

PEACE HOPE SEEN IN DUCE'S SPEECH

DOTSCH LINKS PSC MEMBER WITH MC KAY

PRIMARY BALLOT ON 'CABINET' LOSES BY 2 VOTES

Lansing, April 20 (AP)—A three-man committee of the house of representatives prepared today to "cooperate" with Attorney General Thomas Read in an investigation of the financing of the Blue Water International bridge, while a Democratic senator introduced a resolution demanding a related inquiry into the "fitness" of Ivan E. Hull of Grand Rapids to sit on the public service commission.

Help Offered Read

Hull was appointed to the public service commission by the late Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald but did not take office until recently when the supreme court upheld the ouster of the old public utilities commission and its replacement with the public service commission.

While that resolution was being sent to a senate committee, a house committee composed of Reps. Nelson A. Miles, Republican, Holland, F. Jack Neller, Republican, Battle Creek, and John F. Hamilton, Democrat, Detroit, were offering their services to read for the investigation of the Blue Water bridge bonds.

McKay was linked with a Toledo bond firm, Stranahan, Harris & Co., which floated a bond issue that financed the Port Huron span.

Representative Miles said the committee as yet had made no plans as to how it would proceed. It had not yet met with Read.

No Resale Profits

Meanwhile, George C. Watson, counsel for the state bridge commission, and a former member of the legislature, denied reports that Stranahan, Harris & Co. had profited by the purchase and resale to the bridge commission of the Port Huron-Sarnia Ferry company and the St. Clair Transit company, which owned a Canadian franchise for the construction of a bridge at that point.

The Toledo bond house paid $689,560 for the Ferry company and $149,000 for the Transit company and sold them both to the bridge commission for the same amount, Watson asserted.

Watson declared that from October, 1935, to January, 1937, his firm of Watson and Tappan had been paid $10,000 for legal services in connection with the bridge deal, that from January, 1938, un-

Falls Of Ontonagon May Be Turned Off And On Like Faucet

Lansing, April 20 (AP)—Industrialists and esthetes compromised today, and as a result the Bond and Agate Falls, situated on the middle branch of the Ontonagon river, will be turned on like a faucet during the long summer days, when there are tourists to enjoy the sight, and off—but not quite off, so that fish may yet survive—at night and during the winter months.

The conservation commission approved the novel plan, suggested by a power company, that is constructing a dam above the falls. All that remains is a circuit court's formal sanction of a consent decree ending the commission's squabble with the Copper District Power Co. of Ontonagon over flowage rights.

The dispute arose a year ago, when conservationists charged the dam threatened the natural beauty of the falls and would menace fish life. The commission, finally asked the attorney general to obtain a court determination of the respective rights of state and company, but today's settlement was expected to cut short the litigation.

Under the terms of the settlement, the company agrees to maintain a minimum flow of 35 cubic feet of water per second over the falls. In summer, however, the rate must be increased to 90 cubic feet, nearly half again the "normal flow" as estimated by engineers.

The commission also adopted a system of license tags for small game hunters. Michigan deer hunters have been required to wear their license tags in the past, and the practice has been extended to small game hunters in three other states in an effort to discourage law violations and enable farmers to check up on trespassers.

The commission re-elected William H. Loutit of Grand Haven chairman and reappointed Hoffman and Wayland Osgood, deputy chairmen. Purchase of two state park properties received approval.

COUNTY LOCKUP BLAZE KILLED 3

Prisoners in Confusion As Fire Breaks Out In Worcester, Mass.

Worcester, Mass., April 20 (AP)—Three prisoners died in underground cells tonight and at least 15 were injured when a fire broke out in a wing of the Worcester county jail.

Sheriff H. Oscar Rocheleau, head jailer, said a prisoner may have set the blaze, which Deputy Fire Chief Fred S. Taylor reported was started by matches in a "padded cell" two levels below the ground.

The three victims were the only prisoners confined on the first level. A guard believed two inmates escaped during the confusion, despite a cordon of hastily-summoned police.

There was a babel of shouts that could be heard outside the jail, with the 250 prisoners yelling and yammering at their keepers, as 86 men were taken from the burning north wing to the safety of other sections of the institution.

The horrified screams of the confined men gave the alarm. Guards immediately began releasing the 86 men in the wing by opening cells one at a time, but the heat barred approach to the cells beneath the ground level.

Firemen were barred briefly from reaching the fire by a metal screen, behind which guards were herding prisoners as they were being transferred to the east wing of the building.

Kalamazoo Blossom Queen Is Selected

Kalamazoo, Mich., April 20 (AP)—Anna Belle Dykstra, 18, Kalamazoo brunette, defeated 15 other girls tonight for the title of Miss Kalamazoo and the right to compete in the blossom festival queen contest at Benton Harbor April 26.

Miss Dykstra, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Dykstra, works in a pharmaceutical laboratory.

TOO MANY PHEASANTS

Marshall, Mich., April 20 (AP)—Raymond Hammond reported to the state conservation commission, as directed, that he had killed nine pheasants last season. Conservation officers, thinking Hammond had erred, pointed out that the legal limit was six, but Hammond maintained that he had killed nine. Taken before justice he pleaded guilty and accepted a 15-day jail term in lieu of a $33 fine.

TRUNKLINE BILL GIVEN BACKING

Commissioners Prefer County Maintenance of All Highways

Lansing, April 20 (AP)—County Highway Commissioners today approved at a senate hearing a bill to return trunk line maintenance to the counties, arguing that state administration had resulted in increased expense.

J. T. Sharpsteen, president of the Upper Peninsula Road Commissioners' Association, declared that the cost of maintenance in Upper Peninsula counties in which the work was done by the state increased 71 per cent between 1933 and 1937.

He declared maintenance costs in 42 counties which supervised their own work increased only 34 per cent.

Sharpsteen's remarks were supported by representatives of Schoolcraft, Chippewa, Ontonagon and Delta counties.

Otto Hess, Kent county highway engineer, declared "we can only guess why the state wanted to take over trunk line maintenance. They never criticized us for the job we did in the old days."

Hess asserted that Kent county maintenance costs increased from $83,743 in 1934 to $107,068 in 1936, and to $125,322 in 1937. He declared the county could have maintained its own trunk lines in 1937 for $100,000.

Rep. Maurice E. Post, Republican, Rockford, declared the state maintenance system had resulted in duplicated effort in Kent county.

Bedridden 15 Years, Notre Dame Man To Visit French Shrine

Detroit, April 20 (AP)—A 32-year-old man who has been bedridden with a broken neck nearly 15 years may achieve his desire to go to the Grotto of Miracles at Lourdes, France.

David Van Wallace, who lives in nearby Mt. Clemens, Mich., suffered the injury when he dove into Lake St. Clair on July 4, 1924. He attended the University of Notre Dame and Detroit alumni gave him a specially-built automobile with a cot so he can attend athletic events.

Howard F. Beechnor, president of the Notre Dame club of Detroit, announced today that it will conduct a drive to raise $5,000 to finance a trip to the French shrine. His mother and a nurse would accompany Van Wallace.

Native Of Escanaba Famed As Engineer, Is Dead In New York

New York, April 20 (AP)—Joseph A. Sargeant, 66, once consulting engineer for a number of European countries and recently PWA supervising engineer on the Lincoln tunnel here, died today.

A native of Escanaba, Mich., he served in the Spanish-American and World wars and at various times acted in a supervising capacity on reconstruction projects in Belgium, France, Spain, Poland and central Europe.

From 1903 to 1906 he served as the U. S. reclamation service engineer on the Gunnison tunnel, known as the longest irrigation tunnel in the world. In 1920-1920 he worked on reclamation projects in Brazil, and established irrigation and power projects in South America.

ADVICE GIVEN ON AIRPLANES BY LINDBERGH

NEED OF RESEARCH EMPHASIZED BY NOTED FLIER

Washington, April 20 (AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh advised army, navy and civilian aeronautics officials today that the United States should use every effort to clinch world leadership in plane development.

Reporting to the national advisory committee for aeronautics on strides made by Germany and other nations, the flier was said by officials to have advised more emphasis on research in the United States.

Lindbergh attended the session of the NACA executive committee, of which he is a member, after a 25-minute talk at the White House with President Roosevelt.

Quality First

Some of his hearers quoted him as saying it was vital that the United States develop superior types of military and civil aircraft. The tenor of his remarks was that quality was more essential at present than quantity.

He said that in an emergency production could be speeded up but it might be too late to develop quality.

Congress has approved a program to expand the army air force to 6,000 planes in two years.

Lindbergh's reported views reinforced a plea by the NACA for $10,000,000 to establish a new research station at Sunnyvale, Cal., to supplement the existing research center at Langley Field, Va.

Talk Kept Secret

At the White House, Colonel Lindbergh, temporarily an active army officer to make a survey of air research facilities, reported to his commander-in-chief, presumably on European aviation advances.

The flier shed no more light on his other activities since he undertook yesterday a survey of American air research facilities as a temporarily active army officer.

Later, with army and navy officials, Orville Wright, pioneer inventor, and other aviation leaders, he attended a session of the national advisory committee for aeronautics and was informed of advances in research made in the last six months by that organization.

Lindbergh arrived at the White House in a small army car driven by a soldier. An informal flight in a gray suit and blue shirt, he waited in an anteroom for a half hour while the chief executive caught up with a crowded calling list.

Will Visit Airfields

Just before he received Lindbergh, the president talked with

Traffic Toll

Mt. Clemens, Mich., April 20 (AP)—Assistant Prosecutor Howard R. Carroll tonight ordered an inquest into the death of Frank E. Moore, 50, who was killed Tuesday night in a freak automobile accident.

Moore, who lived near Mt. Clemens, had called a wrecker to pull his automobile from a ditch. A second car crashed into Moore's machine. Later, when the wrecker pulled Moore's car away, his body was found beneath it. Police believe Moore was knocked under his automobile when the collision occurred and lay there unnoticed until the wrecker moved the car.

Senate Approval Given To Bridge At Mackinac

Washington, April 20 (AP)—A bill authorizing Michigan to construct a bridge across Mackinac Straits received senate approval today while the span's proponents were urging a committee to recommend that similar action be taken in the house.

Representative Chapman (D-Ky), chairman of a house commerce subcommittee which conducted a hearing on the proposal today, announced that additional testimony would be received later. He did not fix a date.

The additional hearing was planned for congressmen who indicated a desire to appear on the bill, Chapman said.

Topped by a swastika, its blade over five inches long and marked by a slogan meaning "Blood and Honor," this dagger was obtained in a German-American Bund camp by an investigator for the Non-Sectarian Anti-Nazi league, according to the league.

The organization maintains that such daggers are now being issued to the members of the youth division of the Bund.

TRICK LICENSE PLATES BANNED

County Initial Letters To Be Eliminated On Tags for 1940

Lansing, April 20 (AP)—Secretary of State Harry F. Kelly today drastically revised the automobile license plate system of the state, outlawing "trick" advertising plates, and setting up a "scientific" basis for the preparation of license tags.

Kelly said the present system of marking license plates with the first two letters of a county's name was being dropped and that hereafter the plates would be issued in a sequence, each county to have an established sequence for the benefit of law enforcement officers.

He said the 1940 plates would be combinations of two letters and four numerals, each set of two separated by a dash. Thus, "AA-10-00." That number, Kelly said, will be the lowest and the sequences then will run "AB-10-00 etc."

The 1940 plates will be black numerals on a silver background, while the half-year plates will be yellow on a black background. The plates will be larger, with numerals designed to accommodate easy reading.

Kelly said he has ordered 1940 plates now and that there will be no "trick" plates made.

ARMED MIGHT PARADED FOR ADOLF HITLER

BERLIN'S BIRTHDAY SHOW GREATEST IN HISTORY

(By The Associated Press)

Berlin, April 20.—Reichsfuehrer Hitler, in a display of armed might obviously intended to impress a nervous world with the vastness of Nazi preparedness, today celebrated his 50th birthday with the greatest military parade in Berlin's history.

For four and one-half hours the clatter of grim engines of destruction, the tramp of 40,000 soldiers and the roar of squadrons of warplanes dinned into the ears of several hundred thousand spectators.

Crowd Over Million

Enthusiastic Nazis said the throngs that lined the three-mile route along the "Avenue of Splendor," Berlin's new boulevard from the old imperial castle to the technology school exceeded 1,000,000.

The fuhrer was visibly stirred by the acclamation of the crowds as he stood with arm upraised in Nazi salute to review the great parade.

With him in the reviewing stand in front of the technology school were his staff, headed by Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering and Grand Admiral Erich Raeder, chief of staff of the navy; foreign military attaches stationed in Berlin, including the attache of the United States embassy, and official delegations from 20 nations.

One of the host of gifts that arrived in tribute to the World War corporal who became "augmentor of the reich"—builder of greater Germany—was an honorary citizenship in the Free City of Danzig.

Greetings From Danzig (Hitler has increased Germany's area and population by about one-fourth in the past 14 months—from 67,000,000 inhabitants to 87,000,000 and from 208,000 square miles to 260,000.)

Hitler received the Danzig honorary citizenship from Albert Foerster, Nazi district leader of the once-German free city, shortly before the parade began.

Rumors for days had said that the fuhrer would receive not only citizenship but Danzig itself as a birthday tribute but he celebrated his milestone without adding any more territory to his empire.

With the honorary citizenship, however, Foerster made an allusion that might be interpreted as expressing what Danzig Nazis have in mind. He brought Hitler tidings of the Baltic Sea in which Poland has a vital interest and said:

"In the last few years, from all points of view, you have done isolated Danzig Germans so much good that it long has been our most fervent desire to give you outward expression of our thankfulness.

"Today the time has arrived, my fuhrer, when we are able to give you this thanks before the entire world."

Hitler, in reply, so far as was made public, merely thanked Foerster and asked him to transmit expression of his gratitude and greetings to the people of Danzig.

Suspect In Detroit Letter Threats Is Held In Minneapolis

Detroit, April 20 (AP)—Minneapolis police notified the Detroit police department tonight that they were holding a man wanted here for questioning concerning threats received by the state corrections commissioner and a Detroit judge.

The father of a state prisoner of Southern Michigan inmate had been sought since Hilmer Gelein, the corrections commissioner, and Recorder's Judge George Murphy revealed last week that they had received threats by phone and in the mail.

Civil Service Bill Passes At Lansing; More Votes Needed

Lansing, April 20 (AP)—The Michigan senate, speeding up its action, approved the controversial civil service bill tonight by a 20-to-7 vote along party lines.

The chamber also adopted amendments adding exemptions of various classifications of employees, removed the entire unclassified service from the jurisdiction of the civil service commission and liberalized veterans' preference provisions.

The senate's newest member, Carl W. Bishoff, of Detroit, was the only Democrat voting for the measure.

Republicans were unable to muster sufficient votes to make it effective immediately, with four absentees, and said they would make another endeavor tomorrow.

The senate reinstated a house provision for veterans' preference that goes the federal civil service law one better. As amended, the bill gives war veterans an additional 10 percent on examinations toward the passing grade for employment; disabled veterans receive 15 percent. All former service men who receive passing grades automatically would be placed at the top of eligible registers.

Wardens Exempted

A ban upon political activities among state employees was stiffened to forbid classified employees from participating to any extent "whatsoever." This provision was amended to apply only during working hours.

Field employees of the conservation department—four hundred of them, including game and fire wardens—were added to the list of exemptions from civil service regulations.

A squabble over salaries to be paid civil service commissioners ended with the adoption of a $15 per diem scale, the number of days to be compensated being unlimited for two years and restricted to 48 days in any one year thereafter.

Senator Henry F. Shea, Larium Democrat, topped off debate on the measure with an "amendment to end all amendments." He proposed, in facetious vein, that "no employe of the state of Michigan shall come under this act."

Five Democrats voted for Shea's proposal, while Senator Otto W. Bishop, Alpena Republican, called attention to the division as being "strictly on party lines."

"After all," retorted Senator James D. Dotsch, of Garden, the Democratic floor leader, "no civil service would be better than this farce we have just been through."

STATE'S BUYING IS UNDER CHECK

Harmony Reigns As New Purchasing Chief Assumes Duties

Lansing, April 20 (AP)—Grant M. Hudson, former "dry" congressman from Lansing, took over the sole administration of state purchases today while harmony reigned among administrative officials who have been squabbling over purchasing policies.

At a meeting of the purchasing committee of the administrative board today, Auditor General Vernon J. Brown, Attorney General Thomas Read and State Treasurer Miller Duncel harmoniously pursued a policy of tightening the state's buying procedure.

Brown had charged previously that state purchasing was being conducted "unwisely." Duncel had accused him of seeking to create a reputation which would carry him to the governor's chair.

Hudson attended the meeting after receiving from Governor Dickinson a "clarifying" letter which declared that Hudson was "in entire charge as the director and managing head of the state purchases . . . subject only to the approval of the state administrative board."

Lawrence A. Niendorf of Colon, secretary of the administrative board who has handled the purchasing since Jan. 1, attended but took little part in the discussions. Just what duties were left to him was not clear.

APPEAL MADE BY PRESIDENT IS RIDICULED

SOVIETS TAKE SIDE OF FRANCE AND ENGLAND

(By The Associated Press)

Rome, April 20.—Premier Mussolini today cited plans for a world exposition in Rome in 1942 as proof that Italy expected at least three years of peace but declared President Roosevelt's proposal for ten-year non-aggression guarantees was "absurd."

"If we were cherishing aggressive designs, we would not be dedicating ourselves x x x to work of such cast proportions," Il Duce told directors of the exposition assembled to report on their progress.

Reply Uncertain

Mussolini used one sentence to pose the uncertainty of a reply to President Roosevelt's appeal of last Saturday and to emphasize the policy of the Rome-Berlin axis as one of peace.

"Whether or not any reply is sent to the well-known message I cannot pass up this occasion," he said, "to reaffirm that the policy of Rome and of the axis is a policy inspired by the criterions of peace and of collaboration, of which Germany and Italy have given many concrete proofs."

Nowhere in the speech, which was delivered in Julius Caesar hall of the capitol and broadcast, did he mention President Roosevelt's name though he referred to "the well-known message" and, at another point, to "messiah-like messages."

Guarantee Called Absurd

But after citing the 1942 exposition plans as "a promising indication that we do not intend to attack anyone," Il Duce declared: "It is therefore absolutely unjust and unjustifiable from any point of view to attempt to place nations of the axis on the pedestal of the accused."

"No less absurd is the proposal of reciprocal guarantees lasting ten years which do not take into account the pyramidal errors of geography into which individuals have fallen who have not even the most rudimentary knowledge of European affairs."

"For the proposed expansive conference in which the United States would limit itself effectively to its customary role of distant spectator, experience gives us some bitter lessons on this score: namely that the greater the number of conferees the most certainly there is of failure."

Despite Mussolini's references to the Roosevelt proposals, the speech was widely accepted as reassuring by both Italian and foreign quarters.

RUSSIA WILLING

London, April 20 (AP)—Soviet Russia was reported reliably tonight to have sent the British foreign office proposals which indicated Soviet willingness to participate in the British-French coalition.

A source usually well informed said that "the entire forces" of the three nations would be pledged to resist any aggression in Europe if the proposals were accepted.

The Soviet proposals, which countered those put forward in Moscow by the British ambassador, Sir William Seeds to Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinoff, were being considered by the British foreign office.

It was reported also that talks with Turkey were progressing. Thus some quarters believed that if agreement could be reached with Moscow, Britain shortly would be able to announce the inclusion of two new allies—one

In the Headlines From Washington

State department officers, despite Mussolini's disdainful reaction to President Roosevelt's peace plea, said the way was not finally barred to collaboration for European peace.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), accused the Roosevelt administration of "ballyhooing" the foreign situation "to take the minds of the people off their troubles at home."

Marriner S. Eccles, chairman of the Federal Reserve System, urged congress to revise the government's silver purchasing program, saying the United States should stop paying a premium price for foreign silver.

The senate delayed until Monday consideration of the new relief bill while its Author, Senator Byrnes (D-S. C.), worked on amendments.

MINSTREL HERE THIS EVENING

Annual E-Men's Show At Junior High School At 8:15 O'clock

The E-men of Escanaba high school will present their ninth annual minstrel show this evening at the William W. Oliver Memorial auditorium in the junior high school starting at 8:15 o'clock.

A matinee for grade school children will be presented at 3:30 this afternoon.

Although the ticket sale has been heavy, there are still many good seats available.

Frank Bender will serve as inter-locutor, feeding six clever blackfaced end men, Thor Nilsen, Bob Barron, Elroy Andrews, James L'Heureaux, Evans Bergquist and Charles Thatcher.

Songs to be sung by the principals, who will be assisted by a circle of 35 E-men, will be as follows:

Thor Nilsen—Morning Cy. When Paw Was Courtin' Maw. Bob Barron—I Want My Mammy. Little Sir Echo.

Elroy Andrews—Flat River Girl (A lumber song of the U. P.). Hold Tight.

James L'Heureaux—Black Cat Blues. There's a Hole in the Old Oaken Bucket.

Evans Bergquist—Timber. I Must See Annie Tonight.

Frank Bender—Under Southern Skies. Umbrella Man. Charles Thatcher—Take Your Clothes and Go. You Must Have Been a Beautiful Baby.

Duet, Charles Thatcher and James L'Heureaux—Who? Me?

Dickinson Attends Conference, Tells Solons To Be Good

Lansing, April 20 (AP)—Governor Dickinson will leave tomorrow for a five-day stay at a Methodist church unity conference in Kansas City, carrying with him the assurance of legislators that they would keep out of trouble in his absence.

Dickinson appeared before a senate caucus this afternoon to wish the chamber good-bye.

"I just wanted to be sure before leaving that things are going to move along all right here without me," the 50-year-old executive declared.

In his absence, Secretary of State Harry F. Kelly will act as governor.

Dickinson is a lay delegate to a conference of the Methodist Episcopal, Methodist Protestant and Methodist Episcopal, South, churches.

Jackson Publisher Leaves Million To Education, Charity

Jackson, Mich., April 20 (AP)—A trust fund of more than a million dollars to be used for educational and charitable enterprises in Jackson county was left by John George, Jr., retired Jackson publisher who died Sunday in a Cleveland hospital, it was revealed today with filing of the will in probate court.

Norman E. Leslie, executor of the estate, said the fund would be held in trust to be used as a loan fund for needy Jackson county young persons who desired a college education.

Leslie said the will stipulated that any income from the fund in excess of $10,000 is to be distributed by the trustees among "needy and worthy mothers with small children" or to "worthy and needy men and women."

Relatives and various individuals were left bequests totaling $35,000.

Previous to horseshoeing, horses' hooves were covered with socks or sandals.

Chemurgy and Future

New Uses for Cotton Are Hope Offered Surplus-Smothered South

This is the third of six stories on Chemurgy, science's contribution to the task of restoring the farmer to prosperity.

BY PAUL FRIGGENS NEA Service Staff Writer Cotton is chemurgy's greatest challenge in the south.

The economic welfare of the south is centered around the cotton industry and the industry is facing the gravest crisis in its history.

There is a surplus of more than 11,500,000 bales of American cotton in the current crop. Foreign cotton production is rising steadily, increasing some 80 per cent since 1928. There is a marked decrease in the export of domestic cotton to foreign spinners at the same time.

So the American situation calls for drastic action.

Three solutions, one of which is chemurgy's, may be considered. The United States might launch a program to increase its cotton exports, a plan unlikely to succeed in the face of present world conditions. It might curtail production to the 7,000,000 bales consumed annually. Or finally, the industry may turn to wholesale development of new uses for cotton. Chemurgy sees the real hope in this last direction.

Chemurgy sees this hope because already it has developed scores of uses for cotton not ordinarily associated with the plant. It is confident that hundreds more can be discovered by exhaustive research. All this will take time, of course. Chemurgy makes no predictions as to the ultimate salvation of the cotton industry but it is sure it can go a long way toward improving it.

ON COTTON

Consider the possibilities as chemurgy sees them:

You would ride on cotton roads, live in a cotton house, bathe in a cotton tub, dress in fireproof cotton clothes and listen to "cotton" music under intensive chemurgic development.

You would use cotton in varnish, lacquers, explosives, celophane, rayon, airplanes, automobiles, as a substitute for ceramic tile, as floor covering and even in toys for children. As one chemurgist has put it, you might conceivably use cotton in some 10,000 forms.

Cotton roads, the chemurgists are confident, are going to do much to decrease Dixie's surplus of the white staple. They base their predictions on a series of experiments which show bituminous-surfaced roads which have a cotton binder—a coarse cotton sheet between layers of tar products—are easy to build and economical to maintain.

"The properly built cotton road is virtually waterproof, with no water seeping into the base and permitting freezing weather to cause damage which appears in the 'frost boils' and ravellings that make annual repairs a necessity." Clinton T. Revere, New York engineer, recently told the annual convention of the National Farm Chemurgic Council.

Revere estimated the maximum cost of building cotton roads at $5000 a mile with the "annual maintenance charge reduced practically to nil." He pointed to 2,000,000 miles of farm-to-market roads alone as possible outlets for this phase of cotton utilization.

AND "RUBBER," TOO

Most of the products made from cotton so far have come from the cotton fibers, the little "fuzz" that sticks to the seed when the fiber is removed. They make an impressive list, including fountain pen barrels, paper, wiring insulation, phonograph records, plastic parts for automobiles, surgical dressing, low-grade yarns. But chemurgy considers this only a part of the cotton crop. The other, and perhaps more valuable, is the cottonseed.

Not so many years ago cotton farmers considered cottonseed as practically worthless. Chemurgists have now turned it into an important industrial product.

From the seed, its hulls and oil come shortening, margarine and salad dressings, medical preparations, cosmetics, soap and washing powder, candles, composition roofing, linoleum, oilcloth, insulating material, livestock feed, fertilizer and "cotton rubber."

Cotton rubber is a molding material which is similar to hard rubber. It may be used for light sockets, dress ornaments, toys, bath tubs and lavatories. So it is typically chemurgic. It illustrates just how far the cotton patch may be utilized in industry.

The south's big economic problem results from its surplus of cotton fiber but at times there is an actual shortage of the cottonseed from which bathtubs may be made, for example. The United States imports approximately 200,000,000 pounds of cottonseed oil at the present time and large quantities of vegetable oils for which cottonseed oil might be substituted.

"It is conceivable then," says D. T. Killough, agronomist at Texas Agricultural Experiment station, "that a new type of cotton plant may be developed through breeding in which the seed is the chief product, rather than the lint."

"Cotton is grown primarily for its fiber and it is this which has created the burdensome surplus. One solution, therefore, would be to produce more seed and less fiber, which would require a plant that stores the larger part of its energy in its seed."

Chemurgy is already at work on that. As a matter of fact, it has already produced types of short linted seeds. Hintless seed, and lint-shedding seed.

Thus chemurgy accepts the challenge of cotton. And as Wheeler McMillen of the National Farm Chemurgic Council sees it, it is prepared to give no quarter.

NEXT: Chemurgy's milk magic.

Captain Harold E. Gray, pilot of the newest trans-Atlantic clipper on its recent survey flight to Europe. Gray presented the executive a Portuguese ship model from the Azores.

The NACA meeting was a semi-annual review of research developments. Besides Lindbergh and Orville Wright, others attending included Major General Henry H. Arnold, army air corps chief, and Rear Admiral Arthur B. Cook, chief of the navy's bureau of aeronautics.

Lindbergh's survey, officials said, will include a visit May 2 to Langley Field, Va., research center of the NACA, a research agency.

After completing a study of confidential data, he is expected also to visit Wright Field, the army's experiment center at Dayton, Ohio; the navy's aircraft factory at Philadelphia, and various universities and other institutions.

FAMILY ON WAY

Le Havre, France, April 20 (AP)—Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh and her two sons, Jon and Land, sailed for the United States on the liner Champlain today to rejoin Colonel Lindbergh, who has been called to active duty at the war department.

As the ship left port it passed within sight of the burned and foundered hulk of the liner Paris on which Mrs. Lindbergh had planned originally to sail.

French detectives accompanied the family from the Lindberghs' Paris apartment to Le Havre and left the Champlain just before she sailed at 6:21 p. m. (12:21 p. m. EST).

The party, including a nurse, had boarded the liner at 1 p. m.

Mrs. Lindbergh wore a black tailored suit and a black hat with a red ribbon. She carried a silver fox fur.

Colonel Lindbergh sailed April 8 on the Aquitania. A reserve officer in the United States air corps, he now is in Washington on active duty to make a survey of United States aviation facilities.

The trip to the United States will be the first for Land, who was born May 12, in London, and six-year-old Jon's first visit to his native land since the family left in December, 1935.

Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh visited the United States from December, 1937, to March, 1938, but left the children in England.

Fires Rage Through Washington Timber

Seattle, April 20 (AP)—Flames, racing through brush and second growth timberlands, menaced several farm homes at Aplary, Ore., late today, and destroyed a logging camp at Sopot, Wash.

T. S. Goodyear, Washington forest supervisor, termed the Pacific northwest's abnormally early forest fire season critical.

He estimated there were 100 brush and timber fires in western Washington, most of them under control.

"Many of the fires are man-made, clearing land for grazing purposes," Goodyear said.

"Sold the first day" said Jones. Now you try a For Sale Ad.

DOTSCH ASKS BAY CLOSING

New Potaganissing Bill Introduced By Senator

Sault Ste. Marie—Conservationists today pondered the significance of the newest piece of Potaganissing Bay legislation reported out of the senate conservation committee today at Lansing.

The legislation proposes to close to commercial fishing an area south of a line drawn from Chipewewa Point to Sims point. This is identical to the Knox bill introduced in a previous legislature by Rep. Victor A. Knox.

The senate bill now reported out was sponsored by Senator James D. Dotsch. It does not conform to recommendations made at an open meeting here of supervisors and Sault sportsmen, including representatives from De Tour. This meeting recommended closing all of Potaganissing Bay north of the DeTour town line. Subsequently Sen. Dotsch submitted a bill to this effect in the senate committee. What happened to this bill is not known here.

Introduction of the new Dotsch bill, whose provisions are identical to those denounced by Sportsmen as inadequate, makes four bills in the house and senate regarding Potaganissing Bay legislation. Two were introduced in the house and two in the senate. The newest measure, introduced by Senator Dotsch, Democrat, Garden, prohibits commercial fishing in the portion of Potaganissing Bay south of a line extending from the northern shore of Sims Point to Chipewewa Point on Drummond Island. Only hook and line fishing would be legal in the affected waters.

FAVORS SNOW FUND

Marquette county board of supervisors, meeting here yesterday, went on record as opposed to the repeal of a state act which appropriates $200,000 from the general fund for snow removal, and a resolution to that effect was drawn up to be forwarded to Governor Luren D. Dickinson, Senator Stephen Benzie and Representative Charles F. Sundstrom.

As explained by A. I. Sawyer, superintendent of the county road commission, the terms of the bill introduced in legislature as house bill No. 463, which will repeal the appropriation act, providing $200,000 to be divided among those counties having more than 60 inches of snow in any one year and "proportionally to the snow fall and mileage of roads in such counties."

OFFICIALS APPOINTED

Crystal Falls—All municipal officers were reappointed for another year at a meeting of the city commission Monday. Salaries remain unchanged. Heading the list of appointments is W. F. Jacka, city manager. The others are John Gitzon, city clerk; Ed Burling, city treasurer; Clarence Dwyer, city attorney; Frank Carlson, city marshal; Dr. G. W. Northstrom, meat inspector, and William E. Carlson, fire chief.

COURT UPHOLDS AWARD

Marquette—The state supreme court has handed down a decision upholding a jury verdict and judgment for $1,500 damages in favor of Abe Vashaw, of Marquette, for injuries received in an automobile accident on M-28 on October 21, 1933.

A Marquette county circuit court jury on February 25, 1938 with Judge Frank A. Bell, of Neegauee, presiding, gave Vashaw the judgment after Judge Bell had denied a plea of attorneys for the Marquette Public Service garage, defendant, for a direct verdict in its favor.

Mystery Submarine Unfound At Halifax

Ottawa, April 20 (Canadian Press)—The Canadian navy, air force and royal mounted police searched in vain today for an unidentified submarine reported sighted off the Halifax harbor naval base.

The Dominion's armed forces defended on the alert, although Defense Minister Ian Mackenzie said naval authorities expressed the opinion the strange craft reported seen by a harbor pilot was not a submarine.

It was the third time in a week that an underease vessel was reported in Nova Scotia waters and the government threw all its available forces into the search.

Straits Navigation Season Is Opened

St. Ignace, Mich., April 20 (AP)—The freighter Robert J. Paisley of the J. A. Paisley Steamship Co., Cleveland, plowed through the Straits of Mackinac today from Lake Michigan to Huron and opened the inter-lake navigation season here.

The Paisley was followed by the Standard Oil tanker Robert W. Stewart. Later in the day the steamer Maine and the tanker Martha E. Allen made the west-bound passage.

An Inland Steel Co. boat opened inter-lake navigation last year when it passed through the straits on April 3.

WILKOWSKI IN ACCIDENT

Masin, Mich., April 20 (AP)—An automobile driven by Anthony J. Wilkowski of Detroit, former state senator, overturned in an eight-foot ditch near here Thursday but Wilkowski escaped injury.

ARMED MIGHT PARADED FOR ADOLF HITLER

the first time at a Hitler birthday celebration of the papal nuncio, Monsignor Cesare Orsenigo. As dean of the diplomatic corps Monsignor Orsenigo was assigned to the front row of the diplomatic tribune where he stood hatless throughout the long parade and was seen to use his binoculars interestedly.

Nazi newspapers mentioned conspicuously the fact that the representative of the holy see had participated. The question asked among diplomats was whether this did not preclude an effort by Pope Pius XII to regulate the Vatican's relations with Nazi Germany as his predecessor, Pope Pius XI, had done with Fascist Italy a decade ago through the Lateran accord.

Although gigantic in scope, the parade divulged few new military weapons.

Most discussed were the heavy anti-aircraft guns which were so long they and their mounts had to be carried on four trucks. Germany was known previously to have developed an excellent anti-aircraft gun, but it was, by comparison, small and innocent looking.

To wind up the parade on an enthusiastic note for those who had stood for hours, Hitler showed several pieces of "Little Bertha" artillery—heavy long-range cannon that were carried on six trucks.

These were first shown last autumn in a parade honoring the visit to Berlin of Admiral Nicholas Horthy, regent of Hungary.

NATIONS SOUNDED OUT Paris, April 20 (AP)—Diplomatic sources reported tonight Adolf Hitler had asked several of his smaller neighbors the blunt, two-point question: "Do you consider yourself menaced by Germany and did you ask President Roosevelt to intervene in European affairs?"

These sources said the question would form a part of the German chancellor's reply to President Roosevelt's peace appeal when he faces the Reichstag a week from tomorrow.

Bulgaria, Yugoslavia and Hungary were mentioned particularly among the countries Hitler was said to have sounded out. They were among the 31 Mr. Roosevelt singled out in asking Germany and Italy for 10-year non-aggression pledges.

It was a foregone conclusion in diplomatic circles here that the Sofia, Belgrade and Budapest governments would answer Hitler with a "no."

This, these sources said, would be a strong part of the Fuehrer's "ammunition" when he answers the American president who asked him for "a frank statement" on the policies of the Rome-Berlin axis.

Ferdinand The Bull Pleases Gen. Franco

Minneapolis, April 20 (AP)—Frolicsome university of Minnesota students in one of those bull sessions, decided to cable Generalissimo Francisco Franco as he was marching to Barcelona.

They messaged: "Lay off Ferdinand the bull," and signed it "Oak Street Club, University of Minnesota."

Today, this letter from a Franco aide came back: "Don Ferdinand the Bull: 'My Dear Sir: By order of His Excellency, the Generalissimo, through the office of the minister of foreign affairs, it gives me pleasure in telling you that His Excellency was greatly pleased with the telegram which you sent him on the occasion of the conquest of Barcelona by our glorious army. With this motive he offers you his best wishes.'"

TEAM SHIES, MAN KILLED Three Oaks, Mich., April 20 (AP)—When a team of horses became frightened and shied in front of a truck on M-60 Thursday William Cox was killed and his cousin, Ralph Klute, was hurt critically.

Briefly Told

Brotherhood Meeting—Lodge 400, Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, will hold a regular meeting in Unity hall this evening at 7 o'clock for consideration of important business.

Dr. Koopman Here—Dr. Robert Koopman, assistant superintendent of public instruction, made an inspection of Escanaba public schools yesterday.

Program Changed—Word has been received of a change in time of the Beachcombers program from radio station WJR, Detroit, in which Courtney White of Escanaba plays the part of the beachcomber. Instead of Tuesday nights, the program is now heard Friday nights at 10:15.

APPEAL MADE BY PRESIDENT IS RIDICULED

with great reserves of man-power and raw materials and the other of prime strategic importance—in the front she is building in an attempt to check the Rome-Berlin axis.

Aerial Aid Pledged

Poland, Greece and Rumania already have received promises of French-British aid if their independence is threatened.

Details both of the proposals and counter-proposals were kept secret, but previous reports had indicated Britain sought a pledge of Soviet aerial aid in event of any military threat to Poland's independence which France and Britain have promised to defend.

The Soviet ambassador, Ivan Malsky, was due to arrive in Russia for talks with the commissar of foreign affairs, Maxim Litvinoff.

Russia is now regarded as the key to progress of British-French plans in forming their front against the Rome-Berlin axis. She already has been reported in authoritative quarters to have promised "material aid" to the alliance, but it was felt that Poland and Rumania were not willing to cooperate if Russia participated to the extent of pledging the use of her army.

These countries were believed to fear the admission of Russian troops to their native soils.

The talks between Malsky and Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax, however, were believed to have advanced a plan suggested by France whereby only the Soviet air force would be used to defend Poland and Rumania.

This would avoid the use of Russian troops.

WASHINGTON HOPEFUL Washington, April 20 (AP)—Disappointed, though hardly surprised, at Mussolini's disdainful reaction to President Roosevelt's anti-aggression plea, state department officers nevertheless found in the Italian premier's words at least a faint hope for peace.

They expressed belief that however much the Duce derided in his address at Rome the value of the conference table as a means of adjusting economic inequalities, he still did not absolutely bar the way to an effort at stabilizing the European situation by collaboration.

(Mussolini said non-aggression guarantees were unnecessary and that President Roosevelt's peace plea failed to take into consideration "pyramidal errors of geography.") He indicated he might make no further reply to Mr. Roosevelt's appeal of last Friday to him and to Chancellor Hitler of Germany to pledge that their armies would not move during the next 10 years against 31 countries which Mr. Roosevelt named.

FSA Supervisors Are Meeting Here

The Upper Peninsula district conference of agricultural and home management supervisors of the Farm Security Administration opened at the federal building here yesterday and will be concluded today.

In addition to the Upper Peninsula supervisors, officials in attendance are: Roswell G. Carr, East Lansing, state director of the Farm Security Administration; Mrs. Mary Thompson, East Lansing, associate state director in charge of home economics; G. E. Tichenor, Milwaukee, regional loan officer; and F. L. Voorhees, Milwaukee.

During his defense of Metz in 1952, Francis, Duke of Guise, used nuts in his cannon to bombard attacking Spanish forces. By using this "ammunition" during ordinary assaults, he conserved his cannon balls for enemy mass attacks.

NOTED AUTHOR COMING HERE

Louis Adamic Gathering Material for His New Book

Seeking material for his next literary work, Louis Adamic, noted author, is expected to come to Escanaba early next week while on a tour of the Middle West.

Adamic is scheduled to arrive on Saturday in Green Bay, where he will spend some time at the Kellogg Public Library, making a preliminary survey of that community, preparatory to gathering material for a book to be published in 1941 and dealing with the author's favorite subject, America as a melting pot.

Most noted for his book, "The Native's Return," published in 1934, Adamic's latest work is "My America," which reached the book shelves last year. Born in Yugoslavia, Adamic fought in the American army during the World War after coming to this country in 1918, and was naturalized in 1919. He makes his home in New York.

U. S. Tradition as Refugee Haven Gets Acid Test From New Influx

Selection On Basis of Skill Imperative, Says Adamic

BY LOUIS ADAMIC
Specialist on Immigration Problems and Author of "The Native's Return," "Grandsons," and "My America."

The promptness yet confusion with which this country has responded to the problem of Europe's political and religious refugees is due, aside from sheer horror, to a conflict between two powerful forces.

One is the tradition of the United States as an asylum for the oppressed, persecuted, and frustrated, which is inextricably woven into the pattern of American history.

The other is that America's domestic situation at this time is none too satisfactory, and does not seem likely to improve soon in any fundamental way. We have some 10,000,000 unemployed who seem superfluous in our economic set-up.

This country has been the asylum for refugees from the oppressions, persecutions, and stagnation of Europe since the seventeenth century. The Pilgrims, the Huguenots, the Scotch-Irish, the Irish, the Germans, the Italians, the Jews, the Moravians, the Slaves of old Austria-Hungary and Czarist Russia, the Armenians, Syrians and Greeks of Turkish Asia Minor—all came over seeking, and most of them finding, asylum, jobs, and more freedom than was enjoyed by peoples anywhere else.

QUOTAS NOT FILLED

Between 1920 and the present, the total number of immigrants entering the United States is slightly over 38,000,000. Just before the World War they poured in at an annual rate of about 1,000,000.

In 1921 the United States drastically changed its immigration policy. Until then, any person in good physical and mental health and of good moral character could enter. The first post-war slump with its unemployment, and upsurge of radicalism, and serious capital-labor troubles, led to restriction. The 1921 law, passed as temporary, became permanent in 1924, and has been amended since, the last time in 1929.

It is called the "Quota Law" because it assigns to most foreign countries a quota of immigrants equal to three per cent of the number of foreign-born persons of that nationality resident in the United States in 1910.

There may now be admitted yearly 153,774 alien immigrants. The quota for Germany, plus that of the absorbed countries of Austria and Czechoslovakia, would be 30,344.

Since 1930, however, the number of immigrants has never approached the number allowed. In fact, in most of these years, more immigrant aliens left, either by deportation or voluntarily, than arrived. In the seven-year period from 1932 to 1938, inclusive, there was a net decrease of 72,204 in the total number of alien immigrants in the country.

100 PER CENT FOR GERMAN QUOTA

Further, the number is decreasing by death, because of the 4,000,000 aliens now in this country, more than half are over 50 years old.

The total allowance for the quota countries during those seven years was nearly 1,100,000. Only 140,000 quota immigrants actually came in, or about 11 per cent of the quota. The German-Austrian quota was scarcely touched.

But the German quota for the year ending June 30, 1938, will be filled 100 per cent. Perhaps 95 per cent of these will be refugees; about two-fifths of them

Louis Adamic

Not nearly as many immigrants have entered the country since 1933 as the law allows. Note that while the legal quota for all years shown is the same, not until 1938 did half the people entitled to enter the country do so.

The number of foreign-born in the U. S. is steadily decreasing, as shown on the above chart. The 1940 estimate is based on medium fertility and mortality and net immigration of 100,000 foreign-born people a year.

Catholics, Protestants, Austrian monarchists, and assorted anti-Nazis, and about three-fifths Jews. ALL KINDS AND AGES

It has been estimated that at least 700,000 persons want to leave Germany, about half Jews, the remainder assorted persons disapproving of the Nazi regime. At least 100,000 persons must leave Czechoslovakia, less than one-fifth of them Jews.

What sort of people are they? All sorts, of course. Perhaps 150,000 of them are children. The adults include doctors, lawyers, scientists of all kinds, musicians, artists, ministers, rabbis, professors, all manner of dispossessed manufacturers, traders, merchants, farmers and shopkeepers, nurses, ex-government officials, engineers, technicians, skilled workers, clerks, notaries—some excellent, some good, some bad, some indifferent. And all human beings.

Congressional action is necessary to permit entry of more than the 30,000 now provided by law, and discussion of such proposals is now approaching in congress. If it were decided to increase the present allotment by 100,000, it would increase the total population only 0.08 per cent; it would increase unemployment only one

Yachtsmen Attend Racing Rules Meet Of Menominee Club

Members of the Escanaba Yacht club were guests of the Menominee and Marinette Yacht club at a yacht racing rules meeting last Wednesday night. The ten local club members attending the meet were John G. Erickson, Harold Gasman, Dr. R. H. Banks, John J. Mitchell, O. V. Thatcher, Merton Jensen, Edward Erickson, Art Aronson, Sheldon Cobb and E. J. Vinette.

Official yacht racing rules were discussed at the session, and rules problems were worked out with the aid of model boats on a table-top course.

Notification has been received by the B & M club that the Green Bay Yacht club will hold a motor boat consistency race from Green Bay to Menominee on Saturday, June 24. The M & M club issued an invitation to Escanaba Yacht club members to participate in a consistency race from Escanaba to Menominee on the same date.

The consistency race is a type of competition which became popular in Green Bay waters last summer, and allows an equal chance to the skippers of all sizes of craft. Each skipper, before clearing port, turns over to the judges his estimate on the time it will take him to reach the finish line. The boat covering the course in a time nearest his estimate is the winner.

Escanaba and Green Bay Yachtsmen will be entertained by the M & M club upon arrival at Menominee, and a special program is planned for visiting ladies.

County Education Committee Named By Ole J. Thorsen

Ole J. Thorsen, chairman of the Delta county board of supervisors, yesterday named three members of the board's rural education committee. The committee was created by the board at its meeting this week. The members are Omer Tangany, Bark River, chairman; Allen T. Merdler, Nahma, and Harry J. Green, Garden.

Members of the board's agricultural committee, omitted from an earlier report on appointments, are H. F. Gustafson, chairman; Wesley Anderson, E. W. Carlson, Jerry Fenlon, Harry Ganne, Knute Leivdal, Morton Schire, John J. Sharkey and Omer Tangany.

Duties of the newly-created schools committee include receiving reports on rural schools from the county school commissioner and acting as a link between the various township school boards where they can gain by working together.

ORE CARGO NOW IN LOCAL YARDS

First Boat Not Expected At Docks Here Until End of April

Enough iron ore to make up an average cargo is now in the Chicago and North Western railway's yards at Escanaba, but no boat is expected at the local docks before the last of this month. The first ore of the season, now on hand, is from the Bradley mine at Iron Mountain.

Repair work on dock No. 6 has been completed, and that dock is ready for service when the carriers are ordered into port here. A crew is still at work on dock No. 5, which is being prepared for use during the coming season.

The M. A. Hanna mines on the Menominee range and the Verona Mining company pits at Stambaugh are expected to be among the first to send shipments of ore through Escanaba.

Early estimates indicate that about two and one-half million tons of ore will pass through the Escanaba docks this year, about twice as much as was handled during the 1938 season. The peak season of recent years was 1937, when 3,147,741 tons were shipped.

In that year the car ferry Chief Wawatam crushed a path for five ore carriers through the ice of the harbor to open the port to navigation.

The ice has already moved out of the south bay, but remains fairly solid on the north side of the point. Last year the harbor cleared on April 8.

Railways Speeding Up

THE boys who have ridden the rods or climbed into empty freight cars for a jaunt across the country will be interested in a recent bulletin of the Michigan Railroads association, showing that this low cost mode of American transportation has adopted the tempo of the times.

U. S. railroads established a new high record in the average speed of freight trains last year. They made 398 miles per train per day, which was 61 per cent higher than in 1920. Many freight trains are now operated on what were formerly passenger schedules.

This increase in average freight train speed has been made possible by improvements in locomotive, freight car and track construction, by the use of locomotive tenders with greater fuel and water capacity, increased length of engine runs, improvements in railway signals, and methods of operation which have further expedited the movement of loaded freight cars through terminals and over the road.

Our Best Defense

IT is quite true that the United States cannot afford to be indifferent to what goes on in the rest of the world. What destroys liberty in any part of the world tends eventually to destroy liberty in the rest of it.

But our concern with such remote events is a matter of degree, ranging from the almost purely theoretical right up to the immediately practical. Liberty here and now is our first and most immediate concern. Nothing more true was ever said than that "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty."

Freedom is not maintained by the mere fact that 150 years ago our fathers won it. Day by day, in the smallest matters, we must ourselves fight for it if we are to keep it. A sorry joke on the United States it would be to find that by the time we had launched a great foreign crusade for liberty, we had ourselves lost it.

That is why, though it sometimes seems tiresome, it is necessary to keep drumming away at everything that looks as though it might be an infringement on the liberties of free men.

As never before, the federal government seems to be conscious of this. Most of the highest court decisions of recent years have been on the side of freedom, and the Supreme Court has proved itself a real custodian of the people's liberty in several important cases.

The Department of Justice has set up a division specifically charged with safeguarding civil liberties. Many states, irritated almost beyond endurance by clumsy and stupid Nazi propaganda, are considering laws to throttle it. Yet every legislator considering such laws must carefully consider: how far may such utterances be shut off without throttling every man's right to say or write what he pleases?

There are acts proposed to punish the "libel of races." Such proposals arise from irritation with the especially nauseous efforts to build up racial hatred. But can such a law be written which does not also infringe on many other kinds of free speech?

After all, propaganda is simply the other fellow's free speech. No set of ideas, bad or good, has ever been permanently suppressed by law. The bad ones die off of their own foolishness, the good ones survive in spite of any suppression.

America's one best defense, in fact is ultimate only defense, against "subversive" ideas is to face the facts, roll up our sleeves, and make life in the United States so much better than it is anywhere else in the world that nobody will listen to agitators.

Drink More Milk!

DURING June, which has been designated as Dairy Month, a nation-wide campaign to promote increased consumption of milk and dairy products will be conducted by the various producers' associations.

Extensive advertising will be done in connection with various promotional efforts to make the consuming public conscious of the health-giving and food values of dairy products. It is a program in which the Upper Peninsula agricultural industry should be vitally interested for a considerable number of our farmers have found dairying to be their main source of livelihood.

While the Upper Peninsula's dairying industry has grown in recent years, there is still opportunity for further expansion. Much butter and cheese are still imported from other states to meet the demand of consumers, and there is no reason why these products cannot be produced here in sufficient amount to take care of the needs of this home market.

Have a Smoke?

YES, whether you like it or not, is the most probable answer.

Most cities provide an automatic answer. The average city-dweller is smoked like a herring whether or not he personally is devoted to Lady Nicotine.

A great many cities never get around to doing anything about it. Cleveland is one that is trying. Already, though a survey is only well under way, municipal officials have found one interesting thing about city smoke. Cleveland is a city of great mills, blast furnaces, chemical plants. But these weren't the worst smoke offenders, the surveys found.

Such plants, keen to get the last bit of heat out of the fuel they burn, usually employ experts to see that it's done. Result: little smoke. The worst offenders are apartment houses and small factories. These contributed far more than their share to the 100,000,000 pounds of soot that is dumped into the laps of Clevelanders every year.

While this problem is acute only in larger cities, there are few cities of any size at all that are not troubled to some extent, and they might follow with special interest the results obtained in cities like Cleveland, St. Louis, New York, Pittsburgh, Indianapolis, and Chicago, which are putting up an active fight.

Other Editor's Comments

INCOME PUBLICITY (South Bend Tribune)

The annual exposition of salaries of $15,000 or more paid to corporation officials and employees is under way and the public service, if any, cannot be detected. Congress voted publicly for those incomes, as reported for income taxation, as if it were necessary to abate an evil condition. The net discernible results seem to be satisfaction of curiosity, which has no moral validity, greater activity in the "sucker list" compilation industry, and a deterioration of class consciousness to the detriment of American society.

If publicity for the salaries could be justified publicity about the effect of taxation on the recipients' incomes would be equally justifiable. The fact that considerably more than one-half, even up to 85 per cent, of the larger salaries is taken by the federal and some state governments is as important as the fact that large salaries are paid but the politicians chose to ignore it with apparent hope that the general public would be misled. A recent American Institute of Public Opinion poll showing that the average American greatly underestimates the amount of tax paid by persons with large incomes testified to the success of that dangerous political game.

'INVESTMENT IN PUBLIC WELFARE' (Ironwood Globe)

Interest in the preservation of the Upper Peninsula's remaining forests is not limited to this section. In a recent editorial, the New York Herald-Tribune refers to Congressman Frank E. Hook's forest purchase bill, H.R. 931, as a proposal for "an investment in public welfare."

This comment is timely in view of the fact that a committee will open hearings on the bill in Washington Thursday. Now is the time for all those who are in favor of this measure to give it their active support. The bill has received nationwide publicity in recent weeks in the form of news articles in the Chicago Tribune, Detroit News, Christian Science Monitor, Washington Star, New York Herald-Tribune, and other publications. The Herald-Tribune's editorial comment on the bill was as follows:

An investment in public welfare is proposed by Representative Frank E. Hook, of Michigan, in a bill to appropriate $10,000,000 for the purchase of timbered lands in the Gogebic-Porcupine Mountain area in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan as part of the new Ottawa National Forest. This act should ultimately take some 50,000 people off the relief rolls at an estimated probable saving of $25,000,000 a year. It is the type of national investment which does not compete with private industry. It provides a means for the government to co-operate with the lumbermen toward a mutually beneficial production.

While the Hook bill (H.R. No. 931) may seem at first glance merely of sectional interest, it suggests a wise move in the direction of national saving which should appeal to income-tax payers of New York and other cities. The question that concerns all of us is whether commercial lumbering operations shall devastate millions of acres in Michigan forest lands or whether the government, in the public interest, shall purchase these lands from private owners in order that the natural resources thereon shall be consumed in a gradual and economic manner rather than ruthlessly liquidated.

Lumbermen declare that they cannot afford to use up slowly the matured growth on privately owned lands while the annual tax bill has to be met; they say they must follow the adopted procedure of "clear cut and get out." The effect of this procedure, which can be seen by any traveler through the northern Michigan peninsula, is to denude the land, invite the fire which so readily follows when the cooling dampness of the forest has been taken away and to leave in the wake of commercial lumbering operations, as heretofore carried on, a scene of desolation

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Washington, D. C.—The darkest period of Poland's history came between 1687 and 1688. It was during this period that it was necessary for the Poles to fight the Russians, Swedes, and Turks. From that time on all the neighboring powers were throwing themselves successfully on Poland which, exhausted economically by many wars, was now entering upon an unhappy era.

After the reign of John Sobieski, who broke the power of the Turks, Poland had no capable ruler, and the two succeeding kings of Saxon extraction, Augustus II and III, only encouraged the corruption of morals and the love of idleness. Yet the nation as a whole understood the need of improving the internal condition of the Polish Commonwealth in the eighteenth century so full of such contrasts as the awakening of the instincts of liberty and the most rigid despotism.

The Polish nation was undoubtedly capable of rising by its own strength to its previous greatness, with the highest democratic ideals, and this seems to be the reason why other powers united to prevent it. They were afraid of that spirit of freedom always alive in the Polish people. Russia and Prussia desired to maintain a state of weakness and chaos in Poland because they wanted its land. Frederic II of Prussia wanted to annex East Prussia and Danzig, while the Russian czarina, Catherine II, strove to bring the whole of Poland under her domination.

In 1764 Catherine succeeded in putting a weak ruler on Poland's throne. Though weak and without much dignity, the new ruler, nevertheless animated by a desire for reform, became a protector of science and art, and Warsaw developed into a charming city.

Meanwhile the Russian ambassador in Warsaw grew so powerful that he dared to arrest in the capital itself those Polish deputies who opposed the desires of the Russian Empress Catherine. Poland did not endure all this tyranny in a passive mood. Supported by France, a military league—the Confederation of Bar—was formed to evict the Russian troops who had installed themselves in Poland in times of peace. The confederation was headed by Casimir Pulaski, a future hero of the American War of Independence.

The confederation failed, and Pulaski came to America where he met a glorious death in the battle of Savannah in 1779. Russian and Prussian troops invaded Poland and in 1772 the first partition of the country took place. Frederic II took Pomerania and Poznan, but still left Danzig to Poland. Russia took the eastern provinces of Poland, and Austria the southern provinces. Everything argued that this partition was not going to be the last.

In the midst of such calamities, the national vitality of Poland manifested itself once more by the introduction of stupendous internal reforms; the first ministry of public education in the world was established in Poland in 1773, the treasury and army were organized, and literature, science, and art received a powerful stimulus.

—STRUGGLES FOR FREEDOM—

The last great national act of Polish life was a new constitution issued on May 3, 1791. That day has since been the Polish national holiday, as is the Fourth of July in the United States. This charter abolished the serfdom of the peasants, made all citizens equal, and laid the basis of a modern system of government.

Then came the answering blow from the autocrats, the second partition of Poland in 1793. The Empress Catherine at once restored serfdom in the provinces she took from Poland. Frederic William of Prussia annexed Danzig and a vast tract of western Poland. The autocrats of those days condemned the Polish democratic constitution, which they called anarchy, those same autocrats who sneered at what they called anarchy of Washington and Jefferson on the American continent.

After the second partition, a wave of patriotic ardor swept over Poland. General Thaddeus Kosciuszko, another hero of the American War of Independence, hastened to Krakow and summoned the people to arms, proclaiming new decrees in favor of the peasants. Hosts of peasants armed with scythes answered Kosciuszko's call. On April 23, 1794, Kosciuszko attacked the Russians at Racławice. All disciplined and poorly equipped, the peasants took by assault batteries of Russian field guns and routed the enemy. After this battle Kosciuszko wore a coat of homespun cloth such as the peasants wore.

such as recalls to mind the picture of No-Man's-Land in France in 1918.

Representative Hook proposes that the acquired area—containing one of the last stands of virgin timber in the Middle West—shall be leased to commercial operators by competitive bidding, with their operations restricted to selective cutting so that the economic value of these forests may be preserved for all time. By-products of the acquisition of this land in its virgin state are the results in flood control and avoidance of soil erosion, in addition to the reduction of fire hazard and the perpetuation of timber supply, which, in themselves, should be worth to the nation all of the original investment.

We believe that the nation will approve an opportunity to make a public investment that will be non-competitive with private industry, that will provide an economic future for the 127,000 inhabitants of the five counties affected by the Hook bill, that paves the way for 40 per cent of those worthy citizens to leave the relief rolls and re-establish themselves in the American manner, and that maintains for those who can visit it an area of magnificent recreational facilities.

Rudy Vallee must be afraid to look at a newspaper these days. Every time he turns a page, he finds he has a new girl friend.

Answers To Questions

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

A reader can get the answer to any question of fact by writing The Escanaba Daily Press Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. Please enclose three (3) cents for reply.

Q. How much money is spent for tobacco? C. F. S.

A. "The Tobacco Leaf" says that American consumers of tobacco spend approximately $1,500,000,000 a year in purchases of that commodity.

Q. What percentage of the coal mined in the United States is used by the railroads? J. V. R.

A. More than 25 per cent is consumed by the railroads.

Q. Will any of the art collection of the late Andrew Mellon be on exhibit at the World's Fairs this year? L. M. H.

A. The Magazine of Art says: "The Mellon collection will be represented in both Fairs, with three paintings at each. To San Francisco have gone Rembrandt's Young Man at a Table, Hal's Portrait of Balthasar Coymans, and Pieter de Hooch's Dutch Courtyard. At the New York Fair visitors will see Hal's Old World Market, Terborch's Gentleman Greeting a Lady, and a Rembrandt Self-Portrait, dated 1659."

Q. Please give the origin of the slogan "See America First." T. D. P.

A. The phrase came into use during the latter part of 1914 and was used extensively in 1914 and 1917 when European travel was cut off. The National Park Service of the Interior Department started the slogan "See America First" for national parks, hotels, and railroads. It is stated that Mr. W. A. Wadleigh, Passenger Traffic Manager, of the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad originated the phrase in connection with this railroad.

Q. How fast does Arcturus travel? C. J. B.

A. Arcturus which is the fastest moving bright star has a velocity of about 75 miles per second.

Q. Are there many cases of infantile paralysis? A. L. S.

A. There were 1674 cases of poliomyelitis reported last year in the United States.

Q. What cow holds the world's record for milk production? K. H. R.

A. Cherry, an eighty-year-old shorthorn cow, bred at the Red House Farm, Amesbury, Wiltshire, England, holds the world's record for a year's milk production with a total output of 41,644 1/2 pounds, or an average of 57 quart bottles a day.

New York Column

BY GEORGE ROSS

New York—She was wearing pigtales and cavorting in kid comedies when I had my first kneepants encounters with the movies, but now Mitzi Green is quite a young lady, flaxen-haired, sophisticated, stylish and comely.

She made a sentimental comeback the other night as a night club queen and the cinematic greyness sat back and cheered her, because Mitzi was Personality plus and not a little talented. Well-wishers like Jimmy Walker, Jimmy Durante, Sophie Tucker and Raymond Massey were present and all applauded the Shirley Temple of her day.

A grimly poignant tale behind Mitzi's safe return to the local limelight. It seems that a year ago Mitzi staged a comeback. She starred in the hitting musical show, "Babes in Arms," and was a supper club success at the same time. The movie scouts rediscovered her—as an engaging ingenue, this time.

So with her mother, the ubiquitous Rosie Green (she never leaves her daughter's side), Mitzi went to Hollywood via ship. During the voyage, she began to brood. Could she re-establish herself in pictures as a grown-up dame? She feared not.

The obsession grew upon her and when the boat docked Mitzi was on her way to a nervous breakdown. Her contract was cancelled and her return to pictures was indefinitely postponed.

She was secluded by her mother in the Hollywood hills, cheered by the idle fun of the life out there. Gradually she was nursed back to a self-confident state of mind. Even then Mama Rose declined to put Mitzi back in pictures.

She brought Mitzi to Manhattan, then waited some more. Finally, the other night, Mitzi was allowed to entertain the public.

Not many in the audience knew this behind-the-scenes tale as they applauded Mitzi. But applaud they did and cheer, and all in all, it was a more sentimental occasion than Broadway generally sees.

Champagne King As an invited sampler of the Juice-of-the-vine, I recently attended a reception for Jacques Bollinger, the champagne vintner whose name graces many a bottle. He turned out to be an excellent Frenchman. Scion of the champagne fortunes of his family which dates back centuries, the good Monsieur makes champagne a lifetime hobby.

His favorite drink, of course, is champagne, which does not call for much explaining. In the champagne country, champagne is what the citizenry drinks ordinarily. Champagne as a thirst-quencher!

It happens to be mayor of his home town, by the way, and there it is no rare sight to see him stalk out with the barefooted vineyard crew at harvest time for the traditional rite of treading the grapes. Those present at the reception, drank a toast to M. Bollinger. The libation, naturally, was champagne.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY PEARSON AND ALLEN

Washington—The U. S. fleet is sailing for Panama with secret orders. No one except two or three at the top knows what it will do once it reaches the Pacific. It is even doubtful whether those at the top have their plans completely formulated.

General strategy behind the sudden fleet shift, however, is definite. It is based upon the fact that when the British fleet is engaged in the Atlantic, the Japanese go berserk in the Pacific.

Last summer, when everyone knew that the Czechoslovak crisis was coming to a head, Prime Minister Chamberlain sounded out Roosevelt, via Joe Kennedy, as to what the United States could do in the Pacific in case the British fleet got tied up in a European war.

Roosevelt replied that he could make no commitments.

Recently, again, the British, fearful of what might happen in the Far East, sent a mission to Japan and China ready to talk compromise, even discuss the cession of Hongkong to Japan.

This is an almost inconceivable concession for the mighty Empire of Britain. But real fact is that Hongkong is completely at the mercy of the Japanese, could be taken overnight.

—PHILIPPINE WORRY—

So also are the Philippines, which under the independence agreement still can depend upon eight years of American protection. This is understood to be one of the major factors in the sudden shift of the fleet back to Pacific waters.

Another situation worrying the Navy Department is the known Japanese intention to pounce upon the Dutch East Indies whenever Europe is busy elsewhere. Java and Sumatra, with their tremendous oil reserves, long have been the most coveted prize of the Japanese Navy.

Today, with the British engaged in the Atlantic, Japan could take not only the Dutch East Indies, but the Malays, Siam, French Indo-China, and probably even Singapore without losing many ships.

—VANDBENBERG VS. TAFT—

Two men left the Gridiron Club dinner last week with entirely different emotions. One was Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, who was in the clouds. The other was Senator Bob Taft of Ohio, who was in the doldrums.

Their opposite reactions were not dissociated. Bob Taft had pulled the worst speech of the Gridiron evening. Everyone was talking about it. Newsman who heard him figured it washed him up as a presidential candidate.

And Taft, being a realist, knew it, frankly told his friends that he had pulled a dud.

That was why Vandenberg left the Gridiron Club feeling high. He and Taft recently have been on the opposite ends of a political sea-saw. Coming from Michigan and Ohio, adjacent Midwest States, one can place on the Republican 1940 ticket, but not both. So when the prospects one go down, the prospects of the other go up.

Note—Just now Vandenberg is not such a bad bet for the Vice Presidency, with Dewey running for President.

—WHITE HOUSE SECRETARIES—

Corcoran and Cohen are not nearly as likely to be members of the new White House Secretariat as a brilliant economist, a veteran civil service official and an expert on government.

Tom and Ben don't want the job, prefer to remain in the background. So Roosevelt is considering the following:

Isador Lubin, young director of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, former professor of economics at Brookings Institution and one of the best known research authorities in Washington.

William H. McReynolds, administrative assistant to Secretary Morgenthau and rated one of the ablest career men in the government service.

Herbert Emmerich, 40-year-old Chicago expert on government and secretary of Roosevelt's committee on government reorganization. The President is considering him for the secretarial staff in order to coordinate governmental activities.

Note—Naturally, veteran Steve Early and General "Pa" Watson continue in their regular jobs, with Marvin McIntyre returning if his health permits.

WE THAT ARE HUMAN There's some that count it sinful to watch the horses race, They wouldn't near be present at such a wicked place, They say the fair exhibits are fine to educate

The younger generation in their runnin' of the state, There's value to be seen' what folks has made and raised,

The pig-show and the quilt-show are matters to be praised, But a horse race is tarnation and they wouldn't have a look—

Well, I hope that old Saint Pete makes notation in his book When the pacers and the trotters turn to battle for the kale, For there's very same fine people are a hangin' on the rail!

And when the race is finished they vanish like a frost, For if you're caught at races you're certain to be lost,

Then they'll visit the exhibits that are closest to the track So's it won't take so long to be a-scottin' back—

But, law, they're human, we musn't criticize, Wish to tunket though they'd quit a-goin' in disguise And be hoss lovers open, look a feller in the face

And admit they can't resist the excitement of a race— For when Pretty Lady's runnin', and the crowd lets out a wail We want to be a-hangin', like a washin', on the rail!

60 PEOPLE AT LOCAL MEETING

Law Enforcement Group Hears Address By Rev. Parker

Approximately 60 members and guests of the Upper Peninsula Law Enforcement association attended a meeting of that association at the Elks Temple here yesterday and heard an interesting address by Rev. A. J. Parker of Rapid River.

Rev. Parker spoke at the noon luncheon, which preceded the regular business session. He commented upon the cooperation necessary between law enforcement bodies and homes, churches and schools in dealing with criminals. He traced the evolution of criminal tendencies of children and said that environment of the church, home and school is important as a deterrent of crime.

Harold P. Lindsay, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, was toastmaster. Music was furnished by the Scout band, which was directed by A. W. Erickson, member of the municipal band.

Favor Police School

During the business session, a committee was appointed to further work on the police training school, first of which was held this year at Marquette. The group commended work of the school and went on record as approving continuation of it.

Among those who attended the meeting here yesterday were: Thomas W. Scott of Marquette, Alfred Engman of Munising, John Holcomb of Marquette, Torval Kallerson of Gladstone, M. F. Ettenhofer of this city, George Hager and Capt. O. E. Demaray of Marquette, Frank J. Pipp of Iron Mountain, John Salini of Houghton, Rowland Gambel of Republic, Sgt. Ray Katke of L'Anse, R. E. Denison of Ontonagon, Howard Treado of Marquette, W. G. Stephens of Manistique, John D. Rule of Marquette, H. J. McDonough of Iron River, Jack Miller of Marquette, G. W. Waterman of Marquette, Wm. J. AMATEURS WIN MUCH APPLAUSE

Jeanette Starrine and Marie Saykily First In City Contest

The flying feet of Marie Saykily and Jeanette Starrine won them the title of outstanding amateurs in the city contest held at the city recreation center last Wednesday. Marion Smith, yodeling soloist, won the second place award.

Those competing in the event which is the second annual contest sponsored by the department of parks and recreation, were as follows: Marilyn Gustafson, Jeanne Plinsky and Mae Champion, musical trio; Mary Rose Peterson and Barbara McCormick, song and tap dance; Mae Champion, tap dance; Bobbie and Billy Lindahl, accordions; Grace Peterson, piano solo; Dorothy Goodenough, vocal solo; Mary Terese Marco and Mae Champion, vocal duet; Francis Skradski, tap dance; Geraldine Waaghe, electric guitar; Marion Smith, vocal solo; Romana Hale, Paddy Sullivan and Barbara Carroll, Dutch trio tap dance; Marie Saykily and Jeanette Starrine, waltz clog.

The WPA entertainers from Flat Rock under the direction of Joseph Busineau presented several orchestras and novelty numbers.

The show was directed by Claude Fisher, WPA recreational leader, the recreation center's general director. A large crowd enjoyed the show, some of the performers being brought back three and four times.

WPA ROLLS IN COUNTY LOWER

Weekly Report Discloses 2,068 Employed On Delta Projects

The number of persons employed on WPA projects in Delta county has been on a gradual decline since the first month of the year, according to statistics released yesterday at the WPA headquarters here.

This week's work sheet discloses that 2,068 persons are employed in the county at the present time. This a reduction of approximately 700 from the peak load of 2,785 in November, 1938. Last week's list was 2,111 and the week previously was 2,265 persons.

The largest number of those on WPA rolls is employed on road projects throughout the county, there being 1,434 engaged in this work. Gladstone has several large projects, including 84 men on street improvements, 90 on sanitary sewers, 49 on the beach and

Entertain At Lion Ladies' Night

The well known Bergman Sextette of Menominee will present a program of musical entertainment at the Escanaba Lions Club Ladies' Night to be held at the Chicken Shack at 6:45 o'clock on Monday evening. Members of the sextette are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Bergman, of Menominee. Above, from left to right, they are: (standing) Ellen, 10; Beverly, 14; Jacqueline, 12; Margaret, 15; (seated) Nancy 6; and Shirley, 18. The girls have been heard on the air, during the winter, from Station WTAQ, Green Bay.

Following the dinner and entertainment there will be cards and dancing.

Members of the Lions Ladies' Night committee are: Jack Bennett, chairman, James Frenn, Nick Bink and John Boyle.

Ice Threatens Old Stephenson Dock; Piles Up On Point

The north bay ice field remained unbroken last night, but had shifted enough to do considerable damage to the old Stephenson dock at the foot of Ludington street. Piling up against the end of the dock, the ice destroyed a platform which had been built there and toppled a signal pole used by the local yacht club.

Huge piles of broken ice were pushed up along the shores of the point, near the mouth of the Escanaba yacht basin.

Pillings at the end of the Stephenson dock were tilted, and the old Escanaba landmark was badly damaged. It was built in 1873 by the late J. F. Oliver, pioneer Escanaba resident who conducted a wholesale and retail grain and feed business and was interested in real estate and other business enterprises.

About five years after its construction the property was acquired by the N. Ludington Lumber company, and when this concern was merged with the I. Stephenson Lumber company, the dock name was changed to Stephenson dock.

In 1922 the city purchased a strip of land along the north shore, and the dock with it. By that time it was in need of considerable repair, as heavy ice floes had caused it to shift. A new top was put on the dock in the summer of 1935, and it was used regularly by the pleasure boat owners.

nesses in the cases had left town, presumably headed for Arizona, their parents said.

Tavern Cases Are Continued As Two Witnesses Leave

The hearings of Ed Ericson and Tad Krezman, local tavern proprietors arraigned on a charge of selling beer to minors, have been postponed until May 1 and 2, respectively.

Continuations were granted in justice court in Gladstone yesterday when it was learned by local authorities that the two chief wit-

BOND-AGATE SUIT DITCHED

Falls Case Is Settled Upon Suggestion of Attorney General

BY BEN EAST
Lansing—The suit of the state conservation commission against the Copper District Power company of Ontonagon, to protect the scenic beauty of Bond and Agate falls by restraining the diversion of water from one branch of the Ontonagon river to another, was quietly scuttled Wednesday afternoon.

At a conference with power company officials the commission, advised by Attorney General Thomas Read that "the case ought to be settled in 25 minutes," agreed to drop the suit and accept a compromise agreement intended to set a stipulated amount of water over the famous Bond falls for 90 days of the tourist season each year.

The agreement will be entered as a court order by stipulation on the part of the two contending parties.

Details Pending

Details of the agreement remain to be worked out at a formal meeting of the commission Thursday. Chairman William H. Louttit said flatly, however, that the commission will not accept less than 6 1/2 cubic feet per second flow during the summer months.

The power company sought to have the state accept 25 cubic feet per second as the amount of water to be sent over the falls. The conservation commission's engineers advised that the normal minimum flow of the river for the lowest month in summer is estimated to be about 100 cubic feet per second. The 6 1/2 cubic feet, representing a compromise, will give the falls "a fair appearance," it was testified.

William Schacht, president of the power company, protested this amount vigorously and sought a further reduction, but was told angrily by Louttit that the 6 1/2 feet represented the commission's lowest figure and not "a figure for you to shoot at."

Schacht immediately countered by asking whether the commission would agree to a flow of 20 feet per second the remaining months of the year. He also requested that the 6 1/2 feet per second be required only for the 12 daylight hours of the day, and be reduced to 25 feet at night when no tourists see the falls. These details remained to be worked out Thursday.

Sharp Arguments

The 90-day period when maximum flow would be required would be from June 15 to September 15.

A lengthy discussion, punctuated by sharp exchanges of argument, preceded the decision to drop the suit and accept a compromise agreement. Read, who represents the commission in his capacity as attorney general, indicated plainly that he was not in favor of the suit being tried in court if any other arrangement "satisfactory to the commission" could be worked out.

Asked afterward whether he had meant to advise the commission to compromise only on a

Many Assisting In Production Of "Crocodile Island"

Work on scenery and costumes for the annual junior high school opera, "Crocodile Island," is now nearing completion and the musical comedy should be a very colorful and gay presentation. CROW LEAVES FOR COLUMBUS

Edward Lee of Missouri New Assistant of Forest Service

Frank Crow, accompanied by his wife, left yesterday for Columbus, Ohio, where he will assume his duties as supervisor of the Wayne National Forest within a few days.

Crow, who has been active in community affairs in Escanaba, has been a resident of this city for the past four years, serving as assistant supervisor of the Upper Peninsula national forests, of which P. A. Wohlen is supervisor. He began his service with the forest service 20 years ago in Colorado and progressed until he became assistant in the Upper Peninsula forests in 1935, when the forest service offices were located at Munising. They were transferred here in 1935. Crow's new post at Columbus is another promotion.

The Wayne National Forest has a gross area of 1,466,102 acres and is one of the finest recreational units operated by the government. A heavy acquisition program now is under way in the Wayne forest.

BIKE ORDINANCE GETS APPROVAL

Tavern Licenses Granted; Council Charged With Discrimination

The city council last night passed an ordinance regulating the use of bicycles in the city of Escanaba, the ordinance setting up a set of rules governing operation of "bikes."

Ted Baldwin, local printer, appeared before the council and charged four of its members with discrimination in the matter of accepting bids on city printing only from union shops. Baldwin said non-union shops in the city must, under rules of the city charter, be allowed to submit bids on all city printing. He pointed out to the councilmen that independent printers pay taxes to the city and that, although the four union members of the council are obligated in some extent to the unions of the city, they, nevertheless, were elected by all of the people and not by union alone. Mayor Peter Logan told Baldwin the council would reconsider its action.

Petitions were received for water and sanitary sewers on North 22nd and 23rd streets, for elimination of the 1100 block on North 16th street from paving, and for recommendation of tavern licenses for Elroy LaCrosse and Gene Beaudoin. LaCrosse's recommendation was approved, as was Beaudoin's, although the latter had a qualifying clause stating that Beaudoin must move from his present location in a residential district before recommendation will be granted.

The city manager was instructed to telegraph the council's approval of a bill pending before congress on the Straits bridge. The council voted against extending the time of supplying relief clients with low cost coal later than April 15.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Ready to Go
The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food does not digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks puny.
A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 25 cents. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

Munising News

Gust Rzanca Taken By Death Thursday

Munising, April 20—Gust Rzanca, a resident of Munising for 27 years, died at his home here early this morning after an illness of two years.

Mr. Rzanca was born in Poland on August 12, 1864. He had resided in Detroit before coming to Munising.

His wife, two sons, Stanley and Kaamer, and one step-son, Joseph Basaraba, survive him.

Funeral services will be held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock from Sacred Heart church. The Rev. Fr. Ovid J. LaMothe will officiate at the services. The body will be placed in the vault at Maple Grove cemetery.

Junior Class Gives Three-Act Comedy

Munising, April 20—The three-act comedy, "The Taming of Tuffy," will be presented in the Mather high school auditorium at 8:15 o'clock Friday evening by the Mather high school junior class. A matinee will be held in the afternoon at 3 o'clock for grade school children.

The plot of the play revolves around the unsuccessful attempts of Robert Sanders, Gwen Roberts' uncle, to make some easy money by selling her some worthless Georgia sand flats, Sanders needing the money badly to pay a gambling debt to Harry Henderson, racketeering chieftain. Mrs. Sanders tries to aid her husband. Gwen, however, proves hard-headed and Sanders and Henderson resolve to get some money from her through kidnapping. Henderson's three gangsters, Pete, Louis and Doug, attempt to carry out his plans. Emmaline, maid in the house, attempts to be a model for Gwen and the presence of Gwen's chum, Megan Hughes, and her fiancé complicate the Sanders' and Henderson's plans.

How their plans miscarry and the humorous situations involved form the plot of the comedy. The cast for the play follows:

Tuffy—Margaret Truden.
Bill Stuart—Louis Welch.
Robert Sanders—George Merwin.
Mrs. Sanders—Alice Niemi.
Emmaline—Willo Nelson.
Harry Henderson—James Drase.
Megan Hughes—Lola Daney.
Louie the Rat—Jack LaBonty.
Pete the Gorilla—Jack Niks.
Doug—Oliver Shampine.

The high school orchestra will furnish music during the play and there will be musical specialties between the acts.

Tickets for the play may be obtained from members of the junior class or at the high school on Friday evening.

Scouts Given Good Support In County; Donations $1,064

Munising, April 20—Munising and Alger county gave strong support to the Boy and Girl Scout program of the area through contributions made during the recent campaign for funds. The report of C. W. Curtis, chairman of the Scout finance committee, shows that donations reached $1,064.95. Pledges totaling $100.88 are still to be received, which will raise the sum to $1,165.83.

There were approximately 900 contributors to the fund. The receipts averaged $1.29 per contributor, or 29 cents per capita of population.

The pledges which were made for contributions were generally made by persons who asked to defer payment for a time, and the committee is confident that all pledges will be taken up.

The canvass for funds was made April 4. "The results of the campaign are excellent," Mr. Curtis said, "and it is very gratifying to see the generous response that was made. The district committee is confident that the people will see the results of their investment in training the youth of Munising and Alger county. I want to personally thank each of the individual committee members and the solicitors for their time and enthusiasm and their excellent results."

Both the Boy and Girl Scout organizations will share in the benefits of the campaign. Of the total collected, $600 goes toward the budget of the Red Buck Council as Alger county's share; $300 goes toward the operations of the local Girl Scouts; $100 will be used to make repairs at the Reddy Lake Scout camp, and the balance will be disposed of by joint action of the local Boy and Girl Scout committees.

The drive was made by seven teams and seventy solicitors.

More than 200 boys and girls are enrolled in the Scout organization in Munising, including Boy Scouts, Cubs, Girl Scouts and Brownies. The seven-point program carried on last year by the units will be continued this year. It includes expansion of activities, advancement in Scout work, supervised camping, training of youth and adult leaders, maintenance of standards and records, and community service.

During 1938 six new Boy Scout troops and four new Cub packs were formed in the Council, and the enrollment increased from 309 to 492. The Council includes Munising, Gladstone, Manistique and Escanaba.

Girls ranging from seven to 18 are enrolled in the Girl Scout organization which have as their objectives, recreation, education and service.

Traunik Resident, Mrs. L. Knaus Dies

Munising, April 20—Mrs. Louis Knaus of Traunik died at her home there on Wednesday morning after an illness of a year. Mrs. Knaus had been a resident of Alger county since 1907 when she came to the United States from Czechoslovakia.

Mrs. Knaus was born on April 10, 1881, in Nasice, Slavonic, Czechoslovakia. She was married in 1901 to Louis Knaus and came to this county in 1907 with her husband. Coming to Alger county in 1907, she had resided at Traunik since 1918.

Surviving Mrs. Knaus are her husband, five daughters, Mrs. Vincent Truden of Forest Lake, Mrs. Louis Tausas of Marquette, Miss Matilda Knaus of Chicago, Miss Anna Knaus of Detroit and Miss Treseas Knaus of Traunik; four sons, Louis, Jr., of Sparta, Georgia, Francis of Cleveland, and John and Henry of Traunik; and five grandchildren.

The body was taken to the Bowerman Funeral Home here and will be taken to the family home in Traunik on Thursday afternoon. Funeral services will be held on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock (CST) from St. Rita's Catholic church in Treenary. The Rev. Fr. Scherlinger will officiate at the services. Burial will be made in the Treenary cemetery.

Bishop Pinten And Fr. Hubbard Will Meet Soon

Grand Rapids—Two clergymen veterans of the dogged trails may meet in Grand Rapids this week. One of them belongs here—Bishop Joseph F. Pinten. The other is Fr. Bernard R. Hubbard, the "glacier priest" of Alaska.

They have met before on Fr. Hubbard's previous visits. But, so far as can be learned there was no swapping of their "musher" reminiscences. For the bishop is a reticent man, too busy with concerns of today to recall his distant youth of nearly half a century ago up in Michigan's own "subarctic" region, the upper peninsula.

A summons to minister to a sick Indian out on Marquette island at the head of Lake Huron, started the bishop as a "musher." All the money he had at the time—$11—went to the Indians to buy a sled and a couple of dogs to haul it. Few even of the bishop's intimates here have heard about that incident—the bishop's debut as a "musher" missionary.

Ordained at 23 in Rome, Nov. 1, 1890, Fr. Pinten came back the next year to his native copper country. He was born at Rockland. His first assignment was to Detour, the easternmost point of the upper peninsula mainland. That charge included a string of outlying mission stations, one of them for the Indians on Marquette Island.

Everyone knows the priesthood is a year-round job. Winter or summer, mass must be said. A sick call must be heeded, no matter what the season or the weather. Numberless times the young priest hiked the 40 miles from Detour to the Sault and back on snowshoes when the drifts were deep.

Roads up that way in the early '90s were wagon tracks at best, timber and "turkey" trails at their worst. Winter made them snowshoe and dogged trails.

Iron Mountain was Fr. Pinten's next pastorate after Detour. Then his superior, Bishop Vertin, shifted him from those "metropolitan" surroundings back to roughing it at L'Anse at the lower end of Keweenaw bay.

"THEY SAY MY FAMILY ARE FULL OF ZIP!"

What a Difference a Balanced Breakfast Makes!

That clean toasted taste of National Biscuit Shredded Wheat is the rich, elusive inner flavor we release in choice sun-mellowed whole wheat.

By our process those inner flavor-laden cells swell and burst in clouds of pure steam. Then we press the tender grain and shape into biscuits. In automatic ovens we bake them just long enough to bring them to a fragrant nut-brown crispness.

And with that appetite-enticing taste, you get in National Biscuit Shredded Wheat with milk an abundant balance of nourishment. In it lie eight vital food essentials for the muscles, nerves, blood, teeth and bones.

Millions of families, through more than 40 years, have enjoyed this delicious breakfast of fine, carefully selected whole wheat in its most delicious form. It is rushed to your food store fresh and crisp, by swift delivery trucks. Ask for National Biscuit Shredded Wheat, for morning feasts you'll feel better about.

McMillan News

WEDDING
McMillan, Mich. — Miss Ida Kiero, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kiero of Engadine and William Prieson son of Mrs. Frank Scray of McMillan were united in marriage on Thursday April 13. The ceremony was performed in Manistique by the Rev. J. B. King of that city. Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Harkness of McMillan attended the couple as bridesmaid and best man. Friday evening a dancing party was given in their honor at the township hall.

CHILD HEALTH MEETING
A regular meeting of the Rural Child Health Association which includes members from Pentland, McMillan, Lakefield and Columbus townships was held in the Pentland town hall on Tuesday afternoon under the direction of president Mrs. George Roat of Lakefield. Pentland members were in charge of the program and lunch.

PANCAKE SUPPER
An old fashioned pancake supper sponsored by the M. E. Church was held in the local town hall on Friday evening and proved a success both socially and financially. Mrs. Peter Mc Innis and Mrs. Frank Williams were in charge of the supper.

Following the supper a short program under the direction of Mrs. A. J. Mainville was enjoyed.

SCHOOLS REOPEN
Columbus township schools resumed classes Monday morning at the usual hour after having been closed for the Easter vacation. Instructors, Philip Neault, Robert Murphy, Mervin Monroe, Miss Ingrid Joukainen and Miss Grace Lance have returned to their positions after spending the vacation period in Marquette, Curtis, Neegaunee and Detroit.

Jay D. Tanner has returned home after a several days visit with relatives in Saginaw.

Percy C. Mark arrived home Friday following a few days visit with friends and relatives in Stambaugh and Iron River. He was accompanied home by Mrs. Mark and their son Billy who spent the Easter holidays with relatives in Stambaugh.

Jack Snyder has returned to McMillan after visiting with friends in Flint and Mt. Morris.

Messrs Stanley Generon and Forrest Hanes arrived home Tuesday after spending the past several weeks in the lower peninsula.

Alfred Florence of Munising visited in town Saturday at the home of his daughter Mrs. Harry Smathers. He was accompanied here by Wayne Smathers who had been his guest in Munising the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kubort have returned to their home in Marquette following a visit here with relatives Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kubort.

Rev. Philip Carpenter left Sunday afternoon for Lansing, where

News of FOOD Specials

Cape Cod Molasses Cookies
1/3 cup shortening
1/2 cup sugar
1 egg
1/2 cup milk
1/3 cup molasses
1/2 cup all-bran
1 1/2 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teasp. salt
1/2 teasp. nutmeg
1/2 teasp. cinnamon
1/2 teasp. cloves
Cream shortening and sugar thoroughly. Add egg, beat until creamy. Add milk, molasses and all-bran. Add flour which has been sifted with soda, baking powder, salt, nutmeg, cinnamon and cloves and mix well. Spread butter very thin in greased large jelly roll pan with heavy waxed paper in the bottom. Bake in slow oven (300 F.), about 25 minutes. Cut diagonally into diamond shapes as soon as cookies are removed from oven. Let cool slightly before removing from pan. Yield: 4 dozen cookies (1 1/4 x 1 1/2 inches).

Beef Liver Loaf
One pound beef liver, 1 medium-sized onion, 1/4 pound salt pork (reserving 2 thin slices), 1/2 cup dry bread crumbs, 1/4 tablespoon minced parsley, 1/4 cup diced celery, 2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 teaspoon sage, 1/2 teaspoon thyme, 1-2 teaspoon pepper.
Wash and remove membrane from liver. Cut liver in small pieces and put through food chopper 2 or 3 times. Chop onion and pork. (The finer the meat is chopped, the better the loaf.) Add celery, parsley, crumbs, milk and seasonings. Mix well. Place in a small, greased loaf tin. Put thin strips of salt pork on top. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 1 1/2 hours.

he will attend a 12 day school for Michigan Methodist undergraduate ministers. He was accompanied to Lansing by the Rev. Forrest Pierce of Hubert.

Alton Fletcher of Melvin is the guest this week of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Harkness.

Miss Virginia Wood and sister Margaret have returned home after visiting with friends in Marquette.

Miss Mary Jane Smith arrived home Friday after spending the Easter holidays with relatives in Kalamazoo and Lansing.

Brazil Nut Fudge Cake
1/3 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg, well beaten
2 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
1/2 teasp. salt
1/2 cup milk
1 1/2 cup cake flour
2 teasp. phosphate baking powder
1 cup ground Brazil nuts
1 teasp. vanilla
Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, beating well. Stir in beaten egg. Stir in chocolate. Add flour, sifted with baking powder and salt, alternately with the milk. Stir in Brazil nuts and vanilla. Pour batter into two 8 inch greased cake pans. Bake in moderate oven (350 F.) 30 to 35 minutes.

Banana Coffee Fluff
1/2 lb. marshmallows, cut in quarters
1 cup strong freshly-made coffee
1/2 teasp. salt
1/2 cup whipped cream, whipped
1 teasp. vanilla
1 cup sliced or diced ripe bananas (2 to 3)
Use ripe bananas (yellow peel flecked with brown). (Make strong fresh coffee using 2 level tablespoons coffee to 1 cup water.) Mix together marshmallows, coffee and salt in top of double boiler. Heat over boiling water, stirring constantly, until marshmallows are melted and mixture is smooth. Turn into a bowl. Chill. When mixture begins to thicken, fold in cream and vanilla. Chill until mixture is quite stiff, then fold in bananas. Chill until firm. Garnish with additional whipped cream, if desired. 6 servings.

Quick Brazil Nut Fudge
4 squares chocolate
2 tablespoons butter
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 lb. sifted confectioner's sugar
1/3 cup milk
1 cup chopped Brazil nuts
Whole Brazil nuts
Melt chocolate and butter over hot water. Stir in salt and vanilla. Stir in sugar alternately with the milk, keeping pan over hot water. Remove from heat and stir in chopped Brazil nuts. Pour fudge in a 7-inch square pan. Garnish with Brazil nuts, cut in halves. Let stand several hours. Cut in squares.

Who Says the Men Don't Care Beans About Salad Dishes?

Kidney bean salad in tomato cups is the kind of salad men look forward to in springtime.

BY MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
When beans jump into the salad bowl men will come to watch the sport. Good French dressing, tames kidney and navy and lima beans to salad gentleness, and fresh spring salad greens, will complete the confection. Result: all the gaiety of a salad plus the protein virtue of dried beans.

Kidney Bean Salad
(Serves 4 to 6)
Two and one-half cups cooked kidney beans (canned or dried), 2 hard-cooked eggs diced, 1-2 cup diced celery, 1 tablespoon minced chives, 1 cup diced green pepper, 1-4 cup chopped sweet pickle, salt and pepper, French dressing, mayonnaise.

Combine all ingredients. Season to taste. Marinate in French dressing. Chill thoroughly and serve on crisp lettuce. Pass mayonnaise in separate bowl.

Navy Bean Salad
(Serves 4 to 6)
Two cups cooked navy beans (canned or dried), 1 cup bean sprouts, 1 cup minced pimiento,

1-4 cup chopped green pepper, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon minced onion, 1-4 cup diced celery, salt and pepper to taste, French dressing, Russian dressing.

Combine all ingredients and season to taste. Marinate in French dressing. Chill thoroughly and serve on bed of salad greens. Pass Russian dressing in separate bowl.

Lima Bean Salad
(Serves 4 to 6)
One cup cooked dried lima beans, 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce, 2 tablespoons minced onion, 2 tablespoons finely minced parsley, 1 teaspoon minced tarragon, 1-4 cup French dressing.

Combine all ingredients. Chill. Serve from chilled bowl lined with crisp young lettuce.

Beauty aids have an annual turnover valued at $600,000,000 in England, with hair preparations ranking first, face and skin foods second and face powder and rouge third.

Rapid River

The Thursday Bridge club members were entertained at the home of Mrs. William Strong Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Capt. Cape of Gladstone received first prize, Mrs. Joseph Desjardin, a guest, the traveling prize and Mrs. Ralph Dickey the low prize. A tasty lunch was served.

Painters have been busy the past week painting the lower walls and the bleachers in the gym a dark grey. The paint first applied rubbed off, causing a considerable amount of dust and disagreeableness which it is hoped will be eliminated.

The farm garden meeting held Thursday evening in the high school was fairly well attended. A number of the farmers from this community attended the meeting in the afternoon at Perkins. The meeting was in charge of Mr. Wenner, due to Mr. Schultz being sick and not able to be present. Mr. Wenner gave an interesting talk on plotting and planning the garden before planting to guard against getting an over amount of some vegetables and not enough of others. Miss Eads presented some interesting statistics on budgeting the garden produce with the intention of determining the actual saving in dollars and cents which the garden will afford. The following persons were enrolled in addition to those enrolled last year: Mrs. Lander Larson, Mrs. Carl Soderman, Olga Larson, Mrs. Elmer Lamberg, Mrs. Exlor Beaulieu, Gladstone, Mrs. Wilbur Covell, Gladstone, Route One, Mrs. Leslie Hunt, Gladstone, Mr. and Mrs. Nels Larson, Mrs. R. Christiansen, Mrs. Edna Young, Mrs. Frank Wolf, Mrs. C. E. Hamilton, Rapid River. The leaders of the extension division of home economics for Delta county will hold a meeting Wednesday, April 19, in the high school gym. Miss Strowe, state club leader, will be in charge.

George Muth spent several days in Menominee on business last week.

Mrs. Joseph Desjardin of Marquette visited last week at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Donald Peterson.

Roger and Helen Kirch and Sam Lind left Friday by motor for Reedsville, Wis. They returned Saturday night, accompanied by Charles Kirch who spent several weeks there with his mother who is ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bobish of Chicago have leased the "Doc" Pearson place at Masonville and expect to spend the summer there in hope that Mr. Bobish may regain his health.

Burnell Phillips, area Scout executive, was in town last Wednesday.

Mrs. D. L. Peterson and mother, Mrs. Joseph Desjardin, visited relatives in Escanaba Friday.

Mrs. George Halvorson of Minneapolis, Minn., is spending the week with her sisters, the Misses Phyllis and Gertrude Grandchamp,

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hayes and little daughter of Westmore are spending the week at the Ernest Lavolette home.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Annuta of Escanaba visited at the Art Lauson home last week, enroute from Marquette where they took their baby for treatment at the Children's clinic.

Mrs. Art Lauson of Masonville while at the home of a friend in Escanaba last Monday, slipped and fell, striking her side on the edge of the bathtub. Thinking it only a bruise, she paid no attention to it until Saturday when it became very painful. She consulted a doctor and found she had broken several ribs. She will be confined to her home for some time.

Mrs. Richard Caswell who has been sick with the flu, is better, but not able to be out.

Raymond Robert, while pulling a car out of the mud Sunday with a horse, had the misfortune to dislocate his arm at the shoulder. The horse gave a sudden jerk while Raymond was holding onto him, taking him unaware, resulting in the accident. He was taken to Gladstone and given medical care.

Michigan Mirror

Doings About Capitol

Leasing—In this day of double-header movie attractions, Michigan's capital city is being enthrilled by two sensational thrillers:

First—"The Mystery of Frank McKay, or Why Did He Get $92,000 for the Blue Water Bridge?"

Second—"The Enigma of State Buying, or Why Were State Orders Cancelled for Higher Prices?"

With investigations under way by order of Governor Luren D. Dickinson, the two thrillers promise to become serials. Capital citizens, accustomed to official probes, are wondering what the final chapters will be like. At any rate, the suspense here is breathtaking.

The McKay sensation involves two state administrations—Fitzgerald's term in 1935 and 1936 when the financing was arranged, and Murphy's term in 1937 and 1938 when the structure was built.

The bridge project was fathered by a special state commission and financed by a $2,300,000 bond issue underwritten by a Toledo bond firm, Stranahan, Harris & Co. The state highway department built the highway approach at Port Huron.

Why did McKay, former state treasurer, receive $92,000 in connection with the bond issues for this bridge? Or was this fee paid for other services? Governor Dickinson has ordered a complete investigation.

Read Asked to Probe
Attorney General Thomas Read has been given the responsibility of making the official inquiry into the McKay fee.

In making this assignment, Governor Dickinson found himself in the position of asking a McKay-endorsed state officer to investigate McKay. Capital observers recall that when Read was a candidate for lieutenant governor with the support of McKay, his chief primary opponent was Mr. Dickinson.

Like all mysteries, the McKay case has numerous ramifications. PWA Administrator Harold L. Ickes has jumped into the picture with a disclosure that he had rejected the bridge project in 1935 on the grounds that the financial proposal was unwise. Counter to Ickes' boast is the untarnished fact that the Port Bridge is earning money faster than the commission anticipated it would and that the 20-year bond issue may be retired in the next ten years, if present earnings are maintained.

More Commissions
In the McKay serial plot is another figure, Stewart P. Blazier of Grosse Pointe, Detroit manager for Stranahan, Harris & Co.

It was revealed at Washington that Blazier had received $18,685 in "commissions" for services performed in connection with the $2,300,000 bond issue, in addition to a salary of $4,800.

Blazier was a personal friend of the late Governor Fitzgerald. Incidentally, he was one of the pallbearers at the Grand Lodge funeral.

Throughout the entire matter, several facts stand out. The federal government is not concerned, as both McKay and Blazier have seemingly accounted for every dollar of income for federal taxation purposes. Unlike Pendergast, the Kansas City political leader, McKay is reputed to have deep respect for the internal revenue department at Washington.

Furthermore, no state funds are directly involved as the bridge bonds were sold to private investors. It apparently was a private business transaction between the Toledo bond house and the two Michigan men—McKay and Blazier. Hence it has all the earmarks of legality.

Hiking Prices
The second mystery thriller was uncovered by Auditor General Vernon J. Brown. It concerns the question: Why were certain orders cancelled by state buyers and substitute orders made out at higher prices?

The legislature recently transferred all accounting responsibility to the office of the auditor general who is a member of the state administrative board.

Digging into the records of buying done by the state since Jan. 1, Brown bared some startling transactions: Purchase of a tractor, selling at retail for less than $1,000, for a total amount of $1,250 including a traded-in tractor; purchase of a plow, selling at retail for $110, for a total of $150.95; cancelling orders for 15,151 tons of coal and substituting new orders through another firm for 10,000 tons at higher prices; and sale of alleged inferior feed for cattle at higher prices.

Brown summed it up: "Local dealers have been ignored and articles bought of distant sales agents at prices above open market quotations. . . . Unless Michigan men display more intelligent buying than its central purchasing department has yet demonstrated, it had better hand the job back to heads of departments and institutions."

Barnard Involved
Edward Barnard, Wayne county Republican boss, and McKay, Kent county leader, virtually dictated the choice of nominees of the Republican party last fall.

In order to cripple Barnard in Wayne county, Rep. Elton H. Eaton of Plymouth introduced a bill calling for congressional district conventions, all on the same

SERIAL STORY BORDER ADVENTURE BY OREN ARNOLD

COPYRIGHT, 1939,
NEA SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday: The officers pose with Barro for Betty Mary, then return to El Paso with her note. They warn the patrol watch tower to keep a constant lookout on her hotel window for further signals.

CHAPTER XIII
Hope Kildare arose at 5 o'clock on the morning following the "visit" with Luis Barro in Mexico. He went outside his landlady's house and, surprisingly, put up a ladder that gave him access to the roof. But even with his powerful field glasses he couldn't see the Montezuma Hotel in Juarez, because of nearby obstructions. The Two Republics Building in downtown El Paso seemed to be directly in the way. Anyhow the light was still dense at that hour.

He got into his own swift sport coupe then and drove hurriedly around in a large half circle, coming out on the Mount Franklin Scenic Drive, a long hill that gave him altitude quickly. He stopped at Lookout Point, several hundred feet above the city, and focused his field glasses again.

"That's the Montezuma, right enough," he murmured. "And that's sure as shootin' the northeast room on the fourth floor. But the window is blank."

That disturbed him. He watched the window in the haze for several minutes, wondering if Betty Mary could have forgotten to put up her promised signal. Or maybe she didn't mean to hang out the two handkerchiefs until some time this morning anyway. After all, she only suggested it last evening. She would hardly be awake yet.

He envisioned her asleep. Would she have the sleeping-beauty type of daintiness? Fragile, and exquisitely colored, her dark eyelashes drooping in little curves, her little ear—oh, glory! He wished he had taken a poke last night at Luis Barro. Or just up and shot him while he could.

Betty Mary had saved his life a few nights ago, he would be day. Encouraged by young Republican legislators who are itching for a "new deal" in Michigan Republicanism, the bill was rushed through the House.

In the Senate, however, it was killed in committee but only on the day following the spring election.

Senator D. Hale Brake, chairman of the judiciary committee, promptly introduced a new anti-breaking methods obtained suspension of rules for the particular measure, for the deadline for introduction of bills had passed.

Barnard's power in Wayne county, as the acknowledged ruler of county conventions, will be sharply curtailed if Brake's bill receives legislative sanction. The McKay fee exposure has greatly enhanced its chances of passage. It also sharpens the cleavage that is developing in Republican ranks.

Highway Patronage Raid
If Murray D. Van Wagoner were a Republican, the house of representatives would not have given a moment's consideration to a bill seeking to deprive the state highway department of maintenance of state trunk roads, returning this responsibility to the counties.

In 1925 a Republican highway commissioner, Frank Rogers, took over maintenance of state roads in 18 counties. His successor, Grover C. Dillman, also a Republican, furthered this policy by taking over 14 additional counties. The trend was continued by Van Wagoner, a Democrat, and today the state department is responsible for snow clearance, ice sanding and general maintenance of state roads in 50 of the 88 counties, 18 counties being added in the past six years.

Should a severe snowstorm hit West Michigan the state highway department mobilizes trucks and plows from counties not affected by the storm. The mobility of the state's snow-fighting equipment is recognized generally as a distinct public asset.

Instead of one standardized maintenance for state highways, the thrust at Van Wagoner would create 88 varieties. The Democratic commissioner has 1,200 maintenance employees—1,200 jobs which could be distributed among deserving Republicans. The bill is undeniably political in purpose.

State Deficit Grows
While double-header mysteries are still making the headlines, Governor Dickinson and the administration are wrestling with a critical financial dilemma—a treasury deficit prospect of approximately $30,000,000 by June 30.

To pay current cost of operating the state government, Michigan is dipping into special earmarked funds in an attempt to avert the use of script or outright bankruptcy. Ordinarily the treasury has a balance of around $15,000,000. Today it shows a red ink deficit of $15,000,000 with three months' bills yet to be paid.

The higher prices for state purchases authorized by buyers after lower-price orders had been cancelled, were directly counter to the governor's economy program. Governor Dickinson's salary cutting statement was an indication of the extremity to which he is ready to go in order to restore sound fiscal government to Michigan.

People with an overabundance of dignity and an oversupply of power have always, in the end, been targets for laughter.

Charlie Chaplin, speaking of his forthcoming film, "The Dictator."

eternally indebted to her. And there was no use kidding himself about it, he loved that girl as he had never loved any other person anywhere. He wished he might tell her so. But—

Well, there was Sheridan. She had given Sherry the first date. She had given Sherry the note last night. Obviously she favored Sherry. What did Sherry have that made him preferable? Frankly, he didn't know. But certainly he cared! Hope sighed.

Abruptly, he touched his starter and rolled back toward town. He was deeply unhappy, miserable and sick at heart without very strong cause. He didn't recognize it as such, but the truth was, he was jealous, thoroughly jealous. But he would not have admitted this.

He stopped at the house where Sherry lived but learned that Sherry had already dressed and gone to town. It was still not 7 a. m. Hope drove down to Border Patrol headquarters. The men on night duty greeted him cordially. Kildare and Starr were a popular "team" among the Immigration and Naturalization officers and the customs force.

"Sherry Starr been around this morning?" Hope inquired.

"Yep. He went up the tower, to take a two-hour shift and relieve the regular man a little. He's up there now."

"Yeah? Well."

So Sheridan also was looking for Betty Mary's signals, Hope realized. But then—why not? She was working with both of them; they both felt responsible for her, justly so. He went inside the building and telephoned up to Sherry.

"See anything?" Hope asked, without preliminaries.

"You up already?" Sherry greeted. "Naw, not a thing. She musta overslept. It's after 7."

"Listen, you mug, a girl doesn't have to get up at unearthly hours like a flatfoot federal cop, see? Maybe she thinks 9 o'clock is the crack o' dawn. Can you see her window?"

"Sure, plain as day now. It's open, but the shade's pulled, against the morning sun I guess."

"Um. Well, when you going to eat?"

"I talked the man out of half his shift up here, so I'll have to perch here until 8. Wait for me."

"Okay," said Hope, and hung up.

At 8 Sherry came down looking glum, and the two men ate breakfast in silence at a nearby restaurant. When they drifted back to the office at 9, a special delivery letter, postmarked El Paso, was addressed to Sherry! But inside it said:

"Dear Boys: We made no arrangements for communicating with each other, except the window signals, so I shall cross back to El Paso in a taxicab at daybreak and mail this letter to you.

"Barro escorted me to the Montezuma Hotel at 11 p. m. He told the Mexican maid to take special care of me, and the way he presumed to order her—almost fiercely—made me suspect that she might be one of his band. When she came to help me go to bed, I managed to display my .22 cartridge to her, and again it worked!"

"She is one of Barro's spotters. Being in a hotel, she can watch for aliens and others who might be his customers, and tip him off to a lot of things. He pays her well, she says. She never questioned my status at all. Naturally she wouldn't, since Barro himself brought me there, and I had the secret token. So I pumped her all I dared, posing as a worker in the past six weeks—that narco-cotics are going across the river every day, in broad daylight. She, and all of Barro's gang who know about it, are elated with the success of the newest dodges, she revealed. I pretended to be one of those in the know, so I didn't learn everything. But I do know that a woman is bringing some of the dope over. It is cocaine, and somehow there is a child in the plan, too. That's all the hints I could pick up."

"Don't try to answer, or see me. (Unless you want to pose again!) I'll communicate with you somehow. Love—Betty Mary."

The two officers read the letter together, then Sheridan read it aloud.

"Whew!" Hope breathed.

"Could that be the Tafoya woman? With her kid?"

"No, I don't see how. Sherry. She's been arrested twice already, she and her daughter, and both of them searched by the jail matron I was there the last time myself. In fact I held the little kid's doll while they took her inside. She's a cute kid. No hint of smuggling there."

"They had a clean permit to cross?"

"Yep. Proved she was just visiting relatives over here in Paso."

"Why'd they pick her up in the first place? Her and the kid?"

"Just on suspicion. They cross nearly every day, visiting."

"Let's go look at the window now," Hope said then.

Isabella Circle Will Celebrate 18th Birthday

Daughters of Isabella of Trinity Circle 362, will celebrate the thirteenth anniversary of the organization of the Circle at a meeting Monday evening, April 24, in St. Joseph's club rooms. The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. John Kress is chairman of the evening, assisted by Mesdames J. H. LaHale, Louis DeGrand, John DeGrand, Albert Laviolette, William Planaky, Eugene Auger, Willard Schwartz and Harold Valentino.

Church Events

Christian Science Churches "Probation After Death" will be the subject of the lesson-lesson in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, April 23.

The Golden Text (Psalms 23:4) is: "Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil, for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Romans 8:5, 6): "For they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the Spirit do the things of the Spirit. For to be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 487): "Life is the origin and ultimate of man, never attainable through death, but gained by walking in the pathway of Truth both before and after that which is called death."

Cotton Print Of Clever Lines Is Slenderizing

BY MARIAN MARTIN

Everything a larger-size cotton frock should be for warmer-weather... graciously slimming, comfortably cool, and very smart! Besides, Pattern 9055 is one of the easiest recipes for chic—as the Sew Chart reveals—with but four main pattern pieces in its make-up. Think how becoming that lapped-over bodice front will be, especially when trimmed with a narrow fringe! The touch of ruffled white organdie or plique will help you cheat the years—and, after all, the fashionable thing today is to look years younger and prettier. Notice the slenderizing lines of the skirt, with a neat flare at both back and front. Sleeves may be wide or fitted.

Pattern 9055 may be ordered only in women's sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48 and 50. Size 36 requires 4 1/2 yards 35 inch fabric and 1 3/4 yards ruffling. Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Hinze, well known residents of Escanaba, will celebrate their fiftieth wedding anniversary on Saturday, April 22. A family dinner, followed by open house and a reception at their home, 322 North Sixteenth street, are included in plans for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Hinze, of 322 North Sixteenth street, who may be described as Escanaba's "youngest looking" pioneers, are celebrating a particularly important and happy occasion on Saturday, their golden wedding anniversary.

A family dinner, in honor of the jubilarians, will be served at the home at one o'clock and open house will be held throughout the afternoon and evening, for all their neighbors and friends who will join in extending their congratulations and best wishes.

Mrs. Hinze, who was Anna Burmeister, was born in Cicero, Wis., April 10, 1888. Mr. Hinze, who was born in Will County, Beecher, Ill., November 16, 1888, came to Escanaba as a young man, to enter the service of the Chicago & North Western Railway, as a brakeman, and later as a passenger conductor, his service dating from July 27, 1887, to January 28, 1928.

Married in Wisconsin Their marriage took place on April 22, 1889, in the German Lutheran church at Seymour, Wis., where Mrs. Hinze had been confirmed, Rev. Howitts reading the marriage service, and they immediately established their permanent home in Escanaba.

Their family group includes five children, three grandchildren and three great grandchildren. The children are Richard of Chicago; Leonard of Chicago; Wellington, at home; Mrs. Gerald McDonald, the former Rosella Hinze, of Escanaba; and Mrs. J. E. Muck, who was Laura Hinze, of Portland, Ore.

The family will be with them for the golden wedding celebration with the exception of Mrs. Muck, who with Mr. Muck will be here for an extended visit this summer.

Many Hobbies Both Mr. and Mrs. Hinze have many hobbies to which they devote much time and in which they derive a great deal of pleasure. Mrs. Hinze is an expert in crocheting and quilt making and she has made over twenty-five quilts of varied patterns, the most beautiful the Rose of Killarney, which was entered in the art show in New York. She also is an expert in making knitted, braided and crocheted rugs.

Both she and her husband are gardening enthusiasts, their special interest, roses.

And both of them have found considerable fun and amusement while on leisurely drives, in following some little known or little used road, just to see where it would end—usually, in some farmer's yard.

You have nothing to thank me for, I think the activities which you have the misfortune to represent are most reprehensible.

Magistrate George H. Polwell, in dismissing a libel complaint against Fritz Kuhn, would-be American "Fuhrer."

Social-Club

Altar Society Meeting The Married Ladies' Altar society of St. Joseph's parish will hold a regular meeting in the club rooms of the school this evening at 8 o'clock. A social hour and refreshments will follow the meeting.

Bridge League Tonight A regular meeting of the Delta Bridge League will be held this evening at the Sherman hotel. Play will begin promptly at eight o'clock.

St. Anne's P-T-A An interesting program marked the well attended meeting of St. Anne's Parent-Teacher association, held Wednesday night in the school hall. The third graders of the school presented a health program, the fourth graders, a geography lesson on Holland, and in addition there were songs and piano numbers by pupils of St. Anne's School of Music, and dances by pupils of the Ramona School of Dancing. The meeting was the annual Fathers' Night observance and fathers of the unit presided as officers.

Dessert Luncheon The Women's Auxillary of St. Stephen's Episcopal church will meet for a dessert luncheon this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. George McGilligan, 1714 Fifth avenue south. A regular business meeting will follow the luncheon.

Anniversary Observed A gathering of friends and relatives on April 15 helped Mr. and Mrs. Percy Utt, 814 North 18th street, celebrate their silver wedding anniversary. Cards were played, with honors in five hundred going to Mrs. Dolph Lamarche, first; Mrs. John Lacosse, second; Dolph Lamarche, third; Walter Menard, guest prize. Out-of-town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ranger, Harris; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Gish, Gladstone; Mrs. John Lacosse, Bark River; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Utt, Danforth. Lunch was enjoyed, and the host and hostess were presented with a purse of money as a memento of the happy occasion.

Primary Pupils In Program For Webster P-T Unit

A large attendance marked the afternoon meeting of the Webster Parent-Teacher association, held Tuesday in the school gymnasium.

The program was as follows: Miss Olson's afternoon kindergarten: Spring songs, by the group. Song by Vernon and Verna Poquette.

Dramatization, "Little Black Sambo." Miss Tills' first grade: Tap dance—Dolores Gafner and Marilyn Joy Tibbert.

Nursery rhyme dramatizations. Speaker—Marilyn Anderson. Jack and Jill—Frederick Jamar, Petty Jean Dagenais. Little Jack Horner—John Matovich.

Little Miss Muffet—Nancy Anderson, Larry Pratt. Jack Be Nimble—Jack Groleau. Bo-Peep—Lorraine LaBombard. Betty Jean Dagenais, Theresa Ruden.

Song dramatization, "In Holland." Miss Grabowski's second grade: Dance, Chimes of Dunkirk. Tap dance—Jean Gravelle. Songs by the group.

Mrs. Ewald Nelson was elected delegate to the district Parent-Teacher conference to be held at Sault Ste. Marie, May 20, 21, 22. The summer round-up dates were announced, April 26 and 27.

Easter Seal Sale Reaches New High

With almost all returns accounted for, the Easter seal campaign this year is the most successful in the history of Delta county, Nicholas J. Carr, county chairman, said yesterday. To date, $839.90 has been turned in by Escanaba, Gladstone and various townships throughout the county, a report of Treasurer William Warmington discloses. Of that amount, $136.82 was from Gladstone. Mrs. Clyde Fitzpatrick was chairman of the Gladstone campaign.

Mrs. Riegel Talks At Cub Meeting Wednesday Night

Forty Cubs and 35 parents attended the Jefferson school Cub Pack meeting Wednesday night. Mrs. C. L. Riegel spoke on "Parents in Cubbing." She stressed the necessity of parents taking an active part in helping their sons get the most out of Cubbing. The need was stressed not only to get behind the Cub and Scout program but to back it financially.

Awards were presented by Cubmaster Donald McMillan to the following Cubs: Gordon Schils, Jack Schils, Harold Olson, Jack Holland, Walter Stahl, James Piche, Billy Cleerman, Don Wickholm, Don Weber, John Olson, Eric Hammar, David Naser, Den Chief awards were made to Richard Van De Weghe, Wm. Howe and Jim Smith. Howard Dufour received his one year service star.

The Jefferson P. T. A. has been interested in Cubbing during the past year and has presented the Pack with an American flag, badges and awards, and prizes. Mrs. John Holland was presented with a certificate for completing a six season course in Cubbing. Prizes were awarded to the following boys for selling the most tickets for the recent Scout-Cub Circus: Wilmer Hansen, Jack Finn, Jack Schils and Billy Gasmann.

The feature of the evening was a puppet show by Howard Dufour. Donald McMillan and Willard Blau.

A puppet made up to represent Frankenstein was the hit of the evening. The Pack is registering for its second year with a membership of approximately 35.

Pupils' Program, Talk On Russia At Unit Meeting

An entertainment by the pupils and a talk by Mrs. T. A. Hoffmeyer were included in the program of the Washington Parent-Teacher association, held Wednesday in the room of Miss Lenora Ryan, school principal.

The entertainment opened with selections by the school orchestra, the violin section playing several melodies after which the horn section presented three numbers, "Night Shadows," "Folk Tunes," and "The Scandinavian Dance." Helen Schwalbach gave her impressions of a ballet dancer and the sixth grade boys exhibited their tumbling exercises and pyramid building, which was followed by tap dancing to the tune of "Sidewalks of New York," by Mary Ellen Roberts, Jeanette Ferarri, Barbara Norton and Lillian Bosk. The program closed with four numbers, "The Gondolera," "Friendship," "Two by Two," and "The Nightingale," by the sixth grade chorus, directed by Miss Gertrude Lund.

Mrs. Hoffmeyer, who is a native born Russian, gave a very interesting talk on life in that country.

A short business session closed the meeting.

A HUSKY MAN CAN DO MORE WORK...

—huskier soap chips do more work for you on washday, too!

GLORY ME, WHAT'S HAPPENED? YOUR CLOTHES LOOK WHITER THAN EVER!

I SWITCHED TO FELS-NAPHTHA SOAP CHIPS—THE HUSKIER NEW CHIPS THAT GET OUT ALL THE DIRT!

YES, THEY'RE HERE! Huskier soap chips specially built to do a quicker, better washing job. And everybody's raving about them!

They're called Fels-Naptha Soap Chips—and they're utterly different from any chips, flakes, or powders you've ever used.

They're not puffed up with air. They're not full of sneezy, irritating dust. They're curls of richer golden soap and active, dirt-loosening naptha. Two wonderful cleaners chock-full of pep and energy!

And yet so gentle they can't hurt a thread of your most delicate garments.

Being huskier—built to do more work!—Fels-Naptha Soap Chips may take a second longer to dissolve. But wait till you see how they make dirt fly! Clothes go to the line clean through and through—instead of half-clean. No tattle-tale gray to worry about!

Try them and treat yourself to the easiest, whitest washes ever! Ask your grocer for the huskier chips that banish tattle-tale gray—Fels-Naptha Soap Chips!

30 Persons Get X-Ray Tests At Clinic Tuesday

All recent positive reactors to tuberculin were X-rayed by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association's technician at the clinic in Manistique, April 18.

Local authorities realizing that it is tuberculin tests and X-rays that check this destructive disease in its early, less expensive stages cooperated readily in the program of X-rays of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association.

Mangrove trees do not scatter seeds as do most trees. Such seeds would be swept away by water which covers the roots at high tide.

TIGERS BATTLE SOX 3 1/2 HOURS

Barney McCosky Leads Attack for 19 Hits and 8-7 Victory

Detroit, April 20 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers blew a commanding lead midway in the game today but a fourteen-inning home run by Hank Greenberg enabled them to edge out the Chicago White Sox 8-7.

Greenberg's round trip, his first this season, came with the first

HIGGINS RECOVERING

Detroit, April 20 (AP)—The Tigers new third baseman, Pinky Higgins, who was spiked during the spring training, may be able to go east with the team May 12. That was the word brought to Detroit today by General Manager Jack Zeller, who has been at Beaumont, where the former Boston player is completing his conditioning now that he has abandoned his crutches.

unoccupied and one down in the last half of the inning and broke up a game which lasted three hours and 35 minutes before only 7,300 spectators.

The Bengals were ahead 7-2 going into the seventh, when the Sox produced four runs from three singles, a pass, a double and a sacrifice. Al Benton was replaced in the eighth by Roxie Lawson, who worked the remainder of the game and yielded only two of Chicago's nine hits but allowed the Sox to pull into a 7-7 tie in the ninth. The teams played through four and a half scoreless innings before breaking the deadlock.

Walker Goes Good

The Tigers slammed the Sox pitchers for 19 hits and again it was rookie Barney McCosky who led the attack. The local lad had two doubles and two singles in six times at bat. Dixie Walker had a pleasant afternoon, too, with a home run and two singles.

Detroit opened the scoring in the second when Pete Fox singled ever second and scored on Willie French's sacrifice fly. Croucher singled to left, scoring Rogell. Benton struck out trying to bunt, but McCosky singled, and Walker fled out, Croucher scoring on the play.

That three-run lead held up unchallenged until the fifth, when the Chicago club grabbed two unearned runs on a bad throw by Rogell.

The Tigers came back in their half of the fifth to score two more. Dixie Walker, Gehring and Greenberg opened with successive singles. Walker, parked on third, scored when Sylvestri threw the ball over pitcher Whitehead's noggin in returning it to the mound. York fouled out but Fox singled and Gehring scored.

In the sixth the Tigers collected two more to put them in a commanding lead. Those runs came on a double by McCosky and Walker's homer.

Cleveland Next

Then came the seventh and the four-run White Sox barrage that brought the Chicago club within one run of the Tigers.

Appling opened with a single past Rogell and Benton issued a pass to Mike Kreevich. Steinbacher drove home Appling with a single to left, moving Kreevich to third. The same Steinbacher went to second on the throw-in and scored behind Kreevich when Mc-Nair singled to left. Sylvestri doubled to right, sending McNair to third, from which point he scored on Radcliff's long fly to McCosky.

It was McNair who scored the run that evened things up in the ninth. Lawson handed him a free pass and he moved to third on Sylvestri's single to center. Thompson, batting for Brown, lifted a long foul that scored the Sox second baseman.

Greenberg's homer came against Thornton Lee, the fourth pitcher called into service for Chicago. The ball screamed off Hank's bat and plunked very decidedly in the left field stands.

Immediately after the game the Tigers left for Cleveland, where they will open a three game series with the Indians Friday. The Detroit club will return home Sunday for a series with the St. Louis Browns beginning Monday.

AVERILL DEAL HINTED

Cleveland, April 20 (AP)—Rumors, started at the winter baseball meeting, that Outsider Earl Averill of the Cleveland Indians would be traded to Detroit were revived tonight when the Tiger general manager, Jack Zeller, arrived here with the Bengals.

It was disclosed that Zeller had discussed a possible deal at St. Louis yesterday with the Tribe manager, Oscar Vitt, and that he came here to confer with Cy Slap-nicka, the Indian general manager.

Fred Haney, St. Louis Browns' manager, was in on the St. Louis confab, and this started rumors that the Browns, Indians and Tigers might make a three-way deal.

No transaction, if one is consummated, was expected until after tomorrow's Detroit-Cleveland game as Zeller indicated he wanted to look over some of the Indians in action first.

SPILLING the DOPE

BY JOHNNY INKSINGER

"RAISING THE SEAMS, of the American league ball," writes H. G. Salsinger of the Detroit News, "may be the means of raising Tommy Bridges back to the top row of the pitching division.

"Bridges is a curve and fast ball pitcher, but his best pitch is the curve. Ball players generally agree that when Bridges is in form he has the best curve ball of any right-hander. He's been in form comparatively few times in the last two years and the prescribed reason was the flat-seamed ball.

"It is difficult to break a good curve with a smooth ball because the cover offers no air resistance and the ball used in the last few years was about as smooth as a billiard ball. The longer Bridges pitched the more he became convinced that he couldn't curve the ball effectively. The smooth cover created a mental hazard that developed into an unsurmountable handicap.

"Now the seams are raised and Bridges' faith in the curve ball delivery is restored. His hook never looked better than it has in the last two weeks.

"Go after business," is sound advice until you remember where business has gone!

"ONLY A PITCHER can realize what a trifling seam can mean in delivering a curve ball.

"Not so many years ago a pitcher was ruled out of base ball for no other reason than severing two or three stitches with his thumbnail. This slight operation enabled him to get a two-foot break on his curve ball. He was warned a few times but when he repeated the offense he was dropped from the roster and no other club would sign him. His name entered the permanent blacklist.

The modern home is where a switch regulates everything except the children!

"A SPECK of chewing gum pressed into the seam means a great advantage to a curve ball pitcher. A bit of clay will do the same. The foreign objects produce wind resistance and cause the ball to swerve from its course.

"A gramophone needle inserted between the seams has a similar effect, not because the needle produces wind resistance but because it creates unbalanced weight. A gramophone needle doesn't weigh much, but still enough to add inches to the break of the ball.

"These tricks, and many others, have been practiced in the major leagues. Some of the perpetrators have been caught, but others escaped detection.

"It gives you an idea how much the raised seams should help certain pitchers."

MANY ABSENTEES

Lansing, April 20 (AP)—The house of representatives failed today by two votes to adopt a bill granting the nomination of secretary of state, attorney general, auditor general, and state treasurer on the direct primary ballot.

Intended as a compromise against a proposal to make those officials appointive, the primary nomination plan went down without debate and without comment to indicate the reason for its defeat. The vote was 49 to 22, two votes less than required for passage, and with a sizable share of the house absent.

According to policy, the bill was reconsidered and laid on the table, when it may be lifted at the will of the house.

The house adopted a senate bill to abolish the present county board of canvassers and return to a three-man board of non-office holders. The present boards are made up of the judge of probate, county treasurer and county clerk.

The measure, as adopted, did not concur in a senate amendment which would make the board bipartisan, two members from one political party. The house amendment required that the two members of one party be of the same party as a majority of the county officers. The measure provides that the canvassers may not hold another political office and that they be chosen by the board of supervisors for two-year terms.

Minor Parties Barred

The house unanimously adopted a bill restricting political parties on the ballot to those which file six months in advance of the election a petition bearing the names of one percent of the vote cast for secretary of state. An additional proviso required 100 signers from each of 10 counties.

Sponsors said it would remove from the ballot parties which polled less than 7,000 votes each—also such parties on the basis of the last election.

The house also defeated by one vote Rep. F. Jack Neller's bill to forbid both husband and wife to be employed by the state at the same time. It was amended by Rep. John F. Hamilton, Democrat, Detroit, to include spouses employed by federal, county, municipal or township units.

OIL CONTROL PASSED

Lansing, April 20 (AP)—The senate passed the Thomson oil control bill today over bitter objections on behalf of lease-holders whose investments in oil lands might be impaired, and returned

SCOUT TELLS OF HIS NEEDS

Kirchell Outlines What He Looks for in Ball Player

New York, April 20.—What a big league baseball scout looks for when he tours the sand-lots and school towns of the nation is revealed by Paul Krichell, chief scout of the New York Yankees, in a signed article in the May issue of Country Home Magazine.

Krichell, who has travelled 300,000 miles during the past 20 years to look over 80,000 prospects, lists the big league requirements as follows:

OUTFIELD

A good throwing arm, speed of foot, and, most important, the knack of taking a good cut at a pitched ball. An outfielder should be able to splice his batting average with a generous sprinkling of doubles, triples and home runs.

INFIELD

A good pair of hands for ground balls, a good arm to throw out runners at first base, and a fair hitting eye. Infielders are not expected to chip paint off the fence with line drives, although power at bat makes them that much more welcome.

FIRST BASE

First sackers are not listed with infielders because of the vogue to have a big bruiser of the Jimmy Fox, Hank Greenberg, Lou Gehrig school at the initial corner. In short, one who can dig a badly thrown ball out of the dirt and who can hit like a Missouri mule.

PITCHER

I want size and weight in pitching prospects. The right numbers are five-ten to six-ten in height and between 130 and 200 pounds in weight. The sine qua non, of course, is a fast ball. Everything else can be taught.

CATCHER

A catcher must be able to throw to second base and he must be able to hit. He must also be smart enough to call for the right pitch. But here, too, if the prospect can throw and hit, the brains department can be developed.

As a final and absolute requirement for every great big league ball player, Krichell lists "love of the game."

"Combined with ability," he writes, "he must possess a burning love of baseball that will allow him no other destiny. Don't underestimate that love of baseball. To be a star, you've got to love the game."

Rogers Hornsby, who was probably the greatest right-hand hitter in history, never saw a movie during his big-league career because he was afraid it might strain his batting eye.

That Krichell knows what he is talking about is evidenced by the fact that he has discovered, among others, such famous stars as Tony Lazzari, Mark Koenig, Billy Werber, Leo Durocher, Buddy Hassett, Red Wolfe, George Selkirk and Lou Gehrig, to mention only a few.

Michigan Baseball Team Opens Today

Ann Arbor, Mich., April 20 (AP)—Michigan's baseball team, bolstered this year by some capable pitching and improved batting, opens the Western conference campaign tomorrow against Ohio State at Columbus.

Coach Ray Fisher plans to use Jack Barry, the team's No. 1 hurler, against the Buckeyes. Sophomore Lyle Bond probably will pitch the second game of the series.

More than 25 per cent of England's total number of employers is found in the London area, where there are 157,000 employers.

It is to the house of representatives for action upon minor senate amendments.

The object of the measure, as stated in its preamble, is to avert repetition, in connection with Michigan's petroleum resources, of the history of "unwarranted waste and exploitation" that was written in the denudation of the state's timberlands a half century ago.

It confers almost dictatorial powers to prevent waste and promote production upon the director of conservation, as supervisor of wells, and an advisory board of six representatives of the oil industry. A companion bill would provide for similar regulation of natural gas resources.

MORE FUNDS ASKED

Lansing, April 20 (AP)—A new deficiency bill of $2,666,696, listing items scrapped last month during a dispute over welfare financing, was introduced in the senate today.

The measure, which would allocate funds for the current fiscal year ending June 30, provides an additional $200,000 for medical treatment of afflicted children, making a total request of $1,020,535; $50,000 for civil service, and $36,250 for a livestock pavilion at Michigan State college.

Of the original measure, passed by the house, all but $4,000,000 for welfare relief was scrapped when the house objected to minor items in the bill. The relief appropriation was made and an agreement reached to re-introduce the remaining items later.

Kid Boxing Card At Marquette Is Developing Complications

Marquette, Mich., April 20 (AP)—The Marquette recreation council and local WPA leaders have discovered that staging a novice "kids" boxing tournament, in which a majority of contenders will be those of the flea and fly-weight variety, is a very complicated undertaking.

It seems the state athletic board of control and the Michigan AAU would put in on a big-time basis and collect something like $170 in various and sundry fees before sanctioning it. All of which has council big-wigs and WPA recreation leaders in somewhat of a dither.

It's a non-profit community recreation project, in which there would be no gate and no expense except that of buying a couple of tin cups for the winners. But the AAU can't see it and 50 Marquette youngsters, achting for a little flat competition, may have to resort to marbles unless an agreement is reached.

Biggest item of expense, which has local officials wondering how they could ever sponsor a kids' boxing meet without selling their shirts, is $50 for an amateur boxing license. And then there's a nightly $15 sanction fee, a $10 AAU membership fee, $15 for a state-licensed referee and $5 for a state inspector. Six nights, $15 sanction fee per night, figures $90—total $170.

Latest development is a bit of cut-rate work. Informed by the recreation council that this was just a kid recreation project and not the work of a boxing association, the AAU, through its secretary, C. H. Brennan, wired that the sanction fee could be cut from $15 to $10, but it looks like a stalemate for the resultant price of $140 still seems a bit high.

Meanwhile the kids plan to carry on April 24-29, the specified dates of the meet, and the state police may have to step in if the state athletic board and AAU insist on the $140. Imagine a squad of burly troopers telling a couple of seaweights to break it up and you have a picture of what might happen opening night if the council and WPA leaders go ahead with their plans.

Baseball Attendance Hobbled By Weather

New York, April 20 (AP)—The major league baseball season, hobbled by the weather, is dropping far behind previous standards in attendance.

Five games today brought the activity for the first three days to 10 games, but the spectator total to a mere 133,382.

Last year's eight opening games drew 133,055 and most clubs expected to improve on this figure before the deluge.

Today's top crowd of 30,273 at Yankee Stadium where New York's American league and world champions made their getaway against the Boston Red Sox. The attendance was barely half the figure predicted for yesterday's washed out contest and 17,000 under the sis of the crowd which witnessed Detroit's home debut against the Chicago White Sox Tuesday.

Rained out today were Cleveland at St. Louis in the American league and St. Louis at Pittsburgh and Cincinnati at Chicago in the National league.

Dauntless Dodgers Beat Giants, 5 to 3; Schumacher Erratic

Brooklyn, April 20 (AP)—Brooklyn's dauntless Dodgers took advantage of Hal Schumacher's wildness today to drop the New York Giants 5 to 3 and earn an even split for their first National League series of the season.

The Giant with the question-mark right arm worked six innings and was in trouble four, during which the Dodgers made good use of eight hits, four bases on balls and a wild pitch.

The bad pitch scored one of Brooklyn's three runs during a sixth inning uprising and put an even split on third in scoring position.

This was the break of the ball game because the teams were deadlocked at the time.

Score by innings: New York 000 021 000—3 7 0 Brooklyn 100 103 00x—5 9 1 Schumacher, Lohrmann and Danning; Hamlin and Phelps.

State Boxing Chief To Be Reappointed

Lansing, April 20 (AP)—Governor Dickinson said tonight he would reappoint John J. Hetteche of Detroit as state boxing commissioner when Hetteche's term expires next month.

Hetteche was named by the late Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald for the unexpired term of Frank MacDonell, also of Detroit, who resigned under fire. He visited Governor Dickinson today.

Asked whether Hetteche would receive another term, Dickinson said: "It looks that way. He practically consented to stay on when I asked him to today."

The average motorist had an annual tire bill of $176 thirty years ago; today, he spends less than a tenth of that amount for six times the tire mileage.

TWO OPENERS ARE WON 2-0

Yanks Defeat Red Sox As Athletics Whip Washington

New York, April 20 (AP)—For the first time since Babe Ruth was the big gun of their artillery, the New York Yankees won their American League opening game today, whipping the Boston Red Sox 2-0, despite some elegant elbowing by old Robert Moses Grove.

Don't let them fool you about Old Moses, either. The lean Marylander still has a lot of strikes in that left arm. He made only two mistakes, and they cost him the game.

In the second inning, he grooved one for Bill Dickey and Sweet William banged it into the lower right field seats for a homer. In the fifth he tossed Jake Powell a good ball, with Red Rolfe on base, and Jake, a right-hand hitter, knocked it into the right field corner for three bases to send the other run across. Rookie Ted Williams played the rebound poorly.

Meantime, with 30,278 fans on hand to see the first game of the three-time world champions, burly Red Ruffing set the highly-regarded Red Sox down with seven hits.

Score by innings: Boston 1, 000 000 000—2 7 2 New York 010 010 00x—0 1 1 Grove and DeSautels; Ruffing and Dickey.

CASTER AIRTIGHT

Philadelphia, April 20 (AP)—George Caster's four-hit pitching and Earl Brucker's batting gave the Athletics a 2-0 victory over Washington today in the belated opener of Philadelphia's major league baseball season before 7,100 fans.

Brucker, Caster's battery mate throughout their major league careers, batted in one run off Jimmy DeShong with a first inning double and scored the second himself on an infield out after opening the fourth inning with a single.

Bob Johnson's single, which sent Brucker to third in the fourth, was the only other hit made off DeShong before he was yanked for a pinch batter in the seventh. Harry Kelley worked the last two frames.

Score by innings: Washington 000 000 000—0 4 1 Philadelphia 100 100 00x—2 6 0 DeShong, Kelley and Ferrell; Caster and Brucker.

Curb Picks First Salaried President

New York, April 20 (AP)—The New York curb exchange today selected as its first salaried president under a recent reorganization George P. Rea, a banker, whose last active service was in Honolulu.

Rea, starting a new regime, will succeed Fred C. Moffatt, who served as curb president for many years without salary. Moffatt was a member of the organization.

A graduate of Cornell and associated at different times with several Wall Street investment firms Rea went to Honolulu several years ago to manage the Bishop National Bank. He retired from that post at the end of last year.

His salary as curb head was not revealed.

ZIVIC SCORES KAYO

St. Louis, April 20 (AP)—Fritzie Zivic, 146, Pittsburgh, knocked out Tiger Walker, 133 1/2, Cincinnati negro, in the first round of their scheduled 10-round preliminary to the Archie Moore - Teddy Yaroz fight here tonight.

MARKET GAINS 1 TO 3 POINTS

STOCK MARKET AVERAGES table with columns for Net change, 30-day, 90-day, 180-day, and 360-day averages.

BY FREDERICK GARDNER New York, April 20 (AP)—With European war crises apparently a bit less vociferous, the stock market today extended the recovery move that got under way Wednesday.

Gains of 1 to 3 points were well distributed in the forenoon in somewhat more active dealings. Best prices were pared in many cases in the latter part of the proceedings and trading activity dwindled to where the ticker tape napped at frequent intervals near the close.

At that, the Associated Press average of 50 issues retained a net advance of .6 of a point at 4:43, duplicating the upturn of the day before. Transfers totaled 516,258 shares against 436,880 yesterday.

Mussolini's Rome speech, while giving the Roosevelt peace proposals "absurd," apparently was less belligerent than had been expected. The market derived a grain of comfort from the Duce's assertion that the fact his country was preparing for a world exposition in 1942 indicated "We do not intend to attack any one."

Many traders inclined to remain in neutral territory, however, on the thought the Hitler answer to the president's peace plea, scheduled for April 23, might drastically alter the somewhat more promising European picture.

One of the principal market handicaps was seen in the present sharp-downs in bituminous coal fields, due to deadlocked labor negotiations, which threaten to further curtail production in many lines. Hopes for a nearby settlement, though, were expressed in some quarters.

Among the few constructive items on the domestic front was a more than seasonal jump in last week's freight loadings despite a sharp tumble in coal shipments. Miscellaneous, or merchandising loadings were substantially higher.

Helpful also was another increase in the country's bank clearings in the week ended April 19. A prop to sentiment, in addition, was discerned in the announcement of Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau that the administration's plans for stabilizing business and markets in the event of an overseas war outbreak had been completed.

Motors were among the liveliest share performers, reflecting a return of optimism among automobile manufacturers. Chrysler held a gain of 2 points at 62 1/8 and General Motors 41 at 41 1/4.

Securities at London, Amsterdam and Paris pushed higher. Bonds, especially foreign loans, exhibited quiet strength. Commodities were a shade mixed. Wheat and corn at Chicago were unchanged to up 3/8 of a cent a bushel. Cotton lost 5 to 20 cents a bale.

Fractions advanced in the curb were Electric Bond & Share, Creole Petroleum, Panepco Oil and Northern States Power "A." Standard Steel Spring shot up 3 1/8. Turnover of 86,000 shares compared with 76,000 Wednesday.

SIGNALS NOW ARE DISPLAYED

Storm Warning Service Started In Harbor for Lake Men

An unmistakable sign of approach of the shipping and sailing season in Little Bay de Noc appeared yesterday with a small craft warning displayed on the weather mast near the lower end of Ludington street.

The signals are displayed for the benefit of those using the bay waters and are hoisted on orders from the district forecaster at Chicago.

This service of the weather bureau is of vital importance to shipping in that it tells boaters far enough ahead of time of impending stormy weather so that they may put into port if necessary.

The signals are displayed by means of triangle and square pennants and for the night service lanterns are displayed. One single red pennant is a small craft warning, meaning that tugs, fishing smacks, yachts and towing vessels may find difficulty in weather conditions which will not be sufficiently adverse to hinder shipping of larger vessels. No night signals are displayed for small craft warnings.

A red pennant above a square with a black center indicates a strong storm approaches from the northeast. At night, a northeastern blow is indicated by two red lanterns. The square flag above a pennant and a single red lantern at night indicates a storm from the southeast. Square flag above white pennant indicates a gale from the southwest. The night warning for this storm is a red lantern above a white one. A white pennant over the square flag or a white lantern above a red one indicates a tropical hurricane or a disastrous storm of tornado proportions. This warning is seldom, if ever, necessary in this territory.

The tower from which the warnings are flown is approximately 80 feet in height with a 20 foot pole on top. The pennants are fifteen feet in length while the other flag is eight feet square. Because of the height from which they are flown, the signals seldom appear that large.

Birthday Today

E. C. Voght, well known Escanaba druggist and former member of the Michigan conservation commission, will celebrate his seventy-first birthday anniversary today. Born in Englewood, Ill., he spent his boyhood days there and at Alma, Wis. He was awarded his certificate to practice pharmacy in Wisconsin 54 years ago, and came to Escanaba in 1888.

Time Is Central Standard

New York, April 20—Another quiz series makes its network appearance on Friday. It will be on WJZ-NBC at 7 o'clock and be called "Don't Forget." Run by Allen Prescott, known on the air as the wife saver, the program is based on the ability of remembering names, numbers and places through thought association.

Dr. Walter Damrosch's Music Appreciation hour, off the air for the Easter holiday, resumes on WJZ-NBC at 1 o'clock. The use of various instruments of a symphony orchestra will be demonstrated.

In connection with radio's "open house week," WJZ-NBC is presenting a dramatization of "Back of the Dials" at 10:05. The idea is to demonstrate the improvement in the quality of radio reception that has been effected.

Gertrude Lawrence of the stage is to play for Orson Welles on WABC-CBS at 8. She will appear in "Private Lives." Her regular Broadway appearance in "Sky-lark" will be cancelled for the broadcast.

Sec. of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, as the speaker in the Farm and Home hour on WJZ-NBC at 11:30 a. m., will discuss the significance of Arbor day. Other talks: WEAF-NBC 5 p. m., Phi Beta Kappa series, discussion of "Getting the Boy Ready for Tomorrow."

Singing groups on the air:

WEAF-NBC 12 noon, U. of Cincinnati Glee club; WJZ-NBC 2:30 p. m., Alfred University Glee club; CBS-CHAIN 4, Marietta college Glee club and orchestra.

Obituary

JOSEPH TRVZNIK
Marquette, Wis.—Joseph Trvznik, 79, one of Marquette's oldest barbers in point of service who retired three years ago, died this morning of a heart attack in his home, 1843 Wisconsin street.

A resident of this city for 50 years, he had operated a barber shop here for many years before his retirement and was a member of the barbers' union. He was born March 25, 1860.

Survivors are his widow; one son, Adolph, at home; a daughter, Mrs. Grace Scanlon of Escanaba who is here at present, and one brother, Harry, of Rice Lake.

The body was taken to the McLain funeral home where services will be conducted Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock by the Rev. Charles Pier. Burial will be in Forest Home cemetery.

MRS. NICK PETERSON
Final rites for Mrs. Nick Peterson of Fox will be held this afternoon, at 2 o'clock in the Anderson Funeral Home chapel, and at 2:20 o'clock at the Norwegian Danish Lutheran church. Rev. L. R. Lund will officiate. Burial will be in the family lot in South Ford River cemetery.

ANDREW ERICKSON
Final rites for Andrew Erickson were held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Boyle Funeral Parlors, Bark River, Rev. Karl J. Hammar of the Central M. E. church of Escanaba, conducting the service.

Rev. Mr. Hammar's text from John, Chapter 11, Verses 25 and 26, was "The Eternal God is thy Refuge." During the service August Quist sang "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," and Henry Boyle sang "Face To Face." Helen Bruce was accompanist.

Six nephews served as pallbearers, Ralph and Louis Gasman, Lawrence and Berthel Erickson and Herman and Berthel Palmgren.

Those at the funeral included Mrs. Ellen Gasman, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jaegers, Mrs. L. C. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gasman, John Shanahan, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Swanstrom, Miss Evelyn Olson and Mrs. Mayer Jacobson, Escanaba, and Mrs. William Robertson of Hogston, Mich.

Burial was in the family lot in Bark River cemetery.

Fiery Itching Skin Gets Quick Relief

Home Treatment Eases Unbearable Soreness-Distress

There is one simple yet inexpensive way to ease the itching and torture of Eczema, Itching Toes or Feet Rash and many other externally caused skin eruptions and that is to apply Moore's Emerald Oil night and morning and people who suffer from such embarrassing or unsightly skin troubles would be wise to try it.

Just ask any druggist for an original bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil and refuse to accept anything else. It is such a highly concentrated preparation that a small bottle lasts a long time and further, more, if this clear, powerful, penetrating oil that helps promote healing, fails to give you full and complete satisfaction you can have your money refunded.
