

CUT SCHOOL FRILLS, SAYS GOVERNOR

ISSUE TAKEN WITH ELLIOTT ON EDUCATION

DICKINSON DENIES TEACHERS WILL SUFFER FIRST

Lansing, June 13. (AP)—Governor Dickinson demanded today that schools cut non-essential items from their curricula to help the state balance its budget.

"There is not a question in my mind," he said, "that some of the activities in nearly any school bring the pupils never a nickel's benefit in later life."

He said it would be impossible to make a general statement concerning the items that should be removed, but that he believed the individual schools should examine their extra-curricular programs and discard that which was not "absolutely essential." He listed the maintenance of swimming pools, playgrounds and music classes as some of the things that might be abandoned by some schools in view of a state deficit estimated at $31,000,000.

Pressure Groups Scored

He took issue with statements by Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, state superintendent of public instruction, that a reduced state appropriation for school aid would make salary cuts for teachers inevitable. He charged that Dr. Elliott's sympathies have been with pressure groups fighting the proposed school aid reduction. The superintendent, he added, should search for ways to keep school expenditures within budget limits.

He criticized frankly the Michigan Education association and other school organizations demanding more generous state appropriations to the school. He said these organizations' statements that teachers' salaries would suffer in the event their demands were rejected were designed to "touch a popular chord."

Expenditures Increasing

Dickinson, a former school teacher, compared school expenditures over the past quarter century, declaring that today they cover many things that are "nice to have" but which could be dispensed with at no real loss to the students.

Commenting on extraordinary powers conveyed to former Gov. Frank Murphy to reduce legislative appropriations, Dickinson said similar authority should be granted to him, "certainly would be a lever that could balance the budget right enough" but that appropriations were a legislative prerogative that he felt should not be transferred.

"I don't know whether I want the school people to get out of it that way," he added. "I'd like to see them accept things the way other people do."

He asserted "The school people have been worked up like the people on WPA, who were led to believe the idea that they must be taken care of."

MERIT SYSTEM SHOWDOWN DUE

State Purchasing Stirs Up Criticism; Buying 'Czar' Disputed

Lansing, June 13 (AP)—Representatives of industry and business today took under advisement reform of the state's purchasing policy as the civil service department called for a showdown on personnel confusion within that system.

Merchandising experts from automobile factories, department stores, the Michigan Manufacturers' association, a farmers cooperative in the city of Dearborn, at the request of the purchasing committee of the state administrative board, met here today and made plans to submit formal recommendations at a later date.

At the same time, the state civil service department notified the purchasing department that three buyers and a supervisor of buyers were holding their jobs illegally and must be removed by Thursday. The buyers were appointed by the governor after civil service appointees were dismissed to make room for them.

The department also asked the board to decide whether Otto Perry, supervisor of buyers, or Grant M. Hudson, Governor Dickinson's choice as buying "czar," was the real head of the buyers.

The department has held up Perry's pay check pending a settlement of the question.

The problem was further complicated by doubt as to whether Hudson or Lawrence Nlendorf, secretary of the board and statutory purchasing director, is the actual head of that department.

(By The Associated Press)

The house foreign affairs committee approved the administration's neutrality bill, which would eliminate the arms embargo feature of the present law.

A tentative outline of a new tax bill, in which the undistributed profits levy is replaced by an 18 per cent income tax on large corporations, was completed by the house tax committee.

President Roosevelt said he would defer until June 23 a decision as to whether to begin a trip to the west coast on July 2 or wait until after congressional adjournment.

The WPA was described as a "notable success" by Col. F. C. Harrington, administrator, in testimony before the house subcommittee, which has written several major changes into a pending relief bill.

John L. Lewis criticized congress and the administration with assertions that failure to cure economic ills would breed "black reaction" and "fascism."

The senate banking committee reported it would "not be safe" to abandon the administration's emergency monetary powers.

BILL DEFINING NEUTRALITY IS PUSHED AHEAD

CRITICS CLAIM IT WILL DRAG U. S. INTO WARS

Washington, June 13 (AP)—By a strictly party vote, the house foreign affairs committee today approved the new administration neutrality bill, a measure so drawn that if war should come to Europe, America's vast resources would be available to Great Britain, France and their allies.

The legislation, denounced by its foes as "unneutral" and likely to drag the United States into the first foreign conflict that comes along, goes next to the house proper. Action there is planned for late next week, or early in the week following.

Filibuster Likely

Leaders were confident that the house would approve the bill, but readily conceded that its chances in the senate were of a different sort. There the isolationist bloc, augmented by some new recruits, was waiting to fight the measure to the end, and a filibuster against it was considered much more than a possibility.

The senate foreign relations committee was scheduled to meet tomorrow to decide when it would begin consideration of specific neutrality legislation. Some looked for a test vote on an effort to postpone the date. With adjournment dependent upon disposition of the controversy it was regarded as axiomatic that any delay would favor the opposition.

The bill, as approved by the house committee, would, first of all, repeal the present law forbidding the shipment of an enumerated list of munitions to nations which the president finds to be at war.

Would Aid Britain

Instead, the new bill would permit the purchase of these or any other American products or commodities by nations at war, subject to the provision that the purchasers must acquire complete title to their purchases before the latter may leave this country. At the same time any extension of credit to belligerents would be barred, and American vessels would be forbidden to enter "war zones" as delimited by the president.

Thus, the effect of the new neutrality legislation would be to give all belligerents open access to American markets, so long as they paid cash for their purchases and took title to them here.

However, although all belligerents could buy here, it is conceded that the plan would work to the advantage of Great Britain and France, if those powers became involved in a war with Germany and Italy. This would be true, it is said, because the British navy would be in command of the seas.

In that respect, it is also generally conceded that the measure would implement the administration's policy of cooperating with

Silken Underwear Revolt in Kansas Prison Is Quelled

Lansing, Kas., June 13 (AP)—A "silk underwear" revolt of 229 luxury-loving convicts in a Kansas state penitentiary coal mine was quelled today by a determined new warden who answered their demands with a show of machine guns and tear gas.

The prisoners surrendered meekly four hours after they had sent up demands for continued privileges, including bedtime snacks in their cells and the right to wear silk next their skin, as the price of their work.

Warden Milton F. Amrine denied all demands, except that convicts would be permitted to wear out the silk underwear purchased previously at the prison commissary. He sent down 20 guards with machine guns and tear gas and ordered them to shoot if necessary.

The strikers speedily were brought up from the 722-foot deep shaft and marched to their cells minus their noonday lunch.

Fruit Feeds Still

Amrine, a former warden, returned here May 3 after directing the federal detention headquarters at New Orleans seven years. He was appointed by Gov. Payne Ratner, Republican, who succeeded Democratic Gov. Walter Huxman.

"This is the day we turn the prison back to the officers," Amrine commented after the revolting inmates were back in their cells.

He said their discontent grew from his efforts to tighten up discipline. Two 10-gallon liquor stills recently were seized in the mine. Amrine said some of the fruits and vegetables carried to convicts' cells went to feed the stills.

Pink, blue and white silken shifts and shorts formerly were sold in the prison commissary. Amrine said they were worn by less than 100 men, many of whom are perverts. He stopped the sale last Sun.

Earl, the warden, warned at a chapel meeting there would be a tightening of discipline to stop gambling and the use of liquor and narcotics.

MARTIN MEETS WITH GOVERNOR

Charges Against Rival CIO Union Fail to Impress Dickinson

Lansing, June 13 (AP)—Governor Dickinson said tonight charged by Homer Martin, head of the United Automobile Worker's (AFL) Union, that a rival Auto Workers Union was led by Communists, left him "unimpressed."

Martin, whose forces have attempted to enforce strikes in three Michigan plants, obtained a 40-minute audience with Dickinson to discuss the entire strike situation.

Leaving the meeting, he passed to present to new men a blast against the rival CIO Auto Workers Union which is opposing the strikes, and to declare his opinion of the National Labor Relations Board was "unprintable."

Dickinson said he was not entirely clear concerning the reasons why Martin sought the audience, but that "they wanted me to be impressed that the CIO were Communists and the other fellows (AFL) weren't."

The executive said he told Martin and Edward N. Barnard, the AFL union's attorney, that he would not intervene in the inter-union dispute "unless they asked me to."

Dickinson said Barnard took occasion to let it be known that "he'd like to be consulted" on matters of Republican patronage. Barnard has been a powerful figure in Republican political affairs. "He didn't ask for any promises, and I'm not in the habit of making promises when nobody asks for them," Dickinson said.

FOUR COUNTRIES TAKE REFUGEES

Temporary Havens Given 907 Denied Entry Into Cuba

Paris, June 13. (AP)—At least temporary havens for the 907 refugee German Jews who have been wandering the seas aboard the liner St. Louis were assured tonight by the governments of France, England, Belgium and the Netherlands.

The four western European countries each agreed to take about one-fourth of the shipload of refugees after the American joint distribution committee had volunteered a bond of $500 for each passenger of the liner.

The St. Louis, which left Hamburg May 15 and turned back to Europe after the Jews were denied permission to land in Cuba and the Dominican Republic is expected to reach a European port Saturday.

The American bonds, totalling $453,500, were offered as a guarantee that the refugees would not become public charges of the nation giving them temporary homes.

The Netherlands is to take 194, and each of the other countries is to take up to 250 of the refugees. French authorities said that about 700 have applied for permission to enter the United States and are expected to proceed there after fulfilling immigration requirements.

The negotiations to end the ordeal of the homeless Jews — the captain of the St. Louis reported many had threatened suicide rather than return to Germany — were conducted by the American joint distribution committee and a liaison committee of the League of Nations commission for refugees from Germany.

Alleged Barcelona Torture Cell Maker May Face Garroting

Barcelona, June 13 (AP)—A Yugoslav architect, 12 times sentenced to death by Spanish Republicans, faced possible execution by strangulation tonight by nationalists who charged he built and decorated weird cells in which prisoners were tortured to blindness and insanity.

The military prosecutor concluded the trial of Alfonso Laurer Clk, 38, in a crowded courtroom of the palace of justice with a demand for his death by garroting. The court withheld sentence pending approval from Burgos, General Franco's capital.

The prosecutor declared it had been conclusively proved Clk directed the construction of little odd-shaped concrete cells four feet diagonal and "decorated" them with diagonal yellow lines, red-white-blue-yellow spots and black and white cubes in such a way that the figures changed shape before the stares of prisoners dazed by highpowered rays from multicolored lamps.

Cigarette Shoots Smoker In Chest

Chicago, June 13 (AP)—A cigarette shot and wounded John Castle today.

Castle placed the lighted cigarette on a window ledge beside a .22 calibre bullet he had found. Heat from the burning stub exploded the cartridge.

Physicians dug the bullet out of Castle's chest.

FOREIGN AREA IS BLOCKADED BY JAPANESE

BRITISH AND FRENCH CONCESSIONS ARE RESTRICTED

Tokyo, June 14 (Wednesday) (AP)—Japanese reports from Tientsin said an "economic blockade" of the British and French concessions went into effect at 6 a. m. today and all business firms inside the areas were refused permission to communicate with the outside city.

The reports said both Japanese and British authorities were uncertain whether the blockade applied to food.

United States and other national allies were declared to be leaving the concessions.

Japan was said to have rejected Britain's proposal to create a three-man commission composed of a Briton, a Japanese and a neutral to settle the dispute over surrender of four alleged Chinese terrorists.

FIGHT MAPPED BY CIO CHIEFS

Executive Board Plans Drive Against Rival Unions in AFL

Washington, June 13 (AP)—The CIO executive board, summoned here to prepare for a new organizing drive in the nation's big industries, was asked today to authorize the use of injunction and damage suits in the war against the rival American Federation of Labor.

Lee Pressman, CIO general counsel, said such legal actions would be aimed at AFL boycotts against products manufactured by CIO workers and "collusive contracts" signed by employers and AFL unions to freeze out the CIO.

The proposal to carry on the labor war through the courts was made in one of a series of reports to the board. Another report urged that congress amend the social security act to pay a maximum of $30 a month pensions to persons 50 years of age and older, with supplementary allowances for wives, which would increase the maximum to $90. Earlier in the day John L. Lewis, CIO leader, had denounced industry, congress and the government in general on the ground that they had failed to cure economic ills which breed "black reaction" and "fascism."

Declaring that "11,000,000 able bodied workers" are unemployed, he said that congress had done "worse than nothing" to solve this problem. He asserted that agencies of congress had been busying themselves "tearing the vitals" out of measures for the unemployed.

Mother Is Admitted To Practice Of Law As Family Looks On

Detroit, June 13 (AP)—Fifteen years after her graduation from the Detroit College of Law, Mrs. Elizabeth Knowles, of Highland Park, was admitted today to the practice of law. She told Circuit Judge Ira W. Jayne that she had been too busy with her family to get around to taking the bar examination before this year.

Her husband, Miles H. Knowles, St. also an attorney, and two children, Miles H. Knowles, Jr., 13, and Helen, 16, witnessed the proceedings.

Milton Clouse, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Martin Clouse of Grand Rapids.

The injured:

Mrs. Percy J. Smith, 34, minor cuts and bruises; Donald Smith, 8, son of the dead man; Lillian Church, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Smith of Grand Rapids; and Thomas Dempster, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dempster Jr. of Grand Rapids.

Sweeping Changes Proposed For WPA

Washington, June 13 (AP)—A house subcommittee heard the WPA described by its administration today as a "notable success," then proceeded to write the final draft of a bill which members said would make sweeping changes in the relief system he had praised.

After Col. F. C. Harrington, WPA head, had read a 39-page statement branding many of the charges made against the relief agency as "unfair" and "obviously untrue," the subcommittee adjourned without questioning Harrington at any length. It prepared to present to the full house appropriations committee tomorrow legislation which, informed members said, would include the following proposals:

1. Abolition of Harrington's post and substitution of a three-member board to run the WPA.
2. Establishment of a differ-

Strike Riots Break Out In West Allis And Flint

Milwaukee, June 13 (AP)—The main force of office workers at the strike-bound Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing company plant has been ordered to remain at home tomorrow in an attempt to avoid repetition of rioting that has injured 13 persons, Max W. Babb, company president, announced tonight.

His announcement followed shortly after Sheriff Edward J. Mitten's second plea within 18 hours for troops to guard the largest industrial works in the Milwaukee area. Governor Julius Hell denied both the sheriff's pleas and threatened, observers at a meeting of law enforcement officers said, to remove Mitten from office if he could not maintain order.

Babb said only a "skeleton crew" would be on duty to answer mail and take care of the incidentals in the office normally manned by 100 persons. He said the orders for a reduced staff applied only for tomorrow.

The disorders developed when office workers—the only ones of 7,500 workers still on duty—arrived in the neighborhood of the factory in suburban West Allis this morning.

Pickets attacked streetcars carrying them, smashed windows, disabled the cars, jostled workers and beat deputy sheriffs who intervened. The officers fired tear gas missiles, but the trouble ceased only after picket captains reached an agreement with the deputies whereby the pickets would stop throwing stones and the officers would cease their gas barrage.

Eight officers and five pickets required hospital treatment. Several other pickets were gassed.

WORKMEN JEERED

Flint, Mich., June 13 (AP)—Disorders broke out again today at General Motors corporation plants where Homer Martin's AFL United Automobile Workers Union has called strikes, but police said only two men were seriously injured and the corporation reported its operations were "nearly normal."

Police estimated that approximately 1,000 men were congregated in the street in front of the Fisher Body No. 1 plant when shifts changed this afternoon. No fighting occurred on company property, pickets contenting themselves with jeering workmen when they left for their homes. Across the street from the plant, however, were several gangs of men wearing black gloves and frequent clashes occurred between members of these groups and the workmen.

Three mass fist fights occurred today as members of the CIO-affiliated UAW crossed the rival union's picket lines. One fight occurred at the gates of Fisher Body plant No. 1, where approximately 100 men from each side clashed. They were dispersed by police.

A short time later fighting occurred in front of the CIO head-quarters, just across the street from the plant entrance. A man who threw rocks through the window was doused with a pail of water from above, and there was more fighting, again broken up by police. Another fight took place at the Atherton avenue entrance of the plant, where AFL pickets attempted to halt trucks entering the plant.

George F. Addes, secretary-treasurer of the UAW-CIO, sent a telegram to Governor Dickinson stating "Please be informed Martin has no authority to speak for General Motors or any other automobile workers. Present so-called strike was called without vote of workers and has been repudiated by them."

Spanish War Flier Shot Dead In Room At Little Rock, Ark.

Little Rock, Ark., June 13 (AP)—Frank G. Tinker, 29-year-old DeWitt, Ark., aviator and erstwhile sky fighter with the loyalist army in Spain, was found shot to death in a hotel room today.

A small calibre pistol lay near the body and Deputy Coroner John N. Roberts said he had entered a verdict of suicide.

Tinker served in the Spanish civil war for nearly a year in 1937, flying as a squadron commander under the name of Francisco Gomez Trelo. His record showed eight insurgent planes brought down in eight months.

His American passport was taken up by the state department after his return to this country in August, 1937, and since then he had devoted his time to writing for popular magazines and had published one book, "some still live."

King's Hat Worn By Negro Jigger

New York, June 13 (AP)—King George's resplendent pearl gray topcoat went A. W. O. L. and found its way to several non-royal heads at the New York World's Fair, it became known today.

A high hat being about as easily handled at a lunch as a bass drum, the king placed it under his chair. Then it was missing.

The hasty search led to a group clustered outside around a dark-skinned individual who was dancing a jig, the regal headgear bobbing around on his kinky plate.

"Do you know whose hat you've got there?" an agitated officer demanded.

"Sho, ah, dose—'at's the king's hat," the jigger acknowledged.

Before returning it, a half dozen officers tried it on too.

Milwaukee Road Will Spend $327,373 For New Equipment

Chicago, June 13 (AP)—Orders authorizing trustees of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad to spend $327,373 for new equipment and the remodeling of old were entered today by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson.

New equipment will include 33 all-steel box cars. Two-hundred automobile cars will be remodelled to accommodate larger automobiles.

TRAFFIC LIGHT IS INSTALLED

Automatic Device Placed At Ludington and 23rd Street

A semi-actuated traffic control system was placed into operation at the intersection of highways U. S. 2, 41 and 35 at Ludington and Twenty-Third street by the state highway department last evening. The signal light will remain on the "green" to give east and west traffic the right of way. Approaching traffic on the north and south will run over a magnetic detector under the pavement to get the "go ahead" signal. Installation of an automatic signal device at the junction was recommended by the city traffic safety commission. Several serious accidents have occurred at that point.

TWO ORDERED TO PAY FINES

Liquor Hearings Held By Ehrmann and Parrish

Two persons were ordered to pay fines of $25 for violation of state liquor laws at hearings conducted at the local headquarters yesterday by representatives of the Michigan liquor control commission.

The two were Frank Choinard of Route One Escanaba, who was charged with possession of liquor on a tavern license, and William C. Smith of Fayette, charged with selling for consumption on the premises. Both paid the fines. Alternatives were spending 30 days in the county jail.

Hearings were conducted by Fred C. Ehrmann, secretary of the Michigan liquor control commission, and C. A. Parrish, chief of the enforcement and licensing division of the commission.

Following the hearings here, Ehrmann and Parrish left for other points in the peninsula to conduct similar hearings.

St. Nicholas Man Pleads Guilty To Shooting 2 Cows

Rene VanAcker, 37, of St. Nicholas pleaded guilty to cruelty to animals when arraigned in justice court yesterday.

Van Acker admitted shooting two cows belonging to a neighbor, Alfred Beauchamp, when the animals were tramping through his newly sown fields. He said he had chased them away several times but that they had returned repeatedly until he shot them with a .22 rifle.

He was ordered to pay $100 to Beauchamp and court costs within 30 days or spend 90 days in the county jail. He also was placed on probation for a period of six months.

Munising News

June Bride

Miss Marie D. Raymond, above, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. Raymond, West Superior street, was the bride of Mitchell Derouin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alec Derouin, Ford River, were united in marriage at 8 o'clock high mass Saturday morning by the Rev. Fr. Ovid J. LaMothe in the Sacred Heart church here. Mr. and Mrs. Levi Allard of Escanaba attended the couple.

ant carried a bouquet of tea roses and snapdragons.

Members of the bridal party served a wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony. After the breakfast the bride and groom left for Ford River and a wedding dinner was served there at the home of the groom's parents. A wedding dance was held at the Argonne in Escanaba on Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Derouin left for lower Michigan and Wisconsin on Sunday morning on a two week wedding trip.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Alec Derouin of Ford River and Mrs. Emerson Brow and daughters, Edna and Lois, of Gladstone.

WPA ROLLS IN COUNTY ARE UP

Fire Station Project Completed; City Work Is Slack

An increase of about 50 persons was made in WPA rolls in Delta county during the past week, according to statistics issued at the local headquarters yesterday.

Last week's work sheet carried 1,926 persons as compared with 1,879 for the previous week, 1,855 the week before.

The increase was attributed to replacements and those returning from private employment.

The fire station project in North Escanaba was completed yesterday. Men employed on this job will be transferred elsewhere.

Employment of men on WPA rolls in the city of Escanaba at present is at a low ebb because of lack of approval on several projects submitted.

Fly-Casting Tips Are For Women Too

Women can become just as proficient as the men in the art of fly casting according to Mel Roberts, WPA recreation leader who will begin classes for adults today at the yacht harbor point. Ladies are invited in the afternoon from 1:30 to 4:30 and men and women in the evening from 6 to 8:30. Anyone, who is interested, is invited to participate. The course is given as part of the summer recreational program supervised by the city Department of Parks and Recreation.

Munising, June 13—The annual honors assembly of the Wm. G. Mather high school will be held at 8:30 o'clock Thursday morning. Scholarship letters and other awards for the year are presented at this time. The assembly will precede the last session of school before the summer vacation.

Munising Students Get U. of M. Degrees

Munising, June 14—Miss Mildred B. Keeton and Paul C. Keeton, daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. John I. Keeton, West Superior street, will be graduated from the University of Michigan on June 17 at Ann Arbor. Mildred will receive an A. B. in the Journalism course at the university and Paul will receive a LL. B. in the Law school of the university.

Mildred is a member of the Kappa Tau Alpha, national honorary journalism fraternity; Theta Sigma Phi, national honorary journalism sorority and in her senior year was editor of the Michigan Journalist, published at the university. Mildred was graduated from the Mather high school with the class of 1934. She will return to the university in September to work on her Master's degree. She has also accepted a position in the Clifford Dey Studios at Ann Arbor.

Paul is a member of the Delta Theta Phi law fraternity. He was graduated from the Mather high school with the class of 1932.

Mr. and Mrs. Keeton left on Monday evening for Ann Arbor. At Ann Arbor Mr. Keeton will meet his brother, William D. Keeton, graduate of the U. of M. law school in 1908, now of St. Mary's, Idaho. #### DOOLITTLE-SYMON

Hilledale, June 13—Miss Barbara Joan Doolittle, daughter of Stewart I. Doolittle, Wheatland Road, Hilledale, and Charles A. Symon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Symon of Munising, were united in marriage on Sunday morning in the garden of the bride's home. The couple were unattended and the Rev. DeWitt McCloghe read the ceremony in the presence of 30 guests and members of the immediate families. A wedding breakfast was served following the ceremony and the newlyweds left for New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Symon will visit the New York fair for one day and then board the S. S. Washington for England on Wednesday, June 14, on a three-month's trip by tandem bicycle. On their return to Munising they will reside at 123 Cherry street. They will be at home after September 15.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Jeffers of Painsdale; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Symon and daughter, Jean, Munising; Mr. and Mrs. John C. Toebe and the Misses Grace and Catherine Symon of Lansing and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Young of Ann Arbor.

Mr. Symon is employed as Munising manager for the Daily Mining Journal.

RAYMOND-DEROUIN

Munising, June 13—Miss Marie D. Raymond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. Raymond, West Superior street, became the bride of Mitchell Derouin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alec Derouin of Ford River, at an 8 o'clock high mass on Saturday morning in the Sacred Heart church. The Rev. Fr. Ovid J. LaMothe performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Levi Allard of Escanaba were the attendants.

The bride was dressed for the ceremony in a white tulle formal with a finger-tip veil. She carried an arm bouquet of calla lilies, lilies of the valley, tea roses and snapdragons. The bride attend-

Potatoes, Too

UPPER PENINSULA farmers and all others interested in the growing potato developments in the district are reading with interest the news from Lansing that Governor Dickinson has named a five-man commission to administer a law enacted by the 1939 Legislature boosting the popularity of Michigan apples.

This is a good move, and Michigan apples are well worth it, for they have a flavor without a peer in the world. Growers will cheerfully pay the tax of one cent a bushel on apples produced in the State, with the first 300 bushels from any orchard exempted, the proceeds to be earmarked for advertising and promotion.

Michigan potatoes, and especially the Upper Peninsula article, are in the same quality class when properly graded. The reputation of shipments from many downstate points has suffered because of the lack of proper grading, but most upstate growers are a unit in sentiment for strict grading laws. Such regulations, consistently applied, are always in the interest of quality growers, and this has been demonstrated particularly during the last season.

Many Upper Peninsula producers would like to see the law extended to potato culture, with the best possible official publicity given to the high grade stock shipped from the northern counties. It is a fact that potatoes grown here topped the Chicago market last season, Idaho and Maine quotations not excepted. This is a remarkable achievement when the comparatively brief time is considered in which the district has been a factor on the big town markets.

Crime and Punishment DOES it not seem strange that after thousands of years of civilization, crime is still so prevalent? One of man's important preoccupations during all these centuries has been to devise means of breaking up crime, and yet his success has been small indeed.

Altogether, the record doesn't speak any too well for the means taken to eliminate crime. That gives point to a recent speech of Judge Atwell Westwick before the National Probation Association. Judge Westwick is on the bench of the Superior and Juvenile Court of Santa Barbara, Calif. He delivered a stirring indictment of "the nonsense, sophistry and cruelty which characterize our traditional legal system."

SELLING MICHIGAN AT HOME (Michigan Manufacturer) Commendable in all degrees is the purpose of the Detroit Board of Commerce to "Sell Michigan to Michigan" as the underlying purpose of its annual cruise up the lakes June 15-19. On that occasion 500 members of the Detroit board will devote time to promotion of intra-state trade and business relations, to the ultimate good of all Michigan—upper and lower peninsulas alike.

Other Editors' Comments In carrying out this constructive phase of the annual cruise, the Detroit board will hold two conferences with state officers, conservation and highway department heads, representative tourist and resort people, industrialists and businessmen of all sections, that may mean a great deal to the entire state.

THEY LIKE NEW SCHEDULE (Marquette Mining Journal) Marquette merchants report general satisfaction with their new schedule of keeping stores open Friday nights and closing them Saturday at 6 p. m.

For Reasons of State THE King and Queen of England have come and gone, leaving a good impression, and the ties of friendship between peoples having much in common certainly have not suffered by reason of their visit.

World Affairs Reviewed

The Albert Canal, magnificent manufactured waterway connecting the port of Antwerp with the industrial city of Liege, has been completed. To celebrate this event, King Leopold recently opened an International Exhibition at Liege, often called the "Birmingham of the Low Countries."

The canal, which was ten years under construction, will stimulate the economic life of Belgium, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society. It will extend industrialization in the Flemish countryside, and will make Liege one of the most important inland ports of Europe.

—CENTER OF COAL MINING INDUSTRY— Liege, with a population of over 160,000, is the center of Belgian coal-mining and armament industries. Many other plants producing iron, glass, automobiles, and bicycles cast their smoky pall over the city. The first locomotive used on the continent of Europe was built in a suburb of Liege.

Capital of a province of the same name, Liege is the chief city of the Walloon country, the French-speaking southern section of Belgium. Even with its hurly-burly of factories and business houses, it still bears the picturesque imprint of the Middle Ages. It is a curious combination of historic charm and progressive industrialism. The town is old, having been founded about the middle of the sixth century. It is on the Maas River, an international stream which traverses a large part of northeastern France as the Meuse, and finally comes to an end in The Netherlands, after picking up a considerable share of the waters of the Rhine.

For years the city was ruled by a long line of Prince Bishops who lived regally and maintained large armies. More than once the Walloon people surrounding Liege rebelled against their rulers. The city has been laid waste many times. Charles the Bold, last of the Burgundian Dukes, made it the scene of a bloody massacre, described in Scott's Quentin Durward.

About the middle of the 17th century, the Liegeois built a citadel for defense. Before the city became a part of united Belgium in 1830 it belonged successively to Austria, France, and The Netherlands. During the World War its defenders held off the German forces for more than a week. To the stout resistance of Liege, Paris owes much of her safety from capture during the first months of the War. The French Government recognized the city's valor with the Cross of the Legion of Honor.

In the Middle Ages Liege was a great cultural center. This tradition of culture is still in evidence. Home of a Royal Conservatory of Art, it fosters interest in contemporary art by annual exhibitions, and protects carefully its art treasures of the past. Liege is the birthplace of Cesar Franck, famous composer and organist, and of Eugene Ysaie, the great Belgian violinist, who taught in its Conservatory of Music.

In this strange mixture of the smoke of industry and the dust of antiquity, lamp-posts decorated with baskets of flowering plants flaunt patches of brilliant color in the summer. Quaint gabled buildings of stone flank the staircase hill to the Citadel, where a city park has replaced the war-time fortifications. For the muscle-bound tourist or weary citizen, a tramcar swiftly mounts the hill to the Citadel.

Stores were crowded with shoppers Friday night and business was up to its usual lively pace during the day on Saturday. Clerks, as well as proprietors, enjoyed an extended weekend recess and, it appears, everybody was happy.

There was a time when the doors of retail stores were open just about all the time. They were open Saturday night until midnight and, in many cases, on other nights and even Sundays. All of which meant that the public made no attempts to regulate its shopping hours. In those days, even though a store were open all day Saturday and until midnight, many customers put off their buying until 11:30 p. m. or later. Others thought they had to have service from the merchants on Sunday—and got it.

Whether the public likes it or not, the trend is toward a shorter day and a shorter week for workers in all lines, including those employed in retail stores. It is simply a case of Mr. and Mrs. Shopper having to regulate their activities accordingly. What happened in Marquette last weekend would seem to prove that it can be done without inconvenience to anyone. It requires nothing more than a change of habit.

Answers To Questions

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

A reader can get the answer to any question of fact by writing The Escanaba Daily Press Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. Please enclose three (3) cents for reply.

Q. What kind of paint can be used on awnings? E. S. A. Ordinary paint, applied on awnings will crack and probably peel off. A good oil stain, such as is used in staining shingles would be better than paint for the purpose.

Q. Do tornadoes ever occur in the Eastern States? W. J. A. Tornadoes are liable to occur in all portions of the country east of the Rocky Mountains, and they have occurred at rare intervals even to the westward of those mountains. While these storms are less liable to occur in the Atlantic coast States than in the great Central Valleys of the country, yet many have occurred in Pennsylvania and other Eastern States.

Q. When was liquor first barred from the White House? J. B. A. During President Polk's administration, due to Mrs. Polk's strict views on temperance, no wines or intoxicating liquors were served in the White House.

Q. What is the largest coast defense gun owned by the United States? J. B. G. A. The 16-inch gun is the largest gun used in coast defense in the United States.

Q. Should new cards always be provided at card games? L. T. A. While it is not necessary to have packs of cards with unbroken seals, the hostess should be sure that the cards are in good condition.

Q. Please give some information about the song, 'Silver Threads Among the Gold.' J. Z. A. The words are by E. E. Rexford. The music is by H. F. Danks, who was born in New Haven, Conn., in 1834. The musical setting to 'Silver Threads Among the Gold' was inspired by his love for his wife. In 1873 he became estranged from her. She died in 1924 in Brooklyn, alone in a rooming house. Danks died on November 20, 1903 in a cheap Philadelphia lodging house. The news story published when Harriet Danks died speaks of her as having been estranged from her children by the very song which she had inspired.

Q. How much does it cost to stop an average passenger train? J. G. McM. A. The cost of stopping and starting a 50 ton passenger train traveling at a speed of 50 miles per hour varies from about 84 cents to $2.80.

Q. Please give the date when the old Blue Back Speller was first printed. R. McM. A. The first edition of what later became known as the Blue Back Speller was published in 1783 under the title Grammatical Institute of English Language. This book consisted of three parts. Part I of which was afterward and still is known as Webster's Blue Back Speller.

Q. Are there any tin mines in the United States? R. G. N. A. There is no tin of any commercial importance mined in the United States. Since the beginning of statistical compilation in

New York Column

BY GEORGE ROSS

New York—Every hot dog has its day and this has been a banner one for the grilled or toasted frank. The reason, of course, is the swanky item promised for the royal menu at the Hyde Park picnic for King George and Queen Elizabeth. "Les Chiens Chauds en Jacquets au Mustards" probably is the fanciest disguise ever bestowed upon the skinned frank with mustard.

Naturally, the hot frank moguls were both flustered and flattered at so regal an honor and in their excitement, they went out and hired a press agent.

The adjective spellbinder has been despatched to this desk a six-page monograph on the grilled canine in wordage worthy of a Harvard thesis. There are three ways to serve a hot frank, says their publicist, and eruditely lists them:

THREE "STANCES" FOR EATING

1. The overhand or orthodox school. Here again, says he, the President and Mrs. Roosevelt are true Americans and ride with the great majority. The hot dog and roll are grasped firmly in the right hand and brought to the mouth end first with the palm underneath.

2. The underhand or feminine method. Used rarely by men, this method is almost entirely a woman's way. The hand is extended palm uppermost and usually results in milady's dabbling the mustard all over her lovely lipstick.

3. The two-fisted method generally used by youngsters under the age of twelve. The two ends of the roll are grasped in the fists of both hands and the hot dog is brought to the mouth broadside. Not advocated with white linen suits.

NOT ARGUMENT OVER THE NAME

So much for the professional essay on the national delicatessen. A long while back, I was talking to one of the commissaries of Harry Stevens' commissary at the ballpark and gathered important historical facts about the much-maligned frankfurter.

He told me that the origin of the name "hot dog" is hotly contested. A popular explanation says that once a ball fan, upon taking his first bite out of a frankfurter, exclaimed, "Whew, what a hot dog!" and thus christened it for all time; and another says that it was named by a cartoonist with a wacky sense of humor. But Stevens was the first publicly to peddle a wiensie as a "hot dog" and since no arbiter has yet chosen between the tales, he has been officially credited with the appellation.

It is the intention of the government to establish a tax system which preserves and increases the incentives that are essential to the perpetuation of a system of free enterprise in a nation of free men.

—Undersecretary of the Treasury John W. Hays.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY PEARSON AND ALLEN

Washington—Now that Their Britannic Majesties have left Washington, some of their private conversation with high government executives has leaked out. Much of it is extremely significant in view of the present political debates over WPA, labor legislation and the New Deal in general.

At the private White House tea party, the Queen talked with Miss Mary Anderson, veteran Director of the Women's Bureau, who told her that there was a growing movement in the United States to bar married women from gainful employment, particularly in public offices.

"Oh, the women of your country must not permit that," interjected the Queen with spirit. "They have a right to work and they should fight against any restraint of their rights. Women must not permit any encroachment on the economic and social gains they have attained. They must resist that."

When Miss Anderson mentioned that she was a friend of Miss Margaret Bondfield, Minister of Labor, in the last Labor government, the Queen said, "She is a dear friend of mine. I know her very well and admire her immensely. She is a very fine person."

The King took Secretary Harry Hopkins' breath away by observing during a brief discussion of social welfare measures. "We did many of these things in England much earlier than you have here. The capitalists have retained control in America much longer than they did in my country."

To Colonel Harrington, WPA Administrator, who talked relief problems to the King, His Majesty remarked: "You are going through much the same thing we did in England in 1912 when we had a great political upheaval as a result of the social welfare reforms initiated by Mr. Lloyd George. There was much feeling aroused on both sides as a result of the launching of his program, which then appeared almost revolutionary."

In his chat with Secretary Wallace the King evinced keen interest in the New Deal's crop control program, inquiring particularly what was being done for landless farmers.

"Is there a class of peasants developing in the United States?" he asked at one point.

"No, I wouldn't say 'peasant,' Wallace replied, "but we have a very serious tenant farmer and share-cropper problem. Our agriculture is increasingly become industrialized."

—JIMMY AND CAMERA— Jimmy Roosevelt and his 16 m. m. movie camera almost stopped the show at Mount Vernon.

After the King had solemnly placed a wreath on the marble sarcophagus of George Washington, the royal couple, under the guidance of Mrs. Roosevelt, moved toward the beautiful white pillared mansion in which the first President lived. Whereupon the corps of photographers gathered up their apparatus and dashed madly ahead.

Leading the scramble was the President's oldest son, a red hot amateur camera fan. The photographers set up their machines and got ready for a round of shots, but Jimmy, over-anxious to get some closeups, stepped in front of the men and obstructed their view.

"Hey, Jimmy," yelled a hard-boiled newsreeler, "get the hell out of the way. We can't shoot through you, you know."

"Oh, I beg your pardon," apologized Jimmy contritely, stepping back.

As he did so the royal party came abreast of the camera group the King, spotting Jimmy, exclaimed in surprise, "Do you make pictures, too?"

Apparently Mrs. Roosevelt also was startled by her son's antics.

"Why, Jimmy," she gasped, "what on earth are you doing there?"

"Oh, I just wanted to get a few shots for the kiddies," he explained, obviously embarrassed by the attention he was attracting.

Later Jimmy apologized once again to the cameramen. "I'm awfully sorry, boys," he said. "I certainly did not want to spoil your pictures."

"Spill 'em?" they chorused. "Boy, you made 'em! That was the best informal stuff we've been able to get since the King and Queen came to town. Those pictures will be wows."

Police at Butte, Mont., have been ordered to grow buds for a civic festival. When they're stalking a criminal, they can hide behind their whiskers.

Lines for Living

By Barton Rees Poque

AT THE CLOSIN' OF THE DAY Quite often of an evenin', wife and I Take a little time for restin', as the night draws nigh, And sittin' here—we listen to them bull-frogs croak— Me a-fightin' skeeters with my evenin' smoke.

We can hear the whip-poor-will, makin' answer to the thrush, And across the pink of evenin' comes a holy hush. Seems that all our cares and worries are banished plumb away For it's peaceful, oh, so peaceful, at the closin' of the day. The nicker of the horses echoes back from field and lane;

The wind is windin' slowly through the timothy and grain; There's the chatter of the chickens and the lowin' of the herd, And me and mother's 'n' n' without sayin' of a word. Sometimes readin', sometimes hummin', but more often quietlike, A-watchin' of the shadows as they lengthen on the pike. Seems the Lord of earth is with us, and invitin' us to pray, For it's peaceful, oh, so peaceful, at the closin' of the day.

DAR Committees Named for Next Year At Meeting

Committees for the next year were named by Mrs. A. C. Peterson, regent, at the meeting of Lewis Cass Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. J. Perrin.

The committees are as follows: Program: Mrs. James Frost and Miss Mary Ellen French. Americanization: Mrs. G. R. Stegath; Press relations: Mrs. H. L. Holderman.

Better films: Mrs. W. J. Anthony. National defense and legislation: Mrs. C. S. Norton.

Flowers: Mrs. A. J. Perrin. Ellis Island: Miss Myra Mason. Genealogical records: Mrs. J. E. Moran.

Conservation: Mrs. A. J. Carlson. Approved schools: Mrs. H. R. Andrews.

Proper use of flag: Miss Alice Potter. Good citizenship pilgrimage: Miss French.

New officers for the year were installed in an impressive service conducted by Mrs. Stegath, the chaplain.

The Chapter authorized the purchase of flags to be presented in the name of the Chapter to the ninety new citizens when they receive their naturalization papers.

Mrs. Anthony, retiring regent, received a beautiful bouquet of flowers in recognition of her services during the two years of her regency.

The program for the afternoon consisted of an appropriate flag day reading by Mrs. Peterson.

Proceeding the business meeting, members of the Chapter enjoyed the annual flag day luncheon, which was served at the Chicken Shack.

Table decorations were bowls of garden flowers and American flags. The committee in charge was Mrs. Soren Johnson and Mrs. G. C. Craver.

At the card party which followed the business meeting, high honors were awarded to Mrs. Edith Hughtitt Wright of Bartow, Florida, who is visiting here with her mother, Mrs. O. N. Hughtitt.

Mrs. Wright is state historian of the Florida Daughters of the American Revolution.

Exchange Vows Tuesday

Mr. and Mrs. Casimir Milkiewicz, the bride, the former Bernadette Villeneuve, are among couples who chose June as their wedding month. Their marriage took place Tuesday morning at St. Anne's church. Following their return from a honeymoon in Canada, they will make their home in Rapid River.

Peonies and bridal wreath with the lighted candles graced the altars of St. Anne's church for the wedding Tuesday morning of Miss Bernadette Lucille Villeneuve, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Villeneuve, of 1511 Seventh avenue south, and Casimir Milkiewicz, of Rapid River, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kasimir Milkiewicz, of 322 Stephenson avenue, this city.

The marriage service was read at a nuptial high mass at 9 o'clock, at which Rev. Fr. Joseph E. Guertin was celebrant.

The bride, who was attended by her sister, Miss Doreen Villeneuve, as maid of honor, and Miss Wanda Milkiewicz, sister of the bridegroom, who was her bridesmaid, wore a lovely gown of white satin, of princess lines, with a pointed yoke of lace, outlined with tiny puffs of satin, the lace points extending into the sleeves which were long and close fitting.

A veil of tulle, lace edged, which fell from a cap of tulle, banded with tiny pearls, completed her costume. She carried a white prayer book, with streamer markers of white, knotted with white flowers.

Her maid of honor wore peach net over taffeta, and the bridesmaid, blue net over taffeta. Both had bands of flowers in their hair.

The procession was accompanied by the music of Lohengrin's Wedding March.

Attendants to the young couple were Mrs. Ragnar Johnson, bridesmaid, and Ragnar Johnson, best man.

The bride was lovely in a mist rose dress with navy blue accessories and wore a shoulder corsage of pink and blue snapdragons and roses. Mrs. Johnson was dressed in pale blue with navy blue accessories as contrast, and wore a shoulder corsage of pink snapdragons and roses.

The bride's mother wore navy blue with navy blue accessories. A wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home for twenty guests. The table was enhanced by a large, three-layer wedding cake.

The newlyweds left after the ceremonies for Houghton, where they will spend their honeymoon. The bride wore a going-away suit of navy blue.

The young couple will make their home in Escanaba at 318 South Tenth street.

Young People's Meeting The Covenant Young People's society will meet Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the church parlors. Professor Person of North Park college will be the speaker. Miss LaVerne Nelson is hostess.

Auxiliary Friday The Woman's Auxiliary of St. Stephen's Episcopal church will meet Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. L. J. McMartin, 1915 Sixth avenue south. Mrs. Charles Rydings and Mrs. McMartin will be hostesses.

and they carried bouquets of roses, snapdragons and sweetpeas.

Blue Ensembles Mrs. Villeneuve, mother of the bride, wore navy blue crepe with blue accessories, and Mrs. Milkiewicz a blue chiffon print with blue accessories, and their shoulder corsages were formed of snapdragons and roses.

Robert Gannon and Joseph Corcoran attended the bridegroom, and Francis Villeneuve ushered. The music of the nuptial mass was sung by St. Anne's choir, and "The Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin," and Mendelssohn's Wedding March, the professional and recreational, were played by Miss Lucille DeGrand, organist.

A wedding breakfast was served at the Ernest Villeneuve home, 1017 1/2 Ludington street, followed by a dinner at the Villeneuve home and a supper at the home of the bridegroom's parents, with covers for sixty guests. Pink, blue and white were the colors of the decorations in the homes, with a three-tiered cake, topped by a tiny bridal couple, the table centerpiece.

Trip Through Canada The young people left later on a honeymoon trip to Sault Ste. Marie and points of Canada. The bride selected for traveling, a gray suit with which she wore rust accessories. They will make their home in Rapid River, where Mr. Milkiewicz, who completed his course at Escanaba high school in 1936, is located as manager of the Cashway store.

Guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stankowicz and children, Danforth; Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Nault and family, of Nadeau; Misses Lila Pecord, Elaine LaLonde and Myra Porath and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hayes, Rapid River; and Carl Dietrich, of Ford River.

Rotary Club Ladies' Night Dinner June 21 The Escanaba Rotary club Ladies' Night dinner meeting will be held Wednesday night, June 21, at the Chicken Shack. It was announced yesterday.

Dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock. As a feature of the evening's program, W. R. Smith will show films taken at points of interest on the cruise to Honolulu and Australia, from which he and Mrs. Smith recently returned.

Girls' Service Club Members of the Girls' Service club of the Escanaba junior high school held their annual picnic at Defne's cottage Tuesday, with 34 present. Mrs. Oscar Vannberg and Miss Lilian Perkins, sponsor of the club, were chaperones. Helen Valentine, former member, who is visiting here from New Mexico, was a guest of honor.

Negaunee Girl Is The Bride Of Marvin Peterson

Interesting to many residents of Escanaba, the former home of the bridegroom, is the following account from the Marquette Mining Journal of the wedding of Miss Helen Edwards of Negaunee and Marvin Peterson of Detroit:

At a ceremony performed at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, June 10, Miss Helen Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Axel Edwards, of Negaunee, was married to Marvin Peterson, of Detroit, son of Andrew Peterson, of Rapid River, in the Calvary Baptist church, the Rev. Bror Lundgren, of Detroit, officiating. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Proceeding the wedding Bernard Anderson, accompanied at the piano by his sister, Edith, played a violin solo; Mrs. Donald Nelson, of Detroit, sister of the bride, sang "Because," and Mrs. Bror Lundgren, of Detroit, and Bernard Anderson, violinist, played the Lohengrin Wedding March.

The attendants were Miss Esther Edwards, a sister of the bride, Roger Goodman, of St. Paul, Miss Mildred Peterson, of Escanaba, a sister of the groom, and Herbert Anderson, of Gladstone.

Flower girls were Miss Charlene Nelson and Ethel Edwards, niece and cousin of the bride. Ushers were Donald Nelson, of Detroit, and the Rev. Birger Swenson, of Escanaba.

The bride was attired in a white silk organza floor length gown made with a high pleated bodice and draped skirt, and a bolero with a double puffed sleeve. Her finger-tip veil was attached to a tiara. Her bouquet consisted of white roses and ferns.

The bride's sister wore a yellow silk organza floor length gown with a shirred bodice and sleeves. She carried yellow snapdragons and white roses. The groom's sister wore a peach net over taffeta dress and carried tallman roses and white snapdragons.

Flower girls wore floor length dresses of white organza and carried a yellow basket of bridal wreath.

Mrs. Edwards, mother of the bride, was attired in a dusty rose crepe dress, with white accessories. Her corsage was of sweetpeas and tallman roses.

A reception for 125 guests was held in the church parlors after the ceremony.

A wedding lunch was served at the conclusion of the program. The table was centered by a three-tiered wedding cake, decorated with white roses and topped by the traditional bride and groom, flanked on either side by bouquets of yellow snapdragons and ferns, and white candles in amber holders.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. John Bergman and Roma, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bergman, Mr. and Mrs. Delwin Bergman, of Gulliver; Mr. and Mrs. Gust Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Nelson, Andrew Peterson and Miss Ina Peterson, Miss Lottie Goodman, Rapid River; Mr. and Mrs. Otto Goodman and family, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Goodman, Mr. and Mrs. August Goodman, Virginia and Dorothy, Mrs. Clarence Goodman, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Goodman, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Anderson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Major, Melvin Kasen and Park Hunt, Gladstone; Mrs. D. L. Wallstrom, Minneapolis; Rev. Birger Swenson, Miss Mildred Peterson.

GAME DEVICES ARE OUTLAWED

W. G. Wade Shows Pull Up Their Stakes At Iron Mountain

Iron Mountain, June 12.—One carnival company—the W. G. Wade shows—pulled stakes Saturday, four days ahead of schedule, rather than operate without certain concessions, and another—the World of Pleasure Shows—was told emphatically at a conference this morning in Prosecutor Ernest W. Brown's office that gambling is out.

Wheels of chance, not too skillfully camouflaged as games of skill, are the cause of it all and the authorities this morning wasted no time on technicalities. Further, it was pointed out, anyone—with the carnival or local talent—operating a gambling game or device on the carnival grounds to-night or any night will be arrested, and taken into municipal court.

The no-gambling edict had its climax Saturday, when Martin D. Thomas, Iron Mountain theatre operator, filed a verbal complaint with Sheriff Ed Corey and demanded action. Corey investigated, substantiated the facts as reported by Thomas and ordered every questionable device and booth closed down.

Did Small Business
The W. G. Wade Shows came here a week ago today, sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, of this district. It was the usual contract arrangement whereby the veterans' group was to draw a percentage of the net. Situated in Kingsford, the shows played to mediocre business last week, beset by bad weather and small crowds. Advance representatives of the company had stated definitely there would be "no gambling or immoral shows" on the grounds, and that pledge was included in the written contract.

Yet it was apparent even on the opening night that there was gambling and that methods used to attract customers to the games were novel, if not effective. One game, it was reported, employed a sort of "runner" who haunted the midway in front of the stand, grabbing prospective customers by the arm and almost forcibly hauling them over to the stand. Occasionally, another report said, he used a cane with a hook handle to "smag" a passerby.

No specific complaint was made until Thomas entered the picture Saturday. Faced with the order to close the games, the carnival left town. Only that action saved the community from playing host to two carnivals during four days of this week.

Sponsored by Legion
The World of Pleasure shows open tonight on the Wisconsin Michigan grounds on H street, sponsored by the Thomas Uren post of the American Legion, under a "gentlemen's agreement" with the Bert Carpenter post, in Kingsford, whereby each unit will alternately sponsor one carnival a year. Kingsford had one last year.

Prompted by Saturday's development, Sheriff Corey this morning called a conference at the prosecutor's office, with representatives of the carnival company and the Thomas Uren post, Prosecutor Brown and himself. Although the World of Pleasure management—like its predecessor—had pledged "no gambling" on the grounds, Sheriff Corey wanted it in black and white, he said.

"I wanted to know, first, what constitutes a gambling game and what doesn't, in the opinions of the carnival management, the Legion and the prosecutor's department," Corey said. "I'm reasonably sure in my own mind what's gambling and what isn't, but I want full agreement on it."

New Kind Of Game
"I was informed, for one thing, that the carnival carries—or has carried—a bingo game. I was told that it's a new kind of bingo game, wherein the customer does all the work—selecting the numbers to be called by rolling a ball along a numbered board, or something of the sort. The management had indicated that since the public does the playing, the carnival itself could not be held responsible for any gambling charge, if any was to be made."

"To my mind it doesn't make any difference who does the playing. If you pay your money and get nothing for it, that's gambling. If you pay a dime and get a stick of gum or piece of candy, wrapped in paper to 'cover' the gambling angle, it's still gambling, in my opinion, because you certainly aren't getting your money's worth. There's no use splitting hairs about it, or trying to get around it."

"That's my idea of gambling, but I want all persons and parties concerned to be definitely agreed on it so that there actually need be no cause or provocation for action—and if any arrests are made, no one can say he wasn't advised or warned. Once that is clear, we should have no trouble. That's why I called the conference."

Pledges To Obey
The carnival representative at the conference submitted newspaper clippings from other communities, attesting to the quality of the World of Pleasure shows, and he pledged obedience to the gambling regulation. It was indicated, however, that some games of skill may be offered, but he invited Sheriff Corey to visit the grounds and inspect them.

Corey didn't need the invitation, however, for he has planned to be at the grounds or be represented there tonight, and to have deputies there every other night. There will be no "warnings," he said. "The show management knows just as well as I do what is

'Seeing Eye' Dog Comes Here With Sam Wickman

Chicago, Ill.—Two pairs of bright, alert eyes peered appraisingly from windows of a United Air Lines plane from New York as the big air liner rolled to a halt at the Chicago Municipal airport Monday.

The two pairs of eyes belonged to "Joe" and "Art," honor graduates of the June class of the "Seeing Eye" institution at Norristown, N. J., and the flight by plane from New York to Chicago marked their first venture into the world on their own.

Firmly clutching leash and harness were their two blind charges, Sam Wickman, 47, and Hal Petrie, 21, both unfortunate victims of tragic accidents, which cost them their eyesight.

Patently, the "Seeing Eye" dogs waited for the other passengers to disembark and then at a signal from the stewardess they carefully and unflinching led their new masters from the plane and into the airport where relatives and friends were waiting to greet them.

In Chicago, the dogs and their masters, who had been constant companions during the training period at Norristown, found their paths parting. "Joe" went on to his new home at Escanaba, Mich., with Wickman. "Art" and Petrie went to Lowell, Ind., 50 miles south of Chicago.

Wickman was the victim of an ironical accident last November. A lover of the outdoors, Wickman, who was manager of the Reisa Coal Co. in Escanaba, was an ardent hunter and fisherman. But his wife feared that an accident might befall him hunting and three years ago she persuaded him to give up the sport. Then, last November, Wickman was standing on the porch of the coal company building facing Lake Michigan when a group of his friends, who had been target shooting, came by. One of them bumped the steps of the porch with his rifle, which he thought was unloaded. The impact discharged a bullet that remained in the gun. The shot struck Wickman in the nose and the bullet went through the eye and out by one section of the bullet and another piece of the metal lodged behind the left eye.

Three service clubs, Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis, raised the fund for Wickman to buy the "Seeing Eye" dog and pay for the expense of his training in Norristown.

When he was 9 years old, Petrie was blinded by flying glass. In Lowell, Petrie and "Art" will start a business partnership, for with the help of his canine "eyes" Petrie plans to open a news, cigar and candy store so that they may be independent and self-supporting.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Sundelius of Park Ridge, Ill., were on hand at the United airport to greet Wickman, who is Mrs. Sundelius' brother, while Petrie was met by his brother, Harry, and his sister, Mrs. Forest Smith, both of Lowell.

Mr. Wickman arrived in Escanaba Monday night, accompanied by his "Seeing Eye" dog.

CLUB LEADERS HOLD MEETING

Plans for Summer Work In County Discussed Here Yesterday

Sixteen club leaders of Delta county met yesterday at the courthouse for a discussion of work plans for the summer season in 4-H activities.

The meeting was in charge of Clare Rood and Miss Marcella Meyer of the extension department with offices in Marquette and E. A. Wenner, county agricultural agent.

Principal discussion centered around proposed projects in garden, dairy, food preparation, canning and baking work. Methods of judging canning projects were included in the discussion.

Leaders also were told of preparations being made for the first 4-H leader encampment to be held at Chatham July 5-8. Several leaders from this district are expected to attend the encampment.

Preliminary plans were laid for sending club members to Camp Shaw later in the summer.

"Rented the first day" said Smith. Try a For Rent Ad today.

BEHIND THE SCENES

By Bruce Catton

Washington.—More than a thousand families which used to live in slums will celebrate Independence Day this year by moving into brand-new homes which are clean, airy, modern—and which they can afford to live in.

Although the New Deal has been tugging with the rehousing problem ever since its early days, this is the first time that any really large-scale movement of actual slum dwellers into new homes has taken place.

Many slums have been cleared before, to be sure, and many new homes have been built with federal money—but, in practically all cases the new homes have just naturally been too expensive for the slum dwellers.

Now it is going to be different.

FIVE OPEN ON THE FOURTH

Five housing projects, being built under the program of the U. S. Housing Authority, are now getting their finishing touches and will begin providing homes for their new tenants on July 4. These projects are:

Brentwood Park at Jacksonville, Fla., where 60 families will move in and 240 will ultimately be housed; Santa Rita at Austin, Tex., which will open for its full capacity of 40 families; Lakeview, at Buffalo, N. Y., which will take in 100 families of its ultimate capacity of 668; Willet Park, also in Buffalo, which will eventually house 178 families and will take in 30 on Independence Day; and Red Hook, in New York City, where 800 families will move in and where 2541 will finally be housed.

Elaborate pains have been taken to make certain that none but bona-fide slum dwellers occupy these new homes.

In the first place, rents are kept very low. The average per month, excluding the cost of gas, light, water, etc., runs as follows: In Jacksonville, $10.50 per dwelling; in Austin, $6.60 per dwelling; in the two Buffalo projects, $13.25 per dwelling; in the New York project, from $3.60 to $4.35 per room.

In the second place, there is an iron-clad rule that no one may rent one of these homes if his family income is more than five times as great as the monthly rental. Thus, in the Texas project, for instance, the most affluent of the new tenants will be a man earning $33 per month. (The Texas homes, incidentally, are to be limited to Mexican tenants; two more projects are under way there to provide homes for whites and for negroes.)

Some 160,000 dwelling units are now under construction or contracted for in the United States under the U. S. H. A. program.

WHY RENTS ARE CHEAP

At first glance all of this looks simple enough. Nice new homes for slum folks, cheap rents, good construction—how is it done, anyway? What's the answer?

The answer is a bit involved. The cheapness with which these homes can be rented depends on several factors.

First of all, they are tax exempt. Each project is built by a local housing authority; and one condition which the U. S. H. A. stipulates in each case is that the home town officials relieve the new dwellings of real estate taxes, as part of the local contribution to the project.

Secondly, the bulk of the money with which these homes are built is obtained on terms which must seem fantastic to the ordinary commercial builder. That works like this:

Ordinarily, the U. S. H. A. puts up 90 per cent of the cost of the project. It is empowered to contribute up to 5 per cent of this in the form of an outright gift. The balance it furnishes is a 60-year loan bearing 3 per cent interest.

The rest of the money is furnished locally, the local housing authority selling its bonds to home-town bankers on a 15-year basis, at interest rates ranging from 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 per cent. In addition, the city where the project is being built generally makes further grants besides the tax exemption; it may donate land, streets, and so on.

All in all, then, a housing authority which erects one of these projects has advantages which no private builder can hope to get, and the projects are not, strictly speaking, self-liquidating. The U. S. H. A. people insist, however, that the actual net cost to the federal treasury is not going to be so very great.

U. S. H. A. CONFIDENT OF RETURN

The money loaned, they say, will all come back. (Since the loans run for 60 years, solid construction which will give each house a useful 60-year lifetime is insisted on.)

The money which the U. S. H. A. is lending, and for which it gets 3 per cent, it obtains by paying 1 1/2 per cent. On the total $800,000,000 loan, the U. S. H. A. people say, the government will actually make a profit of $10,000,000 a year.

Against that there are the outright contributions the government makes. The top limit on these is $25,000,000 a year; and that, say the U. S. H. A. authorities, is the actual out-of-pocket cost of the program as far as the federal treasury is concerned.

However that may be, the Fourth of July will see a thousand families which used to live in slums moving into new, decent homes.

The public library of Buhler, Kans., is in a filling station.

SERIAL STORY BRIDE ON A BUDGET

BY JANET DORAN

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday, Iris cooks a meal all right but she plays an act, feigning frayed nerves, utter exhaustion. Bart is unable to understand the whims of women. Iris is really playing the martyr.

CHAPTER V

That following morning, Bart got up an hour earlier, and had breakfast all on the table before he called Iris. But she greeted his gentle peace offering with weary putulance.

"Don't worry, Bart. I won't be late to work. And if I am, I can still do your housework, cook your meals, and pay my own way as well."

"Iris, this is an unreasonable childish attitude," he pleaded humbly. "Can't you see, dear, it's for your own good that I want to make something of our present?"

"Skip the explanations, Bart. They all add up to the same total. Men marry for better, not worse. They marry to get ahead, and they lose little time in fitting the yoke to the one they marry."

"You're tired, Iris; unreasonable. This isn't like you."

"It's a little late to discover the effects of overwork, Bart!"

In the days that followed, Bart was sure he lived in a strange nightmare from which he must surely awaken sometime. He got up early each morning, and while the birds sang noisy choruses outside the open windows, prepared their simple breakfast.

He followed the little budget book faithfully, despite the sarcastic comments of Iris. He believed in the wisdom of the little oracle, and he had a stubborn, unshakable faith in figures once proved.

It was Iris who scornfully surveyed the top-milk in the little blue pitcher before measuring out the cream for her coffee.

"Top-milk from one quart of milk," she mimicked sarcastically, "ample for two persons, breakfast, cream in coffee, and cereal. Use milk to prepare dessert for dinner."

"It saves 20 cents a day on cream alone, Iris." That was Bart, defensive, a trifle annoyed.

"That's $1.40 a week—almost $73 a year. And in 20 years it would mean a good substantial block of paid-up life insurance."

"I never heard of taking food off the table to make insurance premiums, Bart."

"There's your cream, Iris; I haven't taken anything away from our table." And he did not add that he was $18 ahead, for that first week alone. That buying the food for the house, paying cash for it and taking advantage of low-priced bargains was the right idea, if he could win Iris over.

"Left-overs, hash, cabbage. Cheap food for cheap people. I'd rather work overtime, Bart, and live like civilized people."

"If living far beyond our means means being civilized, Iris, then I'm afraid I misunderstand you when you said we'd manage to get along by pooling our salaries and living on a budget!"

"You were thinking of saving money even then, Bart, weren't you? You married to save the expense of living in a restaurant? You married to better yourself, not because you loved me."

"It seems to me if you loved me, Iris, you'd want to help me get ahead."

"Well, I am! What more can you expect?"

"You might take it with a little sporting fairness, instead of acting like a persecuted martyr. Other women cook and keep house and seem to like it."

"Other women do not work eight hours a day in an office, Bart Whitaker."

"Elien Kent does."

"Elien's a miser. She hates to spend money on a wave, even."

"All right, Elien's a miser, and I'm one too. I suppose, by the same yardstick, but I'm still looking after my own expenses and seeing that I get my money's worth on the money I earn and spend. I'm sorry if you feel badly over it, but it happens to be my affair."

And in spite of his explanations and argument, Bart remained on the outside edge. He could not make Iris see the right of his belief in the budget book. He could not make her believe an estate was built with dimes, adding up to dollars, to hundreds, thousands, and finally to snug security.

There was today, there was a pay check for each of them each week, and they weren't growing any younger.

There were arguments aplenty, those weeks during which Bart tried to work out some sort of stable adjustment to their financial affairs. Always beginning with petty trifles, they ended up invariably with mountainous issues, with old, forgotten hurts and disappointments dragged in, and an ever-widening gulf between them as the summer settled in for a long, hot run and their nerves wore thin with disappointment and defeat.

Bart wanted Iris to take out some insurance. An endowment life insurance policy was a good way for women to protect themselves, and it was a thrifty plan to get ahead.

"Life insurance benefits only the survivor, Bart!"

"Endowment insurance pays you $2000 in 15 years, Iris. You could pay down on a small house with that much money, and have the rent to invest in more insurance if you wanted to."

"I can't afford any further expense right now, Bart."

"Good heavens, what do you do with your money, Iris? You're making $25 a week, and you haven't a thing to buy."

Her long, violet eyes flicked him curiously and he felt a faint twinge of uneasiness.

"Is it so astonishing that I lived my life, earned money and needed it before I married you, Bart?" He flushed in quick irritation, but did not back down.

"All right then, Iris, what happens to the money you used to spend on food and rent?"

"When you bring home your books from the shop, Bart, and explain the spending of every dime you earn, I'll do the same for you."

That was the week Bart bought the soap-shaker in the 10-cent store. He had, he told Iris, noticed they used quite a lot of soap flakes in the kitchen, and back home his mother had always saved the thin wafers of soap left over and used them in the soap-shaker. It saved quite a bit.

"Use toilet soap to wash dishes, Bart!" Iris challenged incredulously.

"Why not, Iris. If it's fit to wash your hands with, what's wrong with doing dishes with the left-over sivers?"

There was a similar argument over the tin canister set Bart brought home from the shop. In them, he insisted, they could keep left-over toast for puddings, for crumbs and stuffings. They could keep cracker crumbs in one, broken cookie bits in another.

"We have no puddings, Bart; you know I do not like made dishes. And stuffing is for turkey or chicken, and it's too monotonous for only two to try to eat a whole chicken or turkey. Broilers are better."

"In the budget book it tells how to make swell desserts out of left-over cake, cookies or bread, Iris. My mother used to, and they were slick."

Iris forbore comment on the culinary accomplishments of the senior Mrs. Whitaker. There was trouble enough without quarreling over the ways of a woman dead over 15 years.

"Eighty-nine cents is a lot to spend on four tin cans we'll probably never use, Bart. Seems to me your budget book is crazy."

At the end of the week there were two pieces of toast, and two dried rolls in the biggest canister. And Bart proposed to make a chocolate bread pudding out of them.

"It takes only two pieces of bread, Iris."

"Ugh, chocolate bread pudding. Horrid old fattening stuff. Tastes like boiled Eskimo boot. Besides, I bought raspberries, Bart."

Bids for Construction of P. O. To Be Sought About July 15

Working drawings for the Manistique postoffice building have been completed and it is expected that advertisement for construction bids will be published approximately July 15, the city manager was informed by City Manager P. H. Beauvais Monday night in a letter from Congressman Fred Bradley.

The council briefly reviewed the tentative budget at the meeting Monday night, but deferred the adoption of the permanent budget until Thursday night, when the council will meet at seven o'clock at an adjourned meeting.

William Barker, representing the Manistique Blueberry Festival committee, appeared before the council to petition for a permit for the W. G. Wade show to play at Manistique during the week of the Blueberry Festival, under the auspices of the festival committee. The permit was granted and a license fee of $300 fixed.

Two-Platoon System

A request for the two-platoon system for Manistique firemen was presented to the council at the request of the firemen but no definite action was taken.

The adoption of the two-platoon system is required by state law. The system provides for 24-hour service on and 24-hour off duty. At present firemen are working 48 hours on duty and are off for 24 hours.

Fire Chief C. E. Underwood requested the council to provide at least one additional full time fireman if the system goes into effect.

A suggestion from Ben Sparks, U. P. highway engineer at Escanaba, that the City of Manistique purchase the Inland Lime and Stone company building at the intersection of Maple avenue and Elk street for the purpose of removing a blind corner was presented to the council by the city manager, but no action was taken.

The purchase price is $3,500. The highway department has indicated that the blind corner is causing the delay in construction of concrete pavement along the route of US-2 within the city limits. No definite assurance has been provided, however, that the state highway department would proceed at once with construction if the right-of-way was deeded to the state.

Harold Hupfer left Monday for Detroit where he will spend a week with his brother, Jack, and sister, Genevieve before going to Camp Custer, Battle Creek where he will spend a month.

Manistique Lads Leave Today For Boys' State Meet

Six Manistique boys will leave here at seven o'clock this evening for a trip to Lansing, where they will attend Wolverine Boys State, which opens June 15 and extends to June 24.

The Manistique boys are Robert Beauvais, Phillip Beauvais, Walter Osterhout, George Erickson, David Shinar and Charles Redeker. They are being sponsored by Manistique civic organizations, including the Rotary club, Lions club, Elk club, American Legion, Manistique Women's club and Legion Auxiliary.

Newberry delegates will come to Manistique and accompany the local delegation to Menominee, where similar delegations from all over the upper peninsula will converge. The upper peninsula boys will travel to Frankfort from Menominee by ferry, and then to Owosso via Ann Arbor railway.

They will proceed from Owosso to East Lansing by auto, arriving at East Lansing Thursday night.

Wolverine Boys State is a project of the American Legion. It was instituted last year and was a grand success. The boys set up their own government and learn better citizenship.

John Kelly, of Manistique, is one of the six advisors for Wolverine Boys State. In addition there are 30 counselors.

Officers of the organization are Everett De Ryke, Milan, president; Dwight Rich, Lansing, vice president; Carl Mathison, Detroit, secretary; and Robert N. Wright, Ironwood, comptroller.

Just Beginning To Fight Says Adair, Townsend Speaker

"Has Congress Defeated the Townsend Plan?" was the subject of an address delivered last night at the city hall by James H. Adair of Flint.

Opening his talk Mr. Adair, quoted from a statement by Congressman Bruce Barton of New York wherein Barton declared he had found that we are now in our 39th emergency disaster, a period of increasing emergency as shown by the speeches of the president of the United States. Mr. Adair then asserted that Townsdenites are tired of government by emergency and demand a cure and up to the present time we have no more cure for our economical collapse through our spending and borrowing program than an aspirin tablet has for tuberculosis.

About 40 billions of dollars have been spent for relief in the past 7 years spread over approximately 20 million people. In the first three years of our depression, labor lost 40 billions of dollars through being thrown out of jobs and employment, thus conclusively proving that the labor dollar earned in the production of goods is the dollar that finds its way rapidly while the relief dollar is a slow cumbersome method of placing money into circulation.

The relief situation is growing steadily worse as Mr. Adair pictured in several sections of Michigan through actual observation and study with counties, townships and towns which find it increasingly difficult to raise the sponsor's share in carrying on WPA emergency relief programs.

The proposal of Mr. Adair to stop this extravagant borrowing and spending of money is through the Townsend National Recovery Plan wherein a transaction tax will be levied on all transactions, this money going direct to the U. S. treasury for a specific purpose.

In relation to the transaction tax, the speaker dwelt on the raise in price that is necessary for the American farmer to have for his products before we can experience any form of business upturn in the cities.

The tragedy of the Upper Peninsula of Michigan as Adair sees driving along on the highways is the thousands and thousands of cedar posts cut and in some cases actually rotted while the farmer hasn't the purchase power to buy fencing to nail on the cedar posts. Iron mines close because the farmer has not the purchasing power to buy the manufactured iron and steel products. The farmer is and will be the backbone of America and only can we have business recovery through the farmer having money to buy.

In closing Mr. Adair urged continued support of the Townsend club of Delta county and the Townsend national organization, telling them "We are not discouraged we are just beginning to fight."

The 4th national convention at Indianapolis will definitely lay down a program of procedure for the next two years prior to the election of 1940, the speaker stated.

Child Training Important Says Rotary Speaker

"Train up the child in the way he should go, and when he is old, he will not depart from it," from Proverbs 22:6, was used as the theme of a Children's Day talk given Monday before the Gladstone Rotary club by the Rev. Nils J. Hedstrom, pastor of the First Baptist church.

Yesterday, said the local pastor, was observed as Children's Day, and in many places of worship the day was celebrated as such. Today I wish to make a few remarks concerning the bringing up of children in the fear and admonition of the Lord. As men and citizens of the United States of America we are interested in the future of our country and the continued happiness of its people. We believe that the United States of America is God's favored nation among nations. We furthermore believe that the glory of the future of our country will surpass the glory of its past history. Nevertheless, if this vision is to be realized, we must recognize the importance of training our children according to the teachings of God's revealed truth and the best traditions of our beloved country.

It was Victor Hugo who said, "The eighteenth century discovered the man, the nineteenth century discovered the woman," and if he lived today, he probably would add and say, that the twentieth century has discovered the child. No doubt, much has been accomplished the last thirty years for the religious education of our children. For instance, Daily Vacation Bible schools are being conducted in many cities and towns and hundreds in the month of June. Rightly understood, the statement that the twentieth century has discovered the child, is true, but in larger, fuller and deeper sense it was the Lord Jesus Christ who discovered the child, or rather, revealed the child, when he said, "Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of God," and again when he took a child and placed it before the people and said, "Unless ye become as little children, ye shall in no wise enter into the kingdom of God." Gentlemen, it behooves every one to take heed to these words of Christ, for they are fundamental and basic truths.

Nevertheless, the child, if left to itself, will soon wander away from the kingdom of God, and enter in upon ways that lead farther and farther away from the fold of God. It is at this point that the words of the text find their application. "Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old, he will not depart from it."

The indication in this verse seems to call our attention to the fact that a child properly trained along moral and spiritual lines, may for a time leave the paths of righteousness, but sooner or later he will return to the way he should go, and never depart from it. The ideal thing, of course, is that he should not depart from the right way even for a short interval of time.

Now, if we are to train our children according to God's pattern, we, our selves, must be on the right track. In the remarkable parable of the lost sheep, we notice, it was not the lamb, but the sheep that went astray. This we also know that the lambs will follow the sheep, and if the sheep go astray, so will the lambs. If the sheep in turn follow the voice of the Good Shepherd, the lambs, as a rule, will go the right way. May we be able to say to our children, the words of St. Paul, "Follow me, as I follow Christ."

If you will permit, I will give a leaf from my childhood days, which as an illustration will throw light upon the matter in question. I was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., and when seven years of age my father and mother returned to Sweden. After having lived in Sweden for about two years my father returned to the United States because of some business transactions. To make a long story short my father passed away in this country, and mother was left with five children in Sweden. Now, mother had an added responsibility, that of providing for the family. But mother knew that the Lord will provide. She practiced the truth of a well motto that she had brought with her from America, namely, "The Lord will provide." At one time there was not a bit of bread in the house. But she presented her needs before God, and the very next morning the answer to her prayer presented itself. As she went out to bring in the milk for the day she noticed that besides the milk can stood a sack of flour. She was so overjoyed over this answer to her prayer that she for the time being forgot to bring in the milk and the flour. She ran into the house and exclaimed, "The Lord has answered my prayer, for the Lord has sent us flour." Now, the application of this story is this, that the best lesson I ever learned about the providence of God dates back to the time when I was nine years old, and as I grow older this incident from my childhood days becomes more vivid and real to me. Some people may discount this story as of no value at all, but to me this experience from childhood days stands out as a bright and burning light. I cannot but believe in a prayer-hearing and a prayer-answering God, and a God who cares especially for those that have committed themselves unto him. "Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old, he will not depart from it."

UTILITY BILLS MUST BE PAID

Users Must Keep Slate Clean of Current Accounts

Current utility bills, both light and water, must be paid promptly as provided for by city regulations or the service will be discontinued, according to a resolution adopted by the city commission on Monday night.

In the event of delinquent accounts provision must be made to reduce the delinquency. It was stated.

A resolution also was adopted authorizing prosecution of any person found tampering with a meter or using a "jumper" to reduce their bill.

City Manager A. F. Raddant was authorized to contact the guide service in reference to construction of several rustic signs for VanCleave Park. The request was made in a communication from Wm. L. Marble, chairman of the park and harbor committee. Mr. Marble also included a drawing of the type of sign he had in mind as a suggestion to the commission.

Use of 3-4 inch resin plywood doors on stalls at the beachhouse was authorized in order to save money in construction. Steel was originally specified.

In regard to an inquiry from the Michigan Municipal league to determine if Gladstone wished to fight the constitutionality of house bill 417 which will impose a 3 per cent tax on all utilities, the matter was referred to City Atty. Glenn W. Jackson.

HEATED BATTLE MARKS MEETING

Erick Johnson and Ole Peterson Have Argument

A verbal battle between Erick M. Johnson and Commissioner Ole Peterson that at times became so heated that the participants were declaring each other to be a purveyor of untruths, threatening court action and inviting each other outside, featured a regular meeting of the city commission on Monday evening.

Johnson appeared before the body to ask Commissioner Peterson to apologize for having said he told untruths. Johnson contended that at the last regular meeting he had declared Commissioner Peterson to have seconded a motion during the board of review session and offered it in proof of his statement and then requested Commissioner Peterson to make a public retraction which Mr. Peterson declined to do.

Peterson replied that he understood Mr. Johnson at the previous meeting to have said that he (Peterson) offered the motion to cut his own assessments and it was this assertion that he denied.

He admitted the assessment cuts but said that the other members of the board of review must have believed them justified and he also declared there was a possibility of error in the record which, according to Johnson, reveals him as seconding the motion.

Johnson asserted that the reductions in assessments on Peterson's properties saved the commissioner about $30 per year. Peterson replied that Johnson was not adverse to profiting at the city's expense, saying that a store operated by Johnson was being accorded the residential light rate where it should be on the higher commercial schedule.

The argument becoming hotter and hotter and with apparently no chance of amicable settlement the commission at Mr. Johnson's request resolved to have the minutes of the 1933 board of review meeting, the assessment roll and tax roll on hand at the next meeting. Mr. Peterson did not vote on the motion.

Mrs. Alfred Gerou and son, Larry, of Kenosha, Wis., is visiting at the home of Mrs. Gerou's mother, Mrs. Laura Alton on Michigan avenue.

Mrs. William C. Johnson is expected to return today from Roxeau, Minn., where for the past two weeks she has been visiting her mother and other relatives.

Mrs. Roy Terrian and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Vialu and son of Treary left yesterday morning on a three weeks vacation visit with relatives at various points in Canada.

Mrs. Petra Olson, son Arne, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Wicklander, of Escanaba and Mrs. Neils Persson of Rapid River have returned from Lansing where they attended the graduation exercises at the State School for the Blind at which time Paul Olson, son of Mrs. Petra Olson, was graduated.

Mrs. Oskar Swanson and daughter Ruby have returned to their home at Minneapolis following a week-end visit at the Thomas Trueblood home. Mrs. Swanson and Mrs. Trueblood are sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Weingartner, who have been visiting at the L. J. Weingartner home during the past several days, left yesterday for Mattoon, Wis., where they will spend a short visit before leaving for Minneapolis where Mr. Weingartner will enroll at the University of Minnesota for the summer term.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Alm and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Augustson and family, Mrs. Thomas Trueblood and Ole Hedstrom attended the graduation exercises at Iron Mountain Friday evening.

will meet tonight at 6:45 o'clock for rehearsal.

Prayer Service

Prayer services will be conducted in the Mission Covenant church at 7:45 o'clock.

Vespers

Vesper services will be held at 8 o'clock this evening in Calvary Lutheran church at Rapid River.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to offer our heartfelt thanks for the kindness and sympathy extended us at the time of our recent bereavement, the death of our beloved husband and father, William Masterson.

We are especially grateful to those who sent spiritual or floral bouquets, loaned autos for the services, and to all others who by word or deed assisted us in this hour of grief. The memory of these kind acts will ever remain with us.

Signed:

If Galento Gets Rough, Louis Says He Will Too

LARGE EVENING DUE JUNE 28TH

Joe's Boxing Improved; Champ Not Worried Over Two-Ton

BY SID FEDER
 Pompton Lake, N. J., June 13 (AP)—Yankee Stadium's chopping block is all set for a very large evening the night of June 28 if Tony Galento, as has been hinted, should trot out any rough-housing in his fist-tossing title party with Joe Louis.

For Joe, rapidly rounding into shape here at Doc Betz's place, promised today he'd "give Tony just what he's looking for" in the event the party gets rough.

"If Tony starts to push me around that way," Joe warned, "I'll rough him right back. I'll give it right back to him and then we'll see who likes to play the most."

Joe and his training troupe, particularly Trainer Jack (Charlie) Blackburn, figure Galento will be tough—tougher than any of the tan terror's recent opponents—but they're not especially worried.

"We took on the same kind of fighter a couple of years back in Adolph Witer," Blackburn related. "He came from Green Bay, Wis., and moved in like Tony, wide open and slugging all the time. That was the first ten-round fight Joe ever had and we won the decision after putting Adolph down three or four times. He was tough only for the first three or four rounds."

Milwaukee Boy Cuffed
 After two weeks of work, Joe is coming to the peak of his condition in splendid style. He is boxing six rounds daily, his latest punch-tossing session coming at the expense of Sparmates Mickey Hayes of Milwaukee, Joe Banovic, a Galento-shaped gentleman (particularly around the mid-section) from Birmingham, Jim Howell and George Nicholson of New York.

Hayes walked into the training camp a couple of days ago and announced he had hitch-hiked all the way from home just to tangle a little bit with the heavyweight champion. He is rapidly learning that, as Joe Jacobs, Galento's manager, so aptly put it, he "should have stood in bed" today. He was cuffed from ring-post to ring-post and finally wound up with a nose dripping blood.

Joe's boxing has improved considerably since he last was in training here—for John Henry Lewis in January. He is much faster on his feet, moves around considerably better.

Joe today was presented the Ring magazine's "merit award" as the outstanding boxer of 1938. The presentation was made by Nat Fleischer, the magazine's editor, who also turned over to Henry Armstrong "Ring's" championship belt for the welterweight title. Henry was presented also with an "extra-special" belt for being the first boxer ever to hold three titles simultaneously.

YOUNG GOLFERS AT ANN ARBOR

About 100 Entered for Western Junior Title Match

Ann Arbor, Mich., June 13 (AP)—Approximately 100 youthful golfers from five states will tee off at the University of Michigan course Wednesday in the 18-hole qualifying round of the western junior championship.

The 32 low scorers in the qualifying test will earn the right to start match play Thursday. The tournament ends with the 36-hole final on Saturday.

Five states—Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Iowa and Wisconsin—were represented with Michigan having the largest number of entries.

Among the pre-tournament favorites were Chase Fannon, Northwestern university sophomore who holds the Western conference title; John Holstrom, of Rockford, Ill., who won the title in 1937 at the age of 16, and Drew Eggleston, of Detroit, Michigan junior champion. The meet is open to amateurs from 16 to 19 years of age, inclusive.

Champ Too Old
 Charles Boetcher, of Rochester, Minn., last year's winner, has reached his twentieth birthday and is ineligible.

Holstrom has a chance to join Fred Haas, Jr., of New Orleans, as the only two-time winner. Haas, former intercollegiate champion from Louisiana State and Walker cup team member, triumphed in 1934 and 1935.

High school golfers were conspicuous among the entries, all of the members of Kalamazoo Central's state championship team being listed. William Courtright, son of the University of Michigan coach who placed third in the state prep tournament, also was an entrant.

Philip McCanna, of Burlington, Wis., a member of the Notre Dame team and two Michigan squad members, Fred Dannenfelser and J. H. Veizina, also were among the entries.

Gallagher Of Yanks Obtained By Browns

St. Louis, June 13 (AP)—The last-place St. Louis Browns announced late today they had obtained Joe Gallagher, slugging young outfielder, from the world champion New York Yankees.

The Browns gave up infielder Roy Hughes and an undisclosed amount of cash for Gallagher, whom the Yankees recently sent to their Newark farm club in exchange for Pitcher Russo.

Gallagher came to the Yankees from Kansas City and he was so confident of his ability to stock with the champions that he threatened at first to quit baseball rather than report to Newark.

He will join the Browns in Philadelphia tomorrow.

The Browns also announced they had sold Outfielder Mel Mays outright to Toronto.

Hughes, who plays shortstop, second or third base, came to the Browns from Cleveland in 1938 but he saw little service. He batted .261 last year and this year

LAZZERI QUILTS ACTIVE PLAYING

Colorful Tony Looking for Managerial Job; Is Shrewd Fellow

BY HARRY GRAYSON
 NEA Service Sports Editor
 New York.—On the heels of his release by the Glants, Anthony Lazzeri announces his retirement as an active combatant.

Tony Lazzeri would like to remain in baseball as a manager or coach and, unlike Babe Ruth, is willing to go anywhere to prove his worth as such.

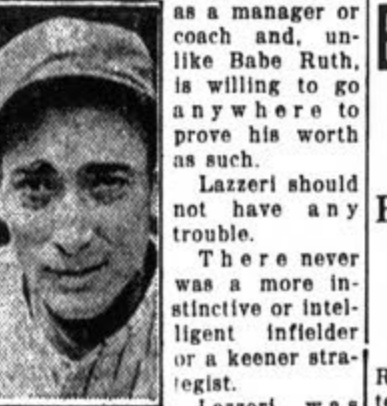

Lazzeri should not have any trouble. There is never a more instinctive or intelligent infielder or a keener strategist.

Lazzeri was the actual field director of the Yankees for 12 years... under Miller Huggins, Bob Shawkey and Joe McCarthy. In that time, the Ruppert Rifles won six pennants and five world championships.

Then Lazzeri switched to the Cubs to help them to a National League pennant. Flaps followed Poosh-Em-up around.

Lazzeri and Lou Gehrig, who were key men in one of the quickest successful rebuilding programs in history, started about the same time... cracked up together.

Ed Barrow, representing Col. Jacob Ruppert, gave Bill Lane, then owner of the Salt Lake Coasters, $50,000 and five players for Lazzeri following the season of 1925.

TONY LAZZERI

BARROW THOUGHT HE HAD A LEMON
 In his last season of AA ball, Lazzeri hit .354 and accomplished the unusual feat of leading a league in home runs... he manufactured 60... and stolen bases.

After completing the deal, Barrow heard that Lazzeri suffered from a chronic ailment which forced him to take an occasional rest period. He so advised Lane.

"Send Lazzeri back with whatever he has," replied Lane, a gruff old miner who had great luck with young players.

Barrow never regretted keeping Lazzeri, who stood out from the rest at the time he purchased Lazzeri, the Yanks also bought Mark Koenig from St. Paul. Few, including Huggins, expected the club to get very far with a new and young combination around second base, but Lazzeri took command of the situation so well and rapidly that the outfit got off in a rush and never was headed.

Lazzeri would have been through as a player several weeks ago when Brooklyn let him go, had not the Glants been in such a bad way for a third baseman.

It was pathetic to see him pass out as he did... after a miserable day at third base. In the first inning he failed to come in fast enough for Stan Hack's bunt. In the seventh he ran in front of Bill Jurgens for Billy Herman's grounder which went for a hit and in the same inning he made a two-base error on Jimmy Gleason's grounder.

GIANTS PASSED UP WERRER; WOULD LIKE TO BUY RIGON

In the eighth, he was too slow pending down for Glen Russell's grounder which went for a miscue.

That wasn't even an improvement over George Myatt, Mel Ott, Lou Chiozza, or Alex Kampouris, all of whom were tried and found wanting at the far turn.

It also was enough for Bill Terry... and Lazzeri.

The Polo Grounders still having a third basing problem stresses the disappointment caused by Myatt's flop. Terry had banked heavily on the San Diego speedster.

Terry's best bet perhaps is Tom Hayes, but the youngster requires experience and there would be an awful squawk from the Jersey City farm were he recalled.

The Giants would like to land Lew Riggs, who is still with the Reds although he joined the army of unemployed when the Rhinelanders purchased Bill Werber from the Athletics.

Bill Terry must have been looking out the window while Connie Mack was requesting and obtaining American league waivers on Bill Werber and peddling that feet-footed third sacker to Cincinnati.

A club like the Giants shouldn't be shopping for a regular in mid-June.

WOMEN'S GOLF FAVORITE FAILS

Piano Teacher and Girl of 15 Add Spice to Western Open

St. Louis, June 13 (AP)—A freckle-faced piano teacher, a 15-year-old school girl and a veteran-paired plenty of spice into the first round of play in the Women's Western open golf tournament today.

Dorothy Foster of Springfield, Ill., who left a music class to compete here, gave some lessons in golf and dropped one of the favorites by the wayside in a stunning upset.

She trimmed Mrs. Helen Hicks Harb, former national champion and now a New York professional, 5 and 4. Miss Foster, former Illinois women's champion, was three up at the turn and continued to ram down her putts beautifully to end the match with four pars and a birdie duce.

All the other favorites came through the first round nicely.

The "baby" of the tournament, Jeanne Cline, 15-year-old Bloomington, Ill., high school sophomore, advanced to the second round with a 3 and 2 win over Iva Mae Pilcher of Mexico, Mo.

They made the turn all even, going out in 45, but the youngster, displaying excellent form and with energy to burn, rolled in a couple pars and a birdie to gain the three-point margin.

Mrs. Hill is one of three pros remaining in competition. All are paired in the upper bracket and one of the trio is almost certain of reaching the finals.

One of the "business women" players, Helen Dettweiler of Washington, D. C., posted a 4 and 2 victory over Mrs. M. E. Wallace of St. Louis, while the other pro, Virginia Pepp, St. Louis, was pressed hard to win 1 up over Mrs. Charles Demmey of Chicago.

Four standouts in the lower bracket are Ella Mae Williams, attractive Chicago girl; Beatrice Barrett of Minneapolis, Minn., the defending champion; Phyllis Buchanan, Denver, and Mrs. Burt Dell, Cincinnati, former Ohio state champion.

Mary Agnes Wall, Menominee, Mich., defeated Dorothy Jane Campbell, St. Louis, 1 up 19 holes, in the first fight.

WIELAND QUILTS MANAGER'S JOB

New Pilot Unnamed Yet; No Date Set for Playoff Game

Orville Wieland has announced his resignation as manager of the Escanaba baseball team effective immediately. Internal dissension and lack of cooperation among the players was given as his reason for resigning.

No successor to Wieland has been named as yet although the names of Toodles Flath, regular catcher, and Jack Starrs, manager of independent teams here in the past, have been mentioned.

No date has been set as yet for the play-off of the Crystal Falls game, which was rained out here Sunday.

It is probable the Niagara-Negaunee game will be made up Saturday, June 24, that date being requested by Negaunee which stated it cannot play off the contest this week-end because of a double-header scheduled Sunday at South Range which will tax its pitching strength.

TIGERS INVADE TOUGH COUNTRY

Red Sox, Then Yanks, Are On Schedule for Detroit

Boston, June 13 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers carried their five-game winning streak, prize run of their season, into the toughest country of the American league today after baseball's centennial celebration holidays.

Del Baker's boys, fresh from a home stay which saw them show signs of going somewhere again in the campaign, open a four-game series tomorrow with the Boston Red Sox and then go on to New York for three engagements with the Yankees.

Tomorrow's resumption of action will be in a doubleheader with Paul Trout and Schoolboy Rowe expected to carry the pitching burdens for Detroit. The Tigers are now two and a half games out of the first division.

While the immediate problems involve the Red Sox and Yanks, the Tigers as a team also are soon to run into one that's brand new. It will be their baptism in night baseball. They play one of those games in Philadelphia Tuesday and again in Cleveland a week later.

Most of the Tigers have played night ball in the minors, but to at least three—Charley Gehring, Bill Rogell and Tommy Bridges—it will be a new experience.

Eagles Will Play Doubleheader At Munising July 2

The Escanaba Eagles will play a doubleheader at Munising on Sunday, July 2, it was learned yesterday from George Williams, manager.

The second game will be a make-up for the game which was rained out Sunday. At present, both teams are tied for second place in the Rainbow league.

The Eagles will hold a lengthy practice this evening in preparation for the Gladstone game here Sunday. The Uptowns are holding down the cellar position at present but are still dangerous and the Eagles are not taking the game lightly.

FLAG DAY THOUGHTS

Our flag is the symbol of our lives, our homes, our rights, our liberties, and every true American is ready to defend these from attack.

But our people are resolutely opposed to carrying the flag—our own noses—into the midst of the affairs and conflicting philosophies of other nations.

We are proud to see our flag at the head of any parade of progress; but we do not want ever again to see it at the head of an army of our young men marching needlessly to death on foreign fields.

KIDDIE KARS RACING TODAY

20 Cars to Face Starter At Ludington Park This Evening

Lights twinkled into the late hours in Escanaba basements and garages last night as boys put last minute touches of paint and made adjustments on their miniature race cars for the Soap Box Derby to be held today at Ludington Park.

About twenty cars are expected to be on hand for 6:30 p. m. for the first heats. Bobby and Jerry McKie, 1938 champions, are facing stronger competition this year as several heavier cars have been entered. The contest is sponsored by the Escanaba Kiwanis club under the direction of the Boys Work Committee.

Consolation Race
Of special interest to many boys who did not finish their cars in time to enter applications will be the consolation race. Cars that have not been officially entered in the race will compete for championship in a special division. This will enable youthful racing fans to have a share in the program and compensate for the effort put in their cars. This group of boys, however, will not be eligible to compete for the fifteen dollars in cash prizes that will be distributed to winners.

One of the novelty races will be a block long pushing race in which a boy will push the car and at the end of the block the driver changes places and pushes the car back to the starting point.

40 SCOUTS GO TO MACKINAC

Week's Trip to Island Sponsored By Legion Post of City

Forty Scouts of Escanaba will leave for a ten day trip to Mackinac Island on Saturday and return on June 27. The trip is being sponsored by the Cloverland Post No. 82 of the American Legion. Members of the Boy Scout committee and others interested in the development of the project are: Gerald Cleary, Tom Beaton, Clem Flanagan, E. L. Moerach, John Peltier, A. J. Perrin, Louis Hoyer, Ralph Olson, Emerson Harvey, Henry Breault, John Lemmer, and other members of the American Legion.

The delegation will leave Escanaba at 8 a. m. and arrive at St. Ignace in time for the 1:15 ferry. While on the island they will be housed in the Eagle Scout barracks. A staff of four Scout officials and members of the Legion committee will be in charge of the boys during their stay on the island. The program for the boys while they are on Mackinac Island will consist of exploration hikes, handicraft, swimming, Scout advancement, and other parts of the regular summer camp program.

Twelve members of the delegation will bring their musical instruments and form a band during their stay. These members are part of the regular Boy Scout band of Escanaba.

Arrangements have been made so that the boys may play golf, tennis, baseball, etc., without cost. The delegation has been organized with the following Patrols and Patrol leaders:

The Massacre Patrol with Jim Boucher as Patrol leader. The Flaming Arrow Patrol with James McDonald as Patrol leader. Fort Holmes Patrol with Jim L'Heureux as Patrol leader. Bobwhite Patrol with Jerry McKie as Patrol leader. Eagle Patrol with Stuart Peterson as Patrol leader.

SPUD GROWING TO BE STUDIED

Potato Breakfast Will Be Held at Bureau Meeting Here

For the first time in its history the Upper Peninsula Development bureau has assigned an entire session at its annual meeting here June 17 to the discussion of potato culture and marketing problems. A breakfast will be served in the Ludington hotel Saturday morning, at which several authorities will give five-minute talks on various phases of this growing farm activity in the northern counties, and opportunity will be given for discussion.

Speakers and their subjects will be: D. L. Clananah, crops specialist, Michigan State college extension department, Marquette; "Our High Quality Potatoes;" B. A. Heath, agricultural agent, South Shore and Soo Line railways, Marquette; "How the Railroads Help the Industry;" H. A. Riley, manager, Michigan Potato Growers Exchange, Cadillac; "Potato Marketing Demands and Problems;" and Earl Roberts, county agricultural agent, Houghton; "The Future of the Industry."

Like all other sessions of the bureau meeting, the breakfast will be open to the public. Those attending will sit down at 8 o'clock, and tickets will be 50 cents. The farmers of Delta and surrounding counties are especially invited to attend. It is anticipated that the meeting will be over in ample time for the coming of the steamer City of Detroit III, which has been chartered for the annual cruise of the Detroit Board of Commerce and is due to arrive at Merchants Dock at 10 a. m.

Mrs. Anna Olson, Bark River, Dies In Hospital Here

The death of Mrs. Anna Olson, wife of John Olson of Bark River, occurred at 2 p. m. Tuesday at St. Francis hospital, where she had been a patient for two weeks. Mrs. Olson's death, which came unexpectedly to members of the family, was due to complications. Mrs. Olson was born Aug. 18, 1873, at Stembuk, Varmland, Sweden, and came to the United States in 1895, first settling at Foster City. She was married April 21, 1898, at Escanaba by the Rev. J. Edbloom, and in 1910 moved to Bark River, where she was an active member of the Swedish Mission church.

Surviving are the husband, two daughters, and five sons: Mary Olson, Bark River; Mrs. Arthur S. Nelson, Bark River; David and Rudolph Olson, Chicago; Albin, Escanaba; Clarence and Clifford, Bark River. There is also a brother, Andrew Johnson, of Bark River, and a sister, Mrs. Charles Johnson, Duluth. Seven grandchildren survive.

The body was taken to the Boyle Funeral Parlors, and arrangements for the last rites will be completed today.

Ski Shelter House Material Is Sought

Anyone having plans or sources of material for a ski shelter at the new park donated to the city by S. M. Johnson are asked to communicate with officers of the ski club as soon as possible.

Quite a great deal of work has been done at the new park, which ski enthusiasts say is one of the finest sites for many miles. With the cooperation of ski club members, city departments, and other interested individuals, trails have been marked, boundaries have been established, and preliminary planning has been done. A project for development by WPA is to be submitted soon, this project to include a shelter.
