the congregation of St. Joseph's Catholic church.

The body was taken to the Allo Funeral Home to be prepared for burial and will lie in state at the funeral home Thursday afternoon at two o'clock. Funeral services will be held on Saturday morning from St. Joseph's church.

Smelt Jamboree Given Publicity

Nation-wide publicity is being given to Escanaba and the smelt runs in various newspapers and magazines and radio announcements during the past few days.

The outdoor magazine, Fur-Fish-Game, carries a smelt jamboree story with a picture of the jamboree queens in its current issue. Pictures of Barbara Banks, queen of the 1939 festival, appeared yesterday morning in the Chicago Tribune, Milwaukee Journal and Milwaukee Sentinel.

The NEA Every Week Magazine Service has made up a complete page of story and pictures about the Escanaba smelt runs, which is being distributed to the larger newspapers of the country for release Sunday, April 9.

The following letter was received from R. C. Ford, dean of the Wentworth Military Academy, Lexington, Mo.:

"A Rotarian friend of mine from Belleville, Ill., told me about a smelt dinner which his club had and at which you furnished the smelt. I am sure that such a dinner would be a treat to our fellows and no doubt would assist in advertising your product in our community. I am willing to assume the responsibility in promoting such a dinner and would give you full credit for same."

TACOOSH FIESTA BEING PLANNED

Rapid River Is Preparing to Cooperate With Smelt Jamboree

Rapid River, Mich.—The personnel of the various committees who will have charge of arrangements for the Tacoosh Fiesta to be staged in Rapid River Saturday night, April 15, as the closing event of the three-day Escanaba Smelt Jamboree, was announced at a citizens' meeting at the high school auditorium Monday evening.

Harry Buchman is general chairman of the Tacoosh Fiesta committees. Wallace Cameron is secretary and H. J. Wilford is treasurer.

Other committees are as follows: Executive—W. J. Miller, chairman, Matt Malnar, P. A. Peterson, Carl Person and George Anderson.

Finance—Nels Westling, chairman, Robert McPherson, Leslie Caswell, J. A. Shippy, and Larry Klug.

Fireworks—W. J. Miller, chairman, Harry Person, Peter Larson, Ray Labumbard, Ralph Lundquist, and Albert Schrader.

Lighting—H. J. Wilford, chairman, Carl Person, Todd Ewald and Sig Skoglund.

Entertainment—Wallace Cameron, chairman, Walter Bury, Matt Malnar, Hargrey Nelson and Glenn Hamilton.

Concessions—Executive committee.

Harold P. Lindsay, secretary, Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, Karl J. Hammar, chairman of the Escanaba Smelt Jamboree, Wm. J. Duchaine and Harold Gessner came over from Escanaba to tell of the plans for the celebration to be held April 13 to 15.

It is planned to construct a large outdoor stage on the west side of the Tacoosh river, along the bank near the rustic bridge, for the presentation of a fiesta program for the entertainment of the crowd on the other side of the river. Spotlights will be directed across the river onto the stage. A change in the general lighting set-up at the river is contemplated so as to not interfere with the smelt fishing, since it is believed that the bright illumination last year caused the light-shunning smelt to vanish from that particular section of the stream.

After the riverside festivities, a grand ball will be held at the new Rapid River high school gymnasium.

Other details of the program will be announced later.

COMMITTEES TO GIVE REPORTS

Citizens' Advisory Group to Discuss Water Plant Tonight

Reports of the sub-committees on their findings as to the advisability of constructing a new water plant in the city will be given at a meeting of the citizens' advisory committee to be held at the city hall this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Two weeks ago, the full committee was divided into three sections to investigate various phases of the proposed water plant. Since that time, these sub-committees have been active, making a thorough study of all aspects of the proposition and reports will be presented.

The study on financing of the proposed plant was made by a committee composed of William Warrington, Henry L. Rose, H. D. Brackett and Gust Asp.

Need and location was investigated by Gerald J. Cleary, M. R. Deo, Casper Olson and Mrs. E. J. MacMartin while coordination was under the direction of J. J. Bartella, F. J. Earle, John Nicholas and Dr. A. J. Carlton.

It is expected that a meeting of the full committee will be held sometime next week for a final coordinated report of the findings.

LEGION DONATES SMELT OFFICES

Veterans Get Awards for Membership Records

Cloverland Post 82, American Legion, has donated its headquarters at 715 Ludington to the Chamber of Commerce for smelt jamboree headquarters. Action turning over the building for the use of the big fishing festival was taken at a regular meeting of the post Monday night.

Due to the added work being done by the local post in promoting the state Legion convention, which will be held in Escanaba Aug. 20, 21, 22, and the Upper Peninsula Legion convention, Aug. 19, it was announced by Commander John Peltier that meetings will be held twice monthly, beginning in April. The next meeting will be April 3.

A vote of thanks was extended by the post to John A. Lemmer and C. W. Flanagan for the part they took in promoting the recent local Americanization ceremony.

Twelve Legionnaires received awards for their records in recruiting 1939 memberships for Cloverland Post. Cordie Kincaid received the 30-member award, Ulysses Thibault of Garden was given the medal for 29 members, and the following all received 10-member lapel buttons: William Ehnerd, Archie Wood, E. R. Ladies' Aid Rapid River, Mich.—The Ladies' Aid society of St. Charles church will meet Thursday afternoon at the Louis Thibault home. In spite of the storm Sunday, a large crowd attended the dinner given by the St. Charles Aid. A number of patrons of Gladstone and Escanaba attended.

Yachtsmen Discuss Racing Regulations At Session Tonight

Members of the Menominee and Marinette Yacht club and Gladstone Yacht club will meet local yachtsmen at a dinner at the Chicken Shack tonight, sponsored by the Escanaba Yacht club. The session, which will begin at 6:30, will be devoted to discussion of yacht racing rules and tactics.

Donald DeWitt of Oconto will attend the session, accompanied by nine other M. & M. yachtsmen. A large number of Gladstone club members will take part in the meeting.

A weekly school of instruction on yachting regulations and racing rules has been held regularly by the local club, using National Yachting association rules which are valid throughout the nation. The other clubs have been attracted by the program of the local group, and plan to follow the regulations throughout the coming season. In the past, enforcement of regulations in regattas on Green bay waters has been on a hit-or-miss basis, and the yachtsmen hope to gain enough familiarity with the rule book to conduct future meets in accordance with the regulations.

Model boats are used for the instruction sessions, and are "sailed" around a course marked by small buoys upon a desk top. The V-bottomed craft can be tilted to one side or the other, to indicate whether they are on port or starboard tacks. With the aid of this equipment, problems in rules are worked out and the yachtsmen are able to visualize which boat has the right-of-way in the many situations which may be created.

A six-mile course will be marked off on the north bay for the 1939 yachting season, and the start and finish line will be relocated. Present plans place the line about opposite the bell house on the point, which will give more wind for better starts and finishes. With the start at Stephenson dock, as it has been for several years, starts and finishes have been situation is a growing belief among military men of high commands in all countries that over-emphasis has been placed upon the air arm. It has been stated, for example, that "United States Army officials have reached the conclusion that bombing of civilian populations does not pay and will not be adopted by the American Air Corps as a weapon of future warfare."

So it can be concluded that all the resolutions which may be made at The Hague or elsewhere will be of little force compared with a realization that war in the air has been over-stressed. As in the past, the long past too, the best military experts now are thinking, victories must be won and wars brought to a conclusion by foot soldiers.

Too Much Propaganda

THAT there can be too much of anything was forcibly brought out by Lee Rasey, investment expert, in a talk before the Kiwanis club on Monday on the railroad situation.

The railroads, which have been suffering during the depression years from the effects of competition from trucks, automobiles, inland and coast-wise boat transportation, have been unleashing a deluge of propaganda against federal subsidies to competing transportation agencies, high taxation and government regulation.

Emphasis is this propaganda has been placed on the financial ruin that menaces the railroads because of this unfair competition. As a result, the public has been led to believe that all railroads are broke and going out of business, while the truth of the matter, Mr. Rasey points out, is that some systems came through 1938 in better shape than the steel companies and other large corporations.

In an effort to gain public sympathy, the railroads have been selling themselves short. They have given the impression that the railroads are bankrupt, all of which impairs public confidence in their efficiency as public carriers and surely does not encourage investors to put their money in their securities. In everything one does, after all, moderation should be the watchword.

Reverberations

THE rape of Czechoslovakia illustrates the way in which world events reverberate.

Not directly concerned, the United States felt it just the same. For with the Czech republic the United States had a reciprocal trade treaty. This called for the reduction of duty on certain classes of goods, glassware and the like, and as a corollary, a similar reduction in similar goods imported from any other country.

With Czechoslovakia no longer in existence this treaty lapsed, and the territory with which we had made a mutually helpful trade agreement became just a part of Germany, with which it has been impossible to make such an arrangement. Gradually German expansion narrows the area in which free and normal trade relations are possible.

Importers meanwhile desperately canvassed the domestic market for merchandise of the same kind. Certain domestic manufacturers may thus profit from the fact that the Czechoslovakian sources have been closed, but it is a melancholy way to increase domestic business.

Other Editors' Comments

OUR GOVERNMENT PROTESTS (Milwaukee Journal)

The statement of Sumner Welles, acting secretary of state, on Hitler's seizure of Czechoslovakia, put the American democracy on record against assumptions and acts which would destroy all democracy. "Acts of wanton lawlessness and arbitrary force are threatening world peace and the very structure of modern civilization," says Mr. Welles. For that reason our government "cannot refrain from making known this country's condemnation of the acts which have resulted in the temporary extinguishment of the liberties of a free people."

Approval is promptly expressed by Democrats of such differing types as Senators King of Utah, Pittman of Nevada, Hinton of Indiana and by the Republican Hiram Johnson. It is noteworthy that these men come from the middle west and far west, regions which in the World War were more insistent than the east on "keeping out of war."

Disapproval is expressed by some members of congress. Representative Ford of Mississippi expresses a reaction which will be widely felt, saying that the United States would do much better to mind its own business. Representative Dondoro of Michigan says we are interfering when our opinion has not been sought.

In addition to putting the United States on record for the pages of history, the administration's course, however, will be supported by many citizens as practical. Over and over we have heard that Germany might have held back from the World War if Britain had made it clear soon enough that she would take part. And it has been said that Germany might have withheld from her attacks on American shipping and the taking of American lives, if she had believed the United States would enter the war. Those who are convinced that any long continuing war would again draw this country in, see value in making it known in advance where our sympathies would be.

The Welles pronouncement, of course, will have less effect because the press of Germany is not free. Millions of German people will be told only what the Hitler government wants them to hear about the attitude of the United States.

But the United States is doing other things than merely protest. The state department notifies the treasury that, with Germany's seizure of Czechoslovakia, tariff rates applicable to Germany must be enforced against imports from the former Czech republic. These are higher rates because we have no "most favored nation agreement" with the Reich. Their applica-

World Affairs Reviewed

BY MILTON BRONNER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent London—Prime Minister Chamberlain's performance at Munich—criticized even more strongly today because of complete dismemberment of Czechoslovakia—is regarded by opponents of the government's policy as another one of those diplomatic follies in which English statesmen—far from showing their reputed superhuman cleverness—proved, according to their critics, that they could not see beyond the tips of their haughty noses.

Adolf Hitler's current widening of the Kiel Canal is making high officials of the British admiralty shake their heads over what they especially call England's "twin follies" of the latter nineteenth century—her abstention from intervening in the Danish War of 1864 and cession of the Island of Helgoland to Germany in 1890.

In 1864, Bismarck, Iron Chancellor of Prussia, dreaming of a mighty, united Germany which would challenge England's supremacy in world affairs, looked at the map. If that future Germany was to become a colonial and a mercantile sea power, it must have a navy as strong as England's.

But such a German navy would only be master of the Baltic Sea. To go farther afield, it would have to risk the narrow and dangerous waters between the Danish mainland and the Danish islands.

But Bismarck visioned something else, and made war upon tiny Denmark. Princess Alexandra, daughter of Denmark's King, had married the Prince of Wales, future King Edward VII. Despite the connection between the royal families of the two countries, despite the long friendship, the British made no move to save Denmark.

Prussia grabbed the mainland provinces of Schleswig and Holstein. Years later the English saw the extent of their folly. Germany built the great Kiel Canal across this one-time Danish land. This canal connects the waters of the Baltic Sea with those of the North Sea.

It gives the German fleet a safe hide-away in the Baltic and easy exit for belligerent purposes into the North Sea when conditions are favorable. Thus a German fleet is always a menace to England in time of war.

The canal, 61 miles long, was completed in 1895 at a cost of $100,000,000. It was wide enough and deep enough to permit Germany's war fleets to pass through.

Now England is planning to build ships of 40,000 tons—perhaps larger. If Hitler wants to match them, Kiel Canal won't take them.

Result is he has ordered full speed ahead to widen and deepen the canal. At present it can accommodate 35,000 tonners. It is estimated it will cost another $50,000,000 and take at least two years to widen and deepen the canal. That many means naval peace for two years.

The canal empties into the mouths of the Elbe and Weser rivers. Outside in the North Sea, a natural guardian of this water, is the Island of Helgoland. The English gave it to Germany in 1890 in exchange for German recognition of British rule in the African island of Zanzibar. They thus gave up a pistol held at Germany's head.

When the Versailles Treaty was written, the British tried to save themselves from their two past follies. The treaty decreed that the Kiel Canal was to be open to all warships of countries at peace with Germany.

Hitler announced recently it would be closed to all, unless they received specific permission from Germany. The treaty decreed that the fortifications on Helgoland were to be destroyed. They were. But Hitler has now had the place more heavily fortified than ever.

Imports will necessarily further reduce imports from German territory. In this way they will lessen the value of Hitler's seizing a country producing many things Americans want. The unhappy thing is that the conquered will be penalized more heavily than the conqueror.

No one anywhere can feel that the newest crisis has been met in a way to give assurance that another world war is not in the making. The balance of power in the world is being made a little clearer. The inevitable line-up is beginning to take shape. Premier Chamberlain's denunciation of the splitting up of Czechoslovakia, with his virtual admission that "appeasement" has failed, is a warning. No administration has authority to commit the United States; but the president denounces "wanton lawlessness and arbitrary force" and the nation will not rebuke his policy.

Hitler is given a clear understanding of the American position than the German kaiser had a quarter century ago. There may be some hope that the warning signals will have some effect.

FRANCO AS STATESMAN (Washington Post)

On the complicated chessboard of international politics a pawn—Franco—has been pushed through to become an important piece. His abilities as a statesman are now of far greater importance than his military skill. The latter he has demonstrated, but as the dominant leader of a shattered, exhausted and embittered people his reputation is still to be established.

The question is no longer whether the Spanish nationalists will win. It is the use they will make of their victory, and its consequence for the world, which is now at issue.

A committee has gone to work selecting questions to be asked by 1940 census takers. A good beginner would be: "Are you as young as you look, lady?"

In Houlton, Me., a farm home went up in flames. So did $450 in the owner's trousers. There's one fellow who wishes his wife had raided his pockets.

BY GEORGE ROSS

New York—True, slush still lies in coarsened furrows in the streets as we Manhattanites anticipate the spring freshet, but Gotham's official signal of winter's end has come.

The ice-skating rink has been melted down in the sunken garden at Radio City. Its removal annually is Manhattan's first sign of spring.

The rink goes into cold storage until the first snow flurries next year and the gliding waters, good skates all, will get the hot foot on the sunken garden's sun-baked pavement until next winter.

Now, with the song swallows winging north, Radio City's plaza returns to a warmer atmosphere. The outdoor cafe scene will be restored, the Prometheus Fountain will bubble without danger of hanging icicles, and before long (my overcoat is not yet in the mothball), folks will be dining al fresco once more in Rockefeller Center.

What's more, the planting of big elm trees along a stretch of Fifth Avenue is proceeding and the luxurious thoroughfare should be as verdant as the Champs Elysees before long.

Spring is here, as the songsmith sings, but I'm not taking chances, anyway. A cashmere scarf still protects my fragile throat from the winter germs and my rubbers are in the hall closet, the beneficent Rockefeller to the contrary.

Communication

Miss Anderson and the D.A.R. Winnetka, Ill., March 4—A great deal of publicity has been given the refusal of the Daughters of the American Revolution to allow Marian Anderson the use of their hall in Washington, D. C.

Howard university asked for Constitution hall for a concert by Miss Anderson on Easter Sunday, April 9. The manager informed the applicants that a symphony concert was scheduled for that date, and when asked for a future booking, informed them of the policy put into effect seven years ago, prohibiting the lease of the hall to other than white artists.

The sponsors of the Anderson concert apparently tried, unsuccessfully, to engage one of several large halls in Washington, including the auditorium of the White high school. Congress has, by law, separated white and negro students of the District of Columbia and many commercial halls and theatres have followed the example in catering to the public.

Immediately following the interview between the concert sponsors and the manager of Constitution hall a publicity campaign of attack started by way of letters and telegrams to headquarters. The manager had suggested the right of appeal to the national board of management for a reversal of policy, but it is an astounding fact that no such appeal was made until long after the public opinion began to take sides.

In voting to maintain the policy that was forced upon them by circumstances seven years ago (and waived on several occasions since then), the national board made no attempt to set itself up as a critic of art, nor to pass judgment upon the prevailing sentiment and custom of the capital city.

WE' the WOMEN

BY RUTH MILLETT

A man who used to train ladies for the ordeal of being presented at court has set up shop in New York, where he is ready to teach prospective brides how to make the most of themselves while marrying.

Donu Edmond offers the prospective bride a nine-day course in which he proposes to teach her: How to walk to the altar gracefully.

How to kneel. How to handle a train and bridal bouquet. How to hold her finger to receive the wedding ring.

How to place her voice in speaking the marriage lines. How to kiss beautifully in front of a crowd.

How to walk up the aisle to the "Wedding March" on her husband's arm.

How to stand and shake hands while greeting guests at the reception.

Today's brides aren't as smart as they get credit for being if they don't realize: That living gracefully ever after is a lot more important than walking to the altar gracefully.

That learning how to hold her temper is more vital to the girl stepping into matrimony than learning how to hold her finger to receive the wedding ring.

That knowing how to handle a rolling-pin (as a cooking aid) will give her a better start than worrying about how to handle a train. That how she places her voice in speaking the marriage lines isn't nearly so important as how she places her voice the first time her bridegroom criticizes her.

The girl who would spend nine days learning how to hold her finger to receive the wedding ring and such, probably would later subscribe to a course designed to teach a woman how to make the most of herself while getting a divorce.

The instruction in such a course might guarantee to teach her: How to break the news to her friends.

How to dress for her big scene in court. How to stand gracefully before the judge.

How to pose for photographers right after she gets her decree. How to throw away her wedding ring with a graceful, though determined, gesture.

I think anybody ought to be able to say what he has to say in 80,000 words.

SERIAL STORY

MRS. DOC

BY TOM HORNER

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

The characters and situations in this story are wholly fictional.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
ALAN WARREN—Ambitious young country doctor.
EMILY WARREN—Alan's wife.
ERIC KANE—Construction engineer.
DR. FARRELL—Alan's elderly associate.

Yesterday, Alan decides to go to St. Louis, much against his real feelings. Emily is delighted over the decision. Returning home that night, Alan receives a telegram.

CHAPTER XII

Alan ripped the envelope open, read the message quickly. He frowned.

"Bad news?" Emily asked so-litely. Alan handed her the telegram.

"LETTER RECEIVED," she read. "IMPORTANT THAT YOU COME AT ONCE TO SIGN CONTRACT. LEAVING FOR EUROPE AT NOON TOMORROW TO SERVE ON INTERNATIONAL COMMISSION ASSIGNING JEWISH PHYSICIANS OF VIENNA AND BERLIN HOSPITALS TO STAFFS OF AMERICAN MEDICAL SCHOOLS. EXPECT YOU BY NINE A. M."

"WILLIAM PETERSON." "What's so bad about that?" Emily queried. "You can catch the midnight train and be there in plenty of time. Sign the contract and we'll be ready to move any time Dr. Peterson says."

"Why, Alan, what's the matter?" "I can't go tonight!" he answered.

"You can't go tonight!" Emily echoed. "Why?" She almost screamed the question.

"I can't leave Mrs. Howland in the hospital. Grandma Frank may not live through the night."

"I'll wire Dr. Peterson." "You will not," Emily ordered. "You'll call Dr. Farrell and tell him to look out for Grandma Frank and to take charge of Mrs. Howland. Then you'll catch that midnight train."

"No, Emily, I couldn't do that. These people are depending on me. I'm not kidding myself that Farrell couldn't take care of them as well as I, but I owe it to them to stay here. Mrs. Howland engaged me because she had confidence in me, even after she had lost her first baby. She might have gone to a specialist in the city, but she didn't. And when I look the case, I gave my word that I'd be here when she needed me. She needs me tonight. I can't break my promise. And Grandma Frank—"

"Grandma Frank is going to die in spite of anything you can do."

"That's true," but please try to understand, Emily. I know Grandma Frank won't get well. She knows it too. When she dies I must be there, beside her. I can't do much, I know. Make it a little easier, perhaps. Comfort the family.

"Maybe it sounds silly, but I know this is my duty. I've known Grandma Frank ever since I can remember. She used to give me cookies on my way to school. I've taken care of her and the whole Frank family ever since I came back to Sumner. Dad brought all her children. A Warren has stood beside the Franks in every crisis in their lives. I can't let them down now."

"This is no time for your knight in shining armor philosophy," Emily broke in angrily. "You're too idealistic, Alan, too ethical. And what does it get you? Nothing! No one appreciates what you do, the sacrifices you make. . . . Come down to earth. This is a matter of dollars and cents. . . . After all, you have your own life to live, Alan."

"A doctor can never call his life his own."

"And if you don't go to St. Louis, what will Dr. Peterson think? You've already written that you'd accept his offer. I've hoped, I've planned—Emily saw her dream castles tumbling."

"Peterson may understand. I'll try to explain. And if he doesn't—then your chance to be a professor—to amount to something—is gone . . . forever."

It would always be like this Emily knew. Even if Dr. Peterson did accept Alan's explanation, even if Alan went on with his plans up to the last minute, even if they were ready to step on to the train to leave Sumner forever, there would always be something like this to hold Alan here. He could not break away. He would not. He never would. The ties were too strong.

And Emily? What did it mean for her? She pondered the question. Endless years, just as this last one had been?

Although she wanted to scream out her hate for Sumner, for its people, even for Alan, she strove for self-control, for she knew that this moment must be the turning point in her life.

A thought of Eric flashed through her mind. Eric offered opportunity to escape all this. But so quickly she put him from her thoughts. This was her problem—and Alan's. They must settle it alone, without interference of a third party.

Could she let her dreams of returning to St. Louis go? Could she resign herself to days and nights of loneliness? Could she ever be content as a country doctor's wife?

She wanted to cry. Tears might break Alan's resolve to stay here tonight. But would that settle the problem, once and for all? Her happiness was at stake. This was the showdown and there was no use in postponing it. She had to know what Alan wanted now, tonight.

That she loved Alan, she knew. But whether she loved him enough to remain here, buried in Sumner, she was not certain. Alan loved her—as much as he could ever love anyone. No doubt of that. But his profession came first. She was outside, alone. An ever-widening gulf of misunderstanding was separating them. They were growing farther and farther apart. Where would it end? She buried her face in her hands, tried to think clearly.

Alan realized, too, that a final decision must be made tonight. If he failed to comply with Peterson's virtual order to appear tomorrow, there likely would never be another chance. A hundred well-experienced teachers—wore available in Europe. They would gladly jump at the opportunity and Peterson would be practically forced to accept them.

Peterson was placed in an awkward position. With a vacancy on his own staff, a refusal to accept one or more of the refugee physicians might be construed by the international commission as antagonistic, and any excuse he might offer would seem ridiculous.

And what of Mrs. Howland? And Grandma Frank? They had a voice in this, too—a pleading, persistent voice that would not be still.

If Emily would only understand. If only something could change her so that she could see his work as he saw it. If she could even become a part of it, helping rather than hindering him.

Suddenly Alan knew what he would do. He squared his shoulders, faced his wife.

"What are you going to do?" Emily asked him calmly, evenly. Alan had known she would be like this in a crisis. No tears, no hysterical pleading.

"I'm staying here, Emily. I'm wiring Peterson that the whole thing is off. I don't want to be a professor. I want to be a doctor and that's what I'm going to be."

He went to the telephone. Emily winced as he dictated the message. This was the end. Fighting to keep back her tears, she waited until he had replaced the receiver.

"That is your decision, Alan," she said. "Now listen to mine. I'm going to St. Louis. If you won't come, I'll go alone."

"Emily! His face was white. "This can't go on," Emily went on swiftly. "You can have Sumner—what do you care without me?"

"What do you mean?" Alan's lips tried to set in a thin, hard line, but they quivered, involuntarily.

"I mean that we're through, Alan. I'm leaving. I'll arrange for the divorce."

"Emily, what are you saying?" he shouted.

"You can have your patients—they mean more to you than I do."

"But they don't. You can't do this. Think what it means." Alan was finding control again. "Our life—our marriage. Think—think what you're doing."

"I have thought—I've done nothing but think—for months. I know what I'm doing. I don't belong here. I—"

The jingle of the telephone interrupted her. She paused as Alan answered.

"It's Mrs. Howland," he said as he turned to her again. "I'll be at the hospital."

Even now—Emily thought after he had gone—when his own marriage hangs in the balance, they call and he goes!

The telephone was still warm from his hand when Emily lifted it, called a number. After a long wait a man's voice answered.

"I want to speak to Eric Kane," Emily said.

"He's out on the dam. Can I have him call you?" the man shouted at her.

"It's important that I speak to him immediately. Please call him."

him," Emily replied. There was another prolonged wait. At last Eric answered.

"Oh, it's you, Emily. Sorry to keep you waiting. Having a little trouble—this rain—"

"Eric, I'm leaving Alan." She spoke evenly. "I'm going home. I need you, here, now. Will you come down tonight?"

BEHIND THE SCENES

By Bruce Catton

Washington—One of the sharpest blows yet leveled at the New Deal's relief system is being swung by a man who, ironically enough, is in a position to swing it because of the one success which the presidential "purge" of last autumn had.

Congressman Edward Eugene Cox of Georgia is the gentleman in question. He has put forward a resolution to investigate WPA from top to bottom, and his ultimate aim is nothing less than complete abolition of WPA and retirement of the federal government from the work relief field.

A Democrat, Congressman Cox is a vehement anti-New Dealer. The "purge" was not only aimed at him last year, although he says that undercover attempts were made by the administration to defeat him. But the one man who was licked by the purge was Congressman John O'Connor of New York, who as chairman of the powerful House Rules Committee was in a position to obstruct the New Deal legislative program.

A PURGE REBOUNDS

O'Connor's defeat was the bright spot of the campaign as far as the New Deal was concerned. His departure meant that chairmanship of the rules committee passed to Congressman Adolph Sabath of Illinois, a New Dealer himself. It looked as if things would be better.

But Sabath has been unable to control the rules committee. He lacks the force to take the committee over the hurdles; and before long virtual control of the committee had pretty much passed to Edward Eugene Cox, who is its ranking Democratic member next to Sabath.

Congressman Clifton Woodrum of Virginia is known as a leader of the "economy bloc" in the House. He has resisted efforts to restore to the WPA deficiency bill this in a crisis. No tears, no hysterical pleading.

"I'm staying here, Emily. I'm wiring Peterson that the whole thing is off. I don't want to be a professor. I want to be a doctor and that's what I'm going to be."

Holdup Memories Revived By Death
Funeral services for J. E. Anderson, former Gladstone resident, will be held this afternoon at Marquette. Anderson was born in Chicago, Dec. 5, 1888 and at the age of 20 came to Gladstone. His death recalls to mind the Parent-Smith series of station holdups of yesterday. Anderson was the victim of one of the holdups perpetrated by the pair. Excitement ran high when the men were believed to have been seen rounded in a swamp near Kipling and hundreds of persons went to the scene as a posse scoured the area in vain.

School Attendance Is Almost Normal

Attendance in the Gladstone junior and senior high schools is gradually returning to normal, it was announced yesterday by Supt. A. R. Watson.

Last week the percentage of absentees was extremely high due to the large number of cases of flu and to storm conditions.

Yesterday only 10 were absent from the senior high and 18 from the junior high classes. Of this number about a dozen are from the Chalmers area where, it is reported, side roads are still blocked.

STATE OF MICHIGAN

In the matter of the petition of Vernon J. Brown, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

That the list of lands set forth in Schedule A contained in the Tax Record annexed to this petition contains a description of all lands in the County of Delta upon which taxes were assessed for the years mentioned therein, and which were returned as delinquent for non-payment of taxes and which taxes were not paid and have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, together with the total amount of such taxes and the amount computed thereon to the first day of May, A. D. 1938, and a collection fee of 4% extended separately against each parcel of land as provided by law.

That pursuant to Section 206 of Act 206 of the Public Acts of 1927, as amended by Act 325 of the Public Acts of 1927, said Schedule A includes all of said lands delinquent for taxes for the years 1924 and 1925 and lands delinquent for any installment of taxes under Act 116 of the Public Acts of 1933, as amended, including the interest and collection fee provided by law.

That the said lands were returned to the Auditor General under the provisions of said Act 206 of the Public Acts of 1927, as amended, as delinquent for non-payment of taxes and which taxes were not paid and said taxes remain unpaid, except that lands included in said schedule of said Tax Record for taxes of 1929 or prior years were returned to the Auditor General as delinquent for taxes under the provisions of the general tax law in force prior to the passage of Act 206 of the Public Acts of 1927, and which taxes remain unpaid.

That in all cases where lands are included in said schedule for taxes of 1929 or for any prior year, said lands have not been sold for said delinquent taxes and the sale or sales so made have not been cancelled by a court of competent jurisdiction, or have been cancelled as provided by law.

That in all cases where lands are included in said Schedule A, as aforesaid, for taxes of 1936, or any prior year, said lands have not been sold for said delinquent taxes and the sale or sales so made have not been cancelled by a court of competent jurisdiction, or have been cancelled as provided by law.

That the taxes, interest and collection fee included in the computations set forth in said Schedule A, as aforesaid, are a valid lien on the several parcels of lands described therein.

That the said taxes on the said described lands have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, and the said taxes not having been paid, and the same being now due and remaining unpaid as above set forth, your petitioner prays:

A. That within the time provided by law, this court make a final decree in favor of the State of Michigan for such taxes, interest and charges as shall be valid, and as computed and extended in said Schedule A against the several parcels of land contained therein, and determine the total amount of chargeable against each parcel of land, and that this court order and decree that such parcels of land shall severally be sold as the law directs.

B. That pursuant to law such decree be considered as a general decree in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of land for each tax included therein.

C. That such final decree be entered in the chancery record for recording the decree of this court, and be in substance and form as that provided by Section 47 of Act 206, Public Acts of 1927, as amended by Act 114, Public Acts of 1927.

D. That your petitioner may have general relief in the premises.

And your petitioner will ever pray, etc.

Dated February 21, 1939.

VERNON J. BROWN, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State.

ALL MEETINGS ARE CANCELLED

Democrats Honor Late Governor By Not Campaigning

All scheduled campaign meetings to have been held under the auspices of the Democratic party in the Upper Peninsula have been cancelled out of respect for the late Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald. It was learned yesterday from Gerald J. Cleary, chairman of the Upper Peninsula Democratic state central committee.

Cleary issued the following statement yesterday:

"The State of Michigan and its citizens have suffered a shocking loss in the removal by death of our Chief Executive, Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald. In the presence of death, friend and foe alike are united in one common bond as citizens of the State of Michigan. Our elected Lieutenant Governor, Loren D. Dickinson, having taken the oath of office and thus succeeding to the vacancy created by the demise of Governor Fitzgerald, is faced with a staggering task.

"It is the firm belief of the Democratic party and of myself that the interests of good government and the welfare of the state will be best served by now assuring Governor Dickinson of our cooperation with him.

"With this end in view, and also that our motives may not be misunderstood, all Democratic political rallies scheduled to have been held in the Upper Peninsula for the Spring Election on April 3rd are therefore cancelled. The above decision has been endorsed by all Democratic nominees for state and county office.

"Specifically, in Delta county, meetings had already been held in Nahma and in Schaffer before this decision was arrived at. Meetings scheduled to have been held in the cities of Escanaba and Gladstone and the townships of Baldwin, Bark River, Bay de Noc, Bramp-ton, Cornell, Ensign, Escanaba, Fairbanks, Ford River, Garden, Maple Ridge, Masonville and Wells are cancelled."

Spud Queen Goes To Detroit Today

Miss Norma Hagman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Hagman of Flat Rock, will leave today for Detroit where she will represent the Upper Peninsula in the state potato queen contest. Miss Hagman was chosen queen at the Upper Peninsula Potato Show here last fall.

The queen will be accompanied to Detroit by D. L. Clannahan, Upper Peninsula crops specialist, and Miss Miriam Eads, home economics demonstration leader, both of Marquette. They will return later in the week.

In Australia, fence posts exude the fragrance of raspberry jam. The odor comes from the timbers of the umbrella bush, which is used for the posts.

Wild ducks, hawks, falcons and wild geese can attain a flight speed of 80 miles an hour, while carrier pigeons do about 45 miles.

LOCAL OFFICE OPENED HERE

No Speaking Campaign Arranged By GOP In Delta County

Headquarters for the Delta county Republican party were opened yesterday at 1109 Ludington street, where the A&P store formerly was situated.

It was announced by R. J. Riley that Elmer Daniels will be in charge of the office.

Because of the passing of the late Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald, all regularly speaking schedules by the county committee have been cancelled. This will not mean however, that there will be no meetings, various clubs in Escanaba, Gladstone and throughout the county holding meetings of their own.
