PANAMA FLAG MAY BE USED ON U. S. SHIPS

REGISTRY CHANGES SOUGHT TO EVADE WARTIME BAN

Washington, Nov. 6 (AP)—The maritime commission announced tonight it was deferring "final action" on the United States lines' application to transfer nine of its 11 transatlantic vessels to Panamanian registry...

No Dodge Seen Before the unusual night meeting, Commissioner Max O'Reil Truitt told reporters that approval would not contravene the new neutrality act, which forbids American-flag ships to go to the danger zones.

"I don't see any element of a dodge at all; I think it's a completely sound, bonafide situation all around," Truitt said.

"Congress unquestionably intended to keep the United States flag from going down in the brine and to keep United States seamen from losing their lives."

"But nowhere in the act does it say an American citizen could not operate a foreign flag vessel with a foreign crew."

If the commission grants the application, title of the vessels would be transferred to a Panamanian corporation. They would carry the Panama flag and would be manned by crews other than United States citizens.

Protection removed The commission's midnight statement said: "The proposed transfer to a foreign flag would divorce the ships involved from any and all protection afforded by the United States flag."

"And, further, American vessels transferred to a foreign flag, cannot, should they return to United States registry, enter coastwise or intercoastal service though they may resume operations on foreign trade routes of the United States."

"Any favorable action would be taken by the maritime commission only upon the definite understanding that operations of the vessels in question can in no way involve the rights of diplomatic protection by the United States or be made the basis of any claim put forward by the government of the United States."

New Vessels Planned "In connection with the commission's action on the Panama flag application..."

Mastery Of Ocean Shipping Lanes Is Claimed By Britain

BY EDWIN STOUT London, Nov. 6 (AP)—Britain laid new claim today to mastery of the Atlantic shipping lanes over German submarines and declared the Germans already have done their worst.

Expressing confidence in the ability of British escort vessels to protect cash and carry arms shipments from the United States, an admiralty spokesman said: "Despite the German boasting, the U-boats have been fairly mastered and many of them have been sunk."

Official figures on losses of British merchant shipping since start of the war listed 55 ships with a total tonnage of 238,795 as sunk. This was less than one and one-half percent of the total British merchant marine tonnage of 18,500,000.

(The German high command has asserted that Nazi submarines and bombers in the first eight weeks of the war sank 115 merchant ships—British, French and neutral—totalling 475,321 tons, in addition to 78,000 tons of warships.)

Food Rationing Postponed (Britain on the same day—October 28—placed her losses at 51 merchant ships, totalling 210,021 tons, exclusive of the warships Royal Oak and Courageous.)

Efficiency of the escort system was claimed after the week-end arrival at one port of 28 vessels in four convoys. They carried nearly 100,000 tons of food as well as petroleum, ore and lumber.

Some politicians predicted that the supply situation would improve to the extent that the government could postpone rationing of butter and bacon until after Christmas at least. It had been announced for mid-December.

Parliament will argue the rationing plan this week and hear attacks on the present rationing of coal and coke. Gasoline also is rationed.

GERMANS POUND FRONTIER TOWN

French Claim 9 Planes Shot Down In Nazi Air Attack

BY ROY P. PORTER Paris, Nov. 6 (AP)—A violent aerial combat between 27 German and nine French airplanes was reported by the general staff tonight, with the French claiming to have shot down nine of the enemy and escaped themselves without a loss.

The encounter was announced as German ground forces, supported by artillery, were reported increasing their pressure on the French frontier town of Forbach.

The French air squadron took the initiative against the German formation three times its size, the general staff said, and at least seven of the invading planes fell behind the French front lines.

The night communique said: "Great activity of the two aerial forces. During a violent aerial combat nine French fighting planes attacked a group of 27 German fighting planes. Nine of the latter were shot down, including seven at least in our territory. Our complete patrol returned unhurt."

King Of Belgians Talks Peace With Netherland Queen

The Hague, Nov. 7 (Tuesday) (AP)—King Leopold of the Belgians and his foreign minister, Henri Spaak, arrived here last night and went to the palace for conferences with Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands.

Official sources who made the announcement said merely that the king came to the Netherlands to "discuss some aspects of the international situation" with the queen.

However, informed observers believed the entire question of keeping the low countries out of war and at the same time defending their vital interests was discussed.

The Netherlands foreign minister, Zefco N. Van Kieffens, also was at the palace.

Six In Three Years

Six children, within a period of three years! That is the record set by Mrs. Bruno Rubmann, 30, of Lawrence, Mass., by bearing three sets of twins since 1936. The children are Arlene and Bruno, 3 weeks old, Loreta and Lorraine, 1 year, and Clair and Raymond, 3 years.

'Peaceful' Russia Raps U. S. Embargo Act Repeal

BY WITT HANCOCK Moscow, Nov. 6 (AP)—Premier Molotov today outlined for Soviet Russia an "undeviating" policy of peace which he said "is leading us to the ultimate victory of the Soviet power" while capitalist countries "provoke the discontent of the masses" with imperialist wars.

In a rousing speech delivered to cheering party members of the 22nd anniversary of the red revolution, the premier gave encouragement to party followers in the United States, Great Britain and France.

The governments of the three nations were singled out for attack. Britain and France, he said, were deliberately prolonging the war with Germany to consolidate their "world supremacy" and thus "preparing new flames of anger against the capitalist power."

In an apparent reference to the United States he said: "We also know that in the case of certain countries neutrality only serves as a mask to conceal their activities in fanning and extending the war from which they hope to make big profits at the expense, misery, sacrifice and ruin of belligerent nations."

Emphasizing the Soviet's "consistent policy of peace," Molotov gave no hint that he might support military aid to Germany.

On the contrary, foreign circles saw an indirect rap at Germany in a Communist international manifesto, issued coincidental with Molotov's speech.

The manifesto of the International, the world Communist organization, said "Britain, France and Germany are striving for world hegemony."

Nor did Molotov make any references to supplies of raw materials which might be sent to Germany.

Passing an inferential dig at Japan with a reference to the "imperialist" war in China, Molotov said: "We may rather expect that the present war in Europe and Asia will be turned into a new world slaughter of nations for the sake of preserving the consolidating world supremacy of the imperialist powers concerned."

Beloved Brussels Burgomaster Dies; Was National Hero

Brussels, Nov. 6 (AP)—Burgomaster Adolphe Max, 69, one of Belgium's national heroes and mayor of Brussels 30 consecutive years, died today of pneumonia.

Loved by the Belgians for his defiance against German invaders of his city during the World War, he died shortly after Queen Mother Elizabeth visited him. One of the first to call after his death was King Leopold, a close personal friend.

When the German commander, General Von Jabotsky, entered Brussels in 1914 he called at the ancient city hall and punctiliously placed his revolver on his desk.

Burgomaster Max thereupon took out his penknife and ceremoniously placed it next to the gun, thus beginning his resistance to the conquerors which culminated in his arrest and detention in a German prison until after the war.

Max escaped from the prison with a false passport written by himself and on his return to Brussels was given an ovation by the people, who called him "Our Max."

PENSION PLAN IS ON BALLOT FOR 2 STATES

READING HAS HARD RACE FOR MAYOR OF DETROIT

(By The Associated Press) Important election contests scheduled for today (Tuesday) include: California: Referenda on old age pension and state control of oil production.

Ohio: Referendum on old age pension plan. New York: Referendum on pari-mutuel betting at race tracks.

Kentucky: Gubernatorial election between Gov. Keen Johnson (D) and Circuit Judge King Swepe (R). Philadelphia, Detroit, San Francisco: Mayoral elections.

Indiana: Prohibition issue injected in election of small town local officials.

Old age pensions, pari-mutuel betting, prohibition and a few contests indirectly involving Roosevelt policies confront the voters with a miscellany of issues in today's nation-wide elections.

To complicate still further the task of discerning national trends after the ballots have been counted, this hodge-podge of questions is blanketed with a crazy-quilt of local issues almost as numerous as the candidates themselves.

Eyes On California But while mayoral elections in several cities may provide some indications of national sentiment, national interest is fastened first of all upon the question of old age pensions.

In two states, California and Ohio, that issue is up for settlement by referendum. The California voters are called upon to make a "yes" or "no" decision upon a variant of the "ham and eggs" plan which they rejected by a scanty margin last year.

The current plan which gives $30 each Thursday to unemployed persons over fifty. The payments would be made in state scrip redeemable after a year provided a two-cent tax stamp were attached every week.

The Ohio old age pension campaign is led by Herbert S. Bigelow, Cincinnati clergyman. It calls for payments, supplementing other income, to guarantee $50 monthly to single persons who are over 60 and retired, and $80 to couples. It would be financed by a state income tax and a levy upon high priced real estate.

Both proposals have aroused a storm of controversy in their respective states.

Captain Says Nazis Threatened To Sink American Freighter

Bergen, Nov. 6 (AP)—A threat by the German prize crew to sink the captive freighter City of Flint if her American sailors gave "any trouble" was disclosed today by Captain Joseph A. Gairnard, skipper of the vessel.

In a broadcast, the 50-year-old captain said the lieutenant commanding the prize crew told the Americans in good English that "if you make trouble, I will put you in your boats and sink this ship."

"This is a war measure," he quoted the officer as saying, "and whether any of us like it or not, I must carry out my orders."

The tall skipper did not refer in his story of the City of Flint's odyssey in northern waters to the next move for his ship. However, there were reports that the ship would sell the cargo which originally was destined for England.

An investigation of the City of Flint's case was made by Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, United States minister to Norway, who talked with Captain Gairnard and his crew.

"I can say nothing yet about the negotiations which have taken place," he said. "I only hope that satisfactory results may be reached soon."

Further discussions of the City of Flint's next move will be held tomorrow.

Captain Gairnard, in his broadcast, said he attempted repeatedly to contact the United States ambassador in Moscow during the six-day stay of the City of Flint at the Russian port of Murmansk.

(In Moscow, U. S. Ambassador Laurence A. Steinhardt made repeated efforts to contact the crew at Murmansk. He charged the Russian government withheld its cooperation.)

HITLER PUTSCH IS CELEBRATED

Solemn Parade to Two Temples of Dead Canceled

BY LOUIS P. LOCHNER Berlin, Nov. 6 (AP)—With quiet prevailing in the war on land and sea, official attention was diverted today to the anniversary observance of Adolf Hitler's abortive Munich beer cellar putsch of 1923.

It has been traditional for Hitler to speak off the record on the night of each November 8 in Munich's Burgerbrau hall to the survivors of the old guard who assembled there the night before the unsuccessful march to conquer Germany was staged.

This part of the program is to be retained Wednesday, but the traditional ceremony on November 9, consisting of a solemn parade to two "temples" containing the remains of the men who fell during the putsch, has been cancelled.

Munich, usually enjoying a holiday on that date, will work as usual Thursday and exercises will be limited to a simple ceremony of depositing wreaths on tombs of Nazidom's heroes.

(The revolt was quashed and Hitler, in April, 1924, was condemned to five years in prison. He was released in December, however.)

Wabeno Flier Killed Wausau, Wis., Nov. 6 (AP)—Miller Dunn, an aviator living at Wabeno, Wis., was injured fatally today when his plane crashed in a plowed field near Nuttville. Dunn died in a Wausau hospital. Enroute to Wabeno, he had stopped at the Wausau airport briefly before the crash.

Midnight Liquor Curfew, Ban On Sunday Beer, Considered By Liquor Commission

Lansing, Nov. 6 (AP)—The liquor control commission refused today to pass a snap judgment on a petition from the Michigan Sheriffs' association for immediate declaration of a midnight curfew on beer and liquor sales in outstate Michigan.

Mrs. 'Lepke'

This is racketeer's wife, Mrs. Beatrice Buchalter, as she appeared at the trial of five persons charged with conspiring to harbor her husband, Louis (Lepke) Buchalter, and Jacob (Gurrah) Shapiro.

All six asked examination, which was set for 2 p. m. Nov. 15 at the prison. The men were brought into the warden's outer office for the arraignment in single file with individual guards. Other guards were in the lobby and in front of the prison.

Municipal Judge Arthur W. Wiggins of Jackson went to the prison to conduct the arraignment.

All Six Involved The arraignment followed an inquest, also held at the prison, in which a jury of Jackson businessmen brought in a verdict that Boucher "met his death from a wound from shot of a gun fired by Sam Sawaya, 26, in conspiracy with others to escape from southern Michigan prison."

Prosecutor Owen Dudley advised the jury before the verdict was brought in that under Michigan law a death caused by the commission of a felony is first degree murder and that anyone involved in the commission of that felony is equally guilty with the person accused.

William Bingham, a Jackson bank teller, was foreman of the jury. The inquest was conducted by Coroner John Pulling.

Witnesses included all the guards involved. Admits Carelessness In answer to a question by Warden Harry H. Jackson, Russell Day, a tower guard, replied that he had been careless in not identifying Leo Tibbault, 24, one of the plotters, before opening the door that led the convicts to freedom and gave them access to weapons.

Also testifying was Glenn Farrand, who was to have relieved Day but was seized and bound by the conspirators. Farrand and Dr. R. W. McLean, sociologist in the classifications department, both testified that the conspirators threatened to kill them unless they remained quiet when bound in the classifications room.

Other guards who testified were Kenneth Coster, and was with Boucher when he was shot, and Charles Westrip, a guard, who related how the fugitives were recaptured.

Sergt. Glenn Carpenter testified that Goodall brought Sawaya into the prison after he had been captured and that when Goodall asked Sawaya if he had fired the shot, the prisoner admitted that he had.

Dr. A. H. Abronheim, a pathologist at Foote hospital in Jackson, testified concerning the wounds of Boucher. He said Boucher was struck by six buck shot, one of which pierced his heart causing death.

The inquest started at 2:45 and was concluded at 5:05 p. m. The arraignment started at 5:45 and lasted approximately five minutes.

John W. Miner, chairman of the Michigan corrections commission, said earlier this afternoon that the commission would meet at the prison this week for an investigation of the case. He said the commission had been previously scheduled to meet sometime soon but that the date was being advanced to late this week because of the escape attempt. He added that the commission would hear

'DUMB' TURKEY IS BLAMED; INQUIRY ORDERED

Jackson, Mich., Nov. 6 (AP)—Six long-term convicts were arraigned late this afternoon at the southern Michigan prison on charges of first degree murder in the slaying of Inspector of Guards Fred Boucher Sunday while attempting to escape from the prison.

All six asked examination, which was set for 2 p. m. Nov. 15 at the prison. The men were brought into the warden's outer office for the arraignment in single file with individual guards. Other guards were in the lobby and in front of the prison.

MOTHER, BABY ARE DROWNED

Leo Ogness Coupe Goes Into Lake Near Ishpeming

Ishpeming—Mrs. Leo C. Ogness and her year-old daughter, Ann Dorline, died late Saturday afternoon when the coupe driven by Mr. Ogness left the Cliff drive and plunged into the waters of Cedar lake.

It was difficult today to get a clear picture of what had happened as Mr. Ogness, suffering from exposure and shock, had not been questioned by authorities.

From scanty information available, it appeared that the Ogness family started out shortly after 5 p. m. for a ride around the Cliffs drive, entering from US-41A between Ishpeming and Negaunee. As they skirted the lake, the car veered suddenly toward the right, going between two guard posts into the water and coming to a stop about 25 to 30 feet from shore. There is no cable at this point. The car was submerged in four feet of water.

Rescue Attempt Fails

Ogness told police, during the minute he was in the police station, that he broke the glass on his side of the car, fought his way free and reached in for his wife. He also made an effort, apparently, to get the baby as he had one of the child's mittens with him when he reached home.

Losing his grasp on his wife, he struggled to shore and set out for the highway to get help. Near the entrance to the ski slide, he met Alti Vitale, of Negaunee, who gave him a ride to the Ishpeming police headquarters.

Here Ogness briefly reported the accident, said he didn't know whether his wife was in the car or water, and was then taken home and put to bed.

Body Found Floating

Ogness reached the police station about 6 o'clock and Officers Rudolph Swanson and Charles Cowling went to the scene. Chief Nestor Eckloff summoned a wrecker, and followed.

When Swanson and Cowling reached the lake they saw the body of Mrs. Ogness floating on the surface, about nine feet from shore. The officers waded up to their arm pits and brought the body of the woman to shore. They removed their coats and started artificial respiration, believing they detected a faint pulse. The first persons on the scene summoned an ambulance. In the meantime, the wrecker arrived with Chief Eckloff and he assisted his officers' respiration efforts. Their work was unavailing, however, although they continued it during the ride to the city and doctors at the Ishpeming hospital worked on her for three hours. They finally abandoned their efforts and expressed belief Mrs. Ogness was dead when she reached the hospital. It was not possible to determine whether she was dead when taken from the water.

Baby's Body In Car

The body of the child was found on the seat of the coupe when the machine was dragged from the water by the wrecker. It had been in the water about two hours.

Lights of the car still burned under water.

Coroner James Hodge, of Negaunee, and Chief Eckloff were advised by Ogness' physician to wait until today before questioning him. This morning he had fallen into a deep sleep and no effort was made to awaken him.

Coon On New Spot As He Makes Talk Here

Calls Jackson Prison Break Charges Incredible

While Marvin L. Coon, warden of the Marquette state branch prison, sat quietly eating a duck dinner as guest and speaker at an Escanaba Lions club meeting last night, charges were flying about the news wires and radios regarding the rumor that he was responsible for the Jackson prison break of Sunday in which a prison guard was killed.

When Mr. Coon rose to speak to the audience, including many personal friends, he still had no indication that his name was being cleared of the charge, which he called preposterous, that he

WOULD DO IT AGAIN

"Under the same circumstances, I would do the same thing again," Warden Marvin L. Coon of Marquette state prison, said following his Lions club address last night at the Chicken Shack. "It was an unusual procedure, perhaps, but the results are what count. The prisoners were back in their cells the night of the break, they were alive and so were all the hostages, and at 6 o'clock the next morning, the prison was back to routine. I have no regrets about the matter. I will always attempt to do my job to the best of my ability."

had influenced friends to start the Jackson break "to draw attention away from the trouble at Marquette" in which Warden Coon is "on the spot" politically because of a recent cross-country prison break there.

Calls Charge Incredible

"I received a telegram only a short while ago," Mr. Coon told the Lions, from the International News Service, which said, "Governor Dickinson hinted today, your friends have started Jackson prison break attempt 'to draw attention away from trouble at Marquette.' Qualified statement frequently with 'I wouldn't have to appear to have any suspicion' and similar statements."

"We would appreciate a collect telegram answering his insinuations."

"Gentlemen," Mr. Coon said, "Many of you have known me for several years. I think you know that I am far above any conniving to help myself out of a mess."

"Then Mr. Coon read his answer to the news service telegram: "Hints from Lansing insinuating any possible collusion between the attempted break at Jackson and my status as warden at Marquette considered by me fantastic and incredible."

Regarding the telegram, Mr. Coon said, "I don't think the governor said anything like that, unless the words were put into his mouth."

"Inspector Fred Boucher who was killed in the attempted prison break at Jackson was a very good friend of mine over several years. As inspector of guards, he was in complete charge of the prison when the break effort was made. Mr. Boucher was at Jackson for many years and was one of the finest officers you would ever want to meet."

"I Give Up"

"I think it is a shame that any one should even think that I could have had anything whatever to do with the Jackson misfortune."

He shrugged his shoulders. "I give up," he said.

"The attorney general in his investigation of affairs at Marquette following the recent prison break in which Warden Coon and other prison officials were held hostage as four desperadoes fled through the peninsula in an old prison auto, only to be stopped as they got within a mile of the state line at Menominee, reported 'laxity' at Marquette, Mr. Coon said.

"But although they charged

Denies Charges

Warden Marvin L. Coon of the Marquette state prison, addressing the Lions club last night denied charges that he had anything to do with a Jackson state prison break Sunday.

"laxity," Mr. Coon said, "they'll keep sending their hardened criminals from Jackson to Marquette. Those same six prisoners who tried the Jackson break within a month. Would they keep sending these super-criminals to Marquette if the administration was so lax?"

Few of the Lions club members were aware of the new "spot" that the warden was on as he spoke. One thing they wanted to know about was that wild ride which led from Marquette to Escanaba and to Menominee before ending as a fiasco for the convicts at a sharp turn on the state road M-35 near Menominee on September 25.

Did Not Order Car

The warden related the highlights of the trip and declared, "I did not throw open the prison gates to the escapees. I called the assistant deputy of the prison and told him merely what the prisoners were demanding. At no time did I tell him to bring a car, to open the prison gates or to give orders to others not to shoot at the fleeing car."

"When a warden becomes a hostage, he no longer has the authority of a warden. His orders are not authoritative."

The investigations that have been started since this break are the first at the prison in the last 18 years, although there have been other prison break attempts, some with disastrous results.

All of the prisoners in this September break had knives, Mr. Coon said. They said they were desperate and didn't care what happened to them, but that nothing would stop them trying to get outside those walls.

Mr. Coon described how the car was brought to the building doorway so that the prisoners would not be open to fire from guards and how Gerald Bush, parole board member, drove the car, slowly out of the prison gates, stopped to fill the gasoline tank (there was only one gallon of fuel as the car left the prison) and how he and the prisoners talk almost casually as the car proceeded along U. S. highway 41.

Warned the Driver

The men were very desperate as the flight started, Warden Coon said, and threatened to kill any of the hostages who tried to stop the flight.

Their boldness wore off as the trip progressed, however, the warden said, and it was after they passed Escanaba that they began to fear for their own safety instead of threatening the safety of their prisoners. By the time they reached Menominee they were anxious to get out of the car and take to the woods if that had been possible.

The warden said he warned the convict Mushro, who had taken the wheel when Bush insisted on driving carefully, that M-35 was treacherous with curves, but that the convict sped on anyway.

At the sharp curve where the car upset, Mushro jammed on the brakes enough to slow the car, but not enough to keep it from tipping. The warden was prepared for the wreck, he said, and, sitting in the back seat, hung on to the coat rail at the back of the front seat. He was standing on the floor of the car when it came to a stop and was the first to crawl out.

The prisoners, surrounded by guns, were ready to come out weekly.

In closing, Mr. Coon said that most prisoners get into trouble because of poor childhood environment and that organizations like the Lions club and other civic bodies should take a strong interest in child welfare if prison population is to be decreased.

Michigan In Washington

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty

What is Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, who made a valiant fight to keep the arms embargo, thinking about now that repeal is a reality?

He thinks that for the time being the foreign relationships of the United States are all right. When the special session of Congress met six weeks ago he was alarmed by the hysteria. The Panama canal was put under martial law. The War Resources board was busy. Special Police protection surrounded the capitol. Talk abounded for "black-outs" in Washington.

"That hysteria has been displaced largely as a result of our efforts" said Vandenberg, noting that the War Resources Board has demobilized and there are no "black-outs."

"At the present time the realists are almost shouting us in a desire for peace. They have made a moral contract with the American people to preserve peace," said Vandenberg, at the same time warning that "the first step has been taken in an unneutral direction and vigilance against involvement must be increased."

"We are at the mercy of events"—Vandenberg.

Probably the most surprising thing about the much talked-about Hoffman-Dingell fight which enveloped the last day of the special session was the substitution of Dingell for Hoffman's customary combatant, Frank Hook, Ironwood Democrat.

The Allegan Republican, at times a most sarcastic administration critic, frequently irritates Democrat Hook, who has shown a nice little temper of his own when Hoffman takes repeated shots at CIO and the former Democratic governor's handling of the sit-down strikes.

Hook is a husky, but it was bantam-weight John Dingell, from Detroit, who gets embroiled in a fist fight.

Dingell's fight-producing response to Hoffman's latest was that the present Republican governor accept the recommendation made by Hoffman to Murphy "to go in there with the militia and shoot them down."

Not in the dignified record was Hoffman's—"Come outside and repeat those words and I'll smack you down," Dingell went.

Hook chose the same day to make a delayed charge against Hoffman changing "the form and substance" of a question in the Record that Hook had addressed to Hoffman on an earlier fight.

Now that the administration has won a clear victory on the foreign affairs front with the repeal of the arms embargo, the Republican strategy is to concentrate on the domestic out-of-the-headline problems. So we find Congressman Martin, Republican leader in the House, tackling the farm headache to find some balm that will promise to heal the woes of the farmers better than the New Deal program which Martin says has "no permanent value."

Three Michigan men will be on "the rescue of agriculture" committee—Roy O. Woodruff, of Bay City, Fred L. Crawford, of Saginaw and Clare E. Hoffman, of Allegan.

On reason why Roy Woodruff was chosen was his injection of a plea for the consideration of agricultural problems into this session dedicated solely to neutrality. He proposes that no foreign farm product shall be shipped into the United States if the American farmer is not receiving a parity price for that product.

Fred L. Crawford, a student of farm problems, represents a district where two of Michigan's major crops predominate—beet sugar and white beans. Formerly in the sugar business, Crawford has special knowledge of this complicated food question.

Clare E. Hoffman, comes from an agricultural district and is a member of the standing House of Representatives Agriculture committee. He can be counted on to fight fiercely for the remedies finally adopted by this special 48 man committee of Republican representatives.

If this strategy committee is successful it will be instrumental in swinging the big farm vote away from the Democrats in 1940.

Albert J. Engel of Muskegon, is not a New Dealer but he is going to have a big say-so in the spending of some 2 billion of Uncle Sam's dollars next year. A switch in the line-up of sub-committee members of the House Appropriations Committee puts Engel No. 1 Republican on the labor sub-committee which handles appropriations not only for the Labor department, but the Social Security Board, C. C. C., Public Health Service, National Labor Relations Board, Railroad Retirement board, Office of Education and four other agencies. Engel retains his post on the war sub-committee which must pass on all the increased national Defense funds.

TWO ARE HURT AS CARS CRASH

Ensign Man's Car Badly Damaged In Rear End Collision

Clifford Lindquist and Tom Erickson of Ensign were badly cut and bruised early Sunday morning when a car owned and driven by Lindquist crashed into the rear of a car driven by Larry Tate of Gladstone, on U. S. highway 2, near Kipling.

Erickson was riding with Lindquist.

Mrs. Tate was riding with her husband. Neither was injured.

The Tate car, the sheriff's office reported, had just turned on to the highway from a side road and was traveling at about 10 miles an hour. The Lindquist car, the report said, was traveling about 40 miles an hour.

The front end of the Lindquist car was badly damaged, while the rear of the Tate car was less seriously damaged.

William Duchney of Kipling took Lindquist and Erickson to a Gladstone physician, who dressed their wounds.

Vallequette Is Held To Circuit Court On Drunk Driving Charge

Arthur Vallequette of Pine Ridge, arrested Saturday, and charged Monday with driving an automobile while intoxicated, second offense, was bound to the January term of the circuit court when he was arraigned before Justice of the Peace George W. Carr. Bond was set at $300.

Justice court does not have jurisdiction in second offense cases.

Pete Notcher, Vallequette's companion at the time of the arrest, was sentenced to ten days in the county jail on a drunk and disorderly charge.

The two were arrested by Chief of Police Michael F. Ettenhofer after the chief in his car had narrowly avoided a collision with the Vallequette car near the C. & N. W. railroad tracks on U. S. highway 41, shortly after noon Saturday.

Kin Of Escanaba Residents Plays Part In Conflict

Edgar Murphy, former Ottawa hockey player, who is a nephew of Edward Murphy, 416 South Sixth street, and Cecilia Murphy, Third avenue south, is the subject of interesting articles appearing recently in Ottawa, Ont., newspapers. He was the son of the late Austin Murphy, Canadian immigration officer, who visited relatives here several times years ago.

Murphy, who played centre on the Ottawa Gunners in 1928, returned to Ottawa last month after spending five years in Wembley, England, where he was a hockey player and executive. He had just signed a long-term contract to manage a new hockey club in Nottingham, England, when the Ottawa Gunners were disbanded.

Attendance at the conference of Junior officers to be held in Manistique will be discussed by B. W. Phillips. All local troops are expected to send delegates to the conference. Arrangements will be made for transportation.

Escanaba Golf Club To Plant 300 Trees About Grounds Today

Today is Arbor Day at the Escanaba Golf club and by night-fall, it is expected that 300 Scotch pine trees, averaging five feet in height, will have been placed between the fairways and at the south end of the grounds.

Tom Driscoll, chairman of the grounds committee, is in charge of arrangements and will be assisted in supervising the work by Paul Wohlen of the state forestry department and Ben Sparks of the highway department.

One thing needed for the success of the plan, it was announced, is to get 50 members of the club out to work and to make this interesting, arrangements have been made for lunch at noon and a dinner and stag meeting at night at the clubhouse. The planting will be done after lunch.

Members expecting to have one or both meals should make reservations early at the club, it was announced.

The club planted 300 trees last fall, but many of them did not thrive, officers reported. Mistakes made last year are expected to be corrected in the planting this year.

The trees at the south end of the grounds will form a shield against the high school athletic field.

Charles Goodyear accidentally discovered the process of vulcanizing rubber when he carelessly let a piece of rubber come in contact with a hot stove. The discovery was made in 1839, although Goodyear had been working with rubber for years, trying to devise a process for curing it.

STOMACH BLOATED, BURNED AFTER MEALS

Was Nervous, Weak, Couldn't Sleep; Then Krugon Accomplished What Was Previously Thought Impossible

"I am glad to tell others about a medicine with the merit of Krugon," said Mr. Milo Randles, 507 S. Maple St., Marshfield, Wisconsin. "Due to the effects of poor elimination I had been unable to eat without awful burning, bloating

ing sensations and gas pains afterwards. I soon lost my appetite and all desire for eating. Dizzy spells and headaches added to my already miserable condition. I had no pep or energy and seemed to grow weaker every day without those nourishing foods that I needed. All the medicines I tried failed to reach my case and I could get no help from anything it seemed... until I began Krugon... what is accomplished for me is remarkable.

"Sufferers of today are fortunate in being able to get a medicine with such outstanding ability," continued Mr. Randles. "I had heard so many praise this laxative-remedy so highly but little did I realize how wonderful it really was. Now I am getting regular elimination of clogged impurities, can eat and enjoy good nourishing foods without the least distress or discomfort afterwards, those awful headaches and dizzy spells have been relieved and I am feeling fine. Krugon certainly did not bring any disappointment with its action."

Krugon is sold by West End Drug Store, 1221 Ludington St., this city.

MAN HELD FOR KNIFE ASSAULT

John MacGillis Stabbed; Sun ner Norman Is Put Under $1,000 Bond

Sun ner Norman, whom police arrested at 915 First avenue north early Sunday morning, was placed under $1,000 bond and held to the January term of the circuit court yesterday on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon after an altercation in which John MacGillis received a knife wound in the back.

MacGillis was able to be about Monday and was present at the arraignment of Norman, who waived examination, in court of Justice of the Peace H. E. Ranquette.

Police held the knife with which the assault allegedly was made. It is a crude affair, fashioned from a file, about three fourths of an inch wide with a six inch blade.

Both MacGillis and Norman were treated by a doctor after the fracas. The blade had penetrated more than an inch into MacGillis' back to the left of the spine and below the ribs. Norman suffered the loss of a tooth and had severely cut lips.

The assault took place at a restaurant at Twelfth and Ludington streets at 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning and Norman was arrested about 4 o'clock at the First avenue address.

MacGillis told police that he and a friend, George Wells, were at the counter drinking coffee, when Norman, talking loudly, attempted to set down a cup of coffee on the counter between them and spilled it on MacGillis. MacGillis jumped up as the hot liquid struck his leg, he said, and an altercation followed in which he struck Norman, who lost a tooth and got a cut lip.

A little later a friend of Norman's came into the restaurant and, suggesting that Norman was willing to make a friendly settlement, asked MacGillis outside, according to the story given police. MacGillis said he was offering to shake hands when Norman flashed the knife and at that MacGillis ran back toward the restaurant, but was stabbed in the back as he fled.

When police arrived, Norman had gone, and it was more than an hour before they located him.

Escanaba Youth Wins Scholarship

NICK CHAPEKIS

Nick Chapekis, a graduate of Escanaba high school, class of 1938, and a student at the University of Michigan, has been awarded an Ahepa scholarship, which is a cash prize of $125. The award is based on scholarship, need and character. Mr. Chapekis, who entered Michigan in September, 1938, has thus far made an excellent record at the university.

THOMAS TALKS HERE TONIGHT

School Board Members, Superintendents Hold Meeting

Wesley Thomas, field representative of the Michigan Education association, will be the principal speaker at a meeting of members of boards of education and superintendents of schools from three counties to be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the William W. Oliver Memorial auditorium in the junior high school.

Counties represented will be Schoolcraft, Menominee and Delta.

Following the speech by Thomas, there will be an open discussion on school problems, especially those of finance and legislation. School administrators are finding problems of finance and legislation more complex and are expected to welcome tonight's meeting in order to clear up difficulties.

Musical entertainment will be provided by the Orpheus Choral club under the direction of R. P. Bowers.

Thomas spoke at a meeting of members of the Escanaba and Delta county districts of the MEA held at the junior high school last night.

Bishop Gives Talk On Tourist Industry At Rotary Meeting

George E. Bishop, secretary of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau, told Rotarians at their regular weekly meeting that the tourist and resort trade of Upper Michigan is now the biggest industry the peninsula has ever known. Over 900,000 yearly visitors are attracted to this section of the state to see the country as it is, to learn more about the early Indian history and to enjoy some of the most magnificent scenery to be found anywhere in the country.

The tourist trade coupled with a broad reforestation and recreational program for Upper Michigan will replace income formerly derived from depleted mining activity, lesser agriculture and lumbering operations.

That this part of the state has progressed in recent years is shown in the fact that Upper Michigan now has ten state parks, three national forests, 27 township and school forests, and 17 roadside park areas. 38 per cent of the entire area of Upper Michigan is now producing some type of tourist or other profitable enterprise.

The speaker traced the early history of Upper Michigan and the progress that has been made from those past days to keep a well developed tourist business going ahead.

All Rotarians are requested to attend next week's meeting to hear District Governor Bill Crossman on his annual club visit.

Social Security Board Will Open Office Here

Opening of a field office of the Social Security Board in Escanaba was announced yesterday by Robert C. Goodwin of Cleveland, Regional Director of the Federal agency which will operate the new branch of its Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance.

The office, which will open on or about December 1, will be in the Sherman Hotel Building. The personnel is now being chosen and will include only persons having status under the Federal classified, competitive Civil Service System. The positions in the Escanaba office will be filled by the promotion or transfer of Michigan residents who have been working in other branches of the Social Security Board established previously in the State or by certification from civil service lists. An initial staff of three will operate the office.

Announcing plans for the opening, Mr. Goodwin said:

"It is the policy of the Social Security Board to bring its service as close to the people as is possible. This is increasingly important as the date for payment of monthly benefits under the amended Social Security Act draws near. The Upper Peninsula will be served more efficiently by the establishment of the second office, our survey has shown.

After its opening the Escanaba office will serve the counties of Menominee, Delta, Schoolcraft, Luce, Mackinac, and Chippewa. The present Marquette office will then serve Marquette, Alger, Dickinson, Iron, Baraga, Keweenaw, Ontonagon, Houghton, and Gogebic counties. Until the new office opens, Marquette will serve the entire Upper Peninsula. W. P. Chamberlain will continue as manager at Marquette. Thomas Hughes, Regional Representative of the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance at Cleveland, is expected to visit Escanaba shortly to make final arrangements for the opening.

LOCAL DRIVE TO OPEN MONDAY

Red Cross Campaign Will Be Conducted Next Week In City

The Red Cross membership drive in Escanaba, Gladstone and Delta county will begin Monday, November 13. It was learned yesterday from John A. Lemmer, roll call chairman for the county.

Members of the Escanaba Women's club will make a house to house canvass in homes north of Ludington street while members of the American Legion Auxiliary will work on the south side of Ludington street.

Red Cross headquarters for the campaign will be at the Sherman building, 812 Ludington street. Ordinarily the campaign opens on Armistice Day but the date has been moved back locally to avoid the week-end inconvenience.

During the past year, the local chapter of the Red Cross cared for 191 individuals or families in Escanaba, providing shoes, clothing, washing machines, blankets, tents, hospital supplies, fuel, life saving supplies, prescriptions, groceries, doctors examinations, glasses and sundry other necessities. In the county, it served 18 families. In general, it aided the Veterans' Relief, Camp Bidaban, the Women's club and the schools.

Mrs. C. S. Norton is chairman of the Gladstone district.

Captain Gallagher Is Appointed Pilot Of Straits Ferry

Capt. James H. Gallagher of Escanaba has received notification of his appointment as a pilot on one of the ferry boats, operated by the state highway department, at the Straits of Mackinac.

Captain Gallagher has had 40 years of experience in sailing on the Great Lakes, during which time he has never had a ship accident. He Capt. Gallagher formerly was master of the Str. Joseph W. Simpson, remaining in that position until the vessel was sold by the Sawyer-Stoll company to Canadian interests.

He left Sunday for St. Ignace to assume his new duties.

Kids Have Fun With Fire Boxes; Police May Answer Calls

If the false alarms keep coming in police, not the firemen, are likely to start answering fire calls. In the last week there have been five false alarms from fire boxes, three of them from the one at Ninth avenue south and Twelfth street.

Police made a run there at 7:30 o'clock Sunday night after a false fire call, but missed the youngsters believed responsible. Only Saturday, another alarm had come from the same box.

Everett Cass, 1114 Tenth avenue south, reported last Sunday that a side-mount rear view mirror and seven gallons of gasoline had been taken from his car, parked on Eighth street near Ludington while he was at a movie.

Then came a report from Dave Peterson that a hit and run driver had struck the rear of the Peterson car as Mr. Peterson was backing into an alley at his home. The Peterson car lost a rear fender.

Isn't This Why You Are Constipated?

What do you eat for breakfast? Coffee, toast, maybe some eggs? What do you eat for lunch and dinner? White bread, meat, potatoes? It's little wonder you're constipated. You probably don't eat enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean the amount you eat. It's a kind of food that forms a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a movement. If this is your trouble, may we suggest a crunchy toasted cereal—Kellogg's All-Bran—for breakfast. All-Bran is a natural food, not a medicine—but it's particularly rich in "bulk." Being so, it can help you not only to get regular but to keep regular. You won't have to endure constipation, you can avoid it. Eat All-Bran daily, drink plenty of water, and life will be brighter for you! Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

Steel Leads the Way

PIG iron production in October soared to the best level ever attained in that month and was within seven per cent of the all-time high established in May, 1935, according to Steel magazine. Daily average output was 116,990 tons, 22 per cent larger than in September and 75 per cent higher than a year ago. A further increase in output is indicated for November.

In view of demands on the industry it must accumulate immense stocks of iron ore at lower lake ports. The October movement of Upper Peninsula and Minnesota ore was 9,201,249 tons, the largest total for the month since 1926 and 154 per cent more than was shipped a year ago.

On this side of the line not more than 15 or 20 per cent of the increased business is attributable to foreign war orders, according to those in the know. Our Government's requirements are increasing, of course, but the orders are coming principally from American concerns who have held off as long as possible and now find themselves short of basic materials.

The Jackson prison break had more serious aspects than that committed at Marquette when the escaping inmates kidnaped Warden Coon and other prison officials and took them for an exciting ride, which finally ended near Menominee with no casualties.

Warden Coon, a Democratic appointee, has been the target of attacks ever since the Republicans assumed control of the state administration the first of the year. The Marquette prison break was seized upon by his opponents as the incident that was needed to remove him from his position.

Drummond, the Wonder Island THE agitation for a state park at the old fort on Drummond Island has called renewed attention to a locality which is a little off the main lines of Upper Peninsula travel, but has plenty to recommend it for the honor.

The island, about 20 miles east and west and 10 miles north and south, appeals especially to summer trippers and cottagers who like their nature cool, virgin and woody. It is probable that some resorters who return year after year to Drummond would not care to see the public in great numbers invading so sylvan and sequestered an area, which up to now has been patronized by a favored comparative few.

However, the recent fight for the closing of the adjacent Potagannissing Bay to commercial fishing has drawn considerable attention to one of the loveliest localities in the Great Lakes country. People have wanted to see and fish in the area which has been called the best game fish breeding grounds on the Great Lakes. Some day Harbor Haven, Pilot Cove and the other queer havens in and around the bay will doubtless develop into much larger objectives for small boat cruising that they are today.

States. After King Strang's murder at the Beaver Islands in Lake Michigan many of his adherents fled for safety to Drummond, where they and their descendants have developed the area in the best traditions of American citizenship. Drummond is a friendly, quiet, hospitable place where life's tempo moves along serenely and without bustle, worry and fretting. Having a vibration of its own that is different from existence elsewhere in upper Michigan, Drummond should be a logical point for a fine state park.

Watching Propaganda

Every piece of propaganda that reaches the American public were boldly labeled and bore a clear description of its source, citizens of this country would know exactly what to do with it. They might read it, but they would not be misled to believe that the report is necessarily authentic.

Even if there were a law to compel such labeling of propaganda in speeches, pamphlets, statements and circular letters, enforcement would be almost impossible. The successful effect of much propaganda depends upon its being disguised as fact.

Most of the wartime propaganda fed to Americans has foreign origin but much of the propaganda with which citizens must contend has its origin right here in the United States. That kind is the most dangerous.

NEW INDUSTRIES FOR WISCONSIN

Experiments at the University of Wisconsin, it is announced, have demonstrated that Wisconsin red clay can be used successfully in the making of pottery. That is good. It also offers a clue to the methods which can be used to retain the state's favorable industrial position in relation to its neighbors and competitors in the national market.

Everybody who is interested in freedom of speech and of the press—and that ought to be everybody—will watch with considerable interest the outcome of a test case which the United States Supreme Court is expected to decide soon.

World Affairs Reviewed

Murmansk, where the end of the Gulf Stream meets the terminus of the world's most northern railway, now is referred to as the Soviet port of missing ships. The railway makes its tortuous way nine hundred miles north from Leningrad.

Murmansk is the only ice-free port on the Soviet's north coast, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society. Because of the warmth which the Gulf Stream has left even after crossing the Atlantic Ocean, this port, just east of the Finnish border, is open throughout the winter and has the temperature of Moscow more than seven hundred miles south, continues the bulletin.

The development of Murmansk started about twenty-five years ago. Then it resembled a town of America's pioneer West. The buildings were of logs, since replaced by modern homes with electric light and running water.

The Murmansk-Leningrad railroad is an outstanding Soviet engineering achievement. Running eastward around the southern shore of Lake Ladoga, the road turns north on the western shores of Lake Onega, connecting with Parandovo, Kem, Kovda, and Kandalasha. More than two-thirds of the 900-mile roadbed has been constructed since 1914 through almost impenetrable forests and over swamps, bogs, and frozen lakes.

Ships sailing the thirty miles of the gulf from Murmansk to the Barents Sea cannot follow the compass because it is deflected by the immense iron deposits on either side. The peninsula is rich in other minerals, a boon to future metallurgical industrial development of the region.

Foreign agents disseminating propaganda in the United States are now required to register with the Secretary of State. In this respect, at least, they are labeled. American citizens are under no such compulsion as long as they are not in the employ of other nations.

Thus, it is possible for American citizens to play directly into the hands of foreign governments with the widest possible liberty. It is true that many groups whose actions today fall into the category of propaganda are not desirous of leading America into war. But their unneutral tendencies, their efforts to support one side against the other, are not helping this country to emphasize its disdain for conflict and its determination not to become involved.

More recent development adding to the importance of the port is the opening, for three months of the year, of the northern sea route from Murmansk across the north of Siberia 6,000 miles to Vladivostok on the Pacific coast. This route has been made possible by the building of four new ice breakers of 12,000 tons each with Diesel engines developing 10,000 horsepower.

ing people of Wisconsin depend upon industry for a livelihood. Total employment offered by Wisconsin industries rose from 233,000 in 1914 to 277,000 in 1937. This is more than agriculture, which enrolls only 24 per cent of the working people of the state.

At least half of the remainder of the population of Wisconsin is counted in the occupations of trade, domestic service, clerical work, transportation, professional and public service. It is apparent that the economic health of this large group is dependent directly on the prosperity of agriculture and manufacturing, for their services are generally required in proportion to the productive turnover of the basic creators of wealth in the factory and on the farm.

The university will be commended for its initiative if the clay experiments lead the way to a new industrial enterprise for Wisconsin, however modest its beginnings, and will be encouraged to devote its resources to further exploration of industrial possibilities within the state.

Everybody who is interested in freedom of speech and of the press—and that ought to be everybody—will watch with considerable interest the outcome of a test case which the United States Supreme Court is expected to decide soon.

The test involves three state laws restricting distribution of leaflets in Wisconsin, California and Massachusetts. All are based on the prevention of street-littering, and have been upheld in state courts.

Two clear rights seem to clash here. States would seem to have the right to prevent the littering of city streets. And people have the right to hand out leaflets.

One of the chief troubles in a democracy seems to be that as soon as the government sets up liberties, someone comes along and uses them.

Q. How large is the Marine Corps? C. B. R.

A. The strength of the U. S. Marine Corps, as of July 1, 1935, was 1183 commissioned officers; 146 warrant officers; 18,020 enlisted men.

Q. Can paper be made from the castor plant? W. D. H.

A. At the Sam Houston State Teachers College, Huntsville, Texas, newspaper from castor pulp has been made in sufficient quantity to be used in printing the school newspaper. The paper is made from the stalk of the castor bean plant and is said to be ideal as a filler for book paper.

New York Column

BY GEORGE ROSS

New York—Christmas already has come to lower Fifth Avenue. In the great annual Yuletide preview of toys, one note is conspicuous. The toy-makers have adopted a silent slogan in these war-torn times. That is: "Keep American Toys Out of the War."

There is one possible exception, but the toy-makers regard this lone renegade as conforming to the slogan: it is a kid-contraption set with materials for building forts and long-range coastal guns.

But the box is thoughtfully labelled as being intended solely for Home Defense! FIFTY YEARS OF STEPPING

Not many venerable performers evoke such sentiment from oldtimers as Pat Rooney, the hooper who first made his mark fifty years ago at the historic Tony Pastor's. And not many veteran entertainers have remained at their jobs so continuously as the grayed but peppy Pat.

He is in his late sixties, but audiences would never know it, if they were unaware of this, his jubilee year on the stage. His famous waltz clog dance bears the nimble energy of youth, his smile flashes with the same old spontaneity and he is as dapper as he ever was in the old days.

Oldtimers never will forget that he popularized "Sweet Rosie O'Grady" and "The Sidewalks of New York," so for half a century he has been repeating these Manhattan ditties at vociferous request. All the more remarkable, for he still renders them with affection.

He is a nostalgic veteran. In conversation he likes to raminate through the old days when the Bowery was "Broadway" and Steve Brodie took his high dive off the Brooklyn Bridge. And he doesn't care much whether he happens to be hoofing on Broadway or off. Only that he is not idling away the week.

PATERNAL PRIDE Sinclair "Red" Lewis is pacing the Forties and Fifties these days—gathering inspiration for that new play. He wrote his last one in conjunction with Fay Wray.

Crooby Galge passes this along: A friend of his was walking down Park Avenue the other day and spotted an acquaintance with a dog. So he barked his pal on the back with a jovial, "Bya, Mack!"

Whereupon his supposed friend turned out to be an irate stranger. Galge's friend apologized and the stranger was mollified. "Although I don't know you," he said, "you might be interested to know who I am. I am the father of Rudy Vallee. And this," he added proudly, "is Rudy Vallee's dog."

I wish to point out that, as far as I can see, there is no prospect for an early peace.

—Dr. Hu Shih, Chinese ambassador to the United States, commenting on the Sino-Japanese war.

If war is declared before the voting in 1940, there will be no presidential election. This country will immediately fall under a dictatorship as German's.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY PEARSON AND ALLEN

Washington—The confidential dispatches from Europe are buzzing with conflicting reports regarding the British and the Russians. The reports happen to be absolutely true, nevertheless they don't make sense.

For instance, it is a recent but actual fact that a British ship left Odessa, Russian port on the Black Sea, not long ago loaded with $10,000,000 worth of the latest Russian military equipment for the Chinese armies. This equipment was not cast-off stuff which the Russians did not need, but up-to-date weapons of war.

The Japanese knew about it, and tried through diplomatic channels to stop it. But the ship arrived in Rangoon, port of British Burma, just the other day and its cargo is now in Chinese hands.

The ship, it should be noted, was British, and it took Russian arms to a British port. In other words, the British and Russian Governments, officially none too friendly, are working together behind the scenes when it comes to combating the Japanese in China.

Another diplomatic cross-current is the British suggestion, so far unofficial, to send Anthony Eden, ex-Foreign Minister, to Russia as Ambassador. Under the same plan, the French would send to Moscow ex-Premier Edouard Herriot, one of the most important figures in France.

—ALLIED LIBERALS— Behind this proposal is a group of liberals in both Britain and France who believe in trying to win Russia away from Hitler. It is the same group which urged a Russian alliance before Hitler beat them to it.

Vigorously opposed to them are conservative members in both the French and British cabinets who are worried over Russia's designs on India, and fear that the fall of Hitler would lead to bolshevism or at least "democracy" in Germany. In other words, they fear the menace of revolution as much as the menace of Hitler.

Note—This gives one clue as to why ex-President Benes has been given little Allied support in organizing a revolutionary movement among the Czechs. Benes is classed as a liberal and a Russian sympathizer.

—MRS. ROOSEVELT'S HAT— Mrs. Roosevelt's riding habit is making trouble among the horsey folk of Virginia. They are alarmed over the vogue of hatless horseback riding, and they blame the First Lady.

The fox-hunting purists cherish the old convention that a lady should wear a hat while riding. To violate this convention is as bad as going hatless to church. Furthermore, it is a matter of safety, for the riding hat, sometimes lined with steel, saves many a tranium on the yon side of a jump.

But the young things in Virginia hunting society saw pictures of Mrs. Roosevelt riding hatless in Rock Creek Park, and they began to follow her style. Matters got so bad that representations of protest were conveyed to the First Lady.

Vivacious Miss Charlotte Noland, head of fashionable Foxcroft School, took occasion, when invited to the White House for lunch, to beg her hostess to reform and put on some sort of headgear.

—RUSSIAN RECEPTION— Most intense social spotlight ever focused upon any Washington party since the famous dinner given by Chlie's Ambassador Carlos Davila to Mrs. Dolly Curtis Gann, will concentrate upon the Soviet Embassy reception tonight, (Nov. 7).

The reception commemorates the 23rd anniversary of the Communist revolution, and in the past it has been one of the gala events of the social season. Washington dowagers, Congressmen, Cabinet members, and other officials gathered there not because they believed in Soviet doctrine, but because the Russian Embassy is famous for its caviar, champagne and excellent music.

Ambassador Troyanovsky frequently imported top-notch singers from the Metropolitan Opera at several thousand dollars each to entertain his guests. As a result, invitations to the Soviet Embassy were in almost as great demand as the coveted card-boards to the British Embassy.

This year, however, a big question-mark hangs over the Soviet reception. Gold embossed invitations already have been issued to Washington officialdom. In fact, they were issued almost simultaneously with the hot blast fired at Roosevelt by Premier Molotoff.

And whether or not many of these invitations will be accepted is going to be watched by all Washington. Already it is known that John L. Lewis has declined; also Chief Justice Hughes, Alice Longworth, all of the Cabinet, and many of the Senators and Congressmen.

Stalin is going to save money on his Washington anniversary party.

Some of the finest chefs in the world have been mobilized by the Swiss army and are preparing food for the soldiers. Gourmets may still obtain their favorite Waldorf salad simply by enlisting.

Literature, Drama Group Starts 5th Season Wednesday

The Literature and Drama study group of the Escanaba Woman's club of which Mrs. Luther Krantz is chairman will open its fifth season on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Carnegie Public Library hall.

A series of seven meetings have been planned for the current club year. Each meeting will deal with some phase of contemporary drama.

Tomorrow's program is concerned with the greatest of modern playwrights, Ibsen; his life and plays. "Doll's House" will be read. Mr. F. W. Schmidt will give Ibsen's biography and a discussion of his plays. "Doll's House" will be cut and read by Mrs. K. W. Stelling, Mrs. J. H. Stephens and Mrs. Luther Krantz.

Following is the program for the balance of the year: Dec. 20—The beginning of modern English social drama. Pinero's "Second Mrs. Tanguery" will be read.

Jan. 17—Dramas of the intellect. Emphasis of Shaw. Illustration, Shaw's "Candida".

Jan. 31—Two plays will be used. Strindberg, "The Father" and Hauptmann, "The Weaver".

Feb. 21—The Russian Drama at the end of the 19th Century. Gorki, "Lower Depths" and Chekov, "Cherry Orchard".

Mar. 21—The Irish Movement. Yeats, "Hour Glass", Lady Gregory, "Rising of the Moon", and Synge, "Riders to the Sea".

April 17—Plays of America's greatest dramatist, O'Neill, "The Hairy Ape" and "Strange Interlude".

Ruth Gessner Guest Soloist

Ruth Gessner, Escanaba's talented and popular young concert pianist, will be the guest soloist at the concert to be presented by the Orpheus Choral Club at the William W. Oliver Memorial auditorium in the Junior high school Friday evening, November 17.

Mrs. Gessner, whose ability as a pianist and whose personal charm have won her a large following throughout the Upper Peninsula in her concert work, has had an interesting musical career. She is a graduate of the Dorothea Oberlyzeum School of Berlin and was a piano student of Alexander Roediger and of Professor Julius Prewer, conductor of the Berlin Philharmonic orchestra. She appeared in concerts with the Philharmonic in Berlin.

Played in Palestine About five years ago, she toured Palestine, playing for several months with Professor Michael Taube, conductor of the Palestine Symphony Orchestra. After coming to the United States, she studied for sometime in New York and then was a student of Rudolph Ganz in Chicago.

Since coming to Escanaba two and one half years ago, Mrs. Gessner has appeared in several concerts here and in other cities of the Upper Peninsula and has been acclaimed as one of the finest pianists to appear in concerts here. Her modesty and personal graciousness add much to her already perfect performance at the keyboard.

For her program, Mrs. Gessner has chosen the works of the early Italian Scariatti, the romantic compositions of Franz Schubert and Franz Liszt of the German school and Claude Debussy of the French school and the very modern, Serge Rachmaninoff. A detailed program will be announced later.

The Orpheus Choral club, a group of 35 mixed voices, is under the direction of R. P. Bowers and the concert next week is the first formal appearance of the organization.

Dorothy Larson Of Rock Is Bride Of Howard LaBumbard

Miss Dorothy Larson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Larson of Rock, became the bride of Howard LaBumbard, of Rapid River, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy LaBumbard, at a ceremony performed Saturday morning at 11:30 o'clock, in the parsonage of the Methodist Episcopal church in Gladstone. The marriage service was read by Rev. Ivan O. Gosser.

The bride, who was attended by a close friend, Miss Dorothea Molloy of Lansing, wore a modish street length frock of moss green crepe with rust accessories, and a shoulder corsage of roses and snapdragons. Miss Molloy wore wine colored crepe with black accessories and a corsage of roses and baby mums.

Keith LaBumbard of Detroit, brother of the bridegroom was best man.

A one o'clock dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents in Rock, with covers for seventeen guests. A reception for relatives was held at 4:30 o'clock at the home, and for friends in the evening, at the Dutch Mill.

Mr. and Mrs. LaBumbard will make their home in Rapid River. Mr. LaBumbard is employed as a teacher in the Masonville township schools.

Guests at Wedding Out-of-town guests at the wedding included: Mrs. Joseph Boller, Chicago; Keith LaBumbard and Robert Schuster, Detroit; Miss Dorothea Molloy, Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Erickson, Bonduel, Wisconsin; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph LaBrosse, Marinette; Mr. and Mrs. Michael Ettlinger, Sr., and Mrs. J. A. Natto, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Booth, Elsie Arntson and Lillian Larson, Escanaba; Mr. and Mrs. Donald McCormick and children, Mrs. Frances Daniels, Audrey and Lorraine Carlson, Marquette; Gilbert Larson, Chatham; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Molloy and daughter, Amanda, of Lathrop; Mrs. Margaret LaBumbard, Gladstone; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Short, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Vinton, Miss Ina Short, and Lester Carlson of Rapid River.

Miss Bernice Monson spent the week-end visiting with friends in Racine, Wis.

Bethany Leaguers At Rally Sunday, Peshtigo Church

A group of seventeen members of Bethany Luther League of this city attended the Green Bay district Luther League rally, held Sunday at Peshtigo, Wis.

The Menominee Bethel Luther League was awarded the attendance banner for having the largest percentage of membership present. Rapid River Calvary League previously was in possession of the trophy.

Seminarian Philip A. Johnson of Galesburg, Ill., now serving the parishes in Pembine, Quinnesec, Florence and Iron Mountain, who was guest speaker, presented a challenging message to the Leaguers, stating, "There is much preaching, teaching and healing still to be done in our midst and in the world at large," and declaring that this is not a time of "Retrospect—but look to the future."

Other numbers on the program were as follows: "The Holy City," vocal solo, by Miss Marion Anderson of Bethel League, Menominee, accompanied by Miss Adine Wickman.

"Barcarolle," a piano solo—Miss Judith Seldie, of Wallace.

"Character," a reading—Miss Mildred Anderson, Peshtigo.

"Hymn of Youth," Ewald Lawson—Lola Norman, Marion Olson, and Betty Dahl of Bark River, with piano accompaniment by Helen Bruce.

The address of welcome was given by Rev. L. J. Soderger, of Menominee, and Rev. J. Otto Magnusson of Gladstone, president of the district league, responded. Copies of the "District Clarion," edited by Milton Bloomquist of Escanaba, were distributed at the gathering. A social hour in the Salem Recreation hall followed the program.

Social-Club

Zeltzau - Hendrickson Miss Mary Zeltzau of Iron Mountain, and Arthur Hendrickson of Norway were united in marriage at a ceremony performed Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, in the rectory of St. Stephen's church by Rev. James G. Ward. The young people left immediately following the service on a wedding trip. They will make their home in Norway.

St. Stephen's Guild St. Stephen's Guild will meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. R. Smith, 315 South Fifth street. Mrs. A. S. Kitchen is assisting hostess.

Mary Thatcher Circle Members of Mary Thatcher Circle of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. H. J. Rushton this afternoon. Mrs. J. E. Byrns is assisting hostess. The traveling basket will be a feature of the meeting.

B. A. of R. E. Tonight A regular meeting of the B. A. of R. E. will be held this evening at the I. O. O. F. hall, North Tenth street. A program of games for members only will follow the business session.

Circle Meets Thursday Mary Scott Circle of the First Presbyterian church will meet Thursday afternoon, November 9, at the home of Mrs. M. T. Kasson, 410 Second Avenue south. The meeting was incorrectly announced for Tuesday afternoon in Sunday's Press. Hostesses will be Mrs. Kasson, Mrs. B. W. Phillips and Mrs. Arthur Peerless. Members are reminded to take aprons to the meeting.

Hanson-Nelson Miss Evelyn Hanson of Cornell and Nels Elmer Nelson, also of Cornell, a son of Mrs. Bengta Nelson of this city, exchanged marriage vows in a ceremony which took place Monday morning at 11 o'clock, in the parsonage chapel of Bethany Lutheran church.

Rev. Dr. C. Albert Lund read the marriage service. Attending the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Andrew A. Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson will make their home at Cornell, where Mr. Nelson is engaged in farming. The bride is a former teacher in the Cornell school.

Barr P-T Unit Members of the Barr Parent-Teacher unit will meet at 3:45 o'clock this afternoon at the Franklin building and will join the other units of the city for the special program and exhibit arranged by the Franklin unit for its November meeting. Card Party Wednesday Another of the series of pre-bazaar card parties, sponsored by the women of St. Anne's parish, will be held at the parish hall Wednesday afternoon, beginning at 2:30 o'clock. Contract and auction bridge, pinocle and five hundred will be played, and awards for high scores, and a lunch will be served. Mrs. Joseph Lequia is chairman of the party, and members of her committee are Mesdames John Peitler, Joseph Peitler, Beatrice Peitler, Henry Greiner, Arthur Harvey, George Seymour, Alec St. Cyr, Marion Beeson, Albert Lavolette and Joseph LaFave. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Wedding Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Uno Norman of

Bride In Green Bay Ceremony

MRS. LeCAPITAINE

Mrs. Vincent LeCapitaine of Green Bay, bride in a ceremony on October 28, is the former Evelyn Hinneblade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hinneblade, of Green Bay, and a sister of Mrs. Ervin Paulin and of Roger Hinneblade of this city. The Hinneblades lived in Escanaba before moving to Green Bay.

Miss Betty DeLase, E. Robert Rosene Wedding Saturday

White pompons and Oregon ferns decorated the altar of the First Presbyterian church of this city, Saturday, November 4, for the wedding of Miss Betty DeLase, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. DeLase of Fifth Avenue south, and E. Robert Rosene, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Rosene of Dunlap avenue, Menominee.

At 12 o'clock noon, Miss DeLase, escorted by her father, who gave her in marriage, walked down the aisle to the strains of the beautiful "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin," played on the organ by Mrs. F. M. Fernstrom. Preceding her was her bridesmaid, Miss Lorraine LaPorte, a close friend. At the altar where the bridegroom and his attendant waited, the nuptial vows were pronounced by Rev. Carl E. Berger. Throughout the impressive service the guests stood, and just before the final blessing, all joined in The Lord's Prayer, Mendelssohn's Wedding March was played as the recessional.

Bride In White Taffeta The bride's gown of white taffeta was fashioned in princess style, with long sleeves puffed full at the shoulders and close fitting below the elbows. A bustle bow had long streamers falling to the hem of the full, floor length skirt. The gown's only trimming was a narrow pleating of self material at the sweetheart neckline, the wrists and hemline. With it she wore a blusher veil of tulle, shirred into a cap and in the front-frou at the top of her head and at the back, blue forget-me-nots were entwined in the shirring. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and forget-me-nots, tied with white satin ribbons.

Her maid of honor wore peach taffeta, fashioned in the same style, and in her hair she wore a bow of tulle and a spray of forget-me-nots. Her colonial bouquet was of blue and white pompons.

The bridegroom was attended by Norman Haasch of Menominee, a close friend.

Mrs. DeLase, who watched her daughter's wedding from the front pew, wore a light navy crepe and lace gown with a shoulder corsage of white pompons and forget-me-nots, and Mrs. Rosene wore a frock of navy crepe with a spray of blue and white pompons.

Dinner and Reception A wedding dinner, followed by a reception, was served in Westminster Hall of the church, with covers for twenty-five guests. The 1411 First Avenue North, announce the marriage of their daughter, Teresa Bogar, and Clom LaPorte, son of Mrs. Victor LaPorte, which took place on Saturday, November 4. The young people were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Trembley.

A wedding supper was served at the Norman home, and in the evening a reception was held at the Croation hall.

Mr. and Mrs. LaPorte are making their home in Escanaba at 230 1/2 North Tenth street.

Program, Exhibit of Toys And Books For Children At Joint P-T-A Meeting

Outstanding on the Parent-Teacher calendar of activities for the year is the program arranged by the Franklin unit with the cooperation of other units of the city, for this afternoon's joint meeting, which will present a program on the selection of books and toys for children of all ages, and an interesting exhibit of books and toys.

WE, the WOMEN BY RUTH MILLETT

The woman who is twenty-five, unmarried and without any plans for the future stands a good chance of wasting the next ten years.

If she wants to get married she can't afford to waste even one year. If she feels she will never marry she can't afford to lose any time getting into a job that offers more than a corner in which to mark time.

If marriage is her aim she should size up her prospects as coolly as she sizes up those of other girls:

Have I any real opportunities meeting unmarried men in the town in which I live? Am I making the most of my looks, so that the men I know are interested in me?

If the answer to either question is "No"—the girl is wasting time.

The girl who has admitted to herself that she probably will never marry ought to be just as hard-headed in figuring out what she wants and what her chances of getting it are.

MUST FACE SACRIFICES

Right now is the time for her to take any risks and make any changes she feels are necessary. The older she gets the more cautious she will become. So if getting ahead means leaving a small town to start out in a city, or giving up a sure thing for a long chance—now is the time to gamble.

So many women of 40 and 50 look back on their youthful years and wish they had made more of them. And the only reason they didn't was because they never fully realized that the years were slipping by. They kept telling themselves: "Some day I'm going to . . ."

colors of the bridal gowns were carried out in the table appointments, and the tiered wedding cake was topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom. Above the places of the bridal couple was a large white wedding bell which was used for the golden wedding anniversary, ten years ago, of the bride's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis D. Rumsey of Hesperia, Mich. Members of the Deaconess Board of the church catered for the dinner and Miss Alma Suter served.

At the reception a program of music was played by friends of the young couple, Miss Lois Branschreiber and Carl Hornick, both of Menominee. A duet, "I Love You Truly," Carrie Jacobs-Bond, was sung by Rev. Mr. Berger and the bride's father, with accompaniment by Miss Branschreiber.

Mr. and Mrs. Rosene left later for Menominee, where they will make their home, the bride's going-away costume, a soft blue and wine wool frock, with red wine coat and black accessories. Both young people are graduates of Menominee high school, the bride a member of the class of 1939.

"The hour flies by."

BOYCE FUNERAL HOME 1800

Members of all Parent-Teacher units of the city elementary schools, are joining with the Franklin association for this program, and a general invitation has been extended to everyone interested in the selection of gifts for children to attend.

The various units will hold their business sessions at 3:45 o'clock at the Franklin building, in advance of the program, and in accordance with the following schedule:

Barr meeting—Kindergarten, first floor, east. Jefferson—Middle room, north first floor. Washington—Middle room, south, second floor. Webster—Auditorium. Franklin—Auditorium.

Program, 4 o'clock The program of the afternoon, which opens promptly at 4 o'clock, is as follows:

"How to Buy Books"—Miss Adele Hessel, librarian, Carnegie public library.

"The Judicious Selection of Toys"—Mrs. A. L. McNeil, Jefferson unit.

"Let's Make the Child Art Conscious"—Mrs. Joseph Shipman, Franklin unit.

The exhibit of toys and books for children of all age groups will be open immediately following the program, and those who are interested in knowing where any of the gifts may be purchased, are asked to take paper and pencil with them, as this information will be given upon request.

Committees in Charge The committees in charge of arrangements for the various divisions of the program and exhibit are as follows:

Toy section: Mrs. K. F. Harrington, Franklin, chairman; Mrs. A. L. McNeil, Jefferson; Mrs. Edward Edick, Barr; Mrs. Klasiel, Webster; Mrs. Warren Johnston, Washington.

Books: Mrs. George E. Bean, Franklin, chairman; Mrs. Clarence Zerbel, Jefferson; Mrs. O. L. McCormick, Barr; Mrs. J. Oska, Webster; Mrs. Howard Carlson, Washington.

Art: Mrs. Stack Smith, Franklin, chairman; Mrs. Joseph Shipman, Franklin.

I do not say the President should be stripped of emergency war-time powers. Unfortunately, certain extraordinary powers are necessary in time of war.

—Senator Robert A. Taft (Rep., Ohio), commenting on the American system, should the United States go to war.

Errors in advertisements should be reported immediately. The Daily Press will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion.
All ads are restricted to their proper classification and to the regular Daily Press style of type. The publishers reserve the right to edit or reject any classified advertising copy.
Advertisements for irregular insertions take the one time rate. No ad is given for less than a full page. Count six average words to the line. An average word contains six letters.
Accounts unpaid after 30 days will not be granted further credit.
Charged ads will be received by telephone and if paid at the Daily Press office within six days from the first day of insertion cash rates will be applied.
Ads ordered for three or six times and stopped before expiration will be charged for only the number of times the ad appeared and adjustment made at the rate set.

The Daily Press makes an earnest effort to keep its advertising columns free of deceptive and dishonest announcements. Readers are requested to report unsatisfactory dealings with any advertiser in these columns.

Radio Plays Important Role In War - Villard

BY OSWALD G. VILLARD

The Hague—Whatever this extraordinary war may have turned into by the time this dispatch reaches the United States, it today presents the amazing spectacle of the important fighting being done through the radio.

But now, the enemy listens in on you as freely as your best friend, your neighbor, or your ally. Hitler knows when he speaks that his words are being heard by all Englishmen and Frenchmen who have sets to listen in, and if it were not forbidden to do so under severe penalty, the Germans would listen to the delightful broadcasts of Winston Churchill and others, a privilege now enjoyed only by the Nazi insiders.

On this fight through the air depends the lives of millions. Hence I for one rejoice for every day's delay and think that I can see even in the last round between Hitler and Daladier and Chamberlain the door of hope being left open—hope for those youths whose lives will end the day the battle of the air ceases, unless it is turned into a round table discussion. There used to be times when the leaders of armies went out and fought alone first and decided the battle. Humanity would certainly dictate that this war should be won or lost by those now talking. Before any just tribunal the judges would give their verdict without leaving their seats. I am glad to find in diplomatic circles here that there are a number who share my view that Hitler does not want to fight now and that the debate is not closed. They even think that something they do not know about is going on behind the scenes.

The one great obstacle they see, as does everyone else, is the character of Hitler and the inability of any one to trust him or to take his word to be else than as valueless as a dicer's oath. Yet, the hope does not die down. Nobody wants to see started a struggle which if it goes on long enough will ruin all concerned and will not necessarily insure that the right side will win. It is easy to bolster up one's hopes and desires by quoting Admiral Mahan to the effect that no country in command of the seas ever lost a war. The trouble is that there are all those imponderables in war, those little slips like a wrong order, or an error of judgment such as that of Robert E. Lee at Gettysburg, or even an unkind behavior of nature such as the German fleet to escape destruction at Jutland, which may give victory to the right or to the wrong.

Denies Being Defeatist

I hope my readers will not think that I am a defeatist. If the war goes on I shall pin my faith on the Allies just out of an old fashioned, if you please semi-theological, belief that such men as Hitler and his gang cannot win permanently unless we are to abandon every ethic that has ever been formulated to guide and train human beings.

Believing as I do that war is no way to settle human disputes, I am just holding on to the last to my belief that if this battle of words goes on long enough the head man on one side is a monstrous rogue. Naturally, I am immensely pleased to find so many diplomats here of different nationalities who are practical men of affairs and not such queer cranks as myself, holding to their belief that so horrible a catastrophe for the whole world can somehow still be held off. Surely if the weeks should pile up much longer it would seem almost impossible for any head of a State to say: "Well, all right, boys. We don't seem to be getting anywhere. Let's go out and kill a few hundred thousand men and then perhaps we can talk the thing over again."

I find general agreement that if the leaders could get together around a table—or better their representatives—they would never get up and give the order for the greatest slaughter in history. Somehow I have the feeling that to do this men must be at a white heat of passion and rage. They must be terribly excited over something like the invasion of Belgium—the destruction of Poland has curiously enough not evoked half the burning indignation of August, 1914. At any rate the idea that there is no other way out than coolly and calmly to sit down to wholesale murder, seems utterly repugnant and impossible. But then I recall what kind of men have charge of Germany and my heart sinks.

so well that I can easily imagine that they will think that they cannot move until they are asked by the Allies. I can imagine that they are fearing a violent attack at home if they make a move and that they will be asked to remember the fate of Wilson when he undertook to make the peace abroad.

However, being so near to the scene of action it seems to us, as well as to Lloyd George, that everything should be tried. Perhaps it is asking too much of any man to think that Mr. Roosevelt could find a way out now and at the same time lay the basis of a real reorganization of the society of nations. Could there possibly be a better case in which to succeed or fail? Success would mean immortality for all time; failure would not be a crime as the poet has it. And to think how even the effort would be received by the millions who face each other along the Rhine soon perhaps to say: "We who are about to die, salute you!"

BUCKMAN TALKS TO ROTARIANS

Urges Conservation of Wildlife As Tourist Attraction

A plea for conservation of the Upper Peninsula's wildlife was voiced by Harry Buckman, Rapid River, speaking before the Gladstone Rotary club yesterday noon.

The speaker pointed to the popularity with tourists of the nightly feeding of wild bear near the Polack Lake CCC camp the past summer and said this influenced him to work actively for a closed season on bear.

Buckman also suggested that another move to conserve wildlife and improve tourist business would be the closing of Little Bay de Noquet to commercial fishing in an effort to better hook and line fishing.

This brought other points of view and it was decided to get the hunters' point of view on the proposal at the next meeting.

DEATH CLAIMS GEO. CRITTEN

George W. Critten, 71, former resident of Gladstone and former employe of the Northwestern Coöperative and Lumber Co., died at his home in Edina near Minneapolis on Friday, according to word received here.

Funeral services were conducted yesterday afternoon at Scottish Rite Temple in Minneapolis. Honorary pallbearers were members of the divan of Zurich temple, of which the deceased was a past potentate, and past potentates of Zurich temple. Active pallbearers were members of DeMolay.

J. D. Staple, city, attended the rites.

Mr. Critten was born in Columbus Grove, Ohio, in 1868. After serving in a Buckeye Bank in Ohio he came to Gladstone in 1894 as an employe of the Buckeye State Co., and four years later went to Minneapolis where he represented the Northwestern Lumber and Coöperative Co. in the lumber exchange. He had resided in Edina for the past 26 years, living at 4326 Wooddale avenue. He was known to many in Gladstone.

Mr. Critten was a member of Ark Lodge No. 176, F. & A. M., Minneapolis Scottish Rite bodies, of which he was past master in the Lodge of Perfection; Zion Commandery, of which he was past commander, and Knights Templar, of which he was past grand commander for Minnesota. He was district deputy for the Order of DeMolay, a life member of the Minneapolis Athletic club and a member of Wesley Methodist church.

Surviving are the widow, a daughter, Mrs. Hilma C. Oldman, Madison, Wis., and two sisters, Mrs. Peter Ferguson, Minneapolis, and Mrs. I. H. McMillan, University Park, Iowa.

PEDESTRIAN IS STRUCK BY CAR

Joseph Krusic Suffers Compound Fracture of Right Leg

Joseph Krusic, 134 Elk street, suffered a compound fracture of the right leg, a severe cut on the right hand and a slight concussion of the brain when he was struck by a car driven by William Martin, Deer street, on the Manistique river bridge Saturday evening at 11 o'clock.

Martin reported to local police authorities that he was unable to see Krusic until the car struck Krusic, who was crossing on the bridge from the south to the north sidewalk. Krusic was taken to the Shaw hospital for treatment.

Sunday afternoon at one o'clock a car driven by Stephen Selling, of Manistique, broke a street light standard at the intersection of Arbutus avenue and Cedar street. The car driven by Selling slid into the light standard while negotiating the turn. Selling was given a summons for operating a car without an operators license. The case was investigated by state police.

LaFoille Alleys Have Formal Opening Today

The formal opening of the LaFoille's Bowling Alleys will be held today. The Manistique W.O.W. band will march to the alleys at 7:30 this evening and play a series of band numbers as a feature of the formal opening.

Bowling on the four new Twentieth Century Brunswick alleys started about a week ago, but the formal opening was delayed to permit the completion of all improvement details.

In constructing the new building which houses the bowling alleys the store which houses LaFoille's Confectionery also was materially enlarged. The building formerly measured 18 feet by 58. The building now, including the bowling alley addition, measures 39 feet by 122 feet.

The bowling alleys are illuminated by indirect lighting, recessed in the ceiling. Spectator seats, rest room and powder room facilities are also featured in the new building.

The architect who designed the new building and the remodeling of the old building is St. Clair Pardee, of St. Johns, Michigan. The general contractor was the Kopeke Construction Company, of Appleton, Wisconsin.

Members of the Manistique Lions club and their ladies and guests will enjoy a Ladies Night party at the Legion cottage this evening.

A turkey dinner will be served at seven o'clock. A game supper was originally planned for this evening but it was later decided to serve turkey as the piece de resistance in preference to game.

An entertaining banquet program has been arranged, with Frank Gierke serving as toastmaster. Following the banquet program, dancing and other diversions are planned. Sanford's orchestra will provide the music.

Lions And Ladies To Enjoy Turkey Banquet Tonight

The Manistique fire department extinguished a roof fire at the residence occupied by Ed LaBelle, 832 Deer street, Monday morning, at ten o'clock. The fire is believed to have started from chimney sparks. Damage was minor.

Saturday night the fire department was called to Deer street, but the fire was only rubbish burning in an alley.

GOOD BUSINESS NEWS IGNORED

STOCK MARKET AVERAGES table with columns for 30, 15, 10, 5 days and Net change, Monday, etc.

BY FREDERICK GARDNER New York, Nov. 6 (AP)—Further optimistic news from industry was virtually ignored by the stock market today and leading issues backed away fractions to 2 points.

Aircraft, steels and motors led the downturn. An assortment of specialties, however, managed to emerge with modest improvement and extreme losses, here and there, were cut at the close.

Stocks selling at $1 to $10 were still the speediest movers of an otherwise relatively sluggish session. A few of these were up at the finish, but the majority ended under water.

The Associated Press average of 60 issues was off 4.4 of a point at $2.33. Transfers amounted to 1,286,290 shares against 1,423,620 in the two-hour proceedings of Saturday and 1,815,860 last Friday.

Steels tried to rally, but failed, when this week's mill operations were placed at 92.5 percent of capacity, up 1.5 points at the highest mark since the American Iron & Steel Institute began compiling these statistics in October, 1933.

Hopes for a quick settlement of the Chrysler labor dispute were renewed, but this stock was 1-8 lower at $6 7/8. General Motors, after the close, voted a dividend on the common of $1.25 a share compared with 75 cents paid in the three preceding quarters.

North American, one of the few firm aviation, held a gain of 3/4 at $8 3/4 when a dividend of 1/4 was declared against 40 cents disbursed last July. On the outside were Douglas, Boeing, Glenn Martin, Curtiss-Wright, Consolidated Aircraft, United Aircraft and Sperry.

Brokers saw negligible market factors in the European despatches, including the latest speech by Russian Premier Molotov hitting at the United States, England and France. A dribble of offerings of American securities from abroad continued. In addition, some traders began to express doubts regarding heavy foreign purchases resulting from the action of congress in letting the bars down on shipments of war materials.

The exchange will be closed next Saturday for Armistice Day. Among lagging stocks were U. S. Rubber, N. Y. Central, Electric, Allied Chemical, General Electric, Anaconda, Montgomery Ward, Western Union and International Mercantile Marine.

Gainers were Safeway Stores, Radio, Bush Terminal, Budd Wheel, Graham-Paige, Continental Motors and Reo Motors. Heavy dealings lifted Republic Aviation 1/2 point in the curb. Losses, in the majority, ran to more than a point for Lockheed, Lake Shore, Creole Petroleum and Pressed Metals. Turnover of 194,000 shares compared with 288,000 Friday.

DAY'S MARKETS IN BRIEF

New York, Nov. 6 (AP)—Stocks: Irregular; aircrafts hesitant. Bonds: Mixed; some U. S. governments improve. Foreign Exchange: Uneven; sterling continues to drop. Cotton: Lower; hedging and liquidation. Sugar: Easy; commission house and trade liquidation. Metals: Steady; steel ingot output at record. Wool Tops: Heavy; local and Wall Street selling. Chicago: Wheat: Steady to firm. Corn: Higher. Cattle: Steady to 25 higher. Hogs: Steady.

BONDS CONTINUE SIDEWISE SLIP

BOND MARKET AVERAGES table with columns for 30, 15, 10, 5 days and Net change, Monday, etc.

New York, Nov. 6 (AP)—The bond market continued its sideways shuffle today and ended with moderate gains and losses about in balance.

Month-old recovery trends in corporate low yield loans lost a little force due perhaps to further irregularity in the U. S. government group. At that, several treasuries finished 1-32 to 10-32 ahead, while a smaller number closed a little lower.

Bonds labelled as speculative and second grade received a selective play. Fractionally higher prices were paid for International Telephone 5s at 49 7/8, Rock Island general 4s of '88, at 15 1/2, American & Foreign Power 5s at 60 3/4, Utilities Power & Light 5s at 50 1/2, and Portland General Electric 4 1/2s at 82.

Effective bids ran fractions to a point or more lower for Southern Pacific 4 1/2s of '68, Southern Railway 4s, Studebaker 6s, and Northern Pacific 4s.

Low yield corporates slightly ahead included Detroit Edison 4 1/2s, Firestone Tire 3 1/2s and Consolidated Oil 3 1/2s. Transactions totalled $5,212,500, face value, against $8,009,200 last Friday.

REVELATION THROUGH MOLOTOV

One's first impression on reading Molotov's speech is that it is a remarkable piece of satire—a successful attempt to imitate and surpass the rationalizations to which we have become accustomed in the speeches of Hitler, Ribbentrop, and Goebbels.

It is, in fine, a Nazi speech, in support of a Nazi policy, and for mendacity and cynicism it has seldom been equaled.

One must consider the speech against the background of Soviet policy as it has been pursued since 1933 until the conclusion of the Russian-German agreement in August last.

In 1933 the Soviet Union, considering itself menaced by the Hitler government, revised its previous foreign policy and went out for collective security and the Popular Front, instructing the Communist Party in all countries to collaborate with "liberal" and "progressive" political groups, and adopting as its parole the war against Fascism.

Communist speakers declaimed against Nazism from lecture platforms and in public halls throughout the world. Communist cartoonists pictured Hitler as Emperor No. 1 of the working classes of the world. Communists organized and entered anti-Nazi leagues and Leagues Against War and Fascism.

The atrocities of Nazism were used to cover and to justify the purges in Russia, whereby thousands of persons were summarily "liquidated" as "Trotskyists, saboteurs, wreckers, and Fascists."

Communist Russia was threatened, according to the Stalinists, by a gigantic Nazi plot, involving Leon Trotsky, and the salvation of the world's Socialist fatherland and the world's hope demanded ruthlessness.

The movement reached its peak at the time of the Munich pact, when the Communist organization, press and speakers denounced Chamberlain's "appeasement" as the greatest sell-out in history.

The Communist press warned that after Czechoslovakia, Poland would be the next to be attacked. Nazi Germany was denounced as the permanent menace to European peace. "As long as Hitler rules Germany there will be no peace and no security for any small nation," was the cry. Hitler's claim to Lebensraum was denounced as ruthless imperialism.

During this period, however, there were many opponents of Nazism among them this columnist—who warned that the course events were taking in Russia bore a startling resemblance to the Nazi dictatorship and fitted into no conceivable picture of democratic socialism.

The atrocities of Nazism were used to cover and to justify the purges in Russia, whereby thousands of persons were summarily "liquidated" as "Trotskyists, saboteurs, wreckers, and Fascists."

Communist Russia was threatened, according to the Stalinists, by a gigantic Nazi plot, involving Leon Trotsky, and the salvation of the world's Socialist fatherland and the world's hope demanded ruthlessness.

The movement reached its peak at the time of the Munich pact, when the Communist organization, press and speakers denounced Chamberlain's "appeasement" as the greatest sell-out in history.

The Communist press warned that after Czechoslovakia, Poland would be the next to be attacked. Nazi Germany was denounced as the permanent menace to European peace. "As long as Hitler rules Germany there will be no peace and no security for any small nation," was the cry. Hitler's claim to Lebensraum was denounced as ruthless imperialism.

During this period, however, there were many opponents of Nazism among them this columnist—who warned that the course events were taking in Russia bore a startling resemblance to the Nazi dictatorship and fitted into no conceivable picture of democratic socialism.

Analysis of the much-touted "Democratic Constitution" revealed to us an unpredicatable mind that it was a fake.

The cases in the "trials" were completely unacceptable and anyone who could read, and remained obscure to all who are unable to follow the rationalizations and

SERIAL STORY

BY JERRY BRONDFIELD

JOAN OF ARKANSAS

CAST OF CHARACTERS JOAN JOHNSON—a mysterious coed, glamor girl of the Tech campus. KEITH RHODES—Tech's star halfback, headed for All-America honors. DAN WEBBER—the blocking back who clears Keith's way; a steady, industrious student.

Yesterday: Joan and Dan are kidnaped, driven to a country hideout. Joan is ordered to write her father, giving instructions for payment of $50,000 ransom. "And tell him," the gangster snarls, "that if that dough ain't picked up by Saturday, they'll find you floating in the river." Joan knows he means what he says.

CHAPTER XXIII Joan's feeling of terror gradually left her as she thought of her father. He'd know how to handle this. Nothing had ever stopped him. "That's an awful lot of money," she said. "He—he doesn't have that much." She added almost desperately. Big Ed smiled crookedly. "What're you tryin' to hand us, sister? The old guy can raise four times that much in an hour and you know it. He knows who he's dealin' with."

Dan looked at her curiously. "What did he mean by that?" Ed grinned with satisfaction. "We got quite a reputation. Guys who know us never doubt our integrity, as they say in the papers, hey Rocco?" Big Ed spread his hands. "Now that everybody understands everybody else, we're gonna get along, hey?"

And then, more curtly: "Rocco, you go back into town. Keep low but keep your eyes and ears open. I got a hunch her old man will come bustin' in." He turned to Joan. "It ain't gonna do him a damn bit of good, though." "Sam, see what that other kid has in his pockets that he shouldn't. Incidentally, what's your name, kid?" he asked Dan after Rocco had left.

Dan told him. Sam tossed his wallet to Ed who looked through it hastily and tossed it back. "Here. . . you can keep it." "Thanks," Dan said sarcastically. Ed looked at him bleakly. "Don't be a fresh punk, now. You ain't supposed to be in this party, you know." His face grew harsh. "Mebbe he shoulda dumped you out somewhere, at that. You'll only be in the way."

"As long as you kids behave yourselves we'll let you be a little bit free. One bad move and we'll keep you tied up like a bundle of groceries." "Mind if we look around a bit?" Joan asked. He grinned. "Sure, go ahead. But don't go far."

It was a plain, one-story house with an unfinished garret. Apparently no one had lived there for more than a year. The furnishings were poor with just bare necessities in evidence. "Yours is the blue room." Big Ed called to Joan. "Right over there."

She opened the door across from the small bathroom and grimaced at the sight of the rickety bed and straight hard chair. The single window was boarded up securely on the outside. "Hardly the Ritz-Carlton," she murmured. There was a scene of wild commotion from the nobility. "Bread and Circuses" were always Caesar's promise and gift.

Thus, Stalin and Hitler are revealed as the Janus-faces of the same thing; one an Eastern face, one a Western face; two pro-consuls of the same will to universal destruction of all standards and values. All this is revealed in the speech of Molotov, as we shall point out in the next column. (Copyright, 1939, New York Tribune, Inc.) (To Be Continued)

Michigan Drops In Grid Poll; Vols Still First

SECOND PLACE IS CLOSE RACE

Texas A. and M. Noses Out Notre Dame By 2 Points

BY BILL BONI
New York, Nov. 6 (AP)—It was Tennessee against the country today as, for the third week in succession, the unbeaten, untied and unscorched Volunteers held down first place in the Associated Press national football ranking poll.

Major Bob Neyland's powerhouse, which has played only two major games but disposed of its rivals handsomely in each, polled 81 out of 105 first-place votes in the fourth election of the season. This gave the Southeastern conference leaders, apparently headed for their second perfect campaign, 10,107 points for a walk-away victory, and left all the racing to the runners-up.

Big Hurdle Coming
In a neck-and-neck battle for second place Texas A. and M., the Southwest conference pace-setter, moved up from fifth to beat out Notre Dame by two points. The Aggies, who face what may be their biggest hurdle in Southern Methodist Saturday, drew six first place ballots and 787 points in 11 first place votes and 785 points for the all-winning Irish.

The Aggies, taking over the spot held by Michigan before the Wolverines' startling defeat by Illinois, shared the week's fast-climbing honors with Southern California. Though tied in their opening game by Oregon, the Trojans since then have come along so impressively that the country's experts rode them into fourth place with 718 points from the No. 7 ranking they held last week.

While Tennessee and Oklahoma stayed in first and sixth place, respectively, other changes in the "big ten" saw Notre Dame move up one notch as Cornell, third after beating Ohio State, slipped to fifth after its close call with Columbia; Tulane and North Carolina, who played a 14-14 tie for the only mark on either record, move up together from eighth and ninth to seventh and eighth; Ohio State, a sound winner over Indiana, climb back from 14th to ninth as Nebraska was consigned to the also-rans on its defeat by Missouri, and Michigan tumbled from second to tenth by only 3 points over U. C. L. A.

Wolverines Tenth
Standings of the teams (points figured on 10-9-8-7-6, etc., basis, with first-place votes in parentheses):
First ten:
Team Points
1. Tennessee (81) 1,017
2. Tex. A. & M. (6) 787
3. Notre Dame (11) 785
4. Southern Calif. (5) 718
5. Cornell (1) 655
6. Oklahoma (3) 582
7. Tulane 378
8. North Carolina (1) 360
9. Ohio State 96
10. Michigan 94

Second ten: 11. U.C.L.A., 91; 12. Duquesne, 74; 13. Southern Methodist, 69; 14. Dartmouth, 62; 15. Duke, 46; 16. Santa Clara, 29; 17. New York U., 24; 18. Kentucky, 23; 19. Mississippi, 9; 20. Alabama, 8.

Also ran: Nebraska and Clemson, 7 each; Northwestern, 6; Purdue and Holy Cross, 4 each; Missouri and Fordham, 2 each; Catholic U., Georgetown, Iowa, Texas, Carnegie Tech and Oregon State, 1 each.

From the distribution of points, it's obvious the experts had a hard time making their choices for ninth and tenth place. Ohio State and Michigan, which hold those berths, are the only defeated teams in the first ten, while the "second division" includes Duquesne, unbeaten and untied, and U. C. L. A., Dartmouth and Kentucky, which have suffered nothing worse than one deadlock apiece.

Tennessee and Texas Aggies hit the opposite ends of the scale in their games this week-end. While the Aggies are battling tough S. M. U., the Vols will be having a workout with the Citadel. Notre Dame's game with Iowa looms as a danger spot; Tulane and Michigan are likely to have rough going against Alabama and Minnesota, respectively, while Southern California, Cornell, Oklahoma and North Carolina should have less difficulty with Stanford, Colgate, Kansas State and Davidson.

Ohio State can use its sub Saturday, against Chicago—which, incidentally, might be given an honorary vote as the gamet team of the year.

Fielder DiMaggio To Marry Actress
San Francisco, Nov. 6 (AP)—Joe DiMaggio, New York Yankee outfielder, expects to marry screen actress Dorothy Arnold in San Francisco on Sunday, November 19, his family said today.

Joe was not at home, but his older brother, Tom, said invitations would be mailed tomorrow. It will be held in St. Peter and St. Paul's Catholic church, in San Francisco's Latin quarter, where the DiMaggios live.

Vernon "Lefty" Gomez, star Yankee pitcher and teammate of Joe, probably will be best man.

The brother's disclosure of plans for the wedding date followed an earlier announcement at Duluth.

SPILLING the DOPE

BY JOHNNY INKBLINGER
BOTH ESCANABA football teams acquitted themselves very well Saturday in beating Munising. St. Joe had a narrow squeak, some of the boys admitting to us after the game that they had expected to win by three or four touchdowns... but they did win and finished a fine season with five victories in a row... Carl Kant deserves a tough hand... he stepped into a tough spot and came through in good style... unfortunately, he loses 13 seniors... the only returning regulars next year will be Joe Young in the

Locals Nursing Bruises, Sores For Upbay Tilt
Unless the healing ointment does wonders in a few days, it will be a badly patched up lot of Escanaba high school gridder that takes the field here Armistice Day in their annual battle with Gladstone.

The Eskimos got a tough physical trouncing from Marinette last Saturday, the rangy Marines being a rugged crew. The game was cleanly played but it left its marks on the local boys. Dick VanEffen, clever watch pocket guard, suffered a recurrence of a nose injury received in the Soo game and it was feared at first the nose had been broken but apparently it was only badly bruised.

Quarterback Bobby Barron, who did his usual fine job of directing the team Saturday as well as running back punts and intercepted passes in great style, was limping from a badly turned ankle suffered in the last quarter when he was tackled hard as he was returning an intercepted pass. With his ankle heavily bandaged with tape, he will be able to play Saturday.

Right end Nick Gomerac is wearing a heavy sponge shin guard to protect a big carbuncle on his leg while red-headed Don Pfothenauer is wearing a bandage over a painful boil on his neck. His brother, Merle, is wearing a badly battered eye which was blood-spattered yesterday when a healing wound was re-opened in a scrimmage.

At the start of practice last night, Coach George Ruwitch praised the boys for the manner in which they came back in the second half of the tough ball game to win it but at the same time injected a note of warning that Gladstone will be no set-up. He brought home his point very effectively by pointing out what the downtrodden Illinois team, which had not won a game, did to the high-riding Michigan Wolverines Saturday.

Chicago, Nov. 6 (AP)—Kenesaw Mountain Landis, commissioner of baseball, scratched off checks totalling $431,177.84 to the victorious world's champion Yankees, the vanquished Reds and the second, third and fourth place clubs in both leagues in the split-up of the world's series melon.

The Yankees divided $181,069.49 with the Reds splitting $120,713. Each of the victorious Yanks got $5,541.89, with $4,193.38 going to the Reds.

The sum of $129,335.35 was split up among the six teams finishing in second, third and fourth places. The Boston Americans and St. Louis Cards, finishing second, received $32,335.84, with $21,555.89 going to the Cleveland Indians and Brooklyn for finishing third. The Chicago White Sox and Cubs, finishing fourth, got $10,777.95 apiece. In addition the Sox and Cubs got $22,356.97 from the city series pot.

Fireplace Damper
Frequently overlooked by home builders, a fireplace damper is equally important as the fireplace itself. In addition to being a regulatory device, a fireplace damper prevents heat from escaping up the chimney when the fireplace is not in use. There is considerable variation in the types of dampers available, installation of which may be financed through FHA's Modernization Credit Plan.

Miss. credited to Miss Arnold's friends, that she and Joe would be married tomorrow. Neither priest had been available tonight.

Bob Westfall Best Fullback Since Hewitt

Ann Arbor—While all of the spotlight on Michigan's winning football team is focused largely on the sensational running and blocking of Tom Harmon and the blocking of Forest Evashevski, football writers are quite overlooking the accomplishments of Bob Westfall, Michigan's sophomore fullback.

Very little has been written about Westfall, because he stepped into a backyard that already had a Harmon, Evashevski and Paul Kromer. Yet Westfall is the best fullback that Michigan has had since the days of Bill Hewitt, who finished up his collegiate career in 1931.

Thrust into the starting role in the opening game of the season and handed the ball on the first play, Westfall tore off 11 yards and a first down. He has been going to town ever since. In four games Westfall has lugged the ball 31 times and gained 188 yards which is a shade better than six yards per try.

And Bob has done his gaining the hard way, by plunging through the line. He doesn't have any trick plays to shake him out into the open. He is running and plunging most of the time without interference through the congested area.

Michigan coaches believe that Westfall's blocking this fall has been just as important to Tom Harmon's sensational gaining as that of Evashevski. Bob's blocking against Yale was superb. He also stopped one Yale advance by intercepting a pass deep in his own territory and returning it 20 yards.

Bob's former coach at Ann Arbor high, Lou Holloway was in the press box last Saturday. Holloway sighed: "Bob is having a great day out there, but gee, I wish they would let him toss that ball. He can really throw passes."

Passer in High School
Holloway was right, Westfall was an excellent passer in high school... He specialized in long passes... the touchdown heaves... Under Michigan's present scheme of things, Bob is not needed as a passer, but two years from now with Harmon and Kromer among the alumni, Bob may come into his own as a passer... Bob already has done exceptionally well as a sophomore... Although he was given the starting role at fullback in the first game of the season, Westfall has shown none of the usual nervousness that characterizes the play of sophomores.

Bob has fitted into the Michigan picture without any difficulty... This year he is overshadowed by the juniors on the squad. Harmon, Kromer and Evashevski... He will still be overshadowed a year from now, but when he is a senior, the football critics may be flocking to Ann Arbor to watch Bob Westfall now.

They are even watching him now.

Star At Ann Arbor High
Westfall is just one of those natural athletes who come along every decade... In high school he won letters in football, baseball, basketball and track... He was an all Five-A fullback in football, played guard in basketball, was a catcher in baseball and an all-around athlete in all sports.

He led the Ann Arbor city baseball league in hitting one summer with a batting average near the .500 mark and the same summer was named on the all-city softball team.

REGULARS FIRED BY DUCKY POND

Worst He Ever Coached At Yale, Coach Tells Varsity Crew

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 6 (AP)—With the howls of a stiff nor'easter that lashed across the gridiron as a background, Ducky Pond today called his varsity "the worst I've coached at any time at Yale" and fired nine of the regulars.

"The Ells' usually complacent head coach said that of the regulars who played in last week's Dartmouth debacle only Captain Bill Stack, center, of East Lansing, Mich., and Bob Brooks, tackle, and Sub Back Ted Harrison, were certain to start against Brown here Saturday.

He indicated, following one of the severest shakeups in modern Yale football, that the other positions were wide open.

To give credence to this, he ordered the varsity squad through its toughest Monday workout since the season began, climaxed with a grueling scrimmage which he said wasn't "just to keep warm."

"I don't mind saying," asserted Pond, "that the team on Saturday was the worst I've ever coached at any time at Yale, the worst team I think I've ever seen on a Yale field."

"What caused the collapse is something I don't know, but I do think I know the cure for it. Maybe one answer is to make more use of Harrison. I think you'll be seeing a lot of him from now on. It certainly wasn't nice to watch Bill Stack working his head off Saturday, trying to keep the team together and not getting any place. After being beat 33-0 it may not sound right to say that anyone on the losing side played a good game. But Stack did. He played a great game, as did Brooks."

Pond's wrath also was directed at the "attitude of some of my players" which he described as "not satisfactory at all" and he asserted that "there was something wrong with the competitive spirit, too."

"All this means changes," exclaimed Pond, "and big ones!"

PACKERS LOSE TO BEARS, 30-27

Chicago Comes Back 4 Times In Hectic Tilt to Win Thriller

Chicago, Nov. 6 (AP)—The Chicago Bears, coming from behind four times, rolled over the Green Bay Packers today, 30 to 27, with a thrilling running and passing attack in a thrilling see-saw battle before 40,537 spectators.

The Packers, last year's western division champions, took the lead four times during the spine-tingling spectacle, but the Bears, who already have lost three games, came on each time to tie the game up or go into the lead.

Midway in the fourth period the Packers were trailing, 20 to 23, when the old reliable combination of Arnold Herber to Don Hutson produced a 20-yard touchdown pass. Paul Engebretsen contributed the point from placement and it looked like that was the ball game.

Passes Decide Issue
But the Bears launched an aerial offensive of their own in the rapidly gathering dusk of Wrigley field. Sid Luckman tossed to Ed Mankse for 18 yards and then pitched a long overhead to Bob MacLeod which gained 45 yards and put the ball on the Packers' 10-yard line.

Bill Osmanski, outstanding hero of the Bear victory, virtually ran over the defenders as he swept right end for seven yards. Then he smacked left end for the touchdown, going over standing up. Automatic Jack Manders went into the game and added the point from placement.

The Packers tried vainly to hit payoff territory again before the final gun, but the game ended as they were on the Bears' 23 after completing two passes for 40 yards.

The Packers struck first when Joe Laws took Ray Nolting's punt on his own 23 and ran 72 yards down the sidelines for a touchdown. Ernie Smith kicked the point after. Chicago tied the score in less than a minute. Osmanski returned the kickoff 44 yards to the Packers' 43. On the first play from scrimmage Bob Swisher broke through right guard for a touchdown. Manders booted the point after.

Score See-Saws
Later in the same period the Packers pushed across another touchdown when Cecil Isbell tossed a 31-yard aerial to Milt Gantenbein, who took the ball on the two and stepped across for the six points. Smith missed the point after from placement.

The Bears went ahead early in the second period after Swisher, Osmanski and Luckman hammered their way to the Packers' 20. Stopped cold in three plays, Luckman pitched a flat pass to Osmanski who drove across. Manders placement was successful, giving the Bears a 14-13 haul. Then the Chicagoans increased their lead to four points when Bob Snyder booted a field goal from the 27 mid-way of the same period.

The Packers, however, moved to the front again after Bud Svendsen intercepted a pass and returned 32 yards to the Bears' 29. Isbell passed to Harry Janowski for the touchdown. Engebretsen kicked goal, leaving Green Bay ahead, 20 to 17, at the half.

The third period brought the least action from a scoring standpoint as the Bears held their rivals scoreless while punching across one touchdown. This was produced when Bernie Masterson tossed a short pass to Dick Plassman after Osmanski had set up the tally with a 38-yard jaunt to the Packers' 13. Manders' try for goal failed.

Heads A. A. U.

Michigan's hunting season progressed into its second month November 1 with 'coon hunting beginning in the lower peninsula and all counties open to deer hunting through open to archers who are after deer with bow and arrow. Considerable increase in the number of bowmen, who will have the woods to themselves until the regular season opens November 15, has been indicated by advance license sales. Upland bird hunting, which has been spotty but generally favorable, ended today. Arrival of flight ducks has improved wildfowl shooting which continues until November 14.

With the end of the bird season and the coming of light tracking snow, cottontails and varying hares are expected to get more attention from small game hunters. Squirrel season also ends today.

Carl Kant Is Getting In Some Long Lost Sleep—But Basketball Is Coming Soon

There are some compensations in this coaching racket after all. So thinks St. Joseph's coach, Carl Kant, today—although there was a time a few weeks ago when he was a bit in doubt about it.

Last Saturday, Kant watched his boys defeat Munising, 6-0, and it gave him a great deal of satisfaction for it stamped his first season as a football coach a big success. The victory was the fifth in a row for the Parochials, the third over a class B school this year.

But what was probably sweeter was the fact that it was the last game of the season—and now Carl is getting some honest-to-goodness sleep for the first time since he came to Escanaba in August.

Road Had Pitfalls
You see, the road was not always an easy one for the former St. Norbert ace. When he arrived in Escanaba to take over coaching reins at St. Joseph, he found plenty of veteran material for a starting team, but after that it was a different story. The reserve material situation—well, it's probably better not to talk about that. And the schedule situation was just as bad. There were eight games and only one possible breather in the whole bunch.

After the first game of the year, Carl wasn't so sure that he didn't want to pack up his bags and head back for his home town of Clintonville, Wisconsin. He watched his boys take a 26-0 trouncing from a supposedly average Sault Ste. Marie team. The next week it was just as bad for the Parochials bumped into a brilliant Iron Mountain crew and lost, 25-5. The only bright light there was the fact that the Parochial offense was beginning to work.

For the third game, the St. Joe boys took on Menominee and, in spite of a 26-6 defeat, things began to look up for the first time. For three quarters, the boys played on even terms with the Maroons before lack of reserve material caused them to crack completely in the last period.

After a week's rest during which time Kant worked strenuously on perfecting an offense around the running of slippery Joe Young and the passing and kicking of Mike O'Donnell, the St. Joe coach's efforts paid dividends. The Parochials trounced Stephenson, a class C school, by 25-0 and, once having smelled the sweet fruits of victory, continued on their winning ways the rest of the year.

Young Goes Wild
The sensational Young reeled off touchdown runs of 37, 65, 57 and 42 yards and passed to O'Donnell for the fifth to give the Parochials a 32-0 victory over Manistique. Next the locals upset Crystal Falls 6-0 on a plunge by Bob Gray and Young went into his act again the following week, scoring all 19 points to give the Purple a 19-6 victory over Gladstone. Last Saturday, with the chips down again, O'Donnell and Young collaborated on their pet pass with but two minutes to go and scored the only touchdown of the game which ended the season in good shape.

The knowledge that 13 seniors were playing their last game Saturday was tempered somewhat for Kant by the thought that Joe Young, who scored 63 of the team's 100 points, will be back again next year as will Freddie Hirn and Jim Baker, two fine ends. But that's a long way off. Yup, Carl Kant is sleeping peacefully these nights—but it won't be for long because basketball season starts in a couple weeks.

NO ROUGH WORK GIVEN SPARTANS

Battered Regulars Bask In Victory Glory at East Lansing

East Lansing, Nov. 6 (AP)—Michigan State college's football Spartans basked in an unaccustomed glow of victory today as they began an abbreviated week of practice sessions for Saturday's clash with Santa Clara.

There were to be only two drills on Macklin field for Coach Charley Bachman's charges before they entrain for the west coast shortly after Tuesday midnight, and there was no rough work for the battered regulars today.

Bachman expressed gratification at the pass defense the Spartans exhibited in last week's contest with Syracuse, and it brought a smile to his face to recall the running of Mike Shelb, of Allegan, a young back who made a real bid for recognition against the Orange.

State's coach also looked forward to the return of his injured guards to action. Trainers expect Paul Griffith, Edmund Pogor and Ed Abdo all will be available for Saturday's fray. Of the three, only Abdo saw service against Syracuse and he was benched, to avoid the aggravation of an old injury, as soon as State made its first score.

The Syracuse game produced no new Spartan injuries of consequence, although there was the usual assortment of bumps and bruises.

GRIDDERS GLUM AT ANN ARBOR

Minnesota Is One Game On Schedule Now for Wolverines

BY GEORGE A. STAUTER
Ann Arbor, Nov. 6 (AP)—A glum band of Michigan gridiron warriors returned to practice routine today as preparations opened for the "Little Brown Jug" battle here Saturday with three-defeated Minnesota.

Outwardly disappointed by their defeat at the hands of Illinois, the first setback of the 1939 campaign, the Wolverines were told by Coach Fritz Criesler to "forget what has happened and make the remainder of the season a success."

"That loss, for which I alone take the blame, is water over the dam," commented Criesler. "There's only one game on the schedule now and that's with Minnesota."

Squad morale was bolstered by an announcement that big Forest Evashevski, blocking quarterback, and halfback Paul Kromer, probably would be available for duty in the Armistice Day encounter.

Evashevski, chosen on the Associated Press' All-Big Ten team as a sophomore last year, was released from the hospital today after undergoing treatment for a sprained ankle incurred at Champaign. He did not don a uniform, however.

Offense Overhauled
Kromer, a triple-threat junior who injured his knee in the opening game with Michigan State and has played in only one other game since then, was packed at his regular post on the varsity today's drill.

Others who rested injuries were tackle Roland Savilla, guard Frederic Olds and end Ed Fritzig. Savilla is suffering from a slight charleyhorse while Olds and Fritzig have been troubled off and on with minor ailments.

Criesler brought out new plays and overhauled his offense, which the Illini kept in check in gaining a 16 to 7 upset victory, and scout Bennie Oosterbaan outlined the Minnesota offense and defense.

Oosterbaan, a nemesis of the Gophers as a Wolverine great a decade ago, said Minnesota "still has a powerhouse despite its unimposing record."

"They were tied by Purdue and beaten by Nebraska, Ohio State and Northwestern, but the Gophers could have won any one of those games," he said.

MARINES TAKE FINALE EASY

30-0 Victory Gives Manistique Undefeated Rating

Manistique, Mich.—The Manistique Inland Marines concluded their season here Sunday afternoon with a clean slate by defeating the Newberry Sportsmen, 30 to 0, at the Manistique athletic field.

The Marines didn't get their offensive clicking until the second period but they ran up three touchdowns before the half ended. They counted twice more in the last half, and had an additional touchdown nullified by a penalty.

The Marines won seven games during the season, defeating Escanaba twice, the Menominee-Marquette All Stars twice, Newberry twice and the Soo Bears once. A return game with the Soo Bears, scheduled for Oct. 29, was cancelled because of weather conditions.

RAILWAYS ARE HEAVY BUYERS

Purchases of Equipment Are Exceeding All Expectations

American railroads have far exceeded early year predictions on heavy equipment purchases, the magazine Steel reports following a study of the situation as it exists today.

Since Sept. 1 the railroads have ordered more than 35,000 freight cars. This exceeds the total placed during the preceding 24 months. Awards for all of 1939 will compare favorably with the best yearly figures since 1929.

Principal rail orders announced the past two months involve 640,000 tons, or slightly more than total production the first half of 1939. Practically no rails were bought in the corresponding period last year.

Only a few months ago it was generally agreed that while a pickup in railroad equipment buying was indicated for this fall, the upturn probably would be moderate. Certainly nothing approaching the rush of buying that has marked the past 60 days was foreseen.

Several Factors Involved

Several factors have contributed to the abrupt loosening of the carriers' purse strings. Foremost is the rise in freight traffic to the best level in nine years, accompanied by the largest earnings since 1936.

Retrenchment in railroad buying of equipment and material in 1938 and part of 1939 was dictated by the reduced revenues that marked lowered industrial activity. The need for rehabilitation and replacement of certain facilities existed, but the where-withal to satisfy it was lacking.

Came Sept. 1 and with it war in Europe and an acceleration in the recovery that had been under way the preceding three months among a number of industries.

Freight car loadings, which averaged 682,182 cars weekly in August, jumped 100,000 cars in September and continued to climb last month to exceed 860,000 cars for a single week. This was a new high since the fall of 1930 and compares with a forecast made several months ago by railroad men that the October-November peak in traffic would be between 775,000 and 800,000 cars.

Taking carloadings as a yardstick, industrial recovery the past 60 days has bettered expectations by this margin of 60,000 to 85,000 cars. A year ago carloadings reached a top of 700,000 to 725,000 cars. In the fall of 1937 industry was slowing down rapidly and held the fourth quarter traffic peak to 825,000 to 850,000 cars.

Earnings Increase

Railroad earnings have risen with the upturn in traffic. Net railway operating income for Class I roads in September was $86,435,178, largest for any month since October, 1936, with $89,509,372 and the best September since 1930. Gains of 71.6 and 45 per cent were shown over the corresponding months of 1938 and 1937, respectively.

The first quarter of 1939 was the major period of rail buying, purchases in those three months totaling 435,000 tons. It is unlikely the first quarter of 1940 will match that figure.

Not all roads that ordered rails in late 1938 or early 1939 have been in the market lately, and vice versa. A list of 20 representative roads in both groups, however, shows total purchases for 1940 needs of 527,000 tons, an increase of 19.3 per cent over the 442,000 tons ordered for 1939.

With more than 47,000 freight cars ordered so far this year, the 1939 total has good possibilities of topping 1937 bookings of 51,611 units and may come close to the 1936 figure of 64,523. This would compare with only 16,303 last year. However, the recent buying wave appears to be in line with actual and prospective betterment in railway income; whether or not such purchasing can be extended depends largely on future revenue.

Assuming that the sharp rise in September income does not prove to have been a flash in the pan and that the decline in November and December will be no more than seasonal, 1939 net railway operating income will be close to $640,000,000, or only slightly under the $667,000,000 for 1936. With that exception it would be the highest income since 1930.

Censorship Placed On Mail In Finland As Damper On Spies

Helsinki, Nov. 6 (AP)—Facing the critical stage in negotiations with Soviet Russia, Finland will tighten her defensive measures still further tomorrow by placing censorship on mail, telegraph messages and telephone calls to foreign countries.

The danger of spy activities, a government spokesman said, is the reason for the censorship, which also will apply to press telegrams and telephone calls.

The government still has taken no action on new instructions for the Finnish delegation which is waiting in Moscow to resume conversations with the Kremlin. The Soviet is demanding, among other things, a naval base on the border coast of Finland and border revisions to "protect" Leningrad.

A cabinet meeting today was concerned only with "routine affairs" a spokesman said. The cabinet is to meet again tomorrow.

Most diplomatic observers here expect a turn in the negotiations late this week.

GUARD LEADER KILLED DURING PRISON BREAK

reports by Warden Jackson and his deputies.

Governor Changes Mind
Governor Dickinson said this afternoon at Lansing that he had revised his estimate of the value of a "suggested thought" that arose "incidentally" in the course of conversations with Attorney General Thomas Read and Emerson R. Boyles, legal adviser in the executive office.

The "thought" was that the break in a prison headed by a warden who was a Republican appointee, might have been an effort to remove Warden Marvin L. Coon from the "spot."

After the September break, Read conducted a personal investigation that led to his recommendation for the dismissal of Coon, a Democratic hold-over.

"There wasn't anything in Mr. Chase's report that showed any thought at all," Dickinson said. "The fellow was just dumb."

The governor said he believed, however, that the commission favored a further inquiry by the attorney general, and Boyles said possible political aspects of the situation would be considered.

Read sent an assistant, James T. Williams, to Jackson tonight to obtain the names of witnesses and arrange for a hearing room and a stenographer for tomorrow's inquiry. The attorney general said he would leave for Jackson himself before noon tomorrow, to be joined there by an aide from his Detroit office, Seward Nichols. He estimated the proceedings would require a day and a half.

mission's responsibility for developing a strong and well balanced merchant marine, it has obtained from United States lines certain commitments to undertake construction or purchase of new vessels. These include S. S. America, largest liner ever constructed in the United States, four combination passenger and cargo vessels, now building, and five C-1 type vessels for which orders recently have been placed.

"These ships ultimately would replace the vessels involved in this application for transfer of registry, all of which were built during or immediately after the World War and are therefore rapidly reaching obsolescence.

"This new construction, which will total more than $25,000,000, will not be completed in its entirety until late in 1941 or early 1942."

The ships involved in the application are the American Shipper, American Banker, American Trader, American Traveler, American Farmer, American Importer, American Merchant, the President Harding and the President Roosevelt. All nine vessels are owned outright by the United States lines.

Black Gull Sails At Her Own Risk, Is Berlin Warning

New York, Nov. 6 (AP)—Short-wave listeners of the Columbia Broadcasting system reported tonight that an official German news bulletin from Station DNB, Berlin, said "the American ship Black Gull sailed from New York today at her own risk."

The German announcement said, they reported, that "her cargo consisted of contraband allegedly destined for Belgium and Holland."

They said the enigmatic statement was made in German but not repeated in the English language broadcast immediately following from DNB.

Officials of the Black Diamond line said the Black Gull sailed last Saturday shortly before the new neutrality law went into effect.

NO UNDERGROUND HOOKUP

Lansing, Nov. 6 (AP)—Member of the state corrections commission told Governor Dickinson today a preliminary investigation convinced him too rigid restrictions of dismissals by the civil service law was responsible for Sunday's break from the southern Michigan prison.

The commissioner, Paul W. Chase, of Hillsdale, assured the governor there were no indications of an underground connection between Sunday's escape attempt and a break from the northern branch prison at Marquette in September.

"This was the case of a dumb guard, that's all—perfectly dumb," Chase told reporters after his interview with Dickinson.

OLD ESCANABA RESIDENT DIES

Mrs. Annette Bloom, 67, Stricken At Home of Daughter

Mrs. Annette Bloom, 67, old resident of Escanaba, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Axel E. Anderson, 619 South 9th street, last night at 7:45 o'clock. She had been in poor health for the past five years, but was confined to her bed only since last Friday.

Mrs. Bloom was born Dec. 18, 1872, in Smaland, Sweden, and came to this country in 1892 with her husband, who died in 1913. She was a member of the Central M. E. church and was active in church affairs and in the Ladies' Aid of the church. Survivors include the daughter, Mrs. Anderson; two granddaughters, Helen and Dorothy Anderson; one sister, Alfrida Groen, in Sweden; and a nephew, Harold Lagerdahl, Buffalo, N. Y.

The body was taken to the Alto funeral home, and arrangements for the last rites will be completed today.

State Pay Check Forgery Hearing Held At Lansing

Lansing, Nov. 6 (AP)—The prosecution rested its case tonight in the trial of George S. Willard, former deputy commissioner of agriculture charged with having forged the name of a former employee to a state pay check.

Two handwriting experts, prosecution witnesses, compared the endorsement on the former employee's pay check and handwriting specimens that Prosecutor Richard B. Foster said were Willard's. The experts, Leroy Smith of the state police and Francis B. Courtney of Detroit, testified that the same person had done all the writing.

Foster, in his opening statement, charged that the name of Leon Ginter was not removed from the department of agriculture payroll after his dismissal as state applan inspector, and that he would prove Willard forged Ginter's signature to them and cashed them.

Ginter testified the endorsements on a batch of checks drawn to him from October 19, 1935, to June 6, 1935, were not written by him. Miss Margaret Bellamy, payroll clerk for the department of agriculture, testified that Willard had ordered her to turn Ginter's pay checks over to him.

The defense is to open its case tomorrow before Ingham County Circuit Judge Charles H. Hayden, who is hearing the trial without a jury.

Oldest Mule Falls Dead At Age Of 36

Franklin, Ky., Nov. 6 (AP)—Old Kate, whose owner, Buford Chisholm, said was the oldest mule in the United States, fell dead in a barn lot at Chisholm's farm today.

The owner said Kate was 36 years old and had served the Chisholm family since 1909.

The mule led the parade here at "Mule Day" last February.

PENSION PLAN IS ON BALLOT FOR 2 STATES

pective states—so intense in California for instance that an accompanying referendum on state control of oil production has been virtually overlooked, although the proposal has the approval of several federal officials including Secretary Ickes.

Opponents of the pension plan, including Gov. Culbert L. Olson (who acknowledges he was elected last year with the assistance of "ham and egg" votes) have condemned the scheme as unworkable and a burden on the very people it is intended to help.

The backers of the plan have conducted an intensive radio and mass-meeting campaign, and in the last few days have been engaged in a hard-working campaign to "get out the vote."

Opposition arguments in Ohio have been similar to those in California, and against them Bligelow has thundered his defiance.

"Lies, lies, they're all lies," he says.

Dry Strength Tested

The pari-mutual referendum is in New York. The betting rings of its famous race tracks, Saratoga, Belmont Park and others, have been dominated for years by handbook makers. The prohibition question arises in rural Indiana. In that state towns of less than 3,000 population are electing town officials. The dry forces have concentrated on candidates who will oppose the issuance of local liquor licenses.

The issue of Roosevelt policies is remotely present in a gubernatorial election in Kentucky and the election of a mayor in Philadelphia. In Kentucky, Gov. Keen Johnson, who was lieutenant-governor succeeded Gov. "Happy" Chandler recently when the latter resigned to be appointed to the senate, is running for election to the office he now holds, on the record of the Chandler-Johnson administration. His Republican opponent is Circuit Judge King Swope, who has criticized the national administration in his campaigning.

The Philadelphia contest finds Robert C. White, Democrat, running on a clean government issue, and Robert C. Lambertson, his Republican opponent, arguing that a Democratic victory would diminish the national prestige of the Republican party.

Detroit is electing a mayor. Edward Jeffries, Jr., president of the city council, is seeking to unseat Mayor Richard Reading, who was elected two years ago over the opposition of the C.I.O. Reading charges that Jeffries favors the "radical element," while the latter's friends have said that such CIO support as he has received is due to the fact that the labor organization is more opposed to Reading.

ISSUE MADE OF CIO

Detroit, Nov. 6 (AP)—Another hot Detroit mayoralty campaign ended today with last-minute appeals by Richard W. Reading, the incumbent, and Council President Edward J. Jeffries, who seeks to unseat him.

Reading reiterated his charges that Jeffries owes much of his strength to the CIO and the Communist party, but friends of the council president said he had support from all walks of life and that his record in public office spoke for itself.

A total vote above 300,000 was predicted by city officials. Only twice has a city election drawn that many voters. Once was in 1930.

Second Life Termer Set Free In Fatal Holdup At Detroit

Lansing, Nov. 6 (AP)—The parole board said today it has ordered the release of John Drake, one of two men convicted of a Detroit gambling game holdup in which a man was killed.

Drake and Lawrence Warner were sentenced March 10, 1921, to serve life terms in the state prison of southern Michigan for robbery armed. They had been convicted of the $500 holdup of a game in a Detroit athletic club in which Ben Finestler, the proprietor, was injured fatally while resisting the robbers.

Warner was released November 29, 1932, after receiving a commutation of sentence. Drake's term was commuted last February 1, making him eligible for release now.
