HOUSE ADOPTS NEW PLAN OF CIVIL SERVICE

STATE SCHOOL AID AND BUS BILL APPROVED

BY G. MILTON KELLY
Lansing, March 29 (AP)—The Republican old guard majority in the house of representatives adopted a bill tonight that would uproot the present civil service law, supplant it with a radically different measure and broaden the field of patronage.

The Democratic minority and a sprinkling of rebellious young Republicans were used roughly as the majority forces shoved the bill through to adoption by a vote of 69 to 28. Ultimately only four Republicans joined the Democrats in voting against the measure, and only one of them was a young Republican.

Fiat Repeal Rejected

They were Reps. Charles P. Dams, of Howell; Haskell L. Nichols, Jackson; Robert N. Sawyer, Monroe, and Douglas D. Tibbits, Boyne City. One Democrat, Rep. Charles F. Sundstrom, of Michigan, voted in favor of the measure.

The Republicans turned their backs on an invitation by Rep. John F. Hamilton, Democrat, Detroit, to repeal civil service out-right and return to the spoils systems. He asserted that would be "more honest and sincere" than to adopt the measure under consideration.

Hamilton's suggestion mustered eleven votes, including those of Tibbits and three other Republicans, Reps. Oscar E. Kilstrom, Grand Rapids; Dewey W. Loomis, Wellston, and Arthur H. Wickman, Carney.

"Lobbyist" Leaves

Edward Litchfield of Ann Arbor and Detroit left the hall "to avoid embarrassment" after Rep. Frank J. Calvert, Republican, Highland Park, had moved that he be ejected under a house rule forbidding the presence of lobbyists during a session. Litchfield had sat in a seat beside Rep. Nichols, as his guest.

Nichols denied Litchfield was a lobbyist. Calvert had described him as a member of the executive committee of the Michigan Merit System association, adding that "if that isn't a lobbyist, I don't know what."

The bill, which now goes to the senate, would repeal the present civil service act and create a new civil service department that would select all employees now so protected.

Only those persons who had won their jobs by competitive examination would be continued on the payrolls in full time classified jobs under the new bill. Others would be subjected to competitive examinations, the jobs to go to the candidates achieving the highest ratings.

"Dying Boy"

His body having been slowly attacked by a spreading tumor for nearly half of his two and a half years, Harold Holt, Jr., of Monticello, Pa., was given up by doctors who said they had never seen a tumor case cured. But he looks very lively, above in his crib at the New Rochelle (N. Y.) hospital, where, after the growth was removed by Dr. Alexander J. Chalko, he was given a good chance to live.

GERMANY WILL NAZIFY CHURCH

Protestant Decree Aids Movement to Weed Out Ministers

Berlin, March 29 (AP)—Two sweeping orders by the president of the Evangelical church council today advanced the process of Nazifying German Protestantism.

One decree by Dr. Friedrich Werner, the president, provided that any church member who chose another pastor other than the regular minister for the performance of "the individual duties of his office, for religious instruction or even for his entire churchly ministry."

The other provided that a pastor could be removed from his office if he refused to conduct his office within his congregation in an advantageous manner or if the preservation of order in his congregation so demands.

German Protestantism long has been split by those who favor Nazi control of church affairs and those who oppose it. Today's decrees opened the way for the elimination of recalcitrants and their replacement by churchmen who will conform to Nazi concepts.

All that is now necessary now gradually to bring an Evangelical church under Nazi control is:

1. For a group of parishioners to demand that they be assigned a minister to their liking and of their spiritual faith and,
2. For the supreme church council later to declare the incumbent of the pastorate no longer able to perform his duties to the advantage of the church.

Holdup Nets $850 Near Police Station

Detroit, March 29 (AP)—Two men were held up and robbed of approximately $850 by three other men late today little more than a stone's throw from police headquarters. The victims were Ted Apostola, 24, and Frank Jikas, 34, Detective Lieut. John J. Krimmel said the money was the receipts of a numbers racket clearing house which employed the pair.

FRANCE WON'T GIVE UP LAND TO MUSSOLINI

DALADIER OFFERS TO NEGOTIATE, STAYS FIRM

Paris, March 29 (AP)—Premier Daladier in an anxiously awaited address to France and the world tonight offered to negotiate France's difficulties with Italy but put it squarely up to Rome to make the next move by clarifying her demands.

Furthermore, he bluntly warned that "we will not cede a foot of our land nor one of our rights."

Daladier was replying to Premier Mussolini's speech of Sunday listing Tunisia, Djibouti and the Suez canal as "problems of a colonial character" standing between Italy and France.

In this reply, a 27-minute address which was approved by the French cabinet this morning, Daladier combined firmness and diplomacy.

"Heavy Blow" to Peace

He struck at Germany, declaring that although France had made every effort for a "lasting collaboration" with Germany, the Nazi dismemberment of Czecho-Slovakia had come as a "heavy blow" to these efforts for peace.

Of the French-Italian problem he said:

"Faithful to the accords she signed (with Italy) in 1935, France is ready to pursue their complete and loyal execution. In the spirit and equality of these accords on the basis that I have defined and that I have just recalled, she would not refuse to examine propositions that may be made to her."

Daladier had just said "we cannot accept" the "essential argument" of Italy's stand, which he said was that "the conquest of Ethiopia and constitution of the Italian empire created new rights for Italy."

Note Not Definite

The premier said it Duce spoke Sunday as if an Italian note delivered last December 17 "contained the Italian claims with clarity."

This Daladier denied, and he told the French public it could judge for itself with publication tomorrow of the Italian note and the French reply of a few days later.

Later the foreign ministry published the text of the Italian note denouncing the 1935 treaty and the French reply.

The Italian note said "constitution of the (Italian) empire has created new rights and new interests of fundamental importance" and suggested that a new accord be negotiated to replace the 1935 agreement, but mentioned no precise concessions which the French should make.

Daladier bitterly condemned international force, and he appealed to all powers "who think as we do," with a veiled reference to (Continued on Page Two)

Warm Water Stirs East Jordan Smelt

East Jordan, Mich., March 29 (AP)—Predictions that at least one smelt run would get under way before the weekend were heard today as gradually warming waters were noted in northwestern Michigan's smelt country.

Sportmen reported sizeable catches of smelt had been made during the past two nights in the Jordan river and old time residents predicted the run would increase steadily for at least a week. The national smelt jamboree will be held here this weekend.

At Boyne City the temperature of the Boyne river was 31. Five degrees below ideal smelt temperature. Officials predicted the run would approach a peak by April 5, the date set for the annual supervised dipping and festival there.

BRITAIN BUILDS WARTIME ARMY

Conscription Ruled Out of 'Halt Hitler' Movement

London, March 29 (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain today advanced his "halt Hitler" movement by announcing a vast increase in Britain's military manpower, but ruled out conscription to obtain his gain.

He told the house of commons that the nation's territorial army, similar to the United States' national guard, would be doubled to a total of 340,000 men and indicated the territorial army henceforth would be on a war time basis.

"Then, in a significant phrase, he rejected conscription for the time being at least, saying: "We believe we can demonstrate the possibilities of voluntary service to meet all our needs." Conscription has become one of the country's major issues.

Some members of Chamberlain's own conservative party had wanted conscription, but the announcement that the government had decided against it was welcomed by the opposition, which promised support for the recruiting campaign necessary to swell the territorial army.

The prime minister also announced that 38 divisions would be made ready to fight in any war involving Britain on the continent instead of the 19 divisions the war office previously had announced would be sent.

This statement was received jubilantly in French diplomatic quarters, where it was hailed as a step which might give the two Democratic powers the lead necessary in European politics.

Clipper Carries 38 On Her Maiden Trip

Hamilton, Bermuda, March 29 (AP)—The huge Pan-American flying boat Atlantic Clipper with 38 passengers aboard landed here at 5:10 p. m. (4:10 p. m. EST) today from Port Washington, N. Y.

The flight was the Clipper's maiden trip in the New York-Bermuda commercial service.

Besides these relatives, the general is survived by a brother, Carlos, and five grandchildren.

Machado, born in Santa Clara, the son of a colonel, entered the Cuban independence movement at an early age, started his military career when he was 22, was two citations for bravery and came out of Cuba's successful fight for freedom from Spain a brigadier general.

He was elected president of Cuba in 1925 when a sugar surplus and declining markets troubled the island. Over the years, an election, strikes, riots and revolts failed to unseat him and attempts to assassinate him failed. But on Aug. 12, 1933, Machado finally had to flee Havana by plane in the face of a revolt by the army. He had depended on the soldiers and his secret police for the stern discipline he maintained over Cuba.

In ill health, Machado fled half across the world, spending much of his time in hospitals. While he was in Germany, efforts were made to extradite him to Cuba on murder charges which later were dropped. Amnesty efforts in his behalf were partially successful and in the spring of 1935, he came to Miami Beach to write an autobiography and be near his Cuban friends.

NOT ONE VOTE RECORDED FOR REPAIR PLANS

CITIZEN COMMITTEE COMPLETES THEIR STUDIES

In a secret ballot taken after more than a month's study of the proposed waterplant project, six members of the citizens' advisory committee last night voted for Plan No. 1, providing for the construction of a water treatment and boiler plant near the Stephenson dock location on the north shore, while five others expressed a preference for Plan No. 2 for dismantling the present filtration plant and erecting a new one on the same site.

No votes were cast for Plan No. 3, which called for only making about $20,000 worth of repairs on the present structure.

Voting on the proposals were: Fred J. Earle, chairman, Gerald J. Cleary, John J. Bartella, Caspar Olson, Henry L. Rose, Mrs. E. J. MacMartin, Gust Asp, Wm. Warrington, Harry D. Brackett, John Nicholas and M. R. Deo. The other member of the citizens' committee is Dr. A. J. Carlton, who has not been able to attend any of the meetings of the group because of a lengthy illness.

The committee also voted to submit the reports of its sub-committees to the Escanaba city council.

The text of these reports are as follows:

Report of Sub-Committee

The finding of the Committee is as follows:

Reading the reports submitted by Burns and McDonnell and an independent engineer, it becomes at once apparent that a very real need and present necessity exists for a change to be adopted in place of the present set-up.

The Power Plant equipment appears to be in a good state of repair and is adequate for present demands. The Treatment Plant, however, must be cared for in one of the three following plans: The Michigan State Board of Health have stated for several years that the health of the City is endangered by the present housing of both the Power Plant and Treatment plant in need of immediate repairs. We submit the three plans for the approval of the Committee:

Plan No. 1

Plan No. 1 applies to building a new Water Treatment Plant in a more desirable location, namely, at the foot of Ludington street on the North Shore. This plan would utilize present pumping plant equipment and arrange Boiler Plant so that all steam requirements for the City may be supplied. Under this plan a considerable savings would be effected in the future in fuel and labor and insure a more efficient operation. The Committee, too, is aware of the fact that the four years necessary to complete this new plant will help take care of the present unemployment problem in the City while taking advantage of WPA expenditures for labor. The amount of money that will be spent in this connection, approximately $300,000.00, will naturally be of benefit to the merchants in the City. We wish to mention also that the building (Continued on Page Two)

Check Rushed By ERA As Governor Signs Emergency Bill

Lansing, March 29 (AP)—The emergency relief commission rushed to the assistance of distressed counties today as Governor Dickinson signed an act providing an additional $4,000,000 for welfare purposes.

Checks that had been prepared in advance immediately went into the mail to permit a resumption of aid to thousands of needy persons.

George F. Granger, acting state emergency relief administrator, said most western and northern counties brought their welfare programs to a standstill when they ran out of funds between March 10 and 15, but that most of the large industrial counties had issued grocery orders to clients in anticipation that the state would come to the rescue.

A fight between the house and senate concerning other items in the liquor control commission under former Governor Frank Murphy had delayed its enactment a full week. Ultimately the warring legislators discarded every other item and adopted the welfare appropriation alone.

Clark Lombard And Carole Gable Wedded

Kingman, Ariz., March 29 (AP)—Clark Gable and Carole Lombard, two of the brightest of all Hollywood's film stars, were married here late today by the Rev. Kenneth M. Engle of the First Methodist-Episcopal church.

The couple walked into the marriage license bureau about an hour before the ceremony and so startled the clerk, Miss Viola Olsen, she could hardly speak.

"I recognized Mr. Gable at once," she said later, "but I certainly was surprised to see them."

Gable drove his automobile from Hollywood, but he and Miss Lombard did not inform their friends of their elopement plans. Miss Lombard wore a gray flannel ensemble, Gable a blue suit

People Of Michigan Urged By Governor To Vote Republican

Lansing, March 29 (AP)—Governor Dickinson urged the people of Michigan tonight to vote the Republican ticket in the spring election Monday as a vote of confidence in his administration.

"Now that our great leader (the late Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald) has been taken from us," Dickinson said in a prepared statement, "we who must carry on his work in the service of the people call upon our fellow citizens for a full measure of co-operation."

"We ask that the hands of the present Republican administration be upheld in the state election on April 3. It is essential for the future of the people of Michigan that every Republican candidate on the state ticket be elected."

"Every loss we might suffer in the spring election will mean that much ground lost in the march forward in the 1940 crusade for good government. I intend to support and vote for the Republican ticket in the spring election, and I am urging that every Republican do likewise."

Dickinson asserted that the voters gave the Republican party a mandate last fall, in ousting a Democratic administration, to restore "a clean, safe, economical government" in Michigan. He said it was up to the party to carry out the program of recovery and reconstruction which Fitzgerald pursued in accord with that mandate.

There should be no break in the solid front which the Republican party must present if Michigan is again to lead the nation to the goal of sanity in 1940," he added.

STATE BUDGET POSITION OPEN

Job Offered to Dillman, President of Tech At Houghton

Lansing, March 29 (AP)—Governor Dickinson named Grover C. Dillman, president of the Michigan College of Mining and Technology and former state highway commissioner, as his first choice today for the post of budget director.

The governor expressed some doubt that Dillman would accept the position, to be vacant when the incumbent, Harold D. Smith, leaves for Washington April 15 to become director of the national budget. Dillman was enroute to Lansing on another errand when the invitation was dispatched, and could not be reached immediately for comment.

Dickinson said Dillman would visit the executive office tomorrow morning. He said he hoped to have an answer before noon. The two held a telephone conversation today, but the governor said a final decision was deferred.

The question of selecting a successor for Smith will again be "up in the air" if Dillman declines the appointment as budget director, the governor declared. He said four other candidates for the post were under consideration.

The four are Gus T. Hartman, deputy auditor general and former state representative from Houghton; Hale G. Knight of Grosse Ile, Republican member of the liquor control commission under former Governor Frank Murphy; Louis Schimmler, director of the Michigan municipal advisory council, and James Pollock of Flint, former city manager of Pontiac.

Sand-bags came away from doors and windows. Shattered stores began reopening. Traffic resumed a semblance of the normal flow as temporary police took charge pending arrival of civil guards.

Despite the city's war damage, estimated unofficially at $500,000,000, the capital shrugged away its bitter memories and began planning an elaborate welcome for Franco's personal entry.

A series of heavy explosions were heard throughout the day as nationalist sappers exploded mines, bombs and shells which reminded the populace of the long siege that left approximately one-third of the city's 200,000 buildings destroyed or badly damaged, and another third slightly damaged.

Double rations of bread and the slight of food trucks dimmed memories of hunger and siege.

MADRID PLANS BIG WELCOME FOR GENERAL

WAR-TORN CITIES GETTING READY TO REBUILD

(By The Associated Press)

Madrid, March 29.—Spain's 32-month-old civil war came to a sudden and unanticipated end today when the last of the nation's 52 provincial capitals passed into Nationalist Generalissimo Francisco Franco's hands without resistance.

The final day of the bloody war, in which more than 1,200,000 persons were killed and wounded, gave the nationalists nearly one-fourth of Spain's total territory—all that had remained in republican hands.

Rush To Band-Wagon

Final collapse began yesterday with the surrender of Madrid, which had been regarded by republicans throughout the conflict as a symbol of their courage and determination. Other cities rushed quickly to get on the nationalist bandwagon.

Nine provincial capitals surrendered today—Valencia, Alicante, Murcia, Cuenca, Almeria, Jaen, Ciudad Real, Albacete, and Guadalajara. Cartagena, former republican naval base, also capitulated.

After the fall of Albacete, last to give up, the nationalists officially announced the war was over in these words: "The war has ended—total victory is Franco's."

Playing an important part in breaking republican resistance were nationalist sympathizers in republican territory who in many cases rose against republican garrisons and forced them to surrender today.

General Miaja Flees

Despite the rapidity of the last conquests there were few disorders. Nationalist authorities apparently were well prepared for just such events and quickly took over administration of various cities.

Wild scrambles occurred in some cities, particularly the seaport of Valencia, as republican leaders and others who considered themselves marked for reprisals attempted to escape the country.

Among the few successful were General Jose Miaja, former chief of the Madrid national defense council, who arrived in Algeria by plane with his staff and some other republicans.

In Madrid there were many signs of returning normalcy after 28 1-2 months of siege.

Priests appeared in the streets wearing their robes and round-topped hats while nationalist authorities began restoring churches, some of which had been used for food stores and other purposes by republicans.

Sand-bags came away from doors and windows. Shattered stores began reopening. Traffic resumed a semblance of the normal flow as temporary police took charge pending arrival of civil guards.

YANGTZE RIVER PIRATES ACTIVE

Jesuit Priests Kidnaped; Anti-British Campaign Believed Near

BY LLOYD LEHRBAS
Shanghai, March 29. (AP)—Piracy, kidnaping and reports of an imminent anti-British campaign shared importance tonight with dispatches detailing severe fighting in much of war-torn China.

The Italian steamer Romolo reported that pirates had raided her last night at the mouth of the Yangtze river and took baled cotton, chickens, goats and nearly all the clothes of 300 Chinese passengers before escaping.

A message to Augustinian officials from Anking said that seven Spanish Jesuit priests were held captive by Chinese guerrillas in the wild Lake Taihu region near the Anhwei-Hupeh provincial borders. Ransom demands had not been made.

Continuous and bloody battles raged throughout northern Kiangsi province, southeastern China, as the Japanese reported they had advanced their front southward along the Kan river, after occupying Nanchung, Kiangsi capital, and Wuning, 70 miles to the northeast.

Doughnut Station Originator Dead

Bay City Robbery Suspect Convicted

Bay City, Mich., March 29. (AP)—A circuit court jury today returned a verdict of guilty against Ray D. Ryan, 37, accused of the $15,000 robbery of the West Side Branch of the National Bank of Bay City in 1933.

Ryan took the stand in his own behalf to deny that he was one of three bandits who slugged two customers and fled with the money. Four witnesses testified they saw him inside the bank while the robbery was under way.

would be of a type that the City could justly be proud of in connection with our present beautification plan. It is suggested also that in connection with this plan, an additional dockage and harbor space will be provided, which will be a benefit to Commercial Fishermen and to the City as a whole, allowing, as it will, large craft and Commercial Carriers to visit Escanaba, now unable to do so, because of the inadequacy of the present yacht harbor.

Plan No. 2
Plan No. 2 applies to dismantling the present filtration plant and erecting an adequate plant on the same site. This will anticipate a need for adequate filtration in the future; but not for efficient operation nor economical pumping facilities, nor would the steam requirements for the City be cared for in this manner. It is necessary to point out that the cost to the City will be roughly 175,000 less than the cost submitted in Plan No. 1, and that our unemployment problem will be partially met for a period of two years in connection with this plan, in contrast to the four-year solution offered in Plan No. 1.

Plan No. 3
Plan No. 3 involves the repairing of the present building and walls, which will be, in its very nature, an impermanent solution to our present problem. The cost of a reconstructed plant will naturally be a considerably less figure of cost to the City than will be the figures involved in Plan 1 and 2. The estimated cost of repairs is approximately $20,000.00. The unemployment problem would be cared for under Plan 3 for a period of roughly 6 months and the City would be faced, in the not too distant future, with then falling back on Plan 1, Plan 2, or some present plan as yet not considered.

The recommendation of the Sub-Committee, as a result of its conference on all three plans, is that Plan 1 should be adopted as best fulfilling the present and future needs of the City of Escanaba from a standpoint of benefits and increased efficiency, public health and an increase in our Tourist trade and City beautification, and a partial solution of our local labor problem for the next four years.

Signed, G. J. Cleary, chairman; M. R. Deo, Mrs. E. J. McCarthy, Casper Olson.

Report of the Sub-Committee On Coordination

To the Members of the Citizens' Advisory Committee:
The Sub-Committee on Coordination met on March 16th and 20th.

Dr. A. J. Carlton was unable to attend the meetings on account of illness and is now out of the city. In order to adhere to the objectives of this committee, the following items were suggested for discussion: Steam Utility, Gas Utility, Water Utility, Electric Department, Dockage, Park Facilities and Smoke Abatement.

STEAM. The item of steam is the most important factor of this report, inasmuch as the entire plan involves the coordination of gas, central heating and the new water-treating and pumping plant.

This program of coordination is possible because the city owns and operates its own utilities.

The Sub-Committee concurs in the opinion that steam must have a basic load in order for the plant to be run economically. If the water plant is moved to the proposed site on the north side of Ludington Street, between the Delta Taxi Co. and the Stephenson Dock, the boilers will then be operated under an equalized basic load. The plant, situated in this location, will also eliminate the need for additional boiler capacity at the gas plant.

With this centralized boiler plant, a saving of $3,500 a year in labor is estimated. From this saving, a deduction of $650 must be made. This is the estimated cost of heat loss in the pipes connecting the gas plant and the proposed new water plant.

The proposed plan will not only improve the present efficiency of the plant to the above extent, but will also increase the present capacity of the steam utility about 500 per cent.

GAS. Besides the saving mentioned above in that the gas plant will not need additional boiler capacity, a slight saving of $378 yearly is estimated due to more efficient use of fuel in the new plant.

The present boiler in the gas plant would be used for standby purposes only and would be used to furnish steam for the water plant when the water plant boiler is being cleaned or repaired.

WATER. 35c per ton will be saved, as a lower grade of coal can be used in the new plant, and 75c per ton now paid for hauling will be eliminated, making a yearly saving of $880 in this department.

In addition to this, there is also an efficiency saving of $378 to the water utility besides the similar saving mentioned for the gas utility.

ELECTRICITY. An estimated saving of $900 per year is possible by providing space in the new water plant for the electric utility shops and offices. The space that this department now uses in the Municipal Garage is needed to house city equipment. A shortage of storage space would necessitate building the proper facilities at some future date.

Incidentally, the expanding recreational and scouting program demands proper office facilities. Under present conditions, these departments impose on other departments.

DOCK. Dockage facilities would be available for the larger passenger boats as well as for small package freight boats, commercial fishermen and visiting pleasure boats.

This proposed dock will improve the appearance of the east end of Ludington street. Proper landscaping will screen from view the present commercial activities.

These improvements should stimulate the needed improvement and development of the lower part of Ludington street.

PARK. The removal of the present plant will improve Ludington park and enable it to be extended to the end of Ludington street, making the park a continuous one.

SMOKE ABATEMENT. Both the gas plant and the present water-plant increase the smoke nuisance. The coordination of plants will enable the City to discontinue the use of the boilers at the gas plant except for standby service and eliminate the City's part in the smoke problem, as the new water plant will be practically smokeless.

This could be the start of a movement toward smoke abatement in this city and the increased capacity of the steam utility will assist by giving some of the worst offenders an opportunity to buy steam heat and close down their present heating plants.

This elimination would reduce the cost of upkeep on real estate and encourage property owners to improve the appearance of their homes and business establishments.

CONCLUSIONS: The Sub-Committee finds that considerable saving will be effected by coordinating the other utilities with the proposed new water plant, that services will be rendered that are not now possible and that the proposed new plan will be an important factor in wise planning for the future of our City.

Respectfully submitted, J. J. Bartella, chairman, E. John Nicholas, F. J. Earle.

Report of the Sub-Committee On Finance

To the Citizens' Advisory Committee:
We, your committee appointed to study the proposed means of financing the construction of a new water treatment plant and a pumping station, as well as other financial problems incidental to the proposal, herewith submit our report for your consideration.

For convenience we have divided our report into six sections, each dealing with a different phase of the financial problem relative to the proposal.

1. Means of Financing the Project.
After a careful study of the proposed method of financing the construction of either a new water treatment plant alone, or a new water treatment plant and a pumping station combined or a new water treatment plant alone, we understand it is contemplated that either plan can be financed by the City without the necessity of borrowing funds or increasing taxes. A portion of the project is to be financed as follows: On the City books an item of Reserve for Depreciation on Utilities has accumulated from year to year until at the present time it amounts to $114,195.85. This amount, of course, is not offset by an item of Cash on the debit side of the statement, but is offset, apparently, by an equivalent amount represented by Fixed Assets figures. It is obvious that these assets cannot be turned into cash, but under the City Charter the Council may if it sees fit, set up in its annual budget an expenditure to cover a proportionate part of this amount, which over a period of years if so appropriated and set up in the budget would entirely eliminate this item of $114,195.85. In other words, the City has used this amount of cash over a period of years, and in so doing it is indebted to the Utilities for that amount, and in paying it back to the Utilities as proposed it could in turn use these payments, together with the current year's accumulation, which would be approximately the $20,000, for reinvestment in the new water treatment plant construction program as outlined in the report of the consulting engineers, designated as Plan No. 1. This could be done without the necessity of borrowing money or increasing taxes. In a period of five years which it is estimated would be required to complete the program covered in Plan No. 1, the total Depreciation Reserve available for reinvestment would be approximately $275,000. This amount exceeds the estimated total cost of the plant.

It is also proposed that book accounts of utilities users, now carried as an asset on the City's books and amounting approximately to $60,000 at the present time, be used in part to cover a portion of the labor costs involved in Plan No. 1 and in Plan No. 2, which is mentioned hereinafter. This fund has been used from time to time and reduced in a considerable amount by the use of labor of those indebted to the City and whose accounts are carried in this item. This amount representing services provided to utilities users in years past when they were unable to pay for the same. There is also another item of $20,000 set up as an asset in connection with the Health Rebate, which might be used in the same manner. We are advised that it is reasonable to expect that about 50 per cent of these amounts totaling $80,000 would be available for labor purposes. That being the case, the amount which might be used would be $40,000.

The cost of the construction program outlined in Plan No. 2 would require but two years to complete by financing the same with the Depreciation Reserve funds from the Utilities and the use of Utilities labor, heretofore explained, and provided WPA labor shall be available, and three years if dependent on City financing entirely.

If it should be desired to finance the construction program contemplated by issuing bonds, we are furnishing you in this report the findings of our committee relative to this question.

We find that the total bonded indebtedness of the City on March 1, 1939, amounts to $211,500 of which $79,000 is Water Plant Bonds.

Future bond payments due for the 5-year period contemplated as necessary to construct the proposed plant, together with interest payments to be met for the same years, are as follows:
Year 1939, Bonds ----- $21,000.00
Interest ----- 8,855.00
Year 1940, Bonds ----- 26,000.00
Interest ----- 7,792.75
Year 1941, Bonds ----- 20,000.00
Interest ----- 6,786.25
Year 1942, Bonds ----- 19,500.00
Interest ----- 6,033.75
Year 1943, Bonds ----- 15,000.00
Interest ----- 5,181.25
Total bonds and interest to be paid during 5 years ----- $136,155.00
During the last 3-year period $112,000 in bonds have been paid, in addition to meeting current interest charges on outstanding bonds, amounting in all to $148,908.75.

You will note by the foregoing that the total bonded indebtedness of the City, which amounts to only $211,500 is less than 3 per cent of the assessed valuation of the real and personal property of the City. The City, under its charter, borrow money and issue bonds therefore on the faith and credit of the City, provided the total bonded indebtedness of the City does not exceed 5 per cent. (See Section 1, Chapter 9, of the City Charter, noted in the Appendix to this report for your ready reference.) This limitation does not include mortgage bonds; although the City at present has no bonds other than general obligation bonds. It must be understood, however, that before the Council could issue bonds to cover the cost of this project it would be necessary to submit the question to the electors of the City for their approval, and it would require the approval vote of three-fifths of the electors voting on the proposal to carry same. (See Section 2, Chapter 16, of the City Charter, quoted in the Appendix to this report.)

You will note that the last paragraph of Section 2 of Chapter 16 of the charter gives the Council authority to improve and extend existing utilities by reinvesting the Depreciation Reserve. The limitation would not be exceeded in the period contemplated for the construction of the proposed plant as explained on page 1 of this report.

2. The Soundness of the Proposed Plan of Financing.
Inasmuch as the proposed plan of financing this construction program is in accord with the provisions of the City Charter covering the financing of utility construction, and the funds are available to carry out the program on the basis contemplated in the consulting engineers' report, we are of the opinion that the plan is practicable and sound.

In the event that such contingency should arise that it became necessary or desirable to finance the program either entirely or in part by borrowing money required to meet the City's share of the costs of the project, such action could be taken without creating any excessive bonded indebtedness, due to the extremely favorable condition of the City's finances at the present time.

3. Its Effect on Taxes During and After Completion of Proposed New Plant.
As stated in Section 1 of this report, in the last three years the City has retired approximately $112,000 of its bonded debt. This was done while the City was meeting all its current obligations as well as contributing its share toward an extensive relief program. No tax increases have been made during this period, but instead the tax rate has been lowered somewhat.

We cannot find anything connected with the plan of financing this proposed construction program that would require any increase in the tax levy on that account. If bonds were issued to raise the necessary funds to meet the cost of the project, then it may follow that a small tax increase would be required to provide a sinking fund to meet these obligations. However, as explained in the first section of this report, it is not contemplated that the project will be financed on that basis.

After completion of the plant there should be no reason for us to expect that this project would result in any increased tax levy, but on the other hand it would appear that the increase efficiency of a new plant, together with other savings due to the proposed coordination of the facilities of the new plant with those of other utilities, would tend to lower the tax requirements. The Sub-Committee on Co-ordination, we understand, is going to deal with this phase of the problem and we are, therefore, not elaborating on that feature.

4. Its Effect on the City's Credit.
It is our understanding, after investigating the plan of financing this proposed program and the condition of the City's finances, that this project would not have any unfavorable effect on the City's credit. We say this for the reason that there is no borrowing of funds and no increase in the bonded indebtedness of the City contemplated, and the effect on the City's credit should be favorable, as the City would be increasing its investment in utility facilities without creating any increase in the tax levy.

5. Its Relation to Other Necessary Activities of City Government.
We understand that this subject will be dealt with by the Sub-Committee on Co-ordination, and we shall herein deal only with the financial features incident to such co-ordination as may be developed in this proposed program.

If it should be decided to relocate the present pumping station at a location near enough to the present gas plant to enable the pumping station boilers, such as the site mentioned in Plan No. 1, the following yearly savings may be estimated, on account of such co-ordination:
Wages of 3 firemen at Gas Plant saved by use of steam from Pumping Plant, amounting to ----- $3,600.00
800 tons of coal at a savings of $1.10 per ton ----- 880.00
In efficiency on 1,500 tons of coal in the combined units ----- 756.00
Net estimate savings in operation ----- $5,236.00
From this savings it is necessary to deduct:
Estimated loss of heat in pipe connections between Gas Plant and Water Plant ----- 650.00
Net estimated savings in operation ----- $4,586.00

Detroit, Free 12 Years, Returned To Ohio Prison Camp

Detroit, March 29. (AP)—Leo Stephens, 35, who led a law-abiding life for 12 years in Detroit after escaping from an Ohio prison camp, was given into the custody of Ohio officers here today.

Recorder's Judge John P. Scanlon ordered Stephens returned to Ohio when police produced an extradition warrant. The court was informed that Ohio authorities had rejected an appeal that they withdraw the extradition request in the light of the escaped prisoner's good record here.

Stephens fled from the honor camp of the Ohio state reformatory where he was serving a sentence of one to five years for automobile theft. He married here under the name of Ray Meyers. Police learned of his identity and arrested him February 12.

No Politics Ruling Of WPA Denounced By Hook In Capital

Washington, March 29. (AP)—Representative Hook (D-Mich) denounced the Works Progress Administration today for issuing orders "that no person employed in either a supervisory capacity or in capacity of a common laborer can be a member of either (political) party."

He told state WPA officials had decreed no WPA employee could make any utterances at a public meeting "as to his political beliefs for or against any candidate or any political philosophy."

Hook declared any man or woman had a right to vote as they saw fit and keep their views or express them as they saw fit.

MADRID PLANS BIG WELCOME FOR GENERAL

had begun to think about rebuilding. The national reconstruction service plastered walls with placards urging madrilenos to dedicate all efforts to this task.

First, however, was the welcome to Franco. The city did not know when he would arrive, but he was expected before the end of the week. In preparation, flags and bunting were doubled over those which appeared suddenly yesterday.

In early times, according to Erasmus, a polite caller started his visit by kissing his host, his hostess, all their children, and his dog and cat.

Appeals From Death Sentence Overruled

Columbus, O., March 29. (AP)—The Ohio supreme court today overruled the appeals of Henry and Harry Dingeldine and Harry Chapman from murder convictions and ordered them electrocuted April 19.

The three were convicted of slaying Patrolman Martin Randolph and Deputy Sheriff Edward Furry in a gunfight September 3, 1937, following a robbery of a cafe owner on a Springfield street.

The Dingeldines' father and son, were Springfield residents. Chapman was from Chicago. Their bandit companion, Robert Concrete, was slain in the fight.

England and the United States, to untie for maintenance of peace but against any further aggression. He scored Germany's recent course.

Europe Alarmed
"The conquest of Czechoslovakia," he said, "and the occupation of Prague by the German army gave the heaviest blow" to French efforts to establish peaceful international collaboration. He continued:

"For years, to justify certain acts, we have heard of the right of peoples to dispose for themselves. Then we heard of natural aspirations. Now we hear of the vital space which is only the eternal result of a desire for conquest."

"As I told you a few moments ago, how could Europe not be in alarm? There is not in fact a single man who does not know in the present hour that war would be a catastrophe for all nations. 'We want to help Europe to save itself. In the name of my country, I invite to confident collaboration all the powers which think as we do, all those who, like us, are ready to persevere in the paths of peace but which would rise together in a single rush in the face of aggression.'

"I know that these words, which have defined the position of France, will find a fraternal echo in the friendly nations across Europe, beyond the channel and beyond the Atlantic."

Kipke Is Invited To Address U. of M.

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 29. (AP)—Harry G. Kipke, former University of Michigan football coach, notified the student senate tonight that he would be unable to accept an invitation to discuss his Republican candidacy for the university board of regents.

Kipke, invited by the senate to address students, said the short time remaining before the election Monday would prevent his appearance.

The senate last week adopted a resolution censuring Kipke's candidacy and was accused of not representing student opinion. For that reason the senate voted also to place a question on the ballot in the student semi-annual election Friday in determining the student body's favored candidate for the regency.

Doomed Man Faces Trial At Detroit

Detroit, March 29. (AP)—Sidney Markham, 21, was returned to Detroit today from the death house of Sing Sing prison at Ossining, N. Y., to stand trial on federal charges of possession of an unregistered sub-machine gun. Markham was indicted with Louis Fleisher, former Purple gangster, and Mrs. Fleisher after a cache of weapons and ammunition was found in the apartment the three occupied here last May.

District Attorney John C. Lehr said Markham was returned because the three were indicted jointly and that he would be returned to Sing Sing regardless of the outcome of the case. Federal officials said it was the first time a prisoner had been released from the Sing Sing death house to be taken out of the state.

PICARD BECOMES JUDGE

Detroit. (AP)—Federal Judge Ernest A. O'Brien will administer the oath of office Thursday when Frank A. Picard of Saginaw is sworn in as a federal judge of the eastern Michigan district. After the ceremony there will be a reception for Picard in the chambers of Federal Judge Arthur J. Tuttle.

Herbert for Regency

THE Upper Peninsula has a more than ordinary stake in the election to be held Monday, April 3, inasmuch as a chance is presented to elect an upper Michigan man to the office of Michigan University Regent.

Nobody seems to know just why no more than three Upper Peninsula citizens have served on the University Board of Regents in the century-old history of that fine institution. In the first decade of the present century Peter White of Marquette held the office, and he was succeeded in turn by Chase S. Osborn of Sault Ste. Marie and Lucius Hubbard of Houghton.

Now comes for electoral consideration a fourth honored Upper Peninsula citizen in the person of J. Joseph Herbert, Manistowic. Mr. Herbert has two University degrees, one of which was bestowed while he was preparing to leave for the front as a member of the U. S. Army officers' training corps during the World War. He saw plenty of action on the French front, and later became commander of the American Legion in Michigan.

Mr. Herbert has kept close contact with the University through the Upper Peninsula University Alumni association, of which he is a past president. He is familiar with University traditions and problems, and is a logical and consistent candidate for the office of Regent. There are eight members of the University board, the personnel of which was appointed by the Governor of Michigan from 1837 until 1852, on the basis of one member from each judicial circuit.

Spanish War Ended

AS has been predicted for several weeks, General Franco and his armies had no difficulty in capturing Madrid, the last government stronghold of any consequence.

There will be some mopping up to do in the Valencia sector, but with the collapse of the Loyalist army defense of Madrid it is not to be expected that there will be much resistance elsewhere.

Spain will change from a republican form of government to a dictatorship, patterned after the Nazi and Fascist models, with General Franco as the actual head. Very likely, the Franco government will augment the Berlin-Rome axis, which has made it possible for dictator governments to expand their domains at the expense of the democratic nations.

Arms and the Men

TWO bills now being considered by House and Senate committees ought to get the closest possible consideration. They would provide penalties on organizations of more than five persons whose purpose is to drill or parade with firearms, or to provide military training.

The purpose of such a law is obvious. In Europe, the short-lived Russian and German republics were torn down and destroyed by organizations which they foolishly allowed to bear arms and train in a military way.

There is room in the United States for only one army, and only one trained and armed military force. They are the army of the United States and the organized militia. There is no possible excuse for any other bodies arming themselves and conducting military training.

Yet there are such bodies. They are small now, but they might grow. They should be stamped out immediately and while yet small. The law ought to be clear. It might not be a bad idea even to amend the Constitution.

Article 2 of the Bill of Rights says "A well-regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free state, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed."

The meaning, at the time the Constitution was written, is clear. In those days military equipment was simple. Every man had his flintlock hanging over the fireplace. Lexington and Concord and Bunker Hill proved that a militia hurriedly made up of men bringing their own arms could, in an emergency, hold their own with regular troops.

That isn't true any more. The posses-

London—If General Franco wins command of all Spain— If, having done so, he is willing to have a King as the nominal ruler of the country— If, being favorable, dictators Hitler and Mussolini do not veto the plan—

THEN a good looking young man named Don Juan Carlos Teresa Silverio may be called to the throne vacated by his father, former King Alfonso XIII, in April, 1931, after the Spanish revolution.

But those "ifs" are tough hurdles. There are those who think that Franco will not be inclined to give up power to a king, but will rule on the lines of Hitler. There are still others who think that Franco may be willing to have Don Juan as a royal figurehead, such as Mussolini is reputed to have made King Victor Emmanuel in Italy, but that Hitler and Mussolini may veto the plan.

THE trouble about Don Juan from the German-Italian standpoint would be that there is too much English about him. His mother was an English princess. The young man himself served a goodly time in the English navy. And the English are at present not exactly chosen people for Hitler and Mussolini. They might fear that a King Juan or whatever he chose to call himself would slant Spain too much towards democratic England and forget what the totalitarian states did to help Franco.

Don Juan is the third son of Alfonso and was born June 20, 1913. He was raised very simply, because he never dreamed of being heir to the throne. He had two brothers before him—the late Prince of the Asturias and Don Jaime. Of course, Asturias was a "bleeder" and Jaime was deaf and dumb, but these things did not rule them out.

Juan grew up strong and healthy. In 1930 he entered the Spanish Naval College at Cadiz where he became a favorite with his fellow students because he had no side and no frills.

When the revolution broke out in 1931, he left Cadiz and came to England where he applied for admission to the British navy. He was posted to the cruiser "Enterprise", which was stationed in Indian waters.

It was while serving on this ship that he received a message from his parents notifying him that he was now the heir to the throne. This became so because the Prince of the Asturias renounced the throne to marry a Cuban girl and become simple Count of Covadonga and because Don Jaime renounced all rights because of his increasing disabilities.

Nevertheless Don Juan continued in the British navy. He served on the "Iron Duke" until 1935, then going to the destroyer "Winchester" and being promoted to the rank of lieutenant. Later he was placed on the reserve list of officers. The British Admiralty probably thought it wise to do so because of the conflict in Spain.

At any rate Don Juan went to Rome, where his father has been living for some years. October 12, 1935, he married his second cousin, Princess Maria Mercedes of Bourbon-Stiely. They now have two children—two-year-old Maria del Pilar, and a son and heir to the throne—if throne there be—Don Juan Carlos, born last year.

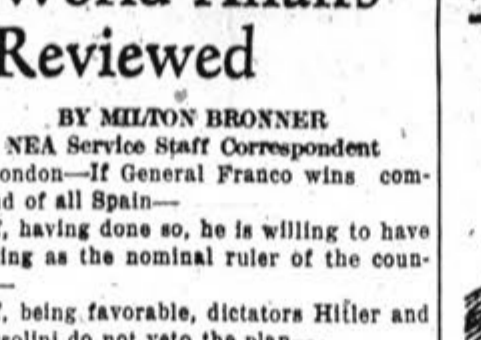

change was illegal. It seems strange that the county board did not first consult the prosecutor before taking such action. Now it has the unpleasant task of "firing" two of the members and presumably the new appointees will have to leave the board.

WHERE NEXT IN RELIEF? (New York Sun) What the house of representatives will do with the rules committee's proposal to investigate WPA may remain a matter for conjecture even though part or all of the $150,000,000 sought by the President be granted. The more important issue is what congress will do about work relief in the fiscal year 1940. Will it proceed to vote two billion dollars for the flat continuation of WPA, or devise some new system of distributing federal aid to the jobless? An investigation may provide a sounder foundation than now exists for an answer. The Workers Alliance will doubtless bring all the pressure it can manage on both houses of congress regardless of what a congressional inquiry exposes. But the course of WPA employment has not followed the rise and fall of business, while private employment has. The peaks in WPA expenditures have occurred in the months just preceding national elections. Were work relief under direct charge of the states, with much of the responsibility for relief borne by large cities without federal dictation, present incentives to remain on relief indefinitely would probably disappear.

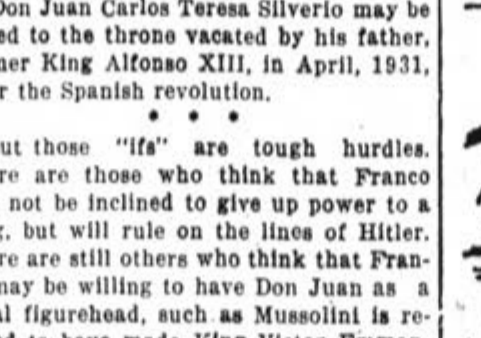

WORTH LOOKING INTO (Ohio State Journal) Investigation of the waste of millions of dollars by the administration for publicity and propaganda, as demanded by Congressman Thomas of New Jersey, is a veritable gold mine for publicity writers. Rare indeed is the bureau that does not have a staff of drum beaters and trumpet tooters to publicize its activities and try to justify its existence by the preparation of propaganda which will present it in the most favorable light. A thorough investigation doubtless would reveal many startling and interesting features about the vast sums of money the New Deal has spent trying to sell itself to the public.

Answers To Questions

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN A reader can get the answer to any question of fact by writing The Escanaba Daily Press Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. Please enclose three (3) cents for reply.

Q. Who were the leading members of the cast of "Foggy and Bess" when it opened in New York? G.S.J.

A. The cast was as follows: Foggy, Todd Duncan; Crown, Warren Coleman; Sportin' Life, John W. Bubbles; Bess, Anne Brown; and Jake, Edward Matthews.

Q. How long does a typhoid vaccination last? G.H.S.

A. Vaccination against typhoid fever gives protection against the disease for at least two or two and one-half years.

Q. What is the route of the proposed Florida Canal? W.W.S.

A. The canal will follow the St. Johns River from its mouth to Palatka, thence by way of the Okechobee and Withlacoochee Rivers to the Gulf of Mexico near Port Inglis, connecting the Atlantic Ocean with the Gulf of Mexico.

Q. Who invented the mimeograph? S.B.

A. The mimeograph was invented by Thomas A. Edison, patent number 180,857, August 8, 1876.

Q. How many mayors are there in the United States? M.S.

A. The number of mayors in the United States is approximately 16,000. This represents most incorporated places in the country, with the exception of certain towns in New England which are governed by town councils.

Q. What is meant by a sea foam pipe? M.M.

A. A sea foam pipe is one made of meerschaum. Meerschaum is soft and clay-like and so light that it will float in water, hence its name which is German for sea foam.

Q. Are many people arrested for stealing cars? T.H.S.

A. According to the current Uniform Crime Report of the Department of Justice, from January 1 to December 31, 1938, there were 12,958 persons arrested for automobile theft.

Q. Under what circumstances was the son of a Secretary of War executed? A.T.S.

A. Midshipman Spencer, Boat-swain Samuel Cromwell, and Seaman Elisha Small were suspected of mutiny on the Brig Somers in 1842. Alexander Shild Macksenzie was in command, and they were executed. Midshipman Spencer's father was Secretary of War, and there was a great deal of sympathy for him and amazement at the extreme act of discipline, but the command was exonerated by a Court of Inquiry and Court Martial.

Q. What is the meaning of the initials V.D.B. which appear on some of the Lincoln-head pennies? F.C.W.

A. They are the initials of the designer of the coin, Victor D. Brenner.

Q. Why is the Pilgrim State Hospital at Brentwood, Long Island, so called? S.H.D.

A. The hospital is named for Dr. C. W. Pilgrim in recognition of his devotion to the care of the State's insane.

Q. What is the religious affiliation of District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey? C.W.S.

A. Mr. Dewey is an Episcopalian.

Q. How long has marble been used for bureau and table tops? A. From Elizabethan England come records of marble stone table tops in 1588, although it was not until the early part of the eighteenth century that marble appeared as an important furnishing feature in England. Its use in Italy most probably predates this, since the natural resources there and the architectural character of the furniture would both encourage the use of marble.

Q. Which is the tallest state capitol in the United States? G.H.

A. The tallest state capitol is in Baton Rouge, Louisiana. The building is 450 feet high.

Q. What are the duties of the Director of Investigation of the Department of Justice? M.J.H.

A. The Director of Investigation has general charge of the investigation of offenses against the laws of the United States, except counterfeiting, narcotics, and other matters not within the jurisdiction of the Department of Justice; of the acquisition, collection, classification, preservation, and exchange of criminal identification records; and of such investigations regarding official matters under the control of the Department of Justice as the Department of State may be directed by the Attorney General. The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY PEARSON AND ALLEN Washington—Hitler is a long way from abolishing unemployment in Germany, according to a secret study made by Hugh S. Hanna, crack statistician of the Labor Department.

The report, based entirely on German Government figures, shows that: (1) Productive employment—that is, non-military employment—proportionately is much higher in this country than in Germany.

(2) Hitler has blown up his employment figures by including relief, public works and concentration camp labor—a type labeled as unemployed in the U. S.

(3) There are several million unemployed in Germany who remain unclassified. These are high grade workers who have refused to register as unemployed lest they be put to work at a pittance doing military labor.

In Germany, according to the Hanna report, less than 60 per cent of the employed are engaged in productive activities, or on jobs which produce food, clothing and other necessities for the people. More than 40 per cent are employed in non-productive military work, including a great army of military police, secret service agents and other government employes, as well as workers in munitions plants.

In the United States, however, non-productive employment is almost negligible. Another highlight is that German taxation to support its war machine amounts to 40 per cent of the total national income, whereas U. S. military preparedness costs about 15 per cent; in Great Britain, about 20 per cent.

Maintenance of non-productive military employment has imposed a tremendous burden on the living standards of the German people. This helps explain the serious economic shape of the country and why an unpopular war is so risky.

—AMBASSADORIAL DUEL—

The Cuban Embassy has maintained a discreet silence, but the fact has leaked out that Cuban Ambassador Fraga recently resorted to the ancient and honorable practice of defending his honor by issuing a challenge to a duel.

It happened because a cartoonist sketched in the Cuban magazine "Zigzag" a caricature of Fraga which he considered ludicrous and offensive. Fraga, a man of circus-pet department, took immediate umbrage. Visiting in Havana at the time, he sent his second with a challenge to a duel.

The affair created a sensation in the inner circles of Havana, where it was rumored that Fraga would be forced to resign his post in Washington.

The cartoonist, however, settled the matter off the dueling field by offering formal apologies to Senor Dr. Pedro Martinez Fraga.

Note—Dr. Orestes Ferrara, ex-Cuban Ambassador, fought fourteen duels in Cuba and won them all.

—AXED RELATIVE—

One of the employes quietly axed in the recent WPA economy shakeup was a relative of the President.

He was 45-year-old Daniel W. Delano, Jr., a cousin on Mrs. Roosevelt, Senior's side, who had been employed as a research worker in WPA's historical records survey since July, 1936.

The White House and WPA bosses have maintained tight-lipped silence about Delano's ouster, but he has not. Sore at the loss of his $1800 job, he has been talking about WPA "inside corruption" to New Deal foes on Capitol Hill and they have listened with eager ears.

Most interested critic is Representative Clifton A. Woodrum of Virginia, always hostile to WPA. Woodrum is leading the fight against the President's $150,000,000 relief deficiency bill and has been pumping Delano for ammunition.

Born in Niagara Falls, N. Y., Delano has worked as an advertising salesman, a cafeteria manager in Baltimore and was a social worker in Washington when White House Secretary Marvin McIntyre got him the WPA job. Official reason given for Delano's dismissal was the "elimination of dispensable positions." Eleven others were dropped from his division at the same time.

—SILENT CAPEHART—

Homer Capehart, wealthy Indiana musical instrument manufacturer, pooh-poohed a lot of reports about himself during his recent Capitol visit, but significantly he avoided comment on one.

Said Capehart to newsmen, "I am not a candidate for governor of Indiana, for Senator from Indiana, for chairman of the Republican National Committee, or for President of the United States."

But regarding his secret ambition, the vice presidency, Capehart said nothing. Quietly, Capehart is active in promoting his candidacy and believes he has a good chance to make the grade because (1) he comes from the Midwest; (2) is a business man; and (3) has money to throw into the 1940 campaign.

STATE SENATOR EXPLAINS BILL

Would Close Garden Bay To Commercial Fishing

State Senator James Dotsch called the Press yesterday by long distance telephone from Lansing to explain that a bill he introduced in the senate provided for the closing of Garden Bay to commercial fishing, except for smelt, and not to hook and line fishing, as stated in a news dispatch Monday.

Hook and line fishing for perch and other panfish will be permitted in the Garden bay, which at certain times of the year attracts many anglers.

"We have to begin conserving our fish if we want to save our commercial fishing industry," Senator Dotsch said.

Another measure, introduced by Senator Dotsch, provides for the closing of Potaganssing bay to commercial fishing, excepting from Dec. 15 to April 15 when fishing through the ice with gill nets would be permitted.

In his telephone conversation, Senator Dotsch said indications were that the legislature would pass the bill providing $500,000 in emergency aid for the school districts of the state.

GET OUT AND VOTE
Munising, Mich.
March 27, 1939

Spring is on the way—so is Easter and Election Day. The weather is very whimsical and shows no favoritism for any day.

People are sometimes just as whimsical. If the weather is nice enough to induce an outing, out we go and vote. If, on the other hand, it's a bit wet, cold, or dreary—"to vote" is not enough inducement to venture out. We take that "for granted" attitude—our vote will not make any difference in that final count.

The fact that we are free American citizens endowed with the right to vote—the right to voice our preferences, whether we're Catholics, Protestants, Jews, or any other creed, should be inducement enough for us to exercise that liberty when the occasion arises be it for village, town, city, state, or United States.

Vote and be thankful we can vote as we please and are not ruled by Dictators with sham elections (if any) at the point of a gun.

Vote and be thankful we can vote as we please and not be in danger of losing our homes, property, earnings and jobs.

ROAD CONDITIONS
The almost magical disappearance of snow during the week-end was halted Monday by the drop in temperature, which was welcomed especially by motorists. Roads all through the peninsula were fast becoming impassable and many cars were in difficulty in spots where water from huge walls of snow on roadsides, could not drain off. Because of the abnormal amount of snow, bad conditions are inevitable, but gradual drainage will aid them.

Goldfish Eaters Are Sissies, Say Smelt Boosters

News that Gilbert Hollandersky, 20-year-old University of Pennsylvania Junior, had gulped his way to the intercollegiate goldfish swallowing championship by wrapping himself around 25 live fish was received here today with a loud "So What?"

At the fourth annual smelt jamboree here last year to celebrate the spawning run of the silvery fish, Harry Newman of Detroit, former All-American quarterback from the University of Michigan, wolfed 30 smelt to win the smelt eating championship. The smelt jamboree, of course, but the silvery officials pointed out that the silvery fish are about 20 times as large as goldfish.

Furthermore, the officials added, if student Hollandersky wants to try his gastronomic ability on smelt, he will be invited to the Michigan smelt and farm products dinner in Washington, April 6.

ANOTHER CHAMPION

Boston, March 29 (AP)—As the intercollegiate goldfish gulping title returned to Boston tonight the president of the Animal Rescue League threatened "drastic action" if the tilt continued.

Using milk as a chaser, Donald V. Mulcahy of Brockton, a junior at Boston college, polished off 29 fish today as 200 spectators cheered.

Dethroned was two-day champion Gilbert Hollandersky, University of Pennsylvania junior, who gulped 25 fish yesterday.

Contenders at Harvard, Holy Cross, and Franklin and Marshall have swallowed close to 100 fish in the past few weeks of competition.

"This business has gone quite far enough," said Robert F. Sellar, president of Boston's Animal Rescue League.

"I'm going to communicate with various collegiate officials in complaint, and if they can't impress it upon the students to stop, we'll take drastic action. I hesitate to bring such a matter to court, but we won't side-step the issue. There have been too many complaints."

Kelly To Shorten Time Of Payment On Gas Refunds

Harry F. Kelly, Secretary of State, has made arrangements whereby the payment of refund claims against the State on gasoline used by individuals or corporations for industrial, agricultural or other refundable uses, if properly made out and sent to the Secretary of State within the time limit, will be allowed and paid within fifteen days.

Individuals or corporations using gasoline for other purposes than to operate motor vehicles on the public roads, streets and highways in this State are entitled to a refund of the State tax on gasoline of three cents per gallon so used. Purchasers, to take advantage of this refund privilege, must file a sworn claim with the Secretary of State within ninety days from the date of purchase. Claim blanks are furnished by the Secretary of State on request and must be accompanied by the original invoice or invoices from a registered gasoline dealer received by the purchaser, showing the date and amount of gasoline purchased and when approved by the Secretary of State, will be paid out of the State Highway fund upon the State warrant of the Au-

ORE EXPECTED HERE APRIL 6

First Boat Scheduled To Arrive On April 18

Ore shipments from the Bradley mine at Iron Mountain are expected to arrive at the local docks sometime next week and the first boat of the season is scheduled to make port on April 18, it was learned yesterday from F. M. Fernstrom, dock superintendent of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad.

The M. A. Hanna mines on the Menominee range and the Verona Mining company pits at Stambaugh also are expected to send their first shipments here about the middle of April. The first Hanna boat is expected about April 20.

No word has as yet been heard of loading operations from the Marquette range.

Preparations are being made to handle approximately two and one-half million tons of ore from local docks this year, that figure being more than twice as much as that handled last year, but less than the tonnage of 1937 when 3,147,741 tons were shipped. The latter year was when the harbor ice was crushed early in April in order to permit five carriers to enter the harbor.

In order to be prepared for the heavy shipment of ore, 85 men were put on repair crews this winter to get cars and other equipment in good shape.

U. S. Census Shows City Leads Peninsula In Manufacturing

Menominee—Menominee led the upper peninsula in the number of its factories, the number of men employed, and the total wages paid in 1937, according to a census of manufactures released today by the U. S. department of commerce.

The report lists six cities of the upper peninsula with populations of 10,000 or more. Menominee paced each city in all fields except Sault Ste. Marie, where the value of products manufactured in 1937 was nearly $3,000,000 over total value of products manufactured here.

Menominee had 24 industries in 1937 that paid 1,921 average employes for the year a total of $1,864,272 in wages for manufacturing products whose total value was $8,652,550, the census reveals.

MENOMINEE HAS MUCH INDUSTRY

U. S. Census Shows City Leads Peninsula In Manufacturing

All over the state of Michigan the same industrial revival is shown in 1937. In many cities the figures in employment and industrial increase is more than one-half above 1935. In the U. P. only Marquette industries in 1937 were below 1935, one of the few exceptions to the general revival.

Soo Nearest Rival

Iron Mountain trailed in the upper peninsula in both 1935 and 1937, compared with other cities, the industrial census shows. Ironwood was second from the bottom, Escanaba third, Marquette fourth, and Sault Ste. Marie was second to Menominee, which topped the Soo by a considerable margin for first place.

Menominee's 24 industries in 1937 used materials whose total value was 4,312,430. The figure includes cost of materials, fuel, electric energy and contract work. The county as a whole also commerce reports, Menominee had 26 factories, employed 1,525 persons, paid wages totaling $1,315,209 and manufactured products of 5,807,101 total.

The figures are interesting in that they reveal authentically that Menominee was better industrially in 1937 than in 1935. Growing employment rolls, more products, and more wages paid show a partial release from the depression years.

showed industrial gains in 1937, the census shows. The city and county combined had 43 industries, employed 2,540 persons, paid wages totaling $2,152,879, and manufactured products totaling $10,978,241 in value.

In the county census, Menominee county led the upper peninsula, except for Chippewa county, in which Sault Ste. Marie is located, where the value of manufactured products was slightly above Menominee. Menominee county exceeded Chippewa in the number of industries, employes and wages paid.

It is interesting to note that Menominee topped many cities in lower Michigan in the number of persons employed for cities of 10,000 population and over.

Menominee employed more persons in 1937 than did Alpena, Mount Clemens, Niles, Owosso, Royal Oak and Traverse City. Menominee produced manufactured goods of greater value than did Owosso, Traverse City, Alpena, Mount Clemens.

Buy Easter Seals

The Easter season is here again, leading our thoughts to the thousands of children whose misfortune is to be physically handicapped—a curved spine, paralyzed arm—a crooked leg.

In our own state, and even in our own community, there are many physically handicapped persons who need never have suffered the unhappy psychological and economic consequences which result from being physically below par.

By providing our handicapped children with the educational opportunities, automatically falling to able-bodied youngsters in cities and in the rural areas, with proper recreation, vocational guidance and training, and assistance in securing self-supporting employment, we are only giving them what they deserve and are entitled to as Americans.

Therefore, let us all help them to contribute to our community rather than be burdens, by supporting the Easter Seal sale of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children, Inc., which is working hard to see that each physically handicapped child in our state develops to the fullest extent of his capacities, both mental and physical.

Mrs. Ferguson Is Named President of P-T-A Council

The Escanaba Parent-Teacher Council at its meeting the first of the week, elected Mrs. James Ferguson, president for the coming school year.

Mrs. Ferguson was chosen delegate to the state convention to be held at Sault Ste. Marie in May, and Mrs. Nelson, alternate.

At the meeting Supt. John A. Lemmer spoke on the present school situation. Plans were discussed with Dr. R. Lanting for the annual summer round-up which will be conducted the last two weeks in April.

In his spare time he was a painter employed by Royce Caron. Fiemal resides at 722 Portage avenue east.

NIGHT PARKING NOW PERMITTED

Restrictions Are Lifted Throughout City; Snow Moving

Effective immediately, all night parking on all streets in the city is permissible, Chief of Police M. P. Ettenhofer announced yesterday.

A city ordinance in effect for the first time this year prohibited parking more than an hour on all streets after midnight between the months of December and March, inclusive. This was done in order to eliminate interference with city crews engaged in removing snow from the city streets. Because of the rapid disappearance of snow throughout the city, the parking restrictions have been lifted a few days before the deadline.

Snow has disappeared rapidly from the streets under the rays of the spring sunshine, there being only two inches of snow on the level in the city yesterday. Ice on the bay, too, is becoming honeycombed.

The city administration, members of the safety and traffic commission and the police department yesterday expressed their appreciation to the general public for the fine spirit of cooperation manifested during the winter months in regard to the parking restrictions. It was expected that there would be much opposition to the new ordinance but the public quickly realized the value of it and cooperated very well. City crews found it much easier to clear the streets after a storm as compared with past years when it was necessary to steer out into the

SMELT PARLEY HERE FRIDAY

Jamboree Plans Will Be Reviewed at Meeting of Chairmen

Chairmen of the various committees in charge of arrangements for the Escanaba Smelt Jamboree to be held April 13 to 15 will meet at the Sherman hotel Friday noon. All plans for the three-day celebration will be reviewed.

The jamboree has been attracting much attention throughout the nation. Pictures of Miss Barbara Banks, 1939 queen, and stories of the smelt runs have appeared in hundreds of newspapers.

The Escanaba Chamber of Commerce is receiving scores of inquiries daily from prospective visitors. Up to yesterday, more than six tons of the silvery fish had been ordered by Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions clubs, Elks, Eagles and Moose lodges, and sportsmen's organizations throughout the middle west. Many Escanaba business houses and individuals are remembering their friends by shipping them boxes of smelt.

Wm. Warrington, treasurer of the finance committee, reports that the campaign for funds to finance the jamboree is progressing favorably. Those who have not yet contributed their share are asked, however, to send in their checks within the next few days as the committees are refraining from making commitments for various entertainment attractions and other expenditures until adequate funds are assured.

Advertising space is being taken in several Upper Peninsula daily and weekly newspapers this year. The Delta theatre of the district are also boosting the jamboree by running the smelt fishing movies taken here last year by Jack Lieb, news reel cameraman of News of the Day.

W. J. Smith, chairman of the Mardi Gras parade committee, reports much interest in this event. A number of attractive floats have been booked. A novel entry in the parade will be an aquarium from the state fish hatchery at Thompson.

The coronation show and grand ball at the Coliseum on Friday evening, April 14, will be one of the outstanding events. A one-hour show will be staged from 9 to 10 p. m., followed by the dance for which the WTAQ Farmhands of Green Bay and Wally Beau's orchestra will play.

Peter Stienhour Called By Death

Peter Stienhour, 61, a resident of Bark River since 1921, died Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock at St. Joseph's hospital Menominee, where he had submitted to a major operation seven weeks ago.

He was born in Two Rivers, Wis., May 6, 1877. He moved to Ford River in 1919 and farmed there for three years before moving to Bark River, where he lived until his death.

His survivors are his wife, one son and four daughters; Norman, at home; Mrs. Patrick Finlan, Schaffer; Mrs. Harry Van Vogel, Manitowish, Wis.; Sarah of Chicago; and Betty at home; a brother, Joseph Stienhour of Two Rivers; one sister, Mrs. Minnie Bunc of Two Rivers; and a half brother Caspar Claine, of Sheboygan, Wis., and six grandchildren.

The body was removed from Menominee to the Boyle funeral parlors at Bark River. Arrangements for the services have not been completed.

FOUR CORNERS RESIDENT DIES

Leonard Suchovsky, 69, Had Been Ill for Two Months

Leonard Suchovsky, 69, of Four Corners community, located between Wilson and Carney, died unexpectedly at his home at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning. He had suffered a two months' illness, and apparently had recovered, when he suffered a sudden relapse.

Mr. Suchovsky was born in Brotsko, Czecho-Slovakia, October 15, 1869, and first came to the United States in 1902. He lived in Chicago for fifteen years and then moved to Bark River where he began farming. In 1925 he moved to Wilson where he lived for twelve years. For the past four years he was proprietor of the Four Corners tavern.

He married Anne Antolek at Brotsko on May 20, 1895.

He was a member of St. Bruno's parish at Nadeau, and was affiliated with the Western Brotherhood Fraternal association.

The body was taken to the Boyle funeral parlors at Bark River to be prepared for burial and will be returned to the family home Friday noon. Services will be held at 9 o'clock Saturday morning at St. Bruno's church, Nadeau, Rev. Fr. Joseph Duquette officiating; and burial will be in Nadeau cemetery.

Mr. Suchovsky leaves his wife, four sons and three daughters, Leonard Jr., Ignatius and John of Chicago, and Henry at home; Mrs. John Hojek and Mrs. Ed. LaCount of Chicago, and Virginia, at home, and eight grandchildren.

4-H CLUBS TO MEET TODAY

County Boys and Girls Hold Achievement Day Program

Approximately 350 members of Delta county 4-H clubs are expected to attend the annual winter achievement day program being held at the senior high school here today.

Exhibits of clothing and handicraft work done during the winter months by 4-H club members were put in place yesterday in the senior high school gym and were judged by Clara Rood and Miss Parella Meyers, upper peninsula 4-H club leaders.

Highlights of today's program will include the style show in the high school auditorium at 12:30 o'clock, followed by the naming of county honor members. Festivities will wind up this afternoon with members attending a motion picture show in a body.

Interest in winter work has been the best in years, county agricultural agent E. A. Wenner said yesterday, with membership on the increase and a larger number of completed projects than ever before.

There is an unusually large number of exhibits on display this year, the walls and floor of the senior high school gym being crowded with garments and woodwork articles of all descriptions.

Mrs. William Schultz of Palmer; Mrs. Mary Hurthibise, Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Hurthibise, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Potvin and Mr. and Mrs. George Williams of Schaffer; Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred King of Gladstone and many other friends of the family, of Gladstone, Wells, and Escanaba.

Obituary

THEODORE LACASSE
The body of Theodore Lacasse, who died Saturday, will rest in state at the Alto Funeral Home beginning Friday morning. Services will be held at St. Anne's church, Rev. Fr. Joseph E. Guertin officiating, Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, with burial in St. Anne's cemetery. Mr. Lacasse's only survivor, a sister, Mrs. Flora Ayotte, of Ferndale, Mich., will arrive here today.

MRS. WILLIAM FIRKUS

Impressive funeral services for Mrs. William Firkus, highly esteemed resident of Escanaba, were held at a solemn requiem high mass Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Patrick's church. The Very Rev. Fr. Thomas A. Kennedy was celebrant of the mass, Rev. Fr. Edward Leary, O. F. M., deacon, and Rev. Fr. Nolan McKevitt, sub-deacon.

At the offertory of the mass Mrs. John Kress sang "Pie Jesu," and as the body was being removed from the church at the close of the service, she sang "On This Day O Beautiful Mother." Mrs. Walter O'Connell sang the solos of the mass.

Burial was in the family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery. Pall bearers were William Lelper, Gladwin Isaacson, Arthur Harvey, John M. Trotter, George Weingartner of Rock and John O. Moberg.

Those attending the services included Mr. and Mrs. Maurice O'Leary of Oak Park, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Goetz, of Rexton; Miss M. J. MacMonagle, of Denver, Colorado, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Olson and Mrs. George Burt of Gladstone.

On The RECORD

By Dorothy Thompson

THE WORLD AND ADOLF HITLER

What is going on now in Europe has a curious phantasmagoric character. What we are seeing is collapse, with no sketch yet, of the shape of things to come.

That Adolf Hitler moves from victory to victory is also dream-like. For he is only collapsing forward and on a larger scale than any one else. As the Great Destroyer, he is playing an historic role. But what he is accumulating, by blackmail and terror, is formless.

Without any concept of government, except rule by Gestapo, concentration camp, Star Chamber trials; without any philosophy of history, except the fanaticism of Germany as the Chosen People, the Master Folk, to rule over slaves; in utter disregard of the integration, amalgamation and mediation, necessary even to a real imperial idea; propagating, instead, an idea exclusive, atomizing and explosive; without even the understanding and support of the people of his own nation for what he is doing, this "inspired somnambulist" to quote his own words about himself—is, indeed, no longer walking, but whirling in his sleep, mad now with the sense of his own miraculousness.

And the world outside waits and watches, paralyzed by the very spectacle.

At long last, the world perceives what it has in its midst, and thinks, with a certain optimism, that this thing will not last, because there is in it no toughness of endurance, no building power.

It is not, however, ordained by nature that the western world must live in order. It is not ordained by nature that civilization itself may not utterly collapse before barbarism. It has happened before. It is within the sphere of possibility that what we are seeing is not analogous to Napoleonism, but resembles, rather, the great collapse of the Roman Empire, which was followed by bandit rule for centuries.

In the breakdown of the classical civilization, the same optimism ruled; the Romans—like the British, today—believed that the might and power of Rome were, in the long run impregnable.

The invasions of the Visigoths, Ostrogoths, and Huns were repeatedly repelled; in the breakdown of the classical civilization there were a number of rallies.

But finally the Empire of the East was overrun by the armies of Attila, and the Emperor Theodosius II feebly and futilely attempted to buy them off with ever-increasing payments of tribute.

The vandals did not build a new state in the place of Rome. They destroyed the unity of civilization and brought on the dark ages.

The situation of Europe today is in the opinion of the column, much worse than it was in September. Then there was a crisis about a clear-cut issue: whether France was to support her alliance with Czechoslovakia and save that state, or not.

The issue that could be solved one way or another. The first way—resistance—might have meant war. It is by no means certain that it would have, had it been positive and unequivocal.

The other way involved an operation. The operation, even, might conceivably have been performed, as operations need to be, with skillful surgery, proper antisepsis, and careful sutures.

But that is not the way Adolf Hitler operates. It was performed with a dirty butcher's knife, and the result has been a rapid spreading of septicemia.

That Germany itself is deathly ill is no guarantee that the rest of Europe—even Europe west of the Rhine—will be healthy.

On the contrary, the years since the war have proved that a free, strong, prosperous Germany is essential to the well-being of Europe.

And it is this double realization that paralyzes Europe. First, that it cannot live in the same world with Hitler, and second, that Germany must be restored to complete health.

Nobody knows how to crush Hitler without crushing Germany; everybody knows that Hitler himself is crushing Germany. The weakness of England and France is that the statesmanship in both countries is, and has been, lamentable. The people, especially in France, have been confused by contradictory statements and contradictory policies. The universal distrust is widespread—the Eastern countries no longer trusting Britain or France, while, at the same time, they are terrified of Germany—nobody trusts Soviet Russia, while desperately needing her support; and the policy of the United States moves according to Gallup polls, advancing and then retreating. Nowhere, a man of statesmen in power is there any clear idea of what it is they want to construct, once they have stopped Hitler.

Thus we live in a world of universal mistrust, paralysis and betrayal. Nobody wants to reconstruct the Versailles system, which was moribund before Hitler came to power.

The post-war system of a divided Europe of small, independent states, kept apart by hostility, a welter of currencies and customs barriers theoretically equal members of the League of Nations, but actually satellites of Britain and

SERIAL STORY

'MRS. DOC'

BY TOM HORNER

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

The characters and situations in this story are wholly fictional.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
ALAN WARREN—Ambitious young country doctor.
EMILY WARREN—Alan's wife.
ERIC KANE—Construction engineer.
DR. FARRELL—Alan's elderly associate.

Yesterday, Emily realizes in the crisis that she loves only Alan, that she must remain with him. Meanwhile, as Alan is operating a lamp is poised to drop on his head, Eric jumps to catch it to save Alan.

CHAPTER XIX
 The reflector was only inches from Alan's head when Eric caught it in both hands, pulled it toward him so that the heavy metal container would fall clear.

Agonizing pain shot through his hands, up his arms. Then numbness. His raincoat protected his body, but he felt the intense heat on his face, scorching the flesh, digging at his eyes.

The container missed Alan and Farrell, cleared the table by a hair's breadth, fell to the floor with a crash. A man behind Eric jumped, cut off the gas, pulled the lamp from Eric's desperate grasp.

Eric stood, his teeth digging into his lip, every muscle rigid, his hands flaming torture.

Alan, startled by the crash, looked up. "Eric!"

Farrell was at Eric's side, holding his wrist. Grady was rummaging in a bag for unguent.

"It would—a—hit—you—Alan!" Eric groaned.

"Well, how do those hands feel now?" Alan asked.

"About like the dam looks," Eric managed to grin.

They stood at the edge of the trestle, high above the broken wreckage in the bright sunlight of a chilly March morning. Far down the river, Alan could see the barge, bearing the injured men.

Farrell, Grady, Weber and Father Johnson toward Price's Point and waiting ambulances. Two white sheeted forms lay on that barge. Twelve others lay there, too, but they, with good luck and care would recover. Still others sprawled or stood with arms or legs in awkward, hastily made splints. Below him a crew of men dug steadily at a huge mass of gravel. Bud Price's body was still in there.

"There isn't much left, is there?" Eric asked.

Alan looked around. Over the top of the diversion dam into the waters of the lake it had created, a lake now strangely still. Water trickled through a gash at one end of the earth and gravel fill, spilling down to splash on the timbers of the broken trestle. The wheels of a half-buried truck were there, too, looking like a child's toy buried in a sand pile.

It was the damage done the once-splendid framework of the main dam that he hated to see, for he knew that the pain it caused Eric hurt far worse than the burns on his hands. Sunlight glistened on the grease on Eric's face as he turned to survey his broken dream.

"If we could have had more time—more steel—more concrete—it might have held," he said.

"It isn't completely ruined, is it?" Alan asked. "Can't you clear away the wreckage, start again?"

"Possibly. Depends on what they want to do in Washington.

France, and sustained by treaties and loans, while Germany, a country which by the sheer force of its energy and the weight of its size, should naturally play a leading role on the Continent, was artificially suppressed—that system was doomed from its inception, and no one believed in it even before Hitler toppled it over like a deck of cards.

The Hitler system, of turning all Europe into "protectorates" or "associate powers" of Germany, held together by nothing except force and terror, the Associated Powers (Italy and Hungary today, and who else tomorrow?) directed from Berlin, and the weaker powers exploited as though they were African colonies, and ruled either by local puppets like Dr. Tiso, in Slovakia, or by satraps of the Grand Mogul, like the governors of Moravia, Bohemia, and Austria, can only be held by more force and more terror by appalling suppressions, by slave labor, by the willful extinction of whole populations, and by the plunder and enslavement of the German people themselves.

The German people are appalled, terrified, and, since September utterly discouraged. Every victory is followed by a new higher tax, and by more paper money. The thousand years of the Third Reich are being spun off in days, not years, and are careening toward a terrible rendezvous with destiny. But it may be that they will not keep that terrible rendezvous alone, but drag western civilization along with them to it.

The only encouraging thing in the picture is the final awareness of reality, which seems even to have reached Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Bonnet.

It has reached the British people long since. It has reached some of the French people, despite the efforts of the Daladier-Bonnet government, to make them think that Hitler was really a nice man.

Europe now knows that the issue is: Europe or Hitler? Civilization or barbarism? That is something. But that is all there is to date, and the time passes, and the poison spreads.

This river can be licked, and if they'll let me—I'll lick it yet!" Baker was waving to them from the shack. Slowly, silently, they turned away, started down the steep steps to the waiting launch.

"Mrs. Warren called early this morning, Doctor," a nurse was saying. "She wanted you to call as soon as you could."

They were on the sunporch of the hospital. Eric stretched full-length upon a lounge, while Alan slumped, comfortable and relaxed, in a deep chair.

"Thank you, Miss Anderson. I'll be going home, soon as that gang of reporters gets off the front door step."

The wail of an infant came faintly through the corridor.

"That's young Alan Warren Brown," Miss Anderson explained. "We let his mother keep him a little longer than usual this morning—she was worried about her husband. Now he's spoiled, already, and hates going back to the nursery."

Alan laughed heartily. "He's rather young for that—but let Harry and Maryanne have him in the room with them if they want to. It won't hurt him. Harry's pretty glad to be here safe. . . . Well, Eric, feel like facing the press barrage?"

Eric sat up. "Just as well get it over with."

Reporters gathered around them as they left the hospital, and headed for waiting taxi.

"Dr. Warren, you and Mr. Kane stop there. Now shake his bandaged hand." Lights flashed in their faces. Cameras clicked.

"Is it true, Dr. Warren, that you did all the surgery?" Alan shook his head.

"You burned your hands when you beat out the fire on Dr. Warren's blazing gown, didn't you, Mr. Kane?"

"Have they found Bud Price yet?"

An aged man, stooped, his head bowed, was walking toward the group. Two younger men walked at his side, supporting him.

"Just a minute, fellows," Alan said, and hurried to meet him.

"I'm sorry, Mr. Price," he said as he reached the man's side. The old man took Alan's hand in his two bronzed and calloused hands.

"I know, Alan, I know," he said, resignedly. "It had to be." Tears glistened in his eyes. "But if they'd got him out, I know you'd have saved him. Just like you did my daughter's husband. Got to see him now. Come out and see me, Alan. Got some check-ups about ready to fry." The old man walked slowly on.

Alan walked Eric from the reporters, hurried him into the taxi.

"Come on Eric. We'll get some food—and some sleep. We need it."

Emily was waiting in the doorway for them. She rushed to Alan, her arms encircled his neck pulling his face down so that she could kiss him again and again.

"I'm so glad—so glad you're home safely—so glad." She was laughing and crying. Eric kissed her, Emily ran to him, kissed him on the cheek.

"I know what you did, too, Eric. Dr. Farrell stopped on his way home from the hospital, and told me about the lamp. That was fine about you, Eric. Oh, you poor hands!"

Alan saw the kiss, saw her take Eric's bandaged hands in hers, but he gave no indication of seeing. Instead, he put Emily between Eric and himself and hurried both of them into the house.

"I'm starved, Hermula," he shouted to the walls. "Put on all the food you can find. We'll eat it."

Emily was hanging on to his arm, lovingly, proudly.

"Now I have to know everything," she ordered. "Begin right where you left me at the dock, and don't miss a single thing."

"So you see, it wasn't much, after all," Alan concluded his recital of the night's events, a story punctuated by mouthfuls of food and swallows of coffee.

"But it was—it was great and heroic," Emily insisted. "And how brave of you, Eric, to take that terrible burn to save Alan."

To save Alan for me, Emily thought, and for Summer. Scarr on his hands would never interfere with Eric's work, but if Alan had been burned he might have been forced to abandon obstetrics, maybe all his work. And if his eyes had been hurt—he could not bear to think of his eyes, forever dull. She owed Eric a debt—never to be paid—for bringing Alan home safely. She owed him and his dam even a greater debt for making her realize her love for Alan.

"To save Alan," the words stung Alan. To save him to come home and give up Emily to Eric? "Dr. Peterson called this morning, Alan," Emily was saying, "from the airport. Said the papers were full of stories about the dam, and noon editions were praising you. He's sending you a contract. Said he'd call you from New York."

"Well, if I'm still asleep when he calls, don't wake me," Alan said with a laugh. "Come on Kane."

"Alan, about last night, about what I said about leaving," Emily began.

"Save it until later, Emily. I have something to say about that too—now!"

LIONS GUESTS AT CAMP COOKS

6th Anniversary of CCC Observed Tuesday Evening

Members of the Manistique Lions club and other invited guests attended a dinner in observance of the sixth anniversary of the founding of the CCC at Camp Cooks Tuesday evening.

Following an especially delightful dinner prepared and served by members of the kitchen staff at the camp, a speaking and musical program was presented.

Captain O'Connor, commanding officer of the camp, made the address of greeting to Lions and visiting guests, and the response was made by Dr. Schatzman, president of the Lions club.

Other speakers included Frank Gierke, John I. Bellaire and Ken Gunderman, of the Lions club; Sheriff Jack Hewitt, Clarence Chase, forest ranger of Manistique; and Superintendent Ashbaugh, in charge of CCC work projects.

Awards were presented to deserving enrollees at the conclusion of the program by Captain O'Connor. These awards were for achievements during the enrollment period which will be concluded on March 31.

Ranger Chase outlined the U. S. Forest Service's part in the CCC program, and Superintendent Ashbaugh revealed the type of projects CCC enrollees have worked on in the past, and gave an outline of the program planned for the next year.

It was disclosed that CCC enrollees of Camp Cooks have built many miles of fire lanes and roads through timber areas for fire protection, as well as having planted many acres with seedlings.

The musical phase of the program was presented by CCC enrollees, and included hill billy band, vocal and instrumental solos.

RULE GIVEN FOR SPLIT BALLOTS

Details Completed for Spring Election on April 3

City and township election officials are completing details in preparation for the April 3 election. County Clerk G. Leslie Bouschor has forwarded election supplies for all township and city election precincts and election inspectors and clerks have received their instructions in the proper manner of handling the voting.

It was pointed out to election inspectors that voters desiring to cast a vote for candidates not on their party ticket, if two or more candidates are to be elected for the same office, must make a cross before the names of candidates not on their party ticket, and cross out an equal number of names on their party ticket. This is true, of course, only when the voter has made a cross in the circle under the name of the party.

This procedure is important when voting for candidates for justices of the supreme court and for regents of the University of Michigan. Two candidates will be elected for each of the offices.

In splitting the ballot for other offices, where only one candidate is to be elected, it is not required that the voter cross out the name of the candidate on his party ticket.

A more than usual number of ballots will be spoiled in the spring election unless voters understand the correct manner of making their choice known. Election inspectors have indicated.

This belief is expressed because of the fact that a local man, J. Joseph Herbert, is a candidate for regent of the university on the Republican ticket, and many local Democrats will probably split their ballot to vote for the Manistique resident.

Scenes Of Sweden Shown For Hi-Y's

Munising, Mich., March 29.—Howard Morgan, Munising Paper company employee, showed two reels of interesting film taken in Sweden and Denmark at the meeting of the Mather Hi-Y's held on Tuesday evening in the high school.

The Hi-Y club presented the girls who took part in the Hi-Y play with boxes of candy as a token of their appreciation at the meeting. Richard Percy, Mather high school instructor who directed the play, has been presented with the book, "The Tree of Liberty," by the club.

LAST ASSEMBLY PROGRAM Munising, Mich., March 29.—The Morrison Duo, two talented sisters, will present the eighth and last of the series of assembly programs at the Wm. G. Mather high school, Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. These two young women have a background of several years experience on the platform and come highly recommended by Bob Hanscom, who has attracted a number of worthwhile presentations to Munising.

The program is a well-balanced one of songs, music and comedy.

IN ALLY MATCH Munising, Mich., March 29.—The Munising Crosley Radios will participate in the Land O' Lakes, Wis., bowling tournament on April 2 when they will attempt to cut themselves a slice of the $4,000 prize melon offered in the tourney. Members of the squad who will make the trip are Merwin Bowerman, Lenhart Miron, Bernard Norberg, Martin Clever, R. LaFave and Frank Gentry.

LOGGING STARTS SOON Munising, Mich., March 29.—The Mooto Brothers of Mancelona and Lake City, logging contractors, will start logging of the timber at the former Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company Camp 12, near here soon. The company will employ about 75 men in the cutting of the logs. Fred Cannon will be the foreman of the camp.

FIGHT CARD TONIGHT Munising, Mich., March 29.—A boxing show will be held at the Legion County club here on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Eight bouts will be scheduled for the card with Lightning Tiernan and Bud LaFlam matched in the headline. In the semi-final Tom McMillan will meet Ed Lasich. The bouts are under the direction of Earl "Shadow" Marsh, WPA recreational instructor, and promise some interesting ring entertainment.

MUNISING BRIEFS The East Branch of the St. Anthony's Guild will hold a pantry sale on Saturday, April 8, in the Madigan Hardware. Mrs. George S. Martin will be in charge of the sale. The Guild met on Wednesday evening in the St. Dominic's hall for a business meeting. Mrs. B. P. Royer's Quartet Jumps Into Lead In Smear Tourney

Lee Alworden's place-setting quartet of smear players got bumped Tuesday evening and dropped to third place in the Holy Name tournament now under way here. Clarence Royer's crew, last week in runner-up position, went into the lead with a margin of 15 points over A. Minne's team. Joe Louis and his cohorts are gradually coming to the fore and their high of this week put them in fourth place.

There will be no games next week because of Holy Week and the first play scheduled will follow Easter on Tuesday, April 11.

NFLA GROUPS HOLD MEETING

Annual Reports Read and Budgets Adopted Tuesday

Budgets were drawn and approved, reports of last year's activities read and filed, and other matters considered at a meeting of directors of the four National Farm Loan associations in this area Tuesday at the Sherman Hotel in Escanaba.

Present were the boards of the Bay Noc, Gladstone, Powers and South Shore associations. Secretary-Treasurer A. T. Sohberg and Clerk Arthur Bjorklund, city, were in attendance.

F. L. French, St. Paul, of the Federal Land Bank, spoke describing the bank's policy and finance, and brief talks also were given by Gottfrid S. Johnson, director of the bank; B. P. Pattison, district representative; G. R. Matthews, fieldman, and Joseph Mador, fieldman.

Resolutions were adopted to be forwarded to Cong. Fred Bradley and Frank Hook asking support of legislation granting cost of production to farmers for their products, and also requesting that they recommend extension of the present interest rate of 3 1-2 percent to land bank borrowers until a later date. The rate of 3 1-2 percent was adopted only until July of 1940.

Collectors for the period from Jan. 1, 1938 to March 1, 1939 totalled $150,770.04, according to the report given by Secretary Sohberg. The number of farms on hand at the beginning of the period was 164 of which 43 have been sold.

Regarding leasing activity, Sohberg reported that on June 28, 1938, 52 farms were acquired for servicing of which 31 were leased and 21 were sold; on Oct. 1 of the same year 32 were acquired of which 19 were leased and 6 sold and on Nov. 1, 1938 78 were acquired of which 26 were leased and 4 sold. Of the farms not leased, it was said that 16 leases were pending and 25 were not leaseable except for haying purposes.

Since the start of the group office here in August 1936 there have been 34,102 pieces of mail sent out of which 23,247 were cared for during the past year.

Among the directors and the association they represented were Bay Noc—John Lundberg, John Grandeham, Frank Barron, Edwin P. Sealand and Frank DeGrandagnage; Gladstone—R. H. Dahlberg, Oscar Larson, Conrad Hirloux and Kalle Sihvola; Powers—A. P. Kline, Charles Salewsky, Walter Anderson, George Nykard and Ed L. Nordgren; South Shore—Charles K. Johnson, Isaac Leppanen, Thomas Hallstrom, Andrew Jukanen and John Kasilittla.

A blue and white Easter motif was used in carrying out the table appointments.

Dorothy Irene was the recipient of many pretty gifts from her guests who were Nancy Lee Darion, Paddy Sullivan, Dorothy Waeghe, Elna Anderson, Iola Haglund, Marilyn Ostlund, Patsy Lou Ades, Nancy Carol Martin, and Dorothy Irene's brother, Harry Paul.

Michael's Party Michael LaPorte, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pat LaPorte, was given a delightful party Monday afternoon at his home on Wisconsin avenue, the occasion being his fifth birthday anniversary. Games furnished the diversion of the afternoon following which a tasty luncheon was served.

Michael received many gifts from his friends as remembrances of the occasion.

Among those present were Mrs. Elliott Germaine and daughters Betty Anne and Yvonne, Mrs. Leo LaPorte and daughter Rose Marie, Mrs. Ed Goodreau and daughter Jean and son Donald, Mrs. Ed Ketcham, George Perry, Mrs. Jack LaPorte and son Jerry and Patricia and Karen LaPorte, sisters of Michael.

Gophers Defeat Wildcats, 45-38

The Gophers toppled the Wildcats, 45 to 38, in a junior tournament now being held at the recreation center. Swift of the losers was high scorer with 20 points while he was pushed by Bob Wabbotton who scored 19.

This afternoon the Gophers will meet the Indians and the winners will play the Blackhaws for the championship.

Because of the election the title battle will not be played until Tuesday.

Welfare Club Sponsors Easter Seal Sale

In too many communities this is an unfamiliar scene—that of crippled tots being safely bundled off to school. In order to help give crippled children other opportunities for a better life the Child's Welfare club is now holding its annual Easter seal campaign as part of a nationwide drive. Half of the proceeds from the local sale will remain with the club for use as the officers may direct.

EMPSONS WIN LEAGUE TITLE

Defeat Marble Arms In Close Battle 25-19

Empsons won the WPA senior league title at the Gladstone gym Tuesday evening when they defeated the Marble Arms quint by a score of 25-19 before a fair sized audience. The game brought a successful season, directed by Gordon Haga, recreation supervisor to a close.

Scoring was even in the first half, the second frame ending with the count knotted at 10-10. In the third stanza, Empsons gradually forged to the front adding 10 points to Marbles 7 and they continued the pace in the last quarter outscoring their opponents 5 to 2.

ASK NEW FUND FOR BATHHOUSE

Supplement Applied for to Complete City Project

Application for an additional $4,000 to supplement the allotment already made for construction of a beachhouse at the tourist park has been approved by the city commission in special session and forwarded to WPA authorities.

The original allotment will be exhausted before long, it was reported, and the application for additional money is being made with the expectation that it will be approved before the other money runs out and thus allow continuation of the work without pause.

Landscaping of the grounds including planting of shrubs and laying of a sewer from the beach house to Minneapolis avenue will be possible with approval of the supplement. City Manager A. F. Raddatt stated.

Manager Raddatt is confident construction will be completed in plenty of time for the opening of the bathing season. At the present time there remains to be done the laying of floor in the lobby, construction of dressing stalls, some extra plumbing and installation of showers and toilets and the polishing of walls which must be hand rubbed.

Obituary

ROBERT BLOMQUIST Funeral services for Robert Henry "Bobby" Blomquist, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Blomquist, were held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Marie Blomquist, 603 Montana avenue, the Rev. C. V. S. Engstrom officiating.

Serving as pallbearers were James Peterson, Jack Hillman, Patrick Peterson and Harold Hillman. Burial was made in Fernwood cemetery. Swenson Brothers directed.

Old Flooring Mill Sold At Gladstone

Purchase of the property commonly known as the Gladstone flooring mill by S. R. Venne of Gladstone, C. W. Hyman of Escanaba and H. I. Hyman of Detroit was announced Wednesday. The mill was formerly operated by the Robbins company of Rhineland. No plans have been announced for the future use of the plant.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks for the kindness and sympathy extended us at the time of our recent bereavement, the illness and sudden death of our beloved husband and father.

Especially are we grateful to those who sent floral or spiritual bouquets, the pallbearers, those who loaned autos for the services, to Father Schaul for his consoling words and to all others who by word or deed aided us in this hour of grief. The memory of these kind acts will always remain with us.

Signed, Mrs. Alex Renard and Family

Globe Trotters Nip Crystal Falls By 33-30

COPHERS FAIL TO ARRIVE HERE

Eagles Defeat League All Stars By 37-27 In Preliminary

Before one of the largest crowds ever to appear in the Coliseum, the Harlem Globe Trotters defeated the Pivatto Grocers of Crystal Falls by a score of 33-30 last night.

In a preliminary, the Escanaba Eagles defeated the Delta-Menominee league All-Stars, 37-27.

The Crystal Falls boys, who defeated the Globe Trotters earlier in the season, were eleventh hour substitutes for the scheduled Gophers of Minnesota, who were unable to make the trip when their car broke down at Superior, Wis., yesterday afternoon. The Grocers, led by the always colorful Eddie Chambers, were in a tough spot but they pressed the negroes all the way and probably did as well as the Gophers would have had they been here.

To those who saw them play in past years, the Globe Trotters were a bit disappointing. They put on a good passing exhibition and occasional bits of clowning but were not up to par of past years. In the last three minutes, the aging Inman Jackson, who had been sitting on the bench all evening, went in and pepped up things a bit and gave the crowd a few good laughs with his ball handling. The old football and baseball games, too, were brought out of the bag but even they were not as cleverly executed as in past years.

Trophy Presented

The preliminary game, too, was slow with the Eagles taking a commanding lead in the first half before the All-Stars, playing together for the first time, could get in stride. In the second half, things were a bit different as the All-Stars began to click but the Eagles' lead was too much for them to overcome. During the half, the league trophy was presented to Dopey Johnson, Eagles' manager, while individual medals were presented to members of the All-Stars.

The feature game was delayed because of the late arrival of Crystal Falls. The latter team was secured only after an afternoon of hectic phoning by the promoters, who first attempted to get the Gophers out of Superior with another car and then tried to line up the House of David team which was at Racine and had an off night. During the delay between games, musical entertainment was furnished by the Woodard Sisters. An exhibition in fancy roller skating was given by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Flath.

Crippled Red Wings Face Maple Leafs

Detroit, March 29 (AP)—A crippled Detroit Red Wing team will confront the Toronto Maple Leafs tomorrow night in a hockey game that may determine which will enter the Stanley cup finals.

The Leafs captured the first game of Series D Tuesday night 4-1 at Toronto, but they have not been able to beat the Wings on Detroit ice this season. Victory tomorrow night would advance Toronto to hockey's "world series."

If the Wings should win it would have to be without two or three men who were in the Tuesday battle. A third match will be played at Toronto Saturday. Scotty Bowman, with a broken right hand, and Sid Abel, with a sprained left wrist, won't be able to play in the second game. An injured shoulder may keep Hec Kilrea off the ice also.

Three others who were hurt in the opening game of the series—Syd Howe, Johnny Sherr and Alex

Munising Sends Six Teams To Peninsula Bowling Tournament

Munising, March 29—Six Munising bowling teams will compete in the Upper Peninsula Bowling association tournament which will open on April 1 in Marquette. The entry lists for the tournament are closed on Tuesday and entry lists mailed by out-of-town teams and postmarked on March 28 will be accepted. There will be five-man events, singles and doubles. The tournament will be bowled on the Shoreland alleys and gold medals will be awarded winners of the five-man, doubles and singles and all-events competition for the first time in the history of the U. P. association.

Munising squads who will bowl and their personnel follow:
Blue Ribbons—George Leach, George O'Boyle, Louis Pelletier, Clarence Beaulieu, Ernest Koehn and Peter Arsenault.

Red Crowns—T. Tunteri, Cluen Malone, H. Frechette, F. LaCombe, J. Dorenbecker, T. Fulcher.

Crosley Rados—Mervin Bowerman, Lenhart Miron, Bernard Norberg, Martin Cleven, R. LaFave.

Bosch Beers—W. Belfry, C. Elkert, H. Lasich, W. Meyland, P. Milron.

Independents—S. Sadak, J. Rousseau, C. Schroeder, L. Gamenlin, J. Schroeder, A. Davis.

Tall Enders—V. Beattie, H. Jacobson, E. Genry, Vernon Florin, Frank Genry.

RETIRED LINKS CHAMP HOPEFUL

Jones Says Showing At Augusta Depends On Putting
BY KENNETH GREGORY
Augusta, Ga., March 29 (AP)—Robert Tyre Jones, Jr., retired "grand slam" champion of golf, figured today he might make a fair showing in the sixth annual Augusta National tournament starting tomorrow "if I can get some putts to drop."

"When you're putting well, you're bound to score low," remarked the Atlanta lawyer who arranged this all-star show for his lone annual return to competition. "If you can't hit the cup, you certainly can't score well." In the five tournaments staged here by the "fairway masters" over one of the world's oldest courses in the world, Jones has failed to finish higher than 13th place. He has been a favorite in the "book" and with the galleries, but too many putts lifted his scores.

On the eve of the blue-ribbon golfing event, Jones was rated no better than 40 to 1. "The nation's ruling champions, along with title holders of other days—both amateurs and professionals—were out today getting the feel of the fairways and greens preparatory to the start of play in the $5,000 invitation event. The first round of 18 holes has been scheduled to get underway at 1 p. m. E. S. T."

Samuel Jackson Snead, the walloping West Virginian who finished out of the money last year when he was rolling up one of the biggest bankrolls a golfer has won in twelve months, Henry Picard, the Hershey "hammerer" who won the 1938 show, and Ralph Guldahl, the national open champion, were betting favorites at 8 to 1.

Tall, blond Horton Smith of Oak Park, Ill., who registered victories in the "national" in the inaugural 1934 and again in 1936, was rated at 14 to 1. Byron Nelson, the ruddy-faced Ryder cup player from Reading, Pa., winner of the "masters" in 1937 and Gene Sarazen, the Connecticut squire who triumphed in 1935, also were 14 to 1.

Light Horse Harry Cooper, now professional at Eastern Point, Conn., usually referred to as golf's "hard luck golfer," was made the second choice in the "bookies'" list at 11 to 1, and Ed Dudley, the Angustian national pro, was 12 to 1. Dick Metz of Chicago, leading money winner of the winter league, was down at 14 to 1.

"If the weather holds up," said Bob Jones, who is host to the visiting stars in his capacity of president of the club, "I think you can expect a new scoring record." "The low score was 282 the year Sarazen and Carl Wood tied at the finish. I think it may go as low as 279."

The weather turned cloudy and chilly today and the forecast for tomorrow was "scattered showers."

A rear-door safety catch, for sedans, which insures complete safety for the children and driver alike, is now being introduced by one of the leading car manufacturers.

ALGER COUNTY MEET MAY 17

Annual Track and Field Competition Booked At Chatham

Munising, March 29—The 14th annual Alger county interscholastic track and field meet will be held at the old fairgrounds, at Chatham on Wednesday, May 17. It was determined Saturday at a meeting at Chatham of representatives of the various county schools called by the manager, Principal E. M. Steinbach, of Trenary. Inclement weather has interfered with the meet in recent years and it may be necessary to change the date later.

The meet will start at 10 a. m., E. S. T., and it is planned to run off the girls' baseball games in the morning, reserving the most of the track and field events for the afternoon. Two baseball diamonds will be provided to expedite matters. No changes were made in the list of events to be held. There will be track and field events for Class A (ninth, tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades) and track and field events for Class B (seventh and eighth grades) for both boys and girls divisions. There will be baseball tournaments for girls in both classes.

For the third year Mr. Steinbach was made manager of the meet. The executive committee will be made up of the school superintendents of the county. R. W. Nebel, of Munising, who for a number of years has provided for the trophies for Class A and B boys, will again act as referee.

L. Keith Cheney, superintendent at Grand Marais, will be head judge of finish. Elmer Schelke of Munising will be head timer; Henry Nelson, Munising, will be head scorer; Wm. T. MacNeil, superintendent of the Rock River schools, will be clerk of course, and A. K. Jackson, Munising, will be head field judge and announcer. Miss Lynn Vandlen, Munising, will be manager of girls' events, and Miss Delphine Carlson, Munising, will have charge of the baseball tournament.

RULES MIGHT HALT CENTERS

Coaches Worried About Loyola Cager's Defense Work

BY NEA SERVICE
NERY SPONDFIELD
NIA Service Sports Writer
A quick glance at all sides: What to do about goal-tenders like Loyola University's Mike Novak, will provide some interesting business for the National Basketball Coaches' Association when the group meets at Chicago, March 27. . . . Novak, a center of quite generous proportions, developed to a high degree the trick of planting his 6 feet 9 inches smack under the basket on defense and leaping gently into the air to bat away shots by the opposition. . . . And he really had the knack down pat. . . . There probably will be a strong clique at the convention who will attempt to make this goal-tending illegal. . . . An idea with which we heartily agree.

Stub Allison will limit California's spring grid drills to 20 days. . . . Giving the Bears the shortest pre-season practice session of any major team in the country. . . . Bud Foster, basketball coach, and Guy Sundt, assistant director of athletics, make up the toughest table tennis duo in the Wisconsin campus.

HARTNETT TAKES OVER DYKES' CIGAR TITLE
Judging from recent pictures, Jimmy Dykes is about to lose his cigar-smoking title to Gabby Artner. . . . The Cub pilot has taken to the weed stronger than ever. . . . and has even been photographed with a stogie in his mouth while in uniform. . . . In a recent Italian fencing tournament, 16 amateurs defeated 16 professionals. . . . And another note from our foreign dept.: Since 1893, Norway has produced more than half the world's skating champions.

Hart Massey, son of the Canadian high commissioner, will coxswain the Oxford crew in its traditional race with Cambridge, April 1. . . . Massey thereby, will become the first Canadian to win his Oxford Blue for rowing. . . . Johnny Crummins, veteran Detroit bowler, says there's nothing in sports which makes a man freeze up more than that last ball for a 300 score. . . . Ray Harrell and Kirbe Higbe of the Cubs are experts with the larlat.

Michigan finally bought some new batting nets. . . . Coach Ray Fisher says the ones recently discarded were old when he first came to Michigan 17 years ago. . . . Jim Loudos, one of those 10 or 11 heavyweight rassing champions, has two rules for longevity: Never run when you can walk, and don't stand up when you can sit down.

STRANGE BATTING PRACTICE FOR SENATOR ROOKIE
What's all this about Washington having International complications at Orlando? . . . The report is that Jake Early, rookie pitcher, brandished a chair at Ro-

He Really Needs Both Weapons

Perspiring Jack Roper, who got that way wielding a big saw on trees and stumps at his training camp at Ojai, Calif., holds up a fist he intends to use on Joe Louis, April 24, in Los Angeles. Most critics feel the ancient Roper will need that saw to lift Joe's crown.

SPILLING the DOPE

POST MORTEM . . . we had planned that yesterday's blurb would be the last about the Marquette tournament but one just can't forget things like that in a day. . . . and there seems to be much talk about officials disqualifying Bruley, Iron River guard, for pushing Kootche Nelson, the Pride of Iron Mountain, when the latter was taking a shot. . . . Bruley was behind Nelson and pushing him into the wall underneath the basket. . . . Referee Zenti immediately disqualified Bruley. . . . many local fans, who were partial to Iron River, felt that Zent overstepped his bounds in putting Bruley out of the game. . . . personally, we were as eager for Jimmy Crumme's boys to come through as anyone and yet we could not honestly criticize Zenti for disqualifying Bruley.

Following the line of least resistance makes both rivers and men crooked!

THE RULE BOOK . . . specifically gives the official the right to eject a player from the game if he believes the offense was intentional and a flagrant violation of the rules. . . . while we believe that Bruley did not maliciously push Nelson nor that Nelson was pushed as hard as he pretended he was, nevertheless, we feel that Zenti was justified in disqualifying Bruley. . . . after all, had such a violation gone uncalled, the championship game might have evolved into a roughhouse affair. . . . Jimmy Crumme did not protest the ejection of Bruley, his silence apparently indicating he believed the officials in his right to call the play as he saw it. . . . and Hank Chisholm of the Iron River Reporter sums up the play by saying: "Bruley's foul wasn't a bonehead play. . . . it is doubtful if any coach would condemn his player for doing the same thing. . . . Bruley's only fault was that he shoved too hard."

A stitch in time saves nine—but most of us are inclined to let'er rip!
MISCELLANEOUS . . . Buck Erickson, the Beau Brummel who knows smiles and femininity, writes that Howie Barrons of Calumet and Albert Dapoz of Norway, two of the best graders in the peninsula last fall, will be team mates at Michigan State next fall. . . . which, if true, is interesting. . . . we wonder at all this sudden publicity on Bill DeCorrevont. . . . 11 local bowling teams will go to Marquette Sunday for the opening shot in the U. P. tourney, the first of 32 teams to be sent from Escanaba. . . . Gladstone will be represented by nine. . . . It is expected that all teams will vote for Escanaba as next year's tourney site. . . . they are doping Jack Sutherland as successor to Francis Schmidt at Ohio State. . . . which should give Big Ten coaches a headache. . . . and so it goes.

ROOKIES WORRIED
Lakeland, Fla., March 29 (AP)—Manager Del Baker will begin to prune his Tiger staff in a few days and the young recruits, naturally, are apprehensive. . . . After today's game pitcher Slicker Coffman began to sing "Where is My Wandering Boy Tonight?" John Tate, recruit right-hander from Beaumont, Tex., looked up. . . . "What my mother wants to know," he said, "is whether her wandering boy will be tomorrow night, and darned if I wouldn't like to know, too."

TIGERS HOOK BEES, 9 TO 8

Rudy York Siams Pair of Homers; Rowe In 5 Innings

Lakeland, Fla., March 29 (AP)—Catcher Rudy York got two home runs and a single in three times at bat today as the Detroit Tigers defeated the Boston Bees 9 to 8 to gain an even break in the spring exhibition series. . . . Even with the big Indian's slugging—he batted in four runs and scored three times himself—the Tigers had to stage a ninth inning rally to win.

Greenberg, playing with a team of recruits because most of the regulars had retired by that time, opened the last-inning rally by working pitcher Tom Early for a base on balls after McCoy had flied out. Birdie Tebbetts, who went in for York in the sixth, flied out, but Barney McCoskey singled to right, advancing Hank Fleming to third. At that stage recruit Len Fleming dropped a pop single over second and Greenberg came in with the winning run.

Manager Del Baker picked today's game as another opportunity to get a line on Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe. The Schoolboy worked the first five innings, and while he had his bad moments, he gave indication that he was in better form than he was this time last year. The lanky lad was touched for eight hits and four runs, but three of the hits were of the scratch variety.

Japhet Lynn finished the game for Detroit. He was nicked for four bingles, walked five men and hit another, and was on the mound when the Bees staged a ninth inning rally that netted three runs and tied the score. Pitchers Early and Milt Shoffner of the Boston club gave up 16 hits, Shoffner allowing 13 of them.

Frank Croucher opened the scoring for Detroit in the first inning when he singled and scored on singles by Gehringer and Greenberg. York's first homer of the day then scored himself, Gehringer and Greenberg, and the Tigers were off to a four-run lead. The Bees struck back in the second inning, getting two runs on a walk, a triple and a bunt. They whittled the Tiger lead to one run by scoring again in the third. The Tigers pulled away in their half of that inning, however, on York's second homer, a double by Fox and a single by Mark Christman.

The Bees struck again in the fifth, scoring one on a double and two infield outs, but again the Tigers marked with two more runs in their half of the inning. The Detroit runs came on a single by York, a double by Fox, and two sacrifice flies.

With the score standing at 8 to 4 in the seventh, it looked as though the Tigers had a safe enough lead, but Lynn walked Hodgins, then pitched successive singles to give the Bees another run. It was that run that enabled the Bostonians to tie the score when they ganged up for the three-run ninth inning rally.

That ninth inning was something of a nightmare for Manager Del Baker, not to mention pitcher Lynn. He opened the inning by walking Outlaw and Garms, the first two batters to face him. Then he grooved one for Hassett and the latter doubled to left, scoring Outlaw and tying the score. When Lynn hit Fletcher with a pitched ball it looked as though all hope had fled, but the Bees bogged down and their half of the ninth inning ended with all even. Then came the Tiger half of the inning, Greenberg's run, and victory.

Mid-West Fighters Win Golden Gloves

Chicago, March 29. (AP)—Mid-west boxers representing Chicago vanquished New York, nine bouts to seven tonight, in the twelfth annual inter-city Golden Gloves amateur championship tournament before 20,000 spectators at the Chicago Stadium.

It was Chicago's seventh victory in the series begun in 1928. The best battle developed in the first heavyweight match, in which Altus Allen, crafty Chicago negro, defeated Enzo Avondoglio, 22-year-old Iron worker of New York, in a blistering three rounder.

The Italian, floored for a nine count in the first, and down again for seven in the second, was out on his feet at the end of the third due to Allen's terrific punches. Allen's victory was the deciding bout in Chicago's triumph.

Buddy Moore, 19-year-old New York high school student, defeated Tony Novak, Kansas City, in the following heavyweight championship bout, forcing the Missourian to retreat most of the way. Moore, with the facial resemblance of Joe Louis, hurt Novak in the second round with a punch to the stomach and he never was dangerous after that.

Sixteen bouts were fought in the eight divisions, with alternates engaging in the so-called semi-finals and the champions in the main events. Results of bouts in which both alternates and title holders engaged figured in the scoring.

The New York team, going down in defeat the seventh time in the inter-city matches, had won them three times and tied twice. Tonight's fighting was unusually close. New Yorkers and Chicagoans divided every weight class until the light heavies appeared. Then the Chicagoans took both bouts to get the deciding margin.

PURDUE CAGERS ARE GREATEST

Five Best Boilermakers Would Make Topnotch Aggregation

BY JERRY BRONDFIELD
We were idly glancing over statistics and names which make up Purdue basketball history when suddenly we wondered if any other school could name an all-time quintet which could come anywhere near approaching the brilliance of a Boilermaker all-time five.

And the more we thought of it the more positive we were that it couldn't be done. Purdue will give you Jewell Young, Bob Kessler, Stretch Murphy, Johnny Wooden and Norm Coty, and try as you might, we don't think you'll find five more like them who played under one banner.

All were developed in the last decade by Ward (Piggy) Lambert, the bombastic little gent who has made Purdue the perennial power that it is. It has been our privilege to have seen each member of this mythical quintet at the height of his greatness, which only helps cement our belief.

WOODEN POSSESSED BASKETBALL INSTINCT

Best of the bunch? Hard to say, but our choice leans to Wooden, the greatest college guard we've ever seen. He was a dead shot. For three years he flitted with Big Ten scoring records from a backcourt position. He was a remarkable dribbler.

But above all, he had an uncanny cleverness as a ball handler, and in the way in which he could fake his opponent out of position on offense, or tie him up on defense. He had that rare basketball instinct which only one in a thousand possesses. Kessler was a whirlwind dervish of the hardwood. He was a southpaw forward and an acrobatic one. He pulled shots from his hip pocket, without looking, when off-balance, and when going away from the basket. And he was inexhaustible.

Young, who holds the Western Conference scoring record with 184 points, was the master offensive craftsman. He had speed to burn, and when he'd come sailing down the middle, or out of either corner to let fly with that one-handed shot of his, the scorer automatically added another basket to his total.

He had, perhaps, a better shooting eye than Kessler, but wasn't equipped to travel at the latter's dizzy pace for the entire game. COTTOM PERFECT TEAM PLAYER
Cottom, who performed at both forward and guard, was smooth, constant, and a marvelous team player. There were plenty of men who had much better scoring averages, but two years in a row his all-around ability brought him All-America rating.

The gigantic Murphy, of course, capitalized on his size—six feet, six inches of it, with plenty of heft. He had none of the grace exhibited by Gene Anderson, present Boilermaker center, but once he planted himself in the pivot (it could be stationed smack under the bucket in those days) you couldn't hold him down with an anchor.

It was virtually impossible for one man to stop him once he got his hands on the ball and started going up in the air. Most coaches played two men against him—one in back or to the side, and one in front, in an effort to keep him from getting the ball.

Frank LaChapelle Has Good Record As Amateur Boxer

Frankie LaChapelle, son of Mr. and Mrs. John LaChapelle, 311 North 11th street, is making a name for himself as an amateur boxer at LaCrosse, Wisconsin. LaChapelle is a Golden Gloves champion from the Eau Claire tourney at 112 pounds and has a record of eight knockouts to his credit. He recently won a decision over Bob Dolan, Golden Glover from Wisconsin Rapids, and over Bob Wucherpfening of Chippewa Falls. Frankie was a former St. Joseph high school athlete, playing quarterback on the teams coached by George Carr. He was graduated from the local school in 1936.

THE WISHING WELL

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

WASHOUT KILLS 3 AT VICKSBURG

Half Dozen Automobiles Plunge Into Water of Flooded Bayou

Vicksburg, Miss., March 29. (AP)—At least three persons and probably more were reported drowned tonight when a half-dozen automobiles plunged into a washed-out bridge on the Vicksburg-Jackson highway tonight.

Heavy rains deluged northwest Mississippi today and an electrical storm and cloudburst centered in northeast Panola county and sections of Tunica and Tate counties.

Highway Patrolman Butler Byrd said he was sure there were at least six automobiles in the water.

Leroy Meeks of Jackson said he escaped after his car went into the rain-swollen stream but he believed his brother and two girls drowned. Their names were not learned immediately.

J. McIntosh, 45, of Vicksburg, said he swam to shore after his car plunged in and he noticed several other persons in the raging torrent clinging to driftwood. McIntosh said he saw his young son swimming toward the opposite shore.

The tops of two automobiles showed above the water.

The accident occurred near the Big Black river, 10 miles east of here. The Vicksburg Herald reported at least 100 feet of one of the approaches was swept away and that the cars ran into a bayou paralleling Big Black river. Ordinarily, the bayou is only about two feet deep.

OBTAIN POLAR BEARS
Marinette, Wis.—Persons attending the twin city fourth annual smelt carnival will witness one of the most novel stunts ever staged in this section of the country when ten members of the Chicago Polar Bear club, garbed in bathing suits, will perform in the icy waters of Green bay and the Menominee river. The announcement was made last night by Committee George Pestru and R. C. McNeely at a smelt meeting held at Hotel Marinette.

Word of the engagement of the group was received from Ethel Fay Ramage who said that the Polar Bears "will gladly enter into the spirit of the carnival." While no definite site has been selected for the event, committee members said the exhibition would probably be held at the small craft dock near the Interstate bridge or at the Menominee yacht harbor.

Performances will be given Sunday, April 16, the last day of the carnival, but may be preceded by an appearance Saturday night, it was said. The troupe will leave Chicago Saturday morning, April 15. Photographs of the Polar Bear club members are on display in the lobby of Hotel Marinette.

Meanwhile the genus Osmerus, the cause of all the elaborate preparation and celebration, is still playing a waiting game, according to Charles Pedersen, commercial fish dealer, who said the carnival dates, April 12-16, were timely.

Pedersen reported that last week during the warm spell, smelt were being caught in about 30 feet of water, but moved out again with the return of colder weather. He branded reports of smelt fishing at Oconto as false.

SKIING POSSIBILITIES
Houghton—S. W. Pollard of Waukesha, Wis., representing Ski Tow, Inc., of Manchester, Vt., a corporation of which Fred Pabst of Milwaukee is president, was in Houghton Sunday to meet informally with Copper County skiing enthusiasts interested in developing the sport in this district.

The meeting was held at the Douglass House and was attended by a representative group from all parts of the district.

Mr. Pollard, an expert on skiing, was most favorably impressed with skiing possibilities in this district, particularly the development of Quincy hill and Keweenaw county. Before the meeting he inspected the topography of both Houghton and Keweenaw counties. The district, he said, has everything necessary for skiing—plenty of snow, the necessary elevations and the convenience of desirable hills to hotels and rooming facilities. He predicted that Keweenaw would eventually become "top" in skiing in the middle west.

Iowa Rescues Fish By The Millions

HOUSE ADOPTS NEW PLAN OF CIVIL SERVICE

amend the bill to protect veteran employees who already have passed qualifying tests were rejected, along with another under the same auspices which would have denied the right of husbands and wives to hold state jobs at the same time.

The measure provides that state employees who are in the classified service—under civil service jurisdiction—may not participate in political activities.

Democrats sat quietly through most of the debate and let the Young Republicans carry the fight. Hamilton offered an amendment that sought to name the new agency the "stily service" department. He quickly withdrew it.

Tibbits, explaining his vote, said he objected to "wasting money on a useless branch of state government." Sawyer, the lone Young Republican to vote "no" on the bill, assailed it as an "attack on the chances of young persons to obtain state jobs. Nichols charged it tended to "destroy civil service" and that with "state taxing beyond ability to pay" he thought it was "time to call a halt on things that impair efficiency."

NEW TAX PROPOSED
Lansing, March 29 (AP)—Senator George P. McCallum, Ann Arbor Republican who heads the senate committee on taxation, proposed a graduated levy upon estates as a substitute for the state inheritance tax.

He pointed out, in introducing his bill today, that the collection of the inheritance tax must await settlement of an estate. The levy he proposes, which ranges from four-fifths of one per cent on an estate not exceeding $150,000 to 16 per cent of the amount by which an estate would exceed $10,100,000, could be assessed without delay, he added.

The measure would exempt from the tax estates of $40,000 or less and insurance benefits payable to others than the estate of the deceased person.

Other bills, prepared for introduction in the senate would:

Enable public school districts to borrow in anticipation of delinquent tax collections.

Authorize the conservation department to purchase property for state parks on installments, suggesting a "shotgun" appropriation of $1,214,000 which, a sponsor of the measure admitted, had no hope of passage.

Provide for the organization of the Michigan Sheriffs' association "as an integral part of the state government," and require counties to pay the expenses of their sheriffs to the annual conventions of the group.

SHORTAGE RELIEVED
Lansing, March 29 (AP)—The house of representatives voted today to grant the public school system an additional $2,000,000 state aid to relieve an acute lack of funds that educators said threatened to cut short school terms.

The bill now goes to the senate, which already has house-approved bills before it that would permit the schools to borrow up to 25 percent of their anticipated 1939 and 1940 appropriations.

Rep. John P. Espie, Republican, Eagle, chairman of the ways and means committee which has charge of the job of arranging a budget-balancing program in the legislature, endorsed today's bill.

He charged the administration of former Governor Frank Murphy had brought the state to the brink of insolvency, but declared there was a "solemn obligation" to the schools to release the money withheld from them. "I am making no promises as to what the schools will get next year," he added.

Educators have complained that Murphy's retrenchment program cut $9,000,000 from the state aid appropriation granted them by the 1937 legislature, and said many schools would have to suspend classes in May unless they received help. The department of public instruction said Pontiac schools might have to close the first week in May.

A Lowell township, Kent county, school district has sued in the supreme court for a writ of mandamus seeking to invalidate Murphy's reduction of school funds.

CLERGY NOT UNITED
Lansing, March 29 (AP)—A bill to enable public school districts to provide free transportation for parochial school pupils, between home and classroom, weathered senate opposition today and advanced to position for a final vote next week. It already has house approval.

Senator Joseph A. Baldwin, Republican, Albion, was alone in his opposition to the measure in general debate. He questioned the validity of the proposed legislation on constitutional grounds, and said clergymen whose churches conduct parochial schools were not united in its support.

Senators Harold Saur, Republican, Kent City, and Miles M. Callahan, Republican, Reed City, defended the bill, which was originated by the three Grand Rapids members of the house of representatives. Saur cited an opinion of Attorney General Thomas Read that the measure was constitutional.

The senate also advanced the Baldwin bill, prepared by the state crime commission as a substitute for the Moran law of 1937 which the supreme court held unconstitutional, to position for passage. There was no debate on the measure.

Two bills received final senate approval and went to the house of representatives. They would provide penalties for the minor who buys liquor, as well as for the bartender who sells it to him in violation of liquor control regulations, and appropriate $25,000 for continuation of a federal-state program designed to control Bang's disease in cattle. State funds for the latter purpose would be exhausted by April 15, the department of agriculture reported, and the money was needed to continue it until a new appropriation becomes available on July 1, which begins a new fiscal year.

COFFERS CLEANED OUT
Lansing, March 29 (AP)—The Michigan civil service department, beset on one side by legislative attempts to abolish it and on the other by a lack of finances, received an additional half-month of life today from the so-called "little legislature."

The emergency appropriations commission scraped its coffers clean of unpledged money to provide $17,500 to keep the department in existence until April 15.

The commission, dubbed "little legislature" because most of its members are legislators, convened with the impression that it still had $112,000 at its disposal. After voting to release $40,000 to the civil service department it learned from Budget Director Harold D. Smith that most of the money already has been allocated and $20,000 was the most it could release.

An emergency request was addressed to the attorney general division for an opinion on the commission's authority to reduce previous allocations and give the difference to the civil service division.

Warren M. Huff, acting personnel director, explained that unless the civil service department functioned, no other department could legally have its payrolls honored.

Could Hardly Walk Suffered Such Pain
Found in Krugon Just What She Had Wanted for So Long; Now Able to Sleep Good, Aches and Pains Have Left; Clogged Intestinal Condition Relieved

"In all my experience with different medicines I have never found one as completely satisfactory as this Krugon," said Mrs. Theresa Ward, 138 Owatonna St., Mankato, Minnesota. "My health troubles began with faulty elimination. I suffered so with such terrible pain in my feet it was almost beyond endurance, many times I could hardly walk across the floor. My hands cramped and pained dreadfully too, scarcely had their use at all. Then too, my digestion was upset and regardless of the food I ate I was certain to suffer afterwards. I could not get a good night's sleep as I was forced to get up at all hours, rest was broken and I was always tired and worn-out. But now I don't know what I would have done if it had not been for Krugon."

"Thanks to the laxative-tonic... it has done for me what all others I tried had failed to do," continued Mrs. Ward. "Within a few days I began to show improvement. Those clogged intestinal poisons were eliminated easily and soon I was eating and enjoying the foods I wanted without any distressing after effects. Those stubborn pains in my feet and the cramps in my hands have been relieved, sleep good throughout the nights without the least disturbance, feel fine and really enjoy life feeling like my former self again."
