

POLAND SPURNS 'HALT HITLER' MOVE

SENATE VOTES TO ELIMINATE HIGHWAY FUND

HEALTH INSURANCE BILL IS PASSED BY HOUSE

Lansing, March 23 (AP)—The Senate voted today, 28 to 0, to suspend for two years the $5,000,000-a-year contingent appropriation for highway construction.

Senator Felix H. H. Flynn, Republican, Cadillac, advocated the measure. Flynn is president pro tempore of the senate and majority floor leader.

In introducing the bill, he described it as an economy measure. Members of the senate recalled that during the two years of former Governor Frank Murphy's administration only $3,500,000 of the available $10,000,000 was actually allocated for construction.

Van Wagener Agrees The appropriation was designed as a "cushion" to insure sufficient road-building funds to meet commitments when gasoline and weight tax collections declined.

Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagener, lone Democrat remaining in the governor's elective "cabinet," has consented to its discontinuance as a part of the present budget-balancing program.

When Murphy, in previous budget-balancing attempts, suggested elimination of the appropriation Van Wagener warned such a course would result in a state-wide road-building holiday.

Commitments were met within the $3,500,000 allocation, however, and since that time weight and gasoline tax revenues have been increasing.

The senate also passed and sent to the house a bill that would establish the mileage of county roads actually in use for public travel as a basis for the distribution of highway funds to counties.

Existing laws include the mileage of unopened streets in platted subdivisions in the mileage basis.

COMPROMISE BOUGHT Lansing, March 23 (AP)—The legislature reached a deadlock today on the $5,000,000 deficiency appropriation bill and another measure appropriating funds for advertising campaign.

The house and senate turned, then, to inter-chamber conferences in quest of a compromise.

The senate refused to recede from its demand for a $1,000,000 cut in the deficiency appropriation, which would be achieved by denying additional funds for medical aid to crippled and afflicted children.

The house insisted upon a $100,000 reduction in the appropriation for publicizing Michigan's tourist and agricultural advantages, to which the senate objected. It had cut the appropriation to $200,000.

Rep. John P. Esple, Republican, Eagle, chairman of the ways and means committee and the man on whose shoulders rests much of the responsibility for attempting to balance the budget, declared refusal to appropriate money for medical aid to children was mere procrastination.

Both Sides Speed Preparations For Spanish Surrender

Hendaye, France (At The Spanish Frontier), March 24 (Friday) (AP)—Border reports early today said that both Spanish republicans and nationalists were speeding preparations for surrender of Madrid and the end of the 32-months-old civil war.

One report was that a Madrid radio speaker had declared surrender of Madrid was "a question of minutes" but this report was denied in the republican capital by General Segismundo Casado, defense minister in the government headed by General Jose Miaja.

Obvious plans for surrender of the capital were being made, according to the border advisers. The nationalist municipal council, already named to take over the Madrid administration, was in continuous session at Valladolid, between Madrid and the nationalist capital, Burgos.

KIPKE SCORED AT ANN ARBOR

Committee of Prominent Alumni Urges Voters to Reject Nominee

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 23 (AP)—The Republican candidacy of Harry G. Kipke for regent of the University of Michigan, criticized earlier this week by the U. of M. student senate, was censured today by a committee of prominent alumni.

The committee, in letters mailed to 30,000 Michigan alumni living in the state, urged balloting "without regard to party lines."

The candidacy of the former U. of M. football coach was described as "an affront to the university and the present board of regents."

Kipke, the lawyer, "has had his little business experience and has so far as we can learn no such interest in educational matters as would qualify him on that ground."

The committee is composed of: James K. Watkins, Detroit, former Detroit police commissioner; Fred A. Bohr, Detroit attorney; Charles E. White, Niles, a former circuit judge; Mrs. Helen Gore, Benton Harbor; Harry G. Gault, Flint attorney; and Charles F. Campbell, Grand Rapids.

The nomination of Kipke at the Republican convention in Flint was criticized. The letter declared "it is high time the Republican voters rebelled against the manipulation of conventions in entire disregard of the chosen delegations of truly representative Republicans."

The letter charged that Kipke's nomination was "arranged" by Frank D. McKay of Grand Rapids, described as "a power in Republican political circles," Edward N. Barnard of Detroit, termed the "self-constituted Republican boss of Wayne county," and Harry H. Bennett, personnel director of the Ford Motor Co.

The committee recommended the election of Dr. Dean W. Myers of Ann Arbor, a Democrat, in place of Kipke. Two regents are to be elected, and each party has two candidates.

Legg Backs Move To Raise Pay Of WPA In Peninsula

Lansing, March 23 (AP)—A resolution introduced in the house of representatives today would petition the federal government to increase the WPA minimum wage in the upper peninsula from $44 a month to $60.

The document, submitted by Reps. Isadore A. Weza of Ontonagon, Raymond E. Garvey, Ironwood, and Peter H. Legg, Escanaba, Democrats, charged the WPA never made an adequate study of living costs in the northern counties before setting the $44 standard.

"Weather conditions of the upper peninsula and its great distance from central markets cause a high cost of living," the resolution asserted.

It was referred to the committee on rules and resolutions.

Governor's Salary Sought For Widow

Lansing, March 23 (AP)—A bill to grant Mrs. Frank D. Fitzgerald, widow of the late governor, the governor's salary until Jan. 1, 1941, the expiration date of the term to which Fitzgerald was elected, was introduced in the senate today.

ITALIAN RULER SAYS COUNTRY WANTS PEACE

WAY FOR SETTLING FRENCH QUARREL IS LEFT OPEN

Rome, March 23 (AP)—King Vittorio Emanuele declared Italy's desire for peace in troubled Europe today with words which diplomats said left the way open for a negotiated settlement of her quarrel with France.

The sovereign of the Italian empire, in a speech to the senate and newly-formed chamber of fasces and guilds, recalled a note which Premier Mussolini's government sent to France last December 17.

That note, its complete contents never divulged, denounced a 1935 settlement of long-standing claims against France in Africa and called for a new colonial deal.

Invitation to Paris Italians considered the king's speech, marking Fascism's 20th birthday, an invitation to France to make Italy an offer.

"The French government knows how to eliminate existing difficulties," the newspaper Lavoro Fascista declared.

"Regarding France, my government had made known the questions which divide the two countries at this moment," the 69-year-old king said, referring to the December note. He declared Italy wants peace to last "as long as possible" so she can develop her African colonial empire.

Diplomats found the speech, obviously made with Mussolini's approval, encouraging since it made no mention of extensive territorial claims against France which previously have raised a clamor in the fascist press. It Duce stood by impassively during the king's speech which French circles said left the door open to diplomatic negotiations.

Tunisia Touchy Spot Authoritative French sources said France was willing to grant Italy a free port at Djibouti, French Somaliland outlet to Ethiopia, and a voice in operation of the Suez canal, two concessions she wants to assist development of her East African possessions.

But these sources indicated France was reluctant to grant unrestricted Italian immigration to Tunisia, French North African protectorate, or perpetual Italian nationality for settlers there.

France was said to wish to avoid any appearance of weakness in the eyes of her colonial peoples.

France also fears concessions in Tunisia might be used as an excuse to oust France from there altogether.

What Mussolini says in a speech scheduled for Sunday may have important bearing on the situation.

Acknowledging that happenings in eastern Europe had brought uneasy times, Vittorio Emanuele said this had been demonstrated by the recent collapse of some of the artificial political structures born after the World war.

He declared Italy was arming to "save peace for us and everybody."

FOREIGN SPIES ACTIVE IN U. S.

Murphy Reports Federal Agencies Coordinate "100 Per Cent"

Washington, March 3 (AP)—Attorney General Murphy told reporters today that foreign spies were becoming more active in this country but that the federal bureau of investigation and other government agencies were prepared to cope with them "100 per cent."

Murphy declined to divulge what espionage activities have been uncovered, but said that a committee of government investigative agencies had evidence on the subject.

The counter-espionage committee, comprised of secret service agents, postal inspectors, G-men, immigration officials and passport inspectors, had been meeting regularly, Murphy said, and now has facilities available so it is "in a position to do a 100 per cent job."

REVISED LIQUOR LAWS PROPOSED

Abandonment of State's Stores Is Problem, Says Governor

Lansing, March 23 (AP)—Discussions with spokesmen of the liquor industry looking toward revision of the Michigan liquor laws was proposed today by Governor Dickinson.

He said he would present to a conference next week proposals to abolish the state liquor store system, a state-wide midnight curfew on the sale of intoxicating beverages and rules to forbid employing women where liquor is served by the glass.

"I want to get some reliable persons before me to go over the liquor laws," the governor said. "The liquor control commission has announced its willingness to cooperate."

Dickinson, president of the Michigan Anti-Saloon League, said he would not allow his long-time affiliation with the organization to prejudice his official views.

He said abandonment of the state liquor stores presented a problem. Expressing the viewpoint that the "state should not be in the liquor business," he admitted some temperance workers believed the state could control the industry better through a monopoly than by turning the retail sales over to private business.

Tammany Chief Gets 4-8 Years In Prison

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE New York, March 23 (AP)—A political dynasty modestly begun in the 1870's by a blacksmith whose party faithfulness got him the business of shoeing the city's horses was eclipsed today by the sentencing of his heir, Tammany District Leader James J. (Jimmy) Hines, to 4 to 8 years in prison.

Judge Charles C. Nott, Jr., ordered Hines to prison for acting as the hired political protector of the old Dutch Schultz policy racket. As the Tammany leader pulled his big, aging body erect to hear the judgment he pushed out his chin, and gulped.

It meant the breakup of a career which made Hines one of the most powerful bosses the city ever knew—a supposed dispenser in recent years, said a probation report submitted to Judge Nott, of federal patronage in this area.

Since his conviction on Feb. 25, specifically on charges of conspiracy and operating a lottery, the 62-year-old Hines' iron grip on his upper West Side followers had loosened perceptibly, and the length of the sentence was the final blow to a leadership already only nominally held.

Immediate appeal was planned by his counsel, from this, the most spectacular conviction yet obtained following the uncovering of a spy ring in New York.

paign to smash what he has termed the "criminal alliances" of some politicians. Under state law Hines would be eligible for parole two years after serving two years and eight months. The maximum sentence would have been 27 years.

FUEHRER SAYS GERMANY HAS ALL IT WANTS

MEMEL CONQUEROR GIVEN HERO'S WELCOME

(By The Associated Press) Memel, Germany, March 23 (AP)—Adolf Hitler paid a whirlwind visit to this Baltic port today to welcome Memelland's 150,000 citizens into his expanding realm and pledged to them that Germany was "ready and determined to master its own fate."

The fuhrer sailed on the torpedo boat Leopard for an undisclosed destination just two hours after he had stepped ashore with the fan-fare of a conqueror to deliver a speech to the jubilant Memellanders.

Behind him Hitler left a mystery. "End of Preparation" A vast audience, alert to hear his welcome of Memel into his rapidly expanding nation, heard him say:

"We Germans have no intention of doing harm to the rest of the world. "The damage which the other world did to Germany, however, had to be repaired again. "I believe that now, in the main, we have arrived at an end to the unique process of reparation."

But hours later, DNB (official German news agency) distributed an official text with a broad change in that section.

Before the official text was issued even diplomats, believing there might be implications of tremendous importance in Hitler's hint of a halt to German territorial acquisitions, eagerly had sought an interpretation.

Official Text Changed According to the official text, Hitler said:

"The harm which the rest of the world had caused us ought to find an end. And so I greet old Germans volksgerassen (members of our community) as the youngest citizens of our great German Reich."

(Officials in Berlin said they did not know the reason for the change and as Hitler was on the high seas they could not venture an opinion. Carefully recorded stenographic reports as well as the preliminary unofficial text gave the earlier version.

Hitler's declaration was made from a balcony of the Memel city theater amid an uproarious welcome that matched the greetings he received in Austria and the Sudetenland when they were (Continued on Page Two)

CHRYSLER UAW PACT EXTENDED

Corporation Will Not Take Sides With Union Factions

Detroit, March 23 (AP)—The two rival unions of automobile workers were notified today by Herman Weckler, vice president of Chrysler corporation, that in view of the rivalry the corporation was extending for 30 days its agreement with the United Automobile Workers.

The agreement would have expired March 31.

At the same time a Chrysler spokesman said that Weckler had notified the CIO-affiliated United Automobile Workers that the corporation would not consent to a national labor relations board poll of Chrysler employees to determine a bargaining agency.

Both the independent UAW, headed by Homer Martin, and the CIO-UAW, headed by R. J. Thomas, have claimed to represent Chrysler employees, and Thomas has requested the NLRB to conduct a poll of Chrysler employees. Consent of the company had been sought as a means of speeding such an election. Without consent of the employer the procedure of holding an election is prolonged.

Weckler, in his letter regarding extension of the agreement, said in part: "In view of the present difficulties within the international union and its locals, Chrysler corporation hereby announces to all factions that the corporation is willing to extend the existing agreement for 30 days in order that the factions may make their arrangements for negotiating with the corporation concerning the possibility of a further agreement. . . . Chrysler corporation does not care to take sides or discriminate among the factions or take the responsibility of choosing a side to deal with."

Eccles, Spending Advocate, Urges Congress To Balance The Budget

Washington, March 23 (AP)—One of the most paradoxical situations in recent years arose today when Marriner Eccles, a foremost advocate of government spending, virtually urged congress to proceed at once to balance the budget.

The chairman of the federal reserve board said there was strong sentiment in the country for such a program, and that a majority of congress appeared to favor it. While he expressed belief it would be "disastrous," he took the position that the majority should rule.

To this he added a statement that substantial reductions in government spending could come only through cutting appropriations for relief, for CCC camps, public works, veterans' compensation, farm benefit payments and national defense, and that for such cuts congress "should assume full responsibility."

His statement, made before a special senate committee on silver legislation, was promptly interpreted by some members of the congressional group which has been urging economy and the removal of "oppressive" taxes to stimulate business and re-employment, as an effort to put congress "on the spot" and absolve the administration of blame.

Others argued that Eccles' straightforward language on some points could not be discounted as a back-passing gesture. They referred particularly to his assertion about the wide sentiment for budget balancing and his statement that as a matter of democracy the wishes of the majority should prevail.

Chairman Harrison (D-Miss) of the senate finance committee promptly issued a statement asserting that an economy program required the cooperation of the president with congress.

Advancing posse officers found tonight Earl Durand, 26-year-old slayer of four, had escaped from his canyon stronghold while a howitzer and trench mortars were being rushed to blast him.

Moving on the raw meat-eating fugitive's boulder fort to recover the bodies of two slain possemen, Sheriff Frank Blackburn and a force of volunteers rushed into the lair to find Durand had vanished.

During the advance of divided posse forces, the cross firing caused officers to believe Durand was answering their fire.

Sheriff Blackburn said Durand must have scaled the steep ridge wall behind his fortress. Under cover of darkness last night he probably reached the pinnacle formations at the ridge summit.

The renegade ranch hand who killed two officers after breaking from the Cody jail last Thursday and shot down two posse officers who tried to rush his lair last night may have descended the ridge's west slope into the Sunlight valley country, Sheriff Blackburn said.

Senate and house agricultural leaders agreed to delay senate-sponsored legislation dealing with the cotton surplus problem pending an attempt to work out a solution with Secretary Wallace.

The house started work on a bill calling for $750,000,000 in farm benefits after a committee disregarded President Roosevelt's request for a 30 per cent cut.

The senate voted tentative approval of sharp revisions of the sugar quota act in a move to increase the shares of mainland cane and beet producing areas.

President Roosevelt signed a proclamation terminating favorable tariffs in the trade pact with Czechoslovakia.

Attorney General Murphy said foreign spies were becoming more active in this country but that federal agencies were prepared to cope with them "100 per cent."

NAZI THRUSTS IN EUROPE TO BE SQUELCHED

RUSSIA AGREES TO SIGN BRITISH DECLARATION

London, March 23 (AP)—Britain overcame one major obstacle, but was still confronted by another in its program for a European "halt Hitler" front today while Prime Minister Chamberlain pointedly reminded Germany of the fate met in the past by powers seeking to dominate the world.

Russia agreed to signing Britain's anti-Hitler declaration providing for immediate consultation in the event of further German aggression, but Poland remained adamant against becoming a third party to the declaration.

Won't Hamper Trade Officials stressed the importance of Chamberlain's statement to the house of commons that Britain was determined to block German domination of the independent European states, but that she had no intention of crippling Germany's export trade or of setting up blocs of countries "with different ideas about their internal administration."

"We are solely concerned here with the proposition that we can not submit to a procedure under which independent states are subjected to such pressure under threat of force as to be obliged to yield their independence, and we are resolved by all means in our power to oppose attempts; if they should be made, to put such a procedure into operation."

Chamberlain said Germany's recent diplomatic actions raised the question whether Germany "were perhaps planning to go any further than to try to dominate Europe."

"Were this interpretation of the intentions of the German government to prove correct," he added, "his majesty's government feel bound to say that as similar attempts have done in the past this would arouse the successful resistance of this and other countries who prize their freedom."

Former Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden in a speech to the American Correspondents' Association called for "conscription of Britain's wealth, industry and manpower to meet "the menace confronting Europe."

But the government was represented as unable to make up its mind on:

Diary Of Suicide Leads To Theft Investigation

A small, blue leather-bound book, the diary of Nicholas Ranta, whose body was found last Wednesday morning hanging in a shed at the Pine Ridge farm where he was caretaker, yesterday precipitated an investigation by officers of a theft in which the aged woodsman is thought to have lost between $65 and $70. Written in the Finnish language, entries in the diary told how he had lost the money while in the company of two women and a man on a tour of several drinking places in and near Escanaba.

"The loss of that sum of money may have preyed upon his mind so much that it caused him to commit suicide," was the comment of officers yesterday.

Prosecutor William J. Miller and Sheriff William E. Miron questioned Mr. and Mrs. Grant Couillard who live in a small shack set back from Highland avenue, Wells, and Rose Drakovich, who gave her address as 507

First avenue north, Escanaba. They admitted being with Ranta on the night of Tuesday, March 7, when entries in his diary stated that he had been robbed.

The diary named places where the party had stopped on that night, and a check-up through tavern workers and local taxi drivers revealed the identity of his companions.

Reports Vary

Stories related by the three upon questioning, conflicted in many respects. The couple accused Miss Drakovich of the theft of the money. She, in turn, accused them of plotting to rob Ranta. Although their reports of places visited during the evening coincided generally, there were many differences regarding the actual theft.

"I saw her take change from the table time and again," the unmarried woman charged. "Every time Ranta bought drinks he paid for it with a five or ten-dollar bill, and almost every time she kept his attention while she picked up the change."

Charges and counter-charges flew thick and fast between the two women when they were brought together after being questioned separately.

"She was playing up to Nick all the time," the married woman accused.

"I wasn't—she had her arms around him and was after his money," her unmarried associate countered. "Her husband told me he had a 'live guy' with $150 on him, and asked me to help him get it. I refused, but thought I'd stick around just to see how it was done. I found out, all right."

The trio were released to go to their homes last night, but were warned not to leave the county. Meanwhile an investigation was pushed among persons working in the establishments which the party visited, in an attempt to prove or refute the varying stories related by members of the party.

Found By Neighbors

The body of Ranta, who was caretaker on the Charles Gunderson farm at Pine Ridge, was discovered Wednesday morning by William Wining, a neighbor, who brought him to the aged woodsman regularly. Coroner Kevill Murphy, who with Undersheriff John Frederickson investigated the death, pronounced it a suicide.

The body was found hanging in a shed at the side of the house.

Coroner Murphy stated that Ranta had probably taken his own life at about 8 or 9 o'clock Tuesday night. The body was discovered the following morning. Funeral services for the man, who has no relatives in this country as far as is known here, will be conducted today.

The little blue book containing the diary which led to the investigation was found among Ranta's effects by Carleton Gunderson, son of the owner of the farm upon which he was caretaker, on the day that the body was discovered. A translation was obtained, and the matter was placed in the hands of the county sheriff's department.

Frank Brooks, 65, Former Resident, Fatally Injured

Frank Brooks, 65, former Escanaba resident, died Monday in a South Haven hospital of injuries received in an automobile accident at Glenn Sunday night.

Mr. Brooks came to Escanaba about 1914 and was engaged in the insurance business. He moved in 1918 to Grand Rapids, where he was active in the real estate business as a member of the firm of Brooks and Riekse.

Mr. and Mrs. Brooks were returning Sunday from a visit with relatives in Chicago when the automobile in which they were riding failed to negotiate a curve and overturned in a ditch. Mrs. Brooks also was hurt, but not seriously.

Besides the widow, he is survived by two daughters: Mrs. Mabel Hasenberg, Grand Rapids, and Mrs. Esther Lamb, Chicago.

C., to be the guest of honor at the All-Michigan smelt and farm products dinner at the congressional dining room Thursday evening, April 6.

The banquet, sponsored by Rep. Bradley, will be attended by capital newspapermen, congressmen and other federal officials.

The Bradley plane will be flown to Chicago, where it will be boarded by Miss Banks, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Duchaine, for the flight to Washington on Tuesday, April 4. The party will return by plane to Escanaba on either the following Saturday or Sunday.

New Sound System Being Installed At Senior High School

The new central sound system has arrived at the senior high school and is in the process of being installed. The first room to be connected is 311 on the west side of the building.

The central controls are located in the principal's office, thereby enabling an announcement to be made directly to the classroom from the main office. Along with the sound controls are two radios which can be connected to the classrooms when a program of unusual interest is being broadcast. A recording device to record radio programs out of school hours accompanies the system. If a program of special interest to a certain class is broadcast out of school hours, the recording machine makes a record that may be played back to the class during the next day.

It is expected that members of the physics class will help in the wiring to the various classrooms and auditorium.

Expenses of the system are being covered by student activities including school organizations and the recent student campaign.

Highlights of Jamboree Described At Meeting

Highlights of the program of events to be presented at the Escanaba Smelt Jamboree during the three days, April 13 to 15, were discussed at a meeting of the various committees at the Delta hotel last evening.

Karl J. Hammar, general chairman of the Escanaba Smelt Jamboree committees, presided at the meeting, and in the opening address explained the various phases of community spirit and purpose that are involved in the staging of this annual celebration. He pointed out that every citizen has an opportunity to boost the jamboree by assisting in the entertainment of visitors and publicizing the event far and wide.

Harold P. Lindsay, secretary of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, presented the committees with statistical information concerning the shipments of smelt to service clubs and other organizations last year and other information indicating a widespread interest in the jamboree. Details of the publicity campaign were described by Wm. J. Duchaine.

Other speakers at the meeting were Wm. J. Miller and Carl Persson of Rapid River, Conrad Lemmer, Henry Wyle and Dr. Harry W. Long.

CHASSELL HAS MANY TUBERS

Houghton County Heavy Potato Shipper This Season

Chassell, Mich.—This Houghton county community has shipped more than 130 carloads of high grade certified and table stock potatoes to big city markets this season, and has nearly completed the winter movement of spuds. Shipments have reached a new high volume for a single crop and are believed to be the largest from any single point in Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

One hundred and seven carloads were shipped by Upper Peninsula Potato Farms, Inc., which had about 175 acres under cultivation last year, and where the management has prepared 300 acres for next year's crop. More than 300 carloads have been shipped from Houghton county, and a considerable increase is expected this year. The majority of the Houghton production has been graded at the Soo Line warehouse in Schiller Park, near Chicago.

The latter city has been the largest single receiver of the 1938 potato crop from the district, but many cars have gone to Detroit, Cleveland, Indianapolis, Louisville, St. Louis, Peoria, Cincinnati, Columbus and other large centers. Dozen of carloads of certified seed stock have received wide distribution and growers in many other states are now looking to the Upper Peninsula for the virile strains necessary to replenish their fields at frequent intervals.

Maine Growers Busy Here

At least four former Maine growers of potatoes had fields in the Upper Peninsula last year, and others have stated their intention of moving into this district soon. One former Maine producer estimates that people from his state will have at least 800 acres under potato cultivation in upper Michigan the coming season. He stated his conviction that the Upper Peninsula has some real advantages in potato growing over the best producing sections of his native state.

Lake Linden has shipped 60 carloads this season, and growers in that area are preparing to increase their 1939 acreage, while others will enter the venture for the first time. The extension department of Michigan State College and Upper Peninsula railroads are offering every encouragement to Upper Peninsula potato culture, which began to expand about eight years ago. Well qualified observers say that people now living will see the industry grow to proportions rivaling those of Maine and Idaho, where it has been a leader in agriculture for many years.

Bond Falls Case Solution Sought By Power Concern

BY GUY H. JENKINS

Lansing—Officials of the Cooper District Power Co. will confer April 19 with the conservation commission in an effort to reach a solution of their present difficulties, thereby eliminating long drawn-out court litigation in the Bond falls case.

The utility began a hydro-electric project on the middle branch of the Ontonagon river. The purpose was to divert sufficient water to create a 40-foot head for power purposes.

The state started suit in the Ingham circuit court seeking a permanent injunction against the action. The state claimed the power company was without authority to divert the water.

ADD LAND TO DUNES PARK

The defendants filed a motion to dismiss but there has been no action on this move. The answer to the state's bill of complaint has been in the office of the attorney general for several weeks. It has not been filed with the court, according to P. J. Hoffmaster, director of conservation.

It is claimed by the state the water diversion would ruin the beauty of Bond falls and also affect Agate falls, about 12 miles down the river.

Kenneth G. Prettie, assistant attorney general assigned to the case, recommended the conference. It is his contention that much litigation can be avoided through such a proceeding, especially should the courts rule partly in favor of the power company.

In that event he wants the utility and commission to agree on a maximum amount of water that may be diverted.

The state owns property along the Ontonagon river below the project. The United States for-

Souvenir of Jamboree

Besides the smelt which will be sent by the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce as a souvenir of the Escanaba Smelt Jamboree, April 13 to 15, the menu will be made up with a variety of Michigan food products, intended to show the diversity of the state's agriculture.

French fried potatoes will be supplied by the Upper Peninsula Potato Growers association from Old Orchard Farm, the Escanaba Daily Press experimental farm. The Michigan Bean company of Saginaw, will supply the baked beans item. At each plate, there will be a red apple, sent by the Michigan Apple Institute of Bangor.

Michigan's canning industry will be on display at the banquet table, with cherries and raspberries from the Cherry Growers Packing company, Traverse City, Fremont Canning company, Fremont, and East Jordan; whole kernel golden bantam corn from the W. R. Roach cannery at Grand Rapids; vegetarian vegetable soup from the House of David Cold Storage, St. Joseph; spiced peaches from the New Era Canning company, New Era; catsup from the Lake Odessa Canning company, Lake Odessa, and beets from the Norway Canning company, Norway.

U. P. Dairy Products

Dairy products will be furnished by the Upper Peninsula, with cheese shipped from the Carney Cheese and Butter company at Carney and butter from the Upper Peninsula Dairy Manufacturers association, of which William Asselin of Norway is secretary.

There will be a variety of beverages at the dinner, including apple juice from the John C. Mortson company, Traverse City; possum from Post Products division, General Foods Corporation, Battle Creek; mineral water from the Michigan Magnetic Mineral Water company, Saint Louis, and grape-juice from the LaSalle Wine and Champagne company, Farmington. The Upper Peninsula also will furnish two vegetable items: waxed rutabagas from the Arthur Eagle farm at Lake Nicolet, Chippewa county, and green peas from the Jack McInnis farm at Rudyard.

Michigan salt will be sent by the Michigan Salt company, Saint Louis. Beet sugar is being sup-

Mostly All Loyal

The indignation of Americans at seeing certain persons trying to import prejudices and hatreds from abroad, and seeking to fasten the goose-step on the United States, is natural, but it should be restrained.

Those people of German descent who have been so thoughtless and so irresponsible as to foster those movements are a very small minority of the German-descended population of the United States.

No one should be more resentful of this loud minority than the honest and admirable people who have never hesitated, for several generations, to throw their weight decisively on the side of freedom and democracy.

Hitler's impudent presumption is that, simply because their ancestors came from Germany, whose institutions many of them hated, Americans of German origin owe some sort of allegiance to the man or the party which now rules Germany.

The great bulk of German immigrants to American came to escape the tyrannies of their own day, and they are not stupid enough to feel the slightest allegiance to an even more narrow tyranny of today.

Usually, the vast bulk of such people are silent, and without rebuttal bear the slur that is cast on their loyalty by the Kuhns and the Schwins. But in Los Angeles, a thousand of them decided to give no longer the silence that implies consent.

The United States has always had reason to be proud of its citizens of German descent. During the World War, almost to a man they passed the acid test of loyalty.

Today they are not less loyal, but more, for the tyranny abroad which has the impudence to demand their allegiance is a more bitter one than ever a Kaiser dared impose on a proud people.

Do not be deceived by the antics of a rabid few. The vast bulk of American citizens of German descent will be found loyal today as in the past, to freedom, to the land which is now, and in most cases has been for generations, their own.

Hitler Takes Memel

Hitler's march to the northeast, followed closely upon the seizure of Czechoslovakia, has already added Memel, seaport city of Lithuania, to the Reich, accompanied by another of the Fuehrer's dramatic bloodless conquests.

The Nazi annexation of Memel was an easy move on Europe's complicated checkerboard of power politics and therefore was not unexpected. The story of Memel is the story of the Allies' post-war blundering at Versailles, which after all is the main cause of fascism and nazism.

The "Big Four" at Versailles succeeded in wresting from Germany her northeastern seaport of Memel, on the Baltic, and placed it in the control of the conference of ambassadors. A year later, a Polish general, with the tacit consent of his government, stole Lithuania's capital, Vilna.

Memel has a population of 152,000, of which about ninety per cent are Germans. On Dec. 11, 1923, out of the 29 men elected to the Memel diet, 25 won their seats on a program calling for the return of this territory to the Reich.

With this background, Memel was a cinch for Europe's new Napoleon.

Time For A Change?

Recent happenings in D. A. R. circles at Washington, including the resignation of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt from the organization, have given rise to considerable discussion.

It may be surmised that Mrs. Roosevelt, a national figure, did not act on her resolve without due deliberation, and that her action is a valid protest against a condition that is possibly in need of correction.

If the decision in the case of the singer was snap judgment by a few prejudiced leaders—a decision unpopular with the great mass of membership, some heads will probably fall before the incident is closed.

Judging by the number who were dropped from the WPA rolls, Iron county has the largest percentage of aliens of any county in the Peninsula.

And yet there is a principle involved which must be settled sometime, and settled right. Washington has a good many aspects of a southern city, and the southern Daughters of the American Revolution and the white South generally, will applaud the verdict.

World Affairs Reviewed

Business is so good on the Kiel Canal, according to reports from Berlin, that Germany is planning to enlarge her strategic inland waterway from the North Sea to the Baltic.

Opened in 1895, the Kiel Canal runs diagonally across the narrow neck of the German part of the Jutland peninsula as it stretches toward the Danish frontier.

Germany enlarged the Kaiser Wilhelm (now Kiel) Canal just before the World War. Finished in 1914, the improvements were undertaken in order to permit dreadnoughts and other big vessels to pass from one sea to the other without having to sail around the Danish peninsula and islands that stretch between.

Some authorities say that the war was delayed until the completion of the project. During the struggle the Kiel Canal was a 62-mile water axis linking the German naval bases of Kiel on the Baltic and Wilhelmshaven on the North Sea.

Long before the World War, however, Kiel Canal figured in international affairs. In connection with the war between Prussia, Austria, and Denmark in 1864, the German Chancellor Bismarck was reported to be particularly anxious to obtain the territory needed for an inland waterway which would take the place of the long route around Denmark.

Traffic on the Kiel Canal has increased from less than four and a half million tons in 1900 to more than twenty-four million tons for the fiscal year ending March, 1938.

Between the grassy banks of this winding sea lane pass ships of many nations, carrying such assorted cargoes as timber, grain, eggs, and coal. Side by side are seen the flags of Britain, Sweden, Denmark, and Lithuania—the Hammer and Sickle of Soviet Russia and the Swastika of Germany.

For the past two years Germany has been complete mistress of her inland seas. According to the Versailles Treaty, the Kiel Canal was to be an international lane, open to ships of all countries at peace with Germany.

Drivers must be extremely careless at one railroad crossing near Iron Mountain. This impression comes from the fact that a railroad man writes to the Iron Mountain News to warn motorists to exercise care at the crossing.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Washington—It is not entirely an accident that Cordell Hull is seen less and less around the State Department—even when the world is rocked by crisis as it is today.

Real fact is that the Secretary of State never was very active except in pushing his trade treaties, and recently he has drifted even more to the side-lines.

In fact, there have been recent reports that he would resign. These reports probably were somewhat exaggerated, but it is true that advisers close to Hull intimated that if he could get the Brandels vacancy on the Supreme Court he would step out of the State Department.

Mr. Hull is now nearing his 68th birthday, is not in the best of health, also has been greatly irked at suggestions regarding foreign affairs made by some of his Cabinet colleagues.

One Senator who is a close friend of Hull's remarked after a recent talk with him: "The old gentleman has been so balled that if you say 'boo' at him he takes it as a personal insult."

Now that the Brandels vacancy has been filled, it is not likely that Hull will resign, but he will probably play a less active part around the State Department.

Justice William O. Douglas—The finishing touch which put across Bill Douglas as Supreme Court Justice was supplied by Gene Tunney, ex-heavyweight champ.

Together with Colonel Charles March, forthright member of the Federal Trade Commission, Tunney went to see Attorney General Frank Murphy. Both Irishmen, Tunney had known Murphy a long time.

March had been putting in some strong licks for the Douglas appointment, and previously had been to see Senator Borah. As a far Westerner, also as one of the most influential members of the Senate, Borah's recommendation was important.

But he told Colonel March that while he favored Douglas, he did not care to take any initiative in recommending him.

In their talk with Frank Murphy, Gene Tunney and March urged the Attorney General to call up Borah and get his views on who should fill the Brandels vacancy.

Finally Murphy consented, telephoned Borah, and got an enthusiastic endorsement.

This clinched the matter. Roosevelt already was favorable to the SEC chairman, and when he got the Borah recommendation from Murphy, he sent his name to the Senate.

One policy urged upon Roosevelt by some of the Cabinet members Mr. 'Hull doesn't like, is the non-recognition of General Franco.

They point out that the United States has followed a policy under both Democratic and Republican administrations of not recognizing territory gained through conquest, and that the Franco victory in Spain was won only through the tremendous aid given him by the conquering legions of Mussolini and Hitler.

Claude Bowers, recently returned Ambassador to Spain, is energetically backing this position, but certain minds in the State Department lean toward recognition.

Most important point raised by the Cabinet members who oppose recognition is the foolishness of the Chamberlain policy of yelling at Hitler in regard to Czechoslovakia, yet supporting Hitler in regard to Spain.

Hitler's success so far has been built largely on the policy of attacking the French and British obliquely—in other words, in an area where it is difficult for them to fight. The Sudetenland, Austria, Czechoslovakia all were inconvenient battlegrounds for the ex-Allies, yet each more strengthened Hitler's hand.

Similarly, Spain is too far away for Hitler and Mussolini to do battle on a large scale, and thus is an area where the French and British could reverse the Hitler technique of an oblique attack. Even today in Spain it is not too late for French and British munitions to turn the Fascist victory into a defeat, which would be just as serious a blow to the dictators as the occupation of Czechoslovakia was to the democracies.

No wonder Mr. Hull likes to take vacations during European crises.

Lines for Living

By Barton Res Pogor WHEN THE DAYS GET LONG Hi, ho! Sing a song, a song For the times when the days get long!

Yes, the days are gettin' long and longer, The sun is settin' up and stronger, And purty soon, Some lazy afternoon You'll hear the murmur of the bees In the blossoms of the linden trees. There comes a day When middle-March seems middle-May, But say!

Like's not a time at all to me Like the days that's goin' a-be. When Nature tears the solis apart— And helps the little flowers to start. By puttin' in between the dawn and dark The sunshine and the meadow-lark.

Sing a song, a song, a song For the times when the days get long!

COUNTY ROADS NEAR NORMAL

All 600 Miles Expected To Be Opened By This Evening

Almost all of the county's 600 miles of road will be cleared of snow from one of the worst storms in history by late this afternoon, J. T. Sharpsteen, county engineer, said yesterday.

Extensive melting during the past two days has added to the obstacles which faced members of the road commission crews in their almost unprecedented battle against the elements during the past two weeks. Water from the high banks has softened roads considerably, making removal that much more difficult.

Equipment break-downs and the necessity of plowing side-roads to remove slick areas has contributed much to retarding natural progress. Road commission policy, of necessity, requires that no trips can be made to side roads for sickness unless a doctor's signed statement is presented. This is done to protect the commission from much unnecessary expenditure of time and money in wild goose chases.

Starting Thursday of last week, crews had been successful in opening 270 miles of road by Saturday night. The snow of Sunday filled that in again and no further progress was made Sunday. During Tuesday and Wednesday, 118 miles were plowed, although going was tough Wednesday. A crew of 26 men and a large truck spent 12 hours opening the blacksmith road in Escanaba township. Approximately 100 miles were opened yesterday and it is expected that the rest will be completed today. It was pointed out, however, that in many cases the roads are open only to one-way traffic and care must be used in driving on them.

"Fortunately these jobs, usually administrative and highly paid are filled, contrary to public opinion, by outstanding men and women who not only agree with the basic economic and social philosophy of the administration in power but have gained distinction in their field."

As to salary on government jobs, he said, that in general the lower bracket government jobs pay more than private jobs and the higher bracket government jobs pay less. Jury Chosen For April Term Of Circuit Court

Persons who have been chosen to serve on the jury at the April term of Delta county circuit court will be notified by letter today. The term is likely to be short one, as few jury cases have been filed for trial this term.

One criminal case is continued from last term, that of Ronald LaCrosse, charged with leaving the scene of an accident. He is accused of driving an automobile which struck and injured Sylvia Pelosa of Kipling in Kipling the night of December 11.

The accident was traced to the defendant through the door handle of the car, which was found imbedded in the arm of the injured girl. Undersheriff John Frederickson located the automobile belonging to LaCrosse on the corner of Twelfth and Ludington street the morning following the accident, and testified at a preliminary examination in justice court that the handle found in the girl's arm fitted the broken handle on the automobile.

A motion for dismissal of the charges against LaCrosse has been denied by Judge Frank A. Bell since the last court term here.

Those selected to serve on the jury at the term which begins April 10, are:

Mildred Flagstad, Escanaba, sixth precinct; Anthony Nastoff, seventh precinct; Nanna Foster, eighth precinct; Eric M. Johnson, Gladstone, first precinct; John T. Communication

ROAD CONDITIONS Escanaba, Mich., March 23, 1939. Editor, Escanaba Daily Press, Escanaba, Michigan. Dear Sir:

The communication published in Thursday's issue of the Escanaba Daily Press, signed by J. Arthur Mattson, certainly contains the truth concerning the conditions of the county roads of Delta county at the present time. However, I would like to stress on the last paragraph of Mr. Mattson's letter wherein he states that it will take several days yet before the roads are open in this county. He asks, "Why can't the State Highway Department help in an emergency like this?" Sufficient reason might be that on other occasions the State Highway Department has offered such assistance to the County Road Commission.

It is my understanding that on February 15, 1936, a like condition existed in the Garden Peninsula, at a time of sickness. However, when a local representative of the State Highway Department offered such necessary assistance from Schoolcraft county, he was politely turned down from your county engineer's office and, furthermore, they took this matter up with Mr. E. J. Norous, chairman of your County Road Commission, and at that time, Mr. Norous stated that it was not necessary and that the County Road Commission was able to open its own roads.

Now then, I believe it is the duty of your county road officials to at least ask for any such assistance they may need, as no one should know their conditions better than they, themselves. The Highway Department has never refused to offer such assistance and I do not believe they ever will.

Respectfully yours, "An Interested Reader"

Does About Capitol

Lansing—Eight legislative days remain for filling of new bills for the 1939 session of the state legislature.

Pet measures of every kind are being dumped into the hopper, referred to sundry committees, and left to await their fate which, in most cases, will be oblation.

The very fact that more than 600 bills have introduced here to date and that around 900 will probably be the final total offers an insight into the hazards which legislation must surmount 'twix introduction and passage.

More than one conscientious representative and senator has voted in favor of a bill on the say-so of a friend without giving it more than a passing glance. In the mad rush of the final weeks of every legislative session, unwise bills often slip through, due to realistic circumstances rather than to deliberate intent.

206-Page Bill

A case at hand is Senate Bill No. 1, the probate code, representing months of work by a study commission created by the 1937 legislature.

This measure, sponsored by Senator D. Hale Brake, contains 266 pages. It is the prize measure to date for length.

On Monday, March 13, the senate judiciary committee reported out the bill. The official journal of the senate, No. 45 of the 1939 series, might well be a text for students of political science on the modern art of government.

This issue contains all the amendments recommended by the committee for the probate code—exactly 450 in number!

Senators were appalled at the prospect of having each amendment read by the clerk, as is necessary during general orders if one senator so desires.

Obviously the senate would be in continuous session for many, many hours. Few if any of the members would have the patience or endurance to survive the ordeal.

What happened? You guessed right. The Senate passed the bill, hoping for the best. It was more of a vote of confidence in Senator Blake and his colleagues, all attorneys, than one of approval of the bill and its 450 amendments.

Here is modern government in operation. "Life for a Pint" Twelve years ago a similar predicament confronted a Michigan legislature, and the unforeseen results led to the election of Wilbur M. Brucker as governor.

A voluminous bill, dealing with crime and justice emerged one day from committee. It consisted of pages and pages. Among the many restrictions was a sentence that provided up to life sentence for a habitual offender—one convicted of four offenses. The bill became a law.

During prohibition days more so than now, enforcement of the state liquor law was a much-publicized issue.

Michigan awoke one morning to read in the daily newspapers that the legislature had provided medieval punishment for a citizen seized with a pint of liquor on his possession. In the public controversy that ensued, Mr. Brucker, then a deputy attorney general, became the man of the hour. It was a publicity break that resulted, later on, in his elevation to the governorship.

Regulatory Bills As the deadline nears for introduction of bills, more and more regulatory measures appear at Lansing.

Each special group seeks to have the state government regulate its business, ostensibly in the name of fair trade but in reality for the purpose of controlling competition (an abuse) sponsors would have the government set up bigger and better bureaus, backed by systems of license fees and staffs of investigators with varying police power.

Just as the 1937 legislature sought to establish trade barriers to encourage home consumption of Michigan beer and wine, so many of these measures would set up new barriers.

barriers against the consumption of oleomargarine. Each manufacturer would pay a fee of $2,500; each wholesaler and distributor, $1,000 and each retail dealer, $100.

House Bill 293 would license barbers and haircutters, define an apprentice barber, and authorize regulations, fees and investigations.

Electrical Code House Bill 308 would amend the 1935 electrical code to provide "it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to install any electrical wiring except in compliance with the regulations prescribed by the electrical administrative board."

This measure defines classifications of electrical journeymen, master electrician and electrical contractor.

A half dozen fair trade bills have been introduced to date, each one seeking to outlaw the so-called "loss leader," merchandise that is sold below cost, and in many instances providing for a commission or bureau to see that retailers observe the regulations.

These bills hark back to the "Blue Eagle" NRA days when a federal government sought, through administrative code authorities, to maintain fair prices and thus assure retailers and manufacturers of a profit.

Model Advertising Law In 1931 the legislature enacted a criminal code which contained a restriction against "false advertising" which follows closely the model statute prepared by "Printers' Ink" magazine first in 1911.

This statute has been enacted, as part of codes or as individual laws, by 30 of the 48 states.

According to J. D. Jordan of the Better Business Bureau of Detroit, Michigan's false advertising law is "practically identical" with the national model statute. It offers adequate protection to the consumer against false or misleading statements made in an advertisement whether in a newspaper, magazine, handbill, printed sheet for direct mail use, or in any other manner for public or private dissemination.

On Saturday, Feb. 11, in Judge George Murphy's court at Detroit, two partners and a manager of a photographic studio were fined $50 each and one of the partners was given a suspended prison sentence for sending "false and misleading" statements through the mail. The statute on which the three men were successfully tried was Michigan's model advertising law.

It is the opinion of many legislators that the above consumer protection, already on the statute books, is ample and sufficient and that further false advertising restrictions are not needed.

Additional advertising restrictions may be found in a number of bills introduced during this session, many of them of good intention but without knowledge of their sponsors that the state already has a model law fully protecting the consumer.

Straws in the Wind The current A.F.L.-C.I.O. feud has weakened labor's strength at Lansing. The governor's labor relations mediation bill, proposing a "cooling off" period before a strike, has better than even chances of passage.

Chances of repeal of the civil service law (as forecast in this column last week) have disappeared completely. Senate Republicans intend to revamp the law, reducing the number of state employees covered. House sentiment still is strong for outright repeal but it won't get very far.

Economy-minded members of the legislature are taking a whack at every appropriation bill. Senator Bishop's state advertising bill, originally calling for $150,000 a year for tourist advertising and $50,000 for matching growers' expenditures for farm produce advertising, was cut in the Senate to $125,000 and $25,000 respectively. The House ways and means committee then reduced the total to $100,000 a year. Final passage was scheduled for this week.

Sport Club Hears Conservation Talks

Munising, March 23—Max Wakeman and L. A. Davenport of the state department of conservation, Lansing, were the speakers before a group of Munising Sportsman's club members held last night in the Alger county courthouse. Various problems which the conservation department is finding in conducting their experiments at the Casino game refuge and some of the results of the work done there were explained to the group.

Ford Kellum, in charge of the Casino experiment, and Blaine Brannon, keeper of the Casino game refuge, were also present at the meeting.

Guests of Rotary Munising, March 23—The Misses Marianna Dufour and Ingrid Baij, winners in the Mather high school speech contest held last week, were the guests of the Munising Rotary club at their noon meeting in the Beach Inn on Wednesday. Miss Dufour delivered her winning oration, "War or Hitler?" and Miss Baij gave her winning declamation, "At the Grave of Napoleon" by Robert G. Ingersoll.

Road Commission Studies Opinion On New Members

Munising, March 23—Members of the board of supervisors made public no statement here today as to what action they would take regarding the legal opinion received here by County Prosecutor R. E. O'Brien that appointment of additional members to the county road commission was not within the supervisors' powers. It was expected that a special meeting of the board may be called to consider action which the supervisors may take.

Three Air Routes Proposed for U. P.

St. Ignace—Mayor J. Edward Quinn said today that, according to a letter received from the Michigan Airways, Lansing, three air routes are being considered, by which it is planned to make a more direct connection between the Upper Peninsula and Chicago.

In only one of the proposed routes will St. Ignace be included as a stop. Route 1 is from Petoskey, St. Ignace, Manistique, Escanaba and Marquette. No. 2 is from Petoskey to Sault Ste. Marie, Newberry and Marquette. No. 3 is from Marquette to Escanaba, Menominee, and on to Grand Rapids. All three routes connect with Grand Rapids.

Mayor Quinn appointed a committee to further investigate these routes, and to make their recommendations. On this committee are Weldon Chastello, C. B. Wing, Edward McNamara, O. C. Boynton, Jr., and Don J. Frantz.

further, that in any county in which the board of road commissioners shall consist, at the time this amendment takes effect, of less than three members, the board of supervisors, at the first regular meeting thereafter, or at a special meeting called for that purpose, shall appoint such additional members as may be necessary. . . .

"Article 8, Section 7, of the Constitution of the State of Michigan of 1908, provides as follows: 'The legislature may by general law confer upon the boards of supervisors of the several counties such powers of a local, legislative and administrative character, not inconsistent with the provisions of this constitution as it may deem proper.'"

"Article VIII, Section 1, of the Constitution, provides that counties shall be a body corporate invested with such powers and immunities as shall be established by law. In the case of Loomis vs. Rogers, 197 Mich., Page 265 provides in substance that the legislature has the power to prescribe the powers and immunities of counties, and that the above section of the Constitution does not vest counties with exclusive prerogatives.

"In a long line of decisions, the supreme court of this state has held that boards of supervisors can exercise only such powers as are conferred upon them by the legislature.

The cases applying to this particular phase of the law are noted in the letter received by Mr. O'Brien. The concluding paragraph of the letter follows: 'It is, therefore, the opinion of this office that inasmuch as Section 3981 of the Compiled Laws of 1929 provides for a county road commission of three members, it is not within the power of the board of supervisors to increase the road commission to a commission of five members.'"

Prosecuting Attorney O'Brien requested the opinion of the Attorney-General's department. The main text of the letter which Mr. O'Brien received follows: 'We understand your question to be: 'Can the county board of supervisors increase the number of commissioners from three members to five members?'

"Section 3981 of the Compiled Laws of the State of Michigan for the year 1929 provides as follows: 'In any county where the county road system has been or shall hereafter be adopted, a board of county road commissioners consisting of three members shall be elected by the people of the county. In the first instance such commissioners shall be appointed by the board of supervisors or elected at a general or special election called for that purpose, as shall be ordered by the board of supervisors. Hound's Best Friend

The raccoon is a 100 percent American. A coonskin cap was the badge of the frontiersman in the days of Daniel Boone. The raccoon is found from Canada to Panama, never far from water, is a good fisherman, and hunter of frogs and crayfish, and is in the habit of washing almost everything he eats. Like the red fox, the raccoon has inspired the development of a breed of hound, and coon dog trials are exciting sport for hundreds of organized clubs. Also the raccoon is an important source of fur. Fred Everett painted the raccoon for the 1939 Wildlife Week poster stamps, distributed by the National Wildlife Federation.

Salads Important In Planning Menus For Lenten Season

BY LOUISE BENNETT WEAVER (AP Feature Service Writer)
Salads need no introduction to most people these days. But with the beginning of Lent assume new importance on the menu, and some new and tempting versions should be welcome.

Salads contain both vitamin and energy food elements. When you serve a well-planned salad with a substantial hot soup you have a satisfying, well-rounded meal.

A Lenten Menu
Here's an example, built around a top-notch in "greens" society: Hot clam chowder, a fresh salad bowl topped off with chocolate pie or orange shortcake. Success depends on how you make the salad, and this method should help you win:

Mix one cup of shredded lettuce, one cup of diced celery, half a cup each of cooked peas, grated raw carrots and cooked green beans. Blend in two tablespoons each of chopped parsley, onions and green peppers. Season with salt, paprika and a third of a cup of French dressing. Chill in a bowl that has been rubbed with garlic. Just before serving sprinkle half a cup of grated cheese over your salad.

For a sprightly spring salad that can stand as the main course, here is a new cottage cheese ensemble: For each portion allow one-third of a cup of cottage cheese, one-fourth of a cup each of green beans, celery and cooked beets. Pile the cheese in the center of heaped cross or other salad green. Surround it with the vegetables and sprinkle them generously with finely chopped onions, parsley and pimientos. Top with half a hard cooked egg. Pass salad dressing or mayonnaise.

Nourishing Egg Relish
Here's another interesting—and nourishing—salad. It's called egg relish and this recipe will serve four: Combine four hard-cooked eggs with one cup of diced celery, half a cup of cooked lima beans, half a cup of cress and two tablespoons each of chopped onions, green peppers, pimientos and grated yellow cheese. Season with salt, paprika, two tablespoons of chopped olives and three tablespoons of French dressing. Chill thoroughly and pass in a bowl.

When you feel like serving something that's a little swanky, try this salad. Slice two avocado pears, cover them with French dressing and chill them for an hour or longer. At serving time, put a bed of shredded lettuce on your salad plates, then arrange in the center of each, a heap of diced oranges, grapefruit, pineapple and pears and, finally, arrange your avocado slices around each fruit heap. Top each portion with seeded grapes and cherries and serve Roquefort dressing, passed in a separate container.

A Quick Salad
When you have the ingredients waiting in the refrigerator it's no trick at all to whisk up a tasty Somerset fish salad. This recipe makes six portions: Mix one cup of salmon, half a cup of diced celery or cucumbers, a fourth of a cup of chopped sweet pickles, two tablespoons of minced pimientos and three dried hard-cooked eggs. Season with salt and paprika and moisten with a third of a cup of mayonnaise. Sprinkle with a little lemon juice and serve on lettuce.

There's an almost infinite variety in salads—the number of different greens available, the diversity of fruits, vegetables, seafoods and meats one can choose from in making a combination. And yet there are further ways to brighten your salads—by ringing changes on the dressing served with them.

Cheese in the dressing, for instance, with fruit, vegetable or cabbage salads; mixing a little French dressing and chili sauce with your mayonnaise for crab, tuna or shrimp salad. Or take boiled dressing; when you're serving a salmon or a jellied vegetable salad, try mixing some catsup and chopped olives. That will bring out the best there is in your salad.

Spaghetti With Italian Meat Sauce
1 1/2 pounds stewing lamb
2 tablespoons olive oil
(Brown together)
Add:
1 clove garlic finely chopped
1 can Italian tomato paste
2 No. 3 cans Italian tomatoes
1 bay leaf
1/2 cup dried mushrooms.

Simmer for 6 hours and add two tablespoons of grated Italian cheese. Cook one hour longer after shredding the meat and removing bones. Prepare spaghetti and blend with the sauce. Serve with additional grated cheese.

London Stew
2 beef kidneys
2 tablespoons fat
3 small onions, sliced
2 cups water
2 cups sliced carrots
2 cups diced potatoes
1 cup canned tomatoes
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Soak kidneys in cold salt water 1 hour, drain; pour boiling water over them. Remove tubes and skin and cut in pieces, sprinkle with salt, pepper and flour. Melt fat in heavy skillet and brown onions, add kidneys and saute until brown. Add water and carrots, cover and cook slowly for 30 minutes. Add potatoes, tomatoes and seasonings and cook 30 minutes longer.

Brownies
Mix 2 eggs, 1/2 cup melted shortening, 3/4 cup brown sugar, 1/2 cup sifted flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 2 squares melted chocolate, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup walnut meats and 1/2 teaspoon vanilla. Line a square shallow cake pan with waxed paper. Use an 8-inch tin for best results. Spread the mixture evenly in the tin. Bake in a moderate oven for 30 minutes. Take from the oven and turn out, removing waxed paper. Cut into oblongs, 2 1/2 inches by 2 inches.

Dried Beef Rounds
1 cup mashed potatoes
1 egg
8 slices dried beef
1 cup grated cheese
Place 2 tablespoons well-seasoned mashed potatoes on each slice of dried beef. Roll up and secure with toothpick. Beat egg and dip each roll in it. Then roll in grated cheese. Place under broiler until cheese melts and is slightly brown.

Cook in Advance For Extra Hours Of Leisure Time

BY LOUISE BENNETT WEAVER (AP Feature Service Writer)

Grandmother had a real house-keeping idea when she cooked enough "pie and things" to last a week. It gave her a chance to get out of the kitchen during the week.

Modern housewives would do well to take the hint; perhaps not cook for a week ahead, but for a few days, anyway. It would save energy, time and fuel.

Start With a Roast
Consider the possibilities of a roast. Pick a large one. Reheated, it's as good as the day it was roasted. Sliced, cold, it forms an important part of the luncheon, dinner or supper menu. Minced, it goes to school in sandwiches or to parties, blended into timbales, salads or croquettes.

Leftover cooked meat and gravy make delicious pot pies; they're fine escalloped with rice, and they make a really enjoyable hash. These all are dishes in their own rights—not one is a mere leftover. Cook several vegetables, along with the roast—carrots, parsnips, turnips, onions and potatoes. They have their interesting follow-up possibilities, too.

Soup Possibilities
To keep down the budget and yet satisfy a hungry family, buy a large soup bone and cook it with some boiling meat and plenty of vegetables. A big bowl of this kind of beef vegetable soup, steaming hot, with plenty of crackers or toast and a hearty salad makes a fine meal every now and then. Top it off with a favorite family dessert, apple, lemon or pumpkin pie, perhaps, or steamed chocolate or fruit pudding with a sauce.

HOW TO ROAST LAMB
Don't have the fell removed when you buy a leg of lamb. Sprinkle the meat with salt and pepper, put in leg, cut side up, on a rack in an open roasting pan. Do not add water, do not cover. Allow 30 to 35 minutes to the pound for roasting. If you use a thermometer, make an incision so that the bulb reaches the center of the roast, but don't let it rest on fat or bone. When the thermometer registers 175 degrees, lamb is medium done; at 180 degrees it's well done.

The meat you cooked with the soup bone can reappear for the main course of a later dinner. Serve it cubed, mixed with vegetables, cooked noodles and a savory sauce as a tempting casserole dish. If you have some soup left over, strain out the vegetables and serve as an appetizer for luncheon or dinner on another day.

Rolls and Salad Dressing
Here are some other in-advance kitchen ideas:

Salad dressings: Make leftover egg yolks into boiled dressing, beat up a supply of mayonnaise, shake up some French dressing. That should give you enough to last a month.

When you are making rolls, double the recipe and store half the dough in the refrigerator. Don't confine yourself to rolls at the first baking, either. Turn out some of them, of course, but make a coffee ring, a nut fruit loaf and some cinnamon buns at the same time—a regular bakery turnout at one mixing.

When you go on a baking spree, use the oven to capacity. Bake a gingerbread, nut fruit pudding, baked fruit and a generous supply of cookies at one time, moving them occasionally to insure even baking. Store your desserts carefully and you should have a three-day supply.

For a fish-extending idea, try this: Boil five pounds or so of salmon steak at once. For the first meal, serve it hot, with lemon sauce. Another time, serve some of it sliced and browned in a little fat, with tartar sauce on the side. If you still have some salmon, you can use it for salads, timbales, fondues or in escalloped blends.

Lenten Chowder

1 cup diced raw potatoes
1 cup diced raw carrots
4 cups water
3/4 cup diced celery
3/4 cup chopped onions
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup cooked peas
3/4 teaspoon paprika
3 tablespoons butter
2 cups milk
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
Cook covered over a low heat for 25 minutes the potatoes, carrots, water, celery and onions. Add rest of ingredients. Cook four minutes and serve in a bowl.

BEHIND THE SCENES

By Bruce Catton

Washington—You know about foreign treaties, of course, and about ambassadors and secretaries of state and such. But did you ever hear of skippets?

Skippets are gadgets which once upon a time dressed up foreign treaties in rare dignity. They are out of date now, but the National Archives building here still has a collection of them, and they are charming little doodads.

A skippet is a metal box for the protection of a wax government seal. It is made of either gold or silver, it looks somewhat like a chafing dish minus its legs, and it is attached to a treaty by a flossy cord. The box contains the wax and the lid has the seal embossed on its under side. Fill the box, press the lid on, and you have the seal imprinted on the wax.

Treaties used to be dressed up handsomely—often in a velvet-covered book set off with gold thread, or in an ornate leather binding. Nowadays, though, a treaty is just typed out on thick vellum and tied up with ribbons. The last treaty the United States got with a skippet attached was one of the Bryan arbitration treaties, signed with Great Britain in 1914. Most State Department officials now don't even know what a skippet is; ask about skippets and they think you're kidding them—and get very unpleasant.

BATTLESHIPS FOR BANANAS

An ingenious shipper down south recently achieved the unheard-of by finding a commercial use for out-of-date navy destroyers. When destroyers become totally obsolete the navy sells them, usually for junk. This man bought a couple—the Warden and Whipple—and made them into banana boats; has them in service on a run between Cuba and Jacksonville, Fla.

Navy Department folks say there's really no reason why the boats wouldn't make good carriers, although they never heard of it being done before. The magazine space, a good part of the crew space and much of the fuel space (on a short run like Cuba-Jacksonville) could be used for cargo, they point out. And the shipper would have one of the speediest freighters ever seen.

Quite a number of high officials here like to collect cartoons in which they are lampooned. Secretary Hopkins has a lot of them ornamenting the walls of his den at home. So has Senator Borah. Senator Nye puts his in his office. And Secretary Ickes hangs his in his bedroom.

SPEAKING OF LIFTS

There is a private elevator in the Labor Department building, reserved for the exclusive use of the secretary; but Miss Perkins, who figures such a device is altogether too flossy for any earthly use, has never been in it. Nobody has ever used it since the building was built, in fact as far as Labor Department people know—except Secretary of Commerce Hopkins.

It seems Hopkins came over to the Labor Department once and got into the private elevator by mistake. It decanted him into an ante-room off Miss Perkins' office, and he didn't know where he was until a clerk discovered him and explained things.

An elevator in the capitol stopped at the House floor the other day. Three or four congressmen got out; half a dozen newspapermen stayed on board to ride up to the press gallery. One of the departing congressmen was Charles Gifford of Massachusetts. Taking a leisurely backward glance as he stepped out, he remarked thoughtfully: "Here is where the scribes stay on—and the pharisees depart."

● SERIAL STORY 'MRS. DOC' BY TOM HORNER

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

The characters and situations in this story are wholly fictional.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
ALAN WARREN—Ambitious young country doctor.
EMILY WARREN—Alan's wife.
ERIC KANE—Construction engineer.
DR. FARRELL—Alan's elderly associate.

Yesterday: Eric arrives to find Emily firm in her decision to leave Alan. He faces a dilemma since he wants to be fair to Alan, but he loves Emily. Then Dr. Farrell rushes in, asks what Emily has done to Alan!

CHAPTER XIV

"What have you done to that boy?" Farrell repeated, as Emily did not answer.

"There's nothing wrong—he hasn't—" Fear shattered Emily's calm.

"Of course he hasn't done anything wrong," Farrell answered shortly. "He came to the hospital, went to the delivery room. Outwardly he was the same. But he's been hurt, terribly hurt, Emily. He can't hide that from me. He's been like my own son. I could see it in his eyes. Now, what is it?"

Emily told him briefly, covering in terse, clipped sentences Alan's refusal to meet Dr. Peterson, her own intention to get a divorce. When she had finished, Farrell slumped into a chair, sat with bowed shoulders, staring before him. No one spoke.

For a long time they sat there—Emily, Eric and Farrell—thinking, and all afraid to voice those thoughts. Finally, Farrell rose, jammed his hands in his pockets and stood, his back to the mantel, facing Emily. Eric was forgotten.

"Do you really want a divorce, Emily?" the doctor asked kindly. He had faced many a similar crisis in other homes. He had argued long with other wives, consoling, advising. That was part of a country doctor's job. He must be counselor, confessor, friend as well as physician. To him a home was sacred, and always he had given his every effort toward preserving it. This time, Alan's home was endangered, and Farrell did not intend to let it collapse without a struggle.

"Don't you love Alan?" he continued as Emily did not answer.

"Could you go through life happily, without ever seeing him again?" "I know what I'm doing," Emily's muffled answer came to him. She was sobbing again. Farrell steeled himself against her tears. He loved the child, too. If he gave in now, everything would be lost. She must be made to realize fully all the consequences of her divorce, and he, alone, could do it. She might resent the intrusion of an outsider, but he could speak as Alan's father would have spoken.

"I want you to be sure that you do, child." His voice was as gentle as his touch might have been, calming her turbulent emotions. "I knew—even when Alan accepted Peterson's offer—that he would never leave Sumner. This is his life."

"But it's not mine! I can't stand it, Doctor, I can't. Alan's life, my life. Entirely separate. It can't go on."

"You're right, Emily. It can't go on. But before you give up, before you smash both your life and his, see if there isn't another way. You may think you could be happy without Alan, but you never will. Nor can he be happy without you."

"You want to blame Alan. Don't. Let's not blame anyone. But consider this: when you came to Sumner you were a bride—a gay, happy young bride, ready to begin a new life as a doctor's wife. The ally does use it. The procurement division of the Treasury Department has just put in an order for some 130-odd miles of it for requisition by various government departments during the coming year.

It's cheap cotton tape about one-eighth of an inch wide; it's used for tying up bundles and folders of papers, and so on. Blue and white tape are also used.

honey-moon lasted for a while. Then—

"You refused—unconsciously perhaps—to assume the duties of this new life; you sought to carry over into your marriage the ideas of girlhood. And it won't work—it never will. You can't move St. Louis to Sumner any more than you can bring its parties here. You can't relive those days of courtship and first love; marriage is entirely different and you must face it."

Emily said nothing as he talked, but she marvelled that he knew as much about her as he did; it was as if he could read her thoughts. Farrell had seen her increasing discontent, worried over it; even, he said, maneuvered so that Alan could be at home more. Cases that he might have sent Alan, he cared for himself, so that Emily might enjoy a party or an evening at home.

He had even sensed danger in Eric's coming, for Kane's love for Emily had not been hidden from him. He had trusted Eric to leave before breaking up Alan's home, he told them, and even now he was sure that Eric had not betrayed that trust.

"You thought that by taking Alan to St. Louis, you could regain his love," Farrell told Emily. "You imagined because Alan apparently neglected you, that he no longer loved you. You didn't want to go to St. Louis for parties, for the old crowd, even for your family. You wanted Alan—all for yourself, so you wouldn't have to share him with anyone."

"It wouldn't have worked there, child, and it might have been much worse."

"I don't see how, Dr. Farrell," Emily said. Admitting that Farrell had hit the truth, she could not see any hope of the future. "Certainly you don't expect me to go on here in Sumner like we have?"

"No, I don't. What you must realize, Emily, is that a country doctor's wife plays a vital part in his profession, in his success. When you married Alan, you married medicine, too. You have your share of the obligation, and until you assume it you won't be happy."

"You would like to believe that, as a professor, Alan could be with you more of the time, that his patients would lose their claim upon his time. But Alan, unless he had lost heart, would soon have lost himself in teaching and study as fully as in his work here. You would be on the outside there, too. Emily, and what is worse, there is small place in a professor's medical life for his wife. With a country doctor it's different."

"I don't understand what you mean, Doctor."

"Let me tell you a story, Emily. It's about Alan's mother."

"She came to Sumner as a bride, even as you," Farrell began. "And she found her first few months of life here very bit as difficult and as hateful as you have found them. It is now, and there were few amusements for the daughter of a senator. She could go to church, do her marketing and that was about all. People's tongues were pretty sharp then, too."

"But Sarah Warren wouldn't admit defeat. When she found medicine was crowding her out of her husband's life, she became an important factor in that medicine, and working with her husband, she was with him constantly."

"She suffered many of the same hardships he did; she was hurt by his failures—because they were her successes and his failures too. "I've known Sarah Warren to get up in the middle of the night, walk half a mile across town through snow, to send Dr. Warren to another call, when she could not reach him by telephone or messenger. She has sat for hours at the bedside of a sick child so that the sleepless mother might get a little rest. She went with her husband on obstetrical cases, driving miles over country roads, taking charge of the house and other children, if there were any, assisting when she was needed."

"She learned to calm hysterical mothers, even to advise emergency treatment—until she could send Dr. Warren."

"You were hurt when Alan couldn't get home Christmas. Did you know that when Alan had pneumonia as a baby his mother sat alone with him while he passed the crisis, with her husband ten miles away? She sent him on that call, too."

"But I can't do anything like that now, Dr. Farrell," Emily said. "Times are changed. Alan has the hospital, nurses. There's no place for me."

"Yes there is, Emily. Times change, but patients do not. You can still lend a bit of comfort, taking a call, far better than a switchboard operator can. And, what is more important, you can stop hating his patients and start being interested in them, so that he can talk to you about them. You can respect the confidence he places in you. You can encourage him when he needs it; you can learn when he is worried that he must not be annoyed by trifles. You may even have opportunity to help. You might have been needed up at Carroll's the other night. In short, Emily, you have to be just what Alan's mother was to Sumner—Mrs. Doc."

They were all startled as Alan strode in to the room. His face was pale and drawn. His eyes were dark, yet gleaming with hidden fire. He did not greet them. "Kane," he said. "I want to talk to you."

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Today's Recipe

A recipe for delicious pumpkin cookies, which are very tasty and which have the added goodness of keeping moist for some time, was received yesterday through the kindness of Mrs. Mary Cowan of South Twenty-third street.

Pumpkin Cookies One and one-fourth cups brown sugar One-half cup shortening Two eggs, well beaten One and one-half cups canned pumpkin One teaspoon vanilla One-half teaspoon salt One-fourth teaspoon ginger One-half teaspoon nutmeg One-half teaspoon cinnamon One teaspoon lemon extract Two and one-half cups flour Four teaspoons baking powder One cup raisins One cup chopped nut meats (These may be omitted). Cream sugar and shortening, add eggs, pumpkin and seasoning, sift flour and baking powder and combine with sugar mixture. Add fruit and nuts and blend thoroughly. Drop from a teaspoon on well oiled baking sheet. Bake 15 minutes at 400 degrees F. Makes three dozen good sized cookies.

SOUR TURNS OUT SWEET Sour milk can be substituted for sweet in cakes and most quick breads measure for measure. If the milk is very sour, use one-half teaspoon soda per cup of sour milk to leaven and, if necessary, a little baking powder. If the milk is on the turn, use one-quarter teaspoon soda per cup of milk. Mix and sift the flour and the soda rather than add the soda to the milk.

ROSEBUDS FOR YOUTH Dainty daughter likes a corsage of moss rosebuds tied in a romantic manner with long velvety ribbons. And she'll choose a bud or two to pin into her coiffure and tuck into the folds of her short puffed sleeves. An exclusive New York shop has these pretties all made up ready for Easter holiday affairs.

CLEANING CHIFFONS Wash white chiffon in lukewarm water, slightly sudsed and with a little bluing added. This helps keep the chiffon from turning yellow. Handle carefully. Shape out and hang over cloth. When nearly dry, press on wrong side with warm (not hot) iron.

Director Tells of Noted Gardens at Club Meeting

A lecture, accompanying full color motion pictures, on the International Friendship Gardens, located near Michigan City, Ind., was given by J. V. Stauffer, executive director, at Wednesday's meeting of the Escanaba Woman's club, held at the Junior high school.

The International Friendship Gardens, Mr. Stauffer explained, are a philanthropic enterprise, designed to promote good fellowship among nations, and these gardens are similar to the International Peace Gardens on the Dakota-Canadian border, established in the promotion of good will between the United States and Canada.

The program has been set up for a period of 200 years for the first section of its work. The beginning was in 1934, the Old Mill Garden, which was an exhibit at the Chicago World's Fair, and the organization now numbers 300 distinguished members.

Roses, Mr. Stauffer said, prove most popular with women who visit the Gardens. Jane Addams, among the prominent persons, who have spent some time there, expressed her love for the flowers of Flanders Field; Arthur Brisbane liked best the sunflower and pansy; George Ade liked everything but cauliflower and Lortz Melchor's favorite flower was the bachelor button.

Art music groups are welcomed during vacations, he said, and concert, theatre and group presentations are planned for these periods. All materials for the International Gardens have been donated and exchanges made with foreign gardens. The one-hundred acre garden plot was the gift of Dr. Warren, famous cancer specialist.

CORNET CLASS TO BE STARTED

First Meeting of New WPA Project Set for Tonight

A class of instruction in cornet playing is to be started at the WPA recreation center at 7 o'clock tonight, it was announced yesterday by Edgar Rosenlund, recreation supervisor, who will be in direct charge of the project.

Juveniles and adults of either sex may join the class, Rosenlund stated. It will be necessary, however, that each pupil have an instrument as none will be furnished by the supervisor of the WPA.

Rosenlund is reported to be well qualified to teach the particular instrument. He has had 17 years experience as a player and at various times has been a member of several local orchestras and of the municipal band.

Radio Around The Clock

BY C. E. BUTTERFIELD
Associated Press Radio Editor
Time Is Central Standard
New York, March 23—England's Grand National sweepstakes as it takes place at Aintree, will be on the air as usual in this country Friday morning.

The transmitting network will be that of WOR-MBS, starting at 9 o'clock. Three British commentators will handle the details.

A couple of new features make their appearance on the schedules. One, on WJZ-NBC at 6:30 p. m., is a revival of the program, the ABC of NBC, in which listeners are taken behind the scenes in broadcasting.

The other is a change for the Johnny Presents, handled at 7 on WOR, WLW and WGN of the MBS chain. Instead of "What's My Name" the quiz program is being changed to "Where Are We?" in which the radio drama will play a part.

Musical features will find their way on the chains in this order: WJZ-NBC 1, Music Appreciation hour under the guidance of Dr. Walter Damrosch; WJZ-NBC 2:30 Northland college choir; MBS-CHAM 3:15, Drake university symphony orchestra; WJZ-NBC 4:15, Music educators program from Detroit, Michigan state band, orchestra and chorus; WABC-CBS 9:30, Howard Barlow directing the Columbia chamber orchestra.

Instead of Joan Blondell, Orson Welles will use Elissa Landi as his leading lady—also Sam Levene—in his production of "Twentieth Century" on WABC-CBS at 8.

The previously scheduled talk by Alfred M. Landon at the University of Notre Dame Press club banquet on "A Plea for Peace," will not be broadcast by WJZ-NBC because Mr. Landon has cancelled his appearance there.

Construction Of Clubhouse Discussed Here Wednesday

Preliminary action towards procuring construction of a clubhouse on the site of the combined municipal golf course and winter sports park on the Days River was taken at a meeting here Wednesday evening.

Sentiment of those present favoring construction of the clubhouse through the efforts of the two clubs and City Manager A. F. Raddant said he believed it could be set up under WPA, either as a supplement to the golf course project now under way or as an entirely new setup.

The U. S. Forest Service through Paul Wohlen, Escanaba, has shown considerable interest in development of the park for winter sports and for more than a year has expressed willingness of the forest service to cooperate in construction of a clubhouse. Control of a clubhouse would naturally then be handled by the forest service.

To learn the attitude of a program calling for construction of the clubhouse independent of the forest service and which would be controlled locally, a committee was named by Dr. O. S. Hult, temporary chairman, to contact Mr. Wohlen and discuss the matter.

It was pointed out that it is the desire of the clubs to cooperate fully with the forest service in development of the park and it is desired to learn the reaction of the forest service in development of the park and it is desired to learn the reaction of the forest service before going forward with construction plans on an independent basis.

Forming the committee to meet with Mr. Wohlen are Dr. Hult, Walter Erickson, Hilding Granberg, A. F. Raddant, W. H. Huesner, Wm. Marble and Wm. S. Skellenger.

If built as a local project, it is proposed to build a clubhouse valued at around $25,000, the material cost to be raised by popular subscription.

Reporting on progress on the golf course, Dr. Hult reported that Walter Erickson, treasurer of the golf club and one of the principal promoters, had received pledges for the project amounting to $2,300. Of this is about $1,600 remains, but this is earmarked for machinery, seed and other expenditures. To date payment has been made for the golf course architect's layout and survey, a topographical map and some incidental expenses.

Work on the course is progressing in fine manner at the present time all but one fairway are brushed and stumping and grading will be started as soon as weather conditions permit. Piling for the main bridge has been driven and stringers will now be laid and work on the shoulders started.

John Olson arrived Wednesday morning from Milwaukee for a visit at the Elfo Hanson home, Minnesota avenue.

Baraga Parochs Spring Surprise; Pequaming Wins 21-18

Marquette, March 3. — Bergland, Pequaming and Baraga Parochs of Marquette survived opening rounds of the Upper Peninsula basketball tournament held tonight at the Northern State Teachers college gym. Bergland took Michigamme, 23 to 25, in the early game. Pequaming claimed a close 21 to 18 decision over Nahma in the second, and Baraga Parochs sprung a surprise on Norway with a 28 to 25 triumph. The latter tilt was tied 13-13 at the half, and at the end of the third period Baraga had only a one-point lead. In the final period, the parochs scored six points to Norway's four to clinch the decision. G. Bernardi and R. Deleth had five field goals and two foul throws apiece to their credit.

Pequaming's big first period spelled defeat for Nahma, with the Delta county crew trailing, 15-9, at the half. They gained ground in the third, which saw Sequaming cage only two points, but could not overcome the handicap.

VETERANS BACK IN WOLVE FOLD

Fine Fielding, Hitting Team Depends Upon Hurling Staff

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 23 (Special).—With every position but third base ready to be filled by veterans, one of the finest fielding and hitting Michigan baseball teams in recent years will be dependent upon the caliber of pitching talent developed by Coach Ray Fisher before the season gets underway.

Graduation losses are centered in the mound corps, where Fisher loses his three top hurlers of 1938, Herman Fishman, Burt Smith and Ed Andronik. Only two hurlers with varsity seasoning return to the squad, Jack Barry and Dan Smick, who last year alternated between the outfield and the mound.

With Barry as the nucleus of his squad, Fisher is seeking to develop Smick and Russ Dobson, a 1938 reserve, as his top trio. He also has four pitchers listed on the varsity roster last year, Ralph Bittinger, John Heering, Bruce Randall and Tom Nothern, and a pair of fine sophomore prospects, Les Veigel and Dean DuBois.

Grid Stars Play

Fielding and batting practices for more than a month in the indoor cages have brightened Wolverine prospects in those departments with added experience for last year's veterans showing its value.

Available behind the plate are two lettermen, Leo Boebe and Forest Evashevski, and at first base Elmer Gedeon, who will again double between track and the diamond. Two veterans, Captain Walter Peckinpaugh and Irvin Lisagor, are available for two of the other infield posts, with three sophomores, Mike Senak, Bill Steppin, and Art Bergesen, ready to take the other position.

An all-veteran outfield is assured in Fred Trogko, Charlie Pink and Smick, with Harold Floersch, a 1937 letterman, and Horace Tinker, a junior who did not play last year, ready for service when Smick moves to the mound or to first base as an alternate for Gedeon.

Michigan won 14 games and lost 12 last year, faltering in the early stages of the Big Ten race to end with four wins and six losses in the conference. The Wolverines open their season April 7, with Wake Forest college at Wake Forest, N. C., the first of eight games scheduled for their

Pitt Boxing Chief May Let Him Defend His Title Anyway

Pittsburgh, March 23. (AP)—Boxing Commissioner Harvey Boyle said tonight he thought John Henry Lewis should be permitted to fight, even though he may be virtually blind in one eye, and that the negro light heavyweight champion might defend his title here this summer.

Lewis confirmed today for the first time publicly, the fact that his left eye is "somewhat impaired." He said however it was no worse than it had been for several years.

"If he were a preliminary battler, starting out, of course he would be barred," Boyle explained. "But as the best of his class, a man who has shown his ability numerous times since his eyesight trouble developed, I see no reason to bar him."

Boyle explained the matter, however, was one for the entire Pennsylvania boxing commission to decide. He is one of three members.

Boyle said plans are already "well advanced" to match young Billy Conn, recent conqueror of middleweight champion Fred Apostoli, with Lewis here at Forbes field in a title fight.

The Michigan board of athletic control last week banned Lewis from fighting Dave Clark there, after Lewis refused to submit to an eye examination by a specialist there after two preliminary examinations.

In Camp With Big Leaguers

Orlando (AP)—Walter Johnson, the old pitcher, blew into the Washington Senators' camp Thursday and once again—stole the show. The rookies stopped practicing to look and the spectators left their stands to get autographs. Johnson, now a radio announcer for baseball games, came to look over the Senator's prospects.

Tampa (AP)—Johnny Vander Meer, the Cincinnati Reds' double no-hit southpaw, Thursday was ordered by physicians to forego baseball until April 1. Vander Meer recently has been suffering from an inflamed appendix.

SPILLING the DOPE

BEST STORY . . . we have heard in a long time is that of a local bowler who was competing in a tournament in a large city several hundred miles away . . . just as he was ready to toe the line for the final delivery, he was handed a telegram . . . apprehensive lest it contain distressing information, he put it in his pocket, unopened . . . he worried about it so much that he rolled one of the worst games of his career . . . after he finished his match, he opened the telegram . . . only to find it was a message of encouragement from the folks back home!

Michigan State college, according to a brochure we received yesterday . . . in fact, both were products of Delta county . . . in 1930, Bud Gibbs, formerly of Perkins, led the Spartans at bat with a mark of .454, while Al Kircher, of Gladstone, led the team in 1933 with a mark of .430 . . . both were teammates on Gladstone's team of the pre depression days . . . Gibbs now is working in Lansing, we believe, while Kircher will move there next fall to become assistant coach at State . . . Wilbur Greer, State track star, is an accomplished musician and expects to make it his life work . . . but he doesn't like swing music.

PAR BLASTED AT PINEHURST

Byron Nelson Walks Off With Top-Money In North-South

BY KENNETH GREGORY
Pinehurst, N. C., March 23 (AP)—With utter disregard of par, Byron (Lord) Nelson of the wide open Texas spaces walked off with $1,000 top prize money today in the 72-hole North and South open golf tournament.

The 27-year-old native Texan, who makes his living teaching golf at Reading, Pa., rattled off four consecutive rounds of 71-68-70-71—280 on the par 72 layout.

Young Nelson, who did his turns as caddy and railway clerk in Texas before he started making a living playing golf, was two strokes ahead of tall Horton Smith of Oak Park, Ill.

Nelson's winnings here boosted him into second place among the leading money winners of the winter golf league, which has three more tournaments to run. From here the touring brigade moves to Greensboro, N. C., for the $5,000 open starting tomorrow.

Par also was given a good going over by Smith, who had cracked standard figures for three rounds and "slipped" to a mere par on the final 18 holes that dropped him down to second place with 282 and a $600 reward for his three-day efforts.

Slammin' Sammy Sneed of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., the leading money winner of the 1938 campaign and a 6 to 1 choice in the betting to take this tournament, slipped to a mediocre fourth-round 75 and fell back into a tie for third place with Dick Metz of Chicago, who stroked out a 70 on the final lap. Each took $450 for their finish.

MUNISING CAGE TOURNEY OPENS

Mayor Will Blow First Whistle Tonight; 16 Teams In

Munising, March 23.—Mayor John W. Hannah will open the eastern Upper Peninsula independent basketball tournament here on Friday evening when he blows the first whistle to start the opening game.

Sixteen upper peninsula independent cage teams will battle here this weekend under the supremacy of the eastern end of the upper peninsula. The games will start here on Friday evening at 7 o'clock when the Munising CYO, champions of the Munising city league, and the Marquette Tip Top Cafe squad, will meet. Sessions will be held on Friday evening and Saturday morning, the quarter-finals on Saturday afternoon and the semi-finals at 7 and 8 o'clock on Saturday evening. The game for third and fourth place in the tourney will be played at 9 o'clock and the championship battle at 10 o'clock. The tournament is conducted on Eastern standard time.

Many of the early encounters in the tournament promise to be of importance. Four of the top teams who can be rated highly are the Escanaba H&J Ollers, Munising Lew's store, Frank's of Rock, Herb's of Rock and the Negaunee Texacos, who Tuesday evening broke the 21 game winning streak of the Munising Lew's five by defeating them 32-22 on the Negaunee floor.

The H&J Ollers and the Herb's quintet will meet at 1 p. m. on Saturday for the first game for both squads. The National Mine five will be an unknown quantity in the tourney as will be the other cage crews, the Munising CYO, Marquette Tip Top Cafe, Marquette Bottlers, Grand Marais Independents, Negaunee Sportsmen, Newberry Delta Specials, Ishpeming Ambassadors, Gwin Athletic club, Munising Independents or the Camp Cusino five, who may turn out a top tournament performance and upset any one of the tourney favorites.

Referees for the games will be Jack Silala of Munising and two Northern State Teacher's college students.

Leafs, Bruins And Red Wings Winners In Hockey Playoffs

New York, March 23 (AP)—The Toronto Maple Leafs scored two goals in the last period to defeat the New York Americans, 2-0, before a crowd of 7,000 at Madison Square Garden tonight and thus went into the semi-final round of the National hockey league's Stanley cup playoffs.

Boston, March 23 (AP)—Handy Mel Hill's sharpshooting came to the Boston Bruins' rescue again tonight and enabled them to gain their second overtime National hockey league playoff game against the New York Rangers, 3-2, before a packed crowd of 16,702 persons at the Boston Gardens.

Detroit, Mich., March 23 (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings drew up even with the Montreal Canadiens in the series C National hockey league playoff by staging a, four-goal last period rally to triumph, 7 to 3, here, tonight. Montreal won the opening game, 2 to 0, at Montreal Tuesday. The deciding contest will be played here Sunday night.

Hero of Detroit's great finish was Syd Howe, aggressive veteran, who netted two goals in a space of 55 seconds to go with one he scored in the second period for hockey's rare feat—the "hat trick." The game was a bruising, give-and-take battle all the way and was witnessed by a crowd of 8,200, smallest ever to see a playoff contest in Detroit.

Finns Making Ready For 1940 Olympiad

BY DREW MIDDLETON

New York, March 23 (AP)—The Finns, notable in America as long distance runners and folk who come up with a fistful of folding money when the war debt installments come due, are preparing for the 1940 Olympiad. They promise it will be free from politics and propaganda, a direct return to the sports for sports sake principle.

Urho Toivola, director of the press bureau of Finland's ministry of foreign affairs, is here and when he says every Finn will have a direct interest in the games he is not joking. The government has granted rights to make Olympic ties, boots, and sweaters to Finnish firms. Everyone in Finland is buying the articles and two per cent of the profits goes to the Olympic fund.

"We have appropriated $6,000,000 for the games," Toivola said. "The government of Finland gave two-thirds of it."

"I want to point out that this doesn't seem a great deal contrasted with the budgets for the Los Angeles and Berlin games. But I must emphasize the Finnish committee and the Finnish people want to come as close as possible to the old Olympic idea of sports for sports sake."

The Finns aren't planning a mammoth stadium. It will have a capacity of 62,000. The other stadia for swimming, rowing, riding and the other minor Olympic sports also will be smaller than usual.

"But stands of 150,000 would be too small, too," said Toivola, "because everyone in Finland wants to see the games and especially the track events. Half the tickets will be reserved for foreign spectators. We expect 100,000 visitors, that's a lot for Helsinki (Helsingfors) a city of 300,000, but we expect to take care of them. The highest priced seat will be about $5, the lowest about twenty cents. There will be no season tickets sold."

"We are not going to make a money-making holiday out of it. We are going to have accommodations for everyone. They won't be what you say 'ritz' but they will be cheap, clean and comfortable. And everyone is taking lessons in English to welcome the Americans."

TIGERS LOUSY, LOSE TO CARDS

Nothing Goes Right for Bengals In 8 to 6 Spring Defeat

Lakeland, Fla., March 23 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers could do nothing right today and as a result they lost another Grapefruit league baseball game—this one to the St. Louis Cardinals, of the National League, by an 8 to 6 score. In other spring games Detroit has looked fairly good even in defeat, but the most loyal Bengal supporter could find little to cheer about after today.

In the field Detroit looked bad with Hank Greenberg, Rudy York, Ervin Fox and Benny McCoy committing errors while the pitching turned in by Alton Benton, John Tate, Lloyd Dietz and Paul (Dixey) Trout was unimpressive, the quartet allowing 11 hits, three more than Detroit obtained.

The Cards used Lon Warneke on the mound the first five innings, and he was touched for six hits. Tom Sunkel and Fibber McGee followed in order.

The Tigers found some consolation, though, in the eighth inning when York socked the ball over the left field fence, scoring Greenberg ahead of him.

St. Louis didn't look like a championship club by any means either, but made a better showing than the Bengals. The Cardinals committed a couple of bad throws, wild pitches and passed balls themselves. The best—or worst—example of Cardinal wildness came when Fox scored on a walk and a wild pitch by Sunkel and a passed ball and a wild throw by Frank.

It was in the sixth that Detroit lost the game. St. Louis nudged Trout for three hits and three runs, boosting the score from 3-3 to 6-3, and keeping in front the rest of the way.

Tomorrow the Tigers entertain another National League outfit, the Brooklyn Dodgers here.

Liverpool, Eng., March 23 (AP)—Ernie Roderick knocked out Jake Kilrain in the seventh round of their scheduled 15 round bout for the British welterweight championship tonight.

Roderick weighed 145, a pound less than Kilrain. The victory was expected to lead to a world's welterweight title fight between Roderick and Henry Armstrong of Los Angeles this summer.

Game Ends 26 and 26, Goes 3 Minutes Overtime

Three minutes overtime were required to settle the Escanaba city basketball championship last night, and the decision went to the Hansen & Jensen Oils over the Bleser Beers, 34 and 28.

When time was up for the game the teams stood locked at 26-all. Anderson of the Oils was high point man, followed by Brazaud and Smithwick.

In a preliminary, the Nahma girls defeated the Escanaba girls, 8 and 6. A large crowd saw the city basketball windup.

Pie Traynor Cracks Down; Boys Win 10-1

San Bernardino, Cal., March 23 (AP)—Manager Pie Traynor cracked down suddenly today on his lack-luster Pittsburgh Pirates, handing the veteran southpaw Ed Brandt his unconditional release for "breaking training rules."

The usually easy-going Pirate leader, who saw the National league pennant flutter from his grasp at the season's close last year, then grimly told the squad he meant to see training rules rigidly respected.

The Pirates promptly unleashed a vicious attack to smother the Los Angeles Angels 10 to 1 and win their second triumph in seven games.
