HOUSE VOTES TO PUT CURB ON HANDBOOKS

MOVEMENT STARTED TO CUT DOWN ON OLD AGE ROLLS

Lansing, April 7 (AP)—The house of representatives brushed aside demands for legalized gambling today as it adopted a bill intended to put illegal handbook betting establishments out of business.

Deputy Attorney General Willard McIntyre said his department had not been asked whether the measure was constitutional, and that he considered it was open to challenge in the courts.

The house adopted by a vote of 61 to 10 the Hamilton bill that would prohibit the dissemination of any news concerning gambling or odds for getting odds. It would apply to telephone, telegraph and radio companies as well as to newspapers and any other medium. Infractions would be penalized as misdemeanors.

The measure now goes to the senate. Gambling Revenue Tempting Rep. George N. Higgins, Republican, Ferndale, asked the house to defer its vote until Wednesday and to "come back here then with the thought of putting a license on gambling."

Mrs. Dora B. Stockman, Republican, East Lansing, one of two women members of the house, supported Higgins' suggestion. She said she disapproved of gambling but was impressed by arguments that legislative action could not eradicate gambling.

Rep. Joseph E. Warner, Republican, Ypsilanti, sponsor of a bill to repeal the state's pari-mutuel law, said "Michigan is in the gambling business right now and might as well license it. Let's be honest and put a license on gambling to pay off this $26,000,000 deficit," Warner said.

Higgins' motion was roared down by a voice vote. Can't Stop Telephone Rep. John P. Hamilton, author of the anti-gambling bill, declared it would "kill the alibis" used by law enforcement officers who, he charged, were reluctant to enforce the present law.

"You can't have open gambling anywhere without a payoff," he added. Rep. Loomis K. Preston, Republican, St. Joseph, an attorney, said he considered the measure unconstitutional and "worse than no law at all." He said the state had no authority to regulate interstate broadcasts, telephone calls or telegraph communications.

Individual legislators questioned informally how police officials could prevent bookmakers from employing persons to pick up racing odds in Canada and telephone them across the border, even if all Michigan sources of information were closed.

BAR TO CHISELERS Lansing, April 7 (AP)—The house ways and means committee, in charge of the budget-balancing program in the senate, launched a drive today to close the old age (Continued on Page 11).

Washington Weighs Future Action On Albanian Invasion

Washington, April 6 (AP)—The administration weighed tonight a series of actions that may be taken in consequence of Italy's invasion of Albania.

Secretary Hull kept in close touch by telephone with President Roosevelt at Warm Springs, Ga., and conferred with his chief advisers and with the Albanian minister, Fakh Konitza.

He said at his press conference that he desired to assemble all the essential facts in the case before taking an attitude. Americans in the Tirana, Albania, region are safe and are gathered at the American legation, American Minister Hugh H. Grant cabled Hull. The secretary said he did not believe the number of Americans in the danger areas was sufficiently large to warrant sending American warships to Albania. There are 333 Americans in all Albania, the state department calculated.

The administration faced decisions on these points: 1. Whether Mussolini's invasion constituted a violation of the Kellogg anti-war pact. 2. If so, whether this government would so proclaim it. 3. Whether the United States would continue its legation in Albania in view of the country's new position of a protectorate, rather than an independent state.

Dreams Shattered There was no talk among officials here of any economic retaliation such as followed Hitler's move into Czechoslovakia. For one reason, Italy enjoys most-favored-nation treatment from the United States, and for another Italy is not engaging in barter deals like Germany's.

Konitza considered his period as minister here at an end. When he called on Secretary Hull this afternoon he issued a statement condemning Italy and said King Zog would die fighting rather than yield.

Intellectuals have dreamt of a close cultural, economic and political cooperation with Italy on an honorable basis. The elegant answer is a punch on our head," Konitza said.

STATES CONFER ON FREE TRADE

Repeal of Legislative Barriers Urged At Chicago

Chicago, April 7 (AP)—Representatives of 44 states and four territories today approved a broad program for the restoration of free trade among the states.

They requested the Council of State Governments, sponsor of the three-day conference on the removal of state trade barriers, to take these steps in relief of a problem particularly annoying Michigan:

- 1. To discourage the adoption of any retaliatory legislation by states "which feel themselves aggrieved by the legislation of their neighbors." 2. To encourage the repeal of trade barrier legislation already adopted. 3. To foster the enactment of uniform laws and the adoption of reciprocal agreements designed to reduce trade barriers between the states.

4. To cooperate with various commissions on interstate cooperation in calling regional hearings to carry out the recommendation of the conference. Any state which regarded itself as adversely affected by legislation of another state was invited to arrange a parley on the dispute through the council.

The conferees advocated a return to the "traditional policy of free trade among the states in order that the producers and consumers of the nation may buy or sell without legal discrimination either as to the place of origin of goods, the method of transportation or the efficiency of the producer."

Screams Of Fire Victim Saves 24

Shreveport, La., April 7 (AP)—The screams of 71-year-old T. P. Jennings as he burned to death in a rooming house fire early today were credited by police with making possible escape of 24 other occupants whom he awakened. Jennings, weak from illness, had been discharged from a hospital only Wednesday.

Alpena, Mich., April 7 (AP)—The smelt run in Thunder Bay river that got under way Wednesday is not expected to reach its peak until next week. The peak had been expected Friday, but cold weather brought a delay.

KANSAS BOSS INDICTED FOR TAX EVASIONS

PENDERGAST, POWER IN POLITICS, RUNS AFOUL OF LAW

Kansas City, April 7 (AP)—Boss Tom Pendergast, who has played a potent hand in state—at times, also in national—politics 28 years, was indicted today by a federal grand jury on charges of evading income taxes on more than $315,000.

Towering high in the indictment against the 66-year-old leader of the Kansas City Democratic organization was the allegation his income for 1935 and 1936 included $315,000 paid him in connection with a $3,500,000 settlement of Missouri's fire insurance rate controversy.

Insurance Deal Bared Indicted with Pendergast and accused of receiving $82,000 in the insurance deal with R. E. O'Malley, the state superintendent of insurance who engineered the settlement and later was discharged by Governor Lloyd C. Stark, bitter Democratic foe of Pendergast.

"No comment," barked Pendergast, a wholesale liquor dealer and executive of a concrete company, when he first heard about the indictment. Pendergast, whose organization with its Democratic majorities ranging up to 100,000 has swung elections for governors and United States senators, was sullen as he submitted to fingerprinting in the United States marshal's office. He was released on $10,000 bond.

Scandals Uncovered The indictments followed closely a visit here by United States Attorney General Frank Murphy who conducted the grand jury's investigation was "greatly significant" and involved "some big politicians."

The jury findings climaxed an investigation by U. S. District Attorney Maurice Milligan who uncovered the vote fraud scandal here in 1936 which involved several lieutenants in the Pendergast organization.

"The insurance case is solved," commented Milligan today, referring to a search for missing funds. The case involved collection of approximately $9,500,000 in fire insurance rate increase funds which were impounded after the state blocked the rate hike. O'Malley and the insurance companies came to an agreement in 1935 by which policyholders got 20 per cent of the money and the insurance companies the rest. The companies set aside 30 per cent of their share for the payment of court and litigation costs.

Regime Under Fire Milligan announced recently he learned a co-trustee handling the settlement collected more than $100,000 from the companies for "expenses" before the agreement was reached and also got $347,000 more a few weeks after the agreement was signed. He set out to (Continued on Page 11.)

Cabin Plane Falls In Saginaw Field; Lee Lathrop Hurt

Saginaw, Mich., April 7 (AP)—Three men were injured tonight when their cabin plane fell in a field near the Saginaw airport during a snowstorm.

Lee G. Lathrop, 20, of Saginaw, suffered fractures of an arm and a leg. Victory E. Vershore, 33, of Bay City, and Harry Estey, 22, of (5800 Connors St.), Detroit, were bruised and suffered from shock and possible internal injuries.

Vershore, the pilot, was trying to land the plane at the airport in a snow storm as the three were returning to Saginaw from Detroit. Dr. W. Dale Jamison of Saginaw owned the craft. Lathrop is a flying instructor and Estey a mechanic for Pennsylvania Central Airlines.

'Strike' At Amasa School Is Settled

Amasa, Mich., April 7 (AP)—A "strike" of 110 Amasa high school students has been settled and the students will resume classes Monday. Boed of education officials announced today. Terms of the settlement were not disclosed.

The walkout occurred Wednesday in protest against the resignation of C. H. Merke, superintendent of schools. The board of education accepted the resignation by a vote of 3 to 2.

New Dealers Fight Futilely For Roosevelt WPA Increase

Washington, April 7 (AP)—A group of senate new dealers, although facing obvious defeat, fought today to give President Roosevelt the full appropriation he asked for relief.

One after another, Senators Pepper (D-Fla.), Mead (D-NY) and Downey (D-Calif.) held the floor throughout the day, presenting their arguments on behalf of the federal spending program, until finally they were charged with filibustering.

CRIME SLEUTHS HUNT GUN-GIRL

Federal Agents Believe Estelle Dickson Saw Husband Shot

St. Louis, April 7 (AP)—Federal agents hunting Estelle Dickson, 18-year-old blonde gun-girl, decided tonight she probably heard the shots that killed her outlaw husband, Benny Dickson, near a cheap cafe here last night.

The Dicksons, inseparable on a trail of crime that results in two kidnappings and two bank robbery charges against them, were believed headed for Minnesota or Kansas haunts when federal agents shot down the 27-year-old bandit.

Gerold B. Norris, chief of the local office of the federal bureau of investigation, said he believed Mrs. Dickson drove past the scene of the shooting while her husband lay dying on the pavement. He believed their car had been parked nearby.

Officers indicated the Dicksons may have been running short of money after two victims of an East St. Louis, Ill., holdup yesterday identified Dickson as the bandit.

Detective Lieut. Robert Sweeney said David Seldel identified Dickson's body as that of a man who robbed him of $750 in his store. A total of $740 was found on the bandit's body, most of it hidden in a money belt.

The holdup was at 5:20 p. m., just two hours before Dickson was shot down in a trap set by federal agents who had received an anonymous tip.

Dickson's father, James Dickson of Topeka, Kas., claimed his son's body tonight.

SHIP BRINGS GOLD

Southampton, England, April 7 (AP)—The United States liner Washington sailed for New York today with a gold cargo valued at $8,000,000 ($40,000,000). The ship left Le Havre, France, with $2,000,000 ($10,000,000) and picked up $6,000,000 ($30,000,000) here.

COAL CONTRACT IS DEADLOCKED

Mediator Is Called In With 338,000 Men Idle In Mines

New York, April 7 (AP)—A federal mediator, James F. Dewey of the labor department, intervened today in deadlocked negotiations between miners and bituminous coal operators whose failure to agree on a new labor contract has kept 338,000 men idle since Monday.

He asked, and was granted, permission to enter the conference of a sub-committee of representatives of the United Mine Workers (UMW) and Appalachian area operators, explaining he had acted after consultation with persons in Washington whom he declined to identify.

He emerged to say the conferees had appeared receptive, but he would not amplify. The prospect of any immediate agreement seemed remote. John L. Lewis, head of the UMW and of the CIO, and chief union negotiator, was not on hand for the discussions. He went to Washington yesterday. At 5 p. m., the conferees adjourned, without comment, until 10 a. m. (EST) tomorrow.

A major difference appeared to be over a penalty clause operative under the old contract, which expired March 31. This clause provided fines against miners striking in violation of the contract and against coal companies employing the lockout.

Gunmen In Detroit Store Await Loot

Detroit, April 7 (AP)—Two gunmen waited in a Dearborn drug store more than 15 minutes tonight for more customers to arrive so they could increase their loot and finally left with what Earl Sheppard, the proprietor, estimated at $455.

The robbers forced Sheppard, his son, Don, 15, and four or five customers into a back room. As additional customers arrived they also were taken to the back room. All were made to surrender their cash and were left in the basement.

The druggist said $400 was taken from his cash register, nearly $40 from customers and the remainder from a safe.

Carnegie Institute Educator Stricken

Pittsburgh, April 7 (AP)—Dr. Thomas S. Baker, president-emeritus of the Carnegie Institute of Technology, died tonight, two weeks after his 68th birthday. The noted educator and scholar suffered a third stroke last Tuesday. He had retired as president of the school here in 1935 because of illness, after serving 12 years.

FINGERS BLOWN OFF

Benton Harbor, Mich., April 7 (AP)—William Saltzman, 47, a WPA worker, was injured Friday when a dynamite cap which his son Robert, 13, said he found, exploded in his hand. PEACE TERMS ARE DRAFTED BY KING ZOG

World Is Warned That Germany Is Backing Mussolini

Berlin, April 7 (AP)—Germany today warned the western democracies she was standing behind Italy's invasion of Albania, leaving the inference that her might would be in readiness if anyone tried to halt her axis partner.

The warning, repeated several times by radio, could be interpreted almost as a challenge. It was issued while German diplomacy was exerting pressure on Poland not to sign the mutual defense agreement concluded in London this week by Prime Minister Chamberlain and Colonel Joseph Beck, Polish foreign minister.

"Expression of Sympathy" "Official German quarters regard news of the landing of Italian troops in Durazzo," said a broadcast official statement on Albania, "as an action within the letter and spirit of the Italo-Albanian friendship treaty of 1927 and also as an expression of deep Italian sympathy for the Albanian people."

"Germany understands that Italy cannot permit it, in a land where Italy's vital interests are so highly important as they are along the Adriatic coast, continued unrest disturbs the general peace and threatens the safety of Italians living there."

"Germany has a full understanding for the protection of Italian interests in this region and would neither understand nor sanction it if any western democratic powers, which have no interests there, should wish to meddle in the legally unobjectionable position and action of our axis partner."

As Beck did not take a signed and sealed document back to Warsaw with him, the Nazi hope persisted that it was not too late to convince Poland against a defensive alliance with Britain, an alliance bitterly called here "Beck's folly."

DAHL AWARDED $5500 DAMAGES

Former Bark River Boy Granted Verdict In Federal Court

Marquette, Mich., April 7 (AP)—Damages of $5,500 were awarded Cletis Dahl, of Milwaukee, by a federal court jury here Friday in his suit against Clifford G. Bridges, Escanaba road builder. Dahl, in his complaint, alleged that it was because of negligence on the part of the defendant that he lost the sight of both eyes in an explosion April 2, 1931, of dynamite caps, taken from the store room in the garage used by the construction company. Dahl sued for $50,000.

The court directed a verdict of not guilty in favor of Wayne Herman Mattonen, of Hancock, charged with making a false statement in connection with war risk insurance. The case of Dr. G. C. Stewart, also of Hancock, was continued until the Sault Ste. Marie term of court. He allegedly is involved in the same case.

The trial of Mattonen was the last on the criminal calendar. Civil suits and land condemnation cases will be heard by the court during the remainder of the term.

Two Tankers Open Lake Huron Season

BURGLARIES CONFESSED

PEACE TERMS ARE DRAFTED BY KING ZOG

TINY NATION FIGHTS LOSING BATTLE; MANY KILLED

BY CHARLES H. GUPTILL Tirana, Albania, April 7 (AP)—Hardy Albanian tribesmen fought desperately tonight to stem an Italian invasion backed up by bombing planes and naval guns.

While the losing battle was in progress the nation awaited Premier Mussolini's reply to a peace overture by King Zog.

The government—torn between the resistance of its own primitive people and the realization that such a fight could not last long against the might of Fascist Italy—fled to the mountain hamlet of Elbasan.

Waits For Answer There, only 25 miles south of Tirana, Zog awaited the answer to the bid for peace which would leave him some measure of honor. Tirana itself is readily accessible to Italian motorized equipment, but Elbasan can be reached only over steep, easily-defended mountain roads.

The government's move was announced in a radio broadcast. In the same broadcast, former Premier Mehdi Frasherri proclaimed that Albanian women as well as men were determined to resist the invasion. (There is a women's detachment in the Albanian army.)

The invasion was a personal tragedy for Zog. The end of Albania's Good Friday found his handsome, half-American Queen Geraldine and their newborn son, in whom the king had placed fond hopes of a new Balkan dynasty, in Florida, Greece, a few miles across the Albanian frontier.

Women Back Troops Two of Zog's sisters arrived in Salonika, Greece. The queen and her baby reached Florida after a 150-mile automobile trip and were to proceed to Salonika tomorrow.

Shortly before midnight Albania's vigilantes and gendarmes still were fighting the invaders—with unshaken determination and some success.

Behind these rugged hillsmen stood their women. "There are 44,000,000 Italians against 1,000,000 Albanians," said Frasherri in impassioned tones in his broadcast.

"But there will be heroic resistance and when our men are dead the Italians will have to face our women."

Although details of the Albanian monarch's proposals were not divulged, they were understood to contain specific terms for ending the war.

Zog, it was reported, told Mussolini he was ready to capitulate provided the country be left a measure of independence with himself remaining on the throne.

Zog broadcast an appeal to his people to fight for Albanian independence, but they did not need any exhortations. They could do little against Italian bombardments which shattered their coastal cities, but they set to with primitive, tribal zeal and repeatedly pushed back Italian landing parties to the sea.

Italians pounded Durazzo and San Giovanni was heavily damaged and Valona, set afire. The Italians won possession of at least three towns—Durazzo, Santi Quaranta, and San Giovanni. (Rome said Valona also was occupied.)

In the Headlines From Washington

(By The Associated Press) Secretary Hull conferred by telephone with President Roosevelt at Warm Springs, Ga., on the situation created by Italy's invasion of Albania.

Joseph S. Ames, chairman of the national advisory committee for aeronautics, told a senate committee recently, it was disclosed, that the United States' fighting planes were inferior to Germany's. A group of new deal senators, although conceding they faced the probability of defeat, continued a fight in the senate to increase the WPA appropriation to the $150,000,000.

ELKS PLANNING TO AID ALIENS

Help Naturalization of Aliens Throughout United States

New York, April 7.—A four-point, long-term, nation-wide program to naturalize the aliens in this country was announced here yesterday by Dr. Edward J. McCormick, Grand Exalted Ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks. Some 1,500 Elks lodges in as many different cities will carry out this program, which calls for surveying the nation's aliens, convincing them that American citizenship has definite advantages for them, instructing them how to become citizens and seeing that they take the necessary steps to secure citizenship.

The plan of the Elks contemplates the setting up in each lodge of a special naturalization committee, which will find the aliens in its community, and will also seek for this movement the active cooperation of other community groups. It will also study the available facilities for the education of foreigners who desire to become naturalized. Where such facilities are inadequate or lacking, the committee will provide additional facilities or will start classes of its own. Each committee will also hold public meetings on naturalization to secure widespread public support of this program.

"This naturalization program is a logical outgrowth of the Elks years of patriotic work and a follow-up of its nation-wide Americanism Week program recently concluded," Dr. McCormick said. "Naturalizing the aliens in this country is a concrete act of Americanism. If we can make good American citizens out of our aliens we will advance democracy here substantially."

This plan is not intended to replace any present efforts to encourage citizenship, Dr. McCormick emphasized, but it is an effort to carry out nationally a project that has received only sporadic and scattered attention. Where Americanization programs are already being conducted, the local Elks lodge will assist present organizations in coordinating and making community-wide all activities designed to naturalize aliens.

A nation-wide advisory committee headed by Federal Judge Murray Hubert of New York, who has been named to supervise this national program. Federal Judge William Hawley Atwell, Texas; William H. Abbott, San Francisco; former Governor David Sholtz, of Florida; and Henry L. Warner, Dixon, Illinois, will serve on this committee.

MRS. GUINETTE, SCHAFFER, DIES

Pneumonia Attack Fatal to Mother of 14 Children

Mrs. Ruby Guinette, 48, of Schaffer, wife of Leonard Guinette, died Friday noon at St. Francis hospital. Pneumonia, from which she had been ill for the past ten days, caused her death.

She was born, Ruby Sovey, at Lake Linden, September 27, 1890, and her marriage to Mr. Guinette took place at St. John the Baptist church at Vermont, Ontario, in 1908. The family moved to the United States, settling at Rudyard, in 1912, and two years ago moved to Schaffer.

Mrs. Guinette was a member of Sacred Heart parish of Schaffer and of the Altar society of the church.

She is survived by her husband and fourteen children: Sister Mary Theresa of Concordia, Kans.; Sister Mary Noelle, Chicago, Luellen, Albert, Leo, Isadore, Ernest, Theodore, Oscar, Gerald, Albertine, Theresa, Noelle and Marie, at home. She also leaves one brother and three sisters, Edward Sovey, Alma Sovey and Mrs. Lucy Sovey of Dryden, Mich., and Mrs. Eva Gagnier, of Flint.

The body was removed to the Boyle funeral parlors at Bark River to be prepared for burial. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Pribek fell about four feet to the ground from a scaffold at the plant site, and pierced his groin with the point of a piece of reinforcing iron. The accident occurred about 1:30 p. m. March 27.

An infection developed in the wound shortly after the injury. Tetanus developed 24 hours before his death in the hospital.

Dugas Home Burns To Ground; Other Buildings Saved

South Bark River—Fire destroyed the John Dugas home here on Tuesday afternoon at about 3 o'clock. There was no one at home at the time the fire started, and its cause is unknown.

The house and all its contents were lost, leaving members of the family with nothing but the clothing they wore at the time of the blaze.

The Bark River fire department was called, but arrived too late to save the house. The barn and other buildings were saved, however, as was a large woodpile only a few feet from the house.

The house of the king of Uganda, at Kampala, has a fire burning at its entrance which is permitted to die out only when a king of the country dies.

Prizes will be presented to parade participants on bicycles and those in costume. Decorated bicycles will take part, and many colorful and humorous costumes are expected.

First entries in the parade, for floats and comic figures, have been made by the Escanaba Steam Laundry, WPA Recreational Center, Hiawatha Guide Service, Chicago and North Western Railway, Escanaba City Gas Department, Peterson's Shoe store, Delta Hardware company, Escanaba Rotary club, Sherman hotel, Jewel Tea company, Escanaba Motors, Escanaba Daily Press, Clark Motors and J. # Two Bands To Play At Smelt Queen's Coronation Ball Friday

CEREMONY AND SHOW PLANNED

Ten Vaudeville Acts On Program; Jitterbugs Will Compete

Two bands, the WTAQ Farmhands of Green Bay and Wally Beau's 12-piece swing orchestra from Fond du Lac, will play dance music and present specialty numbers at the smelt queen's coronation ball, to be held at the Coliseum next Friday night.

Queen Barbara Banks of Escanaba's Smelt Jamboree will receive her crown from King Fred Bradley, representative in congress from the 11th district, as the ball opens. Ten acts of vaudeville and dancing will follow the ceremony.

The queen will be attended by "the king's men," a sextet of chorus members who will sing at the ceremony. Members of the escort are Robert Moreau, Jack Fisher, Kenneth Thompson, Rayne Labre Jr., Walter Girard and Jack Morin.

Jitterbugs to Dance

Finals in the Upper Peninsula Jitterbug contest will be presented during the evening, with champions of the Escanaba contest held during the winter carnival competing.

Archie McCarthy, ventriloquist's dummy who claims to be a cousin to Charlie McCarthy and a chip of the same block, will be brought to the ball by Henry Sleman and will take part in the program.

Two songstresses, Sally Joyce and Helen Kay of Chicago, will sing at the ball through the courtesy of local hotels. Mike Calo of Iron Mountain will present a tap dance routine.

A second stage will be set up directly opposite the regular stage at the Coliseum, and a runway will be constructed between them. After the vaudeville program the runway will be torn down and seats removed for dancing.

The "king's men" are now rehearsing under the direction of Willard Clark, and will sing at several times during the evening. Several of the sextet members are in the K. C. chorus.

Arrangements for the coronation ball are being made by Harold Gessner, chairman of the entertainment committee.

Full Program Set

A full program has been arranged for the three-day celebration which will mark the annual smelt runs at Escanaba April 13 to 15. Starting with the Wolverine banquet at 6:15 Thursday evening, events will include the Ford River Frolics and coronation of Rep. Fred Bradley as King of Smeltania at 9 o'clock Thursday night, the coronation ball Friday night, the jamboree parade Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock and the Taconah Fiesta and dance at Rapid River high school Saturday night.

Spalding Township Recount Stopped Before It Starts

A recount of the Spalding township election vote asked by John Fazer stopped before it started Friday when ballot boxes were opened showing ballots not properly sealed and endorsed by the election board.

The petitioning candidate, Fazer, was represented by Attorney K. O. Doyle of Menominee, and Jerry Popour, declared the winner in the election vote, was represented by Attorney William J. Miller of Escanaba.

Ritual Officers Of Organizations Come Under Act If Paid

Word has been received here that a recent United States treasury department decision has been handed down to the effect that ritual officers of organizations who do not receive payment for their services are not considered to be employees within the meaning of title nine of the social security act. If they receive payment, however, it was ruled that they are employees under the act and thereby subject to its provisions.

Help Park Grass Grow In Escanaba, Plea To Children

The department of parks and recreation asks that boys and girls refrain from playing in the small parks until the grass is established. Much damage has been done to old and new seedling by a few who do not realize the harm they are doing. Most parents in the vicinity are in sympathy with the idea that the parks are there for use, but should also be kept attractive. By walking a short distance, the games that destroy the grass can be played where no damage will be done. Beverly Butts, director of the department suggests that the parents ask the cooperation of their children, and also suggests these lines as a little extra-curricular home work:

"Let it not be said, and to your shame, That there was beauty here before you came."

SUIT DISMISSED

Marinette—Circuit Judge Henry Graess of Green Bay yesterday at Marinette, dismissed an $11,500 damage suit brought against the Henry Hoffman Von Nobel estate by the Rev. Clarence T. Kaiser, Milwaukee, administrator for the estate of Irma Kaiser Von Nobel.

Judge Graess took under advisement a second action in the same case to recover $3,200 from the estate for Mrs. Von Nobel's heirs. In dismissing the suit, the court held that Mrs. Von Nobel's two children by a former marriage, Frederick Kaiser and Mrs. Janet Kaiser Skillcorn of Milwaukee, sustained no pecuniary loss through their mother's death. The court also found that the plaintiffs had failed to prove application of the wrongful death statute providing maximum allowance of $2,500.

Mr. and Mrs. Von Nobel were shot and killed in the lobby of a hotel here Feb. 15, 1938, shortly before the scheduled hearing of her divorce suit. Police said Von Nobel, self-styled German count, had shot his wife and then killed himself.

NEWS READERS HEAR OF SMELT

Escanaba Publicity Seen In Pictures, Stories In 33 States

That readers of newspapers in the United States, from Augusta, Maine to St. Petersburg, Florida, have been hearing plenty about the 1939 Escanaba Smelt Jamboree is attested by a sheaf of 332 newspaper clippings received during the past few days by H. P. Lindsay, secretary of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce.

Thirty-three states are represented among the clippings, which are the first returns from a news-

BROADCAST TONIGHT

Another Escanaba Smelt Jamboree radio broadcast is scheduled for 9 o'clock tonight, E.S.T., over the red network of the National Broadcasting company, WWJ Detroit and WMAQ Chicago will carry the program, which comes on the Vox Pop hour. Another smelt broadcast has been scheduled for Tod Hunter's program at 10 o'clock on April 12 over WBBM, Chicago.

paper clipping service which has been engaged to clip items on the jamboree as a check on the publicity value of the event.

Michigan leads all states represented, with a total of 94 news stories and pictures used. Illinois comes second, led by the metropolitan papers of Chicago, with 48 clippings. Indiana is third with 46.

Wisconsin is fourth on the list of Escanaba smelt publicity users, with 31 stories in recent issues of newspapers. Minnesota is fifth with 17, Texas is sixth with 13, and Florida is seventh with 9.

Other states in which the smelt publicity material was used, in order of the number of stories and pictures printed, are as follows: New York, Massachusetts, Kentucky, N. Carolina, Montana, Georgia, Alabama, Wyoming, Iowa, Nebraska, S. Carolina, Kansas, Oregon, N. Dakota, Arkansas, Tennessee, Missouri, Mississippi, Ohio, New Mexico, Colorado, Utah, Connecticut, W. Virginia, and Maine.

Services Help

Much of the wide distribution of Escanaba's smelt publicity material is due to the help of news and photo services, which have spread news stories and photographs to papers they serve in networks covering the nation. Wirephotos of Queen Barbara Banks and Rep. Fred Bradley, frying smelt in the congressional kitchen at Washington, D. C., on Thursday, were sent to all papers in the country using the Associated Press wirephoto service.

Estimating the number of readers who have seen the 332 stories and pictures in the first week's shipment of clippings is a problem almost beyond imagination. Some papers using the pictures, such as the Chicago Tribune, number their readers in millions. Others are weeklies with relatively small circulation. Thousands of dollars spent in advertising could not purchase the news paper space which has been devoted to Escanaba through the smelt jamboree.

Only the early smelt stories are included in the shipments of clippings received thus far at the Chamber of Commerce, and a check-up is planned later on to try to measure the effectiveness of the publicity program.

Three Arraigned In Gladstone For Selling To Minors

Three Escanaba tavern keepers were arraigned yesterday in Justice O. E. Estenson's court in Gladstone on charges of selling liquor to minors.

The three are: Gene Beaudoin, proprietor of Gen's Tavern at 401 South 13th street; Tad Krezman, proprietor of the Central Cafe, 1116 Ludington street, and Edwin Erickson, proprietor of Erickson's Tavern, 230 Stephenson avenue.

All three demanded preliminary hearings, Beaudoin's being set for April 14 at 2 p. m., Krezman's for April 21 at 10 a. m., and Erickson's for April 18 at 10 a. m.

Beaudoin had been arrested previously on a similar charge and demanded a hearing, which was held in Justice H. E. Ranguette's court in this city. Following the hearing, Ranguette ruled "no cause for action." Prosecutor William Miller and Chief of Police M. P. Ettenhofer went to Gladstone late Thursday afternoon and had another warrant issued and Beaudoin was re-arrested yesterday, along with Krezman and Erickson.

The F. W. Good Parent-Teachers Association will hold their next meeting on April 18, at the school.

The dance which was planned for April 15, has been postponed to April 22.

Cast Polishes Up On Play 'Holiday'

Ticket reservations for Philip Barry's famous three act comedy, "Holiday" which will be presented at the Escanaba Civic Theatre Wednesday, April 12 at the W. W. Oliver Memorial auditorium may be made beginning today at 8:30 in the general office of the junior high building.

The ticket sale to date has been quite brisk and in order to get the best seats, early reservations are urged. As no plans have been made to repeat the performance, all those intending to go are urged to purchase tickets in advance in order to avoid disappointment.

For the past few weeks, a spirit such as might be found in the training camp of a college football team has been prevalent in rehearsals. The cast has practiced six times a week with a one hundred per cent attendance each time. The players have ripped in to their lines much as a sophomore back determined to make the team would do. Stage action and lines were letter perfect last week, and since then, Coach Helen Snyder has been polishing off the rough spots, improving the timing, and helping develop maximum interpretation. Dramatics is the favorite and in some cases the only recreation of members of the organization. They realize that as a new, and they sincerely believe, a permanent group, that the audience should be impressed Wednesday night. Dr. Gordon Gleich, who has been in almost every major production in Escanaba, and several outside, had this to say the other day:

"In all my years of working in plays, I have never worked with a cast which was better selected, or who worked harder and more enthusiastically than the one in 'Holiday.' The people who attend next Wednesday night are going to see a play that they will remember."

Hostels in U. P.

ORGANIZATION of the Menominee River Hostel Group has been effected through the efforts of Menominee and Marinette residents, interested in this particular recreation program for youth.

Youth hostels are spreading like wildfire over America. They are one thing we have imported from Europe that we should have brought over years ago.

By a little planning and a little cooperation they make the outdoors what heaven planned it to be, a means of refreshing the human race, making the limbs of boys and girls stout and sturdy, their chests broad and deep, their color tanned and flushed, and their thoughts bright, quick and wholesome.

The Upper Peninsula is an ideal field for giving encouragement to the hostel movement. Certainly if it can be worked out successfully in New England, Wisconsin and other areas it can be utilized to augment the growing recreational business in this region.

Why Indians Live Long

UP on the north shore of Lake Superior, an Ojibway Indian aged 104 years, has just passed on to the happy hunting grounds of all good Indians.

Indians who live a century or more are more numerous proportionately than white folks. Why is this? Isn't it because the Indians let the white folks do the worrying, and the hustling, and the grabbing? Give an Indian a pipeful of tobacco and a seat in the shade or by the fire, and he is usually contented and not inclined to be anxious about the morrow.

Few Indians have the opportunity to stuff their insides to the gorging point, as their white brothers often do. They have fewer opportunities to get hard liquor, and as a rule the race is temperate in all things.

Here is the answer to the question of the Indian's frequently long life in good health. When he drinks, it is because of his wretchedness or his desire to get out of himself, the same reasons which prompt the white man to do likewise.

Keeping the Lines Open

THE Rockefeller Foundation does a great many interesting and valuable things with the vast amounts of money it spends ($15,000,000 last year).

The foundation is so set up as to be flexible and able to meet changing needs. And it is good to see it turn to "the amazing paradox" that "whereas new and swift means of communication have shrunk time and space to dimensions that seem to make a world community necessary and inevitable, an intensified nationalism is trying to set up barriers against the exchange not only of goods but even of knowledge and ideas."

The foundation's answer in 1938 was the support of 592 fellowships costing $574,000 and benefiting students from 47 countries. 385 of them working in countries other than their own.

Letter to Mario Izzo

YOU won't be able to read this letter, Mario Izzo, because you are dead. But we don't entirely understand these things, and maybe there is some way you can know.

Do you know, Mario, that the people of your home town of Alliquippa, Pa., are taking up a collection to get your body removed from the potter's field, where they buried it when you died?

That's because they have been thinking about you lately, now that you are gone. That's the way people are. They are slow to give credit to the living, quick to praise the dead.

But at last they do understand, a little, that you were really a great man. They didn't realize it when you, as an elderly Italian immigrant, too old to work, went to the poorhouse where you died. They paid you $3.50 a week.

Only a few noticed that soon after you began to receive the checks you appeared on the streets, dabbling away with a broom—slowly and not very efficiently, for you were an old man—to try to do something for the community which was paying you a pittance.

Not very many heard you when you said on receiving that first check: "I look at it, and I think I will be an honest man with this country which has been so good to me. So I start to sweep the street. My bread it tastes sweet, and I feel like a man because I work."

You wanted "to be an honest man with this country which had been so good to you."

You make us ashamed, Mario. Many of us would not have felt that way, when we were old and had nothing, and faced nothing but the poorhouse, and $3.60 a week, and a grave in the potter's field.

Yes, we are ashamed, Mario, and we write you this letter quite humbly. For this country has been good to us, too, much better than it was to you.

Now for Something Tough!

ADOLF HITLER built a new German army. He occupied the Rhineland. He annexed Austria. He seized Czechoslovakia. He twisted the tail of the British lion and pulled feathers from the plume of the Gallic rooster.

But now he is starting to work on something really hard. Word from Germany is that he is beginning a campaign to dry up the country. Manufacturers of brandy and liquors have already been ordered to reduce the alcoholic content of their product.

Hitler, you see, is a moral man, and never smokes or drinks. He wants all the rest of the Germans to be like him.

Well, Adolf, good luck! We in the United States know something about this venture from personal experience.

The German camel already carries a backbreaking load. National prohibition in Germany looks like quite a sizable straw.

CUTS RESTORED (Marquette Mining Journal)

As the result of a compromise between house and senate leaders, $25,000 of a house cut of $50,000 in the state advertising bill was restored, assuring the four tourist associations, including the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau, they will again receive the usual amount to carry on their work.

The fact that the compromise resulted in restoration of house cuts against the tourist associations, at the expense of the all-state advertising program, is an indication of the high regard the legislature and the public have for the work of the associations.

As finally adopted the bill provides that the associations will receive $25,000 each, to be used to pay 80 per cent of the cost of tourist and resort advertising. The all-state program, initiated last year, was cut from $50,000 to $5,000 while the agricultural advertising allotment was reduced to $20,000.

Thus, the all-state program has been all but eliminated. It is unfortunate this was believed necessary. The all-state program, under the direction of the state administrative board, did much to supplement the work of the tourist associations through magazine advertising.

The tourist associations have been realistic in their requests. Although operating close to the line, they did not ask for an increased in state aid. They merely wanted the amount they have been granted in the past so they could maintain their programs in an effort to offset ever-increasing competition from other states.

The tourist associations, it is believed, will do their part to justify the trust placed in them. They have, in effect, been placed in a position of preference. They have been saved from the economy ax, and now they must do everything possible to carry on their work with the utmost regard for economy and balanced budgets.

In view of their narrow escape this year, associations now operating in the red should cut expenses to the bone in an effort to wipe out deficiencies. No one knows what the condition of state finances will be when the next appropriation is due.

In the meantime the tourist associations will make the most of their capital, seeking through diversified advertising and well-directed publicity to maintain Michigan's strong position in the lucrative tourist and resort field and endeavoring to counteract mounting competition.

MICHIGAN'S NEW GOVERNOR (Michigan Manufacturer)

It should be reassuring to the people of Michigan that the public servant who has been called upon to act as the chief executive of the state, following the untimely demise of former Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald, is a man of the high moral character and governmental experience of Luren D. Dickinson, former lieutenant governor. In the short time that has elapsed since affairs of state were thrust so abruptly upon the veteran Charlotte campaigner there is all evidence that Governor Dickinson is wholly in accord with the major policies of his predecessor and that, with the already avowed intentions of the legislative branch, such pressing enactments as the new state labor relations bill, the balancing of the state budget and

Washington, D. C.—The Federal Building Triangle, and not historic Pennsylvania Avenue made famous by inaugural parades, is now the center of attraction to thousands who come to Washington every spring. This $200,000,000 project stands as a convincing and representative monument to the Nation.

Arising from the concrete beginning of nine years ago, the Federal Triangle presents what architects believe to be the most imposing unified architectural composition in the world—monumentally memorializing the wealth, power, dignity, and artistic taste of the Nation.

In this celebrated triangle stand the new headquarters for the chief agencies of the United States Government, the most marvelous site of public building construction in the world, where the public has opportunity to inspect the operation of the departments of National Government.

From an airplane, the project looks like a huge stone triangle. Its base is formed by the Department of Commerce, the first unit to be built. Looking from the Capitol, the triangle may be viewed from its apex, where the appropriately named Apex Building stands—the last of the structures built and the home of the Federal Trade Commission.

The Federal Building Triangle has units representing work done by the most famous sculptors and painters in the world. Here are found the most elaborate suite of Government offices in the country, eight-story lighting fixtures, the most modern cafeterias in the United States and one of the largest heating plants in operation.

The Department of Commerce Building is the second largest Government building in the world—the new Interior Department Building being the largest. This $17,000,000 structure, opened in 1932 during the Hoover administration, is constructed of raw materials from twelve States and the District of Columbia. A cafeteria with a seating capacity of 2400 people, the $12,000 bronze doors and the thirty bronze elevators are among the many features of this building inscribed as the "temple of truth, dedicated to enlarging the science as well as the practice of business."

The Department of Labor, Interstate Commerce Commission and connecting wing building is located the largest and most beautiful Government auditorium. Six tall columns on each side of the auditorium reach three stories to a ceiling of robin's egg blue. An intricate design in gold leaf borders the high walls and decorates the hand-carved lions' heads on immense doors of solid walnut.

The new building of the Post Office Department has the finest postal station in the world. The building also provides a palatial two-story suite for the Postmaster General. Magnificent allegorical sculpture symbolic of the branches of work embodied in the Post Office; nickel lighting fixtures eight stories high, and a terrazzo floor design unexcelled anywhere are other features in this edifice that have never before been seen in a Government building.

Herein is located the Benjamin Franklin Post Station, the most serviceable monument ever erected to the memory of the first Postmaster General whose name it bears. It is at the entrance to this station that the largest terrazzo design of its kind in the world is worked into the floor depicting the map of the world. Located near the heart of Washington's business center and near all the principal hotels, the Benjamin Franklin Station gives a 24-hour service.

OTHER BEAUTIFUL BUILDINGS—In the Post Office Department's new building is one of the most pretentious suites of offices ever built for a Government official in this country, not excluding the President's. Here the Postmaster General holds forth in his two-story headquarters of paneled American walnut. His reception room, 100 feet long, is furnished in dull leather furniture so as not to mar the effect created by large crystal chandeliers, the fine parqueted floors and the immense black marble fireplace. Draperies of gold brocade hang at the tall, wide windows. Three chandeliers in the reception room are the outstanding decorative note. Weighing several hundreds pounds each and made of small tubular glass pieces, hand-cut crystal and tiny golden eaglets, they look like radiant jewels in the dark walnut setting of the room.

However, the crowning achievement of lighting fixtures in the entire triangle can be found at each end of the building, hanging seven floors down the length of the marble circular stairways. Said to be the longest fixtures in the world, they weigh 2700 pounds apiece.

A variety of other administrative aims will be carried out to fulfillment. It is our sincere belief that the state's 54th Governor will write his name indelibly in the annals of Michigan in filling out the unexpired term of office of which the late Governor Fitzgerald was elected. His knowledge of procedure in the high office he now holds is probably unapproached by anyone in the immediate past or present service to the state through his more than 40 years of almost constant contact with the whole processes of state administration. He knows Lansing, its aims and machinations probably as no other elective or appointive officer of the state capital knows it.

Such being the case, we do not fear for a moment that Governor Dickinson will interrupt political policies, administrative obligations, and not in the least degree important, the dictates of his own kindly and Godly moral sensibilities which have guided him through almost four-score years of exemplary life, to any objective beyond good to the whole state of Michigan.

New York Column

BY GEORGE ROSS

New York—Broadway's busiest belle is Edith Van Cleve, who is George Abbott's Girl Friday—Thursday—a woman with five careers and dynamic energy.

Indispensable to Abbott seven days of the week, she is his leading actress, executive secretary, office housekeeper, director, costume designer and business advisor.

Just now she is acting in one of Mr. Abbott's shows, "What a Life!" She also helped to get "What a Life!" on the stage, along with the other two Abbott shows that now inhabit Broadway.

She is the Jill-of-all-trades on the Abbott reservation. Actors who want work must come to see her first, and actors who get work follow her instructions when Mr. A. isn't around. Play scripts that flow into the Abbott lair pass through her hands before the boss peruses them, and she passes on the Abbott budget with womanly precision.

Among other odd chores she performs are things like figuring out a trick haircut for Jimmy Savo in "Boys From Syracuse," or finding a midget with a drooping chin, or choosing a necktie for Mr. Abbott that would suit her aesthetic tastes.

"Broadway" Meeting—As an actress, critics and playgoers alike have agreed, she is o. k. She started as an actress in "Broadway," that memorable melodrama by Mr. Abbott and Phil Dunning.

She met her boss for the first time when she got her job in that smash hit, but Mr. A. made the mistake of thinking that Edith was a mere actress, instead of a maid-of-all-work. For after "Broadway" met its natural demise (it ran two years), she did not catch up with Abbott again for five years.

The reunion took place during the phenomenal success of "Three Men on a Horse," in which she played a small part. The small part made her unhappy. Being of an energetic temperament, she wanted more to do. So she went back to Mr. Abbott and asked if there were any odd jobs lying about. "Well," said the showman, "we're gathering together two or three road companies of 'Three Men on a Horse' and you can help out with those."

And she did. First she was interviewing actors, then directing them. And before long, she had the Abbott office—and Abbott—well under her managerial thumb. Her boss is her pedestaled idol. While she assumed these sidelines, incidentally, she clung to her tiny role in the horse comedy.

Discovers Hit—And she continued to act, the while she slowly relieved Abbott of many responsibilities. She has acted in at least four Abbott shows the past four years, and in "What a Life!" she is one of the principal members of the cast. "What a Life!" was her discovery. She found the manuscript one day in the play-bin, along with half a hundred others, and upon a cursory inspection, told the boss that it could be remodeled into a success.

It was a serious play when she read it, but Edith decided that it could be converted into a comedy without impairing the author's motives.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY PEARSON AND ALLEN

St. Louis—Out here in Missouri there is shaping up a Democratic Tom Dewey whom some folks think will be the man to whom both the Roosevelt and the Garner Democrats can turn in 1940.

He is Lloyd C. Stark, Governor of Missouri, but if you are familiar with the "Stark Delicious" apple which his father developed, you may have heard more of him as a nurseryman than as a politician.

On the political side, however, Lloyd Stark is now one of the foremost governors in the Middle West, and it is significant that he got that way by a campaign closely paralleling Dewey's. Where Dewey stormed the walls of Tammany, Democratic stronghold of New York, Governor Stark took on the famous Pendergast machine in Kansas City. And he has made that machine look even more sick and bedraggled than the Tammany tiger.

FRANTIC PENDERGAST—A lot of national significance surrounds the moves of Governor Stark and his foes, one of the most important being the visit which Jim Pendergast, nephew of venerable Boss Tom Pendergast, paid to Washington at the end of last month.

It so happens that Roosevelt is more anxious to win control of the Democratic Convention in 1940 than to get almost any other thing in life—not for himself, but to nominate a New Dealer. So he is not throwing away delegates.

However, Jim Pendergast and Otto "Oney" Higgins, Kansas City police chief who also went to Washington, traveled up and down Pennsylvania Avenue ringing doorbells, and the nearest they ever got to the Great White Throne was Jim Farley. Moreover, no one around the throne would see them.

Attorney General Murphy, who had sent the G-men to Kansas City, remained cold and aloof. Henry Morgenthau, in charge of the income tax sleuths, was equally so. The Kansas City boys got absolutely nowhere.

Moral to this incident is twofold: 1. The Roosevelt Administration is friendly to Stark, already is aware of his potentialities as a dark horse compromise between the two branches of the Democratic Party.

2. Roosevelt is cutting loose from powerful local machines such as Tammany in New York, Pendergast in Kansas City, and Curley in Boston.

This is an important departure. For Roosevelt's victories in 1932 and 1936 were built in part upon the Farley technique of getting the support of, say Boss Hague in Jersey City at election time, then starting righteously away from Jersey City between elections.

STARK VS. BOSS TOM—Governor Stark's fight with Tom Pendergast began with a quarrel over the reappointment of R. E. O'Malley, head of the state insurance department and a staunch Pendergast man. Stark refused to take orders from the Kansas City boss, issued an ultimatum that he was running his own administration, and fired O'Malley. The fight was on.

Stark has now disclosed an unsavory $447,000 insurance slush fund with which O'Malley and Pendergast were entangled, and the subsequent story, which grows more lurid day by day, has rocked the State.

During the fight, Judge Allen C. Southern instituted a grand jury investigation of gambling houses in Kansas City, and seized gambling equipment operating under the noses of Police Chief Higgins and the Pendergasts. Following this, gambling operators were naive enough to come before the court to ask the return of their equipment, and to prove that they were actual owners, showed their books.

This was a stroke of luck for the Stark forces. The court seized the books. These showed that 80 houses in Kansas City had a take of $28,500 during a 48-day period from November 11 to December 31 last, and that withdrawals of $10,000 monthly were paid to Charles V. Carrolia and three others. Carrolia is the reputed gambling king of Kansas City who is close to W. W. Graves, Pendergast prosecuting attorney, now under indictment.

Naturally, publication of these profits brought a flood of income tax sleuths from Washington, and the henchmen of Pendergast looked to the boss for help. But when Pendergast, in turn, looked toward Washington, Washington merely nodded approvingly to Stark.

Thus encouraged, Governor Stark is now demanding that the Missouri legislature put the Kansas City police back under state control, as in St. Louis. Among other things he has shown that the 640 deadly weapons found on Kansas City criminals were weapons previously captured, but apparently given back to the gangsters by the police.

Several things about Lloyd Stark make him the ideal solution for the present dilemma in which the Democrats find themselves. He has not alienated either wing of the party. He is progressive, but not radical, has a lot of common sense qualities that appeal to conservative Democrats.

That less than ten percent of the total number of all types of physically handicapped American children who need special educational facilities are now enrolled in special schools and classes, is the assertion made by Percy C. Angove, executive secretary of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children, Inc.

"According to statistics gathered by the United States office of education our own state has a total estimated number of physically handicapped children needing special education of 68,326. Of this number only 17,746 are receiving the benefit of facilities to take care of them," said Mr. Angove. He pointed out that the Michigan Society is participating in the Sixth Annual Easter Seal Sale which closes officially Easter Sunday, in order to raise funds to carry on the struggle for the equalization of educational opportunity for crippled children.

Giving two reasons why so few physically handicapped children are reached, Mr. Angove pointed out that, first, handicapped children are considerably in the minority and in consequence the needs of the vast majority of normal children have overshadowed the needs of the physically handicapped minority. In this way neglect of the problem has been perpetuated. The second reason, is that the cost of special education is too great for the locality.

"The expense of educating a crippled child in accordance with his needs is from three to seven times as much as the cost of educating a physically normal child," declared Mr. Angove.

"In 1923 an act was passed in Michigan sponsored by the society as a result of which 28 classes for crippled children have been organized to date, and over 2,000 children are enrolled. There is still no provision for children residing in small towns and rural areas; and a bill to help correct this situation is being sponsored by the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and is currently under consideration by the state legislature. It is hoped that it will provide for combining school districts to establish special classes, finance home tutors and increase state appropriations for assisting local communities," he said.

"The society is also interested in furthering this program through federal legislation," Mr. Angove explained. "The Pepper-Boland bill for this purpose has been introduced in the United States congress."

WE' the WOMEN

BY RUTH MILLETT

Divorce may be entering its third stage. First it was disgraceful and "good" people lowered their voices when they spoke of a divorced woman.

Then it was accepted, and the principal grievance against the divorced was that they were a nuisance. Friends had to entertain them separately. And often had to listen while one partner told what a heel the other was, and how fine it felt to be rid of the chains of matrimony.

Now if movie stars set the style in divorce, as they do in dress, divorce is on the way to providing a romantic interlude.

The night before Joan Crawford expected her "mail order" divorce from Franchot Tone, the two met for dinner in New York, danced until morning. The waiting-to-be-divorced husband greeted his suing wife with "Hello, darling. You look marvelous."

Pictures of the happy couple looking into each other's eyes might better have been snapped when the romance was new, instead of on the eve of its legal completion.

There is one chance that glamour will never cloak the common garden variety of divorce. That is the fact that the average man and woman aren't good enough actors to carry it off.

But the chance is slim, for women like to romanticize the important events in their lives. They all feel they might have been actresses and they would love to play romantic leads.

And with divorce becoming more and more commonplace, there will be a great temptation to get as much out of it as possible besides alimony.

Miss Crawford having pointed the way, the day may not be long off when there will be three potentially romantic occasions in a divorce.

THREAD COUNT INSURES and Thread Count Insures Quality When buying sheets look for the thread count on the label. A high thread count indicates a fine muslin. The thread count is figured by counting the number of threads in the warp and woof per square inch. A total thread count of from 132 to 152 per square inch is a good, durable quality.

CHAMBERLAIN AND ALICE

There is a reason why Alice in Wonderland is pre-eminently the English classic. It is a tender and humorous glorification of the age of innocence.

Alice is the very well brought up, polite and extremely reasonable English child who finds herself in a world full of unreasonable foreigners.

However, as you remember, this bottle was not marked "poison," so Alice ventured to taste it, and finding it very nice (it had, in fact, a sort of mixed flavour of cherry, tart, custard, pineapple, etc.) she very soon finished it all.

Now, what happened to Alice after that was that she became only a fraction of her former size, and since this sudden diminution made it impossible for her to do some of the things she very much wanted to do she sat down and cried.

And we learn that Alice was in the habit of scolding herself and even sometimes of boxing her own ears "for having cheated herself in a game of croquet she was playing against herself, for this curious child was very fond of pretending to be two people."

For those who find it difficult to understand Mr. Chamberlain I recommend a rereading of the English classic.

Mr. Chamberlain followed the "Drink Me" policy at Munich, and the "Eat Me" policy in the House of Commons last week and this.

It has its uses in English statements. I use the word "English" advisedly. It is certainly not Scottish. And it is, above all, not Welsh or Irish. One can perfectly imagine Mr. Chamberlain at six feet in the masculine twin of Alice. One cannot imagine Mr. Lloyd George as anything but a very distant relative. Its usefulness is that the qualities of Alice—her niceness, her reasonability and her incredible foolishness—attract the English people.

SERIAL STORY BORDER ADVENTURE

BY OREN ARNOLD

CAST OF CHARACTERS: BETTY MARY JORDAN—Pretty young Border Patrol service secretary. SHERIDAN STARR—Handsome Border Patrol officer. HOPE KILDARE—Starr's fellow officer, also a bachelor. LUIS BARRO—Mexican smuggler.

Yesterday: Arriving in El Paso to check on the Luis Barro smuggling case, Betty Mary is challenged to investigate herself! Later, Hope Kildare detects something suspicious about an old woman in the city jail.

CHAPTER II Talking things out and acting together Sheridan Starr and Hope Kildare had been close associates since they were 10 years old. As schoolmates they had lived on adjoining ranches near Henderson, Texas, and as "buddies" still later they had written their names jointly on Texas Christian University's hall of football fame.

Work on the U. S. Border Patrol, a dignified career, held freedom of outdoors plus the zest of action. It was a public service spiced heavily with danger, and it left little or no time for the gentler social affairs. Content now with their friendship anyway, Hope and Sheridan had remained thorough bachelors; often they had boasted good-naturedly that they were "immune" to feminine wiles.

Sitting together now on an iron bench in front of the El Paso police headquarters, the two young officers were in better mood than they had been two hours earlier. Initial resentment at Betty Mary's arrival had changed to a feeling of responsibility.

"There's not a thing to do but wait," Sheridan was saying. "You darn sure it was Miss Jordan?" "Positive! She gave me the high sign herself," Hope spoke intently.

"Um, nothing slow about that gal. And grea-a-a-at day, Hope, my son, she's pretty, that little trick is!" "I'm not blind," said Hope. "When do you reckon she'll come out?" "No telling. And while I don't know what you aim to do, Hoppy, me, I'm going to camp right here!"

They had begun their vigil about 5 p. m. At 7, Sherry bought a dozen tamales from a passing peddler, sent another dozen around back of the building to his friend.

At 10:20 o'clock Sherry walked to the corner of the building, gazed up at the crescent moon as it bored. Then he yawned and patted his hat on tight—pat, pat, pat—walked back and sat down again. In five minutes Hope joined him, coming through the building. The hat tapping was their private sign.

is some method in this madness. For mad it certainly appears to be. The nation which was not prepared to defend Czech-Slovakia, a country which had meticulously kept all of its international engagements, is now prepared to defend Poland, a country which has pursued a most dubious diplomatic course and which is at least as difficult to defend.

It is very difficult to believe that when Chamberlain went to Munich he did not know that he was giving Hitler a free hand in exactly what giving that free hand would mean. But since Mr. Chamberlain is English it is possible that he really thought that Hitler would behave like an Englishman, take what he wanted in such a way as not to shock and horrify the world and stop at the right moment.

I doubt whether Mr. Chamberlain has ever in his life met anybody who was not either just a gentleman or a "gentleman in trade." But Hitler is neither a gentleman nor a trader. I am inclined to believe that when Mr. Chamberlain said on the eve of Munich, "If I were convinced that any nation had made up its mind to dominate the world by fear of its force, I should feel that it must be resisted," he meant it—but didn't believe. Since then he has come to believe. What has made him believe has been the method of Hitler. What has made him believe is the speed of Hitler.

Suez Canal Becomes Vital Point In Wars

Mussolini's Fascist anniversary speech, naming Suez as a Franco-Italian problem, officially opened the door for discussion of the long smouldering question of Italy's demanded share in the control of the strategic "ditch" between the Mediterranean and Red Seas. Premier Daladier's answer left the door open but insisted that Italy make the first move through it by specifying her colonial demands.

"The Suez Canal, a 160 mile 'hyphen' between West and East, is now operated by a private business concern, under concession from the Egyptian government through whose territory it runs," says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

Record Traffic In 1937

"This organization, known as the Compagnie Universelle du Canal Maritime de Suez, or Suez Canal Company, is controlled by a board of directors made up of 19 Frenchmen, 10 Englishmen, two Egyptians, and a Netherlander. Its shares, speaking the international language of finance, are largely divided between French investors and the British Government, with the remaining less than ten per cent scattered among a dozen nationalities.

"From the time of its official opening in 1869, the Suez Canal has been, except for an occasional setback, a living 'success story' of the sea.

"During its first season this narrow lockless waterway that separates Africa from Asia moved nearly 500 ships. In 1937, a banner year, more than 6,600 vessels, plus 1,600 local craft, passed through, representing a gross tonnage of some fifty million.

"Attracted by savings in distances that amount to thousands of miles, ships flying many flags carry through Suez the commerce of East and West. Westbound raw materials of wool, cotton and minerals are often manufactured and returned by the same route in the form of ores, textiles, and machinery. Along with the deluxe ships carrying world-cruise passengers come grimy coal barges and the graceful native sailing boats, busy with local work of fetching and carrying. So narrow is this strip of water through the desert that palatial liners must sometimes tie up and let the 'tramps,' whose passage for the moment is more essential, go by.

"Since Italy's venture in Ethiopia, that nation's shipments of troops and arms—and more lately colonists and supplies—have increased until Italy now ranks second only to Britain as a customer of the Canal.

"Because of her vast Eastern empire, Great Britain has a paramount interest in Suez, an interest guarded by military force, in accordance with a recent Anglo-Egyptian treaty. Yet England first opposed the building of the Canal and took few shares of the pioneer company, organized around the middle of the 19th century by the far-sighted French engineer, De Lesseps. It was not until the Canal had been running six years that the British Government bought (through the shrewd deal of its Prime Minister, Disraeli) the 176,602 shares of the Egyptian Khedive.

World-War Military Base

"One of the most interesting historic spots along the Suez Canal is Quantara, once a milestone on the ancient caravan lane that linked Africa and Asia. Here the Canal crosses the land route along which journeyed two Josephs told of in the Bible, one sold into Egypt by his brothers, the other husband of Mary.

"During the World War Quantara was a military base for British Tommies and their East Indian allies. Then the Canal was closed to Central Powers' shipping, although according to the Suez Canal Convention of 1888 and various international treaties, this waterway was 'always to be free and open, in time of war as

A house fly may lay a half dozen or more batches of eggs in one summer, each batch numbering from 120 to 150 eggs. In warm weather the eggs hatch in from eight to 24 hours, and in five days the insects are mature, ready to breed and carry on the work of propagation.

The osprey's food consists solely of fish, taken alive from near the surface of the water, by the powerful, clawed feet of the bird. The outer toes are reversible, like those of owls, and a fish has little chance to escape, once the talons of the osprey, or fish hawk, have closed on it.

Rep. John P. Esple, Republican, Eagle, the chairman, said the group felt it should reduce the $15,000,000 total for which the old age assistance bureau has asked to finance its work, and that this could be accomplished by erecting safeguards against "chiseling."

He said the committee also would fight for a provision permitting the state to take a prior lien on the estates of old age assistance clients, to make certain that the and where the money went. State's Attorney General Roy McKittick said he was told by Pendergast to approve the settlement.

Today's indictment charged Pendergast received $55,000 in 1935 "in connection with the compromise and settlement of the Missouri fire insurance rate litigation." A second count charged receipt of $260,000 in 1936.

The Pendergast organization already is under fire from two other sources.

Lawlessness Scored

Three county officials holding office with the support of Pendergast were indicted recently by a county grand jury. Prosecutor W. W. Graves, accused by Governor Stark of permitting lawless conditions in Kansas City which "smell to the high heavens," was indicted on a neglect of duty charge. A county judge and county supervisor were charged with allowing funds to be misappropriated.

Governor Stark has been the aggressor in a war for power which now swirls about the Kansas City police. Stark, charging Kansas City's police force has permitted gamblers to reap a harvest and prostitutes to operate within the shadow of the city hall, has asked the legislature to put control of the police department under the state.

Violation of the law under which Pendergast and O'Malley were indicted carries a maximum sentence of five years in prison and a maximum fine of $10,000 on each count.

SPILLING the DOPE

BY JOHNNY INKSLINGER

HERE'S A CLEVER BIT of sniping by Hank Chisholm of the Iron River Reporter at our personable pal, "Buck" Erickson of the Iron Mountain News.

"Buck" is always sticking his neck out but he knows how to take the jibes much to the delight of the neighborhood. Chisholm says:

"Mr. Jerome Hartley Erickson is a glittering asset to the sports desk of the Iron Mountain News. As a writer Mr. Erickson has stamped himself as bright, clever and versatile. His column 'In the Bag' is invariably filled with items of widespread interest. His ability to produce apt phrases is unquestioned.

"But I've an old grandmother who always counseled, 'The emptier the cart the louder the rattle'."

"When Mr. Erickson turns his talents away from press agency for Dickinson county and establishes himself as an authority on sports and journalism his droolings become as ridiculous as a Democrat trying to pare the budget. His knowledge of basketball is apparently confined to reading box scores and verifying names of players when the sports editor is absent. One of the cardinal rules of writing, "know your subject" is not included in the curriculum of the journalism school in the back shop of the News.

NAHMA STARTS TRACK WORK

Tobin Expects to Have Another Strong Aggregation

Nahma, Mich., April 7—The track team of the F. W. Good high school will start their training following the week of their Easter vacation. The team will be made up of Ray James, William Ritter, George La Brasseur, Jack Hruska, Robert McDonald, Arlo Loy, Keith Beauchamp, John Moberg, Edmund Bourgeois, Fred Blowers, and Joe Beveridge.

The boys plan on continuing last year's tactics, which were the placing first at Rock, Iron Mountain and Houghton and third at Lansing. The team was led by Dick La Brasseur, who won all events he entered except the broad jump at Lansing in which he took second place.

Donald Douville, Jack Tobin, Donald Raulis, and Ray James were also big factors. In last year's track team.

BASKETBALL BANQUET

The basket ball boys and coach, Bernard Tobin, will be the guest of honor at a banquet which the parents are sponsoring next Tuesday evening in the school dining hall.

The fathers will also be guests with the mothers entertaining. Cliff Frasher will be toast master. Short speeches will be given by faculty members and fathers. A social evening will follow the banquet.

HARDER TO START

New Orleans, La., April 7 (AP)—Manager Oscar Vitt of the Cleveland Indians named the veteran Mel Harder today as hurler in the Tribe's opening game at St. Louis April 18. Moundsman Bob Feller's initial performance will come three days later when the Indians open in Cleveland against the Detroit Tigers, Vitt said.

BENGALS WHIP DODGERS, 14-6

Greenberg Connects for Homer, 2 Singles; Bats In Five Runs

Sumter, S. C., April 7 (AP)—The prolonged batting slump that has gripped big Hank Greenberg all spring came to a sudden conclusion here today as the Detroit Tigers routed the Brooklyn Dodgers, 14 to 6, in the opening game of the Bengals' homeward trip.

Greenberg went to the plate four official times, connecting for a homer and two singles and batting in five runs. Sharing honors with the Bronx bomber was Charley Gehring, who got two doubles and two singles in four appearances.

Barney McCoskey bettered his chance of starting the opening American League game in center field by collecting four walks and being deprived of hits twice by spectacular fielding plays.

Greenberg's homer, his third of the exhibition game campaign, sailed over the centerfield fence 347 feet from home plate in the fifth inning. Fred (Dixie) Walker and Gehring were on base at the time.

Detroit hammered two Dodger pitchers for 16 hits to give George Coffman an easy victory. Coffman worked the first seven innings, yielding two runs and seven hits. Archie McKain followed and was unimpressive, to say the least, allowing six hits and four runs.

Ira Hutchinson started for the Dodgers and in the first five innings gave up eight hits and seven runs. Forrest Pressnell followed Hutchinson on the hill and was equally ineffective.

Both teams were guilty of poor fielding, committing three misplays each.

The Tigers tomorrow will meet the Dodgers at Augusta, Ga. Alton Benton, Detroit's most effective pitcher in spring drills, and Jimmy Lynn, recruit from Columbus of the American Association, are scheduled to hurl for Detroit.

Hockey Teams Sneer At Cup Race Rivals

Boston, April 7 (AP)—An exchange of sneers was the only aftermath of the Stanley cup hockey opening registered today by the Idding Boston Bruins and Toronto Maple Leafs.

Unaccustomed to such a lull when Toronto's Connie Smythe is in this vicinity, hockey writers called upon the resting Leafs to investigate their manager's unusual silence. These visitors were unable to ruffle Smythe, he is being too intent on revising his strategy for Sunday night's second game, but they did draw fire from some of his players.

After expressing regrets over their drab exhibition while going down to a 2-1 defeat last night, a Toronto spokesman expressed amazement that the Maple Leafs came so close to defeating the Bruins while playing so poorly.

"If that's the best the Bruins are going to show us, we've got the Stanley cup as good as won now," he boasted.

The Bruins, too, admitted they were far off form, and several of them marvelled that they won under such conditions.

"It's a good thing we were not playing the Rangers last night," said Gordon Pettinger. "We were hitting on only two cylinders all night. If that's the best the Maple Leafs can do against our worst, they may as well give up now. We couldn't possibly be that easy again in this series."

Canny Conroy Weiland, the Bruins' captain and assistant manager, was much more tolerant about his team's winning methods.

"After all this is Stanley cup hockey," he explained, "and we're much more interested in winning than we are in providing thrills for the spectators, as we have done, to our sorrow, in the last four playoffs with Toronto. We want that cup and the only way we can get it is by out-scoring the Leafs. What did we ever get by merely out-playing them?"

Probably because it was a dull game, neither team suffered any serious injuries. Both sides had the usual quota of minor cuts, Eddie Shore's gashed leg. That would, however, will not prevent the Boston all-star defenseman from appearing in Sunday's starting lineup.

Stars Heading For Southland

Big Schools Offering Big Inducements to College Aces

BY JERRY BRONFIELD
NEA Service Sports Writer
Chicago—The gold rush of '49 was in a westward direction, but the new gold rush of the sports world is swinging into Dixie. Any high school boy who can pack a football will tell you that.

Southward lie the opportunities for boys who, because of financial limitations, are able to gain a college education only through athletic ability.

From the east, and Midwest in particular, comes the wall that southern schools are raising orders for athletic talent in a manner unprecedented. As a result, the south may become the leading athletic district, with a subsequent weakening of the Big Ten, eastern leagues and other conferences.

"Without placing the finger of blame on the south, or any section of the country," says Major John L. Griffith, Big Ten Commissioner of Athletics, "the athletic recruiting situation has grown to such serious proportions that the National Collegiate Athletic Association in desperation soon will be forced to do something about it."

"Unchallenged recruiting is the first step to the paid player—our big menace. The paid athlete in time will result in a decline of intercollegiate football. The logic is too apparent to far-seeing athletes heads."

SCHEDULE MAKERS WILL HAVE TROUBLE

"Smaller schools won't be able to get material," Griffith warns. "Some of them already have given up on football, and others will soon have to. Schedule making will become difficult. Schools will be forced to play certain teams—will never be able to schedule others."

And the answer? Griffith will only hazard a guess. "I'm not acting as its spokesman, but the N. C. A. A. probably will have two or three suggestions to work on when it meets this May."

It may be that N. C. A. A. members will be forbidden to schedule violators—schools that pay their athletes.

"There's some talk of tossing them out of the National Collegiate Athletic Association altogether. That would be a terrific club to hold over their heads. It means they wouldn't be allowed to enter track, basketball, swimming and all other national tournaments sponsored by the N. C. A. A."

"However," says Griffith, "please don't think the Big Ten is assuming a holier-than-thou attitude, or that we're trying to do missionary work. But if other conferences can profit by our example, so much the better."

Oldest of the 70-odd athletic leagues in the country, the Western Conference is probably the most rigid in its administration of athletics. So rigid, in fact, that Griffith hints the loop fathers may be forced to loosen up a bit.

Wherever a Big Ten athlete has a part-time job, Griffith's office keeps a file on the number of hours he works and the amount of money earned. This guards against athletes receiving salaries without putting in actual time on the job.

FEW JOBS AVAILABLE IN SMALL TOWNS

This system will be retained but one bone of contention probably will be removed by deciding that it will be okay for coaches and athletic heads to actually go out and line up jobs for the boys. There has been a rule against this in the past, but the spirit of the law has been broken so much now, that all hypocrisy will be removed to allow institutions free rein in placing athletes.

As it is, schools such as Illinois, Iowa, and Indiana are located in small towns, where job opportunities hardly can compare with big city schools like Minnesota, Ohio State and Northwestern, consistently successful in athletics.

"However," Griffith remarks, "I don't think we'll ever beat southern hospitality."

LEAGUE RACES PROVE PUZZLE

First Division Seems Overcrowded In Advance Dope

BY WHITNEY MARTIN
New York, April 7 (AP)—The American League argument centers on the order of finish behind the Yankees, but the National has its own little problem. It concerns the order of finish ahead of the Phillies.

Touring through the south this investigator tried to get some ideas as to what other thought of the National League race.

Here are a few of the opinions, most of them emphatic: "It will be between the Giants and the Bees. How are they going to stop that Giant power?"

"The Cubs were good enough to win last year. They should be favorites this year."

"The Reds are due. They have everything—power and pitching. Don't overlook the Cardinals. They have speed and youth—and Medwick and Mize."

"You'll have to put the Pirates in second place at least."

"Brooklyn will be in there scrapping. The Dodgers have the best infield in the league."

That gives seven of the clubs a chance, indicating the first division is going to be a little overcrowded. Only the Phils were neglected.

Leo Durocher is talking a fine race for his Dodgers, and even the rugged Casey Stengel dreams of the first division for his Bees. At that, the Bees would be cinches if they could play all their games at home. Their park is a pitcher's paradise, with its far fences and the breezes whipping in behind the chuckers to put wings and a tail on their fast ones. The Bees won 45 and lost 30 at home last year to lead the league, but the Cubs won 45 and lost 30 on the road, and we still have a leaning toward a club that can go into the other fellow's back yard and make faces.

The differences of opinion did point definitely to one thing, however—another tight race for the privilege of meeting the Yankees next October.

Waner Returning To Pirates Fold

Sarasota, Fla., April 7 (AP)—Paul Waner, a stubborn holdout from the Pittsburgh Pirates during the spring training season, said at his winter home here tonight he was preparing to leave tomorrow for New Orleans where he expects to come to terms with the Pirates' front office in short order.

Waner indicated he would accept the terms offered by President Bill Benavenger some time ago. Waner's first contract called for a 45 per cent salary cut, which he returned, but a later contract raised the offering by 20 per cent.

This is the third time Waner has missed spring practice during his 13 year major career. Twice he joined the club in Texas on his way east and during one of those years he had his best season.

Waner has been working out regularly here for several weeks. He said today his wife already had taken an apartment in Pittsburgh for the season, and "I expect to be in right field for the Pirates on the opening day unless they have a better player."

Michigan's Game Ends In Darkness

Wake Forest, N. C., April 7 (AP)—Darkness ended Michigan's first baseball game of its 1939 southern tour after an 11-inning draw today with Wake Forest. The score was 4-4.

The Wolves led most of the way but Wake Forest tied it up in the ninth. Irvin Masgor, Michigan second baseman, got a home run. The southern moundmen issued 13 walks.

CASTING KINKS

By Harold Hollis
There are few anglers who at some time during their fishing have not wished they had used a little more care on a certain cast or had done a bit more practicing before the season opened. The skilled caster does the right thing at the right time, but the average angler makes unfortunate mistakes which lose good fish for him and otherwise cause him trouble.

By keeping fit during the off season and practicing regularly even when there is no fishing, the caster can make good casting an automatic function and instinctively handle his rod correctly when he gets into difficult going. Through force of correct habit he will place his lures where he wants to and avoid getting his line hung up on some tree or other object. He will know better than to suffer a back lash when a big fish is lurking in wait for a strike.

Bushes and trees form real hazards. In the off season the novice should practice casts which will help him to avoid these trouble-makers. On fine days he can practice outdoors, and in inclement weather he can use gymnasiums or other high-ceilinged buildings.

Often by devoting himself to casting practice indoors for an hour, the fisherman can learn more than in many hours of casting for fish. When he is actually fishing, the fish come first in his thoughts rather than casting form. If he has no distractions, he can overcome many a weakness and apply the proper theories of casting.

Wall as Hazard

The caster may use a wall to take the place of banks and trees and work until he is able to lay his lure just where it should go. The rather difficult roll cast will be found very helpful and can be mastered indoors. If the wall is a foot or two behind him, the angler can't use a good overhead cast. He is forced to use the roll. To make the roll cast let the line hang from the rod tip as usual, but drop the tip a little behind. Then bring the rod forward with a quick snap. The lure will be sent out, and by diligent practice accuracy will soon be attained. Bushes won't be a worry if the roll cast is in the repertory. This cast should not be used for distance, but comes in handy close to banks and in streams.

The overhead cast is the basic style and should not be neglected. Drilling in the off season will increase accuracy and distance unsurprisingly.

Fly casting loses its mystery when practiced under the conditions described above. It is not nearly so difficult as it seems. As in any sport, confidence is needed. If the caster builds a reasonable background of practice, good results are assured. Copyright 1939, North American Sportsman's Bureau, Inc.

COUNTIES WILL RECEIVE MONEY

Conservation Department Distributes $9,106.21 In Forest Funds

A check for $9,106.21, representing one-fourth of the receipts from cuttings on national forest lands in Michigan has been received by the Conservation Department for distribution to the counties.

The money will be turned over to those counties in which revenue was derived from national forest lands with 75 per cent going to the school funds and 25 per cent to the road funds of the counties involved. The amount going to each county is determined by the amount of revenue derived from forest lands within the county boundaries.

Leading all other Michigan National forests was the Huron, which brought receipts to the counties totaling $4,427.17. Second was the Hiawatha with $2,244.67. The Ottawa turned over $1,756.53; the Manistee, $465.85 and the Marquette $211.33.

The total turned over to the counties represents a considerable increase over the preceding year when 25 per cent of the revenues received from cutting amounted to only $7,752.11. This gain was largely due to the increased amount of work done in the Hiawatha National Forest which produced only $269.15 in 1937 as compared to a final total of $2,244.67 during 1938.

All national forests in Michigan show an increase in forest acreage as compared to their area in the previous year. The additional holding came through purchases to fill up blocks of land and, in certain instances, through the exchange of holdings outside national forest areas for blocks of land under control of the lands division of the department of conservation.

Complete Cadavers Of Rubber Molded For Medical Study

Boston, April 7 (AP)—Rubber "cadavers"—molded with "great fidelity" from human organs and complete even to the inclusion of muscles made of rubber bands—were seen today as aids to doctors of the future by two New York university scientists, who said "they might prove better than anything we now have."

Asserting they already had made "spongy rubber" replicas of many human organs, Drs. Gustav J. Noback and Irving Rehman said they now were working toward construction of a composite "rubber phantom," designed to "allow study of muscle stretching and joint movement lost in hard materials and in some cadavers."

They added, however, the rubber cadavers would not displace human cadavers now used in the dissecting room.

Noback said the rubber organs were cast from new-type molds, made by spraying liquid rubber "like whitewash" on human organs to produce "faithful duplication of every wrinkle."

Film Veteran Asks Aid To Hunt Wife, Missing Over Week

Hollywood, April 7 (AP)—Mary Desmond, former stage and screen actress, has been missing from her home since the evening of March 31, her husband, William Desmond, veteran of cinema thrillers, informed police today. He asked that they conduct a search for her.

Desmond told police his wife left their apartment to go to a store and failed to return. He said he had checked all their friends in vain.

Mrs. Desmond, who is in her late thirties, disappeared from her home once before in January of 1932, the husband said, but returned safely after an absence of a day. He reported then she suffered a nervous breakdown after an attack of influenza.

Ex-Purple Gunman And Wife Get Long Prison Sentences

Detroit, April 7 (AP)—Long prison sentences were given by Federal Judge Edward J. Moineau today to a former Detroit Purple gangster, his wife, and a New York gunman already under sentence to die in New York for murder. The trio were found guilty by a jury of having violated the national firearms act.

Louis Fleish, alias Fleisher, and Sidney Markman, who is sentenced to die at Sing Sing prison for killing a New York poultry dealer, were given thirty-year terms. Neille Fleish, wife of Louis, was sentenced to 10 years. The two men were found guilty of possession of unregistered machine guns and six silencers. Mrs. Fleish was found guilty of altering serial numbers on guns.

In addition to the prison terms Markman and Fleish were fined $2,000 each.

Woman, 70, Swims Mile For Rescue

Sarasota, Fla., April 7 (AP)—A 70-year-old woman was acclaimed heroine today of a boating misadventure on the Gulf of Mexico although her efforts turned out needless.

A member of a fishing party of four, helplessly adrift on the gulf overnight after their craft developed motor trouble, the septuagenarian, Miss Louise Remington, gamely plunged overboard and swam a mile to shore to summon aid.

As she reached land nearly exhausted, she learned the party had been sighted by another boat and was being rescued. The others were Miss Remington's brother, H. S. V. Remington, and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Hardesty, all of Sarasota. Miss Remington suffered no ill effects from her experience.

Applications for mortgage insurance during March totaled $11,535,400, Foley said, exceeding the highest previous month's figure by approximately $2,000,000.

Of the total, Foley said, 1,541 were for residences and 1,018 for other construction.

Foley said greatest increases in construction were reported in the vicinity of Flint, Saginaw, Midland, Mt. Pleasant, Grand Rapids, Wyandotte and Mt. Clemens and in the Upper Peninsula.

BRITAIN PROTESTS

London, April 7 (AP)—British officials feared tonight that Italy's invasion of Albania was a first step in a new Rome-Berlin plan to dominate the Balkans and smash Britain's projected grand alliance against aggression.

Foreign office officials said Italy had reassured Britain two days ago that she had no wish to change the status quo in Albania, and tonight, although there was no official announcement, it was believed the foreign office had instructed its ambassador in Rome, the Earl of Perth, to make a vigorous formal protest to Italy.

Both the Anglo-Italian gentlemen's agreement of 1937 and the Anglo-Italian agreement of 1938 pledged the parties to preservation of the status quo in the Mediterranean area.

Nevertheless, it was generally accepted that even if Premier Mussolini forces Albania back into a Roman empire after an absence of more than 2,000 years, Britain will do nothing effective to stop it.

Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax cancelled his scheduled Easter vacation to be in London in case the axis powers decide to move again within the next few days.

David, 33. All gave Miami addresses.

Guests and employes who were trussed up with adhesive tape in the lobby of the beach hotel in the early morning hold-up said the bandits numbered five, one of whom carried a sub-machine gun.
